

LESSEN THE FIRE RISK IN FAIRVILLE

Matter Under Consideration Some of the Insurance Carried by Those Affected by Yesterday's Conflagration.

As a result of the fire in Fairville yesterday the councillors have taken steps to prevent a similar occurrence and also to lessen the fire hazard. Councillor O'Brien said today at the next meeting of the finance committee he would suggest that this block be re-surveyed with the intention of having concrete foundations laid down for new buildings with party walls so that fire walls could be erected and thus lessen the risk.

The thirtieth anniversary of the big conflagration in Fairville will fall on May 6. Fifteen months later another disastrous fire swept through another section of Fairville. Within the last few years other bad fires have broken out. The parish of Lancashire has secured legislation for proper fire protection and the question which must be decided on immediately is whether a central fire station with more modern apparatus would be more beneficial than two stations, one in Fairville and the other in Deschamps.

It was said this morning that the fire yesterday left at least one family absolutely destitute. The husband was at work in the city and his wife had taken their two children with her to a store in Fairville to procure some provisions when she learned that the fire had broken out. She hurried to her home only to see it enveloped in flames. Her husband had been notified and was hurrying to the scene hoping to arrive in time to save some of his belongings. When he arrived it was impossible to get near the building and all of his belongings, including some money he had been saving all day, were lost. He was wearing the clothing they were wearing they saved nothing, and unfortunately carried no insurance. It is understood that the families lost nearly all of their belongings. Some insurance figures given are: Joseph C. Maxwell, $1,000 on his stock and fixtures, in the Sun Fire Insurance Co.; The Fairville Drug Co., $1,000 on stock, in the Phoenix, $1,000 on the building, in the Royal Scottish Insurance Co.; J. J. Calnan, $1,000 on stock and fixtures, in the Phoenix Insurance; W. A. Ross, $2,000 on his two buildings, in the Newark Insurance Company; J. J. Hennevey, $800 on his building, in the Queensland, $1,000 in the Royal and $200 on his dwelling in the Home Underwriters; $800 on his household furniture, with the Union of London, and $1,000 on his stock, in the Royal; Jeremiah Stout, $1,000 on his building and $500 on his stock, in the Home Underwriters; Thomas Kerrigan, $2,000 on his building, in the Liverpool, $1,000 on his stock, in the Insurance Company of North America; also $500 on his furnishings. Fred Chittick had $400 on furnishings.

Persons who were in Fairville yesterday when the fire was raging said that some of the buildings burned might have been saved if the water supply had been better. It was pointed out that a large portion of that being served by the twelve-inch main. The pump immediately shut off, however, yesterday morning and this morning a large number of men were on the scene, hoping to secure a much desired job.

CHARLOTTE STREET CONGESTION

To the Editor of The Times:—The thoroughfare at last evening. The only remedy apparent to the casual observer is the widening of the street by the absorption of the northwest corner and the drinking fountain. Let this be converted into a concrete parking place alongside this concrete depot-platform, leaving the major width of the street for general traffic. In fact such a central street-car distributing point would eliminate a lot of present troubles, one would think that the city fathers will attempt to the ever-present danger of approaching Daniel's corner when a street car is passing. The street car is an eastern Canada. The top of a hilly turn and the street railway is a very dangerous small-boy grocery driver approaches this danger zone without a moment's hesitation. W. H. GOLDING.

PORTRAIT OF PRINCE BY MRS. McAVITY

Painting was on Private View on Saturday.
(Halifax Echo)
The portrait of the Prince of Wales, painted by Mrs. McAvity of St. John, and presented to the government of Nova Scotia, was on private view in the Executive Council Chamber of the Provincial Building on Saturday. While of the face and head the artist has been able to make a striking likeness. This may be very true to the Prince when he is in the proportion of the right hand as it rests against the left arm, and the face however, the opinion appears to be that Mrs. McAvity has accomplished a very excellent work. The charge with more or less of a man older and more mature than the young man familiar to Canadians. SYNOD MEETING IN THE CAPITAL

fund or from the pension fund of the general synod.
Marriage.
On the question of marriage, His Lordship in connection with the social service council, two matters came before the synod last year, to which reference must be made again. The first was the proposal that legislation should be obtained so as to secure the publication of intention to marry at least a week before the marriage, thus preventing many hasty and ill-considered unions. The question was referred to the executive committee with instructions to approach the provincial government in the matter.
In consideration of the subject, it was seen that there are some serious difficulties about such legislation. There are cases where the true remedy for the unhappily married couples is not in any legislation that might be proposed. I deemed it wise, therefore, to consult the attorney-general before approaching the government in the matter, and I learned from him that when the marriage act was last revised, the synod had in mind, but that it was struck out in the course of the debate. Under the circumstances, it was impossible for the attorney-general to take further steps in the matter without very careful thought. He was good enough to assure me, however, that he should give the subject his consideration between now and the next session of the assembly.
My own strong opinion is that, notwithstanding the difficulty of dealing with the matter by act of parliament, there ought to be some safeguard against the haste with which many are living in an age when divorce is so often in the divorce court lies, not in the course of the debate. Under the circumstances, it was impossible for the attorney-general to take further steps in the matter without very careful thought. He was good enough to assure me, however, that he should give the subject his consideration between now and the next session of the assembly.

Cup Customs
The first drinking vessels were made from coconuts, calabashes, the eggs of large birds, such as the emu and the ostrich, and shells.
The first of these were later covered with clay to keep them from burning. The clay was glazed by the heat and gave the first hints for the art of pottery. The progress in cup making has been matched by the advance in our knowledge of beverages until we have the crowning achievement.

Why Physicians Recommend Magnesia For Dyspeptics

"Take a little magnesia after meals" is now a favorite dyspepsia prescription among thousands. The reason for this lies in the fact that practically ninety per cent. of all stomach trouble is due to acid which irritates and inflames the delicate mucous membrane lining of the stomach and makes natural digestion impossible. Medicines, drugs and diets fail simply because they do not remove the acid, the cause of all the trouble. The value of magnesia, which is neither a medicine nor a drug in the ordinary meaning of these words, lies in the fact that it neutralizes the acid. Of the many forms of magnesia such as the oxides, carbonates, milks and fluids, the best is undoubtedly Bismarck Magnesia, a leaf-leaf simply because they do not remove the acid, the cause of all the trouble. BETTER THAN HARD COAL

Soft coal so free from soot that it does not make whiffers on stove covers or pipes and does not mat or clog when burning, is far better than Hard Coal for general household use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and can also be used for open fires and small heating stoves. Such a coal is Broad Cove soft coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article. No other soft coal burns just like Broad Cove. You will know it by the above characteristics.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoo or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just plain Mulitised coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greasless), and is better than anything else you can use. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulitised in a cup or glass with a little warm water, is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulitised coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure you get Mulitised. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the packages.

Science Proves the Danger of Bleeding Gums

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhoea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhoea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhoea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhoea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhoea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhoea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

FAIRVILLE FIRE TAKES BIG TOLL

The heart of the Fairville business district was destroyed by fire which broke out yesterday afternoon about three o'clock in a house occupied by Perry Durdan and spread until ten buildings had been destroyed, four badly damaged and several more scorched. The city apparatus saved the village from total destruction. The loss is estimated at from $70,000 to $80,000, and is only partly covered by insurance.

Some box cars and piles of ties which caught fire in the Fairville railway yard were extinguished by section men. One red, single handed, climbed on the roof of his home and extinguished a blaze started there. Some men were seen taking things from piles of things rescued by those who were burned out, but their work was soon stopped. This is the second bad fire in Fairville in the last two years and is the worst for several years.

The building in which the fire originated, which was occupied by Kerrigan's meat market on the lower floor, was nothing but a mass of ruins in less than an hour. Mrs. Durdan, as soon as the fire was discovered, rushed into the room where her little baby was lying and found the bed blazing fiercely near the edge. She seized the child, and in doing so received several burns on her arm. The fire was spreading so rapidly that, had she been a minute or so later, the little baby would have been burned to death.

The second building was occupied by the Fairville Drug store on the lower floor and by Gregory Brown upstairs. The third house burned was occupied by Wetmore's cash and carry store downstairs and Andrew Fox upstairs. The fourth building was a small place occupied by Frederick A. Chittick for repairing shoes. The fifth house was occupied by Jeremiah Hennessy, with a drygoods store downstairs and his private residence upstairs. Jeremiah Stout conducted a furniture store downstairs in the sixth house burned and lived upstairs.

The high wind drove the sparks from these burning buildings towards the rear where several barns and sheds were ignited and soon reduced to ashes.

The next houses to catch were Thomas Kerrigan's handsome new building in Prospect street, which was parallel and to the north of Main street and C. L. Doherty's large place in Main street. The upper part of the Doherty property occupied as a dwelling by Mr. Doherty was badly damaged by the blaze but the lower part, which was occupied by W. Gould as a billiard parlor and by the Windsor confectionery store, operated by Mrs. Margaret Maloney, was chiefly damaged by smoke and water.

Kerrigan's house, however, was burned to the ground. It was built last summer and cost between $4,000 and $5,000, in addition the furniture and fittings which Mr. Kerrigan had in his home, and which will add further to his loss.

The wind continued to spread the flames and they jumped across Prospect street and caught in Mrs. Emma Armstrong's house. The fire created sad havoc inside this building, although by this time the firemen were checking it fairly well. Winford A. Webb's house, next to the Armstrong property, also caught fire and was more than half consumed. Other houses in this vicinity caught from time to time from the flying embers but the hard work of a squad of men with buckets of water and ladders kept these small, but dangerous, fires from gaining further headway.

Two barns, owned by Oscar O. Hanson, one of which he used as a warehouse, were totally destroyed. There was some insurance carried on them. Mr. Durdan carried a small amount of insurance on his household effects. Andrew Fox was hard hit by the fire as he was not carrying any insurance.

Stout C. L. Doherty, George Wetmore, Glendon H. Allan, Winford A. Webb, Mrs. Emma Armstrong and Thomas Kerrigan all carried some insurance but not near enough in any case to cover their losses.

Boyle Bros., tinsmiths, suffered some damage from smoke and water next to the Doherty building, while J. Driscoll's

PRAYER CLOSES STILLS

Minister's Plea in Court Causes 25 Kentucky Moonshiners to Confess

Manchester, Ky., May 2—Twenty-five moonshiners of Clay county confessed that they had been making moonshine and left for their homes in the hills to bring their stills into court, when an aged minister arose in the crowded courtroom and prayed that lawlessness in the mountains cease. Women and men broke down and sobbed while the minister appealed for the end of lawlessness in Clay County.

The first confession in the investigation being made by Circuit Judge Hiram J. Johnson came from Mrs. Frank Smith, who began crying when she took the witness stand and asked that the minister offer prayer. Mrs. Smith confessed that her husband was in the band that ambushed and wounded Deputy Sheriff Stivers and ran other peace officers out of the Mill Creek territory. She said she had begged her husband not to join the band, allying to the fact that the death of their little daughter some time before had sent her a warning for him to cease lawlessness. She said that, despite this appeal, he went out and joined the ambushers. Immediately after Mrs. Smith's confession the twenty-five men, several of them crying, announced their reform and asked to be permitted to go home and get their stills. Judge Johnson granted the requests.

CHINESE COOK HELD FOR JEWELRY THEFT

Brick Through Plate Glass and Chinatown Chase Figure in Unusual Charge.

New York, May 2—The rare sight of a Chinese accused of burglary was presented in the Tombs Court, when Jung Ong, 33, a cook, who said he lived at 64 High street, Brooklyn, was arraigned before Magistrate Norman J. Marsh in connection with the theft of sixteen gold watches, nine strings of jade beads and three gold chain bracelets from the jewelry store of Moy Hung at 9 Pell street.

Moy Hung told the magistrate that he was standing in the rear of his store Friday night, when the plate glass in the front window was shattered by a brick. He ran to the window, he continued, and saw Jung Ong gathering up the jewelry, valued at $500.

Eventually Jung Ong ran to Mulberry street, which is the southern border of Chinatown, where he was arrested by Policeman Philip Burns of the Elizabeth street station. The policeman said he found some of the jewelry on the fugitive. Jung Ong denied the charge. The magistrate committed him without bail to the tombs for examination.

FLAPPERS SCORN LOVE YARN. Librarians Find Fiction Losing Out. Atlantic City, May 2, N. J., Librarians attending the annual joint convention of the Pennsylvania Library Club and the New Jersey Library Association said that fiction was losing ground in popular appeal and that works on travel and scientific subjects were more in demand.

The librarians said that there was less demand than ever for the strictly love fiction and that the so-called "naughty" novel was rapidly passing, the younger generation, the "flappers" particularly, or or Lieutenant Pockock, who is going to India as a missionary.

Colonel Gideon Miller, field secretary for Eastern Canada for the Salvation Army, was in the city yesterday. A united meeting of the army was held last night of Colonel Miller and also in honor of Lieutenant Pockock, who is going to India as a missionary.

MOTHERS SENT TO TOMBS

Their Children, Stayed From School 21 to 49 Days. (New York Times) Five mothers were sentenced to two days each in the Tombs yesterday when they failed to pay fines imposed by Magistrate Harris in the Municipal Court for violation of the compulsory education and the continuation school laws. Another mother would have spent the night in the Tombs, but she fainted in the courtroom and the magistrate suspended sentence because a physician said she was ill.

Rose Grandio of 2101 Second avenue was convicted as a third offender in violating the education law. Her daughter Mary, 14 years old, had been absent from school 21 days. Mrs. Cornelia Inderdonato's daughter, Mrs. Vincenza Polcastro's daughter Carmine, 14, had been away from school 49 days. Her mother failed to produce the $2 fine and went to jail. Mrs. Anna

LOCAL NEWS

The annual meeting of the N. B. Power Co., Ltd., which was to have been held yesterday afternoon, was postponed indefinitely.

Malcolm Buchanan, aged nineteen, was admitted to the hospital last night suffering from an injury to three fingers of the right hand, which were hurt by the explosion of a dynamite cap.

About 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon the fire department was called out in response to an alarm from box 46 for a fire in a barn in the rear of the house at 224 St. James street, occupied by Bart Rogers. The blaze was soon extinguished and the damage done was slight.

A serious accident occurred at the corner of King and Charlotte streets last night, when a car driven by Dr. Doris Murray, dashed up on the sidewalk and knocked down four persons. Their names are Mrs. Ethel Rogers, 87 Duke street; Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips, 150 Hawthorne avenue; William Ross, 288 Green street; and William Mullaly, 215 Charles street. The first three were bruised and cut, while Mr. Ross had several ribs fractured and was hurt internally. All are expected to recover. The machine apparently was driven on the sidewalk to escape striking a street car. It came to a stop against the plate glass window of F. W. Daniel & Company, smashing the window completely. Windows in F. A. Dyleman & Co's store were also cracked by the impact. All the victims were knocked unconscious, and the police patrol was pressed into service to convey them to the hospital.

Miss Florence Hoyt, secretary to the Travelers' Aid Society, was knocked down by an automobile, driven by a woman, in Mill street, last evening, and was cut about the neck. She was taken to the hospital, where several stitches were taken in the wound.

The Brunswick Chapter met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold Mayes, with Mrs. Herbert W. Wetmore, the regent, presiding. Several reports were read and discussed. The hostesses at the tea hour were Mrs. J. H. Allingham, Mrs. J. Boyle Travers and Mrs. Mayes.

Horace Smith of the Imperial theatre staff, was painfully injured last night, while wrestling with another employee in the waiting room of the theatre. He slipped and fell, striking the base of his skull on a bench. He was knocked unconscious and suffered considerable pain. Dr. C. M. Kelly said that he was not seriously injured. He was sent to the Infirmary.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of trade last evening was devoted to an interesting talk by W. S. Fisher on trade possibilities with the West Indies. About thirty members were present. The membership application of Harold P. Crousse was accepted. Mr. Fisher used a map and gave a very interesting account of the trip. Roland Firth endorsed Mr. Fisher's remarks. W. F. Burdett, president, gave a short account of his trip to Montreal, where he attended the tercentenary banquet of the board of trade.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. O. F., was held last night with the regent, Mrs. J. Boyle Travers, presiding. The erection of a civic war memorial was strongly advocated and a resolution passed that the chapter should take the lead and should call a mass meeting of the patriotic associations and others interested.

Friends of Cesar A. Barranco, formerly Cuban consul at St. John and now stationed at Toronto, will be interested in the announcement of his marriage on April 6 to Miss Florence Martha Sams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sams, of Hamilton (Ont.). Mr. Barranco was very popular in St. John and has a host of friends here who will tender good wishes to himself and his bride.

Making plans for the tag day to be held shortly occupied much of the time at the meeting of the Victorian Order of nurses directors last night when Hon. J. G. Forbes presided. The reports submitted were gratifying. During the month 877 nursing visits, and 371 child welfare visits had been made. Although the weather had not favored a large attendance at the well baby clinics and no clinics had been held in East St. John there were 129 babies examined. The staff of nurses consisted of eight.

St. Vincent's Alumnae had a pleasant social evening at its meeting last night in the gymnasium of Cliff street. Badminton was played and afterwards refreshments were served. Miss Muriel Corkey, the president, was in the chair for the short programme, which was much enjoyed and which consisted of solos by Miss Maud Downing and Miss Teresa Maxwell, and a reading by Miss Edith Williams.

An alarm was rung in about three o'clock yesterday afternoon for a fire which broke out in a shed of the Maritime Nail Company's plant in Portland street. The fire department and the tug Sprinfield were soon throwing water on the blaze and after a stiff light the fire was extinguished. A second alarm was rung in because of the lighting of the roof of another shed. It is said that the damage is fully covered by insurance.

A meeting of the directors of the St. John sub-division of the Catholic Women's League was held last night in Rotary Hall. Plans were made for the annual meeting. The social committee reported that $60 had been raised by the sale of hats. Mrs. F. J. Power was chosen co-chair of the nominating committee. Miss E. T. Reed and Miss Emily Bardsley were appointed to the auditing committee.

GAGETOWN YOUNG MAN DIES FROM MILL ACCIDENT
Gagetown, May 1.—Leslie C. Boyd, aged twenty-two, died here on Saturday evening as a result of injuries which he received when his clothing became entangled in a shaft at Reid Brothers' mill a short distance below Gagetown.

SIX ODDLY ILL; ONE DIES.
New Form of Sleeping Sickness in Paterson Baffles Physicians.

Paterson, N. J., May 2.—One man is dead and five other persons are in a serious condition here from a form of sleeping sickness, which doctors declare to be new to the medical profession. They say that science has found neither the cause nor the cure. The malady causes paralysis of the eyelids and it becomes impossible to awaken the sick man. Death follows.

The disease claimed its first victim here when nine physicians in attendance were unable to awaken John L. Van Mannen, 36 years old, 1088 East Nineteenth street. Several days ago Van Mannen complained of feeling very sleepy; then he began to have the "double vision" attributed to the commencement of paralysis of his eyelids. Snoring was followed by a heavy sleep, resulting in death.

school, was reported to be in a serious condition and despite the work of specialists it is feared he may die. The other patients are in various early stages of the disease.

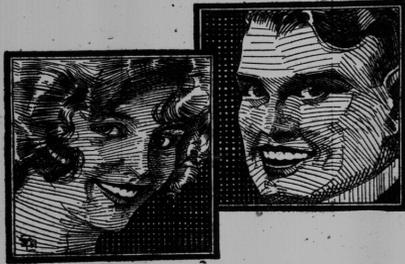

THE PARIS CASE

Three new witnesses were placed on the stand yesterday by the defence in the case of John Paris. E. G. Moxon swore that he paid a man for some mushrooms on August 3, while George Scarborough, who was on the stand at the morning session, was in his store at Truro. He did not know the name of the man to whom he paid the money. George Hill, a farmer who lives near Truro, swore that he saw Paris on his farm in the early part of August. The testimony of Miss Christina McKenzie was also taken.

Through an error in the typesetting of yesterday's report, it read that Sir Scarborough would swear that Paris was the man in the store. It should have read that he would not swear that Paris was the man.

FREE 10-Shave Tube of Palmolive Shaving Cream
At the stores listed below

Quick, Easy, Pleasant Shaves
And these other advantages

- Multiples itself
- Maintains itself
- Acts quickly
- Soothes the skin

To give men what they wanted
Before making Palmolive Shaving Cream we asked 1,000 men what they desired most in a shaving cream. Also, all other known creams were tested to learn their virtues and faults. And step by step we improved the formula until perfection in each quality was reached.

Formula 130 was right
In this combination of soothing palm and olive oils we found the ideal shaving cream. We had been making the ideal toilet soap with these ingredients. Now we applied the blend to a shaving-cream. It proved superior on these tests.

It multiplies itself in lather 250 times. Just one-half inch—a bit of cream—proves plenty for a luxurious shave.

The oil coating on the beard is removed almost instantly. Within one minute the beard absorbs 15% of water—enough to soften the toughest beard. Such quick efficiency is astonishing.

The lather maintains its rich creamy fullness for ten minutes on the face. Plenty of time to shave.

The palm and olive oils are the supreme lubricant, soft and soothing to the skin. So the need for lotions is ended.

Now test it yourself at our expense
Millions have already adopted Palmolive Shaving Cream because of these superiorities.

ROBS HOUSES

ARE AT GRAVE
New York, May 2.—Joseph Harris, thirty-eight years old, of 156 Christie street, was held in $5,000 bail before the magistrate William A. Sweetser in the Yorkville court on a burglary charge. Detective Sergeant Vincent Durning of the Sixty-seventh street station told the magistrate that Harris, who has had a dozen police aliases, was arrested after he had robbed the home of Aaron Deutsch on the ground near of 228 East Eighty-second street. Deutsch and other members of his family were attending the funeral of Deutsch's wife. The detective added that the cottage had moved off the house a few minutes before Harris jammed the door and gathered up two gold watches and other articles of jewelry.

STATE OF TRADE

(Toronto Globe) A good many lines of industrial operations have shown distinct improvement since the beginning of the year. Thus far, however, it is doubtful if a corresponding expansion can be traced in wholesale and retail lines. Irregularity continues to mark the wholesale trade with business on the whole of a restricted character. Dry goods are moving slowly and in small lots. Most orders are for immediate and of a size which makes it impossible to ship by freight; hence shipments are often made by express. In some cases where a good demand for cottons had been reported business is now said to have fallen off somewhat, but merchants are

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

Says Stores Need Ads

"The logical and ideal selling-publicity for the retail merchant is newspaper advertising," G. R. Schaeffer, advertising manager of Marshall Field & Co., recently told members of the advertising club in Louisville, Ky.

"Nobody can realize the value of this agency," he declared, "until he has seen it in operation. We often spend as much as $120,000 a month with the newspapers, and if the result is not satisfactory we do not look for the fault in the newspapers, but in ourselves."

"Advertising should not be used as a medicine," he declared, "nor should it be used as a food. It will not necessarily create a sick business, nor will it permanently offset poor merchandise and poor service. It will not create confidence and prestige unless it is founded on a dependability in your goods and integrity in your business methods."

"Advertising is the printed representation of your business. It should represent you just as efficiently and faithfully as your best salesman. It should tell the story of your merchandise and service accurately and enthusiastically."

"It is printed salesmanship. Its big advantage is that it reaches thousands or hundreds of thousands of prospective customers while the salesman is reaching one or a very few. It costs money, but figured on the per-prospect basis it is usually dirt cheap."

"If your advertising is right it will enable the public to understand just what sort of merchandise you offer, just what sort of service you give; just what sort of men are running your business. First and foremost, it should be as an institution to the public. It will build confidence and good will. Surely it is more important to sell your business as a whole than it is to sell a specific item of merchandise. Sell your store to the people and they will come by a matter of course."

"Competition is keener than ever before in business history. We believe that an intensely aggressive advertising policy is vitally necessary in meeting the situation. We are strong believers in newspaper advertising. The bulk of our appropriation goes into the Chicago dailies."

Wiegand's Drug Store

is in a Market. Karl Wiegand of Cleveland, O., has proved that a drug store in a market-house can be made a profitable business. Two years ago, while other druggists in the city were closing their doors for business in the new Euclid forty-sixth street market, he opened up a space sixteen to thirty feet.

Sales grew and soon he had to have a building built to be used for special display space. In spite of the general business depression, the volume of Wiegand's sales has continued to grow. Today he has a standing offer from two pharmacists to buy him out at a good price. With the aid of one assistant, he does a volume of business that is usually handled by a drug store employing four people. Wiegand's store is open from 8.30 a. m. to six p. m. every weekday, except Saturday, when he locks up about ten o'clock. On Sundays and holidays his store is closed. The night before each holiday he sells as much or more merchandise than he could possibly hope to sell were he to keep open all the holidays.

How does he get the business? "People now have the habit of shopping here when they come to market," explains Wiegand. "They bring in their prescriptions, buy proprietary medicines, toilet articles, rubber goods and the like. I do not bother with a soda fountain or ice cream, but I do sell a lot of chocolates and cigars and cigarettes."

"Because the store is in the arcade and not far from the vegetable and meat stands, virtually all the thousands and thousands of market-house buyers pass the front. Electric signs catch the eyes of these shoppers both as they enter and as they leave the stalls. They can't very well escape knowing that there is a drug store right in the market house."

"To get new business I join the other dealers in the market and in their cooperative newspaper and order advertisements, using my proportionate share of space to call attention to the week's specials and to the fact that I operate a drug store in the market arcade, always convenient for every shopper. Each week I have specials and two window displays call attention to these bargains. One of these specials is invariably a reasonable product, such as cough syrup displayed during a week of changeable winter weather. I always try to display in the cases and on the counters as large a variety of goods as the space will allow."

"THE LURE OF JADE" BIG, VITAL THEME

Brilliant Character Drawing by Pauline Frederick in Dramatic Narrative at the Imperial.

Cast:
Sara Vincent Pauline Frederick
Captain Louis Corey Thomas Holding
Allen Corey (his son) Arthur Rankin
Stuart Bessford Leon Bary
Commodore Vincent (Sara's father) Harold Kirkland
Captain Willing L. C. Shumway
Alida Corey (Louis Corey's wife) Christina Selwynne
Sara's Servant Yugo Yamamoto
Willing's Servant Goro Kino

"The Lure of Jade" at the Imperial theatre, reveals Pauline Frederick at her absolute best.
A big and compelling drama, "The Lure of Jade" graphically depicts the story of a woman who is made the victim of jealousy and gossip and who in the end saves herself from utter despair only by the inherent finesse of her character.
The opening episodes of the story are laid at a naval base. These afford a striking glimpse of the social life in the navy with its pomp and official ceremony. Pauline Frederick is seen as Sara Vincent, the popular daughter of Rear Admiral Vincent, played by Harold Kirkland. Her popularity is viewed with jealousy by the other women at the base, but in particular by Alida Corey, the wife of Captain Louis Corey.
Sara's hobby for collecting antiques leads her into a position which, through the malicious gossip of Alida Corey, becomes a public scandal. The shock results fatally for Sara's father and after his death Sara is forced to leave the base, branded as a social outcast.
Some years later she drifts into one of the South Sea Islands a strangely beautiful, silent woman. To the natives she is known as "The Enigma Woman." During the time she has run her rooming and gambling house down close to the wharves many wonder what secret she carries locked in her heart, but none dare ask.
But it seems as though Fate is scheming for her. Soon there arrives on the island Captain Louis Corey, his wife

MOVIES TEACH SURGERY.

Demonstrations Given Before 800 Physicians and Dentists.
The teaching of medicine and surgery by means of moving picture demonstrations was begun the other night before 800 physicians and dentists at the first meeting of the Society for Cinematographic Instruction in Medicine and Surgery at the New York Academy of Medicine. The demonstration, which constituted the inaugural meeting of the society, consisted of the exposition of various forms of medical conditions and the detailed showing and expansion of five oral preliminary operations.
In his preliminary remarks Dr. James S. Edlin, president of the society, said the possibilities and advantages of the new method of medical teaching were the result of many years of research and experiment.

The programme last night consisted of four groups of films. A study of motor control of gait and posture was presented, with patients from Dr. S. T. Goodhart's service at the Montefiore Home.
A presentation of cases illustrating disease of the nervous system was made with patients from Dr. Foster Kennedy's service from the Neurological Department (Cornell Division) of Bellevue Hospital.
Dr. Adolph Berger was shown doing his operation of root resection in certain diseases of the teeth, and Dr. Charlton Wallace was shown in three reels of operative technique in four orthopedic operations done at the hospital for Ruptured and Crippled. Dr. Wallace's cases illustrated the methods of cure of many of the conditions treated by Dr. Adolph Lorenz during his recent visit and illustrated ability of New York City surgeons to competently handle such cases.

Presenting an unusually dramatic and appealing story, "The Price of Possession," a Paramount picture starring Ethel Clayton, was shown at the Unique Theatre with considerable success yesterday.
The story deals with a young woman whose husband, a bush rider in Australia, meets a mysterious death. She finds some papers which seem to prove that the husband is heir to a vast English estate, and the widow goes to England and, showing her proof is awarded the estate. But the real heir appears and she gives up the estate when the real heir avows his love and both are happy.
Miss Clayton is delightful as the widow, while Rockcliffe Fellowes, who played the roles of the bush rider and heir, amply proved his versatility as leading man. The picture is an excellent one.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Sunday afternoon, at St. Anne's, fire caused by children playing with matches and a comb, started in the barn of Christopher Ayotte. The barn was destroyed, as well as four valuable horses and machinery. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ayotte were severely burned. The loss is estimated at $7,000, with no insurance.
The flames spread to a barn owned by Vital Theriault, which was destroyed, with twenty-one sheep, four head of cattle and machinery. The loss here was $8,250, partly covered by insurance. A house owned by Mr. Cyr was also destroyed. The loss was $5,000, with no insurance.

The forces of Sun Yat Sen, head of the South Chinese government, have captured the entire southern naval squadron. The squadron included several cruisers and gunboats.
Word has been received at Granville Ferry of the death of Dr. William Alfred Pickup, son of the late S. W. W. Pickup of that place. He passed away at Calgary from infection following influenza. He was thirty-one years of age.

Yesterday afternoon the detectives were successful in recovering a large quantity of confectionery which was stolen recently from the candy wagon of Northrup and Company. Further developments are expected.

"ETERNAL LIGHT" AT THE OPERA HOUSE

At the Opera House now there is being shown a motion picture of extraordinary interest, importance and beauty. It is the pictured story of the life of Christ, and the work of filming the epical incidents, events and legends connected with the life of the Nazarene has been done with reverence, with unfailing dignity, and with a surpassing sense of the pity and the beauty inherent in the great tragedy which is the foundation of Christianity.

There are passages in this remarkable picture which will wring the heart-strings of the beholder, there are many more which for sheer pathos and poignant appeal to the finest instincts in man more than suffice to lift the panorama above the usual limitations of such daring adventures into such sacred fields.
The scene in the temple where the child Jesus is found disputing with doctors and savants and pundits of the older civilization has a hundred singular values in pity and glory, in tenderness, in love, in faith, and in the foreordained tragedy which is suggested as the amazed mother of the Christ first sees Him debating with the ancients and then suddenly sees the shadow of His small body outlined by the sun in the form of a dark cross upon the floor.

The name part is acted by Giovanni Pasquelli, a personage of calm and majestic masculine comeliness, graciousness and gentleness, and yet with the foreshadowed sadness of the face of the Nazarene.
A very acceptable feature of the entertainment was the singing by Miss Kathryn Gallivan of Gounod's Ave Maria and the Ave Verum.

ENGLAND INVITES AMERICANS TO GREAT COLLEGE TOURNEY

(New York Times.)
American intercollegiate athletes have been invited by British athletic associations to participate in a great Anglo-Saxon tournament to be held in London in 1924 as part of the British Empire Exposition, at which a mammoth stadium seating 125,000 people will be dedicated.
The invitation was brought to this country by John T. McGovern, who accompanied the University of Pennsylvania relay team to England, but did not return until today on the Aquitania. Athletes to represent American colleges will be chosen from the winners in the intercollegiate meet preceding the British Exposition, which will be confined otherwise to college men of the British Isles and the Colonies.

EXPECT 18 IN THE PARTY OF SENATORS TO VISIT HERE

It is expected that there will be eighteen Canadian senators in a party to visit St. John this week. According to word received by the secretary of the board of trade, Senator W. H. Thorne has invited a deputation from the upper house to come here. The party will leave Ottawa on May 4, and arrive here at noon taken on a tour of the harbor, including Courtenay Bay and the new oil works. The following morning the visitors will be taken on a motor trip, shown the points of interest in all sections of the city and out as far as Gondola Point. At noon there will be a luncheon at the Union Club under the auspices of the Board of Trade. The prospect is not yet known. It is understood, however, that they will be senators who are not well acquainted with the advantages which New Brunswick has to offer.

NEW EVIDENCE IN PARIS CASE

Truro Men Tell of Seeing the Prisoner There on Aug. 3.

One Fixes Date by Death of His Sister-in-law— Undertaker's Certificate and Certificate of Death Produced.

The evidence of two more witnesses who had not given testimony previously was heard at this morning's session of the third trial of John Paris charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley here last August. Lester Connolly and Isaac Allan told of seeing John Paris in or near Truro on August 3. Attorney-General Byrne conducted a searching cross-examination.

On the opening of the morning session the cross-examination of George Hill resumed by the attorney-general. Mr. Hill said he was farming for three years on his own. He had lived some twenty years in Truro. Asked if he had ever "farmed" any whiskey, he said it did not grow there. He knew Isaac Hill three months. Witness knew another George Hill, a farmer in Upper Onslow, for the last ten years. They lived 2 or 3 miles apart. The other George Hill had about fifty acres of land while witness had 145 acres of cultivated land.

The witness said he had no car, but had purchased gasoline from the Imperial Oil Co. from an engine for a milling machine. He first knew he would be a witness at this trial about three weeks ago. He knew John Paris since he was ten or twelve years old. The witness said his father, Charles Hill, carried on a lumber business in Truro, but had no office.

Hill said that the fact that Paris was twice before on trial did not bother him as he did not know the date on which he saw him on his marsh land. He knew it was the last part of July or the first part of August. He had four men working with him, Edson Cameron, Wallace Langill, Lloyd Connolly and Arthur McPetrick, at the time. He was alone, he said at the time he saw Paris, and Lester Connolly on some marsh land where he was haying. They were not together. Witness was talking to Lester Connolly drove along in a wagon. He said he did not see Isaac Allen on that day. Witness said Connolly had a suit of clothes for his brother, Lloyd. Paris asked if there were any mushrooms, and then started back toward the Truro.

Lester Connolly, was then sworn. He said he was a C. N. R. porter in the Truro freight sheds. He said his sister-in-law, Elizabeth Amelia McCollum, died on August 8 last year.

Witness said he was married to her. The same afternoon, he said, he went to George Hill's farm to deliver a suit of clothes to his brother, Lloyd. On return home there was a funeral service for his sister-in-law.

To the attorney-general, the witness said he did not know the minister who conducted the service.

At this juncture a tilt between the attorney-general and Mr. Vernon occurred over questions regarding the witness' knowledge of the service. Mr. Vernon asked to produce the death certificate. "What I would like you to produce," said Mr. Byrne "is the personal ledger of Mr. O'Brien in the Eastern Hat Cap Co. in which you say was entered the payment of ninety cents to Paris."

Reassuming, the witness said the body was buried on August 5. He could not say if it was the same minister who performed the funeral. He knew Rev. Mr. Knott in Truro, but could not say if he performed the service. He did not know any other clergy; he did not go to church.

The witness said he knew Isaac Allen for ten years. He said it was George Hill who spoke to him about seeing Mr. Vernon regarding giving evidence at his trial. He said he had never before carried anything down to his brother. He said he bought the clothes, paying between $14 and $16. He got it in Ingalls street but could not say from whom. He said he got a check from his brother two days before but did not remember the amount. He gave the check for the suit but did not remember what change he got back. He could not say what day or in whose store he purchased the suit.

He said he drove to Hill's in the afternoon and saw another man near George Hill; he could not say if he was a white man.

The witness produced a certificate signed by a Truro undertaker stating that Elizabeth McCollum died on August 8 and was buried on August 5. Mr. Vernon also submitted a certificate of death from the deputy registrar of vital statistics for Nova Scotia, which was Isaac Allen.

Isaac Allen, of Lower Truro, farmer and butcher, said he knew John Paris. He said one day last August he picked John Paris up on the Moose Creek bridge and drove him to Truro. This was on the 3rd of August and was the only time during that period he had seen Paris. There was a small colored boy with Paris.

The witness said he was in partnership with N. S. Carter in the meat business in Truro and on that day brought some meat into the meat market. Later the same day he brought a carcass of pork. Still later slaughtered a beef.

On cross-examination, he said that he had known Paris about twelve years. He said he knew Paris was on trial for his life in September and November last year, yet he kept the knowledge that he had seen Paris to himself. On further questioning he said "There might be other John Parises." He said this was the first time he had given evidence. He said his conscience had begun to bother him about the matter some time ago—when Paris was sentenced to death. He informed Mr. Vernon about a week later. He was still on the stand at adjournment.
