THREE CENTS.

NEW TAX SPOILS 5-CENT BEER

Thousands Are Pouring Into Local Income Tax Office

FIVE CENT BEER IS HOPELESS

Local Hotelmen Say Government Tax Means Ten Cents a Glass.

TABLES ADD COST

New Beer Is More Expensive Than Old Pre-War Stuff.

Government taxes totalling 22½ cents per gallon on 4.4 beer have sent all chances of five cent beer glimmering never to return, London hotel owners stated this morning.

"We can't possibly sell beer for five cents a glass with a huge tax like that," stated one hotel keeper. "We would be forced to sell it at a loss. Patrons will have to pay ten cents a glass or do without."

One man who has run a hotel in London for years declared that the breweries are proposing to wholesale the 4.4 at about 40 cents a gallon. He thought 20 glasses to a gallon would be about the proper size of the drinks, while another hotelkeeper declared he would sell the beverage in the usual 12-ounce mug which gives a little better than 13 glasses to a gallon.

Ten Cents a Glass.

"Imagine paying 40 cents a gallon for the stuff and selling it out at 65 cents. We would be losing money on it. The only thing to do is to sell it at ten cents a glass and give good measure, in my opinion," declared this hotel man.

"Even at that, London people would be getting it cheaper than in Toronto where I understand the present price is 15 cents a glass."

"Is that the price for 2½ per cent or the real stuff?" asked the reporter.

"But yourself, you ought to know as much about it as I do," was the reply.

Before prohibition the hotels purchased beer at $6.25 a barrel, or in other words 25 cents a gallon, and sold it at a profit of 45 cents a gallon.

Tables Add To Cost.

Comparing old-time prices with the proposed price of 40 cents a gallon, a 1914 bartender pointed out that the new regulations whereby all beer must be sold at tables meant a great deal of extra expense for waiters, chairs, tables, etc., and that the accommodation for customers would be limited.

"If a man walks into the room and sees that all the tables and chairs are being used he will be inclined to walk out and do without his drink. Customers may come in, order a glass of beer and spend half an hour or more in conversation with his friends. If the hotel man asks him to vacate his chair for another customer, he is liable to get into a row. Not come back. Selling over the bar is the one best bet in my estimation."

Will Hold Railway Probe In Court House Tuesday

T. G. Meredith Will Represent City in Complaint Against Street Railway.

ON BYLAW 916

Inquiry To Be Based on Violations of Franchise—No Operation Matters.

The Ontario railway and municipal board will open a hearing into the city of London's street railway complaint a week from Tuesday. The county court house will be the scene of the judicial inquiry.

T. G. Meredith, city solicitor, will appear for the city, and R. G. Ivey will represent the street railway company. The board will call for evidence to support the city's complaint of violation of bylaw 916.

Delay in setting a date for the hearing was caused by the city's request for an enquiry in London. The board was ready to hear the case in Toronto next Tuesday, but Mr. Meredith was anxious that London be the scene of the hearing.

Discussing the matter with the Advertiser, the vice-chairman of the board, Andrew Ingram, stated that there was no desire on the part of the railway board to delay the hearing. It is impossible for the board to come to London before May 12, though Mr. Ingram and Commissioner P. W. Ellis are in Windsor today on railway board matters.

Mr. Ingram would not discuss the probable effect of closing of Ridout street bridge in the case which will come before the board. And it is understood that operating difficulties will not enter into the case, but that the hearing will be conducted to discover the extent of the company's breach of agreement.

Despite this celebration it is said by well-informed persons that Hindenburg's victory is less likely to affect the ex-Kaiser personally than it is the former crown prince, whose activity and influence in military quarters have been increasing.

FORMER BUTCHER HELD AS MURDERER OF WIFE

Frank Kocurek, Chicago, Is Arrested After Finding of Torso of Woman.

Associated Press Despatch.

Chicago, April 29.—Frank Kocurek, manager of a restaurant, and formerly a butcher, was taken into custody late yesterday in connection with the finding a week ago of the torso of a woman in a catch basin here.

After questioning Kocurek for several hours, authorities announced that they believed the woman to be his wife and that he had slain her a year ago, using his knowledge of butchering in dismembering the body. Kocurek vehemently denied the charge, although he admitted that the body of the woman might be that of his wife, who he maintained was kidnapped by two men on May 11, 1924.

LAST DAY BRINGS TAX RUSH

Income Tax Office Gets Checks Up To $500,000—Tomorrow Last Day.

BETTER THAN 1924

Today's Total Shows Improvement, But Final Rush Is Bad As Ever.

Nice big checks of $500,000 and little checks for a dollar or so are piling into the offices of the federal inspector of taxation today. The large checks are in the minority, of course, from big corporations, but there have been a number of them. Tomorrow there will be even larger ones, for it is the last day for the filing of returns. Last year one check was received for nearly one million dollars. Five cashiers, at as many wickets, are receiving the returns brought in by Londoners. Last week the amounts received were less than a year ago, but this week the tide has turned. Today the receipts were $100,000 ahead of last year at this time. Inspector Tambling says that it does not mean much, for one good check is enough to make considerable difference in the days' total.

Tomorrow is the last day for the filing of the T1 forms for individuals other than farmers and ranchers; T1A for farmers and ranchers and T2A for corporations. The tax offices will be open from 9 o'clock tomorrow morning until 9 at night to handle the last-minute rush. After tomorrow there is a penalty of five per cent of the tax payable for those who did not file in time, said the inspector.

LAST TRIBUTE IS PAID TO DROWNING VICTIM

Funeral of Frank Payne Largely Attended at Port Stanley.

Special to The Advertiser.

Port Stanley, April 29.—All Port Stanley today mourned death of the late Frank Payne in the lake tragedy of last week, and this afternoon routine activities were suspended on the occasion of the funeral of this well-known citizen.

As a token of the respect in which the late Mr. Payne was held, the fishing fleet did not leave on its usual trip this morning, to enable Mr. Payne's former associates to attend the funeral.

The funeral took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence, Hillcrest, to the Union cemetery. Rev. J. N. Gould of Port Stanley officiated.

So many many were there who wished to pay their last respects that traffic regulations were necessary on the school house hill, and the floral offerings were unusually numerous and beautiful.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, April 29.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Athens says the Greek patriarch, Constantinos, who was expelled on January 30 last from Constantinople by the Turks, consented to abdicate after the signing of a Greco-Turkish agreement.

The above despatch follows closely upon advice to the Exchange Telegraph from Constantinople last Friday, but unconfirmed from any other source, to the effect that an agreement had been signed settling all the problems affecting Turkey and Greece.

GERMANY NOT TO ALTER HER FOREIGN POLICY

Chancellor Luther, in Issuing Statement, Expresses Official View of Hindenburg.

WAR NOT DESIRED

People Are Urged To Return To Old Habit of Individual Savings.

Associated Press Despatch.

Berlin, April 29.—In order to bring about stable European conditions, the question of the evacuation of the Cologne area by the allies must be speedily settled, Dr. Hans Luther, the German chancellor, declared in a statement today.

"For more than three months," he said, "we have waited in vain for the reasons held to justify the non-evacuation."

Germany's foreign policy will not be changed, Dr. Luther stated emphatically. His declaration was made in an address before the annual congress of the league for German industry and commerce. It is understood to reflect also the viewpoint of President-elect von Hindenburg, with whom the chancellor conferred yesterday.

"The people of Europe desire the removal of uncertainty and lack of clearness," Dr. Luther said. "A policy having that end in view must naturally be governed by the law of continuity and cannot arbitrarily change its direction."

Does Not Desire War.

That Germany does not desire war was a further categorical declaration by the chancellor, who laid great stress upon Germany's adherence to the security pact idea.

"Germany desires to protect herself by treaty," he observed, "and, as I wish to emphasize at this time, I do not desire to conduct war."

With regard to the failure to settle the evacuation question, Dr. Luther declared: "The whole European policy suffers from delay on this question."

Reverting to the security problem, the chancellor reiterated: "It is self evident that the standpoint adopted by the government remains unchanged."

The chancellor followed with a pledge for international co-operation. "Germany has made the mark completely secure through measures it has adopted and that it has other measures in hand for keeping it stable."

In order that Germany may export more and also that home consumption may be increased, the chancellor solemnly admonished his hearers to forget the figures of inflation and again to calculate on close margins in which every penny counts. He said he considered an export surplus essential both for industry and for the meeting of reparation payments.

He added a plea that the German people resume their pre-war habit of accumulating individual savings.

URGES INDIVIDUAL SAVING.

The chancellor said that the Reichsbank has made the mark completely secure through measures it has adopted and that it has other measures in hand for keeping it stable.

FIRE DESTROYS SLAUGHTER HOUSE

$1,500 Damage Is Estimate of John Gwul, Owner of Building.

Fire destroyed a slaughter house on Third street, near the C. N. R. tracks, owned by John Gwul, shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, and threatened a nearby frame house and barn. Through the work of No. 2 station of the fire department, headed by Captain Robert Haylock, a number of hogs in an adjoining pen were saved. The loss is placed at $1,500, only part of which is covered by insurance.

The blaze is believed to have started from a spark of a passing engine. The alarm was telephoned into the central fire hall at 9:10 o'clock and instructions were given to proceed to Second street, bordering on the city limits. Had the correct location of the fire been given, it would have been necessary for the fire department to receive permission from city authorities before responding. Third street is outside the city limits.

The slaughter house, an old frame structure and burned rapidly once the fire gained headway. Efforts of firemen were confined to saving adjoining homes. Hay in the building, which suddenly burst into flames, handicapped their work for a time.

No. 2 station succeeded in extinguishing the fire without aid from other stations in the city. The blaze was under control shortly after the arrival of firemen.

Return to This Basis Would Do Away With Violent Exchange Fluctuations.

The big financial news of the British budget is the return of Great Britain to the gold standard and the raising of the embargo on gold shipments out of Britain.

The return of Great Britain to the gold standard does not mean any visible change to the people of England, but it means much in the sterling exchange market. When Sir George Paish was in Canada recently he stated that the sovereign would not likely circulate again from pocket to pocket as it did in the old days. The people have grown used to using the paper currency.

Sterling exchange could now return automatically to par if the British government cared to let it. The gold standard and permission to make gold payments abroad, when profitable to do so, will stabilize the old days' fluctuation of sterling, strictly speaking, will be within what are known as the "gold points," or the actual cost of importing and exporting gold, which is said to be approximately two points.

Gold Basis Approved.

As far as Canada is concerned the Royal bank has advocated the return of the gold basis in this country for the past two years. The Canadian dollar is at par now, but the gold basis would mean that the premium on the Canadian dollar in New York funds, for instance, would not exceed the cost of shipping gold, which is one-eighth of one per cent.

During the past five years there have been some violent fluctuations in the exchange. The gold basis does away with that. It is good for trade. It is a sign of normal conditions. The question now naturally arises, what will Canada do? Early cable despatches this morning said that the dominion would follow suit.

Australia having actually decided to take the step at once. South Africa is expected to resume the gold standard on July 1st. There has been a great deal of talk of resumption for some time, but little has been heard from Ottawa. It is almost certain now that the Canadian dollar will be at par or better in New York. At the time a resumption would make little difference in our exchange market.

Aid Canadian Financing.

Immediate benefits to Canada of a return to par by sterling will be that the British market will again be open for Canadian financing. Since the war the sterling discount drove Canada to the United States for loans in need of money. In the past year, however, despite the discount handicap, London has been displaying a much keener interest in Canadian issues, and local financial houses anticipate that this interest will be much more marked from now on.

McKENNA DUTIES WILL HIT CANADIAN CARS

British Manufacturer Will Be Worried With Less Competition.

FRUITS PROTECTED
Tobacco and Sugar Producers of Canada Will Also Be Affected.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, April 29.—Restoration of the McKenna duties in England will affect passenger automobiles, musical instruments, clocks and watches. The McKenna duties were first imposed during the war, and under their provisions the articles mentioned were subject to a duty of 33.1-3 per cent. Empire products, which, of course, included Canadian, had a preferential rate of 22.2 per cent. The duties were allowed to lapse by the British Labor government of last year.

So far as Canada is concerned restoration of the duties will chiefly affect the export of passenger automobiles and motorcycles. But here, tariff experts observe, the point arises whether the Canadian car, which is to meet in the British market the most severe competition from the English or from the foreign product. So far as the Canadian car is concerned, competition in Great Britain is concluded Canadian, had a preferential rate will be a decided advantage to the Canadian exporter. But if competition comes from the English car, reimposition of the preferential rate will be a disadvantage.

Means Less Competition.

Without the McKenna duties, it is pointed out, the Canadian car, as well as the foreign car, entered the British market free, the English car having no tariff protection. But with restoration of the McKenna duties, the English car will be protected both against the foreign and the Canadian car, which is a disadvantage against the latter is less.

Under the further preference proposals of Mr. Churchill, Australia and South Africa, as producers of fruits, are likely to be chief beneficiaries. The proposals as interpreted here, imply the putting into effect of the first part of the Baldwin preference scheme submitted by the Baldwin government at the last imperial conference. In this category came dried fruits, raisins, plums and apricots, and other fruit and wine. On these, the British government already imposed preferential duties, and the offer was that the preferential rates would be either increased or stabilized.

Other Products Affected.

That offer apparently is to be given effect, it is pointed out here, however, that the labor government of last year reduced the duty on sugar, thus automatically reducing the preference. This is a source of some curiosity as to the exact intentions of the British government in regard to the duty on sugar. Official advice has not as yet been received. Tobacco and sugar are most likely to be affected, so far as Canada is concerned. The Baldwin government made a further offer of preference at the imperial conference. This would have involved levying new duties on certain food products, and in view of the verdict in the recent British general election was dropped. Canadian dried apples, pears and peaches, green apples, canned salmon, canned lobsters and honey would have benefited had this offer been given effect.

MOTOR CLUB OFFICES REMAIN AT TECUMSEH

Will Not Leave Hotel With Transfer of Chamber of Commerce.

The London Motor club will still retain quarters in the Tecumseh hotel, Secretary G. A. Bernard stated this afternoon. The club at the present time leases its office from the London chamber of commerce, which is moving next month to the former Merchants Bank building at Queen's avenue and Richmond streets.

"We will still have our headquarters in the Tecumseh, but it has not yet been decided just what space we will occupy," said Mr. Bernard.

The club has had a number of new signs painted which will direct tourist traffic to the tourist camp at Wonderland. "We haven't had many inquiries about the camp as yet, but once the warm weather comes to stay, we will be very busy," declared Mr. Bernard.

Several city officers of the Salvation Army went to Clinton last night to hear Commandant Hurd, local financial secretary, deliver an address on the "Underworld." The meeting was under the auspices of Reeve Middleton and the clergy of the town.

Among those who went from here were Adj. Crank, Captain Hawkes, Lieut. Dickson, Ensign and Mrs. Lutton, Captain Roland of Exeter, and Lieut. Kingdom of Goderich were also present.

"JUST FRESH PICKED" FAILS TO SELL BERRIES

Several Boxes of Strawberries Exhibited For Sale, But Club Member Doubts.

Despite the fact that local strawberries are just beginning to show signs of blossom buds, one enterprising fruit merchant of the city displayed a few boxes of berries this morning with a pretty red ticket stating that they were just "fresh picked."

An advertiser reporter caught a member of the Advertising club peering at the berries and wondering if they were really worth 20 cents a box.

"Fresh picked," he remarked, "Look to me as if they were fresh picked from one box to another. I guess I won't buy, for you know our motto is 'Truth in Advertising'."

Following the degree work a banquet was held in the dining hall, served by members of the Rebekah lodge, No. 1. The work of the visitors, speeches and addresses, were the subject of several compliments from Londoners and visitors during the banquet. The ladies in charge of the banquet were under the supervision of Miss L. Bice, noble grand of the Victoria Rebekah lodge.

One of the outstanding addresses of the evening was that given by James Tulley of Alberta, who gave an outline of the work in the jurisdiction of Alberta showing that it has made vast progress and increased largely in the past year.

AMPUTATIONS CLUB IS BEING ORGANIZED HERE

Expect Fifty Veterans at First Meeting. To Be Held May 11.

Soldiers who suffered casualties which resulted in amputations during the great war will form a branch of the amputations' association of the great war in London.

Through the efforts of V. A. Burt, a meeting has been called for May 11, when the executive from Toronto and local men who are interested will meet in the Peoples Loan building.

For some time negotiations have been afoot in London and between the association headquarters in Toronto. Many of the 200 amputation cases in Western Ontario have signified their intention of joining the organization. It is expected that at least 50 will be present at the first meeting.

A Sutcliffe of Toronto, dominion secretary of the association, has written stating that most of the members of the executive will be in London to talk over the future plans for this district.

Asked if the local branch would open clubrooms, Mr. Burt said today that he could not say at present. The first thought would be to aid all amputation cases and help ex-soldiers who are totally blind.

Getting Out Or Getting In.

The question of transportation, the ownership of the C. N. R., the future of it, and even the merging of the two great railroad systems of Canada into one, has come so forcibly to the front at Ottawa as to dim the fast-fading budget debate. The address of W. D. Euler, M.P. for North Waterloo, chairman of the railway committee, has put the issue in a place where it must be dealt with. Mr. Euler is not a maker of many speeches in the house. He waits until he has something to bring before parliament, and he has followed his usual practice on this occasion.

Mr. Euler would create a railway monopoly in Canada, but the monopoly would be in the hands of the people; this he would bring about by having the Canadian National absorb the Canadian Pacific. He makes the prediction that such an arrangement would save the Canadian people $100,000,000 a year, enable the government to reduce taxation by one-third or one-quarter, and would pay off the national debt in twenty years.

These are big claims made in a big way, but the member for North Waterloo adds that he has the authority of the best experts in the dominion for the statement he made and the results that would follow. The prospect of saving $100,000,000 a year is so out of the ordinary that it is not easy to grasp. It means $276,712 for every day of the year, or $1,233,076 each week.

There have been indications for some time that the heads of the two railways have been in a mood to consider mutual concessions for the curtailment of expense that was not reproducing itself in the form of revenue. There are well defined limits to which such negotiations can be carried, because both the president of the C. P. R. and of the C. N. R. would be in duty bound to be on the outlook for any advantage for his own road, and elimination carried out as a result of such parleys would of necessity be of a perfunctory sort.

The primary trouble with the Canadian National is that it has too great a mileage for the business it can secure. It is made up of the Canadian Northern, Grand Trunk Pacific, Grand Trunk and the Intercolonial. It is a huge railway system, the largest in the world, 22,000 miles of track. This is more than the total railway mileage of Austria, Bulgaria, Greece, Finland, Norway, Portugal, Rumania and Belgium combined. These nations together have more than fifty-two million people; Canada has about nine million. Canada has one mile of railway for every 200 people, as against 400 in United States and 2,500 in Britain. The Canadian National is equipped to handle infinitely more business than is available in the territory it serves.

One other point should be kept in mind—the C. N. R. is composed of roads that became defunct under private management. The Canadian Northern was started in 1896, and before it was through had added 9,566 miles to the total in Canada. It was fed and stuffed by the provinces through which it ran; but in 1914 it was down flat, receiving another $60,000,000 to keep it going. By 1917 the breath of life was gone and the government took it over—dead. The Grand Trunk Pacific came in a similar state of exhaustion, and so did the Grand Trunk. Thousands of miles had been built by these separate companies to compete with each other, and after being brought together they are still in many cases doing the same thing. Their failure to make good financially since being taken over by the people is not a monument to the failure of public ownership, because they had been worse failures under private auspices than they are today as one road operated by the government.

It is well that W. D. Euler is chairman of the railway committee of the house today, for there is need of a strong hand there, and one that will not be swayed by the very evident propaganda that is spreading over the country that says "Get rid of the Canadian Nationals, no matter to whom; get rid of them." W. D. Euler's plan is to get rid of the unprofitable duplication and produce a system that will work for the people.

We are approaching a stage where some move is going to be made. There are many signs pointing to that. The London Free Press is not particular who gets the road as long as the people get rid of it. It explains its own position this way:

"The Free Press has always been a strong advocate of public ownership and is not satisfied yet that a change from public to private ownership would make much improvement. It was under private ownership that the country got into the present middle. However, the Free Press does not believe in public ownership at the expense of the ratepayers, and if the only way that the present taxation burden can be unloaded is to hand over the road to some private corporation, then the Free Press, even as an earnest believer in public ownership, is not prepared to protest."

The fact that the Free Press "does not believe in public ownership at the expense of the ratepayers" is an explanation that does not explain anything in this case, because while these roads that make up the Canadian Nationals of today were privately owned they were feeding at the public trough and were just as definitely a burden on the people as they are today, nor were they giving the service that is being maintained on the National lines now.

W. D. Euler indulges in no such gesture of despair. He can foresee that there is a season of keen negotiation ahead, and he is prepared to enter it, not with the idea of creating a monopoly that the people cannot control, nor of handing the property over, as the Free Press suggests, "to some private corporation," unnamed and unknown, but rather of bringing about a monopoly that will be controlled by the people and that will work for them. It would be presumption at this stage to say that the Euler plan is possible of accomplishment, but it represents an attitude that is more to be desired than the crying out of "kamerad" and the displaying of an unholy desire to scramble out at any cost.

Mr. Euler and Mr. Payne.

The speech in parliament of W. D. Euler, chairman of the special committee on railways, has a local significance which parallels its national importance.

The significance lies in the interesting comparison which exists between Mr. Euler's speech and that made before the London Kiwanis club last Friday by Mr. John Lambert Payne of Ottawa.

Mr. Euler suggests an amalgamation of the C. N. R. and the C. P. R. under public ownership in order that the profits of such arrangement might belong to the people of this country.

Mr. J. Lambert Payne also suggested an amalgamation, but it consisted of surrendering the National Railways to the C. P. R. with profits going to a private corporation, and his suggestion came as the climax of an attack on the present government's operation and everything connected therewith.

Whoever sponsored Mr. J. Lambert Payne as a speaker before the Kiwanis club created a deliberate opportunity to deliver an unadulterated political attack. If any further proof is required it lies in the support which the local Conservative paper gave to its spokesman. The Free Press had Mr. Payne's address in type before it was delivered and it supplemented the speech on Monday with a lengthy editorial endorsing his attack.

The Kiwanis club was handed an out-and-out political speaker in Mr. Payne. His only rival is Mr. Gratton O'Leary, "the scribe of Toryism," who addressed the Kiwanis club a few weeks ago under similar circumstances.

Turning On the Light in Detroit.

Judge Frank Murphy of the recorder's court, in Detroit, was asked some time ago to investigate conditions in that city with particular reference to the management of civic business. He has produced his report, and it conditions are only one-half as bad as he indicates they will still justify the use of the word "rotten" in giving an adequate description.

Nor is Judge Murphy's report simply a review of conditions that are wrong; it has some real teeth in it that call for warrants for the arrest of nineteen persons, including four paving contractors, one of whom is described as being in the ranks of Detroit's millionaires; another wanted for conspiracy is vice-president of a trust company. Others are employees of the parks and motor transport divisions. His report found graft and corruption in the board of education, department of public works, motor transport, parks and boulevards, water board, and even in connection with the purchase of a site for a county morgue. The judge charges graft in connection with the sale of oil, motorcycles, and the building of a $1,000,000 garage.

There is nothing surprising in the report of Judge Murphy; there are few even on this side of the border who have watched Detroit or who have a personal knowledge of the trend of life there who will think that this is something new that has risen up from without and forced its way on Detroit's civic life. It is simply another outcropping of the low standard of public vision that has given Detroit a daily police record that makes a murder nothing to get excited about, and a hold-up a matter of routine.

Detroit has grown so rapidly that it has neglected to grow well at the same time. In its era of expansion it overlooked some of the cardinal principles that make big cities great cities. Get rich and do so quickly has been too much the unwritten slogan of many of its people. The young Canadian who is caught up with the picture of Detroit's appeal should think seriously of what he has at home before he throws himself into the melting pot across the border.

Always Learning

Recounting how with envy strong I watched the man who'd made his wad, and, tryin' to do the same as him, I landed sideways on the sod.

Some time gone past I used to read about how fortunes fat was made, and none of them came to the man who rustled with a pick and spade. I read how one man in a week had put a million in his sock, by buyin' in and sellin' out a hundred thousand shares of stock.

How he had come back from the south, from sittin' on a sandy shore, and he be castin' round a bit before he made a million more.

And he rode in a handsome car and lived upon the swellest street, he had a man to press his pants and shine the sandals on his feet—he had ten suits of clothes, he did, a stovepipe hat and swallow-tail, he was a humpin' in the back from cartin' round his load of kale.

I envied him the things he had and chanted on my hymn of hate, then reckoned I as smart as he, would start myself to speculate.

I got some mining stock, I did, I never saw the mine at work, nor knew if when what ran the place was Gentile, Hebrew, Slav or Turk. I'd do just like the other guy, I'd imitate that pompous pup, and make ten thousand at a crack when mining stock was movin' up.

When I was waitin' for my chance to buy up half of this old town, my stock it shivered in the spine and started then a-slidin' down.

There wasn't nothin' I could do to make that stock quit slidin' down. I pucker up my jaw a spell and on my chin there grew a frown. But when that stock got through with me there wasn't nothin' but the core, and I was like a battered scow a-tossed upon a rocky shore.

No more I chase the rainbow now, pursuin' sheddles in a heap, I'm pickin' up an odd coin now and saltin' it in brine to keep. I take the nickels and the dimes and park them in the sugar-bowl, and cut my fancy habits down to keep from slippin' in the hole.

And then what come to me today to sell me stock in Timbuctoo, I smite them with my horny hand and dust 'em with a hob-nailed shoe.—ARK.

Shows That Only 4 Per Cent of Total School Population Take Subjects and the Cost is Over $20 Per Capita.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir—A very wonderful document has come into my hands, which has been sent out by the advisory committee of the parents' association of the London South collegiate to all the parents, soliciting their support for the retention of domestic science and manual training in the colleges.

Let us analyze this document that has been compiled under the names of Howard Hartley, H. R. Franks, and E. R. Dennis. The appeal falls naturally into two distinct groups. The first group is an appeal to sentiment, and deals with all the wonderful things that these subjects are supposed to do for the students in the one year in which they are taken. Of course any sensible person knows quite well that no one course of any curriculum on earth can possibly do all that they claim these can do. We ought to note, however, that during the period of three years in which these subjects are taught to the public school children, there is sufficient time spent to give a fairly preliminary education along these lines, and the cost of supplying these subjects to the public school children is justifiable on the grounds that all the children of the city have the opportunity to participate in it.

We are told by these gentlemen that the entire cost of these subjects has not exceeded $6,000 in any one year. Now, this is a bald statement and no proof of the correctness of the figures has been attempted. Let me review my figures that I gave you in my last letter. I made them fairly broad so as not to be accused of unfairness to my opponents, and I should have been glad to have left the matter at that if my opponents had been as fair to me. I said that the number of first year students in the colleges is only amounted to 7 per cent of the entire student population of the city; as a matter of fact they only amount to 4 per cent. If any one doubts this figure, let him get the total student enrollment for February last, which is 11,101, and the total first year enrollment of collegiate students, which is 444, and he will find that it is a little less than 4 per cent. Now, these gentlemen state that the cost has never exceeded $6,000 in a year. From what source they got their information I do not know.

What are the facts?

1. The cost of interest, etc., on capital expenditure for these subjects in the Central collegiate is $1,600.
2. The salary for teachers for 1925 is $6,865.
3. Estimated cost of supplies for 1925 is $85.
4. Cost of fuel, light and janitor, 1925 is $275.

Total $9,735

The government grant of $555 for these subjects should be added to get the gross cost, but to be perfectly fair we will subtract that, and it will make the gross cost of these subjects to the citizens of London $9,735 minus $555, which equals $9,180. Now there were 444 first year students in February, this year, and if we divide 444 into $9,180 we arrive at the cost per student as it is today of a little over $20 per student, and not $15 per head, as I claimed in my last letter to you. My excuse for my last letter, again writing to you, Mr. Editor, is that if the people are to be made acquainted with the costs of these subjects they should at least be given approximately accurate information. Thanking you. Yours truly, ROY D. MESS, Trustee.

CANADA IS HELPED BY BRITISH BUDGET

Sugar, Tobacco and Automobiles Benefit in Preference Proposals.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, April 28.—Canadian sugar, tobacco and automobiles will be the chief beneficiaries under the preference proposals in Mr. Churchill's budget.

To a certain extent, Canadian wines also may benefit. Sugar, tobacco and wines came under the first part of the offer of increased preferences made by the Baldwin government at the last imperial conference. To this part of the offer, it is apparently the intention of the British government to give effect. Under its terms increased or stabilized preferences were to be granted on certain articles which were already dutiable on entering Great Britain. Sugar, tobacco and wines were in this list.

There was another offer under which new duties were to be imposed on certain foodstuffs when coming from countries outside the empire free. This offer had been dropped as a result of the defeat of the Baldwin government at the polls.

Canadian automobiles should benefit as a result of restoration of the McKenna duties. These duties gave a preference to Empire automobiles, among other things. They expired a year ago and were not renewed by the late Labor government.

PREMIER BRUCE SAYS NEW TREATY POSSIBLE

Comments On Fact of Commissioner Ross Returning To Australia.

Make the way Easier with a set of

H&D SHOCK ABSORBERS

"A Necessity with Balloons"

The Easiest Riding Car is a Ford H & D Equipped

H & D's make a remarkable difference in the riding qualities of Ford Cars. If you ask a man who is using a set you'll find that he wouldn't be without them for many times their cost.

H & D's are a necessity with balloon tires. "Balloons" are not a substitute for shock absorbers—they are too "bouncy" on rough roads. But balloons and H & D's are the last word in easy riding.

The Vibraph (a machine for registering vibrations) has demonstrated that a Ford equipped with H & D's is the easiest riding car on the market.

H & D's give you that smooth, gliding motion. They iron out the rough roads. You don't even feel the car tracks. And they save the springs, the engine and the tires.

The Operation I Avoided—

MRS. IDA M. COFFMAN, SIOUX FALLS, S.D.

If there is one thing more than another a woman dreads, it is a surgical operation, and to be told that one is necessary is very disheartening.

Hospitals are grand institutions, and undoubtedly many operations are necessary. However, we have received hundreds of letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation had been deemed advisable.

Every woman who suffers as Mrs. Coffman did naturally wishes to avoid an operation if possible, and the remarkable statements which she makes in her letter will be read with interest by women everywhere.

Mrs. Coffman's Letter Follows:

Sidell, Illinois.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side which was noticeable at all times, but sometimes it was almost unbearable and I could not even let the bed clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years, but not so badly until the last eighteen months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help and the doctor told me that an operation was all there was left for me. I would not consent to that so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house and when my two little girls reach womanhood I shall advise them to take it."—Mrs. IDA M. COFFMAN, R. R. No. 2, Sidell, Illinois.

Alberta Woman Avoids an Operation

Provost, Alberta.—"I was in a bad condition and would suffer awful pains at times and could not do anything. The doctor said I should have an operation. I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now I have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial letter."—Mrs. A. A. ADAMS, Box 54, Provost, Alberta.

45 Years ago To-day!

THIS is the 45th birthday of The Bell Telephone Company of Canada. Times have indeed changed since April 29th, 1880, when the Company was incorporated by special Act of Parliament.

The telephone has been an important factor in bringing the changes about.

At the end of its first year The Bell Telephone Company of Canada had 2,100 telephones in service. By 1890 the number had increased nine times—to 19,350. By 1900 that number had doubled—38,360. Again by 1910 even that total had multiplied almost four times—to 133,910. By the end of 1920 the number of telephones had increased to 377,000—almost three times as many as at the close of the preceding decade.

To-day, on the Company's 45th birthday, there are more than 545,000 Bell Telephones in Ontario and Quebec, and over thirteen thousand employees. For every telephone in service forty-five years ago there are now over 250.

By thus multiplying the opportunities for communication the telephone immensely increases the field of man's activity. The value of the service is increased by each additional telephone installed.

ABOUT THE
COUGHS AND COLDS
OF THE CHILDREN

It is hard to keep them from taking cold; they will run out of doors not properly clad, or have on too much clothing; play too hard and get overheated, and cool off too suddenly; get their feet wet; kick off the bed clothes at night, and do a dozen things the mother can't prevent.

The prompt use of will check the cough or cold before any serious lung trouble can possibly develop.

Mrs. Everett E. Keetch, R.R. No. 2, Fredericton, N.B., writes:—"My little boy, age nine years, had a dreadful cold which left him with a bad cough. I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using three bottles he was completely relieved. I would advise all mothers to use this remedy for their children as it is an excellent medicine."

SPARKS FROM CHIMNEY
CAUSE ST. THOMAS FIRE

St. Thomas, April 28.—A small, but stubborn fire tonight burned a portion of the roof of the residence of Robert N. Price, of 9 Forest avenue. Reports indicate that the fire had been burning in the cornice of the building for some time before being discovered. The fire chief attributes the blaze to sparks falling from the chimneys.

BEER AT 5 CENTS
BECOMES UNLIKELY

Toronto Brewers Say Excise
Tax of 12 1-2 Cents Gallon
Means Higher Price.

MINISTERS DISAGREE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, April 28.—Brewers of Toronto hold that 5c per glass will not be possible for the new 4.4 beer if the federal government puts 12 1/2 cents per gallon excise tax on the beverage, as proposed by Ottawa, in addition to the proposed provincial tax of 10c per gallon.

Members of the Ontario government, however, while claiming to have indicated that the Ottawa treasury would not impose the excise tax, say that even so the retail price per glass should not go above 5c.
"It doesn't mean, necessarily, that 4.4 is intoxicating, but it does mean that it is a 'beer' within the meaning of the excise act, and thus liable for the special tax of 12 1/2c per gallon," said G. W. Taylor, assistant deputy minister of inland revenue today, in explanation of the department's ruling.

"The imposition of the federal excise tax was discussed some time ago," said Hon. W. F. Nickle, attorney-general, "and we understood it would not go in. However, they can do it if they like. It will not make any difference to us or our regulations. We will collect our tax just the same."

DEPARTMENT RULING.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, April 28.—The stronger beer which is to be sold in Ontario will be subject to federal excise tax of 12 1/2c a gallon.

The department has ruled that 4.4 beer comes within the definition of beer in the excise act of Canada. According to the act, beer means and includes ale, porter, lager beer and all other fermented liquor made in whole or in part from malt grain or any saccharine matter.

In its ruling the department of customs and excise makes no mention as to whether or not the beer is intoxicating. Breweries of Ottawa are receiving notice that the tax will be placed upon 4.4 beer as on any other beer of higher alcoholic content.

INSPECTOR NAMED.

Toronto, April 28.—It was announced here this evening that the Ferguson government had named Rev. E. J. Etherington, former controller and prominent Labor worker of Hamilton, inspector of permits for the sale of 4.4 beer in the province, with headquarters at the parliament buildings, Toronto. The position was created and designed to provide the supervision which the government promised over the stronger beer trade.

The special charge of Mr. Etherington will be to see that the establishments selling the 4.4 per cent beer are of a proper character, and that they are consistently well conducted and maintained with proper equipment for handling the trade creditably. His appointment is taken as an indication that the time for the proclamation of the 4.4 legislation is not far distant.

Rev. Mr. Etherington is an Englishman and taught school in England before coming to Canada. He retired from the active work of the ministry about eight years ago.

WINNIPEG SUICIDES.

HOPE FOR CANADA VOICED
IN HOUSE BY ONE TORY M.P.

Dr. S. F. Tolmie Is First
Conservative To See Bright

ASKS COAST DEFENCE

Says Lands On Pacific Are Wide Open To Enemy
Attacks.

By E. C. BUCHANAN,
Special To The Advertiser
By Staff Correspondent.

Ottawa, April 28.—For the first time this session the House of Commons listened to a Conservative speech that did not paint the country as falling in ruin and that was not a partisan condemnation of the government. Dr. S. F. Tolmie is the organizer of the Meighen party, but he devoted himself entirely to constructive suggestions. It was a happy departure from the kind of budget oratory that has been in progress for more than a month.

Dr. Tolmie gave his greatest eloquence to advocating protection on the Pacific against possible enemy attack. He called the attention of the House to the extensive naval construction of the nations, pointing out that Japan had now the third largest navy in the world, and that the United States apparently was not being lulled into a sense of security by peace conferences. With both the United States and Japan arming agriculture urged that Canada should awake to the situation.

Sees Great Loss.

The loss to Canada in case of attack, Dr. Tolmie declared, would be tremendous, in the destruction of commerce, the ruin of coast cities, of industries and timber stands.
Another proposal of the former Meighen minister was that encouragement should be given to the tourist which, he said, had returned a revenue to Canada of $136,000,000 last year. He proposed the period during which the American tourist could re-bond, be extended to three months. Dr. Tolmie thought that many American tourists would become settlers in Canada were made sufficiently attractive to them.

Pleads For C. P. R.

An essential to the development of Canada in Dr. Tolmie's opinion was the promotion of the national spirit.
He held it well that the C. P. R. should not be made to suffer loss by too great competition from the Canadian National. He believed that the tobacco-raising industry could be greatly expanded by development of the overseas market and urged higher protection for Canadian fruit growers.

Engineers Considering Sale of Building in St.
Thomas.

Special To The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, April 28.—Stock selling for the erection of a new Masonic Temple has stopped and stock is being sold for the purchase of the Engineers' building from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, it is reported. The Engineers are still considering their offer of $62,500, and will deal with the matter at a meeting on May 6.

The death of Isaac Thompson, a retired carpenter, took place at his son's residence, 47 Chester street, this afternoon, after a long illness. He was born in Niagara, Ont., nearly 89 years ago, coming to St. Thomas 43 years ago. He was employed with the M. C. R. building department for 35 years and was pensioned fifteen years ago. He was an adherent of Central Methodist church.

Survivors were the widow, one daughter, Mrs. J. P. Branton, Minneapolis, Minn.; four sons, Thomas of Miles City, Montana, Joshua of Mapleton, N. Dakota, Robert of Detroit, and William of 47 Chester street, city.

The funeral is to be held Saturday at 2 p.m. to the St. Thomas cemetery. Rev. Robert Hicks will officiate.
Two work trains have been started on the C. N. R.—Wabash this week, one at Steveston laying new steel and the other at Canfield Junction laying pipe at the waterworks.

The funeral of Mrs. Catharine Lyle, who was killed in an automobile accident near Blenheim on Sunday afternoon, will be held from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Fogal, 51 Wilson avenue, on Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m. to the St. Thomas cemetery. Rev. J. M. Macgillivray officiating. Mrs. Macgillivray is the second victim of the crash, will be buried from the family residence at Windsor on Wednesday.

James P. Dolg and O. J. Haarlender were in the city today, leaving for Orange, New Jersey tonight. They denied the report that they were arranging for the sale of the building purchased by them here in 1916. Haarlender ironically remarked that "phonographs are a thing of the past," but he does not think the market for radiophones is big enough to warrant a plant being installed here.

District Young People's League

Church.

Special To The Advertiser.
Petrolia, April 28.—The district young people's oratorical contest was held in the Methodist church school room last evening under the auspices of the young people's league.

Parker of Zion. Miss Fowler spoke on "Nobility," and Miss Parker on "Christian Citizenship." All speakers excelled in their excellent material and delivery.

Miss Churchill will now represent this district at the annual conference field day to be held in Strathroy this summer. Another feature of the program was the dialogue, "Dr. Cure-All," by members of the league. The play was a two-act comedy, and all played their part exceptionally well. The cast included: A. Plumb, Marjorie Steadman, Mrs. W. Maycock, Marjorie Maycock, May Mathews, Ruth Churchill, Gladys Anderson, Marjorie Cooper, Ida Smith, Catherine Kirkpatrick and Stanley Churchill.

Rev. J. Thompson of Watford, chairman of this district, presided. The Sunday school orchestra rendered many selections. The judges were Miss R. L. Jones and J. J. Edwards of Petrolia and J. Galt of Watford.

Local Mint Team Invading Kitchener Full of Confidence

Knotty Lee Sagely Silent About Prowess of the Beavers.

NEW OUTFIELDER

Mike Baker is going to shepherd his flock to Kitchener for two days of terrific conflict with Knotty Lee's colors, the first of which will be staged this afternoon.

Knotty Lee has not been particularly voluble about the squad he has assembled, and outside of the fact that he has two ex-catchers in Jack Beatty and Orme, little is known of the opposition the Beavers will be called upon to face.

The local squad were full of confidence last night over the forthcoming visit to Kitchener and wouldn't surmise themselves if they swept the infant series.

Stimpson, who has been giving a fine demonstration of the art of the late Willie Keeler during the batting practices of the last week, yesterday placed all his hits in the outfield, and retained his record for safe and placing hitting.

Joe Klein, a right-handed centre fielder, last year with Muskegon, who hits from both sides of the plate, is reporting here today from Garrettsville, Indiana. He will not make the trip with the rest of the band to Kitchener.

Kitchener comes back here Monday and Tuesday, and both teams will leave following the last game for a twin invasion of Michigan cities for opening day on Wednesday. Hamilton will probably stay in Michigan until opening day.

JACK DEMPSEY LOSING APPEAL

Heavy Champ No Longer Major Idol of Sport Fans.

By FAIR PLAY, Copyright 1923.

New York, April 28.—Why has Jack Dempsey waxed more and more positive since he came east that he will defend his title against any man?

Go back to the day of the champion's arrival in this city and see if the answer does not appear.

When in company with his charming little bride and co-star he stepped off the train, policemen were not needed to keep back the surging crowd that in former days assembled to meet the champion.

To the performer depending upon the patronage of the public this means a whole lot. Terms for battles were arranged upon the basis of a performer's drawing power, and just as soon as the mob began to weary of a fighter who does not fight, even the strongest admirers grow cold.

One thing is certain—Dempsey is to appear at all this year it will be because he senses the changed feelings of the public. If he follows his wife's wishes and goes to Europe, as he now says he will do on May 6, it will mean that he will be unavailable for a battle this year.

On the other hand, if he continues to stick around and maybe pick up a little change on the vaudeville stage, it will mean that he will be available for a battle one or more challengers for his title.

MICKEY WALKER IS DUE TO START IN MOVIES SOON

Los Angeles, April 28.—Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, has arrived here from the east to start work on a series of motion pictures under the direction of Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey. Walker plans to leave for San Francisco next week to begin training for a bout with Lou Cooper in that city May 16, after which he will return to his acting here.

FUEL HEAT TESTS MADE AT OTTAWA

British Anthracites, Coke and Canmore Coal Better Than American Coal.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, April 28.—The Dominion fuel board and the fuel testing of the mines branch, department of mines, are making a series of tests upon various types of fuels with a view to determining their relative values when burned in standard types of hot-water house-heating furnaces as used in Ontario and Quebec.

The results of tests to date have shown that the British anthracites, he coals and certain of the high grade low volatile bituminous coals, including the Alberta coals of the Canmore class, appear to have a higher heating value than the average American anthracite sold at Ottawa, that is, it requires a smaller quantity of these fuels than it does of American anthracite to deliver a unit quantity of heat.

PRINCESS SAYS BRITAIN IS ADMIRER BY SYRIANS

Vividly Describes Entrance of General Allenby Into Holy Land.

Last night, for the third time, the First Methodist church was the scene of a large gathering, when the gifted Syrian lecturer and dramatist, Princess Rahme, presented her delightful Biblical dramatization of "Ruth and Naomi." Rev. J. Bruce Hunter, pastor of the church, was in the chair. Princess Rahme played the roles of Naomi and Orpah, ably assisted by her secretary as Ruth, and it was an evening long to be remembered by those who availed themselves of the opportunity to hear her. Preceding the dramatic presentation, the princess vividly described the entrance of General Allenby into the holy land, and the taking of Jerusalem. In part, she said her people have long had a deep admiration for Britain and the principles of justice for which she stands. Even while the country was under Turkish oppression, it was the prayer of the Syrians that England would soon take full possession of the sacred country. General Allenby was hailed as a prophet by the natives, for his name in Arabic means "Prophet of God."

But it was in the story of Ruth that Princess Rahme was truly great and proved she was a past mistress in the art of dramatic interpretation in her tense and artistic unfolding of this beautiful story of Naomi, the sad, patient and strong. In her lamentations for her dead husband and sons, the parting with her daughters-in-law and the steadfast devotion of Ruth, many an eye was wet with tears of sympathy.

TAX CUT AND INSURANCE TO AID BRITISH PUBLIC

Winston Churchill Plays Santa Claus As He Brings Down Budget.

CUTS INCOME LEVY

Restores McKenna Duties To Protect Industries and Imperial Preference.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, April 28.—Great Britain has returned to the gold standard. This announcement was made by Winston Spencer Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, in what is considered the most important budget statement of modern times. The restoration of modern times, dating from today, is put into effect by a special license to the Bank of England to export bullion, which will operate, pending formal lapsing on December 31, next, of the 1920 act prohibiting the export of gold bullion. Chancellor Churchill faced a crowded house of commons, his audience befitting the great occasion and including no less than eight former chancellors.

Apart from its leading feature, the return to gold, the budget was of vast importance, for it contained something for all classes—sixpence off the income tax on earned incomes under £1,000 for the middle-class, allowance in the super-tax for the wealthy, and a big scheme of contributory insurance for the working classes which next year will give the widows of insured men ten shillings weekly for life, with five shillings weekly for the eldest child and three shillings for each other child under the age of 14, and also eventually old age pensions payable at 65 years instead of 70, as now, and without any test as to means.

Another important announcement by the British chancellor was that United States credits were being raised for to the amount of not less than $50,000,000, but these would be used only if and when required. Churchill pledged to abstain from any taxation of food. Mr. Churchill has restored in a certain measure financial independence and the McKenna duties, which latter having to do with foreign ships, motorcars, motorcycles, clothes, watches and musical instruments, all of which the United States duties heavily to Great Britain, and has also placed protective duties on silk and hops.

The total expenditure provided for in the budget is £799,000,000, and he estimated the revenue for the current year on the existing basis of taxation at £844,000,000, which leaves a surplus of £45,000,000. The British national debt had been reduced £78,000,000 since 1920, the chancellor declared, and it was most important that the policy of debt repayment should continue.

A duty of four shillings per pound will be levied on raw silk, while made-up silk will be taxed on an ad valorem basis. The reimposed McKenna duties will be effective July 1, while the budget provides a duty on hops of 2 pence hundredweight, with a rebate of one-third to the dominions. Comments interesting. The chancellor's explanations and comments on the country's financial position were most interesting. Alluding to the fact that this year's expenditure exceeded the budget estimate by more than £2,400,000, which he characterized as "very disappointing," he remarked that general elections had robbed the treasury of the opportunity of making a searching examination of the expenditure, thus indicating that he favored still further retrenchment in the public service, although there is a general opinion that retrenchment has been reached at an annual expenditure of approximately £880,000,000. Mr. Churchill also admitted that he did not feel justified in taking consideration in his budget any substantial expansion of trade, which admission is regarded as rather pessimistic in view of the country's prospects. What the House, the country and, in fact, the whole world were listening for, however, was the government's decision with regard to gold payments. The government's determination to return to the gold standard was known, but not when the momentous change would come.

Rubbish Flees; Flowers Come

Policy is Doubtful. The country is by no means unanimous on the subject of resumption of the gold standard. Eminent economists and influential newspapers had up to the last pointed out the danger of haste in this matter, their fear being that immediate action would bring about reduction in prices in the case of most commodities and setback to trade. Mr. Churchill, in announcing the government's policy, based himself firmly on "the inconvenience of uncertainty." He asserted that return to the gold standard had long been the settled and declared policy of the government. Every expert conference had urged this principle, and no responsible authority had advocated any other policy.

The only question open, continued the chancellor, was the difficult and delicate question of how and when to effect the change. The return of the gold standard, he declared, was a practical present-day policy for this country there is in our opinion no alternative comparable with it.

SYNGE PLAY CLEVERLY GIVEN BY DRAMA LEAGUE PLAYERS

All Sordidness and Dreary
Realism of Drama Brought Out.

TYPE IS DIFFERENT

All the sordidness and all the dreary realism of a J. M. Synge drama was cleverly brought out last night, when the London Drama League presented "The Shadow of the Glen" before a full house at the Central Collegiate Institute auditorium. It was an altogether different type of play from that which has been offered by the members for some time past, and was received with enthusiasm. It showed close study of the dramatist, his moods and whimsicalities.

No one but an Irish writer would have set the time of his play when a woman was in progress. The ghoul atmosphere which this induces, is no less unusual than the strange plot with the dramatist weaves. The old master of the house, jealous of the young lover of his young wife, decides to pretend he is dead, knowing well that the youthful pair will give themselves away in the presence of his dead body.

a return to the former gold parity of the sovereign. In this conclusion we are supported by an overwhelming majority of opinion, both financial and industrial, represented in the evidence before us.

Will Follow Report. The government, the chancellor declared in his statement today, intended to follow this report in every respect.

There was general agreement even among those who differed from the government view, the chancellor went on, that uncertainty should not be prolonged. If it were intended to renew the act of parliament which prohibited the export of gold, now was the moment; they ought to say so. This was the moment most favorable for action.

"Exchange with the United States," said the chancellor, "has been for some time stable. We have no immediate heavy commitments across the Atlantic. We have entered on a period on both sides of the Atlantic when political and economic stability seems more assured than it has been for some years. If this opportunity is missed it might not recur for some time, and the whole finance of the country would be clouded over for an indefinite period of uncertainty."

"Now is the appointed time. We have therefore decided that although prohibition of one export of gold will continue in form on the statute books, a general license will be given to the Bank of England for the export of gold and bullion from today. We resume our international position as a gold standard country from the moment I make this announcement. I hasten to add a qualification. The return of an international gold standard does not mean that we are going to adopt a gold coinage. "This is quite unnecessary for the purpose of an international gold standard and it is out of the question in the present state of things. It would be an unwarrantable extravagance which our present financial stringency by no means allows us to indulge in. Indeed I must appeal to all classes of the community in the public interest to continue to use notes and to make no change in the habits and practices they have used during the last ten years."

Bungalow Tea House Opens Season With Dance Tomorrow Night

Bungalow Tea House Has Installed New Features

Accommodation For 75 Guests and Dance Floor of 1,000 Square Feet Boasted of by Owners of Tea House Near Springbank Park.

COMPLETELY REDECORATED FOR SEASON

Opening six years ago on a small veranda and with a few tables and chairs under the trees, the Bungalow Tea House today boasts of a beautiful tearoom with seating capacity for 75 guests and a dancing floor of 1,000 square feet. This tea house, the original tea house in the Springbank district, has been redecorated and re-furnished during the winter, and for the coming season will delight its many guests with the beautiful and novel color schemes that have been worked out. A large fireplace has been added, and the thought that has been kept foremost in the re-equipping of this delightful spot is to afford patrons an atmosphere of contentment.

The hostess, Mrs. Ken Wilson, will still have complete supervision of the kitchen, which inures still further delights to those who patronize this favorite tea house. Particular attention is being paid to the source of all provisions used. The butter comes from a nearby farm, where it is made to meet the high standard demanded by the hostess. The groceries and provisions come from the well-known firm of T. A. Rowat & Co. C. A. Mann & Co. supply all the poultry, and the dairy products are supplied by Silverwoods. The beautiful new signs and interior cards are the work of the Service Sign shop. Located within three minutes of the Springbank car line, the Bungalow Tea House is quite within easy reach of those who do not care to motor. Mrs. Wilson looks for a record season.

BOARD CONSIDERS MUSIC IN SCHOOLS

Woodstock Teacher Would Devote Part Time To Ingersoll.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ingersoll, April 28.—At a regular meeting of the board of education Miss Jean C. Martin, for the past seven years mathematical master at the collegiate institute, tendered her resignation, to take effect at the close of the present term. She has been a valued teacher, and her resignation is regretted.

Mr. Illingsworth, supervisor of music at the Woodstock schools, suggested introduction of music in local schools, and should that be done he would have ample time for his work here. His proposition was referred to the teachers' committee for their report.

Principal McGill of the collegiate institute reported the attendance for the month of March as being 213. Trustee Colonel T. R. Mayberry reported on sessions of the Ontario Educational association at Toronto, which he attended as a local delegate.

The young people's league of the Methodist church has an increased membership as the result of a recent campaign. Officers are: Honorary president, Rev. M. E. Sexsmith; president, Jack Rowson; first vice,

THINK FIRE CHIEF LOOKS ALL RIGHT

Character Analysis Club Disagree With Mayor—Put O. K. on Aitken.

The weekly meeting of the London character analysis club was held last evening in the club room. The fore part of the meeting was a study of profile taken by Miss D. Henry, who very ably brought out how the different points of a person's profile have to be taken into account when judging character.

The second half of the evening was devoted to an analysis of Fire Chief Aitken by one of the club members who agreed to disagree with Mayor Wenlock's estimate of the fire chief. The finding of the club member follows:

Prefers to Lead.

"He likes speed, power, and is very practical; he prefers to lead rather than be led; is a good thinker and has good control of speech, has lots of initiative, a strong will and determination. He likes plenty of physical action in the open air. He would think and plan constructively for the other fellow to do the work. He would use exceptionally good judgment. He is jolly and good natured and is fond of the good things of life. Inclined to be a little sensitive, has a good deal of physical strength and endurance, and is self-reliant, and shows physical courage to a marked degree."

Recuperates Quickly.

"He recuperates quickly from fatigue or sickness, possesses energy, push, vim and vigor, willing to consider new ideas and theories, but uses his own judgment about adopting them. His high, wide forehead shows keen mental alertness and good executive and judicial ability. Chin shows courage, endurance, slow, deliberate physical and mental action, self-control and determination, would be usually good natured unless antagonized. He could then show firm, positive and obstinate resistance. "Likes to see justice done, and demands accurate statements, and would not misrepresent or exaggerate the truth. Penetrating eyes showing a clear, alert, active and forceful mentality, with a well-balanced normal mind. While this is by no means a complete analysis it brings out a few of the chief points which we can all recognize."

TAKEN ILL SUDDENLY.

John Hawker of 394 Rectory street, overcome by illness at the C. N. R. car shops yesterday afternoon, was brought to Victoria hospital in the department of public safety ambulance. Dr. Edwin Seaborn attended. His condition was reported to be greatly improved this morning.

PROBE OF CEMENT PRICES TO SAVE CITY OVER $1,500

Engineer Near Secures Cut of 15 Cents Barrel From Quoted Price.

ORDER 5,000 BARRELS

No. 2 Committee Again Recommends T. C. McBride As Building Inspector.

The city of London will save more than $1,500 as a result of a probe into alleged exorbitant cement prices. According to W. P. Jones, city engineer, who reported to No. 2 committee of the city council last night, 15 cents a barrel has been cut from prices first quoted by cement company.

The committee ratified an order to the Alfred Rogers Company of Toronto for 5,000 barrels at $2.37 per barrel. This will be less than half the supply needed for this year's work.

Success of the cement probe was approved generally by the committee, and the engineer complimented on the cut secured. He did not go into details of a new "cement combine," but simply reported in the following terms:

Orders 5,000 Barrels.

"I have taken up the matter of purchase of cement direct from the manufacturers, and have placed a contract for 5,000 barrels with the Alfred Rogers Supply Company at the base price of $2.37 per barrel, f.o.b., London, less 20 cents per sack returned."

"I would recommend that no action be taken on the tenders received for the supply and delivery of cement for this year, and that the contract with the Alfred Rogers Company be ratified on the understanding that we purchase our cement in carload lots delivered to our storage building at the asphalt plant, and we will make deliveries from there to various jobs."

Reports from the Ontario Railway and Municipal board were given by Mr. Near, these papers showing repairs recommended for Toronto city and street railway company jointly shoulder the cost of repairs. Painting of the York street bridge was also recommended, in place of other painting jobs which had been on the works department program. The bridge painting will provide a large slice of repairs for the city engineer's department were voted down, and the name of T. C. McBride was again recommended as building inspector for the city. The city engineer declared that members of his department were very busy and help could not be given the building department.

Action Is Deferred.

Following a brief debate on alleged objectionability of an open creek between Wharncliffe road south and the Cores, action was deferred on the request of the mayor. Sanitary Inspector Saunders reported that the creek might well be tiled in for sanitary reasons, so as to benefit residents of Erie avenue and Highland park. Ald. Ashton pointed out that conditions were just as bad in Chelsea Green, where rubbish was dumped in the open.

A request of T. V. Charlton, Ridout street south grocer, for permission to erect a car gasoline pump, was turned down.

No action was taken regarding tenders for the supply of concrete tile to be used in the Evergreen avenue sewerage evaporation system.

The engineer asked that action be deferred until the provincial board of health ratifies plans for the system. The change to the late afternoon hour of meeting found general approval, as only 50 minutes were needed to complete the business for the session.

SYNOD CHOOSES ITS COMMITTEES

Organizes For Another Year of "Transition Period"—Business as Usual.

Adopting a policy of business as usual for the coming year, in spite of union on June 10 next, the Presbyterian synod of Hamilton and London yesterday appointed its standing committees for the ensuing 12 months.

This action was taken by the synod because of the pronouncement of the moderator, Rev. W. R. McIntosh, D. D., King street church London, to the effect that the synod would continue function as such for at least another year through what might be termed "the transition period." Dr. McIntosh explained that naturally it would take some time for the general council of the United church of Canada to get properly under way hampered as it would be by "a lot of Presbyterians."

The standing committees for the year were constituted as follows:

CURRENT TOPICS CLOSES SEASON

J. W. P. Jones Elected President—Sixteen Meetings Mark Successful Year.

J. W. P. Jones was elected president of the Current Topics club at the final meeting of the club held last Saturday night in the University of Western Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greene acted as hosts to the club, the members being received on arrival by Dean and Mrs. Sherwood Fox and Col. W. J. and Mrs. Brown. The president for 1925 was installed by George F. Copeland, retiring president, Leonard Tait and A. E. Cowley. John W. Cahill was re-elected as secretary of the club.

Sixteen meetings of the club have been held in the past year, and the secretary's report showed the club to be in a flourishing and prosperous condition. The membership has increased since the last annual meeting. As ladies' night was combined with the annual meeting, there was a large turnout, some sixty persons being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Greene.

Interesting Experiments.

During the evening the visitors were entertained by Dr. C. J. Grant, head of the chemistry department of the university. He presented a number of the more picturesque chemistry experiments, and in this way gave the club an hour of most enjoyable amusement and instruction. He received a vote of thanks for his work on the suggestion of Prof. J. H. Bowman at the conclusion of the show. Successful winners of the crossword puzzle, originated by Dr. Geo. H. Stevenson, were Mrs. Sherwood Fox, Mrs. (Col.) Brown, Miss Katherine Greene and Mrs. John Garbutt. Frank White, M.P., in proposing the toast to the hosts, congratulated Mr. Greene on the benefits which the city had received as the result of his ideas and experiments in certain paving construction work, and held him up to the younger men as a model businessman and community lover.

Unusual Program Enjoyed.

A musical program was added to the business of the meeting in honor of the ladies, made up as follows: Miss Dorothy Caldwell, violin solos; J. Parnell Morris, vocal solos; humorous readings, D. C. McNaughton, and a variety of selections put on by the following ladies, Mrs. J. Kellor, Mrs. J. W. P. Jones, Mrs. George Copeland. A vote of thanks to the university was moved by E. N. Hannah and J. W. P. Jones at the end of the evening.

BIG INCREASE IS SHOWN IN EXPORT MEAT VALUE

Total $24,434,270 For Last Year Compared With $5,405,755 For 1913.

In the pre-war year of 1913 our exports of meats reached a total in value of $5,405,755, in 1924 they were $24,434,270. Our exports of bacon in 1913 amounted in value to $4,274,324 and of pork to $100,484. In 1924 the exports of bacon in value were $19,991,636 and of pork $2,169,766. Of these figures, the value of the exports of head, valued at $7,236,535, and in 1924 183,242 head valued at $12,622,863. It will be noticed that while the number of cattle exported in 1913 was over 10,000 less than in 1924 the value in the last year was $5,386,328 more, showing that in the pre-war year the cattle commanded only a trifle over $27.35 per head, while in 1924 they were worth nearly $68.89 per head. In 1913 the exports of cattle to Great Britain were 9,878 head valued at $703,807; in 1924 they were 79,435 valued at $8,402,378.

Dufold Set and Brass Book Ends Given by Swastika Club.

The Rev. E. W. Jewitt was the guest of honor at the closing banquet of the Tuxis boys of the First Methodist church last night. The outstanding feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Jewitt of a Dufold set from the Swastika club.

Harry Hookaway of the Beaver group, in his splendidly worded address, told of the splendid work done by Mr. Jewitt during the past four years, when he had organized the Swastika club, which consists of the different groups of boys of the church, and also brought out very clearly the deep friendship the boys feel for their leader.

Franklin Taylor of the Midget group also voiced their appreciation of the work done and the interest of Mr. Jewitt has taken in the boys, and on behalf of the groups made the presentation. In a few well-chosen words, Mr. Jewitt thanked the boys for their gift, telling them that he had organized the Swastika club, which consists of the different groups of boys of the church, and also brought out very clearly the deep friendship the boys feel for their leader.

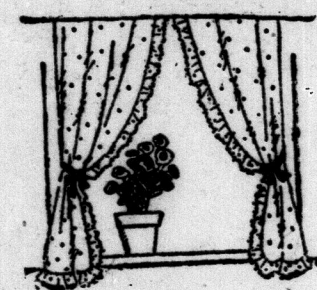

Another presentation of a pair of brass book-ends was made by the convener of the refreshment committee, who have been in charge of the boys' supper during the past four years.

W. Spearman of the Y. M. C. A. was the special speaker of the evening, chosen as his subject "Books." His intensely interesting address was greatly appreciated by the boys, and they received his talk with much enthusiasm.

ONTARIO WILL LOSE LITTLE BY NORTHERN SHIPMENTS

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, April 28.—Little, if any, loss by reason of having shipped supplies into the proposed building zone will be sustained by Ontario even if the province of Quebec maintains its apparent determination to keep the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway from tapping the Rouyn mineral area, Premier Howard Ferguson stated tonight. He characterized as "reckless and exaggerated" a statement that the province would be out three-quarters of a million dollars.
