DOUGHTY, HELD IN OREGON, ADMITS $1,000,000 BOND THEFT; DENIES ABDUCTION OF SMALL

Former Secretary of Missing Toronto Theatrical Millionaire Declares He Has Not Seen Small Since He Left Him in a Toronto Theatre on the Night Small Was Last Seen in This City—Doughty, Who is in Charge of Detective Mitchell, Promises to Produce Missing Bonds From Chicago Deposit Vault—Oregon City Constable to Get Reward of $15,000 for Identifying Doughty.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Nov. 23.—Owing to the sagacity of a constable at Oregon City, a small town near here, John Doughty was in custody here today, after police of the two countries had been searching for him for nearly a year following the disappearance of Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatrical man of Toronto, together with Canadian Victory bonds amounting to $1,000,000.

Doughty, who has been private secretary to Small, tonight was in charge of Austin P. Mitchell, member of the Toronto detective force, who says he would start from here tomorrow morning, stopping en route to Toronto, at Chicago, where he said Doughty had confessed he had deposited the missing bonds. Mitchell said Doughty agreed to accompany him without extradition proceedings.

Confesses Bond Theft

When Mitchell arrived, he said he was skeptical as to the identity of the suspect, but after Fortune and Mitchell found Doughty at his place of residence last night, Mitchell said he at once recognized Doughty whom he had known well in Toronto.

Doughty is said to have confessed he had possession of the missing bonds but would say nothing concerning the disappearance of Small, further than that he had last seen him at a theatre on the night last December when Small disappeared.

Arrest of Doughty

On Mitchell's arrival at Oregon City, he and Fortune went to Cooper's boarding house. Fortune said Mitchell, who is chief of the Toronto detective force, told him he had been on a hundred fruitless trips in connection with the case, and doubted whether Fortune had the right man.

Confessed to Officers

Officers who arrested Doughty said Doughty said he had been married twice, and that his second wife was living. They were separated some time ago, he said, and his two sons, ten and eleven years of age, are being cared for by his sister in Toronto.

Arsenic and Tomatoes

The following letter by Joseph James, formerly of Actinolite, but now of Toronto, will be read with interest.

Editor Ontario.

On Tuesday, Oct. 19, Mr. William Greteroux, councillor of the Township of Elzevir, called at my office, and in the course of conversation he told of the experience of some of the farmers in Prince Edward county during the past season.

Many of these farmers raise large quantities of tomatoes. In putting out the tomato plants in the spring certain of them put in the soil when planting a dope composed of arsenic and bran. The farmers who did this found the tomato plants came on strong and vigorous, matured early, set back. The result was an excellent crop of tomatoes, which they quickly disposed of to the canners at a top price. The experience of those farmers who did not use an arsenical dope when putting out their tomato plants was quite the reverse. They found that worms or other insects devoured the roots of the young plants, so much so that large numbers had to be replanted. This resulted in a late crop, which could not be disposed of to the same advantage as was the earlier crop raised in the same district.

The present writer was not greatly surprised to learn from an article in The Globe's Business and Industrial Section of the 13th inst., that the application for a United States patent that had been applied for covering "an arsenic impregnated fertilizer" had been refused. It was common rumour some forty years ago in this district that the late Prof. Rothwell, then a member of the firm of Stevens, Newberry & Rothwell, lessees of the Deloro mine, carried on extensive experiments in the use of arsenic in agriculture. These experiments were carried on mainly on the farm of Captain Stevens, at or near Detroit. If the professor left any records of these experiments they would be most interesting reading just at this time.

The fact that the application for patent herein referred to was not allowed leaves the matter open to be taken up by anyone. The experience of the Prince Edward county farmers is in direct line with claims made in the application that was refused. In order that the farmers—not those of Canada and the United States alone, but the farmers of the whole world—may be able to purchase supplies of arsenical compounds suitable for their varied requirements, it is up to the agricultural chemists and manufacturers of fertilizers to supply a crop protector which can be produced in conjunction with arsenic.

The effectual protection of growing crops from insects would result in solving some of the problems of the high cost of living. This can be accomplished by an intelligent use of arsenic in the soil by farmers.

Charged With Theft of Tires

County Constable L. Soule and C.N.E. Officer R. Morden arrested two men last night, Bert Leaf, of Deseronto and Fred Wood, of Montreal on a charge of stealing automobile tires and sundries from the car of the late Dr. John Moore of Shannonville, which was wrecked a week ago today when struck by a G.T.R. train on the Point Anne crossing when Dr. Moore lost his life. Three tires were recovered. The men were remanded at Police Court this morning until Nov. 28th.

British Miners Not Slackers as Reported

Editor Ontario.

As so much was said during the recent coal strike on the question of output that would convey the idea that all the blame for the decreased output rested upon the miners, I would like to counteract misleading statements made in certain newspapers on this matter.

I saw the statement in one paper, "Reduction of production appears to have become an article of faith with the British miners." Then one has seen reference to "the increasing inefficiency of British coal miners, compared with those of other countries." In fact almost every report one read on this difficult question, it appeared as if the British miners were a very lazy set of men who were deliberately bringing ruin upon the Old Country by their slack-ness at work.

Now I can state that this question of output of the miners is no new question, it was on the boards long before the strike began. I have heard level-headed, honest miners say that ever since the Government took control of the coal mines, during the war, the facilities for the proper working of the mines got worse and worse. And worse still, the management seemed to care less and less whether the full possible amount of coal was got out or not. When you come to know the facts of the case you find there are many causes for the decrease that are entirely beyond the control of the workers. Owing to the great number of miners engaged in the war, many pits got into a bad state, from which they have not entirely recovered. Pits have also been idle through lack of trucks (or cars) to take the coal away. Then in other pits there is a shortage of "tubs." I have heard of men that had to throw the coal back from the coal-face from six to ten yards, before they can get it to the "tubs," that means turning the coal over three or four times in the process, wasting time, strength and temper, that is because the wagon was not laid right up to the coal face.

If a workman makes a complaint about any of the handicap circumstances he has to work under, he is told by an official "if doesn't matter, he is on the minimum wage."

A miner from Monmouthshire writing in the London Daily News says he knows of cases where men have been in the mines practically all day and have only been granted facilities to supply one-sixth of the output possible. And why the miners refused to accept output as being the governing factor in determining their wages, as they know they have no real control over the output. The ancient Israelites could not produce the full amount of bricks when they were not allowed to have the straw; no more can the loyal British miners produce the full possible amount of coal without the necessary equipment. I have no axe to grind in writing this, but do so wholly in the interests of truth.

Survey Commission Hears of Needs

Representatives of Districts of E. of G. Conference in the City.

With the purpose of studying the work and needs of the Methodist Church in Canada, the Survey Commission has been sitting at Bridge Street Methodist Church to hear evidence from two laymen (men and women) and two ministers from each district of the Bay of Quinte conference. Two very interesting sessions have been held, one with the ministers representing the districts of the conference and another with the laity of the districts. This afternoon the Rev. Dennis G. Ridout, assistant secretary of the commission and secretary of the Dominion Ministerial Support Committee gave out the following statement of the commission's work here:

"We have discussed the problem of the rural church. The general feeling was that there was a need of more leadership in all branches of church work. It was also felt that the church should make more adequate provision for the social and recreational needs of her young people and that more attention should be paid to securing a suitable plant for such recreation.

"It was felt that efforts should be made for further co-operation amongst the churches to save any unnecessary overlapping and it was reported that this was being considered very carefully.

"The laity expressed an opinion that the church would be advised to have in each district a director of religious education, whose task it would be to supervise the Sunday Schools and Young Peoples' Societies in each district and to co-operate with the local pastors and church workers in carrying out a more adequate program for the all-round needs of young people.

"We have been very much impressed with the sincere desire on the part of laity and ministers alike to have the church as efficient as possible in serving the community and the whole nation."

The Survey Commission was represented by the Rev. Peter Bryce, secretary; Rev. Dennis G. Ridout, assistant secretary and Prof. Fred Langford of Victoria College, Toronto.

The commission will cover all Canada. It is appointed by four branches of church work—Missionary, Educational, Evangelical and Social Service and Sunday School and Young Peoples' Societies. It grew out of the Forward Movement Campaign. Another of the results of this campaign was increased salaries for the ministers who in the Bay of Quinte Conference were receiving only an average salary of twenty-three dollars a week. Through this campaign Methodist ministers' salaries have been increased by over $400,000 in Canada. The Bay of Quinte conference has done well with an increase of $40,000, being 26 per cent ahead of last year and practically every church is paying the new minimum of $1500.

The commission completed its work here this afternoon.

WHAT SHALL I DO?

Answered by VIRGINIA PAGE.

THE PATH TO POPULARITY.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: Mother made me wear a stupid old blue dress just because my cousin who was visiting us and going with me to the dance, didn't have a party frock like my lovely white one. It just spoiled my whole evening and I told mother I thought it was extremely unbecoming.

Ans.—So writes a very cross girl, I fear, a rather selfish little girl whose mother is evidently very much of a lady even though she seems to have neglected to teach her daughter that the essence of refinement is courtesy and that courtesy is merely kindness.

Was it harder for you to wear the old blue dress, little girl, than for your visiting cousin, to be humiliated because she hadn't a lively party frock to wear? I doubt it. And remember, you were among friends who should love you because they know you, regardless of what you wear, and who will see you in the lovely white frock yet—and while she was a stranger.

To put others as much at ease as you as possible, to overlook deficiencies, poverty and embarrassing mistakes, never to flaunt what you may have that the others do not share—to be kind, that is to be a thoroughbred—and popular. Try it.

WHEN DINING OUT.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: When eating in a public place should the man or woman give the waiter the order, or should each one give his own?

Ans.—The man always, after consulting his guest as to her preferences. This is, of course, unless a woman is entertaining a party of her own. If possible, the meal should be ordered in advance. If not, the hostess should confer with the waiter as quietly as possible, and order the entire meal at once in order to be free thereafter to visit with her guests.

A FORMAL FAREWELL.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: A friend of mine has received a calling card from a friend with the letters P. F. C. in the corner. Will you tell us what this means?—Mrs. A. N.

Ans.—These letters stand for French words "pour rendre conge," meaning "to take leave." They are written in the lower left-hand corner of the visiting card and mailed to one's friends upon one's departure from a place. Evidently your friend's friend was leaving the city, either permanently or for the season, and in the way of giving a formal farewell. While entirely correct, this form is not often used except by those who, because of official, business or social activities, have many acquaintances not all of whom they can pay a farewell call upon, but who are entitled to the courtesy of being informed of the departure.

WHEN CUPID MAKES A GOAL.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: Will you tell us when and how we should announce our engagement?—Helen and Bob.

Ans.—You may announce the engagement whenever you wish, but the sooner the better because secret engagements are never advisable unless made necessary by peculiar circumstances. It is Helen's right, of course, to decide when the happy fact shall be told, and naturally her family must be told first in order that their sanction be obtained. Then Bob's family are let into the secret. Then your friends may be told at a party of some sort—or Helen may just tell a group of her girl friends and trust them to spread the news around—or notes may be written to all those who will have a particular personal interest, and the formal announcement sent to the newspapers for publication.

HOW TO MAKE A HIT!

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: I'm kind of keen about making a hit at the home of a girl I go with at school. I'm going for a wet-and-house-party.

By "done" I suppose you mean the rules of the occasion. Well, you must be sure to arrive when you are invited or notify your hostess, the young lady's mother, that it is impossible. During your visit you must observe the usual rules for a guest—courtesy to everyone in the household, young and old; promptness at meals; neatness in your room in short, make as little extra work in the house as possible and make yourself as agreeable to everyone as you can.

It would be nice to take the young lady a box of candy when you go, and after your return to send her mother a box of flowers with a card expressing your thanks for a pleasant time. Remember, it is the duty of a host and hostess to make a guest as comfortable and happy as possible; but it is equally the duty of a guest to make that duty as easy and pleasant as possible for the host and hostess.

IN THESE NEWER DAYS.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: A group of us had an argument at a public meeting today about the propriety of using the telephone for invitations, and so on. Is it good taste to use a phone in place of pen and ink? And do you approve of women calling up their men friends?—Old Fashioned.

The convenience and quickness of the telephone has brought it into very general use, and custom makes it possible nowadays to use the wire for informal social matters. "Pen and ink" must still be used, however, for invitations to formal functions and all other matters where dignity and formality must obtain. I approve of women calling up their men friends on the telephone only very occasionally when absolutely necessary, but never otherwise—and never at their places of business if it can possibly be avoided.

INJUSTICE—OR A CHIP?

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: I'm so unhappy, and I think you will help me. Everything is going wrong with my office and it's so unfair. I'm working hard but the boss thinks it's all another girl; they don't give me credit for anything and yet everything that goes wrong they say is my fault. What would you do?—A Very Unhappy Girl.

Ans.—First, have a heart-to-heart talk with yourself, and make very sure you are not imagining most of that. If you are sure you aren't, then make sure the others are to blame—altogether. You know, we usually find when we're fair that it's six to one or half a dozen to the other. Are you sure?

If you know you have reason to complain, you must decide whether you want your position enough to fight for it, to go straight to the head of your office and have it out. Tell him frankly what's going on; ask him to watch and see if you aren't right; tell him you are working hard so, go straight to the head of your office and have it out. Tell him frankly what's going on; ask him to watch and see if you aren't right; tell him you are working hard so, go straight to the head of your office and have it out. Tell him frankly what's going on; ask him to watch and see if you aren't right; tell him you are working hard so, go straight to the head of your office and have it out.

I think that if you are very frank and fair, and show him you want to talk it all over for the benefit of your work, he will be glad to help you. But if you're sure it isn't a chip on your shoulder, you will surely knock it off, to stay, if it is!

ABOUT QUESTIONS.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: I want to ask you about some things, but I don't know whether you will answer them or not. I have a question or two, and will you keep my questions to yourself?—Mrs. D.

Ans.—I certainly will answer you personally if you send me a stamped and addressed envelope; otherwise write through the columns of your paper as soon as you have room. You can ask me anything you wish about matters of etiquette, social conduct, and so on, and I will do my best to help you. And most assuredly I will keep everything you write me entirely to myself!

AFTER DINNER COFFEE.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: I'm having guests to dinner at my new home for the first time, Thanksgiving. Shall I serve the coffee in the living room? And how do I do it?—Bride.

Ans.—You may serve the coffee in the living room if you wish, providing you make strong after-dinner coffee and have the tiny cups to serve it in; otherwise, you should serve it at the table, with the dessert.

You may have a tray containing the cups, already filled, brought into the living room by a maid and passed; or you may have the pot of coffee and cups on a table beside your chair and pour yourself, asking some young girl or your husband to carry the cups to your guests. You will need sugar but no cream; and sometimes a sweet is passed—candied fruit or mints.

ABOUT CALLING CARDS.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: Mother has promised me calling cards for my Christmas presents this year. Will you tell us how they should be done?—Miss E. S.

Ans.—They must be engraved, of course, from a plate which your stationer will have made for you. You may choose from his samples the style of card you like best. If you are the only girl in the family, you may use just "Miss E.—" or you may use your given name also if you prefer. "Miss E.—S.—" But if you are not the oldest in a family of several girls, then you must use your given name as well as the family name. Visiting cards must be conventionally correct, so you must use the regulation size and shape.

MAYBE A MATTER OF THE MAILS.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: I haven't had a letter from a friend of mine for nearly three weeks, and he usually writes every single week, and sometimes often. I've written him twice and I can't imagine what's the matter. I don't see how he can be mad at anything. My chum says I'd better send him a telegram. What do you think?—Eleanor.

Ans.—It's always difficult, Eleanor, to know how far a girl may properly go in a case like this. You don't want to insist upon his writing if he doesn't wish to, and yet the mails are so uncertain these days and misunderstandings can occur so easily that it seems too bad to let pride or jealousy prevent you from writing if he doesn't write. I'd wait the full three weeks; then I would write him once more, just a little note that will show him you expect to hear (as you have every right to do) without doing any harm if he doesn't intend to write again. Just say that, not having heard for three weeks, you have begun to suspect the postman lost the two letters you have written, or his replies; send a bit of news, and make it all so casual that he won't think you are too heartbroken over not hearing. Then if he doesn't write, there's nothing more you can do—and retain your self-respect.

THE MACHINATIONS OF MOTHER.

Ques.—Dear Miss Page: Mother has a friend here in the town where I'm working whom she wants me to call on. Since she's a girl my own age it's rather embarrassing—I can't just walk in and say 'here I am' can I?—Joe.

Ans.—Why not ask your mother to write the young lady that she is asking you to call. Then you write a little note asking if you may call and when it will be convenient, saying that you are anxious to meet your mother's friend. After that, the responsibility is your mother's!

All inquiries addressed to Miss Page in care of the "What Shall I Do?" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Sunny and Delightful at Los Angeles, Cal.

Editor Ontario.

"Sunny and delightful, this good old city, is most enjoyable. Trees in full leafage, flowers of every tint and fragrance. Fruits and vegetables for sale at moderate prices. Mocking birds singing, beautiful buildings of great size, being erected. The streets exhibiting people of all shades, from the negro to the Chinese. One meets movie-queens everywhere. You can tell them by their costly furs worn during the hottest days, their darkened eye lashes, rosy cheeks, and powdered faces. The costliest autos are owned by them. If you can persuade Mr. Forhan, to give you Griffiths last movie "Way Down East," you will see the finest movie of the season. One great charm here, is the intellectual feats, which you enjoy. Dr. Smith, of Emmanuel Presbyterian Church is a young man, of wonderful powers. He offered recently in Baltimore, ten thousand dollars a year salary. He was told that if that sum was not sufficient to name his figure. He refused the offer. Every Wednesday evening a tea is provided in the retiring rooms of the church. You pay thirty-five cents and have a bountiful repast. Every stranger is made welcome and introduced to the pastor. After the supper, an adjournment is made to the main body of the church, where a song service is given and generally one or two short addresses. I heard a returned missionary from India, and one from Japan. The subject of the gentleman from India was the unrest exhibited by the people and the asserted desire to free India from the government by England.

Owing to the bitter strife between the Mohammedans, and the many other sects, the country will not sever connection with England. The different religions hate each other bitterly, and this fact prevents the severance from England which such agitators as Annie Besant, (The Theoposist) desires. India is a very difficult country, in which to introduce Christianity.

The gentleman from Japan, said that God made Japan more wonderfully beautiful than any other country. He was most enthusiastic in praise of the country, and the people. Slavery is common. People climb the great active volcano, the greatest in the world, and cast themselves into the volcano with its surging billows of lava. He said there is no danger of Japan beginning a war. The moment she did so she would have Korea, and Manchuria in China upon her back. The bitter hatred of Japan, by the Chinese is terrible. New Yorkers Becoming Weary of Sinn Feiners Protest Against Insults Offered to Union Jack Appear in Daily Papers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Protests against insults offered the Union Jack by Sinn Fein sympathizers here continue to appear in the correspondence columns of the local papers. Every day letters from United States citizens appear in the leading papers strongly condemning the tactics of the followers of De Valera, and the frequency of the protests of late would appear to indicate the majority of New Yorkers are becoming weary of the Sinn Feiners' attempts to satisfy what one writer terms their "one-half-of-one-per-cent politics" by burning the British emblem.

One writer offers the suggestion that those who take delight in burning the Union Jack should go to Canada and attempt to do it there. "Why don't they go to Canada and amuse themselves?" he asks. "There ought to be plenty of British flags there to burn and, besides, there are thousands of returned Canadian soldiers who could probably entertain them. The government ought to revoke their citizenship and deport them along with other trouble-makers."

Another letter, signed by a woman named Kelly, remarks that what with the burning of flags and the hostility shown Red Cross workers in "little old New York" one cannot help wondering "if the Irish cause is being exploited with the same incongruity in the old country."

Still another letter expressing indignation at frequent insults to the Union Jack says: "That flag on the seas during the war protected those shores from the Hun. That flag was everywhere in the thickest of the fight. Let us give honor where honor is due."

Wolves Trouble Peterboro Hunters

Few of Them Were Shot—Wolf Bounty Act.

PETERBORO, Nov. 23.—It has been suggested that many hunters would have been farther ahead to attempt to bring down a few wolves rather than the wary deer and on consideration of the Game and Fishery Laws and the handsome bounties given this course might have netted some of the hunters who report the wolves to be so plentiful a tidy sum. All through the back country the wolves are in unusual numbers according to the hunters and numerous farmers have lost cattle and it is said that in some cases the animals have attacked the hunters. the woods have echoed with their howls and not a few hunters have been prompted to set poison for the packs that disturb their sleep. The Wolf Bounty Act is the official act that deals with the progenitors of the dog. The act goes into a lengthy detail on the law but the pith of it is that if a wolf is killed and the skin produced before the Sheriff Treasurer, Police Magistrate Clerk of the Division Court of the county in which it was killed or before any officer the treasurer of Ontario may approve of and an affidavit taken a certificate is to be delivered to the Treasurer of the county together with the skin and the bounty of $20 for a wolf over three months is paid and $20 additional if it happens to be a timber wolf. The bounty on a wolf not over three months is only $5.

It is interesting to note that the county receives a refund of 40 per cent from the provincial government on the delivery of the certificate accompanied by the skin. The regulations for the provincial county of Haliburton are different slightly to the general laws. The skin may be produced before Police Magistrate, an agent of the Department of Lands, Forests, and Mines, or a Clerk of the Division Court of the county, a Judge of Victoria County Court, the clerk of the court or the Sheriff of Victoria.

After the Treasurer of Ontario receives the skin it becomes the possession of the Crown and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council prescribes the disposal of the skin.

French Scientist Discovers Power From Tap

Wind power was wasted but even more culpable was waste of water power within our own house. "The force of kitchen and bathroom tap is wasted and he put forth a scheme which he believes made practicable to utilize the from the water that runs from kitchen tap. A GOLD PREMIUM

Written for The Ontario by
Chas. M. Bice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado

Opposed to the McFadden con- gressional measure to provide a ten- dollar-an-ounce premium on Am- erican produced gold. In order to make possible resumption of gold mining in the United States, are many banking institutions East and West. They are afraid to approach the gold myth with open eyes and ears. To think of interfering with an arbitrary and wholly artificial value placed on an ounce of gold years ago by the government, when conditions were vastly different from what they are today, is a sacrifice in the minds of the ultra-conserva- tives.

One exception we are pleased to note in the Harriman National Bank of New York, which has circulated clients and public in favor of the measure.

"Do you know that with the in- crease in all commodities of 112 per cent. in 1919, as compared with 1914, gold was virtually the only commodity fixed in price, so that it could not respond to the law of supply and demand? Otherwise gold would have gone to a premium cor- responding to the average increase." The aforesaid circular explains. "Do you wonder, therefore, that gold mining has ceased to be profitable and that our production has fallen from $101,000,000 in 1915 to less than $50,000,000 this year?"

In 1915 the British Empire pro- duced 63.7 per cent. of the world's gold and the United States 21.5 per cent. Last year the British Empire produced 70 per cent. and the United States 16.8 per cent. This year by estimate, the British production will be 75 per cent. of the whole, while that of the United States will be down to 12 per cent.

It was an axiom before the war that the nation or empire which controlled effectively the world's gold supply was the one to be considered in other things. There is nothing to show the war changed this.

London auctions South African gold to the highest bidder. Often a very heavy premium is paid. The American banker buys at the Lon- don auction and imports his pur- chase. But he insists, for some rea- son known only to himself and his kind that the standard price for gold shall prevail in his own coun- try. Strange is it not?

The American Mining Congress is now in session in Denver. It will continue for the week, and is a most representative body of men. All questions touching mining—the status of gold production—the con- ditions of labor, the tariff on metals, etc., etc., will come up for discus- sion and decision by this representa- tive body. Denver is beautifully de- corated in honor of the occasion.

Wheels within wheels the big convention of the American Mining Congress progressed in a series of conferences which will later find definite expression in resolutions, plans for action and programmes that will, when carried out, do much to restore the mining industry of the country to a sound and permanent basis.

The clearing house for the results of these conferences is the resolu- tions committee, the most important body of the convention.

The "Open Shop" for employers was the first matter discussed by the Congress, and almost unanimous consent and approval of the scheme was the result.

As one delegate expressed it the closed shop is unamerican and savors of a tyranny inimical to the prin- ciples of true democracy.

The coal industry will have its opening in the big program at the general session. Dr. E. W. Parker, chairman of the anthracite bureau of information of Philadelphia will tell at the night session what hap- pened to the anthracite industry in 1920. "The General Coal Situation," will be presented by J. D. A. Morrow, executive, vice-president of the National Coal Association with head- quarters at Washington, D.C. The high character of these men in- dicates that some relief is in sight in the coal situation of the East.

Spirit of Unrest Has Penetrated Sardinia

One Fifth of Island a Forest of Large Proportion Uncultivated

ROME, Nov. 23.—The spirit of un- rest has penetrated since the war even to such old world and out of the way spots as the Island of Sar- dinia. Among these picturesque peasants, many of whom cannot read or write, though they are often peo- ple of dignified manners and strong character, public opinion is diffused by word of mouth and a strong party has arisen lately whose motto is "Sardinia alone," who think that the Island, which is the second largest in the Mediterranean would be more prosperous if it governed itself and had little or nothing to do with Italy.

In ancient days Sardinia was one of the great granaries of the world, supplying first Carthage and later Rome with immense quantities of grain. Now a large proportion of the Island is uncultivated and about one-fifth is covered with forests, chiefly consisting of hem-oaks and cork trees. The most valuable exports however, are from the mines of lead, zinc, antimony, copper, silver, fig- nite and anthracite, which if only thoroughly developed would be a source of great riches.

The Sardinians are a splendid fighting race and not only during the late world conflict but throughout the Napoleonic wars and the Middle Ages provided some of the staunch- est soldiers in Europe. The Sardin- ians have always considered their island the Cinderella of the United Italy. They say that they have been alternately neglected and taken ad- vantage of by the central govern- ment, education has been disregard- ed, the malarious state of the country has been ignored, few roads or rail- ways have been provided in order to develop its resources, while govern- ment money has never been forth- coming for its needs.

The peasants of Sardinia declare that this is the moment when Sar- dinia might start on the road to re- generation and reconstruction, moral, commercial and economic but if it is, as of old, abandoned to apathy and want of initiative ruin is certain. A deep spirit of discontent and irri- tation is prevalent. The Sardinians call themselves "the Irish of the Mediterranean" and a large party is being formed of those who desire to work out their own salvation and at least for a certain time to be en- tirely independent of the mother country, which they accuse of having treated them more like the typical stepmother. They ask to be allowed to take their destiny in their own hands.

Trooper and Miner Kill Each Other

Exchange of Shots Fatal When Sol- dier Was Held Up By Organizer.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Nov. 23.—Private Ernest L. Rippley, of the state police, and William Hatfield, said to be a union organizer, killed each other in a pistol fight at Sands, 25 miles east of there, according to reports received by Captain Brookus, commander of the troopers on duty in the Mingo strike zone.

The trooper met Hatfield on the railroad tracks at Sands, when, according to reports, the latter drew a pistol and ordered Rippley to hold up his hands. When the trooper complied, the report said, Hatfield started shooting.

Rippley immediately answered the fire and in the exchange of shots both men were killed.

As soon as word of the shooting reached here, Captain Brookus accompanied by several of the constabulary men, left Williamson for Sands to investigate the affray.

Private Rippley, who resided at Hinton, W. Va., joined the state police in June, 1920. During the war he served with the United States marine corps. Rippley is the first trooper to be killed since the constabulary was organized.

The federal troops were called in to the region by Governor John J. Cornwell, after numerous shooting affrays and disorders had occurred. While the army men were in the field the situation was quiet, but since they departed a number of at- tacks, directed upon coal properties, have occurred.

THE VANISHING PRESS

Every week brings its record of newspapers going to the wall. It is reported that the "Canadian Courier," a one time popular weekly magazine of Toronto, and the Farmers' weekly "The Canadian Farm," have both suspended publi- cation. Then the greatest surprise of all to publishers is the passing of The Hamilton Morning Times, which marks a real newspaper tragedy in Canada as the men at the head of the business are well and favorably known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Truly, the newspapers of the country are passing through a crisis which will seriously affect many more before it is past.—Bowman- ville Statesman.

A GOOD TIME TO BUY

There is a tendency on the part of some people to hold off buying of clothing and other necessities in hope of still lower prices. We be- lieve these people may be disappoint- ed. There have already been some remarkably big cuts by Ottawa mer- chants, and while there may be fur- ther reductions in some lines, they will likely be gradual and unimport- ant. The big cuts have already been made and genuine bargains are available in nearly all stores in town. People who can make pur- chases now will not only be helping themselves directly but will also assist in getting mill and factory con- ditions back to normal production. And normal production is what is needed. Prices will adjust them- selves as wages and other costs are righted.—Ottawa Reformer.

THE REAL ISSUE AT SANDWICH

The true inwardness of the regret- table incident of the shooting of the hotel-keeper, Trumble, in connection with the efforts of the Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin to enforce the law against the run-runners must not be over- looked or lost sight of by reason of a merely sentimental feeling stirred up by the thought of the taking of human life. For many months there has been an open flouting of the law on the part of those repre- sented by the unfortunate man who was hurried into eternity so sudden- ly. And that open and barefaced and altogether unscrupulous broad- ing of the law is a very serious mat- ter. Indeed, it is absolutely impos- sible to exaggerate its seriousness. The very foundation of our whole social and moral fabric are threaten- ed by the things that have been un- blushing attempted, and in many instances, carried through, on our Western Ontario frontier.

But regretting these things does not get us anywhere. Respect for the law must be re-established, and its right vindicated, no matter at what cost, even in that of the cost of human life if it has to be. The tragic thing at Sandwich is not that a man was killed by an officer of the law in trying to uphold its dignity and value; the tragic thing is that the law has been shamelessly trampled underfoot and counted an unholy thing. And this must be put a stop to.

And this cannot be done by lower- ing the demands that the law makes, and yielding to the men whose greed and thirst make them unblinking law-breakers. This shooting at Sand- wich does not furnish us with a single reason for a new law or regu- lation that will make less demand upon the lawless citizen, nor for any weakening of the effort to enforce law; its whole lesson is quite in another direction. To tone and soften down our program because of what has happened would be to be guilty of the veriest moral cowardice, and also an attempt at moral suicide.

It is up to our government, and under them to all loyal and patriot- ic citizens, to enhance and maintain the dignity and worth of the law, and everyone of us ought to be grate- ful that the community had in Mr. Spracklin a man of utter courage and devotion, and one who was will- ing to take his life in his hand ev- ery day in order that this might be done. The best that we can do now is to show him that we fully appre- ciate what he has done, and are ready to stand behind him, intelli- gently and loyally.—Christian Guardian.

The improved conditions are due to concerted efforts to relieve the situa- tion on the part of the railroad, ship- pers and consignees, in loading and unloading promptly. Hard coal is still short in Watertown. Small ship- ments are coming in to dealers, but the sudden appearance of winter weather is intensifying the demand for coal. Soft coal is being retri- eved in larger quantities than anthra- cite. The coal pits of the St. Law- rence division in the Pine street yard is growing steadily, about a third of the winter's storage being on hand.

The vessel finished discharging her car- go at Rockwood hospital, cleared early Tuesday morning and loaded coal at Oswego and was back in Kingston again late at night and just in time to escape the big snow storm. The body is that of a man appar- ently sixty to sixty-five years of age and bears the appearance of having been in the water for some time as there is little flesh on the head and only a small portion of the face re- mains. A pair of shoes and a woollen shirt were found on the body. These may serve to identify the body.

South Africa Demands
More Railway Trackage

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 23.—A grow- ing demand for railway trackage is reported from every part of South Africa. The railways find this de- mand difficult to meet, though new freight cars constantly are being placed in service.

The "South African Journal of Industries" estimates that in the Union's annual requirements of iron are included 77,000 tons of rails for the railways and mines; and rods and columns; as well as large quan- tities of plate and sheet iron, bolts, fencing standards, drill steel, steel castings and pig iron. All of this constitutes a total of 175,000 tons. South Africa possesses immense re- sources of iron ore and coal, and the question of establishing a large iron and steel industry in the Union is being seriously considered.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS ACCOMPLISHED MUCH

During the First Year of Its Organisation —Outline of Activities Shows That in the First Year, Amid Unforeseen Difficulties the C. of C. Has Met a Real Need and Amply Proved Its Worth,

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce has issued the following statement in regard to its activities and accomplishments during the first year of its existence.
The Chamber has been working under conditions of great and unforeseen difficulty but it has won a firm place in the community by meeting and filling a real community need. The statement will be an agreeable surprise to many who were not intimately acquainted with the inner workings of the Chamber but who were hoping for good results.
The statement follows:—

Organization.

The Board of Trade was reorganized about a year ago into a Chamber of Commerce, and the chief improvements that appealed to most of our citizens at that time were suitable headquarters, public office with permanent Secretary and enough money to carry on in a proper manner, all of which the old Board of Trade did not have.
Most of our citizens contributed by taking out memberships in a liberal manner at $25 each, for a period of three years, although a large number of our citizens refused to join for one reason or another best known to themselves.
A Board of nine Directors—none of them seeking office—was then appointed by the vote of the membership, and they in turn chose a Secretary, with the approval of the Mayor and Chairman of Industries, representing the City Council. Although the secretary so chosen was exceedingly well recommended, and was a recognized authority on this continent on matters of transportation and public ownership, the choice did not turn out to be a happy one. However, a large amount of work was done that will accrue to the benefit of the city.

Forum Meetings.

The matter of forum meetings of the membership has not received enough attention, although we had several good meetings, sometimes a dinner with a well-known speaker and other times open meetings in the City Hall. Some of the Committees in charge of various activities have been unable to give the required time to their part of the general work, but this trouble crops up in all institutions. There are only so many men in every city willing and able to sacrifice some of their own time for the benefit of the community, and if the full load falls on too few shoulders then a lesser load must necessarily be taken.

Booklets.

The beautiful little booklets, which were got out by the Chamber and City Council, have been well received and very favorably commented on. They filled a long-felt want, contain a lot of valuable information, and have all—5,000 of them—been distributed with care.

Industries.

The Chamber did not commence industrial activities until June of this year, and this brought us on to the holiday season and a time of increasing industrial and financial depression. This work is still being carried on, however, at the expense of the Chamber, and without any selected official sanction, as we are in touch with several important developments, which may take place at any moment. It should, however, be borne in mind, that there is very keen competition from other cities for every industry we set in touch with.

The Industrial Commission of the Chamber of Commerce was formed from members of the City Council, Belleville Industrial Corporation, and others, and was always available for the help of the City Industrial Commissioner. These members voted toward their cars on a large number of occasions to show people over the city and gave a great deal of time to entertain visitors here looking for sites. The outstanding cases of enticement were Mr. Philip Blake and his engineers, prospectors for a glass industry, gramophone company, pressed coal company and a woolen mill. The first two may yet locate in Belleville, while the other three would not locate here as the necessary financial assistance was not forthcoming. There are several others that we are still keeping in communication with, but we are further handicapped, compared with other cities, in that we have now no vacant factories available, and our factory sites are strictly limited. It is useless to spend money and time showing these visitors around, unless we can definitely point to vacant land that will be deeded to them on certain definite conditions, or that we are sure can be acquired at a reasonable price.

Most cities competing with us own tracts of land outright available for new industries. We strongly recommend that the city secure one or two blocks of land on tracks suitable as industrial sites, and that the matter of looking for new industries be followed up continuously.

Bay Bridge.

The Chamber took this subject up with vigor early in the year, sending deputations to the Provincial Government and others concerned. We arranged with Hon. Mr. Biggs to address our forum on two occasions last spring, but both of these meetings had to be called off, the first one on account of a severe snowstorm and blockade, and the second on account of an epidemic of influenza. A great deal of work was done in this connection, various meetings were held with the municipalities interested and others, and a definite opinion of the assistance of Mr. Nelson Parlett, M.P.P., Hon. Mr. Biggs and others, the matter was finally in such shape that the municipalities interested, with the Provincial Government, purchased the property, and closed this vexed question.

We feel that this was a very important acquisition for the future prosperity of this city, and are glad to say that our City Council has given us every assistance, not only in this, but in all our undertakings.

Highways and Good Roads.

The Chamber has consistently advocated good roads, and while the City Council required no urging on this subject, the result of the Bay Bridge purchase will be the immediate acquiring of the road from Belleville to Picton as a government highway. The Government are also putting the Kingston road into good shape and are taking over other roads in Hastings County as Provincial Highways under the new scheme.

Housing.

In the spring of this year there was an acute shortage of houses, and the Chamber took this matter up actively. Numerous meetings were held, deputations sent several times to the Provincial Government and finally they agreed to advance the City $250,000 for this purpose. By-laws were passed by the city so as to be ready in case any large industry should chance to locate here.

Other Activities.

Space will not permit going into detail of all the activities of the Chamber, where all sorts of meetings are held, visitors entertained to lunch at the expense of the directors and so forth. However, short notes on some of these various enterprises may be interesting and instructive, and it should be borne in mind that they all took considerable time and work.

New Schools.

An active part was taken by the Chamber to influence public opinion in the matter of Coleman Ward school and the new Collegiate building, which, although deferred temporarily, must be proceeded with during the next year or two.

Chautauques.

Several members of the Chamber guaranteed the Dominion Chautauque Co. in order to have this high-class entertainment introduced here and those who saw any of the performances were no doubt highly satisfied.

Water Excursions.

The Chamber went to a lot of trouble endeavoring to have a boat placed on the bay for excursions, passengers and freight. Several conferences took place with the Canada Steamship Lines and other steamboat owners, but came to naught on account of extreme scarcity of boats, scarcity and high cost of labor, etc. These efforts will probably bear fruit another year, however, as it is desired to make use of our new dock as far as possible, and to have the steamers sailing from Rochester to the St. Lawrence call at Belleville for passengers. The Grand Trunk Railway are ready to accommodate us in this regard by leaving off a sleeping car here for passengers taking the Thousand Islands and other trips.

Arrangements were also made with the Government to erect a modern car-unloading plant as soon as required by a prospective industry, and this may yet materialize.

Considerable time was devoted to the following subjects, viz: Water freight rates; taking a vote of the members on the Bay Bridge question and Daylight Savings; entertainment of the U.S. Society of Chemical Engineers, excursions of the membership to Deloro, etc.; Manufacturers' Section and deputations regarding shortage of power; garden lots for citizens; purchase and sale of potatoes when not obtainable in the city for seed; securing farm hands and mechanics from Great Britain; City Manager Plan for Government; deputation to St. Lawrence Development Commission at Kingston; Canadian Manufacturers' Association—deputation to represent Belleville manufacturers at tariff inquiry sitting; House and Room Exchange when houses were very scarce; soft coal secured when not obtainable elsewhere; "At Home" in the Canning Factory building; bus lines to Point Anne, etc.; manufacturers' display at Fair Grounds; boy scouts; modern moving picture theatre; and numerous other subjects entailing time, work and outlays of money.

We sent a deputation to and introduced several important resolutions at the convention of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire in Toronto, which was a very important gathering of the best brains of the Empire. Reports of these meetings appeared in practically every newspaper of consequence in the world.

The Associated Board of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of Ontario meet here this month, which will be further excellent advertising for the city, and Belleville will make an excellent showing here as well as at the Empire Congress. It is expected that from 150 to 200 delegates will be present.

Summary.

You will therefore see that although we have a good deal to contend with from reactionaries and useless critics, who never do anything themselves and therefore never make any mistakes, your Board of Directors have tried to keep moving and have the Chamber function to the best interests of the city and district. All your directors have their own business to attend to but have also given unstintingly of their time and means to the Chamber. The furniture in the building is almost entirely the gift of the directors and one or two other members, and the premises were secured for the Chamber by these same men.

We need the active co-operation of every right-minded citizen in order that we may continue to build up our city spiritually as well as materially. We have many clubs and organizations in the city making for good in various directions, but the main object of the Chamber of Commerce is to be a central organization to cement all parties and groups for the better development of community spirit and civic pride. We should be, and will be, such a force for right and progress in the community that the slackers and reactionaries will have considerable difficulty in finding sympathetic ears to pour their troubles into.

In the meantime we have still outstanding $2,000 on the first year's dues—still unpaid. This money could be very well used by your directors to square up accounts owing, and it is somewhat of a trial to be chosen to carry out the wishes of the membership without funds.

To those who are not yet members we would say, invest $25 in Belleville; back it up with your best personal service, and the pleasure of seeing a bigger and better Belleville will be yours.

In the last few years our city has progressed a great deal. Sewers have been laid down, sidewalks and pavements built that were badly needed, and all vacant factories have become occupied. Real estate has

APPLICATION TO PARLIAMENT

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made by the Corporation of the City of Belleville to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario at its next session for an act:

To ratify and confirm By-law Number 226 of the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Belleville passed on the 15th day of November, 1920, without obtaining the assent of the electors thereto, the said By-law being entitled "A By-law to authorize the issue of Debentures of the Corporation of the City of Belleville for the amount of $10,000 for the purpose of paying the Corporation's share of the purchase price of the Bridge over the said City of Belleville and the Township of Ameliasburg in the County of Prince Edward and its approaches and other property belonging and appurtenant to the said Bridge."

The existing debenture debt of the said City of Belleville is as follows:

Consolidated	408,000 00
Public School	236,205 85
Water Works	236,205 85
Gas Works	59,848 70
Overdraft and County Line	32,500 00
Bridge	89,000 00
Wood Chemical	89,000 00
Patrol	25,000 00
March & Henthorn (Guaranteed by city)	25,000 00
New Albert College	25,000 00
Local Improvements	34,138 95
Pavements (city's share)	27,454 25
Sewers (city's share)	97,068 41
Total	$1,181,505 95

The reason for requiring the issue of the said Debentures is that the said City of Belleville, the County of Prince Edward and the Honorable Mr. Biggs, Minister of Public Works and Highways on behalf of the Province of Ontario, have agreed to purchase the said Bridge for the sum of $25,000.00, to be contributed as follows: Province of Ontario $10,000.00 City of Belleville $15,000.00 County of Prince Edward $20,000.00 Total $45,000.00 and said Debentures are required to be issued for the purpose of raising the money to pay the cost of the purchase of the said Bridge.

Dated at Belleville, Ontario, this 20th day of November, 1920.
J. WILFRID HOLMES,
City Clerk.

GOVERNMENT LOSES E. ELGIN; FARMER CANDIDATE A WINNER

McDermand Has 208 Majority Over Stansell and 1,134 Over Charlton —Aylmer, the Leading Town in the Riding, Gives Liberal Candidate Majority.

AYLMER, Nov. 22.—East Elgin elected the Farmer candidate, Mr. S. McDermand, to-day in the by-election for the seat in the House of Commons by 208 over Mr. John L. Stansell, the Government candidate, and 1,134 over Mr. W. G. Charlton, the Liberal. The vote was as follows:

McDermand, U.F.O.	3063
Stansell, Government	2855
Charlton, Liberal	1929
Total vote polled	7847
Vote on lists, approximate	10500

Aylmer Voted Liberal. The electors in a three-cornered contest voted overwhelmingly against the Government, and of the 7847 odd votes cast the Government candidate received only 2855. The riding has always returned a Conservative since 1891. In only two municipalities, Port Stanley and Port Burwell, did the government candidate have majorities. In Aylmer, the main town in the riding and the only industrial place of consequence, the people apparently did not take seriously the argument put forth by the Conservatives, that a lower tariff would ruin its industries. Aylmer gave a majority for the Liberal and the policy he advocated. In the townships, of course, the vote was heavy for the Farmer candidate.

Organization Beaten.

In no by-election ever held in Ontario has a Government put forth such colossal efforts to hold a seat. Everyone says tonight that the result is a mighty blow at the prestige of the present Administration. East Elgin has spoken in no uncertain terms. The entire organization of the Conservative party has been in the riding for weeks. The Prime Minister himself spoke in the riding twice. Two Cabinet Ministers lately responded to the call, and endeavored to convince the people of the worth of the present Administration. Hordes of private Conservative members, organizers and publicists men invaded the riding. They spent money and gigantic effort in talk and advertising. East Elgin listened and then voted against them for the first time in many years. It will be remembered that Hon. Mr. Meighen, the Prime Minister, made a personal appeal in East Elgin, and he told a great meeting in Aylmer that "the eyes of Canada are on East Elgin," which showed the significance he felt the result must have.

First Thought of Wife.

The first thing that Mr. McDermand did when his victory was assured was to call up his wife on the telephone and inform her of the result. "I wish she were here to receive these plaudits with me," he said, "for she has helped me wonderfully through the campaign. The total vote polled was smaller than was anticipated, no doubt to the bad condition of many of the roads in the riding. A total of 7847 votes were counted out of a possible vote approximately of 10,500. It was Yarmouth township that told the tale. Out of a total vote polled, Mr. McDermand received 1134 votes, as against 625 for Stansell and 448 for Charlton. Polling division No. 6 in Yarmouth proved a disappointment to Mr. McDermand's supporters. It was here that many Labor men from St. Thomas voted, yet Mr. Charlton and Mr. Stansell got big majorities over the Farmer candidate. In No. 9, Yarmouth, the other Labor poll, Mr. McDermand received a large majority. Mr. Charlton triumphed in Aylmer, receiving 108 majority over Mr. Stansell and 537 over Mr. McDermand. Mr. McDermand receiving only 97 votes in Aylmer out of 1257 polled. Mr. Charlton received 634.

Beaten in Own Ward.

In No. 3 polling division of Bayham, Mr. Stansell's own ward, where he spent the greater part of the day, Mr. McDermand was given a majority of 37, receiving 76 votes to Mr. Stansell's 39. In No. 1, Malahide, Mr. McDermand's home ward, the victor received 155 votes, as against 90 for Stansell and 49 for Charlton. Malahide township, believed to be the U. F. O.'s weakest point, had been virtually conceded to Mr. Stansell, yet Mr. McDermand was given a majority of 237 out of a total of 3543 votes polled. Mr. Stansell received majorities in Springfield, Port Burwell and Port Stanley. Mr. McDermand on the other hand, won in Vienna, South Dorchester township, which many thought would give Mr. Charlton a majority, polled 113 for the U.F.O. candidate, Bayham, which had also been doubtful, gave the victor a majority.

Is an East Elgin Boy.

Mr. McDermand stated that he believed he would be a better man from his experiences during the last six weeks, for his sense of duty as a citizen of Canada has been pounded home as never before. Mr. McDermand is an East Elgin boy, born and bred. He was born in Vienna on August 17, 1863, moving to his present farm in Malahide with his parents at an early age. He was married to Frances Cameron, a native of Bayham, in 1884. His family consists of two daughters, the elder, Miss Bessie Cameron McDermand, being Assistant Superintendent in the Women's Institute in Alberta, and also a director of household science. Mr. McDermand served on the Malahide Town Council for several years, and was a member of the County Council from 1908 to 1911, being elected Warden in 1911. Mr. Sanders of Exeter, who had assisted Mr. McDermand on the platform during the past three weeks, described the U.F.O. as having killed the Government in self-defense. He believed that East Elgin had established a precedent and set an example for the whole of Canada, and one that would lead to safe and sane government, and build up a great nation for posterity. Dominion-wide significance was attached to the victory, he declared.

Silver Anniversary at River Valley

On Friday evening, Nov. 12th, 1920, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Richardson, of River Valley, a large gathering of their family and friends met to celebrate their silver anniversary and also to bid farewell to their daughter, Jennie, who left the following Monday for her home in Calgary, Alta. Among the many beautiful silver gifts was included a purse of gold. Guests from Bonnaman, Man., Calgary, Alta., Peterborough, Belleville, Stirling, Frankford and Stockdale were present. During the evening the following address was read by Mrs. Harry Orr, of Stockdale: Dear Father and Mother— We, your family and friends have met here in your home this evening to celebrate with you your fortieth anniversary. Our minds go back to the many pleasant hours we have spent in your midst and so we ask you to accept these small tokens of our friendship and we ask God's blessing on your home and all gathered here tonight. Signed on behalf of your family and friends. —Stirling papers please copy.

Bunions Reduce Your Earning Power

No matter what your work is, you must have a clear mind to do it. Every nerve irritation reduces your thinking-power and your working efficiency. Students, laborers, merchants, professional people, mechanics, farmers, housewives and particularly people who must be on their feet a good deal, cannot afford to let corns and bunions interfere with their work. How can you do your work cheerfully and with purpose with nagging, throbbing, gnawing, distracting pain of a bunion or a corn? Every day you get it along without getting rid of your bunion. You are paying out good money because you are doing less work and poorer work. If you had a sliver in your finger, you would get it out before you did anything else. Bunions, ingrowing nails and corns, etc., are just as painful. Just as much of a handicap as the sliver. I guarantee positive results without surgical operation (for bunions), plasters, poultices or appliances of metal, rubber, leather or felt. My treatment is Painless and Inexpensive. G. N. Transcontinental Railway to be Built MELBOURNE, Nov. 22.—An offer to build a trans-continental railway in Central Australia linking Oodnadatta in South Australia with Pine Creek in the Northern Territory, has been made by an Australian capitalist and his partner. The railway, 1,700 miles in length, would complete the connection between Adelaide on the South Coast and Port Darwin on the North Coast. The work would be carried out in three years at a cost of 3,000,000 pounds, and would open up immense areas of land suitable for grazing and cattle raising.

Still No Trace of Steam Barge

Hope Almost Abandoned For Safety of the "John Randall."

Mr. John Downey stated at noon today that he had received no tidings of the missing steam barge John Randall, which left Oswego for Belleville with coal for the Downey Co. last Tuesday. He said it was reported that a tug would be sent out from Kingston to search for the vessel. As no boats have been passing the past few days owing to bad weather, Mr. Downey said he would not give up hope yet that the boat was safe. There is still the possibility that the Randall may have lost its boats and the crew are stranded on the barge. Reports from Oswego on that hope has been abandoned. A despatch from Kingston last evening was as follows:—The steam barge John Randall has been given up for lost on Lake Ontario. The vessel has been missing since last Tuesday, and no trace whatever has been secured of her. This afternoon a lifebelt marked "Wanderer" floated into Sackett's Harbor, and it is believed to have been used by one of the members of the crew, although it was not known in the local marine circles that the Randall had any equipment of the old steamer Wanderer, which has been laid up. The Randall is believed to have gone down between Stony Point and Point Peninsula. She had two lifeboats, one of the wooden type and the other metal.

Capt. John Randall, of Seely's Bay, father of Capt. Harry Randall, who was in command of the steamer Randall stated over the long-distance telephone this afternoon from Seely's Bay that he intended making a search with the steamer Buena Vista just as soon as the weather is favorable. Capt. Harry Randall belonged to Seely's Bay. He had a crew of three John Grady, Newboro', engineer, and Harry and Gilbert Smith of Seely's Bay, consuls of Capt. Harry Randall. All were unmarried.

HOCKET

Mr. Garfield Arnott, son of the late R. C. Arnott, will manage the Arena Skating Rink this year. Belleville expects to put in two teams into the O. H. A.—a junior and an intermediate. It is expected that there will also be a strong city league, so that sporting circles will be quite active this winter.

Talk of the Town And of the Country

DEATH OF CHILD.

Joseph Daly, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Daly of Point Anne, died yesterday in the hospital. The interment was made this afternoon in St. James Cemetery.

MR. BENGOUGH AT CITY HALL.

At the City Hall last evening, Mr. J. W. Bengough, the well-known Canadian cartoonist, was the attraction which filled the building in aid of the High School Memorial Fund. Mr. Bengough was in his best form and his clever wit and humor, his fund of knowledge of human nature and his versatility made him instantly popular with the large audience which he kept in good humor throughout the evening.

APPLES NOT DELIVERED.

The police have had four complaints of people who bought apples on the market which were not delivered.

FAIL TO SHOVEL SNOW FROM WALKS.

The police are busy today rounding up delinquents and snow-shovelers around town. Warnings of prosecutions are being given.

PRESENTATION.

Mr. Richard S. Bell, former editor of the Ontario had the pleasure and honor of being presented with a beautiful electric study lamp by his fellow workers at the Standard office at Kingston on Friday last. After seven years with the Standard, Mr. Bell has resigned his position and is again taking up his residence at Belleville.

FELL DOWN STAIRS.

Mrs. Chas. A. Hulley met with a serious accident on Sunday morning which might easily have had a fatal result. About 11 o'clock she started to descend the outdoor stairway from the back of her dwelling in the Masonic block when she slipped on the ice-clad steps and fell headlong to the bottom. She was badly bruised and injured about the head and rendered unconscious by the fall. A physician was hastily summoned but fortunately found no bones broken and no evidence of brain concussion. She will be confined to the bed for several days, but, unless complications arise, will soon recover.

SOUVENIR PARTY.

On Friday evening, Nov. 19, 1920 a very pleasing event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Whitten, when a souvenir party was given in honor of Mrs. T. Johnson, of Bonnaman, Man. A very pleasant time was spent in games and music. At the close of the gathering, number about 50, Mrs. Johnson was asked to unwrap souvenirs and read verses accompanied by each gift. After this was done all joined in singing, "For She is a Jolly Good Fellow." Mrs. Johnson leaves on Monday next for her home in the west. —Stirling papers please copy.

TWO CASES AT COURT.

Hon. Mr. Justice Rose had only two cases at the non-jury sittings of the supreme court yesterday, one being settled and the other tried. Judgment was given in the latter case this morning and the court was closed. An account of these cases will appear in tomorrow's issue.

CHARGE WAS DROPPED.

A resident of Montreal was arrested at Brockville during Friday night by G.T.R. Constable Joyce and locked up at police headquarters. He appeared Saturday before Magistrate Page, charged with trespassing. The man, who is well past 50 years of age, is in poor health and is endeavoring to get to Toronto to undergo medical treatment at St. Michael's hospital. C. R. Deacon interceded in his behalf on account of the man's plight and the charge was dropped.

A VENERABLE MAN GONE.

The oldest inhabitant of Bishop's Mills passed away at his home on Nov. 8th, in the person of Thomas Dool. The deceased had been in failing health for some time, but death came suddenly from apoplexy. The late Mr. Dool was a native of Ontario, Ireland, and celebrated his ninety-first birthday on October 31st last. When about twelve years of age he emigrated to Canada, and has lived in Leeds ever since.

Chief Kidd has returned to the city from Parry Sound. W. C. Mikel, K.C., is in Ottawa today attending the Supreme Court of Canada. Mrs. W. B. Riggs and Miss Wanda Riggs left yesterday for California on an extended vacation. They will first go to Los Angeles and will spend the greater part of their time at Santa Barbara.

National Ship of Canada

A little while ago, the Navy League of Canada, was campaigning in the Dominion for the development of what they call "the Sea Conscious Spirit Among Canadians". No doubt many busy people who heard the appeals, wondered what it was all about and why Canadians, not noted for "going down to the sea in ships" should be asked to develop such a "consciousness". There seems to be a failure generally to grasp the significance of Canada's entry among the ship-owners for the handling of the commerce of this country overseas in the feet which is being operated by Canadian Government Merchant Marine Limited, in conjunction with Canadian National Railways.

The development of the fleet with a program of sixty-three new steel vessels, thirty-eight of which are already constructed and in service, is one of the most spectacular of the twentieth century, and is easily, in its effect upon Canadian trade, the largest single Canadian development within the last two decades.

Two new vessels have been turned over recently to the Company for operation; the "Canadian Carrier" and the "Canadian Squatter", each of 4,575 tons. These came down to Montreal in two parts from the Upper Lakes Shipyards at Port Arthur and Welland, respectively, where they were built, and were joined at the Canadian Metropolis. The "Carrier" left on her maiden voyage to Glasgow, October 30th, and the "Squatter" is to go into service shortly. Another vessel, the "Canadian Mariner" is to be added to the list soon. She is being built at Halifax.

These "National Ships of Canada" 41 of which are already in service are being kept constantly on the go. From both sea-boards in Canada they are reaching out to all the big world ports, carrying Canadian-made goods abroad and bringing to us the merchandise we purchase in other lands. We will set down exactly what these ships were doing the last day in October this year, that Canadians may understand the amazing story of their activities.

In the North Atlantic, or British trade, at London, England, the "Canadian Aviator" was discharging cargo. At Liverpool the "Canadian Ranger" and the "Canadian Conqueror" had arrived and at the same port, the "Canadian Seigneur" was loading for Canada. The "Canadian Settler" was discharging cargo at Manchester, and the "Canadian Trapper" at Cardiff. The "Canadian Volunteer" was at Glasgow unloading and the "Canadian Voyager" was unloading at Cardiff. This makes nine vessels of the Canadian National fleet in British ports alone on that date. Moreover the "Canadian Carrier" was in the Gulf of St. Lawrence bound for Glasgow. The "Canadian Navigator" was nearing Glasgow and the "Canadian Signaller" was at Glasgow. The "Canadian Otter" was on the way to London and the "Canadian Raider" for London and Cardiff; the "Canadian Miller" was loading at Montreal for Liverpool.

In the Cuban and Jamaican trade, the "Canadian Adventurer" was homeward bound with a cargo of sulphur from Sabine Texas. The "Canadian Sower" was discharging cargo at Quebec; and the "Canadian Trader" had sailed from Havana for Montreal.

In the Barbadoes, Trinidad and Demerara service, the "Canadian Beaver" cleared from Sydney, Nova Scotia, outward bound, and the "Canadian Farmer" from Trinidad, for Canada; the "Canadian Observer" was discharging cargo at Montreal.

In the South American trade, the "Canadian Victor" was loading at Montreal, and the "Canadian Planter" was unloading at Rio de Janeiro; almost uncol wealth has been poured into the "Right Liecht Island" in the North Atlantic; of how through her ships she has expanded her trade until it became world-wide then found cargo space to help in handling the goods sent out by other nations; only then does the true inwardness of the situation begin to be realized.

Every pound of Canadian products shipped from a Canadian port speeds up our maritime growth and strengthens our national prosperity.

The rooms were prettily decorated with evergreens and little white balls. The bride received a number of costly and beautiful gifts, showing the esteem in which she was held by her many friends. The evening was spent in games and social chat. During the evening a large number of friends and neighbors formed a chivalrous and ardent the happy pair with various noise-making contrivances. They were all invited in and treated to wedding cake and other delicacies.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker left next day for their future home near Hillier amidst showers of rice and old shoes. The bride travelled in a brown coat, brown serge dress, with hat of sand straw with black velvet undertrim jauntily trimmed with wing of sand and brown. They intend taking a trip to Toronto and other points in the near future when they will visit friends.

On the Wednesday evening previous friends and neighbors surprised the bride-to-be with a kitchen shower consisting of a large number of kitchen utensils and all enjoyed a pleasant social evening. During the evening the following address was read by Miss Alice Haley:

Baths, Nov. 3, 1920. To Mildred, bride-to-be, Most happy bride May joy o'er ride Thy sorrows and thy cares For many a year May never a tear Or troubling fear In thy sweet home abide. May heaven bless And naught distress Thy bridal happiness. So, with wishes true, We give to you These gifts, as a token Of friendship unbroken. All happiness and joy For you and for the "boy" Our wish sincere out-spoken. Yours many friends, Madoc Review please copy.

COAL SHORTAGE KEENLY FELT IN PORTUGAL. Charcoal Being Used For Domestic Purposes. LISBON, Nov. 23.—A coal shortage is being keenly felt in Portugal owing to the prohibition of coal exportation from England and the absence of any good coal producing districts in this country. All coal for industries was imported chiefly from Cardiff and Newcastle and since that has ceased and orders placed in the United States threatens to become serious and people are looking forward with alarm to the coming winter. Abnormal conditions exist as a result, all restaurants, cafes and places of amusement must close promptly at midnight and external illuminations are prohibited.

There is but little coal produced in Portugal, which has been entirely dependent on imported coal. For domestic purposes charcoal is chiefly used all over the country in small earthenware stoves specially made for its use. Now, however, even that has disappeared as the price of fuel rose to such an extent that the government was obliged to enforce fixed prices. In consequence, although there is plenty of charcoal farmers are sending it to the market, hoping to obtain ever increasing prices for wood.

In the meantime all Portugal is suffering from utter absence of coal and people are obliged to buy wood when it is obtainable. Middleclass and poor people burn sawdust in small iron stoves expressly invented during the war for that purpose and also use impervious boxes lined with straw that finish cooking the food, after it is removed, boiling, from the stove. Many families unable to cook at home are having meals at the restaurant.

Wedding Bells

A quiet wedding took place at the Mission House on Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, when Mr. William James McCaw, son of Jas. McCaw of this village, took unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Margaret Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Munro of Turin, Rev. H. R. Pettum officiating.

The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Madoc. After the wedding ceremony the wedding party and a few intimate friends sat down to a wedding dinner prepared at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Munro. The young couple have many friends in town who wish them a long and prosperous married life. Mr. and Mrs. McCaw will reside in Bancroft—Bancroft Times.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday, Nov. 3, when Isabella, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. MacGeogher, became the bride of James Edward Oliver, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver, both of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. D. Morrow. The bride was attired in a navy Georgette gown, heavily beaded, large picture hat and fur tux, and carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses and Madenhair fern. Miss Helen MacGeogher, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, in navy satin and carried yellow roses. Mr. Johnny Oliver supported the groom. After the wedding a reception was held at the bride's home, Mrs. MacGeogher wearing satin. Mrs. Oliver in black satin with hat to match. Mrs. Bert Crampin, sister of the groom, in navy satin with all-over Georgette trimmed with moleskin fur. The happy couple left on a motor trip through the east.—Picton Times.

A happy event took place on Wednesday, October 27th, at the Methodist parsonage, Hastings, when Miss Elizabeth Donald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Donald, of One Hill, was united in marriage to Francis Vanclof, of the same place, Rev. M. L. Hinton officiating. The young couple went on a wedding tour to Foxboro, Belleville, Trenton and other points in Prince Edward County. On their return to their home in One Hill a splendid reception was given them.—Hastings Star.

On Wednesday, Nov. 10th, Sunny-side Farm, Allistonville, the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fox, was the scene of one of those pleasing and happy events, when their daughter, Emily Mildred, became the bride of Mr. Harold J. Baker, of Hillier. At 7:30 the bride entered the parlor on the arms of her father to the strains of the wedding march rendered by Miss Kathleen Cooke, who presided at the piano, and took her place beneath an arch of evergreens from which was suspended a pair of large white wedding bells, where the bridegroom awaited her. She was prettily gowned in blue silk and carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and ferns, and was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Miss Geraldine Baker, who was dressed in blue silk poplin and

Rotarians Said Good-bye to a Departing Member

Rotarian Guy Bennett, Leaving For Montreal, Received Pleasing Testimonials at Yesterday's Luncheon.

Rotarian Guy Bennett received audible evidence yesterday of the high esteem in which he is held by his brethren of the Belleville Rotary Club. He has resigned his position as superintendent with the Point Anne Quarries Ltd., to accept a more responsible position at Montreal.

Vice-President Billy Deacon resigned the chairmanship to Charlie Beld, after the animals had been fed and the new chairman briefly referred to the loss the club was about to sustain through the removal of Mr. Bennett. He then called upon Gordon Moffat to deliver a farewell address. It was not a pleasing duty he was called upon to perform, said Rotarian Moffat to say good-bye to a friend like Guy Bennett. One of the best testimonials he had heard in Guy's favor was that he had the united good-will of the employees who had served under his superintendency at Point Anne. He carried with him to his new location the good-will and best wishes of every Rotarian at Belleville.

He then asked Sergeant-At-Arms Oswald Scott to present Mrs. Bennett with a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums. The duty was gallantly performed and the gift graciously acknowledged.

The president of the Belleville Golf Club, Mr. N. D. MacFadyen, on being called upon, affirmed that he had always found Guy capable and cheerful on the golf course. If necessary he was cured cheerfully. He wished him, on behalf of the golf club, the greatest of happiness and success.

Rotarian Bennett on rising was greeted with true Rotarian enthusiasm. "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and other warm demonstrations to indicate his popularity. He sincerely thanked all for the kindness that had made his residence here so continuously pleasant. Belleville would always have a warm place in his affections. He was again greatly applauded on sitting down.

Three new members were introduced at yesterday's luncheon, John Kerr, assessor, George Jones, miller, and Bert Jennings, bookseller. All three acknowledged in fitting addresses, the honor that had been done them in electing them to membership.

Judge Wills reported that he had been gathering information in reference to the Central Ontario extension to the Whitney. He had blue prints of the route prepared and was collecting other data which he hoped to turn over to the Rotary Club so that they could take up the matter with the proper authorities.

A grateful letter was read from the matron of the Children's Shelter expressing her deepest thankfulness for the gift of the money that had been collected in "Times" from the members. This had been used to provide a Thanksgiving feast for the children and had given to them a very great comfort and pleasure.

S. J. Fisher, Auctioneer, will sell farm stock and implements as follows:

OBITUARY

ALEXANDER CONNAUGHTY.

Alexander Connaughty, aged 86 years, a former farmer of Stockdale, Murray township, died yesterday at his home in Thurlow. The burial will be at Stockdale.

MARY H. WISEMAN.

Death came yesterday to the home of our honored citizen when at 10:30 p.m. Mary H., the beloved wife of Mr. R. B. Wiseman, of 55 Bridge St. West, quietly passed away, after a prolonged illness which took a serious turn some three months ago.

Mrs. Wiseman was born in Foxboro, in 1866, the second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford and is survived by her husband, E. B. Wiseman and two daughters, Anna Verna, and Marlon Crawford, besides one sister, Mrs. E. P. Frederick, of this city and a brother, Chas. A. Crawford, of Hamilton, Ontario. With the exception of some fifteen years spent in Winnipeg, where her faithful and earnest Christian life was greatly appreciated by a large circle of friends, she resided in this locality. She was a member of Bridge St. Methodist Church where she took a deep and active interest in the various departments of its work and especially the W.M.S. for which she labored with untiring zeal.

There will be a memorial service at 55 Bridge St. West on Wed. at 2 p.m. after which the interment will take place in Belleville cemetery.

MRS. BURTON WEEKS

There passed to rest in Consecration on Monday, Nov. 8th, Ross May Calnan, beloved wife of Burton Weeks. She was in her 44th year and had been a patient sufferer for fifteen months following an operation at Belleville hospital. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her husband her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. David Calnan, of Ameliasburg, and four sisters and two brothers, Barton Calnan, and Mrs. F. H. Maisenbacher of Rochester, who came over for the funeral, Mrs. L. Drummond of Allistonville; Mrs. F. Hickerson, of Little Kingston; Mrs. G. Gibson and Horace Calnan, of Ameliasburg. The funeral at Consecration church on Wednesday afternoon was conducted by Rev. Campbell, who preached an impressive sermon from James 4th, chapter and 14th verse. Miss Killip sang "The City Four Square," and Consecration choir sang "The Gates Ajar," one of the favorite pieces of the deceased. As long as health permitted she was a faithful worker in the church and community, and a teacher in the Methodist Sunday School. Besides the floral tributes from the family the Consecration institute sent a beautiful pillar of chrysanthemums.—Picton Times.

DIED.

PALLID CHEEKS AND DULL EYES

Tell the Story of Watery Blood—
How to Regain a Good Color and Health.

To be run down in health and to lose their attractiveness is the double misfortune of many young girls. Their pallid cheeks and dull eyes tell everyone that they are doomed to days of wretched headaches and are victims of breathlessness and bloodlessness. The anemic girl, if she neglects her health, may be a sufferer all her life; for an active, happy woman cannot be developed out of a bloodless, consumptive looking girl, without the help of new, rich red blood.

Pale, weak girls should take heed.
Bloodlessness must not be neglected.
Plenty of good air, a nourishing diet and rest will help you, but the cure you need most promptly is new blood. Good new blood in abundant, such as makes all the difference between sound health and poor health to girls and women, is supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.
Their one mission is to make new blood which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, bringing to anemic girls and women new color, bright eyes, an elastic step and a feeling of joy in living. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to young girls is shown by the case of Miss Bessie Clarke, R. K. No. 1, Steveston, Ont., who says: "Two years ago, while studying for the entrance examination, my health broke down and I fell away to a mere shadow of my former self. When the day for the examinations came, I should have been in bed instead of trying them, but I went on with the work and when morning was almost on the verge of collapse, I thought then that a rest would help me, but I did not regain my strength. Then my mother was advised to have me try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking them for about a month I found myself restored to health, with good color and a change for the better, which people who knew me readily noticed. I am very thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me, and hope my experience will benefit some other weak girl."
You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NO. VI—MUSICAL PECULIARITIES

A musician on being introduced to a stranger said, "I hear you are a music writer." "I am sir," replied the stranger. The first musician then added, "I am glad to make your acquaintance as I am afflicted in the same way."

INTERNATIONAL SCHOONER RACE

Brahms, the great music master, hated Hoinisms but he certainly possessed a high sense of humor. Once when being entertained by some of his friends in a Vienna restaurant the landlord brought on his best wine with this remark, "Here is a wine that surpasses all others, just as the music of Brahms does all other composers."

In a recent article in the Musical Quarterly, the writer tells of some strange methods for inspirations, prayer and rosary; Beethoven in the open air and nature; Mozart in paper and ink; Wagner depended on costly robes of silk and velvet saturated in rich colors; Dumas declared that a fine quality of paper was a real source of inspiration to him; Tschukowsky needed air and trees; Strauss wine and cigars, or a game of tarok; Suppe a good dose of snuffing tobacco; Donizetti was at his best when fixing his eyes at a distant point; Thomas when lying in bed; Balzac when clothed in a monks' cassock; and Gluck when at his piano placed in the midst of an open field in the sunshine.

Chief of Police A. Kidd is in Perry Sound, arranging to bring his family to this city. He will reside on Commercial street.

TALK OF THE TOWN AND OF THE COUNTRY

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

Fire destroyed the dwelling of Percy Wilson near Camdes East, on Monday afternoon. Last, and in the blaze the family lost everything, as the flames advanced so rapidly that the neighbors who quickly gathered could not enter the building to save anything. The damage will be considerable.

DIED FROM RITE OF HOGS.

Mr. William W. Whittow, a well-known farmer of Seymour East died November 16th, a few minutes after being bitten by a hog. The animal sank his tusks deep into the flesh of the left arm, causing a death from loss of blood. He walked to the house but uttered only a few words, dying almost instantly. — Campbellford Herald.

QUICKSAND DELAYS BRIDGE BUILDING.

Two new box culverts near Whitby, East, on the Kingston road caused a tangle to avoid the excavations. The western one is being flooded as rapidly as men can do it under weather conditions, but the work has been in hand, by contractor John H. McDonald for quite a time owing to quicksand having been encountered when excavating for the footings of the abutments. This necessitated a change in plans and the foundations had to be laid upon timbers occasioning delay and increased labor.

KILLED BEAR AND CAPTURED CUBS.

James Crawford, a farmer at Sharbot Lake, some time ago killed a bear and captured the animal's two cubs that were about three months old at that time. The little fellows were purchased by Dr. W. Budd. Crawford they have attracted scores of visitors since their arrival and would prove a rich source of revenue if Budd cared to charge an admission fee for a sight of them. The cubs will be kept for about two weeks or until they accumulate more flesh, when they will be killed and their hides become valuable in the fur trade. The carcasses will be shipped to the Montreal Canadian Club, the members of which are always in the market for this variety of meat. The cubs are not particular as to their diet, devouring vegetables and flesh with equal relish.

PLAN TRAIN REDUCTION.

Another reduction in train service on the C.P.R. is said to be contemplated in the near future with the Brockville sub-division losing one train because of the shortage of coal. The reduction, which is said to have been decided upon by the management of the road for this season and because of slackening business, is, it is understood, to be general and to affect all lines of the railroad. Brockville C.P.R. passenger officials said Thursday that they had no information leading to a belief that a reduction was to be made, but there was a well-defined rumor in railroad circles that such was to be the case.

CAUGHT FARMERS UNPREPARED.

Although it is a week ago we were favored with ideal weather conditions, the coming of frost caught the majority of farmers unprepared. Hundreds of barrels of frozen apples are afflicting the trees or rotting under the snow on the ground. Many fields of turnips and some potatoes are not yet harvested. The super-abundant yield and the scarcity and high price of labor is perhaps the reason why so much produce was allowed to go to waste, particularly apples which are cheap. Much plowing remains undone, and unless the weather moderates and stays fine for ten days or two weeks it will be impossible to turn over any more furrows. Corn cutting and threshing took up much more time than usual this year. — Markham Economist and Sun.

WALKED SEVERAL MILES AT AGE 102.

How many women and men enjoy a walk of several miles at the age of 102 years? There are few New Englanders to-day who have never ridden in a machine, fewer who would not like to ride in one if they could, and but one or two who scorn the automobile, and enjoy a walk of several miles when past the age of 102 years. Mrs. James Russell, of Worcester, Massachusetts, lays claim to all these distinctions. At this advanced age she performs all the household duties in her son's home, takes care of all the mending without the aid of a servant, does all the family washing every week, and instead of grumbling at its size admits that she would like to "take a washing again to prove her mettle. She attributes her longevity and exceptional powers of endurance to her parents, her mother having lived to be ninety-eight years old, and her father was 104 years old when he died.

NEW POSTAGE STAMP.

Two new postage stamps of the denominations of 15c and 15c are to be issued shortly by the Federal Post Office Department. The former covers the increased registration fee to Great Britain and the United States, and the latter to most foreign countries.

HAND BADLY MANGLED.

Edward Ranger, son of Mrs. John Ranger, 354 Brock street, Brockville had his right hand seriously mangled at the plant of the Office Furniture and Supply Co. late Wednesday afternoon. He was engaged in operating an automatic jobber when his foot slipped and to save himself from falling he threw out his right hand which became caught between the chain feed of the machine and the lumber. Ranger was being drawn into the machine when he managed to extricate the hand which was severely crushed and mangled. The middle finger sustained a compound fracture and the other fingers were badly crushed. The injured man is at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital under the care of Dr. W. E. Harding. Amputation of the middle finger may be necessary.

FELL IN DITCH AND INJURED HEAD.

"Bud" Inkster, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Inkster, Marmora, had quite a painful accident last Thursday. With some other boys he was playing near the corner of Matthew street and York Streets, Brockville, when one of the boys pushed him with the result that he fell head first into the deep ditch, striking his head on a sharp stone. A bad gash was cut in his head, which required several stitches to close. He was confined to the house for a few days, but is able to be around again.

CROWD RIVER RAISED TEN INCHES.

As a result of the heavy rains during the past few weeks the water has risen very rapidly in Crowe River. From Saturday till Monday it raised about 10 inches and is now up to normal for the time of the year. The electric lights are good again when they are on.

MEETS WITH ACCIDENT.

On Monday evening at Mr. Wm. Robinson, accountant at the Douglas Packing Co., Cobourg, was returning from work, he stepped off the sidewalk on King St. near the Baptist church and fell fracturing a small bone at the back of his ankle. On Wednesday, Mr. Robinson was taken to the hospital by his physician, and had an X-ray taken of the ankle which clearly established the nature of the injury. We are pleased to say that Mr. Robinson is getting along nicely and hopes soon to be about on his feet.

PAY TO GROW PEAS.

On Thursday a farmer sold a load of Peas to Hogg and Little, of Ottawa. His total crop consisted of 9 acres. After paying for his seed, he had left to deposit in the bank $142.50 from each acre, or a total of $1282.50 for his labor.

MAY BE ADJUTANT-GENERAL.

J. Leslie Kincaid, Syracuse, N. Y., of the Leeds county family of that name and a summer visitor at Burt's Bay, will be adjutant-general of the State of New York next year, according to a state which has been mapped out by assemblymen at Syracuse.

THE RANDALL'S CREW.

The members of the crew of the steamship John Randall, of Seely's Bay, which is thought to have been lost on Lake Ontario, are all from Leeds County. Captain Harry Randall, Seely's Bay, is in command, John Brady, Newboro, is engineer, and Harry and Gilbert Smith, Seely's Bay, cousins of Captain Randall, deck-hands. It is thought that the Randall may have taken shelter at Timber Island, on South Bay.

SILENT POLICEMEN IN FOR WINTER.

The silent policeman which have been placed at the different corners throughout the city of Kingston are being taken in for the winter. The "policemen" have done good work and have added much to regulating the traffic. It is to be hoped that the corners will be properly turned by autoists and others even though the silent policemen are not at their accustomed places.

BLAZE AT WARSAW.

A frame house near the Methodist Church Warsaw was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. The building belonged to Mrs. Andrew Lerkow of Lakoside, and was unoccupied. The cause of the fire is unknown. Volunteer firemen kept the fire from spreading to nearby buildings.

VACCINATION QUESTION.

The compulsory vaccination of school children has caused considerable alarm among the people of Kingston and those who are opposed to the enforcement of the law put up various grievances regarding the way in which they are compelled to have their children inoculated or keep them at home. In quite a number of cases the children have been tutored and some very serious cases are reported to be found in the city of Kingston.

OBITUARY

RICHARD BURKE.

Richard Burke, a former well-known Belleville resident died yesterday at his home in Toronto. He was born in Belleville about seventy years ago. By occupation he was a plasterer. He also conducted a hotel in the city. About fifteen years ago he left Belleville for Toronto. Surviving are his widow, three sons, William E., of the Canada Steamship Ltd., John and Raymond and three daughters, Mrs. Alex. Nugent, Miss Lottie and Miss Grace Burke, all of Toronto. Mr. John Burke of Belleville is a brother. Burial will take place in Toronto tomorrow. The late Richard Burke was a member of the Catholic Church.

STEPHEN LAWRENCE NOLAN.

The funeral of the late Stephen Nolan took place from his late residence on Tuesday afternoon at St. John's Church of which the deceased had been warden for a number of years. It was indeed largely attended by men in every walk of life who wished to pay their last tribute of respect to one who was so familiarly known and beloved, not only in the community where he had resided so many years, but throughout the entire district.

CHARLES CONNOR.

An old and highly respected resident of Rawdon township in the person of Chas. Connor passed on his reward on Tuesday Nov. 23rd in his 80th year. Deceased was born in Feb. 1831. As a boy he moved with the family to Madoc township. In early life he learned the carpenter trade but most of his life he spent on the farm. He moved to Rawdon township 49 years ago, where he spent the remainder of his days. The late Chas Connor was a man whom to know was to respect. He was possessed of a keen intellect and sound judgement, a kind sympathetic nature and an honesty of purpose which endeared him to all. He was a life-long member of the Presbyterian Church and was one of the first elders of Rystone congregation. He served on the council board of Rawdon for several years. He had a strong constitution, death resulting from old age. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Peter Mucklejohn, of Rawdon, and Mrs. (Rev.) N. Campbell, of Gt. G. and H. B. of the Westinghouse Co., Hamilton. Mrs. Connor died twenty-two years ago.

MR CHARLES ACKER.

The death occurred on Friday evening of our much respected townsman, Mr. Charles Acker at his late residence Dundas St., East. Mr. Acker had been ill a long time, but since his sorrowing wife he leaves three sons Mr. Gilbert Acker, Town; Mr. Delbert Acker, Thorold; and Mr. Earl Acker, home, also three daughters, Mrs. J. D. Hill and Mrs. Percy Myers Town; Mrs. S. K. Smith, Mrs. W. Dowell, and Mrs. Walter Chonoh all of Toronto, one brother at Hards Station, and one sister Mrs. Badgley of Frankford, all of whom with their families attended the funeral services which was conducted by Rev. Mr. Cranston at the home. The remains were laid away in the Front Cemetery. The Royal Templars of Temperance attended in a body and had charge of the service at the grave. — Trenton Courier.

Death of an Esteemed Citizen

After an illness of about four weeks, Miss Mary Geron, one of Deseronto's oldest and highly esteemed citizens, passed away on Tuesday, Nov. 9th. She had been taken to Kingston for treatment by her niece, Mrs. B. Harrigan, who was with her to the end. Deceased had contracted a cold which developed into bronchial trouble. Her recovery held but a short time before her death her heart became affected from which she did not rally. Her remains were brought back to the residence of her nephew, Mr. Neil Flood, Thomas street.

Deceased was born in the state of Vermont two years ago and came to Canada when young, settling in Thurston. About three years ago she came to Deseronto, where she had spent the remainder of her years. She leaves to mourn her loss one niece and five nephews to whom are extended the sincerest sympathies of the community.

The funeral took place from her late residence on Thomas Street last Thursday morning at St. Vincent de Paul church, where requiem high mass was sung. After the service the remains were laid to rest in the family plot in Marysville cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs Chas. Bruyee Chas. Brennan, John Napier, E. A. Houle, B. Marrigan and J. Maddigan. — Deseronto Post.

Cheese Board Thanks Council

For Permission to Use Council Chamber for Meetings.

At the Belleville Cheese Board on Saturday a resolution was unanimously adopted expressing the thanks of the Board to the mayor and aldermen of the council of the city of Belleville for their "forethought and courtesy in placing at the disposal of the board for their meetings during the year the use of the council chamber."

Saturday's meeting was the last of the year. The year has been a most profitable one.

Obituary

ADAM EASTON

Mr. Adam Easton, a well known farmer of the third concession of Township, died this morning at his home of heart failure after an illness of some duration. He was a member of the Methodist church. Mourning his loss are his widow, one son, R. F., at home and one daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) R. J. Merzhan, Manilla. Mr. Easton was in his 63rd year.

The funeral will be held from his late residence on Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock.

Musical Service at St. Thomas Church

In spite of the inclement weather a large congregation assembled last evening to hear the organ recital given by Ernest Wheatley, A.R.C.O. The organ pieces were all chosen by members of the congregation and covered a wide field of the popular classics.

After hearing all the numbers one does not wonder that the recitalist has had so many offers of late, both in the Dominion and in England for he certainly shows in his renditions real musicality insight and a clever mastery of the instrument. We trust St. Thomas may keep him for a long time.

Mrs. A. P. Allen sang Little's "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings" with much feeling and with a splendid tone quality and Mrs. Wheatley's rendering of "God That Madest Earth and Heaven" by Newton, was in her usual expressive style. "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "The Publican" were sung by Mr. Percy Cook in a most able manner and were very enjoyable.

The choir of the church sang the anthem, "Ave With Me" in an acceptable manner. All the choral work was rendered from the gallery but notice that in this position the result was far more effective than when sung from the chancel. Mr. Wheatley and the church are to be congratulated upon a most successful musical evening.

ACCIDENT OCCURRED IN TRENTON.

An accident occurred at the corner of Front and Dundas streets, Trenton, Sunday afternoon, Nov. 14, while turning to avoid running into a man on a bicycle the car Mr. J. W. Galloway was driving ran into the entrance leading upstairs next J. H. Dickey's. Mrs. Galloway sustained a broken arm, sprained ankle and Mr. Galloway escaped injury. We understand considerable damage was done to the car.

ARGYLE FUNCTION AT ARMOURIES.

On Saturday afternoon between four and six o'clock an afternoon tea and musicals were held in the officers' quarters of the Armouries in honor of Mrs. (Col.) Campbell. The function was under the auspices of the Argyle Chapter of the Y.O.D.E. of which Mrs. George Wallbridge is regent. The rooms were decorated with yellow chrysanthemums. The affair was liberally supported, there being a large attendance. During the afternoon, a musical program was given by Prof. V. E. Hunt, Miss Anna Ponton, Mrs. (Col.) A. P. Allen, Miss Joy Higgs, Miss P. Bogart and Miss E. Potter, (accompanist) and Mr. James Booth.

Unveiling of Monument at Harold

As announced the ceremony of the unveiling of the monument erected at Harold in memory of those who enlisted in the great war from the township of Harold, some of whom made the supreme sacrifice in the great cause of liberty, took place on Thursday last, the second anniversary of Armistice Day.

A large gathering of people from all parts of the township and from this village were present to witness the ceremony, and to do honor to those whose names appear on the monument.

The monument is a fine obelisk of red granite and is placed to the north of the town hall, and close to the main travelled road between Stirling and Marmora, so that all who pass by cannot help but see it.

On the top of the shaft is a bust of a soldier, which may well be taken to represent the "unknown soldier" recently interred with the honors that the nation could bestow in Westminster Abbey.

The speaking took place in the town hall, and Mr. C. W. Thompson, Reeve of the township, most acceptably performed the duties of chairman. With him on the platform were the following gentlemen, who made brief and appropriate addresses, in the order named, and at the close the monument was unveiled by Col. Bywater:

Rev. W. R. Archer, Rev. J. D. P. Knox, Rev. R. Simpson, Rev. S. E. Morton, E. Guss Porter, M. P., Col. Vanderwater, J. R. Cooke, M. P., P. Col. Bywater.

Following are the names as they appear on the monument:

Immense Importance of Hastings Arsenic

The following letter, which explains itself, was sent by Mr. Joseph James, formerly of Adolphville, for publication in The Journal of Commerce, New York.

Actonville, Ont., Nov. 7, 1920.

The Editor, "Journal of Commerce," New York.

Dear Sir:—

It was with much pleasure that I read in a letter received from a friend of an article that recently appeared in your influential Journal referring to the greatly increased demand that has arisen for white arsenic. If this were only a matter of making profits and a few more millionaires it would have little or no interest for the public of either the United States or of Canada. It is a much more important matter. On investigation it will be found that the question of the ample supply of arsenic is vital to the welfare of the whole people. I know of no one other commodity that has been—up to this time—in general use that has such an important bearing on the high cost of living as has the bringing into general use on our farms of arsenic in the soil for the destruction of the vast armies of insects that are growing crops and destroy many, many millions of bushels and dollars. The Year Book of the U.S. Department of Agriculture for 1917 gives the loss due to injurious insects for that year at $1,400,000,000.

To augment the supply of white arsenic is one of the many needs that has arisen. Can this be done? There is no doubt of the ability of the great Western Smelters to largely increase their output of white arsenic, but that solely will not nearly supply the U.S. demand alone. This supply will come from the copper and other ore treated by the smelters.

Nature has not been much, if any, more generous to the U.S. in the distribution of mispel (arsenopyrite) ore (the source of the purest white arsenic) than she has been in nickel. In this distribution nature has favored Canada and especially the Hastings district in Eastern Ontario.

The present output of Canadian arsenic is solely from Cobalt ore. That much, if any, increase could be secured from the source is doubtful, if it could be largely increased it would yet fall short of filling the coming demand.

It is of the greatest importance that the farmer gets his supply of arsenic (in whatever form he may purchase, fertilizer or other form) at a reasonable price. The present price is a deterrent to the use of white arsenic in agriculture.

That a great business, beneficial to the whole world and having the whole world for a customer, can be established, and that this can be accomplished at a moderate outlay of cash capital and in a reasonable time, is what can be shown to those capable of undertaking it that make inquiry.

Yours very truly,
Joseph James.

S. A. Citadel Was Reopened

The Salvation Army citadel was reopened for religious services on Saturday night with special services conducted by Lt. Col. Rawlings, field secretary and Lt. Col. Miller, property secretary. There has been a wonderful transformation of the building made in the past few weeks. The exterior has been painted a buff color and the interior has been entirely redecorated. The floors have been painted and the stairs covered with cork matting, the woodwork is done in oak finish, the upper side walls are in light brown and the ceiling has been papered. Seven large electric lamps supply light to the auditorium. The band stand and platform have been enlarged. The officers quarters and the class rooms at the rear have been improved and enlarged. All these improvements have been carried on under direction of Adjutant Cayender.

Saturday evening's services were bright and enthusiastic. Col. Rawlings delivered an address and was followed by Col. Miller, who also spoke. Col. Miller was stationed at Belleville as a lieutenant in 1887 and received his promotion to captaincy here. Songsters and the band added musical numbers to the program. Adjutant Cayender and Capt. Ruxton took part in the service.

Yesterday's services were led by Colonels Rawlings and Miller.

Forty-Five Received Into Membership

Forty-five were received into the membership of Bridge St. Methodist Church last evening at a reception service conducted by Rev. Dr. Cleaver, assisted by Rev. W. D. P. Wilson and Rev. Prof. Maines. Rev. Dr. Cleaver preached on the text, John 1:4: "And the life was the light of men." The sacrament was administered at the close of the service. In spite of adverse weather conditions the attendance was very gratifying.

Y.M.C.A. BOWLING

On Saturday night the G.T.R. Office team met the G.T.R. Yard team in the Y.M.C.A. Bowling League. The latter won the game by 73 points. Meagher of the Office team was high single man with 183, also high three string with 470. In a practice game on Friday night, Vernon Weir of the Young Merchants team made a high single score of 289. This is the highest score to date on the Alleys. Tonight's game is G. T. R. Shops vs. Merchants.

AN APPRECIATION

What is true in this case as here recited, is common to many other centres where students in particular congregate and reside among homes instead of within the confines of an institution.

The writer of this article desires to bear testimony from experience to the motherly Christian influence of the late Mrs. J. Martin, who resided recently at 76 North Front St. Many other boys could add words of incalculable value. While the departed was not one to shine publicly, her forte was the quiet mistress of a home with all its hallowed effect. Those outside of her own circle were made to feel as part of a family. In declining years, how she delighted in the accumulation and perusal of a scrap book of good literature. Though called upon to bear at times bereavement, first of a devoted husband, who was a teacher in this district and a local preacher, and again the loss of a daughter, also a public school teacher here, yet her disposition was not to repine, rather to set heroically to life's responsibilities and turn the face Zion-ward.

The closing years of life were endured with grace and hope and now she sleeps free from pain and care in the cemetery near Carleton Place, Ont. amidst the surroundings of early years and near unto a brother who served as a minister of the gospel in the Montreal conference of the Methodist church.

IRISH NATIONALIST LEADERS IN NEW YORK ENJOY IRISH DRAMAS

Have Adopted the Drama to Satisfy Craving for Real Emotional Joy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Some people are content to take their daily dose of propaganda from the newspapers; others prefer it in stronger and more intoxicating form. The Irish Nationalist leaders in New York evidently believe in catering to all tastes and this season they have adopted the drama as a means of satisfying the craving of their following for a real emotional jag. An Irish company has presented a number of plays here this season, and reports this week are to the effect that several more are in prospect during the coming winter. These plays differ from the Irish dramas made familiar to Canadian audiences by Chauncey Olcott, the "Mausbilla," and the "Barry of Ballymore" type which were popular when the golden harp on an emerald ground was still considered the emblem for March the seventeenth. The new Irish drama in New York is distinctly of the green, white and orange variety. "The Dawn of Ireland," which was presented at the Lexington Theatre recently, is a fair sample. Its theme is the fatality of anything but armed force in the separation of Ireland from Great Britain, and in it parallels are drawn between characters of the production and leaders of the Sinn Fein movement. The "hero" is one Dan, who is supposed to portray De Valera. In the first act he is represented as a very peaceful person with a firm belief in Parliamentary methods, but gradually he is persuaded by the other characters of the play that a combination of shouting and shooting is a perfectly proper method of obtaining anything one happens to want. In each succeeding act Dan becomes more blood-thirsty and the acting more frenzied and thus is the "dawn" of Ireland revealed to the patrons of the Sinn Fein drama.

New York witnessed another Irish play this week. The scene was in front of the Capital Theatre, the city's largest moving picture house, and the plot had to do with the destruction of a Union Jack. Both scene and plot were objected to by Philip T. Case, formerly Major Case of the United States Marines Corps, and now manager of the Capitol. When a number of Sinn Fein sympathisers tore down a British flag which had been placed among the emblems of the other Allied nations as Armistice Week decorations in front of the theatre, Mr. Case, who had fought side by side with Canadian and Old Country troops in France, very naturally resented it. After astonishing and totally extinguishing the ardor of one Sinn Feiner by bashing him upon the nose, the Capitol manager personally hung out another British flag. Act two came on the following day when the adherents of De Valera returned and pulled down the second flag. Then Mr. Case hung up another and this time had it firmly sewed to the flags of the other Allies which formed the decoration. Third act—The Great Mob Scene. A hundred or more fanatics assembled and started a demonstration before the theatre, threatening reprisals. Mr. Case, who up to this point had been determined to show that he, and not De Valera, was running the Capitol, called the police and the crowd dispersed after a few night sticks had come into contact with a few skulls. But the following day Mr. Case, capitulated, removing all flags except the United States emblem. However, no change was made in the programme which included several patriotic British films, and during the early part of the week when the manager maintained his fight to run his own business, the Capitol had a record patronage, which may be taken as an indication that the Irish dramas as presented in New York just now are having little or no effect upon the average sane, level-headed American.

The New York dramatic critic as a rule is an outspoken sort of a person. If he doesn't like a show he is very apt to say so, and moreover he is apt to say in very unmistakable language. When a production is "panned" in New York it is done with reckless abandon and the panning is accomplished by means of a rapid fire of verbal bullets that perhaps make bright reading for the public, but must be extremely melancholy reading for the promoters of the show. Among the quartette of new productions offered in New York this week is "The Mandarin," an adaptation by Herman Bernstein of a psychological piece written by Paul Frank, of Vienna. It would appear to be merely a rather morbid presentation of the fancied adventures of a neuroathetic Don Juan and it met with strong disapproval from those whose profession is theatre-going. Here are a few of the shots which were aimed at it in the heavy barrage of newspaper criticism which bars its advance to success:

"Billed as a play of another world, 'The Mandarin' seems likely to receive a better welcome there than here."

"The lights did as much performing as any of the cast."

"Brandon Tynan played the Baron with heavy rings under his eyes and such tricks as looking goggle-eyed at the footlights."

"There was a good deal of talk about a sanatorium and, at about ten of the p.m. you rather wished you were resting in one comfortably, all by your lonesome, instead of meeting the inmates at a theatre."

"Most of the neurologists in town were present and seemed to have a jolly time."

The critics also turned a cold shoulder to "Heartbreak House," the George Bernard Shaw play which had its first stage presentation under the auspices of the Theatre Guild here this week. While not nearly so severe in their comment as in the case of "The Mandarin," the majority appear to have found the performance dull, and the opinion is expressed that it is much better in book form than as spoken drama. Though being available between covers for several years and is probably familiar to all of the more fervent admirers of Shaw in Canada, if Shaw's war writings have left any such "Heartbreak House" was long in reaching the stage.

The author prohibited performance in London on the ground that the theatre during the war was in no condition to present such a play, and the autocratic Mr. Shaw also forced the Theatre Guild, which had first planned to present the play early in October, to change its plans because he did not believe his piece should be given before the United States elections. How anything under Heaven, even a play by George Bernard Shaw, could have affected the result of the United States elections is a mystery. In his preface Shaw informs those who seek the meaning of the play that "Heartbreak House" portrays the "cultured, leisured Europe before the war." The characters represent business life and its dishonesties and social life and its mendacities. By deed and implication Shaw displays them as a headless, futile, lazy lot of time-servers, faithless to themselves and to each other, and implies that they can be spiritually reborn only by a bolt from Heaven. To those who share the secret of Shaw's ideas, the play is understandable, but to those in the audience who have not the benefit of this inside information it must seem merely a conversational mystery. It is probably the "talkiest" of the Shaw plays and its verbosity, possibly not so noticeable in reading, is amplified considerably in the stage form. The flashes of Shaw brilliance are only of sporadic appearance, and much tedious and sometimes almost meaningless talk must be listened to in order to get them. I fear, in the latter part of the second act this was so apparent that even the members of the very excellent company were affected by it and they mumbled and rushed their lines in their eagerness to pass the dull spot before the audience lost interest. Summarized briefly, "Heartbreak House" is a very large amount of talk, about 30 per cent of which is brilliant, and the remainder futile, and a small amount of action, with one farcical interlude achieved by means of the serio-comic burlesque.

"Agar," the musical extravaganza which opened at the Century Theatre this week, seems likely to prove one of the season's hits. It is an Anglo-French achievement. It was imported from London, where it was a big success. It is founded on the French of Michel Carro and Andre Bardo; its staging is by English experts; its star is French—Mlle. Altes Delysia, originally of Paris, but for several years past a London favorite; its chief comedian is Lupino Lane, of London; and its costuming is by Poitet. And these all are deserving of credit for the success which greeted its first presentation in New York, although to Mlle. Delysia is accorded the biggest share. In two ways does she differ from the type of French comedienne familiar to audiences in Canada and the United States, she has a really fine voice, and she is no petite. She is quite the contrary. She has grace and charm, however, and a back even more suited to the present-day style of stage costume than Kitty Gordon's. "Agar" is Oriental of course. There is a harem densely populated with gorgeous and beautiful wives, a rich Moore, a handsome intruder, jealousy, a dungeon, an elopement, and a reconciliation. It is extravagantly staged.

The fourth production of the week, and by no means the least successful, is another London importation. This is "French Leave," which was presented at the Belmont Theatre with Mr. and Mrs. Cobourn playing the principal roles. Although this war comedy has had a lengthy run in London and has also been presented in several Canadian cities, it was new to New York, and judging by the reception accorded it the other night, it is due to join the big list of English productions which have met with popular favor here. Reminiscent of "The Better Ole," it has that atmosphere of cheeriness and good humor and bluff British heartiness which cannot fall but spread from stage to audience and put everybody concerned in the best of spirits. It really is "The Better Ole," promoted to the commissioned rank. Old Bill becomes a gruff old Brigadier-General while Bert and Alf are duplicated in a Lieutenant and a Captain born to trouble and disaster of the laugh-promoting kind. The wife of an officer smuggles herself into the war area to join her husband and his efforts to keep her hidden from the sight of his superiors lead to weird complications which fill out the plot. The New York critics returned a unanimous verdict in favor of the piece.

The leather industry is suffering most, nearly half the workers ordinarily employed being out of work. Parisians in general have refused to pay 120 francs for a very ordinary pair of shoes. At Lamoges alone, 8,000 shoemakers are without employment.

The clothing industry is also reported to be in a bad way. Forty per cent of the workers are idle at a time when ordinarily the factories are at their busiest.

The textile industry, on which the towns of Roubaix and Tourcoing depend, is going through a period of the greatest difficulty, and the fur industry is also affected, owing to the excessive price of furs, especially of the more ordinary kinds, such as rabbit and goat.

Thirty per cent of the automobile workers are idle; some 18,000, or 20,000 skilled workmen. Considerable numbers of men employed in the devastated regions have also left their work; some voluntarily, hesitating to spend the winter in draughty shacks without comfort and amusements; others dismissed by contractors who have not yet been paid by the state and who hesitate to retain workmen whose wages they may be unable to pay.

The question was discussed at a recent Cabinet meeting, industrial groups are occupied in formulating possible solutions and a mass meeting of unemployed is to be held at the Labor Bureau. The principal difficulty is not so much in finding work for all concerned but rather the difficulty of finding suitable work for the many skilled workmen who are at present without employment.

There are plenty of openings for unskilled labor in the devastated regions, the leveling of the Paris fortifications but laborers are scarce while their employment at such work as is available would be nothing less than wasting the country's resources.

House-cleaning is the order of the day. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Prentice spent Sunday with friends in Peterborough. Much excitement arose in the village on the 11th, when an airplane landed on the farm of Mr. W. Embury, just west of the village.

Thursday with friends in Corbyville. The merry ring of the sleigh bells are heard again.

At a village near Wu Ch'eng I met an old man over sixty. He had been to the market town and sold two long coats and some boots. The proceeds he carried in a basket on his arm, about six pounds of red millet. His sons, he said, had gone somewhere north, where he didn't know. At home were his wife and his sons' wives and their seven children. Mixed with leaves and clover he figured that his purchase of millet would last several days. "After that we die," he said. The Chinese peasant takes his hunger smilingly as he does everything. Despondency is remarkably rare.

The only practicable way to save a majority of the sufferers seems to be to open food kitchens all over the stricken district on a gigantic scale. Road and canal projects intended to afford work for the population, even were it not attended by too much delay, will only partially meet the requirements.

Unemployed Workers Number 125,000 Available Labor Since the War Exceeds Demand.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—The number of former workers now unemployed in France is 125,000 according to official statistics. The total is increasing by daily dismissals in the metal-burgic industry, leather trade, textile and clothing manufacturing industries and the problem is attracting the attention of the government.

During the war the plea of manufacture was that speedy delivery of goods was impossible owing to the lack of labor. Now available labor far exceeds the demand.

ERNEST SMITH TALKS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Quebec Man, Grateful for the Benefit He Has Received, Pays Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Grand Faubou, West Que., Nov. 22. (Special.)—Mr. Ernest Smith, a highly respected resident here, is one of the many who have abiding faith in Dodd's Kidney Pills as a remedy for sick kidneys.

"I suffered from my kidneys," Mr. Smith says, "and I read that Dodd's Kidney Pills were good, so I tried them. They have helped me so much that I will continue to use them when my kidneys trouble me."

The kidneys require constant attention if good health is to be maintained and serious disease ward off. The kidneys perform a most important work in the human system. They strain all the impurities, all the seeds of disease, out of the blood. When they are weak and unable to do their work the system clogs and sickness is the inevitable result.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for weak, disordered or diseased kidneys.

THE SINGER AND THE SONG By LILIAN LEVERIDGE

We present to our readers a poem written especially for The Ontario by Miss Lilian Leveridge, Toronto. As the author of "Over the Hills of Home" and many other poems of rare beauty...

You may hear the bluebells ringing Vesper chimes at close of day. When the buttercups and daisies Told their fragile hands and pray...

Slowly fade before his sight. Till her face lay like a snowdrop On the pillow, wan and white. Though his love was like a mantle And his every breath a prayer...

Car Brakes Not Working

The engineer then looked to the north and saw the car approaching at the rate of about 30 miles per hour. As he caught sight of the auto he saw the car slowing up. The engineer naturally thought the driver was going to stop. When about thirty yards from the crossing, the car was slowed down to about 10 miles per hour. Mr. Barlow then looked to the switch on the west side of the crossing to see if it were all right and then looked to the car. It was about 10 or 12 feet from track...

MADOC ROAD TO FOXBORO MADE A PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY

Work of Grading Will be Commenced in the Spring—Good Work by H. K. Denyes, M. P. P.

The Department of Public Works of Ontario, through its minister, Hon. F. C. Biggs, has decided to take over the Madoc Road, leading from Belleville to Foxboro as a full Provincial highway.

The work of grading will commence early next spring. The roadway will be made the same width as the road along the front of the county and the same high standard of construction will be observed.

This decision was arrived at last night after a prolonged campaign carried on by Mr. H. K. Denyes, M. P. P., representative for East Hastings. Mr. Denyes induced the minister to come to Belleville a few weeks ago and took him out over the proposed extension. He pointed out to the minister the great volume of traffic converging at Foxboro and centering towards Belleville. He also called attention to the fact that this would be the natural route for the beginning of another probable Provincial highway between Belleville and Peterborough.

The minister, at first strongly demurred and intimated that the Province already had too big a program. But at last he relented, but assured Mr. Denyes that not another foot of highway would be taken over by the Province until the roads already assumed were fully completed.

Buried With Masonic Honors

Last Tribute Paid to the Late Edward M. Fisk.

All that was mortal of the late Edward M. Fisk, C. N. R. agent at Belleville for the past four years, was laid to rest on Wednesday afternoon in the family plot in Belleville cemetery. Despite outward weather conditions, the funeral was largely attended and was under the auspices of the Masonic order. At the family residence, 67 Dundas street east, the Rev. Dr. Cleaver, pastor of Bridge St. Methodist church, conducted an impressive service, assisted by Rev. George Brown, Rev. Dr. Baker and Rev. W. H. Wallace, V. W. Bro. J. O. Herity of Eureka Lodge, No. 283, A. F. and A. M., officiated at the Masonic service at the house, assisted by Bro. J. O. Herity, six brethren, all of the C.N.R., G.T.R. and C.P.R. Services acted as pall bearers. Wor. Bro. Jesse Barlow and Bro. Claude Wallace, A. Walsh, Walter Boyer, R. D. Adams and Joseph Waddell. Numerous floral tributes bore testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

At the grave the committal rites were conducted by the Rev. George Brown and the Masonic burial service was taken by Rev. W. H. Wallace, assisted by Rev. W. B. M. F. Diamond and W. Bro. Dr. M. A. Day.

Col. O'Flynn, Provincial President of the G.W.V.A., was one of the speakers at the G.W.V.A. banquet held at Bowmanville last week. The Statesman refers to the address of Col. O'Flynn as follows:

Col. E. D. O'Flynn, Belleville, a former O. C. of the 2nd Battalion, paid tribute to the splendid work of Bowmanville boys in his battalion but there was a sadness owing to many missing faces. He said the response Canada made in the first few weeks of war put heart into the British people which was very manifest when the Canadians arrived in England. The speaker gave the history of the Great War Veterans' Association, the object of which had been to care for the soldiers' widows and look after maimed comrades and protect the interests of the returned soldiers. Much good had been accomplished by this organization and there was still great things to be done. He predicted that the various soldier organizations throughout Canada would be united in the very near future.

Brig.-Gen. W. S. Hughes, superintendent of Penitentiaries, and R. E. Ulfacke, of the staff of the Penitentiary Inspectors, arrived in Kingston Tuesday morning.

Gen. Hughes stated that he was merely on a regular tour, and it is understood that he will spend the greater part of the week at the Penitentiary. Everything has been running along smoothly at the penitentiary with Mr. G. Smith, of Ottawa, acting as warden during the absence of Warden Penderford.

Principal T. W. Brown, of the collegiate institute, North Bay, has been appointed public school inspector for South Nipissing in the place of F. S. I. Bannister, who has been appointed to a position on the normal school staff. Mr. Brown, though leaving the collegiate, will remain a citizen of North Bay.

LITTLE BOY SCALDED.

Falling into a kettle of hot water while at play at his home, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McIntosh, Winchester Springs, was seriously scalded on both arms to the elbows.

FISHERMEN USING MICROPHONES.

Microphones used by submarines to detect the approach of surface ships are being used by Norwegian fishermen to signal the arrival of shoals of fishes. The microphone connects with a telephone placed in the fishing ship, and the character of the sound discloses the kind of fish approaching. Herring causes a sort of shrill whistle, whereas cod produces a low rumble.

STRUCK AN AUTO.

When the Ford car, license No. 162,101, owned by Albert Donovan, Mallorytown, was struck at the public crossing east of that station on Thursday by Grand Trunk express train No. 9, westbound, Nathan Fodley, aged twenty-five, Lansdowne, the other passenger in the car, received slight scalp wounds and Donovan himself, aged twenty-two, was also slightly hurt. The car was badly damaged.

DOWN BY THE LAKE SHORE.

J. M. Jenks and son, who sold their farm about a mile out of Wellington, have now got into their house on the lake shore, in the village. They are having electric lights installed by Mr. Crandle, Picton.

HINES IS INSANE.

Albert Hines was on Wednesday at the assize at Cobourg placed on trial for the murder of his son by cutting his throat.

The evidence was chiefly that of doctors and the question of the accused's sanity was, practically, the whole issue in the case. The jury, after three and a half hours' deliberation brought in a verdict of not guilty. Hines will be placed in an institution for the insane.

A PERMANENT CENOTAPH.

Will Kingston have a permanent cenotaph? This thought is in the minds of many people in Kingston. They think it would be a splendid memorial and each year could play a splendid part in the Armistice day ceremonies. For years to come the day will be honored and the memory of the gallant Canadian soldiers who sleep in France and Flanders and Britain, yes in Canada, will be kept green. The council, representing the people, should rear the marble cenotaph, a replica of the one temporarily standing on the cricket field. The memorial might very well be placed in Memorial Park.

ARCHBISHOP GAUTHIER IS 77.

Archbishop Charles Hugh Gauthier, Ottawa, was showered with congratulations Saturday by members of the Catholic clergy and his many friends throughout Canada on the occasion of the 77th anniversary of his birth. His Grace, who was appointed to the See of Ottawa in September, 1910, in succession to the late Archbishop Duhamel, was born in Alexandria, on November 13, 1843. He was Archbishop of Kingston from 1899 to 1910. Despite his advanced age, he is still very active and enjoying fairly good health. He attends regularly to all the duties connected with his high office.

DO NOT WALK ON G.T.R. TRACKS.

Those people who have been in the habit of walking along the G. T. R. tracks in Lindsay have enjoyed immunity from prosecution as trespassers—for trespassers they really are, says the Lindsay Post. In future however they will have to divert their course in another direction, as the railway authorities have instructed Constable Gary to prosecute all offenders in future. The Constable has already warned those who have used the tracks for a short-cut and if the practice is persisted in prosecutions will assuredly follow.

Statistics have disclosed the fact that a very large number of accidents occurring on the railways claim trespassers for their victims.

BREAD 23 CENTS IN KINGSTON.

A still further decrease in the price of bread in Kingston, the third within the past week was announced Monday morning when D. Abramsky stated that he was now selling bread at 23 cents, with the wholesale price to stores at 20 cents.

The new came as welcome to housewives, who have seen bread drop since last Thursday from 28 cents a loaf to 23 cents, a clear decrease of five cents. Monday morning no other bakers followed the steps of Mr. Abramsky in lowering the price though one baker stated that he probably would sell at 23 cents also.

INJURED BY FALLING TREE.

While cutting trees in woods on his farm in West Whitty Monday afternoon, Mr. Edgar Pascoe, a well-known farmer of that township, met with an accident which might yet prove very serious. He was felling a large tree when it fell over on him, struck him on the ear, cutting it badly, and fell on his leg. Dr. F. R. McLaren, of Whitty, was sent for, but before it can be known if the leg is broken, an X-Ray examination will have to be made. The leg is very painful, and his many friends hope that no serious consequences will follow.

VALUABLE DOG SHOT.

A valuable wolf hound, owned by Fred Young, Brockville, who resides at the Chemical works, was shot and killed on Saturday afternoon by a Brockville hunter who evidently mistook the dog for a fox.

It has been calculated that an oyster five inches long contains one-twelfth of a cubic inch of solid food daily, and to obtain it must filter eight or nine gallons of sea-water.

A Detroit husband testified in divorce court that after his wife had spent his money to purchase 15 dogs, three of which occupied his sleeping room, she put him out of the house.

Detroit postmaster has decreed that women employed in the post-office must wear gray chambray aprons, beginning December 1. The women challenge his right to dictate their attire.

DR. CHANT APPOINTED.

We are pleased to announce that Dr. Joseph Chant, of Belleville, an experienced and successful eye, ear and throat specialist, has been appointed oculist and aurist of the Ontario School for the Deaf, his duties commencing on Nov. 1st.

APPOINTED DISTRICT REPRESENTATIVE.

Mr. Armour Reid, agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Co., for several years at Trenton, has had the honor to be appointed, district representative for this well-known firm with territory embracing Hastings and Northumberland as far west as Cobourg. Mr. Reid has now moved his headquarters to Belleville and has taken over the office of the company here.

NEW X-RAY MACHINE INSTALLED.

The magnificent new X-Ray machine, which has been so generously donated to the Oshawa Hospital by Mr. George McLaughlin, has been installed and is now in readiness for use. The final test was made by Dr. E. J. Wolfman, of Toronto, who has charge of installing X-Ray machines throughout Canada. This new machine, which it has taken five months to manufacture, is not only one of the most powerful machines that has ever been turned out but is absolutely the latest type and equipped with every contrivance that can be obtained.

This machine is called the Wappler X-Ray apparatus, having been manufactured in New York. It has a rather novel contrivance attached for controlling the time, making it possible for a doctor to get down to a scientific reading in diagnosing a case and taking a picture of any part of the human anatomy, so that in a year's time he can duplicate the picture and compare it with the first. This machine is absolutely fool proof, the glass casing over the switches and wires making it impossible for one coming in contact with it, to be electrocuted.

REFITTING A MILL.

W. S. Anglin, Kingston, has purchased the old grist-mill at Battersea, formerly owned by G. S. Wakeford. For some time the mill has been in a dilapidated condition and running only occasionally. The mill has been placed in good repair, two large thirty-three inch steel flumes having been installed, with two new turbine water wheels developing about 250 H.P. The work is about completed and the mill will soon be in splendid running order. Mr. Anglin is also the operator of the cheese factory at Battersea. It is said Mr. Anglin will shortly install an electric light plant for the benefit of Battersea village.

NEW CORNWALL INDUSTRY.

The Niagara Wall Board Company with factories at Buffalo, N.Y., Shewang, Mich., Penn. Yan. N. Y., has decided to establish a Canadian branch factory at Cornwall and has taken over the Ross Mill and site on east water street. The company will employ from twenty-five to thirty skilled hands with an annual pay roll of $50,000. The company will probably be incorporated as the Cornwall Pulp and Paper Co.

ELVIN HEGADORN DEAD.

Elvin Hegadorn died at Picton on Tuesday night after a few days' suffering from tetanus. Mr. Hegadorn, in the employ of Carter Bros., was unloading a barrel of oil from a wagon when a slight movement of the wagon threw the barrel on his fingers. His injury, though painful, was not considered dangerous, but in a few days tetanus developed with fatal results. The deceased leaves a wife and family. He was thirty-seven years of age.

PURCHASING PROPERTY.

Frank Anglin, Brewer's Mills and Camp Mohawk, has purchased the Woodruff estate and Barker & Newman's electric light plant at Sydenham. The Woodruff estate consists of grist, saw and planing mills. A number of men are now engaged overhauling the property, deepening the channel and installing three new turbine water wheels. When repairs are completed Mr. Anglin hopes that Sydenham will never again be out of street lights. This is considered one of the best privileges in the county, and is valued at approximately some $30,000.

NEW CHEESE FACTORY.

The Lanark and Drummond Cheese Company, whose factory at Lanark was destroyed by fire some time ago, is erecting a new building of frame construction resting on a concrete foundation. The floor throughout is also concrete.

WILL EMPLOY 30 MEN.

The F. W. Fisher Co., Ltd., Kingston, manufacturers of paper boxes and paper goods, will employ thirty hands, as many as the present quarters will accommodate.

Mr. Monieroff, manager of the Kingston factory, is at present in Toronto studying the methods of manufacture of the paper boxes. With the equipment planned to be installed two million paper boxes per annum will be manufactured by the concern. Mr. Fisher is optimistic with regard to the prospects of the Kingston plant and feels that it will be a real success.

G.T.R. POLICEMAN HURT.

William Haslam, until recently a Grand Trunk Railway special agent, at the Brockville terminal, was badly beaten at Richmond, Que., Monday and passed through Brockville Monday night en route to his home in Toronto. Particulars of the affair are lacking, but it is said that Haslam, who has lately been on duty at Richmond, was attacked and severely assaulted, the injuries to his head being the worst.

SUCCEEDS IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES.

W. E. Wilder, son of R. E. Wilder, Wellington, is a Prince Edwarder, who has made his mark in the financial world. Mr. Wilder is a partner in the firm of Wood, Gundy & Co., one of the well-known bond houses of Toronto. Mr. Wilder has earned rapid promotion. Although a young man he is recognized as one of the outstanding men in the business. Recently he has been made the firm's representative on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

NEW FISHERIES BOAT.

The boat Carlew, formerly one of the boats doing coast patrol duty on the way from New York city for about nine days, arrived at Cape Vincent, N.Y., this week and was turned over to the United States fisheries to be used by the Cape Vincent hatchery in distributing fish fry to the waters of Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River.

DEATH FROM SCARLET FEVER.

Ell Knapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Knapp, Newboro, a very bright and intelligent youth of only fourteen years passed away on Monday morning. He had been ill only about two days with scarlet fever.

PEDDLER AND BOY TOLD TO LEAVE TOWN.

A blind French peddler and a small boy of the same nationality visited Lindsay on Thursday and started to canvass the citizens, selling lead pencils. Before long complaints reached the Chief of Police, about articles disappearing from offices. The peddler was located, searched, and the articles recovered. The pair were told to leave town on the first train. They took the chance and left.

PURCHASE A PLANT.

Farrow Bros., Brockville, have made a purchase of the old Merrickville Post plant, which for some time has been stored in the public library building. E. E. Barber has written from Parkdale announcing the sale. Farrow Bros., the purchasers, recently lost much of their plant by fire. There is another unused printing plant in Merrickville, that owned by J. D. Hall and for it there is a prospective buyer.

STEAMYACHT IS SOLD.

The steam yacht Stroller, formerly owned by G. T. Rafferty, Alexander Bay, and one of the finest crafts of the river, has been purchased by W. H. Soper, of Morgantown, W. Va., who recently bought Opowaka Lodge near the bay. The Miss Nassau, a high speed cruiser, has also been bought by Mr. Soper.

CAME FROM MORRISBURG.

Mrs. Charles C. Ward, who was shot and killed by her husband at Red Willow in the Grande Prairie district of Manitoba recently, after which the man committed suicide with the same weapon, her maiden name being Daisy Ellen Parvish. The double tragedy, according to western advices, was the sequel to an unhappy marriage contracted on April 12 last. Ward met his wife by correspondence and had not known her previous to the day of their marriage. In the woman's coat was found after death a letter addressed to Mrs. George Dardis, Morrisburg, in which she stated that she was leaving her husband and asked if Mrs. Dardis would take her back into her employment.

CARIBOU HERDS ROAM YUKON.

Caribou are so plentiful that large herds are roaming on the outskirts of the city of Dawson, on both sides of the Yukon River. There are stated to be tens of thousands within a radius of 20 miles. Everybody is stocked up for the winter and the animals are running at large like cattle.

MADOC JCT.

Our pastor, Rev. G. C. R. McQuade, preached at the anniversary services at Marsh Hill last Sunday. Mrs. Werden was called to Trenton on Saturday to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law.

Miss Lottie Ashley, of Belleville visited friends here last Sunday. Mr. Fitchett and Mr. Andrews attended the I.O.O.F. funeral of the late Mr. Stephen Nolan of Stirling on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews entertained a merry little crowd of Rebekas from Ottawa and Belleville last Thursday, among them being the president of the assembly at Ottawa. They were on their way to institute a lodge at Stirling.

DR. JOHN MOORE.

The funeral of the late Dr. John Moore, who was accidentally killed at Point Anne crossing, was held on Monday afternoon at Shannonville. The religious service was held at the Presbyterian Church which was thronged with friends who had known and respected Dr. Moore in life. Rev. A. S. Kerr, pastor of St. Andrew's church, Belleville, conducted the service. Several other clergymen were present out of respect to the departed. There were very many floral tributes, each conveying its mute message of esteem for the late physician and of sympathy for those who had been so suddenly bereaved. Among the floral designs were offerings from Ontario Medical Association and from the Presbyterian church board.

INTERMENT TOOK PLACE AT BELLEVILLE CEMETERY.

The bearers were three brothers of deceased, Alexander and William of Plainfield and Robert, of Regina, a cousin, Mr. J. Leslie of Brighton and two brothers-in-law, Mr. H. K. Denyes, M.P.P. and Mr. G. M. Neely, Napanee.

SEEKING MISSING MEN.

Circulars have been received in Kingston from Ottawa, with a photograph and particulars of John Hammill, managing director of the Murphy Gamble, Ltd., Ottawa, who has been missing since November 10th. He has been much overworked of late, and it is thought that he is suffering from loss of memory and wandered away. Reports on Tuesday stated that a search was being made for him around Pembroke.

CATTLE POISONED.

William McNell, Jr., Kingston, suffered a heavy loss on Tuesday when two of his best cows were poisoned in the factory of the Dominion Explosives at Sand Point, near Arnprior. This is the third time that he has lost cattle. The animals gain entrance to the factory yard by the water being low in the river in the fall months, and quantities of washing water lie around the building which comes from the powder and appeals to the dumb animals, as much salt is used in the process.

OBITUARY.

EDGAR ARTHUR SPENCER.

Edgar Arthur Spencer died at his home, 37 Grove Street, Belleville, from a lingering illness November 13, at 2 p.m. He was the third son of the late Alva B. Spencer and Jane Thompson Spencer, and also was a great grandson of the late C. Spencer, the Prince Edward pioneer who came from New York to the town of Picton in the year 1793 and resided there until his death, his family being one of the oldest in Canada, and of U. E. Loyalist stock, as far back as 1635, claims descent from Henry Bull, one of Newport's first settlers and second Governor of Rhode Island. Cora Spencer and Matilda Bull were married in Dutchess county, N.Y. on April 21st, 1790. He came with his father, Thomas, soon after the revolutionary war to Canada, landing at Chimney Point on May 23, 1793. The late Edgar A. Spencer was born January 27th, 1873, in the township of Thurlow and lived there most all his life until 15 years ago he quit farming and moved to Belleville. The late Edgar Spencer was of a most pleasant nature, he had a smile for everyone he met and was a kind and obliging neighbor, and much respected by all who knew him. In religion he was a Presbyterian, being a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of this city. He recovered from his recent lingering illness for a short time and hope was held out for him, when a sudden change took place for the worse, and he passed peacefully away trusting slowly and jumping as he was not working. He was satisfied then that it was for either to stop and the throttle and brake at the same time. He was two hundred feet from Mr. Barlow saw that it was on the car and that it stopped on the track. An about 15 feet away he could see the occupant of the car. The curtain was on the east side of the car. The driver had a fur engine struck the car. The car came forward and was the switch stand, 120 which released the car.
