TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 4, 1884.

Impudence and Acquiescence.

An English minister, says the Globe, "once complained of the people's ignorant impudence of taxation. Sir Richard Cartwright truly said the danger in Canada today is from ignorant acquiescence in taxation."

There must be a reason for the prevalence of this "ignorant" acquiescence, though Sir Richard does not very fully enlighten us as to what it is and how it works.

Discrimination in Licenses. The proposed law of the Ontario government to impose a heavy fee on all licenses taken out under the Dominion License Law.

Trade in England is suffering from a superabundance of capital and capitalists, so says a London correspondent of Bradstreet's, who dates his letter from the imperial home of commons.

The events of the past week, says Bradstreet's (March 1), "have demonstrated the absolutely artificial nature of the stock market."

American manufacturers grumble so much against them? Admitting that we pay, what odds to them? If we are wealthy enough to tax ourselves to our own injury, they are not paying a cent of the tax all the while, surely they can stand it, let us suffer as we may.

Underground Wires. The most feasible schemes for removing overhead wires is to build subways under the regular streets or sidewalks.

Any system of underground conductors is necessarily much more costly than an aerial one, and much less flexible to meet the changing needs of an efficient electric service.

Discrimination in Lumber. New York City: If there is any article which should be placed on the free list, it is lumber.

Writing in the Psychological Journal about the treatment of the insane in Texas, Dr. Burt of Austin says: "There are to-day at least 600 in the jails of the state."

According to the Journal des Debats, the daily supply of water in Paris is 164 litres per head. It is complained of as insufficient for a fountain in its use for the streets, fountains and the public service in general.

At the Catholic church in Troy, N. Y., an infant which had been found in an alleyway was recently christened "Joseph" by the priest.

ent telephone service the cost of underground conductors would be prohibitory. The wires leave the exchange together, but they immediately begin to diverge to the offices of individual subscribers, so that to follow out these branching lines of wire underground would be impracticable.

Picturesque Canada. To the Editor of the World. Sir: It is not that I make any complaint. Indeed I do not think any of your readers can point to an instance where I have heretofore troubled the public ear with any tale of wrong or evil suffered or endured by me, although I might perhaps at times have justified in such a course.

A Glasgow physician has discovered the means of converting a Scotch tern into an Italian one, and the experiments made under his direction on a number of waters, which originally, like their native Calcedonia, was stern and wild, have given most satisfactory results.

Ladies imagine that roller-skating is a fine way to work off superfluous flesh. The self-willed woman, however, who yesterday, and dropped it.

adopted the child, and discovered it to be a female, whereupon she took the youngster to the mistaken priest and the syllable "ine" was affixed to the little creature's name.

At a recent meeting of surgeons and officers of the Pennsylvania railroad company to arrange for medical and surgical supplies to be placed on trains and at each station on the road, the question of adding alcoholic stimulants to the supplies was at once rejected, some of the steepest claims being that in case of shock from injury it was worthless.

A letter from a lady in Calcutta says: "There is an opera company here this season. The translation of L'Elisir d'Amore has been adapted to the Anglo-Indian mind thus: 'Whenever the word 'senators' occurs it is translated 'collector.' 'Idiot' is translated 'pig'; 'Fiducio' is translated 'my idol, cease thy rigor; make a collector happy.' 'I am assured that L'Elisir d'Amore' is supposed here to be a narrative of 'The Loves of Eliza,' but for this I cannot vouch."

At the coming leap-year ball some of the ladies propose to turn a live mouse loose in the room, and the poetical gentlemen jump up on the chairs and squeal. "Where were you a year ago this date? Nowhere in and, consequently, you did not exist."

THE COLD SNAP AT THE ZOO.

How the Manitoba Wave Affects All the Animals.
A reporter visited the Zoo yesterday and found the animals impatient of the cold weather. The monkeys were huddled together in a corner with their arms around one another to keep themselves warm. Occasionally one of them would stand up on his hind legs, perform some marvelous gymnastic feat, ring his bell excitedly and return in triumph to the group with his palms accompanied by thirty beats of the minute. The old lion with a far-away look in his eyes was gazing mournfully out of the window at the snow, expressing his disgust every now and then by an impatient growl. The young lion was peeping up and down, talking to himself all the time. "Oh, for green fields," he said. "What a run in the jungle, but now what a roll in the hot sands, but now what a big baboon in the high case roared at the very body who came by, "Shut that door, you!" while the bolt-tailed ape yelled, "Were you brought up in a barn?" The bears however enjoyed the cold largely, two of them were resting on a couch, while another was alternately standing on his head and then on one leg, in spite of the long heavy winter the animals look remarkably well, and will look much better when the warm weather comes.

THE NEWS OF PARADISE.

A permit was yesterday granted to E. H. Boddy to erect a rough-cast brick-fronted store and warehouse in Queen street near Berkeley, cost $2400.

Capt. John Turner, who has been confined to his house for a number of months with a stroke of the palsy, is slowly recovering. He took the benefit of a drive yesterday.

Mr. Piper lectured on natural history to 200 people from the George street school at the Zoo Saturday. The lecture was highly interesting and instructive and pleased the children immensely.

A man named Thos. Doherty was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with raising a disturbance at the Massey iron works. He was locked up at No. 2 but subsequently discharged.

Mr. George Shaw of the bank of Commerce, who was injured at the recent gas explosion in the bank, is now convalescent and able to return home again. He is not inclined to go on "strike" again. His appearance is hailed with satisfaction by his many friends.

There were good audiences at both performances at the Royal museum yesterday. Manager Montford keeps abreast of the times in providing a good bill-of-fare. Skiff & Gayford's latest show, which is an attraction all this week, they are first-class all round.

A horse belonging to Fred. Hurst, butcher of St. Andrew's market, ran away yesterday afternoon on King street and knocked down Mr. Geo. Piddington and his son of 89 Peter street. Mr. Piddington, a note from him says, is badly hurt, probably internally.

George Nightingale admitted his guilt in the police court yesterday on a charge of stealing a fur cap, a felt hat and an umbrella from the hall of Mr. Wm. Dincen at 230 Sherbourne street on Sunday afternoon. Nightingale said whisky caused him to steal. He allowed the detectives an opportunity of enquiring into his former record, sentence was suspended for a week.

The George street school attended the Zoological gardens in a body Saturday afternoon on the invitation of the management to hear a lecture on the elephant and natural history by Ald. Piper. Mr. Cassidy, head teacher, and three lady assistants accompanied them. It was a great treat for the children. Dr. Kennedy has consented to address one of the public schools next Saturday.

Police Court Pointers.
Twenty drunks and vags were disposed of yesterday before the magistrate. Charles Schneider for keeping a disorderly house at 133 Bay street, was fined $80 and costs of 60 days; Annie Palmer and Eliza Garver inmates, were sent to the Mercer reformatory for six months each. Geo. Romie, stealer of a coat from John Dunphy, 20 days in jail. Geo. Pierie, suspected larceny, discharged. Mike Conners, assaulting Sam Lang, $1 and costs of 10 days. Wm. Higgins, his assistants, remained. Charles Davis and Charles Burns, suspected pickpockets, were discharged. Wm. Mulligan, breach of the license act, adjourned till March 7. Wm. Mulligan, accused by L. E. Andrews of cruelty to a horse, was ordered to pay $25 damages and fine of $10 and costs of 10 days. John McIntosh, suspected larceny, discharged, Eliza Wallace and Dennis Sheehan, charged with insanity, were remanded until Thursday.

To and Through London.

John K. Clark was in his boyhood a boat-black on the streets of London. Last night with a reputation as a great orator he stood before an enormous audience in St. Andrew's hall and delivered a thrilling lecture on scenes in his native city. The lecture was under the auspices of the Toronto reformers society, Mr. Farley presiding. Mr. Clark is a rapid speaker, gestures violently and though an Englishman has the broad eagle style of delivery. He is an earnest temperance orator, and his lecture last night made a deep impression. A silver collection was taken up at the close, when a neat sum was realized.

A College of Pharmacy.

The Queen's party is surely becoming the centre of education for the province. The Ontario college of pharmacy feels that it must get up in the park, and it has now a bill before the legislature which proposes to extend its privileges and enable it to acquire a lot in the park near the School of Practical Science, the lectures of which it is proposed shall be attended by the pharmaceutical students. It will erect a suitable building, containing a museum, examination hall and lecture rooms, if it can make arrangements as regards the site and affiliation with the university. The college has now over forty students.

Biochemical Glasses for Saving Life.

At the meeting of the city council last night Mayor Bhowell presented valuable biochemical glasses to Captains W. D. Andrews and Wm. Ward, and J. D. Patry, aged 19, for their gallant rescue of Prof. Schlochow during the great storm of July 27 last in Toronto harbor. The glasses were sent to the mayor from the department of marine and fisheries. In his reply Capt. Andrews recommended that the council procure a light cedar skiff to be used in connection with the life-saving corps at Ward's Island. Ald. Davis offered a resolution that the council procure such a boat. The Telegram thinks there ought not to be public baths at the west end of the Island. They ought to be there more than at any other point. It is nearest to the city, is most accessible, and can be made in every way the most convenient. The city council ought to grant to the company who has asked for the privilege of erecting public baths everything that is reasonable and that does not conflict with the interests of the citizens. It may prove to be a source of profit to the company, but with proper restrictions imposed by the city it will be a source of still greater convenience to the public.

The Dominion License Act.

The dominion license commissioners for the city of Toronto held a meeting yesterday and arranged for the inspection of the premises of applicants. Only twelve applications were granted. The total number of hotel and shop licenses allowed by the act will be issued, that is about 185 hotels and 90 shops. The dominion commissioners for the county of York decided to grant 83 hotel and shop licenses, when the time for making application closed on Saturday only 85 had been put in. It is said that the time for making application will be extended.

A Drunken Mother.

A drunken woman carrying a baby in her arms could have been seen last night on Centre street, staggering from side to side and occasionally falling heavily on to the pavement. She was arrested and brought to No. 2 station where the child she had been carrying was found to be nearly frozen and its little face was wet and bruised by being permitted by its mother to fall on to the rugged street. The woman was held on an old charge preferred by her brother-in-law John Kelly for stealing ten dollars from him. Her child's little home last night and will care for it.

Row in a Disorderly House.

Last night H. McFee, who lives in a house of bad-repute at 95 Elizabeth street, complained to the police that he had been brutally assaulted. He said that about 9 o'clock three men came into the house and acted disorderly. When he remonstrated with them they attacked him, knocked him down, kicked him and turned the furniture upside down generally. The women screamed and the neighborhood was aroused. As he did not know the men's names and could not describe them accurately the police failed to make any arrests.

Christianity and the 19th Century.

At a meeting of the Toronto ministerial association held yesterday at Shaftesbury hall, Rev. W. W. Clarke, D.D., of McMaster hall, delivered an address on "Christianity and the nineteenth century." The address was an able one and the speaker was congratulated at the close. A resolution looking to financial reform, offered by Rev. John Hartwood, was read until the next meeting of the association.

Carriage at the Adelaide Street Rink.

The carnival at the Adelaide street rink this evening will be the greatest event of the season. A very large number of ladies and gentlemen have promised to be present in fancy dress, and about seventy-five Southern guards will be there in uniform. The rink is in splendid condition, and both the inside and outside will be illuminated with the electric light, the covered portion being reserved for those in costume.

John Coyne's Bail.

John Coyne had a raffle at Armstrong's hotel, King and Simcoe streets, last night. He put up two marble vases at fifty cents a throw, a hundred tickets being sold. The boys threw for all they were worth, but a dark horse stepped in and carried off the prize. John is said to have made pretty good thing out of the raffle.

W. H. Stone's 25-Cent Hacks.

W. H. Stone's 25-cent hacks are becoming more popular every day. They are comfortable, and have proved a great boon to those who desire rapid transit at cheap rates. Telephone to 11 and 12 Queen street east, you will have one at your door in no time. Stone leads the race in this respect.

Snow Around Government House.

Who is responsible for the neglect in having the snow removed from the King street frontage of government house? The snow has lain there all winter, much to the danger of pedestrians. Why is the city bawled to keep their sidewalks clean?

Costs in Langtry vs. Damoulin.

Judge Ferguson yesterday decided that the defendant would pay all costs in the great suit of Langtry vs. Damoulin. The costs will amount to $9000. Council for defendants will enter an appeal at once if it is said.

Gaylord Museum.

Skiff & Gaylord's minstrel gave a performance before a crowded house last night in the Royal museum. Large numbers were turned away, and standing room was at a premium. The entertainment was first-class and above the average in every particular.

Prominent Persons.

John William Montague, earl of Sandwich, is dead, aged 75.

"Gilt-edged girls" is the new name for the pampered pets of society.

The negroes of Jamaica tear off the husk of the coconut with their teeth.

Teresa Tui, a young violinist who has become famous by her performance in Germany, is the daughter of a cobbler who lived in Florence.

A Georgia girl can shear thirty sheep in forty minutes. Why she gets a husband she does not say, but it is not a bad trade, which it is proposed shall be attended by the pharmaceutical students.

Allan Pinkerton, the head of the detective agency, is a Scotchman, and the son of a black hair and black mustache and nose, if it can make arrangements as regards the site and affiliation with the university. The college has now over forty students.

The Princess Hohenlohe, wife of the German ambassador to Paris, recently wore a dress composed of seven rows of large pearls. Over this a black velvet ribbon supported a large diamond pendant.

Governor Critchenden of Missouri has won a new distinction by kissing Daniel O'Connell in the city of St. Louis, and so quickly that she had "no time at all to see or object," as she laughingly said in telling her friends what she had done.

London has a society for the suppression of street cries. In certain parts of New York there is a procession of rag men from morning till night, yelling at the top of their voices. There must be a good many rags.

The czar is getting overcast, has attended a big review, and drives daily through the streets in military uniform, wearing dances for hours at a ball every night with the freshness of a girl, or perhaps, the frenzy of over-age nerves.

Mrs. S. E. Berman, of Wauzabach, Tex., is recommended to the governor of that state by Judge Terris, Speaker Gibson, and several other prominent gentlemen for appointment as one of the commissioners to the New Orleans exposition.

A lawyer pleading before Sir J. Byles, recently remarked in a speech in support of your lordship to a work in my hands, "Byles on Bills." "Has the learned author given any authority for his dictum? If not, will he mind to let me know what interrupted the judge."

Mrs. Goldthwaite, wife of Judge Goldthwaite, a prominent lawyer of the western coast, was the subject of a matrimonial suit in the case of her husband, the late Col. She was one of the most celebrated women of her day. Men at fashionable watering-places raved over her beauty and varied accomplishments. Once, in 1860, while the Prince of Wales was in St. Louis, he saw this gifted woman, and turning to his ladies, exclaimed: "Isn't she exquisite?"

What the Provincial Press Has to Say on the Situation—Fair Play to Grocers.

Brookville Times: The vote in Toronto is a very pretty sight to behold, and at the same time it is a hardship on those engaged in the business, who will no doubt in many cases be heavy losers, and this view of the matter is shared by those who should not lose sight of this question touches the grocer's pockets very materially, and the temperance people who seem to totally ignore—indeed radical reformers of all kinds are pretty free in disposing of other people's property. We hope therefore, that the temperance people will use their victory with wisdom and moderation.

Pennington's Herald: The dispute between the two governments, as to the validity of the acts passed regulating the sale of intoxicating drinks has done much to fasten upon the public mind the question, and has made a great many people inquire whether it would not be the part of wisdom to do away with this trade entirely.

Amlyer Express: That there is a strong temperance sentiment in the country, there can be no question, and only requires a concentration of effort to make it of much practical good.

Freshing Telegraph: There is no doubt growing constantly stronger in this province as well as elsewhere.

Laborer: The vote in Toronto is only another striking instance of the growth of public sentiment against the liquor traffic in every one of its many forms, and should to the credit of the temperance cause be approaching when the whole business will have to go.

Heartlander: Those who voted to sustain the report, which recommended a renewal of the shop liquor licenses for another year in Barrie did so on the broad ground of a live and let live policy.

SUPERB PRESENT.

Petley & Petley Send a Handsome Roll of Carpet to the Lime Kiln Club.

Brother Gardner rose in his place and wiped his glasses with unusual care, and everybody in the room from Elder Toole down to Shang-hai Pilkins knew that something unusual was forthcoming. Bro. Gardner said: "Gentlemen, the following note speaks for itself. I will read it to you:

"Gentlemen, said Bro. Gardner, as he dashed away a tear, 'this is a magnificent present, Gentile, my old hat awells wide pride when I think of it. Gentile, I have been in Petley's store, an' dere carpet rooms am a credit to dis continent. Der handsome carpets dat we world afforders piled dere in stacks. Milton call dem, Tapestry carpets, Brussels carpets an' every kind ob carpets dat ye could mention. He sold dem cheap because he buys dem undah moor favourable circumstances dan any other dealer, an' he sells 'em cheap. He has got dere right hang ob de trade. He am bonny dere to be subbsent. He takes de lead, gentile, an' furnishes de best houses in Canada wid dere carpets."

A committee composed of Henry Irving Smith, Turnip Top Terrace and Weymouth Beebe was appointed to draw up a memorial of thanks and asking Mr. Petley to forward his scale of prices.

A card was then hung up bearing the legends:

"Petley's Carpets are the Handsomest, the Cheapest and the Best."
