BRITISH USING GAS AND CAPTURE TRENCHES

Attack Succeeds Southwest of St. Elie—Thousand Yards of Position Occupied South and West of Hulluch Had To Be Abandoned.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(10.40 p.m.)—A British official statement, issued to-night, tells of the latest offensive by the British troops between La Bassée and Arras. It reads as follows: "Yesterday afternoon, after a bombardment, we attacked the enemy's trenches under cover of a cloud of smoke from a point about 600 yards southwest of Hulluch to the Hohenzollern redoubt. We gained about 1000 yards of trenches just south and west of Hulluch, but were unable to maintain our positions there owing to the enemy's shell fire."

"Southwest of St. Elie we captured and held the enemy's trench behind the Vermelles-Hulluch road, and the southwestern edge of the quarries, both inclusive. We also captured a trench on the northwest face of the forest. We captured the main trench of the Hohenzollern redoubt, but the enemy is still in two communicating trenches between the redoubt and the quarries."

"With regard to the statement in the German communication of Oct. 14, that we attacked over almost the whole front between Ypres and Loos, no attacks whatever were made other than those described."

REPRISAL ON GERMAN TOWNS SOUGHT FOR ZEPPELIN RAIDS

Important Meeting in Financial District of London Passes Strong Resolution Demanding Retaliation for Murder of Sleeping Citizens.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The policy of replying to German air raids by "bombing his sleeping towns as he bombs ours" received an enthusiastic endorsement at a mass meeting held today in the great hall of the Cannon street hotel in the financial district of London.

Mr. Joynton-Hicks made a demand for reprisals, which was couched in more lurid language. "Let the ladies be made to realize what it means for his own people to be subjected, as we have been subjected, to cold-blooded butchery in the dead of night, and there will be a demand from one end of Germany to the other to stop the butchery in England in order that they themselves may be safe," he said.

"We must be prepared to send two or three machines at a very low altitude, circling over Cologne, Coburg and other German towns in order that the Germans may be made to realize the destruction they wrought last night and on other nights in our midst."

The resolutions passed at the meeting call upon the government to adopt a systematic policy of reprisal "as the only effective method of putting a stop to Zepplin raids on London and other towns."

RUSSIAN TROOPS MAY PASS THRU ROUMANIAN TERRITORY

Petrograd Said to Have Requested Right-of-Way in March to Bulgaria—Roumania Probably to Line Up With Allies.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—In the light of the French premier's statement that Italian troops, as well as Russian, will soon be in the Balkan theatre, there is naturally much speculation as to how the aid will be afforded.

Italy has a large number of troops available, and the means of moving them to the desired spot, but Russia is handicapped in this respect, and there is an inclination here to believe a report from Petrograd that she has asked Roumania to allow Russian troops to pass thru her territory on the way to Bulgaria.

To grant such a request would be construed by Germany as tantamount to a definite alliance with the entente, and would doubtless result in Austro-German troops attacking Roumania. This, it is thought, might happen anyway, as Germany has already shown her displeasure at Roumania's refusal to allow German troops to pass thru to Turkey, and she has suspended the postal service and is holding up all foodstuffs consigned to Roumania over German railways until Bucharest more clearly defines its attitude toward the central powers.

PETROGRAD, via London, Oct. 14.—The Russian minister of finance has issued the following statement: "An exchange of views between the minister of finance of the allied powers has confirmed once again, according to information received at the ministry of finance, the accord between the governments of Russia, Great Britain and France, who have determined to unite all their resources to bring the present war to a glorious conclusion."

"Russia is assured that the necessary credits for the liquidation of orders placed for purposes of national defence, as well as for the payment of interest of the sinking foreign securities."

Obstinate Fighting With Both Sides Attacking in Dvinsk Region.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 14.—According to the Russian official communication of tonight, Russians are in possession of tonight, Russian forces are vigorously pressing the advantage which they have gained yesterday in southeastern Galicia, west of the Strva, and they are clearing the left bank of that river of the enemy.

On the Stripa front, where they pierced the last Teuton line of defence, the Austrian and German forces attempted to regain lost ground by counter-attacks, which broke down. Very violent fighting is proceeding for the possession of some villages west of Trembowla. On the northern flank of the German group, the Russian forces, occupying a village south of Kovel on the Pripiet River.

Obstinate Fighting. Obstinate fighting and terrific artillery duels are reported from the Dvinsk front, on the east side of Schloesberg, which the Russians captured yesterday. Both sides are attacking each other near the villages of Sprungun and Garbouneva. Desultory attacks of the enemy have met with no success on the line of the Demmen and Dreslavaty Lakes.

A German aeroplane dropped several bombs on the village of Friedrichtadt. A Zeppelin dropped about 50 bombs near Dvinsk last night. No one was injured.

WHY NOT TRY CHAIN LIGHTNING?

For a time before the present war and ever since it began we have been trying to find out what would have been the policy of the empire and the dominions in dealing with the German menace, and now with the depressed mind, we imagine, and it is only our imagination, has come to see that British policy has been lacking in ginger; and that outside of Kitchener, Lloyd George and Winston Churchill there was lack of lightning in the dynamo of London. Sam Hughes was the one man in Canada who had some of this desirable force and therefore we take our hat to him as he brushes along the way.

It is not time that not only the element of lightning but chain lightning at that ought to be turned into the policy of Britain and of Canada and the rest of the dominions and of the allies when dealing with an enemy that is bent on our destruction and the subjection of the rest of the world, if it can accomplish so nefarious a purpose?

In fact it is time Canada demanded more chain lightning policy and men put in charge of things who are able to command this, the only thing effective in face of conditions that now confront us.

It would seem that the methods of the British government and war office could well be revised still further in the direction of chain lightning; and that the Canadian parliament, if called together, or the Canadian government if it came to act, should say that the time had come when chain lightning plans take the place of more covered methods of attack; and if this were done a remarkable change would occur, results would accrue, the Germans deprived of a principal weapon. If we were asked to name a man we think we could find at least three or four in Canada, any one of whom would be well able, if sent across to London, to do a man's work of the kind that the time had arrived when the methods of Winston Churchill, of Lloyd George, of Sam Hughes and some others might well be tried. We might even send a man with the necessary spark in his make up.

The fundamental difference between Roosevelt and Wilson is that one knows what chain lightning is and the other doesn't; that one can use chain lightning and the other doesn't know how; and that while a man of the latter type may have an intellectual strength of Mr. Asquith is one of the greatest assets of the government, there are times when even an Asquith should substitute lightning for logic and lucidity of statement.

If Jupiter were the supreme ruler of the world, the world of the ancients it was because he sat on Olympus and was able to hurl his bolts against his enemies and to accomplish the things he had in hand. Vulcan was in the business with Jupiter, but he had only a smithy and a hammer and ranked accordingly. The chain lightning policy is the one thing left to us now. Why not try it? The best vulcanizer blows up in time. The unscrupulous Jupiter of Prussia has lots of lightning and uses it freely, tho he made in Germany!

CHANGE PLANS IN GALLIPOLI?

Lord Lansdowne Says Policy Cannot Be Defined at Present.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Factors Other Than Bulgaria's Entry Into War Loom Up.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—In the house of lords, the Marquis of Crewe made a statement similar to that of Sir Edward Grey on the Balkan situation and concluded: "This attack on Serbia will only make sterner and fiercer the determination of the allies to carry the war thru to a definite victory at whatever cost. Nothing has occurred in any part of the world to weaken that resolution and we will maintain it."

During the discussion which followed the Marquis of Crewe's statement, Viscount Milner suggested the withdrawal of the troops from Gallipoli and their transfer to some other theatre of the war.

Lord Lansdowne, in reply, said it was impossible for any member of the government to give an undertaking that the troops would continue in the Dardanelles operations or would be withdrawn from them. It would be unparliamentary and improper, he said, to force the government to make a fuller disclosure of the operations in which the country is engaged.

The present situation, he declared, was a grave and critical one; there were new developments and new factors in addition to the entrance of Bulgaria into the struggle. The attitude of Greece at the present moment had not been quite fully defined, and that was another factor in the calculation.

Division in Balkans.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The diplomatic, rather than the military side of the situation was the subject of Sir Edward Grey's eagerly awaited statement relative to the Balkan situation which he delivered today to a crowded house of commons.

"I propose to confine myself," the British foreign minister said, "to a resume of our diplomatic objects since the war. At the outset we desired that the war should not spread and in common with our allies we assured Turkey that if she remained neutral, Turkey and Turkey's territory should not suffer. This situation was completely changed by the entrance of Turkey into the war and all obligations on the part of the allies then ceased."

"We, and our allies, then concentrated upon securing an agreement among the Balkan states and we used all our influence to secure an accord. Unfortunately, the feeling in the Balkans is not one of union, but of division. It was clear nothing but a decisive preponderant advantage for the allies would have enabled us to secure a policy of union."

"We were given to understand in the course of the negotiations that except with regard to Thrace the central powers had offered to Bulgaria more to secure her neutrality than the allies could in fairness offer. The promises which induced Bulgaria to declare war were given by the central powers."

"Quiet prevails on our front."

CANADA TO CONTRIBUTE $7,500,000

Duke of Connaught Will Head Big Patriotic Fund Campaign.

NEED GROWS PRESSING

All Provinces Asked to Unite in Aiding Soldiers' Families.

By a Staff Reporter.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—The Duke of Connaught will head a campaign beginning Nov. 1, to raise $7,500,000 through the Dominion for the Canadian Patriotic Fund. During the past year $5,350,000 was subscribed. Twenty thousand families are at present receiving aid from the fund but by Christmas it is expected that this will be increased to twenty-five thousand families and more money will be required. This fund supplements the regular military allowances. The average subscription during the war year ending Sept. 1 last, was 70 cents per head, but this year one dollar will be necessary. A summary of contributions shows that Manitoba last year headed the subscription with $1.42 per head of population and the others in order were: Quebec, 80 cents; British Columbia, 78 cents; Ontario, 68 cents; Alberta, 48 cents; Saskatchewan, 40 cents, and the Maritime Provinces lowest with 36 cents.

How Provinces Compare. The following are the amounts raised by the provinces with estimated population:

Table with 3 columns: Province, Population, Amount Raised. Includes entries for Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, and Maritime Provinces.

Estimates of requirements for the province for this year are as follows: Maritime Provinces $ 550,000; Ontario 1,250,000; Quebec 1,000,000; Manitoba 1,000,000; Saskatchewan 600,000; Alberta 600,000; British Columbia 650,000; Expenses 50,000.

Total $7,500,000. Distribution of Fund. These are not the figures which each province is necessarily supposed to raise, but these are the amounts which will have to be expended in these provinces. Alberta has enlisted 100,000 men in ratio of population than any other province, and will require a million dollars. This would call for a per capita subscription of $2, but if Alberta raises half that she will have done her duty.

Quebec, the maritime provinces and Ontario have not furnished so many soldiers according to population as the western provinces and therefore the money required for the dependents of the soldiers is not so great per capita. For instance, it only requires 60 cents per capita for Quebec to care for the families of its soldiers, the maritime provinces 81 cents and Ontario $2 cents, while Saskatchewan people would have to pay $1 for their families, British Columbia $1.87, Manitoba $1.90 and Alberta $2.

Must Assist West. The argument has been advanced that each province should look after its own only, but this would mean that Quebec and the maritime provinces and Ontario would have the western provinces not only make the sacrifice of their valuable men for all Canada but bear the brunt of the expenditure as well. In other words, the eastern provinces would send fewer to the front and also pay less than their western brethren.

The Ontario County of Halton has set a splendid example. Some time ago the county council enquired and learned that $25,000 would be necessary for the families of the Halton soldiers. This amount was raised by the county and distributed independently of the patriotic fund. Over and above this $37,000 was collected and sent to the patriotic fund, and nothing of this will go to Halton.

PASTOR SPECULATED IN B. C. TIMBER LAND

Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis Charged With Selling Claims to Friends.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The charge that Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, made "quick, fabulous profits" thru selling British Columbia timber claims to ministers and other friends was made today in an affidavit filed by Frank L. Ferguson, former chairman of the board of trustees of the church, and for five years manager of Dr. Hillis' business affairs.

Mr. Ferguson secured an order five days ago requiring Dr. Hillis to show cause why he wished to examine his former business manager. When the argument on the latter order was called today before Supreme Court Justice Kelly, attorneys for Dr. Hillis asked for additional time in which to answer the Ferguson affidavit which they termed "false and misleading." The argument was postponed until October 15.

Mr. Ferguson alleged that Dr. Hillis had between $3000 and $5000 when he began speculating in timber lands, but thru sales to other ministers and friends, Dr. Hillis made enormous profits within a year.

EDISON MAY ATTEND PANAMA-PACIFIC

Frisco's Fair Wishes to Do Honor to Inventor.

The R. S. Williams & Sons Co., who are making elaborate plans for the celebration of Edison week, Oct. 18-22, have just received advice from William Maxwell, second vice-president of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., that it is not impossible to state definitely whether Mr. Edison will be able to visit San Francisco during the celebration of Edison week at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Great pressure has been brought to bear from all parts of the country to have Mr. Edison present at the Edison Day ceremonies at the Panama-Pacific Exposition on Oct. 21. A medal is to be presented to the great inventor and the exposition officials also plan to have him plant a tree, to be known as "Edison's Tree."

Mr. Edison has but little taste for such events, and until the wizard is actually en route to San Francisco his associates are not certain that he will be on hand for the Edison Day ceremonies.

He is at present deeply engrossed in the manufacture of a new chemical process, and it is not until he has perfected this new chemical process, and other chemicals needed by the textile, dyeing and rubber industries, that he will be able to get the maximum of his time for the celebration.

CHURCH UNION URGED BY KNOX PROFESSOR

Basis of Amalgamation Dealt With by Dr. Kilpatrick in Lecture to Presbyterians.

Brotherhood of man was the point emphasized in Prof. T. B. Kilpatrick's second lecture on the basis of church union, as set forth in the pamphlet compiled by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of Canada, the second of his series of lectures at Knox College Chapel last night.

The fact that men had a common bond of fellowship in their Christian faith was dwelt on by the speaker in his examination of the first four articles of the union of the common faith of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches.

God's divine purpose was said by Dr. Kilpatrick to participate in all events, making all things work together to fulfil the ultimate design. The wonders of the universe and of the creation, as set forth in the articles, received special attention from the speaker. Principal Gandler of Knox College presided.

"GHOSTS" BY IBSEN TOPIC OF ADDRESS

Edward Howard Griggs Talks on Sad and Painful Drama.

PROBLEMS OF HEREDITY

Deals With Superstitions Handed Down From Generation to Generation.

"Ghosts," the sad and painful drama which Ibsen wrote at Sorrento, was the first lecture by Edward Howard Griggs, address in the Y.W.C.A. Hall last night. It dealt with problems of biological heredity, and what was still more significant, social heredity, the superstitions which are handed down from generation to generation, and which are frequently the cause of biological heredity. Ibsen was particularly pointed with the reception of "Ghosts." Amid a storm of disapproval Brandes and Bjornson were among the exceptions who favored it. The reactionary feeling in Norway had its effect upon Ibsen personally, and he fell into a strain of bitterness and pessimism which resulted in his great dramatic play, "An Enemy of the People," which expressed his belief that the rule of democracy meant the rule of majority. Ibsen turned his pen in never the wisest. In counting heads he believed the majority will always be with those who are lower than the best. The Liberals of Norway, because they had approved a few superficial reforms, conceived they were true Liberals, but never perceived their actual and innate conservatism. Ibsen turned his pen in bitter satire against the whole brood.

Perfectly self-satisfied mediocrity is depicted by Ibsen in Olofsohn's, who is president of the small householders' association and the temperance society, and whose watchword is "moderation." He represents the most difficult class to win in matters of reform. The small shopkeeper is always against change, whether it be a revolutionary one or a reform in the direction of the highest. He wants to let well alone. The doctor, the burgomaster, has lost his individual honesty and is merely a cog in the social machine. The doctor has prescribed that the water which is to supply the town baths is to be treated with typhoid infection. To reveal this will ruin the baths and the town-ship. The burgomaster orders his brother not to reveal it. The doctor wants to be honest. His wife is against him. He finally wins to look after his family, but the doctor is only in the position of "nearly making as much as he spends."

Dread Doomsday, that the water which is to supply the town baths is to be treated with typhoid infection. To reveal this will ruin the baths and the town-ship. The burgomaster orders his brother not to reveal it. The doctor wants to be honest. His wife is against him. He finally wins to look after his family, but the doctor is only in the position of "nearly making as much as he spends."

The dream of those who would utter reform and revolutionize society, thought not to reveal it. The doctor thought. The doctor talks to the burgomaster, that gentleman, when he hears of the proposed reforms, agrees with him, saying: "I think I see how we shall now be able to get the management of affairs into the proper hands. He only hopes to get his party into power, the burgomaster stops the printing of the revelation in the paper. Why do they all turn against you?" His wife asks the doctor, "Because they are all old women, like you, and think they shall now be able to get the management of the public good."

"I'll show them," she says, "that the old women can do as much as the young men, and rises to the occasion by his side. The doctor at the climax of the public lecture, which follows, "In the dilemma of democracy," said Mr. Griggs, "The reformer must find a way to remedy the difficulty." Was there truth in the statement? It was the ground of Ibsen's pessimism. Great truth is like sunlight—self-evident, said the lecturer. This self-evident quality was the hope of democracy, for in the heart of most men was the ability to respond to the appeal of the highest.

The reform was whimsical and moody and could be misled by a demagog, but always responded to the great prophet, or poet, or leader. The common people were not able to see as these did who were in the front rank of humanity. They were able to elect representatives from the front rank, and that they should do this was the hope of democracy.

MISSIONS BOARD REFUSE REQUEST

Newfoundland Will Not Have Superintendent of Missions.

CHILDREN'S EDUCATION

Serious Question and Missionaries Might Retire From Fields.

Two matters relating to Newfoundland came before yesterday's session of the general board of missions, held in the new Methodist book rooms. A request for the appointment of a superintendent of missions for Newfoundland, made by the Newfoundland conference, was laid on the table. It was decided that this was the only thing to do in view of the general conference's recent advice to reduce the number of missionary superintendents wherever possible.

Respecting the superintendents in the newer portions of Canada, the board decided reductions were not possible, as the present superintendents were needed in the work of creating missions.

The chairman of Bona Vista district, Newfoundland, sent a letter to the board taking exception to the increased amount asked towards making the district self-supporting and at the board's cutting down its appropriation. The letter was referred to the home committee.

Rev. D. R. McKennie was appointed treasurer and corresponding secretary of the Japan foreign department.

Rev. Dr. Chow, H. H. Fudger and Rev. Dr. Endicott were appointed to represent the Methodist Church of Canada on the Japan Union Commission. It meets every four years and arranges the rate of assistance to be given by the Methodist Episcopal Church, Methodist Episcopal Church South and the Methodist Church in Canada.

On suggestion of Rev. Dr. Endicott, who discussed the problem of providing for the higher education of missionaries' children in Japan, the board decided to appoint a commission to survey the field and make recommendations. Dr. Endicott pointed out that it was a serious question, as some of the missionaries might retire from the field thru difficulties arising out of educating their children.

Granting of the following furloughs to missionaries in Japan was concurred in: 1915, Rev. D. Norman; 1917, Rev. W. Saunby, Rev. W. O. Fryer and Rev. H. W. Outerbridge.
