JOHN BULL DECLINED

The Powers' Proposal as to Spain and the States.

European Nations Were Ready to Coerce America.

The Visit of Prince Henry to This Continent-Britain and Her Colonies -Canada Leads in Cheese.

London, Jan. 21.-The subject of proposed European intervention in the Spanish-American war was brought up by Henry Norman (Liberal) in the House of Commons yesterday in the form of a question asking whether any communication proposing or concerning joint or collective action by the European states in view of the outbreak or expected outbreak of the late war between the United States and Spain was received from the Austrian or any other government, and if so, what was the nature of the reply of her majesty's government. Mr. Norman further invited Lord Cranborne, under secretary for foreign affairs, to lay the papers in the case on the table. Lord Cranborne said no such communication had been made to the government after the outbreak of war, but that immediately before the communications were received from other powers suggesting the presentation of a joint note to the president of the United States. Her majesty's government agreed to join pressing the hope that further negotiations might lead to a peaceful setpreservation of order in Cuba. The government first took steps to ascertain whether the presentation of the note, as well as its terms, would be acceptable to the president.

BRITAIN DECLINED. Her Majesty's Government, Lord Cranborne continued, declined to associate itself with other subsequent proposals, which seemed open to the objection of putting pressure on the Government of the United States and offering an opinion on its action.

in the case on the table. Inquiries made concerning the "subsequent proposals" mentioned by Lord Denmark is easily first in butter, sup-Cranborne elicited important informa- plying 43 per cent of the British imtion from the foreign office. There it was stated that Great Britain had been twice formally approached on this matter, but only once after the commencement of hostilities between Spain and the United States. Lord Cranborne's references to more than one proposal were evidently generalizations which included tentative proposals not officially recognized.

PUT DOWN HER FOOT. The occasion upon which Great Britain deliberately put down her foot was, acording to the foreign office, when the Austrian ambassador at London interviewed Lord Salisbury and asked him if Great Britain would be willing to join in a collective note European powers, urging the United States to desist from war with Spain. Such a note was not to threatreprisals or intervention, but was to be in the nature of a strong protest and a plea for arbitration. Lord Salisbury regarded this proposition as unwarrantable interference in the affairs of a friendly country, and frankly said so, declaring Great Britain would not be a party to any such step especially in view of the late President McKinley's attitude toward the ante-bellum efforts of European powers to avert war. The foreign office heard nothing more on this subject, the matter of a collective note apparently being dropped. THE POWERS IN THE DEAL. Regarding the much disputed point as to what powers were previously prepared to sign this note in case Great Britain acquiesced thereto, the following statement from a high official of the foreign office, through whose hands all secret dispatches language. This official said:

passed, had best be given in his own "We have no documentary evidence to prove that any power other than the one which formally approached us was concerned in this effort to send a collective note to the United States, the purport of which, however polite wording, must naturally have been that of a threat. "We had at that time, however, every reason to believe that this power was merely put forward as a sort of buffer in order to sound us, and that France, Germany and Russia were behind her, and only awaiting our assent formally to announce their own. We have never had reason to change that belief, which, in the case of France, amounts to a moral certainty. "Subsequent diplomatic reasons convince us that not only was the collective note dropped on account of our refusal, but that we incurred not a little enmity because our action was sufficiently patent to obviate all necessity of our actually having possession of copies of those diplomatic interchanges, which resulted in our being asked to sign the second protest to America."

WHAT RESULT MAY BE. Opinion in the foreign office is somewhat divided as to the advisability of today's announcement in the House of Commons, several high officials of this office believing it will only tend to strain the relations between British and the continental powers. Mr. Norman said, regarding his question, and the reply thereto:
"I am delighted to get such an unexpectedly frank and important answer. My question was down for the opening day of the session, but the government asked me to postpone it until today. I did so, but with little hope of securing a definite pronounce-ment, for such things are usually arranged between the government leader and one of his supporters. While, of course, I am one of the most outspoken critics of our foreign policy, there was no 'put up job.' I merely wrote the question because I thought there was more hope of getting some sort of an answer at that stage of af- tinues uncertain.

fairs than at any other. I think Lord fairs than at any other. I think Lord Cranborne's statement reveals a condition of things more serious than anyone suspected, for it shows that practically the whole of Europe was ready to attempt to coerce the United States, even at the risk of war.

"After the hostilities with Spain had commenced, the selection of Austria to be spokesman for Europe showed excellent tact, for our relations with that country were of the most friendly kind. To point-blank refuse her ly kind. To point-blank refuse her must have cost us no little prestige. Beyond what Lord Cranborne said, I know little. But that I think sufficient, for it shows the excellent feeling of the British government in its relations with the United States, which I believe to be the most important relations we have."

PRINCE HENRY'S VISIT. Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, while in the United States, will visit Chicago, Milwaukee, Niagara Falls and Boston. Following is the approved programme: Feb. 22, arrival of the prince and his suite at New York; Feb. 23, the official welcome by the representatives of President Roosevelt, the governor of the State of New York, and the mayor of New York city; Feb. 24, the launching of the yacht at Shooter's Island and a dinner to be given by Prince Henry; Feb. 25, a reception in honor of Prince reception by the Press Club; Feb. 26, to Washington, where the prince will will exchange calls with President Roosevelt and be entertained at dinner at the German embassy; Feb. 28, the prince and his party will start for Chicago. The apportionment of the prince's time between Chicago, Milwaukee, Niagara Falls and Boston has not yet been precisely made. In fact, although the foregoing is the offiplan as it stands today, any part of it may subsequently be modified. SOLIDARITY OF THE EMPIRE. NAVAL RESERVES WANTED. The London Times, commenting on the letter of a correspondent, dealing with the position of Newfoundland, says: "Every Englishman who cares for the welfare and solidarity of the empire must regret the misunderstanding existing between the admiralty of London and the colony concerning the naval reserve which the latter desires. and it is idle to deny that a very large question is involved, that of colonial contributions to the imperial defense. Such contributions must be spontaneous, entirely voluntary, and must be the expression of a conviction that the British fleet is maintained as much for their defense as for ours."

ROYALTY IS TO VISIT IRELAND. Notwithstanding the rumors that expected trouble in Ireland was interfering with the visit of the King and Queen, their majesties have determined that they will visit the Emerald as yet, but it is expected that something about the programme will be announced during the week.

CABLE NOTES. The date of the Bisley meeting of the National Rifle Association has been announced as July 14 to 26. Thomas Peterson Goudie, the former bookkeeper of the Liverpool Bank; "Dick" Burge, the pugilist; Stile, a bookmaker, and F. T. Kelly, another bookmaker, were committed for trial at Old Bailey on charges connected with frauds on the Liverpool Bank. ### DR. BALFOUR TO RESIGN

Resignation Will Be Received by Trust Friday.

Superintendent Wishes It to Take Effect in Two Months.

Rumored Interest in the Matter of a Prominent Medical Man-The Lease Situation.

The pendulum of municipal interest has again swung to Victoria Hospital, and the latest and most interesting situation is located there. Superintendent Balfour will resign. This is the substance of gossip that has circulated to Henry, a dinner in his honor to be a greater or less extent among the given by the mayor of New York, and | medical fraternity during the past few if consistent with these functions, a days. How it percolated through the officials who were in a position to know the prince and his party will proceed of this latest phase of the situation is a matter of conjecture. Rumor has reside at the German embassy. He that a prominent physician with municipal leanings, who for reasons politic shall be nameless, has interested himself considerably in the matter. The same gossip connects this gentleman's name with the position to be vacated by Dr. Balfour. It is a matter of general knowledge that he and Mayor Beck have frequently been in consultation in the past week or so. Dr. Balfour's resignation will come before the Hospital Trust at its meeting Friday. If it is accepted, and the seem to favor that mode of procedure, the superintendent will remain in his position until the first of April, thus > range for the change. Ald. Cooper has aroused the won-derment of his friends on the Port Stanley board. At the meeting yesterday it was he who was firmest in his demands that nothing be left undone, in the effort to thwart the purpose of the retiring board, in regard to the extended lease. They should do this and that, he said, and do it at once, lest the despised lease should go through. To satisfy him and Ald. Douglass more than with any desire to reopen the matter the other members of the board appointed a committee to interview the city solicitor to learn if the new board had the right to reopen the lease negotiations. Ald. Cooper was on that committee, but when it met Mr. Meredith this morning at the time appointed, Ald. Cooper was not on hand and they waited for him in vain. Mayor Beck was not present either, so the city solicitor reserved his formal de-cision. Informally, however, he told Mr. C. B. Hunt and Ald. Johy, the other members of the committee, that the lease was practically settled. They asked him two questions—as to whether the new board could bring the matter up again, and whether ex-Mayor Rumball had the right to sign

City Clerk Kingston presented a request at the council meeting last night for leave of absence for two months, and it will be dealt with by No. 1 committee, which was given power in the matter and will most likely grant it. Mr. Kingston would be gone for two months, and has asked for the two in which his work is lightest and in which the enjoyment of the salubrious California climate would be of most benefit to his health. His office affairs are now in such condition that he may be spared most readily.

GOT TOGETHER AGAIN AFTER FORTY YEARS

Man and Wife, Divorced, Were Remarried in Windsor, Ont.

Windsor, Jan. 21 .- An old man, accompanied by a woman not much his junior, came into Clerk Oliver's office in Windsor a few days ago and applied for a marriage license. The man gave his age as 70 years. When the issuer reached the blank in the affidavit to be filled in with "bachelor" or "widower," the old man hesitated.

"Are you divorced?" asked the issuer, "Are you divorced?" asked the issuer, who always hesitates about issuing licenses to divorced people.

The man admitted that he had been "On what ground?" queried the issuer.
"Cruelty; it was she who got the divorce," and the old man nodded toward the woman.

The man told the story. Nearly 40 years ago, when he and his companion were young, they had been married. They disagreed, and in a fit of anger the wife sought and secured a divorce. The man was then 30 and his wife 28. Their children and grandchildren grew up, but the divorced parents had ever since lived the divorced parents had ever since lived apart. Sometimes they lived in the same town, and at others half a continent separated them. Finally, however, they were brought together in the evening of their lives. Each insisted on having been in the wrong and the cause of all the trouble. The result was that they decided to come over to Windsor and be married again. The old couple reside just outside the city limits of Detroit. They are making preparations to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their first wedding.

Liverpool, Jan. 21.—It is said that each of the companies joining the suggested Atlantic shipping combine will retain its name and individuality, while the profits will be divided pro rata on the earnings shown by each company's books. It is also reported that the German lines may be included in the combine, so as to obtain complete control of the rates.

New York, Jan. 20.—The Mail and Express today says that the White Star Line is not for sale, and will not come under the terms of any alliance, except as regards the maintenance of rates, passenger as well as below hatches.

New York, Jan. 21.—According to a Boston dispatch to the Times there has been going on very quietly a movement towards the establishment of a steam-ship line between Boston and St. Johns, Nfid., and it has resulted in the formation and incorporation of the Boston and Newfoundland Steamship Company. It is the intention of this company to establish and operate a line of steamers is the intention of this company to establish and operate a line of steamers, with two sailings a week, from Boston to St. Johns, with a stop at Halifax.

That Has Boen Largely Imitated, But Never Successfully Rivaled, is Dr. Chase's Eyrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

There is no guesswork about the virtues of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpen-It has been before the people too long, and withstood too many a battle brunt from aspiring rivals to be considered an experiment of un-

Year by year, as the fall and winter seasons come and go, the sale of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine increases steadily and certainly. It has proven its remarkable value, won its laurels, and continues to lead the van as the most popular and most largely used cough and cold medicine of the country.

Children especially are fond of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, because it is sweet and pleasant to the taste, and quickly relieves and cures them when gasping for breath with choking-up air passages, or tearing the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes with a severe and painful

Bronchitis, whooping cough, eroup, sore throat and severe chest colds and painful coughs are relieved and cured promptly and thoroughly by this famous preparation. It also frees the asthma sufferer from the dreadful paroxysms which cause him such keen agony, and cures asthma, as has been proven in a hundred cases.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine aids expectoration, clears the throat and air passages, soothes and heals the inflamed linings of the bronchial tubes, and cures coughs of every description. But it is far more than a mere cough cure, for its action is far-reaching, and it thoroughly removes the cold as well.

You cannot compare Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with any remedy you ever used. unique as a treatment for throat and lung troubles. ### Starts THEIR RANKS With a Cold.

Catarrh usually starts with a cold in the head, and if left unchecked in this climate, rarely gets well of itself. As fresh cold is taken the disease spreads, getting deeper and deeper, creeping along the mucous membranes from nose to throat, from throat to windpipe, from windpipe to bronchial tubes, and from bronchial tubes to lung cells. The mucous membranes all connect, one with another. Hence it is easy to spread from one part to another lined with this same membrane. This is why catarrh in the head soon affects the throat, and finally the stomach itself, bringing on chronic catarrh of the stomach, which is a most obstinate form of dyspepsia. Everybody is now well agreed that derson, Wallaceburg; Evelyn August-catarrh is a blood disease and not a ine, Arkona; Robert Aylesworth, Sarlocal one, and the attempt to cure by local applications simply gives temporary relief from the purely local symptoms without the remotest effect in staying the progress of the disease. > THE GOVERNMENT'S WAR POLICY The first important debate began in the House of Commons last night, on an amendment to the address, moved by Frederick Cawley (Liberal), in reply to the speech from the throne. The debate called out Mr. Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, who vigorously took the field in defense of the war. made the significant statement that if, as Lord Rosebery's speech intimated, the Boers believed they could at any time secure a repetition of Lord Kitch-ener's terms, he wished to inform them that they were mistaken. Mr. Chamberlain added, however, that the government's programme was not one of extermination. It would not propose any general confiscation of property. the craze for pictures has about reached the limit, as this true tale will show. A reporter was discharged last week; no reason was given. He was curious to know why his services had been dispensed with, and sent a nutual friend to the editor. "Yes, wrote good stuff. We had no fault to find with him in that respect," the explanation came. "But, you see, he got us so few photographs!"

DR. HARBOTTLE WAS CONVICTED

Of Shooting With Intend To Do Bodily Harm.

Outcome of the Sensational Affair at Burford—The Doctor Sentenced to a Year in Prison.

Brantford, Ont., Jan. 20 .- Dr. Harbottle of Burford, was charged at the courthouse today with shooting H. Stuart, of Burford, with intend of doing bodily harm. The doctor pleaded not guilty, and wanted to be tried at once. Judge Hardy presided.

H. Stuart, the first witness, was standing on a corner, when the doctor came up. They walked together to the postoffice. When coming up the doctor followed up behind him; the doctor caught up and they walked together for a few rods. No conversation passed between them. When the corner was reached, the doctor turned in front of him and took a tol out of his pocket and fired, the bullet striking witness on the right He picked up his hat and went to a doctor's. From effects of the shot he was confined to the house for two weeks. At the time of Ladysmith's relief there were hostile de monstrations against the doctor, who was believed to be a Boer sympathizer. The doctor had some of the offenders fined. He (Stuart) was one of the opposing witnesses, and there might be some feeling since that.

On cross-examination witness said the doctor's residence had been damaged on one occasion during British victories, also at other times. The doctor had been abused by resident boys. The doctor and he were never on good speaking terms.

Jos. Porter, the next witness, testithe doctor overtake Stuart at the corner, where a number of people were standing in conversation. He was standing on the corner when Stuart reached it. He halted. Harbottle took a pace forward ad fired. There was no conversation between the two men. The witness swore that while the doctor and Stuart were walking togethed from the postoffice, some one cried out, "Brace up, Stuart." Witness also testified to the doctor's property being considerably damaged. THE DEFENSE.

Ann Harbottle, for the defense, started to give evidence in regard to injuries to her father's property at different times, when discussion arose between the prosecuting attorney over evidence of earlier circumstances. The judge ruled in favor of the prosecution, that earlier annoyances not be considered in the affair.

OF SOCIETY.

M. Max O'Rell Writes Concerning Madame Ubiquitous.

She Is One of Those Beings Who Make One Exclaim: "O, Save Us From Our Friends!"

[Max O'Rell.] The meddling woman is not a bad woman, not even always an objectionable woman. She is a bit of trial, although she is often pleasant and cheerful and generally well meaning. She is one of those beings who make you sometimes exclaim: "O, save us from bur friends!" She puts her foot in it with an air of innocence that says, 'I'm so sorry; I did not mean to hurt your feelings, dear!" At parties she arrives early, so as to be useful, if called upon to give the slightest help. She generally succeeds in introducing to each other people who have not the slightest desire of making acquaintance and young couples who are not in the least anxious to dance together. As long as the guests keep arriving she takes her post just behind the hostess or close by her side. People ask themselves who she is, whether she is part hostess. She has a kind smile for everyone. She is a regular society stager, up to every trick, and feels she is indispensable, that at every moment she may come to the rescue of the hostess, set her out of every possible little difficulty. She knows everybody. She is a living encyclopedia of society knowledge.

When the party is complete she disappears from the side of the hostess, who begins to breath more freely. She disappears, but she does not go. She finds that she still may be able to render thousands of services, and the immediately sets about it. Her most objectionable habit is that of rendering services. It is a disease, but a disease that keeps her in good health and cheerful spirits. Now she multiplies herself, and is seen at once in the drawing rooms, dancing rooms and refreshment rooms. In the reports given of parties in the society papers, she is thus described: "Mrs. A., with a graceful smile for everyone, was everywhere." In England they say, "was ubiquitous." And so she is.

In the refreshment rooms she sees that everyone gets something to eat or drink; she suggests to such and such men that Mrs. B., or Lady C., has had nothing; then she makes an introduction, and, by and bye, whispers to the hostess: "Poor Mrs. B.," or "Poor Lady C., I found that no one was paying any attention to her, so I introduced So-and-So to her, and I got her something to eat." And the host-ess whispers back: "So kind of you." You cannot get rid of her, because she never gives you an opportunity for quarreling. She is not a gossip, much less of a wicked tongue. On the contrary, she speaks well of everyone, praises your parties, your children and all your belongings, and you cannot help liking her. If she could only get rid of that terrible habit of spending her life doing you good turns, and of thus constantly getting on your nerves, you might like her, even get very fond of her.
At home she rules husband, children,

At the Ladysmith demonstration, his house was completely wrecked, and the previous night his home had been stoned. He had been compelled to carry firearms for his own protection and safety of his family. He said Stuart josled and laughed at him as less than the cost she takes in him and his well-behas advice ready for every trouble, a cure for every indisposition, a sclution for every problem. She knows what is good for her husband much better est she takes in him and his well-be-

She is honestly persuaded that he owes everything in life to her skill, "push," and her diplomacy, and she would resent any promotion, be might get outside of her influence. The fact that she is married helps to make her, if not popular, quite tolerable, because most people think that, after all, they must be thankful for their lot, which might have been much worse They reflect that they might be married in Panama Harbor-Government Vessel Sunk-Governor of Panama Killed-One Report Says Five Vessels Were Sunk.

Panama, Jan. 20.-A battle occurred today in the harbor of Panama between the revolutionary fleet, consisting of the steamers Padilla, Darien and Gaitan and three government ships, the Chilean line steamer Lautaro, the Pacific Steam Navigation Company's steamer Chicuito, and the Panama

Canai Company's steamer Boyaca. The revolutionary fleet attempted to force a landing off Saoana. When the battle, which began at six o'clock this morning, had progressed but a short time, the Padilla got up to the Lautaro and began pouring in a hot fire at close range. Heavy casualties on board the Lautaro ensued. Soon the government boat took fire and in a short time

Gen. Carlos Alban, the military commander of this district and the governor of Panama, was killed during the fighting. New York, Jan. 20.—The Panama Railway Company today received a cablegram from Colon saying that three insurgent and two government vessels had been sunk in the naval engagement in Panama harbor. The cablegram came from Col. J. R. Shaler, general superintendent at Colon for the Panama Railway Company.

Estimated Expenditure for 1902 Is $4,004,228.32.

Among Appropriations Is the Sum of $23,295 for the London Asylum-Budget Speech Tomorrow.

Toronto, Jan. 20. - The provincial estimates for the current year and the public accounts for 1901 were laid on the table of the legislature today by Premier Ross. The estimated expenditure for 1902 is $4,004,228 32, as follows: Current expenditure ......$3,553,980 00

On capital account ...... 303,273 00 Other purposes ..... 146,975 00 Total ..... $4,004,228 32 The current expenditure is estimated as follows: Civil government ...... $ 285,040 00 tenance ..... 870,217 00 Immigration ..... Agriculture .... Hospitals and charities ....

Maintenance and repairs government and departmental buildings .... .... Repairs public buildings ... 27,465 00 Repairs public works ..... Charges on crown lands ... 173,525 00 Refunds account ..... Miscellaneous ..... 244,333 20 Unforeseen and unprovided 50,000 00

Total ...... $3,553,980 32 LAST YEAR'S EXPENDITURES. The actual expenditure last year was $4,038,834 49.

While ordinary expenditures aggregated $4,038,834, thus showing a surplus on the one year's operations, there has been an unusual addition to railway debt. The grants to railways increase the obligations, which are met by railway certificates and annuities for $5,214,698 to $5870,040. This is an addition of $655,342 to the debt. LONDON ASYLUM AND NORMAL SCHOOL.

Among the public buildings appropriations for 1902 is one of $23,295 for the London Asylum, of which $15,000 is for the completion of the infirmary and $3,000 for an enlarged laundry. The estimated cost for the maintenance of the same institution this year is $128,018, as compared with $129,160 last

The London Normal School gets $3,-350-$1,800 for building attics and rooms for domestic science; $300 for grounds and gardens; $750 for cement floors, and $500 for furnishings. There are revotes of $10,000 for the site of the reformatory in Oxford county, and $20,000 for the building.

THE BUDGET. Premier Ross intimated that the motion to go into supply would be the first order on Wednesday. Mr. Matheson complained that it was short notice. "The only disadvantage is personally to myself," he said, "and those who have to speak. They three nights, while the minister, with a staff of clerks behind him, is in a position to prepare himself in advance. should be at least three or four days between the receipt of the estimates and public accounts and the budget speech.

"Things will be brief and clear," said the premier.

THE ASSESSMENT BILL. Mr. Whitney asked if the premier could inform the house as to the bringing down of the assessment bill. It was commonly rumored that the bill had been reported by the assessment

The premier replied that no bill had been reported by the commission. He expected that this week or early next week the whole report of the assessment commission would be laid on the table. There would be no bill from the commission as to any particular phase of assessment, but a government bill on the question of assessment would be down within a reasonable time.

MOTIONS AND PETITIONS. Mr. Hoyle asked for an order of the house showing the amount received from private parties toward the support of relatives and others in the insane asylums of the province. The provincial secretary promised all

Among the petitions presented was one from F. G. Rumball, T. H. Purdom, Thomas C. Knott, A. E. Welch, T. H. Luscombe and O'Brien O'Donnell, of London; R. DOCTORS DECEIVED. Lansing, Mich., Jan. 20.-It is very apparent that Miss Effie Parham, the University of Michigan sophomore, who has developed a case of smallpox, contracted the disease at her home in Bronson, where the physicians have been treating a number of cases as chickenpox.

INFECTED BY A KISS. While Miss Parham was home during the holidays she attended a wed-ding, where she kissed one of the guests, a lady from California, whose face showed an eruption. This woman has left Bronson, and her present whereabouts are unknown. In view of the erroneous diagnosis of the Bronson cases, it is feared that the outbreak will cause much trouble.

Important Disclosures in the British Parliament.

Men of prominence in the United States, like Admiral Dewey, President Roosevelt, Captain Mahon, the great naval historian, and others, have acknowledged with gratitude the assistence afforded the United States in the War waged with Spain. That assistance from Great Britain was, at the time, of Immense consequence to the United States. Had Great Britain taken a hostile instead of a friendly attitude, the result of the war with Spain might have been different: at the least, it would have extended for a much longer period, and more than one United States sea-coast city might have suffered the losses and inconveniences of hombardment.

The inestimable service rendered the United States by Great Britain at the time mentioned consisted in this, that whereas Austria, Germany, France and Russia had made a virtual agreement to send a collective note to the United States, demanding a cessation of hostilities against Spain, then Great Britain deliberately put down her foot, refused to join in the collective note, and intimated that if she were compelled to take sides, she would be found fighting with, not against, the United States. This effectually broke up the continental conspiracy in favor of

After the war between the United States and Spain had come to an end, the continental powers mentioned began to hedge, and presently, indeed, began to deny, through official organs, that they had ever had any idea of combining against the United States. The German Emperor has even thought it incumbent on him to send his brother, Prince Henry, to the United States, on a semi-official, semi-social mission, with the view, doubtless, of getting back once more into the good graces of our neighbors.

From what we have above said, the interest and importance of the statements made yesterday in the British Parliament will be readily apparent. #### Canada's Outlook for the Next Four Years.

The late Dr. Robertson, the great Presbyterian missionary in the Northwest, like the late Dr. McLean, the pioneer Anglican bishop in the Territories, so well and favorably known to the people of this neighborhood, had from the first the utmost confidence in the country. Both men ever kept before their mind's eye, and before the religious bodies whose advance agents they were, the enormous resources and the great possibilities of the wide expanse of country that lies west of the older settled portion of Ontario. Just before he died. Dr. Robertson, expressed himself as of the decided conviction that settlement and development would most certainly proceed much more rapidly in the next few years than it had done in any previous period of the same length in the history of Canada. "The next four years," he is reported to have exclaimed with enthusiasm, "will be crucial years in the West: every day's work done now will tell," and he added, sorrowfully, as if having premonition of his own early passing away, "and the night cometh soon-the night cometh

With the words, "The next four years" as a topic, The Westminster graphically sketches the possibilities of the immediate future of the Do-"There are," it says, "new problems in the Maritime Provinces, created by the rapid development of their great industries, and in Ontario and the West the times are crammed with opportunity and peril. Into those districts settlers are going, not by twos or by tens, but by hundreds and by thousands. #### The Temiskaming Railway.

The Hon. F. R. Latchford, Commissioner of Public Works, has introduced a bill into the Ontario Legislature for the construction of a railway from North Bay to Lake Temiskaming, a distance of between 90 and 100 miles, the new road to be owned and controlled by the Province. The location of the line, plans of all works, tariffs of rates, and so on, must meet the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. The cost of the road is to be borne by setting apart ungranted tracts of land, not to exceed 20,000 acres per mile of road, on which debentures shall be a charge. It is the intention of the government to use Canadian material as far as possible in the construction of the road and to employ Canadian workmen at rates of wages current in the various districts through which the road will pass. the hopefulness and courage with

> From a Different Point of View. The Germans, as is well known, have peen in bitter opposition to Britain during the last two years. Their Government has been kept straight by the Emperor, but the people have been inflamed by a constant stream of slander served up by hot-headed journalists. No doubt these are surprised that the British nation does not "stop the war," and humble itself to the dust on account of their noble indignation. Look, then, at another side of the international picture. The German Gov ernment has had trouble with some of its Polish subjects. Many able Germans think the Polish children who are not allowed to receive instruction in their mother tongue are cruelly treated, and that the action of Germany has been even harder than that of Russia. When Prince Ferdinand Rodziwill brought the matter up in the Reichstag, and received the support of the great Center party, he referred to adverse foreign criticism. This was the high and mighty tone of the Chancel-

"I cannot close without expressing my amazement that the mover of this interpellation should have for one moment supposed that we could allow foreign estimates of events and circum stances in this country to make the slightest impression upon us. Foreign feelings, currents of opinions, and demonstrations cannot determine in any way either the course of domestic policy or the attitude of the leading Minister in the Empire. (Cheers on the Right.) For me nothing can be author itative except the raison d'etat of this country, and my duty towards the German race. I shall keep this duty constantly in mind, and in view of the danger, in view of the serious danger, according to my conscientious convictions, menaces our nationality from the Polish quarter, I shall continue to do what it is my official duty to do in order to prevent the German in the east from being crushed."

That style of speech always brings cheers from the jingoes, but the Germans who applaud that kind of thing might well ask themselves what they would think if Britain proposed forthwith to crush the Dutch language in South Africa? We trust that before long intelligent men will try to treat foreign countries with the consideration they ask for themselves.

Brazil gets its money minted Vienna. Austria. Canada will soon mint its own money.

This shows that the people of Canada appreciate good government. and it also demonstrates the stupidity of two Liberals entering the field where one only could hope for success.

Christianity is advancing in India. According to the late census of that great British possession, the number of professing Christians in the country in 1891 was 1,972,704, which had increased to 2,501,808 last year. This is a greater increase than had ever before been chronicled in the same period. It might be much greater if professing Christians from Europe always lived up to their professions, or moderately near to them.

Why is it that the New Year's 'swear-off" is so seldom continued beyond a very brief period? BUILDERS' EXCHANGE ELECTS OFFICERS

And Decides to Hold Annual Banquet Middle of Next Month.

The fourth annual meeting of the Builders' Exchange was held in their rooms yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The meeting was well attended, and the reports of the officers showed a cash balance in hand, and that satisfactory progress had been made in all its departments of usefulness. Officers for the year were elected as follows:

President, H. C. Simpson; first vicepresident, John Nutkins; second vice-president, John Whittaker; secretarytreasurer, George S. Gould; board of directors, Messrs. T. Jones, Wm. Tytler, S. Stevely, Ed Martyn and George Young; representatives to the West-ern Fair board, H. C. Simpson and G. Gould; auditors, Wm. Smith and John Jones.
It was decided to hold the annual

Fitzgerald, past grand chancellor, occupied the chair, and fully 600 people were present. The programme was a delightful one in every respect. Mr. Younghart, known professionally as Signor Blitz, pleased and mystified the large audience with his sleight-of-hand performance. As a card manipulator Mr. Younghart has, probably, no equal in the world; he is a veritable "wizard." The reading of Miss Adelaide Flint was a revelation to her many friends here. She possesses an exquisite voice, and much dramatic power, and her work was warmly applauded. All the other performers acquitted themselves very creditably. The complete programme was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Mabel Fox, sleightof-hand and card manipulation, Mr. Younghart; solo, Mr. George Black; Highland fling, Miss Ina Riddle; read-ing, Miss Adelaide Flint; song, S.Drennan; solo, A. TOO NUMEROUS | Mormon Church Edict Starts With Employes of the "Deseret News."

> Salt Lake, Jan. 20. - There is consternation among the employes of the Deseret News, the official organ of the Mormon Church in this city, as the result of a matrimonial edict that has recently been issued.

> The edict is said to be the result of a coinference between President Joseph F. Smith, the present head of the church, and the manager of the News, at which it was agreed that all male employes who were not married on or pefore June 30 next would be asked to resign. It is estimated that the order will affect about 25 of the 100 em-

This edict is said to be only a part of a general plan outlined by the authorities, the object of which is to prevail upon the young men of the church marry at an early date. One of the tenets of the church is that every man and woman should marry and rear a

STAMPS AS HISTORIANS

Albums of Collectors Show Records of European Affairs.

Interesting Facts About the Study of Philately by a Well-Known Philatelist.

[By Hugh Richardson, President Royal Philatelist Society.]

Of postage stamps it is hardly too much to say that almost every government which has governed or misgoverned Europe for the last 50 years, has left its traces in the albums of collectors.

The year 1840 marks the introduction of penny postage into Great Brit-ain. Within the next few years other European countries followed suit. As a rule postage stamps have been elegant and interesting in design, often distinctively national-witness the pyramid stamps of Egypt, the Newfoundland codfish, the Nicaraguan volcano, The people of the United States, like the Florentines and the citizens of Birmingham, have not been afraid to honor their great men in public places. The older stamps of the states show the portraits of the presidents, a comparatively new series the history

England has been the happy nation without a history. For more than 60 years her stamps bore the image of the Queen. The oldest French stamps, without perforated edging, show the head of Liberty and superscription, Franc." These are relics of the second republic, 1848-53. A somewhat rarer stamp has the same "Repub. Franc." but with the the head of Louis Napol-eon. This was issued while he was president of the republic. A little later the legend changed to "Empire Franc." Another issue added a laurel wreath, making one suspect a spirited foreign policy. That policy led to Sedan; and in 1870 a republic was again declared, and Liberty reappeared. The history of ninetenth century France is accur ately told by stamps.

Germany was once compared to a menagerie, the various states, like wild beasts, glaring through the bars. Il-lustrating the growth of Prussia, and the rise of the present empire of Germany, we find that Schleswig, Holstein, Schleswig-Holstein, Hanover, Oldenburg, Brunswick. Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Mecklenburg-Strelitz, and the free cities, Hamburg, Lubeck, Bremen, all had separate stamps be fore Prussia absorbed them. Of these either originals, reprints or forgeries can be obtained. Bergedorf had for emblem on its stamp half the Hamburg Castle and half the Lubeck Eagle, because it was the joint property of the two cities. At one time the Prince of Thurn and Taxis held the German posting contracts, and issued two sets of stamps, for the northern and southern states, marked in groschen and kreuzer respectively. The influence of Prussia was strengthened by the victory over Austria at Sadowa in 1866. In 1867 the North German Confederation it? was formed, but the states south of the Main-Baden, Bavaria, Wurtemberg-still kept their separate stamps. berg-still kept their separate stamps.
The stamps of Alsace-Lorraine were KEEPING THE used during the military occupation of C. Campbell, who has been teller of the 1870-71, bfore the formal annexation > marked during the war. The early Austrian stamps show the head of Francis Joseph, who came to the throne in 1848, and is still emperor. When the Magyars of Hungary got home rule in 1867 the emperor's portrait was still kept on the stamp. This once raised a vision of a green stamp, with emblems, harp and shamrock, representing the national aspirations, and head of the sovereign in token of loyalty. More recent Austrian stamps bear the double-headed eagle, which may also be recognized on those are less interesting than those postof Venetia and Bosnia. The growth of united Italy is well shown. There are obsolete stamps of (1) "Sardinia" (Sardinia, Piedmont. Savoy, Nice), with embossed head of Victor Emmanuel; of the three duchies (2) Tuscany, (3) Modena, (4) Parma; of (5) Sicily with the head of Ferdinand, and (6) Naples, his other province, with its curious arms. In Austria was driven out of Lombardy, and the peoples of the duchies and legations voted for union with Sardinia. So in spite of anathemas the pope lost (7) Romagna. After Garibaldi's expedition (1860) appeared first the stamps of the provisional government, and then the new stamps of the Neapolitan provinces with head of Victor Emmanuel, not unlike those of Sardinia, but inscribed in Grana. In 1861 Victor Emmanuel was crowned King of Italy in Turin, and soon after appeared a new stamp of Italy, now a country, no longer mere "geographical expression." In 1866 Austria ceded (8) Venetia to Italy, through Napoleon. The stamps of the (9) states of the church, with the crossed keys of heaven and hell, were in use till 1870, when the Indian troops entered Rome. The eastern question is still unsolved. For its history we must look back to 1453, when Constantinople was taken by the Turks. The forces now acting are the decay of Turkish power, the difficulty of internal communication, the variety of languages, races, and religions, and the jealousies of other European powers. The Star and Crescent now floats over a smaller part of the Balkan peninsula than it used to, and in contrast to Italy we see in Turkey the decay of empire. The people of Monte-negro boast that they were never in bondage. Greece has been independent since 1829; and Mercury, once telegraph boy to the gods on Olympus, in the employ of that government. In 1861 Roumania was formed by the union of Moldavia and 'Valachia. Servia was independent in 1862. The Russo-Turkish war 1877 was followed by the treaty of Berin in 1878. Bulgaria got home rule, and stamps with rampant lion. The Austrian arms appeared on the stamps of Bosnia. separate stamps of Livonia and Poland have given way to and the collection of historical stamps gives us a vivid picture of a state of continual flux and change. Wars and treaties, revolutions and plebiscites have happened before and may happen again. "The parliament of man, the federation of the world," seems far

Finland stamps have become more like those of Russia, on which we meet a new alphabet, several letters resembling the Greek. The same head, King Oscar, appears on the stamps of Norway and of Sweden, two governments united by the one golden link of the crown. The Iceland stamps closely resemble those of Denmark, and the good feeling with which Norway is indicated by similarity of design. The currency convention of the Scandinavian countries is attested under various spellings (ore, aur), In spite of inviting offers. Luxemburg retains its own stamp. Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and Portugal are the remaining European states.

The Family Circle Should Be an Attractive Place

There Must Be Helpful, Mutual Partnership Between Parents and

You are very uneasy about your boys. They are out on the street too much at night, and perhaps you find yourself unable to prevent it. People tell you to "make home pleasant" to them, and you feel that that means luxuries beyond your means. Very likely you do not realize that there are certain things which cost hardly anything, some of them nothing, which are most powerful of all in making ness gives the most solid happiness home an attractive place to stay in, writes Margaret Meredith in the Country Gentleman. The first is good-natured treatment. In this the father is especially potent. You are worn out when you get home at night, and the dinner hour is not much better, nor the hurried early morning. Now, are you good-natured to your family, or are you not? You live for your children, perhaps are shortening your life by hard work for their benefit; and you think they ought to at least appreciate that and appreciate you, so as to overlook what you call "a little crossness."

But they do not even know it. How should they? You are too proud and loving to tell them, and other people do not think much about it. your children do know and feel is your manner to them. What make evenings at home most unattractive to them is fear of gruff or angry treatment. With them as with wives, as with all human beings, kindness is the mos drawing power in the world. Next to crossness the thing which chiefly drives a boy out in the even-ing is what I may describe as the lack of a welcome at home. This idea surprises you; but has it not actually crept into the family attitude? are very tired; your wife is very tired; and it is the only chance you have to rest during the 24 hours. Your one heated and lighted room is small; and there may be several children and a baby. Who can blame you that you feel more comfortable when the bigger ones go out? You are really more comfortable, there is no doubt of it. And the next night, if they stay in longer you are inwardly wishing they would go and leave you at peace. All too probably you show some of this outwardly, and the boys feel themselves more at home on the street

Along with your habit of enjoying their room better than their company, grows up the habit of monopolizing whatever accommodation your livingroom has. They know that if they come into it they will find the space around the lamp pre-empted and also the space around the fire, and lounge, and the better chairs, possibly all the chairs. No doubt if they are good, they may think this right and natural, being used to it; but for all that, there is really no place for them unintentionally they are crowded out It is not luxuries they are suffering for, but necessities, a seat, a light, and a tolerably undisturbed spot to sit in to read or work out some ish scheme. Most of you are not so poor that these things are impossible to secure for your sons; it is largely thoughtfulness. You do not notice that the room is occupied to their exclusion. You could make a visiting friend welcome, and will accommodate away, but the postal union has already overcrowding, the relief lies in the kind behavior which I have touched If your laddies feel that you want them, and gather them in warm heartedly to such comfort as there is, in a helpful, mutual partnership in this as in the rest of life, they can enjoy themselves. It was not a well-to-do little boy who replied to some question: "Why, father did it for me. Oh, we have a beautiful father!"

It is not always expensive things that are delicious luxuries. A mother of four sons gave a great deal of thought and a great deal of money to making their home delightful. But of all her arrangements the one which filled me with admiration for her skill was four lounges in their sitting room! This exact thing you may by no means be able to copy, but you see the principle. The lounges were not necessarily fine, but all could lie down at once, if they chose; and that unconsciously counted for more to these strong, hearty young men, than all the handsome upholstery and bric-a-brac that she could buy. Her principle can be carried out by even the poorest the effort to give boys common comfort so far as is within the parents' ability to give. Books are for many of you easy to get in abundance from libraries. Often an employer or friend would joyfully you quantities of excellent nagazines and illustrated papers, not necessarily very old ones, either, and a great variety of good games can be bought in any large town for five or ten cents a piece. A little contriving may accomplish wonders. Let me repeat the refrain which fits every paragraph: Smiling, sunny kindpossible for a mortal to bestow, particularly to those smaller and weaker and under his power. A very rich man's son, an established professional gentleman, said in my hearing: "My ather never treated me as if he thought very much of me, and I am so happy now with my wife, who seems to regard and think well of me.' One saw at a glance an embittered boyhood and youth, in the lap of mil-

The London Street Railway as a Municipal Concern.

The series of brief interviews in last night's Advertiser, respecting the desirability of London, as a municipality, if possible, acquiring and conducting the London Street Railway, as a municipal concern, indicates the large tendency of opinion toward the public ownership of public utilities. The citizens interviewed comprised men of all shades of political and economic leaning. Few of those interviewed are opposed to the principle of municipal ownership, where practicable; while nearly all go the length of declaring the question should at least be thoroughly looked into. There is no reason why, if London can conduct its waterworks system as a municipal concern, it could not also conduct a street railway as a municipal concern. Nor is there any reason to suppose, if Glasgow has the brains to conduct its street railway system and other public utilities as municipal concerns, that London should not also be capable of following with advantage the example is one of these subjects which fortunately do not divide citizens along ordinary lines of division. It is a subject that belongs to the citizens as a whole. The Advertiser fully agrees with those citizens who desire that the feasibility of the municipalization of London's street railway, should at least be openly discussed and thoroughly considered.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY 'A. AITCHI-SON.

Mrs. Mary A. Aitchison died today at the family residence, 536 Elizabeth street, after an illness of some month's duration. Mrs. Aitchison was the wife of the late George Aitchison, who died a year ago. The couple formerly resided in London township and moved to this city some years ago. During her illness Mrs. Aitchison suffered intensely, having lost the use of her voice. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

HIS LEGS CRUSHED.

James Porter, M. C. R. brakeman, met with a terrible accident at Hawtrey yesterday. He was attending to a hot journal when the engine, which had been taking water, shunted against the cars. The wheels passed over both of Porter's legs at the ankles. Porter was taken to the hospital at St. Thomas, where his left leg was amputated below the knee-The right leg is terribly crushed. It is thought Porter will recover. He is 45 years of age and has a wife and six children. He intended to quit railroading in the spring and engage in business in this city.

COMPULSORY VACCINATION. In view of the continued presence of smallpox in Philadelphia the resolution adopted by the authorities of the University of Pennsylvania, requiring everyone connected with the university to be vaccinated, has been strictly enforced. No students or employes are now being permitted to enter any of the buildings unless they have satisfied the requirements of the vaccine physicians. All officers and employes have complied with the new rule, and only a small percentage of the almost 3,000 students remains who are not permitted in the buildings at present, and most of those have been vaccinated, but have failed to secure and file cer-tificates to that effect. The authorities feel that there is now no danger whatever of the disease making its appearance among the students, or any one connected with Penn. Many other schools and charitable institutions located in Philadelphia, have followed the university and are now adopting similar methods for preventing smallpox from spreading.

Lord Rosebery Cuts Away From Old-Time Ideas of Liberalism

CANADIAN COAL FOR SWEDEN. London, Jan. 21.-The Stockholm correspondent of the Daily Mail reports that owing to the present high price of British coal the administration of the Swedish railways has decided to experiment with Canadian coal. A trial shipment has arrived at Gothenburg, and it is understood that a couple of cargoes have been sold to the Norwegian authorities and that negotiations are proceeding with Russians and Danes.

Dublin, Jan. 21.—The recent and prospective retirements of Nationalist members of the House of Commons are attributed in some quarters to the de-pleted condition of the Nationalist treasury. It is said that the parliamentary fund for 1902 thus far totals only £1,199, over half of which amount came from the United States.

THE WAR IN VENEZUELA. Venezuelan advices say the government forces had the best of the fighting at Maracaibo on Saturday last, although Col. Peralto, Col. Fuenmayor and 50 men were seriously wounded. The government troops, these advices add, are pushing the Revolutionists. Other advices say the revolution is slowly gaining ground in the state of Lara. The financial situation in Venezuela is pronounced to be hopeless.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO MR. H. P. DWIGHT.

Manager of G. N. W. Telegraph Company Breaks His Leg in Hon. Mr. Latchford's Office.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—Mr. H. P. Dwight, president of the G. N. W. Telegraph Company, fractured his right leg this morning in the office of Hon. William Latchford, commissioner of public works, under rather unusual circumstances. He had been talking with Mr. Latchford, and had risen to leave, when his foot slipped and the bone of the right leg snapped. Dr. Byrce, provincial health officer, and an assistant were called and the bone was set. Mr. Dwight was then removed to his home on St. George street.

SECRET ROOMS

Trap Doors, Swinging Pictures and "Priests'

[London Daily Mail.]

There lived long ago, in the old troublous times, a Jesuit named Nicholas Owen, who devoted the greater part of his life to constructing hiding places for persecuted priests. The places were called "priests' holes," and were made in various ways with the greatest skill and ingenuity, in the principal Catholic houses all over England. As Allen Fea shows, no precedents were allowed to bias the choice of hiding places in those who designed them, for the more remarkable the place the less likelihood there was of its being discovered. One house would have its secret room in a chimney, en-

At Upton Court a curious place for concealment exists in one of the gables close to the ceiling.

It is triangular in shape, and is opened by a spring bolt that can be unlatched by pulling a string which runs through a tiny hole pierced in the framework of the door of the adjoining room. The door of the hiding-place swings upon a pivot, and externally is thickly covered with plaster, so as to resemble the rest of the wall, and is so solid that when sounded there is no hollow sound from the cavity behind, where, no doubt, the crucifix and sacred vessels were secreted. Not far off, in an upper garret, is a hiding-place in the thickness of the wall, large enough to contain a man standing upright. Like the other, the door or entrance forms part of the plaster wall. Again, in one of the passages of this curious old mansion are further evidences of the hardships to which Roman priests were subjected -a trap in the floor, which can only be opened by pulling up what exteriorly appears to be the head of one of the nails of the flooring. By raising this a spring is released and a trapdoor opened, revealing a large hole with a narrow ladder leading down into it. When this hiding-place was discovered in 1830 its contents were significant, viz., a crucifix and two ancient petro-

On the occasion that mass was to be celebrated in these chapels, it was customary to inform the neighborhood by some such understood signs as the hanging out of linen to dry on the hedges hard by. The narrow escape of some of the persecuted priests would fill several volumes, and for thrilling excitement that of Father Blount, at Scotney Castle, the old house of the Darrells, on the borders of Kent and Sussex, is a good example.

04040004040404 The group which they formed consisted of two young children—a boy and a girl of about nine and seven years old respectively, who were romping noisily upon the hearth-rug in a manner that upon the hearth-rug in a manner that would have horrified all believers in the virtue of clean clothes; a man of about fifty-five at the least, or of seventy at the most, short, thin, narrow-chested, pale, stooping, bald, with meager sharp features, a yellow complexion, and long and lean but delicate hands, shabbily dressed and unmistakably a foreigner, who was drinking coffee at the table; and a girl, or rather young woman, who was engaged in reading a letter at the

She was like Miss Lefort, and yet not like her at the same time; that is to say, there was a vague and general re-semblance between the two in an altogether indefinable way, and a wide dis-similarity between them in all matters

ing the appearance of a beautiful woman. One is to treat her passport fashion—Height, five feet so many inches; age, five-and-twenty, more or less; figure, slight and undulating; complexion, brown and pale; hair, dark brown; eyes, the same-large, soft, and tender; nose, straight; and so on. This, of course, is an accurate way; but has the defect of never producing anything better than a common form applicable to many hundreds. It is easy enough to make a catalogue of good points; but it is not by a mere series of good points that any idea of beauty is expressed to the mind. Another way is to adopt the at any idea of beauty is expressed to the mind. Another way is to adopt the udatory style, and to say, as might style and to say, as might style said in this case that she was joking, surely." Justly be said in this case, that she was of exactly the right height for her style of figure, and of exactly the right style of figure for her height, and that she of figure, and of exactly the right style of figure for her height, and that she carried both with grace; that her autumnal complexion combined the merits of the brunette and of the blonde; and that, beautiful as she was in all respects, her greatest wealth of beauty was in her eyes. Yet another way is the poetical, or metaphorical; but then that is always open to the objection that to say what a thing is like is very different indeed from saying what it really is. Such an image, for instance, as that of a harvest moon shining against all rule in a night of May upon a garden of pale hyacinths, which had indeed bowed their heads but had forgotten to close their bells when the sun went down, would be absolutely out of place in the sober prose of common life, however useful it might have proved to any lover of this girl's who happened to have a knack of rhyming.

These are about the only three ways; and, perhaps, if anyone should take the trouble to combine what has been said under the head of each method, he might succeed in producing an imaginary portrait not wildly unlike the original.

But it is an unfortunate and lamentnal.

But It is an unfortunate and lamentable fact that, while it is difficult, if not impossible, to praise intelligibly to find fault and point out defect intelligibly is the easiest thing in the world. While it requires something approaching to genius to make a complimentary speech about any man that does not sound like sarcasm or drivel, it does not require that a man should be a Demosthenes to deliver, without going beyond the truth, a telling philippic against even the best and wisest. To descend, then, from general to particular cases, beautiful as this woman undoubtedly was, it is far easier to point out her faults of appearance than to describe her merits.

There was first, then, a want of that harmony about her by which many women who are plain of feature are rendered almost if not quite beautiful. The moon of September in a night of spring, the flower remaining open after sunset, are images that may suggest beauty, but certainly do not suggest harmony or repose. Then, her admirably-shaped mouth was of the smallest, a doubtful merit as regards beauty of feature, and always a positive fault as regards beauty of ex-pression. Then, too, the grace of her positive fault a regard of her pression. Then, too, the grace of her carriage was a little studied; unnecessarily so, for it was graceful enough by nature, and probably less languid than she made it seem. Again, her forehead lacked both height and breadth, without being more than commonly well formed. Her delicate hand, moreover, wanted the plumpness that a young hand ought to have, thus telling either of ill-health, present or to come, or else of excess

COUNCIL AT WORK AGAIN

Transacted Small Amount of Business in Good Order.

No Matters of Unusual Importance Up for Consideration.

City Hall Alterations To Be Reconsidered-Aldermen Seek to Avoid Legal Complications Re Franchises.

The city council met last night and transacted expeditiously the small amount of business that was up for ordinarily important, as may be judged from the only three matters that of stringing wires, the alterations at the city hall, and a matter of the city hall a m the city hall, and a matter of $250 for committee expenses. The reports of the committees met with very little objection and all the work of the council was done in good style. COMMUNICATIONS. E. L. Sifton's and the McClary Manufacturing Company's request for permission to string electric wires on certain streets was laid over until later in the evening.

City Clerk Kingston's application for two months' holidays was referred to No. 1 committee with power. He desired to leave in February.

The city solicitor presented petitions which he had prepared for submission to the legislature re the White and McClary bylaws. They were approved by the council. COMMITTEES. Ald. Winnett submitted the first ar-nual report of No. 3 committee, which was adopted, as already published. The report of No. 2 committee was read by Chairman Cooper. In it there was a reference to the matter of stringing electric wires on Clarence street as mentioned. Their report included a letter from the solicitors of the London Electric Company, who claimed that it was this company's exclusive privilege to string wires, no other firm having been given permission to do so. They threatened legal action to stop the work. Mr. Sifton explained that he had strung the wires without perbecause no meeting mission the council would be held in time to meet the circumstances of the case, and he asked that permission to go on with the work be granted him. The matter was referred back to the committee, the chairman to consult the city solicitor regarding it.

Ald. Greenlees said that if the Lonwas no reason why it should not grant the privilege to Mr. Sifton. Ald. Stevely said that Mr. Hunt had told him that he had no objection to lucky for you, you rascals, that you the privilege being granted to Mr. Sifdight hit me."—Tit-Bits. the same limits as his company was. A petition presented by Mr. J. L. Patterson protested against the construction of a sewer on Rectory street, but was filed, as it was not presented in CITY HALL ALTERATIONS. The board of works recommended that changes as already made public be made at the city hall, to cost not more than $1,500.

Ald. Cooper said that he would move the adoption of the clause, provided it was understood that no new hall would be arranged for this year.

Ald. Stevely said that this was going into the expenditure game too early in the year, and suggested that the mayor's onice be improved at once, and no further changes be made until estimates are prepared.

No. 2 committee had gone over the plan prepared by the engineer, and changed it considerably. Among other changes, they decided to move the mayor's office to the front of the city

Ald. Douglass suggested that this matter be referred back to be returned at another time with plans for alterations at the police station and the registry office.

Ald. Cooper and Ald. Greenlees held different opinions, while Ald. Campbell agreed. Ald. Greenlees said that they should adopt or reject the proposal.

Ald. Stevely moved in amendment, that the question be referred back to the committee with a suggestion that a more exact statement of proposed expenditure be supplied. Ald. Gerry's opinion was that the mayor's office should be as good, if not the best of any in the hall. As for the police station, he said, they need not worry about the cells there, all they need do was to wait until the new prohibition law be passed, when they would need no cells. (Laughter.) Ald. Stevely's amendment was adopted. By the newly-arranged plan, the mayor's office would occupy the front portion of the Mountjoy store, and would include a waiting-room. The would include a waiting-room. The assessment commissioner's office would be behind his worship's. The city clerk's office would be where the engineer's now is, and Mr. Graydon would move to the clerk's present quarters. In the space where the mayor's office is at present vaults would be constructed and an office would be constructed and an office provided for the medical health of-

RAISED OBJECTIONS. Some objection was made to the manufactures committee's request for $250 to defray yearly expenses. Ald. Campbell thought that to do this would be a bad way to start the year. would be a bad way to start the year, but Ald. Cooper, Ald. Gerry and Ald. McMechan did not agree with this. The latter said that the committee wanted to do something this year, and wanted to be in a position to do it.

Ald. Greenlees and others thought that it was unwise to grant any committee money without knowing what it would be spent. Consideration of the clause was deferred until the estimates has been prepared.

Ald. Douglass reported that the committee desired to add to its number from outside sources, and this inspired Ald. Greenlees to remark that f the number were increased the next thing they would hear would be a request for $500 instead of $250.
"If the members of that committee don't feel competent to do that work," said Ald. Jolly, "they might get the assistance of the other members of

Ald. McMechan-Well, there's no excuse for slurring the committee in that way. We simply wanted the co-operation of some of the business men of the city. We would have a member or two of the board of trade. We didn't feel just like children, but there are others who could help us, and we want their advice and assistance. The committee was empowered to add to their number.

RE ESTIMATES. On motion of Ald. Beattie a committee, composed of the three chair-men of committees will meet boards and trusts that receive money from the council, and endeavor to keep the estimates as low as possible.

Several bylaws were advanced a stage towards completion, and the council adjourned at 9:15 o'clock.

I discovered that in reality the nerves were crying out for their accustomed stimulant.

"At evening dinner I had been taught by experience that I must refrain from coffee or pass a sleepless night. In the summer of 1900, while visiting a physician and his wife I was served with a most excellent coffee at their dainty and elegant table and, upon inquiry, discovered that this charming beverage was Postum Food Coffee, and that the family had been greatly benefieed by leaving off coffee and using Postum. "I was so in love with it, and so

DISPOSAL OF THE STREET RAILWAY.

Cleveland Dispatch Says a Deal is On With a Syndicate of London Men.

Detroit, Jan. 20 .- A special from Cleveland, Ohio, says: "The Detroit United Railway is for sale, and will probably be sold soon," says a member of the committee managing the affairs of the Everett-Moore syndicate today. "It will not go for anything like the market quotations, but will be sold for a fair price. Negotions are on between the committee and a syndicate of Detroit and Chicago capitalists. The talking part is practically over. It only remains now for the syndicate to appear with the price. A portion of the Everett-Moore holdings will not be sold, but the entire thing. "The London, Ont., system will probably be sold to a syndicate of London The deal is under way, and will probably be made." This means that the Everett-Moore syndicate cannot hold both the Detroit line and the Big Consolidated, of Cleveland. Something must be sacrificed, and the Detroit system is the other street railway property that can be sacrificed and save the Cleveland line. It is also announced that the entire lot of Everett-Moore telephone hold-ings are for sale. The syndicate will go out of the telephone business. There is now a representative of a New York dependent telephone men of the east, headed by C. W. Morse, of New York, who is represented here in the negotiations by Judge Thomas.

If the deal is consummated, it will include all the unfinished lines of telephone, including the Detroit People's, and all the constituent companies of the Federal Telephone Company. According to this plan the Everett-Moore syndicate will hold not more than 50 per cent of what it held when the financial difficulties came. The annual meeting of the Detroit United will be held here tomorrow. 3.

Dastardly Attempts Made to Have Our People Buy Worthless Medicines Labeled as Celery Compounds.

There Are Dishonest Men Who Foist Their Worthless Substitutes On the Public, Deceiving Those Who Intend Buying

If the sick, suffering or friends of such who are using or about to use Paine's Celery Compound for the banishment of disease and the restoration of health, wish to avoid deception, loss of money and serious dangers, they should see for themselves when buying, that the name PAINE'S is on each wrapper and bottle that is offered them. Any other preparation offered is a fraud and deception of the worst character. The manufacturers of Paine's Celery Compound already know of many cases of suffering aggravated and intensified by these vile substitutes for Paine's Celery Compound sold to un-suspecting people. These spurious brands of celery compound are sold by some dealers for the sole reason of the immense profit that is derived from their sale. As far as the unscrupulous dealers are concerned, they care little whether the patient is killed or cured; profit, and a mighty one too, is their great object. If you cannot get the genuine Paine's Celery Compound from your dealer, The Wells & Richardson Company, Limited, Montreal, will send two bottles, express charges paid, to your nearest Express Station for two dollars, or six bottles for five dollars. Money must accompany order.

SILVER WEDDING

AT FERNHILL

Mr. and Mrs. Zavitz Celebrate 25th Anniversary of Their Marriage.

On Thursday, Jan. 16, a very pleasing and interesting event occurred at the nome of Mr. and Mrs. John Zavitz, of Fernhill, it being the 25th anniversary of their marriage, and although the weather was not pleasant, the house, which was handsomely decorated for the occasion, was well filled with friends and neighbors, and a very enjoyable time was spent by all. After partaking able of the rich repast provided by the host and hostess, the afternoon was spent in vocal and instrumental music and social chat, after which most of the elderly people dispersed to their homes after wishing Mr. and Mrs. Zavitz many happy returns of the day. The house, however, was soon crowded once more by young and merry people, who were also well served with an oyster supper, and the evening was spent in music, games, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Zavitz were the recipients of many useful and handsome presents. Among the most expensive was a solid silver sugar bowl from Mr. and Mrs. John Chatman; handsome pickle cruet from Mr. and Mrs. John McCollon; pair of napkin rings from Miss Edith and Mr. Orval Daniels; two silver fruit spoons from Mr. and Mrs. John Linton; silver butter dish from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Matthews; silver cheese dish from Mr. and Mrs. E. Zavitz; silver butter knife and sugar spoon from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chatman; pie fork from Mr. and Mrs. Oliver; biscuit jar from Mr. and Mrs. M. Linton; silver spoon-holder from Mr. and Mrs. Silas Zavitz, and a silver carving set from a sister of Mrs. J. Zavitz.
