Ex-Premier Asquith Gains Favor In Speech In England

CROWN ASKS GOVERNMENT TO HOLD

EX-PREMIER MAKES STIR IN ENGLAND

Famous Wife Shares Honors With Noted Husband in Commons.

WILL BOOST LABOR
Railway Strike to be of Short Duration if Called.

BY HARRY N. MOORE.
(British United Press.)

London, Jan. 18.—The most delighted person in the House of Commons yesterday when Ex-Premier Asquith made his triumph speech was his almost equally famous wife, who could scarcely restrain her delight and with difficulty held back her applause as the former Premier made his telling points. Mrs. Asquith was seated in the place in the ladies' gallery which nearly half a century ago was occupied by Mrs. Gladstone when her celebrated husband made his great orations.

Among those who also listened with eager interest to Mr. Asquith were the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York, both of whom showed amused appreciation at the sallies of the man who was Britain's prime minister when war broke out.

Makes Brilliant Speech
Mr. Asquith's speech was admittedly one of the finest he has ever delivered and it certainly had the effect of converting many Liberals who were elected after a straight fight at the polls against Labor men, but who almost to a man will vote on Monday evening with Labor.

It is understood the ministers of commerce and agriculture would have liked the suspension of quotations to have prevailed for some time longer, but that the Paris Produce Exchange feared a prolonged cessation of business would be interpreted badly in agricultural and commercial centres of France and abroad.

MERGER BILL

Action Urged to Avoid Panic in La Banque Nationale Affairs.

ASK COMMITTEE
Legislature Assembly Favors Issue of $15,000,000 Bonds.

(By Canadian Press.)
Quebec, Jan. 18.—Under the insistence of Premier Taschereau that speed was requisite if there was to be no panic on the part of depositors of La Banque Nationale, the Legislative Assembly late last night gave formal approval to the Government's bank merger bill providing for an issue of $15,000,000 of bonds to be turned over to the Hochelaga Bank when that bank absorbs La Banque Nationale.

The opposition wanted a committee appointed to enquire into the affairs of La Banque Nationale, and report back to the House, but Mr. Taschereau refused the amendment and it was voted down by a majority of 48 to 17. Hon. Mr. Nicol, Provincial Treasurer, being a shareholder of La Banque Nationale, and lately a director, did not vote.

The Premier said that there had been a run on La Banque Nationale yesterday and if the people were to learn that the Legislature had hesitated in the matter of the credit the run would "swell" and "the country would be cleaned out. He was willing to grant all the enquiries the population wanted once the measure was adopted, and even a royal commission, but not before.

CHARGE OF
BE LODGED

Attorney General Byrne Says That Evidence Warrants Action.

TELLS JURY'S DUTY

Claims Jurors Should Have Been Held and Not Dismissed.

That information will be laid against Stewart Godwin, 16, charging him with the murder of Mrs. Clara Whiteside, who was found dead in her home in East St. John Christmas night, was announced this afternoon by Attorney General Byrne at Bathurst, while in communication with the Times over the long distance telephone. He said that under the circumstances he did not see what other action he could take.

It was stated in legal circles here this morning that there was some doubt as to the legality of dismissing the coroner's jury last night. It was pointed out by a prominent lawyer that the jurors should have enumerated their claims, pointing out what ones they could agree on and those upon which they could not. The Attorney General then could have summoned another coroner's jury to hear the evidence and decide on the points which the first jury had failed to agree on, it was stated.

Sergt. Detective Power said at 2.30 p. m. that he had been instructed to charge Godwin under arrest and place him with the murder and that William M. Ryan would take charge of the case.

Only Course. It is now explained that there was nothing left for Mr. Byrne to do but order that an information be made against the boy.

When asked today as to what action he was taking, Corner Porter informed The Times that he had been in communication with Attorney General Byrne, who, after considering the evidence brought out during the inquest, would render a decision. The coroner said he expected a reply from the Attorney General some time this afternoon.

C. R. Mercereau, attorney, who has been acting for Stewart Godwin, when interviewed said he was waiting for a reply from the Attorney General. In the meantime, he says, no action will be taken.

COL. McMILLAN

The report from Ottawa that Col. Alexander McMillan, D. S. O., might be the successor to Hon. W. H. Thorne in the Senate of Canada came as a complete surprise to most people, but the universal feeling was that it would be a good appointment. Col. McMillan is a man of high character. He is the worthy successor to his father in a well-conducted business, and is an officer with an excellent war record.

In view of the meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick Tourist Association in this city yesterday following from the Vancouver Sun is of interest, and should furnish an inspiration to the local Association.

A NEW WHEAT EMPIRE.

Last year the Peace River settlers sought to place their claim for railway service before Parliament. The Vancouver Sun tells the story: "Last year, various efforts failed to raise enough money to finance a delegation to go to Ottawa to appeal for a Pacific coast outlet for the Peace River district."

William Parker.
The people of Beaver Harbor were shocked to learn of the death of one of their most prominent citizens, Mr. William Parker, on Jan. 11.

Mr. Parker was born at Hall's Harbor, N. S., in 1846, and moved to Beaver Harbor in 1881, where he had resided ever since.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to his sorrowing daughter, Mrs. Melley Kennedy, of Beaver Harbor, who cared for him during his very short illness. Besides Mrs. Kennedy he leaves to mourn a step-mother, four half-sisters, one half-brother and four grandchildren.

Mrs. George Donner.

The death of Alice May Donner, wife of George Donner, occurred at her residence, 21 Clifton street, West St. John, yesterday, after a lengthy illness. She was a daughter of the late Herbert Clark, and is survived by her husband, one daughter, Florence, her mother, Mrs. Annie Clark, and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Wilson and Miss Edith Clark. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

FUNERALS

The funeral of Captain Edwin S. Williams took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of his niece, Mrs. Robert MacKenzie, 23 Adelaide street. The service was conducted by Rev. G. B. MacDonald, pastor of the Victoria street Baptist church, assisted by Rev. C. T. Clark, of Fairville. Interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

AUXILIARY HOLDS MEETING.

The Great International Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, McKenna division, No. 587, held its third regular meeting in Orange Hall in Fairville on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Farlee, the president, was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members. The young society gives promise of a flourishing career.

QUARTERLY BOARD MEETS.

The adjourned meeting of the Centenary Quarterly Board was held last evening and adjourned to meet again next week to settle several matters of important business in connection with the church management. Rev. Robert G. Fulton presided and there was a good attendance.

The long-range guns that bombarded Paris in 1918 were built in the Krupp works.

EVENING TIMES-STAR MAGAZINE PAGE FOR THE HOME

After Midnight by W.L. George

ping with the adventure in which I had had a hand, I felt puzzled. How was it that Mrs. Gold's Nursing Home lay in Guelph street? Then I remembered that the next turning on the left was Royal Place, which is the address of the home. I was standing before the back door. Well, I had come so far, I had better face the trouble. Perhaps it was too late to repair what I had done. So I mounted the steps, and with a trembling hand rang the bell.

THE STOLEN BABY.

que rather than a melodrama. But the baby did have a coronet on its clothes. Perhaps it had been stolen that day, and Rhoda was the person to avert it, deeper concealment. Then I remembered my hat, and horror fell over me like a muffled sheet. What was going to happen? If that baby was important, a hunt would take place. Probably the taxi man would read in the papers an account of the stealing from Guelph Street. He would remember the girl, the baby, and me. And my hat, within the lining, are my name and address. How was I going to explain that I was not accessory to the crime? I had visions of a procession, of myself, if not going to jail, at least socially compromised.

NURSING THE INFANT

If mothers follow the plan of carefully using a regular schedule for nursing periods, much better results, both in infant growth and contentment as well as the condition of the mother in well, nutritional breasts and normal milk supply, will follow. In many hospitals and community homes, where regular time period feedings have been carefully carried out, the following plan has been found most satisfactory:

In infants of eight pounds and above, five to six nursings in 24 hours. In infants between seven and eight pounds, six nursings in 24 hours. In infants between five and seven pounds, seven nursings in 24 hours. In infants below five pounds, seven or eight nursings in 24 hours.

A well-developed, healthy, thriving nursing baby should be in ordinary condition, go through the night (from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.) without being fed. Nursing mothers will do well to try and put this programme in use at the earliest possible time. Don't delay, as the longer you put it off the more difficult it will be to induce a baby to think well of it.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

LATE LAST NIGHT MRS ED WURGLER RETURNED THE GIFT ED GAVE HER CHRISTMAS

She joined her finger tips. "Well, what can I do for you?" "I think I saw." "Very well. We will omit that fact for the moment. You then say that the young person came out, carrying an infant which she had not brought into this establishment. Do I understand you rightly?"

"Yes, it's very important." "You want to see Mrs. Gold, sir?" repeated the parlormaid, this time conveying that I wished to see the Empress of China. "I'm afraid that's impossible, sir."

"What can I do for you?" said the lofty creature. "Yes, it's very important." "You want to see Mrs. Gold, sir?" repeated the parlormaid, this time conveying that I wished to see the Empress of China.

"I've got an idea and I'm going to carry it out too. I'll go right down town this morning and see about it." "I won't tell Wilbur about it for a few days, but I don't think he will care."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Everybody might have known that Mother Goose would be home for the Market Town Fair, even if she had missed the circus.

But everybody in Daddy Gander Land was so excited about it, they never gave her a thought at all. Not even Daddy Gander or the Twins.

First there was the Pieman's wares to be taken over to the lunch counter at the Fair Grounds. For the Pieman was going to sell coffee and doughnuts and wacky sandwiches as well as pies.

Then there was Dame Trot who was having a butter and egg stand. She broke so many eggs on the way when she carried them that Nancy and Nick play" she nodded. "And I don't blame them. From now on I'm going to make them love me as well as they do Daddy Gander. And off to the Fair she flew on her broom."

C.N.R. WILL BUILD BIG TOURIST HOTEL ON NORTH SHORE

Restigouche county is making a strong bid for lucrative tourist business this season, according to Hon. C. M. Lablouis, of Dalhousie, N. B., at the New Brunswick Tourist and Resources Association yesterday afternoon in their rooms in Germain street. He told of the purchase of a tract of land in his county by the C. N. R., at Duches Point, where a large hotel is to be built and golf links and other attractions provided for the many tourists that are expected next season.

W. S. Montgomery, of Dalhousie, has offered 35 acres of land free, to provide for a hotel for tourists.

Doubtful About St. John.
In the matter of camping sites in and near St. John, Commissioner T. H. Bullock said that there were no sites suitable in the city and if a resort was to be built, it would have to be located elsewhere.

JURY DISAGREES AS TO HOLDING GODWIN FOR TRIAL IN MURDER CASE

Five Members of Inquest Jury Think Youth Responsible - Boy Denies That He was Ever in Whiteside House Before Being Taken There by the Police - Contradictory Evidence.

With a disagreement of five to three on the part of the coroner's jury as to whether sufficient evidence had been adduced to send the 16-year-old Stewart Godwin up for trial charged with the crime, at the conclusion of the inquest last night, the murder of Mrs. Clara Whiteside of her home in East St. John twenty-five days ago, still remains unsolved.

FOREMAN TODD READS VERDICT.

Foreman Todd read the verdict signed by five of the jury as follows: "That Clara Whiteside came to her death at her home in East St. John, in the parish of Simonds, in the City and County of St. John, some day between the 17th and 25th Dec., 1923; said death resulted from fractures of skull, caused by blows from a blunt instrument, from the evidence given, in the hands of Stewart Godwin.

(Sgd.) "ERNEST J. TODD, R. T. WARDEN, JOHN L. CAMBRIDGE, WILLIAM J. CAIN, CORNELIUS DEVER."

DOUBTFUL OF BOY'S GUILT.

Following the reading of the above verdict signed by five jurors, John B. Jones read the following to the court: "The undersigned are not able to ascribe to the above, believing that the only evidence adduced, that might lead to the lad being suspected of the crime, was his uncorroborated story given by him to the detectives, who, we believe, had not taken the precaution to warn the lad, that whatever he said would be taken down in writing and used against him at his trial.

"When Stewart Godwin came before the jury he denied all knowledge of the crime. The fact that the alleged confession was not signed or taken under oath, still leaves doubt in our minds as to the perpetrator of this awful crime, but we believe the matter is one which would justify the Attorney-General in going more fully into the case.

(Sgd.) "GEORGE W. LIVINGSTONE, JOHN B. JONES, JOHN J. HUGHES."

LAWYER ASKS BOY FREED.

Following the adjournment of the court, and the dismissal of the jury, C. J. Mersereau, who was counsel for Stewart Godwin, along with the boy's father and others, requested Coroner Porter that the Little River youth be liberated with the understanding that the youth would be returned to the officials when needed.

Coroner Porter had through sections of a law book on the matter, and finally determined that he was not sure if he had the right to allow the boy his liberty, and it was finally decided that Godwin would remain in custody in a cell at police headquarters until the coroner and Mr. Mersereau would get in touch this morning with Hon. J. P. Byrne, Attorney-General for the Province of New Brunswick, for the purpose of obtaining his decision regarding the release from custody of the youth.

GODWIN IN HAPPY MOOD.

When Stewart Godwin returned to police headquarters last night about 8.30 o'clock after his visit to the coroner and jury in the Germain street court rooms, he was accompanied by Detective Biddiscombe and Frank Godwin, the boy's father, and appeared to be in the very best of humor and most active as he ran up the steps from the hall to the guard room.

He was returned to his cell in the basement of the building, and for the few minutes that he was in the guard room had nothing to say, other than nod his head to a reporter who he appeared to recognize as having seen on three different occasions since he has been in the custody of the police.

PLANS OF CORONER PORTER.

Following the inquest last evening Coroner H. A. Porter was asked what the next step in the matter would be, and he stated he would not make any announcement until this afternoon, after he had received his instructions.

The Evening Times has been informed that according to the coroner's act, if the coroner is dissatisfied with the verdict delivered by the original jury, or if in his belief, the evidence adduced at an inquest so warrants, it may instruct the coroner to prefer a charge against any person incriminated by such evidence.

Coroner Porter stated last night that he had not ordered Godwin's release, as had been rumored, but that so far as he knew no charge had been preferred against the boy.

NEVER IN HER HOUSE.

The examining of Stewart Godwin before the coroner's jury after the clearing of the court room, and the reading of the boy's alleged "confession" together with his statement, "I was never in the Whiteside's house in my life, except the night the men took me in," were features of the final session of the Whiteside inquest.

Police officials gave corroboratory testimony concerning the searching of the house on the night the murder was discovered, the investigations which followed, the apprehending of Godwin, and his examination by them in which he admitted hitting the murdered woman three times, because he was mad at her for not having a picture of a boat she had promised ready for him.

The boy's statement was a rambling one, filled with inconsistencies and contradictions. In answer to the questions put to him by the coroner last night, however, he seemed possessed of a fair degree of intelligence, though certainly far below that which might be expected of a boy of sixteen years.

SAYS BOY IS HARMLESS.

Rev. Mr. Lawson, although unable to give any direct evidence concerning the murder, spoke of the Godwin boy's harmless nature, and that he was quite unaware for what he was being held by the police. Mr. Lawson said that although he had visited the lad at the police station on several occasions, Godwin had never once alluded to the murder.

The coroner, in addressing the jury, pointed out the numerous contradictions in the evidence, which he said clearly established the genuineness of Godwin's alibi. He pointed out that the more or less strained relations between the Osmond's and the murdered woman would explain to some extent their apparent ignorance of her movements.

Referring to Godwin, he spoke of the boy's horror of blood, and the evidence that the body had been moved from a pool of blood. The coroner referred to the boy's statement that he had plugged the bell on the 17th and the statement of the murdered woman's brother, that the bell rang on his visit of the 22nd. The boy had said Mrs. Whiteside had counted money before him, on the 17th, but no money was found in the house on the 25th.

The coroner also referred to forms of insanity, which medical men had found in growing boys, and of its sudden outbreak in the most unsuspected quarters.

Barriers in Attendance.

Two barriers were in attendance when the inquest resumed, C. P. Inches, K. C., and the coroner, Mr. Weyman & Hazen, representing the Potter family, and C. R. Mersereau, of Powell & Mersereau, for Stewart Godwin.

Lloyd Stirling, 16-year-old school boy, of East St. John, the first witness called, stated he had seen Mrs. Whiteside in the window of her kitchen while he was looking out of a school room window at noon on the 17th or 18th of December.

The Rev. William Lawson was asked by the coroner if he wished to testify. The reverend gentleman, Methodist minister at Little River, stated he did not know if he could throw any light on the murder, but volunteered to tell what he could.

The last time Mrs. Whiteside had been to his home was Nov. 16, he said. On Dec. 13 he had seen her driving some workmen at her own house. He could not say who the men were but was sure neither of them was the man Godwin.

He said he would like to throw some light on the manner in which the Godwin boy had been "arrested."

foreman, not to be dictated to by him, or anyone else. What am I here for? Another juror expressed himself of the opinion that Mr. Lawson's evidence had an important bearing on the inquiry, and the reverend gentleman continued. He said that he had been Godwin at the jail a number of times and that the boy had never once mentioned the murder to him. He did not seem to realize what he was being held for, but sang and was light-hearted in his cell.

Court Room Cleared. Following Mr. Lawson's evidence the court room was cleared, only the officials of the court, police officers, lawyers, members of the deceased's family and members of the press were allowed to remain.

The coroner stated the boy would not be sworn, that he himself would refer to the murder would be put to him, as the boy was mentally deficient, and such questions could be objected to by the boy's counsel.

The coroner said the questions asked would be to afford the jurors an opportunity of judging of the boy's mentality for themselves.

When Godwin was brought in he was told to take the witness chair. The boy, who is of medium height, with broad shoulders, and of a sturdy appearance, immediately sat down and subjected the court room to a series of rapid glances.

He was dressed in the same manner as that in which he was first found by the police, a rather ragged overcoat, a pair of trousers, and a pair of shoes.

Godwin's head is covered with a large mop of hair, coming well down over his forehead.

His eyes are large brown ones, rather shifting and wild in appearance.

The following dialogue took place between the boy and the coroner: "Well Stewart, how are you tonight?" "Fine."

"Did you see Stewart Godwin?" "Yes."

"When are you going home?" "Don't know."

"What grade are you in at school?" "Grade 7."

"Are you good at games?" "Yes, I can play dominoes."

"Any good at outside games?" "Yes, I can play baseball and football too."

"Can you run?" "Yes, I won a race at the picnic."

"Well, what do you do up in jail?" "Read books."

"I thought you couldn't read?" "Oh, yes, I read a little."

"What are you doing when you are not reading?" "Oh, just sitting down."

"Do people talk to you there?" "Oh, yes, I saw you up there this morning."

Can't Ride Bicycle. Asked if he owned a bicycle, the boy said he did, but could not ride it as he was too nervous, but thought he might learn next summer.

When did you see Mrs. Whiteside last? "I was asked her Christmas day. I knocked on her door, but she never answered. I was never in her house in my life."

MEN WHO WERE SHOT REACH COURT; THOMAS STEPHEN IS CARRIED IN

Detective Says Simon Acknowledged Firing Shot in Syrian Hall. Charles Simon was committed for trial by Magistrate Henderson in the police court this morning on a charge of shooting Thomas Stephen and Louis Corey with a revolver and inflicting serious bodily harm. Both men who had been shot were able to attend the hearing, although Mr. Stephen had to be sent for and carried into the court room. Mr. Corey was able to walk with the assistance of a cane. Although several witnesses were examined there was nothing brought out that would show any other motive for the shooting other than the fight which started in the Syrian hall. Doctors Testify. Dr. Francis P. Fleming told of being called to Brunswick street and on his arrival there seeing Louis Corey, who was then under the care of Dr. James R. McCourt. He saw a wound in Mr. Corey's thigh. He told of seeing Stephen in his mother's house. An examination showed a wound in his leg above the knee. He had not attended either patient since. Dr. James R. McCourt told of going to Mr. Corey's house and first saw the injured man coming in a rear door. His trousers were covered with blood. He found the wound in the right thigh a few inches below the hip joint and as he considered it in a serious location advised his removal to the infirmary. The witness said the wound was a serious one and grave consequences might have resulted from it. He said he considered his patient was now out of danger and he was fortunate in escaping as well as he did. He believed the wound to have been made by a bullet. With reference to Mr. Stephen he told of going to his home and later taking care of him at the infirmary. He said the bullet had been extracted from his leg by Dr. McCourt and he was very grateful to Detective Power as the one removed from his patient's leg. Fred Isaac's Story. Fred Isaac told of being in the Syrian Hall on New Year's night and was in conversation with Louis Corey, Thomas Stephen, Raymond Tobias and others when they were joined by George Corey. He told of seeing Thomas Simon approach and strike Corey on the head and the latter fell and struck him with a club. Louis Corey stepped between the two and moments later he heard a shot and saw Charles Simon standing by one of the walls with a revolver in his hand. He said he heard Louis Corey hollering and crying. He said he attempted to take the revolver away from him but was told to get back. In answer to a question put by the defendant he said he saw Louis Corey shove him back. John Shalala said he went to the Union Station and there found the defendant on a train. He advised him to return with him. He asked Simon why he had shot Corey and the defendant had answered because he had hit him. He advised him to give himself up to the police and accompanied him to Prince Edward street where he was taken in charge by two policemen. Louis Corey on Stand. Louis Corey then took the stand. He told of being in conversation with the trouble started and how he had seen Charles Simon and how he had hit him. He told of seeing Thomas Simon cross the room and draw a revolver from his overcoat pocket, and immediately went towards him. He said Simon turned and pointed the gun at the centre of his body, and although not a word was spoken, he fired at him. When William Tobias ran to him and asked him if he was hurt he said he cried out "I am shot." He saw some of the boys approach Simon and try to take the revolver from him and heard the defendant say to go away or he would shoot them. Ten minutes later Mrs. Simon came in and took her husband away. As they were going out he gave the revolver to Thomas Stephen. Says He Acknowledged. Detective Power said he accompanied Abraham Joseph and another man and revolver was found on the roof of the building. There were five loaded shells in it and one empty one next to the hammer. He told of taking the prisoner into his office and after warning him that anything he might say could be used as evidence against him, the defendant acknowledged firing the shot. Mr. Stephen was then sent for and after being assisted into the court room recounted the start of the trouble and the firing of the shot.

New Trial Ordered in Case Regarding Father's Board Bill. In the Supreme Court Chambers this morning Chief Justice H. A. McKeown presiding, judgment was given for the defendant setting aside a former judgment and ordering a new trial in the case of Kenneth Davis against Harvey Nickerson in Queens County on November 10, and on which occasion judgment was delivered for the plaintiff, Davis sued Rice for monies representing reimbursement for board and care of the defendant's father for a considerable time previous to his death. The defendant contended that he had paid Davis this money, when he had sold the house which had belonged to his father, Davis, for a considerable amount less than the property was worth, claiming at the time that the reduction in the value of the property would make up for his late father's board. His Honor this morning ordered costs in favor of the defendant, W. W. Robertson appeared for the defendant and A. N. Carter for the plaintiff.

Funeral of Wm. McLean to be Held in Fredericton Tomorrow. Mrs. Archie McLean of Elliott Row will leave this evening for Fredericton to attend the funeral of her husband, the late School Inspector William McLean, whose body arrived there today from Vancouver. Mr. McLean was on the 7th, rather suddenly, though his health had not been robust for a considerable period. Alexander McLean accompanied his father's body across the continent. The funeral will be tomorrow. In the case of Mr. McLean removed from the St. John zone of school work-day life a familiar figure for many years, one who labored faithfully with the teaching staffs in all districts over which he had supervision and previous to that as a fellow-teacher in St. John, notably in the High School when it was known as the Grammar School and was located in Ogdenville's Hall, Union street. It is with tender memories also that hundreds of the younger men in this city and hereabouts—and those who in other parts who will eventually meet Mr. McLean's demise—will recall the days of from 15 to 35 years ago under the late inspector's classroom tuition. He was a painstaking teacher, never severe or impatient, and possessed the happy faculty of blending a natural good humor and wit with the routine of study. During that period in Grammar School history, when the staff included Principal McLean, George R. McDevitt, W. J. S. Myles and George H. Dill, the school cadet movement was the height, and Mr. McLean was chief of the senior classes, over which he had principalship. Dr. Jack Macleod, now of Grand Manan, was captain of the corps, and during the summer holidays—for a spell at least—the Grammar School lads went under the banner of the "Prince of Wales." Mr. McLean was one of these. CHAMBERS-SALTER. At Zion Methodist parsonage on Wednesday evening, January 16, Samuel E. W. Chambers was married to Miss Edith Salter of Boston, formerly of Bathurst, N. Here you will find library and davenport tables that are wonderful examples of the furniture craftsman's skill. Many of them, of course, are in rich walnut and mahogany, along with quartered oak in fumed and golden finishes, and there are sizes to conform to the requirements of any size living room.
