THE RUSSIAN SLAVE.

It was the epoch of the Congress of Vienna, when the fate of half of Europe was decided amidst pomp and festivities without a parallel in modern history. Tournaments, carousals, masked balls, theatres, and operas, horse racing and gaming, regattas, illuminations, fire works, everything which the imagination could devise, was employed, for the amusement of these "kings taking a holiday." Amid the programme of festivities prepared by the Imperial committee, there figured a stag hunt, and the woods in the neighborhood of Schenbrunn were gay with the crowd assembled to witness or participate in the sport. One person alone, elegantly dressed and mounted on a high bred steed, took no part in the amusement of the day. His eyes were intently fixed on Sir James Raily, an Englishman, noted for his wealth, his eccentricities, and his passion for play; he followed him wherever he went, and seemed to wish to attract his attention.

What does this mean? said Sir James to himself. Twice my eyes have encountered this man, and he has made the same mysterious gesture. I cannot be deceived; it is intended for me; and he turned his horse's head towards the stranger. The latter, seeing the movement, advanced to meet him.

Sir, said he, bowing low, I have had the honor to meet you before.

Yes, replied the Englishman, who was vainly interrogating his memory; Yes, your face is a creditor which torments me, and which I cannot satisfy by giving him the name that he seeks for.

You have never known my name. We met at Moscow.

In society?

No; at the Hotel Sans Souci, and in public places. Pardon me if, with only this title to your notice I have ventured to accost you at so opportune an hour. The importance of the motive will, I hope, be some excuse to a mind so generous as yours.

What can I do for you? said Raily, in a tone of extreme courtesy, yielding to the sympathetic interest, which the pleasing face, and manners of the young man had inspired.

I have come to ask for liberty.

Of me?

Of you.

Are you not mistaken, asked Sir James, with some hesitation, not knowing exactly what to make of the singular demand. I am Sir James Raily, an Englishman, by birth, remarkable for nothing but love of play.

And for success in it, cried the young man. It is my only hope. If I should tell you sir, that it perhaps reserved for you to rescue a fellow man from an oppressive condition, to efface from his brow a mark, which devotes him to humiliation and scorn, what would you reply?

You embarrass me; for I do not see what such a hypothesis can have to do with a gentleman like yourself.

A gentleman! Yes, by elevation of soul perhaps also, by education; but not by accident of birth. I am a slave.

You! said Raily, with astonishment.

My name is Swerkoff Feodorowicz, and the estate on which I was born, belongs to Prince Gouloubkoff.

A million! exclaimed Raily, surprised out of his usual calm by the amount.

Take it sir, I beg of you, and deign to listen to me. My father and I were born on a small estate near the Volga, the estate belonged to Prince Gouloubkoff, the father of the Prince now in Vienna. My father was attached to his person for a long time, and served him with such zeal and devotion, that, at his death, he bequeathed him a considerable sum; but unfortunately for our family, he forgot his enfranchisement. My father, trafficked in furs with Southern Russia, and being intelligent and energetic, he rapidly became rich. My education was entrusted to a French emigrant, and to his care I owe all my subsequent success; for, when I grew up, I joined my efforts to those of my father, and extending our operations to the East, I doubled his fortune in the course of a few years. Our position as serfs excited the solicitude of my friend, the Frenchman, and he urged me to seek an adopted country in the Western World; but although I ardently desired to withdraw my neck from the yoke of bondage, I could not fly, without leaving my poor old father a prey to my master's vengeance. If I once left Russia finally, the smallest chastisement for him would be the loss of his property, and a return to the rudest labours of slavery. I could not do it. Besides, I nourished a hope, which strengthened me each day to await the morrow. I thought that Alexander, who was said, was ambitious of the title of regenerator of his country, would associate his name with the abolition of servitude. But all the philanthropy of the Emperor, restrained as it was by the hateful and pitiless nobles, produced only the ukase, which forbade the individual sale of the serfs; they could only be sold with the estate. I had waited in vain.

Why did you not try to purchase yourself?

It would have been useless. The great Muscovite lords have made a horrible caprice, binding themselves not to accept the ransom of a slave. Are you ignorant that a serf of Count Schermetoff offered two millions of roubles for his liberty and was pitilessly refused? Yet the Count receives but a small tribute from this man; only a few roubles; but these great lords find a cruel pleasure in counting the number of their vassals, and absolutely dependent on their caprice are millionaires, whose fortune they could ruin at a word. I have borne my hard lot with the fortitude of a Christian. I have sought to forget it in business and travel, and deeds of charity; but now my courage fails for I love—and the woman who accepts me for a husband, must accept the chain of slavery.

After a moment's pause, the young Russian resumed. Prince Gouloubkoff, I have said, possesses an estate on the border of the Volga. It counts only fifty hearths, yet he will not sell it at any price. But the Prince plays, and play with him is an unbridled passion, for which he will sacrifice everything.

In the feverish excitement of this passion, he may be led to risk this estate. If he does so, he may lose. In this village I was born—my father was born there—my family are there still. Gain this village for me—Man, Englishman, Christian—under this triple title I put my fate in your hands—you have an unlimited credit over my purse—stake everything—triumph at any price. If fate should be against you—if I must lose everything, and yet remain a slave, I will bless you at least for having tried to break my chains.

I accept the task said Raily, gravely.

This night?

No, this night circumstances will not serve. They will play lanquenet. Besides, I have an engagement with O'Beara. But the day after, I think, a favorable occasion will offer naturally, between Gouloubkoff and myself. He will not recoil, I judge, by the temerity which he showed yesterday I will profit by it.

Thanks! Sir James, said Swerkoff; and now, we must separate. Your friends will seek you. I would avoid meeting them.

Four days after this conference a dense crowd was collected in one of the gaming halls, around a small table, under the rotunda, at which were seated two players. They were Sir James Raily and Prince Gouloubkoff. For two days these two had been contending for victory—now at lanquenet, now at faro, now at ecarte; and the losses of Raily amounted to 200,000 roubles. The game at present was ecarte, and had been four against four; but the betters becoming alarmed, thought it prudent to resume their stakes; they were renewed by the Prince and Raily, and the stakes now amounted to the round sum of 80,000 florins.

The cards were shuffled and distributed; the trump card was hearts; they were to be renewed twice.

Fire sparked in the eyes of the Prince, but those of Raily were impervious. It was not a man but a statue, the expression never changed.

Hearts! said the Prince.

I have it. Hearts! he replied.

Here it is. Hearts! again. Here!

Raily leaned back in his chair, looking with indifference on the table, the heap of gold, to which the hands of the Prince were eagerly extended.

The joy of Gouloubkoff amounted to intoxication; you will not quit playing, I hope, Sir James, he said; an Englishman never abandons the field of battle.

Never Prince! nor a Russian either. Is it not so?

It is a national prejudice with us; but perhaps you would like to change the game. Will you take for two suit you?

Faro let it be.

The two adversaries entered the lists again. The Prince held the bank, and gained 20,000 roubles. His good fortune seemed fatally itself. Yet the perfect calmness of the Englishman was not less astonishing. He pursued his object with the impetuosity of his compatriots before the French battalions at Waterloo; when Wellington, seeing his soldiers fall one after the other, took out his watch and said:—They die at so many a minute, I have yet such number of men; it will be an hour before the last one falls; Blucher will have time to arrive, the victory is mine!

Raily dealt in his turn. This time fortune passed over to his side. He gained. He doubled his stakes and gained again. He had just gathered up 80,000 roubles, when he announced that he had tripled his stake.

The Prince was too good a player to recoil—Raily still gained. Gouloubkoff still played on till he had exhausted all the gold and notes at his disposal. He then proposed to play on credit, chalking the stakes upon the table. Raily accepted, and gained three times in succession.

By Sir George, he cried, I have gained 90,000 roubles.

I congratulate you, said the Prince, with a nervous contraction of countenance. He began to suffer.

You will not quit playing, I hope, Prince. A Russian never abandons the field of battle. Never, Sir James, as I told you. But, shall we change the game? The air is stifling here. Let us go into the garden.

You have a reputation as a marksman; suppose we try a shot.

Raily, who saw the feverish agitation of his companion, readily consented.

In a moment the hall was empty.

What shall the stake be, Sir James?

Two hundred thousand roubles.

Agreed, but I have no more gold; and I must not exhaust my credit at the bank of Vienna, which is quite indispensable to me.

Then I will wager 200,000 roubles against one of your estates.

Do you wish to become a Muscovite proprietor?

It is a mere whim like any other.

The cords were agitated, and a door fell on the left. The Prince turned his weapon in that direction, and fired.

Down! cried, distinctly, the voice of the official.

The same stillness prevailed when it was Sir James' turn to fire. The trap fell. The shot followed instantly.

Down! exclaimed the voice again.

Did you say, Prince, that this estate borders on the Volga?

From the balcony of the house you can see the course of the river.

An explosion was heard.

Down! said the same voice.

There are magnificent plantations of young trees, grouped with infinite art—delicious fruits, fine peaches.

That is my favorite fruit.

Down!

The strife continued, with success on both sides, till the sixth shot, when Raily failed.

Missed! said the crier.

At the eighth trial, the Prince having failed and Raily succeeded, they were again equal, and the two sportsmen took a moment for repose.

The Prince took his place, fired, and missed. Raily was more fortunate. The shot was approaching its solution.

What passed, then in the souls of the Prince and Sir James? It was a mystery beyond human intuition. To some the approach of an important event is announced by low inward voices, to others presentiments seem more follies and chimeras. But it was remarkable that, when the Prince took his carbine again, it was without a word, without display, without the haughty look which was natural to him.

He fired. The bird, which had flown in a straight line, suddenly turned.

Wounded! said some.

No, no? cried several voices.

Every eye was fixed upon it, but it mounted, its flight became stronger, and it disappeared, while Raily calmly whistled:—God save the King!

Raily having killed the ninth bird, the bet was decided by a single shot, for the Prince failed again.

The two adversaries were superb at this moment, each in his fashion; the Prince, by the courage which raised him above his loss, and Raily by the deep, concentrated joy which he felt in thinking of the serious consequences of his success. They extended their hand to each other and separated, the best friends in the world. It was but an incident of sportsman life, which might have its counterpart to-morrow!

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY.
APRIL 2.

There was a short discussion in the House this morning, in reference to an Educational pamphlet sent each of the members by Mr J. Gregory; this mode of influencing members was warmly censured by Mr. End.

Bill relating to Mining Licenses was taken up, and gave rise to much speech making—majority of speakers in favor of bill, progress reported.

Bill relating to Land required for Railway purposes, and bill relating to Municipalities, were introduced by Atty. General.

Mr. Hatheway's resolution to surrender initiation of money grants to the Executive, was taken up, and discussion occupied most of the afternoon. Speakers in favor of resolution were Hatheway, Boyd, J. A. Harding, Street, Cutler, Connell, Brown,—in opposition, End, McPhelim, Allen, McLeod,—Speaker in the chair, House adjourned at half-past 5 o'clock.

Initiation of money grants passed.

Beautiful Sentiment.

Shortly before the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon, which contained this beautiful illustration:—

"Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channel—through the playful murmuring of the little brook and the winding of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads, the flowers on the brink seem to offer themselves to our young hands; we are happy in hope, and we grasp eagerly at the beauties around us, but the stream hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth and manhood is a deeper flood, amid subjects more striking and magnificent. We are animated by the moving picture of enjoyment and industry passing us; we are excited at some short-lived disappointment. The stream bears us on, and our joys and griefs are alike left behind us. We may be shipwrecked, we cannot be delayed; whether rough or smooth, the river hastens to its home till the roar of the ocean is in our ears, and the tossing of the waves is beneath our feet, and the land lessens from our eyes, and the floods are lifted around us, and we take our further voyage where there is no witness save the Infinite and Eternal!"

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE.—A little girl, about 11 years of age, belonging to Mrs. M'Affee of this place, left her school about 10 o'clock, A. M. on Tuesday for the purpose of getting some water; in a short time she was missed; a search was made when her bonnet was found in a water hole in the Creek quite convenient. An alarm was immediately made; and we never witnessed a greater degree of sympathy than was manifested towards the afflicted mother. (The father of the child was drowned a little more than three years ago.) Upwards of fifty men commenced cutting away the ice about 11 o'clock the same day, and continued their exertions until about two o'clock, P. M. on Thursday; their labors terminated by the discovery of the body about four rods from where she fell in, and in about two feet of water.

The ingenuity of Mr. McCaslan, watchmaker of this place, suggested the plan by which the deceased was discovered. He procured a water tight cask, in which he inserted two panes of glass; sunk it with weights, and then a boy went into it, who through the glass could see all around him, and by this means discovered the situation of the body. We are always gratified to give publicity to whatever indicates manufacturing prosperity in the Lower Colonies. In a private letter from Mr. Jeremiah Harrison, of Indian town, N. B. we are informed that during the past year he has manufactured and sold $40,000 worth of vehicles of various descriptions, at his Factory in Portland, near the form place. Mr. Harrison is a young man who works more and talks less about it than most young men, and if New Brunswick had more such sons her manufactures would be more extensive.—[Digby Western News.]

Provincial Parliament.

FRAMERICKTON, April 3.
House this morning proceeded to the consideration of the question respecting the initiation of Money Grants. The resolution was advocated by Landry, McNaughton, Steadman, Johnson, Gilmor, Hatheway, and opposed by M. Cullen, Hayward, Wilmot, Kerr, and Macpherson. The question was then taken, and the resolution carried. Yeas—Hatheway, Gilmor, Brown, Boyd, M. Adam, Smith, Johnson, Tilley, Fisher, Watters, Street, Tibbels, Connell, L. R. Harding, J. A. Harding, McNaughton, Landry, Steadman, Sutton, Cullen—23. Nays, End, Kerr, Eosford, Godard, Armstrong, Wilmot, Ryan, M. Leod, Purdy, Macpherson, Allen, M. Phelim, Hayward, Montgomery, M. Cullen, Ferris, Gilbert—17. Absent—Grey, Lunt and Stevens. Speaker in the chair.

A Bill was introduced by Mr. End to authorize the Ballot system in the Election of Parish Officers.

In the afternoon, the House was in Supply, and disposed of a few grants.

Report of Contingent Committee was laid before the House. Several members took occasion to animadvert upon some of the items, among which were a silk gown, two portmanteaus, and several trunks. Further consideration of the report will be resumed to-morrow.

The House resolved itself into Committee of the whole, in consideration of the Bill relating to Mining Licenses. Several speeches were made and progress reported. House adjourned quarter before 4.

April 4.
The House was principally occupied with routine business this morning. The Bill relating to Mining Licenses was withdrawn, and a resolution was adopted in its stead.

Honble Attorney General, in reply to a question put by a member of the House, stated that the Sheriffs for the different Counties had, with two exceptions, been re-appointed.

The Bill to amend the Charter of the City of St. John was taken up a few minutes before 1 o'clock. Mr. End moved its postponement for 12 months. Lost by a large majority. Mr. McPhelim moved that the citizens have the power to elect the Common Clerk; also lost. The Bill was then carried, with the striking out of the section requiring two Aldermen to be elected in place of an Alderman and Councillor.

Progress was reported on the Bill relating to the debt and property of the City of St. John.

The Legislative Council agreed to the St. Andrews Railway Bill. The other Railway Bills are under discussion. The Speakers to-day were Messrs. Wark, Robertson, Bosford, and Todd.

April 5.
The bill to remove the Shiretown of King's County, was postponed for 3 months. Mr. Connell introduced a bill to suspend the grant to King's College—which was read a first time.

The second bill relative to the St. Andrews & Quebec Railway, was passed without opposition. House in Supply. A motion to place on the Supply book a grant to the Sheriff of Kent, was rejected after much discussion.

The consideration of the bill relating to Land damages, occupied most of the afternoon; and after several amendments had been proposed and lost, the different sections of the bill were finally carried without a division.

In the Legislative Council the speakers to-day on the Railway bills were, Messrs. Todd, Kinnear, Hatch and Chandler; the three former in support of, and the latter in opposition to the scheme.

April 7.
Several grants for the maintenance of superior Schools, were placed on the Supply Book this morning. General opinion is that each and all of these will be rejected.

There was some discussion in reference to the time for taking up the bill for the repeal of the Prohibitory Law; the mover not anxious to proceed with the bill to-day, consequently deferred until to-morrow.

House in Supply—usual grant to the Wesleyan Academy passed.

There was a long discussion in consequence of motion to place on supply a grant for the Sheriff of Carleton to reimburse him for serving expenses; a motion to reduce the grant to $750.00, was carried.

Question on the first Railway Bill to be taken in the Legislative Council to-morrow. Speakers today in support of the scheme were—Seelye, Hill, Odell, Ryan, Saunders, and Stevens;—in opposition, Hazen, and Hamilton.

REPORT OF THE CONTINGENT COMMITTEE.
The committee appointed on the 14th day of February last, to take into consideration the Contingent expenses of the House of Assembly, beg leave to make their first report.

The committee having before them the Invoices of Lumada & Co. of Stationery imported by the Clerk of this House, find that there is charged in these Invoices, ten Trunks, the aggregate value of which is $14.16; two Portmanteaus, $6.60; one Queen's Counsel's best Silk Robe, $9; one electric played Shade with standing lamp and shade, $9.90; together with 40 lbs. of broad transparent Wax Candles, amounting to, together to the sum of $44.15 sterling.

Your committee feeling that these items are not required for the Contingencies of this House, beg to recommend that the Trunks, Portmanteaus, Queen's Counsel's Robe, Electric Played Shade, and Wax Candles, be immediately sent to an Auction Room and sold at public auction, for the benefit of the Province.

Your committee beg leave to make a further Report.

Committee Room, April 3, 1856.

MAIL ROBBERIES.—A regular system of mail robberies seems to have been planned and put into successful execution between St. Louis and the Atlantic. We learn from the Postmaster at St. Louis, that the mail made up for Boston on the 26th January, the mail of the 27th of same month for Washington, and the mail of the 7th of March for Philadelphia, are all missing, and have fallen into the hands of robbers.

The Standard.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 1856.

The Legislature is now working hard to get through with the business of the Session. The two St. Andrews & Quebec Railway Bills have passed both branches. The usual grants for Roads and Schools have passed the Assembly—the Initiation of Money Grants has been surrendered to the Executive by a vote of—yeas 20, nays 17. A bill is now before the House, introduced by the Attorney General making Municipal Corporations imperative upon every County in the Province. The bill to repeal the Prohibitory Law, was to be taken up on Monday last, but was deferred until Tuesday.

The Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions of the Peace, was opened here on Tuesday. His Worship Justice Hatheway presiding. We are happy to learn, there are no criminal or civil causes to engage the attention of the Common Pleas.

HOW THEY DO IN THE STATES.—The citizens of the Township of Eastport at their Town Meeting held on Monday last, taxed themselves to the tune of $11,130 for Town purposes; $4000 of which sum is for Schools and contingent expenses of same; $1,000 for support of Poor; $700 for repairs of Highways; $200 for pay of Town Officers. The result of their election is said to be a triumph of the Democrats and Straight Whigs.

Although Slavery is illegal in California, it has existed there since that Country was admitted as a state of the Union. Still the law is not inoperative when appealed to by a slave, as was recently the case. Fourteen persons of color applied to a Judge and demanded their freedom under a writ of habeas corpus. The Judge after hearing the arguments, decided that the colored persons were free, and that any attempt of their former owner to decoy them to Texas, would subject him to be punished as a kidnapper.

THE STEAMER QUEEN, Capt. Michener, made her appearance in our harbour on Monday last, for the first time this season; she has been tastefully painted, and otherwise improved. We learn that she will run between Calais and Eastport, on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Friday, until further notice; and connects with the Steamers Admiral and Adelaide, the former of which leaves Boston every Thursday, and the latter every Monday.

WESTERN EMIGRATION.—We understand that a number of young men, natives of this County, will leave shortly for the Western States and others are preparing to leave the Province, at this rate the County, and indeed we may add the Province will be depleted of its best population. No inducement seems to be sufficient to retain our population.

The same disposition is evinced in the State of Maine, people are leaving every week for the far West. It must be there is some very strong magnetic attraction, at a distance. It may turn out to many of them a deception and a snare.

From the Chief Superintendent of Schools report, we learn, that there are in the County of Charlotte: 10 Parishes, 93 School districts, 116 School houses; that during the year there were 125 Schools in operation, total number of pupils 4,032; male teachers, 51, female teachers 74. Total money expended for Parish School purposes, $4,523, 11s. 4d. The average attendance of the Scholars is very small, when compared with the whole number, and without doubt, can only be attributed to the carelessness and total indifference of the parents.

THE MASONIC JOURNAL.—We have received the April number of this Journal, published at Brunswick, Maine, by Br. G. W. Chase, at the low price of 50 cents per annum. We have perused with pleasure and profit, the articles from the pen of its Editor, who has been appointed by the Grand Lodge of the State, a grand lecturer. One number of the paper is worth more than the subscription; the selected articles are culled with much care and judgment—in a word, the "Journal" contains a fund of information, valuable to any Mason. Br. Chase to use a homely term, is "posted up" in Masonic matters, and without a shadow of doubt, has made "suitable proficiency" in all the degrees. We will feel happy to forward a list of subscribers with the money for the "Journal."

THE LOSS OF THE STEAMER CURLEW.—We learn, says the Boston Courier, by the arrival of bark Messenger Bird at Provincetown, that the Curlew steamer Curlew, from Halifax for Bermuda, ran ashore on the North Breaker of Bermuda, at 4 o'clock on the morning of the 18th ult., and sank in three minutes. The mails were lost, but the crew were saved. She was broken in two. Assistance had been sent to her, but the sea ran so high that nothing could be saved. The Curlew was about 700 tons burthen, and belonged to the Cunard line of Halifax, Bermuda and St. Thomas steamers. She was comparatively new, having been built at Greenock, Scotland, in 1853, and cost about $32,000.

FIRES.—We are sorry to learn that on the afternoon of the 30th ult., a serious fire broke out in the house of Mr. John F. Grimmett, Basswood-Ridge Road, St. Stephen, by which his entire dwelling house was consumed. The fire was occasioned by a spark from the chimney which ignited the roof. The only property saved was some household furniture, &c., and such articles and commodities as had been placed in the cellar. An insurance of $600 had been effected but we regret to learn that the loss, beyond the amount covered by the insurance, amounts to $1000.—Col. Presbyterian.

JAIL BREAKING.—Three prisoners confined in the Jail broke out early on Tuesday morning, by cutting up the cell flooring and breaking through a weak portion of the stone wall in the basement below, which led into the yard. Two of the prisoners, named Bigger and DeBraug, the former of whom was imprisoned for breaking into the Penitentiary buildings, managed to get over the wall and made their escape, but the third, named Hill, a deserter from one of H. M. ships of war, was captured shortly after he had scaled the walls. No blame is attached to the Jailor for the escape of the prisoners.

NOVA SCOTIA. The following resolutions moved by the Hon. Mr. Johnson, embody the elective principle as applicable to the middle branch of the Legislature:—

"Resolved, That the power possessed by the Executive, exclusively to select and appoint the individuals elevated to the Legislative Council is inconsistent with correct principles of representative government, and, on occasions of emergency, may prove dangerous to the liberties and progress of the country; it places the second branch of the Legislature unduly under the control of the government, from whose patronage it draws its continued existence, and removes it in degree from the influence of the popular sentiment, while it leads to an unequal representation in that body of the different portions of the Province, and the several interests of the people."

Therefore, in the opinion of this House, it is the duty of the representatives of the people of Nova Scotia to seek by all constitutional means a change in the constitution and constitution of the Legislative Council by which the seats in that body shall be held dependent on election by the people."

Further Disclosures of Sadiar's Forgeries.—The Advertiser says, that within the last few days, discoveries of forgeries by Mr. Sadiar have been made in the city, of which the slightest suspicion did not exist before. He has forged the names of three directors of a well known company to the extent of $100,000. The number of names he has forged altogether is not much short of one hundred. It appears he lost in one day, some six or seven months since, $12,000 in a sugar speculation. On another occasion, his loss on a hemp transaction was $35,000; while by an iron purchase he lost nearly $50,000. He left the world with obligations amounting to $1,600,000.

Holloway's Pills the most efficacious remedy for Determination of Blood to the Head.—The immense power possessed by these wonderful Pills in the cure of determination of blood to the head, and all bilious disorders, although well known and appreciated by the mass, yet among some private individuals it is afflicted with these sad ailments, and nervous disorders, we strongly recommend them; and would advise their having recourse to the same after other means have failed, with the certainty of obtaining immediate relief, and by perseverance a lasting cure. The thousands who have derived signal benefit from the use of this inestimable remedy, is at once a proof of the virtues the medicine possesses, and renders it an indispensable requisite in every family, whether at home or abroad. These Pills are equally efficacious in all diseases of the liver and stomach.

Stammering Cured!

DR. BRONSON, AND C. C. BEERS,
ARE happy to announce that STAMMER-
ING can be PERMANENTLY CURED by Medicine and Vocal Gymnastics. It is first treated as a Nervous Disorder, (like St. Vitus' Dance, Epileptic Fits, &c.) and then the habit, incident to the disease, is corrected by exercises in Elloquism. Mr. Beers has been an inveterate stammerer for thirty-five years; has attended many institutions for the cure of stammering, and expected hundreds of cures, but without any permanent benefit, but he remained so. With the same success, we have cured others, not having been so long a sufferer, any applicants—not having failed in a single instance. Being satisfied that stammering, experience, and observation, that stammering is the effect of a Nervous Disorder, and can be perfectly cured by the above means in the course of two or three weeks, we assure all interested of these gratifying results, and guarantee a permanent cure, or refund the small fee paid in advance. Those desiring further information on these subjects, (including terms, guaranty, &c.) can obtain it from our New Guaranty, sent by mail, on Stammering, its Effects, Causes and Remedies. Illustrated by One Hundred Engravings. Price, One Dollar; on the receipt of which the Book will be sent without expense, and the money is paid will be credited on the bill for treatment. Board, wife, forwarded by express to the subscriber, Boston, Mass.

LET US REASON TOGETHER. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

WHY ARE WE SICK?
It has been the lot of the human race to be weighed down by disease and suffering. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are specially adapted to the system of the West, the Nervous, the Digestive, and the Urinary systems. Professor Holloway personally supervises the manufacture of his medicines, and offers them to a fair and equitable price, as the best remedy for the most common ailments of the human body.

THESE PILLS PURIFY THE BLOOD.
These famous Pills are expressly compounded to operate on the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the skin, and the blood, correcting any derangement in their functions, purifying the blood, the system of life, and thus curing disease in all its forms.

DYSPEPSIA AND LIVER COMPLAINTS.
Nearly all the human race have taken these Pills. It has been proved in all parts of the world that nothing has been found equal to them in cases of disorders of the liver, dyspepsia, and stomach complaints generally. They soon give a healthy tone to the system, however much deranged, and when all other means have failed.

GENERAL DEBILITY.
Many of the most despotic Governments have ordered these Pills that they may become the medicine of the masses. Learned Colleges admit that this medicine is the best remedy ever known for persons of delicate health, or where the system has been injured, as its invigorating properties never fail to afford relief.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
No Female, young or old, should be without this celebrated medicine. It corrects and regulates the monthly courses at all periods, acting in many cases like a charm. It is also the best and safest medicine that can be given to children at all ages, and for any complaint; consequently no family should be without it.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following Diseases:—

Asthma	Jaundice

A MARVELLOUS REMEDY FOR A MARVELLOUS AGE! Holloway's Ointment.

THE GRAND EXTERNAL REMEDY.
By the aid of a microscope, we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies. Through these this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to any organ or inward part. Diseases of the Kidneys, disorders of the Liver, affections of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Asthma, Coughs and Colds, are by its means effectually cured. Every household should have this Ointment, as it is so readily absorbed, and so freely penetrates through any bone or fleshy part of the living body, curing the most dangerous inward complaints, that cannot be reached by other means.

ERYSIPELAS, RHEUMATISM AND SCORBUTIC HUMOURS.
No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the skin, which have been called, as this Ointment. Erysipelas, Scrofula, or Erysipeloid, cannot long withstand its influence. The interior has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals, dispensing this Ointment, giving advice, as to its application, and has thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.

SORE LEGS, SORE BREASTS, WOUNDS & ULCERS.
Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when having to cope with the most cases of sore wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumours. Professor Holloway has dispatched to the East large shipments of this Ointment, to be used in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, stiffness or contraction of the joints, even of 20 years' standing.

PILES AND FISTULAS.
These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured by the Ointment, which is used in over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs	Chilblains
Bad Breasts	Chopped hands
Burns	Corns (soft)
Bunions	Cancers
Bite of Mosquitoes	Contracted and Stiff Joints
Bite of Flies	Furuncles
Coccygus	Glandular Swelling

THE RUSSIAN SLAVE.

It was the epoch of the Congress of Vienna, when the fate of half of Europe was decided amidst pomp and festivities without a parallel in modern history. Tournaments, carousals, masked balls, theatres, and operas, horse racing and gaming, regattas, illuminations, fire works, everything which the imagination could devise, was employed, for the amusement of these "kings taking a holiday." Amid the programme of festivities prepared by the Imperial committee, there figured a stag hunt, and the woods in the neighborhood of Schenbura were gay with the crowd assembled to witness or participate in the sport. One person alone, elegantly dressed and mounted on a high bred steed, took no part in the amusements of the day. His eyes were intently fixed on Sir James Raily, an Englishman, noted for his wealth, his eccentricities, and his passion for play; he followed him wherever he went, and seemed to wish to attract his attention.

What does this mean? said Sir James to himself. Twice my eyes have encountered this man, and he has made the same mysterious gesture. I cannot be deceived; it is intended for me; and he turned his horse's head towards the stranger. The latter, seeing the movement, advanced to meet him. Sir, said he, bowing low, I have had the honor to meet you before.

Yes, replied the Englishman, who was vainly interrogating his memory: Yes, your face is a creditor, which torments me, and which I cannot satisfy by giving him the name that he asks for.

You have never known my name. We met at Moscow.

In society? No; at the Hotel Sans Souci, and in public places. Pardon me if, with only this title to your notice I have ventured to accost you at so opportune an hour. The importance of the motive will, I hope, be some excuse to a mind so generous as yours.

What can I do for you? said Raily, in a tone of extreme courtesy, yielding to the sympathetic interest, which the pleasing face, and manners of the young man had inspired.

I have come to ask for liberty.

Of me.

Are you not mistaken, asked Sir James, with some hesitation, not knowing exactly what to make of the singular demand. I am Sir James Raily, an Englishman by birth, remarkable for nothing but love of play.

And for success in it, cried the young man. It is my only hope. If I should tell you sir, that it perhaps reserved for you to rescue a fellow man from an oppressive condition, to efface from his brow a mark, which devotes him to humiliation and scorn, what would you reply?

You embarrass me; for I do not see what such a hypothesis can have to do with a gentleman like yourself.

A gentleman! Yes, by elevation of soul perhaps also, by education; but not by accident of birth. I am a slave.

You! said Raily, with astonishment. My name is Swerkoff Feodorowitch, and the estate on which I was born, belongs to Prince Gouloubkoff.

How can I serve you? asked Raily, extending his hand affectionately to the young man. I would gladly do more than pity you. But let us go this way, he added, taking the direction of the path which led away from the throng; it is more prudent. You know, perhaps, that the Prince is here.

Yes; but I could not choose the moment to speak to you. This evening I believe, the court gives a fete on the Reitenburg.

Yes.

You will not return to Vienna, for after the fete you are to go to the chateau of the Count de Solensk.

Yes.

To play there?

The whole night, and Gouloubkoff will be there.

I was well informed. He hesitated a moment, and a deep shadow passed over his countenance.

Is not that the livery of the Prince which I see near us? asked Sir James Raily.

It is.

He cannot be far off. Shall we not avoid meeting him?

With all my heart. Not that I fear to be recognized immediately; long years have elapsed since we met; but I could not exchange ten words with him without exciting remembrances, and all hope would then be lost.

Let us pursue this path then; and putting spurs to their horses, they soon found themselves out of sight and hearing of the chase.

Before going farther, resumed the young Russian, I must ask you to take charge of this, handing him a pocket book. Within it was bank notes to the amount of a million roubles.

A million! exclaimed Raily, surprised out of his usual calm by the amount.

Take it sir, I beg of you, and deign to listen to me. My father and I were born on a small estate near the Volga, the estate belonged to Prince Gouloubkoff, the father of the Prince now in Vienna. My father was attached to his person for a long time, and served him with such zeal and devotion, that, at his death, he bequeathed him a considerable sum; but unfortunately for our family, he forgot his enfanchement. My father, being intelligent and energetic, he rapidly became rich. My education was entrusted to a French emigrant, and to his care I owe all my subsequent success; for, when I grew up, I joined my efforts to those of my father, and extending our operations to the East, I doubled his fortune in the course of a few years. Our position as serfs excited the solicitude of my friend, the Frenchman, and he urged me to seek an adopted country in the Western World; but although I ardently desired to withdraw my neck from the yoke of bondage, I could not fly, without leaving my poor old father a prey to my master's vengeance. If I once left Russia finally, the smallest chastisement for him would be the loss of his property, and a return to the rudest labours of slavery. I could not do it. Besides, I nourished a hope which strengthened me each day to await the morrow. I thought that Alexander, who it was said, was ambitious of the title of regenerator of his country, would associate his name with the abolition of servitude. But all the philanthropy of the Emperor, restrained as it was by the hateful and pitiless nobles, produced only the ukase, which forbade the individual sale of the serfs; they could only be sold with the estate. I had waited in vain.

Why did you not try to purchase yourself. It would have been useless. The great Muscovite lords have made a horrible compact, binding themselves not to accept the ransom of a slave. Are you ignorant that a serf of Count Scheremetoff offered two millions of roubles for his liberty and was pitilessly refused! Yet the Count receives but a small tribute from this man; only a few roubles; but these great lords find a cruel pleasure in counting the number of their vassals, and absolutely dependent on their caprice are millionaires, whose fortune they could ruin at a word. I have borne my hard lot with the fortitude of a Christian. I have sought to forget it in business and travel, and deeds of charity; but now my courage fails for I love—and the woman who accepts me for a husband, must accept the chain of slavery.

After a moment's pause, the young Russian resumed. Prince Gouloubkoff, I have said, possesses an estate on the border of the Volga. It counts only fifty hearths; yet he will not sell it at any price. But the Prince plays, and play with him is an unbridled passion, for which he will sacrifice everything. In the feverish excitement of this passion, he may be led to risk this estate. If he does so, he may lose. In this village I was born—my father was born there—my family are there still. Gain this village for me—Man, Englishman, Christian—under this triple title I put my fate in your hands—you have an unlimited credit over my purse—stake everything—against you—if I must lose everything, and yet remain a slave, I will bless you at least for having tried to break my chains.

I accept the task said Raily, gravely.

This night?

No, this night circumstances will not serve. They will play lansquenet. Besides, I have an engagement with O'Beara. But the day after, I think, a favourable occasion will offer naturally, between Gouloubkoff and myself. He will not recoil, I judge, by the temerity which he showed yesterday. I will profit by it.

Thanks! Sir James, said Swerkoff; and now, we must separate. Your friends will seek you. I would avoid meeting them.

Four days after this conference a dense crowd was collected in one of the gaming halls, around a small table, under the rotunda, at which were seated two players. They were Sir James Raily and Prince Gouloubkoff. For two days these two had been contending for victory—now at lansquenet, now at faro, now at ecarte; and the losses of Raily amounted to 200,000 roubles. The game at present was ecarte, and had been four against four; but the betters becoming alarmed, thought it prudent to resume their stakes; they were renewed by the Prince and Raily, and the stakes now amounted to the round sum of 50,000 florins.

The cards were shuffled and distributed; the trump card was hearts; they were to be renewed twice.

Fire sparked in the eyes of the Prince, but those of Raily were impervious. It was not a man but a statue, the expression never changed.

Hearts! said the Prince.

I have it.

Hearts! he replied.

Hearts! again.

Hearts!

Hearts!

Raily leaned back in his chair, looking with indifference on the table, the heap of gold, to which the hands of the Prince were eagerly extended.

The joy of Gouloubkoff amounted to intoxication; you will not quit playing, I hope, Sir James, he said; an Englishman never abandons the field of battle.

Never Prince! nor a Russian either. Is it not so?

It is a national prejudice with us; but perhaps you would like to change the game. Will you for two suit you?

Faro let it be.

The two adversaries entered the list again. The Prince held the bank, and gained 20,000 roubles. His good fortune seemed fadingly itself. Yet the perfect calmness of the Englishman was not less astonishing. He pursued his subject with the impetuosity of his compatriots before the French battalions at Waterloo; when Wellington, seeing his soldiers fall one after the other, took out his watch and said:—They die at so many a minute, I have yet such number of men; it will be an hour before the last one falls; Blucher will have time to arrive, the victory is mine!

Raily dealt in his turn. This time fortune passed over to his side. He gained. He doubled his stakes and gained again. He had just gathered up 50,000 roubles, when he announced that he had tripped his stake.

The Prince was too good a player to recoil. Raily still gained. Gouloubkoff still played on till he had exhausted all the gold and notes at his disposal. He then proposed to play on credit, chalking the stakes upon the table. Raily accepted, and gained three times in succession.

By St. George, he cried, I have gained 90,000 roubles.

I congratulate you, said the Prince, with a nervous contraction of countenance. He began to suffer.

You will not quit playing, I hope, Prince. A Russian never abandons the field of battle. Never, Sir James, as I told you. But, shall we change the game? The air is stifling here. Let us go into the garden. You have a reputation as a marksman; suppose we try a shot.

Raily, who saw the feverish agitation of his companion, readily consented. In a moment the hall was empty. What shall the stake be, Sir James? Two hundred thousand roubles.

Agreed, but I have no more gold; and I must not exhaust my credit at the bank of Vienna, which is quite indispensable to me. Then I will wager 200,000 roubles against one of your estates.

Do you wish to become a Muscovite proprietor. It is a mere whim like any other.

And one which I am not disposed to thwart. I have something of that value near Moscow. It is on the declivity of a hill, from which you can see admirably the yet smoking ruins of the holy city. I have also, at two miles from Volga.

Raily shrugged his shoulders. It is too cold, he said.

Ah, then, I have something else which may suit you—a charming little village near the Volga.

Here goes for the Volga, then. And you estimate this property—

At something more than 200,000 roubles. Then I will add 50,000 roubles to my stake.

Agreed; but I have not the title deeds here.

Pen, ink and paper can supply them. Writing materials were brought, and the Prince engaged in writing the transfer to Sir James, if he were the winner, the title of his domain upon the Volga.

The bet was decided by ten shots. They drew lots for the first fire, and the Prince won and took his place.

About seventy feet before him were placed in a circular line five small cages, 12 feet apart, each containing a pigeon. Cords were attached to the trap-doors which closed the cages, and were sufficiently long to reach the spot where the marksman stood, which was called the post.

These cords by the rule of the game, were to be placed in the hands of the adverse party, who always stood behind the marksman; and, while the latter had his eyes intently fixed upon the cords, his antagonist was permitted to agitate them, and to begin to pull before doing so; thus it was impossible to foresee on which side the shot was to be directed; yet it was necessary to aim quickly for the bird, from its love of liberty, departs instantly and with an energetic wing.

You might have heard a pin fall upon the turf when Raily and the Prince had taken their position, and the signal was given—

The cords were agitated, and a door fell on on the left. The Prince turned his weapon in that direction, and fired.

Down! cried, distinctly, the voice of the official.

The same stillness prevailed when it was Sir James' turn to fire. The trap fell. The shot followed instantly.

Down! exclaimed the voice again.

Did you say, Prince, that this estate borders on the Volga?

From the balcony of the house you can see the course of the river.

An explosion was heard.

Down! said the same voice.

There are magnificent plantations of young trees, grouped with infinite art—delicious fruits, fine panaches.

That is my favourite fruit.

Down!

The strife continued, with success on both sides, till the sixth shot, when Raily failed. Missed! said the erier.

At the eighth trial, the Prince having failed and Raily succeeded, they were again equal, and the two sportsmen took a moment for repose.

The Prince took his place, fired, and missed. Raily was more fortunate. The bet was approaching its solution.

What passed then in the souls of the Prince and Sir James? It was a mystery beyond human intuition. To some the approach of an important event is announced by low inward voices, to others presentiments seem mere follies and chimeras. But it was remarkable that, when the Prince took his carbine again, it was without a word, without display, without the haughty look which was natural to him.

He fired. The bird, which had flown in a straight line, suddenly turned.

Wounded! said some.

No, no! cried several voices.

Every eye was fixed upon it; but it mounted, its flight became stronger, and it disappeared, while Raily calmly whistled. God save the King!

Raily having killed the ninth bird, the bet was decided by a single shot, for the Prince failed again.

The two adversaries were superb at this moment, each in his fashion. The Prince, by the courage which raised him above his loss, and Raily by the deep, concentrated joy which he felt in thinking of the serious consequences of his success. They extended their hand to each other and separated, the best friends in the world. It was but an incident of sportsman life, which might have its counterpart to-morrow!

Fifteen days passed. The act of cession first made out in the name of Raily, then transferred to that of Feodorowitch, was fully authenticated, and Sir James quitted Vienna.

He attempted to restore the 1,000,000 of roubles which was entrusted to him, not wishing to receive a price for an action whose only merit, he said, was success; but he could not resist the entreaty of the ransomed serf. Feodorowitch forced him to accept, inscribing upon the pocket-book these words:—

To the free man who has made me free!

Riot at DEMARARA.—The mail steamer arrived at St. Thomas from Demarara reported that the negroes of the colony, instigated by Orr, known as the "Angel Gabriel," had commenced to slaughter the Portuguese. Governor Woodhouse had sent Orr to jail, but the military under his command were unable to cope with the maddened negroes, and his Excellency had despatched couriers to quell the insurrection caused by Orr's fanatical appeals.

The Demarara Royal Gazette of Feb. 23, contains an account of the disturbance, which was finally put down, and order restored. The Gazette says:—

An immense number of persons of all classes having volunteered as special constables, both mounted and on foot, selections were made and armed from the Government stores. The streets of Georgetown are protected by special constables every night.

On Wednesday, the Tyne steamer took up a detachment of the 24 West India regiment, consisting of two sergeants, one drummer, and fifty men, under the command of Capt. Reece and Ensign Macnamara, and proceeded to Berbice. The troops took with them three days' salt provisions, and they still remain at Fort Canjo, to aid the civil power. As long as they remain there, there is no fear of the peace of New Amsterdam being disturbed.

The origin of the disturbances is a deep-rooted dislike of the part of the coloured and negro races towards the Portuguese, long pent up. The arrival of the man Orr, and his rabid animosity to the Roman Catholic religion, which most part of the Portuguese profess, pointed him out to the ringleaders as a suitable agent—and the plan has been so far successful as to occasion a vast destruction of property, the loss of many lives, and the exposing of a large portion of the rural population to the miseries of starvation.

and disease, and the creating of a rancorous and bitter feeling of vindictive dislike, which will not only occasion much discord among the people themselves, but may materially affect the prosperity of the colony.

Orr is a native of Demerara, and his mother resides there. He was in prison, at last accounts, being unable to obtain bail.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY.

April 2. There was a short discussion in the House this morning in reference to an Educational pamphlet sent out by the members by Mr. J. Gregory; this mode of influencing members was warmly censured by Mr. End.

Bill relating to Mining Licenses was taken up, and gave rise to much speech making—majority of speakers in favor of bill—progress reported.

Bill relating to Land required for Railway purposes, and bill relating to Municipalities, were introduced by Atty. General.

Mr. Hatheway's resolution to surrender initiation of money grants to the Executive, was taken up, and discussion occupied most of the afternoon. Speakers in favor of resolution were Hatheway, Boyd, J. A. Harding, Street, Cutler, Connell, Brown, in opposition, End, McPhelim, Allan, McLeod. Speaker in the chair, House adjourned at half-past 5 o'clock.

Initiation of money grants passed.

Beautiful Sentiment.

Shortly before the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon, which contained this beautiful illustration:—

"Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channel—through the playful murmuring of the little brook and the winding of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads, the flowers on the brink seem to offer themselves to our young hands; we are happy in hope, and we grasp eagerly at the beauties around us, but the stream hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth and manhood is a deeper flood, amid subjects more striking and magnificent. We are animated by the moving picture of enjoyment and industry passing us; we are excited at some short-lived disappointment. The stream bears us on, and our joys and griefs are alike left behind us. We may be shipwrecked; we cannot be delayed; whether rough or smooth, the river hastens to its home till the roar of the ocean is in our ears, and the tossing of the waves is beneath our feet, and the land lessens from our eyes, and the floods are lifted around us, and we take our further voyage where there is no witness save the Infinite and Eternal!"

Courtesy for the Young.—Fight hard against a hasty temper. Anger will set a house on fire. A fit of passion may give you cause to mourn all the days of your life. Never revenge an injury.

He that revenges knows no rest.—The meek possess a peaceful breast.

If you have an enemy, act kindly towards him, and make him your friend. You may not win him at once, but try him again—let one kindness be followed by another, till you have compassed your ends. By little and little great things are completed.

Waters falling day by day.—Wear the hardest rock away.

Melancholy Occurrence.—A little girl, about 11 years of age, belonging to Mrs. McAffee of this place, left her school about 10 o'clock, A. M. on Tuesday for the purpose of getting some water; in a short time she was missed; a search was made when her bonnet was found in a water hole in the Creek quite convenient. An alarm was immediately made; and we never witnessed a greater degree of sympathy than was manifested towards the afflicted mother. (The father of the child was drowned a little more than three years ago.) Upwards of fifty men commenced cutting away the ice about 11 o'clock the same day, and continued their exertions until about two o'clock, P. M. on Thursday; their labours terminated by the discovery of the body about four rods from where she fell in, and in about two feet of water.

The ingenuity of Mr. McCaslan, watchmaker of this place, suggested the plan by which the deceased was discovered. He procured a water tight cask, in which he inserted two panes of glass; sunk it with weights, and then a boy went into it, who through the glass could see all around him, and by this means discovered the situation of the body.—[Woodstock Sentinel.]

If a stout healthy man applies to you for charity, give him a job of work and let him earn it. If he is honestly poor, he will turn again; if not you have a happy ridance.

Wisdom, Strength, and Beauty, are three great pillars.

SECOND DESPATCH.
The papers are full of congratulatory paragraphs respecting the infant Bonaparte. We have also a few editorials on the subject of American affairs.
The Austrian Correspondence has the following, dated 10th and 14th:
"Omar Pasha has arrived at Constantinople. Great mortality amongst the French in the Crimea. Health of the French at Constantinople is improving. Fortifications at Nicolai are being strengthened. General Luderer has ordered officers on furlough to return."

A letter from Kerich says that the news of the armistice produced a profound sensation of joy along the shores of the Sea of Azoff, and business became suddenly active.
The Imperial foundry established on the left bank of the Don has been closed, and this seems to confirm the intention manifested by the court of Russia to abandon all its maritime establishments on the Black Sea.
On the 17th all the ships and Allied batteries fired a salute in honor of the birth of the Emperor's son.

Letters from the camp in the Crimea extend from the 3d to the 7th of March, and are chiefly occupied with accounts of the weather.

GREAT BRITAIN.—Mr. Buchanan has introduced his successor, Mr. Dallas, to the diplomatic corps, and on Monday, the 17th ult. transferred to him the charge of the Embassy. Mr. Buchanan has gone to Paris, whence he will return in a few days, and will probably return home by the steamer of the 19th April.
There is a report from the Crimea that two divisions of the army—the Highlanders and the 2d and 4th Division under Sir C. Campbell, will immediately proceed to Canada.

Prince Jerome is recovering.
It is calculated, from statistical tables, that the number of children born on the 16th of March, to all 100 women the Emperor and Empress is godfather and godmother, must be about 2,600. Each child is to receive a gift of 300 francs. All the boys are to be named "Louis Eugene," all the girls "Eugene Louise."

The eleventh sitting of the Congress announced for Thursday, did not take place—it will take place to-morrow, 22d.
LONDON, Saturday.—The "City Article" of the Daily News, dated Friday evening, says: "To-day being Good Friday, no transactions have taken place in funds and shares, nor is any list of prices published." The returns show a small increase in the stock of bullion in the Bank of England.

We are always gratified to give publicity to whatever indicates manufacturing prosperity in the Lower Colonies. In a private letter from Mr. Jeremiah Harrison, of Indian town, N. B., we are informed that during the past year he has manufactured and sold $40,000 worth of vehicles of various descriptions, at his Factory in Portland, near the farm place. Mr. Harrison is a young man who works more and talks less about it than most young men, and if New Brunswick had more such sons her manufactures would be more extensive. —[Digby Western News.

Provincial Parliament.

FREDERICTON, April 3.
House this morning proceeded to the consideration of the question respecting the Initiation of Money Grants. The resolution was advocated by Landry, McNaughton, Steadman, Johnson, Gilmor, Hatheway; and opposed by McEllan, Hayward, Wilmut, Kerr, and Macpherson. The question was then taken, and the resolution carried. Yeas—Hatheway, Gilmor, Brown, Boyd, McAdam, Smith, Johnson, Tilley, Fisher, Watters, Street, Tibbels, Connell, L. R. Harding, J. A. Harding, McNaughton, Landry, Steadman, Sutton, Elliot—23. Nays—End, Kerr, Bonford, Godard, Armstrong, Wilmut, Ryan, McLeod, Purdy, Macpherson, Allen, M. P. H. Hayward, Montgomery, McEllan, Ferris, Gilbert—17. Absent—Grey, Lunt and Stevens. Speaker in the chair.

A Bill was introduced by Mr. End to authorize the Ballot system in the Election of Parish Officers.
In the afternoon, the House was in Supply, and disposed of a few grants.
Report of Contingent Committee was laid before the House. Several members took occasion to animadvert upon some of the items, among which were a silk gown, two portmanteaus, and several trunks. Further consideration of the report will be resumed to-morrow.

The House resolved itself into Committee of the whole, in consideration of the Bill relating to Mining Licenses. Several speeches were made and progress reported.
House adjourned quarter before 4.
April 4.
The House was principally occupied with routine business this morning. The Bill relating to Mining Licenses was withdrawn, and a resolution was adopted in its stead.
Honble Attorney General, in reply to a question put by a member of the House, stated that the Sheriffs for the different Counties had, with two exceptions, been re-appointed.

The Bill to amend the Charter of the City of St. John was taken up a few minutes before 1 o'clock. Mr. End moved his postponement for 12 months. Lost by a large majority. Mr. McPhelim moved that the citizens have the power to elect the Common Clerk; also lost. The Bill was then carried, with the striking out of the section requiring two Aldermen to be elected in place of an Alderman and Councillor.
Progress was reported on the Bill relating to the debt and property of the City of St. John.

The Legislative Council agreed to the St. Andrews Railway Bill. The other Railway Bills are under discussion. The Speakers to-day were Messrs. Wark, Robertson, Bonford, and Todd.
APRIL 5.
The bill to remove the Shiretown of King's County, was postponed for 3 months. Mr. Bennett introduced a bill to suspend the grant to King's College—which was read a first time.

The second bill relative to the St. Andrews & Quebec Railway, was passed without opposition. House in Supply. A motion to place on the Supply book a grant to the Sheriff of Kent, was rejected after much discussion.
The consideration of the bill relating to Land damages, occupied most of the afternoon; and after several amendments had been proposed and lost; the different sections of the bill were finally carried without a division.

In the Legislative Council the speakers to-day on the Railway bills were, Messrs. Todd, Kinnear, Hatch, and Chandler; the three former in support of, and the latter in opposition to the scheme.
APRIL 7.
Several grants for the maintenance of superior Schools, were placed on the Supply Book this morning. General opinion is that each and all of these will be rejected.
There was some discussion in reference to the time for taking up the bill for the repeal of the Prohibitory Law; the mover not anxious to proceed with the bill to-day, consequently deferred until to-morrow.

House in Supply—usual grant to the Wesleyan Academy passed.
There was a long discussion in consequence of motion to place on supply a grant for the Sheriff of Carleton to reimburse him for prosecuting expenses; a motion to reduce the grant to $750.00, was carried.
Question on the first Railway Bill to be taken in the Legislative Council to-morrow. Speakers today in support of the scheme were—Seelye, Hill, Odell, Ryan, Saunders, and Stevens;—in opposition, Hazen, and Hamilton.

REPORT OF THE CONTINGENT COMMITTEE.
The committee appointed on the 14th day of February last, to take into consideration the Contingent expenses of the House of Assembly, beg leave to make their first Report.
The committee having before them the Invoices of Lumsdale & Co., of Stationery imported by the Clerk of this House, find that there is charged in these Invoices, ten Trunks; the aggregate value of which is £14 16; two Portmanteaus, £6 6; one Queen's Counsel's best Silk Robe, £9; one electric plated Shade with standing arms and shade, £9 9; together with 40 lbs. of bees-transparent Wax Candles; amounting together to the sum of £44 11s. sterling.

Your committee feeling that these items are not required for the Contingencies of this House, beg to recommend that the Trunks, Portmanteaus, Queen's Counsel's Robe, Electric Plated Shade, and Wax Candles, be immediately sent to an Auction Room and sold at public auction, for the benefit of the Province.

Your committee beg leave to make a further Report.

MAIL ROBBERIES.—A regular system of mail robberies seems to have been planned and put into successful execution between St. Louis and the Atlantic. We learn from the Postmaster at St. Louis, that the mail made up for Boston on the 26th January, the mail of the 27th of same month for Washington, and the mail of the 7th of March for Philadelphia, are all missing, and have fallen into the hands of robbers.

The Standard.
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 1856.

The Legislature is now working hard to get through with the business of the Session. The two St. Andrews & Quebec Railway Bills have passed both branches. The usual grants for Roads and Schools have passed the Assembly—the Initiation of Money Grants has been surrendered to the Executive by a vote of yeas 20, nays 17. A bill is now before the House, introduced by the Attorney General making Municipal Corporations imperative upon every County in the Province. The bill to repeal the Prohibitory Law, was to be taken up on Monday last, but was deferred until Tuesday.

The Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions of the Peace, was opened here on Tuesday. His Worship Justice Hatheway presiding. We are happy to learn, there are no criminal or civil causes to engage the attention of the Common Pleas.
HOW THEY DO IN THE STATES.—The citizens of the Township of Eastport at their Town Meeting held on Monday last, taxed themselves to the tune of $11,130 for Town purposes; $4000 of which sum is for Schools and contingent expenses of same; $1000 for support of Poor; $700 for repairs of Highways; $200 for pay of Town Officers. The result of their election is said to be a triumph of the Democrats and Straight Whigs.

Although Slavery is illegal in California, it has existed there since that Country was admitted as a state of the Union. Still the law is not inoperative when appealed to by a slave, as was recently the case. Fourteen persons of color applied to a Judge and demanded their freedom under a writ of habeas corpus. The Judge after hearing the arguments, decided that the colored persons were free, and that any attempt of their former owner to decoy them to Texas, would subject him to be punished as a kidnapper.

THE STEAMER QUEEN. Capt. Michener, made her appearance in our harbour on Monday last, for the first time this season; she has been tastefully painted, and otherwise improved. We learn that she will run between Calais and Eastport, on Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, until further notice, and connects with the Steamers Admiral and Adelaide, the former of which leaves Boston every Thursday, and the latter every Monday.

WESTERN EMIGRATION.—We understand that a number of young men, natives of this County, will leave shortly for the Western States and others are preparing to leave the Province, at this rate the County, and indeed we may add the Province will be depleted of its best population. No inducement seems to be sufficient to retain our population. The same disposition is evinced in the State of Maine, people are leaving every week for the far West. It must be there is some very strong magnetic attraction, at a distance. It may turn out to many of them a deception and a snare.

From the Chief Superintendent of Schools report, we learn, that there are in the County of Charlotte: 10 Parishes, 93 School districts, 116 School houses; that during the year there were 125 Schools in operation, total number of pupils 4,032; male teachers, 51, female teachers 74. Total money expended for Parish School purposes, $4,523, 11s. 4d. The average attendance of the Scholars is very small, when compared with the whole number, and without doubt, can only only be attributed to the carelessness and total indifference of the parents.

THE MASONIC JOURNAL.—We have received the April number of this Journal, published at Brunswick, Maine, by Br. G. W. Chase, at the low price of 50 cents per annum. We have perused with pleasure and profit, the articles from the pen of its Editor, who has been appointed by the Grand Lodge of the State, a grand lecturer. One number of the paper is worth more than the subscription; the selected articles are, culled with much care and judgment—in a word, the "Journal" contains a fund of information, valuable to any Mason. Br. Chase to use a homely term, is "posted up" in Masonic matters, and without a shadow of doubt, has made "suitable proficiency" in all the degrees. We will feel happy to forward a list of subscribers with the money for the "Journal."

THE LOSS OF THE STEAMER CURLEW.—We learn, says the Boston Courier, by the arrival of bark Messenger Bird at Provincetown, that the Cunard steamer Curlew, from Halifax for Bermuda, ran ashore on the North Breaker of Bermuda, at 4 o'clock on the morning of the 18th ult., and sank in three minutes. The mails were lost, but the crew were saved. She was broken in two. Assistance had been sent to her, but the sea ran so high that nothing could be saved. The Curlew was about 700 tons burthen, and belonged to the Cunard line of Halifax, Bermuda and St. Thomas steamers. She was comparatively new, having been built at Greenock, Scotland, in 1853, and cost about $87,000.

FIRE.—We are sorry to learn that on the afternoon of the 30th ult., a serious fire broke out in the house of Mr. John F. Grimmer, Basswood-Ridge Road, St. Stephen, by which his entire dwelling-house was consumed. The fire was occasioned by a spark from the chimney which ignited the roof. The only property saved was some household furniture, &c., and such articles and commodities as had been placed in the cellar. An insurance of $600 had been effected but we regret to learn that the loss, beyond the amount covered by the insurance, amounts to $1000.—Col. Presbyterian.

JAIL BREAKING.—Three prisoners confined in the Jail broke out early on Tuesday morning, by cutting up the cell, flooring and breaking through a weak portion of the stone wall in the basement below, which led into the yard. Two of the prisoners, named Bigger and De-Brang, the former of whom was imprisoned for breaking into the Penitentiary buildings, managed to get over the wall and made their escape, but the third, named Hill, a deserter from one of H. M. ships at war, was captured shortly after he had scaled the walls. No blame is attached to the Jailor for the escape of the prisoners. —[Nbr.]

NOVA SCOTIA.—The following resolutions moved by the Hon. Mr. Johnston, embody the elective principle as applicable to the middle branch of the Legislature:—
Resolved, That the power possessed by the Executive, exclusively to select and appoint the individuals elevated to the Legislative Council is inconsistent with correct principles of representative government, and, on occasions of emergency, may prove dangerous to the liberties and progress of the country; it places the second branch of the legislature unduly under the control of the government, from whose patronage it draws its continued existence, and removes it in too great a degree from the influence of the popular sentiment, while it leads to an unequal representation in that body of the different portions of the Province, and the several interests of the people.

Therefore, in the opinion of this House, it is the duty of the representatives of the people of Nova Scotia to seek by all constitutional means a change in the construction and constitution of the Legislative Council, by which the seats in that body shall be held dependent on election by the people.

Further Disclosures of Sadler's Forgeries.—The Advertiser says, that within the last few days, discoveries of forgeries by Mr. Sadler have been made in the city, of which the slightest suspicion did not exist before. He has forged the names of three, directors of a well known company to the extent of £180,000. The number of names he has forged altogether is not much short of one hundred. It appears he lost in one day, some six or seven months since, £12,000 in a sugar speculation. On another occasion, his loss on a hempen transaction was £35,000; while by an iron purchase he lost nearly £50,000. He left the world with obligations amounting to £1,500,000.

Holloway's Pills the most efficacious remedy for Determination of Blood to the Head. The immense power possessed by these wonderful Pills in the cure of determination of blood to the head, and all bilious disorders, although well known and appreciated by the mass, yet among some private individuals it is perhaps not understood. To such as are afflicted with these and ailments, and nervous disorders, we strongly recommend them; and would advise their having recourse to the same, after other means have failed, with the certainty of obtaining immediate relief, and by perseverance a lasting cure. The thousands who have derived signal benefit from the use of this inestimable remedy, is at once a proof of the virtues the medicine possesses, and renders it an indispensable requisite in every family, whether at home or abroad. These Pills are equally efficacious in all diseases of the liver and stomach.

Stammering Cured!

DR. BRONSON, AND C. C. BEERS, ARE happy to announce that STAMMERING can be permanently CURED, by Medicine and Vocal Gymnastics. It is first treated as a Nervous Disease, (like St. Vitis' Dance, Epileptic Fits, etc.) and then the habit, incident to the disease, is corrected by exercise in the gymnasium. Mr. Beers has been an inveterate stammerer for thirty-five years; has attended many institutions for the cure of stammering, and expended hundreds of dollars without any permanent benefit, but cured himself, 18 months ago, and has ever since remained so. With the same means, we have cured others, to whom we would gladly refer any applicants—not having failed in a single instance. Being satisfied from reason, experience, and observation, that stammering is the effect of a Nervous Disease, and can be perfectly cured by the above system, in the course of two or three weeks, we assure all interested of these gratifying results, and guarantee a permanent cure, or refund the small fee paid in advance. Those desiring further information in these subjects, (including terms, guaranty, &c.) can obtain it from our New Work, just issued, on Stammering, its Effects, Causes and Remedies. Illustrated by One Hundred Engravings. Price, One Dollar; or the receipt of which the Book will be sent without expense, and the money refunded if it will not be cured in the full term of four weeks. Board, sent, by mail, on unobtainable terms. Address, BRONSON & BEERS, 136, Washington-street, Boston, Mass.

LET US REASON TOGETHER.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

WHY ARE WE SICK?

It has been the lot of the human race to be weighed down by disease and suffering. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are specially adapted to the relief of the Weak, the Nervous, the Delicate, and the Invalid, of all climes, ages, sexes, and constitutions. Professor Holloway personally superintends the manufacture of his medicines, and offers them to a free and enlightened people, as the best remedy the world ever saw for the removal of disease.

THESE PILLS PURIFY THE BLOOD.

These famous Pills expressly combined to operate on the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the skin, and the bowels, restoring any derangement in their functions, purifying the blood, the very fountain of life, and thus curing disease in all its forms.

DYSPEPSIA AND LIVER COMPLAINTS.

Nearly half the human race have taken these Pills. It has been proved in all parts of the world, that nothing has been found equal to them in cases of disorders of the liver, dyspepsia, and stomach complaints generally. They soon give a healthy tone to those organs, however much deranged, and when all other means have failed.

GENERAL DEBILITY.

Many of the most despotic Governments have opened their Custom Houses to the introduction of these Pills, that they may become the medicine of the masses. Learned Colleges admit that this medicine is the best remedy ever known for persons of delicate health, or where the system has been impaired, as its invigorating properties never fail to afford relief.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

No Female, young or old, should be without this celebrated medicine. It corrects and regulates the monthly courses at all periods, acting in many cases like a charm. It is also the best and safest medicine that can be given to children of illages, and for any complaint; consequently no family should be without it.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following Diseases:

A MARVELLOUS REMEDY FOR A MARVELLOUS AGE!

Holloway's Ointment

THE GRAND EXTERNAL REMEDY

By the aid of a microscope, we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies. Through these this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to every organ or inward part. Diseases of the Kidneys, disorders of the Liver, affection of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Asthma, Coughs and Colds, are by means effectually cured. Every housewife knows that salt passes freely through bone or meat of any thickness. The healing Ointment far more readily penetrates through any bone or fleshy part of the living body, curing the most dangerous inward complaints, that cannot be reached by other means.

GRYCELAS, RHEUMATISM AND SCORFULIC HUMOURS.

No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the Skin, as this Ointment. They may assume, as this Ointment—Scoury, Sore Heads, Scrofula, or Erysipelas, cannot long withstand its influence. The inventor has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals dispensing this Ointment, giving advice as to its application, and has thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.

SORE LEGS, SORE BREASTS, WOUNDS & ULCERS.

Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when having to cope with the worst cases of sores, wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumours. Professor Holloway has dispatched to the East large shipments of this Ointment, to be used in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, stiffness or contraction of the joints, even of 20 years' standing.

PILES AND FISTULAS.

These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured if the Ointment be well rubbed over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot. Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bad Legs	Chilblains
Bad Breasts	Chapped hands
Burns	Corns (soft)
Bunions	Cancers
Bite of Mosquitoes	Contracted and Stiff Joints
Coco-bay	Fistulas
