British Forces Win Back Ground That Germans Re-took Yesterday

Counter-Attacking In Heavy Downpour of Rain, Haig's Men Are Victors

New Khaki Line Completely Re-established in Ypres-Roulers Railway Section—Enemy Again Fails in Attacks Upon French—Weather Continues Bad

London, Aug. 2.—British forces today launched a counter attack against German positions in Flanders, Gen. Sir Douglas Haig reports that the British troops completely re-established their former line in the neighborhood of the Roulers-Ypres railway, where the Germans yesterday had regained some territory.

The text reads: "Heavy incessant rain has fallen throughout the last forty-eight hours. In the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulers railway, where the enemy yesterday afternoon had succeeded at great cost in gaining a foothold in our advanced positions, our counter-attack launched late in the evening drove back the German infantry at all points and completely re-established our former lines. On the remainder of the Ypres battlefield there was no change.

"On the right of the British line, southeast of Hargicourt our troops successfully raided the enemy's positions and secured prisoners."

The Nerve Kaiser.

Berlin, Aug. 2, via Copenhagen—Emperor William, according to an official report today telegraphed to Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria his congratulations on the great success of the German fourth army on July 31, where by the vehement Anglo-French attack intended to conquer the coast of Flanders failed.

Paris, Aug. 2.—Sir Douglas Haig and General Petain, commanders of the British and French armies, yesterday exchanged telegrams of congratulation at the Franco-British success in Flanders.

The former paid a tribute to the efforts of the French troops under General Antoine. He sketched the irresistible dash with which the French not only gained the object set for them but surpassed these objectives, thereby converting and assisting the Allied flank and inflicting heavy losses on the enemy while sustaining only really very light losses.

General Petain replied with thanks to the felicitations of the British commander. Speaking for the French, he declared the success of the attack illustrates a new theology of the British flag and binds closer the two countries. He congratulated the British troops in the name of all French armies.

Troops of Victory.

London, Aug. 2.—The official war office statement on the battle in Flanders, issued yesterday, says: "In spite of the weather, which made flying almost impossible, our airplanes kept in contact with our advancing infantry throughout the day. The enemy's air force was completely defeated by bombs and machine gun fire. The few enemy machines that attempted to fly were brought down. Three of our machines are missing."

"The number of German prisoners captured was 4,089, including eighty-five officers. These figures include such of the prisoners as were captured in the afternoon operations which reached the collecting stations by 5 p. m. The captured material includes eight field guns, fifty-three machine guns and thirty-two trench mortars."

FAIL IN ATTACKS AGAINST FRENCH.

Paris, Aug. 2.—Bad weather continues in Belgium, says the official statement issued this afternoon by the French war department. The Germans last night made two attacks to the east and south-east of Rheims but both failed. On the left bank of the River Meuse there was a violent artillery duel. The Germans last night attacked in the sector Avromont Wood without success and several attacks in Apremont Forest, southeast of St. Mihiel, utterly failed.

THE JOHN HAYS HAMMOND SUNK

London, Aug. 2.—The American schooner John Hays Hammond, of 122 tons gross, has been sunk by the gunfire of a German submarine. All the members of the schooner's crew were saved.

Brusilloff Out; Korniloff Chief

Generalissimo of Russian Forces Resigns Post—Austrians Claim Victory Near Czernowitz

Petrograd, Aug. 2.—General Alexander Brusilloff, commander in chief of the Russian armies, has resigned. General L. G. Korniloff, commander-in-chief on the southwestern front, has been appointed generalissimo. General Tcheremissoff, commander of the eighth army, has been appointed to succeed General Brusilloff on the southwestern front.

"We are advancing toward Kimpolung in southern Bukovina. Southwest and northwest of Czernowitz fresh resistance effected by the enemy supported by a counter-attack was broken after a fierce battle. The Russians are retreating."

Near Riga. Petrograd, Aug. 2.—German forces have occupied the Uskall bridgehead on the northern Russian front, fifteen miles south of Riga, according to reports received from the battlefield. The positions had been evacuated by the Russians.

Army Out of Politics. London, Aug. 2.—According to a Petrograd despatch to the Post, Russian army commanders had a conference at headquarters yesterday and virtually sent an ultimatum to Premier and War Minister Kerensky, that unless the army was kept outside of politics and treated merely as a fighting machine, they would resign as being unable to carry on the war victoriously. The correspondent believes the ultimatum will be accepted.

Vienna, via London, Aug. 2.—The official statement from Austrian headquarters issued today says: "In the eastern theatre, north of the Casin Valley, violent enemy attacks again broke down. In the region of the three land angle our troops delivered a surprise attack against a height occupied by Russians. The enemy was defeated."

Zurich, Aug. 2.—The military critic of the Munchener Neueste Nachrichten regrets that British diplomacy has been more clever and successful than German. He says it has been constantly making new allies until now there are 1,460,000 foes against Germany's 150,000,000 and declares that Great Britain's greatest gain in this respect is America.

Nothing is more foolish, he says, than arrogantly to underestimate America's entry into the war. Economically, politically and financially an Anglo-Saxon circle has now been formed and threatened to rule the world unless we oppose a central European and Asiatic combination against it. The military importance of America is equally great. She requires only time to become effective."

Kaiser Calls War Council in Brussels

Amsterdam, Aug. 2.—Emperor William has called a war council of the high military and naval officers in Germany to meet in Brussels today. Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, General Von Ludendorff, the German crown prince, Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, Grand Duke Albert of Wurttemberg and Vice-Admiral Eduard von Capelle, and others will be present.

THE TAXES. The chamberlain's office at city hall was flooded with money today, this being the last day on which the five per cent. discount is allowed. Money arrived by mail, by messenger and in the hands of tax payers themselves. Until the receipts are counted and the totals ascertained it would be difficult to make predictions regarding the comparison with the collections of other years, but it is expected that the amount will be at least well over the average, in spite of the fact that tax bills are heavier this year. At times the numbers in the chamberlain's office thinned, but for most of the day the office has been crowded.

JACK COEGMAN. In the Prince William Apartments at half past three o'clock yesterday afternoon, Aug. 1, Dr. Du Vermet Jack of Glenwood, N. B., and Mrs. Ada May Cosman, of Woodman's Point, N. B., were married by Rev. Dr. Hutchinson in the presence of immediate relatives. The bride was becomingly gowned in grey crepe de chine and gorgette crepe with silver trimmings. She received beautiful presents. Luncheon was served at the Prince William Apartments, after which Mr. and Mrs. Jack left on the evening train for a trip to Boston and New York.

Italian Losses at Sea. Rome, Aug. 2.—During the week ended midnight, July 26, 410 ships with a gross tonnage of 412,000 entered Italian ports. Five hundred and thirty-eight of these were Italian. The losses comprised four sailing ships, one of which was more than 200 tons. One steamer was attacked and damaged but escaped.

WELL ABOVE TWO MILLIONS. The St. John Bank Clearings for the week ending today were $2,119,012; corresponding period last year, $1,891,802; corresponding period in 1915, $1,080,384.

CHAUDIERE VALLEY LOSS MILLIONS. Quebec, Aug. 2.—The flood which swept through the Chaudiere valley as the result of the torrents of rain which fell on Monday is now abating about a foot every two hours as against a former rise of a foot every hour. The effect, however, will be felt for months and it is thought that the damage will aggregate two to three million dollars. Losses to lumber corporations alone will probably total a million and the remainder is made up in damage to the Quebec Central Railway, the Lewis-Jackson highway, to bridges and to private property, crops and houses.

HENDERSON'S VISIT TO PARIS IS DISCUSSED

Labor Member Brings up Matter in Commons

SPEECH BY LLOYD GEORGE

Discuss Minister's Double Position With French But on Main Question Government Has But One Course, To Devote Whole Time to War

London, Aug. 2.—James Henry Thomas, labor M.P., warned the government yesterday that if labor members were prevented from discussing peace by a refusal of passports to countries where it proposed to hold conferences, it would be inviting the labor party to step in and force the government's hand.

Frederic Lloyd George assured the house that the government had not in the least altered its view on the only possible conditions of peace consistent with the honor and security of the country.

The debate was on the question whether the government was acting constitutionally and in the national interest in permitting Arthur Henderson, member of the war council, to accompany a pacifist mission, including James Ramsay MacDonald and George James Wardle, both M.P.'s, to Paris.

The government, continued Lloyd George, proposed to take no part in any conference such as Mr. Henderson described, either by a representative or by having any member of the government present. It would allow no sectional conference to dictate terms of peace. That was the responsibility of the government. It happened to be in Paris at the same time as Mr. Henderson," said Mr. Lloyd George, "but I was discussing the best means of presenting the war and the conference which it is proposed to resume in London in the next few days with representatives of the great allied nations will have the same purpose."

Proceeding to allude to Mr. Henderson's visit to Paris, the premier, after paying a tribute to Mr. Henderson's work on munitions and in recruiting, said there were similar dual positions in Paris, where labor had done great administrative work, and before he considered war and peace, he would discuss the position and the work of the government. On the main question the government had to pay no attention to the views of the labor party, but to those of the nation as a whole in prosecuting the war.

NOTED MAN OF FLYING CORPS IN CITY TODAY

Major G. B. Richards, M.C., a member of the Royal Flying Corps, arrived in St. John this morning from overseas en route to Toronto, where he is attending the trials with the military officials as to the prospects of organizing a flying school in Canada for the purpose of winning flying.

Major Richards is of the imperial service, and has been attached to the flying corps arm of the service since the outbreak of the war. He has perhaps seen more of the war area than most any officer in the service. He has been in Mesopotamia, Egypt, France and Belgium.

In Egypt Major Richards was in command of a flying school and while there he received his orders to proceed to Canada. Just where the Canadian school will be established rests entirely with the dominion military officials. Major Richards said this morning that he would be in the front and the sooner they get them the sooner the war would be brought to a close. He will leave this evening for Toronto.

French Ship Losses Light. Paris, Aug. 2.—Two French ships of more than 1,000 tons and one vessel of under 1,000 tons were sunk by mine or submarine last week, according to the weekly shipping summary. Three ships were unsuccessfully attacked.

During the week 1,008 ships entered French ports while 1,072 sailed.

RUSSIA PROPOSES TO FIGHT TO A FINISH

Note to Allies Gives Assurance That Combative Strength of Armies Will be Restored and Battle Waged to Triumph

Petrograd, Aug. 2.—Minister Tcherchenko has sent the following telegram to Russian diplomats accredited to the allied powers: "At a moment when new and grave misfortunes are threatening Russia, it is our duty to give our allies who have shared with us the burden of trials in the past, a firm and definite explanation of our point of view regarding the conduct of the war. The greatness of the task of the Russian revolution corresponds to the magnitude which it caused in the life of the state. Re-organization of the entire governmental system in the face of the enemy does not mean a retreat from the common action on the front."

"Fully conscious of the difficulties of the task, Russia has taken up the burden of conducting the military operations during reconstruction of the army and the government. The offensive of our armies, which was necessitated by a strategical situation, encountered insurmountable obstacles on both fronts and in the interior of the country. The criminal propaganda of irresponsible elements was used by enemy agents and provoked a revolution in Petrograd. At the same time part of the troops on the front were seduced by the same propaganda and forgot their duty to the country and facilitated the enemy piercing our front."

"The Russian people have been stirred by these events. Though the government created by the revolution and an unshakable will to revolt was crushed and its originators were brought to justice. All necessary steps have been taken at the front for restoring the combative strength of the armies."

"The government intends bringing to a successful end the task of establishing an administration capable of meeting all dangers and of guiding the country in the path of revolutionary regeneration. Russia will not suffer herself to be deterred by any difficulty in carrying out the irrevocable decision to continue the war to a final triumph of the principles proclaimed by the Russian revolution."

TRAIN SUNDAY NIGHT BEST OUTLOOK, AND THAT NOT CERTAIN

Report From Scene of C. P. R. Wash-Outs in Maine Says Perhaps First of Week Before Service Restored

The washouts on the C. P. R. line in Maine are proving even more serious than thought yesterday. This morning officials here were advised that it is very doubtful if a C. P. R. train for Montreal will haul out of St. John before the first of the week. Possibly one will leave on Sunday night, but this is not looked on with much hope.

Large gangs of men are working day and night and every possible means to repair the damage in as quick a time as possible is being used. Passengers who arrived in the city this morning on a special train reported that another very heavy storm had swept over the upper provinces and did considerable damage along the C. P. R. line, where the washout of a few nights occurred. The officials here have not received any word to this effect as yet.

His visit to New Brunswick is a semi-official one as he is gathering material to be used in a case to come to trial in New York soon in which residents of New Brunswick and former residents of the province are concerned. He will visit Perth and Grand Falls after leaving Fredrickton.

LETTER FROM GR. STANLEY PENNEY

Disgust at Conduct of Germans in Lewis From Which They Have Been Driven

In a letter from Gunner Stanley K. Penney to his mother, Mrs. T. H. Penney, he reports himself well and helping to keep the Germans on the run. He expresses his disgust regarding the enemy's conduct in the towns through which they have retreated and says that when the war is over he never wants to see another German or a German sympathizer.

Gunner Penney left St. John with the first contingent. One brother, Herbert, still is at the front; another, Gordon, has been invalided home and a third is serving on garrison duty in Halifax.

Mrs. Penney's remaining son, Roland, now in the west, is a veteran of the South African war, so that all five of her boys took up arms at the call of duty.

GERMAN POLITICS. Amsterdam, Aug. 2.—Dr. Michaelis, the German chancellor, yesterday told the Munich Neueste Nachrichten that the Prussian parliamentary commission which was a subject of discussion in the recent political crisis will receive solution as soon as the emperor returns from the front, but it was impossible to proceed hastily. The chancellor further intimated that he would soon address a political gathering.

MANY OF GERMAN PRISONERS ARE OF 1918 CLASS

Scarcity of Veteran Non-Comms Is Noticed

A SORRY-LOOKING LOT

Many Ill and Nearly All Hungry

Few Have Any Hope of Germany Winning the War

Report From Western Front on Tuesday

British front in France and Belgium, Aug. 1.—(By the Associated Press).—The situation is virtually unchanged. (This sums up the day's news from the wide some along which the British and French soldiers hurled Prince Rupprecht's forces back to the supporting defenses to a depth varying between one and three miles. Artillery activities continued with great intensity; the British pouring a steady stream of high explosive shells into positions which the Germans now hold, but there was comparatively little infantry fighting.

The Allies today were busily consolidating the positions they captured yesterday. Heavy German counter-attacks had been looked for, but outside of a few local attempts to regain positions, there was nothing to report. This was, perhaps, due partly to the heavy rain which continued without cessation since last night, filling shell holes with water and turning the ground into a deep mud over which it is difficult to fight. The German guns, however, many of which had been withdrawn to positions farther back before the rain began, have been carrying on a steady bombardment, especially against the territory captured by the Allies on the northern side of the Ypres salient. As usual, the Germans are employing great quantities of gas shells.

Due to the complete preparation made for yesterday's assault the British casualties have not been excessive, but the condition of the battlefield and statements by prisoners indicate that the German losses are exceedingly heavy. The British medical corps has again been back to emergency stations. More than 4,000 prisoners with some sixty officers were taken by the British in the Ypres salient area.

Prisoners a Sorry Lot. Prussians, Bavarians and Saxons all have given of their number to swell the total capture, and no more dejected appearing men have been seen in the prison stations since the beginning of the war. Particularly noticeable was the scarcity of veteran non-commissioned officers and the large number of youths from the 1918 class, nothing more than raw recruits. One veteran, many battles fought, was seen in the prison camps, but he was certainly boyish in appearance and could not be depended upon in a tight place such as they found themselves facing yesterday.

Most of these prisoners were a miserable, sorry-looking lot, many of them suffering from internal complaints caused by exposure and the majority from hunger. Few of them have any hope of Germany winning the war and one of them ventured the opinion that the time of the fatherland's downfall was near. He based his opinion largely on the scarcity of men, and certainly boyish faces now in prison camps, appear to be indicative of a lack of human material.

Chinese President in Peking. Peking, Aug. 2.—Feng Kuo Chang, president of China, has arrived here.

Two more Conservatives were appointed to the senate yesterday. They were A. Claude MacDonnell, M.P. for South Toronto, and Clive Pringle the well known Ottawa solicitor and parliamentary agent.

Senator Poirer of New Brunswick, resuming the corruption debate in the senate, disputed the contention of Senator Dandurand that the reason French-Canadians had not enlisted more freely was because they had been 200 years in Canada. The reason they had not enlisted, said Senator Poirer, was because they had been misgaided and misdirected.

JUST BETWEEN FRIENDS
The corporate experience of Mr. J. Everett Fenwick, between the Kaiser and the Devil, is a much less exciting experience than falls to the lot of some members of corporations. Mr. Fenwick had sold a farm, and appears to have been casually looking about for possible adventures of a more exciting character than those to which he had characteristically turned.

ST. JOHN AND THE COAL
The Times publishes today an article on the coal situation prepared by a firm of coal dealers, presenting the case from the dealer's standpoint.

THE WESTERN CONVENTIONS
Today and on Friday there will be a great Win-the-War Convention in Toronto. Apparently it is to be non-partisan and will be held in the large structure known as the Arena.

A COMING SENSATION
Perhaps it was the heat, conveying a premonition of at least a fainting fit of mind attained for contemplation of the future state of the unregenerate; but whatever the cause the editor of this family journal found his attention irresistibly drawn yesterday to a booklet that came in the mail.

The receipt of the booklet was the first intimation of these various coming events; and the journalistic instinct at once suggested that nothing but said about it in advance, except to direct the reporting staff to get on the job early on the morning of Aug. 4, and if possible have some advance copy, and an interview with the Devil. On reflection, however, it seems but fair that the people should be notified, in order that general preparation might be made for what promises to be an event of no little interest and importance.

LATE BLIGHT OF POTATOES IS DESTRUCTIVE DISEASE

Reported in 1917; Should and Can be Controlled; Spray With Bordeaux When Tops are 6 or 8 Inches High.

Late blight is the most destructive potato disease which occurs in Maine, says Charles D. Woods, director of the Maine agricultural experimental station. Moreover, once it gets started on the leaves it spreads more rapidly than any other potato trouble, provided cool, cloudy, rainy weather prevails. Not only does it destroy the plants before maturity but it causes the well-known, destructive rot of the tuber.

Losses from late blight and the associated rot are unnecessary, as they can be prevented. This is shown by the results obtained by practically all of the successful farmers in the better potato growing sections of the state. In spite of their example much loss has been occasioned from the attacks of this disease for two successive seasons in certain other parts of Maine. Steps should be taken to prevent repetition of this experience in 1917.

Late blight may be controlled by thorough spraying with bordeaux mixture, beginning when the tops are six or eight inches high and repeating every week or ten days. The Maine agricultural experimental station will send full directions on request.

The first specimens of late blight for 1917 were received at the Maine agricultural experiment station on July 24. One case indicated a severe attack, for both stem and leaves were affected. Two specimens were received the same day from widely separated parts of southern and southwestern Maine.

"So you are going to get married," said Miss Cayenne.

"Yes," replied the confiding young man.

"Well, which kind of a marriage is it to be; one where you go to live with the bride's folks or the bride's folks come to live with you?"

George Ade said at a wedding breakfast in St. Joseph: "Once, in putting on a new play of mine, the manager refused to have a young married couple in the cast. "I'll take on one of the other, George," he said, "but not both."

"Why not both?" said I. "They're both clever."

"That may be," said he, "but the public, George, doesn't care to see a man making love to his own wife."

"Looks too much like acting, eh?" said I.

THE LOCAL COAL SITUATION AS THE DEALER SEES IT

A firm of city coal dealers has prepared the following statement for publication. It is the dealer's view of the coal situation and The Times prints it as representing the case from the standpoint:

Coal may be termed a fast moving commodity. It is almost in continuous movement from the time the miner digs it from the bowels of the earth until the ashes are deposited in the dump. Interrupting its movement is the place where the consumer's bin is like damming a river. It stops the flow of coal beyond the mine. To illustrate, go back to the mine. Coal is not stored and piled up at the mine, as some people might suppose. It runs in a continuous stream over the tracks and into cars. As quickly as one car is loaded it is moved and an empty one put in its place. When sufficient cars are loaded a train is made up and starts for some junction point where the train is split up and individual cars sent north, south, east and west, according to their destination. Fail to supply the mines with cars to take its output to the consumer, and the whole operation is stopped. As quickly as one car is loaded it is moved and an empty one put in its place. When sufficient cars are loaded a train is made up and starts for some junction point where the train is split up and individual cars sent north, south, east and west, according to their destination. Fail to supply the mines with cars to take its output to the consumer, and the whole operation is stopped.

Condemned the junction point with a glut of cars either empty or full, and the railway will declare an embargo until the situation is relieved. Here you have another dam; embargoes cannot get to the mine, or loaded cars from the mine. As coal continues on the journey it might meet an embargo caused by the congestion of some other kind of freight, perhaps grain or munitions, and the river dammed again.

Jumping from the railway transportation to the New York docks and the largest voyage to St. John, and considering the travel of coal on its arrival at St. John to the customers' bin, and we can see where the most serious obstruction in the flow of coal is apt to take place in the immediate future.

St. John consumes between 70,000 and 80,000 tons of American made coal a year. This averages 6,000 tons per month. It is chiefly required in the winter season to keep the flow continuous throughout the year, in ordinary times, the mine owners make a cut in the price of coal to dealers in the winter season. The dealers, in turn, give a benefit of that cut to the customers to encourage them to buy. Under this plan the whole coal trade has been organized for a great many years so that the dealer's equipment, both for delivery, receiving and storage of coal, is handled in the average month. Shut down the coal trade during August and you have reduced the quantity of coal he can handle in a year by just one-twelfth. In other words, if all the dealers in Canada during August shut down their 6,000 tons of anthracite coal to the householders in St. John, there would be a possible way of overcoming this loss, not being able to deliver coal, and having his sheds full he has to make up the balance of the year. By extra effort, night work, etc., he might make up the portion of this loss, but it would be very slight, so that one can see how time plays a big part in the fuel question.

There is a shortage of anthracite coal. Nearly every person in any way connected with the coal trade admits that. Canada's fuel controller, Mr. Magrath, tells us that some will have to substitute bituminous coal for hard coal next winter. If there is a shortage at present, and the dealers are forced by the absence of buyers to stop the coal behind in their ready schedule of deliveries, the situation next winter is going to be very acute. Some dealers have already thought up ways to get orders and have their equipment practically idle. When their storage bins are full they have to make up the situation until their customers take this coal from them, so as to make room for coal to be delivered. Other dealers are rapidly drawing to the same condition, so that, to a large extent, next winter's coal supply will be largely in the hands of the customers themselves. Every household who can possibly scrape up the money, and has storage bins, should fill them up now as quickly as possible so that the dealer can empty his bins and thus import more coal, so that the city can have a few weeks ago, but they have put in much time and labor in conference and study in an effort to get an adequate supply for the Dominion of Brunswick in particular. They are men to do, but they have an enormous task to get a continuous supply of coal for the city next winter, they first must have the American mines in continuous operation. The coal must travel past junction points and embargoes. It must get past the congestion at New York and other Atlantic ports. It must get water transportation from New York to St. John. Then it must go to the dealer's bin, and from that to your coal bin. The American people are not going to do a thing to help the coal situation. The American railroads are not going to give preference to Canadian shipments. New York brokers and mine owners are not going to load vessels for St. John in preference to their regular Boston, Bangor, Eastport, Calais, etc. Coal is going to be short this winter—most everybody who knows anything about the coal trade, and his local representative, Mr. Frink, is sure of it. Whether it is whether they are ready to do it or not, they have time to get thoroughly familiar with all the ramifications of the coal trade, the mining transportation and delivery; whether they have time to get the American authorities to take action and force the mine owners, who in turn would have to force their agents in New York to give prefer-

Copy of Record in Official Gazette, London

WENT OVER WITH MAJOR MAGEE

Honor Awarded for Extinguishing Blaze in Ammunition Pits Under Shell Fire—Thirty Other Canadian Officers Distinguished

Capt. Ralph St. Clair Hayes. "For extinguishing a blaze in ammunition pits during heavy shell fire." This is the record, as published in the Official Gazette, London, of the gallant conduct for which the Military Medal has been awarded to Captain Hayes, son of Mayor Hayes of this city. Captain Hayes went overseas in the first contingent with the artillery detachment commanded by Major F. C. Magee and Major J. T. McGowan and has seen continuous service in France for more than two years, earning a reputation as an officer of great ability. The Military Medal has been awarded to thirty other Canadian officers, the awards being announced as follows:

Lieut. Francis Darrell Gifford. "The official notice of award states that Lieut. Gifford took command of a company and showed great courage and ability."

Lieut. John Krause Gillespie. "When both of his guns were destroyed and a number of the men in his crew had become casualties, he rallied the remainder and pushed forward, killing a number of the enemy."

Lieut. George Douglas Gilie. "After repelling a counter attack he captured three of the enemy, and held an enemy trench for ten hours, defeating two bombing parties which advanced."

Lieut. William Murray Goodwin. "He constructed a strong point in captured territory, despite heavy casualties."

Lieut. Angus Douglas Gray. "He saved a situation by covering the withdrawal of a battalion. Although severely wounded, having lost an eye, he remained where he was, directing the guns until the success of a counter-attack was assured."

Capt. William Griesinger. "He successfully counter-attacked and held the captured position for several hours against strong hostile attacks."

Capt. Burville Dayton Griffin. "While in charge of repairs to a light railway he showed the greatest courage and initiative in overcoming extensive damage caused by shell fire."

Lieut. Elton Richard Hughes. "For getting forward supplies of bombs and ammunition across open ground which was under heavy fire."

Capt. Edward Sharper Jeffrey. "While under a continuous shell fire he directed and attended stretcher parties."

Lieut. John Kay. "His untiring energy and foresight enabled the guns he handled to secure the utmost advantage."

Capt. Richard Wellington Kenny. "He successfully attended the wounded in an improvised additional station in a trench adjacent to the front when it was under shell fire."

Lieut. Robert Owen Keams. "Though wounded, he led his men through heavy machine gun fire to their final objective."

Capt. Charles Kerr. "He continually exposed himself under heavy fire, with the result that every wounded man was cleared as soon as his wounds were dressed."

Lieut. Norman Alexander Keys. "After being severely wounded and rendered unconscious for half an hour, he rejoined his company and successfully led them to their final objective."

Lieut. Laurence Kingdon. "He established communications under heavy fire and sent back valuable information."

Lieut. Walter Hird. "Although wounded early in the day, he remained at his post, and during the evening sent back valuable information."

Lieut. Gilbert Edwin Hocking. "When in charge of a stretcher party, he had

Glad of Income Tax; Hope It Will Remain

Mr. Carvell (Carleton) said he heartily congratulated the government upon the introduction of the measure. On his side of the house it was not a new find. Upon looking up Hansard he found he had advocated it as far back as August, 1915. No measure introduced in his day had given him greater pleasure and he hoped the income tax would remain an institution in Canada for all time. He was glad everybody was coming to the conclusion that taxation demands could not be met by simply increasing taxation upon goods coming into the country. Direct taxation was necessary.

Thinks Exemptions Too High

In his opinion the $2,000 exemption for married men and the $3,000 exemption for single men were too high. For single men $1,000 and for married men $1,500 would have been ample. Another thing—when they were discussing matters of this kind they were apt to be influenced by that Ottawa view that a man getting only $2,000 a year was a menial, whereas in rural Canada a man receiving a salary of $3,000 was regarded as fairly well off. He looked upon the tax for the present merely as a war tax, though the minister did not state that it would be abolished after the war. He thought the people of Canada would see that it was continued for all time to come.

Congratulates Government

Mr. Carvell also complained that "when you reach $10,000 or $15,000 unmarried men pay practically no more than married men." With these exceptions the bill suited him, and he heartily congratulated the government upon the introduction of a measure that the people of Canada have been wanting for a long time.

Mr. McKeen (Halifax) emphasized the point made by Mr. Carvell when he pointed out that where the income is $20,000 the unmarried man pays only $1,800, while the married man pays $1,200, a difference of only $600.

A Father's Daughter.

Mr. Millings—"I will give you my daughter, sir, if you will promise to maintain her afterwards."

Suffor—Heaven! You talk as though you were giving away a free public library."

THE TRUTH ABOUT CORNS

You have read much fiction about corns. Here is the truth, as stated by a chemist who spent 25 years on this corn problem. And as proved already on almost a billion cornea:

"This invention—Blue-jay—makes corn troubles needless. It stops the pain instantly, and stops it forever. In 48 hours the whole corn disappears, save in rare cases which take a little longer."

That is the truth, and millions of people know it. Every month it is being proved on nearly two million cornea.

So long as you doubt it you'll suffer. The day that you prove it to see your last corn-ache.

It costs so little—it is so easy and quick and painless—that you owe yourself this proof. Try Blue-jay tonight.

THE SILENT TOAST.

They stand with reverent faces,
And their merriment give o'er,
As they drink the toast to the unseen host,
Who have fought and gone before.

It is only a passing moment
In the midst of the feast and song,
But they charge again on the hideous plain
In a vision sweeps along.

No more they see the banquet
And the brilliant lights around;
But they charge again on the hideous plain
When the shell-bursts rip the ground.

Or they creep at night, like panthers,
Through the waste of No Man's Land,
Their hearts afeared with wild desire
And death on every hand.

And out of the roar and tumult,
Or the black night loud with rain,
Some face comes back on the fiery track
And looks in their eyes again.

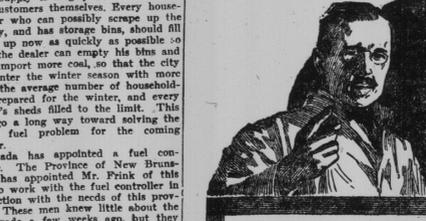

And the love that is passing woman's,
And the bonds that are forged on
And speak what no man saith.

The vision dies off in the stillness,
Once more the tables shine,
But the eyes of all in the banquet hall
Are lit with a light divine.

Government Ownership Of Canadian Northern Ry. But Under Present Management

Complete Ownership Secured by Taking Over $60,000,000 of Stock — Temporary Advance of $7,500,000 to Grand Trunk Pacific

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—Complete government ownership of the stock of the Canadian Northern Railway Company, with quasi-government operation of the system through the Canadian Northern company, and a temporary advance of $7,500,000 to the Grand Trunk Pacific to meet interest charges for this year and provide for imperative betterments and additional rolling stock, are the features of the government's long-awaited railway "Nationalization" policy announced in the commons today by the finance minister.

The resolution introduced by the finance minister provides for the purchase, by arbitration proceedings, of the $60,000,000 par value worth of the Canadian Northern system's stock now held by the company or pledged by them to creditors. The government already owns $40,000,000 worth of the stock, which was taken in pledge when the $45,000,000 loan was advanced to the company in 1914.

The finance minister, in his general outline of the policy of modified nationalization of the Canadian Northern, declared that the corporate entity of the company would be preserved, but the people of Canada by having the ownership of the stock in the company, could, through the government, appoint a new board of directors, and thus virtually control the operation of the system. At the same time, he intimated that the present management of the company was capable and efficient.

As to the Grand Trunk Pacific, the excuse given, both by Sir Thomas and by the prime minister, for not including it in the nationalizing scheme and continuing merely the policy of temporary aid, was that the exigencies of war financing and war responsibility and the length of time which would be required to complete negotiations with the Grand Trunk, made it unwise to attempt a final solution of the whole problem this session.

Judging by Sir Robert Borden's passing remark this afternoon in the commons in connection with the discussion of the railway legislation, he, at least, expects an election and a new parliament this year. Three times during the course of his speech, this afternoon, he referred to the fact that the government had decided to leave the final solution of the railway problem to the new parliament.

After routine proceedings in the house, Sir Wilfrid Laurier objected to a report of a speech by Sir Clifford Sifton in the Toronto Globe. Sir Wilfrid said he seldom took any notice of any attacks made upon himself outside of the house, in the press or otherwise. But he found a report of a speech made by Sir Clifford Sifton to the Canadian Club at Winnipeg which he could not allow to pass without notice.

Sir Wilfrid then read the report of the speech, which criticized the stand taken by himself as based upon the views of the people of Quebec province. "I have to say," declared the Liberal leader, "that in nothing I have said in this house or outside of it could Sir Clifford Sifton have drawn the inference he has given in these words—that the attitude I have taken was in deference to the attitude of the province of Quebec. Never have I taken an attitude for any province alone. The questions I opposed were not for one province only but for Liberal principles, for all provinces of Canada, irrespective of race, religion or creed. That is my position today, the same as it was on Aug. 19, 1914. I am in the war to the end, but not on the principle of compulsion, but upon the voluntary principle of enlistment."

As to the value of the C. N. R. stock, Sir Thomas said he proposed to acquire it for the public of Canada and have the value determined by arbitration in the manner recommended in the Drayton-Acworth report. That was, he said, a board appointed, one by the government, another by the owners and pledges of the stock, and the third by the other two, or if they could not agree, by the senior judge of the exchequer court. If the arbitrators were not unanimous in fixing the value of the stock, provision would be made for an appeal to the supreme court in both law and fact.

When food lies like lead in the stomach and you have that uncomfortable, distended feeling, it is because of insufficient blood supply to the stomach, combined with acid and food fermentation. In such cases try the plan now followed in many hospitals and advised by many eminent physicians of taking a teaspoonful of pure bisulphated magnesia in half a glass of water, as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach and the bisulphated magnesia, as any physician can tell you, instantly neutralizes the acid and stops the food fermentation. Try this simple plan and you will be astonished at the immediate feeling of relief and comfort that always follows the restoration of the normal process of digestion. People who find it inconvenient at times to secure hot water and travelers who are frequently obliged to take heavy meals poorly prepared, should always take two or three five-grain tablets of Bisulphated Magnesia after meals to prevent fermentation and neutralize the acid in their stomach.

A gentleman was put out of patience by some blunder of Paddy, his new groom. "Look here!" he cried in his anger. "I won't have things done in this way. Do you think I'm a fool?" "I can't say, sir," answered Paddy. "I only came here yesterday."—Exchange.

THOUGHT CHILD WAS DYING

"Cholera Infantum" DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURED HER

Mother should look well after their children during the hot summer months, as this is the time of the year this trouble is most prevalent. It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the child rapidly loses flesh, and becomes weak, prostrated and languid.

Mrs. E. A. Cirwell, Rosway, N. S., writes: "I can recommend, most highly, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. A friend of mine whose little daughter was ill with cholera infantum was given up by the doctors. The little one's mother asked me to come in and see the child. I told her I had a bottle of 'Dr. Fowler's' and asked her if she would try it. When the bottle was half used the child was well. This cure was a miraculous one, for I thought the child was dying at the time."

There is nothing can take the place of Dr. Fowler's. Do not accept a substitute, and thus endanger your life. The original is 25c. per bottle, and put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The main military problem is in the west. We never believed that a frontal attack on what is Germany's strongest flank would be other than the longest, slowest and most costly method. We hold that the only possible way of shortening the war within a three-year period—and we ought to have shortened that period instead of accepting it—was by resolute action in the east. But though the chances there are still important, the decisive possibilities that were open to us in the first two years no longer exist. We are committed to the west.

Solution in the West. "It is there that the military problem must be solved. That it can be solved the experience of the last twelve months has proved. Upon the meaning of the colossal cannonades and unprecipitated air fighting along the Yser we have deliberately preferred to make no comment. The enemy's alarm and the nature of his expectations have sufficiently appeared. Whether he is right or wrong the future will disclose. Orangeade!

The next time you are down near our fountain and feel thirsty, step inside and say "Orangeade" to the Soda Dispenser, then watch him. First he selects a fresh, ripe orange, cuts it in two and squeezes the golden juice into a polished glass, then some cracked ice and sugar (just enough to suit your taste), a dash of lime-juice and some pure, bubbling carbonated water. Then you have a drink and we have a satisfied customer.

It has become one of the most popular drinks at our fountain, so popular that at times we are pressed to supply the demand. Its popularity is due entirely to its own merits.

DOING GOOD ROAD WORK

Alfred F. Belding of the provincial roads engineering staff, arrived in the city last night and will leave again this afternoon for Sackville. He has had a crew of twenty-seven men engaged making a permanent road across part of the marsh between Anzac and the Nova Scotia border. It is the very worst place here already completed, 400 feet, with a ditch on each side three feet deep and three feet wide at the top, with a vent ditch 120 feet long and eight feet deep. The material for the road surface is a combination of flint, iron and other mineral ingredients which packs almost like cement, and is of the finest quality for permanent work. When done the work will be patrolled weekly, to keep it in condition.

Mr. Belding has a crew of seven men at work in the Dorchester woods, skirting the road to a width of sixty feet. The trees had been allowed to grow right up to the side of the road, shutting out the sun and keeping the road wet. When skirting it will also be ditched. The engineer says that everywhere the cry is for better roads, and so keen are the people that at one place three prominent citizens are supervising the expenditure of a special grant without charge, in order that the grant may go farther in road making.

DEATH OF JOSEPH MERITHEW

By the death of Joseph Merithew, McKenzies Corner, Richmond, Carleton County has met a severe loss. He was a prominent member of the Baptist church and deeply concerned in all that touched the social, political and moral welfare of the community. He was magistrate for many years and possessed much knowledge of the law. Mr. Merithew was elected councillor several times, serving the parish of Richmond most efficiently. In politics he was staunchly Liberal and The Telegraph was his favorite secular paper, but other reading matter was in plenty in his home. His wife, a stepson in the army and many relatives in York and Carleton Counties have heard of his death with much sorrow.

EVIDENCE IN ARSON CASE IS ALL IN

Addresses by Counsel Begun—Case Likely to Jury This Afternoon

Hearing of the evidence for both the crown and defence was concluded this morning in the second trial of John Hughes and Joseph O'Brien, charged with burning the summer cottage of W. J. Crawford, in the Loch Lomond road on the night of June 15. Previous to the opening of the case today, Daniel Mullin, K.C., chief counsel for the defence, interposed an objection to evidence given yesterday by Henry L. Alexander in respect to a conversation he overheard in Jackson's restaurant, and although he did not identify the prisoners, the statement was attributed to them. Mr. Mullin said that the evidence had no relation to the issue. He cited the case of Regina vs. Taylor in Cox's fifth criminal cases, page 128. He contended that under this authority Mr. Alexander's evidence was inadmissible. The attorney-general argued that it was admissible. In the case cited, he said, there were three distinct charges laid, whereas in this present case there was only one. Chief Justice McKeown said the evidence was properly admitted and he allowed it.

Today's Testimony

Denely Sheriff Armstrong Clifford was the first witness for the prosecution this morning, and also the last. He gave estimated measurements relative to distances alleged to have been covered by the defendants on the night of June 15. This concluded the case for the prosecution. Recess of fifteen minutes was granted to allow counsel for the defence to consult, following which Mr. Mullin proceeded with the case for the defence. He called two witnesses, Peter C. Sharkey and Fred McDonald. The former reviewed the conversation of Policeman Saunders with Mr. Donnelly and himself on the night on which the policeman went to the stable. He said that upon asking Mr. Saunders what the trouble was, he got the reply: "That two plumbers had gone out the road last night and burned down Crawford's cottage."

Cross-examined by the attorney-general, the witness said that in his last evidence he did not use the word "flash" in referring to the kind of a light. Mr. Sharkey related an affair which passed between Saunders and himself on the matter of a beer license in a store at East St. John. Following the evidence of Fred McDonald, the attorney-general asked the evidence of Mr. Sharkey in the last trial to be read over again in reference to the flash-light. The court stenographer who took the evidence of the last trial was not in court and the matter was not presented. A little before twelve o'clock Mr. Mullin began his address to the jury. He commenced by outlining the duties of the crown in criminal cases. He referred to ambitious policemen and methods employed. He was unimpressed in his criticism of the evidence of Policeman Saunders. He impressed upon the jury the maxim, "every man is presumed innocent until he is proven guilty."

He said that there never was a more innocent man brought into court than the man in this case. He argued that the words "circumstances will not lie" were misleading and he contended that "detectives mislead people to get what they want." Truth, he said, was not suspicion, conjecture or presumption. He took up the evidence of several of the crown witnesses to show the master of the plumbers' strike and turning to the prisoners said if it was not that they were striking plumbers they would not be in the dock. He said that Policeman Saunders was the lookout only for striking plumbers. He said that Saunders had overlooked an important thing in not measuring the width of Kitty's shoes. He referred to a prominent lawyer of the city and termed him "the powerful corporation lawyer of the city," and said he had been engaged by the master plumbers. He concluded that the only interest the master plumbers had for the public was "to squeeze them."

Continuing he said that if he had wanted to lift the curtain in this matter with reference to the plumbers' strike he could have given the public some light that would have been interesting. The only thing that stopped him was the ill-health of George Blake, the head of the master plumbers' organization. At this stage the judge called his recess and ordered the jury to be on hand again at 2.45 o'clock this afternoon. There is a possibility of the jury getting the case late this afternoon. Mr. Mullin continued his address to the jury this afternoon and was followed by the attorney-general.

DEATH OF HUGH FINLAY

For Many Years Closely Identified With St. John Newspaper Work Hugh Finlay died this morning at the residence of his son Robert, on the Loch Lomond road, after a lengthy illness. Mr. Finlay, who was seventy-eight years of age, was for the greater part of his life identified with the printing business in this city and during that long period of time won a host of friends. He is survived by seven sons and two daughters. The sons are Hugh, Harry and Frank of Boston, and Robert, Charles, Thomas and Albert of this city, and the daughters are Mrs. Charles Eslow of Bangor, Me., and Mrs. William McAndrews of this city. His son Robert is foreman of the Evening Times press room.

Mr. Finlay was for many years an outstanding figure in the newspaper life of St. John. He was for twenty-two years editor of the Daily Telegraph and, while chiefly engaged in printing work, often took a hand in the writing department as well as a despatch editor. In later years he was connected with Progress, The Record, and The Gazette. Some time ago his health forced his retirement from scenes in which he had been an active figure for so many years and he had passed his declining days quietly at the home of his son Robert. Many friends will be sorry to learn of his death.
