

FIRST PRIVATE MEMBER MOTION BEFORE HOUSE

Its Passage Will Entail Amendment to the Dominion Elections Act.

MOTION AFFECTS THE FRANCHISE OF WOMEN

Enfranchisement of Foreign Born Women, Naturalized by Marriage, Point in Issue.

Ottawa, Mar. 29.—(Canadian Press)—The first private member's motion of the session was carried without division in the House today and will entail an amendment to the Dominion Elections Act affecting the franchise of women. The enfranchisement of the foreign-born women, naturalized by marriage to a Canadian, was practically settled at issue. Under a sub-section of the Act, as it stands, such a woman, unless born on the continent of North America, must obtain a certificate from a judge before she is entitled to vote.

Sought Expression of Opinion
Mr. D. Bales, Liberal of North West, led the discussion. As he had done in previous sessions, Mr. Bales sought an expression of opinion from the House that the sub-section should be struck from the Act. He claimed that it had disfranchised thousands of women born in France or Belgium in a position inferior to that of the Mexican or American, educated or uneducated, black or white. The sub-section, it was contended by Conservatives, was directed against women from Germany and Austria although Hon. Hugh Guthrie, former Solicitor-General, who piloted the Act through the House, admitted that the reasons for the clause which existed two or three years ago were not so strong.

Miss Agnes MacPhail entered the discussion. She held that women wanted equal rights under the franchise. Her remarks, to the amusement of the House, occasioned a reply from Mr. Mayor Church, of Toronto, who informed Miss MacPhail that she did not represent "all the women in this country." The Prime Minister indicated his approval of the resolution and announced that if it received also the approval of the House, the Government would introduce an amendment to the Dominion Elections Act. After nearly three hours' discussion, the House gave its approval. The best sign will be the submission of the Government amending bill.

After the war it was closed, the Federal Government asking the Provincial Government to take it off its hands. As the Provincial Government cannot afford to operate, what they call a white elephant institution, they presented claims for damages against the Federal Government for accepting the transfer of the property. ## THE SUPPORT OF INDEPENDENTS IS NECESSARY

TERMS CONSIDERED BY LIBERALS

Asquith to Press for Information on Agreements of the Boulogne Conference.

London, March 29.—The fate of the resolution of confidence, approving the actions of the recent meeting of the Supreme Council at Geneva, regarding the Genoa conference, which Premier Lloyd George will introduce in the House of Commons next Monday as a part of the British Government's programme at Genoa, seemingly depends, largely, on whether it will secure the support of the Independent Liberals and Laborites. It is not quite certain whether these groups will accept the programme, although it is considered they could hardly vote against the Genoa policy, and the resolution avoids the delicate question of confidence in Mr. Lloyd George as leader.

An informal meeting of the Liberal members of the House of Commons tonight, and tomorrow, Herbert H. Asquith will question J. Austen Chamberlain, the Government Leader in the Commons, as to whether any agreement was arrived at during the Boulogne Conference between Mr. Lloyd George and Poincaré, the French Premier, limiting the subjects to be discussed at Genoa. Judging from the way Mr. Chamberlain has replied to all such questions in the Commons today, declining to say anything in advance of the Premier's speech on Monday, it seems likely that Mr. Asquith's desire for information will remain unsatisfied.

THE RESOLUTION

The resolution which Mr. Lloyd George will personally introduce next Monday is as follows:

"Resolved, that this House approve the resolutions passed by the Supreme Council at Camps as a basis for the Genoa Conference, and that it will support His Majesty's Government in endeavoring to give effect to them.

There is still diversity of opinion whether the Genoa resolution, which Mr. Lloyd George yielded to Winston Spencer Churchill, the Colonial Secretary or vice versa, but it is noteworthy that the Genoa resolution, which Mr. Lloyd George will ask Parliament next Monday to endorse, makes recognition of Russia, dependent upon that country's acknowledgment of all public debts and obligations. It has been reported that Mr. Lloyd George has favored recognition of Russia on less onerous terms.

GOVT REFUSES TO BE MADE CAT'S PAW FOR MINERS

Will Not Name Royal Commission to Investigate Troubles in N. S. Coal Fields.

McLACHLAN PROVES STUMBLING BLOCK

His Attitude Places Premium on Methods Prejudicial to the Public Interest.

Ottawa, March 29.—(Canadian Press)—The Government will not appoint a Royal Commission to investigate the trouble existing between the British Empire Steel Corporation and the miners in the Nova Scotia coal fields. This decision was announced tonight by Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, and was in reply to representations made to the Government by miners' towns in the coal mining industry cutting the output of Parliament from the same districts. "Under all the circumstances, the Government has deemed it inadvisable to appoint a Royal Commission," Mr. Murdock stated. "It seems to be understood that in its decision the Government has been influenced by the attitude of Mr. MacLachlan, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, who has indicated his intention to insist on the employees in the coal mining industry cutting the output and doing as little work as possible for the wages paid. To grant a commission, in view of the declaration and attitude of Mr. MacLachlan, would, in the opinion of the Government, be placing a premium on the advocacy of methods most prejudicial to the public interest and unfair as respects relations between employer and employee.

"Press reports also indicate that the miners have resorted to force as to reasonable and consistent loyalty to the employer from other representatives of the employees, and have proposed that Mr. MacLachlan should be regarded as a dictator of the miners' policy, which policy, as outlined by Mr. MacLachlan, cannot in any measure be countenanced by the Government.

CORONER'S VERDICT AGAINST BENNY SWIM

Find He Fired the Shots That Caused Death of Harvey Trenholm and Wife.

Woodstock, N. B., March 29.—Coroner W. W. Hay held his court this afternoon to inquire into the circumstances of the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Trenholm, at 4.30 on Monday afternoon, at Benton Ridge, Carleton county. ## CHARGED WITH PLACING PARIS GREEN IN WELL

DAMAGING EVIDENCE FROM SERVANT

Montreal, March 29.—At the opening here, today, of the trial of Fleuthere Morin, formerly Assistant Professor of Languages at McGill University, charged with having poisoned with Paris green the well at the country residence of Dr. Herman Walter, Professor of Languages at McGill, the outstanding evidence was that furnished by Marianne Ange Morin, namesake of the accused, employed as servant in Professor Morin's summer camp at L'Islet County in August, 1920. She stated that she had heard the Professor say "we have put some poison in the well, but who saw us? No one saw us. There were some big raspberry bushes there and nobody saw us." She identified Professor Morin in court as the man who had said these words, but was unable to state to whom they had been addressed.

RECEIVED THREATS

Dr. Walter took the stand in the morning and afternoon sessions of the court, and stated that he had suffered incessant persecution and anonymous threats, and that his dogs had been poisoned and his fruit trees cut with a knife with a view to killing them. He was cross-examined by Gustave Desaulniers, counsel for the defence, who ascertained that he was of German parentage and born in Switzerland where he had been naturalized. Later he had been naturalized as a British subject in England.

THE FAR FAMED SHRINE ST. ANNE MASS OF RUINS

Fire Caused Monetary Loss Estimated at $1,200,000 With Insurance of $500,000.

MIRACULOUS STATUE OF ST. ANNE SAVED

In Charred and Smoking Ruins of Majestic Cathedral Priceless Objects Are Buried.

Quebec, March 29.—(Canadian Press)—As a result of the fire which broke out this morning at St. Anne de Beauspre, only the gaunt ruins of the majestic cathedral which marked the site of the far-famed shrine, where pious pilgrims were worshipped for more than three centuries, are left standing, while the sacristy, the monastery and the college are also a mass of desolate debris. The monetary loss involved is estimated at $1,200,000, while the insurance carried will probably reach the sum of $500,000. Although no definite plans have yet been announced by the Redemptorist Fathers, it was stated that, as soon as possible, work would be started to rebuild the venerable pile and it was said that it would be constructed on a larger and even more imposing scale than the building which has just been destroyed. This afternoon all that remained standing in the facade, surrounded by the large statue of St. Anne, and the walls on the south side of the church.

PRICELESS ARTICLES BURIED

In the charred and smoking ruins there are buried priceless objects, including the main altar, a magnificent work of white marble and brass, as well as exquisite carving, representing the "Last Supper"; the communion railing, the Bishop's throne, the pulpit, and the chancel stalls, the rich stained glass windows, a magnificent organ, which was one of the best on the continent. When the fire had attacked the church, the Blessed Sacrament was taken from the pile by Rev. Father Phinlay, C. S. S. R., while the parishioners worked to save all the treasures they could.

STATUE SAVED

The miraculous statue of St. Anne, known as the shrine, which stood at the extremity of the middle aisle near the communion rail, was saved. It was at the foot of this statue that the pilgrims kneel and "renew" the relic, and when cured left their crutches. The pedestal upon which the statue stands is a very rich piece of art, uniting in harmony several different kinds of marble, and was the gift of a New York lady. The miraculous statue was a magnificent family, whose son was a member of the Redemptorist community at Beauspre. Another priceless art relic which was saved was an oil painting by Lebrun, which was presented to the shrine in August, 1666, by Marquis de Tracy. Most of the jewels and statuary were also saved. The precious jewels were also taken out in time, while the relics were safely deposited in the vaults.

THE MARITIME AMATEUR WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIPS

Two Exhibition Boxing Bouts Put on—Honors for Grapplers Went to Joe Landry of St. Mary's; Halifax.

THE MARITIME CHAMPIONS

- 158 lbs. Joe Landry, St. Mary's Rowing Club, Halifax.
- 145 lbs. Cyril Bedford, St. George's A. C. (Last year's champion).
- 135 lbs. Maynard McLean, Y. M. C. A. (Last year's champion).
- 125 lbs. Kenneth Connors, St. Jude's.
- 115 lbs. Peter Murray, Y. M. C. A. (Last year's 108 champion).
- 108 lbs. Wilbur Furze, G. A. C.

Some five hundred wrestling fans witnessed the deciding of the 1922 Maritime Amateur Wrestling Championship titles in a series of clever bouts staged under the auspices of St. George's Athletic Club in the former City Hall, West St. John, last evening.

The crowd was a most orderly one and the officials handled the meet in a thoroughly efficient manner, so that everything went off like clock-work. A number of clever grapplers demonstrated their ability at the science of the mat, and were warmly applauded. In addition to the wrestling two exhibition boxing matches were watched with interest and pleasure.

The honors of the evening went to the only outside entry, that of Joe Landry, in the 158-lbs. class, who represented St. Mary's Rowing Club of Halifax. In addition to winning the title in his class, Landry was awarded the silver cup donated by Edward Sears, for the best all-round exhibition of the evening.

The Finals

Landry won his final bout from C. A. Earle of the Garrison Athletic Club. Earle secured the first hold, and the pair went to the mat with Earle on top. After working over his opponent for about two minutes, Landry suddenly wiggled out, and seizing his opportunity pinned Earle's shoulders to the mat as quick as a flash.

C. Bedford, St. George's and E. Spinney, Y. M. C. A. met in the final of the 145-lbs. weight. Spinney secured his hold and the two went to the mat with Spinney on top. After five minutes Spinney managed to work the business and punished Spinney severely.

It looked like his finish but he worked clear and at the end of the match he secured a draw.

One judge declared a draw, the other for Spinney, and the referee ordered two minutes. Bedford secured a half Nelson and was the upper man throughout, though neither went to the mat. The judges awarded the decision to Bedford, but this did not meet with the approval of either the referee or the fans and a further two minutes was ordered. Bedford again maintained the upper position though neither was able to secure a fall, and the referee gave Bedford the victor's slip.

The 135-lb. final was one of the keenest events of the evening. Price of the G. A. C. after some five minutes fainting sent McLean, Y. M. C. A. to the mat in a clever attack, but failed to make it a fall. The two went to their feet again, and grappled until the fall Nelson and victory seemed his, when McLean broke the hold, and in some quick work, pinned Price's blades to the canvas, winning in 9 minutes, after a hard struggle.

The 125-lb. final between Kenneth Connors of St. Jude's and Worden Gray, Y. M. C. A. was closely followed. The first few minutes of the bout passed with both men circling round each other hunting for an opening. They blooded and went to the floor together. Connors worked to the upper position and placed a headlock on his opponent, he was unable to follow up, and after 9 minutes the referee stepped in and the fight was called a draw.

The final of the 115-lb. class was between L. Donovan, an city champion in the 115-lb. class and Frank Jarvis, of St. George's A. C. The boys were obliged to box on the wrestling mat and were therefore at a disadvantage. Donovan was much the more aggressive of the two, but the number of wild swings he made detracted from his exhibition. Jarvis though new in the ring showed ITB gameness throughout.

The second boxing bout of the evening was that between the Provincial Champion, Alfonso Hogan, of St. George's, and Cyril Bedford. Hogan's exhibition was much admired, as he seemed able to hit his opponent three or four times and get away without a return, whenever he wished. He continued almost all of his hitting to his left, but showed himself both fast and shifty. Dr. McCarthy refereed the bout.

At the conclusion of the evening's bouts, Commissioner Jones on behalf of the mayor presented medals to the champions and runners-up in each weight, as follows:

135 lbs class—1st, M. McLean; 2nd,

Edmonton Athletes Have Organized

Edmonton, Alta., March 29—Organization of all Edmonton track and field athletes is now under way for the coming season, and leaders in this branch of athletics hope to see the local boys make a strong bid for premier honors at the Dominion championships, billed for Calgary during the summer. The training of the track and field men will be under the jurisdiction of the South Side Athletic Club, and all clubs and organizations in the city have expressed their willingness to co-operate. With a central organization to look after the training, athletes who are not affiliated with any club will have a chance to get the benefit of the best training and coaching. Jack Buchanan, known throughout the Dominion as an authority on track and field work, will act as trainer and coach.

"Specialization" will be the keynote to the training this season. All the boys will work along specializing lines. During the first few training spells a general limbering up process will be followed and after this each man will gradually work himself into the events for which he is best fitted. Previous to the holding of the Dominion championships at Calgary the provincial championships will be held in this city, thus giving the local boys a double incentive to prepare and an opportunity to try out their full strength prior to the big event.

Team Representing Montreal Bankers' League Lost to Toronto Sharpshooters, 9 to 5.

Toronto, March 29—The Montreal Bank, representing the Montreal Bankers' League, put up a plucky battle against the Dominion holders of the Canadian championship, in the first of the Bogert Cup final games here tonight, but the Toronto sharpshooters had the advantage and won by 9 to 5.

The game, which was witnessed by a small crowd, was a much better exhibition of hockey than either of the games with the Royals, of Winnipeg.

Ten Police Flivvers Race About N. Y. In Night Bandit Hunt

New York, March 29—The Police Department made another move last night in its effort to catch some of the bandits and burglars who have been reaping such a rich harvest in New York in the last few months, by putting ten Ford runabouts in service at four precincts for patrol purposes.

In addition to these several five seated touring cars will be placed on duty this morning, each manned by a sergeant and a detail of policemen. The cars will tour various districts, paying particular attention to jewelry, loft and other business sections where bandits have been operating.

The runabouts were put in service at 6 o'clock at the West Thirtieth and the West 162d streets, the Arsenal stations, New York, and the Prospect station in Brooklyn. Each car is manned by a sergeant and a patrolman, the latter as chauffeur. The machines began at once to tour the precincts. The sergeant will watch for suspicious persons and suspicious automobiles, and efforts will be made to detain the former and catch the latter, although there was not much optimism in the department last night regarding the ability of the runabouts to catch the high powered machines usually used by the bandits.

The police hope, however, the bandits may be deterred by the fact that flivver runabouts are clattering about the streets with a sergeant and a patrolman in them, and they hope for even better results when the larger cars go on duty today. Within the next few days other products will be furnished with the patrolling run-

Schaefer Retained Balkline Title

Chicago, March 29—Jack Schaefer, tonight retained his world's 15.2 balkline billiard championship and by steady work he defeated Willie Hoppe by the narrow margin of 32 points. He ended the third and final block of play with 1,500 points to the former champion's 1,468.

The Brooklyn police let it be known last night there have been good results so far from the system of surveillance which was put into effect about a month ago, such good results that in the last four weeks there have been 300 patrolmen and officers have been up on charges in Brooklyn Headquarters. Sixty-five of these cases were tried yesterday by Deputy Commissioner John A. Daly, but as in the other cases, decision were reserved.

Under this system sergeants go forth each night and during the day to watch the patrolmen, the lieutenants go forth to watch the sergeants and the captains go out to watch the lieutenants. The inspector has plain clothes men out watching the whole lot, and from headquarters go other details to watch the watchers, and so on. But as a result of the system many patrolmen have been caught sitting down or smoking or eating when on duty, or talking too long with each other, and they have been brought up on charges.

ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1922.

"IT WON'T DO."

The personal organ of the bitter opponents of some of the Power Co. directors is trying desperately to disprove and get away from the fact that the Power Co. can distribute the Musquash power cheaper than the city can.

It is on record that Messrs. Kirby and Phillips show that the Power Co. can distribute this power at 6.22 cents while it will cost the city 6.43 cents. If the city builds its own distribution system, no amount of wriggling or misrepresentation can get away from this fact.

This report also points out that in giving the citizens of St. John gas and street car service below cost, the Company may have to charge more for its lighting and power service, or get an average of 10.17 cents. This increase from 6.22 to 10.17 is however, not due to the necessity of "meeting" the Company's capital requirements; as The Telegraph states, but is due to the necessity of operating a gas plant and a street railway at a loss, both public services necessary to the community.

The Telegraph, to quote again says: "The current generated at public cost, as going to be sold to the consumer at cost," or in other words it will be sold at a higher rate than it could be if handled by the Power Co.

Judging from what the city is now trying to do as shown by the bill to be presented to the Legislature soon, it is proposed for force the Company to operate these losing services, and on their failure to do so, the city can seize the Company's property and confiscate it by process of law.

However, as pointed out by Messrs. Kirby and Phillips, their report is but a preliminary one. There has yet to be figured out—and a large staff is busy on the work—just what the Power Co. will be able to do in the way of lowering its present rates if it secures the distribution of the Musquash power and combines it with its present output.

To wait and see what this will be, or in other words to be even reasonably fair to the Power Co., would be beyond the scope of The Telegraph's authority in dealing with this matter; so that for that reason much must be forgiven its unfortunate pilot, who already has his sailing orders.

FOR IRELAND'S SAKE.

In the negotiation of the Anglo-Irish Treaty Winston Churchill proved himself able to understand and be understood by the Celtic nature. Now he is assigned to a task even more difficult—the making of peace between Ulster and the South. Sir James Craig and "Mike" Collins, the leaders respectively of North and South, have agreed to parley with the British Government at a London conference.

Neither, it is obvious, is in the most amiable mood. Craig is indignant over the guerrilla raids on the border; Collins is enraged by the treatment of the people of his race who live in Ulster.

And yet these two leaders, with the British Government as a highly interested third party, must be brought into agreement or the situation in Ireland will be desperate. In the North there is not only bloodshed but a bitterness which grows more intense day by day. In the South the Free State Government finds itself weakened by the Ulster crisis at the very time when it needs all its strength to stand off the irreconcilable Republicans. Peace in Ireland would take away most of the force of the De Valera movement. Perhaps neither Craig nor Collins is able to bring about the needed truce; perhaps to gather they cannot turn the trick. But if Craig and Collins and the British Government unite on a plan it ought to succeed.

AN AMAZING PROPOSITION.

The average man who reads the provisions of the bill designed to permit the city to take over and operate if necessary such portions of the Power Company's system as the City Council may feel inclined, will probably be in doubt which to admire most, the colossal nerve of those who suggested its provisions, or their sangquinity in supposing such a bill would ever "get by" the Legislature. It lacks even the rudiments of common fairness.

Under this bill, in the event of the city going into the light and power business and taking the sale and distribution of these commodities out of the hands of the Power Company, if the latter finds itself unable to continue to supply a street railway and gas service except upon such costly terms as will practically kill the business, or if the Musquash current shall prove inadequate to supply the requirements of consumers, the city may come in and seize such parts of the Company's plant as are necessary to operate all or any of these services, and carry them on. If the revenue produced is not sufficient to pay the cost of operation, the deficiency may be made up from the general revenue of the city, and to recover the city for this charge upon the taxes, the Council may sell all or part of the Company's plant and system, and any money left over after discharging the amount due to the city and all costs and everything else connected with the transaction, may be paid to the parties entitled thereto. The methods of the old-time highwayman were mild and crude compared with this kind of procedure.

If this bill should be passed, in case the civic supply of light and power should fall down at any time, the Power Company must be prepared to jump into the breach without notice; or if the railway and gas services can only be supplied at such prices as makes them unprofitable, the city may take the Company's property and use it for such period as may be desired and then sell it to recoup any losses there may have been. The Company is offered the choice of carrying on its services at a loss, or having its property seized; if the city carries these services on and makes a loss, it may sell the Company's property to recoup it. The city may make a loss and sell the property to get it back; the Company must make the loss and put up with it.

We would not envy the task of the learned counsel who undertook to convince a Court of Equity of the fairness of such a course as this bill is designed to permit.

SUBSTITUTES FOR COAL.

The coming coal strike in both the hard and the soft coal fields should again direct public attention to the possibilities of water power development, says a New England contemporary, adding that "States that have considerable natural resources for the development of electric power should not go to sleep in regard to this question. The Massachusetts Legislature has evidently lost sight entirely of the subject. A few years ago it was being agitated; today there is nothing doing."

Governor Miller of New York has just filed a memorandum accompanying his signature of a bill which amends the Water Power Act passed last year by increasing the power of the State to regulate rates and service and the use and distribution of power developed under a license. New York has been more alive to this question of water power development than any of the New England States, yet New England is constantly complaining because of the handicaps from which it suffers in industrial competition with the other sections of the country.

Governor Miller indorses private enterprise and desires that it be given every possible opportunity to succeed, and as our contemporary says, "the urgency of the question is not exaggerated by Governor Miller. Every coal strike—and the strikes recur periodically—reminds us that the people of New England are now more dependent than they need to be upon fuel brought from other parts of the United States. The baffling coal problem passes from one stage to another and each stage seems to be worse than the preceding one."

Coal speculation and profiteering have been carried to abominable lengths and most home owners, public utilities and industries have been "bled" alike. The truth is that after 15 years of explanation and defense of their trade practices and system of organization, nothing said by the big units in the coal industry can be believed by the public without being subjected to the most expert critical examination. This holds true of all branches of the trade—production, marketing, profits, railroad relationships and dealings with labor.

Last Thursday Premier Foster moved that the time for the introduction of private bills be extended till the 30th inst., after which date no other bills would be received. Last night he announced his intention of moving next Wednesday to suspend the rules to enable a bill relating to the N. B. Power Company to be brought in. What can be expected of a Government, the leader of which doesn't even respect his own decisions.

The Globe's reference to our suggestion that Mr. Richards should be approached with regard to giving up his seat to Mr. Palmer, indicates that it doesn't appreciate either when it says it.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Practical Economy at Ottawa.
(London Free Press.)
A practical step towards real economy was taken at Ottawa by the Board of Government when it appointed an editorial committee on government publications. Up to the time of the appointment of this committee every department issued its own reports. There was apparently jealousy and rivalry between the various departments and officials to see what could issue the most reports and the most elaborately printed and illustrated. Thousands of copies of beautifully printed reports on the most abstruse subjects were circulated, few of which were ever read.

The editorial committee supervises today all reports, passes on their value, and decides as to how many copies will be issued. As a result the number of reports published has been reduced to a minimum. The editorial committee is headed by Fred Cook, an able and veteran newspaper man, in its few years experience is pleased at $1,338,364. This is a remarkable record of economy.

In 1916-17 there were 325,265 copies of blue books published, with 210,097,000 pages, costing $55,512,000. The number of reports published was 109,411, the number of printed pages 25,622,968, and the cost $88,918. This is real, practical economy.

It is a tribute to the Parliament of Canada that the Government of the United States should follow the Canadian example. The expenses of the printing office and the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington are upwards of $25,000,000 annually, the output of the Government printing office alone in 1920, reaching the record total of $12,876,382. In order to reduce the enormous printing expenditure and prevent waste, Mr. Charles G. Dwyer, director of the bureau of the budget, in September last called a meeting of Washington departmental representatives, with the result that a permanent committee is in close touch with the Washington conference with a view to the interchange of ideas and suggestions.

No Aircraft Co-operation.

(Mail and Empire.)
The abandonment of the British Government of its scheme of an Imperial aircraft establishment is imputed to indifference by the Dominions. Plans for having regular air routes, dirigible between Britain and the Dominions have been thoroughly developed by the British Air staff, but at present no real public need is regarded as economical. The disasters to the German, British and Italian dirigibles, the latest being the Roma, have convinced the public that operation of these huge gasbags is by no means safe or developed to a commercial standard. True, the British sent a dirigible across the Atlantic and back, but one swallow does not make a summer. Some day the dirigible will be proved to be the standard of the air, and quicker transit, joint backing by the Government of the Empire may be arranged. But is there any real public need for a three-day or two-day trip across the Atlantic, as compared with five? The cables carry important communications, and air travel is not so fast from Europe to America without a personal convenience hardly necessary to the transaction of any business. The British are in a position to get back to a safe and sound financial footing, and maintain only necessary defences and communications.

BY LEE PAPE

Me and Puds Blimkins was going around saying to the fellows, Hay, you got something on your nose, and when they said, West and put their hand up to find out, we said, Your fingers. Being a pretty good joke, and we started to try it on kids we never saw before, first Puds trying it on one and then me trying it on one. The one Puds tried it on being a kid with glasses but a fierce expression, Puds saying, Hay fello, you got something on your nose.

Wait! said the kid putting his hand up, and Puds said, Your fingers, and the kid said, Hay, don't you get lippy, for 2 pins I'd punch you in the smoot, if it wasn't for these glasses I'd do it anyway, none of your lip, now, do you want a fite?

I do if you do, take those glasses off, said Puds looking as if he would rather talk about fighting than fite, and the other kid, keep on talking back looking the same way, and then the other kid kept on going and pretty soon I tried it on a middle sized kid with no glasses but a peacell expression saying, Hay there, wats that on your nose?

Wat, wats wat said the kid putting his hand up, and I said, Your fingers. Is that supposed to be funny? said the kid, and I said, Sure, and he said, So's this. Meaning a fierce punch among the ribs he gave me just then, and I said, Hay, hay, cant you take a joke?

Sure, cant you? said the kid. And he kept on going. Proving beware of people that dont argue much.

Mr. Albert Marsh, Lower L'Ardoise, N. S., writes:—"About a year ago I contracted a cold accompanied by a very bad cough and sore throat. I sent for the doctor, but what he prescribed did me so little good I began to get discouraged. A friend came to see me and asked me if I had ever used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I had not and sent him right away to get me a bottle. I started using it, and after a couple of days I found I was getting relief, and after taking two bottles the soreness in my throat seemed to be leaving me, so I resolved to continue its use, and after I had used five bottles both my sore throat and cough were gone. I would not be without 'Dr. Wood's' for any money."

Last One To Perish On Plane Cries And Laughs With Pilots

Sole Survivor of Wreck Force Sent to Cast Body Into Sea Uses Simple Prayer.

Miami, March 28.—Robert Moore, pilot of the lost flying boat Miami, was rapidly improving conditions. He was able to relate more of the details of his experience when five passengers, one by one, died of hypoxia and slipped into the sea.

The most tragic part of his story was how he and Lawrence E. Smith, the last of the victims to die, became attached to each other. Smith's last hours were spent in merriment and tears. Moore kept up Smith's spirits, would joke and picture the beautiful island on which they soon would land.

Finally, however, Smith realized he was dying. He then took three dollar bills from his pocket and wrote his initials on each and directed Moore, if he lived, to deliver the bills to Smith's three sons in Kansas City. These were the torn bills which were found in the pocket of Moore when he was rescued. Moore, in his triumph had torn the bills almost shreds.

After Smith died the pilot was reluctant to cast the body into the sea, kept it for hours on the bottom of the overturned flying boat. He realized, however, that the fastness of the boat was becoming soaked and that the weight of Smith's body must be released. Moore kept the boat from sinking.

I know not your religion, but the name of God and humanity must cast your body into the sea. May I be seen in the eye of God as doing my duty, the best I know how to do. May God be with you.

In half an hour after Smith's body was cast off a sign floated in sight of the flying boat and it was the body of August Bulter, had jumped into the sea the day before after Mrs. Bulter had died. Bodies lay in sight for several hours before being washed away.

The coast from Miami to Plover, 137 miles, was patrolled without result in a search for the fate of the three women and two who perished in the wreck of the flying boat. Craft of every sort engaged in the search.

Inquiries into the cause of the wreck will be made by the coroner in county on the shores of which bodies are washed or first seen. Since the wreck occurred on the seas, and as yet no body is in evidence, there is speculation as to whether authority should make an inquiry. The question may be settled by the finding of one or more of the bodies.

Body is found at sea the inquiry is made by an admiralty court, found within the three mile limit will devolve on the coroner of county into which the body is landed.

Interest was added to the search when the trousers of Mr. Smith, valued at $2500 into the Gulf Stream. It was believed the trousers were found intact. All searchers were then to first to find the money. It might be returned to Harold S. King or one of the victims, who are here last night, still hoping that father and mother might have returned.

J. S. Dickson, husband of one of the victims, is remaining in Miami awaiting the recovery of his body. He has given up hope as a grief-stricken.

Last One To Perish On Plane Cries And Laughs With Pilots

Sole Survivor of Wreck Force Sent to Cast Body Into Sea Uses Simple Prayer.

Miami, March 28.—Robert Moore, pilot of the lost flying boat Miami, was rapidly improving conditions. He was able to relate more of the details of his experience when five passengers, one by one, died of hypoxia and slipped into the sea.

The most tragic part of his story was how he and Lawrence E. Smith, the last of the victims to die, became attached to each other. Smith's last hours were spent in merriment and tears. Moore kept up Smith's spirits, would joke and picture the beautiful island on which they soon would land.

Finally, however, Smith realized he was dying. He then took three dollar bills from his pocket and wrote his initials on each and directed Moore, if he lived, to deliver the bills to Smith's three sons in Kansas City. These were the torn bills which were found in the pocket of Moore when he was rescued. Moore, in his triumph had torn the bills almost shreds.

After Smith died the pilot was reluctant to cast the body into the sea, kept it for hours on the bottom of the overturned flying boat. He realized, however, that the fastness of the boat was becoming soaked and that the weight of Smith's body must be released. Moore kept the boat from sinking.

I know not your religion, but the name of God and humanity must cast your body into the sea. May I be seen in the eye of God as doing my duty, the best I know how to do. May God be with you.

Stock Market Prices Swing Upward On New York Exchange

Advance Attended by Pronounced Increase and Breadth of Operations—Better Industrial Prospects.

New York, March 29.—Price tendencies in the stock market today were unambiguously upward, although profit taking occurred in the final hour on the gradual rise of call loans from 4-1/4 to 6 per cent. The advance was attended by a pronounced increase and breadth of operations—better industrial prospects.

Better industrial prospects again were the chief accelerating force. Still higher prices were quoted for finished iron and steel, and latest surveys of conditions by trade reviews including the Iron Age, which was almost optimistic. Even copper was not unfavorably influenced by further weakening of prices in the metal market.

A very considerable portion of the day's business apparently emanated from professional sources, but a small part of the inquiry for season shares and bonds was credited to investors seeking an outlet for April interest and dividend incomes.

Steel, equipments, oil, motors and utilities were the stocks most in demand. Dealers furnished much of the buying power among the rails, together with Junior Iron Works, Toledo, St. Louis and Western, common and preferred. Sales amounted to 788,000 shares. Withdrawals for Federal account occasioned the former one of demand money rates, but time funds were unaltered. Many thirty to ninety day offerings were made on the 4-1/2 per cent. basis, and several longer maturities for commercial paper were accepted at the same rate.

Dealings in foreign exchange were unusually dull and irregular. Sterling showed a further slight recovery from the recent reaction. The Paris rate eased nominally and most other continental bills were steady to almost ten points higher. Reports that the Spanish Government is seeking a large loan in this market were not reflected in the movement of the rates.

Trading in Listed Shares Continued Strong And Broad

Montreal, March 29.—Trading in listed shares on the local stock exchange, today, continued broad and strong, but with a noticeable easing off in the predominance of gains over losses recently.

National Breweries was the market leader in activity and an early show of strength carried the stock up to 5 3/4, but it eased at the close to 5 1/4, a net loss of 1/4. Dominion Glass was up 1/4 to 6 3/4. Atlantic Sugar was another prominent stock, selling up to 2 1/4 and closing with a net gain of 1/4 at 2 3/4.

Brompton, the third most active stock, was unchanged at 2 1/4. Other papers were less active and there were several recessions. Albitibi was off 1/4 at 3 3/4. Howard Smith was unchanged at 6 1/4. Laurentide was down 1/4 at 8 3/4. Price Bros was off 1/4 to 3 3/4. Riddell lost 1/4 at 7 1/4 and the preferred receded 1/4 at 8 3/4.

Trading in Canada Steamships was one of the day's features, the much talked of Voting Trust making its appearance for the first time since last August. The common advanced 1/4 to 16 1/4, a new high for the year; and the preferred was up 1/4 to 4 1/4. The Voting Trust suffered the greatest loss of the day being down 3/4 points to 15.

U. S. GOVERNMENT SEEKING LOAN INFORMATION

Bankers Make Advances Abroad Without Notifying State Department.

Washington, March 29.—Despite warnings from the State Department that for reasons of international comity, as well as for protection of American interests, large investments should not be made by Americans abroad without the knowledge and sanction of the State Department, the promise of large returns from such investments is drawing capital in a swelling stream from the United States to the countries of Europe which need it so much and are willing to pay for it so handsomely.

No notice of the State Department couched in the form of a request is able to stop the flow. The United States, not only through heavy loans to the government to other governments during the war, but through private loans since, is the banker of the world. While some loans have been cut down, new ones have been made.

The advantages are seen in the vast sums being paid in interest, amounting, it is estimated, to $100,000,000 a year, and in the foreign buying in American markets resulting from the balance in favor of America.

Foreign governments and municipalities depend on American investors to buy the major portion of their offerings of bonds. This is true of the South American countries and of Canada. France has sold millions of dollars worth of bonds here since the war and Germany is making progress along those lines now.

Dealings in Bonds Broad But Only Moderately Active

New York, March 29.—Dealings in bonds today were broad but only moderately active. A very large percentage of the turnover was in Liberty issues, practically that entire division, together with Victory notes closed at gains. At top prices several of the Liberty fours and all the 4 1/4's established highest quotations of the year.

Among foreign offerings Mexican fours and five made gains of one and 1/2 points, respectively and several of the European municipals also strengthened. Domestic rails continued to be absorbed on better earnings, completed or features of that group including Baltimore and Ohio 4's, St. Paul general 4 1/4's and Illinois Central refunding 4's at gains of 1 to 2 points.

Bearish Trend To Chicago Market

Closing Prices Were Unsettled at 3-8 to 1-8 Cents Net Lower on Wheat.

Chicago, March 29.—Predictions of a big yield in Kansas this season had a bearish effect on the wheat market today. Closing prices were unsettled at 3/8 to 1/8 cents net lower, with 1 1/8% to 1 3/8% and July 1 1/8 to 1 1/4. Corn finished a shade to 1/4% down. Oats, at a shade to 1/4% down, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to a setback of 20 cents.

No New Business Forthcoming On The Winnipeg Market

With Short Interest Evened Up, Trading Was Dull—Foreign Markets Easier.

Winnipeg, March 29.—With the short interest evened up and no new business, either in export or domestic, reported, the local market today was extremely dull. Foreign markets were easier and American domestic demand continuing poor with leading primary markets carrying over heavy receipts unabsorbed. Stocks at the terminals are accumulating, and fast and shippers are complaining about inactivity on spring business. Vessel agents state demand for tonnage for the opening of navigation extremely quiet.

The opening was higher this morning, but following reaction later in the season, May wheat dropped to 1 1/8, the low for the day. The close was slightly above the low point at a loss of one cent from Tuesday's final figures.

There is a very indifferent demand for cash wheat, particularly for the top grades, while the offering continues light. Premium on No. 1 and 2 Northern were off half a cent today.

The only changes in the coarse grain were in No. 1 and 2 feed oats, which were half lower than yesterday, with just a moderate demand.
