Purpose Will Be to Cut Deep Into Allied Lines on Each Side of Promontory That Projects Into German Territory.

Associated Press War Summary. Events along the battle line in France and Belgium seem to be shaping themselves for a resumption of the great German offencive. Since the savage attack at Seicheprey on Saturday there has been no fighting of an extraordinary nature along the front, but there have been indications that the Teutons are almost ready to resume the sledge-hammer blows they have been aiming at the aliled arm-

Unless recent operations have been feints, it is probable that the coming week will witness two great turning movements by the Germans. One probably will pivot on the Village of Robecq, northwest of Bethune, on the southern side of the salient driven ento the allied lines back of Armentieres. The other is expected to develop at or near Mesnil, north of Albert, on the north side of the Somme salient.

Along the lines of the Lys, southwest of Ypres, on the northern front, there has not been any notable fighting, nor have the Germans again sayed the breaking of the Belgian north of Ypres since King Albert's men smashed a great assault on that part of the front.

South of Albert, at Villers-Bre-onneux, there has been a continuous artillery duel for the past couple of days, and a German attack there may be expected soon. On the line held by the French from Albert south to Montdidier, and thence east to the old battle line,

Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the British exchequer, has introduced in parliament the budget bill for the ing year. Great Britain's expenditures for the period covered by the measure are estimated at about $14,-860,958,000, of which approximately $4,-210,250,000 will be raised by taxation, leaving a balance of nearly $10,650,-000,000 to be borrowed. AMERICAN TROOPS LARGEST BUDGET IN HISTORY INTRODUCED BY BONAR LAW

Points From the Budget Speech By Balancing Loans to Allies

It is the largest in the history of the world.

Despite the aid of the United States, Britain loaned $2,525,-000,000 to her allies last year.

Offsetting the borrowings from the United States against the loans to allies, Britain is self-supporting.

Britain's revenue for the last fiscal year was over $3,500,000,-000: a large increase.

The British Government appreciates the hearty co-operation of the Canadian Government in assisting to finance the war.

The advances to the British dominions during the war have been comparatively small.

The financial strength of the nation after three years of war is greater than anyone could have imagined.

On a total annual expenditure of $3,600,000,000, Germany has an annual deficit of $1,525,000,000. If that were Britain's position, he would say that bankruptcy

The total owing Great Britain by her allies at the end of the year will be $8,160,000,000.

He does not consider the Russian debt as a bad debt.

The government proposes to increase the revenue by the foilowing measures: Stopping leakage in excess profit tax, raising the postal rate in the United Kingdom to India, the dominions and the United States, and raising the imposts on incomes, cheques, farmers' taxes, spirits, beer, tobacco, matches, sugar, and Against Borrowings From United States, Britain is Self - Supporting — Financial Strength- Proves Far Greater Than Imagined-Germany Near Bankruptcy.

London, April 22.—Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, in introducing the budget in the house of commons today, said it was the largest in the history of the world, and he desired to present the situation as briefly as possible.

His anticipations as to the assistance given to the allies by the United States had been fulfilled. Despite this assistance, the British loans to the allies in the past year were $505,000,000.

The United States had advanced to all the allies £950,000,000.

"It is only nevessary for us," said the chancellor, "to lean on the United States to the amount the other allies lean on us. In other words, we are self-supporting."

He had been in communication with Secretary McAdoo on the subject of these complicated loan transactions, and with Mr. Crosby, head of the fiscal mission to Europe, who was on the point of returning to Washington to consuit his government.

To Lessen Burden.

"I have made certain argestion regarding advances to the allies," comtinued the chancelor, "which, if adopted, will lessen our burden considerably without in any way increasing the total obligation to the United States."

Giving the figures of the revenue for the last fiscal year, which amounted to £707.234,665, a large increase over the preceding year, he said that this was very gratifying, but that the reat test of the financial position would come when Britain ceased to rely upon borrowing.

The chancellor expressed the government's appreciation of the hearty co-operation on the part of the Canadian Government in assisting to finance the war. He considered it possible that the alteration of the arrangement with the United States in the method of making advances would result in loans to the alles being reduced to £200,000,000 and to the Dominions £50,000,000. He pointed out how small the advances to the Dominions had been during the war, showing how great was the desire, not only in Canada, but in the other dominions, to carry on the war out of their own expenditures. expenditures.

Brantford, April 22.—The charge of murder against George Duncan was reduced to manslaughter at the police court this morning, and he was given bail in sureties of $4000—$2000 from himself and two others of $1000 each. However, Crown Attorney Wilkes made the statement during the discussion as to the reduction of the charge that if the crown so decided it could be changed again to one of murder.

duction of the charge that it the crown so decided it could be changed again to one of murder.

The only evidence given this morning was by Harry Venton, who had been at the house where the fatal fracas took place. He left, however, before the row developed. He stated that there had been some drinking at the house before he left. He had seen Duncan with a revolver, but it was not mentioned by Duncan that day.

Magistrate Livingstone was asked to grant bail to the accused, but declined to take this responsibility. Crown Attorney Wilkes at first also refused to consider bail, saying that it would be taken up with the attorney-general's department at Toronto. Later, however, he changed his mind, and bail was granted at $4000. W. H. Kelly, counsel for the accused, emphasized that Isaacs, the dead man, had been warned to keep away from the house and, in view of the circumstances, he felt that the charge should be reduced and bail allowed.

Mr. McCurdy added that the details could and would have been kept and

SENATE DISCUSSES ALIEN ENEMIES

Ottawa, April 22.—The position of alien enemies was considered today by the senate in the bill amending the Dominion Lands Act. Senator Brad-bury stated that many persons of alien origin who had come to Canada before the war and made homestead entries had left Canada and had fought against the British cause. He said that such persons should be prevented, hereafter, from obtaining homestead rights in Canada. In fact. personally, he would not allow such personally, he would not allow such persons ever to re-enter Canada.

Sir James Lougheed said that the act provided that a person to obtain a Canadian homestead had to make affidavit that he had not borne arms against the King. However, he would be willing to make the provisions

Suits That Inspire Self-Confidence

in Your Boy

Self-confidence and self-reliance, not arrogance, are essential traits in a boy's character. Clothes, as a part of the environment, help in the cultivation of character --- so your confident, selfreliant boy is usually a well-dressed boy. And when strong, sturdy suits that will stay good for some time are available at such a comparatively small outlay, you can surely give your boy an appreciable start along the way that leads to success. Every one of these suits that we're featuring this morning is a real, out-and-out value-the prices given will not be repeated in a hurry. You're not likely to get these suits again at this price because they'll all be sold today, we don't doubt. A visit to the Boys' Clothing Department this morning will prove a veritable treasure trip.

They're in medium or light shades of grey, in fancy checks, stripes or herringbone weaves, also in almost plain shade of dark grey. Many are fancy Norfolk models, with pleats at front and back or at back only, sewn belt, and patch or flap pockets; bloomer pants. Sizes 29 to 34. Special, today $4.85

DIVERGENCY OF VIEWS

General Opinion Expressed That Present Methods Could Be Improved.

The house of commons discussed at considerable length the alien labor problem in Canada. Several resolutions dealing with the subject had leen for some time on the order paper and they were all considered to get and they were all considered to get federal law dealing with alien labor. The others stood in the names of G. Wichelsen (Southeast Algorna). P. Wichelsen (Sou member for Alberni, N.B., called for federal law dealing with alien labor. The others stood in the names of G. B. Nicholson (Southeast Algoma), F. Dawis (Neepawa) and W. F. Maclean (South York), respectively.

Mr. Maclean's resolution called for industrial conscription. He wanted the government to so conscript alien labor that the foreigner should not have for his own use more than 3-1-diers' pay. This, as Col. J. A. Currie (North Simcoe) pointed out, was strictly in accord with the provisions of The Hague convention and would violate no principle of international alians of neutral countries, and he urged that the men who had gone overseas deserve greater attention from the government than those who had remained behind to earn big wages.

Neutral Aliens Also.

Neutral Aliens Alse.
The neutral alien, said Mr. Cooper, should also be controlled.
Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux expressed the opinion that Mr. Clements was hardly in a position to say how the alien enemy should be treated. In his opinion there was only one way to treat the alien enemy, and that was in accord with international law.
Col. Currie: "What about Germany and Austria?"

Mr. Lemieux: "Germany is without the pale of civilization. When Bethmann-Hollweg said 'necessity knows no law, we must hack it thru,' his words expressed an idea similar to that of the member who introduced this motion." Because Germany outraged every law was no reason why Canada should do the same. The War Times Election Act he characterized as a piece of Prussian diplomacy.

He believed in one empire, the British Empire; and one flag, the British flag. Every Sunday in the churches of Quebec prayers went up for His Majesty the King. He be-lieved in the British Empire, but not the Prussian; and if the ideas of Mr. Clements were carried out, Canadians might find themselves in much the same position as the subjects of the

The question of man power and methods which should be employed to organize the man power of the country were discussed at some length by Mr. G. B. Nicholson, of Algoma East. He declared that the entire Dominion was satisfied that something would was satisfied that something would have to be done in this regard, but there existed a very wide divergence of opinion as to the methods which should be employed. He could not think that it would be possible to conscript any particular class of men for any particular work, but he believed that every single man should be engaged in some useful form of employment.

Door Open for Strikes. The order-in-council in this connection tabled in the house recently by the premier, he thought, was not wide enough in its scope; the doors were left wide open for strikes. He also was not in complete agreement with the clause which orders that a magis-trate shall decide what is a useful occupation. He advocated the appointment of a commission or a board of some kind representing organized labor which should be given the re-sponsibility of preventing any unrest and possible strikes in the country.

Fifty thousand coolies, Mr. Nicholson said, could be imported from northern China, without jeopardizing to the slightest degree, the interests of Canadian workmen. When the coolies were no longer required, they could be sent back to China.

W. F. Maclean (South York) said there had been a wide discussion and some diversity of views, but he believed the government would welcome the same. Next to the winning of the war no question so much interested the people of Canada as the attitude the people of Canada as the attitude of the Union government in respect to alien labor. During the last campaign it had been a live issue, and he had found a wonderful unanimity among the returned soldiers and the enfranchised women relatives of soldiers at the front as to the duty of the government in the premises. They felt that there was something radically roung in the laws of the country or

CANADIAN NORTHERN ARBITRATION RESUMED

Testifying at the resumed hearing of the C.N.R. arbitration proceedings in Osgoode Hall yesterday, Charles A. He explained that some roads undercharged the operating expenses, while charged the operating expenses, while others overcharged additions and betcharged the operating expenses, while terments in operating expense account.

C. R. Urquhart, auditor, stated in reply to the question of W. N., Tilley, K.C., counsel for the Dominion Government, that the contingent liability comprised only the C.N.R. guarantee of bonds of the subsidiary companies. Referring to the balance sheet of the C.N.R. submitted previously by D. B. Hanna, third vice-president of the company, Mr. Urquhart stated that he thought the item of $991,000 about bridges not included in Prof. Swain's report was a clerical error. In his report of the assets and liabilities which was submitted no amount had been included to cover discount. Mr. Urquhart explained that the 1916 report had been done in a hurry, and he had had only four weeks in which to make the investigation.

War Office Changes.

Changes at the war office undoubtedly indicate a new policy under the new chief of staff, Sir Henry Wilson. Sir William Robertson's retirement was entirely due to his refusal to work under General Foch or any other French commander, and it is obvious that this policy is essential to the victory of the allies. Sir Henry Wilson is on the best of terms with the French military college, and there is no danger of any friction.

It is of importance to remember that on Sir Henry Wilson has fallen the mantle of Lord Roberts, who was keenly alive to the problems of the war, and died on a visit to the front. Lord Roberts was a most intimate friend of General Wilson, and spent much of his time at Sir Henry's residence. The German menace was Lord Roberts' hobby, and what he knew of it and of the proper counter-checks General Wilson knows likewise. The general confidence of the government and the army, and the tuning up of the whole military machine, may be regarded as the result of General Wilson's control.

Numbering the People.

There is much to be said for registering everybody, not only in war time but in peace time also. If every citizen were registered and numbered, so that the population was all on the card index, it would be comparatively easy to watch the morals of the community. There never could be any cases of mistaken identity. A man's number would be unimpeachable testimony. It would facilitate police work tremendously. Men without their identification tags would have to go under surveillance until they were located on the national register, and men with their numbers would be perfectly safe while they behaved themselves. Honest men would have no objection to the system, and dishonest men could have none.

The government, as a war measure intends to get us all on a little list. We were nearly all classified before and nothing seems to have come of it. Highly elaborate cards had to be filled up, giving details of the story of one's life. Where are those narratives now? It was a huge expense at the time. The present registration will be as exact and particular as that of Noah, and male and female, after their kind, will have to enroll. if they wish to ship in the National Ark. It does not appear whether the impulse to number the people on the present occasion is an inspiration or a temptation.

Everybody between sixteen and sixty must comply, and all the women practically will be enrolled, for very few women admit being over sixty. The inducement to register will be that without it it will be impossible to draw pay, to travel in a train, or to vote. It is quite possible that there will be misunderstandings, and that some citizens may imagine that the act of registration will give the right to draw pay. Alas, no! Regis-"tration will not confer this right. There will be other conditions to be complied with first.

As the registration cards indicate the right to vote, if it exists, there may be more complications here thru misunderstandings. No doubt there will be heavy penalties for the misuse of the registration cards at election times.

must work. This is getting back to Eden as well as the Ark, and the country will be happier, and so will Eden as well as the Ark, and the country will be happier, and so will the whole world, when every person gets his job. If anyone is inclined to think that the government registration is an unnecessary affair, he has another opportunity for reflection. It is a step which is about three years too late, but it will, or at least it should, assist materially in clearing up some of our social problems, and getting idle people where they can and must work, besides sorting out the misplaced into their proper stations.

A Hard Case.

Frequent complaints are heard of the injustice of the military discharges. and while it is not to be expected that no mistakes shall be made there ought to be some court of appeal where these obvious errors could be rectified. The case of James Torrington is a particularly hard one. He was gassed at the front, discharged without a pension, and now dies, leaving a wife and anonths' durlough, when he arrived the home he found himself struck off the cuted.

strength. It is not easy for the sufferers to be patient, but the authorities have their troubles, too, and among 500,000 men it is not to be expected that there shall be no friction. We can only hope that by elimination error has been reduced to a mihimum, and corrected when discovered.

A "Corner of Blighty."

We publish elsewhere a letter from Sir John Pilter regarding the very worthy object of providing a "corner of Blighty" in Paris for soldiers on leave. Sir Arthur Currie hopes that any appeal made will "meet with the success that it deserves." Leave in Paris. New Chain is Not Likely to Make Its Bow During the War.

One of the largest American retail syndicates, the S. S. Kresge Company, is planning to invade the Canadian field, it is stated in local commercial circles. The Kresge corporation, which has its head offices in Detroit, operates a chain of two hundred 5, 10 and 15 cent stores in the United States. It is capitalized at $15,000,000, of which half is preferred and half common stock.

It is said that the 5, 10 and 15 cent ores at present ada are somewhat perturbed at the news that the Kresse corporation is coming to Canada, but Ralph Connable, the head of the Canadian F. W. Woolworth Co., Ltd., which owns 93 Canadian stores, is of the opinion that there is plenty of room for another chain in Canada, "We have been expecting them for several years," said Mr. Connable.

Owing to the difficulties which face any firm which attempts to sell lowpriced goods under war conditions, it is not thought that the Kresge com-pany will establish its chain until after the war. The 5, 10 and 15 cent stores of Canada are selling their goods practically at cost now. virtue of their name, it is impossible for them to increase prices, and they have been compelled to discontinue many lines, such as hosiery, cotton underwear, etc. Another difficulty is in obtaning merchandise. Owing to the high duty and the embargoes on goods coming into Canada, it is necessary for the stores to purchase their lines in Canada, and most Canadian manufacturers are engaged on war work

Labor is another problem. Woolworth Company has been com-pelled to place a woman in almost every job filled before the war by a man. They have women managing some of their stores, a thing unheard of a few years ago. In their receiving rooms, women handle the freight and express. They even have a woman operating the passenger ele-vator in their main office building, corner of Yonge and Queen streets.

The scene in which Mrs. Ridley goes to sleep in John Widgast's arms and her ravings previously is a delicious bit of farce, remarkably well done by Miss Bartilett. A great deal of fun is extracted from the prison scene in the third act, and altogether the piece is as laughable as could be desired. given by a particularly attractive chorus. SUBMARINE MENACE

Another Langdon McCormick spectacle headlines an all-star bill at Shea's this week, the title of this newest melodramatic success being "On the High Seas," in which a timely expose of the submarine menace is vivid-ly enacted. The offering is in three startling scenes, and the story, par-ticularly well constructed, reaches a final pitch of excitement which leaves the audience fairly breathless. A large cast and unusual scenic effects make the offering of unusual interest: Lillian Fitzgerald, billed as the unusual daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richards.

"THE BRAT" CHASES AN INGENIOUS FARCE

Julia Sanderson, the Sunshine Girl of the musical comedy world, appeared at the Princess last night with Joseph Cawthorn in "Rambler Rose" Charles Frohman's musical comedy success, which has been eagerly anticipated in Toronto for months. Both Miss Sanderson and Mr. Cawthorn are favorites of long standing locally. The dainty little star of "Sybil," "The Sunshine Girl" and many other of the more dainty musical offerings of recent years, sings just as sweetly as of yore, dances as divinely, and looks more beautiful than ever. "Rambler Rose" is one of her most successful vehicles for providing her countless admirers with the entertainment which they so it savishly applaud, and of which they never grow tired, when Julia Sanderson is smilling in the spotlight Joseph Cawthorn, easily the funnels man on the musical comedy stage in America, is her associate. LOEW'S BILL THIS WEEK IS EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD

Loew's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden have such a good ball this week that at is hard to say which turn is the best. It opens with Current Events film, devoted mainly to American troops in France, followed by the absorbing three-act screen, "The Family Skeleton," a tale of the demon, drink, and woman's love, featuring Charles Ray. It has a strong moral lesson The vaudeville features include Juggling De Lisle, who has many novel turns. Paul and Hall in many novel turns. Paul and Hall in songs and violin, and Miss Hall's singsongs and violin, and Miss Hall's singing of old southern songs were well received, while young Paul's playing of the violin was a real treat. Laurle Ordway is a breeze from the London music halls with many watty songs on married life. Sherman, Van and Hyman have a trio of voices which are mard to beat. Pilly S. AWAY DESPONDENCY

Graceful Irene Castle is seen to advantage this week at the Hippo-drome in the "Hillcrest Mystery." This film tells a vivid story of German intrigue and treachery in the United States. The launching of a huge ship and a pretty skating scene are pleasing touches. Kellard as the secretary to a wealthy shipbuilder, who turns his plant over to Uncle Sam, does some good acting in support of Mrs. Castle. How she helps to finally uncover the treach-erous acts of her father's German partner contributes to a photoplay well worth seeing. The aerial De Groffs, trapeze artists, do some good stunts. Robb and Robertson are well received in a schoolboy and girl skit, while Dale and Boyle spring an impersonation surprise on the audience which elicits applause. The Three Kashner Girls and Moore and West have singing and dancing turns.

MAE MARSH TRIUMPHS

IN AN UNUSUAL STORY Mae Marsh appears this week in an exceptionally clever play at the Regent Theatre. It is "The Danger Game," being the dramatized version of Irvin S. Cobb's story which ran in The Saturday Evening Post, entitled "The Web." The "girl of a thousand faces" is seen as one who solves a great mystery. She is presented with a situation which might well baffle the wits of almost any girl. Her

The story is particularly well built. The mystery plot is well developed, and Mae Marsh is indeed as much a favorite as she ever was in any of her previous productions. Analysis of Attendance at Meetings During Year

Given.

It was the general opinion at the annual business meeting of the Canadian Club yesterday in the St. James' Cathedral parish house that the standard of addresses had attained a higher average than in any previous season. A vote of thanks was passed to E. C. Fox, the retiring president, and the executive for their excellent programs, and for the arrangements made for accommodation with the rector and church wardens of St. James', to whom also a vote of thanks was accorded.

There had been 23 luncheons held, with an average attendance of 338, as against 278 the previous season. The Archbishop of York had the highest attendance with 629. Sir F. E. Smith had 593 and Lord Northcliffe 550. The next highest was Hon. John K. Mott with 502, while Stephane Lanzanne had 463.

The executive hopes to secure permanent quarters where the total attendance can be accommodated in one room. A permanent record and memorial of members who have gone to the front or fallen in action will be organized. The membership consists of 98 honorary and 1378 active members. 132 having resigned during the year and 194 joined. The treasurer reported a balance of $5372.37. IDA ARGUES FOR TWILIGHT BALL

Reasons Why at Least Two Games a Week Should Be Played.

By Ida L. Webster. And after all why not use some these extra daylight hours in baseball? There are hundreds of us who are not in a position to obey the government so far as starting a farm in our backyard is concerned, for the sample rea-so far as starting a farm in our backyard is concerned, for the sample reason that we have not a back-yard. Would it then not be a lot healthier for such folks to be enjoying a ball game, in preference to sitting on the back porch watching the rest of the "back-porchers" pull off a family feud, or to be cramped up in the corner of the boarding house verandah, listening to Mr. and Mrs. Knowall discussing the war situation?

One drawback to staking ball games at, say 5 o'clock every day, would be when the visiting club had to make a train. It would be necessary to change the time to conform with the timetable, because things have come to such a pass these days that the railroads wouldn't change their schedules, for Jim McCaffery or even Sam McBride. If, however, it could be arranged so that on two or possibly three days during the week, the battle hour was called at daylight saving time, it would give every fan a chance to see a couple of games a week, and there is no doubt in the world that numbers of them would take advantage of, it.

There is one clinching argument in Mr. Family Fan's favor. Saturdays and holidays, the only time he has to see a game under the old ruling, must be devoted to friend wife, and the kiddies, Now wife dear "is not one speck interested in crazy old ball games, and anyway the children must have some amusement. Isn't he their father? Who has a better right to give up recreation hours to them than he?" and so on and so forth, until with wilted collar and broken spirit he pleads to be allowed to take his loving family on a picnic.

He means well when they start out, but unfortunately the cxarina has decided that Hanlan's Point will be their goal. Can you imagine friends what it means to a fan to listen to the cheers from the stands, while he dizzily hangs onto Johnny, who takes a flendish delight in riding on the merry-go-lizzy? Finally overcome with an acute attack of biliousness from which he never expects to recover, he grabs the roaring off-spring from the bucking broncho, and retreat defeated National League rivals 164 times, of one-armed eating emporiums, so that they should worry.

Take the players and the scribes. After all is said and done these would be the greatest sufferers of all. Baseball players, it is reported, eat very sparingly before a game, but then they spring the same gag about opera singers, but we have yet to see one who could not eat a meal worthy of a farm-hand at any hour of the day or night. In any case the gentlemen of the press and those of the diamond would be bordering upon starvation, which, with the war-time rations in hotels and restaurants, would in all probability prove fatal. Those reporters who worked on morning papers would soon waste away, and those who labored for the evening sheets would never be on speaking terms with their wives, and there you are.

Now the question before the house is: Is Jim McCaffery suave enough to wipe away the anger which would be caused by daylight saving ball games, in the home of the married man, or is he not?

NORTH COUNTRY CRICKET

Cobalt, April 22.—An enthusiastic effort is being made to introduce cricket in the north country. With this in view a club was organized at a meeting held in Haileybury last night. The new organization is representative of several New Ontario towns and it is planned to form a formidable league with teams in each centre.

American League baseball teams have defeated National League rivals 164 times, while the National League clubs won 124 times in post-season tests since 1903.

Race Horses May Be Commandeered By the United States Government

Lack of Thorobreds for Cavalry Service May Cause Action Even at the Cost of Closing All the Tracks.

Pittsburg Gazette-Times: Government and has repeatedly used them in counter-requisition of American race horses for use in the cavalry is almost as certain as fate if the war lasts thru this year, according to officials in a position to make the process of the war that practice has borne its legitimate fruit.

as fate if the war lasts thru this year, according to officials in a position to speak authoritatively. The organization of new cavalry regiments in this country on the request of Gen. Pershing for service abroad has emphasized the lack of high-class horse flesh in the United States, and has revealed the source of much agitation against horse racing in this country.

Pro-German activity has been charged as responsible for nearly everything that has gone wrong in the United States within recent years, but the discouragement of horse breeding and racing has not yet been laid at its door. Recent investigations by lovers of good horse flesh, however, have traced back antirace propaganda and the consequent resultant of deterioration in breeding to the familiar lair—German agitation.

No one realizes more than the kaiserites the desirability of plenty of good horses, and the Hun cavalry today rides thorobreds across the ruins of Belgium what it wants, race horses not excluded.

Toronto and District Turn Down Offer of Amalgamation-Saturday Games.

There was a crowded attendance at the special meeting of T. & D. F.A. delegates last night to consider the suggestion from the inter-league board that the T. & D. and Provincial League should amalgamate for the period of the war. The proposition was discussed very fully but the delegates decided that they could not entertain it at all.

After the meeting was concluded Messrs, Guthrie and Crowder of the Provincial League attended the board meeting and stadted that their league was prepared to meet the T. & D. to discuss the matter, but their teams had not as yet committed themselves.

The R.A.F. Mechanical Transport Section were admitted to take the place of the 48th Highlanders, who have resigned. The following cup final dates were fixed:

tag day was conducted by the workers of the North Toronto Red Cross Asof the North Toronto Red Cross Association with the president, Mrs. S. Hawley Alian, as captain of the district, Mrs. Alian was assisted by 15 lieutenants, the returns amounting to $735.75.

"We are delighted with the result," said Mrs. Alian to The World last night. It was the most successful campaign conducted in North Toronto."

The district covered was that between the C.P.R. tracks and the northern city limits, Many of the workers were out from 6 a.m. to 4.30 p.m., and declared their willingness, if necessary, to stay longer on the job. The munition plants at Leaside were visited at 6.30 a.m. In the hope that the city and Toonto and York Radial Railway Company may come to terms over the operation of the Scarboro division, including that portion of the physical assets which are owned by the city, the case before the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board was adjourned GIVEN IN EAST TORONTO and Municipal Board was adjourned yesterday. It was agreed that in the event that an arrangement could not be made satisfactory to both parties, the matter would be sumitted to the board for decision.

D. M. McIntyre, chairman of the board, said this was the last meeting in connection with a complaint that the service of the Scarboro division of the Toronto and York Radial was inadequate. At the former meeting it had been shown that the city owned part of the road, and for that reason the city had been called in.

I. S. Fairty, assistant city solicitor, waid the city owned the physical assets of the road up to a certain point, but the city would not stand on ceremony and had left it to the company as to operation.

The Women's Institute of East Toronto under the captaincy of the president, Miss A. H. Stephenson, yesterday (St. Julien Day) conducted a vigorous campaign, the workers, including 45 girls, many of them from the public and collegiate schools of the district, were at their posts at 5.45 a.m. The captain was assisted by Lieut. Wall, Mrs. Hitch, Mrs. Small and Miss Vera Edward and Mrs. Percy Amson did gallant service with her car.

A simple lunch was served at the headquarters of the institute in the Y.M.C.A. building on Main street. The workers, without exception, report a most hospitable and sympathetic reception, the majority of them being invited into the homes visited. The distance covered, the sparsely settled, contributed $215.30, there being 490 contributions of one cent each in the returns.

Mr. McIntyre asked how an order could be given when there was no duty on the part of the railway to improve its service. "What can be done by co-operation?" he asked.

To Mr. Fairty it appeared that having taken over the road the company was liable to provide a service. He did not wish to grant any frachise.

Mr. Ingrain, vice-chairman, usid that if the company was not obliged to run the city's portion of the line, they now had sufficient cars, Otherwise they had not.

Mr. Redmond asked for an order of the board calling for an improved service within the township forthwith.

C. L. Wilson, for the company, said there were six cars in operation now, and within a short time there would be four more single truck cars running.

In view of this, Mr. McIntyre would not make an order, saying the negotiations would be started as early at a possible.

"Houses to rent are not to be had in West Toronto at the present time and all houses recently erected or in course of erection are sold," said M. C. Burt, West Toronto, last evening speaking of the building outlook thruout the district. Mr. Burt pointed out that there was practically no movement in vacant land, of which there is a considerable quantity in the section. In the Runnymede district building activity is brisk.

Large quantities of charred beams and timber from the recent big Harris Abattoir fire are being taken away in every description of vehicle by the people in the West Toronto section. According to the statement of an official, quantities were being cleared away while the fire was raging, and very little firewood remains on the burnt out premises at present. The wood was given free to all who applied, and many families secured sufficient for their winter's use.

Dear Friend: The cause of a foul breath may be local or constitutional.
Local causes are (1) decayed teeth, (2) pus-pockets in the gums, recognized or unrecognized; (3) chronic inflammation of the gums (pyorrhoea or Riggs disease); (4) septic or diseased tonsils, which harbor masses of decomposing secretion in the crypts or submerged spaces; (5) adenoids (not at all uncommon in young adults); (6) chronic disease of the accessory sinuses of the nose; (7) simple chronic nasal catarrh, and (8) a coated tongue. adults); (8) chronic disease of the accessory sinuses of the nose; (7) simple chronic nasal catarrh, and (8) a coated tongue. This latter cause, a coated tongue, in itself is usually secondary to some grant or constitution. A frequent cause of a coated tongue and a bad breath is reverse peristaise. This means a reversal in the direction of the waves of motion in the alimentary canal. It is the direct explantion of so-called "billiousness" and also of reguritation of food or sour acids or gas from the stomach. The "dark-brown taste" and bad breath are commonly attributed to the exhalation of absorbed toxic material from the bowels, but the following experiment proves that puttentive material from the bowels, but the following experiment proves that puttentive material from the boxels but the following termination on notice a yellow coating on the tongue; and microscopic examination of scrapings from the tongue demonstrates grains of the lycopodium. Therefore, some disturbance of the digestive system is unquestionably a common cause of coated tongue, foul breath and bad taste. When this is true, the thing to do is to set the wave current going again in the downward direction by adopting a diet and habits which will ensue regular normal bowel evacuations at least once aday—better twice or three times a day. General or constitutional causes are (1) the various conditions of the blood-vessels and the kidneys, which interfere with normal excretion. Occasionally a persistent bad taste in the mouth is found to be the earliest symptoms of arteriosclerosis, or kidney disease, accompanied by a high blood pressure: and, with this unpleasant taste may go an odor on the breath; (2) patients with severe stomach of the stomach, often have a foul blood, the stomach, often have a foul blood to be the sarilest symptoms of arteriosclerosis, or kidney disease, accompanied by a high blood pressure: and, with this unpleasant taste may go an odor on the breath; (2) patients with severe stomach of the stomach, often have a foul breath; E., the Local Council of Women, the Women's Patriotic League, the 75th and the 48th Highlanders' auxiliaries, the Canadian Aviation Aid Club, the 169th Auxiliary, the Women's Volunteer Corps, the W. WILD FLOWERS

On Good Friday I started out into the woods to search for the trailing abutus, the first of our spring wild lowers to awake from their winter's of You will remember what a feet day was given to us this year. perfect day was given to us this year. Crisp, sweet wind, vivid blue sky, and a sun that blessed every little twig and branch and bird and waking insect. Altho Good Friday was rather early this year, yet I had hopes of finding this fragrant wildflower, for as a rule I have not, in many and many a long year, failed to find the shining leaves somewhere hidden deep in the haunts that all wildflower lovers know of.

shining leaves somewhere hidden deep in the baunts that all wildflower lovers know of.

Wandering along the banks of Grenadier Pond, many an old bird frend sang his welcome to me. One specially, probably thrilled with the spirit of sacrifice, peculiar to the day, insisted on warning me thus: "Do what you like with me," then dropping into his second note, softly pathetic, "But leave my nest alone." All bird lovers know him—one of the earliest of the harbingers of spring. Another wee thing, dressed in the latest spring waistocats, all mottled with black plush spots, lirted in the most outrageous manner with me." determined little fellow followed me from one spot to another.

Here in Ontario the arbutus is one of the first wildflowers, closely followed by the hepatica, the bloodroot, and the windflowers. Hiding deep beneath the fallen leaves of pine or oak or maple, it preserves the waxy green of its leaves thru all the winter, altho rusty spots appear here and there among some of the plants. It is one of the most difficult of all the wildflowers to discover early, but if beginners will take this small clue to help them, they will find little difficulty in discovering some of the thousands that grow in such profusion all along both banks of Grenadier Pond. The leaf resembles so closely dermined little fellow followed me om one spot to another.

such a reward! "Beauty and fragrance unrivaled!"

The trailing arbutus is one of the aristocrats of wildflowers, its lineage being traced back until the beginnings are lost in the past. There are many delightful legends connected with the plant, and here is one that I think few have been told about. The story goes back to the Garden of Eden, when poor Eve decided that she must have some spring garments, and at once. All the flowers were asked to give their leaves to make the historic garment, All consented save this—the arbutus, who declared she needed the leaves for the protection of her children, the blossoms. For this selfishness (?) arbutus was cast out of the garden and condemned to wander forever over the wild spots of the earth, and blinded by grief and indignation at the ined by grief and indignation at the in-justice of her fate, she wandered first Pond. The leaf resembles so closely that of the wintergreen, that the wee clumps are often passed by. The leaf of the arbutus is a little larger and decidedly more blunted at the end.

The flowers, tiny waxen bells of pinkish hue are possessed of the most alluring and evanescent fragrance, rather remindful of that of the lilyof-the-valley. So shy is the lovely for corn in the spring.

"Spring lamb," spouts the cook, "loves to gambol. We have seen it on many a ramble— So please take this hint, Here are a few examples of what this system of fine-combing has already effected. A carpenter was discovered as attendant in an officers' mess, and was transferred to the engineers. A drygoods transfer mess, and was transferred to the engineers. A. drygoods traveler was unearthed in another mess, and was sent to be a storekeeper. A miner was found acting as house orderly, and is now one of a tunneling company. A lumber "jack" was serving as house orderly, and is now in the forestry corps. A railway fireman was doing the work of a groom, and is now with the railway troops. and is now with the railway troops.

Another matter not to be lost sight of is the valuable information which this work may gather in against the time when demobilization has to be entered upon, and when the tens of thousands of Canadians go back to the Dominion to enter again upon civil occupation. That is a matter for the future, however, and in the meantime the value of this effort to place the round man in the round hole, and to insure that no man's labor is wasted, is obvious.

"The Union of Those Who Love On Behalf of Those Who Suffer" And Suffer in Silence

The very highest ideals of Patriotism are expressed in a response to the needs of those who suffer -whether the need be in the Home-in the Hospital- or on the Battlefield-

With the keenest sense of this fact the Women's College Hospital makes its appeal now to the patriotic-generous—sympathetic people of Toronto to assist in what they know to be an imperative need—urgent and necessary extension and expanion of the accommodation of the hospital—in beds, equipment and furnishing, that they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering—and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering—and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering—and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering—and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering—and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering—and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering —and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering —and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering —and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering —and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering —and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering —and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering —and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to do the work—to help the suffering —and heal the sick—especially do they may be the better prepared to the sufficiency and they may be the better prepared to the sufficiency and cially do they speak for those women who suffer in silence.

You have given much—you have sacrificed more—during these war days—and you will be willing to do still more than you have done for those who are fighting for you "over there"—and those who suffer here because of it-for the heart cry for help is universal.

The Women's College Hospital makes its appeal with fullest assurance of the people's co-operation-confident of the greatest appreciation for the work that has been done—and with the widest outlook for the future in building itself up alongside of the nation's greater enterprises as a worthy part of the new world that is to be.

-from your "mite" or your "Millions"-have a part in the You can help in this $50,000 campaign this week—from your "mite" or your "Millions"—have a part in glow that comes from helping others—for you know the words of the Great Physician—"INASMUCH."

The Women's College Hospital $50,000 Campaign is on This Week—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—Will You Help With Your Money?

Just a Little Bit of History and a Future Look-Out

The history of the inception, work and growth of the Wemen's College Hospital is no longer unknown, because of its repeated and prominent presentation to the people of Torento, particularly during the past three or four years. You will remember that the origin of it dates back to the opening of the little dispensary at the Sackville St. Mission, as far back as 1896—then its removal to No. 18 Seaton—and where the little incident of the mother whose child was brought there to be treated for pneumonia, and a bed was provided at the dispensary, and with the mother as the nurse, and the good women doctors' help she was nursed back to health.

And to this one bed—another and another—and another was added until there were seven beds—and no room for more and how then came the purchase in January, 1915, of the present property at 125 Rusholme Road—a big residential property that it was thought then would meet all requirements for years to come—but which, with its 22 odd beds, inside of a few months proved inadequate.

Then came the Greater Hospital idea—the expansion plans on a scale worthy of the work—and warranted by the need. To-day this expansion is being realized—for nearing completion is the new wing—a four storey, fire-proof building—which will provide new clinic rooms for out-door patients—a well baby elinic—public and semi-public maternity and surgical beds—operating rooms—"X" Ray and pathological departments—fitted with elevators—the newest methods of mechanical ventilation—ideal in completeness of the appointments—and as perfect as a modern hospital could be. This hospital, when completed, will contain together with the criginal building, 44 beds—and in its completion the Board recognizes, and will take on a broader hospital responsibility.

With the fullest realization of this responsibility—and the imperativeness of the need, the Wemen's College Hospital Board are making this appeal for $50,000 in a house to house canvass of the city, for three days this week—Tuesday—Wednesday—and Thursday.

Gleaned From the Superintendent's Reports Just a word on the work of the Women's College Hospital During the past eighteen menths there have been 372 patients admitted to the Hospital—of this number but 87 were there for less than twenty-four hours.

At the Seaton Street Dispensary and at the Hospital, 125 Rusholme Road, there have been in this same period 3,500

During these eighteen menths 230 babies have been been of the Hospital—and the fathers of about one-half of these little ones are to-day overseas "doing their bit" for King

There is no greater asset to the nation to-day than these babise—and the conserving of them as a present asset is a strong point in our hospital work and in every possible way the Women's College Hospital tries to send forth in perfect condition this little life to "travel its destined way"—We feel to-day we are verily a new Civic Improvement League—of which every mother who enters the hospital is a member.

Patients have been received from four (4) Provinces outside of Ontario—Four have been received from the United States—15 in the last six months from municipalities outside of Repeated farewells at the hospital door speak volumes of appreciation for service rendered—and health restored.

Many timid and shrinking women, who would otherwise suffer in silence, are being and have been treated in the Women's College Hospital because they are attended by physicians of their own sex. It is the only hospital in Canada where public ward patients have this privilege.

ISM Lake, Ont., April 22.—Continued activity is apparent in the Matachewan district, and while traveling is difficult during the break-up, a number of prospectors are making their way up the river. Several horses have been drowned in endeavoring to make the passage across the ice. The ice has practically cleared off the Montreal River, but a large portion of Elk Lake is still covered, and canoe navigation will not open up for a week or so yet.

ADVANCE OF SILVER.

New York, April 22.—The government's plan to melt several hundred missions of siver dollars now in the treasury vauits, fixing an arbitrary price of $1 an ounce, has again stimuated demand for that metal in the local markets.

Two weeks ago bar silver was quoted at 91%c. By steady degrees it has climbed to within a fraction of the price of the treasury department, selling today at 99%c. Dealers in silver say that the extraordinary demand for that metal from India and China is chiefly responsible for the recurrent strength.

The silver market has had many irregular movements since the beginning of the war. From its normal price of 63 to 65 cents an ounce silver advanced last summer more than 75 per cent. Later there came another decline on a reduced inquiry.

DETROIT UNITED MAY BE TIED UP BY STRIKE

Detroit, April 22.—An ultimatum requiring compliance by Tuesday night with demands for wage increases or arbitration of the entire matter in dispute was presented today to the Detroit United Railway Company by a committee representing its conductors and motormen here. The men demand increases of 12 cents, 14 cents and 15 cents an hour, based on length of service.

The company has taken the position that wages cassot be increased unless fares are raised. About 3500 employes are concerned in the dispute.
