The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

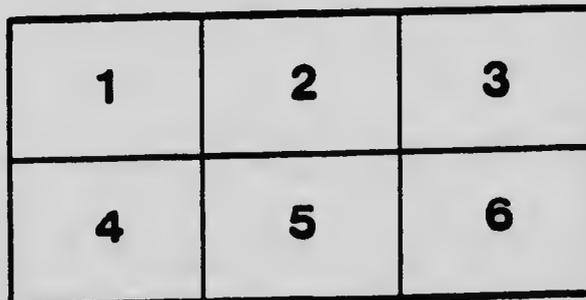

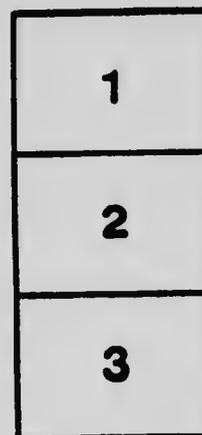

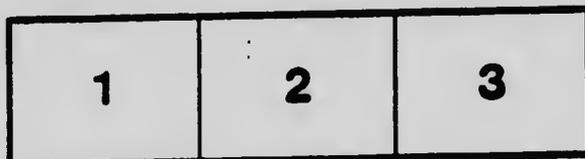

National Library of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the film contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Bibliothèque nationale du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

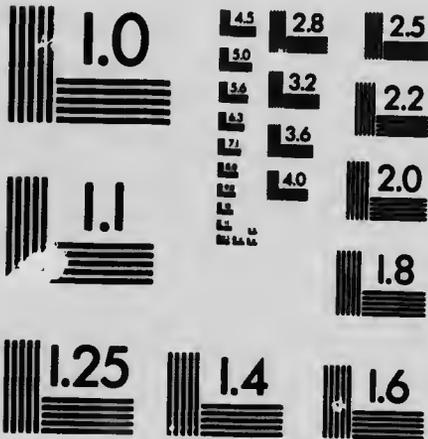

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaît sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

GUIDE TO ITALY.

WHERE TO GO, WHAT TO SEE, AND BEST HOTELS TO STAY AT.

NO country of Europe appeals to the Briton as does Italy, the land of sunshine, fruit and flowers. No country has been so highly favoured by nature as Italy. No country possesses so much of interest in art and history.

Its fertile plains, beautiful lakes, its lovely bays and winding rivers, its gay and mirth-loving people, combine with its venerable ruins, glorious art treasures and magnificent architecture to make it a land deserving all the praise bestowed upon it by writers in all ages.

How to get there.—A choice of at least two main routes is afforded the traveller: one by the Chatham and Dover route via Dover, Calais, Paris, Mont Cenis Tunnel being the most direct and shortest. Whilst the route via Queenborough, Flushing, Cologne, Basle, Lucerne, the Gothard Tunnel and Milan, is perhaps the most interesting. Travellers can reach Cologne by the Harwich-Hook of Holland route from Liverpool Street.

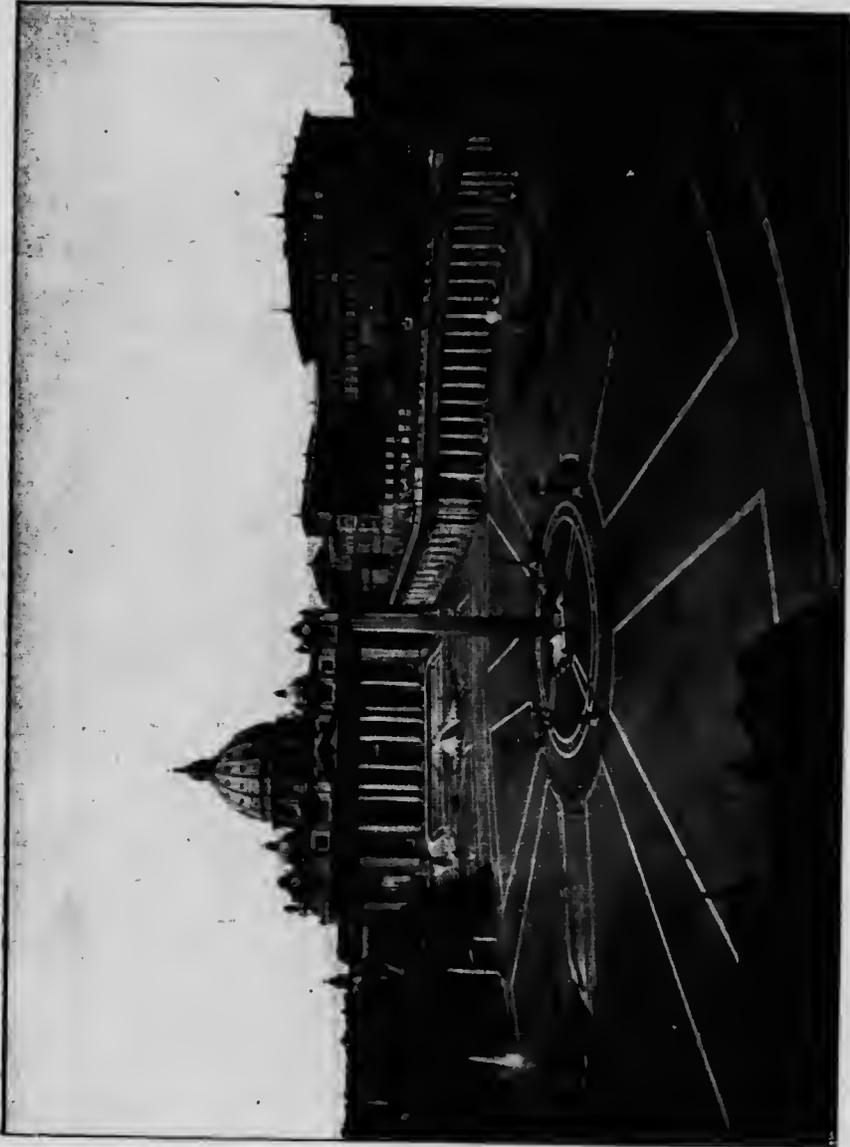

The Customs.—On arriving at the frontier a customs' examination is made, and passengers will find that it is stricter than is usual in France, Germany, Holland or Belgium; care should therefore be taken not to carry cigars or spirits.

Meals.—Visitors to Italy will find the cooking usually very good, and meals can always be obtained at very reasonable prices. English people should avoid asking for beef-steaks or roast-beef, as these delicacies are of very inferior quality. Veal is the best meat to ask for. The full menu will be found in the subsequent pages of this guide, illustrated, and with correct phonetic pronunciation, enabling anyone to make his demands understood.

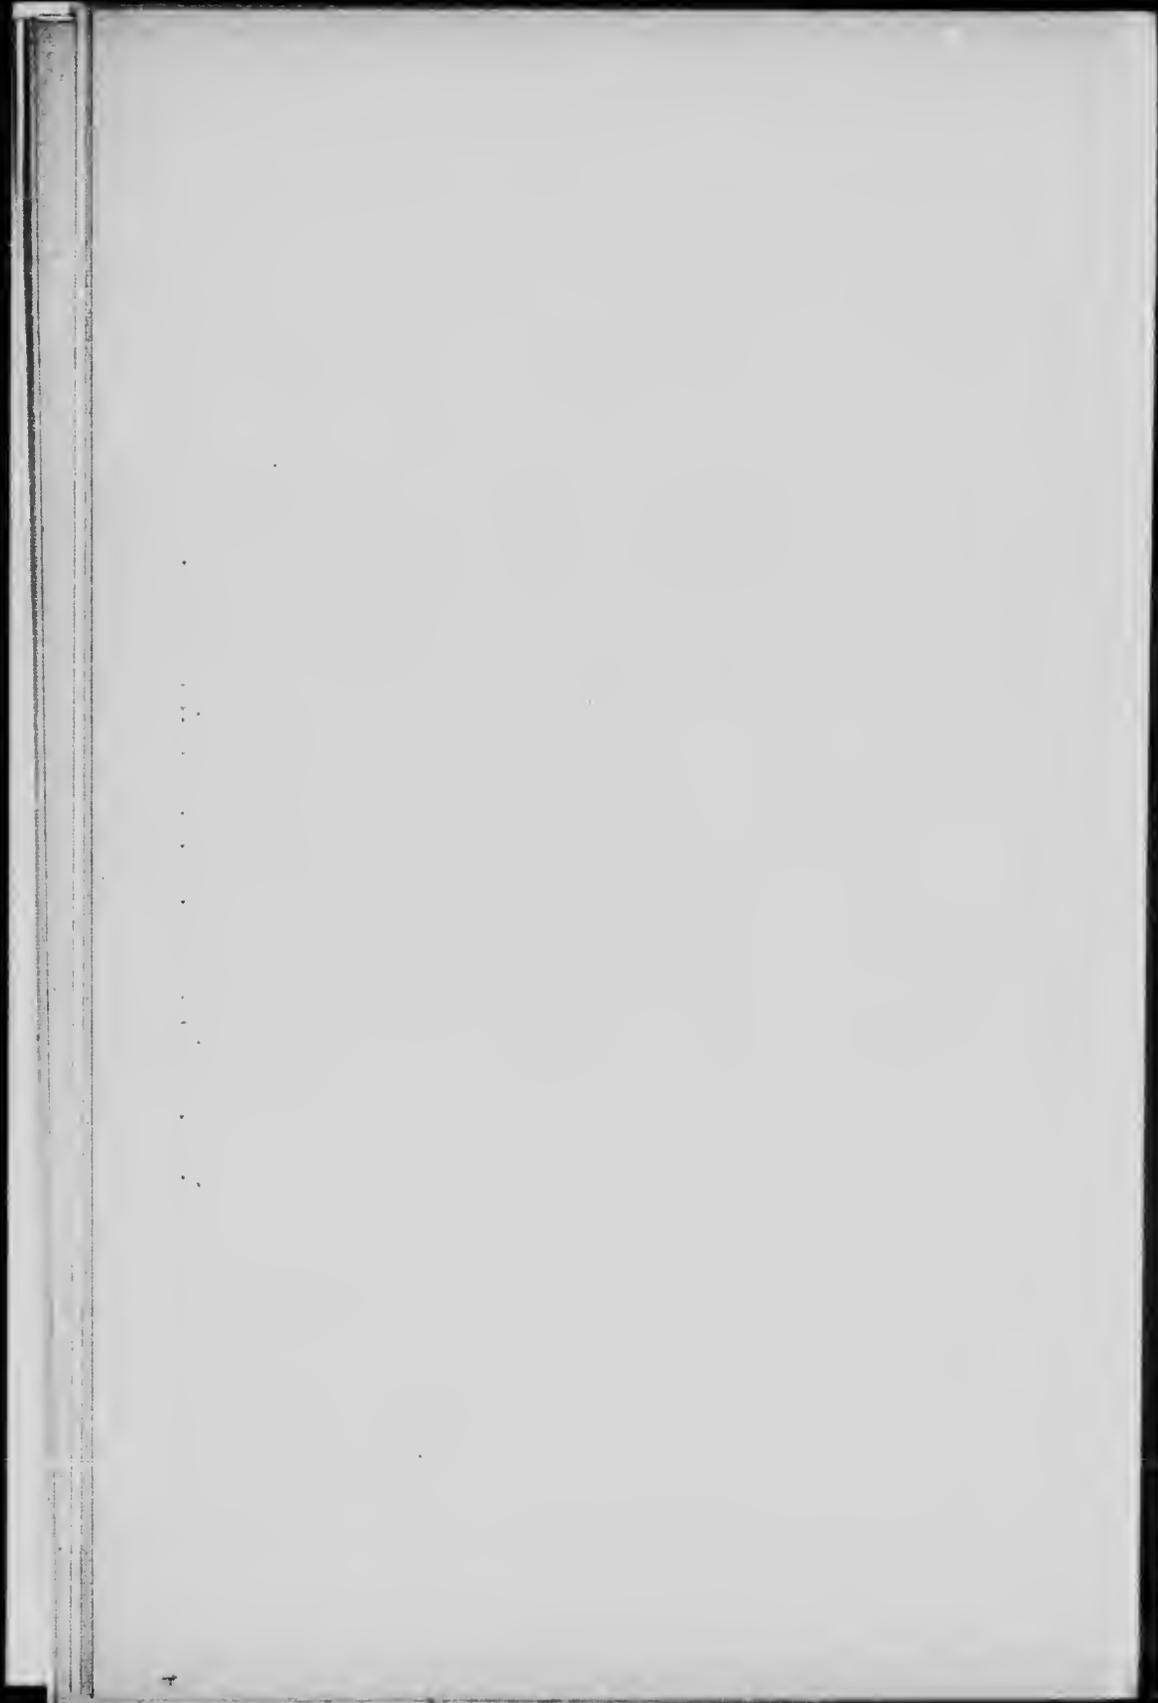

Hotels.—For the convenience of travellers some of the best recommended hotels in each town are mentioned, together with their usual charges. It will be noticed that in some of the best hotels a small extra charge is made during certain seasons. It is always well to reserve rooms in an hotel in advance.

CHIEF CITIES OF ITALY.

NAPLES (Napoli) is, perhaps, the most beautiful spot in Europe. Situated as it is on the sweep of the magnificent Bay of Naples, surrounded by an amphitheatre of verdure-clad and villa-besprinkled hills that enclose the city, with its buildings reflected in the azure waters of its bay, it forms a picture that neither pen can describe nor pencil portray; and in the distance the mighty Vesuvius rears its ever-threatening head and dominates the whole scene. To the right of the bay stand Portici and Castellamare sweeping round to the Isle of Capri, whilst to the left the bay bends towards Pozzuoli and

ST. PETER'S AND THE VATICAN (ROME).

Misenum to the romantic Isle of Ischia. To the tourist Naples affords endless attractions, among which may be mentioned the Cathedral, the National Museum, containing innumerable antiquities from Pompeii and Herculaneum, paintings, statues, &c., the Villa Nazionale, the Church of Saint Januarius, the Monastery of Saint Martino, the Royal Palace, and the Aquarium. Numerous excursions can be made to many interesting spots in the neighbourhood, the first and foremost being the wonderful Roman city of Pompeii—a spectacle which never disappoints the traveller. In the words of a famous writer “The impression which it gives of the actual presence of a Roman town, in all the circumstantial reality of its existence 2,000 years ago, is so vivid and intense, that it requires but a small effort of the imagination to place yourself among the multitudes which once thronged its streets and theatres, and occupied its now voiceless chambers. The expression so often used, that you expect to see the inhabitants walk out of their houses to salute you, is scarcely a figure of speech; many things, in fact, concur to foster the illusion. You see a street before you carefully paved and well-worn, and bordered with trottoirs in good preservation, as if it had been in use the previous day. . . . You turn to the right and to the left, and wander from street to street, and still you have the perfect image of a town before you, except that no inhabitants appear, and these you may suppose have left a few days before. Lastly, the tout ensemble of the walls, gates, streets, forum, houses, temples, fountains, theatres, associated as they are with each other, give us a conception of a Roman town incomparably more clear and satisfactory than any number of such objects scattered over distant localities could have furnished.” The Museum at Naples contains most of the portable relics discovered at Pompeii; but many interesting objects such as jewellery, carvings, utensils, vases, cups, clocks and casts from bodies found amongst the ruins may be seen near the entrance gate. Pompeii may be reached by train from Naples.

The Ascent of Vesuvius is undoubtedly the most attractive excursion at Naples, and now rendered easy, thanks to the enterprise of Messrs. Thos. Cook and Son. The route to follow lies through the Sirada di Chiaja—where the gay Neapolitan life can be seen at its best—through San Giovanni and Portici to Pugliano, the northern quarter of Resina, where the Vesuvius Railway is taken. From Pugliano to the generating station at the foot of Monte Cateroni, where stands the Observatory, the route lies through vineyards, orchards, and gardens, where all vegetation grows in sub-tropical profusion. From the generating station, by the aid of the electric locomotive, the train ascends the slope of Monte Cateroni, traversing on its way lovely chestnut and acacia woods, intersected by deep ravines, until "The Hermitage" is reached. This is the terminus of the cog-wheel section. From this delightful spot the train proceeds past the Royal Observatory, and arrives at the Funicular Railway at the foot of the Vesuvian cone. Here the passenger changes into the car of the Funicular, and in eight minutes ascends to within 250 yards of the crater, which is reached on foot.

Hotels at Naples.—Grand Hotel de Vesuve, Parker's Hotel, Hotel de Londres, Hotel Continental, Hermitage Hotel (Cook's), *Grand Hotel, *Bertolini's Palace Hotel, Hotel des Etrangers. Tariff: 8s. to 10s. 6d. per day, except those marked (), where the charge is about 2s. extra.

Less pretentious hotels where the tariff is about 7s. 6d. per day are:—Hotel and Pension de la Riviera, Hotel de Naples, Hotel Isotta et de Geneva.

ROME (Roma), the "Eternal City," the city of the dead which lives again. Who is not under the spell of the very word? Who has not craved to visit Rome, the evidence of whose history lives in its ruined streets and palaces, its churches, and its places of amusements? To enumerate its sights of historic interest would require more space than is here at our disposal, and, therefore, its varied attractions can be more clearly seen by the following arrangement of excursions so ably organised by Messrs. Thos. Cook & Son.

FIRST EXCURSION.—Drive to Janiculum, passing en route the most important streets and palaces. From Janiculum the visitor will obtain the best bird's-eye view of Rome and its Seven Hills upon which Rome was founded. Then drive to the Villa Corsini to visit Garibaldi's Monument, passing the Fountain of Pope Paul V., one of the finest in Rome, thence to the Palatine Hill, passing over the Bridge of Cestino and Fabricius and the Island Tiberina, the Palace of the Cæsars, Clivus Victoria, remains of Houses of the Republican period, House of Nero Tiberius Claudius, Porta Romana Substructions of the Palace of Caligula and Porticoes built by him to the Domus Tiberiana; great suite of state rooms built by Domitian, Lararium, Basilica, Triclinium, remains of the Walls of Romulus and Porta Mugonia, etc.; Intermontium, great Stadium of Domitian, gigantic Porticoes of Septimius Severus, site of Septizonium, etc.; thence to the Trajan Forum.

AFTER LUNCHEON.—Drive to St. Paul, passing en route the Theatre of Marcellus, the Portico of Octavia, Temple of Hercules (formerly Vesta), Temple of Fortuna Virilis, House of Rienzi, Ponte Palatino and view along the Tiber; Cloaca Maxima; the Sublician Bridge defended by Horatius Cocles; the gates of St. Paul with the towers of Belisario, the Aurelian Walls, the English Protestant Cemetery, the Pyramid of Caius Cestius, the beautiful Basilica of St. Paul; thence by Via Triumphalis to the Arch of Constantine; Meta Sudans, Temple of Venus and Rome, the Pedestal of the Colossal Statue of Nero; the Colosseum. From the Colosseum drive to the Church of St. Pietro in Vinculis to see the famous statue of Moses by Michael Angelo.

SECOND EXCURSION.—The Church of St. Peter, thence to the Capitol Museum, the Roman Forum, Via Sacra, Clivus Capitolinus, Temples of Castor and Pollux; the Deified Julius, Saturn, Vespasian, Concord; the Basilica Julia, Honorary Monuments; the Pedestal of Domitian's Statue, Column of Phocus, Rostrum, Arch of Septimius Severus, Portico of the Dei Consentes, Tabularium; the new discovery, Temple of Vesta or the House of the Vestal Virgins; Basilica of Constantino and Arch of Titus.

AFTER LUNCHEON.—The Golden House of Nero, Baths of Titus, Basilica of St. John in Lateran, its Abside and its Baptistry, the Scala Sancta; Aqueduct of Nero, St. Maria Maggiore, St. Maria degli Angeli and the Bath of Diocletian, Trevi Fountain, Temple of Neptune, the Pantheon Piazza Navona, the old Roman Circus with its beautiful fountains.

THIRD EXCURSION.—Pass over the Bridge St. Angelo by the Tomb of Hadrian, to THE VATICAN Sistine Chapel; Michael Angelo's "Last Judgment," Stanze and Loggie of Raphael; Vatican Picture Gallery—"The Transfiguration," "Communion of Saint Jerome," "Madonna di Foligno," &c.; The Vatican Museum.

AFTER LUNCHEON.—Site of Circus Maximus, Auditorium Appium, passing en route the Baths of Caracalla, Porta St. Sebastian, Arch of Drusus, The Appian Way; Tombs of Geta and Priscilla, Catacombs of St. Sebastian, Tombs of Cecilia Metella, Seneca and Cotta Family, Tumuli of the Horatii and Curiatii, the Villa of the Quintilii, the Ustrinum, the Circus of Romulus, and back home by the new Appian Way.

Other interesting excursions may be made to the Alban Hills, by carriage and railway. Tivoli and Hadrian's Villa. Ostia, the ancient Port of Rome.

NOTE.—The foregoing excursions have been arranged by Messrs. Thos. Cook & Son, and visitors to Rome cannot do better than to place themselves under their experienced guidance. Their offices are at 54, Piazza Esedra di Termini, where all information may be obtained.

Hotels.—Continental Hotel, Hotel Marini, Hotel Splendid, Hotel Quirinale. Tariff during the Season, 12s. per day.

Cheaper Hotels, where the charge is about 7s. 6d. per day, are—Hotel Campidoglio, Hotel d'Allemagne, Hotel Anglo-American, Fisher's Park Hotel.

GENOA, on the Gulf of Genoa, occupies a magnificent position, scarcely less beautiful than Naples itself, backed as it is by a noble amphitheatre of hills, rising terrace after terrace to a height of some 500 feet. Genoa is literally a "City of Palaces," built in a style of architecture which is truly magnificent. The chief of these are the Brignole-Sala, the Doria, the Fillippo, the Durazzo, etc., all containing unrivalled collections of paintings and sculptures. Then should be visited the Cathedral, the Church of Santa Maria di Carignano. The Harbour and the Campo Santo, which is about three miles from the city, and possesses the finest collection of marble monuments and statues in the world.

Hotels.—Hotel de la Ville, Hotel Continental, Grand Hotel Isotta (1 lira extra during season), Hotel de Londres. Tariff, 8s. to 10s. 6d. per day.

Other Hotels, where the charge is about 7s. 6d. per day. :—Hotel Milan, Hotel de France, Hotel Helvetia.

MILAN (Milano) with a population of over half-a-million is one of the chief cities of Italy, and is situated on the fertile plains of Lombardy. It owes its importance greatly to its industrial activity and to its position on the highway to central Italy. It is a well-built city containing many important structures. The Gallery of Victor Emanuel affords a pleasant meeting-place for the Milanese with its shady arcades and well-stocked shops. But the glory of Milan is its grand Cathedral, which is undoubtedly one of the finest specimens of Gothic architecture ever erected, and is certainly the grandest artificial sight in the world.

Other sights of interest are the Brera, or Palace of Arts and Sciences, containing a fine collection of paintings by almost every Italian master; the Royal Palace; the Church of Santa Maria delle Grazie, in whose Refectory may be seen Leonardo da Vinci's "Last Supper." Milan possesses a fine system of electric trams traversing the whole of the city.

Hotels.—Hotel de l'Europe, Hotel Continental, Hotel Marino, Grand Hotel de Milan. Tariff, 12s. to 14s. from April to September.

Hotels whose charge is about 7s. 6d. per day:—Hotel Victoria, Hotel du Nord, Hotel de France, Hotel National, Hotel Central Pozzo.

FLORENCE (Firenze), with its delightful climate and its lovely position in the valley of the Arno, has been described as the "Fairest City of the Earth." The natural beauties of Florence are lavishly supplemented by the aid of art, in which the city abounds. The Athens of the Middle Ages, Florence was the birthplace of Dante, Petrarch, Gallileo, Boccaccio, Michael Angelo, Benvenuto Cellini, Leonardo da Vinci, and many other illustrious contributors to poetry and arts.

Objects to be visited are the Cathedral, commenced in 1298 by Arnolfo; the magnificent Campanile, designed by Giotto; the Baptistery, the oldest building in Florence, with its wonderful bronze doors; the Loggia dei Lanzi; the Uffizi Palace, containing some of the finest sculpture; the Pitti Palace, with its wonderful paintings; the Church of Santa Croce, the burial place of Angelo, Galileo, Machiavelli, and many another illustrious Italian; also a very fine monument to Dante; the Church of San Lorenzo, containing the statue; "Night" and "Day," the masterpieces of Michael Angelos the Annunciata Church; the Academy of Fine Arts; the National Museum; the Boboli Gardens, and the houses of Michael Angelo, Dante, Cellini and Galileo.

Hotels.—Hotel New York, Hotel Minerva, Florence and Washington Hotel, Grand Hotel Baglioni,* Hotel Grand Bretagne.

TARIFF: Eight shillings to 10s. 6d. per day. Except (*) where 4 liras extra per day must be paid between March 1st and May 15th.

Hotels whose tariff is 7s. 6d. per day (about) are Hotel Porta Rossa, Hotel de Londres et Metropole.

TURIN (Torino) is situated on the river Po, where it passes round the base of a projection of the Appenines, and just in face of the Valley of the Dora Riparia. It is the valley now traversed by the Mont Cenis Railway on the eastern side of the Alps. Turin contains many buildings of interest, and a few hours spent here will well repay the traveller.

Hotels.—Grand Hotel Suisse Terminus, Hotel Turin and Tombetta, Grand Hotel, and Hotel d'Europe. Tariff, 8s. to 10s. 6d. per day.

Hotels whose Tariff is about 7s. 6d. per day, are—Hotel Ville and Bologna, Hotel Roma and Rocca Cavour.

VENICE (Venezia), built upon seventy-two islands, which lie in the midst of extensive lagoons, was once the chief port of commerce of Europe, and is still a City of never-ending interest to every traveller. Its wonderful Canals and Bridges and its stately Palaces and Churches containing priceless works of art make it certainly one of the most interesting Cities of Italy.

The following are among the places of most interest:—Grand Square of St. Mark; the Church of St. Mark with its mosaics and marbles; the Doge's Palace with the Giants' Staircase; the Golden Staircase; the Hall of the Grand Council, containing the largest picture ever painted on canvas, "The Glory of Paradise," by Tintoretto; the Archæological Museum; the Dungeons; the Bridge of Sighs; the Rialto Bridge; the site of the fallen Campanile.

A gondola excursion on the Grand Canal must be taken to appreciate the wonders of Venice.

Hotels.—Hotel Victoria*, Royal Hotel Danieli*, Hotel Britannia, Grand Hotel des Bains.

TARIFF, 8s. to 10s. 6d. per day. Those marked (*) charge 2 liras per day extra during April, May, September and October.

Hotels charging from 7s. 6d. per day:—Hotel Metropole, Hotel d'Angleterre.

GUIDE TO THE ITALIAN LANGUAGE.—In the following pages may be found useful phrases and sentences with their equivalent in Italian and a simple phonetic method of pronunciation, which the author trusts will enable any intelligent traveller to make himself understood on his travels.

THE ITALIAN ALPHABET WITH PHONETIC PRONUNCIATION.

The Italian alphabet consists of 22 characters, as follows:—

A, a,	pronounced	ah,	as a in far.
B, b,	„	bee,	as in English.
C, c,	„	chee,	as in cheese, but has the hard sound of k before a, o, u, h.
D, d,	„	dee,	as in English.
E, e,	„	ai,	as in daisy.
F, f,	„	eff,	as in English.
G, g,	„	djee,	has two sounds—(A) before a, o, u and consonants it is pronounced as g in God, gay, ground; (B) before e or i it has a very soft sound, resembling English j, as John, joy, but softer, as if written Zhohn, zhoy.
H, h,	„	ahk-kah,	is not aspirated, but serves to harden the o and g when followed by e or i.
I, i,	„	ee,	as e in me, she, see.
J, j,	„	ee (loon-goh),	as in yes, yield.
L, l,	„	ellai,	as in English.
M, m,	„	emmai,	as in English.
N, n,	„	ennai,	as in English.
O, o,	„	oh,	long, as go, so.
P, p,	„	pee,	as in English.
Q, q,	„	koo,	as in English.
R, r,	„	errai,	as in English, but more pronounced.
S, s,	„	essai,	as in English, sometimes soft, as z.
T, t,	„	tee,	as in English.
U, u,	„	oo,	as oo in moon, soon.
V, v,	„	vee,	as in English.
Z, z,	„	tsaitah,	as ts and sometimes soft, as ds.

It will be seen that the English letters k, w, x and y do not exist in Italian, but are replaced by c, v, s and l.

NOTES ON PRONUNCIATION.

The Italian language being purely phonetic, every letter of a word must be clearly pronounced. Throughout the following pages each word has been split up into its simplest syllables by hyphens, and the accented syllable is distinctly indicated by a ('). Take, for instance, Orologio (a watch). This word has been written thus:—Oh-roh-loh'-jee-oh, with the accent on the syllable loh. First repeat the word slowly a few times and then a little quicker, duly emphasising the accented syllable, when the correct pronunciation of the word will be obtained.

THE VOWELS.—To English speaking people the Italian vowels present the most difficulty, owing to the fact that the English vowels have a double sound, while the Italian are simple.

When the five English vowels a, e, i, o, u are spoken it will be observed that their sound appears more like a-ee, e-ee, ah-ee, o-oo, ee-oo. Every effort must therefore be made not to introduce these double sounds into Italian.

Throughout this work the vowels are represented by ah, ai, ee, oh, oo, and for the foregoing reason their sound is only approximate.

Vowels which are accented have a longer sound than when written without, as la (the)	là (there)	e (and)	è (is).

pronounced lah	lāh	ai	āī

THE DIPHTHONGS—Real diphthongs, as we have them in English, do not exist in Italian, since every vowel must be pronounced. Combinations of two and three vowels are general, but invariably each single vowel retains its own sound. For example:—buono (good), boo-oh'-noh; mio (my), mee'-oh; soave (sweet), soh-ah'-ve; tuoi (thy), too-oh'-ee.

ACCENTS.—There is but one written accent in Italian, viz., the grave, thus (`) and is used either to mark a contraction, as oittà (town), formerly cittate, pronounced cheet-tah', or a termination of the verb, which must be sharply pronounced as avrò (I shall have).

Note.—The omission of the grave accent frequently causes a change of meaning in the word, as e (and), è (is); la (the), là (there).

The apostrophe (') is used to mark the dropping of a vowel usually for the sake of euphony, as l'ora (the hour) for la ora; l'amore (love) for lo amore.

THE CONSONANTS—

oo pronounced more forcibly than o, as eccellente (ai-chail-lain'-tai) excellent.

oh pronounced like k, as ohla=kee-ah, ohé=kai gg pronounced more forcibly than g soft, as oggi (to-day) ohd'-djeé.

gh hard as in good, ghe=gai, ghi=gee.

gl before l is pronounced like ll in brilliant, as gll=lee, egll (he)=ai-lee, except Angli, negligere and words derived therefrom, where the gl is pronounced as in English.

gn as in gna, gne, gni, gno, gnu, is pronounced like nee-ah, nee-ai, nee-ee, nee-oh, nee-oo.

gu as in gua, gue, gul, like goo-ah, goo-ai, goo-ee.

j has the sound of ee when at the end of words.

qu as in English quiet like qui (here) koo-ee'.

s is pronounced sharply at the beginning of words and softly between the vowels.

ss is pronounced very sharply.

soe, soi pronounced like shal, shee.

sohe, sohi pronounced like skal, skee.

z pronounced like ts, as Zio (uncle) tsee'-oh.

zz is pronounced more forcibly as ragazzo (the boy) rah-gahts'-soh.

ITALIAN MONEY—Moneta Italiana.

The values as represented on the opposite page are those current in Italy at the present time, but the coins of France, Switzerland, Spain and Belgium are also in general circulation, and have identical values. The exchange is practically that of France, varying around 25 lira 15 to the £1 sterling. Notes of various denominations from 5 to 100 lira are largely used throughout Italy, but care should be exercised when taking notes that have been much used. The lira (10d.) is divided into 100 parts each called a centesimo.

ITALIAN GRAMMAR AT A GLANCE.

The Parts of Speech in Italian are the same as in English.

THE ARTICLE (l'Articolo—lahr-tee'-koh-loh).

The articles are Definite and Indefinite, but, unlike the English article, they agree with the substantive in gender, number, and case.

Definite Article.

	SINGULAR.		PLURAL.
	Mas.	Fem.	Mas.	Fem.
Nom.	il, lo, l'	la, l'	i, gli	le	the
Gen.	del, dello, dell'	della, dell'	del, degli	delle	of the
Dat.	al, allo, all'	alla, all'	al, agli	allo	to the
Acc.	il, lo, l'	la, l'	l, gli	le	the

Note the four Cases: Nominative, Genitive, Dative, Accusative. Use il before all masculine nouns beginning with a consonant, and lo before masculine nouns beginning with s, z or a vowel, dropping the o in the latter case; lo anno = l'anno.

The plural of il is i; lo is gli.

Indefinite Article.

	Mas.	Fem.
Nom.	un, uno	una, un'	a, an
Gen.	di, d'un	d'una, d'un	of a, of an
Dat.	ad un	ad una, ad un'	to a, to an
Acc.	un, uno	una, un'	a, an

Use un before all masculine nouns, except those beginning with s or z, when uno must be used.

Una and di become un' and d' before a vowel.

THE SUBSTANTIVE (Il Sostantivo—Soh-stahn-tee'-voh).

All substantives in Italian are either masculine or feminine as to their gender, and do not at all follow the English rule, as what would be called nouns of the neuter gender would be either masculine or feminine in Italian.

GENDER OF NOUNS.

Names of male beings, mountains, trees, metals, the months and days are all masculine, as Il Tedesco, the German; l'Imperatore, the Emperor; Il fratello, the brother; Il toro, the bull; Il fico, the fig-tree; l'oro, the gold; Marzo, March; Il Lunedì, Monday.

Names of females, fruits, virtues, vices, sciences, arts are feminine, as la ragazza, the girl; la madre, the mother; la ciliegia, the cherry; la mela, the apple; la bontà, goodness; la bugia, the lie; la geografia, geography.

Words ending in o, as Il mondo, the world, and all words ending in ore, as dottore, doctor, are masculine; so are most of the words ending in one, nte, re, me, ese, ale, lle, and ele, as Il cordone, the string; il fiore, the flower; Il canale, the channel; lo stile, the style; il miele, the honey.

Exceptions are la scure, the axe; la gente, the people; la fame, hunger; la speme, hope; la torre, the tower.

Words ending in the following are feminine: in a and u, as l'anima, the soul, la virtù, virtue; in ine and ione, as la grandine, the hail, la passione, the passion; in ce, de, ge, le, rte, ve, as la fede, the faith, la legge, the law, la morte, death, la neve, the snow; in l, as la orsi, la sintassi.

PLURAL OF NOUNS.

(A) All masculine nouns ending in o, a or e form the plural in i, as il fratello, le fratelli; Il leone, le leoni; la madre, le madri.

(B) All feminine nouns ending in a form their plural in e, as la casa, le case, the house; la strada, le strade, the street.

(C) All nouns in e take i in the plural.

(D) Nouns ending in i, ie, are alike in singular and plural, as il di, the day, i di, the days; la specie, the species, le specie.

(E) Nouns ending in ola, gla, gia, and scia drop the l in the plural, as la faccia, the face, le facce, the faces.

The following are irregular: l'uomo, the man, gli uomini, the men; la moglie, the wife, le mogli, the wives; Dio, God, gli dei, the gods, il buo, the ox, i buoi, the oxen; l'eco, the echo, gli echi, the echoes.

(F) The following nouns change their meaning in the plural:—

Il ceppo, the trunk of a tree,	i ceppi, the fetters.
Il costume, the use, law,	i costumi, manners and
Il ferro, iron,	i ferri, fetters. [customs
Il genitore, the father,	i genitori, the parents.
La gente, the people,	le genti, the nations.

THE ADJECTIVE (L'Aggettivo—Lah-djait-tee'-voh).

Adjectives agree with the noun they qualify in gender and number. If the same adjective qualifies nouns of different genders it is put in the masculine plural: il padre e la madre sono belli (the father and the mother are beautiful).

GENDER.—All adjectives ending in o form their feminine in a, as bello (good), bella (f.), but those ending in e remain the same in the feminine, as grande (great), grande (f.)

NUMBER.—Adjectives form their number in the same way as substantives, viz., those ending in o and e take the plural i, and those ending in a change into e.

As—	SINGULAR.		PLURAL.
	Mas.	Fem.	Mas.	Fem.
Good	buono	buona	buoni	buone
Great	grande	grande	grandi	grandi

Certain adjectives which end in oo or go form their plural oi or gi sometimes, whilst at other times they end in chi and ghi, but generally, when the tonic accent falls on the last syllable but one, as in benefico, the plural is oi, not chi, as benefici.

As—	SINGULAR.		PLURAL.
	Mas.	Fem.	Mas.	Fem.
Ancient	antico	antica	antichi	antiche
Beneficent	benefico	benefica	benefici	benefiche
Large	largo	larga	larghi	larghe
White	bianco	bianca	bianchi	bianche

POSITION OF ADJECTIVES.

Those of one or two syllables usually precede the noun they qualify, as un buon padre, a good father; whilst those of more than two syllables as well as adjectives denoting physical qualities such as colour, taste, smell, &c., follow the noun they qualify, as un castello antico, an ancient castle; una casa bianca, a white house.

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

Adjectives are compared by prefixing più (more) and il più (the most) to the Positive when making a comparison of superiority and meno (less) and il meno (the least) when making a comparison of inferiority.

Examples :

POSITIVE.	COMPARATIVE.	SUPERLATIVE.
Mas. Fem.	Mas. Fem.	Mas. Fem.
bello, bella (beautiful)	più bello, più bella (more beautiful)	il più bello, la più bella (the most beautiful)
	meno bello, meno bella (less beautiful)	il meno bello, la meno bella (the least beautiful)

There is also in Italian a superlative absolute, terminating in issimo, issima, expressing a high degree of perfection, as bello, beautiful; bellissimo, very beautiful; grande, great; grandissima, very great.

Adjectives ending in dico, fio, and voio, form their superlative absolute in entissimo, as benevolo, benevolent; benevolentissimo, very benevolent. Whilst those ending in ro and re, preceded by a consonant, add errimo, as integro, honest; integerrimo, very honest; acore, sour; acerrimo, very sour.

The following Adjectives are compared irregularly:—

POSITIVE.	COMPARATIVE.	SUPERLATIVE.	SUPER. ABS.
buono , good	migliore	il migliore	ottimo
cattivo , bad	peggiore	il peggiore	peissimo
grande , great	maggiore	il maggiore	massimo
piccolo , small	minore	il minore	minimo
alto , high	superiore	il superiore	supremo
basso , low	inferiore	il inferiore	infimo

NOTE.—Piccolo, grande, alto and basso are compared regularly when expressing a physical quality.

Prossimo (nearest) and estremo (extreme) are only used in the superlative.

To express than after the comparative the following rules must be observed:—

- (a) Use di when the comparative is followed by a noun or pronoun, as:—Il ragazzo è più grande di suo fratello (the boy is taller than his brother).
- (b) Use che when comparing two nouns, adjectives, or adverbs, as:—Ella è più bella che buona (she is more beautiful than good). Egli pensa più che non parla (he thinks more than he speaks).

The Possessive Adjectives.

	SINGULAR.		PLURAL.
	Mas.	Fem.	Mas.	Fem.
My	il mio	la mia	i miei	le mie
Thy	il tuo	la tua	i tuoi	le tue
His, her, its	il suo	la sua	i suoi	le sue
Our	il nostro	la nostra	i nostri	le nostre
Your	il vostro	la vostra	i vostri	le vostre
Their	il loro	la loro	i loro	le loro

NOTES.—When using the possessive adjective with singular words expressing relationship or titles, the article il, la is dropped when it precedes the noun, as mia madre (my mother), vostra Maestà (your Majesty), but must be used when an adjective precedes the noun, as la mia cara madre (my dear mother). Loro must in all cases be preceded by the article.

THE PRONOUN (Il Pronome—Eel Proh-noh'-mai).

The personal pronouns are declinable in number, person, and case.

Personal Pronouns.

	FIRST PERSON.
	Singular.		Plural.

di cui	whose, of which
a cui	to which
che, cui	which
da &c., cui	from, &c., whom which

NOTE.—When che relates to a verb, adjective or adverb it is a conjunction, and when relating to a person or thing it is a pronoun.

Il quale (that, who, which) is used for persons or things and is declined as follows :—

SINGULAR.

	Masc.	Fem.

NOTES.

The compound tenses of essere to be are conjugated throughout by adding its own past participle stato (a) to its own simple tenses, as I have been (lit), I am been, Io sono stato. All participles are declined like adjectives, both as to number and gender.

As the terminations of the verb are sufficiently marked, the Personal Pronoun may frequently be omitted as, avete, have you? aveste, had you?

The Interrogative form is the same as in English, io ho, I have, ho io? have I?

The Negative non is always placed before the verb as non avete, I had not.

The Interrogative-Negative differs only from the English form in requiring the negative to be placed before the verb as non avete fame? are (have) you not hungry?

The second personal pronoun tu is only used familiarly amongst friends or to an inferior.

REGULAR VERBS.

The verb consists of two parts, viz:—The root, which is invariable in regular verbs, and the termination, which changes to indicate persons, moods and tenses. By the termination of the Infinitive Mood three forms of conjugation can be distinguished, viz:—

Note that the compound tenses are formed by the Past Participle, and the tense of the verb to have.

The Passive Voice is formed in Italian by means of essere to be and the past participle of the active verb, which is always considered as an adjective, and therefore must agree in number and gender with the noun or pronoun to which it refers, as when a man is speaking he says "Io sono lodato," I am praised; a woman says "Io sono lodata," I am praised; several men would say "noi siamo lodati," we are praised, &c.

The Passive Voice may also be expressed by the active form and si, as si vede quella casa, that house is seen (lit.) that house sees itself.

The Reflexive Verb is frequently used in Italian where a pronoun in the accusative is conjugated with the verb, as egli si era lavato, he had washed himself; io mi rallegro, I rejoice, i.e., I rejoice myself. They are conjugated throughout all their tenses.

IRREGULARITIES OF THE THREE CONJUGATIONS.

Verbs ending in care, gare take h after o or g when followed by e or i, as manicare, lo manco, tu manchi; pagare, lo pago, tu paghi, whilst those in ciare, giare, sciare drop the i when followed by e or i, but those in chiare, gliare only before i—cominciare, comincio, lo comincerò.

All verbs of the first conjugation are regular, except three, viz., dare (to give), andare (to go), stare to stand.

Almost all the verbs of the third conjugation are irregular. The following are the exceptions and are quite regular:—

bollire	to boil	sdrusciare	to tear
 cucire	to sew	seguire	to follow
dormire	to sleep	sentire	to feel
fuggire	to flee	servire	to serve
partire	to depart	sortire	to go out
pentirsi	to repent	vestire	to dress

THE ADVERB (L'Adverbo—Lahd-vair'-boh).

Adverbs modify the meaning of verbs, adjectives, or other adverbs, and are invariable. They express—

MANNER, as bene, well; male, ill; come, how; facilmente, easily; feliceamente, happily; sinceramente, sincerely; molto, very; poco, little; si or così, so; insieme, together; quasi, almost; forse, perhaps.

PLACE, as dove, where; qui, here; là, there; vi or ci, here; lassù, up there; abbasso, down; lontano, far, distant; dietro, behind; sotto, below.

TIME, as quando, when; sempre, always; mai, never; di rado, seldom; allora, then; ancóra, still; ieri, yesterday; domani, to-day; presto, quick; già, already; poco ayanti, not long ago.

QUANTITY.—Molto, much; assái, enough; troppo, too, too much; tanto, so, so much; abbastanza, enough; pure, even; solamente, only; poco, little; meno, less; quanto, how much.

AFFIRMATION AND NEGATION.—Si, yes; infatti, indeed; certo, certainly; davvéro, truly; no, no; non, not; non-mai, never; non-punto, not at all; non-più, not—any more; neanche, not even.

ADVERBIAL EXPRESSIONS.—In fretta, in haste; in furia, in a hurry; in vano, in vain; a stento, hardly; appena, scarcely; a buon mercato, cheap; a caso, by accident. in breve, shortly.

The reflexive verb is frequently used in Italian where a pronoun in the accusative is conjugated with the verb, as egli si era lavato, he had washed himself; lo mi rallegro, I rejoice, i.e., I rejoice myself. They are conjugated throughout all their tenses.

THE PREPOSITION (La Preposizione—Lah prai'-poh-seets-ee-oh'-nai).

The following prepositions govern the noun directly:—di, of; a, ad, at, to; con, with; fra, infra, tra, against; da, of, from, by; per, for, by, through; in, in; su, on, upon.

The following are used with di:—

fuori (di)	out (of) outside	a causa	} on account of
al di qua	on this side	a ragione
presso di	near	per mezzo	by means
a forza	by force	in favore	in favour
prima	before	lungi	for

These prepositions are usually joined with a:—

fino	till	attorno	around, all round
in faccia	opposite	davanti	before
oltra	about	dietro	behind
in mezzo	amidst	vicino	near
dentro	inside	addosso	on, upon, with

THE CONJUNCTION (La Congiunzione—Lah Kohn-djee-oonts-ee-oh'-nai).

Conjunctions are of two kinds: Copulative when used to join the meaning of words and sentences together, and Disjunctive or Adversative when their meaning is separated.

Copulative Conjunctions.

Se, if; o, that; e, and; e-e, as well as; come as; finché, till; quando, when; anche, also, too; perché, because; sicché, so that; prima che, before—sooner; se anche, even if; peró, though; di maniera che, so that; mentre, whilst.

Disjunctive or Adversative Conjunctions.

Se, whether; o or o-o, either—or; ovvero, ossia, oppure, or purché, provided; né-né, neither—nor; anzi, even; ma, but; non ostante che, notwithstanding; per quanto, however; altresi, besides; per altro, on the other hand.

INTERJECTIONS (L'Interjection).

Ah! ah! ah! alas! ehi, hallo! ebbene, well! oimé, woe to me; oia, oh! oh bella, very well! per bacco, good heavens! benone, very well! fuori, begone! bravo, well done! chi va là? who goes there? su, su, come, come! che peccato, what a pity!
