British Press Pessimistic.

Break off in Irish Negotiations Imminent -- Ex-Empress Prevented Charles From Suiciding -- Mayflower Owner Trying to Arrange Race With Bluenose -- Crown Colonies to Receive Imperial Aid.

THE CRISIS STILL ACUTE.

LONDON, Oct. 25. The Committee comprising Mr. Lord George, Austen Chamberlain, Mr. Griffith and Michael Collins, which was appointed yesterday to endeavour to find a formula that would ensure a continuance of the Irish Conference conferred another two hours today without completing its task. No fix was fixed for the re-assembling of the Conference itself, because the committee's report is not yet ready. Some British officials there appear to have a disposition to believe that the committee would present its report, and that the full Conference would be held to-morrow. At Irish headquarters tonight an attempt was made to convey that a break-off to-morrow would mean the immediate return of the delegates to Dublin, as within the range of probabilities.

IS THE CRISIS OVER?

LONDON, Oct. 25. Sir Ian Feln headquarters here to-day express the view that the Irish crisis is over for the present, but this does not appear to be the opinion of the majority of British papers, some of which are pessimistic.

KARL TRIES SUICIDE.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 25. Following failure to seize the Magyar Throne, former Emperor Charles attempted to shoot himself, but was prevented by his wife.

BRIAND IS BAITED.

PARIS, Oct. 25. Premier Briand in the opinion of political observers, seemed dangerously near to-night to losing his week's fight in the Chamber of Deputies, for a vote of confidence that would send him to Washington, when Andre Tardieu concluded a scathing attack on the Cabinet. It was declared by many that the Government was doomed. M. Briand asked for the floor at the conclusion of Tardieu's speech, but the Chamber voted to adjourn till to-morrow afternoon. The session full of anxious moments had visibly strained the nerves of the members.

UNPOPULAR HAPSBERGS.

GENEVA, Oct. 25. Former Emperor Charles and ex-Empress Zita have worn out their welcome in Switzerland. "Never will they be permitted to return to this country," declared President Schultz to the Associated Press to-day.

WIRTH TO FORM A NEW CABINET.

BERLIN, Oct. 25. Joseph Wirth, who resigned from the office of German Chancellor last Saturday, has been designated by President Ebert to form a new Cabinet. He has consented to assume the task.

TO HELP CROWN COLONIES.

LONDON, Oct. 25. Sir Robert Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer in moving to-day in the House of Commons the second reading of the trade facilities bill, guaranteeing loans up to the limit of £25,000,000 said any Government or any undertaking in any part of the world might apply for the loan. He would favor proposals from the Dominions. "It is our duty, as well as our interest," said Sir Robert, "to develop the great estate we own throughout the world. These possessions were our best customers and proved in times of difficulty our most loyal and attached friends." He added that help would not be given under the bill to countries able to raise money on their own credit, but there were many Crown Colonies which require help which the bill afforded.

A BLOW AT GAMBLING.

LONDON, Oct. 25. A far reaching and, for England, a sensational decision has been rendered by the House of Lords in the ruling that money paid by check in settlement of a gambling debt is recoverable by the loser. The decision opens an avenue for possible litigation involving hundreds of thousands of pounds sterling, and if all losers were to insist upon their rights under the law it would mean the ruin of scores of bookmakers.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST STRIKE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. The Government is making plans to assure the transport of food and fuel in the event of a railway strike.

THE MOORISH WAR.

MADRID, Oct. 25. Spanish forces which yesterday occupied Mount Arrat, southwest of Melilla, have retired, after destroying everything of military use. General Marizos' column after cutting the Moorish lines and delivering supplies to the garrison at Magan have retired on Uadial.

STORM IN FLORIDA.

JACKSONVILLE, Florida, Oct. 25. The business section of Tampa is practically flooded under three feet of water as the result of a gulf storm. No loss of life has been reported. The coast of Florida is feeling the effects of the storm.

France Reaches Trade Agreement.

An important trade agreement between France and Germany, provides for the delivery before 1925 of 7,000,000,000 gold marks' worth of building materials, exclusive of dye stuffs, coal, benzol and chemical products, by Germany to France for the devastated regions. The ratification of both the Reichstag and the French Chamber of Deputies must be secured.

By this arrangement Great Britain will be practically barred from competition in rebuilding the war torn areas, because of the high elevation of sterling exchange. The effect upon Canadian trade will be less conspicuous. Of Canada's exports to France for the year ended June 30 last, valued at $25,854,428, goods which might be interpreted as building material, were valued at $5,000, an insignificant figure. The bulk of Canada's exports to France is made up by food stuffs of various forms.

The Best Things About Love.

You never believe that anyone ever loved just as you do. You want to tell him everything you have ever thought, or said, or done. You are sure that every other woman is anxious to take him from you. You cannot imagine life without him. You resent any criticism of him from other people. You are jealous of his mother because she knew him first. You count a day blank in which you do not see him. You are sure that if you marry him earth will be better than any poet's paradise. You would rather live in one room with him than in a palace with anyone else. If you fail to feel like eight of these nine things, including the last—don't marry him.

This Halifax Man Says His Friends See Change in Him

Fred Humphrey Had Been Going Down Hill For A Year—Now On Road To Health.

"I had been going down hill steadily for a year when I began taking Tania, but in on the road to health now and feeling better every day," said Frederick Humphrey, 38 Chestnut St., Halifax, N.S. "All my ill-health was due to my stomach. I had to give up eating vegetables, as they seemed to hurt me worse than anything else. My back hurt me so I couldn't bear to bend over, as it felt like it would break in two. I had touches of rheumatism in my legs too, and such awful headaches at times that I almost went wild. "It certainly is surprising the way Tania has rid me of all my troubles and made me feel like a new man. My friends comment on my improvement when they see me and I lose no time in telling them what I owe to Tania." Tania is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Divers Recover Gold.

The divers on the British Admiralty salvage steamer, Porpoise, have had a fairly good season in recovering gold from the Laurentic, which was sunk four miles off the mouth of Lough Swilly in 1917. It is estimated that about half the bullion on board, or some two million pounds' worth, has been recovered. A diver likens the condition of the wreck to a long street of high houses which have collapsed in the centre. The action of the sea each winter makes the following year's work of the divers more difficult. The wreck, he states, lies at the extreme depth at which diving is possible.

You're constipated? Take "Cascaeta" to-night to thoroughly clean your bowels of the constipation poison which is keeping you dizzy, headachy, half-sick and upset. No other cathartic or physic is so pleasant or moves clogged-up bowels so nicely, so fully; and Cascaeta costs only ten cents a box.

Government Everywhere

EVERYDAY CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA. Moscow. (By a Staff Correspondent of The Associated Press)—Government everywhere, nothing but government! Such is the impression that a foreigner who has known Moscow of old gets in entering the Bolshevik capital to-day. All the hotels are government committee headquarters. The same is true of department stores, office buildings, clubs, cafes and larger private houses. All theaters are government theaters. Queues of Russians and foreigners are waiting in the streets before most larger buildings for permits to buy railway tickets or perform some ordinary transaction such as a New Yorker would dispose of over the telephone in five minutes. The motor cars are all government cars and are monopolized by government employees. The street cars are run by the government and government employees, especially workmen, have first call on the few cars which run chiefly at times when workmen are going to or from work. Other folk may take the few carriages which ply the main streets for hire at prices beyond the reach of ordinary government salaries.

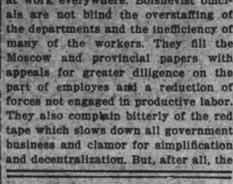

KREMLIN A GOOD DEPARTMENT.

Railway trains are few and seem to be crowded largely with government employees and soldiers. Passenger trains far exceed freight trains on all lines and every coach has a red soldier or two to keep people from massing on the trains at stations. Factories which are in operation are run by the government and work chiefly on government supplies, such as railway repairs, motor repairs, airplane repairs and other army supplies. The Kremlin, formerly the ecclesiastical center for Russia and the historic shelter about which the Romanoff traditions centers, is all government. Its churches are closed. Red army soldiers occupy the barracks of the old imperial army and prominent Bolshevik officials occupy the quarters formerly given over to church officials and other dignitaries of the Romanoff regime. Hospitals and orphanages and schools are run by the government. The government payrolls are filled to overflowing with employees who want the government food ration and in consequence there seems to be an excess of personnel in Moscow institutions as well as in the provinces. Many of the orphanages have nearly as many attendants as they have orphans. To American eyes, the railways seem to be overstaffed. Trains and stations are

A False Alarm.

A rumbling railroad train gave Pitman, N.J., the biggest burglar scare in its history. As the train rumbled through the town late at night over the tracks of the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad the vibrations caused a delicately-poised hammer on an electric burglar alarm system in the vault at the Pitman National Bank to fall. Ringing of the big alarm gong at 11:30 p.m. aroused early sleepers within several blocks of the bank. Citizens slipped revolvers or other weapons into their hip pockets and cautiously approached the bank. Why do you wonder how the crowds respond to BOWRING'S advertising of VALUE? Why, it's because the people find our ads. are absolutely genuine, and the value at their reduced prices are beyond comparison or competition. We know competition is active but we are prepared to meet it with value.—oct21,12,0d

A Famous Lawsuit Ended

On October 26, 1918, a famous—and the costliest—lawsuit ever heard, came to an end, when the House of Lords dismissed the appeal of Wyler and others v. Lewis and others. The action was brought by Mr. Isidor Wyler and the Ibo and Nyassa Corporation; the defendants including Messrs. Lewis and Marks, financiers. It was twenty years before when the dispute began about immense concessions in Portuguese South Africa, and twenty lawsuits were fought in this country and Portugal, before the case which ended on the above date came into the Courts in 1908. A Divisional Court jury, after 33 days' trial, awarded Mr. Wyler £67,473 damages—a record sum; this, the Court of Appeal, after eighteen days' hearing, reversed; and finally, after a six days' hearing, the House of Lords also decided against Mr. Wyler. On the twenty-one lawsuits no less than £200,000 was spent; the cost of the last one being—Preparation, £30,000; Divisional Court, £37,000; Court of Appeal, £15,000; House of Lords, £5,000—a total of £87,000. The thirteen counsel engaged were paid about £40,000—three of the leaders—Sir Rufus Isaacs, Sir E. Carson, and Mr. Justice Bankes, received retainers of £1,000 each and £100 a day, it was noticeable that at the end of the suit two of the counsel had become judges, and one Attorney General. The longest speech was that of Sir E. Carson in the Divisional Court, when he spoke for eight days; while Mr. Wyler spent eleven days in the witness box.

Fashions and Fads.

Fall and Winter hats show smart little touches of metal—for example, steel buckles. Gorgeous combs for the evening coiffure have their designs interlaced with paradise. Large, straight-brimmed black velvet sailors are decorated with cockades of ribbon. A headress with Grecian lines is of brilliant and silver filigree interwoven with jet. A hat of black net is embroidered in silver and has downward sweeping sprays of paradise.

Rays of Hope.

With a brighter market for Shore fish and the price advanced somewhat, a ray of hope shines through the clouds that have hitherto overshadowed business and helps to lighten trade gloom. If Labrador could only be advanced proportionately in the local market, it would add greatly to dissipating the feeling amongst the fishermen who toiled on that coast during the season, that at present prices the voyage will not pay expenses. One experienced skipper told the Telegram the other day that nine hundred quintals for a schooner with a crew of ten men all told would, at the ruling rate-to-day, barely square outfitting bills. At that there is nothing left for profit or to pay wear and tear on material used, let alone the vessel's overhead costs, nor yet, to put in the necessary stocks of provisions and groceries for the months between now and spring. Well made Labrador fish should not go begging for either purchaser or price, yet the fact is that voyages off the coast are not being sought after by shippers in St. John's. The cargoes that were exported direct to market have to some extent created congestion, but as the season's catch has not been abnormal, there should not be any great difficulty met with in disposing of the balance, whether shore made or soft cure. Just at the moment, perhaps, shippers desire to realise on parcels sent across before conducting any new purchases or entering into new engagements, but we believe that ere long there will be created the usual annual demand for the remains of the Labrador voyage, and that the prices then offered will be remunerative. It is hard on the men themselves, both owners and sharemen, to have to wait indefinitely before realising on their summer's work. Yet it is better to do that than to sacrifice the whole earnings of the voyage. The policy of hastening slowly was never more necessary than now. Precipitation in both purchase and sale may make for a more critical state of affairs than now exists. Calm and calculated reasoning should be the course of all. Times were never so bad, but that they might have been worse, and it is better to delay sometimes than to plunge headlong and recklessly. Those who brought home their Labrador fish, will, it is our impression, make a sale of it later. The demand will come. It must come, notwithstanding competition by other countries in our foreign markets. But while all are waiting let a cheerful spirit be cultivated. Hope springs eternal in the human breast, and hope has rarely, if ever been disappointed. The process of reorganization through which business is passing must be gone through. At the same time with co-operation and mutual assistance the worst times will be passed ere we know it, and a newer and better era ushered in, an era when all misunderstandings will vanish and our insular commerce will recover its original vitality.

Masonry in the Forest.

EMBLEMS AND NAMES CARVED ON TRUNK OF GIANT BIRCH.

That Masonry is universal and that adherents of the Order carry their principles with them in all lands, is amply demonstrated by a photograph, unique in itself, taken by the sons of Mr. W. A. Ellis, P.G.H.P. of Captular Masonry in the jurisdiction of the Province of Nova Scotia, last summer while on a fishing excursion among the lakes of the interior. Near the foot of Mount Sykes, 1913 feet high, and amid virgin forest stands a gigantic birch tree, a monarch of its kind, its exact location being where the Birch Stream begins its course into Sandy Lake. This spot has been known for years as Freemason's Point. The king of trees is some thirty feet in circumference, and was discovered by some Nova Scotia Freemasons, over sixty years ago, when travel in Newfoundland was not so comfortable as it is today. Desiring to perpetuate their visit, these pioneers scaled off the bark until the bole was exposed. On this they carved a number of the symbols of Masonry, the chief being the Allseeing Eye, Square and Compass, Sun, Moon and Seren Stars, with their names. Of the latter those most clear are William and John Chearnley, who apparently were the original carvers, were brothers and came to Nova Scotia in the early 30's of the nineteenth century. William was a Captain in the 8th King's Regiment and remained in Halifax after the regiment had left, later becoming a Captain in the Chebucto Greys, a unit which was later merged into the 63rd regiment of Militia. He was made a Lieut.-Colonel of the Halifax Volunteers Battalion in 1865 and died in Boston on July 9th, 1871. His brother John died at Halifax on March 28, 1867. Both the brothers were great hunters and came to Newfoundland every year for Caribou. William lived for some time in St. John's and worked in the office of Messrs. W. and H. Thomas. There are many who possibly remember him. The brothers Chearnley were both made Masons in Virginia Lodge, No. 3, Halifax in 1850. James Cope was an Indian guide, who lived at Shishanicum, Nova Scotia, and often went with the Chearnleys to Newfoundland on their hunting expeditions. He had but one arm but was wonderfully skilful in shooting and woodcraft. He will best be remembered as the Indian who discovered the Rawdon Gold Mines. The initials H.P. may be those of Henry Piers, who was frequently in Newfoundland, and was the father of Henry Piers of the Halifax Provincial Museum. Or the initials may be those of a son of a Lieut.-Governor of the day, whose name has slipped the memory of our informant. The other initials and dates were doubtless added by Masons who desired to carry out the idea originated by the Chearnleys. That this monster birch is of great antiquity, and steps should be taken by the Craft to preserve the carved portion, and to protect it from being defaced. We would suggest that that portion of the hole containing the symbols, names and dates, should be sawn out and brought to the Temple in St. John's, there to be enclosed in a glass case as a typical souvenir of the University of Masonry, and as an object to inspire the junior brethren with the profundity of the lessons taught.

Ivory Gavel Presented by Capt. Campbell.

At a meeting of Lodge St. Andrew A.F. and A.M. on Monday night, District Grand Master, S. B. Duder, accompanied by the District Grand Lodge S.C., made an official visitation. In the course of the proceedings, Bro. R. Watson, on behalf of Capt. J. H. Campbell, presented the Lodge, his Alma Mater in Freemasonry, with an ivory gavel, for the use of the R.W.M. Capt. Campbell joined the Lodge four years ago when, A.D.C. to His Excellency, and almost immediately was appointed Organist of the Lodge. His ability as a musician is well known and it is no exaggeration to say that the musical ritual now in use in the Lodge is entirely his creation. He is at present Junior Warden of Lodge Etzel Castle, and as the Senior Warden is retiring, will probably be R.W.M. next year. He also holds the distinguished position of Substantive Provincial Grand Master for Pictou, Nova Scotia. The gavel, which was presented by Capt. Campbell as a token of his esteem and affection for his mother Lodge, bears the following inscription:—"Presented to Lodge St. Andrew by Bro. J. H. Campbell of Strathcoast."

FIRE AT WORKMAN OFFICE. The premises of the "Workman" printing plant was completely gutted by fire last night. A large stock of paper on hand was destroyed and the printing presses are badly damaged. Insurance to the extent of $4,000 is carried on the machinery and stock. The alarm was rung in at 11:50 o'clock from a box on the corner of Adelaide and Water Streets, a fire having been discovered in an annex to Mr. J. T. Phillip's store on Water Street. The Western and Central Fire Companies responded to the call, but on arriving at the scene, it was some time before the exact situation of the fire could be located. By that time the inside of the building was ablaze, and smoke was issuing through the windows in dense volumes. Four streams of water, of which there was a plentiful supply, were applied to the flames, and after fifteen minutes the fire was completely under control. The workshop of Mrs. J. T. Phillips and the shops of Mrs. McRae and A. A. Alcock were badly damaged. The "Workman" company is owned by Messrs. E. J. Goodland and C. Ellis, Jr. The plant is a total loss to the owners, as it is doubtful if any of the machinery can be utilized again. The insurance effected will only cover outstanding liabilities. A lot of made up work ready for delivery was also destroyed.

Wedding Bells.

EDWARDS-DICKS. The marriage of Miss Elsie Edwards and Capt. C. B. Dicks took place at 3:30 p.m. this afternoon at St. Thomas's Church. The wedding party were met at the door of the Church by the choir, of which the bride was a member, singing "The Voice that breathed our Eden." The bride entered the Church and proceeded up the aisle on the arm of her father who gave her away. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Clayton who was a padre at the front with Capt. Dicks. The bride wore white satin, with wreath and veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations and mimosas. Her bridesmaids were Misses Gwen Edwards and S. Keen, who wore grey drepe-de-chene and old rose silk with black picture hats and carried pink asters. Little Miss Phyllis Dowden made a dainty flower girl, while Capt. J. Snow supported the groom. After the ceremony the party proceeded to Smtville where the reception was held. A large number of guests were invited. After the reception the bride and groom will motor to Torbay where the honeymoon will be spent. The presents received were numerous and valuable and included many cheques. Capt. Dicks is a Blue Puttee, having been amongst the first twenty to enlist when volunteers were first called for. He fought in Gallipoli, Flanders and France, and earned the esteem of all those with whom he came in contact. Both he and his charming bride are very popular and the Telegram hopes that they will enjoy many years of happy wedded life.

Prospero From North.

CONDITIONS BAD IN WHITE BAY. Conditions in White Bay are very bad at present as the fishery there has been a complete failure and the people have no means of sustenance, according to reports brought by S. S. Prospero. The fishery all along the French Shore has been only an average one, and whilst there are plenty of fish at present, the weather is too stormy to permit of the men going out on the grounds. The only supply was done by Messrs. J. & F. Moore and the people have barely made enough from their catches to tide them over the summer. Hard times are anticipated along the coast during the winter. The Prospero, which arrived in port this morning, had been as far north as Quirpon. Capt. Field said that the trip on the whole was good but that stormy weather was experienced up north. The ship brought a large freight and the following passengers: Messrs. Noel, Small, French, Lawrence, Ponce, Feltham, Gillingham, Pearce, Breen, Stone, Oake, Sullivan, Champlain, Butt, Earle, Ledingham, Earle, Colbourne, Rowe, Quick, Smith, Clontar, Coldridge, Harde, Roy, Hewitt, Musdama, Boone, Cooke, Ash, Monks, Brown, Hunt, Murphy, Baxter, Misses Simms, March, Alcock, Earle, Cook, Minty, Jacobs, Cook, Thompson, Layman, Bowden, Cook, Carroll, Davis, Murphy, Curtis, White, Brown.

Burns Both Oil and Coal.

S. S. Louisiana, Capt. J. Endresen, 14 days from Norway, put into port this morning short of fuel oil. The ship berthed at Harvey's pier where some 200 tons of coal will be taken. It is expected that the ship will get away to-morrow. The Louisiana is a new ship, built this year, and is on her second voyage. She was built by the Furness Shipbuilding Co. and burns both oil and coal. Capt. Endresen, who is visiting this port for the first time, reports a very stormy passage across, head winds being encountered since leaving Norway. The ship is bound to Philadelphia with a general cargo.

Minister Accidentally Shot.

The Methodist Probationary Minister at Red Bay, Rev. J. D. Bourne, accidentally shot himself there recently and now lies seriously ill in Strathcoast Hospital, according to a report brought here by S. S. Prospero. Mr. Bourne had a revolver near his mouth when it went off and the bullet is supposed to have lodged in the region of his spine. Dr. W. T. Grenfell came down to Red Bay and had the injured man taken to Strathcoast Hospital at St. Anthony, where an X-ray examination was made. The bullet had not been located up to the time the Prospero left the district.

Meigle Reported to Grady.

So far the S. S. Meigle has not reported from Labrador since Tuesday, the 18th, when the ship reported to Grady that she had gone into Makokvik Bay and anchored. The message added that strong winds, heavy seas and snow prevailed, but that everything was O.K. Owing to the station steamer well up the bay, she has not been got in touch with yet. There is no need of anxiety as many ports of call have to be made before getting to Grady, and it is likely that the ship is at Pack's Harbor where a lot of freight awaits her.

ENQUIRY PROCEEDING. The enquiry into the Road-de-Luxe connecting the Topsail and Waterford Bridge Roads, is still proceeding before the Auditor General and the Mayor, who have been taking the evidence from the parties concerned.

Here and There. Eat MRS. STEWART'S Home Made Bread.—Oct 18, 6mo. Has Professor Ash promised his School a holiday during Bridgade Week, Nov. 13-20?—Oct 26, 11.

ENQUIRY CONTINUED.—The enquiry into the death of the late John Valentine was continued yesterday before Judge Morrice. Several witnesses were examined.

ACCUSED REMANDED.—A girl who was charged this morning with stealing a quantity of silverware, all wedding presents, from the house of a prominent city sport, was remanded at the request of the Inspector General.

Karl S. Trappell, Eyesight Specialist, will be out of town until Monday. Office open as usual for accepting repairs, and making appointments.—Oct 26, 21.

HIT BY MOTOR CAR.—A young lad who was retiring from the C.C.C. Armoury last night was knocked down by a motor car on Parade St., and severely cut about the head. He received attention at a nearby house where he soon recovered.

HERRING PLENTIFUL.—Herring were plentiful in the harbor during the past week, but as far as is known none were taken by the fishermen except for bait. Codfish is also plentiful on the local grounds, the fish being of a fair size, but the weather is not very favorable for operations.

REDUCED FREIGHT RATES.—A reduction of freight rates on wheat from Port William and Port Arthur to St. John, N.B., Halifax and North Sydney becomes effective to-morrow on the Canadian lines. Although the reduction amounts to only about 5 cents per 100 lbs., it should reflect itself in the price of flour here.

Fish Advanced. Owing to a great deal of competition between local buyers the price of Shore fish has steadily advanced. It is said that $7.50 a quintal have been paid by one firm for a quantity of well made fish. Labrador fish however seems to stand firm at $4.50 and there is not much likelihood of any advance.

Train Notes. Yesterday's outgoing express arrived at Bishop's Falls on time. The incoming express with the Kyle's mails and passengers left Port aux Basques on time. The Trepasser train left on time. The Carbonar local arrived at St. John's on time.

The weather along the line this morning was dull. Strong N.E. winds were blowing and in places, it was snowing. The temperature ranged from 10 to 25 degrees.

The ship brought up about 450 passengers, taking them from Indian Harbor, Holton, Long Island and Indian Tickle. Capt. Taylor reports that there was one steamer loading at Comfort Right and one vessel at Dark Tickle, but she was likely finished. Practically all the fish have gone off the coast except small lots being picked up by traders.

Beware of Fifteen and Forty-five. The chance of death during the first four years of life are nearly equal to the chances of all the following seventy years. That is to say, one year of a child's life before attaining the age of four, is as dangerous as seventeen years afterwards.

Before the fifth year is reached, seven boys die to every six girls. From the fifth to the thirty-fourth years the death of males and females are about equal, but thereafter the deaths of men are again in bigger proportion than those of women.

If a child can live till it leaves the nursery it has a chance of growing up; a mortality of seventy under four dropping at once to six when over four. A human being never again enters such a fatal period as the nursery until he is over seventy-four years of age. And why? Because in infancy, when the child can do nothing in the way of self-preservation, ignorance, carelessness, and willful neglect reign supreme, and the result are deadly.

There is no doubt that the period from the time growth ends till old age begins—a time of some thirty years or so—should be one of specially good health, the organism being free from diseases of growth or degeneration. The two changes in life at about fifteen and forty-five are times when some special care is often needed with regard to health.

But if, during these thirty years, health is firmly established as a habit, the last period of life need not be feared.

Road Under Contract.

WORK STARTED AT COLINET. The contract for the work on the Colinet Road has been awarded to George Lannon, of Placentia, and work was commenced nearly a fortnight ago. About 200 men are at present employed, but before long it is probable that 300 men will be given work. Arrangements are being made for the work to begin at both ends of the road and it is hoped that given suitable weather conditions, the contract will be completed before the end of the season. The distance to be covered is 30 miles and there is already a cart track through it which will have to be enlarged and re-made. The bridge over Rocky River will not be built this year but will probably be constructed next spring. The structure will be of reinforced concrete.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mrs. Freeman Moore wishes to thank Mrs. Cowperthwaite, Keegan and Alkens, Sisters and Nurses of the General Hospital for their kindness to her during her stay at that institution.

May Reveal Secret of the Martians.

"If there are human beings on Mars," said Prof. David Todd, "I have no doubt that they have been sending us messages for years and are still wondering at our stupidity in not replying."

Prof. Todd, of Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., has for years endeavored to communicate with Mars. He has even ascended high above the clouds to receive wireless messages from Mars that he hoped would solve the astronomical puzzle. But up to the present all his efforts have failed.

To-day, for the first time, he thinks his work faces success. To-day he can say "The planet will be brought within less than one mile and a half of the eye. I expect to find on Mars evidence of work done by intelligent human beings."

With Benjamin A. McAfee, millionaire, erstwhile of Stamford, Conn., Professor Todd, on a 70-acre plot near Danville, France, is preparing plans for a mighty telescope which will bring the planet so near to the eye that all its mysteries will be laid bare.

"Several times in the year 1924," says Professor Todd, "Mars will be nearer the earth than in any year in a century. Mars will also be at the zenith during 1924, and may be admirably seen from a disused mine shaft I found at Chamerat, Chile."

"My idea is to use the mine shaft as the barrel of a gigantic telescope, fifty feet in diameter. Telescopes of such size have been difficult to construct, owing not merely to cost, but also to the physical obstacles in the way of building a mirror sufficiently large."

"We are doing away entirely with a mirror and substituting a revolving plate of mercury fifty feet in diameter. As the plate revolves the mercury will take form and serve the purpose of a perfect condensing mirror. Microscopic photographs taken under these conditions will yield a magnification of 25 million times."

Astronomers Puzzled.
For years the question of life on Mars has puzzled astronomers. Prof. Percival Lowell and some fellow scientists, as Flammarion of France, have been stanch in their belief that Mars is inhabited. Not long ago the world was startled by the statement of Signor Marconi, the wireless wizard, that unusual sounds are from time to time received by wireless apparatus, and that in view of their reaching simultaneously stations far apart they seem to come from a great distance beyond the earth. Immediately, the question arises: Is Mars signaling us? No definite answer has yet been given.

The reason for the continued good health of some children is simple enough

Especially when you know the facts, some of which are given here

EVERY mother is proud of a healthy, strong youngster that radiates buoyant life and energy. She has reason to be proud, because the child's good health proves her wisdom in the selection of the food she gives her boy or girl.

All mothers should know that growing children require a balanced diet, a diet containing the food elements needed for building and energizing the little body.

Grape-Nuts, the rich, nourishing food made from whole wheat flour and malted barley, served with milk or cream, contains the materials the child needs for its best growth and development.

Grape-Nuts helps make sound teeth, strong nerves and pure red blood, and for the palate there is nothing more wholesome or delicious.

Go to your grocer today and get a package of strength-giving Grape-Nuts. Let the children have all they want, with milk, cream or stewed fruit, or made into an appetizing pudding. Grape-Nuts is a food that will be relished by every member of the family.

Grape-Nuts—the Body Builder
"There's a Reason"

The World in Melting Pot.

By Sir Leo Chiozza Money, the Famous Expert on Economics.

Addressing the officers of the United States Army War College, President Harding said the hope of calmly abolishing wars was "perfectly futile." Armies and navies would probably always be necessary.

There had never been so much killing done in the world before as occurred between August, 1914, and November, 1918. Already we see references to the "next war," but it is difficult to believe that those who utter the words realize what a "next war" of the great nations would mean to the world.

Deadly Weapons of War.

If two things are realized as certainties of a "next war," it will never occur. If they are not realized, the world may rush unthinkingly to its doom.

The first of these things is that the war of the future will be fought by the engineer and the chemist, armed with weapons beside which those we know, even in 1918, are toys.

The second is that a "next war" will not be fought by combatant forces raised either voluntarily or by conscription. It will be a war to the death between people, in which old and young, men, women, and children, the strong and the weak, will be involved in a common holocaust.

As the late war progressed, it became increasingly horrible. Its early period knew nothing of flame projectors, or of poison gas; of tanks or of merciless attacks without warning upon seamen; of squadrons of aeroplanes bombing the sleeping inhabitants of a great city.

To read an account of the sufferings inflicted upon soldiers by poison gas as used in the closing stages of the war is to be nauseated. Never before in the world's history—not even in the annals of savagery—were more sickening tortures inflicted upon man by man.

To the mercilessness of ancient days was added the knowledge of the scientist. Where the barbarian slew his hundreds, the modern soldier, armed with the weapons of science, slew his tens of thousands, and where he did not slay he often ruined men for life. Poison is producing less per man than before the war for many reasons, but not the least of those reasons is that in every country there are men who will never again be able to do a decent day's work—whose bodies and minds will never recover from their terrible experiences.

The next war, if the folly of man allows it to happen, will be a struggle between hosts armed with such machines and explosives, and such death-dealing chemicals, as will destroy the hope of man-kind for generations, if not for ever. We shall begin at the dreadful point at which the last war ended.

Poison gas and liquid fire will be developed into weapons capable of destroying ten or twenty times as many men as did on the battlefields of Europe between 1914 and 1918. And in all probability new and more deadly weapons will be forged.

New Mystery Power.

The world of science is on the verge of a great discovery—how to utilize the potent forces which are locked in the atoms of which matter is composed. The discovery of radium has revealed to us the possibility of the transmutation of the elements, and, in their transmutation, the setting free of such gigantic powers as have never before been wielded by man. If ever such forces become usable, they will be used in war, and in such a manner as to make it possible to destroy an army corps at a stroke.

Now let us come to the second point which is that wars of the future will be fought by helpless non-combatants as well as by fighting forces.

Although the late war began only five years after the English Channel had been flown for the first time by an aeroplane, as many as 1,413 persons were killed and 3,467 people wounded in the United Kingdom by German airmen before the conflict ended. Most of these victims were non-combatants, many of them women and children. The next war will be largely a war in the air. And a war in the air necessarily means war upon non-combatants.

As soon as war is declared swarms of aeroplanes will fly to the enemy's capital and other great centres of population. They will have bombs at their disposal infinitely more effective than those used by the Germans upon London. The air bombs of 1918 were elementary essays in the foul art of murdering from the air.

Shelters for Millions.

It is idle to suppose that the "next war" will be a thing confined to specific armies, navies, and air fleets. It will have to be endured by all. The victims probably will be more largely non-combatants than combatants. Either that, or a nation must construct perfect underground shelters for the whole of its population, which is obviously impossible.

Those, therefore, who talk of a "next war" are talking of war upon civilization. They are persons either without imagination or without conscience. We must protect the world from the horrors which threaten it.

THIN, FLAT HAIR GROWS LONG, THICK AND ABUNDANT

"Dandrin" costs only 25 cents a bottle. One application ends all dandruff, stops itching and falling hair, and, in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. "Dandrin" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant.

Just Folks
EMPTY-HANDED.
He pried it up for years and years. His fortune largely grew. Men's jeers he braved, as he scrimped and saved. As ever the selfish do. He gave to nothing and bought no more. Than he thought was his urgent need— He'd have plenty of gold when he was made. And that was his constant creed. Plenty of gold when his hair was gray. But having his pile, with a tired smile He folded his hands and died. Then his soul went up to the pearly gates. Where they asked of him to show, As they do each one, what he'd ever done. Then he proudly told of the gold he made. And the smiling angel throng Said: "Let us behold one piece of your gold. Surely you brought it along!"

Mother! Move Child's Bowels With California Fig Syrup

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Wheat Production Larger Than 1920.

Total wheat production of 20 countries, in 1921, was approximately 7,750,000,000 bushels. This total is 173,000,000 bushels larger than the production of last year, according to the U. S. Bureau of Markets. It must be remembered that the total production does not give a complete picture of the supply situation, because Russia once supplied the importing countries with an annual average of 160,000,000 bushels in the pre-war period of 1908-1912. Now the importing countries are deprived of this source of supply, and Russia will be an importer.

It has been unofficially estimated that Russian imports may total 40,000,000 bushels. This quantity deducted from the exportable surplus of other countries which would otherwise have been available for importing countries, and added to the 160,000,000 bushels that Russia annually exported before the war, makes the wheat available for export 200,000,000 bushels less than was the case before the war. Also, because of a crop shortage, India is out of the list of exporters, and will be an importer.

Bell's Reception.

Oh, by dad, such jubilation, ne'er before was in our nation. High and low, of every station, took a hand in at the game; Mr. Ayre was in his glory, 'twill be told in song and story— There assembled Whig and Tory, to uphold our heroes fame.

When the Hugh D. in the off'n had begun her tug boat puff'n Then we did some jolly "shuff'n" for the crowd was thick and tight. 'Cause we knew that Bell was in her, coming home to us a winner. And as sure as I'm a sinner, he's a "cracker Jack" all right.

Now from all parts of the city, came our maidens fair and witty, With our young men strong and gritty, and the old folks just as well. 'Twas a welcome true and royally, for never had thought of very highly. "All the town and Garrett Riley" went to welcome Johnnie Bell.

There were steamers whistles blow'n' and Greek fires there was a show'n' Now I'm blow'n' if I am know'n' his shadow grow less, never. When the crowd began to holler, some one caught me by the collar. Saying "Till but my bottom dollar, 'twould knock out a Barum show."

Though historic now that place is, there were never seen such faces. Neither there nor at the races, in the old days of our sires. Mr. Ayre was there to greet him, he's the man knows how to fete him, With a smile the first to greet him, was 'Str' Richard' Anderson Squire.

Then the people kept a cheert'n, some of which you would be hear'n'. If you were your pathway steer'n' to historic Signal Hill, Here's long life to Bell, so clever, may his shadow grow less, never. Now his name will live forever, due unto his pluck and skill.

Now no show could hold a candle, to which "Higgins Bill" did handle. Mothers there their babes did dandle, for to see a peep, I'm sure. Neither to a Prince or peasant, was a turn out half so pleasant.

In the past or in the present, it was beautiful to the core. In the Majestic Theatre speeches, showing what true courage teaches. Telling us our boys are peaches, and no "Bluenose" dare them slight. Praising Phalen, Butler, Skirring, from their duty swearing. Had a gay time, most deserving, long with Bell on Monday night. NATIVE. Oct. 26th, 1921.

The Giant Wombat of Tasmania.

A complete skeleton recently discovered in the Mowbray Marsh, on the far outskirts of the wild marshy regions of North West Tasmania, confirms the existence 20,000 or 30,000 years ago of a giant wombat (one of the coaching animals peculiar to the Antipodes). The discovery was made by a Mr. Lovett, a farmer who was digging a drain into the swamp. The skeleton lay buried in six feet of decayed vegetable matter, resting on sand that was once the bed of a lake. Mr. Scott of the Launceston Museum, examined and excavated the skeleton, and expressed the opinion that the animal had lived perhaps more than 20,000 years ago. It is the only specimen yet discovered. In life the animal would be bigger than a mule, with four elephantine legs and a head very much like a bull dog. Experts believe it to be a smaller species of the gigantic marsupial approaching in size the Brontosaurus (which weighed 80 to 90 tons). It has long bear-like tusks, and probably lived on herbs and was slow of movement. The skeleton is now being pieced together for the Hobart Museum. The theory is that the animal met his death from drowning after being drawn under by quicksand. The present day wombat is a burrowing animal from two to three feet long, with a short thick body, short legs and a very little tail.

"Laugh and grow fat" is an old axiom. We advise the use of a good tonic.

is a wonderful tonic and will certainly improve your health. The selection of a tonic is a matter of great importance, as your health depends upon it. To fight disease successfully during the changeable autumn months, you should receive a tonic up. The facts we state about Brick's Tasteless silence all criticism.

Weigh yourself the day you commence to take Brick's Tasteless, then weigh yourself two (2) weeks later and note the increase.

The Valley of the Ocean.

The Atlantic Ocean covers two vast valleys. One of these passes between the Cape Verde Islands and the Azores, and is of great depth. It runs close up to Europe, and comes to an end near the British Isles, where a ridge or crest of land separates it from the basin of the North Sea.

The other valley runs in the main parallel to the first, from which it is separated by an elongated strip of land, of which the Azores forms a continuation above the water. This strip does not exceed a depth of 8,500 feet, while its height amounts to 8,500 feet. The first valley, like its contrary, is also very deep, its bottom being situated at a depth of nearly four miles below the surface. Passing along South America and leaving the Bermudas to the left, it almost touches Newfoundland and Labrador, extending just south of Greenland.

The Sub-Atlantic landscape consists of two vast parallel valleys, the higher, and the sea is, relatively speaking, shallow. Between Greenland and the Continent, close to the land and the Channel Islands, there is a huge plain free from any depression worthy of mention. It thus appears quite clear that at one time England was connected to the Atlantic.

Bluenose in Lead.

ELISE LED AT START BUT WAS OVERTAKEN ON THE FIRST LEG.

At 11.39 Elise carried away her foretopmast. Bluenose at once hauled down his balloon.

S.S. TYRIAN, OFF RACE COURSE.

Oct. 25.—A twenty-five knot wind from the northwest greeted Elise and Bluenose which they put out from their docks this morning for the first race of the series to decide the championship of the North Atlantic fleets of the United States and Canada.

The schooners carried four lowers and maintopmasts, as they cruised about back of the starting line awaiting the fifteen minute preparatory gun.

The signal down from the breakwater on the starting line indicated that number three course had been chosen for the race. This meant a reach of six miles to the inner automatic buoy off Chebucto Head, a run down the wind of six miles to the southeast automatic, a reach of nine miles to Shut In Island bell, a dead beat of twelve miles to inner automatic with a possibility of further windward work on the race to the finish line, six miles away. The fifteen minute preparatory gun found both boats reaching for line of port tack close under western shore.

The five minute gun found Bluenose by the wind in the centre of the harbor, quarter mile from the starting line, with Elise under her lee and a little nearer the line. A minute later Elise came up in the wind and hung on stays. Bluenose tore away for line. With three minutes to go Elise was still in the lead and Bluenose was rounding up for the weather berth.

Two minutes for the gun found both vessels close to the western shore. Elise had a wrapper full, while Bluenose was in stays.

One minute before the Bluenose hoisted fit topsail. Elise was right on the line and bore broad off. Bluenose was reaching fast for the line.

When the gun flashed Elise was first to cross the line with Bluenose to weather and a length or so behind.

Official starting times were:
Elise: 9.00.10. Bluenose: 9.00.45.
At 3.08 Elise still in lead, went to weather of Bluenose. Elise was flying American ensign from main peak.

Elise in Lead.

Passing Meagher's Beacon Light-house Elise had established a lead of one hundred and fifty yards, according to a range finder aboard the press boat, and was gradually increasing the distance between herself and the challenger. Bluenose seemed to be making heavier weather than Elise.

Passing Sandwich Point both schooners were carrying all sail.

Off Herling Cove Bluenose seemed to be perceptibly gaining on defender. Angus tried for weather berth but Marty prevented him from gaining it. At nine-twenty Bluenose swung off for the mark and a few minutes later was neck and neck with the American.

Bluenose passed outer automatic ahead, unofficial time being: Bluenose, 9.33.50; Elise, 9.35.25.

At 9.45 Elise to windward had drawn up on Bluenose. Both ships had sails well freed.

At 9.47 the Elise was right upon Bluenose's weather quarter.

At 9.50 there was a choppy sea and the wind was holding at twenty-five knots.

At 9.51 the boats was running neck and neck with Elise to weather.

At 9.55 the Bluenose had forged ahead and taken a lead of one hundred yards.

The Bluenose rounded the southeast automatic with a lead of 200 yards. Official time at southeast automatic buoy, Bluenose 10.10.25; Elise 10.11.03. The schooner's estimated speed was ten knots. At 10.15 the Bluenose had a lead of five hundred yards and both schooners had reset foretopmasts and staysails.

At 10.30 the Bluenose had increased her lead shortly, and the wind had moderated to about 20 knots.

As the schooner's reached for the third mark the Bluenose seemed to be heeling over more easily to the puff.

At 10.50 the Bluenose was half a mile from the mark and had doused her six sails preparatory to coming into the wind for the long beat home.

The racers rounded Shut In Island bell official time as follows: Bluenose 10.52.18; Elise 10.54.17.

The Bluenose hauled by the wind on the port tack heading to east of Devils Island. The Canadian had clewed up her foretopmasts.

At 11.30 the Bluenose was about a mile and a half ahead of Elise, and naval officers aboard the press boat estimated that if the Canadian came about she would cross the American's bow a quarter of a mile to windward.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

WHAT EVERY WOMAN THINKS.

When a girl hears that some man she knows is engaged to a girl she does not know—

When she hears that some new girl has come to live in the neighborhood—

When some one she knows meets some other woman celebrity—

In short, whenever she is interested in some feminine unknown, what is the first question she asks those who have seen her about her? "Can't you guess?"

"Is she pretty?"

"I can tell you how many times I have heard those words pop out of feminine mouths, often in an unconsciously timed chorus, when I have spoken of meeting some feminine celebrity. It may be that I exaggerate but it seems to me that about ten times out of ten it is the first thing any woman wants to know about any other woman.

Beauty for a woman is the golden key that opens many doors. Sometimes the woman who possesses it has too little will even to know how to use her key; other times she opens the wrong doors and finds unhappiness instead of happiness; but that the same it is a key. To change the metaphor, it is a great power and most of us would like to see if we could not use it well.

I was visiting a woman recently of about my own age who has proved that some brains and some charm without any beauty can bring one business success and a devoted (apparently) husband. One day during my visit she was looking over a magazine in which were a series of pictures of some of the most beautiful women in the world.

What She Wanted Most.

Suddenly she threw the magazine down and said abruptly, "Do you know what I think I'd like more than anything in the world. I'd like to die. Then in my next incarnation I'd like to be one of these absolutely beautiful women." Not charming or fascinating but thoroughly beautiful.

HIGH LIFE.

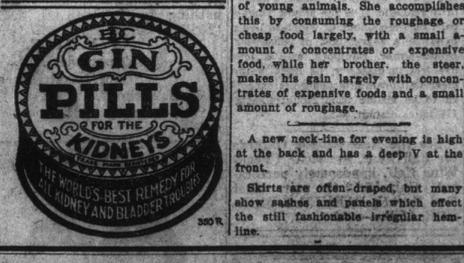

The dame resolved on suicide, and every hour some victims fall; right seems submerged beneath the wrong; "too much high life" explains it all. Too much high life has filled the jails with delegates bereft of hope, with foolish dames and jingled males who face the hangman and the rope.

Dairy Cow Leads.

Of all animals a good dairy cow provides the most dependable and most profitable market for the grains and grasses grown upon the farm. Of all farm animals she is the most economical and profitable producer of human food. The evidence of this fact is specifically cited through an experiment which demonstrated that the cow yielding ten quarts of 4-per cent. milk daily was producing as much fat and fat equivalent in seven days as the steer that was gaining fifteen pounds in the same time. In addition to this, the cow's production contained six times as much mineral matter and six times as much nitrogenous material, which are the nutrients that render skim milk so valuable in the growing of young animals. She accomplishes this by consuming the roughage or cheap food largely, with a small amount of concentrates or expensive food, while her brother, the steer, makes his gain largely with concentrates of expensive foods and a small amount of roughage.

Commanding in Madras.

Major-General J. T. Burnett-Stuart, commanding the British-Indian forces in Madras, has a difficult and most important task on hand. Within the Province of Madras is the Malabar District, inhabited to a large extent by those fierce and fanatical tribes that recently burst forth on one of their periodical raids upon their neighbors of other races and creeds. They have already caused much disorder and destruction, and it is only the forces that Major-General Burnett-Stuart commands that can bring back these wild people to a state of sanity and restore order in their country.

IN BED EIGHT MONTHS

Cause—Change of Life. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Got Me Up

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did and in a short time felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during the Change of Life for I know it will do them good."

—Mrs. A. KELLEY, Afton, Tennessee.

Women from forty-five to fifty years of age should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, palpitation of the heart, smothering or fainting spells, or spots before the eyes, and prepare their system for this perfectly natural change by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped many, many women through this trying period, just as it did Mrs. Kelley.

Readers, Please Note!

Every line in a newspaper costs the proprietor something," says an exchange. "If it is for the benefit of the greaser we are asked to contribute groceries to one abundantly able to pay for them his world's refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned by man, that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent, and must rent them to live. To give away rent for anything less than living rates is as fatal to a newspaper as for a landlord to furnish free rent."

Killed Indigo Plant Trade.

Twenty years ago there were several thousand Hindu farmers who depended for their living on the indigo plant. They grew $20,000,000 worth of indigo because of its ability to dye clothes a beautiful blue color. A German chemical concern got the idea that it could make indigo. It set chemists to work on the problem and after spending seventeen years of hard labor and $5,000,000 the secret of making indigo out of coal tar was discovered. The Hindu farmers no longer grow indigo. The chemists have learned how to beat the indigo plant at its own game.

Telegram to J. E. Ahearn.

The following cable was sent Mr. J. E. Ahearn, Sporting Editor of the Halifax Herald, conveying the news of the reception accorded Bell on Monday night.

"Wonderful demonstration in honor of Jack Bell. City went crazy with delight. Bell and Thomas detained at Donovan's, six miles from City, and was met by National Sports Committee who entertained them at lunch. At night Bell and Thomas taken to town, smuggled on board large tug boat, sent down harbor to give effect of coming in narrow and at psychological moment search lights played on boat, steamer's whistles shrieked, guns were fired, and tug steamed to King's wharf where royalty always lands. The tug looked as if on fire with stage powder, distress rockets, etc. going off. The Premier, Sir R. A. Squires and National Sports Executive welcomed Bell. Then Bell and Ricketts, our Great War V.C., also Thomas and Goodland were put into Victoria with ropes attached and pulled around town through cheering crowds, fireworks, etc. all along route. Five bands and two brigades in procession. Mayor Morris at City Hall welcomed heroes. After encircling town repaired to Majestic Theatre, which was packed to the doors and twice as many more unable to gain admittance. Addresses of welcome by Premier, Mayor, Ricketts, V.C., Mr. Higgins and others. Ricketts presented medals to him. The greatest demonstration in history of the Island. Much questioning here as to amateur status of McAnlay. Kindly write me collect, whether everything right with reasons for judgment. If not make claim on behalf National Sports Committee.

AYRE.

"God permits England to continue to rule India because the British Government there is the only hope of the under dog," said Commissioner Booth-Tucker, former head of the Salvation Army work in India, at the Hotel Algonquin, New York. Commissioner Booth-Tucker and his wife are on a two months' tour of the United States, having arrived from England on the Adriatic.

"I hold no brief for the Government there by reason of any prejudice in its favor, for I was once cast in prison by British authorities for holding open-air religious meetings when I first reached India with four companions 40 years ago.

"If it were not for fear of the British Government and the power it exerts for internal peace, it is my honest opinion that hundreds of thousands of Hindus would be massacred by the fighting Mohammedans in the present state of unrest in India. The Hindus are not fighters."

Gandhi will ultimately fail in his self-appointed mission to drive the British out of India, is the Commissioner's opinion, but he may accomplish a certain amount of good in the process.

"I am sure the British Government would be highly pleased to see the drug and liquor traffic broken up in India," he said, in commenting on press reports that Gandhi had instituted a system of picketing saloons and opium dens as a means of depriving the British Government of revenue. Mrs. Booth-Tucker said the liquor and drug evils in India were less than in any country she had visited, "excepting, of course, the United States," she added.

Gandhi's policy of passive resistance, civil disobedience, or non-operation, as it has been variously designated, is not as thoroughly successful as is generally believed, according to the Commissioner.

"By their fruit ye shall know them," he said. "The fruits of Gandhism so far have been largely riots. Although he counsels his followers against violence, he is unable to control them, and any collapse of the British Government in India now would mean immense loss of life among the natives from strife among themselves."

Naval Prize Money.

As the Naval Prize Money is expected shortly from England, all men who served in the Newfoundland Royal Naval Reserve during the war are requested to forward the following information to the Paymaster Commander, H.M.S. "Briton":—

1. Full Christian and Surname.
2. Official Number in the R. N. Reserve.
3. Date demobilised.
4. Address to which money should be sent.

Naval Prize Money will be paid at the current rate of exchange which is fixed monthly by the Admiralty.

It is most important that receipts for the money should be returned as soon as the money is received.

All payments will be made by cheque, and no personal applications should be made on board H.M.S. "Briton".

Until the pressure of payments is relaxed, it will not be possible to reply to queries on the amounts paid. It should also be borne in mind that the amounts paid are all worked out at the Admiralty, and have nothing to do with H. M. S. "Briton".

Commander R.N.,
Senior Naval Officer.

PYORRHEA AGAIN.

Pyorrhoea is so insidious that we want to repeat again and again our former warnings against it. It is not painful as a rule, and that very fact makes it all the more dangerous. Watch for those bleeding gums, they are your warnings. Do not give your body a chance to absorb poisons that come from bad teeth or diseased gums. Anything from a headache to a serious illness may result from your neglect. Pyorrhoea is a dreadful disease.

Tell Him Now.

If with pleasure you are viewing a work of art, tell him now. If you like him or you love him, tell him now. Don't withhold your approbation till the person makes oration. And he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow. For no matter how you shout it, he won't really care about it; He won't know how many tear-drops you have shed; If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him. For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

More than fame and more than money is the comment, kind and sunny And the hearty, warm approval of a friend. For he gives to life a savor, and it makes you stronger, braver; And it gives you heart and spirit to the end; If he earns your praise bestow it—let you like him; let him know it; Let the words of true encouragement be said; Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover. For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

For Valor.

(Montreal Star)
Perhaps there are some prosaic, matter-of-fact persons who see in the award of the Medal of Honor to Britain's Unknown Warrior and the bestowal of the Victoria Cross on his American comrade-in-arms nothing but a piece of sentimentalism, and, therefore, unworthy of their sternly practical minds. Of this class are those who disdain all poetry as trash and regard romance as food for love-sick maidens and children.

It is a good thing for the world that such men and women are few in number and insignificant in influence. There is enough of pessimism and gloom abroad without banishing the romance and chivalry which is the lubricant of our social intercourse. The great majority are touched by romance which this bestowal of these sacred awards inspires. They "see through a glass darkly" something of the mysticism which endowes these honors and in a world full of materialism they grasp at this symbol of a higher life.

The Medal of Honor and the Victoria Cross are the supreme awards in the gift of the two Anglo-Saxon peoples. The Victoria Cross, which dates from the days of the Indian Mutiny, "shall only be awarded to those officers and men who have served in the presence of the enemy and shall have performed some signal act of valor and devotion to their country." The Congressional Medal of Honor is granted as a reward for "most distinguished bravery and self-sacrifice above and beyond the call of duty, for gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life."

Neither medals have been cheapened by promiscuous disposal and both are regarded as the highest attainment of duty well done, of superb courage in the face of death. If the roll of the holders of both medals has been swelled during the last few years it has only been because prodigies of valor were performed by the heroes of both nations in the face of the enemy.
On the tomb of the Unknown Warrior in Westminster Abbey has been laid the reward of splendid courage, a token of a nation's appreciation of the dauntless spirit which urges men to supreme effort in defence of country.

In a few days' time a little bronze cross, hammered out of the metal of captured cannon, will be laid reverently on the tomb of the Unknown Warrior who sleeps at Arlington.

Each of these tombs is the resting place of a knight "sans peur and sans reproche." Both of the honored soldiers were men subject to like passions as we ourselves, with their weaknesses and their failings, but into those tombs has been drawn all that is best spiritually in the armies of the two nations, in those two plain coffins are for ever enshrouded the ideals of these two peoples.

These warriors in their lifetime fought as comrades. The highest recognition of the qualities of each has been paid by the State of the other. The warrior who is the "Fighting Yank" has been enrolled among the glorious names of Britain's heroes and some Tommy has won the Congressional Medal of Honor.

London's Traffic Wizard

Great Task of the Brain Behind the Buses.
In a little room in London, above Leicester Square Tube station, is one of the most remarkable telephones in the world.

Beside it sits a still more remarkable man. The man is Mr. Charles James, who controls the whole of London's enormous bus traffic, and the telephone at his side is the instrument with which he does it.

Everything in the room is remarkable—even the room itself. It is small, almost insignificant, in appearance; the furniture is conspicuous by its scarcity; its principal decoration is maps.

It seems amazing that from this queer little room the movements of the many thousands of motor-buses in the London streets should be regulated like so many marionettes upon strings. But it is a fact; and although they may not be aware of it, a vast number of people depend upon the man in the room to get them to business in the morning and home in the evening.

Hurry On, Please.
Mr. James, the bus wizard, seems to fit into the picture admirably. He is a pleasant-faced man whose mind is filled with facts and figures about buses and bus routes. He is almost always busy, yet he could spare time to extend a welcome to the Tit-Bits man.

"Sometimes it is a hard and worrying job," Mr. James said, "although the fact that I began my career as a bus conductor helps; for, you see, I know all the roads in London."

"On a day with good weather it is fairly easy, but if it starts to rain I have to get busy—phoning to all the garages and so on, giving orders regarding the disposal of the various buses."

"If a big crowd turns up anywhere—say, at a football match—extra buses are immediately put on the route. If there should be any delay in any part of the service, additional vehicles are brought to the route. If anything should go wrong, say, with any part of the Underground Railway service relief buses are dispatched right away. It is all done quickly. There is no time for delay. The public must not be kept waiting."

In many respects Mr. James is like a general commanding his troops. His office is the G.H.Q. Before him is a glass-topped desk on which are minutely detailed the times of arrival and departure of buses on the various routes. Every bus in the company's service can be located immediately, and when a telegram arrives, asking for more vehicles in a certain area Mr. James looks at the map, lifts up the 'phone-receiver, speaks—and the deed is accomplished!

Mr. James works in a building where great things are done; his neighbour is just as mighty a potentate as he is himself.

Two Mighty Jugglers.
On the wall beside Mr. James is a gigantic map of London, and again beside that is a door, with a glazed window, leading to another room. In that room sits the "master mind" of the Underground. Just as Mr. James guides the buses, so does his neighbour regulate the railways.

Both these men are like jugglers; they juggle with the destinies—or at least, the destinations—of millions of people. Eighteen million passengers are carried each week on the buses alone. Some idea of the immensity of the figure may be gained from the fact that it is more than twice that of the population of Greater London, and almost seventy-two times the total population of Hull.

On occasions there have been as many as 2,800 buses on the streets. If placed end to end they would have stretched a distance of nearly fourteen miles.

"My brain often gets tired with so much concentration," Mr. James said, "but I soon get rid of the cobwebs after a ride in the open air on—yes, you're right—a bus!"—Tit-Bits.

Joseph Schlosser, of Vineland, N.J., found two apples that got hidden in a basket of sweet potatoes in the Fall of 1920, and were perfectly sound when the potatoes, which had sprouted long vines, were thrown out. The apples had been buried in the sweet potatoes all last winter and summer.

The Gypsy's Warning.

Do not trust him, gentle lady, Though his voice be low and sweet; Heed not him who kneels before you, Gently pleading at your feet. Now thy life is in its morning, Cloud not this thy happy lot; Listen to the gypsy's warning; Gentle lady, trust him not.

Do not turn so coldly from me, I would only tell thee truth; From a stern and withering sorrow I would only guard thy youth. I would shield thee from all danger, Save thee from a tempter's snare, Listen to the gypsy's warning; I have warned thee, now beware.

Lady, once there lived a maiden, Pure and bright, and, like thee, fair. But he wooed, he wooed and won her, Filled her gentle heart with care; Then he heeded not her weeping, Nor cared he her life to save. So she perished now she's sleeping In the cold and silent grave.

Keep thy gold; I do not wish it; Trust me—thou shalt find me true! Constant as the light of morning I will ever be to you. Lady, I will not deceive thee, Fill thy guileless heart with woe; Trust me, lady, and believe me, Sorrows thou shalt never know.

ANSWER TO THE GYPSY'S WARNING.

Lady, do not heed her warning— Trust me—thou shalt find me true! Constant as the light of morning I will ever be to you. Lady, I will not deceive thee, Fill thy guileless heart with woe; Trust me, lady, and believe me, Sorrows thou shalt never know.

Lady, every joy would perish, Pleasure all would wither fast, If no heart could love and cherish, In this world of storm and blast. When the stars that gleam above thee Shine the brightest in the night; So would he who fondly loves thee In the darkness be thy light.

Down beside the flowing river, Where the dark green willow weeps, Where the leafy branches quiver— There a gentle maiden sleeps. In the morn a lonely stranger— Comes and lingers many hours— Lady, he's no heartless ranger— For he strews her grave with flowers.

Lady, heed thee not her warning, Lay thy soft, white hand in mine, For I seek no fairer laurel Than the constant love of thine. When the silver moonlight brightens Thou shalt slumber on my breast; Tender words thy soul shall lighten, Lull thy spirit into rest.

I HAVE 'EM! THE NEW FALL VELOURS.

Man! to get red-blood smartness into your winter outfit you'll want one of these dapper Velours. They're something extraordinary—in style, in wear. Couldn't find anything to measure up to my standards on these points. I have certain ideas as to what makes a real man's hat. I want to sell hats that are out of the rut—what no one else can show. I told the factory foreman the kind of a hat I wanted. He said "It'll be a cracker-jack hat!" It is. It's so different from the rest that they called it

The Associated Press—After explorations lasting two months, Norwegian expedition to Nova Zembla, headed by Professor Holtedahl of the University of Christiania, returned with a mass of new facts. The main feature of the geological map of the range of mountains on Nova Zembla were ascertained and fresh data dating from the later Devonian were found, showing the existence of the great North American continent of the Devonian age extended as far as Nova Zembla. The level marks subsequent glacial age were discovered and were found up to heights of 10,000 feet above sea level. The expedition collected a vast amount of new specimens of animal life and new species of birds and other fish.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE!

The slogan of Wall Street from its early days has been "never sell short on a strike," which is entirely correct when the strike actually starts, but during the preliminaries the market frequently declines, a condition which is somewhat in evidence now.

If, however, a strike be actually called, whether it succeeds or fails, the market is a buy.

In similar past situations the market has always been a purchase, because all strikes must end, and they are always discounted in advance.
