THE "BAY BRIDGE" FREE OF TOLLS & A.M. JULY 1ST.

The Discovery of Prince Edward Is.

Commerce led a party of French fur traders up the Bay of Quinte in 1603 and it has been claimed that Samuel Champlain was the first white man to touch the soil of Prince Edward County.

THIRTY YEARS AFTER OPEN FOR ROAD TRAFFIC BRIDGE IS MADE FREE

Gigantic Structure Spanning Water From City to Garden County—Was Long in Mind Before Constructed—Many Attempts to "Free" Before Finally it was Purchased—History of Bridge and Men Who Conceived the Idea.

JUST THIRTY YEARS AGO, the Bay Bridge connecting Prince Edward County with Belleville, was opened to traffic—and now the barrier of the toll gate is gone.

Those who built the bridge had a gigantic task before them, not knowing what it would mean—success or failure; but the County of Prince Edward and the City of Belleville today know the value of that structure as a connection between the peninsula and the mainland.

There was always felt the need of connection. That caused the growth of Rossmore—the closest point of the Prince Edward shore to Belleville.

This condition nourished a desire for better connection, a roadway and a bridge. Eighty years ago there was a proposal of the kind, but it remained but a dream.

Geo. C. Keefer, C.E., was employed in 1873 in response to a public agitation to take soundings between Bushy Island and Rossmore village.

It remained for George S. Tickell, an inventor of Belleville, and founder of the business now carried on under the name of Tickell & Sons Company, to move a resolution favoring a projected bridge.

Mr. Tickell's views of the possibility of the bridge as a creator of business. About this time materials such as would be required for bridge construction were very low.

The break-down of the ferry service in the face of traffic provoked the public to see what could be done in the way of making the connection permanent.

Mr. Henry Corby, M.P., Mr. Thos. Ritchie, Mr. Tickell and others struck a popular chord and it was only a few months before an act was passed incorporating the Bay of Quinte Bridge Company.

Under the conditions of the bill plans were approved by the Government that the capital stock of the company should be $150,000 and the men above named were the first directors, work was to be commenced within three years and the structure completed within six years.

The stock subscribers were: Ameliasburg Twp., $15,000; Belleville, $30,000; W. H. Biggar, 1,000; J. L. Biggar, 1,000; John Bell, 1,000; Col. James Brown, 2,000; S. Burrows, 1,000; Brignall & Thompson, 500; T. S. Carman, 1,000; H. Corby, 2,000; Conger Bros., 200; E. Donald, 100; Geo. D. Dickson, 100; J. W. Dunnitt, 500; Thos. Donnelly, 200; G. H. Poulton, 500; Thos. Ritchie, 2,000; A. M. Reid, 200; James Roy, 500; Bathban Co., 1,000.

The work was begun August 22nd, 1889 by dragging for the north approach across the marsh. The crib foundation for the north abutment was sunk Sept. 14th of that year and the masonry of the north abutment was begun one month later and completed in two weeks.

BELLEVILLE MERCHANTS OFFER FINE OPPORTUNITIES FOR ALL IN THIS EDITION OF THE ONTARIO

Opening of the famous Bay Bridge connecting the City of Belleville and Prince Edward County has been made the occasion of an important departure in policy by leading Belleville merchants and business houses.

Few Foreigners Work for City Council is Told

That there is little foreign labor employed in the city on contracts under the public works department was brought out in a report to the city council last night.

PULL TOLL SIGN OFF BAY BAIDGE EARLY ON FRIDAY

Mayor Hanna, Hon. Nelson Parliament and Other Officials to be There NO SET PROGRAMME

Ex-Warden Anderson of Prince Edward Cannot Carry out His Plans

WHEN the toll sign is pulled off the toll house at the south end of the bay bridge on Friday morning at eight o'clock, Mayor Hanna, some members of the council, directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the Hon. Nelson Parliament and some of the officials of the County of Hastings will likely be found at the toll gate.

HOW BAY BRIDGE WILL BE OPERATED.

The Department of Highways will maintain the bridge and provide men to operate the swing, the upkeep to be apportioned among the three parties—the Government, the City of Belleville and the County of Prince Edward.

"GUNSIGHT PASS"

By William MacLeod Raine.
Copyrighted by Thos. Allen.

"He's been havin' soft too long, don't you reckon?"

"No, sir. He just didn't have the sand in his craw to hang on and finish you off whilst you was rippin' up his haigs."

Dave roped his mount and rode out to meet Chiquito. The plato was an aristocrat in his way. He preferred to choose his company, was a little disdainful of the company that had no accomplishments. Usually he grazed a short distance from the remuda, together with one of Bob Hart's string. The two ponies had been brought up in the same bunch.

This morning Dave's whistle brought no nicker of joy, no thud of hoofs galloping out of the darkness to him. He rode deeper into the desert. No answer came to his calls. At a canter he cut across the plain to the wrangler. That young man had seen nothing of Chiquito since the evening before, but this was not at all unusual.

The cowpuncher returned to camp for breakfast and got permission of the foreman to look for the missing horses.

Beyond the flats was a country creased with draws and dry arroyos. From one to another of these Dave went without finding a trace of the animals. All day he pushed through the cactus and mesquite heavy with grey dust. In the late afternoon he gave up for the time and struck back to the flats. It was possible that the lost broncos had rejoined the remuda of their own accord or had been found by some of the riders gathering up strays.

Dave struck the herd trail and followed it toward the new camp. A horseman came out of the golden west of the sunset to meet him. For a long time he saw the figure rising and falling in the saddle, the pony moving in the even fox-trot of the cattle country.

"The man was Bob Hart."

"Found 'em?" shouted Dave when he was close enough to be heard.

"No, and we won't—not this side of Malapl. Those scallaws didn't make camp last night. They kep' travelin'. If you ask me, they're movin' yet, and they've got our broncs with 'em."

This had already occurred to Dave as a possibility. "Any proof?" he asked quietly.

"A-plenty. I been ridin' on the point all day. Three-four times we cut trail of five horses. Two of the five are bein' ridden. My Four-Bits hoss has got a broken front hoof. So has one of the five."

"Movin' fast, are they?"

"You're damn whistlin'. Malapl first, off, looks like. They got friends there."

"Steelman and his outfit will protect them while they hunt cover and make a getaway. Miller mentioned Denver before the race—said he was figurin' on goin' there. Maybe."

"He was probably lyin'. You can't tell. Point is, we've got to get busy. My notion is we'd better make a bee-line for Malapl right away," proposed Bob.

"We'll travel all night. No use wastin' any more time."

Dug Doble received their decision sourly. "It don't tickle me a heap to be left short-handed because you two boys have got an excuse to get to town quicker."

Hart looked him straight in the eye. "Call it an excuse if you want to. We're after a pair of shorthorn crooks that stole our horses."

The foreman flushed angrily. "Don't come belly-achin' to me about yore broomtails. I ain't got 'em."

"We know who's got 'em," said Dave evenly. "What we want is a wage check so we can cash it at Malapl."

"You don't get it," returned the big foreman bluntly. "We pay you off when we reach the end of the drive."

"I notice you paid yore brother and Miller when we gave an order for it," Hart retorted with heat.

"A different proposition. They hadn't signed up for the drive like you boys did. You'll get what's comin' to you when I pay off the others. You'll not get it before."

The two riders retired sulkily. They felt it was not fair, but on the trail the foreman is an autocrat. From the other riders they borrowed a few dollars and gave in exchange orders on their pay checks. Within an hour they were on the road. Fresh horses had been roped from the remuda and were carrying them at an even Spanish jog-trot through the night. The stars came out, clear and steady above a ghostly world at sleep. The desert was a place of mystery, of vast space peopled by strange and misty shapes.

The plain stretched vaguely before them. Far away was the thin outline of the range which enclosed the valley. The riders held their course by means of that trained sixth sense of direction their occupation had developed.

They spoke little. Once a coyote howled dimly from the edge of the mesa. For the most part there was no sound except the chuffing of the horses' movements and the occasional ring of a hoof on the baked ground.

The gray dawn, sitting into the sky, found them still traveling. The mountains came closer, grew more definite. The desert flamed again, dry, lifeless, torrid beneath a sky of turquoise. Dust eddies whirled in inverted cones, wind devils playing in spirals across the sand. Tablelands, mesas, wide plains, desolate lava stretches. Each in turn was traversed by these lean, bronzed riders.

They reached the foothills and left behind the desert shimmering in the dancing heat. In a deep gorge, where the hill creases gave them shade, the punchers threw off the trail, unsaddled, hobbled their horses, and stole a few hours' sleep. In the late afternoon they rode back to the trail through a draw.

CHAPTER V.
Supper at Delmonico's Interrupted.

The two D Bar Lay R punchers ate supper at Delmonico's. The restaurant was owned by Wong Chung. A Cantonese celestial did the cooking and another waited on table. The price of a meal was twenty-five cents, regardless of what one ordered.

Hop Lee, the waiter, grinned at the frolicsome youths with the serenity of a world-old wisdom.

"Bleef steak, pork chop, lamb chop, hiam-neggs, clove bleef hash, Splanish stew," he chanted, reciting the bill of fare.

"Yes," murmured Bob. The waiter said his piece again. "Listens good to me," agreed Dave. "Lead it to us."

"You take two—bleef steak and hiam-neggs mobby," suggested Hop helpfully.

"That's right. Two orders of everything on the me-an-you, Charlie." Hop did not argue with them. He never argued with a customer. If they stormed at him he took refuge and suddenly acquired lack of understanding of English. If they called him Charlie or John or One-Ling, he accepted the name cheerfully and laid it to a racial mental deficiency of the melicans. Now he decided to make a selection himself.

"Vely well. Bleef steak and hiam-neggs."

"Fried potatoes done brown, John."

"Filed potatoes. Tea or clof."

"Coffee," decided Dave for both of them. "Warm mine."

"And custard pie," added Bob. "Made from this year's crop."

"Aigs sunny side up," directed his friend.

"Fry mine one on one side and one on the other," Hart continued facetiously.

"Vely well." Hop Lee's impassive face betrayed a perplexity as seven persons he waited on hundreds of wild men from the hills, drunk and sober.

WEDDINGS

HUMPHREY — DERRY.
At the Methodist parsonage, West Belleville, on Saturday, June 25th, by the Rev. A. H. Foster, Miss Ida A. Derby to Mr. Fred. Braxton Humphrey of Sarnia. They will reside in Belleville.

CLAPP — CARNEY.
A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Roslin, when Miss Helen E. Carney, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carney, of Roslin, became the bride of Mr. Wilfred L. Clapp, of Corbyville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John A. Davies, L. Th., rector of Roslin. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss B. M. Carney, while the groom was assisted by Mr. John Cockins. The bride was beautifully attired in a wedding gown of blue silk trimmed with embroidery and georgette crepe, with hat to match. The happy couple left later on a short honeymoon trip, the bride wearing a suit of navy blue serge.

FITZGIBBON — STEINBURG.
A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. Cora Ostrander, of Murray, when his niece, Miss Amber Steinburg became the bride of Mr. Goldie Fitzgibbon. The Rev. Mr. Bick officiating. The home was beautifully decorated with peonies, white roses and ferns. The bride looked charming in a blue satin gown and carried white roses and wore a wreath of orange blossoms. Misses Verna Stinson and Edith Steinburg acted as flower girls, dressed in pink and blue silk, carrying baskets of white roses. The wedding march was played by Mr. Clayton Maguire, during the signing of the register Miss Ruth Riley accompanied by Miss Beasie Locke sang "Perfect Day." The groom's gift to the bride was a bar pin set with pearls, to the flower girls, signet rings. The estimation and popularity of the young couple was expressed in no mean way host of beautiful gifts of which they were the recipients. After the wedding ceremony about seventy-five guests sat down to sumptuous repast, the dining room being decorated for the occasion. The happy couple left by motor for Montreal and other Eastern points. The bride traveling in a navy blue serge suit with hat to match. Best wishes of hosts of friends accompany the happy couple on their voyage through life.

Permanent Work On Foxboro Road
at Last Under Way

The Foxboro-Belleville provincial highway is at last under repairs. Two miles north of the city, a gang is grading southward over the worst section of the road. The entire highway from Belleville to Foxboro will be graded this year.
A culvert gang is to arrive here in a few days to put in the necessary drainage and culverts.
The road allowance is 66 feet and the drawing portions of the road will be of standard width for two-way traffic.
It is anticipated that a crusher will be brought here to get out the material for the surfacing of the highway.

The East Hastings member in the Legislature, Mr. H. K. Denyes, has striven ceaselessly to get this road improved at as early a date as possible. To him is due the fact that it is now a provincial highway.

Mrs. Percy Snider and daughter Jean, of Toronto, are visiting the parental home on Herchimer Ave.

SMASHED NOSE ON OTHER MAN COSTS HIM $100

Bert B. Orr's Features Marred After Scrap with a Neighbor

PETER BANFIELD PAYS Had Been Bad-Feeling Previously—County Court Hears The Evidence

Smashing Bert B. Orr's nose and otherwise assaulting him cost Peter Banfield, a fireman, of Glen Miller, about one hundred dollars in county police court here before Magistrate Masson today. Banfield was arrested yesterday by Officer Ward, at Glen Miller on a charge of assault with bodily harm.

There had been a little friction between the two neighbors and it is said Banfield once before uttered vengeance. The chance came when he assaulted Orr. The victim was forced to go to a doctor to have the fracture set and today wore a huge patch across his face and gave every sign of a beating up.

Magistrate Masson accepted Banfield's plea of guilty and at first decreed at the suggestion of adjustment. He told Banfield so—that the maximum penalty could be three years together with a compensation to the assaulted man as high as one thousand dollars. However as the costs and compensation would run high, the court fell in with the crown and defendant's counsel and a settlement was reached. Banfield pays all the costs, makes compensation, and is put on his good behaviour.

Mr. W. Carnew appeared for the Crown, Mr. W. C. Mike, K.C. for the accused.

Save the Children

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rednersville Ready For Bridge Opening

Rednersville is devoting considerable attention to the observance of the opening of the bay bridge on July 1st. The village band will turn out with the early birds on that morning.

Ex-Warden W. W. Anderson had in preparation a very fine turn-out but the accident that befell him will prevent his taking part.

Many of the citizens of Rednersville expect to decorate their motors and form a procession in honor of the occasion.

Immediately following the parade all will proceed to Rednersville to take part in the big Dominion Day free picnic. The Trail Rangers baseball match will open the proceedings at ten o'clock in the morning. Every hour of the day will be packed with entertainment to the last minute.

BIG STRIKE OFF.

LONDON, June 28—(Bulletin)—The British coal mine strike which has been in progress since April 1st, has been settled; it was officially announced this afternoon.

Large yield of honey, better than any since 1918, is predicted in Oxford county.

Thin, Watery Blood Means Ill Health

Rich, Red Blood Brings Bright Eyes and Rosy Cheeks.

The girl who returns home from school or from work thoroughly tired out will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown, because this getting tired so easily is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning blood that must not be disregarded if her health is to be preserved.

When the blood becomes thin and impure the patient becomes pale. She not only tires out easily but often suffers from headaches, palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells and a loss of appetite.

In this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found to have a beneficial action on the blood. Miss Delima Lafreniere, St. Ambrose, Man., has proved this in her own case, and advises others to use these pills. She says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I felt like a complete wreck of my former self. My blood was poor and thin. I suffered from faint and dizzy spells, and had backaches and headaches almost every day. I decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and by the time I had used three boxes I felt much better and I continued taking the pills until I felt as well as I ever did. For what they did in my case I cannot recommend these pills too highly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

W. J. Lannin was appointed chief of police for Saratua.

the foundations were finished in August of that year, Nov. 7th seeing the completion of the masonry and rip-rapping. The substructure and approaches were finished by the end of November.

Delay was experienced with the superstructure, a rise of steel prices causing further delay and added $2,000 to the cost. The completion of the contract was thereby delayed six months. The bridge was, however, ready for traffic in the spring, although the superstructure was not completed. The erection of the iron work began Nov. 10th, 1890 and was completed April 15th, 1891.

The checkered career of the bridge for some years, its being sold under mortgage and its passing into the hands of the company, are facts well-known to most of the residents of Belleville and Prince Edward.

The depth of water at the north abutment and from piers 1 to 13, is 20 feet; at pier 15 it is 33 and the pivot and rest piers, 32 feet. There is a depth of 25 to 40 feet of material on the rock at the bottom of the bay. Below the water level are timber foundations. The north abutment is on solid rock. Piers 15 and 16 and the pivot piers had crib foundations sunk to the rock. The south abutment rests on rocky foundation. Piles support piers 1 to 14. The total length of the piling is 21,685 feet. The piles vary from 30 to 60 feet in length.

The bridge has a clear roadway of 18 feet with a clearance of 14 feet from floor to end portals of trusses. The spans were designed to carry safely in addition to their dead load, a moving load equal to 1500 pounds per lineal foot. The bridge was submitted to a test of 43 tons per span without deflection. Its style is known as a single intersection through span. The length of the bridge and its approach is 2913 feet. It is believed to be the largest highway bridge in Canada. It has thirteen spans of 98 feet each, two of 148 feet each, 1 draw span of 238 feet and one of 63 feet at the south end—a total span length of 1833 feet. The north approach is a solid embankment of 3616 feet, the material for it being dredged from the bay and marsh. This approach is 30 feet wide at the top and its sides are rip-rapped to four feet below the water line. The total length of the bridge, with approaches and roadway through the marsh is 5787 feet, or one mile and 167 yards.

The last tolls collected were:— Pedestrians, one way, 10c, return, 15c; children under six years, accompanied by parent or guardian, free; automobiles, 20c, return, 30c; bicycle and rider, 20c, return, 30c; horse and single carriage and driver, 20c, return 30c; team horses, driver and vehicle, 40c, return 60c; animal on foot, 10c; farm implements on wheels, 10c.

Contemporary History of Bay Bridge

After about a year's general discussion on the Bay of Quinte bridge purchase the step that made the structure free was taken at a conference at Picton on October 5th, 1920, which was attended by members of Prince Edward County Council, Belleville City Council, Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works, Hon. Nelson Parliament, M. P. P., and Mr. H. K. Denyes, of East Hastings. John Hazel, Reeve of Picton, and Warden of Prince Edward, presided. Mayor Riggs was strongly in favor of the purchase and was supported by the city council. After a conference a settlement was reached whereby the bridge was to be purchased for $85,000 and made a public highway, free from the toll gate, the proportionate cost to be: Province of Ontario . . . $35,000 City of Belleville . . . 30,000 County of Prince Ed. . . 20,000

Belleville City Council next day at a special meeting ratified the agreement of purchase. The by-law was passed on Nov. 15th, and a special act was passed through the Legislature this year authorizing the issue of $30,000 debentures.

Prince Edward Council did not require a special bill. On Saturday, April 16th, in the City of Belleville the transfer of the title of the bridge from the Bridge Company to the Province of Ontario, was effected by Mr. E. Guss Porter, K. C., solicitor for the company, and a legal representative of the government.

It had been hoped to free the bridge from tolls in May, but difficulties stood in the way, the lease of Mr. J. Dodds, the lessee, not expiring until June 16th. Figures in Bay Bridge Purchase Among the prominent figures in connection with the bay bridge purchase are ex-Mayor Riggs, Mayor Hanna, ex-Warden William Monaghan, Reeve of Wellington, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Highways and Public Works and the Hon. Speaker Nelson Parliament.

Ex-Mayor Riggs' whole-hearted support of the scheme was approved of by the Council and he lost no time in bringing the issue to a head.

Mayor Hanna, who followed him, saw the special act brought into the legislature to authorize the city's issuing of debentures and will officiate at the opening.

Ex-Warden Hazel, Reeve of Picton last year, saw the importance of linking up of the county of Prince Edward with the mainland by a free highway bridge across the bay and lent staunch support to the scheme. Mr. Hazel was formerly Reeve of Sophiasburg. Warden Monaghan of Prince Edward County, who has the honor of being in office at the time of the opening of the bridge under the new regime, is Reeve of Wellington. He lived in Hillier for many years with agriculture as his pursuit. He was a successful farmer and was honored with the reeveship of the township some years ago. About six years ago he retired to Wellington, where he was honored in being elected to represent as Reeve in Prince Edward County Council. This year the wardenship came to him. The municipality of Ameliasburg will bear its proportion of the tax and the county for its share of the purchase price and in this way will contribute. Ameliasburg invested heavily as did Belleville in the first bridge company.

WOUNDED DAUGHTER CANNOT APPEAR FOR THREE WEEKS. Kingston—Cecilia Tryon, alleged to have been shot at Kaladar by her father, now awaiting trial in Napanee jail, will not be able to give evidence at the preliminary hearing for three weeks yet, according to Dr. L. J. Austin, who has been attending her. The father, Kenneth Tryon, was to have appeared at the postponed preliminary hearing but it was enlarged for another week. So far as is known no statement has been made by the girl and the hearing will probably not proceed until she can appear in person.

MASONS HEAR FINE SERMON

Rev. D. C. Ramsay, One of the Craft, Instructs in Character-Building

CONSIDERS BUSINESS LIFE Can't be a Saint on Sunday if Slave Driver Rest of the Week

The building of the temple of life, with particular reference to the business career, was the subject of the St. John's day address by Rev. Bro. D. C. Ramsay to the Freemasons of Belleville at John street Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning.

Masonic Brethren of the lodges, Moira No. 11, the Belleville No. 123 and Eureka No. 233, filled the church. It was one of the largest turnouts in the history of the fraternity.

He pointed out the failure of many in life through leaving out one or more great foundation stones. Back as far as human thought was the comparison of building a life to erecting a house. In the quarries one might find beautiful rocks, better than any which had gone into the building of a stately edifice and say "If I have only known these were here, I would have used them." But the builders had overlooked them.

The Infinite Soul carries into a man's life revenge for the good things left out of life, just as Rome leaving purity out of the national life, saying that moral considerations do not count in a super-race. Tell an easy prey to pure-living Gauls to the north, whose strength came out of their home life.

"Leave the best things out of life and it will grind the soul out of you," said the preacher.

"We are building home life, social life, pleasure life, national life, business life. What are we master-builders selecting and what are we rejecting?" he asked. "Should it be said of us, there is in the rubbish heap the corner stone of all—the spirit of Christ?"

"I care not how many call themselves Christians, the important thing is, into how many lives has come the spirit of sympathy?"

The preacher devoted the major part of his attention to the consideration of business life "in which we spend nine tenths of our time and perhaps rightly so." Business must be plain every day in dollars and cents. The man who continually sells at or below cost is not a public benefactor, he is much more likely to become a public charge. A man must be good-headed as well as goodhearted.

"We are apt to judge by that standard alone, but business success means infinitely more. It means character success. What kind of man is your business making of you. Unless it makes the right kind of character, your financial success is of no value. What kind of people is your business making of your employees? There must be service success. Have we forgotten those who buy and consume our products? "To maintain any sense of common decency, a man has to have before himself always the question—What am I giving life in return for what life is giving me? Does my business fill a need in men's lives. If it doesn't I'm a parasite and the sooner I throw it over the better for my manhood. Does my conduct fill that need well? That is where service may rise to sacrifice. Sacrifice is the stone most of us would request. What easy rewards am I willing to give up, what pains will I take to prepare myself. If we neglect the best stone, it will take its vengeance.

"To the extent we have paganized our business life, we have paganized our whole life. "A man cannot be a smug decent Christian on Sunday and a slave driver the rest of the week. "We have barely escaped two crushing dangers, if we have escaped them."

(1) The crushing blow of inefficient work. Trained men are frankly saying that efficiency today is only fifty per cent. We have caused this state of affairs by paganizing our business life.

(2) The other danger is Bolshevism—the inevitable result in countries in which the men at the top have no sympathy for those at the bottom. No nation has escaped Bolshevism, that did not have the sympathy of Christ.

During the service Mr. Anglin took the solo in the anthem "O Come to My Heart Lord Jesus" and Bro. J. Booth sang "The Way, the Life."

GOVT. INSPECTOR SEES NORTH PORT SCENE OF HAVOC

Homeless People Have All Found Shelter With Nearby Friends

Village Rebuilt is the General Opinion Today—Many Residents Retired Farmers

The village of Northport, the greater part of which was destroyed last Wednesday afternoon and evening, was today visited by a Provincial Inspector, who looked over the scene of havoc. He goes on to Alexandria where a similarly large fire wiped out a great part of that town. The homeless inhabitants of the Bay of Quinte village have found asylum in the homes still standing in Northport, in public buildings or are quartered among the farmers around about the village. The Methodist church shed was the place of refuge for any furniture which had been saved. There is an open door to all who have sustained loss.

That the village will be rebuilt is the general opinion. Some of those who suffered loss of their homes have farms in the surrounding territory and are certain to reconstruct their homes.

Northport was a prosperous little village. It used to be more in connection with Belleville than it is of late, since the steamship service has been intermittent.

NORTHPORT LAID IN RUINS BY FIRE

Eleven Residences, Ten Barns and Other Buildings at Northport Fell Prey to Flames Late Wednesday—Help Sought in Neighboring Towns—Originated in Embers of Previous Night's Fire.

Twice stricken within the space of twenty-four hours, the village of Northport today is but a shadow of what it was yesterday afternoon. Twenty-one buildings lie in ruins, victims of the fire element, eleven of them the finest dwellings on the north Prince Edward shore.

Northport had its baptism of fire on Tuesday afternoon when several buildings were consumed. The blaze had started in a house owned and occupied by Albert Rowe and family. This was burned to the ground, together with drive house and barn. Alexander Anderson's barn also took fire and then Tuesday's fire halted with a loss of perhaps ten thousand dollars. The origin of the blaze is unknown.

On Wednesday afternoon, although it had been thought that every danger was past from embers of the fire the evening before, Mr. Anderson's stately residence was suddenly ablaze. It had caught from a woodpile in which there lurked embers of the first fire.

To the villagers their homes seemed doomed. Starting in at the west side, the flames cut a swath of fire right through the centre on the north side of the road, burning itself out on the east side, where nothing else remained to burn in that direction. Everything of a heroic nature possible was done to prevent the spread of the conflagration, but the intense heat and flying embers increased the extent of the burning area momentarily. To many it seemed as if the entire village was almost taking fire at one time.

Calls were sent out to Belleville and adjoining towns. Mayor Hanna consulted Chief Brown and it was found impossible to get the Merryweather fire engine to the scene inside of six hours by land, which would have been too late. The Mayor advised calling up Deseronto and Trenton. Deseronto sent some of its firemen across on the ferry but they were unable to lend aid.

Some of the buildings destroyed are:

Alex. Anderson's house and barn.

William Creeper's residence.

D. Putman's residence and barn.

Miss Annie Forbes' residence.

Mr. Borman's summer residence.

Dan Morden's residence and barn.

Clayton Ward's residence.

In all the eleven residences the furnishings were practically lost as there was no time to rescue them. The barns' contents went up in smoke with the buildings.

The greater part of the residences are gone. Fortunately the post office, Sanderson's grocery, the cannery factory and the dock are left.

The loss will approximate $50,000. The insurance will reach perhaps half of that amount.

Northport is ten miles below Belleville on the Prince Edward side and seven miles above Deseronto. It is situated in one of the most beautiful spots on the Bay of Quinte.

The village itself was picturesque with its white frame houses set along the shore.

All but one of the lost buildings was of frame construction. The village numbers about two hundred and fifty people.

WORK OFFICIALLY BEGUN ON NEW ALBERT COLLEGE

tained to work without change in its constitution, receiving meantime many gratifying tokens of public appreciation. But the time had now come when it was felt necessary to affiliate this Institution to a University, in order that its progress might keep pace with the growing interests in the province.

After a brief existence as a College affiliated with Toronto University, an Act of Parliament was obtained by which the name of the Institution was changed to Albert College, and limited university powers thereto attached. By this Act, a Senate was created with power to make statutes for properly conferring degrees. The first session of the Senate began on the first day of April, 1867. Bishop Smith presiding. In 1871, Albert College was granted full powers and privileges of a University.

From 1858 to 1874, Professor Carman occupied the position of Principal of this Institution and professor of mathematics, which positions he filled with remarkable executive ability and great force. In 1874, the General Conference elected him to the highest dignity in the church, the office of Bishop. His successor as President of the College was Rev. J. R. Jaques, D.D., Ph. D., Professor of Classics, a ripe scholar and wise administrator, who had had years of experience as a teacher in American Colleges. President Jaques held this position for ten years, when he retired in 1885, and was succeeded by Principal Dyer. The success of the Institution under him is too well known to need comment. In 1913, on account of ill health, Dr. Dyer retired and Dr. E. N. Baker was appointed.

Dr. Baker's Address.
Rev. Dr. Baker in a short address said:

"In 1917 a disastrous fire destroyed the administration building of Albert College. This caused the Board to consider the future of the Institution. Some of the authorities of the church suggested its removal from Belleville. The City Council, on hearing this consulted the members of the Board. The result was the submission of a by-law to the rate-payers, to buy some 50 acres on the west side of the city, overlooking the bay. This by-law was carried by a very large majority. Added to this gift, the citizens of Belleville have subscribed $140,000 to erect the new building. This, with the amount given by the National Campaign of $175,000 and some $10,000 by persons outside of Belleville, gives a grand total to date of $325,000. The estimated cost of the buildings, (including foundations), to accommodate 150 pupils, viz., administration building, 3 dormitories, dining-hall, gymnasium and swimming-pool, is $500,000. Besides this, $100,000 has been subscribed for Endowment. Marvellous as is the acquiring of this large sum of money, more wonderful still is the spirit that has made this generosity possible, viz., the unbounded faith in the possibilities of Albert College and the appreciation of the contribution that she is making to our national life. That sainted woman, the late Mrs. Levi Massey, said to me, "Fear not the future of the great work. God has put it in your heart, and He will see it to completion."

"The movement from the beginning justified this prophetic statement. "When we reach what we propose, three more dormitories to accommodate one hundred and fifty more boys and young men will be undertaken. This will bring the value of the buildings up to $700,000 without equipment. There will then be needed about half a million endowment so that the rates may be put down so that no boy may be turned away from the institution for lack of funds.

A Splendid Heritage.
Albert College with the history of the school since its beginning in 1857, with the generous gifts so far for this new enterprise, with the felt need for just such an institution to meet the needs of the times, with what is more than all these—the seal God has put upon the efforts of the board so far in this enterprise, surely has a bright outlook—as bright as the promise of God. "My God shall supply all your needs," all that is needed on our part who are privileged to take up these burdens is to realize our opportunities, catch the spirit and carry on the work of those who made it possible for us to enjoy such an heritage.

A Chance for Every Man.
The Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference lent its recognition to the unique occasion when the President, Rev. W. Elliott, declared that the history of Albert College could not be written in words alone. "Every man must have his chance," a soldier who fell in the great war had said, and this summed up Albert College's attitude.

College and the Board of Endowment, said Chairman Arthur McGie, Belleville board was glad to see the new college begun, and Mr. McGie said he hoped the spot for the new collegiate would soon be turned. He was pleased that Dr. Baker had been able to raise such a large amount for buildings and endowment.

City's Greetings

Official greetings from the city were brought by Mayor Hanna. "Dr. Baker's success in raising funds should be inspiring to all." "I am sure when I look back on my career in the Council, the best step we took was in helping to realize Albert College for Belleville," said Ex-Mayor H. F. Ketcheson. "The city's little gift helped to retain the college. I am so pleased that Belleville and Albert College will be associated for the future. We look forward to the days when Belleville and Albert will be as famous as Cambridge or Oxford."

Dr. Baker's Zeal
Dr. Coughlin, Superintendent of the Ontario School for the Deaf, referred to Albert's good record and its greater days to be, and expressed his admiration for Dr. Baker whose work and zeal made the new college a possibility. "I hope Albert College and the Ontario School for the Deaf will co-operate in many ways," he said in closing.

Government Aid for College
Hon. Nelson Parliament, M.P.P. for Prince Edward, Speaker of the Legislature, referred to the part education plays in the development of citizenship.

"I can see no reason why the Provincial Government should not grant assistance to an institution like this. I do not say that Toronto University should not receive a grant, but it should not receive all while institutions like Albert College do not receive assistance. Those who have charge of the College should make an effort to get the government to make a substantial grant," he said amid cheers.

Mr. Parliament had no doubt that this U.E.L. district would rally to Albert College. He closed with a fervid picture of the greatness of Canada to be.

Mr. W. H. Ireland, M.P.P. for West Hastings, agreed with Speaker Parliament regarding a provincial grant. "With the assistance of the Speaker and Mr. Deayes I will use every effort to lay before the Premier the duty of making a grant to the college."

Presentation of Spade
Dr. Baker thereupon handed to Mr. R. J. Graham a silver shovel to perform the ceremony.

"I have great pleasure in presenting you this spade to turn the sod for the greater Albert College."

The spade bore the following inscription on a plate:

The Turning of the First Sod of the New Albert College
By R. J. Graham
June 27th, 1921.

Mr. Graham, appreciating the honor conferred on him, declared: "It seems to me this institution is to do a better work than ever before. The site is fitting. It seems to me that this institution in a city of homes is going to make a better Belleville. I consider this is also a manufacturing industry — making boys into good men.

"Without Dr. Baker this sod-turning would not have taken place. He has stood up for Albert College and has given of his substance, so I say all honor to Dr. Baker for his work in Albert College."

Sod Turning
The sod was then turned. The gathering sang the National Anthem, and after cheers the Rev. D. C. Ramsay pronounced the benediction.

Messrs. J. L. Moulton and F. C. Miller, who are graduating at Albert this year, gave the College yep

PRINCE EDWARD IS THROWN TO GROUND; HURT WHEN COLT JUMPS ON HIM

Thrown from a colt which he was breaking-in with a saddle on Saturday evening, Mr. W. W. Anderson, of Ameliasburg, ex-Warden of the County of Prince Edward, was quite seriously hurt when the animal trampled on him. Two ribs on the left side were fractured and minor injuries in the nature of bruises were sustained. Mr. Anderson undertook the breaking-in the animal and had been for about an hour striving to succeed in getting upon the colt's back. The animal was quite fractious but Mr. Anderson held his seat. The animal made a sudden movement and Mr. Anderson fell to the ground. The horse jumped upon him.

Help was forthcoming and Mr. Anderson was got to the house. Dr. J. A. Faulkner of this city was called in attendance. He bound up the chest in order to permit the fractured ribs to knit. Mr. Anderson will be kept in bed for some time.

Miss Helen Hermon is recovering nicely from the effect of the operation for appendicitis.

Local Ball Players Playing Keenly for the Nelson Parliament Cup

The main topic of interest in this bough these days is the big Union Sunday School Picnic to be held in Redner's Park on Friday next. The Committee has the lumber and scantlings upon the ground for the erection of a fine grocery building which is to be left from year to year for the storing of tables, seats, platforms, etc. Besides the sixteen Sunday Schools of the township, a general invitation is extended to those of the public who may be interested and special invitation to the Mayor and Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Belleville, along with other public leaders, Foxboro Boy Scouts and Cannifton Trail Rangers are participating and the Picton baseball team is scheduled for a match with the local team at four o'clock in the afternoon. Bills are also out for a Grand Circuit Concert in the evening which will include a splendid did line up of local talent. The Rednersville Band, etc. A memorable Dominion Day is in store here if the weather is good.

Mr. Ralph Stafford has carpenter's busy at a fine new garage. His new Briscoe must have suitable quarters.

W. W. Hough has just completed a good-sized new barn which adds much to the appearance of his farm.

Mr. W. Cole and family of Toronto, have moved here. They have purchased the farm of Mr. W. G. Orris, better known as the W. E. Anderson farm.

Mr. Benj. Rowell has greatly improved his residence at the main corner of the village by a good heavy covering of paint. This should be a suggestion to everybody to trim up and brighten up so that we may have one of the neatest, prettiest hamlets in the Country.

The conference assigned a leader in young peoples' work as pastor succeeding Rev. L. M. Sharpe. The Circuit which does not care for the Y. E. movement is doomed. Rev. Mr. Seymour will be cordially welcomed here.

The County League Baseball team is putting up a fine showing in the competition for the Nelson Parliament Cup. Defeating Allistonville, Saturday 18th inst. and West Lake last Saturday it now looks as though they have good chances of winning. They are scheduled to play with Picton here at the picnic, July 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Maybee, of Smithfield, spent the week end visiting friends hereabout.

LIFE NECESSARIES ON DOWN GRADE

Decline, However, Still Leaves Them Much Higher Than in 1913.

RECORD LAST JULY 1920.

Then Prices Were 101 Per Cent. More Than Seven Years Ago.

Statistics recently compiled by the Department of Labor showed that at the close of May last the cost of necessities of life in Canada was considerably less than in the previous December, but was still 72 per cent. higher than in December, 1913.

Retail prices of food were 65 per cent. higher than in the last month of 1913, fuel (coal, wood and oil), 100 per cent. higher; rents 40 per cent. higher; clothing, 92 per cent., and certain other items grouped under the head of sundries, 87 1/2 per cent.

The statistics showed how prices which rose first under the impetus of war conditions continued to rise until 1920 and then, with the exception of fuel prices and rents, the price of shelter began to decline. Food prices rose steadily until July, 1920, when they had reached a point 130 per cent. higher than the levels of 1913. Then they began to subside until at the end of May, 1921, they were 65 per cent. higher than in 1913 and slightly less than in December, 1917.

Clothing, too, rose steadily in price until in July, 1920, it was 160 per cent. higher than in 1913. At the end of May last clothing prices were still 92 per cent. higher than at the close of 1913, although there had been spectacular drops in the prices of wool, raw cotton and hides.

Fuel Still Double.

Fuel in 1914 and in 1915 was cheaper than in 1913. After 1915, however, it rose rapidly. In 1916 fuel prices were 10 per cent. higher than in 1913; in 1917 they were 34 per cent. higher; in 1918 they were 63 per cent. higher; in 1919, 66 per cent. higher; in July, 1920, 91 per cent. higher; in December, 1920, 118 per cent. higher; in May, 1921, they had declined, but were still double what they were in 1913.

Rents, too, dropped in 1914 and again in 1915, when they were 16

DISCUSS DAIRY PRODUCE ACT

Desirable That Every District Express Views on Regulations.

In order to comply with the desire which has been so generally expressed by dairy organizations throughout the country the Minister of Agriculture introduced a bill to regulate the grading of dairy produce, which passed the House of Commons and the Senate during the last days of the session.

The Dairy Produce Act, to give it its short title, is simply an empowering Act to enable the Governor-in-Council to make regulations for the grading of dairy produce intended for export. The Act is inoperative until the regulations are made. It is too late to expect any system of grading to be put in force during the present season, and further it is desirable that there should be a full discussion and every opportunity given for different districts to present their views in conference on the subject before any regulations are made.

per cent. lower than in 1913. They then began to rise gradually, but although there has been a good deal of talk of rent profiteering, they were in December, 1920, only 83 per cent. higher than in 1913, and in May last 40 per cent. higher.

The fluctuation in the cost of living as a whole, compared with December, 1913, were as follows—

December, 1914, 2 per cent. higher.
 December, 1915, 4 per cent. higher.
 December, 1916, 19 per cent. higher.
 December, 1917, 43 per cent. higher.
 December, 1918, 61 per cent. higher.
 December, 1919, 79 per cent. higher.
 July, 1920, 101 per cent. higher.
 December, 1920, 92 per cent. higher.
 May, 1921, 72 per cent. higher.

That white hats with little or no trimming are the smartest hats of the moment, and for more formal wear slimly black face veils are added.

That because this year organdies are dyed in more lovely shades than ever before, they are becoming increasingly popular, and when organdie is not used for the trimming of any sort of gown then it is usually used for the material of the gown itself. Handworked organdies are, perhaps, the most lovely things that have been turned out this season.

That European like best the apple-green jade, but the Chinese themselves prefer the mottled stone, and the dull olive-green was once reserved for the sole wear of mandarins.

That tinted lace evening frocks are seen most in grays and jades, with a generous sprinkling of reds, particularly tomato red.

EARLY DAYS OF BELLEVILLE

The earliest settlement of Belleville dates back a period of over one hundred years, having been first settled in 1784 by Capt. J. W. Meyers. It was not until 1787 that what was then designated the "Nuitte Town," now known as the Township of Thurlow, was surveyed by Louis Kotte, a surveyor in the employment of the Crown Lands Department, who had been engaged in the survey of several of the other townships bordering upon the bay.

According to the original map, lot No. 4, 1st concession of Thurlow, was reserved for an Indian burying ground, and it was upon this lot that the site of the village was subsequently laid out by Surveyor Wilmot in 1816. Settlement for some years was very slow, the townships of Sidney and Thurlow forming the western limit of colonization. Capt. John Singleton and Lieut. Ferguson were the first settlers in the new township, their location being made soon after the survey was completed on lot No. 6, afterwards owned by John Shubald Foster, which is now included in the limits of the city. Neither of these gallant pioneers survived long, as it is recorded that Singleton died in 1789, and Ferguson followed him to the grave three months afterwards.

In the spring of the same year a party of refugee Loyalists settled in Sidney and Thurlow, and the following year John Taylor, one of the party who had settled upon the river in the 5th concession, came to live near the mouth of the river, on lot No. 5, now the most important part of the city. Capt. John W. Meyers, erected a dam on the site of what is now known as Blecker's or Meyer's dam, where he built a mill, the only one between Port Hope and Napanee, and in 1794 constructed the famous old brick house, the first ever erected in Canada, which until 1876 stood on the northern brow of the hill, and was the oldest brick house in the province.

Up to the commencement of the nineteenth century but little progress was made by the embryo village, which is not to be wondered at, as near the mouth of the river was a barren plain with a heavy cedar swamp extending on each side of it. What is now Front street, one of the finest streets in Canada, was a thick cedar swamp, with the rock within a few inches of the surface. Soon afterwards a few houses were erected south of Dundas street, and for many years settlement did not extend north of that street. Asa Wallbridge was one of the first persons to build a house in Belleville, and in 1798 John Simpson built the first tavern, which stood on the southeast corner of Dundas and Front streets. At this place was the ferry and subsequently the first bridge. About six years later the site of the bridge was transferred to the spot now occupied by the lower bridge.

At the time last spoken of, and until 1816, Belleville was known as "Meyer's Creek," so-called in honor of Capt. Meyer, the mill owner. The Indian name of the river was Sagonsaka, and it had also borne the name of Singerton's river. In the year mentioned, according to a disputed statement, Governor Gore named the Village Belleville, in honor of his wife, Lady Bella, which name has since been transmogrified by the addition of a single letter, into that which it now bears. This year Mr. Wilmot, acting under instructions from the government, laid out the Indian reserve on lot No. 4, into town lots of half an acre each. In this year also a postoffice was established in Belleville, and Mr. S. McNab was the first postmaster.

There is little of moment in the history of the village from 1816 to 1836. Its growth, while progressive in its way, was also very slow. In 1818 it had 150 inhabitants; in 1834 about 400; in 1829, 700; in 1836 no less than 1,700, when Belleville set up as an independent municipality, and after several years of slow but substantial progress, was incorporated as a town in 1850. It may be said that the limits of the corporation have been extended several times, the 200 acres on which the village was founded in 1816 having been gradually expanded to embrace about 1,700.

In 1861 the census returns revealed a population of 6,277, and ten years later, a total of 7,300, which had increased in 1878

FISHING IN THE QUINTE

The Bay of Quinte offers unsurpassed facilities for the enjoyment of the amusements of jachting, boating, canoeing, bathing and swimming, but the inducements it holds out to the angler surpass all its other attractions. From its western extremity, at the Carrying-Place, to its junction with Lake Ontario, at the Gap, a distance of some fifty miles, there is not a square rod of its surface which does not shelter several members of the finny tribes, thirty species of which are stated by naturalists to inhabit its waters.

Of all these fish the first rank is deservedly given to the Maskallonge. This lordly fish belongs to the Pike family. Handsome, both in shape and color, its body seems formed in an equal degree for strength and agility, while the expression of its countenance bespeaks energy and determination; nor does this expression belie its character, for a bolder biter or a more enduring fighter does not exist in all America's fresh water seas. This grand fish is almost exclusively taken with a spoon or other artificial bait, as it is rarely fished for in any other way, and from its habit of lurking among, or in the immediate vicinity of the weed-beds, it is seldom taken in the nets of the professional fisherman. Stragglers of this species are occasionally captured in all parts of the Bay, but there are certain localities in which it is met with more abundantly. Hay Bay, in the townships of Adolphus-town and Fredericksburgh, is the most celebrated of these resorts. In 1889 it occurred very numerous in Mosquito Bay, an expansion of Big Bay, which extends between Huff's Island and Big Island, and communicates with the big marsh of Ameliasburg, which is believed by many to be the headquarters of this district by the Straits of Sagwin. In 1889, upwards of a hundred of these fish were there taken, the largest of which weighed 51 pounds, while in 1890 not more than half a dozen were caught in the same waters. In the vicinity of Nigger Island, and in the stretch of water between Dead Creek and the Carrying-place at the head of the Bay, Maskallonge have been caught.

Next in order comes its congener, the Pike, or Great Northern Pickerel. This species is much inferior to the Maskallonge in size, in color, in form, in gameness and in culinary qualities, its flesh being soft and flavorless. It is seldom fished for specially, but is often taken when trolling for Bass or Maskallonge. Great numbers are caught in spring, when they leave their marshy haunts and enter the rivers and creeks to deposit their spawn.

Of the Black Bass there are two species, the large-mouthed, and the small-mouthed. The former is generally found in the weedy or marshy parts of the Bay, and is rather a sluggish fish and is not held so much account by anglers as its congener, though it obtains a greater weight, the small-mouthed being the object of the angler's pursuit. This fish in habits the open water and is diffused over the whole extent of the Bay, though there are certain shallow spots or "bars," on which they seem to congregate.

The Pike-perch, Wall-eyed Pike, or Pickerel, sometimes takes a hat Bay, in the townships of Adolphus-town and Fredericksburgh, is the most celebrated of these resorts. In 1889 it occurred very numerous in Mosquito Bay, an expansion of Big Bay, which extends between Huff's are brought from the distant waters of the Gulf.

The fish which provide the sport of the juvenile angler are the Yellow Perch, the Rock Bass, the Catfish, two or three species of Sun-fish, the Chub, the Eel and the Mad-cat, all of which are vigorous biters, and are abundant in their season.

A very beautiful fish is the Red-finned Sucker, though it is not acknowledged as a game fish by anglers, or indeed held of much account as a food-fish, though numbers of them are brought to market in the spring.

Another fish, which ought not to be passed over without a notice, is the Channel Catfish.

The Whitefish and the Lake Herring, belonging to the Salmon tribe, are found in the Bay in considerable numbers.

Some years ago a small fish of the herring family appeared in the Bay in large and increasing numbers. They resembled the common Shad. Besides the above mentioned species, and many others, which, not being objects of general pursuit, are only occasionally taken, such as the White Perch or Sheepshead, the Grey Mullet, the Eel-pout, the Stone-fish and several species of Minnows and Darters, the Bay of Quinte harbors a few degenerate descendants of those mighty fishes which held the sovereignty of the seas millions upon millions of years ago. Such are the Bowfin or Dog-fish, the Bony Pike or Bill-fish, both long and short snouted, and the Sturgeon, only the last of which is of any economic value, the other three being positively uneatable.

From the above notes it will be seen that few localities offer greater inducements or better sport to the angler than the Bay of Quinte, while none can surpass it in the healthfulness of its climate.

After Three Years of Suffering, "FRUIT-A-LIVES" Brought Relief

MADAME HORMIDAS FOISY
624 Champlain St., Montreal.

"For three years, I was ill and exhausted and I suffered constantly from Kidney Trouble and Liver Disease. My health was miserable and nothing in the way of medicine did me any good. Then I started to use 'Fruit-a-lives' and the effect was remarkable.

I began to improve immediately and the wonderful fruit medicine entirely restored me to health. All the old pains, headaches, indigestion and constipation were relieved and once more I was well.

To all who suffer from Indigestion, Constipation, Rheumatic Pains or Great Fatigue, I advise the use of 'Fruit-a-lives'."

Recipes to Make Summer Days Happy

Garden Parfait

Heat one-half cupful each of pineapple syrup and white grape juice and blend gradually with the yolks of two eggs beaten with two-thirds of a cupful of sugar and a few grains of salt. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until well thickened, cool and add four table-spoons of cooked fig puree, a tea-spoonful of lemon juice, half a cupful of shredded cooked or canned pineapple and the same of mar-schino cherries, (non-alcoholic), finely chopped. Have ready a pint of chilled double cream, whipped solid; combine with the fruit mixture, turn into a mold with a water-tight cover and pack in equal parts of ice and rock salt for four hours before serving.

Strawberry Ice Cream

Prepare the fruit puree the day previous to making the cream by hulling three-quarters of a basket of berries, passing through a potato ricer and adding a cup of powdered sugar. Chill on the ice. Make the foundation of the cream from a rich hotted custard, using a pint of rich milk, 1 1/2 level teaspoons of corn-starch, moistened with a little cold water, a quarter of a teaspoon of salt and two eggs beaten with four table-spoons of sugar. Cook the corn-starch with the milk, stirring constantly for ten minutes over hot water before adding the eggs and sugar; then for a moment or two longer. Flavor with half a teaspoon of vanilla extract and cool. Fold in a half pint of stiffly whipped cream, sweetened with a table-spoon of powdered sugar, turn into the freezer and freeze slowly. When the cream begins to congeal, add the fruit and

NATURE AND P. E. COUNTY

Prince Edward County comprises an irregular shaped peninsula of land separated by Northumberland, Hastings and Lennox by the Bay of Quinte, which with its numerous bays forms its northern boundary. The waters of Lake Ontario surround the county on the other three sides. The area is 241,500 acres.

Topographically Prince Edward is singularly regular without being anywhere very even, as every motorist knows. Geologically the country is chiefly of a calcareous nature—in a few places rocky to the surface, in others possessing a dry rich soil and interspersed here and there with scattered evidences of the glacial period, which proves it to have been at one time covered with water.

Geographically Prince Edward could not possess many lakes and rivers. Though the extreme length of the county is sixty miles, it is at places very narrow making important lakes and rivers an impossibility.

Among the chief lakes are Lake on the Mountain, Fish Lake, Roblin's Lake, East and West lakes, (really parts of Lake Ontario) Conseccon Lake.

The largest lake in Prince Edward is Conseccon Lake, the name being from an Indian word meaning pickerel, a variety of fish which fairly thickened its waters when the first white settlers came to its shores. This lake is several miles in extent and is situated in the townships of Ameliasburg and Hillier, and emptied by a river—the only considerable stream within the limits of the county.

The count includes among its many scenes of beauty those natural phenomena—the Sandbanks and the Lake on the Mountain.

THE AD AND THE MAN

He saw an ad from day to day
And muttered: I defy it;
Their stuff may be just what they say
But I'm not going to buy it.

As time wore on he made remarks
It would not do to mention,
For he was mad because that ad
Was forced on his attention.

But in a week, or two, or three,
He said: There's no denying
The way that ad gets hold of me—
The stuff may be worth trying.

For just about a fortnight more
He dared mere words to win him,
And then the ad completely had
Aroused the spender in him.

Next day he drifted in a store
And quietly expended
A few big iron dollars for
The stuff the ad commended.

He found it filled a long-felt need:
Its excellence surprised him,
And now he's glad because the ad
So dately hypnotized him.

SMALL PASTURE AREAS THOUGHT BEST FOR SHEEP

For health and for economical use of the pasturage it is undesirable to keep sheep on the same ground more than from 10 to 14 days, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, in discussing the question of raising sheep on temporary pastures. The most generally useful size of lot is 1 acre to 25 sheep. This area, on an average furnished in experiments 14 days' feed.

Arranging the size of the lots on the basis of 1 acre to 25 sheep is more satisfactory than seeding larger areas and using hurdles to permit advance to fresh feed each day. Less labor is necessary, and by going to entirely new ground after 10 or 12 days the danger of picking up parasite larvae on ground grazed over earlier is prevented. With a 1-acre lot for 25 ewes, or correspondingly larger ones for larger flocks, it is an added advantage if their length is two or three times the breadth.

With a heavy crop of forage that would last longer than was considered safe to hold the flock on the same ground, a short piece of cross fence can readily be put down to divide the pasture into two parts. The smaller lots are also convenient with purebred flocks to provide for the separate pasturing of smaller lots of ram and ewe lambs.

Movable fencing is not likely to be satisfactory for the outside-lot fences unless the whole area to be used lies in a strip with side fences, when only two end pieces need to be in place at one time for the ground being grazed.

CLOSE SEASON FOR FOXES.

Fox of whatever color or species may not be hunted, trapped or taken between April 1 and November 15 each year, according to an order-in-Council appearing in the Canada Gazette.

That a New York fashion observer reports the very smartest outdoor costumes of late have been of all white, and the idea is carried out in sports things as well as in the more dressy variety of frocks, thin white homespun being particularly good for suits.

HEAVIEST CUT COMMON LABOR

Railway Headquarters Completing Re-classification of Wages

CLERICAL STAFFS
More Complication Revision Here Than in Case of Trades

Office staffs in railway headquarters are busy this week completing the reclassification of wage schedules which will be presented to Canadian Railway employees, probably this week, for acceptance as of July first.

Maintenance of way and shop crafts will probably not receive their definite schedules until next week as the matter of the wages is still under advisement by the Railway Labor Board and no decision is expected for a few days. When it does come it will have to be made to conform with Canadian schedules before the unions receive their advice. They have already been notified, however, that the revision is pending and is expected to become operative at the same time as other reductions.

Canadian schedules vary very slightly from those effective in the United States and so far as the running trades are concerned there is slight difficulty in working out the reductions which are proposed.

The clerical staffs present a more complex problem. The advances granted last July and which are now to be cut by approximately 46 per cent. were not distributed on a percentage basis. Owing to the lack of uniformity in clerical labor a lump sum equal to 20 per cent. of the total payroll was handed over to department heads and apportioned as was considered most equitable. In the downward revision a similar policy has to be kept in mind and the procedure is necessarily much slower than in the case of trades where the reduction is on a straight percentage basis.

Common Labor
Common labor will receive the heaviest cut from a relative standpoint. The entire increase of 8.1-2 cents per hour which was granted last year is scheduled to be wiped out. Freight truckers average pay will range under the new schedule about $97 per month and track laborers at approximately $77. Sectionmen are expected to receive about $3 per day under the revision. With regard to the running trades it is declared the new schedules will provide an adequate livelihood. The last averages taken off in eastern

Canada show the following results, the figures having been obtained by taking ten men from each branch of labor at random from various roads.

Ten passenger engineers averaged $311 per month; ten freight engineers averaged $288 per month; ten passenger firemen averaged $223; ten freight firemen averaged $206; ten passenger conductors averaged $276; ten freight conductors averaged $268; passenger trainmen averaged $205 and ten freight trainmen (brakemen) averaged $190. These averages were struck before last year's twenty per cent. increase was granted, the new reduction will still leave the schedule eight per cent. higher than they were when these wages were earned.

Clerical Staff.
Some important revision is likely in the wages paid to clerical help joining railway staffs. The existing schedule is upwards of $100 per month and is likely to be revised to $70 per month for the first six months and $80 for the second six months. Employees in this class are usually youths and young women under twenty years of age.

Comment in labor circles here almost uniformly recognizes the reduction as essential to the necessary stimulation of both commerce and industry. While there is some disposition to endeavor to have the cur made lighter than that effective in the United States and also to have its imposition delayed, the general opinion is that it will be accepted with good grace in the belief that a return of good times will speed the return to higher wages.

ANGLING IN MOIRA

Those who love to fish can enjoy themselves from the banks of the most any spot between and Corbyville, and be able to secure a Chub and Rock Bass, then a Black Bass, the fly of small size. The mode should be small colored than those used. Many fine Bass, and Maskallonge, may be deep-water part of the lies between Foxboro Mills.

It is a remarkable that neither the Moira tributaries is inhabited Trout, while the affluents on the west, and the north, afford this in plenty. The near Belleville where it crosses Squire's Creek, in the Rawdon, which stream visited by a few anglers, who enjoy fair success. Owing to the nature and the impure quality it is not probable that ever much frequented Salmon, a few individuals entered its mouth when the Trent, which rises to ascend as far as Chatham. The last fish of this kind known to have been in Moira was captured some ago near where the foot of the stream.

NEGRO TRUSTY

ANGLING IN MOIRA RIVER

Those who love to cast the artificial fly can enjoy their favorite sport from the banks of the Moira at almost any spot between the city limits and Corbyville, and will generally be able to secure a fair number of Club and Rock Bass, with now and then a Black Bass, the latter generally of small size. The flies for this mode should be smaller and darker colored than those used on the Bay. Many fine Bass, and occasionally Maskallonge, may be caught in the deep-water part of the river, which lies between Foxboro and Latia's Mills.

It is a remarkable circumstance that neither the Moira nor any of its tributaries is inhabited by the Brook Trout, while the affluents of the Trent on the west, and the Madawaska on the north, afford this esteemed fish in plenty. The nearest point to Belleville where it can be taken is Squire's Creek, in the township of Rawdon, which stream is annually visited by a few anglers from the city, who enjoy fair sport.

Owing to the nature of its bottom and the impure quality of its water, it is not probable that the Moira was ever much frequented by the true Salmon, a few individuals may have entered its mouth when on their way to the Trent, which river they used to ascend as far as Chisholm's rapids. The last fish of this species that is known to have been caught in the Moira was captured some 90 years ago near where the footbridge crosses the stream.

NEGRO TRUSTY LYCHED

JACKSON, Miss., June 23.—Louis Wimberley, an 18 year old negro convict, was seized by a mob and hanged at the gate of the State convict farm, seven miles from here late yesterday. He was a trusty and was alleged to have assaulted a white woman. Two other negro trusties caught him several miles from the farm. While efforts were being made to place him in the county jail, he was taken from the officers and lynched.
