THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

The betting men are not interested themselves in the majority outside but the odds are quoted as follows:

Shaw	4 to 5
Hocken	10 to 1
Jones	1 to 10
Hubbard	2 to 5
Harrison	10 to 1
Dunn	10 to 1
Fleming	2 to 1
Briggs	10 to 1

On the bylaw, the betting favors the passing of the power bylaw, with the trunk sewer and Bathurst-street bridge also added to it. "But to mention Yonge-street bridge, is to cause a laugh. People won't take it seriously now," said one who ought to know.

Of those who opposed Controller Jones in his movement for the creation of the civic department of industries and publicity, there remain few who have not become its enthusiastic supporters, for the simple reason that the department has proved itself. For the five years preceding Mr. Thompson's appointment, Toronto secured only 4 new United States industries. Since the department commenced work on Sept. 1 of this year the following industries have been secured largely through the new commissioner's personal efforts: The Danze Silk Co., Limited, from St. Etienne, France, manufacturers of silk; the Kindal Bed Mattress Co., Limited, from St. Louis; the Blanchette Paint and Varnish Co., Limited, from New York; the Canada Nut-Bolt and Nut Co., Limited, from Boston; the Chemicals Co., Limited, from London, largely American capital, and other large concerns which have definitely arranged to locate here, but who, for business reasons, desire their names to be withheld for the present. In addition, the Dominion Carriage Co., Limited, of Chicago, has accepted Mr. Thompson's offer to locate in Toronto, and a very large Montreal concern, the name of which cannot at present be disclosed, have also been actually located. The following local firms, many of whom had tempted Mr. Thompson with offers of large extensions for their businesses: The H. Williams Machinery Co., Limited; the Dominion Radiator Co., Limited; the Phillips Manufacturing Co., Limited; the Iron Works Co., Limited; the Sherwin-Cooper Co., and others. Mr. Thompson is now in touch with two smelting concerns which contemplate locating in the Ashbridge's Bay district, besides being in correspondence with over forty European and United States companies with a view to locating them in Toronto. With such an excellent showing, under the present disadvantage of high-priced power, what marvelous industrial additions will not be expected after the people at the polls to-morrow give their fair but cheap power must be had for Toronto.

In the second ward it is said the two old members will be again returned. The electors should make sure of returning Ald. Church. He fought hard against the Yonge-street bridge agreement and the loops, and would take the loop question and the work of the whole street railway system to the railway and municipal board. His motion to the latter effect passed council. He has a lot of hard work to his credit, and in legislation and harbor matters he has rendered the city ex-

Manufacturer Gives Testimony of Interest—How Capital Benefits From Low Rates.

The World takes pleasure in publishing the following letter from W. H. Smith, managing director of the Canadian Feather and Mattress Co. of Toronto and Ottawa, in which are given the experiences of that firm with the electrical syndicate in Toronto and the public-owned system in Ottawa. The letter reads:

"Editor World: Having read with a great deal of interest what has been published in the various newspapers on the power question and having had some experience in the matter, both here and in Ottawa, I would like to make a few observations, trusting that they may shed some light on the question, especially as what I am saying has been generally the facts as experienced by ourselves.

"When we commenced operations here 13 years ago we got our power for $120 per year. This rate continued until the amalgamation of the power companies, when we were advanced to $150 per year. Last year, the rate was made higher until it reached $600 per annum.

"We then found it necessary to add some new machinery, which would double the consumption of power, and we decided to put in a gas engine, and the Strachan-avenue route would be much cheaper and fully as convenient and satisfactory as the Bathurst-street route.

"The candidature of Dr. B. E. Hawke for the school board is meeting with every success, and his friends feel sure of his election. Among Dr. Hawke's staunchest supporters are the teachers in the collegiates and public schools.

"J. S. Granatstein is a candidate for alderman in ward three and is making a good showing. Mr. Granatstein is an active supporter of municipal ownership, is for the Beck power bylaw to the law, and his platform generally commends him to the voters of the ward.

"The electors should not forget that Controller Jones was the first member of council who took a decided stand in favor of Hon. Mr. Beck's power bylaw, and that by his indignant opposition to the Ontario Railway Company in the criminal courts he got results which the civil courts had failed to produce. It was on Controller Jones' motion that an application was made to the Ontario Railway Board for an order that the Toronto Railway Company should furnish proper sanitary conveniences for its employees, with the result that the company have been given six months in which to furnish, at the terminus of every line, conveniences of a type satisfactory to the engineer of the board.

"Ald. Fleming's prospects for a place on the board of control are growing brighter daily. His usefulness in council has been displayed where the city can best judge it—in the improvement of the fire department equipment. The high-pressure water system would have been well under way had it not been for the simple reason that the company should furnish proper sanitary conveniences for its employees, with the result that the company have been given six months in which to furnish, at the terminus of every line, conveniences of a type satisfactory to the engineer of the board.

"Ald. Harrison asks for 10,000 electors to vote for him. His own ward will give him a big start in getting this number, and the city generally seems inclined to give him the rest.

"Whether the Bathurst-street bridges, enabling an extension of the street railway to the exhibition, be built now or not, it is certain that the day is not far distant when they will have to be in order to give citizens convenient access to the newly acquired garrison property, as well as to relieve the pressure at the Exhibition. Not only will the proposed extension benefit the exhibition enormously, but it will enhance the value of property all along the route, give access to a valuable piece of waterfront, convert 175 acres of virtually waste land to public uses, and provide means of public safety, the value of which can hardly be overestimated as a matter of fact, a second way of approaching the exhibition is one of the most pressing needs of the moment.

"Ex-Ald. Thomas Foster, who is making a strong run for the council in Ward Two, has well-defined views on the four bylaws to be submitted to the ratepayers, and on other important civic questions, including the Bathurst-street viaduct. Speaking to The World regarding the latter, he said: "I am most heartily in favor of the Bathurst-street viaduct, as it would be an immense benefit to the whole city. I was the first man to bring the question up in council, and to secure a report as to its probable cost. I believe, however, that the engineer's estimate is too high, and that it could be given for much less than the figures given by him."

"Mr. Foster declared himself as reservedly in favor of the power bylaw, whose passage would be an important step in the right direction. While convinced of the necessity of the improvements provided for in the other three bylaws, he disapproved of the methods proposed. The railways, not the city, should bear the whole cost of the Yonge-street bridge. The trunk sewer scheme should not be endorsed until a full report as to the cost is received."

COMMISSION GOES TO NEW YORK

Without Counsel for Defence—Legal Fight Looming.

The commission which is to take the evidence of the New York brokers in regard to the McGill case left for the big city yesterday afternoon.

Mr. McGill, owing to want of means, has been forced to countermand his instructions to his lawyers to appear on the New York commission, and to grant any aid for the purpose. McGill made a statement that he had no means to appear on the commission, and sent it to the government. He was, therefore, compelled to notify his counsel not to attend.

Mr. McGill's counsel strongly expressed the opinion that the New York commission proceedings are nugatory, and that any evidence that might be taken would be of no value. The legal objections are not disclosed, but will not be advanced until the proper time arrives.

"The crown takes the risk and responsibility of proceeding in the absence of the counsel of one of Mr. McGill's friends yesterday.

"It is safe to predict that a big legal battle may be anticipated, when the matter comes before the grand jury. The defence will be ready to go on when the criminal session opens on Jan. 7, if the crown desires to proceed then.

FOUR LAID IN ONE GRAVE

Funeral of Poor Victims of Escaping Gas Largely Attended.

Niagara Falls, Dec. 30.—The funeral of the four victims of the Harris family gas tragedy took place this afternoon in Lady's Lane cemetery. Not in the 125 years' history of the cemetery has such a group of people turned out to any one funeral. The cemetery was packed with a large crowd reaching way down the lane. The city police force had to guard the graveside as the stinging crowd gathered.

Three hearses were employed in the funeral cortege. The remains of Mrs. Harris and the 5-year-old Gertrude were placed in one casket, and were taken charge of by the Chosen Friends, of which Mrs. Harris was a member.

The remains of Mr. Harris were placed in another casket, and those of the 13-year-old son, Arthur, were carried by four playmates. Rev. Mr. Lavigne, pastor of Lady's Lane Methodist Church, conducted a short service in Morse's undertaker's parlors. "Praise be to God," and "Lead kindly light."

At the interment at the cemetery, where the three caskets were lowered to one grave, there was another short service, including the burial ritual of the Chosen Friends, the choir singing "Nearer, my God, to Thee," in which the vast multitude of people joined.

Little 8-year-old Myrtle, the only survivor of the family, was present. The little girl did not seem to realize what was going on. It is understood she has made some sort of wandering statement of what occurred at the cottage before the discovery was made, which will not be known until the inquest resumes. No one is allowed to see the girl, and the strictest watch is kept on her that her story will not become public before the jury resumes. Drs. Abraham and Thompson, who conducted the post-mortem on the four bodies, say nothing of any sensational nature was found, but their report will not be made public until the coroner's jury meets.

A Small Fire.
 Two vacant cottages, Nos. 29 and 30 Vine-street, were damaged by fire last night. About $50 will cover the loss. The cause of the fire is believed to be incendiary.

Girl's Accident.
 Sadie Corney of 4 Elliot-place fell and broke her leg at the ankle while playing with her little brother on Saturday night. She was taken to the General Hospital.

DEATH TERROR RULES LOZ

A CARNIVAL OF SLAUGHTER

Socialists Turn Russian Town Into Inferno of Crime—Lever to Intimidate Employers.

Lodz, Dec. 29.—The situation here is rapidly becoming acute. Sanguinary encounters were frequent during the day. Six persons have been killed and 12 wounded.

The authorities, at first supine, are now more active and are preparing to meet emergencies. It is believed that the workmen will eventually secure the upper hand over the Socialists, drive out the agitators and resume work within a few days.

Four of the largest cotton mills have been closed, and the proprietors of seven of the largest factories here, employing 100,000 persons, have announced their intention of closing their establishments in consequence of the system of terrorism inaugurated by the extreme Socialists. The announcement caused great excitement among the inhabitants generally of this city, as well as among the better classes of the factory employes, who fear that when this great army of unemployed persons begins to feel the want of bread, rioting will occur.

The factory employes, as a rule, are without any means to support themselves and their families during the hard winter prevailing.

One of the principal mill owners said that the employes were compelled to close down because the militant Socialists control the entire city and are murdering all those who do not accept their demands, which makes the continuance of business impossible.

The Socialists yesterday murdered no less than a score of Nationalist workmen in this city and vicinity, and they threaten to organize street riots and compel citizens at the point of revolvers to feed and lodge the unemployed.

The manager of the Schelblers' cotton mills and the foreman and engineers of another factory were murdered during the night by Socialists, and the engineers of those and other establishments, fearing assassination, refused this morning to return to their work. Consequently, four of the largest cotton mills shut down early today. The four which locked out their men this morning were the two Schelbler mills, the Fomanaki and Grobman mills, which collectively employ about 25,000 men, but double that number are indirectly affected.

Many of the wealthiest inhabitants of Lodz have left in anticipation of grave disorder.

FATE OF OTTAWA COLLEGE CONSIDERED BY OBLATES

Owing to Financial Distress Catholic Institution Will Probably Be Abolished.

Ottawa, Dec. 30.—(Special.)—Roman Catholic circles at the capital are disturbed by a report in circulation to the effect that a recommendation has been made to the Chapter of the Oblate Order, which controls Ottawa University, that the institution be abolished.

The suggestion, it is asserted, has been seriously considered by the chapter of the order in Rome. In recent years the troubles of the university have been growing thick and fast. Heavy financial obligations followed the destruction of the old university buildings by fire a few years ago, and it has become a heavy financial burden upon the Oblate Order.

Recently it was reported that the university would become a purely English-speaking institution. This was denied by the authorities, who declared it would be continued in its dual educational role. Now comes the report that the university will be abolished.

The racial troubles in connection with the management of the university are said to have become so acute that it is doubtful if it can continue to be conducted along present lines with success. Neither could it succeed as a French university in the open country.

The problem which the authorities have to face is an extremely difficult and delicate one, and it would not be regarded as remarkable if the Oblate Order has seriously considered a proposal to close the institution and leave the education of the Catholic youth of Canada in future to Laval and St. Michael's College, Toronto.

PASS THE POWER BY-LAW.

Taken on its simple merits, the offer made to the municipalities by the hydro-electric commission regarding the supply of electricity from the Niagara generators is eminently fair and reasonable.

The electric ring now fighting so desperately against the power by-law have been convicted of an attempt to exact from the power consumers and the municipalities rates and charges far in excess of those properly leviable.

The insurance companies of the United States did something of this kind. It was justly deemed the most atrocious of all their misdemeanors.

To-day in Toronto corporations are taking money, collected from citizens, to elect officers against the power by-law. The merchant who favors the by-law is confronted with posters, advertisements, circulars, and solicitors, paid for out of a fund to which the merchant has contributed by paying his bill for light to the Electric Light Company.

In Canada, to-day, the Bell Telephone Company boasts that it has spent, and will spend, large sums in fighting the people and using the people's money to do it.

This is illegal and criminal, but the civil law is sufficient for such usurpation, and the law prescribes a penalty. That penalty for a transgressing corporation is death. Its franchise to be a corporation is rightly forfeit to the state which gave it life.

Will somebody kindly wake up the benevolent old gentleman who is snoring so loudly? He is the attorney-general of Canada.

About 18 months ago the C.P.R. set at naught by issuing to its shareholders a dividend of $125, stock then worth on the market, $75. Except for protests from The Toronto World and The Toronto Telegram, this high-handed proceeding passed without comment.

A few months later the Bell Telephone Co. was authorized by the Dominion parliament to increase its capital stock from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000. It was understood at the time that their stock worth, say $165, was to be issued to shareholders and to others, with money for melons, at $125. To prevent this W. F. Maclean, M.P. (South York) proposed an amendment requiring this corporation to offer the added stock to the public at sale by auction. This was voted down by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Aylesworth and the Liberal majority, reinforced by many Conservatives. The house seemed unable or unwilling to understand that there was anything reprehensible in cutting the melon.

Melons continue to be popular with plutocrats, who plunder the people. They delight in dividing unearned millions and fastening fabulous debts upon the unfortunate consumers, who pay the freight. But there are signs of rebellion among the long-suffering people of the United States, as is evidenced by the following editorial from The Duluth Tribune under date of the 24th inst.:

"Now comes the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road with a Christmas melon. An issue of $100,000,000 of new stock is announced, but it is not offered on the market to the highest bidder, so that the largest cash return may be secured. On the contrary it is apportioned to the present stockholders at par.

An Milwaukee at its street value is worth a premium of $7.50, every shareholder by availing himself of the offer, conveys into his own pocket that amount for each share he owns. In other words he sold openly on the street this $100,000,000 of new stock would net for the issuer, something like $77,500,000 more than will be secured by this method of distribution.

If $100,000,000 is all that is needed, it could be had by floating about $60,000,000 of new stock and the public would have to pay dividends on only that amount instead of the greater sum.

Of course your grocer has WINDSOR TABLE SALT. He will send it to you always, if you specify WINDSOR.

I know an old man who has had a great deal of trouble and many losses and misfortunes; but he started out in life with a firm determination to extract just as much real enjoyment from life, as he went along, as possible—not in dissipation, but in wholesome recreation and fun.

He has always tried to see the humorous side of things, the bright side, and the duty of happiness. The good old year hath run his race. And the latest hour draws near; The cold day dawns with a lustreless face, And he hobbles along with a listless pace.

See how his stiff joints taint and shrink. As the cold breeze whistles by; He hath a bitter cry to drink. As he watches the sand in his hour-glass sink. Standing alone by the key brink On the gulf of eternity.

He reels—he elopes—no power at hand To check him from tumbling o'er; The hour-glass clinks with its latest sand. And onward brandish falls like the stroke of a brand.

And lo! in the east a star ascends, While the star that travels above him bends. O'er a sea of floating plumes. —Charles Graham Spaulding.

In the United States wonderful progress has been made in securing the passage of legislation which has for its object the efficient control of the common carriers of the country.

The people of Canada, who have followed the lead of the United States, have not been slow to imitate the example of their neighbors.

It is a well recognized principle that all transportation charges should be based on the actual value of railroad properties. Certainly then the time is passed when railroad stocks should be increased except for actual improvements.

Mr. Bryce was a scholar at Trinity College, Dublin, and the winner of innumerable prizes, and he carried his Oxford career by his professorship, which he held for nearly a quarter of a century, from 1870 to 1888.

His life-long support of home rule, in the face of powerful opposition, brought him the recent distinction of holding the portfolio for Irish affairs in the present Liberal cabinet.

Entering parliament in 1880, he became under secretary for foreign affairs in 1886, and distinguished himself by a speech in support of the first home rule movement. When Gladstone was planning his second assault upon the union, Mr. Bryce, as chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, did him yeoman service of framing the second bill. As president of the board of trade under Lord Rosebery he devoted much attention to railway questions.

When his party retired for a decade, Mr. Bryce published several books, and then became chairman of the Balkan committee and vexed Downing-street by his vigorous speech in support of the "interesting nationalities" of that region. Mr. Bryce has always been an ardent and distinguished mountaineer, and he has been a member of the Alpine Club since 1861, and has traveled almost every where. He is believed to be the only man since Noah who has descended a top of Ararat. He is 70 and married a daughter of Thomas Ashurst of Manchester.

THE FUTURE IS YOUR UNCLEBLOK OF MARBLE. Beware how you smite it. Don't touch it without a program. Don't strike a blow with your club without a model. Let your ruin and your fortune be determined within the block; which you have carved into hideous images, which have warped and twisted the ideals of your youth, and caused you infinite pain, need not ruin or mar the uncut block before you. This is one of the merciful provisions of the law, so that every day every man bears a new chance to retrieve the past, to improve upon it if he will.

Nothing is more foolish, more positively wicked than to drag the skeletons of the past, the hideous images, the perils of the past into to-day's work to mar and spoil it. There are plenty of people who have been failures up to the present moment who could do wonders in the future if they only forgot the past. If they only had the ability to cut it off, to close the door on it forever and start anew.

His Cigar Doesn't Taste Right

And Yet It Is the Same He Was Smoking With So Much Relish After Dinner, Last Night, Out of the Very Same Box, Too.

It isn't the Sugar—It's the Stomach

Every smoker has experienced this peculiar condition of the stomach and liver, the result usually of imperfect digestion of food. And the blame is usually put on the cigar and not where it belongs.

They should make it a practice to use some tried and reliable remedy like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, that will aid nature and not force it and take care of the sudden attacks of acute indigestion.

The use of these tablets is not to be confounded with the patent medicine habit. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a patent medicine, but are composed of the very elements which nature provides the healthy stomach to do the work of digestion—pepsin, diastase, golden seal, etc. There is no secret in their preparation—they are absolutely pure and therefore all the world uses them.

No matter how disordered the stomach may be, it will right itself under the chance. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give food where the stomach can't digest the abused stomach and intestines a rest, and offer renewed strength to the worn out glands and muscles.

Brain workers can rely on Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, no matter how tense the strain. All druggists carry them in the fifty cent packages, or if you prefer a free trial package can be had by sending your name and address to-day. F. A. Stuart Company, 71 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

WILL TRY TO FIND A ROUTE NORTH OF KINGSTON ROAD

Residents of the Beaches Advance Plan of Campaign Against Railway Invasion.

In point of numbers and enthusiasm Saturday night's meeting of Balmly and Kew Beachers, called to protest against the proposed extension of the C.N.R. and C.P.R. via the lake front, was all that could be desired, from the standpoint of the objectors. The old Kew Beach fire hall was jammed to suffocation, and the speeches (and there were a lot of them) showed a disposition to fight the railways to a finish. W. L. Edmunds of Kew Beach was unanimously voted to the chair, and throughout a somewhat noisy meeting succeeded in staying off any serious complications.

While the object of the meeting as set out in the posters was to secure the endorsement of the citizens generally to the petition now in circulation protesting against the railways coming thru any part of the beaches, the meeting went further and outlined an alternative route. Nothing south of St. Lawrence street was the slogan, and as much further north as the railways like. As for the proposal to come along the shore line, there were dark hints thrown out respecting the efficacy of the shot gun regime to prevent such a contingency.

Major Conroy of Toronto was one of the first to arrive, and in the course of a short speech expressed his sympathy with the movement. He was, however, looked upon as the procedure adopted by the committee with reference to getting funds to carry on the campaign. The object to fight the railways ought not to come out of the pockets of the citizens of Kew and Balmly Beaches, said his worship, "but from the municipalities." The City of Toronto, Township of York, Scarborough and East Toronto might well share the share of the cost. The mayor urged the committee to make a strong representation at Ottawa, and not to delegate this work to a representative, but to appear in person, and he signified his desire to accompany them. Railways were a necessity, of the residential sections of Kew and Balmly Beaches ought to be kept inviolate.

John McP. Ross, candidate for the majority of East Toronto, made a speech full of fight, and dwelt on the natural beauties of the beaches. Mr. Ross is an artist, and spoke with special reference to the scenic values of the eastern suburb.

Ex-Ald. Thomas Davies was in an aggressive mood, and would not hear of any compromise in the matter of routes. Much of the would-be controller's speech was lost in queries from the crowd respecting the now famous "denkey case." When order was restored, Mr. Davies declared that he would not be in favor of allowing the railways to come south of the Kew.

"Sandy" Gemmill, described as one of the "fathers of the beach," took strong ground against the destruction of the waterfront or any part of the residential district. "If you let them come in on the highland," said Mr. Gemmill, "you ruin the district as a residential part, and if they ever come along the shore line you will have children killed in seven or eight years. They are all after Ashbridge's Bay, and the city is standing idly by and doing nothing."

Mayor Richardson (East Toronto) was heartily in sympathy with the movement, "but you have to have the railways somewhere," said the mayor. "Make them come in over the common road."

J. J. Dixon (treasurer of the citizens' fund) was hopeful of outside aid. "I don't think the city is showing any anxiety to help us out," said he. "We have made a contribution, but ten times as much is needed. You can't send deputations and expert engineers to Ottawa for nothing."

An alternative route. A. J. Russell Snow declared that the opposition to the railways must not be a fatuous one. We must have the roads. Let them come in where they will, Toronto was being sidetracked in favor of Montreal, and unless some equally good alternative route could be shown to the projectors, the mission to Ottawa would be a fruitless one. Mr. Snow favored the use of the natural ravines leading up the rear of the Woodbine, and the George A. Cox property at Glen Stewart, across the Beach-avenue under the bridge and thence northward.

At this stage in the proceedings Joel Marvin Briggs forged his way to the front, and seizing a favorable opportunity mounted a rickety table and began to orate. Chairman Edmunds stem into force for some time to stem the tide of his oratory, but the audience came to the rescue and literally drowned the would-be controller out during one of his long breathing periods.

It remained for C. B. Watts to precipitate the discussion of the evening. Mr. Watts' plan was in the early stage hailed with a good deal of satisfaction, but when it was shown that the cost would figure up to a large sum the ardor of the meeting toward the scheme visibly lessened.

"Employ the very best engineer available anywhere," said Mr. Watts, "let him run a trial line, or two, three, four or five trial lines, but let him get a better one than the railway company, and then let us unite on that," he said. The C.N.R. would be part of a transcontinental line, and Toronto could not afford to throw obstacles in the way, but should rather assist. East of the Don within the next five years, there would be an enormous development. In answer to a question Mr. Watts stated that the cost of running trial lines would be no use in going to Ottawa to protest against the C.N.R. coming thru Kew and Balmly Beaches, said Mr. Watts, unless the residents were prepared to show proficiencies to back up objections!

A Dangerous Experiment. John Lewis, Mr. Davies, F. M. Bakker and others protested against allowing Mr. Watts' proposal to pass in view of the fact that the engineer employed by the committee might adopt the very route suggested by the present C.N.R. survey, and then what? "Let us look out for ourselves," said H. J. Dingman, "and fight the railway alone."

THOMPSON-SETON WINS FIGHT

Wyndyoni, Their Woodland Estate, Will Be Preserved.

New York, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Ernest Thompson-Seton won her fight against Mrs. Elizabeth Milbank Anderson in Greenwich yesterday, when a town meeting decided by acclamation to urge the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad to run their new short line between New York and Boston along the line of the original route.

This means the cutting in two of the $1,000,000 estate of Mrs. Anderson and the preservation of Wyndyoni, the beautiful and romantic woodland estate of the Thompson-Setons.

Ernest Thompson-Seton made an eloquent address in favor of the preservation of his country place. He stated he had received letters from Pope Pius, Lord Roberts, Gen. Baden-Powell and leading American educators, stating that the ruin of Wyndyoni would mean a direct blow at American boyhood.

The fight made by Ernest Thompson-Seton and his wife against the encroachments of railroad corporations on their property, Wyndyoni, was one of the bitterest and most sensational in the history of this country about which more has been written. There the naturalist has many treasures of art and trophies stored in the centre of the grounds is an artificial lake of much beauty, and in the middle of this stands a weedy island, constructed for the "Exhibition" of 1893.

On Nov. 20, this year, when Mrs. Thompson-Seton saw that the railroad company was planning to cut through the grounds, she called her husband, who was delivering lectures in England, where he had been for some time, and she asked him to return to the United States to help her in the fight.

After a few days of careful planning with her husband, Mrs. Thompson-Seton returned and at once stirred up the rest of the trustees and the local people. The women held meetings to protest against the spoliation of beautiful Wyndyoni, and everyone took hand in the fight against the proposed destruction of the grounds.

The fight was a hard one, and it was not until the end of the year that the fight was practically won, if public sentiment could be relied on.

REFUSE TO SIGN DOCUMENT TO QUIT CAPTAINS' UNION

Dispute Between German Shipping Lines and Employes Assumes Serious Aspect.

Hamburg, Dec. 29.—The dispute between the German shipping lines and their officers, originating in the companies' demand that the officers sign a statement announcing their withdrawal from the German Captains' and Officers' Mercantile Marine Association, which the lines contend is in direct opposition to them, has assumed a serious aspect.

The majority of the officers have refused to sign the document, declaring that they are unable to admit that their employers have the right to interfere in their private affairs. The result is that 71 officers have been punished and eight have been dismissed.

At a meeting yesterday, attended by 88 captains and other officers of the Hamburg-American Co. and 20 other members of the association, a resolution was adopted promising loyalty to the lines, and at the same time petitioning for the withdrawal of the obnoxious requirement. The meeting also appointed a committee to lay the matter before the Hamburg-American Co., but the latter to-day refused to entertain the petition.

The officers of the Levant Line have refused to sign the statement demanded by the company, and insist on the reinstatement of the officers who have been punished.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Receipts of farm produce were 900 bushels of grain, 30 loads of hay, several loads of apples, and the usual Saturday's delivery of butter, eggs and poultry on the market.
A heavy three hundred bushels sold at 72c to 73c; 200 bushels, good, at 71c.
Butter—Four hundred bushels sold at 52c to 53c; the bulk selling at 52c to 53c.
Hay—Thirty loads sold at 114 to 116 per ton for timothy, and 111 to 112 for mixed.
Dressed Hogs—Prices ranged from 24c per lb. to 29c per lb.
J. Ryan, wholesale dealer, reports car lots of New Brunswick Delawares 75c to 80c per bag, on track at Toronto.
Poultry—Deliveries larger on Friday and Saturday, caused prices to be easy, as follows: Quail, 12c to 14c; ducks, 12c to 14c; chickens, 40c to 50c; turkeys, 80c to 90c.
Butter—Deliveries large, prices easier at 52c to 53c; the bulk selling at 52c to 53c. But customers think that this price is too high and were very reluctant to pay it. Prospects are for lower prices for butter.
Eggs—Strictly new-laid eggs were more plentiful, with prices easier, ranging from 50c to 55c per dozen. Early in the day, 50c per dozen was paid by a few special customers, but 45c to 50c was paid at the close of the market. If the weather continues mild look out for a big drop in egg prices.

Market Notes.

M. P. Malton, wholesale dealer in poultry, took a flying leap to London, Ont., at the close of the week and bought a carload of the best poultry raised by the farmers of the west.
George Puddy of Puddy Bros., Alabaster, Cal., had some of the finest lots of turkeys seen on the market. Mr. Puddy reports prices as being much easier than at the beginning of the week.
Malton & Wood, butchers, bought a large quantity of the finest beef of the finest quality, but they had to pay 10c per lb. a floor lot sold on the market, and some of the best of prime quality and property done.

John Dickinson & Co. wired H. G. Davidson as follows:
What the general situation appears to be getting gradually stronger in the certainty that Europe must take large quantities of our wheat, becomes daily more apparent. Russian shipments are decidedly less and the Argentine crop is not yet ready. Minneapolis reports a better demand for flour and anticipates more active trade after Jan. 1, as the stocks in interior cities are considered now to be light. The visible supply is now 43,836,000, or about 3,500,000 bushels more than last year when wheat was 40,336,000 and about 4,000,000 more than the black rust year, when wheat was 40c per bushel higher. The fact that wheat is the cheapest article in any of the markets is now attracting attention to it, and it would not take much to start a good advance and we still advise purchase of May oats and look for active trade with many fluctuations in this feature all winter.
