"The Thing."

By RUTH CAMERON.

According to history, slavery was abolished in the United States some time ago, but there are great many kinds of slavery still flourishing in the land of the free and the home of the brave. And a great many kinds of slaves enduring a more unremitting bondage than over the black folks did. One of the largest and most pitiable classes of slaves consists of those most unfortunate men and women who live all their lives in helpless bondage to the thing.

What is "the thing"? Why, you know what "they" do. Who are "they"? Nobody knows exactly, but apparently they must be a group of demi-gods for what "they" say and what "they" do constitutes a sacred standard which is "the thing." On the altar of "the thing," if I may change the metaphor, hundreds of thousands of human beings sacrifice money, time, intelligence, comfort and happiness.

Both in the most important issues and the most trivial details of their lives they must conform to the sacred standard. They eat by it and they marry by it; they dress by it; they walk and talk by it; and they die and are buried according to its formulas. And when they have been conventionally buried their successors in slavery select for their graves a rough hewn granite monument because that is "the thing" in grave stones now-a-days.

At an ultra-fashionable hotel I was surprised to be served with cucumbers that were soft and lifeless in-

Knowledge That is Not in Books.

"Howlers" about Congress, Cows, Hoaks and Other Amusing Quotations by British Schoolboys. Huddled knowledge among schoolboys has seldom reached such a delicious pitch as in a "howler" quoted in the University Correspondent. It is as follows:

Gong is the masculine of belle and vixen. Echoes of Sunday School treats are seen in. The mineral wealth of a country is ginger beer and lemonade. And a snattering of modern topics had evidently been acquired by the young hopefuls who wrote: An appendix is a portion of a book which nobody has yet discovered to be of any use. The hancette peil means "petticoat government."

Other amusing "howlers" quoted include the following: Much butter is imported from Denmark because Danish cows have greater enterprise and superior technical education to ours. Finally James II. gave birth to a son, and so the people suffered him of the throne. After twice committing suicide copper lived till 1800, when he died of natural death. The tropic of cancer is a painful and incurable disease. When Charcut describes the Priests as amiable of port he means that she was fond of wine.

When the "test French" attack at Waterloo proved a failure Napoleon turned very pale and rode at full gallop to St. Helena. The Mediterranean and the Red Sea are joined by the Suez Canal. Milton was called the father of English poetry because he was blind and his daughter did the writing for him. The Minister of War is the clergyman who preaches to the soldiers in the barracks. Woman's suffrage is the state of striding in which they were born. A candidate for the "civil" service must be a neutralized British subject. The Immortal William is a phrase applied to the German Emperor. Julius Caesar was murdered in the "inema House." Milton wrote "Sampson the Agnostic."

The circulation of the blood was invented by Martin Harvey. A problem is a figure which you do things with which are absurd and then you prove it. People are vaccinated by being articulated with lin. A synonym is a word you can use when you don't know how to spell the one you first thought of. Before a man can become a monk he has to have his tonsils out. Some of the new spring frocks for young women are minaret, we may say, appears only at the sides and back, a fact which probably accounts for the popularity of the style. Hand-embroidered batiste collars and black sashes usually finish them.

An Operation For Appendicitis

Was Ordered by His Doctor. But Complete Cure Was Effected by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Almost anyone who has suffered from appendicitis will assure you that this trouble developed only after months or years of derangements of the liver and bowels. Appendicitis can almost invariably be prevented, and very frequently cured, by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In the case described in this letter the doctors had ordered an operation, but a thorough cure was brought about by this great medicine. Mrs. J. A. Balmirne, Surgeon Falls, Ont., writes: "My husband was treated for appendicitis, and the doctors ordered an operation. But he would not consent to an operation and began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since doing so he has had no need of an operation, or even of a doctor, as the trouble has completely left him. I cannot find words to speak our gratitude for his cure." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Fashions and Fads.

Small hats grow taller. The skirt sleeve has come to stay. Charming is the fur coat trimmed with jet. All girdles have an upward tilt in design. The corsetless effect of the figure is still retained. Fashion clings to the skirt narrow at the foot. Modish for evening wear are the caps of gold lace. The latest evening gowns have three-hooped tunics. Large sweeping plumes are entirely out of fashion. Evening costumes are striking combinations of color. Accordian pleated skirts are very generally worn in Paris. Velvet is the successful material for afternoon costumes. The new taffetas are of the chiffon variety—supple in quality. Brown tulle is introduced on many of the evening gowns. Most of the smart gowns have shades of a contrasting color.

A few evening gowns are "cut" so low in the back that the point reaches the waist line. The newest turban toques recall the headresses worn in the reign of Marie Antoinette. Spring suits are trimmed with broad narrow pleating, velvet applique and shirtings. Street or house gowns made of taffeta will be very fashionable for spring. Pretty and fashionable afternoon and evening gowns are fashioned of navy velvet. Brocaded satin and velvet shoes are worn with dark dresses at afternoon dances. Smart walking costumes are of velvet, pean de peche, velours de laine and duvetyne.

MOTHER SO POORLY

Could Hardly Care for Children—Finds Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bovina Center, N. Y.: "For six years I have not had as good health as I have now. I was very young when my first baby was born and my health was very bad after that. I was not regular and I had pains in my back and was so poorly that I could hardly take care of my two children. I doctored with several doctors but got no better. They told me there was no help without an operation. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me wonderfully. I do most of my own work now and take care of my children. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."

Mrs. WILLARD A. GRAHAM, Care of ELSWORTH TUTTLE, Bovina Center, N. Y. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for woman's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it? If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medford, N. J., confidentially, for a free advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

What Grandmother Wore.

They are saying mean things to our faces. Of the trim little hats that we wear, The close-fitting toques and the turbans. That keep all the dust from the hair. But do they remember the bonnets. The cool-scuttle bonnets of yore, All loaded with feathers and flowers. The bonnets our grandmothers wore? The funny cartoonists are flaying The short narrow skirts of to-day, Escaping the gorges on the pavement. In wait to be carried away. Just think of the founcess and scalloped tops. The yards that went sweeping the gutters. In the dresses our grandmothers wore. The delicate similitudes uncovered, And beards in front of their brows. Were some of the tortures that custom Decried in our grandmothers' days. A waist that was squeezed like a lemon. Pantlets coming down to the floor, And hoops were a few of the fashions Our young foolish grandmothers wore. Do you doubt that the world is progressing. And proof at our busy city sidewalks? Then go up to the trucks in the garret. Where arguments discarded repose. Put on all the breezy frocks. And jackets, too, by the score. And walk—if you can—in the bundles Of dry goods our grandmothers wore.

Does Your Office require something new?

Would a fine Roll Top Desk fit that bare space before the window? If so, get one now and make your private room look up-to-date for the coming year's business. Good, quiet, dignified office furniture is a very valuable asset.

Our Showroom carries the finest stock of office requirements that can be found in the city, from a wastepaper basket upwards. Our prices for these goods during the month of January will be just a very little above cost, the reason being that we desire to have as little stock as possible on our lists after stock-taking. This is the business man's opportunity. We invite your inspection, and your inspection means a sale with a bargain.

Every General Manager of a Canadian Bank who has referred to the Maritime Provinces in his annual report, writes of the satisfactory condition of business in this part of Canada. And this when all other parts are experiencing a very considerable falling off in business and many signs of real money stringency. Linked up with the business and private life of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island is the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Company. This Company's services are now nearly as necessary to the present day active man or woman as are the mails, newspapers and utilities such as electric light, gas, water and sewerage. For this reason we offer a block of Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Company preferred stock with the assurance of safety of principal, steadiness of income, and marketability in the event of investors wishing to realize. Price and full particulars will be given upon request.

A Canada Life Actual Result!

NET CASH RETURN MORE THAN TWICE THE COST.
W. J. Robertson, Welland, 12th June, 1913.
Agent CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO.,
Fort Hope, Ontario.
Dear Sir,—
When acknowledging receipt of the Company's cheque for my matured Endowment Policy No. 24937, I desire to avail myself of the opportunity to express my satisfaction with the outcome of my investment.
The policy was payable to me at age 60, with ten premiums of $48.00 each. The return under it is as follows:
Sum assured $1,000.00
Dividends added 446.94
Total amount payable $1,446.94
Deduct total premiums paid 480.00
Net cash return $ 966.94
That I should have insurance protection free for all these years and now have over twice the amount of my premiums returned to me in cash is a most satisfactory outcome and I heartily congratulate you on it.
Yours very truly,
GEO. ROSS.

Diversified Investment

No investor, particularly if he is dependent on the income from his funds, should place his entire capital in any one industry or in any one security—no matter how safe he considers it.

The best and safest plan is to diversify your investments—divide your capital among several different securities of solid worth.

- (1)—You then strike an average of solidity and safety.
- (2)—Your income is higher and does not depend on one enterprise.

Ask us to advise you with respect to the diversification of your investments. This service is yours to command freely—and without a tittle of obligation.

Crown Land Rent Shortage.

The Auditor General draws attention to a shortage of $64,000 in revenue from Crown Lands. This shortage is due to non-payment of rents in connection with grants of Timber Licenses and Mineral Licenses. He complains that he drew attention last year to a shortage of some $40,000, due to a similar cause, that nothing has been done to remedy this state of affairs and that as a consequence the shortage on this account has increased. The increase is about 73 per cent. The Auditor General suggests that the licenses should be made to lapse automatically when the rents are overdue some 30 days. A reform of this kind can scarcely be expected, when supporters of the party in power interest themselves largely in such grants.

Taxing Amusements.

Mr. Mullaney's motion for a change in the system of taxing amusements is now before the public. It seems to us much more objectionable than the present system. The main objection to it is the haphazard system of discrimination. Certain halls are taxed, others are not taxed. In those taxed entertainments are mainly charitable, although we do not see what is to prevent entertainments of the first class being conducted in the latter class of halls. Then again the amount of tax appears to be a matter of hazard. Perhaps at the present time, the tax is just between the halls mentioned on the amount of business they are doing at present and have been doing in the immediate past. But there is no arrangement made for the fluctuations in the business in the future. Although it may be objected fairly, as already has been done, that the furnishing of the amount of the gross receipts is a prying into private business, it is the only system which can deal equitably with the matter of taxation, and is no more objectionable than the taxation of rental values and estates for death duties, and the assessment of income tax. Mr. Mullaney's system does away with this prying, but it introduces a haphazard system in its place.

Cable News.

Special to Evening Telegram.
 LONDON, To-day.
 The Saturday Review in a moderately worded survey of the relations between the United States and Mexico comes to the conclusion that President Wilson's policy threatens to force Great Britain to take some action, the form of which however it does not indicate. The Review defends Wilson's delay in taking vigorous action in regard to Mexico. It declares that he has acted in accordance with the traditions of America, and of his party in refusing to recognize President Huerta, but contends, nevertheless that Britain and other European nations acted soundly in recognizing the present Government of Mexico, because it seemed that he would be able to enforce financial and industrial order. Continuing the Review says "We must accept the position that nobody can rule in Mexico without the good will of the United States. On the other hand Wilson's policy of watchful waiting cannot continue for ever. It can only continue as long as it does not lead to financial catastrophe. President Huerta's financial policy will clearly lead to financial catastrophe. President Huerta's financial policy will clearly lead to financial catastrophe. It is impossible for the British Government to remain inactive, while the authorities at Washington wait for that choice. The course would mean the disaster and would perhaps ruin hundreds and even thousands of honorable families and the duty of any Government is to protect its interests. Official and unofficial declarations have proved our reluctance to take any action which is likely to be disagreeable to the States, but President Wilson may force our hand. He really cannot wait indefinitely.

College Hockey.

FEILDANS, WEA.—The second Inter-Collegiate hockey match for the season took place at the Prince's Rink to-day between teams represented by Bishop Feild College and St. Bon's College. The result was Feildians 5 goals; St. Bon's, 1. The game was fast and exciting, the ice splendid and the attendance of spectators large. At times the best hockey witnessed for the season, the League teams included, was handed out by the players. The personnel of the teams were: Feildians—Hunt, goal; Hutchings, point; Parnell, cover; Trebble, rover; Winter, centre; G. Jerrett, right; E. Jerrett, left. St. Bon's—Crawford, goal; Kennedy, point; Fox, cover; Duchemin, rover; Kelly, centre; Knight, right; Butler, left. For the Feildians, Winter, Trebble and Parnell got in some brilliant work; Hunt, the goal-keeper, starred as usual. For the St. Bon's, Duchemin, Kelly, Butler and Knight played well, the latter displaying good shooting. On Wednesday next, the Feildians and Collegians will try conclusions.

 Crown Brand Lavender Smelling Salts was the original preparation of this kind, and won instant, and as it has proven, lasting popularity. No other Lavender Salts—and there are now many of these comes near the "Crown" in strength, pleasantness of odor, or quality as a refreshing, stimulating, smelling salt. And this is why the Crown is preferred to others. Price, 70 cts. a bottle. For the effects of hard winds, and of sudden changes of temperature at this time of year, which roughens the skin of the hands and face, there is nothing like Cream of Lilies. It heals, softens, and soothes, and a simple application will in all cases give sensible relief. Steady users of Cream of Lilies do not have to bother about the weather. Price 25c. a pot.

Agricultural Policy at Harbor Main

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—We learn from the daily papers that Mr. Woodford contends in the House of Assembly that the Agricultural policy of the present Government has done wonders in the District of H. Main. This is news indeed for us, Mr. Editor, and it is no less an unqualified specimen of brazen audacity to make such a contention, in defiance of the utter disregard and contempt of the policy, and especially its management by a few Grab-all Tory beetles shown by the people since its inception in the district.

Why, Mr. Editor, with its inauguration here the new magistrate the Tories gave us, M. F. O'Toole, if you please, shrouded as he is in his qualification and fitness, was its first President, and the greatest, and certainly by far the most conspicuous benefit of the society was the giving of a very nice pretence to him with which he still continues to regale himself every day driving through this portion of the district. And when we contemplate the burden of $5,000 that we have been made to shoulder during the past five years as an extra to adorn our magisterial chair with his gentlemanly attainments and illuminating wisdom in the interpretation of justice (as witness the Beseau case at Holyrood) our tale of woe becomes complete.

Yes, Mr. Woodford, the new stations are very tall; the sheep are in such plenty they cannot find room, specially the offspring of that one that a resident was fined $10 for disposing of after keeping it a certain time; the potatoes taste like honey specially those grown from the sack that a man hauled home from the station and distributed through the people, and for which he was also fined $10; and oh, the two-bladed crass in such profusion last summer would do one good to view. Sure these are the wonders of progress accomplished by the society, and must have been the bewildering horizon over which President (Magistrate please), O'Toole was peeping when he publicly stigmatized the so-called society "a fake and a cod."

In closing, Mr. Editor, and apropos of the fines above referred to, it would interest us to know if the gravity of the cases that led to them is in excess of the insult offered our highest official publicly at the time of the agricultural exhibition by being called such names as I'll be merciful enough not to write here.

During the past two or three months I let a few good premises slip, wherein I could contribute a few tiring notes for your worthy columns, but I promise in the future to rack a match when occasion demands it (and judging from the past hat will be often) on the misdeemeanors of our Tory rule.

Sincerely yours,
 WATCH TOWER,
 Lewis's Hill, January 26th, 1914.

At the City Hall

The weekly session of the Municipal Council took place yesterday afternoon.

A communication was read from the Deputy Minister of Finance acknowledging interest on Government loan for six months, ending Dec. 31st 1913; also the half-yearly contribution to the Fire Companies.

Mayor Ellis reported that Inspector Rooney has sustained his case regarding the waste of water at the R. N. Co.'s dock. All the Councilors concurred. Mr. Rooney whose previous report had been ignored by the company.

It was ordered that repairs be made to the steam roller. Councillor Mullaney moved the following resolution:—

RESOLVED—That the regulation dealing with the tax on theatrical and other entertainments be expunged, and that the following be substituted therefore:—

- The Nickel—$60.00 per month.
- The Casino—$3.00 per night.
- The Star—$45.00 per month.
- The Queen—$35.00 per month.
- The Crescent—$35.00 per month.

Theatrical entertainments to be paid for at the rate of $10.00 per night; provided, that, when such entertainments are for purely charitable purposes, such tax shall not be imposed.

The above taxes to be paid in advance, monthly and daily, as they apply.

In case of business closing from any cause, a proportionate refund to be made. Councillor Mullaney saw no reason why the 4 per cent. tax on gross receipts should be abolished. The present system of collecting taxes was inconvenient to all concerned hence his resolution for a fixed rate. Morison and Hunt's request for settlement of an arbitration re Cullen's estate was deferred.

The caretaker of Victoria Park applied for seeds and plants. Deferred. The meeting then closed.

Important.

Owing to the rush the past few days it is just possible some one amongst the many who visited our store did not get as much satisfaction as we would desire. If there is any one, we shall be pleased to do our best for them to-day and to-morrow. Shop early—forenoons if possible.

Stanfield's Underwear.

Sleeping in the cold and silent day-to-day are many men who should be alive and active—an asset to their country, but they allowed cold after-cold to go on uncared for—result—Death. Many of these colds were contracted through wearing cotton underwear. There is nothing more dangerous in cold climates. After perspiring freely it is like a cold wet rag 'round the body, and the fleece rolls off in little icy knobs. Throw it away. Wear wool, it absorbs all moisture and lessens the chances of catching cold. Stanfield's, from $1.00 per garment.

Newfoundland Dancers in Cypress Hall

Rhodes Hall was last evening crowded to the doors by the members and friends of the Newfoundland Advancement Association who had come to witness the annual installation of officers, and to be further entertained by a fine entertainment program. Some of the best local talent appeared.

The following named officers were inducted into office by D. A. Ryan, president, assisted by John Fitzpatrick, Thomas O'Rourke, president; Edward Hines, vice-president; Frank Hines, recording secretary; John Vincent, financial secretary; Joseph Delany, treasurer; James Dalby, marshal, and James Mulcahy, sentinel.

At the conclusion of the work, Thomas O'Rourke, the newly elected president, took the chair and became the presiding officer for the remainder of the evening. A fine literary and musical entertainment was run off, the various numbers being interspersed with speeches. During the evening ice cream and cake were passed among the audience.

Rev. Allan J. Hudson, of Brockton, was the orator of the occasion and said in part: "I am glad to come before you for here in Cambridge I have seen many happy days with this classic city that I attended your university of Harvard. I was born in Newfoundland and came here when but seven years of age. Newfoundland produces wonderful men and they should take more active part in the affairs of city and nation."

"Newfoundland also produces wonderful women, and as I look over this audience I see women who would be able to hold their own in case of domestic difficulty."

"There are 30,000 Newfoundlanders in this country, numbered among them being doctors, lawyers, ministers and business men. They helped fill the ranks when Lincoln called for men and were numbered among those who shouldered a gun and went to Cuba in 1898 during the Spanish-American war. The men from the island of fog and fish trod the deck with Farragut and marched behind Grant. 'Bob' Bartlett sailed the ship that took Peary to the North and enabled him to present the North Pole to this country as an heritage."

The speaker lauded his countrymen to the skies, but said they were too backward in asserting their rights. The reverend gentleman was exceedingly humorous at times, with his funny stories, convulsing his audience with laughter. He was given a standing vote of thanks, three cheers and a tiger.

The other speakers were: State Senator James H. Brennan, Alderman Hugh Mullen, Councilman W. J. Abern, Principal Assessor Wm. M. Hogan, Edward Bulger, candidate for

Best Laxative For Bowels—'Cascarets'

They Clean Liver, sweeten Stomach, end Sick Headache, Bad Breath, Indigestion, Constipation.
Get a 10-cent box.
Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters?
Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gasses, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.
A Cascaret to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bilioussness, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

Streets Slippery.

FEILDANS DEFEATED—LUCK WAS AGAINST THEM—BEST GAME FOR THE SEASON.

The Feildians went down to defeat last night after a hard fought struggle with the Victorias. Although the ice was not all that could be desired, the exhibition on the whole was probably the best for the season. The Feildians were in better form than the Vics, but hard luck, which is one of their chief characteristics, seemed to start them in the face. The players of the teams were:

Right at the opening the Feildians displayed some clever play. Pinsent and Strong got in some effective work and the former succeeded in netting the first goal. After this play was fast and exciting. Brian shot and the puck rebounding from Hunt's skate landed in the twines. Soon after Lilly was allowed to score without interruption by his opponents, he was so far off-side. In the second half the Feildians started the game lively. They put it all over the Vics. However, at the close, the score stood: Victorias, 5 goals; Feildians, 4. W. J. Higgins refereed.

A fast game, but taking all in all, the most sanguine supporters of the Vics, must admit that the result—surprise—as it was a clear instance in which the best team lost.

Once more the Feildians were the victims of hard luck. However, better luck next time.
The Hunt brothers are certainly making reputations as goal keepers.
Those in the habit of playing off-side evaded the referee, and whenever they saw his back turned got in their work to advantage, and, of course, that sort of thing was effective enough to alter the score occasionally.
Hooking sticks was much in evidence. As a result the point of a player's stick made love to the physiognomy of a spectator, who, today, is sporting a "lovely" black eye.

Ah! My Tired Feet, Ached so for "Tiz."

How "TIZ" cures sore, swollen, sweaty, calloused feet and corns.

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunton-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.
When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." Its grand—its glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callousness and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which "put up" your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25 cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mrs. John Norris wishes to gratefully thank the friends who so kindly assisted her during her late husband's illness, and who later sympathized with her in her sad bereavement; also for the wreath sent by the employees of the R. Is Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment—Scores of Uses for the Great Soothing, Healing Ointment.

Most people know Dr. Chase's Ointment best as a cure for eczema and itching piles. Nor is this to be wondered at when you think of the remarkable record made in this class of cases. But there are scores of other uses for this ointment, which are only discovered when it is kept constantly at hand. Mrs. Martin, 13 Carroll street, Toronto, formerly of Bowmanville, Ont., writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for years, and found it invaluable in treating skin irritations and all sorts of burns and wounds. In fact, we would not be without it in the house. It is a most excellent treatment for granulated eyelids, from which I suffered without finding anything to help me." Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can use Dr. Chase's Ointment with full assurance that it will cure entirely satisfactorily. 60 cents a box, as ordered, of Barrington Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

George Parsons, Esq. Dear Sir,—With regard to the Ford Runabout which you supplied to me early in 1913, I have to inform you that during the year I ran considerably over 4,000 miles over good roads, bad roads and no roads, I have had no mechanical troubles and my total bill for new parts and repairs amounted to $100 for a new valve (steam vent) and 20 cents for a front wheel cone. These facts I think speak loudly as to the value and usefulness of this excellent little car.

and prospective owners, what a full line of parts right here in the city means to you—prompt service and every satisfaction. It is useless to ignore the fact that you don't require parts. It is all the same if the car costs eight hundred or eight thousand the parts must be renewed sooner or later. The piece of machinery has not been made yet that won't wear. Unfortunately we are such a great distance from the factory and to get parts it takes considerable time, not to mention them having quite a rest at St. John, N.B., for a month or so; and then when you do get them at last, nine times out of ten they are not as ordered. Personally I have known cars to be tied up all the summer from the above cause.

I have a full line of parts always in stock and invite inspection. In fact I carry the only complete line of parts and accessories in the city. I shall be leaving for the "Ford" Factory about the fourth of February and any orders placed before I leave will be attended to personally.

The Authors of Graft Charges Before the Bar of Quebec House.

Quebec, January 27.—All roads led to the parliament buildings this afternoon, and long before the hour fixed for the appearance of Messrs. Nichols and MacNab before the bar of the legislative assembly, a crowd of spectators representing every element of society stood in unbroken array awaiting the opening of the galleries. When these were at length thrown open the intending spectators flocked and almost fought for a place. Even standing room was at a premium, and the only vacant seat in the house was that of Mr. Mousseau, M.L.A. for Soudanges, and chairman of the private bills committee, the only member of the lower house whose name had been specifically cited in the articles of the Montreal Daily Mail.

It was some time before order could be established among the visitors and there was even talk of clearing the galleries. After a little routine business, Speaker Delage reviewed the events leading up to the events of the afternoon, and the two newspaper men were summoned before the bar. As Mr. Lavergne was the author of the resolution he conducted the interrogation most of the time.

Messrs. MacNab and Nichols were probably the coolest and most self-possessed persons in the house, and they answered every question clearly and distinctly. Generally the answers were clearer and more to the point than the questions.

After admitting that they were the Nichols and MacNab who had signed their names to the first article which appeared in the Mail, promising subsequent revelations, they declared that neither of them was the author or one of the authors of the articles which followed, in which specific charges were made, though they took full responsibility for the publication of these articles.

It had been expected that the names of seven more members of the lower house would be divulged in order of the house, but Mr. MacNab said there seemed to have been some confusion as he had spoken of seven members of the "legislature," which he took to be composed of both the assembly and the council.

The Only Name Mentioned Was Mousseau.

A good deal of time was wasted in questions to which the newspaper men objected on the ground that they were either too vague or that they contained statements which the Mail was not prepared to admit. Finally the following question was put:—

Amongst the seven members of the legislature mentioned in the article of January 21, 1914, as having received bribes for their votes on bill 188, what are the names of those who are members of the legislative assembly?

When answer was given that Mr. Mousseau was the only member of the assembly included in the Mail charges there was an audible sigh of relief from the government benches, and the men who had been straining forward to catch the words of the reply sank back contentedly into their seats.

On Mr. Lavergne then asking why the charges had been published, Messrs. Nichols and MacNab said in turn:—

"We desire to state that the charges which have been against certain members of the legislature in the columns of the Montreal Daily Mail were published in good faith and in the public interest. We believe, moreover, that these charges are true, and if the legislature so desire, evidence can be produced to substantiate them."

The newspaper men were then asked to fill in the blanks in a list of alleged payments which was furnished to the Burns detectives by Mr. Mousseau. They gave the names of Hon. Messrs. Desvarannes and Gilman, of the council.

The impression in the corridors tonight was that Messrs. Nichols and MacNab had somewhat weakened their case by their declaration that Mr. Mousseau was the only member of the assembly who was affected by the Mail's charges. The members of the lower house, while greatly relieved, affect to be furious as they maintain that the Mail created the impression that there were others implicated and that the whole of the assembly has been unjustly subjected to the stigma of insinuation and suspicion.

At six o'clock the hearing was still unfinished when the Speaker left the chair and the Mail executives were summoned to appear again at the evening sitting.

A Great Night at Rossley's.

Last night, Rossleys was crowded out. The St. Andrew's Society being present it certainly made every Scotchman feel at home, to hear the songs of his country sung. Every member enjoyed the show; the members very kindly handed over the footlights a huge tub of cocoanut caramels to the youngsters. The babies were presented with boxes of chocolates, and Mrs. Rossley a very large box of chocolates decorated with St. Andrew's colors and tartan ribbon and a magnificent necklace of brilliants. The children were all delighted with their gifts; that makes three tubs of candy they have had presented them since the Pantomime, one from His Excellency Governor Davidson's children, one from Mr. Burnstein and one from St. Andrew's Society. The Rossleys thank the donors on behalf of the children. Jack Rossley, last night, was in fine dancing form. The whole show went with a vim that was good to see; the children worked well and were heartily applauded. The Rossleys were greeted with rounds of applause. At the conclusion some of the members of the St. Andrew's Society went behind the scenes and complimented and congratulated the popular Rossleys on behalf of the Society. Their next Pantomime is the Babes in the Wood.

PRINCE JOHN'S HEALTH.

It is feared that the health of Prince John, the youngest son of the King and Queen, will not be sufficiently recovered to enable him to accompany his brother, Prince George, when the latter returns to St. Peter's Court School, near Broadstairs, England, at the end of the Christmas holidays. The little Prince, who has always suffered from a delicate constitution, is to pay a prolonged visit to the Continent shortly, in the hope that a more genial air may have a beneficial effect. All the Royal children, with the possible exception of Princess Mary, are affected with rather weak throats and chest, though both the Prince of Wales and Prince Albert have demonstrated that, as they grow older, this delicacy passes away. It is hoped that the same will prove to be the case with Prince John, who has been confined to his room at York Cottage, Sandringham, for several days; but this has been rather a precautionary measure than any real illness. He is shortly to be thoroughly examined by Sir Francis Laking.

PEERS WHO ARE MINORS.

Although the British House of Lords under the Parliament Act passed by the present Government a year or two ago has been shown of much of its power of veto it still exercises a big influence on legislation in this country. Running over a list of members lately I had my attention called to the number of juvenile peers who have not yet attained the age when they can sit in the House. The new Lord Cawdor, who is only fourteen this year, is one of about a dozen peers, who are still minors. His Lordship will in fact be unable to take his seat at St. Stephen's until 1921. The youngest minor is Lord de Clifford, who is seven, and who succeeded to the title on the death of his father some years ago in a motor accident. The eldest minor is the Prince of Wales, who is twenty this year. Lord Chesam, whose father was killed in a hunting accident, is of the same age. The Earl of Latham and Viscount Gage are nineteen, the Earl of Stamford eighteen, the Earl of Shannon seventeen, Lord Romilly fifteen, the Marquis of terford, whose father, it may be recalled, was found drowned, thirteen; the Marquis of Donegal, who was born when his father was an octogenarian, eleven; and the Earl of Carlisle nine.

MILITARY MEN AND MATHEMATICS.

A good deal of resentment has been expressed by army men here in connection with the remarks made by Sir Gilbert Greenhill on January 7th, in his presidential address at the annual meeting of the Mathematical Association. According to Sir Gilbert, our generals and staff officers went to South Africa with none of the disciplined mathematical habit to cure their "intellectual timidity," and he further asserted that the War Office made a bid for popularity by the abolition of mathematics as being of no use to the general in the direction of military operations on a large scale. Finally he suggested that the only effect of the sharp lesson learnt in South Africa was to be seen in the class of staff officers attached to the London School of Economics to learn book-keeping. These statements are not only reckless but seriously misleading. A large proportion of our generals in the Boer War belonged to one or other of the two "scientific corps" in which the study of mathematics is given great prominence. Lord Roberts himself was a runner, Lord Kitchener and Sir William, now Lord Nicolson were Royal Engineers, Generals French, Ian Hamilton, Hunter, Smith, Dorrion, de Courcey, and a dozen others that could be named may not have been mathematically minded men, but they certainly did not suffer from "intellectual timidity." Again, the War Office does not discourage the study of mathematics at all. On the contrary, it makes a very special feature of it at the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, where there are a professor and four instructors in mathematics. Lastly it is absurd to allude to the "business" courses undergone by selected officers, not necessarily staff officers, at the London School of Economics in this connection. The origin and object of these classes has no more to do with the study of mathematics than with that of Chinese, and an insight into accountancy is merely incidental to the course.

THE NEW CHINESE POLICY.

More and more attention is being given in this country to Far Eastern questions and now that President Yuan Shi Kai has formally dissolved the Chinese Parliament it may be of interest to give a brief summary of the statement of future policy which he has approved. For this statement I am indebted to Dr. Arigo, one of the advisers to the President. It consists of 42 articles, divided into seven chapters. Its most important points are as follows: Through financial retrenchment, the reform of old taxations, and the raising of new taxes the Government will try to make both ends meet. Regulations to control the audit of public accounts are being drawn up. The right of issuing currency notes held by the Bank of Communications and other official banks of the province is to be recalled. The unification of financial affairs at the National Treasury is to be carried out. Silver is to be the monetary standard. The whole country is to be divided into nine army corps. Tutuship is to be abolished. The army is to retain 80 per cent of the force of fifty divisions as the standing army, and discharge the others. A protective policy is to be adopted so far as the conventional tariff permits. Foreign capital is to be availed of to start new enterprises. Private undertakings are to be encouraged. Preparations are being made for the abolition of the likin system. Duties on tea, cotton, wine and tobacco are to be made independent taxes; and they will be enough to make good the deficit due to the abolition of the likin tax. The unification of weights and measures is to be enforced. The unification and spread of national education will be urged, with Confucian teaching as the basis of national ethics. Industrial education is to be encouraged. An endeavour will be made to repay national loans so that the financial and economic autonomy of the country may be strengthened. The improvement of prisons is to be effected as a step towards the abolition of extra-territoriality. In regard to domestic affairs, a moderate policy of interference will be adopted. The civil and military administrations will be separately carried out. The provincial governments will be abolished, and fifty or sixty prefectures established in their stead.

and going are surrounded with a new importance. This is, of course, the great time of the year for children's parties. All over the West End, any afternoon about four o'clock waiting motor-cars may be seen at the steps of countless fashionable houses. When the house doors open, two, three, or very occasionally nowadays four tiny beings in gala costumes, with all the fuss and flurry of "going to a party," are ushered into the smart motor-car, tucked in, and presently whirled to some expensive fairland. Gone are the days of pique frocks, blue sashes, a plain tea, and a conjurer. The rich Londoner's child to-day expects (and gets) floral decorations from the Royal Arcade, a tea rather like a ball supper; perfectly polished floor on which to dance, a Christmas tree with valuable presents, and many other amusements, and when it gets home it tells its anxious mother, "It wasn't bad." Above all, the small girl of the period expects "something to wear"—that is to say, that in place of the old white washing frock of long ago exquisite dresses, costing anything from three to ten guineas, are worn by the little misses of to-day at each other's parties, with stockings, shoes, fans, and tiny opera cloaks equally costly.

Crime investigation as a branch of English newspaper work has rather languished in recent years, since the editor of one of our biggest Sunday papers was imprisoned for contempt of court in connection with his investigations into a one-time famous murder mystery. Now, however, there are signs that the newspapers here are once more entering into competition with Scotland Yard. It would be safe to say that the newspapers have more reporters on the task of unravelling the latest London murder mystery than Scotland Yard has detectives. This is the murder of little Willie Starchfield, a seven-year-old boy, leaving his home to go on an errand, was found a few hours later strangled and packed away under the seat of a railway carriage on the North London Railway. Every morning and evening paper has its own theories and clues which it publishes to the world. Even the sedate and conservative "Times" devotes a column to a discussion of the problem in the manner of Sherlock Holmes, or rather Dr. Watson. Of course, G. R. Sims has been asked to air his views. No "crime story" would be complete without him. Scotland Yard does not altogether welcome this newspaper activity, though in fairness it is the pressmen it must be said that they are careful to work in co-operation with the police and do not hesitate to abandon the red-hot sensation if publication would be indelicate. Though Scotland Yard naturally dislikes all the publicity that the newspapers give to a case, there is little jealousy of the reporter detectives, who, it is frankly acknowledged have on several occasions recently beaten the professionals at their own game. Yet the Scotland Yard men have deservedly the highest reputation in Europe. Even the Paris "Sirete" does homage to them. What Scotland Yard strongly objects to is the new practice among the sensational newspapers of offering big rewards for evidences that will lead to the capture and conviction of the criminal. The ground for objection is that "honest" witnesses are tempted to hold back vital information from the police in the hope of making a small fortune out of the press. As a consequence the police whose prior right to the information is undeniable, are compelled to work in the dark. The practice is plainly incompatible with the interest and safety of the community and ought to be stopped.

LUXURIOUS LONDON CHILDREN. The London child of well-to-do parents to-day is being more and more given all the privileges of a father. He has his own "library," his own shops, his own picture gallery, library, and so on. He always had his parties, but in these days his coming

Girls! Just Try It, Beautify Your Hair

Make it thick, glossy, wavy, luxuriant and remove dandruff—Real surprise for you.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

Methuselah.

Nine hundred years, and then a few, Methuselah hung on; he kicked around as good as new when all his friends were gone. He saw the generations rise and live and meet their doom—he saw the brave, the good, the wise, all gathered to the tomb. The tribes of both the hemispheres drank from Death's bitter cup, and still, for almost countless years, the Reaper passed him up. And, doubtless, in the twilight gray, this man, still hale and strong, would tell his visitors the way he stayed on earth so long. "I always sleep up in a tree," methinks I hear him say, "no noisy sleeping rooms for me! They make the people die. I walk twelve miles before the bells have summoned me to tell my breakfast is of walnut-shells washed down with castor oil. I turn ten handsprings every hour, and stand upon my head, and drink three quarts of milk that's sour before I go to bed. The man who'd live must never cease his exercises hard; I rub my joints with axle grease and wash my feet with lard. I steam my head three times a day, which is a goodly plan; my dinner is a bale of hay, my lunch a pall of bran. I think the people are but fools who, young, lie down and die; if you'll adopt my simple rules, you'll live as long as I." The old man's hearer, startled much, no doubt in wonder cries: "The man of Doe Woody Hutch upon his shoulders lies!"

"The Retreat from Moscow."

The historical retreat of Napoleon's army from Moscow in 1812. Reconstructed with the aid of ten thousand of the Imperial Russian Army. Every phase of the epoch-making incident is shown with an accuracy which makes this production one of the most remarkable motion pictures ever produced. The burning of Moscow after Napoleon's arrival, and the pathetic plight of the retreating army are re-enacted in all the grim tragedy of war. The scenes are photographed on the actual sites, and the ensembles were modeled after the famous paintings by Verestchagin.

BELFAST, Jan. 30.
A standing Army of 33,000 is to be formed from the Ulster Volunteers, who will serve in rotation, live in barracks, and receive five dollars a week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.
According to the official report of President Walker, of the Old Dominion Line, the loss includes 23 passengers, 24 crew; saved 31 passengers, 55 crew. Capt. Johnson and all the officers, except the second engineer, were saved.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 30.
Fifty lives, probably less, were lost when the Old Dominion Liner, Monroe, was sunk off the Winter Quarter Lightship this morning by the Merchants' and Miners' Liner, Nantucket. The latter steamer, with bow truncated and otherwise damaged, was slowly sinking her way into Norfolk, nearly to-day, with about 85 survivors. The Monroe carried 54 passengers and 72 crew. It is possible the Old Dominion Liner Hamilton, which was near the scene, may have picked up some of the missing; also the revenue cutter, which hurried to the scene. The Monroe was bound for New York from here, and the clash with the Nantucket took place at 2 o'clock. When the ships separated the Monroe went down. The Nantucket picked up the survivors in a dense fog. It was probably a head-on collision. Capt. Johnson, of the Monroe, is reported rescued. This leads to the belief that the passengers, roused in the dead of night, had no time to prepare to leave. The Nantucket is half the tonnage of the Monroe, and probably remained a hole in the hull. The tragedy was over in less than an hour. The Monroe was built at Newport News in 1903. The property loss is $225,000. Capt. Bergey of the Nantucket, reports that the collision occurred 25 miles S.E. of the Lightship. The Nantucket is being towed by the Hamilton.

She Was Helpless For Two Years
MRS. BALDWIN RECOMMENDS KIDNEY PILLS.
She Could Find Nothing to Cure Her Rheumatism Till On a Neighbor's Advice She Tried Dodd's Kidney Pills.
St. Walburg, Sask., January 30. — (Special).—"I can truly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills for any one suffering from Rheumatism." These are the words of Mrs. W. A. Baldwin, a highly respected resident of this place. And Mrs. Baldwin gives her reasons.

"I was nearly helpless with rheumatism for two years," she states, "I tried medicine from the doctor, and tried several other remedies but nothing helped me. Then one of my neighbors advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I bought four boxes, and they helped almost from the first. I have used nearly two dozen boxes and am nearly cured."

That rheumatism is one of the results of diseased kidneys is again shown in Mrs. Baldwin's case. She had headaches, stiffness of the joints and backache, her sleep was broken and unrefreshing, and she was always tired and nervous. Her limbs swelled and she was always thirsty. These were all symptoms of diseased kidneys. When she cured her kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills the symptoms vanished—and so did the rheumatism.

Fox Farming.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—I wish to congratulate "Fair Play and British Justice" on his able letters in the Daily News, with reference to the Fox Industry. I with many others am greatly interested in this matter.

Last summer I was approached by some trappers and asked to construct a small Fox Farm; they offered to bring all the foxes they caught during the summer and put them secretly into the farm. It was proposed to sell during October, after opening of trapping season and we were to share alike in the returns. I refused their offer. However, they readily found another who had not the same scruples as I had, made a good catch of foxes and later on disposed of them. I respected the law and lost several thousand dollars by so doing, the other man is that much the richer.

Illegal taking of foxes was general last year and will be far more prevalent the coming season; many new farms have been started whose owners will want "stock" whilst many of the "experts" who have been engaged in the business for some time, will probably continue their nefarious schemes.

Industries such as shoe and clothing factories are protected by tariff regulations, because they give employment to many people, but here is an industry which gives practically no employment and still is protected in a most astonishing manner, at the expense of the workers. It appears to me the most unjust legislation ever enacted in a British Colony. For instance, I catch a fox and offer it for sale, and am offered say $1,000 for it. "But," I say, "I can get $4,000 for this fox in Canada." "Oh, yes," says the prospective buyer, "but you can't ship it out and must sell it to me or some other local man."

Everyone knows that the price now offered for foxes is at the highest point ever known, which is fabulous. Will this continue? It may, but it may also drop to a low figure at any time. Whilst high prices are obtainable, is it not most unfair to prevent hard working and industrious men from honestly earning money which will put them in affluence for life.

The fox farmers, through whose influence I believe the present regulation was made, will strive for its continuance in force, just as long as the difference in price between Nfld. and the outside world is great enough to ensure them fabulous profits; but, as soon as foreign prices begin to fall to the level of those paid in Nfld., they will demand its repeal with the same persistence and success, as has attended their efforts for its enactment, sell out at a profit and probably get out of the business.

In the name of Common Justice why should I be compelled to sell my catch to local men, when I can get a far greater price elsewhere?

In view of the fact that foxes have been taken illegally and will be taken in greater numbers illegally during the coming summer, I agree with "Fair Play and British Justice" in his concluding suggestions, viz.:

Open season all year round.
Exportation of any foxes caught to be permitted if so desired by the owner.

Church Notices.

GEORGE STREET.—The congregation is reminded that to-morrow is Thanksgiving Day in this Church. That day has always been an important and popular occasion in George Street, and this year will be no exception to the rule. We anticipate a record, both in attendance and collection. The pastor will preach in the morning on "The Language of Praise," and in the evening on "A Thanksgiving Miracle." The choir will render special music. Miss Story and Mr. Courtney will be the soloists at the evening service.

GEORGE STREET BIBLE CLASS.—Mr. W. H. Jones, of The King George the Fifth Seamen's Institute, will be the speaker at to-morrow's service. Subject: "Thanksgiving." Special music, led by an orchestra, will be an interesting feature. Soloist, Mr. Chas. Hatcher.

COCHRANE STREET.—The Cochrane Street congregation will meet on Sunday morning and evening in the College Hall. Sunday has been set apart as Thanksgiving Day, and though the burning of the Church and other circumstances will prevent the celebration of the day in the usual manner, the usual collection will be taken up and every effort made to fittingly observe the occasion. Cochrane St. Church has sustained a great loss by the death of the Hon. J. S. Pitts, and special reference will be made to his passing at the evening service.

New Line of Steamers on Nfld.-Sydney Route.

Company Organized to Operate Shipping Enterprise Between Halifax, The Sydneys and the Ancient Colony—Ship Ready in May.

A newly organized shipping enterprise, which promises to develop to some extent the shipping industry on Sydney harbor and which will certainly tend to better the conditions of transportation between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, is the Maritime and Newfoundland Steamship Company, Limited.

A large and powerful steel screw steamer is now in course of construction and should be ready for service in May next.

The steamer is being built on the Clyde by the well-known shipbuilding and engineering firm of Bow and McLachlin, of Paisley, Scotland.

Captain J. A. Farquhar of Halifax, is at present over in Paisley superintending the construction of the new steamer the name of which has not yet been decided upon.

The service upon which the steamer will operate will be between Halifax the Sydneys and St. John's, Nfld. It is expected that the new service will be initiated some time in May next or early in June.

300% increase in the power of the "soldier" cells that defend the body—after feeding on Virol
Striking Evidence

An elaborate series of investigations recently conducted at a well-known sanatorium has definitely proved that the addition of Virol to the diet exercises a remarkable influence on the action of the white cells of the blood, which protect the body against germs. The experiments showed there was a distinct and progressive increase in the functional activity of the white cells in proportion to the number of weeks the patient had been fed on Virol.

BEFORE FEEDING ON VIROL.
Photograph of the blood under a most powerful microscope, showing that the rod-like germs have not been attacked by the "soldier" cells.

AFTER FEEDING ON VIROL.
Photograph of the blood under a most powerful microscope, showing that the rod-like germs have absorbed nearly all the germs, which they then destroy.

Harmful Germs. White Cell.

The White Cells have absorbed nearly all the germs, which they then destroy.

After twelve weeks Virol diet, the power of the white cells of the blood to destroy the germs was four times as great as that of the average blood of those who had not been fed on Virol.

The "infinitesimal" "soldier" cells of the blood that defend you die by millions in your body daily; millions of new ones have to take their place.

Virol is made of the particular kinds of foods, beginning with bone-marrow, that feed the blood-making bones and glands, thus providing the body with healthy blood crammed with "soldier" cells.

HAVE YOU EVER

stopped to think what you would do if you suddenly lost your eyesight? You can't possibly conceive of a greater misfortune, can you? While it isn't likely you will lose your eyesight, still you are impairing it every day you neglect Nature's warnings in the form of headaches, blurred vision, etc. Don't neglect it.
