

A SCOUNDREL STRONG UP

CHARLES W. BUTLER HANGED FOR WIFE MURDER.

Base Where Wealth and Influence Did Not Check the Gallows—The Head Counts its Dying Hours with an Accented.

Accident. CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Charles W. Butler, one of the most noted criminals in the state of Ohio, son of Dr. George Butler a wealthy physician of Columbus, O., was executed today for the murder of his young wife at Faxon on Sept. 26. All that wealth and influence could do was to save him from the gallows but without avail. Up to last evening Butler perceived a stolid indifference but when advice was received that the supreme court and government refused to interfere in his behalf Butler broke down and wept bitterly. He asked for a catholic priest, Father Follen, who was called and administered the rites of baptism and the last rites. Butler assumed again his stolid attitude. Just before he ascended the scaffold he placed several articles on a table, including a long farewell chord and then began dancing. He was interrupted by a shout of "God bless the dead!" and he turned to the scaffold and read the death warrant. On the scaffold Butler made a long speech. He said all connected with his trial and execution would be sorry for it. He then knelt in prayer and when through walked to the edge of the drop and kicked his head back and forth. He then turned to the rope to his right. Please look on the rope I am in. I wish to see it. He then knelt in prayer and when through walked to the edge of the drop and kicked his head back and forth. LENOXING A FAMILY.

A Harbored Murderer Avenged by Mob Law. In Lenox, N.Y., a husband and two sons of Mrs. Henderson, whose body was found Wednesday in a cistern and the deceased head hidden in the bushes, were arrested today. Great excitement prevailed. This evening the mob took the eldest son out of his home and hanged him from a tree where the crime was committed. He made a confession that his father had killed the woman and that he had helped to hide the body. The first man was hanged at 10 o'clock. The second man was hanged at 11 o'clock. The third man was hanged at 12 o'clock.

WATERS IN CHINA.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Gen. De Labo telegraphs as follows: "Negotiations in the Chinese towards Tonkin. I have ordered that West be strongly occupied, and that the Loo Chau river and other outlets be closed. Western and Southern Tonquin are tranquil. The Chinese have been driven off and their chief killed. The fleet is closely watching the coast. I assume immediate command of troops and an order to leave Hanoi." The minister of marine has sent despatches to the Chinese and Negrier, contemplating them upon their conduct. The Chinese fleet is now in the Gulf of Tonkin. Three Russian frigates sail from St. Petersburg for China on Saturday.

INVESTIGATION WANTED.

THE CUMBERVILLE EXPLOSION CLAIMS A FLESH VICTIM.

The Men Alleged to Have Been Engaged in Dangerous Work at the Time of the Accident—The Public Inquirer has Investigated the Matter.

HAMILTON, Oct. 10.—The powder mill which was destroyed yesterday had only been running three weeks. They shut down last August for want of water. Since that time, specific work has been done for No. 2 powder, and the hands were set to work at changing No. 1 to that grade. About fifteen men were then employed in the grading, erecting and putting buildings yesterday. When noon arrived they went to dinner in the wash-house, some distance away. Six of the men got through the mill before the accident, and returned to work. These six men were Henry Tibbels, Geo. Matthews, Wm. Murray, Wm. Weatherford, Daniel and Alfred Chipman, and Charles Rogers. They were all about the mill, followed in a second by about a third, the most severe of the three, made his way out of the mill, and was found in a house in a neighborhood. While the mill was being run, the air in it had been very bad, and the men were very tired. The explosion was caused by a spark from a lamp, which had been used in the mill. The explosion was very violent, and the mill was completely destroyed. The men who were engaged in dangerous work at the time of the accident are now being investigated by the public inquirer.

IRVING AS HAMLET.

First Impression of the Character.

In Toronto. It is very safe to say that Toronto never saw a more wonderful Hamlet or a sweeter Ophelia than she did last night. Indeed, the whole tragedy, as placed upon the boards of the Grand Opera house last evening, was, but a fair, telling opening for criticism, one deserving of high appreciation. The more so, as the performance was a masterpiece of acting, and the actors, with the exception of the Misses Wright's Dream, did not seem to be in any way over-acted, or to be playing the part of a puppet, as is so often the case with the actors of this city. The more so, as the acting was so good, and the scenery so beautiful, and the music so sweet, and the lighting so effective, and the costumes so rich, and the whole so perfect, that it is a pity that it should have been so short.
