Crowds in the streets in front of the palace of Grand Duke Sergins, governor-general of Moscow, shouted "Down with the Moscow Gazette," the only newspaper in Russis which is fiercely opposed to the Zemstvos. Later the crowds voluntarily dispersed. The Zemstvos supporters here telegraphed to the president of the Moscow Zemstvos, to make another effort to have the meeting held under of-heial auspices.

SCANT WAR NEWS.

Thirteen Killed by St. Petersburg, Nov. 16.—A number of vessels to be built under the Russian naval programme for next year will be laid down abroad and several of them will probably be constructed in the United States. Lewis Nixon, of New York, has already contracted to build several torpedo boat destroyers. The bulk of the programme consists of heavy fighting ships, armored cruisers and battleships. The ships to be built at the Russian yards will be of the armored cruiser Bayan type. Contracts will be given to French and German yards. The Associated Press hears that one of the contracts is likely to go to the Union Iron Works of San Francisco. TWO KILLED IN WRECK.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 16.—Two passengers were killed and nine or more passengers were killed and nine or more passengers or trainmen were injured in a passenger train collision at Elmdele to night on the Pere Marquette Railway. The collision occurred at Elmdale, Quincy, 22 miles east of Grand Rapids. Both trains were eastbound, No. 6 for Detroit, and No. 34 for Saginaw. The Saginaw train preceded the Detroit train out of Grand Rapids by a few minutes and was standing on a "Y" at Elmdale, where the Saginaw roads branch off from the Detroit division. Through some mistake the switch was not turned behind the Saginaw train and the Detroit train also ran on to the "Y," the engine on the Detroit train crashing into the rear of the rear car of the Saginaw train.

W. W. Brown of New York Gives Results of Summer's Work.

Some Sections of the Country are Particularly Good.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 18.—W. W. Brown, of New York, has been operating all summer in Lillooet. He has bonded a cyanide proposition. The ore runs about $15 a ton. It has been tapped down the side of the mountain and the ore exposed. A tunnel is now being driven in to cross the vein, and if ore is struck the mineral will be proved to a depth of five hundred feet. Work had to be stopped on account of the approach of winter, but at the time the tunnel work was abandoned there was every evidence of the proximity of the very proach of winter, but at the time the tunnel work was abandoned there was every evidence of the proximity of the ven.

Mr. Brown is also carrying on extensive hydraulicing on the Lillooet river. He acquired property for three miles on one side of the river, but has been much handicapped by boulders. What gravel was secured ran from 17 cents to $1.30. It was like, however, a lot of eggs packed in oats, for to get the oats the eggs would have to be removed. On the other side of the river, however, matters are much better, but it is a low proposition. In a ten-hour shift, however, no boulder met with but what could not be removed by two or three men. Three hundred yards of this gravel has been tested and runs from 11 cents to $2.00 a square yard. The plan adopted in the lower hydraulic is briefly as follows: A deep pit is dug and the gravel taken to the dump by suction. The gravel is washed down the side by a monitor, and a 16-inch pipe is let down with the upper portion, containing an elbow leading to the dump. Another pipe with a 3-inch nozzle is let down beside the big one, and the nozzle inserted into the 16-inch pipe. At the lower end of the 16-inch pipe is a movable shoulder, so that the pipe can be adjusted to drop over any part of the pit. When the water is turned on through the small pipe, the 3-inch nozzle sends a rush of water through the 16-inch sucker upwards with a tremendous force, and a vacuum is created which sucks up not only all the gravel beneath it, but all rocks less than 16 inches in diameter, and everything which comes through the 16-inch pipe is deposited on the dump. Mr. Brown said he was obliged to come away before winter closed him in, but his workmen asked that they might remain through the winter and make what they could with pick and shovel, and he had learned since leaving that they were making $5.00 per day per man.

On being asked what he thought of a Lillooet as a mining country, Mr. Brown said he was obliged to come away before winter lossed him in, but his workmen asked that th

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—At the opening of the third day's session of the American Federation of Labor convenang of the third day's session of the American Federation of Labor convention, a telegram alleging complete failure of the attempt of the operators of the Fall River mills was read to the delegates. The announcement was received with cheers. During the afternoon the Upholsterers International Union of America presented a resolution calling for a boycott upon the furniture manufacturers of Grand Rapids, Mich., on account of their action in January, 1904, in refusing demands for an eighthour day. Several delegates drafted resolutions calling for the circulation of petitions to be presented to Congress in favor of the initiative and referendum. Several resolutions relative to Japanese exclusion were introduced. Charges and specifications were filed against Samuel Gompers, president; Frank Morrison, secretary, and the executive council for their action in September, 1903, in issuing a charter to the bridge, stone and iron workers in violation of the provisions of the constitution regarding such matters by which charters shall not be granted without the consent of the unions in closely allied trades.

Survey Hemlock Claims.—Mr. N. Humphrys and party of Vancouver have left for Alberni, where they will survey hemlock claims for Mr. E. J. Fader, of the Fraser river Tanning Company, in the neighborhood of the Alberni Canal and Nahmint river. The company has obtained the privilege from the provincial government to take up a certain acreage of hemlock lands, and is now engaged in locating its holdings. The bark is what is required, and will be used in the tanning process.

Up-Country Elections. — George Riley, M. P., returned on Wednesday evening from a trip to Kootenay and at the Yale-Cariboo constituencies where he has been speaking in the interests of the government candidates, W. A. Galliher and Duncan Ross. Senator Templeman is remaining in the interior until the conclusion of the contests. Last evening a meeting was held at Kamloops. Competent critics are of the opinion that the result in the two constituencies will be close as the Conservative candidates are putting up a good fight.

Christopher-Simpson — On Thursday evening, at the residence of the Rev. G. K. B. Adams, Mr. Edmond Christopher, who is well known in athletic circles, and is at present employed at Cooper & Linklater, was united in marriage to Miss Marion Elizabeth Simpson of Vancouver. At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. C. Christopher, Sumas street, where a number of friends and relatives were assembled to tender their best wishes to the happy couple. After partaking of a pretty and daintily served wedding supper, Mr. and Mrs. E. Christopher were driven to the Princess Victoria en route to Vancouver where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will make their home at 120 Simcoe street.

Portland Exposition. — Next year is expected to prove the banner year for tourist travel to the Northwest and general coast points, the big magnet being the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland, Ore. A Portland exchauge referring to the rates agreed upon by western roads, says: "The round trip rate from Kansas City, Omaha or St. Paul and Portland will be $45; from Chicago an additional $11.50, or the fare one way between that city and St. Paul; from St. Louis $52.50, or the addition of one fare between that place and Omaha. The rates from northern and eastern Texas will be based on Kansas City, but will not exceed one fare for the round trip. The business from southern and western Texas may come via El Paso over the Southern Pacific, and the rate will not exceed one fare for the round trip. In every case these rates apply for the trip only by direct lines—that is, the passenger must come and return over on of the transcontinental lines that run directly to the Northwest and cannot be routed over the northern lines and return by the southern roads, or vice versa."

A Big Lawsuit.—According to a despatch from Bellingham appearing in the Sound papers, prosecutions for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law will be brought in the Federal court against the Pacific American Fisheries, Pacific Packing and Navigation Company and Alaska Packers' Association. The proposed action is in the federal courts and involves property valued two years ago at more than $1,000,000. It would threaten the interests at present in control of the salmon canning industry on Puget sound. Recent staking out by fishermen of trap locations belonging to the Pacific American Fisheries, which mare now asked to be declared forfeited, was part of the plan of litigation. The receivers' sale of the Pacific American Fisheries properties last Saturday has in to been confirmed and will not be until the menace to the title is removed.

The Cumberland Outrage.—In reference to the outrage in Cumberland last Sunday morning when an attempt was made to assassinate a Chinese merchant named Tai Yuen, by blowing up his store with dynamite, the Chinese Empire Reform Association of Vancouver has received information that the Chinese resident of Cumberland have subscribed a reward of $1,500 for the apprehension of the perpetrators of the outrage. To this the Chinese Reform Association has added another $500, making $2,000 in all. The outrage is considered to be the outcome of bitterfeeling among a certain class of Chinamen, and it is suspected that the persons responsible for this last outrage are in some way connected with the gang that perpetrated the murders in Victoria last spring.

A C. P. R. Trouble.—The Princess Victoria brought no Eastern mail from Vancouver yest-caray evening, and it is possibly the explanation for the delay is found in the following paragraph which appeared in yesterday's News-Advertiser: "A large rock-slide occurred on the C. P. R. at an early hour on Thursday morning, at the approach to the east end of Cisco tunnel, near Lytton. In consequence, yesterday's east-bound passenger train was held here, but will leave at 8 o'clock this morning. Today's train will go out at 3 o'clock, as usual, it being expected that the line will be all clear by this evening. The train from the East, due yesterday, has been held at Lytton until the line is cleared."

Chilliwack Wedding. — Of a recent wedding event at Chilliwack the Vanccuver Province has the following: "The wedding of Laura Adelia Chadsey, the Captain Dougal Patterson of New Westminster and Dawson City, was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, Majuba Hill, on Weddingsday. Are we degenerating? Is our civilization nothing but a disease which is gradially sapping our strength and vitality a people?

nally sapping our strength and vitality as a people?

A prolonged investigation of the drug habit, one of the most terrible curses of modern times, inevitably arouses these questions. Subtle, elusive, the drug is infinitely more demoralizing and horrible in its effects than drink; yet it is a vice indulged in, as far as regards the law, practically with impunity, and by every class of society. The deep-rooted rest-lessness, the nervous tension of our times, is accountable for its prevalence. How far the worry and perplexity of life have accentuated it is for the scientist to determine if he can. Ours is the day of the drug. The drug habit overshadows our national life.

In the United States, where life pulses more feverishly than in this country, the drug habit is like some cancerous growth. The local legislatures, however, have endeavored to cope with it, and drastic restrictions are placed upon the sale of drugs such as morphia and co-caine in certain states. In England, on the other hand, no attempt has been made to grapple with the evil; meanwhile it grows apace. The taking of morphia and cocaine hypodermically—the "needle habit," as it is called—is prevalent chiefly among brain workers. Physicians, clergymen and lawyers especially seek relief from worry in this way.

THE NEEDLE HABIT.

THE NEEDLE HABIT.

THE NEEDLE HABIT.

Two terrible cases which have recently of come before me—the one dealing with the cocaine, the other with the morphia habit—may be cited as typical.

A brilliant physician with a large practice disappeared suddenly from his chome. After long search he was found in a penniless condition, his health shattered. Cocaine had made of him a pitimble nervous wreck. He was eking out a livelihood as London correspondent to a French scientific paper, but all his earnings went in the purchase of the hard, and sometimes with but a shilling experience.

The Eaves

"Where is Clover?" cried Mrs. Hastings, entering the great shady sittingone afternoon. Miss Perkins, the village dressmaker, sat there alone, bending over a sewing machine. "I want a her particularly," went on rosy-faced little Mrs. Hastings; "there are biscuits to be baked and strawberries hulled for tea; and I've got my cake in the oven, and the tea is a-drawing. I was sure I'd find Clover in here."

Miss Perkins glanced up, with a contemptrous suiff "You won't ind her any place where she has any work to do," cried that lady, in her shrill, high-pitched voice. "I'm sorry to say it myself, but that girl is the laziest, uselessest—"

"There! that'if do, Miss Perkins," interrupted Mrs. Hastings. "Clover is as dear to me as my own child, and I don't like to hear her censured. We have no child of our own, but John; and we have no child of our own, but John; and we have not like to hear her censured. We have no child of our own, but John; and we have not like to hear her censured. We have no child of our own, but John; and we have not like to hear her censured. We have not have loved her ever since we found her lying out in the street clover at the door eighteen years ago—a little, laughing child of about a year—and she smiled up into my face with her big brown eyes; from that hour Clover—we gave her the name because we found her in the clover—has filled a daughter's place in our hearts. She needn't work if she doesn't want to; she was made for happiness—for life in the free, open air—to dance and sing, and be happy after her own fashion."

Miss Perkins—a prim maiden of uncertain age, sandy-haired, green eyes, and with a tendency to freckles—filled her mouth with pins and proceeded grimly to "tack" together the skirt of the pretty organdie tha she was making for Clover, a dainty device of ruffles and lace, and bows and sashes; "for all the world like a party dress!" she had snapped when Mrs. Hastings had given her the directions.

"Oh, dear me, Mrs. Hastings!" she sneered dreening the nines at last and temptuous sniff.
"You won't find her any place where

"Oh, dear me, Mrs. Hastings!" she sneered, dropping the pins at last, and thus feeling her tongue, which ached with unaccustomed silence. "I don't pretend to interfere with you and Clover, though why on earth you couldn't give her a Christian name is more than I can tell! But do think it quite the thing to—hand me the lace, if you please, thanks—to allow her to be so much in the company of your son? Aren't you afraid of consequences? The girl will certainly fall in love with him, and then what will you do? You surely want no daughter-in-law who hasn't a name of her own?"

own?"

Mrs. Hastings' rosy face had grown pale, but she tried to force a smile.

"Clover and John are like brother and sister," she said, thoughtfully, "and John, since he has his diploma, and has become a full-fledged physician, is wrapped up in his profession, and has no thought of marriage."

Miss Perkins nodded her saucy head until she looked like a Chinese mandarin.

until she looked like a Uninese mandarin.

"Perhaps so, perhaps so," she returned. "But if that is really the case, Mrs. Hastings, then your son must be an atrocious flirt; for I have reason to believe?—and she paused to bite off her thread with a vicious snip—"to believe that he rather preferred me!"

Mrs. Hastings had all she could do to suppress a laugh.

"You?" she repeated, blandly. "Why, John is only twenty-eight."

"and I'm an old woman, I suppose?" stapped the spinster, viciously. "I was twenty-five on the third day of May; that's hardly antediluvian!"

But she forgot to add that that third of May in question had gone down the broad aisle of the past, a dozen years before.

of May in question had gone down the broad aisle of the past, a dozen years before.

A clear, ringing laugh broke the silence which followed the speech; and a pretty, brown-eyed girl in pink muslin, and with a broad-brimmed straw hat on her flowing hair, danced into the room, her white apron full of wild flowers. There was a wreath of blossoms around the crown of her hat, and knots of wild roses in her corsage. A tall, handsome, blue-eyed man, Dr. John Hastings himself, was not far behind.

"Here we are, mother!" he cried, cheerily; "Clover and I have been out in the woods, and we have come home, hungry as bears. Eh, Clover?"

"You bet!" cried Clover, enjoying the maiden lady's face of horror at the slang, for these two young people de-

"You bet!" cried Clover, enjoying the maiden lady's face of horror at the slang, for these two young people delighted in teasing Miss Perkins, their mutual aversion. "Mamma," she went on, slyly, "I'll go right to work and get tea, and John will entertain Miss Perkins."

"Not this afternoon!" began John, hastily, muttering something about "business down at the office."

Clara gave him a withering glance.

"Will entertain Miss Perkins!" she repeated, slowly. For in that country place the village dressmaker was wont to be treated wit hall due deference. So u Clover deposited her flowers upon a small side table and ran up to her own proom: returning soon, fresh and fair, and with her own deft hands prepared the evening meal.

Miss Perkins looked as sweet.

and with her own deft hands prepared the evening meal.

Miss Perkins looked as sweet as honey, as she bent over her work, occasionally "making eyes" at the handsome doctor. She managed to inveigle him into escorting her home in the early amoonlight, and when John returned he told Clover that he felt as though he had taken a dose of wormwood.

"Kissed her, eh?" said Clover, saucily. His answer was to seize the audacious girl and kiss her again and again.

"Father and mother will both be so pleased," he whispered. "They love you as a daughter already, darling."

But Clover sighed plaintively.

"You do not even know my proper bame," she said, "and you want me to hal in the your wife!"

west.

For this reason, the Lauyon Zinc Company of Iola, Kansas, sent a representative into the Slocan district to purchase ores for treatment in the works of that company. The natural sequel to such action on their part has followed; that is to say, the erection of plants in our own Province, to treat, these ores at home; or at any rate, to raise the percentage of zinc contained in the ores by concentration to at least 60 per cent, and thereby save freight on a large proportion of valueless material. From this it is only a step to the production of metallic zinc, which means the introduction of a branch of the metallurgical industry into this Province that even until quite recently was never contempolated.

until quite recently was never contemplated.

The average layman, and indeed many mining operators, have in the past paid so little attention to the zinc ores that comparatively fittle information has been published about it in the press, consequently the writer of this article deems the present an opportune time to give the public a brief sketch on the subject. Blende, zinc sulphide, which is also known as sphalerite, and by the miners as blackjack, is the ore of zinc which has been and will be found in this Province. The following description of its properties, and mineralogical characteristics are given by Dana, who is standard authority on the subject: This mineral, when pure, contains 67.15 per cent. zinc and 32.85 per cent. sulphur, but it is usually contaminated with iron, manganese or cadmium, rarely by mercury, lead and tin. It is often argentiferous, and less often auriferous. When quite pure, blende is white-or nearly colorless, but commonly it appears yellow, brown, black, and also red and green, owing to impurities. Its streak is usually brown, but may be light yellow and white. Its fracture is conchoidal; hardness 3.5 to 4; specific gravity 3.9 to 4.1; fustre resinous to adamantine. It is rather brittle, but not so much so as galena.

Blende is easily identified by the aid of the hlow-pine. In the onen tube it

Prepare For The Session

Government at Ottawa Getting Ready for Opening of Commons.

Dominion Election Act May Be Amended Respecting Ballot Marking.

Training Ships for Education of Sellors and Naval Cadets

From Our Own Correspondent.

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—Estimates for the next session are being prepared in the departments. The government expects the granting of supply will be the chief business of the session as there is no government legislation of any importance, except, perhaps, a few amendments to the Dominion Election Act, suggested by experience of the recent polling. It is not unlikely that to avoid a repetition of the error which cost the Liberal candidate in Wentworth his seat the initialing of the ballots by the deputy returning officer will be done away with. It is contended by some who have had long experience in the working of election laws that the stamping and numbering constitute a sufficient transmit guarantee against the substitution of fraudulent ballots, especially as the sofficial ballot is now printed upon specially marked paper under federal supervision.

ALLEGED LABOR UNION CONSPIRACY

and who was freed by a change of court records. The alteration of the records was discovered and led to the conviction of a court clerk and several officials of labor unions on a charge of conspiracy.

Other cases were still pending, Archer's testimony today laid all these facts before the state's attorney. "Dove" is said to have avowed himself an electrician while casually explaining his identity during an attempt to hire a horse

Passenger Special Collides With Freight With Disastrous

Noxie, Ark., Nov. 22.—Passenger train No. 17, southbound from St. Louis, known as the Hot Springs' special, on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad, today ran into an extra freight train which was taking the siding at Swifton, twenty miles south of here. Harry Wells, the fireman on No. 17, was burned to death, and Engineer A. Degire, of the same train, was badly hurt, his arm being broken. Four persons, whose names were not obtainable, were seriously injured. Fifteen others were bruised and otherwise slightly injured. The passenger engine was demolished and three coaches and four freight cars were burned. The wreck was caused by the density of the smoke from forest fires, making it impossible to see twenty feet ahead. The estimated loss is $100,000.

New York, Nov. 23.—Altogether 163 bids for the issue of $25,000,000 of corporate stock of the city of New York at 3 1-2 per cent., to mature in 50 years, were opened today by Comptroller Grout. The largest bid, for the full amount, was that of Wm. Solomon & Co. Coupled with Lazard Freer, they offered to take all, or any part, of the issue at the rate of 102,401.
