REGULATIONS IGNORED, SAYS DEP. MINISTER

G. H. Prince Testifies At Inquiry Into Atkinson Charges IS FIRST WITNESS

JOHN DUNLOP Special Correspondent to The Times-STAR. FREDERICTON, April 20.—That the regulations for the 1924-25 cut were not carried out in regard to the 80 per cent classification is made plain by the River Valley Lumber Company, of which R. B. Smith, ex-M. L. A., is general manager, by Hon. Dr. J. E. Hetherington, former Minister of Lands and Mines, was the statement made by G. H. Prince, Deputy Minister of Lands and Mines, at the hearing into the charges brought by E. C. Atkinson, government member for Sunbury, before the Public Accounts Committee this morning.

Mr. Prince said that at the conference at which this ruling was granted he had pointed this out at the time to the others present including Hon. Dr. Hetherington, A. T. Murchie, chief scaler, and Mr. Smith. The application for this classification was made previous to July 8, 1924, or before the regulations relating to the 1924-25 cut went into effect. Mr. Prince said that he had pointed out that the classification could vary with the market, the logs were yarded, and thus comply with the regulation, but Mr. Smith had pressed for assurance to the satisfaction before he commenced operations.

SIX MORE WITNESSES He said as near as he could remember, Mr. Smith was given assurance by the minister that this would apply for three years. Mr. Prince was on the stand most of the day, and the hearing is expected to last several days as there are six more witnesses to be examined. P. J. Hughes appears for the River Valley Lumber Company. In his opening evidence Mr. Prince told of government regulations in regard to lumber classification and in regard to the 80 per cent classification granted to the River Valley Lumber Co. on Little River. He said Mr. Smith and his brother called at the Crown Lands office previous to July 8, 1924, and asked for a lower rate of stumpage, representing to him the lumber in this section was practically dead. He informed Mr. Smith he said, that an investigation would be undertaken by Wallace Bridges, pointing out at the same time that such a rate could not be fixed until after the logs had been yarded.

CRUISING REPORT Later Mr. Bridges submitted his report on the cruising, showing that from 45 to 50 per cent was dead and from 25 to 30 per cent was affected and that the remainder would survive. At a conference on August 6, 1924, with witnesses Mr. Murchie, chief scaler, Mr. Smith and Hon. Dr. Hetherington, president, a ruling was given by the minister granting the 80 per cent classification. The regulation respecting classifications came into effect on August 1, 1924. Mr. Prince placed in evidence a letter written by Hon. Dr. Hetherington on August 4, 1924, granting formal authority on the matter, the letter adding that such authority was granted on the basis of the report of Mr. Bridges, and on the understanding that by this arrangement, between $300,000 and $400,000 feet of budworm affected lumber would be salvaged for the province. The classification referred to indicates the percentage of the cut which is classified as merchantable lumber for stumpage rate purposes. The 80 per cent classification 80 per cent was considered merchantable and 20 per cent budworm killed.

TWELVE HURT IN U.S. SUBMARINE BLAST One May Die as Result of Explosion on Craft at New London

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 20.—Twelve men, members of the S-4, which was moored at a dock at the submarine base, were injured this morning when the after battery in the submarine exploded. One man may die. The explosion produced a tremendous concussion, which hurled the dozen men in the steel walled compartment against the side of the chamber. While many of them are suffering from the effects of gas and fire, it is believed that fractures of limbs constitute the greatest injuries.

When Your Potential Husbands Pass in Review, Girls, Beware of the Patient Waiter Whom You Can Never Love, the Unappreciated Genius Always Jobless, and the Beau Who "Keeps Company," But Never Pops the Question.

NEXT in the list of dangerous men comes the patient waiter. The good, honest, faithful chap who camps on a girl's doorstep and who will get her in the end if she doesn't watch out.

DOROTHY DIX

But always he is Johnny-on-the-spot ready to fetch and carry for her, tickled to death to take her to the places for which no other boy dates her up, ready to stanch the kind word as a hungry dog at a bone, always standing with hat in hand, eager to marry her whenever she says the word.

THE girl doesn't really care a rap for him. She likes him, respects him. His worship flatters her vanity, but she has not and will never have any warmer feeling for him than she has for a reliable taxi driver or a good dressmaker or anybody else who ministers to her personal comfort and convenience. He never raises a thrill in her breast, nor quickens her pulse by a single heart-beat, nor is it ever in his power to make her long for his presence.

Yet the chances are almost fifty-fifty that the girl will marry the patient waiter. Sometimes she does it because he overpersuades her, sometimes she marries him to try to heal the hurt some other man has inflicted upon her. Oftenest she marries him just because all of her girl friends have got married and she is left feeling lonely, and that nobody wants her but poor, dear old Jim, at whose devotion she used to laugh and whom she would no more have thought of marrying five years ago than she would of marrying the parlor maid.

AND it is a disastrous fate for them both, because a one-love marriage is a top-sidel thing that creeps as it goes along and is always in danger of breaking down. Hence if a girl doesn't want to marry the man who wants her, instead of the man she wants, she had better take out an accident policy against marrying the patient waiter.

The next most dangerous man is the unappreciated genius.

NOBODY understands him—especially employers, who have a sordid way of expecting efficiency and who cannot comprehend that it revolves the soul of one born for finer things to have to punch the time clock at the same hour and do over and over again the same dull tasks every day.

Of course, the unappreciated genius is always out of a job, and he is living on his poor old parents or sponging on his brothers and sisters while he finds something to do that will not grate upon his sensibilities and in which he feels that his talents will have proper scope. Something with much pay and no work.

In the meantime he craves some one who will understand him and to whom he can pour forth his sorrows. And, curiously enough, he nearly always finds his victim in the faint, noblest girl in the community. The flappers are safe from him because they see too hard-boiled to fall for any such stories. Besides they have neither time nor use for the high-have-beens or the going-to-bees. They want the man who has the coin to spend on them right now and here.

BUT the big-souled, sympathetic woman who too often lends a pitying ear to the unappreciated genius and loves him for the sorrows he affects to have known. She doesn't see that he is a quitter and a whiner, and that with her to inspire him he will achieve miracles.

So she marries him and takes over the job of supporting him. And after a while he gets tired of his wife as an audience and an inspiration and wanders away from his own fireside in search of fresh listeners and inspirers. But he always comes home to eat and get clean clothes and more pocket money.

WHEN a man begins telling a girl that he is unappreciated by a cold and callous world and that she is the only one who understands him, it is time for her to cross her fingers and beat it for the tall timber if she would save herself.

The next dangerous man is the temperamental man.

GOODNESS knows, a woman who bristles with feelings as a porcupine does with quills is hard enough to get along with, but she is as nothing compared to the man who has to be handled with gloves.

He keeps his precious feelings spread all over the place, and no matter how carefully you tread you are always stepping on them. A chance word may bring on a storm. A most casual remark precipitates a scene. An innocent joke may prove a boomerang. He may find cause for bitter jealousy in the greeting of an old friend or a polite salutation to a stranger.

PERHAPS it is because women are the adventurous sex, with a natural leaning toward taking foolhardy risks. Perhaps it is because the good moods of the temperamental man contrast so vividly with his black moods that makes him have a morbid fascination for women, for there are still ladies reckless enough to marry such men, even after they have been warned by the experiences they have been through with them during the days of courtship.

And the wife of such a man either winds up in the divorce court or spends the remainder of her apologizing for things she never did; thinking before she speaks and wondering if what she is going to say can start anything; trying to jolly along a grock and appease a big, sulky baby for whom she has a contempt.

AND, of course, there is the lightward and the brute and the bully and the boss who are dangerous men, but any woman deserves all she gets who marries one of them, because they invariably show their hands on the near side of the altar in time for her to save herself if she will.

And last, but not least, among dangerous men are those whose attentions are without intention, who win a girl's heart and break it with weary waiting; who monopolize her time and keep all eligible suitors away, but who never pop the question themselves.

The sensible girl guards herself against these social dead beats. She listens to their love-making for a reasonable space of time, and then unless they discuss matrimony from a practical standpoint she waits them into the outer air.

THESE are the leading types of men, dangerous men. There are others. So watch your step, girls. Copyright by Public Ledger Company.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

THE recent promotion of Esther Ralston to stardom by Paramount lends weight to the frequently made assertion that success in the films means hard work and lots of it. Very few players become sensations overnight. It's the experience that counts, a little bit here and a little bit there, a diversity of parts that require real acting. These are the things which make an actor.

Contending a thousands men in the clothes of 50 years ago, plug hats, congress gaiters and ruffled shirts was one of the problems in "In Praise of James Carabine." An M-G-M picture. The men were the audience who watched James Carabine (played by Ralph Graves) an Irishman, win the American prize ring title.'

A Thought

Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.—Ps. 34:13. THERE would not be so many open mouths if there were not so many open ears.—Bishop Hall. IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING UP and down BROADWAY UNION Square, locale of so many colorful O. Henry tales, is this spring the scene of daily tag games between sidewalk catch-penny salesmen and the police. Warm weather, attracting the jobless, the weary and the loiterers to the benches, also calls out this vasty army of vendors whose wares are carried in a little satchel and who, within a few seconds, can gather a small-sized mob around them. Their bags contain cheap wrist watches, trick fountain pens, memorandum books and trinkets. Their methods of crowd catching are as varied and obviously bunk as the things they sell. A favorite and sure-fire stunt is to tie several $10 bills on a string and, placing them at various distances on the sidewalk, let them flap up and down in the wind—while making sure, of course, that they can't escape. The sight of loose money is too much for the average bench warmer or passer-by. Half a dozen operate in various parts of the square and a "capper" keeps an eye out for approaching policemen. A signal sends the salesman around the corner with his bag, there to start up trade again. LOUD speakers which carry radio programs to the bench loungers might have intruded O. Henry's imaginative mind more than a little. The other day, while listening to the clashing of sound, I heard a radio appeal given for a missing youth. As the description was being given and the tale of a heart-broken mother recited by the announcer, I glanced around at the group of assorted derelicts. Anyone of them might have been the missing youth. I wonder.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

THE MONEY ON THE WALL. "Excuse me for a minute, please," bustled out of her parlor to get the rent money. "Just sit down! Sit down!" said Daddy Cracknuts, hospitably motioning the visitors toward chairs with his hand. Mister Tingalling, the fairy landlord, sat down in the green plush chair, and Nick sat down in the red plush chair, and Nancy sat down in the blue plush chair. Daddy himself sat down in his old easy chair and filled his pipe. "I'm sorry I can't afford to paper the dining room this year for Mrs. Cracknuts," apologized the fairyman. "I'm sorry if it's all brown in spots from the maple syrup that has soaked through the walls. But that's the trouble with maple-free apartments—especially in the spring." "Yes, I know," nodded Daddy Cracknuts. "But don't worry, sir! Women are too fussy. It doesn't bother me one bit what kind of paper is on the walls of the dining room. The only thing that worries me is the kind of food that is on the table of the dining room." And the squirrel gentleman laughed and laughed at his own joke. Mister Tingalling looked at his watch uneasily. Time was going and there was no sign of Mrs. Cracknuts returning. Could it be that she could not find the dollar for the rent money? But just then it rushed that lady herself. "Oh, dear! Oh, dear me! Cracious, goodness, mercy on us, land alive!" she cried. "Somebody has done something dreadful! Just come and see! It's right out in the dining room. Oh, dear me!" Out rushed Mister Tingalling and at his heels were Nancy and Nick and Daddy Cracknuts. "Look!" cried Mrs. Cracknuts. "Look! Someone has pasted my dollar bill right onto the wall paper and I can't get it off." What she said was true. There on a dollar bill in fairy money was pasted on the wall paper. Mister Tingalling looked as though he'd hit his crazy bone or lost a diamond ring, or was going to have a tooth pulled or something. How was he ever to get his rent money now? But Nick had an idea. "I'll take my knife and get it off," he said. "I can scrape it off." "But you'll ruin the wall," cried Mrs. Cracknuts. "You'll have to cut a great big piece right out of the wall paper! And that would look horrible. I never could live in a house that had a big piece cut out of the wall paper!" Mister Tingalling looked at his rent money, then he said, "Go ahead Nick. Scrape off the bill, and I'll see that Mrs. Cracknuts gets new paper put on her dining room this spring." Nick got the money off and Mister Tingalling put it into his big pocket-book, and Nancy wrote out a receipt for the money and handed it to Mrs. Cracknuts, who was fairly dancing with joy over the good news. Everybody said good-bye and then Mister Tingalling and the Twins went down in the elevator. "It must have been the bad little goblin or the Gzozokumms who played that trick," said the fairyman thoughtfully. "Yes, it must be," said Nancy and Nick. At that very minute Mrs. Cracknuts was laughing to herself as she carefully put away a bottle of glue. "What Daddy doesn't know, won't hurt him," she chuckled. "But there are more ways than one of getting what you want in the world." To Be Continued

FOR Acid Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia of Magnesia. Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly. BETTER THAN SODA. For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda. INSIST UPON "PHILLIPS". REGRET PASSING OF REV. J. J. PINKERTON

Word of the death of Rev. J. J. Pinkerton, pastor of the Fairville United church yesterday, brought great sorrow to many friends throughout the province.

The Board record its irreparable loss in the passing of their late minister, Rev. John J. Pinkerton from the church militant to the church triumphant after a brief pastorate of only a year in which time he had endeavored to the community in general and that the remembrance of his life and service and the affectionate regard of his people be duly inscribed on the minutes of the Board and that the heart-felt sympathy of the Board in this great hour of affliction be conveyed to Mrs. Pinkerton and the members of the bereaved family.

PARIS, April 20—Preliminary agreement for funding the $420,000,000 French debt to the United States has been reached by the French Ambassador, Henry Berenger, and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon.

While Briand was reporting progress toward debt funding, the franc slumped to a new low record for all time on the local bourse, where it would

Life In Slovakian Villages Described By Miss T. Burns Before St. John's Senior W. A.

Conditions in Carpathian Mountains During the Two Years Following the War Graphically Told About by Lady Who Did Relief Work There

WHAT LIFE was like in the Slovakian villages in the Carpathian Mountains during the two years after the world war was vividly described by Miss T. Burns in an address of fascinating interest delivered before the Senior W. A. of St. John's (Stone) church yesterday afternoon.

Miss Burns is the granddaughter of Rev. Dr. I. Burns, the eminent Scottish divine, and her father was a professor at Cambridge in England, where her home is. During the war she was in the secret service department and did a most valuable work for her country.

It was her success in this department which attracted the attention of Lady Muriel Paget, who called upon Miss Burns to be one of her organizers, when Lady Muriel accepted the task of organizing relief work in Czechoslovakia.

Her success in this department was such that she was able to secure a grant of 30,000 francs compared to Monday's closing quotation of 29.70.

Today was the fifth consecutive business day in which the franc has established a new low record. The record-smashing slump began Thursday.

TERMS KEPT SECRET. The cabinet's debt discussion and decision were not made public, out of deference to Finance Minister Peret, who was detained in the Senate. It was understood that Berenger and

In Parliament Today

OTTAWA, Ont., April 20—The budget debate will be resumed in the House today.

Yesterday a resolution of Mr. Woodsworth, asking for the securing of all natural resources for the people of Canada, was withdrawn, after considerable debate. A resolution of Milton Campbell, Progressive, Mackenzie, advocating a reduction of grain rates on the National Transportation Act was debated and an amendment moved by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver Centre, stating that British Columbia should receive similar reduction in freight moving west. Hon. C. A. Denning took the stand that the railway commission was already considering the question and parliamentary interference could do no good at this time. Debate on the motion finally adjourned just before midnight by 130s MacMillan, Liberal, Huron South.

Marks the beginning of a new Era in Motor Lubrication

TODAY you are offered a new and entirely different lubricating oil for your motor -- MARVELUBE MOTOR OIL.

Here is a lubricant made by an entirely new process from Peruvian Crude Oil -- the world's finest crude oil.

Four years of research, of rigid tests and comparisons in laboratory and on the road, have proved Marvelube superior in every respect to any other motor oil ever produced.

Marvelube surpasses all the old standards that have, for so long, stood as the measure of lubricating value -- sets new standards all its own. Outstanding among these is its proven ability to successfully combat carbon deposits in your motor.

It is made in six grades, including Marvelube "P" for Fords, to lubricate properly every make and model of automobile, motor truck, tractor, motorcycle and motor boat.

Marvelube is now on sale at Imperial Oil stations and by good dealers everywhere in Canada.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

The first step in creating Marvelube was securing exclusive Canadian rights to a grade of Peruvian Crude Oil which contains so little carbon and which requires so little maintenance and low temperature that ordinary vacuum is all that is needed here for lubricating all in the world. Imperial Oil Limited is the sole agent of Peruvian Crude Oil.

After four years of diligent scientific investigation consisting of thousands of experiments, both chemical and mechanical, the Marvelube process has been developed. By this special process it was found that when Peruvian Crude Oil could be refined into a motor oil that would successfully combat carbon in the modern automobile engine.

The final development and perfection of the Marvelube process marked the triumph of lubricating oil refining science over carbon. No other oil company can produce a motor oil that so successfully combats carbon as Marvelube, because Imperial Oil Limited alone has the Peruvian Crude Oil and is sole owner and operator of the new process by which it is refined.

Today Marvelube, the new process motor oil, is the only oil that will successfully combat carbon in your motor. It is on sale at every Imperial Oil station and good dealers everywhere in Canada.

WILL HOLD SEVERAL PUBLIC GATHERINGS

High Tribute Paid to Work
of Mrs. D. V. White, Secretary

At its quarterly meeting in the Board of Trade rooms last night the Saint John branch of the League of Nations Society of Canada formally adopted a constitution and by-laws as provided by the national organization and stated its objects as to promote international peace; to furnish information about the League of Nations, its principles, its organization and its work; to study international problems and Canada's relation thereto as a member of the British Commonwealth and of the League of Nations; to foster mutual understanding, goodwill and the habits of co-operation between the people of Canada and of other countries and to promote the establishment of provincial and local associations, clubs and other bodies having like objects and to co-operate with any existing organizations for such purposes. The branch is to be responsible for holding public meetings under the auspices of the society; for the increase of the society's membership and for arranging with existing organizations to include in their program addresses by speakers on subjects relative to the League of Nations. Rev. J. S. Bonnell, the president, was in the chair and the meeting was largely attended. Miss F. P. Alward in her treasurer's statement showed that the branch had no outstanding bills and a balance on the right side. Mrs. D. V. White, secretary, gave a short, comprehensive and most enlightening address on the League of Nations, telling of how it was formed; what its objects were; what it had accomplished; and what were the provisions of the Geneva protocol and of the Locarno pact. Mr. Bonnell paid a high tribute to Mrs. White for her work and for her wide understanding of the principles and ideals of the League of Nations. He stated that there were few, if any, in the Maritime Provinces who were better informed on these issues than Mrs. White and his remarks were heartily applauded by the meeting. Mr. Bonnell gave a short address, explaining the necessity for the League of Nations because of the failure of the old forms of secret diplomacy and the balance of power. He described the Agadir affair of 1911 which nearly plunged Europe in war at that time and which was engineered by secret diplomacy. He also gave a synopsis of Von Bernhardt's book, "Germany and the Next War."

COMMITTEES NAMED

Three committees were appointed at the meeting. Col. Alexander McMillan was chosen as convener of the lecture committee, with Mrs. D. V. White and Dr. James Manning as the other members. J. S. Flagler was chosen convener of the education committee, with Miss Alma Gale as additional member. Mrs. Heber Vroom was appointed convener of the membership committee of which other members are Miss F. P. Alward and A. H. Wetmore. Each member pledged himself or herself to do their utmost to bring in at least one more member by October. The present membership is more than 200 and it was learned that the Saint John branch is the strongest in the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Bonnell in expressing his appreciation referred to the pleasure his relationship with the young men of St. Andrew's had given him and thanked them not only for their gift but for their co-operation in church work in ushering, as sidemen and in other work. Last night's banquet was the closing event in the season of the club.

Club

A beautifully bound five volume set of Hastings' dictionary of the Bible was presented to Rev. J. S. Bonnell as a gift from the Young Men's Club of St. Andrew's kirk at a surprise banquet tendered last evening in the church rooms, when about 80 members of the club were present and the young ladies of the Excelsior Class of the church served an excellent supper. John J. Murray, president, was in the chair and for the sing song of popular airs Kenneth Wilson was the pianist. Vocal solos were also contributed by the members. Mr. Murray in his address as president expressed appreciation of the loyalty of the members and spoke of the splendid achievements of the club. The secretary, H. B. Rossiter, then

WILLING WORKERS.

The Willing Workers of the German street Baptist church held their closing meeting of the season yesterday afternoon, and the members were busy quilting and making the bags which will be used for the "sunshine money" during the summer time. There was some discussion regarding work to be taken up in the fall. Mrs. Donaldson Hunt, the president, was in the chair. A delicious supper was served and afterwards Miss Alice Estey gave a very interesting talk on her recent trip to San Diego. The conveners for the supper were Miss Alice R. Estey and Mrs. Thurston.

This engine died twenty thousand miles too soon!

HERE IS AN AUTOMOBILE ENGINE. Its days of usefulness are over. Yet it is only a young engine and it bears a proud and famous name. It should be at the height of its power. It should be purring sweetly on the highway. It should be laughing at the hills. But it is scrapped! Poor oil has made its fine mechanism a valueless pile of junk.

Know that your motor is lubricated -- not merely oiled. Get 1000 miles of super-lubrication without changing the oil in your crankcase. Buy Loilol—real loyal Oil—the Only oil on this market entirely refined from pure Pennsylvania crude... which oil men know as "the highest grade oil in the world"

Super-Lubricating Qualities must be inherent in the crude if you are to find them, in the refined oil. That is why oil refined from 100 p. c. pure Pennsylvania is different. Nature made it of different materials. Nature gave it the greatest ability to withstand heat, wear and dilution without breaking down. It is so good that—under normal conditions—you need change it only each 1,000 miles. Many motorists get greater mileage. Of course, the oil level must be maintained. There isn't enough Pennsylvania oil to supply everyone. But there are discriminating motorists in this country who love a smooth-running motor—who know that repair bills mean an abused machine, as well as an abused pocketbook. For their protection the producers, refiners and marketers of Pennsylvania oil have created the Pennsylvania emblem shown above. All oil marketed under it is guaranteed to be refined from 100

p. c. Pennsylvania crude. The only oil marketed in the Maritimes on that basis is LOILOIL.

Pennsylvania is not the name of a brand, but of a superior grade (or kind) of crude oil, found only in the Appalachian Field. Find the man near you who displays the Pennsylvania emblem. Then drain your crankcase and fill it with LOILOIL. You won't have to drain it again for 1,000 miles—and if your motor is in good condition at the start, this will be the sweetest thousand miles you've ever driven!

REDUCTION IN N. T. R. RATES TO MARITIMES IS REQUESTED

Progressive Member for Mackenzie Declares Existing Charges From Armstrong Work Injustice to Great Industry

FLEMMING URGES SOUND POLICY

Quotes Agreement Entered into Construction of System and Urges its Fulfillment in Carrying Grain to Seaboard and St. Lawrence

OTTAWA, April 19.—The Minister of Railways, Hon. C. A. Dunning, expressed willingness to have the subject of freight reductions on the N. T. R. referred to the House Railway committee but did not think there was much to be gained by such a compassing on the matter while it was under review by the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada. Finally, debate was adjourned just before midnight by Thomas McMillan, Liberal member for South Huron, Ont. It is not likely that the House will get round to the motion again this session, unless it is given precedence by common consent.

OTTAWA, April 19.—A motion that "freight rate discriminations against the port of Quebec should be removed and grain should be transported over this particular route on the same mileage basis as that applying from prairie points to the head of the lakes" came up for discussion in the House of Commons today. It was introduced by M. B. Campbell (Progressive, Mackenzie). The resolution submits that the Transcontinental Railway was built for the purpose of providing the shortest possible route to the sea for the benefit of the Prairies as well as to develop the ports of Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. The fulfillment of this purpose has been prevented by "the imposition of exorbitant and unjustifiable freight rates," says the motion.

Mr. Campbell declared that the prevailing rates from Armstrong, north of Port Arthur, and Port Arthur, to the port of Quebec, were working an injustice to one of Canada's greatest industries. He believed that the rates from Armstrong to Quebec on grain would be 11 cents. Under present conditions the only time the grain was shipped through to Quebec was at the close of navigation or when congestion existed at the head of the lakes.

WOULD HAVE SAVED MUCH
In 1921, if an equitable rate of 11 cents had been in use from Armstrong to Quebec, western farmers would have saved approximately $7,000,000. In 1922 they would have saved about $9,000,000.

The question had often been asked, said Mr. Campbell, whether present grain rates paid a profit to railways. In his opinion, there was no doubt in

AVOIDS DUPLICATION

On behalf of the government Mr. Dunning said that there was no objection to referring the whole matter to a committee except that there would be a duplication of the work already under way in the railway commission offices. He reviewed the factors which entered into grain routing and pointed out that the shippers were influenced by many considerations in routing their grain.

A difference of six-pence a ton in the cost of shipping via one route as compared with another would influence the routing, and this cost was compounded of three or four factors which could not be controlled directly by railway heads. Dealing with the suggestion that Canadian products were being allowed to go without a struggle through United States Atlantic ports, Mr. Dunning said:

DENIES LACKED ZEAL

The minister of railways, however, denied that there was any lack of zeal on the part of the government railways in getting traffic for the Canadian route. He chided sharply with C. H. Cahon, Conservative member for St. Lawrence-St. George on the subject. He had understood Mr. Cahon to say, earlier in the debate that Sir Henry Thornton was using his influence to route freight over United States connections of the Canadian National to United States ports.

Mr. Cahon denied that he had made that suggestion or that he had quoted anybody as saying so. He had heard the suggestion made in the House and what he meant to say was that Sir Henry was not using his influence as president of the Canadian National Railways to get the largest amount of traffic over Canadian lines to Canadian ports.

It is percolating into even my dull brain that that is part of what he meant to say, replied Mr. Dunning. "But he also said a great deal more."

CATTLE TRADE HELD UP

No considerable cattle trade could be built up under the prevailing traffic. If the rate were made equitable, grain could be shipped through these Canadian ports to a large extent and utilization could be made of the facilities for handling cattle at Quebec.

FLEMMING SPEAKS

J. K. Flemming (Conservative, Carleton-Victoria), said that the question was one of national importance which would be considered with a view to establishing a sound, sane, Canadian policy. He referred briefly to the conditions which had led up to the building of the various railway systems in Canada.

Mr. Flemming quoted the agreement entered into by the railways at the time the Transcontinental was built. It imposed an obligation to bring the grain of the west to eastern Canadian ports and also to provide steamship service for its export, he said. That obligation was as binding upon the Canadian Government as operator of the Canadian National Railways, as it was then upon the Grand Trunk Pacific. There had been a "material failure" to carry out this obligation.

RATES PROHIBITIVE

The Canadian National lines had never carried this business over this route and never would because the freight rates were prohibitive. He would prefer to use the word "prohibitive" in the resolution rather than the term "exorbitant and unjustifiable" used in the resolution. Otherwise, he agreed with Mr. Campbell in his remarks about the freight rates.

QUOTES FROM RESOLUTION

Charles Marcell (Liberal, Bonaventure) quoted from a resolution passed by the Quebec City Council and reports of the Senate and Quebec Harbor Board which, he declared, furnished convincing evidence of the outstanding importance of the matter. While Canada's relations with the United States were friendly, it was essential that the interests of the Dominion and Canadian citizens should be given first consideration. The eastern ports, Quebec, Saint John and Halifax, should be properly developed. This was due to the people of Eastern Canada, and would fulfill the dream of those in-

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Stratford, Ontario.—"After my first baby was born I started to work on the twelfth day. Being so young (I was married at 19) I did not know what was the matter, so let it go until I was all run-down, weak and nervous, and had a bad displacement. For nearly two years I could not sleep and I would always complain of having 'nausea' or a 'head-ache' or a 'brain-ache.' My mother is taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during the Change of Life and she recommended it to me. After taking two bottles I began to get a little sleep and to feel better and I have never left off since then, except for about three months. I can safely say I have taken thirty bottles since my second baby was born. I think it makes child-birth easier as I had terrible pains with my first three children and very few with my fourth as I was so much stronger. I am now able to do my work alone, but I am still taking the Vegetable Compound as I am nursing baby."—Mrs. OMER PAUL, 49 Cherry Street, Stratford, Ontario.

Face Badly Broken Out With Pimples Cuticura Healed

"My face was so badly broken out with pimples that it was actually disfigured. They first started with a few blackheads on the sides of my face, and feasted. The pimples spread to my forehead, chin and neck. They itched and burned so that I could hardly rest. They looked so badly that I was ashamed to be seen in public. The trouble lasted about three years."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some. I used about two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and four cakes of Soap and was healed." (Signed) Mrs. John Kelly, R. 3, Bay City, Mich., Nov. 5, 1925.

CROSSES SWORDS AGAIN

Mr. Dunning crossed swords again with Mr. Cahon later on. The Minister of Railways was emphasizing the influence which market, weather and navigation conditions had on the routing of grain and added: "So far as I am concerned, I am both a C. P. R. man and a C. N. R. man."

UNFAIR INTERFERENCE

Mr. Dunning interjected: "Possibly more Canadian Pacific than Canadian National just now."

Easy To Gain Weight With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast With Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

Thin, run-down and underweight, men, women and children can now improve their health, increase their energy and regain normal weight in a surprisingly short time.

A new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until we perfected "Ironized Yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the proportions that build weight.

Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are under weight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "Ironized Yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.

Sold by druggists, at $1.00 for a large 50-tablet package. Harold Ritchie & Co., Ltd., Toronto, Canada.

Morning Stock Letter
NEW YORK, April 20.—There were two developments that probably have caused a break in the market had it not been for stocks being over-sold. First was the reduction in operations by Hunt and the second was the information from Judge Gary that U. S. Steel would declare a stock dividend at some future date. The information of the latter was that business conditions did not justify a stock dividend in U. S. Steel at present.
However, when stocks did react somewhat, they met good support, coming from outside, from the shorts as a rule. So far as could be seen, trading yesterday did not establish any more definite trend in the market than the action of last week. For some time the price fluctuations have been narrow and rather the bears for the bulls are making any money. Whichever way the market breaks out of the trading trap, whether above its high level of last week or below its low level of several weeks, it will establish the immediate trend of prices. Just at the moment it seems quite likely that short covering will cause a rally. The trouble has been to play for a turn is to buy some of the leading stocks and stop them below their old lows, or buy some of the rails, such as So. Ry. and C. & O. Good Dust is being fairly well bought, and if the market continues to rally, it will sell considerably higher.

Brokers Opinions
NEW YORK, April 20.—Brook Maliner
"Purely speculative issues may well be left alone at present. We think the selling of stocks has been overdone, that resistance is gradually subsiding and that a moderate rally is due."
Clark Childs—"In railroads, stocks, oils and copper the discriminating buying may find some bargains that may not be duplicated after the expected spring business gain starts."
Hornblower—"Professional selling expeditions fail to bring out liquidation and the tendency to rally is becoming more pronounced. Meanwhile, speculative indications are not likely to prevail much longer. Today's market action could seem likely to finish something decisive in the way of price movements and ability to rally through the highs of last Thursday would signal the beginning of a sharp covering move, a development we anticipate before mid-week."

MILES SETS NEW RECORD WINNING MARATHON RACE

Runner From Sydney Mines, N. S., Defeats Several Famous Stars

BOSTON, Mass., April 19.—A couple of thousand years ago an Athenian youth wounded at the Battle of Marathon rushed into the public square of Athens and shouting: "We are victors," fell dead.

WELL TRAINED
The careful training of his father, John W. Miles, a former boxer, played no small part in the victory. Miles ran with his head as well as his heels carefully husbanding his strength during the early stages of the twenty-five miles, yet never permitting himself to fall back into the pack.

PLENTY OF STAMINA
The stamina of the younger man lay deep in the muscles of his legs and in his chest which now laboring in his head set a dazzling pace in pursuit of Stenroos.

CANADIAN WINNERS
Canadian runners have always done well at Boston. The Marathon has been won by Canadians on the following occasions:

FIRST DOZEN LEADERS
The first 12 runners to finish were: 1—John C. Miles, Sydney Mines, N. S., 2:35:40.2 (new world record); 2—Albin Stenroos, Finland, 2:39:40.

Familiar Figures Back In Spotlight

Johnny Miles' father is a miner and at one time was manager of Jubilee pit at Sydney Mines. The Marathon champion works for the British Canadian Co-operative Company in his home town.

HOME TOWN REJOICES.
SYDNEY MINES, N.S., April 19.—While the milling crowds that cheered Johnny Miles across the finish line ahead of all the rest in Boston's annual Marathon road race this afternoon, the outburst found its echo in this little mining town which claims the feat.

SAINT JOHN MEN TO CONVENTION IN VANCOUVER

Will Read Papers at Credit Men's Association Conference

THREE-DAY SESSION TO BE HELD IN JULY

Subject of Course To Be Pursued With Expansion of Trade

Saint John delegates to the first convention of the Credit Men of Canada, to be held in Vancouver, July 12, 13, 14, will leave here on Saturday, July 8, and will be joined by delegates from Canadian points as they proceed. The convention is to be held under the auspices of the Canadian Credit Men's Association. In addition to the managers of the provincial branches there will be credit men for wholesale houses and manufacturing concerns.

MATTER OF CREDIT

There is a general consensus of reliable opinion, it was said today, that Canada is facing a new area of expansion. Henry Ditchon, general manager of the association has stated that experience has shown that such period holds dangerous possibilities in uncontrolled business enthusiasm and extensive granting of credit. Business conditions were changing and were charged with problems of vital interest to the national trade. The remedy to this situation was largely in the hands of the credit men of the Dominion.

Previous to the war it was customary for wholesalers in all lines of trade to extend long terms of credit, but for the last few years curtailment of credit had been the order of the day.

OBJECT OF CONFERENCE

Expansion was now in sight and credit men were asking what system they were going to adopt to prevent a repetition of what had happened during the last few years. It was with these thoughts in mind that the national convention had been planned to give credit men of the whole Dominion an opportunity to meet for the discussion and solution of credit problems.

The local office of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, in charge of Frank Whitley. The president of the N. B. division is A. L. Foster, of T. S. Sims & Company, Ltd., and the vice-president is W. C. Cross of Hall & Fairweather, Ltd.

WEATHER MAN BUT REPEATING TODAY

Snow Storms Also Came on April 20 in 1925 and 1924

That the quality of wintry weather was first class, but that the calendar perhaps was erroneous, was the jocular comment of Director Hutchinson of the Weather Bureau, in answer to a query from The Times-Star office at the height of the snowstorm this morning.

Mr. Hutchinson said that on this same date last year Saint John had three and a half inches of a snowfall, in spite of the mildness of the month as a whole and in the face of golf playing, baseball and other outdoor amusements which characterized the advanced season of the weather. More than that, in the spring of 1924—two years ago—there was an inch of a snowfall on April 19, and two inches on the 20th.

The wind today, though gusty betimes and driving ahead at 16 barries of snow, did not reach an average velocity of more than 24 miles. Its northwesterly direction made it snappy and in response the whole outdoor town moved with corresponding agility.

TAKEN TO COURT ON TWO THEFT CHARGES

J. J. Hanlon of U. S. Arrested Here and Some Evidence is Heard

John J. Hanlon, a resident of the United States, appeared before Magistrate Henderson in the Police Court here this morning on a charge of stealing a suit of clothes valued at $15, the property of Peter Dalley, from his room in the Hamilton hotel, on April 12; also with stealing a camera, field glasses and fountain pen, valued at $20.50, the property of Antan Malm, from his room in the Grand Central Hotel on April 12. Hanlon was not asked to plead and testimony was given by Dalley, who told of leaving his suit in a valise in his room in the hotel on the afternoon in question. On his return the suit was missing. He identified one produced in court by Detective Hiddescombe. He said he did not know the accused. Detective Hiddescombe told of finding the suit in a second hand shop in Mill street and of arresting the accused at the shop last night. The case was postponed until this afternoon.

OUT OF COMMISSION

The light on the Old Proprietor and whistling buoy is out of commission. It was announced this morning at the local office of the Marine and Fisheries Department. A new buoy is being made ready here and will replace the other as soon as the weather clears.

As Hiram Sees It

CLIFTON SPRINGS, N. B. (Special to The Times-Star) — I see the 'Times-Star' is wonderful in the first place. Well, sir, I'm bettin' on Tom Dyer — if Tom hadn't got rheumatism in his legs. He has a special garden of 'em — one too late. They got awful itchy at night. I spoke to the surface. Well, they took me down an' put what they call the 'blue light' on me. I've had the 'quartz light' on me chist — an' the X-ray an' 'fourscope' — an' now I've had the blue light. What I'm scared of is the red light — but maybe I'm dodging that. Well, sir — they was a show here last night in the gymnasium hall. It was a comedy, an' it was for the benefit of the Nurses' Association. Me an' another feller's wife had a fine time here fer fer in the present state of my health some of the jokes might make me faint. I stood it fine — an' so did the wimmen' folks — but I bet I wasn't a patch on them wimmen' ministrals made ready here and will replace the other as soon as the weather clears. —H.I.R.M.

MRS. CLEMENT A. RUTHERFORD DIES

Was Sister of A. W. Phillips and of Mrs. C. H. Jackson of Saint John

It was with regretful surprise the community today learned of the death of Mrs. Jennie Rutherford, widow of Clement A. Rutherford and sister of A. W. Phillips, treasurer of Imperial Theatre and of Mrs. Charles H. Jackson, Hospital street. She had been ill for about three months, a complication of ailments following an attack of pleurisy.

Mrs. Rutherford removed with her husband more than 14 years ago to New York and vicinity. Mrs. Rutherford engaged in business. Upon the death of her husband in that city, Mrs. Rutherford brought the body home for interment and stayed on this side of the continent, living most of the time since in New York and vicinity.

Following the death of Charles H. Jackson, her brother-in-law, she returned to Saint John and had been living here ever since. Though not in robust health Mrs. Rutherford greatly enjoyed renewing old associations of family and friends and her happy, cheerful disposition made her a welcome guest in many homes.

Mrs. Rutherford's two children, an infant son and a grown daughter, died some years prior to her removal to Western Canada and in her death today the immediate family is entirely removed. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. G. M. Barker, Mrs. J. McCarthy, Joseph Finlay, and the late Mrs. T. S. Sims. She was a member of Germain street Baptist church, where Mr. Rutherford was for years an active member. The funeral of Mrs. Rutherford will be at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday from the residence of Mrs. Jackson, 7 Hospital street.
