MERRY CHRISTMAS

BOYLEN GIVES $5000 TO GEOLOGY DEPT.

A sum of $5,000 has been presented to the University of New Brunswick's Department of Geology by M. J. Boylen, president and Managing director of Brunswick Mining and Smelting Corporation and other mining companies.

In announcing Dr. Boylen's latest gift to the provincial university, Dr. Colin B. Mackay, president, said that the sum would be used to purchase grinding and polishing equipment and related machines for the microscopic study of ores.

Dr. Boylen's assistance to the University of New Brunswick's Department of Geology has meant a great deal to us," Dr. Mackay said. "It has enabled us to expand our potential in the academic sense and in the assistance we can render to industry and government.

Dr. Mackay pointed out that Mr. Boylen was also contributing substantially to support a chair in the UNB geology department. Last winter, Mr. Boylen's New York associates granted UNB 7500 shares in Brunswick Mining and Smelting Corporation for the establishment of the chair, which is known as the M. J. Boylen chair of Geology.

AAA Secretary Is Elected

Bill Paterson was elected to the position of Secretary of the Amateur Athletic Association in the elections last week, squeezing out Jane Hickman by a narrow margin of votes. Only 37.5% of the Student body exercised their franchise: Engineers 36%; Foresters 67%; Arts, Science, etc. 29%. Returning Officers for the elections were Ted Boswell, Pete Williamson, and Dick Hale. The proposed Sophomore elections were not held.

Awarded St. Paul's Scholarship

Karl R. Toft, a first-year engineer at the University of New Brunswick, has been awarded the Saint Paul's Wark Scholarship, it was announced here by Rev. J. Arthur Forbes, minister of Saint Paul's United Church, Fredericton.

The scholarship, valued at $100, is awarded annually by the scholarship committee of the session of Saint Paul's Church to a deserving student attending UNB, who is a member or adherent of the church.

Toft is a native of Fredericton and resides at 318 Dundonald Street.

Saint Andrew's Society of Saint John scholarships have been awarded to three students at the University of New Brunswick. This year's recipients are, Robert MacLean, Saint John; Alan E. Stiven and Ian Watson, both of Fredericton.

These annual scholarships, worth $150 each, are awarded to aid in the education of young men who are eligible to be elected as members of the Society. MacLean and Watson are fourth year Arts students, and Stiven is taking his third year in the Science Faculty.

Imperial Oil Interview

On December 7, 8 and 9 Imperial Oil Ltd. will be on the campus to interview students for employment. Graduates and undergraduates in engineering arts, geology, Honours math and physics, Honour Chemistry and Business Administration are eligible. Those interested in securing an interview are asked to leave their names with the Public Relations Office as soon as possible. The Public Relations Office is situated in Room 13, the basement of the Arts Building.

News Briefs

The dates of the University of New Brunswick Winter Carnival are set for February 3, 4 and 5. The SRC has set aside the sum of six hundred dollars for the financing of this full-scale extravaganza.

ELECTIONS OFF SRC SPECIAL MEETING; CARNIVAL GETS GRANT

SRC Constitution Eliminates The Need

TOM FOULKES IN BY ACCLAMATION

TOM FOULKES

Elections for Sophomore representatives have been cancelled last week because one nomination has been misplaced, and the SRC decided to hold over the election until this week, because the slip-up had been no fault of the nominee. But an article of the SRC constitution has eliminated the need for elections. Article 3, section one, subsection 1: There shall be no more than two representatives from the same faculty in any one class except in the case of there being no nominations from other faculties. Since there are already two Arts Students on the SRC, and since two of the nominees for the vacant position were Arts students, these two, Bill Ray and Paul Crocker, were not eligible. Therefore Tom Foulkes becomes Sophomore representative by acclamation.

SONG CONTEST

Valuable cash prizes are offered for an original college song. The contest is open to students, faculty and Alumni. The entry must be original, and be either a song suitable for convocation, reunions and the like, or a rousing song for athletic functions. The winning songs become the sole property of the University. Students are urged to enter this valuable contest. Watch Brunswickan and the Bulletin Boards for further developments.

Newman Club News

A change in the organizational setup of the UNB Newman Club is being experienced with this year, in an effort to stimulate interest in the club. The society, which in previous years has been composed of students of both UNB and Teachers' College, has restricted its membership this year to UNB students only.

Several meetings of the club under the new system have been held and the general reaction of the new system have been favourable. The executive feels that the separation of the university students from the student teachers will enable the two groups to enjoy greater benefit from association with others of more mutual interests.

The Teachers' College students have not been left without a forum in which to discuss their own problems. They have organized a new society of their own under the name of the Aquinas Club.

The Newman Club and the Aquinas Club hold simultaneous meetings in different parts of St. Dunstan's Hall every second Sunday evening. Following their regular meetings and discussions periods, the two groups merge for a social evening. Refreshments are served at the social gatherings.

Spontaneous group discussions on various topics highlighted the last meeting of the Newman Club, and similar discussions are planned for the future. Attendance at the meetings has increased greatly over previous years, and a membership drive is planned early in the second term.

The next meeting of the Newman Club will be held this Sunday evening, December 11, at 8:15 p.m., in St. Dunstan's Hall, Regent Street. Every Roman Catholic student at UNB is eligible for membership in the club and is indeed assured of a warm welcome at Sunday's meeting.

This year's president is Richard Whalen of the Class of 1956. Les Humber is the club vice-president, and the treasurer is Ted Stephen. The secretary is Dot McDade. Back for another year as club chaplain is Rev. Charles Mersereau, of the clergy of St. Dunstan's Parish.

At a special meeting of the SRC on Wednesday, Nov. 30 the Council gave their full financial support to the Winter Carnival Committee. This means that the committee can go ahead with plans for the Carnival immediately. The SRC granted the Committee two hundred dollars this term and four hundred next, instead of the three hundred dollars each term, as was originally solicited. Jim MacKenzie, the treasurer, explained that the SRC could only give two hundred dollars this term because of a shortage of funds.

COTC Officers

Ten candidates for membership in the University Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps were selected on November 23rd when they appeared before the Officer Selection Board for the University.

Candidates are chosen on the basis of all around ability and leadership qualities indicating that they will be successful as officers for the Canadian Army. Each candidate is given a thorough medical examination and is interviewed by special officers who assess their suitability. Interest in the unit is good and the board were very pleased with the calibre of the candidates. Recruiting is still going on and it is anticipated that additional candidates will be selected shortly after the new year. The successful applicants were: A. M. Adams, H. W. Erb, P. M. Graye, D. M. Irvine, G. E. Maguire, J. C. Mulholland, D. G. Richards, J. L. Stickle, W. W. D. Webster, P. G. Williamson.

Members of the Selection Board included: Major R. J. Love, Commanding Officer; Captain W. Y. Smith, Adjutant; Major R. E. Newton, Representative of Area Headquarters; Professor R. H. B. McLaughlin and Professor A. P. Stuart, both former officers in the Canadian Army.

Students who are planning to join the COTC should obtain application forms from the COTC Orderly Room in the Student Memorial Centre or from Major R. J. Love in Room 207 of the Arts Building, as soon as possible. The time for enlisting new recruits is limited and students are urged to begin their training as soon as possible. Lectures from new recruits have already commenced. Students are reminded that successful candidates can earn up to $700. during the year while taking their military training, which is so arranged as to not interfere with college work.

When asking for the money, the Carnival Committee made it quite clear that they were only asking for a grant. Bob Ross, the committee co-chairman, told the SRC that he hoped to be able to return the money after the Carnival. Money will be raised by selling tickets at $1 each. These tickets will gain admittance to every event in the Carnival and any profits from these sales will go into a Winter Carnival Fund.

Money was a central topic at this meeting, for immediately after Bob Ross has been granted the $600, there was yet another plea for money, this time from a committee formed to try to get a new college song. The alumni society had given $50 for a prize to the best varsity song or yell, so the Song Committee asked the SRC to add to the donation in order to make a worthwhile prize. An early request for $100 was turned down, but the Council decided to contribute $50 to the prize.

An overlooked nomination was the cause of the cancellation of the Sophomore elections. The SRC decided that, because it was no fault of the nominees, the election would be cancelled for a week so that the ballot sheets could be changed and the Brunswickian could announce the extra candidate.

The meeting closed with Bob Ross thanking the SRC for its cooperation and for calling the meeting at such short notice.

"Michaelmas Term" CURRENT AFFAIRS

So . . . So . . .
SORRY !!

I want my 50c

Rearmament of Campus Police

MANY THANKS

Merry Christmas

"Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year". We the staff of "The Brunswickan" extend the salutations of the season to our readership. The Michaelmas Term is coming to a close and with it we are terminating publication until January 18th. This is the last of eleven consecutive issues of this newspaper for this year. Starting with a staff of one we have expanded and grown to our present size. We, the Editors, would like to take this opportunity of thanking all those who have come to our aid and have helped to make this newspaper a reasonably consistent publication.

The reporters, columnists, photographers, cartoonists, and all who supply the material that fills the columns of "The Brunswickan" each week are to be thanked by the entire student body. We may not have printed all that we should have printed, or all that we could have printed, had we the experience and time, but that we have printed is the result of the labours of the little known contributors to this newspaper. The editorial staff can only do so much, the rest, the hard work, is up to the general staff members.

This is the season for giving thanks and being joyful. We would like to give thanks for the support you, the students have given us in our most trying year. We are joyful because we have succeeded in publishing and coming out on top of the ledger, as well as having produced a paper which, we feel, has satisfied some on the campus most of the time and all on the campus some of the time.

This is Canada's oldest college newspaper, being founded in 1867 by Sir George E. Foster and our New Year's resolution is to build it into the best. With the support we have had this term we are sure we can at least get well on the road to this goal next spring.

Merry Christmas, and THANKS.

The Reason Why . . .

In the last two meetings of the Student's Representative Council "The Brunswickan" has been criticized for publishing four pages rather than six. There are two reasons for this: one economic, one technical. The high cost of publishing six pages makes it prohibitive to produce this size of newspaper each week without going into debt. Debts such as these have been causing considerable strain on the S.R.C. finances over the past few years. It is hoped that this year "The Brunswickan" can escape this situation and break even.

The second reason is that of a lack of material to fill six pages. There are times during the school year when this vital item is scarce. The month of November is one of them. This lack of news and sports makes it impossible to produce six pages.

This particular issue was planned as four pages carrying a normal distribution of advertisements. Prior to press time, at a point too late to expand to six pages, several advertisements arrived by mail. The result is an increase of approximately 40% in advertising space. This has given an undesirable space-advertising ratio but for economic and public relations reasons none of these ads could be refused.

The situation precipitated was unavoidable and we apologize for the lack of material in this our last issue of the term. The spring term will, we feel, see an improvement in "The Brunswickan" both in size and quality.

Letters To The Editor

The Editor
 The Brunswickan
 Dear Sir:

According to the constitution of the S.R.C. "The President of the S.R.C. shall not hold the presidency of any other association or society subordinate to the Students' Representative Council, unless in special circumstances and then only with the consent of the S.R.C."

This year, such permission was granted, with ensuing results, that due to the load of one job the responsibility of the other was neglected and forgotten. Last week a valid nomination for Sophomore Class Representative was submitted to the Council thru their President, who failed to produce the nomination, placing himself and the council in a rather embarrassing position. This was a direct insult to the nominee who was further attacked with the suggestion that he withdraw. This would have saved face for the Council undoubtedly, but why should anyone pay that price for others' failings. The S. R. C. is responsible to the body it represents. If it fails in this the idea of the Council is lost and its members should have the courage and dignity to admit their mistakes. This matter has caused a great inconvenience to all those involved but the council seems neither aware of it nor interested enough to rectify the mistake to the best of their ability. It would seem that an apology is in order.

Does the council think it could stand a vote of confidence from the students? You are a weak Council, very weak. Buck up!

Yours Sincerely,
 Dick Elmer.

DRESS REHEARSAL

By Gordon Penny
A play in four acts of two scenes each, ranging from crescendo un poco animato to andantino teneramente, for the benefit of those who like it that way.

NOTE: Musical annotations are included in this edition in order that particularly pleasing passages may be hummed. We would include some of the notes, but our typewriter can't carry a tune.

ADDENTIA: Tickets for the Saturday performance of Hamlet are still available at the Queen's Post Office.

P.S.: There are some tickets for the other nights, but they are not nearly so numerous.

Act I Scene 1

The scene is laid in the Queen's drama lounge. Actors are preparing for the dress rehearsal of Hamlet. Some are having make-up applied. Others are smirking in mirrors. Still others are playing cards.

REYNALDO: (grazioso) Where is the fly in this damn thing?
OSRIC: (e leggiere) It's flown. Have you never worn pantaloon before?
Hamlet: (sempre vivace) I'll lug the guts into the neighboring room.

POLONIUS (as usual) You were supposed to be on stage fifteen minutes ago.

Act I Scene 2:

Same as scene 1. Actors are et cetera.
REYNALDO: (Ditto) Well, I don't own any garter belts.
OSRIC: (no comment)
HAMLET: (poco sostenuto) I'll lug the guts into the neighboring room.

POLONIUS: (as always) You were supposed to be on stage twenty minutes ago.

Act II Scene 1:

The Scene is laid flat on its back. Actors are on stage or off stage, as the case may be. Others are smirking in mirrors. Still others are playing cards.

CLAUDIUS: (vivace) It's bloody cold up here.
BERNARDO: (breathlessly) Yes.
A PRIEST: (priestly) There's supposed to be food at half time.
LADY-IN-WAITING: (also breathlessly) My garter's snapped!

HAMLET: (timorously) I'll lug the guts into the neighbouring room.

ATTENDANT: (hauteur de temps) You're down to pull the curtain.

Act II Scene 2

Same as the others. Someone has just come up with a royal flush. Others are smirking, et cetera.

GERTRUDE: (tempo di minuetto) Let me fix your garter.
O look, it's all come asunder. You are undone!

ANNE: (poco piu animato) I don't care if you are reviewing it. Keep your paws off the food!

LADY FROM THE GLOBE: (andantino quasi allegretto) Where can I find a blank wall for some photographs?

GRAVE-DIGGER: (a tempo) Four kings beats yours.

HAMLET: (firmly) I'll lug the guts into the neighbouring room.

Act III Scene 1

The scene is in the drama lounge, where the play started. Since everybody is eating, nobody is talking.

NOBODY: (vaguely) There must be some way, else I search the sea in vain. What soul shall say be gone, and still remain within the pale. Tedium. That was not a pun, but rather a cold December tree, scratching the scalp of the sky and producing starts like dandruff.

Act III Scene 2

Not quite the same as before, but nearly.

Newman Club Dance

Famous name bands will supply the music for the Fall dance of the UNB Newman Club which will be held Thursday evening, December 8, in St. Dunstan's Hall, Regent Street.

Arrangements for the social are in the capable hands of Murray Cain, chairman of the Social Committee and all Newman Club members are invited to attend. The admission charge is nominal and Mr. Cain has announced that refreshments will be served.

ROSENCRANTZ: (poco moto) This robe does not fit. These slippers do not fit. This doublet is too small. I've forgotten some lines.

GUILDENSTERN: (e poco moto rit) So what?

Act IV Scene 1

The scene is getting tedious. Same place, et cetera.

POLONIUS: (molto espress a sempre) You were supposed to be on stage.

HORATIO (schersando) I'm the one who held the bridge.

OPHELIA: (amusedly) I get to drown off stage.

HAMLET: (decidedly) I'll lug the guts into the neighbouring room.

Act IV Scene 2

The scene has gone out for some air. Actors are dispersed. In the distance we may hear one voice, heading for home. In counterpoint we hear another, deep within the bowels of the lounge.

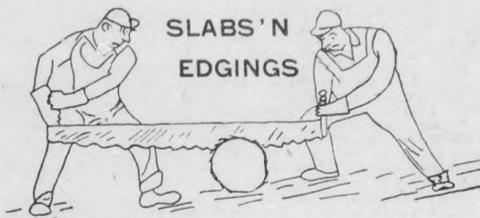

POLONIUS: (as usual) But I told him he was to have been on stage.

HAMLET: (like a man with his mind made up) I'll lug the guts into the neighbouring room.

The End

Editor's Note:—I'm looking the other way.

Now what? To coin a phrase, we are on the horns of a dilemma. The Editor wants a "news and views" column. The Foresters want something light, carefree and flippant. If we submit the former, the Foresters will rebel. If we submit the latter, it's liable to get lost on its way to the printers. So? So we are going to compromise. Jokes (?), remarks and so on will be mixed in with whatever "general interest" topics we consider worth mentioning. (If only half the column appears don't blame us!)

At the last Association meeting, committees were formed to handle the creation of the Forestry float and snow-sculpture for the Winter Carnival. That green-haired girl who appeared recently seems a natural for the Carnival Queen.

We wonder if those who saw "It's Always Fair Weather" noticed this phrase in Dolores Gray's song: "Thanks for the skating rink!"

Christmas is not far away — this is the last issue — and for all those who are apprehensive about the festive season, we submit the following consolation:

The horse and mule live 30 years
And nothing know of wines and beers;
The goat and sheep at 20 die
And never taste of scotch or rye;
The cow drinks water by the ton
And at 18 is almost done;
The dog at 15 cashes in
Without the aid of rum or gin;
The cat in milk and water soaks
And then in 12 short years it croaks;
The modest, sober, bone-dry hen
Lays eggs for noggs, then dies at 10.
All animals are strictly dry —
They sinless live and swiftly die —
But sinful, ginfull, rum-soaked men
Survive for 30 score years and 10.

'Bye now, see you all next term. A cool Yule and a frantic First to one and all.

RED RAIDERS RACK UP 2 WINS

University of New Brunswick Red Raiders posted their highest and lowest scores in Northeast College Conference basketball this season on a junket to Fort Kent and Presque Isle, Me., over the week-end.

The Red and Black cagers Friday thumped Fort Kent Training School 105-83 to rack up their tops of the current semester. The next night, Aroostook State Teachers' College romped to a 104-69 triumph over Raiders.

The split leaves UNB even at 2-2 for four starts in NEEC play. Raiders will leave the even plane Friday night at Lady Beaverbrook Gym when they run off their fifth contest, against Husson College of Bangor. That's to be Raiders' last effort before Christmas vacation. Game time is 9 o'clock.

Leading UNB to victory over Fort Kent was Jim Milligan who connected on 69% of his field-goal attempts and added seven free throws for 31 points. Next came Don Brannen with 18 and Bob Wightman finishing third with 16.

Wharton sparked the losers with 25. Meader had 17, Derosier hit for 15 and Beals dropped through 12. UNB's Les Rheinlander was ejected from the game late in the first half for committing what officials termed "intentional fouls" on two successive plays. Altogether, Raiders were charged with 28 personals. Fort Kent connected on 29 of the resulting 46 free throws. Raiders, on the other hand, threaded the needle on 25 of their 43 free throws which were awarded on 25 Fort Kent fouls.

Big Second Half

UNB, after leading only 42-41 at half time, really went to town in the home-stretch 20 minutes to outcount Fort Kent 63-42. The rally gave the winners a tremendous shooting average of just over 50% for the game.

At Presque Isle the story was not so bright for the charges of coach Gerard (Moose) Flemming. Raiders' field-goal sniping slipped to about 25% and Aroostook ran away with the decision.

Maurice White headed the Aroostook point-getting with 17. Gene Michaud pressed White for the lead with 16 while George Moran and Manzo were likewise in fine form, hitting for 14 and 13 respectively.

Best for Raiders was John Gorman with 16. Gorman, who had missed the first encounter, threw in 13 of those points in the first quarter but fell off from his early hot pace. Brannen and Milligan posted 14's.

This contest gave Aroostook a sweep for the season over UNB. The Maine teachers-to-be had dumped UNB 86-71 at Fredericton.

TOP RICKER

Coming from far behind and starting their drive very late in the game, UNB defeated Ricker College of Bangor, Maine by a slim one-point margin, 70-69, before a cheering crowd in the Lady Beaverbrook Gym last Tuesday. There were many in the crowd who felt that UNB would never make it. The Red Raiders were playing but a mediocre game until the last ten minutes but all of a sudden it seemed that all five Raiders on the floor had ants in their pants, for they really starting moving. The winning basket was finally sunk with but sixteen seconds to play by Les Rheinlander.

JV's - Flyers Tonite

Flyers and Merchants both displayed blistering last period attacks to come up with a win and a tie respectively over University of New Brunswick puckchasers Saturday evening in City Commercial League hockey at Lady Beaverbrook Rink.

Flyers outgated UNB's senior varsity 7-5 on the basis of a two-goal, 4-2 edge in the final period. Merchants, after being blanked for two full frames, rammed home four goals in the last chapter to register a 4-4 tie against UNB's junior varsity in the other action.

Monday night, The senior collegians skated against Merchants on the Beaverbrook freeze at 8:30 o'clock. Tonight, junior varsity tackles Flyers, at the same place and the same time. And Saturday it's juniors and seniors in an all-UNB tussle, beginning at 7:30 o'clock on the Beaverbrook ice.

Flyers and UNB seniors were even at 2-2 after one period and at 3-3 twenty minutes later. The Flyers went ahead to stay early in the third and Bob Mable squashed a late attempt by the schoolboys to square the final count by pushing an insurance goal home 12 seconds before the end. UNB was playing without a goalie at that time, having hauled him in favor of an extra skater in a last-ditch bid.

Mable sparked the winners with three goals and an assist. Doug Worral picked up three more points, two of them goals, while Charlie Chase and Dinamore slapped in singletons. Doug Sewell was credited with two assists.

Hedley Savoy, Bill Dickie, Jim McNutt, Pete Mockler and Kaye Huot were the UNB scorers.

UNB seniors will be without the services of at least five players until after Christmas. Ketch, Doug Lyons, Dave Todd and Joe Robinson are to be tied up with examinations while Cliff Caldwell was sidelined for an indefinite period Saturday by a broken wrist.

In the other tilt, Merchants were whitewashed for 42-26 by UNB goalie Jack White before Doug Levison cracked the ice. McIntyre made it 4-2 at 6:12 of the third period and Jim Pike counted twice, at 15:06 and 17:40, to create the deadlock.

Juniors had compiled a 4-0 edge before Merchants roared back into the running. Juniors poked three pucks past Merchants' Charlie MacTavish in the middle frame and added another in the third. Leading the frontal was Bill Stewart with a brace of goals. Keith Dougherty, despite being cut by a stick in the first period and requiring stitches for the hurt, sank one market, helped on two other goals for three points and Ron Smith gained two points on a goal and an assist.

COED-S SCORE

University of New Brunswick's co-ed bowlers topped 2,223 wood here in their bid for the National Co-Eds' Telegraphic Bowling championship.

The event included entries from universities from coast to coast. Each team bowled a five-pin match on its own campus and the scores were flashed across the country to be compared with those posted by the competition. However, UNB officials said over the week-end it would be some time before a winner is announced. Defending top spot in Canada is Victoria College of Victoria, B.C.

All matches were run off last week. The Red and Black entry was led by Joyce Ramey who spilled 553 kegs. Next best was her sister, Shirley Ramey, with 522.

Ten girls took part in the current competition with the highest five scores counting. In order of their accomplishments, the countable scores were set by Joyce and Shirley Ramey, Carole Fouse, Betty Hadamar and Connie Treacartin. Finishing from sixth to 10th were Jennifer Prosser, Iris Bliss, Diane Johnston, Carolyn Crandall and Joyce Flood.

Here is the UNB scoresheet:

The University sextet wasted no time in piling up a commanding lead. The UNB girls led 26-7 at the half and were never in danger despite being outpointed 14-12 in the second stanza.

Leading the smooth-working UNB attack was tall Lois Lange. She dipped six field goals and coolly added four free throws for 16 points. Iris Bliss likewise broke into double figures for the winners, hitting for an even dozen points.
