To Farador People

Of P. E. Island

At the commencement of my tenth year as representative of the Farador Company, I desire to thank all friends, known and unknown, who by their kindly advice are doing much to promote the spread of health in this province.

I would like to enter into detail concerning some of the grand results achieved during the past year, but time and space will not permit. A few of these results have appeared in the daily press and more will appear as time goes on.

Although there has been some instances of failure the great majority of those who have given the Farador a fair trial have been cured or greatly benefited. The result would be still more satisfactory if people would begin the use of the Farador early in their illness instead of taking it as a last remedy.

I would again remind my patrons of the advisability of sending their Faradores to me occasionally in order that they may be tested. The cord connection sometimes becomes defective through carelessness or long use.

With best wishes, I remain Yours for health, W. EDGAR ENMAN, 226 Richmond St. Charlottetown.

Irreverence

To reverse God, to reverse one's self, and reverse one's neighbor, constitute the sum and substance of religion. If the present age is irreligious it is because it is irreverent, says the Toronto Register.

This spirit manifests itself especially in the world's attitude towards God and the things which pertain directly to God, leaving out of consideration the Church with its sacraments and sacrifice, its devotion to the Mother of God and the saints, how little reverence do those outside the fold manifest towards those things which they nominally at least still hold sacred. They profess great devotion to the written Word of God, the Bible. While many of them are no doubt sincere in this, yet the doctrinal vagaries of some ministers are doing much to undermine their faith. It is an evidence of the spirit of the times that the younger generation seem to sympathize with the most outspoken opponents of the divine inspiration of the scriptures and their historical reliability.

Just as the Bible critics are destroying reverence for the written Word of God, so the itinerant evangelist is bringing into disrepute the spoken Word. While there are among the resident non-Catholic clergy of Canada a certain number of notably seekers, who make outlandish statements in order to get into the limelight and discuss everything else but religion, yet a goodly number aim at giving their people moral exhortations based on certain fundamental truths which they hold in common with Catholics. But as they have very little positive doctrine to proclaim to the people, they cannot proclaim that with any degree of authority, they introduce a revival in order to hold the interest of the congregation.

An evangelist, some Gipsy Smith or Billy Sunday, is invited to stir up the brethren, and incidentally raise some funds. The intemperate language, the vulgar slang and the flippant manner of referring to the Deity, which often characterize the utterances of these so-called divines bring the pulpits to which they have been indiscreetly invited into disrepute and lessen in the minds of the people whatever respect they might have had for the utterances of their own ministers.

As a body, Catholics are noted for the reverence which they show to God and to holy things. Their devotional attitude in church is a source of edification. That great Catholic Society of the Holy Name presents to the world an object lesson whose influence is far-reaching. The Church is universally recognized as the greatest school of reverence in the world; hence the scandal that arises from the failure of individual members to live up to those ideals which are set before them.

From the very fact that Catholics have such reverence for the Church, it follows logically that they should have great respect for themselves, for each one of them is a member of that great mystical body of Christ. If being a member of a noble family is a stimulant to a young man or woman to maintain the best traditions associated with the family name, surely membership in the great Communion of Saints ought to prompt every Catholic to walk circumspectly and to have reverence for himself.

What scandalizes non-Catholics is not the great faults of unworthy members of the Church, but the petty meanness and dishonesties, the ungentlemanly conduct, the crude manners and unseemly bickerings which sometimes dim the lustre of real virtue. The Catholic man who receives often the Bread of Angels should not only avoid various faults, but should depart himself, no matter what his position in life may be, as a Catholic gentleman, and not allow himself to be dragged down to the level of associates who have no supernatural aspirations.

Minard's Liniment will cure Dis-temper.

Praise French Priest

(By N. C. W. C. News Service.)

In the course of a meeting recently held in Paris in the presence of the most prominent among Catholic philanthropists and sociologists, M. Poincaré, former President of the Republic, and Mgr. Jullien, Bishop of Arras, paid high tribute to a man who, single handed, was able, by means of intensive propaganda and strenuous work, to be of greatest service both to the working class and his country. This man is a Catholic priest, the Abbe Lemire, who represents the Department of the North in the French Parliament. The work undertaken by him is "L'Oeuvre des Jardins Ouvriers" (Gardens for working people).

Father Lemire was really the man who, by strenuous work, intensive propaganda and judicious methods was destined to bring the idea of small gardens to a fruitful and grand realization. As early as 1896, Father Lemire, in order to promote his campaign, had founded the "Ligue de la Terre et du Foyer" (League of the Morsel of Ground and of the Home). Sociologists, public men, manufacturers, philanthropists, clergymen and municipalities took an interest in his undertaking. Father Lemire delivered lectures and wrote books in furtherance of his work. At last he had a bill enacted by Parliament which provided the necessary measures to facilitate the organization of the "Oeuvre des Jardins Ouvriers."

In 1908 there were in France 134 local organizations of workmen gardens, which cultivated 6,000 gardens; in 1906 there could be found 205 like organizations, with 10,500 gardens, by which 64,000 people were benefited; in 1912, 281 organizations, with 18,000 gardens and 180,000 beneficiaries (of which 65,000 were children).

Constipation

Headaches.

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, head aches, tongue coated, breath bad, specks float before your eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water brash, jaundice, etc.

Use Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills to make the liver resume its proper functions by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system. Mr. Le Roy Allen, Springfield, N. E., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks or the relief Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills have given me. I had been suffering from constipation for three years, and had had headaches. I tried all sorts of remedies, but got no relief, until my physician told me about your pills. I tried them and soon got relief, and now I would not be without them in any case."

Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not grip, weaken or sicken like the drastic purgatives of the past. Price 25c. a box at all dealers, or sold direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Priest As Santa

(By N. C. W. C. News Service.)

Clad as Santa Claus, with a powerful airplane instead of a sleigh for a conveyance, Father Ignatius Fealy, chaplain at Fort Myer, Va., flew from Bolling Field to the post on Christmas eve, and after alighting on the parade ground distributed presents to the enlisted men and candy to a large number of children.

Before descending with his pack, Father Fealy had a long and thrilling flight over Washington and Arlington Cemetery. Lieut. Geddes, pilot of the big plane, "cut capers" for Father Fealy's benefit while they were sailing at a speed of about 100 miles an hour, and some thousands of feet above the Potomac River. The airplane was made to "loop the loop" and do other "stunts" which gave Father Fealy a good deal of information about aerial navigation, but took away his breath during their excursion.

It was an exciting experience, and though I wouldn't repeat it for a million dollars I wouldn't take that much for it, either," Father Fealy told Lieut. Geddes.

Father Dominic Pantanella, S.J., one of the best known priests and educators in the West, celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday on a recent Sunday. By a strange coincidence the day following was the seventieth anniversary of his entrance into the Jesuit Order. Father Pantanella is as bright and pleasant as ever, and keeps occupied daily with his zealous propagation of the devotion to the Sacred Heart. He distributes thousands of Sacred Heart badges yearly.

A SENSIBLE MERCHANT.

Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders give women prompt relief from monthly pains, and have no bad after effects whatever. Be sure you get Milburn's. Price 25 cents a box.

Hearing a crash of glassware one morning, Mrs. Blank called to her maid in the adjoining room. "Norah, what on earth are you doing?"

"I'm doing nothin', mum," replied Norah; "it's done."

W. H. O. Wilkinson Streetford says:—"It affords me much pleasure to say that I experienced great relief from Muscular Rheumatism by using two boxes of Milburn's Rheumatic Pills. Price 25 cents a box."

Terrible Sufferer

From Her Kidneys.

When the kidneys get out of order a back is sure to become ached, dull pains, sharp pains, quick twinges all point to the fact that the kidneys need attention.

Flasters and liniments may relieve for a short time, but to get rid of those pains you must get right at the seat of the trouble. You can do this by using Doan's Kidney Pills and thus obtain permanent relief.

Mrs. John Stephenson, 116 Stephen St., Kingston, Ont., writes:—"I certainly must praise your Doan's Kidney Pills. I was a terrible sufferer from my kidneys. I would have sworn pains in my back and awful headaches. I became very weak, and just felt as if I were being dragged down. I tried one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise I felt better. I could work hard all day, and my back would not pain me at all. I can't praise them too much."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

American Capital In Canada

Some interesting figures on American investments in Canada during the past twelve months are given by Mr. W. G. Gates of the information branch of the Department of External Affairs in the Financial Post. Mr. Gates places the total of American Capital invested in this country at $320,000,000, distributed as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Investment Type, Amount. Includes New bond issued ($235,000,000), Other bonds purchased ($12,000,000), Industrial investments ($50,000,000), Western lands ($7,900,000), Increase in insurance assets ($16,000,000).

For the present the figures can only be approximate, but they are given as a conservative estimate. The total represents a record, being in excess of that of 1919. It is the more significant for the fact that while the high figures of other years have included investment in Dominion securities, none of the bond issues taken up in the United States last year were Dominion loans. In addition to the $50,000,000 of American money placed in industrial investments in the Dominion a steadily increasing number of American concerns established branches in this country. Mr. Gates estimates the total of American capital at work in Canada at $1,800,000,000. This is an increase from $800,000,000 before the war.

Who Wants An Election?

"I have been through Canada during the last few months and have heard nothing of a demand for a general election," said Premier Meighen at Peterboro.

Neither has anyone else heard anything of a demand from the people for a general election. The only demand there has been has come from a few Liberal newspapers echoing the wails of the Toronto Globe and from a few discredited leaders of class interests. The leader of the Opposition, Mr. King, has called for an election but the probability is that he desires one only because he is confident the Government will not accede to his demand. His purpose has been the same as that of the Toronto Globe—a desire to manufacture a case against the Government where no real case exists.

Because there is no general dissatisfaction with the Government, the enemies of the Government have to go to exaggerated lengths in their efforts to create the impression of dissatisfaction. The easiest cry and the one that lends itself to the loudest shouting is that the Government has no mandate for continuing in office and should bring on an election. No sound reason has yet been advanced why an election should be brought on. It has yet to be shown that the people of Canada have any desire that the Government should refrain from finishing out its term.

"Too Much Christmas"

Naval Secretary Daniels now seems to regret his hasty denial of this paper's statement on Saturday that the flight of the U. S. naval balloons was an unauthorized "joy ride" and that they would be court-martialed. A Washington despatch says:

"It has already been announced that the customary naval court of inquiry to fix the responsibility for the loss of naval property—in this case the balloon—would be ordered; but there are indications that one of the houses of Congress will be asked to take a hand in an effort to ascertain all the circumstances of the balloon's misadventure."

And there are evidences of the "joy ride" in the despatch of a correspondent who says:

Next in interest to the deplorable fight between American Navy officers on foreign soil were the revelations of the officers that their flight was merely a practice jaunt taken on their own initiative though with the sanction of the Rockaway naval air station commander and executive officer. They disclosed further that they started off in a balloon in which the gas was ten days old, the craft thus having lost much of its buoyancy because of air infiltration, that they had no maps or charts except a Canadian railroad timetable that Farrell happened to be carrying and that they took rations for only three days and not a drop of water.

"Too much Christmas," the reason given by the balloonists for their delay at Moose Factory, looks like a fitting explanation of the trip from beginning to end. We shall probably hear next that the flight was not even "sanctioned" by the station commandant.—Ottawa Journal.

Opposing Naval Holiday Plan

Mr. Daniels, Secretary of the Navy in the Washington Government, in his representations before the committee of Congress dealing with naval affairs, strengthens the impression that he is endeavoring to use the naval question as a lever to force an eleventh hour success for President Wilson's League of Nations policy. He told the committee, in connection with its consideration of its costly programme of naval construction which he has fathered, that unless the United States is to enter the League of Nations, or unless Mr. Harding, when he takes office, can arrange an agreement among all the nations for a reduction of armament, the programme should be proceeded with. The United States should not remain without a navy at least equal to that of the most powerful sea power in the world.

It is not likely that the American people contemplate with pleasure the spending of a billion or two dollars on warships when the United States already has the second strongest navy in the world. At the same time, the prospect of Mr. Harding's being able to effect a general disarmament agreement, independent of the League of Nations seems remote. The only other thing for the United States, therefore, is to get into the league if it is to save the billion or so dollars it is proposed to spend on new warships, according to Mr. Daniels.

Mr. Daniels professes that he can see little advantage in an agreement for cessation of construction between the United States, Japan, and Britain alone. Such an alliance, he fears, might be followed by "a counter-entente of nations jealous of what they would regard as an Anglo-Saxon and Japanese alliance to dictate to the world." There is no other group of powers that could hope to challenge the United States, Japan and Britain on the sea, with the navies of the world at their present strength, and none of the European nations are financially able to enter on a construction programme for that purpose.

Such a tri-party agreement as is proposed would at least be a start in the movement for disarmament. And it would accomplish that which the people of the nations concerned are in most need of—a reduction in taxation.

In the French Parliament, at Paris, January 12th, the ministry of Premier Georges Laygues was defeated by a heavy adverse vote of the Chamber of Deputies. The Prime Minister immediately tendered the resignation of himself and colleagues to President Millerand. The President of the nation called upon M. Peret, President of the Chamber of Deputies, to form a ministry. After consulting with the leading members, Peret declared he was unable to carry out the task. Former Premier Briand was then summoned by the President, and he succeeded in forming a Government. Premier Briand announced his ministry on the 17th.

Reign Of Terror

Paris, Jan. 14.—Sir William Goode, British member of the Austrian section of the Reparations Commission, at a luncheon in his honor at the Renaissance Club today, spoke freely on the situation in Austria.

"Three eventualities must be considered" as a consequence of the prospective collapse of Austria," Sir William said in part. "There are first, an attempt on the part of the Austrian provinces to join Germany; second, partition of the Austrian provinces among the adjoining states, not excluding Germany; and third, a communist or Bolshevik reign of terror. It has been stated that before giving up in despair, the Austrian Government will request the council of the League of Nations, under article 80 of the treaty of Versailles, to permit a union with Germany. My opinion, however, is that Germany cannot feed the whole of Austria; but apart from that question, it is to me unthinkable that the Allies could permit Germany to extend her empire to the borders of the Adriatic, with her frontiers in the rear of Czechoslovakia and on the flanks of Hungary, Jugoslavia and Italy.

The disappearance of a regular government in Austria, in the opinion of Sir William, will sow the seeds of more wars between the countries who are rivals for her remains.

"A rumor is current in Austria," he said, "that Hungarian forces, regular or irregular, would advance upon Vienna on the pretence of preventing the ancient capital falling into the hands of the Czechs. In that case, no one in Austria would be surprised if the Czechs attempted by force to forestall the occupation of Vienna, Jugoslavia, under its recent defensive alliance with Czechoslovakia, might then decide to attack Hungary. The destiny of the province of Styria, Lower Austria, Upper Austria and Carinthia would then be in the melting pot of a war of reparation from which it might be difficult for the greater powers to abstain."

The speaker said he thought that if Austria should be given the chance of continued existence she likely would prove the least Bolshevik of all states.

"I do wish to appear to be an alarmist," said Sir William, "but if the allies can hold out no prospect of means for continued existence, then I fear we must be prepared for an outbreak that would be beyond the control of any authority that might be left to Austria. It is common knowledge that the Bolsheviks have made elaborate preparations to utilize Vienna as a centre of activity and propaganda. They expect their campaign in this part of the world will synchronize with the disappearance of the central government of Austria and spread thence to every country of Europe.

"I am convinced that provision of part of the £60,000,000 recommended by the Austrian section of the Reparations Commission can safely be regarded as economic insurance as compared with the expenditure in which the British government might be involved in the collapse of Austria. There probably never was a moment in the histories of the French and British governments when it was more difficult to find money. The issue, however, is not merely can we afford the money, but also can we afford to face the alternative."

Now the Prices you've been waiting for are here

FOR OUR January Carnival of Economy

The old year took away, forever, we hope, the old burden of war prices. For months conditions have been working toward the great climax that brought the remarkable merchandise that is here assembled for this our greatest January Carnival of Economy.

The results came in two ways: 1st. The drastic lowering of prices on our own stocks, down to the new low basis, and often far below it—to double your interest in January buying in our store.

2nd. We have combed the markets—taking utmost advantage of the opportunities created by far sighted manufacturers who were ready to co-operate with us in presenting to you now the lowest prices that will be possible, for the next six months, at least.

We can just see the delight of our Customers when they see the splendid assortment of goods, in every department of our store, and then realize that prices are away down to the bottom, where it is a pleasure to buy things.

Many Manufacturers have ACCEPTED LARGE LOSSES. We shall forgo a large part of our profits on the new goods and accept large losses on our own mark-downs—to inaugurate this first New Year under the New Management and

THE MOST STIRRING JANUARY PRICE-UPSET THAT THIS COMMUNITY HAS EVER KNOWN.

No matter what you need or desire, now is the best time for months to come to buy it. Some of the reasons are told on this page; but scores of others are here that can get no mention today, even in this broad space.

Twelve days and twenty-two hours from Cherbourg, France, the Cunard Liner Saxonia arrived at Halifax yesterday morning after one of the stormiest passages she has ever had across the Atlantic. At times the wind was so high and the waves so terrific that the ship was unable to make progress on her course.

Broaden Scope

Washington, Jan. 14.—Three amendments were tacked on the Fordney Emergency Tariff Bill by the Senate finance committee today, in its first day's consideration in executive session, after the recent public hearings of the measure. After the committee had voted, ten to four, to open the bill to amendments, Senators Calder, Republican, New York, and Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, got provisions through which materially broadened the scope of the measure, and Senator McCumber, North Dakota, obtained acceptance of a higher import duty on wheat.

The McCumber amendment would fix a tariff on imported wheat of 40 cents a bushel, instead of the 30 cents carried by the bill as it passed the House. Senator Calder's amendment would add dairy products to the list already protected, establishing a tariff of six cents a pound on butter and cheese and their substitutes, and two cents and five cents a gallon on fresh milk and cream, respectively. Under the Jones amendment, the import duty on hides carried on the Dingley tariff law, would be restored as a part of the Fordney measure for the ten months of its life.

While the Senate was considering the Emergency bill, indications developed in the House ways and means committee, of a sentiment among some members to delay framing a new permanent tariff until international conditions became more stable.

In this connection, the suggestion was made privately by several members of the House committee, that a revival, of either the Dingley or the Payne-Aldrich laws, should be resorted to as a stop-gap expedient. But there was also stray evidence that the majority members will not support rates higher than, and possibly not as high as, the Payne-Aldrich tariff provided.

Some questions propounded during the day, the intimation was given that some committee members feel the present chaotic conditions of exchange and low production costs abroad, may make inadvisable, the drafting of a scientific tariff law at this time.

Gervase Elwes Dies

Boston, January 14.—Gervase Elwes, the English tenor, died here last night, from injuries he sustained when struck by a train on which he had arrived from New York. He had just alighted with his wife from the train at the Back Bay station, and was attempting to return an overcoat to the conductor when he was hit by a passing car.

Mr. Elwes, who was known as one of the most distinguished of English musicians who have visited America, was 54 years old, and was married in 1889 to Lady Winifred Fielding, daughter of the Earl of Denbigh. They had two daughters and six sons.

Before becoming a professional singer in 1903, Mr. Elwes was in the diplomatic service, and since that time has been high sheriff of Northamptonshire. In 1917 he was created Knight of Malta. His first American visit was in 1909, on the invitation of the American Oratorio Society.

Gervase Elwes had been booked to sing at the Ottawa Morning Music Club in the near future, and would have been a guest of their Excellencies, the Governor-General and Duchess of Devonshire at Bideau Hall.

Valuable Serum

A serum for the prevention of foot and mouth disease has been discovered by a commission of French experts, but it is impossible at the present to manufacture the serum in sufficient quantities to inoculate all cattle against the plague. The commission is composed of Professors Roux, Noocard, Carré and Vallee, which was formed at the request of Parliament, and will submit its report to the Ministry of Agriculture shortly.

Attention is now being given to increasing the production of the serum, of which there is only enough to inoculate the prize cattle and valuable animals of the world.

the Alfort Government Agricultural School laboratory, discussing the disease today, said that the microbe was invisible under the microscope, it being so infinitesimal that it passes through porcelain filters which have heretofore retained all known microbes.

The virus used in the manufacture of the serum can be obtained only from the diseased parts of affected animals, namely, the mouth and feet, and thus very small quantities are available.

and tell the wonderful story to Lizzie. Visions arose in the boy's mind of all the good things he would be able to bring her with all that money.

Tom's parents had taught him to be upright and honest, and the boy had always proved himself a model for other boys, many of whom he knew to be rude, dishonest and profane.

"Evenin' papers!" he called briskly, from the corner of the street where he stood awaiting purchasers.

The bundle of newspapers was very heavy, and the lad's arms ached from weariness and the cold, as well. Nobody wanted a paper tonight.

The cold was becoming more intense, and Tom stamped his poorly-shod feet on the sidewalk to warm them up a bit.

"That's mine, all right," the man exclaimed in a tone of satisfaction as he examined the contents. Then without another word he moved away.

"Don't you want a paper, sir?" Tom followed his retreating figure and shook a paper toward him.

"Got plenty of papers," he answered, with an impatient gesture and hurried into his car.

A man who had witnessed the scene tapped the boy on the shoulder. Tom was standing staring at the retreating auto and mentally deciding that the rich man was very stingy and unappreciative.

"Sunny, I'll have a paper," said the stranger, "that ungrateful, stingy cad! Not to give you a greenback or two. I'm sorry he got hold of that wad again. Honest, I am."

Tom went to hand back the change to the man who had just bought a paper, and although it was a large amount he had given the newsboy, the good-natured man urged the lad to keep it and then hurried away, leaving Tom stammering his thanks.

"That's a good sport!" Tom confided to himself as he pocketed the money. "If I'd picked up a bunch of dough for him instead of fer that other guy, I'd be a capitalist by now, I bet you!"

About an hour later Tom started home, cold, tired and hungry. But his bodily discomfort did not hinder him from stepping into the church which was lighted as he came up. Confessions were being heard as the next day was the first Friday of the month, so Tom went to confession. As he knelt before the altar afterwards he was full of gratitude for God's grace and help, which had enabled him to overcome that temptation to act dishonestly. He had so much to be thankful for he reasoned, even if the papers didn't always go as fast as he would have liked. But Tom possessed

WHOOPING COUGH

Her 3 Children Had It.

This disease begins like a simple cold in the head that rapidly goes to the chest. The cough is at first short and sharp, but gradually increases in severity and occurs in sudden spasms.

Often vomiting follows a severe attack of coughing, and sometimes there is nose-bleed.

Mothers should never neglect the treatment of whooping cough, for it is much more serious than most people think, as it may be followed by some grave lung trouble, such as bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption, since the sufferers power of resistance are often greatly weakened by the violent and exhausting cough.

On the first sign of a "whoop", Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup should be administered as it helps to clear the bronchial tubes of the collected mucus and phlegm.

Mrs. Burton Leopold, New Ross, N.S., writes: "My three children had the whooping cough so bad last winter, I thought they would choke. I tried many different remedies, but none of them seemed to help. At last I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and I was greatly surprised to see how quickly it helped them. I shall always recommend your wonderful remedy to others."

a strong, virile faith and he knew that he and Lizzie would not want.

Elizabeth's eyes grew very big as Tom threw quite a pile of money down on the table that evening, and then told his interesting story. He always managed to have something of interest to tell each night after business hours. She agreed with Tom that the millionaire was very ungrateful and that the other stranger was extremely kind and generous.

"Isn't it nice to know that even if there are some mean people in the world, still there are lots of nice kind folks," said philosophical Lizzie, "and I'm gladdest of all that you didn't keep the money, Tom, 'cause you could have kept still about it if you had wanted to be dishonest."

Tom nodded toward the well laden table. "Well, anyhow, we've got an extra good feed just because of the big adventure or sensation, as the papers say. I wish I'd asked Mr. Generous Man to come home and have supper with us. Now, why didn't I?"

The day following found our hero as usual at his place of business.

"Wonder if I'll figure in a big event of some kind today," Tom said to himself. Business was far from brisk all morning and Tom was beginning to conjecture about how much cash he would have to take home that night.

Your Heart! Does it Palpitate?

The component parts of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are indicated to do away with palpitation and other heart weaknesses and thus strengthen both the heart and nerves.

Mrs. F. X. Gauthier, Tilbury, Ont., writes: "During 25 years past I was greatly troubled with palpitation of the heart, and sometimes so much so that I would faint sometimes up to three hours. I had the doctor who kept me taking his medicine to overcome the disease, but to no effect. There was no change at all for the better.

Two years ago a friend advised me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I began to use them at once, and at the second box I began to feel some relief, so I continued to use them according to directions, and now I am perfectly well.

Before using the pills, I never weighed 100 pounds, now I weigh 117, and feel as if I were young although I am over 60 years of age.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The results came in two ways: 1st. The drastic lowering of prices on our own stocks, down to the new low basis, and often far below it--to double your interest in January buying in our store.

2nd. We have combed the markets--taking utmost advantage of the opportunities created by far sighted manufacturers who were ready to co-operate with us in presenting to you now the lowest prices that will be possible, for the next six months, at least.

We can just see the delight of our Customers when they see the splendid assortment of goods, in every department of our store, and then realize that prices are away down to the bottom, where it is a pleasure to buy things.

Many Manufacturers have ACCEPTED LARGE LOSSES. We shall forgo a large part of our profits on the new goods and accept large losses on our own mark-downs--to inaugurate this first New Year under the New Management and

THE MOST STIRRING JANUARY PRICE-UPSET THAT THIS COMMUNITY HAS EVER KNOWN.

No matter what you need or desire, now is the best time for months to come to buy it. Some of the reasons are told on this page; but scores of others are here that can get no mention today, even in this broad space.
