GERMANS GATHERING AT THE GATES OF THE POLISH CAPITAL

Chief Russian Problem Now Is to Preserve Great Army Intact

Evacuation of Warsaw Seems But Matter of Hours—Enemy Threatens Grand Duke's Forces and British Press Admits Menace is Imminent

London, July 30—Warsaw, the third city of Russia, and the goal for which the German armies in the east have been striving since October, is at last in the throes of abandonment.

Disoriented not only through France and Great Britain, but in Russia itself, the fall of the city is expected hourly, and the problem now is to move the Russian armies intact, threatened as they are from the south by the Austro-Germans, and more seriously from the north, where the German forces, which have swept through Poland, are aiming at the railway from Warsaw to Petrograd.

This latter menace, the British press admits, is imminent, and the hope in the allied countries now is not for the safety of Warsaw, but for the continued cohesion of the Russian army.

The Warsaw post office already has been shifted to some point to the eastward, the populace has been warned to remain calm. Presumably for days, Russian troops have been stripping the city of everything of military value.

GREAT THING IS TO SAVE ARMY

London, July 30.—A Petrograd despatch to the "Times" dated Thursday says: "The newspapers are preparing the public mind for a new withdrawal necessitated by the enemy's overwhelming superiority in guns and munitions. It is pointed out that further efforts to cling to the Vistula-Narew lines are attended with grave dangers. The paramount consideration is to preserve the army, no matter what sacrifice of territory. In official circles it is hoped the public will receive calmly the news of the forthcoming retirement and evacuation."

TRENCH TO TRENCH ON WESTERN FRONT

Paris, July 30.—The French War Office this afternoon reported: "Near Southern France, the fighting continued until midnight with great fury. A fresh German counter-attack was repulsed. A certain number of our troops inflicted heavy losses on the enemy."

BERLIN SENDS OUT REPORT THAT POPE IS WORKING FOR ARMISTICE

Berlin, July 30.—A Madrid despatch to the Overseas News Agency quotes a Spanish newspaper as reporting from Rome that the Pope is preparing a great action through the episcopate of belligerent countries, with the object of securing an armistice. The Archbishop of Pisa is quoted as confirming the story, and adding that Pope Benedict himself is aware of the grave difficulties which he has to overcome.

SAYS SUSSEX MAN SHOT NINETEEN

Mayor Wallace Gets Letter Telling About Norman Barden

HE HAS WON THE D. C. M.

A Hint to Some Who Should be in Khaki—News of Other Kings County Soldiers—Items About Maritime Province Men in War

A Sussex man at the front, Roy Stabierford, writing to Major Wallace, tells of meeting Norman Barden in France and says:—

"Norman has some good stories to tell about life in the trenches. But of himself he would say nothing, although in talking to you, I found out a lot, which you will be glad to hear. In the first place he has been recommended for the D. C. M. for bravery and good work done while in action. In the first place he was mentioned for saving three machine guns at Ypres, and again for going up after night to the first line of German trenches and getting their positions of information regarding the enemy, and in the second place for doing some good sniping. In one case he was known to shoot nineteen Germans.

The whole battalion is proud of him, they cannot speak too highly of him, and Sussex should be proud of him, for he has been an honor to it, and a grand example to some of those chivalrous soldiers that generally infest the camp grounds this time of it; years; how freely they wear the King's uniform, but the question that is being asked over here is whether they are not in it? This is the question that is being asked over here, and school-mates who are now in the firing line.

TO START WORK ON MAIN STREET MONDAY

New Sewer Between Douglas Avenue and Adelaide Street—The Car Tracks

The building of a new sewer in Y street between Douglas avenue and Adelaide street, engaged the consideration of the mayor and commissioners in committee today. Commissioner Wigmore was granted permission to proceed at an estimated cost of $1,100. This will later have to be ratified by the council, but since the consent of all the commissioners was given this morning Mayor Frink presiding, it was agreed that because of the urgency of the situation, the work should be begun on Monday morning. Commissioner Wigmore said that if necessary he wished to have the right to ask the commissioner to finance to provide the funds, and he would like to feel that he had the support of the council should a bond issue be necessary.

His worship said that he thought that as what it would ultimately come to in such a case it would probably be necessary to give a higher rate than heretofore. The trend of the money market was evidenced in the fact that the Canadian government was placing a $46,000,000 loan out at 3 per cent. except from taxation.

"That's a point which will have to be considered by the new assessment commission," remarked Commissioner Potts.

Commissioner Potts said that since the roadway was to be torn open it would be an opportune time for the St. John Railway Co. to begin work he had suggested in improving the grade between Douglas avenue and Kennedy street.

"There is still a desire on the part of the company to quibble over small things," he said, "but now that the rails on the northern side will be closed to traffic for the time being it would be a good chance for the grading work and the placing of the new intersection at Douglas avenue to be started."

Commissioner Wigmore—"When I was speaking to Mr. Hopper he said he was waiting for word from the commissioner of public works and wanted to know when I was going to begin."

Commissioner Potts—"When were you talking to him?"

Commissioner Wigmore—"Yesterday afternoon."

Commissioner Potts—"Well, he needn't have been waiting for me had already heard from me before that."

The commissioner of public works said he had received from Manager Hopper a reply to his last letter regarding street railway work, but asking for more "express directions."

A request from Bond & Scott for permission to erect an electric sign in Charlotte street over their cafe was left with the commissioner of public works for a report.

STILL HELD

Mrs. Dorothy Conway, a young woman who was taken into custody a few days ago when it became known that she had no place to go and who told a story which was not given credence, is still in jail. She has since acknowledged that her statements were not true. She says her mother is living in Halifax. It is not as yet determined what will be done with her.

HIS MEMORY NOT VERY GOOD

Livery Man of Summerside Who Sold Horses

LONG TIME GETTING FACTS

W. B. McNeill on the Stand in the Investigation of Sales to the Canadian Militia Department—The Matter of Shipments

Summerside, P. E. I., July 30.—W. B. McNeill, livery man of the town, who sold eighty-one horses for $18,429 to Major Anderson of Moncton, for a battery of artillery, was called to the stand when the Davidson war contracts commission re-opened its inquiry this morning.

McNeill proved to have very little exact remembrance of the prices he paid for horses or from whom he bought them, and it took John Thompson, K. C. of Ottawa, more than an hour questioning to get from him the names of six horse sellers.

McNeill thought he had paid for horses ranging from $168 to $210, as compared with the average of $227 paid by the militia department. Mr. Thompson's first question to McNeill was: "From whom did you buy horses for Major Anderson, and what did you pay for them?"

McNeill said he could not give the information that answer. The witness replied that Mr. Thompson could please himself.

Conceded then said he was going to stay there till he got the facts, and McNeill thought very hard for almost five minutes. He then said what he meant was that he could not remember all the people, some he did not know.

Mr. Thompson sharply urged the witness to give at least some names and prices, and McNeill said he had bought a horse from J. E. Perry, he was not sure how much he paid him, but thought $165. He did not remember whether he paid for the horses by check or cash. He bought a horse from J. A. Morrison for $210, one from Harry Silliphant for $160 and another from J. B. Callbeck for $180. He would not swear to any of these amounts. He had bought from Pat Ryan of Summerside, but did not recollect the details.

Douglas Gordon, Summerside agent of the Charlottetown Navigation Company, was recalled to produce contracts dealing with the shipment of horses by W. B. McNeill to Major Anderson. His books showed the following details: August 21, six horses, freight paid by McNeill; August, eleven horses, $11 freight; August 31, fifty-four horses, $175 freight; September 8, ten horses. On the last three shipments the freight was paid at Point Du Chene and the punter believed, by Major Anderson. The August 28 shipment was at first billed as ten horses, but afterwards it was found there were eleven aboard.

Becker Dies Protesting To Last That He Was Innocent

Walks Unaided to Death Chair and Shock is Given as He is Engaged in Prayer—Leaves Signed "Dying Declaration"

Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y., July 30.—Charles Becker was put to death in the electric chair here this morning for the killing of Herman Rosenthal, a New York gambler. The former New York police lieutenant retained his composure and protested his innocence to the last. He went to his death with a photograph of his wife pinned on his shirt, over his heart. Three shocks were given before the prison physician pronounced Becker dead, at 2:56 o'clock.

Showed Fortitude

Becker led the way to his own execution. The condemned man sat up all night on the edge of his cot, calmly talking to Deputy Charles H. Johnson. He hesitated as he entered the execution room. It seemed to the witnesses as if he were startled that the death chair was so near at hand. He looked quickly at the double row of witnesses, glanced at the floor swept with his eyes the whitened walls of the room, and then, suddenly, as if coming to himself, walked briskly over the rubber mat and seated himself in the electric chair. Behind Becker, followed the prison priests chanting the prayer of death which was repeated by the condemned man.

His Last Prayer

"Jesus, Mary, Joseph, have mercy on my soul," nervously spoke Becker as deputy wardens stepped forward and adjusted the electrodes. Hardly a minute elapsed before the electrode was applied to the right leg, a slit having been previously cut in the trousers leg from the knee down.

RECTIFY MINOR PHYSICAL DEFECTS OF RECRUITS AND MAKE THEM GOOD SOLDIERS

Further Particulars of New Military Policy in Canada—Recruiting Doctor to Have The Final Word

Ottawa, July 30.—In connection with the new policy adopted by the military authorities respecting physical qualifications of recruits, there has been a deduction of size standards and minor physical defects will not cause rejection. Hereafter, instead of refusing to accept men with poor teeth, with corns, bunions, minor hernia and various other defects, such men will be enlisted, cured, trained and sent forward.

Dental and medical depots will be organized to correct physical imperfections. Hereafter, when a man comes in with poor teeth, but who is sound otherwise, he will be allowed to accept men whose chests are below the standard if they are satisfied that the military training will bring them up to size. It is estimated that 15,000 men have failed to gain admittance to the overseas service who would now be sent to Europe if this policy had been followed from the first.

VOTE $500 FOR SPECIAL WORK THAT MAY BE NECESSARY TO DO

Confidential Communications From Ottawa to Police Chief Referred To

Confidential requests from the Dominion police department in Ottawa were referred to at a meeting in City Hall today by Commissioner McLellan, who asked for a grant of $500 to provide for special work which might be necessary during the coming month. He explained that Chief Simpson had received from Ottawa these letters, marked "secret," but because of the possible necessity of having to make certain expenditures in executing the desires of the department, he had deemed it advisable to show them to Commissioner McLellan.

"I ask for this grant without explaining what the nature of the expenditures may be," said the head of the safety department. "And I can only say that you will have to depend upon me as to the grant. I do not feel, personally, that such an amount will be required, but I think it is well to be prepared. We have done considerable in the way of rounding up aliens and having them registered at the police headquarters. We have more than 200 on our books, and have been complimented by Colonel Sherwood, not once, but several times, upon the satisfactory manner in which the work has been done. In reply to a letter printed here a few days ago, giving credit entirely to the Dominion police for what they had done in rounding up aliens, I may say that whoever wrote it did not know what he was talking about. Our police department did much of what the militia was supposed to have done, and Col. Sherwood's statement as to the Dominion police refers only to Montreal."

Commissioner moved that the $500 be granted, and the motion was carried.

SUBMARINES HAVE LITTLE EFFECT UPON TRAFFIC ON THE SEAS

London, July 30.—During the week ended July 28, British merchantmen of a gross tonnage of 5,640 were destroyed by German submarines, while six British fishing vessels were sunk by submarines and one by a mine. During that period the arrivals at British ports numbered 2,788 and the sailings 1,384.

HAS LEARNED ABOUT HIM

Chief Simpson has received word that Michael Cogswell, who is under arrest in Albert, N. B., on a vagrancy charge, resided in West St. John for several years. He first came to St. John about twenty years ago and resided near the Old Fort. Particulars will be sent to the magistrate in Albert.

HANLEY DECLARED TO BE OUT OF DANGER

William Hanley, it is now definitely stated at the General Public Hospital, will recover from the injuries sustained in the stabbing incident at Coldbrook.

Winnipeg, Man., July 30.—This is nomination day in Manitoba. Candidates of both parties are lined up in every constituency and surprises may develop. Two Liberals may split the government vote in Beautiful Plains, and there is some talk of a third independent progressive candidate in Brandon, where one of the hottest fights is being waged between Sir James Aikens, the opposition leader, and S. T. Clements, a strong local liberal candidate. Elsewhere in the province it is likely to be a straight party contest, except in the city of Winnipeg, where two Socialists are already in the north riding and two more may develop in the centre.

MAYOR RECEIVES

$3,350 MORE FOR GUNS
Former Governor McClelland Donates $500 to Belgian Fund

The following contributions to the machine gun fund, totalling $3,350, were received this morning by Mayor Frink: R. Ross, $1,000; F. P. Starr, $1,000; W. Malcolm Mackay, $1,000; J. S. Gregory, $100; J. A. Tillon, $250.

LIKELY GIVE TWO GUNS AND MEN TO USE THEM

Kings county hopes to raise funds enough to provide ten machine guns. At a meeting in Sussex last evening S. H. White said that the Sussex Mercantile Company and other mercantile and milling concerns in which he was interested would donate one gun and perhaps two. He felt quite confident that the two gun mark would be reached. Mr. White further said if it could be arranged and the men accepted, gun crews at the guns would also be furnished from men in their employ.

Fredericton
Fredericton will give at least five and perhaps six machine guns. Seven subscriptions of $500 each were made on Wednesday and Thursday the donors being J. D. Palmer, H. C. Kitchin, F. B. Edgcombe, R. F. Randolph, F. W. Clark, Hon. George J. Collier and R. Chestnut & Sons, while the committee have also received several subscriptions of $100 each and other liberal amounts.

Moncton
Last evening Moncton required to raise only $104.75 more to make the price of a machine gun.

At a meeting of St. Andrew's town council last night it was unanimously decided to contribute one machine gun. Twenty prominent citizens subscribed for another and a third has been partly subscribed for.

IS WESTERN ROUTE CHOSEN FOR THE VALLEY RAILWAY?

At a meeting of the council of the board of trade this morning, J. W. Thomson, president, presided. He presided over an interview between Hon. Mr. Cochrane, minister of railways, on his return to St. John, and a committee from the board, was presented. In substance it was the effect that the minister said there was little money available for public expenditures because of the demands for provisions, but a tentative consideration was being given to the matter of more direct connection with St. John by the railway department.

Entrance to St. John by the western route, was the subject of a conference considered the most advisable, no action was to be taken towards replacing the I. R. elevator for the present. The report was considered at some length by the council.

The secretary, R. E. Armstrong, reported upon an interview with F. P. Gutelius, general manager for the government of the Maritime Board of Trade, to a conference with the board of trade here. No time was arranged, and since Mr. Gutelius was not at present in Moncton, a date would have to be made later, possibly for the first of next week.

The secretary also reported that the secretary of the civil assessment commission had called upon him in respect to securing taxation information, and had been given the same as far as possible. The matter was left with the taxation committee.

VAGARIES OF MEMORY
We Forget Important Things and Remember Strange Scenae
The psychologists have given much study to the vagaries of memory, which are among the most interesting of mysteries. Why do we forget certain things and remember others? This question, together with many others of a like nature, seems as yet to be unanswered.

Then, too, curiously enough, bygone experiences will revive after a long oblivion, often as the result of some cerebral disease or accident. Such a case was that of the young woman in Germany who could neither read nor write, but who was held to be possessed of a devil since, in a fever, she was heard raving in Latin, Greek, and Hebrew, and pages and pages of her talk were written down, and they were found to consist of sentences intelligible in themselves, but not having the slightest connection with one another.

BECKER DIES PROTESTING

TO THE LAST THAT HE WAS INNOCENT

After the electrode had been firmly attached against a shaved spot on the back of the condemned man's head, the state executioner looked at Deputy Warden Johnson who surveyed the figure that was still mumbling the death prayer in the chair. Johnson half turned his head and the executioner jammed the switch.

During the night Becker pencilled on a piece of paper, what he captioned "Dying Declaration." It was taken from the warden's office, where two copies were typewritten. These Becker signed with his fountain pen, in a bold hand. Deputy Warden Johnson, who had charge of the execution, asked that Becker should not believe in the death penalty, which Becker would not believe in.

THE SENLAC IN NEW SERVICE
(Charlottetown Examiner)
The steamer Senlac, recently secured to run between St. John's, Nfld., and Summerside, calling at Charlottetown and Sydney, and also South, when cargo offers, arrived in port on Tuesday night from Summerside.
The Senlac got into Summerside on Monday night from Halifax, and after discharging a small freight, consisting mostly of meat, she filled up the space allotted for that port with potatoes, hay, cheese and cattle, and sailed for Charlottetown, and is now at Pownal wharf taking on a large cargo of general produce.
The Senlac is a wooden steamer of 1100 tons gross and 815 tons net. She was built in St. John, N. B., eleven years ago for the South Shore route between St. John and Halifax, and after that service was broken up by the introduction of the South Shore railway, she then went on the Bay Chaleur route.
The steamer is 184 feet long and thirty-four feet in beam, with a speed of eleven knots. She is so built as to be able to carry a surprising amount of cargo and also a large number of passengers. She is equipped with a modern electric plant and elevators. The steamer has yet to be painted and cleaned up, and when this is done should prove an excellent boat for the service. She is owned by W. N. McDonald of Halifax, and the commander is Capt. Kemp, formerly of the S.S. Cape Breton. The Senlac was recently thoroughly inspected and declared to be in A1 condition. This steamer, which was built by Davy Lynch of St. John, has the reputation of being the most solidly constructed wooden steamer ever built at that port.

O'REILLY HAS FUN AT GAY CABARET
The visit of Jere McAuliffe in his impersonation of "O'Reilly" to a gay cabaret in New York, furnished laughter and fun at the Opera House last evening when the second change of programme was given with the Homan's Musical Revue. The scene was prettily set in cabaret attire, and merrily the fun went on. There were amusing complications at the outset when some of the "boys" who thought to steal a march from their wives, found the latter on hand to take part in the "night out". Mr. McAuliffe was in his favorite Irish role, witty and humorous, while the others were hearty and were warmly applauded, while local hits found hearty favor. "O'Reilly at the Cabaret" will be come held him up in a smooth trip. Another performance tonight and a matinee tomorrow afternoon.

FORMER GERMAN LINER IN PORT AT MONTREAL; NOW IS BRITISH HUNTRUSS
The steamer Huntruss, which is now under the flag of the British India Steam Navigation Company, has arrived at Montreal from Liverpool after a long voyage. The Huntruss is a former German liner, and was captured by the British in the Indian Ocean. She is now being used as a transport for British troops to the front in France.

ORANGE GRAND LODGE B. N. A.
The Orange Grand Lodge of British America yesterday planned to contribute two machine guns to the empire's cause, following the example of the Black Chapter which contributed one gun. The grand secretary reported that during the year ninety new primary lodges had been instituted, five district lodges, five Royal Scarlet Chapters and forty-two lodges of the ladies' auxiliary. It was decided to give grants to the Orange orphanages at Picton, N. S., Picton, On. Westminister, B. C., and in Prince Edward Island.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell in addressing the Orange Grand Lodge in Manitoba, last night spoke of what Canada is doing in the present war. He lamented that there was one portion that was not doing what it ought to do. He did not specify.

BORDEN SAYS WE CANNOT, BECAUSE WE MUST NOT, FAIL
London, Eng., July 29.—Sir R. L. Borden was today accorded a very high honor—the freedom of London, England. The ceremonies took place at the Guild Hall, where the premier made an excellent address. He said in part—

"I wish to impress upon all within the British Isles, and those in the overseas dominions," he said, "that all for which our fathers fought and bled; all our liberties and institutions; all the influence for good of the British Empire throughout the world, hangs in the balance today, and therefore, we cannot, because we must not, fail. I bring from Canada a message of unflinching determination."

FOR SUMMER HOMES
DRINKING WATER RENDERED IMMUNE FROM TYPHOID BY MONTERRAT.
Most epidemics of typhoid are traceable to impure water. City people going to the country for the summer months or even for weekends, very often bring back typhoid in lake, river and well water. The bacteriologists at McGill University have proven that a small quantity of Monterrat Lime Juice will destroy typhoid germs in water, in twenty minutes. Typhoid can be prevented at home or in the country cottage by using Monterrat Lime Juice. It makes the water absolutely immune, besides providing a wholesome, cooling and thirst-quenching beverage. Keep a pitcher of this healthy beverage in the ice box. MONTERRAT LIME JUICE is for sale at all druggists and grocers.

LETTER TO HOME FROM FREDERICK SOLDIER
Gunner Jack Allen, the only Frederick boy with the 8th Battery, on the firing line in Flanders, has written an interesting letter to his father, Wesley Allen, telling of the magnificent work of his unit at Labasse. He says: "I am 'somewhere in Belgium' now after being in action for three weeks in France at Labasse. We had some pretty hot fighting, and killed of a few thousand Germans. In a couple of counter attacks we made on them we took about 100 yards of the Germans' first and second trench lines, but had to fall back owing to our reinforcements not getting up in time. We lost quite a number of men but nothing in comparison to the loss sustained by the Germans. Their trenches were full of dead and it was a terrible sight to see the wounded and dying."

THE WAR NEWS.

Today's war news affords great satisfaction—in Germany. It is useless to attempt to minimise the importance of the news from Russia. The press of Petrograd frankly confesses that until she gets more guns and munitions Russia cannot hold her own along the present battle-front, and the evacuation of Warsaw has apparently been decided on.

fare, by making the conditions of life healthful, and conducive to the development of vigorous and intelligent manhood and womanhood, alike in urban and in rural communities. In issuing bulletins on the conservation of life the Commission of Conservation is doing a most valuable work, for only by intelligent publicity can public attention be arrested and trains of thought set in motion to produce desired results.

AFRAID OF THE TRUTH.

The Standard again asserts that Mr. Carter has not yet made such charges in the matter of the hold-up of the liquor men, as should be investigated. Mr. Carter charges that at a time when they were led to fear their business would be destroyed by prohibition, and the question was actually before the government at Fredericton, the liquor dealers were called upon to contribute a very large fund, which was collected from them, and which they certainly would not have contributed except under pressure or in the expectation of a satisfactory return.

CANADA'S GREAT TASK.

The July quarterly bulletin on conservation of life, issued by the Commission of Conservation of Canada, deals with public health, housing and town planning. It is of special interest to people who are interested in town-planning. There are articles on its meaning and practical application; on the sanitary conditions in Canadian cities, and on town planning in New Brunswick, Alberta and Nova Scotia, as well as town planning and housing in Australia.

Machine guns will help to save the lives of Canadian soldiers. Keep up the good work. After Manitoba has cleaned house it should be New Brunswick's turn. There is need of it.

"We cannot because we must not fail," says Sir Robert Borden. This is a terse and true statement of the Empire's position.

When will the National Transcontinental be delivering grain to an elevator at St. John? Can Mr. Cochrane tell? Or Mr. Hasen?

Despite the submarines Britain's trade is carried on without difficulty. The British navy, if not spectacular, is remarkably efficient.

Ten men enrolled for enlistment at a recruiting meeting in Halifax last evening. All honor to Chatham, which is already well represented at the front.

The move soldiers Canada sends to the front the greater the obligation of those at home to keep the Patriotic Fund in a healthy condition. Praise of the heroes will not feed their children.

At a recruiting meeting in Halifax last night one hundred young men volunteered for the front and another hundred is expected today. The ranks of the 40th Battalion will soon be filled. What of the 58th?

Montreal will soon have 18,000 men in the king's uniform, either at the front or in training. Ontario and western towns have done better in proportion to population. Recruiting is least active in the maritime provinces.

The dulness in the lumber market is doubtless the chief cause of a decline in the exports from St. John to the United States, which for the last three months were only $590,008.46, compared with $860,544.8 in the corresponding period last year.

The British government gives its approval to the plan of establishing in India a great university to teach the Hindu religion. There is here a breadth of tolerance that explains Britain's influence in the world.

Old London paid a tribute of regard to Canada and the Canadian people yesterday when she presented their representative, Sir Robert Borden, with the freedom of the city. The Canadian premier very properly told his hearers, who included Premier Riquith and other members of the British government, that he brought them from Canada "a message of unflinching determination" in respect to Canada's share in the war.

PROCLAMATION

Fredericton, July 28.—His Honor the Lieut. Governor respectfully requests that Wednesday, the fourth day of August, be observed throughout the province as the first anniversary of Great Britain's declaration of war against Germany and that on that day clergy members of the several churches and others, in sermons and addresses, impress upon their hearers the determination to continue to victory the struggle for justice and liberty in which our nation and her allies are engaged.

LIGHTER VEIN.

"Did you punish Tommy for throwing a lump of coal at Willie Smith?" asked the careful mother. "I don't care so much for the Smith boy but I can't have anybody in this family throwing coal around like that."

"Now, Mr. Blank," said the temperance advocate to a candidate for municipal honors. "I want to ask you a question. Do you ever take alcoholic drinks?" "Before I answer, the question," responded the wary candidate, "I want to know whether it is put as an inquiry or as an invitation."

One young man met another, a friend of his and to do the proper thing, invited him to a French dinner. Everything was served in good style, but the different courses were dished up in very small portions.

At the conclusion the one who had received the invitation and who was perfectly accustomed to the general style of the restaurant said: "Pretty good meal, that for a dollar, eh?" "Yes," responded his friend, who was still hungry, "first rate! Now you have one with me."

Mr. E. S. Carter charges that calls were made on St. John liquor dealers for money, when the liquor legislation was pending last session, on behalf of the government. The Standard says he is a liar. But that is no answer. Mr. Carter makes a charge, and that charge should be investigated. Money was collected from the lumbermen when the renewal leases were pending, and money may have been collected from the liquor law under consideration. If any money was paid it was given to the government agents for government campaign purposes, and not given with the idea of influencing the vote of any private member of the legislature.

The World thinks any money so collected would go into a government campaign fund. The money was collected, and an enquiry would show who got it. The government refuses an enquiry. Why?

FIND TANGO PAIR WITH BIG OPIUM SUPPLY

Brass Knuckles and Rifle Part of Outfit — Detectives Announced They Were "a Couple of the Beys"

New York, July 30.—Lieut. Scherb, with three detectives of the "narotic squad" went to the King James Hotel at 137 West 43rd street to see if they could locate a reported source of opium supply.

Stepping up to the clerk they asked if Mr. and Mrs. Bennett were in. By telephone came answer: "Yes."

"Just tell them a couple of the boys from down town are here," said the detective.

"All right, let them come up," came the reply.

The detectives went to the room indicated and rapped on the door. It was opened and they rushed in. They said they found a man with an opium layout near him and a pipe in his hand. Near him was a woman.

The people said they were George Bennett, 24, and his wife, Mae Bennett, 23. A circular they showed to the police proclaimed "the world's greatest tango dancers. Since they arrived from Europe several weeks ago, the Bennetts had stayed at several high class hotels, finally going to the King James a week ago.

This is what the detectives say they found in the couple's rooms.

Eighty-one cans of opium, each weighing about seven ounces.

One bottle of cocaine.

Four boxes and one bottle of heroin.

One loaded automatic pistol, found under a pillow.

A two-pound bag of opium ashes.

Three opium pipes and layouts.

One shotgun and one rifle with a silencer attached.

Several clips of cartridges for the rifle.

A small roulette wheel.

In a pocket of a coat the police say they found a pair of metal knuckles.

Lieut. Scherb values the captured opium at about $4000, but says that at the rate the police have evidence Bennett sold it it would fetch about twice that amount. According to one of the detectives Mrs. Bennett said that as soon as the lot had been sold her husband intended to buy an automobile and start with her on a tour to San Francisco. It was in that city according to his statement that Bennett obtained his opium. He says he got it there before he last went abroad and secreted it in his trunk in the storeroom at a hotel.

The police say the seizure is one of the largest in years.

After a day's fishing by ten of the best local fishermen of Sableton, Kan., armed with the latest equipment for fishing, and securing no results, Walter Cooper, 11 years old, with a penny's worth of fish hooks, a can of angle worms, and a ball of twine fished in the same pond and captured a string of 22.

SAYS GERMANS SHOW HATRED OF CANADIANS

Prisoners Taken at St. Julien Prodded With Bayonets

CURSE HIGHLANDER KILTS

Canadian Says He Was Forced to Work in Machine Shops—Declares That German Croops Are Poor

Writing from London, under date of July 6, Douglas Robertson, correspondent of the Toronto Telegram, tells of the experience of Private H. Alford, of the Thirtieth Battalion (Montreal Highlanders), who spent nine weeks in Germany as a prisoner of war until he was exchanged as a member of the Medical Service Corps.

"Thank God I am out of that blooming Germany," exclaimed Alford, when the writer met him at Moore Barracks, Shorncliffe, the other day, whither Alford had come to report, prior to going away on leave as compensation for his imprisonment. "They got me in the big fight near St. Julien on the 24th April. You know, I saw three years' service in the Royal Army Medical Corps, and when I joined the Canadian contingent in Montreal, it was to go as a stretcher bearer. Well, as you know, the Germans surrounded a lot of us in that big scrap, and after a strenuous fight, the only thing the Canadians could do in the face of such odds, was to surrender—what there were left of them after the shells and bullets and gas. I got a bad dose of gas and was half dead, but fortunately I hadn't a scratch on me. Had I been seriously wounded those Germans would have done for me. Some of the poor fellows in our trench were too badly injured to walk, and the dirty swine of enemy killed them. I saw three times disabled bayoneted by the Germans. Nearly all of us had got the gas—some pretty badly. I had a dose all right and was half dead, but I could walk. Well, presently they marched us off and any poor beggar who lagged on the road got the bayonet poked in his back. There must have been about three hundred of us Canadians in the lot.

"The Germans marched us back to headquarters. And here we were taken and everything we carried was taken. All letters read. It was a twelve-mile march back from the trenches to the train, and I tell you that during the march we were just about all in the time we got there. All we had to eat was two little pieces of bread and some coffee.

"That journey on the train was something I don't want to experience again. We were loaded into open trucks with a guard over us. For four hours after that we were taken to a camp near the road to Germany. Finally we reached the Rhine Valley after all kinds of ways. It was a journey of about 300 miles from Ypres. This town, which is not far from Mainz and Bingen, is situated about 100 miles from the border."

Treated Like Swine

On reaching Gisingen, Alford and his companions in distress were all taken before the military authorities and again examined. The officer in charge here, says Alford, was a young man with heavily magnifying lenses in his glasses, and looked like a student. Despite his papers, however, Alford, along with the others, was sent to prison on the spot, and remained in durationville for nine weeks. Here they were treated like swine.

Worked in Machine Shops

"For the first five weeks of our captivity," said he, "we were asked to volunteer for various work. I took helping with the wounded, naturally, in every capacity had to toil up to eight every night. Then the Germans who violate every law of God and man and break the Hague and Geneva conventions as lightly as you would the shell on a fresh egg, ordered us all to go to work in the machine shops—a thing which is strictly forbidden for prisoners of war. Those who objected were threatened by soldiers with fixed bayonets, and prisoners who didn't work well were punished. You talk about the ancient Egyptians and the Israelites! They had nothing on the Germans as taskmasters. The guards on this job were grey-haired men, some of whom were very old, but they had loaded rifles and we had to obey them.

Foiled the Germans.

"One of the droll incidents," continued this returned guest of the Kaiser, "was when they put the paint on us. You know they paint red stripes on all prisoners—down the back and arms, and legs. Well, I was wearing a kilt and they wanted me to take it off and put on trousers, so that they could paint the stripes down my legs. I told them straight that it was against my religion to wear trousers and that there was another clause in my faith which forbade manual work of any kind. Say, they really fell for that stuff about the trousers and religion, and after a seven-day deliberation with his conferees, the officer in charge decided he would let me retain the kilt. He made a nasty mess of the rest of my clothes, slipping two coats on the back and sleeves just for a measure—and there wasn't any drier in it either! Then they paraded me up and down for about fifteen minutes in front of a regiment of soldiers, just to make a show of me.

"They have a particular hatred for the Highlanders in Germany. They call us all the 'Women Devils'.

German Crop Poor

"That the crops in Germany are very poor and suffering from drought, is the affirmation of Alford, who declares that during nine weeks, there were only two days' rain. Almost every man in the country appeared to be in uniform. The Canadians, along with others, had straw mattresses to sleep on, and their food was none of the best. He says that those who were French prisoners taken and many others since, had hitherto been treated quite well, and very much better than the British. Of late, however, they had not been faring so well. A false rumor had been in circulation that the French were shipping the German prisoners out to the Congo, and the Teutons were extremely angry. While the Canadian prisoners were allowed to receive quantities of mail, they were greatly restricted in sending letters out. Only two letters and one post card were permitted to be sent out each week by each man.

"The Germans, one and all, seem to have absolutely no use for us," quoth Alford. "We got not a scrap of sympathy from anyone. Not a person showed us the slightest kindness. We were stripped of all our badges, sergeants and corporals having the stripes cut off their sleeves, soon after we arrived at prison, while all ribbons were treated in the same way.

Dutch Cheered Them

"It was some day when I got an order to get ready for transportation to England. I had a little time to get ready to get ready. On the trip out, all through Germany and Belgium we had to travel in the open air, and, but when we got to the Dutch frontier we could hardly keep from jumping out of our seats and making a racket for it. There was always the thought that something might happen to prevent us getting across. The Dutch sentinels looked good to me. After quite a lot of red tape, we were admitted, and presented ourselves to the German authorities. There were about the same number of them as of us—about 200. They didn't do a thing but cheer when they saw their old Deutschland, but they had a few derisive cat-calls for us, which we returned—now that we were safely on Dutch territory. You never saw such fine reception as the Dutch people gave us. They cheered us and crowded around with chocolate and fruit and with things to drink. You might have thought we were their own countrymen; they were so kind and sympathetic. Why, we didn't get nearly so enthusiastic a welcome in England."

His last trip to this province was in 1911 and since that year Mr. Chipman has been almost constantly traveling, having gone to the Argentine from Nova Scotia, thence to Europe, where he visited England extensively. In 1912 he was in the Balkans just before the

WANTED TO SEE THE BLAZE

Following closely upon the Harlow and Kempton mill property fire at Millton, N. S., came the arrest by Provincial Officer McAuliffe, of Peter Gloude, an Indian, of seventeen years, and James Aurenberg, a white man, of about twenty-seven years for incendiarism. They admitted to him that they had set the mill on fire "just to see the fun." Aurenberg apparently has a mania for destroying. Eight years ago McAuliffe arrested him for attempting to wreck the H. and S. W. Railway at Liverpool, N. S., and he was sent to St. Patrick's reform school, Halifax, for four years.

CHECK PUT ON ANY MORE TORONTO POLICE GOING TO THE WAR

Toronto, July 30.—At a meeting of the police commissioners this week means were adopted to put a ban on police enlisting for active service at the front. The matter was introduced after it had been announced that four constables had resigned to enlist for overseas service. The police board announced that in the case of police who now enlist the board refuses to accept any responsibility. The men may resign, but their conduct while in the army has been ceased with the resignation and the money which they have paid into the pension and benefit funds during their time of service is forfeited.

HISTORY OF WARSAW Twice Captured by Sweden, Once by Napoleon and Once by Austria

For the first time in its history, Warsaw, which has been controlled at some time or other by most of the European nations, is in danger of falling into the hands of the Germans. Poland has owned it, Sweden, Austria, France and Russia. It has been in control of the city, through its position and size, since the middle of the 15th century. Now, after witnessing the fiercest fighting in its history, the former capital of Poland may fall before a new conqueror. Since its inception as a city back in the ninth century, Warsaw has appeared frequently and in different roles on the pages of history. Situated on the banks of the Vistula in a fertile country and a centre for commerce, the capital of Poland was desirable at a time when conquest was more the order of the day than at present. For a long time Warsaw was the capital of the duchy of Masovia, which was a part of Poland and Lithuania in the early part of the 15th century, it became the capital of Poland.

NEW YORK'S CRIME RECORD GROWING

80,698 Convictions Last Year, a 12,000 Increase Over the Previous Year—Intoxication Cases Lead

Albany, July 29.—"How many had people were there in New York state last year?" is a question often asked and some see the answer in the annual report on criminal statistics just issued by Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo, showing that 80,698 men, women and children were convicted in courts of record and special sessions during 1914. Based on a population of ten millions this is an average of one conviction to every 125 inhabitants. The total number recorded in 1913 was 68,287.

New York prisons last year were even less than in 1913. This is due mainly to the adoption of the new method of imposing indeterminate sentences upon a large percentage of those convicted.

Division by offenses is recorded in the secretary's report. In courts of record there were 1,697 convictions reported for offenses against the person, 225 more than in 1913; 8,294 offenses against the property. Curious to relate the vast majority of the offenders were natives of the United States, between the ages of twenty and thirty years, who could read and write, had received religious instruction, were temperate in their habits and had parents living. Numerically intoxication is the one offence which gave the police and the courts most of their business, although a large number of convictions were recorded for violations of the motor vehicle law, liquor law, while thousands were convicted for assault, larceny, vagrancy and scores of other offences.

In Secretary Hugo's report there are recorded many cases, of course, which get no further than the police station. For instance, while the law makes drunkenness a crime which may be punished, it provides for discrimination between the occasional and the habitual offender. When the work of the courts actually begins, however, the first thing is to inquire if the accused pleads guilty or not guilty. In the vast majority of cases the convictions are the result of pleading guilty, although in a large number the accused denied their guilt and were put on trial. The guilt or innocence of the accused having been decided, the courts then have their most difficult task, that of deciding what shall be done with the guilty.

Formerly the work was simple, as only one thing could be done—the convicted must be sent to jail. Now the magistrate has several choices and frequently suspends sentence, putting the accused on probation. In this way offenders may be permitted to make restitution or help support their families. Having eliminated the cases disposed of in the various ways above mentioned, there remains a large number of cases in which the court imposes sentence. Usually the penalty is a light one, a fine or short imprisonment for a minor offence. Of the total number of cases originating in an indictment found by the grand jury, only a proportionate few end in sentences to imprisonment.

WORLD WAR SHOWS HOW SMALL WORLD IS

I must relate to you a little incident which happened at Givenchy, France, writes Frank Rylands of San Francisco, now serving with the British army. Before moving to Festubert a sergeant of the artillery, who was billeted near us, happened to catch a stray bullet in the front of his right ankle as he was coming out for an evening stroll. I had made his acquaintance some days previous and it fell to my lot after his wound was dressed to rush him off to the hospital.

In the course of a week he returned home, of course, and it was only then that we found that we each came from the same town and went to the same school together and were taught by the same teacher.

Another little incident which happened in London. I was walking down the Strand at ten o'clock one morning and met one of my fellow traveling chums from British Columbia. We often used to travel together for days. Neither knew anything of the other being in the war. He had joined King Edward's Horse and is now within four miles of me.

RUSSIA LIKELY TO YIELD GROUND WHILE GATHERING MUNITIONS

London, July 29.—The probable evacuation of Warsaw and the whole Polish salient by the Russians is indicated in despatches received from Petrograd today. This decision would come as a surprise to all outside the inner councils of the Russian general staff, as the splendid resistance which the Russians have been offering, apparently with considerable success, to the German efforts to encircle the city, were believed to be evidence of Grand Duke Nicholas' intention to fight it out with Germany.

It is pointed out, however, by the Russian military critics, after conversations with "competent military authorities" that until the army is properly equipped to oppose the perfect Austro-German machine the sensible thing to do would be to avoid battle and withdraw until the armies are organized and equipped in a condition to take an aggressive offensive and drive the enemy from Russian soil.

Politics, rather than strategy, decided the Russians to advance into East Prussia and Galicia. It is explained by the critics, and while in doing so they rendered great service to the western allies and inflicted terrible losses on both Austrians and Germans, they may now give up all and more than they gained. It is anticipated by the Petrograd papers that the whole country if evacuated will be denuded of resources which might prove valuable to the Germans.

CANADIAN PROMOTED ON THE FIELD OF BATTLE

Grahame Went to War as Private, Home-Wounded and Now Lieutenant

Among those brought to Montreal on the Donaldson liner S. S. Cassandra this week, was Lieut. G. H. Grahame, of Peterborough, Ont., who has returned on leave of absence, after suffering severe wounds at the front. He went across on the Cassandra as a private, but was promoted on the battlefield, and has come home with a commission. He refuses to speak of the work which won him the commission, but related incidents of the battle of Festubert, where he received bad scalp wounds and other injuries. After a rest of two months Lieut. Grahame expects to return to the front.

HORSE PURCHASES ON P. E. I. LOOKED INTO

First Session of Davidson Commission in Maritime Provinces

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 29.—The Davidson commission began enquiry this afternoon at Summerside into the purchase of 81 horses from W. B. MacNeill, of Summerside, livery man, and contracted through Adam Doyle, V.S. of Moncton, in August last for the 19th Battery under command of Major Anderson now at the front.

Doyle was the principal witness examined today. He swore that he had been attached for seven years to the 19th Battery, of Moncton, under Major Anderson, as captain veterinary.

On August 12, 1914, he was asked to assist in the purchase of horses by Major Anderson when the latter was recruiting the overseas battery. He sent in his claim of full captain's pay after examining the horses but the department allowed him the regulation fees, one dollar for the first three horses and fifty cents each for the remainder.

He examined altogether 249 in P. E. Island and Nova Scotia receiving $126. He had no written instructions from headquarters, he kept a list of horses and names of sellers but no official record with full description of horses, he has never been asked to keep one.

Major Anderson kept description of horses on an ordinary scribbler. Doyle then told of coming to Summerside to see MacNeill on August 18. No one had suggested MacNeill to him. He had known him all his life. He spoke to no one else about horses. He could not explain why he did not try to secure horses in Charlottetown.

"Why didn't you go there?" he was asked. "Oh, he replied, 'I happened to meet MacNeill on the street and he was a personal friend of mine'."

It was August 23 that Major Anderson came to Summerside and both examined MacNeill's horses. Six were there examined and shipped. Nothing was said about prices. Anderson attended to that. MacNeill then brought ten over to Moncton. The next time Doyle came to Summerside he examined sixty horses and passed fifty-four. On August 31 he procured eleven more which were examined in Moncton. He got no commission in connection with the horses, only his fees, nor was he approached in any way.

W. H. McKie, the manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, testified that MacNeill had deposited to his credit $18,429 for horses sold, the militia checks being signed by Major Anderson and Doyle. This meant an average of $227 for each horse. McKie also testified that checks paid out by MacNeill through the bank to farmers for these horses ran from $100 to $210 each.

ENGAGEMENT
Mrs. Minnie R. Liggio, of Chatham, N.B., announces the engagement of her daughter, Helen Murray Liggio, to her future husband, Walter Ross, of the Bank of Montreal, Grand Falls, N.B. The wedding will take place early in September.

MOTOR PARTY
A pleasant time was enjoyed by about twenty-five young people on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. T. Russell of Milford, on a moonlight motor sail. They went to Rainer's beach, where camp-fires were lighted and refreshments served. The sail home by moonlight gave pleasure.

WORK PRETTY HARD AND ARE FED WELL

Sergeant Lane Writes From English Camp to His Daughter
Miss Pearl Love of 261 Marsh road has a letter from her father, Serg. J. T. Lane, from East Sandling Camp, England, dated July 14. He says: "We are hard at work training for what we expect to meet when we get to the front. The bugle sounds reveille at 5.30 a.m. We dress, make up beds, wash, get a cup of coffee and hard task, and then it is time to fall in and parade at 6.30 for bayonet practice for one hour and physical drill. We are then dismissed for breakfast at 7.30, parade again at 8.45 in heavy marching order, that is with our packs on our backs. We carry rifles, gas masks, bayonets, and other gear. We then march about a mile and a half up to the top of a very high hill to make trenches, and we can tell you it is very hard work when the weather is warm as it has been for the last two weeks. We work pretty hard after being out all day, dirty and hungry after digging out mud and stone building the trenches. "It is very interesting to see how they are constructed. There are upwards of 6,000 troops working there and you can imagine what it must look like. We see a lot of aircraft while we are up there, as we can see a long distance. The hill is very high, and on a clear day you can see France, across the English channel. "There are lots of beautiful flowers here, all kinds and as there is no one to pick them you can imagine what they look like. All along the roads are hedges. There are no fences here, and the flowers grow in abundance, poppies, roses, daisies, honeysuckle and lots of others I cannot name. There is a little bird here, the skylark, that flies straight up from the ground and sings. I think you could hear him. He is a great singer and goes up out of sight and then comes down again like an arrow to the ground." Serg. Lane tells of the trip from St. John to the camp in England, which he greatly enjoyed. Concluding the letter, he said: "I have just had tea. We had fresh halibut, washed potatoes and bread pudding, tea, bread and butter—not bad for a soldier in training. We work pretty hard and have to be fed well. We have very good quarters here. There is a room for thirty beds, but there are only 25 in my hut. There are racks for our rifles and a shelf over our bed to keep our clothes and other things, besides hooks for our kit, so that altogether it is quite comfortable. We had no lights for some time, but they are now turned on again."

LETTER FROM NURSE
Miss Charlotte Brown of St. John Tells of Entertainment in England
The only graduate nurse of Victoria Hospital, now serving at the front is Miss Charlotte Brown, of St. John, who took her diploma from the local institution a few years ago, says the Fredericton Gleaner. She left Montreal on May 20 with thirty nurses, and in a letter to a friend tells of her trip to England and her stay there. A letter dated June 29 was received and Miss Brown was the only woman to see the Mediterranean and expected to land at Marseilles, France. Of her stay in England, Miss Brown writes: "The Duchess of Somerset had us to luncheon one day and to tea another afternoon. Both the duke and duchess are most charming. At the luncheon the duchess looked us over and the head nurse had the post of honor, beside the duke, then the duchess said to me, 'Will you sit beside me?' I sat. Then they had reserved seats for us at a Sunday morning service in Westminster Abbey, also at St. Paul's Cathedral last Saturday, where we saw Queen Alexandra, Duchess of Fife and her daughter, and the Grand Duchess George of Russia. Just as soon as they sat down they noticed the row of Panama hats, so up with their glasses and looked us over from one end of the row to the other. The other people who entertained us were Lord Ludlow, at his beautiful home, Portland Place; Lady Jekyll, Lady Phillips, Lady Trotter, Lady Slope, Lady Perrott, Sir George and Lady Perley, Sir Dyce Duckworth and others, and today the Somersets sent us tickets (at a guinea apiece) for a concert, sale and tea, under the direction of Princess Christian, and after the concert the princess asked the duchess to present us. So I think I'll save the gloves she shook. It is lovely to meet all these nice people; they are so interested in us because of our work "and because we came from Canada"—but our uniforms will soon be ready for us—we will soon be singing a different tune. I saw a Frederick man the other day that I nursed in Victoria Hospital—Laurier Sherman. I am real well and think England goes with me."

GREAT CURE FOR THOSE PARTICULAR AT TABLE
Soldier Writes of Their Foraging Experiences at the Front—But He Has Gained 20 Pounds
F. J. Edwards, of a White street, veteran of the war, has received a letter from his son Fred, from somewhere in France. It shows that army life agrees with the young man, for he has gained twenty pounds in weight since he left home. He went with the first contingent, and says he never felt better in his life. He adds: "We have traveled around some since we came to France, and I have had a few narrow escapes as well, but so far have not had a scratch. You would have laughed if you had seen us this morning. We were on guard at some cross-roads about half a mile behind the firing line, and we were sitting around a small coke fire about six o'clock in the morning making tea, when a shell dropped about twenty feet over our heads. You should have seen us scatter. Say, it was funny to see us crawling around on the ground trying to find shelter. But still, it was not as funny as it sounds at the time, for the shell wounded a major and it was a wonder we all didn't get killed. "Gee! I wish I had a feed of your fish and chips and some ginger pudding and juice. It would make you laugh to see us cooking our grub in the trenches. Our favorite dish is bully beef hash. When we can pinch some spuds we put them in, and when we can't, we break up some hard tack biscuit and soak them in water until they are soft and put them in. You should see some of the rigs we use to cook in—old tins, black cans, and very often the same tin we wash in. I have seen the time that I did not have enough bread for one meal that had to last forty-eight hours, and when it was gone we had to eat bully beef and biscuits that we found, and what we could pick up out of the gardens, such as onions, cabbage and spuds, and be that way for over two days." Mr. White says that his son was very particular about his food at home, and the fact that he has gained twenty pounds and can write so cheerfully about the soldiers' fare, is the best evidence that the life of a soldier agrees with him.

THE HEART APPEAL
All of us marry sooner or later and some—both sooner and later. Which is just another way of saying that all the great aims of life centre about the making of a home. Any news that helps the home is good news and interesting news. That is one reason the advertising columns of a live newspaper like The Telegraph and Times are such good reading. There is a personality to the advertising that finds a responsive chord in the average heart.
