S. E. Elkin, M. P. Home Today From Montreal, New York and Washington

S. E. Elkin, M. P., returned to the city today after a trip during which he visited Montreal, New York and Washington. Speaking of matters in Washington he paid a high tribute to the work of the Canadian war mission there in industrial, commercial and other matters of war import. Partly as a result of their efforts, he found, Canada stands very high in official and public opinion generally in Washington.

Mr. Elkin was impressed not only with the stupendous war effort of the neighboring republic but also with the smoothness with which the big volume of war business is being transacted in Washington, a condition which shows a big improvement since his last visit six months ago.

While the people of the United States are doing a tremendous amount of work to aid in winning the war, Mr. Elkin learned, there still was much work which they would be willing to enlist the aid of Canada, it could be arranged. Millions of dollars worth of contracts for the construction of steel steamers would be placed in Canada, he said, if it were not for the regulation which limits the building of this class of craft in Canada to vessels which will operate under Canadian registry.

The steel plates and all other materials available, he said, and all that Canada would be asked to do would be to furnish the yards and the labor.

LATEST WORD IN WAR TODAY
Paris, Aug. 16—(1 p.m.)—Royce is being held in a vice-like grip by the French. Stubborn resistance by the Germans is being crushed by the French, who are slowly encircling the town.

Military men believe that the French advance at Villers-les-Royce makes the fall of Royce inevitable. Possession of the town by French troops would make necessary a re-occupation of the German lines, and an enemy retreat to the Neule-Noyon would be probable.

The Germans are clinging desperately to a range of hills east of Ribcourt. They are also stubbornly defending the Leasing-Oise Canal, the loss of which would entail the evacuation of Noyon.

Peter Faren and White Socks Matched
Chatham, N. B., Aug. 16—Arrangements were completed this morning for a match race for $500 a side between Peter Faren, a horse owned by P. Keefe of St. John, which set a new time record yesterday, and White Socks, owned by G. B. Fenwick of Sussex, which is recognized as another of the best in the province. A challenge was issued by Mr. Fenwick and accepted this morning by Mr. Keefe.

The trotting association is arranging for another fast class and it is expected that the day will furnish one of the finest turf events in the history of the province. With competition such as will be afforded by White Socks, it is expected that Peter Faren will reduce the new record set yesterday.

CORN AND OATS
Chicago, Aug. 16—Bullish sentiment continued uppermost in the corn market today, largely owing to unfavorable crop reports. Scarcity of offerings, however, rather than any upward buying characterized the trade. The market was easily influenced by small orders.

Operating on a similar basis, wheat prices were followed by slight additional gains.

Oats hardened with corn. Commission houses were purchasing to a moderate extent. After opening 1 1/2 to 2 cents higher with Sept. 69 1-2 to 69 7-8, the market scored a little further advance.

Mr. Carter, market support. Declines took place notwithstanding firmness of quotations on hogs.

SHOULD OBSERVE THE LAW
A wholesale merchant calls the attention of the Times to the fact that many retail merchants do not mark upon their goods the number of their license.

The wholesalers are not permitted to ship to dealers without licenses and are placed in a very awkward position when orders come from old customers who fail to indicate that they have secured a license. Such retailers are also charged the number of their license.

IN WALL STREET
New York, Aug. 16—(Wall street)—A sale of Liberty tax exempt 8 1/2% of the year's new high record of 100 1/2 was the most noteworthy feature of the early trading on the stock exchange today.

Leading shares, especially equipments and shippings, were active to strong, and leaders supplemented their substantial gains among other specialties were rather confusing. Sumatra Tobacco yielding three points while General's gained 1 1/2.

Rails were dull, but mainly higher. Northern Pacific gaining a point.

The market drifted idly after the first hour, developing uncertain trend. United States Steel was again irregular, cancelling its large fractional rise of the opening, but other active shares held steady on extremely light dealings.

Motors, oils and fertilizers offered occasional evidence of pool activity and averaged gains of one point, and shippings and Central Leather retained their early advance.

St. Paul issues were almost the only rails to emerge from the general stagnation in that group. Liberty 8 1/2% made yet another maximum for the year at 100 1/2.

GERMANS NOT WELL PLEASED WITH IT.
Amsterdam, Aug. 16—German newspapers, comment bitterly of the manifesto issued by Great Britain in recognition of the Czech-Slovak nation. The Cologne Gazette says: "It is the scene of hypocrisy when England gives those notorious traitors a testimonial that they are waging legitimate warfare."

The Frankfort Gazette says: "Our defeat alone could assist the Czech-Slovak to that political independence which the Entente grants them so hastily. Nevertheless, it is a serious step, the importance of which we must not underestimate from the viewpoint of propaganda."

GERMANS NOT WELL PLEASED WITH IT.
Amsterdam, Aug. 16—German newspapers, comment bitterly of the manifesto issued by Great Britain in recognition of the Czech-Slovak nation. The Cologne Gazette says: "It is the scene of hypocrisy when England gives those notorious traitors a testimonial that they are waging legitimate warfare."

The Frankfort Gazette says: "Our defeat alone could assist the Czech-Slovak to that political independence which the Entente grants them so hastily. Nevertheless, it is a serious step, the importance of which we must not underestimate from the viewpoint of propaganda."

Storm Ravages Crops.
Quebec, Aug. 16—A heavy squall that struck the entire Quebec district, this week played havoc with the crops in the Bellechasse region.

PARVILLERS ADDED TO CANADIAN STRING

All day Thursday, August 9, when the battle opened, great difficulty was met in advancing on our extreme left. The nature of the ground and strength and depth of the enemy defence made this a much harder nut to crack than the comparative ease going over the prairie to the north. Finally, it was decided that the only way to advance was to turn the left flank. A famous Quebec battalion was entrusted with the task.

They had to take up their position in the dark by the aid only of the stars, maps, and compasses. Only military men can comprehend the difficulty of this undertaking. At the appointed hour—half past four in the morning—they were to their ground, whence they advanced, forcing the entire enemy line in this sector to fall back with trifling loss to us.

A Sporting Bet.
One officer had a bet with another that he would be in the Boche divisional headquarters at Quenesel first on Thursday night. It was a wild race and was not settled till Friday morning, when the winner actually took possession of the quarters while his troops were still fighting at the far end of the town. He captured the entire enemy divisional plant. Soon after the loser came along and had to content himself with humbler billets. This was nine miles from the starting point if Thursday morning.

The advance of a Manitoba battalion was the record of the battle, being more than 20,000 yards from our front line. One officer fell while leading his men against a machine gun nest that was encircling the line.

"Come on boys," he cried, "We don't care for machine guns." He took five wound stripes.

Another battalion was directed to pass the wood. The colonel found it a very hard Boches, making it impossible to pass without being mown down by machine guns. The first three companies were hotly engaged and could not be broken off. The colonel got hold of the fourth company and personally organized an attack on a corner of the wood in face of heavy machine gun fire. That portion of the wood was cleared, making it possible for other companies to proceed towards their objective and outflank the entire position, compelling its garrison to surrender.

While marching down a road this battalion was attacked by eighteen German airplanes, flying low and sweeping the road with machine gun fire. The order was given for the men to scatter and not one was hit. A cavalry squadron, galloping down the same road, also escaped without a casualty.

One officer, stumbling up the battle, said it was the best organized show he had ever seen. The arrangements were perfect and were without a hitch. Within twenty-four hours of the casualties the men reported to replace them and the supplies came through as regularly as in camps.

FRANKFORT IS GIVEN A GOOD ALLIED BOMBING

The Basel despatch says the aerial attack has increased the panic reigning in the Rhine towns.

London, Aug. 16—An official communication on aviation issued last night says:

"On the 14th instant the activities of the enemy's air arm decreased somewhat, but our own machines carried out a great deal of reconnaissance and action work. Twenty-two tons of bombs were dropped by us during the day, the principal targets attacked being Peronne, Douai and Amerval, and the railway stations of the Rhine towns.

McAdoo Looks to Water Power to Relieve United States From Thralldom of Coal—War May Force Action

Washington, Aug. 16—Secretary McAdoo said on his return to duty in the treasury department and the office of the director-general of railroads, that his observation of the vast resources of water power during the two months he had been absent from Washington since the close of the last bond campaign, had impressed him with the idea of electrifying the railroads of the United States. If the government were to continue the administration of the railroads of the country for any prolonged period, he said, he would be in favor of resorting to the use of electricity just as far as it could be practically employed.

Notwithstanding the great development throughout the country of water power properties there remained, Mr. McAdoo said, a tremendous empire of power yet to be harnessed and turned to account in moving the industries and the transportation of the American people. This power, now almost entirely the property of the United States, could be commandeered with a cost slight in comparison with the advantages to be derived from it. This, in view of the continually troublesome problems connected with the supply and distribution of the coal necessary in manufactures and to heat homes and city apartments, was a consummation that sooner or later would be forced on the country by absolute necessity.

Secretary McAdoo said that for the present nothing could be done toward substituting water-power for coal-

THE WAR SITUATION

Early cables today tell of a further slight withdrawal by the Germans from the Lys salient in Flanders. They have retired nearly two miles on a nine-mile front. South of Albert the British have also gained ground. West of Roye the French have made an important advance on a front of two and a half miles.

The Paris newspapers today estimate German losses since the war began at the colossal figure of six millions. Even if sixty per cent. of these were able to return to the ranks the number killed or totally disabled would be nearly two and a half millions, and of the balance many would be unfit for heavy fighting.

The fine work of the Allied air service continues. Its ascendancy over the enemy is now unquestioned. Air raids on Frankfurt have done considerable damage and greatly increased the panic that reigns in Rhine cities, while the work done by airplanes on the battlefield is of the greatest importance.

American troops have landed at Vladivostok, and the Japs are said to be about to launch an attack toward Lake Baikal on the Siberian railway. London believes the Germans have decided to abandon the offensive on the western front and doubts if they will be able to resume it, because of the shortage of reserves.

The military machine of Germany, the aggressor in the war, now is badly battered and the autocratic designs of Prussian militarism are held in the grip of the Allied armies representing the democratic nations of the world.

A PATRIOTIC LEADER. Hon. Dr. Beland is not talking politics in his addresses to the people of Quebec province. On his arrival in New York he was asked as to his prospective place in politics and answered:

"The only politics for all civilization till this war is won is the winning of it. I don't want to talk politics. I want to talk war."

In a recent speech in Quebec province he explained why he talks war, when he said: "Until Germany has acknowledged her own injustices, until she has proclaimed to the world the falsity of the doctrine that force is above the law, we cannot, we must not, put down our arms. If we did, the safety of all individual liberty in the civilized world would not be safe."

It is a glad that Canada entered the war. I am proud that she has made, and is willing to make, sacrifices not only from the point of view of economy, but is also willing to sacrifice men in the great and just cause of humanity."

Commenting on the patriotic attitude of Dr. Beland the Toronto Globe welcomes him as one who has a message not only for Quebec but for all Canadians, and says:

"This is the kind of leadership for which not alone Quebec but all Canada is waiting. Much of the dissatisfaction and the bitterness which has arisen over the extended scope of the Military Service Act will be allayed when public men who should be leaders devote themselves to the business of leadership. They should come before the people as Dr. Beland is coming before them, and sound the call to service, tell of the vital need, and appeal directly and personally to the patriotic heart of their fellow-citizens."

Bangor Commercial.—It makes little difference if the Germans do or do not admit that they are now placed upon the defensive. They may yet attempt another offensive this year, although the chances are slight. Their armies are disrupted and beaten and it takes time to arrange an offensive. General Foch will hardly allow them a breathing spell for recuperation. And if their chances of starting another offensive are slight their chances of success would be much slighter.

THE BRITISH AT BAKU

The announcement that a British force has arrived at Baku, on the Caspian Sea, comes as a surprise, and as another evidence of the far-flung operations of the British armies. To reach Baku from Bagdad, on the Euphrates, it was necessary to cross Persia, which is fortunately a friendly nation. From Bagdad the British crossed to Hamadan in Persia, and thence to Enseli, a port on the Caspian, whence it proceeded by vessel to Baku, the centre of the great oil region.

The British operations in Mesopotamia are now bearing fruit in an unexpected quarter. It is pointed out in Washington that the British exploit has opened a way for Allied aid to the Cascho-Slovaks and loyal Russians in that region, as it would not be difficult to move troops from Baku to the country of the Don Cossacks. Aside from any such hoped-for development the exploit of the British force adds another brilliant page to the story of Britain's part in the world war.

Today's cables tell us that the Don Cossacks are marching successfully against the enemy on the Dan River. Sure, this world is full of trouble—I ain't said it ain't. Lord! I've had enough an' double Reason for complaint.

It's today that I am livin', Not a month ago, Havin' been 'takin' givin', As time wills it so. Yesterday a cloud of sorrow Fell across the way, It may rain again tomorrow, It may rain—but say, Ain't it fine today?

With its customary fairness the Standard this morning makes up his finding for Commissioner Friel and of course finds Hon. Mr. Currie guilty of action that robbed the province of $4,666.59. If Mr. Friel does not accept this view of the evidence the Standard will of course attend to his case.

The Kaiser has not been heard from for some time. Is he in his prayer closet getting the inspiration?

The strike is over, the war news is cheering and the sun shines. What more could we ask?

ALWAYS BRITISH BUT MORE CANADIAN THAN THEY EVER WERE

Quebec Editor, Now in England, Writes Impressions of Visit

London, Aug. 15.—(Contributed to the Canadian Press, Limited, by J. A. Sward, editor of Le Soleil, Quebec)—A most enjoyable representative dinner was given last night at the Ritz Hotel by Lord Burnham, president of the Empire Press Union. Sitting at the little round table I had around me a man from South Africa, an Australian, an Englishman and another French-Canadian. Then, indeed, I understood at a glance what the British Empire meant.

But speaking to these men, leaders of opinion in their respective countries, one would soon find out how sensitive they are about their own autonomy. "And yet," said the Australian, "I find we are more British than many an Englishman."

One of the most unexpected results of the war in fact will be the creation of a deeper national sentiment among men of the dominions. It is the case anyway with Canadians at the front, as it was given us to find out. Strange to say, all our soldiers, even those who were not very long in Canada, have become real and true Canadians in France. It may be due to many reasons but mostly to their proud feeling that they rank second to none as to valor and bravery as well as to their intellectual aptitude and ability for organization.

Our lasting impression is that we should be proud of our country, Canada, and hopeful for the future, because the glorious men of this trenches, without ceasing to be British, will come back to us more Canadian than they ever were.

DEFENDS PRESENCE OF BORDEN IN ENGLAND. Hon. Mr. Powell Says Premier is There With Colleagues Approval and Duty His Aim There

Port Hope, Ont., Aug. 26.—Criticism of Sir Robert Borden's absence overseas at this time was taken notice of by Hon. N. W. Rowell, president of the party council, when he addressed a meeting of his constituents here last night. He declared that Sir Robert's absence was justified and that he went overseas with the unanimous approval of his colleagues.

The prime minister, he said, "did not go to England because he wanted to go. He went there because meetings of the imperial war cabinet and the imperial war conference were to be held. Representatives of other dominions were going to attend and it was the duty of Canada to be represented. He went because it was the unanimous judgment of his colleagues that he should go and if the prime minister is still in London tonight he is there because, in the judgment of his colleagues who accompanied him, the duty he owes to Canada compels him to be there. Canada is being worthily represented in London in protecting and furthering Canadian interests, and in guarding the welfare of her soldiers by the prime minister of Canada at this present time."

LOCAL NEWS

The Atlantic Sugar Refineries raised the wages of their employees by ten per cent. on Wednesday. The increase was purely voluntary on the part of the company and is at least the third which has been granted during the past year.

Another meeting of the teamsters and chauffeurs was held last evening in the Oddfellows' Hall, with the president, John Watson, in the chair. Several members were initiated at this meeting and up to date there are about 150 now in the union. The president again appointed a committee to interview the members of the city council with regard to boys under age driving teams in the city. The same committee interviewed the council before, but no action was taken in the matter. It was complained of that drivers, especially young boys, have violated the traffic law by running their teams from the Dominion Coal Company's wharf to the gas sheds by way of Prince William street. The committee are awaiting further developments in the matter.

FARMERS' CO-OPERATIVE STORE

The Sackville branch of the United Farmers of New Brunswick decided at a meeting this week to start a co-operative store. W. B. Fawcett and other speakers urged the necessity of every farmer taking an active interest by subscribing a certain amount of stock. The directors reported having been to River Hebert to find out how the farmers' co-operative store was getting along there. The reports were very favorable.

A resolution was carried unanimously to the effect that the local branch start in business, and that the directors go ahead and secure subscriptions from the various members of the association, and if they are satisfied with the amount subscribed, they are to proceed with the organization of the business and select a manager, etc. The idea is to run a general store.

H.C. OF L. NOT HEARD OF IN NEW ZEALAND

Imported Goods Are Scarce, But Food Is Not Yet Restricted

Farmers Prosperous—Single and Married Men Without Families Are Already Called Up There

An interesting sidelight on conditions in New Zealand at the present time is compared with conditions in Canada, as shown by R. T. McQuade, a New Zealander, who is at present in Toronto on a buying expedition for one of the largest wholesale dry goods warehouses in New Zealand.

"New Zealand is so short of imported goods which get from England," said Mr. McQuade to The Star, "that I am over here to see if we can get goods in Canada, but I find that manufacturers here seem to be so full of business that they cannot look as far as New Zealand and Australia for business at the present time. No doubt, however, they will be glad to do business with the colonies when things become normal."

Speaking of food supplies and the present high cost of living in Canada, Mr. McQuade said: "When I left there they had no restrictions with regard to food, as the quantities of butter, cheese, frozen mutton and beef were in excess of the quantities that could be exported. As a matter of fact, they have so much in storage which they are unable to export that they have had to enlarge most of the freezing plants to accommodate the extra foodstuffs. Shipping has been so bad they have been unable to get the stuff away."

Living in New Zealand.

Mr. McQuade states that the British government has the first call on the foodstuffs in storage, and that prices to retailers are regulated by the prices paid by the British government. He says: "If you go to the very best hotels in New Zealand you can live for $3 to $4 a day on the American plan." He says that butter sells for twenty-two cents a pound, while the very best beef can be bought for twenty-five cents a pound.

"Goods imported from England and America are the goods for which we have to pay high prices," states Mr. McQuade. "Our own productions are very little above normal prices. We are able to produce all foodstuffs required, and last season was a very good one."

"The country is beginning to feel the great shortage of men, and we New Zealanders consider we have done more than our proportion in the war. Including the native Maori population, we have sent over ten per cent. of our entire population, or 110,000 men, overseas. Up to about eighteen months ago the whole of our army of 70,000 men had been raised voluntarily. Since then conscription was adopted and the balance of the army raised by this means."

Mr. McQuade explained the draft system adopted in New Zealand. Men are conscripted between the ages of twenty and forty-five. They have already called up all the single men and the married

War Canning Bulletin

Issued by Canada Food Board

ALL LOADED UP.

Here comes the lady of the house tripping down her cellar stairs loaded up with beets. She has the pleasant anticipation of the winter months when the youngsters will want something appetizing and wholesome in the way of canned products. She knew herself to be a good patriot, for canned beets meant "stretching" of meat and the saving of bread during the days when fresh vegetables are not on the market. So she is smiling to herself.

To can beets wash them thoroughly, leaving the roots and one or two inches of stem to prevent loss of color. Blanch ten minutes in water that is kept boiling, or steam if possible. Cold dip and remove the skins, roots and stems. Pack closely in jars. Add one teaspoon salt to each quart jar. Fill the jars with boiling water. Adjust the rubbers and covers. Sterilize one and a half hours.

Food Board Flashes For Feminine Folk

The vegetable kingdom has the greatest bounty of all to offer to mankind. Although "man shall not live by bread alone," it is an undoubted fact that western civilization would find it difficult to get along without wheat and its products.

The world's total production of wheat approximates 4,000,000,000 bushels a year. It would take 400,000 of the largest freight cars, making a train reaching more than one and a half times around the earth, to move this great annual yield. Moving at twenty miles an hour, this train would take thirty days to pass a given point.

Take Russia, for instance. She has 288,000,000 acres of excellent wheat land. She was the greatest exporter of grain in the world before the war. It is to a great extent because of her defalcation that what is so scarce today. It is estimated that only one-third of her crops have been put in this year, while hunger grows apace among her people.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Key West, Fla.—"For five years I suffered from irregularities, with terrible pains and an awful weakness in my back. The doctor gave me different medicines but they did me no good. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it to be the best medicine I ever tried because it made me well, and I can now do my housework. I am telling my friends about it."—Mrs. J. M. CAMUS, 725 Caroline St., Key West, Florida.

Many women at some period in their life suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex and which in most cases may be readily relieved by this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, just as Mrs. Camus found it helped her after suffering for years and trying everything else in vain.

If you have any annoying symptoms you fail to understand, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The results of their 40 years experience in advising women on this subject is at your service.

HUN U-BOATS IN

AMERICAN WATERS ARE OF CRUISER TYPE Believed Their Mission is to Hamper Commerce and Carry on "Frightfulness" Campaign

Washington, Aug. 16.—German raiding submarines in American waters are of the cruiser type, very probably converted merchantmen like the Deutschland. They are low speed craft with great cruising radius, carrying large crews, 5.9-inch guns and mine laying equipment as well as torpedoes.

These conclusions have been drawn by naval officers from detailed reports gathered from time to time since the U-boats first appeared off the Atlantic coast last May.

PEANUTS USED NOW IN MANY NEW FORMS

Modern Processes Improve the Oil, With Demand Increasing Rapidly

Crop Displacing Cotton—More Than 4,000,000 Acres Are Now Under Cultivation—All Parts of the Plant Utilized

Peanuts are playing an important part in the food conservation programme and the government orders increase daily. Because of this demand there will be a large increase in the output next year. It is feared that there may be a shortage in the supply needed by confectioners before the producers are able to adjust themselves to the situation.

"The grade of peanut oil has improved tremendously. This is very largely due to the demand for peanut oil as a substitute for olive oil, which has become scarce. Much greater care must be given to the production of salad oil in order to fill the gap left by the scarcity of olive oil and many new processes have been worked out and some splendid results will soon be shown. Peanut oil is excellent for cooking, cosmetics, sartine packing, oleomargarine, soap, miners' lamps, medical emulsions, kid gloves, and silk manufactures, and peanut oil 'foots' are used for putty, washing powder, glycerine, black grease, roofing, linoleums, insulating material, oilcloth, paint base cotton rubber, and artificial leather.

"There has not been the increased demand for peanuts themselves as food which it was believed would come with the war. This may be because they combine so readily with other foods and are more easily transported as peanut butter or in some other preparation, for there is a great waste of space in the hulls. Besides the soldiers want things for food that appear to be substantial. Peanuts were recently selected as one of four most nutritious products under consideration by the Red Cross in preparing a palatable food for the soldiers. "The many uses of the peanut are just beginning to appear. While very little of the product was ever allowed to go to waste beginning with peanut flour for bread, and going on down the long list we find that every part can be utilized. Even the vines are used for fodder and feed for the cattle, and hogs can be depended upon to root up any peanuts that are overlooked and left in the ground.

"Before the importance of the very high grade oil was considered, hulls and all were used in its manufacture, but now they are carefully separated, and the hulls are carefully prepared for their particular use. While a few of the peanut mills are grinding peanut hulls with mixed feed for stock, and others are selling them for stock as they come from the shelter, there is still another market for them—that of polishing tin plate during its manufacture. When ground for this purpose they must be put through attrition mills fine enough to pass through 30-mesh wire. This product brings as much as $20 per ton. The inferior hulls are used as fertilizer and fuel.

"The meats, besides making an excellent flour, can be utilized for stock feed and fertilizer and also in the manufacture of dyestuffs. Peanut meal is now produced in large quantities. The by-product of peanut oil—a peanut cake—is the most recent addition to the list of useful products. When there was no great need for conservation this cake, which is a hard mass, was thrown away, or sometimes was ground up and used for fertilizer, but it is now made into peanut meal, or the better grade is used as a flour substitute.

"There are twenty-two grades of peanuts now grown in the south. More than four million acres are now under cultivation and much of the land formerly used for cotton is now used for growing peanuts and has proved just about as productive. Texas, Alabama and Georgia lead the states in amount produced. Each has well over a million acres and Florida, Virginia, Arkansas and the Carolinas have from half a million to 1,500,000 acres under cultivation. Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi have shown great strides and bid fair very soon to be among the most productive states.

"The peanut market of the western states heretofore has been almost completely given over to the Oriental peanuts, most of which have come from China and there has been considerable confusion over the embargo recently placed on imports. While it has been possible to import peanuts from the Orient and sell them at a lower price than that quoted by the domestic

CONDENSED MILK FACTORIES AND SUNDAY LAWS

(By Dr. W. M. Rochester, general secretary Lord's Day Alliance.)

For nearly two years the delivery of milk on Sunday to condensing plants and its manufacture have been under consideration by the Lord's Day Alliance incidental to the Sunday operations of a large manufactory in Ontario contending for this privilege. Supporting its plea of necessity for Sunday delivery, the company emphasized deterioration of milk held over Sunday, war contracts, needs of the Allied countries and inadequate plant.

Incidentally, the Alliance asserted, was an avoidable, not an absolute necessity. The company had no right to undertake business it could not handle. Nevertheless the Alliance conceded Sunday delivery for that season up to the first of October. This concession was refused. As to necessity the Alliance contended that the Ontario Government ruling of 1907 which required discontinuance of Sunday delivery and manufacture in these factories applied and supported this by citing the manager's statement that, with proper care, Sunday's milk could be delivered on Monday in good condition, the practice of the company in accepting for some time Sunday's milk on Monday, and for a considerable period the Sunday supply of patrons, representing about 80,000 persons daily, who would not deliver on Sunday, and the policy of the Borden Milk Co. which for over seventeen years had neither received nor manufactured milk on Sunday. To this was added the consideration that it was not necessary to hand over the whole milk supply to the condenseries. One day's supply might very well be retained for other uses. For the army and the Allied countries butter, cheese and bacon were also necessary and with the production of these industries interfered. Proof of war contract might reasonably be required and also a guarantee that the Allied countries should have full benefit of shipments now known to go elsewhere.

The case thus presented by the Alliance was unanswerable. The attorney general, however, submitted it to the Canada Food Board. The board in turn referred it back to the attorney-general. Later it came under the review of the minister of agriculture and the premier and was again submitted to the Food Board.

Meanwhile the situation had changed. According to the Food Board, Sir Guy Garnett, head of the Allied Purchasing Commission in the United States, declared the need of this product for children and the sick in the Allied countries. The board therefore fixed the price and assumed control of export. Under these altered conditions the Alliance would offer no objection to the board's ruling in July in favor of Sunday delivery and manufacture. The concession made was not absolute but limited in the following particulars:

First—For this year only, subject of course to renewal yearly as conditions require.

Second—From the 15th of May to the 15th of September in this year.

Third—To condensed and evaporated milk plants only. Cheese and milk powder factories are not included.

Accompanying the board's order is the guarantee of quiet enjoyment to the communities affected and liberty of employes to one day's rest in seven.

RUSSIANS GETTING OUT OF GERMAN CLUTCHES.

Washington, Aug. 16—A great number of Russian prisoners, according to an official despatch from Copenhagen, are escaping from Germany into Denmark.

When Women are Weak

Women who feel weak, languid and depressed—who look pale and dull-eyed, and have lost appetite and fresh looks—need a tonic that will purify the blood, help the organs of digestion, regulate the liver and bowels, and strengthen the system. It long has been known that are a blessing to weak women, for they quickly correct womanly ailments, improve the appetite, purify the blood and re-establish healthy conditions. They are safe to take as they are purely vegetable and without any harmful drug. A few doses will bring better spirits, improved health and a feeling of fitness.

CHOICE BETWEEN SHEEP AND DOGS

Henry Von Holland, secretary of the National Association of Knit Goods Selling Agents, speaking in regard to the wool supply, says:

"It is incredible that in this twentieth century an issue must be drawn as to whether the sheep or the dog is to be the choice of the people of our country."

"Now we are 'up against it,' face to face, with the high cost problem. Sheep produce meat, wool, leather, tallow, etc., and the time has come when the people must choose between the dog (absolutely useless from any economic standpoint) and the sheep whose meat is necessary as a food product, whose wool is necessary for clothing, its hide for leather and its tallow for soap, etc., to say nothing as to its value in fertilizing the land they graze over."

"Just note as you ride through the country the vast acreage going to waste, and then go home and pay your butcher fifty cents a pound for lamb chops, sixty cents for a loin of lamb and forty to forty-five cents a pound for a leg of lamb, and see to it that the dog gets his share of it for his dinner."

"It was quite recently that the writer overheard a modern criticize her daughter for feeding a dog meat that cost thirty-five cents a pound. Sheep, when carefully handled, are the most profitable form of live stock and require no manual labor. The sheep is a highly nervous animal, therefore requires an attendant to protect it, principally from the dog. Children as a rule like animals. Get them interested in sheep and they will not only learn to like their flock but will be also interested in making good money; sheep turn grass into money. For example, feeding lambs can be bought in our local live stock market weighing forty pounds at sixteen cents a pound or $6.40 per head. This lamb, with a summer's feeding on grass, will increase its weight at least twenty pounds, and bring when finished eighteen cents a pound, showing a profit of $4.60 per head. An acre of good grass land will feed at least fifty sheep and therefore show a profit of $230 per acre. Pretty good money for a school 12 or 14 little miss to make during vacation time."

"There are thousands of homes in nearby suburban towns having one or more acres of land good enough to feed sheep that could be put to this purpose; therefore, it is the patriotic duty of every man or woman that owns or controls such land to help their country and use such lands for this purpose. Every boy between fourteen years and the draft age should be compelled to do such work, when not attending school, as long as the war lasts."

JUNE FOOD PRICES IN STATES STILL HIGHER

Washington, Aug. 16—Food price figures made public yesterday by the bureau of labor statistics, show further increases in June, the greatest advance being 82 per cent for potatoes. An average increase of 7 per cent in food prices is shown for the year ended June 15, the greatest among twenty-eight articles listed being 85 per cent for round steak. Although the price of flour declined 17 per cent during the year, bread increased 2 per cent.

During the five year period ended June last food prices showed an average increase of sixty-six per cent.

NO DOUBT OF VICTORY HAS WORRIED BRITAIN

Wm. Perkins Bull, K.C., Gives An Interview on England During War

Enemy in Defeat—Americans Say That Anyone Who Is Anti-British Is Necessarily Pro-German

(Toronto Star.) "London was ready for the glorious news of the last week, but never doubted for an instant that it would come. After having lived in England for the whole period of the long war, I can say that I was never more proud of being British than I am today," said William Perkins Bull, K.C., formerly of Toronto, who is visiting the city after an absence of five years, and who will shortly tour the United States in connection with the educational work being done by the British government.

British Are Steadfast. "They have enough to eat, drink and clothes enough to wear in England," he said, "but there is not so much waste as there used to be. There are very few servants, for instance, and everyone is working in some way for the war. The number of automobiles on the streets here is perfectly amazing to me. One never sees any joy riding in England now."

Mr. Bull is the founder of a small hospital for Canadian and British officers at Putney Heath, through which since the war began a large number of officers have passed.

"They say that a number of officers have found brides among the nursing staff," remarked the reporter. "That may be," he replied with a smile.

Mr. Bull said that until his return to Canada he had not seen a sugar bowl or butter on the table for many months. "The war has benefited the working classes, but has hit hard the middle class and those who have to live on fixed salaries. The working men can get the highest wages and are sure of employment."

Adopting the Americans. Mr. Bull has been closely associated with the Anglo-American Fellowship movement, of which he is one of the vice-presidents, under which each town and city in England adopts an American town. For instance, Boston in England adopts the soldiers of Boston, Mass., and the soldiers from the American city are received into the homes of the citizens of Boston, England, when they are on leave from the front.

He is also associated with the British Empire Union, which aims at the exclusion of the Hun from world trade both during and after the war.

In regard to this he says: "Our idea is that for the past forty years the Hun has been received into the families, into the lodges, into the commercial and business communities of the Anglo-Saxon peoples, and he has shown that he is not to be trusted anywhere. He cannot say that it is on account of irresponsible rulers that he has erred, for the people did this thing themselves with their eyes open."

"Is that not rather unjust to the unborn German children?" asked the Star. "I cannot say that it is," he replied, "when you consider that it was the people of Germany who murdered the Belgians, drowned the innocent travelers on the Atlantic, and assassinated nurses. They have forfeited all rights and every right to be regarded as civilized people."

Mr. Bull said that the traditional generosity of the British to a conquered foe will have no place in the settlement of the world with the Hun, because the Allied armies cannot withdraw from Flanders while there is any possibility of the Germans ever repeating their deeds of horror.

Position of Women.

One of the most interesting features of the attitude of the people of England during the war has been the marked change which has come over the country in regard to the place of women in the community. Mr. Bull said: "The women of England have shown their capacity to work in all spheres of labor. They will do jobs no matter how menial and dirty, and they have shown an executive capacity which has raised them to the same plane as men, which they will never leave. After the war they will never be asked to go back on the old footing. They have earned equal rights by stepping into every walk of life."

The United Soldiers' Helpers of Fairville, with no capital stock, and with head office in Fairville, has been incorporated for the purpose of collecting, making, receiving, and forwarding comforts for soldiers now overseas. Those incorporated are: Mary O'Brien, Mrs. Bertha M. Currie, Mrs. Mabel A. Currie, Mrs. Lucy McKel, Mrs. Maud Hayes, Mrs. Lena R. Hill, Mrs. Margaret Miller, Mrs. Alberta Cheeseman, Ruby K. Irwin, Mrs. Alberta Nelson, Mrs. Maud Duff, Mrs. Caroline Harris, Mrs. Mary Beveridge, Ethel H. Miles and Mrs. Elizabeth Mackinnon, all of Fairville.

CZECH SONGS FILL ANCIENT CLOISTERS

Music of Oppressed People Wakes Long Silent Echoes in France

Sing Their Own Anthem—Slav Sombre Melodies Vie With America's Air by the Fighters for Bohemia's Freedom

This letter, from an American aviator in France, depicts a phase of the training life among the American Czechoslovakians in a cloistered billet "somewhere in France."

"There is to my mind hardly anything more romantic than ancient cloisters. They are the crowning glory of this monumental old pile which has been my home for the last four months, and I have grown to be very fond of them. I remember my stroll on finding these quiet cloisters, hedging in from the world a pensive courtyard and garden. Since then I have sought them often for inspiration and beauty. I have watched them under all lights and shades, and wondered what saintly feet have trod these smooth-worn flagstones and what meditations filled the saintly mind and heart.

"These churchly cloisters have a military history undreamed of by the pious builders. They have rung hollow as musket butts struck the stone, and now strange soldiers in brown uniforms, huddled in the still hours of the night, when the moon comes slanting down and the black shadows lie heavy on the whitewashed walls. I come and sit on the stone bench and look out through the great round arches on the white spires of the church rising in the night like two pale, praying hands, and I am moved to reverence and humility.

"I early conceived of filling their classic shadows with light and life and color and music. I am happy to say that this thought developed into a wonderful reality. I expressed my thought to Mishka one day, and he talked with his comrades, the Czechoslovakians, in the French military school. They worked for several weeks on their programme. You remember my speaking of having dinner with their song leader to arrange some details. They were anxious to sing for the American boys, but were interested in their music, and because the relations have been very cordial. It was planned to have the stage in the open court, but it rained, and we put it in a corner of the cloisters, and arranged the seats in both sides of the angle.

"The stage was brilliantly lighted, and there was color enough in the festooned flags of the Allies. There was life because all the Americans, all the Czechs, all the French officers, in as many as many French soldiers and civilians as possible were there. Having already heard their programme, I gave myself up to the enjoyment of the dream come true, the ensemble. I remember once in St. Stephen's Cathedral in Vienna that I walked about in the aisles and nave while the service was in progress. It was a most colorful religious service. I tipped around among the mighty pillars and arches for the most wonderful acoustic effects in my life. As I moved the sound of the booming organ and the high soprano notes of the boy choir ebbed and flowed and eddied in the old gray church.

Slav History Echoed in Songs.

"I had the same effects here when I walked about my cloisters. The reflected sounds were softened with each contact with the chalky stone, and stray wisps of music went whispering in the interminable dark corridors. I went across the court where I could see the singers and, sitting in a shadowy window, I watched and listened. Their music is sombre. Their happiest songs are tinged with sadness. They are a proud people who have suffered the loss of their liberty. Their history is in their songs and they have a passionate love of their land which they strive to express in music. Their march songs are incomparable. They beat a splendid rhythm that lightens the road and swings them along. I believe you cannot stop men who can sing as they sing.

"Their orchestra played Dvorak's 'Humoresque.' They worship Dvorak, who was a Bohemian, you know. They sang The Star-Spangled Banner in our honor and the first bar brought every American to his feet, standing rigidly at attention and holding the salute until the last note. It has never thrilled me more except at my first 'Retreat.' Then they sang their own anthem. It has all the pathos of an oppressed people, but they sang it with a new note of hope because they had faith that out of this world funeral-pyre Bohemia's freedom will rise like a Phoenix.

"The falling rain played a solemn obbligato to their hymn. A violinist played something I had never heard before, but the sobbing violin held even the rough soldiers breathless, so that the dripping eaves made the only other sound. I would not wait for the finish, but ran away because I wanted to preserve the impression—the pleading notes of the violin, the silvery bell-like sound of the drops of water, the white walls glowing with warm light which flowed out into the dark courtyard, and the faint outlines of the spire almost lost in the mist. Had the pious monk been suddenly returned, he might have imagined that he had been awakened from his holy reverie by the heavenly choir."

TAKING NO CHANCE.

(Argument.) Two patriotic New York women of means had been shopping. Upon leaving the department store they noticed two lanky soldiers—plainly strangers—standing on the corner and apparently uncertain what next to do or where next to go. Mrs. A., a white-haired and gracious lady of about fifty-five, approached the young men, beckoning her chauffeur to follow. "You boys are strangers here," she said kindly. "Where is your home?" "Wyoming," was the reply. "Dear me, that is a great distance!" exclaimed Mrs. A. "I wonder if you won't consent to be my guests for the day? Do come and have lunch with my friend and me, and," nodding toward the perfectly appointed limousine, "you may have the use of the car this afternoon to see the sights of the town. Will you come?" One soldier shrugged his shoulders dubiously and turned away. The other bent his gaze sternly upon Mrs. A., and said: "Say, I'm on to your game. We've just been over to the Y. M. C. A. and they put us wise to you kugs. They told us to steer clear of dames like you. You'd just better hit the trail as fast as you kin before we call one o' them cops and hev you tethered up."

LAST TRIBUTES TO GALLANT AVIATOR LIEUT. J. McLELLAN

The military funeral of Lieutenant Jarvis McLellan took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of his parents in Horsfield street to Centenary church where special services were conducted. Rev. G. A. Kühring led in solemn prayer, appropriate music and singing was arranged and Rev. H. A. Goodwin delivered an eloquent eulogy. The church was crowded with citizens from every walk of life including the city fathers, representatives of the military and naval departments and a large assemblage of citizens and friends of the family. A firing party from No. 7 C. G. R. under Lieutenant Brooks was in attendance and at Fernhill where interment took place sounded the last post and fired three volleys over the late lieutenant's grave. The Depot Battalion Band was also in line.

In Centenary Rev. Mr. Goodwin spoke feelingly of the life of the young officer who so heroically and bravely in the prime of life had freely given his services to his country. At the beginning Mr. Goodwin referred to the sorrow which was prevalent the world over. "We are living in awful days," said the clergyman, "but still they are glorious days." He said that the world was undergoing a reconstruction period and when completed there would be a new life to look upon. The sacrifice, however, was great and Lieutenant McLellan had paid the last full measure with his life. He spoke glowingly of the heroic spirit shown by young men of the stamp of Lieutenant McLellan. This, he added, would never have been shown unless this war had arisen. The opportunity had arisen and "our manhood was not found wanting." Mr. Goodwin in a special manner referred to the sacrifice that was befalling the mothers of such heroes. "They, too, are sharing in a special manner the sacrifice of their boys." Briefly but thoroughly did Mr. Goodwin sketch the life of the late officer from his boyhood touching especially on the tact and cleverness displayed during his military career. He concluded a touching and eloquent eulogy asking God to grant strength necessary to the stricken ones left behind. He said that little could be said that would tend to soften the anguish and sorrow of the home and that felt by the wide circle of friends still, there would be found much comfort in days to come in the glorious death of such a hero and of the fact that his body had been brought home for interment. Among the numerous floral offerings was one touching piece from the "gunners of the ship" that brought the remains from far overseas to St. John. Six officers from the C. G. R. bore the bier. Burial was made in the family lot at Fernhill cemetery.

VERY SUCCESSFUL PATRIOTIC EVENTS IN WEST ST. JOHN

The West Side Soldiers' Comforts Association held a festival yesterday afternoon on the grounds of Mrs. Theodore Stackhouse, corner of Ludlow and Tower streets. More than $200 was realized for the fund. Music was supplied by the City Concert Band.

The ladies in charge were the president of the association, Mrs. A. W. Fraser; convener of the garden fete and helpers, Mrs. William A. Tobin, Mrs. James Brittain, Mrs. John Lee; finance committee, Mrs. W. Lilley and Miss Olive Ring; supper table, Mrs. A. Long, Mrs. R. Perry, Mrs. J. Henderson, Mrs. Peers, Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Hatfield; sewing table, Mrs. F. Brittain, Mrs. John Carrier; ice cream, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Williams; candy table, Mrs. Bosence, Mrs. Williams; candy table, gramme of games was in charge of H. Lee and Bertram Tobin, assisted by many of the young ladies of the association.

Each and everyone of those who took part in the getting up of the party and of those who were present just to enjoy it declared the day a very successful one. The association acknowledges with thanks G. E. Barbour's generous gift of the tea used at the garden fete.

The production of the patriotic entertainment "Odds and Ends" which was given by the West Side Soldiers' Field Comforts Association, last evening, proved such a thoroughly delightful event that it has been decided to repeat it at St. George, St. Martins and at Sussex. The West Side City Hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with American and British flags, gay pine sprays and other decorations. There was a very large and highly delighted audience to witness the entertainment, which was admirably performed throughout.

The cast of characters was as follows: Margaret Blake, Miss M. Young; Pauline Richardson, Miss Edith Long; Alice Sutton, Miss Mildred Carter; Violet Richardson, Miss M. Ferguson. Chorus—The Misses Elsie Woodrow, Frances Lanyon, Mildred Carter, Agnes Collins, Ursula Ellis, Hortense Woodrow, Josephine Wetmore, Marion Lanyon, Phyllis Williams, M. Young and Ida Dutchey.

The choruses were splendidly rendered in costumes and were "We're wearing a smile," "An old-fashioned wife," "Say a prayer for the boys over there," "The daughter of Rosie O'Grady," and "Meet me at the station." Solos were sung by the Misses Frances Lanyon, M. Ferguson, Edith Long and Mildred Carter. Little Miss Lorna Waring and little Miss Angelina Gregory were very quaint in their specialty dances. Other items on the program were a piano solo by William Waring, character and step dance by Miss N. Ferguson, and two songs by Miss Daisy Oram. The dancers, Misses Gregory, Ferguson and Waring were presented with baskets of flowers.

The entertainment was under the direction of Miss Nellie Ferguson, of Boston, and the pianist was Miss Eileen Millar. The ushers were the sergeants of the 7th Garrison Battalion. The event was a notable one in West Side circles and the organizers must be given hearty congratulations on staging such a fine musical treat. If the other performances that are given the same reception that was given the first then funds for the Soldiers' Field Comforts Association will be well supplied. Mrs. E. A. Young is the very able head of the association and the great success of the entertainment is in no small degree due to her own personal efforts.

M. S. A. FIGURES

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Angles in the Military Service Act figures are being gradually straightened out. Investigation is now in progress by the various registrars to determine exactly how many men have been secured who might properly be classed as "reinforcements," within the meaning of the act. Difficulties have arisen apparently owing to differences in the classification of men by the registrars and owing to the fact that a large percentage of men classed as deserters have joined the colors in other military districts. Revised figures, it is expected, will be ready within the next week or two.

So far returns available show that up to noon yesterday, the net number of reinforcements secured under the M.S.A. is 58,718. This total is exclusive of those who have reported for service voluntarily since the act came into force. It is exclusive also of men discharged or on leave without expense to the public. Including these, the total would be: Obtained under M.S.A., 58,718. Voluntarily reported, 19,477. Number discharged or on leave without expense to the public, 23,528. Total 101,713. The total of 58,718 reinforcements secured under the act is made up as follows:

OUR MEN "OVER THERE" IN GREAT WORK

The fighting on the Somme-Oise battle front still continues of a minor character compared with that of the early part of the week, when the Germans reinforced their line and stopped the eastward sweep of the Allied forces.

Nevertheless the British and French again have been able to gain ground on two important sectors—the Canadians a short distance northwest of Roye, where they took the villages of Damery and Parvillers, and the French on the southern wing of the battle front, where they have captured two farms in the process of clearing the hilly and wooded district around Lassigny of the enemy.

North of the Somme, between Albert and Arras, the Germans are continuing to fall back, and the British are keeping in close contact with them. Thus far the Germans have definitely given up the towns of Beaumont-Hamel, Serre, Bucquoy and Puisieux-Au-Mont, and at several points have crossed the Ancre River, with the British following closely on their trail.

No official explanation has yet been advanced of the retrograde movement of the Germans over this front, but it is not all unlikely that the operations on the Somme front and the harassing tactics that the British recently have employed made the enemy desirous of establishing himself on new ground eastward, with the Ancre River a barrier between him and his foes.

At any rate the Hebuterne salient has virtually been obliterated by the retirement of the Germans and seemingly they now will be compelled to make a readjustment of their line between the Somme and Arras.

In the week of fighting on the Picardy front 30,244 prisoners have fallen into the hands of the British fourth army and the French first army according to an official announcement. Of this number the British captured 21,244. Unofficial reports, probably compiled since the official statement today was sent from the front give the number of prisoners in Allied hands since August 8 as 34,000 and say also that 670 captured guns thus far have been counted.

Washington, Aug. 15.—In reporting the administration man-power bill extending draft ages, today, Chairman Chamberlain disclosed to the senate that General March, chief of staff, had told the military committee it was up to the United States to put enough men in France to win the war on the western front.

The report revealed that the new American war programme calls for eighty divisions, or something over three million men, in France by June 30, next year, with eighteen more divisions in training at home then.

All of the men called for active service under the proposed new draft ages—eighteen to forty-five—General March told the committee would be in France by next June, according to the programme.

General March told the military committee that President Wilson has finally announced that American military policy from this time on is centred on the western front and "We have declined to be diverted from that one thing. The war department has now adopted this as a policy and it is the policy of the United States that the military programme is to be centred in France.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Canada's death toll from four years of war is now approximately fifty thousand. The wastage of men in the Canadian Expeditionary Force during the four years, including also those incapacitated by wounds, illness or by other causes, is estimated to be a little over one hundred thousand, or at the rate of about 25,000 per year.

The operation of the Military Service Act which has so far directly produced 26,113 men, not including 22,923 men who reported for duty under the act and have been either discharged for medical unfitness or other reasons, or who have been granted leave of absence for necessary agricultural or other work, has thus produced a reinforcement reserve that should secure, under average conditions of wastage, the maintenance at full strength of the divisions at the front for a considerable period to come. It may be noted also that in addition to the 26,113 draftees actually put in training, voluntary enlistment since November last has added 19,477 men to the Canadian army.

The total number of pensions already granted to returned soldiers is now approximately 30,000, involving an annual payment of more than $4,000,000. In these figures no account has been taken of the wastage through desertions, transfers to the air service or other branches of the imperial army, which, of course, has made necessary the recruiting of many thousands more to take their places in all the various units of Canada's army. The figures are given only to indicate war's actual toll from Canada in lives lost or men disabled.

ARGUMENTS CLOSE CURRIE ENQUIRY. Moncton, Aug. 15.—The inquiry into the charges preferred in the legislature last spring by Dr. J. B. M. Baxter against Hon. William Currie, speaker of the house, was brought to a close this evening when argument by the various counsel was completed before the commission, James Friel, K. C. The result will be made known when Mr. Friel's report is submitted to the government. Mr. LeBlanc, for Mr. Currie, argued that none of the charges had been supported by the evidence and quoted the evidence in support of his contention. If there was any irregularity, he said, it was the fault of the system and not of the man and Mr. Currie had taken a lead in having the system remedied. His defence was eloquent and exhaustive. Dr. Baxter, contra, argued that Mr. Currie's own evidence could be used to support the allegations of Murchie. Mr. Copp, for the government, contented himself with a brief reply to Mr. Baxter's intimation that he had not sought to secure all the evidence available by pointing out that it was Dr. Baxter's objections which had limited the scope of the inquiry. Hon. F. B. Carvell, who was in the city yesterday stated that he intended to return to St. John next week on business in connection with the public works department. He will be here for the launching of the War Fundy on August 24 from the yacht of Messrs Grant & Horne.

PROVINCE CROPS ARE PROMISING WELL.
Premier Foster Believes Leave Limit for Soldiers on Farms Should Be Extended

Advices from all parts of the province received by Premier Foster show that the crops are making a better showing than ever before, with especially fine results in grain and potatoes. This is in large part the result of the loyal response of the people of the province to the call for greater production and the extra efforts made by the provincial department of agriculture working in co-operation with the agricultural societies and the farmers generally.

The premier expressed his gratification regarding the excellent efforts of the people of the province but also pointed out that nothing must be left undone which would ensure the proper harvesting of all the crops.

As a result of representations made by the premier and the minister of agriculture leave of absence for farmer soldiers was secured to enable them to aid in the harvesting, but the premier today voiced his regret that this leave has been limited to Sept. 15. The agricultural season in New Brunswick, he said, was several weeks later than in other parts of Canada, such as Ontario, and he felt that unless the leave of absence for the soldier farmers was further extended the full purpose for which it was granted will not be accomplished.

COLONEL POWELL APPLIES TO GO IN SERBIAN UNIT

Report Today That He is at Last To be Successful in Efforts To Get Overseas

That the Serbian contingent to be recruited in Canada is proving very popular, among the officers especially, is evinced from the number applying for positions. Many of the older officers feel that they should have an opportunity of getting overseas, and it is understood that several have put their names on file as being very anxious to identify themselves with the unit.

It is understood from an official source that Lieutenant-Colonel A. H. Powell, A. A. G., military district No. 7, has applied, and it is further intimated that it is possible that he will receive one of the senior positions in the contingent. Colonel Powell is a veteran of the South African war, and for many years has been on the permanent force of the Canadian militia. Since the present war broke out Colonel Powell has made many attempts to get overseas, but his ability as an administrative officer has been recognized to such an extent at Ottawa that he has been deprived of an opportunity of reaching the front.

PRINCE HERE PART OF A DAY

Arrive at 2 O'Clock and Leave in The Evening—Plans in His Honor

Arrangements for the visit of Prince Arthur of Connaught to this city have been completed and the details were announced this morning by Premier Foster.

His royal highness will arrive in St. John by special C. P. R. train at 2 o'clock on Friday, Aug. 23, on a visit, the chief object of which will be of a military nature. On the arrival of the train the prince will be received by the premier and members of the executive council, the civic reception committee and a military guard of honor.

After inspecting the guard, the prince and his party will proceed to King square. There a luncheon will be served, erected for the purpose and the premier, on behalf of the people of the province, will present to Prince Arthur a complimentary address.

The rest of the afternoon will be devoted by the distinguished visitor to an inspection of the military hospitals and other places of military interest. Later in the afternoon he will leave for Rothesay, where he will be the guest of Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley at Government House. During the evening he will board his special train to proceed to his next destination.

TRY TO GET HARD COAL HERE BY RAIL

Mayor Gets Word From Railway War Board Through Hon. Mr. Carvell

Mayor Hayes has received from Hon. F. B. Carvell a communication in which was enclosed a letter from C. O. Neal, general secretary of the Canadian Railway War Board. Mr. Neal wrote that an endeavor would be made to have St. John placed on the list for car shipments of anthracite coal and he hoped to see an early increase in shipments.

He said that there seemed to be an impression on the other side of the line that the maritime province dealers were not taking advantage of every opportunity as it presented itself to obtain the fuel. "Whether this is founded on fact," he said, "I am unable to say as I have not yet received full information."

J. P. DUNNE TO HELP IN THE KNIGHTS' DRIVE

The Halifax Echo says: "Halifax and the province of Nova Scotia will soon be treated to some of the finest oratory the country has ever heard, from the lips of John P. Dunne of Ogdensburg, N. Y., who is a leader in the Knights of Columbus war work. He is coming to Nova Scotia gratuitously to assist in the great drive which the Nova Scotia councils of the order of the Knights of Columbus will inaugurate to raise $100,000 for the erection of army huts in France and for the supplying of all Canadian soldiers the creature comforts they most want and need after coming out of the line after an engagement with the enemy. Other notable speakers will come from Boston to assist in the drive."

A Sydney Mines, C. B. despatch says: There is a feeling of optimism in the Knights of Columbus Circle that the old coal and steel town will be strong in the big drive to raise $100,000 in Sydney. Rev. S. A. McDonald, manager of the campaign in Sydney, has about completed his organization plans.
