GIANTS ARE IN THE LAST DITCH

Athletics Need To Win But One More Game

INTEREST KEEN TODAY

Four to One Against New York is the Betting on Series and Few Will Take It—Coombs Likely Against Marquard—Cool But Good Weather

(Canadian Press) New York, Oct. 25.—The New York Giants are fighting in the last ditch today, to wrest the title of world's champions from the Philadelphia Athletics.

The eve of the fifth struggle today, saw the same big crowd moving toward the Polo grounds and even though the home team seemed to have but a bare chance of victory, still there was no lack of enthusiasm and interest.

There was a death of batting, the Athletics being regarded as the ultimate winners of the series, and only a few cars to take short end of 4 to 1 against the home club.

Coombs and Lapp for the Athletics, looked to be the batter selected for today's game. The batting order, subject to last minute changes, follows: Giants—Devore, H. Doyle, Snodgrass, Mexico, Henry, Fletcher, Mays, Marquard, C. Marquard, P.

Philadelphia—Lord, H. Oltling, Collins, Baker, Murphy, Davis, Barry, Lapp, C. Coombs, P.

Umpires—Klem and Brennan, National League; Conolly and Dineen, American League.

The crowds that advanced on the Polo grounds carried ulsters, sweaters and fur and the smell of camphor and moth balls pervaded the air of subway and "L."

Except for the fall chill in the air, the weather was all that could be asked. The sun in a cloudless sky, poured its rays through an atmosphere clear and dry.

Col. William H. Coffin, commandant of the Narragansett defense district announced in order to get a physician, it was necessary for Lewis to row to the mainland, for Line Rock light has no telephone connection.

When the physician arrived, he found the patient in such a weakened condition, that he held out no hope for her recovery.

H. B. CLARK SAYS HE WILL NOT MAKE STATEMENT YET

Tells New York Reporters He May Talk After Bank Man Arrives

He Does Not Appear Downcast and Eats Well of Prison Fare When a Good Brand of Coffee is Supplied—Detective Killen Leaves to Bring Clark Here

(Special to Times) New York, Oct. 25.—H. B. Clark, the young man who was arrested in New York and held on a short affidavit which charges him with theft from the Bank of New Brunswick, St. John, N. B., has consistently refused any interview. He is in a cell in the Harlem jail. His case is to come up tomorrow morning in the Hall police court when it is expected that certain papers of evidence will have been brought to this city.

In reply to a request for an interview this morning Clark sent out word that until a representative of the Bank of New Brunswick arrived it would be impossible for him to make public any statement. This representative in question, it is understood, is well on his way to New York and should get here some time today.

Clark's answer to the request for an interview was as follows: "I am very sorry, but I cannot at the present time and in view of the circumstances grant an interview. Until the representative of the bank gets here, such a possibility is out of the question. After he arrives, however, if it is advisable, I will be only too glad to receive the reporter." (Signed) H. B. Clark.

CHINA IS BARELY OFF FOR MONEY

Financial Situation Is Declared to Be Desperate

Tries to Make Loan

(Canadian Press) London, Oct. 25.—The Times Peking correspondent says China's financial situation is becoming desperate.

The government must be consulted. Since then, China has been making desperate efforts to escape the money together. The Shanghai treasury, which at present has less than 1,000,000 taels, is unable to pay the officials' salaries.

China and Manchuria of the better class, are leaving Peking in large numbers, removing their treasure to the foreign concessions in Shanghai and Tientsin, and even to Mukden, where it is believed security will be found under Japanese protection.

The government is endeavoring to obtain a loan of 12,000,000 taels (80,000,000) repayable in one year at 8 per cent, with the guarantee of an imperial edict, from British, French, German and American bankers.

Another Capture Shanghai, Oct. 25.—The revolutionists capture of Chang Chou, an important railroad centre in the province of Honan, was announced in dispatches which reached the city a little after noon today.

A strategic point of view, this city should possess great value to the rebels. It is the junction of the Kai-Fung and Peking-Hankow railroads, and is located about 250 miles north of Hankow. Its capture apparently cuts off from Peking all the important troops now gathered around Hankow.

Today's news from the lower Yangtze Valley was all discouraging to the government. With Kiu Kiang in undisputed possession of the rebels, the imperial fleet has retreated on down the river, some of the vessels being reported as far eastward as Wu Hu. Conditions are ominous not only on the Wu Hu, but also in Nanking.

Most of the Manchou officials have left these two cities and are crowding into Shanghai, where every hotel is already filled with refugees.

The taotai of Shanghai today became so alarmed over the possibility of the secession of the native city to the rebels, that he removed his household to the foreign settlement. The taotai of Nanking has also put himself under the same protection.

The city of Su Chou, fifty miles west of Shanghai, is in panic owing to the revolutionary threats of 5,000 weavers who have been unpaid for a long time. Su Chou has 50,000 inhabitants, and is one of the wealthiest cities of China. Revolutionary agents here announced today that the insurgents expect to establish their headquarters at Kiu Kiang, which will probably be the revolutionary capital.

"Man of the Hour" May Help Rebels The probable attitude of Yuan Shi Kai, whose "June Foot" prevented a secession of the government's commission to put down the rebellion, is a subject of lively interest here. Yuan is everywhere regarded as the man of the hour in China. It is hinted here, that he may be induced soon to give the rebel cause his active support against the Manchou dynasty.

Although the Manchou officials here continue to give out false news of the state of affairs in Chang Sha, Kiu Kiang and other cities, in order to create an impression that the imperialists are still in control, the native press of Shanghai and in cities throughout southern China has boldly all censorship and is printing the most exaggerated reports of insurgent successes in all parts of the country. Apparently the government officials are making no efforts to enforce the censorship.

It is unquestionably a fact that the entire Yangtze region and most of southern China as well, is completely revolutionary in sentiment. All the cities which have been taken over by the rebels in the last few days, have been captured almost without resistance. The local government has surrendered quietly and the rebel appointees have taken their places with little stir.

A few Manchou officials have been killed but most of them have joined the rebel cause.

Canon, China, Oct. 25.—Bombs were thrown from the roofs of the houses at the newly appointed Tartar General upon his arrival here today.

Assassination Attempted Berlin, Oct. 25.—A despatch to the German Cablegram Co. from Canton says that the Manchou general, Feng Sen, was seriously wounded by a bomb which was thrown at his party as he and his wife departed at Canton today. This soldiers of the general's escort, were killed and many others were injured. The general came from Shanghai.

WAS A SURPRISE A jolly crowd of young people last evening enjoyed a dance at the club-house on the Riffe Range, North End, and spent a pleasant evening. They took quite by surprise the caretaker, Mr. Thompson and his wife, by presenting to them a handsome chair. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Misses Gertrude Dunlap and Greta Johnson, and Messrs. A. Calnan and R. McColligan.

NOTED WOMAN HAD SAVED 18 FROM DEATH

Fame of "Grace Darling" of America Had Spread All Over World

(Canadian Press) Newport, R. I., Oct. 25.—Ida Lewis Wilson, who died last night, was the only woman to be officially appointed to the charge of an American lighthouse. As the keeper of Line Rock light in Newport harbor for more than half a century, she had saved eighteen lives, some of them at great personal risk.

Her deeds of daring carried her fame throughout the world, and she received many honors, including medals, a life pension and the thanks of congress.

Mrs. Wilson was stricken with apoplexy while at her post of duty on Friday night, and was found unconscious by her brother, who lived with her, on Saturday morning. From that moment, to the moment of her death, she never regained consciousness.

In order to get a physician, it was necessary for Lewis to row to the mainland, for Line Rock light has no telephone connection.

REpetition OF RAILWAY WAR FEARED

Another Great Strike Probable in England is the Outlook Today

(Canadian Press) London, Oct. 25.—It is believed now, nothing can avert another great railway strike, a prolonged fight to a finish between the companies and men which would inflict incalculable damage on the industries of the nation.

The men are entirely dissatisfied with the report of the railway commission, and at a meeting of the executives of the four unions on Monday night, a resolution will be proposed refusing to accept the findings.

Parliament reassembled today, after the summer recess. At the opening of the House of Commons, Prime Minister Asquith, outlined the programme for the session, which showed that eighteen of the forty days would be allotted to the consideration of Lloyd-George's workmen's insurance bill.

Mr. Balfour, leader of the opposition, protested against so much of the time of the session being allotted to debate on this one measure.

SEE A BUSY WINTER HERE

Mr. Downie, of C. P. R., Home Today After Upper Canadian Trip—Talks Up New Brunswick Potatoes

General Superintendent William Downie of the Atlantic division of the C. P. R. and Mrs. Downie, returned at noon today after spending some weeks in Ontario and a brief stay in New York state.

Mr. Downie met officials of the company and discussed among other things matters in connection with the winterport. It was anticipated, he said, that there would be a very large export business through this port in the coming winter season, and arrangements were made accordingly. There were, however, no plans in view for this season other than the usual steps that are taken to handle the large export business.

Mr. and Mrs. Downie spent some time in Toronto and among other places visited London, and Boston, N. Y.

The particularly fine weather enjoyed during the entire holiday trip was taken advantage of to see some of the rural parts of Ontario and some beautiful country was visited. Mr. Downie said that he was struck by one large problem, that the potato crop through Ontario was a failure.

He took advantage of the opportunity to look the New Brunswick article and gave the names of wholesale produce dealers here. The surprising part of it was that Ontario dealers knew little or nothing of New Brunswick as a potato country, and the dealer in question was surprised to hear the city was a surplus for shipment.

Countess Who Backed Ex-Shah With Funds in Attempt to Recover Throne—Woman Chief of Scottish Clan

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood company.)

Countess Henriette de Clermont-Tonnerre is the name of a mysterious French lady who was the principal financial backer of the ex-Shah of Persia in his recent attempt to recover his throne. She accompanied his party when it invaded Persia and was present, not only at the several encounters which took place with the government troops, but also at his final defeat. Nothing has been heard from her since then, and a good deal of alarm prevails among her relatives and friends in France concerning her fate, no one knowing whether she was killed, was taken prisoner, or escaped.

General Armand-Doville, the commander-in-chief of the ex-Shah's defeated army, just before facing the file of government soldiers entrusted with his execution, had a long interview at Mirza-Jaffar, forty miles from Teheran, with the special correspondent of the London Times, who had known him well in Europe in happier days. In their conversation, the general, who was a graduate of the imperial Terehana military academy at Vienna, where so many royal personages have received their education, bore eloquent testimony to the role played by the Countess de Clermont-Tonnerre, in connection with the unsuccessful attempt of ex-Shah Mohammed Ali, to recover his throne from his small son at Teheran, who is still cruelly grieved over the absence of his father, and his separation from him, and who, poor little fellow, would be only too glad to surrender his crown to his father.

The Countess Henriette de Clermont-Tonnerre is a very wealthy spinster of about forty-five years of age, who has devoted much of her leisure to travels in all sorts of remote portions and unknown corners of the Orient, where some of her adventures have been of the most exciting description. She is a member of the historic French house of Clermont-Tonnerre, and a cousin of its chief, the present and eighth duke of Clermont-Tonnerre, the founder of the family, Count Sibaud Clermont, of the Dauphine, distinguished himself in the twelfth century, in fighting for Pope Calixtus II, against the anti-pope, Maurice Bourdin, who assumed the title of Gregory VIII.

Sibaud de Clermont's descendants acquired the name and arms of the de Tonnerres through the marriage of Bernard de Clermont with Anne de Tonnerre, heiress of the last of the Counts de Tonnerre, in 1490. Among the most famous members of the house was the Marquis Gerard de Clermont-Tonnerre, who as field marshal, commanded the left wing of the French army at the battle of Fontenoy. Francois de Clermont-Tonnerre, Bishop of Noyon, was elected member of the academy in 1694, and founded the prize for poetry which the academy still gives each year.

Sibaud de Clermont-Tonnerre presided over the French National Assembly in the last days of the monarchy, at the close of the eighteenth century, and was killed in the massacre of the Tuilleries on that anniversary, August 10, 1792. The present Duke of Clermont-Tonnerre dates from the middle of the eighteenth century, when that first created in 1772 and which had become extinct, was revived.

The present Duke of Clermont-Tonnerre is one of the best known figures on the French turf, and is particularly interested in the game of roulette. He married the daughter of the Duc de Gramont, by the late Countess de Gramont, by the late Countess de Gramont, by the late Countess de Gramont's second wife was Marguerite Rothschild, and his present consort is one of the

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

ONCE saw a man kick a dog. He was a transfer and he had been rebuked by a policeman for careless driving. He did not dare talk back to the policeman, but when the officer went away he turned around and kicked his little dog in the stomach.

When I saw the look in that little yellow dog's eyes I decided that whereas the lowest existing inferno might do for a man who brutally kicked a dog after some provocation from the animal, there would have to be a lower inferno created for the man who, like this one, vented his irritation against others upon an innocent dumb brute.

And yet I have been thinking lately how many of us sometimes display the same spirit which, in a more brutal form, animated the leecher.

For instance, a business man comes home from an annoying afternoon at the office. He is smarting, perhaps, under a rebuke from a superior to whom he did not dare to talk back. He is full of unvented irritation and when his wife says or does some little thing which does not like the dim bursts in all the irritation pours upon her head. Quite frequently this happens without any provocation, even the slightest, on her part.

Now isn't this just dog-kicking in another form?

Again the son of a daughter of the house comes home from school or college brooding over some disappointment. Some prize unknown, some school honor unattained, has temporarily embittered their young lives, and although the little mother, who has been looking forward to the home-coming with some such pleasure as possible, remains sullen and finds fault with everything. And the poor little mother, like the little yellow dog, turns away sick at heart and brained in spirit by her son's lack of just dog-kicking in another form?

Or perhaps the mistress of the house, irritated by the dressmaker's mistakes, or tired out by an afternoon's shopping, disappointed to receive some letter from her husband, or annoyed by her prior irritation upon the head of the luckless maid who chafes that night to burn the steak.

Isn't that just dog-kicking in another form?

But have we any right to?

Surely not if we indulge in any of these or the hundreds of other means of dog-kicking.

It wouldn't be consistent.

Rupolis of Rome. The Duc de Clermont-Tonnerre has two little girls, but no son, and the next heir to his dukedom is his cousin, Count Charles de Clermont-Tonnerre, commanding the 4th Regiment of the late King at St. Etienne, and brother of the Countess Henriette de Clermont-Tonnerre, who has been the "angel" of the ex-shah of Persia's recent unsuccessful attempt to regain his crown.

Woman Head of Scottish Clan

Scotland's ancient and important Clan of Menzies, at a meeting held the other day at Stirling, Aberfeldy, in Perthshire, elected a woman, Miss Egedia Menzies, as its chieftain in the place of her brother, the late Sir Neil Menzies, who died last winter in Paris without issue. His baronetcy, created by Charles II, soon after his accession, has become extinct. The choice of a woman to an office of this kind is, I believe, without precedent, at any rate in modern times, and therefore noteworthy and calculated to interest Scotchmen and people of Scotch descent in all parts of the world.

When Sir Neil died, he left all his property to his widow, the divorced Countess of Stair; but by virtue of an arrangement between herself and her sister-in-law, Castle Menzies, a quaint and imposing structure on the banks of the Tay, dating from the sixteenth century and occupying the site of the foundation of a castle built early in the twelfth century, has passed into the possession of Miss Egedia.

The name of a rugged crag just behind the castle, as also of the village depending thereon, has been in the possession of the Menzies for 800 years, without interruption, and the earliest of the Menzies—one of them, Sir Robert Menzies, was Lord Chamberlain of Scotland in the reign of Alexander III, on the occasion of the latter's coronation at Stonehaven in 1249, and was known as Sir Robert Menzies of Weem. In consequence of the destruction of Menzies Castle, and of all the other castles and manors, by Sir Robert Menzies, from whom the new chieftainess of the clan is lineally descended, in 1487 from the crown, a fresh charter of castle and lands, which is now in the possession of Miss Egedia, was granted to her by the Scottish crown, the first ever seen in the northern kingdom, having been brought thither in the form of small saplings from the Tyrol, by Menzies of Ouldrean in 1738. Of the seven saplings in question, two are still in existence in the grounds at Dunkeld belonging to the Duke of Athole and are the most gigantic specimens in the kingdom today.

The hunting tartan of the clan is red and green, not a very pleasing combination, and the dress tartan is a gorgeous check pattern of red and white, so startling as to take away one's breath when it is worn as Miss Egedia ventures to wear it, in an unbroken garb, from head to foot.

There are several branches of the Menzies family, and one of them, Frederick W. Menzies, a subaltern of the 2nd Life Guards, married last year, in London, Miss Hetty Davenport, daughter of the late John Davenport, of New York, and grand-nephew of Governor Morris.

The Serbian Tragedy

Asta Novakovich, the leader of the conspiracy against the late King Alexander and Queen Draga of Serbia, to whose restoration I have more than once called attention in these letters recently, has at length had bare the agreement which he and Colonel Maschin and their fellow jobbers made with King Peter. This agreement is in the form of a document in the handwriting of King Peter, bearing his signature, and dated Geneva, May, 1903. In it, Peter undertakes to rule Serbia in accordance with the terms of the constitution, to refrain from persecuting or prosecuting the conspirators, and to pardon and rehabilitate them, in the event of their being punished, against his wishes by the courts of law.

If the conspiracy should succeed, he was to pay all its cost out of his civil list. But if it resulted in failure, he was not to be saddled with any of the expense. This agreement was written and signed by Peter, on the occasion of his final interview with the conspirators.

HUMAN DERELICTS

The Police Magistrate of St. John made some observations yesterday on the fact that nine men were before him on the charge of drunkenness, and that on the preceding day there were eleven. The record is not one that citizens can regard with pride, and they ought not to regard it with indifference.

Premier Gouin of Quebec has declared his sympathy with an aggressive movement to provide the province of Quebec with better main roads. Commenting on his statement the Montreal Herald says: "If he would have the right officer from the right department go down and look over some of the state roads in some of the New England States, and have that officer inform himself of the amount of traffic there is on such roads, he would not wait for outside influences to work up a popular demand for such highways but would see the wisdom of bringing in a policy of his own in regard to them, of seeing it through and of claiming the credit."

There are domestic tragedies associated with many of these police court appearances. Money has been spent which should have gone to pay rent, or the living expenses of a little family. The man behind the bars is not the chief sufferer. There are little children who do not get a fair start in life because of poverty in the home, due to parental dissipation. The great majority of the men who are dealt with for drunkenness are those least able to pay a fine, many of them being habitual drunkards.

There is one class of derelicts who require treatment quite different from that which they receive. They are the men who appear frequently in court, and seldom or never do any work. The Times knows of one who was released from jail in July, and has not done two weeks' work since that date. He has lived on the public, and nearly all the time he is under the influence of liquor. Fortunately no one is dependent upon him. He is a representative—perhaps one of the most hopeless representatives—of a class. He will probably spend the winter, or part of it, in jail, if he is not found dead some morning after an unusually large absorption of liquor at somebody's expense.

Why should the working community provide food, and incidentally contribute to the destruction of a considerable number of persons of this class? Every citizen who gives one of them a drink or a dime, or grants his request for the loan of half a dollar, encourages him in idleness and helps him to destroy himself. And yet if all the persons of this class in this city were brought together the people would be amazed. They represent a loss of earning power, a burden upon those who do earn, and an influence and example that can only be regarded as very injurious to the community.

We need a prison farm, and a law which will take such persons and remove them entirely from the way of temptation for a sufficiently long period to give them a new outlook and a fair start. If they declined to avail themselves of the new opportunity on their release, they should be sent promptly back again for another term. They should be compelled to "pull their weight in the boat." In the case of men with families, if they were apparently hopeless cases, the families would be better off without them, and would not be continually worried and disgraced by their drunkenness and bad conduct.

During the past five years an organization in this city has made a faithful test of the plan of taking hold of men of this class, giving them a fair start, offering them sober companionship, helping them when they needed it, and encouraging them to persevere in sober living. The plan proves a failure in so many cases that it clearly is not the solution of the problem. The odds apparently are too great. Preventive measures must begin with the young, and the law must be invoked in the case of the derelicts. The jail does not cure them. The community, therefore, owes it to itself to provide another means, and the prison farm is the best that has yet been adopted.

The citizens will avail with a good deal of interest the report of County Secretary Kelley and Coun. Cochran, who are visiting the prison farms at Grand and elsewhere. We need in St. John a change of methods which will remove from the city the standing disgrace of present conditions.

THE KINDERGARTENS

If progress be slow, the friends of the free kindergartens may assume with confidence that the kindergarten system will eventually be adopted in the public schools. Reviewing the educational progress of recent years in St. John, there is found good reason for encouragement. The city has been supplied with better school buildings; compulsory attendance has been adopted; manual training has made some progress; we may fairly anticipate the early adoption of medical inspection of schools; the theological faculty will receive $200,000 of the endowment fund for a building, fuel, light and attendance.

The church asks for the building it occupies but the trustees decline. They, however, promise to house the faculty and within five years to erect a new building suitable for its work.

A harassing wrangle prevails in Chapman, Kan., about a dog belonging to a clergyman. The authorities want to tax the dog, but the owner objects, saying that the animal watches the church property, and should therefore be exempt from taxation.

DR. A. W. CROWE'S CATARRH POWDER

It is the best improved powder. It stops the discharge, relieves the pain and restores the system. It is the only powder that stops the discharge, relieves the pain and restores the system. It is the only powder that stops the discharge, relieves the pain and restores the system.

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY SEPARATION

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 24.—In the separation of Queens from the Presbyterian church, the theological faculty will receive $200,000 of the endowment fund for a building, fuel, light and attendance.

A THOUSAND MILE NEW RAILWAY IN THE PEACE RIVER DISTRICT

J. D. McArthur and Associates. Secure Charter From Edmonton to Fort George.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 24.—Announcement that J. D. McArthur, millionaire railway contractor, of Winnipeg, and several associates, has acquired a charter for a railway extending from Edmonton to Fort George, B. C., made by J. L. Cote, member for Athabasca in the Alberta Legislature.

The proposed line will traverse the richest portion of the Peace River district, entering British Columbia via Pine River Pass, north of Yellowhead Pass, and opening a vast region in the northern portion of this province. It will be more than 1,000 miles long and will take the shape of two sides of a triangle, whose apex will be at Pine River Pass, which has a low altitude. An exploratory survey party is now going over the route to secure data preliminary to undertaking the location work. It is expected that the line will be completed and in operation within four years, as it is understood arrangements for financing the proposition have already been completed. This road, when completed, will connect with the Grand Trunk Pacific at Port George, providing a link in a through route from Vancouver to the Peace River district.

MIND RESTORED

AFTER 14 YEARS

Victim of New York Thugs Had Since Lived Under Another Name

Seattle, Oct. 23.—S. Chandler Rogers was attacked by three men at Eighth avenue and Sixteenth street, New York, May 1, 1897. He was thrown into the Hudson river after his skull had been fractured. He was picked up, and wandered about the world for fourteen years under the name of George Kelly. He has just been restored to himself here after an operation on his skull.

As George Kelly he served eleven years in the United States navy. Then he worked at Port Blakely and was married there two months ago. Recently he disappeared and was found three days later in the forest crawling on his hands and knees and snapping like a dog. He was brought to a hospital here, apparently paralyzed.

MISS ELSIE RITCHIE BRIDE IN OTTAWA

Daughter of Late Chief Justice
Weds President of E. B. Eddy Co.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 25—An interesting marriage was celebrated this morning, at a quarter to eight o'clock in All Saints church, when Miss Elsie, youngest daughter of the late Chief Justice Sir William Ritchie was married to William H. Rowley, president of the E. B. Eddy Company, of Hull and one of the foremost members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Rev. I. W. Mackay, rector of All Saints church, assisted by Rev. G. Philip Wankelmeier, performed the ceremony.

The wedding is of interest in this city where the bride, who is a sister of the late Sheriff Ritchie has many friends. The bridegroom is also known in St. John through his connection with the E. B. Eddy Co. The premises of the Schofield Paper Co. Ltd., who are agents of the Eddy Company are decorated today in honor of the event.

BARK ACROSS IN NINETEEN DAYS

Nineteen days from Dublin to Boston—that was the exceptionally fast time made by the Norwegian bark Marjetta, which came to an anchorage on the South Boston flats on Monday. The bark left Dublin October 4 and had strong southwest winds to the Gulf stream, when a north-easterly squall carried away the main-topmast, blowing out a number of sails. The easterly wind enabled the bark to show a clean pair of heels from the stream to Boston lights, where she was picked up by a tug.

The Marjetta's performance is regarded the more remarkable because she is a half-lasted (rib) and in no shape to carry a press of canvas in heavy weather. The bark will load a cargo of lumber for the River Plate.

WEDDINGS IN ST. JOHN TODAY

Miss Tufts Bride of Dr. J. N. Balderson of Broomlyn—A Carleton Ceremony—Estabrooks-Palmer

A social event that has been anticipated with much interest was celebrated in Queen Square Methodist church this afternoon, when Miss Doris Frances Tufts, daughter of Mrs. Francis Tufts, was united in marriage to Dr. J. N. Balderson of Broomlyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Balderson. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Wilfred F. Giesz, pastor of the church. The church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. The bride was given in marriage by her brother Gordon Harrison Tufts and she was attended by her sister Miss Biedle Isabelle Tufts as bridesmaid. The ushers were John Spence, John Willett and Herbert Brennan.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin over silk slip. The waiting court train, suspended from the shoulders, was ornamented at the foot with a large satin bow, entwined with orange blossoms. The bodice was draped with pearl garniture, and the sleeves were hand-embroidered with crystal beads and seed pearls. The yoke and under-sleeves were of honiton lace. Her wedding veil was caught with orange blossoms and lily of the valley and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaid's gown was of pink satin chapeau with over-dress of white crystal beaded net over pink silk slip. The veil which draped the bodice was hand-embroidered with pearl and crystal beads, and was caught at the waist with a large pink satin rose. Her hat was a very smart French model in black velvet with willow plume. She carried a shower bouquet of carnations.

The mother of the bride wore black Shantung rosalia, made over black silk and trimmed with red and black satin, with black and white hat.

The groom's present to his bride was a beautiful pearl necklace, and to the bridesmaid he gave a string of gold beads. To each usher he gave an opal scarf-pin. Among the large and splendid array of wedding gifts were parlor furniture from the groom's father and dining-room furnishings from his mother. After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Balderson will leave on a wedding trip to Upper Canada including Montreal, Ottawa, Niagara, Quebec, Syracuse and Albany going home by the Hudson. They will reside in Broomlyn. The bride's going-away gown was of blue English serge. She wore a smart close-fitting hat in match, trimmed with oriental embroidery. She also wore mink furs.

Rev. W. H. Sampson, of St. George's Anglican church, West Side, united in marriage this morning Ernest Clark, train despatcher, of Onset, Mass., and Miss Margaret Lee, daughter of Henry Lee, of West St. John. A large number of friends were present at the ceremony. The bride, who was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Besse Lee, was prettily attired in a traveling dress of grey broadcloth. Her brother, Charles Lee, acted as best man, and after a hearty wedding breakfast at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. Clark left by steamer Calvia Austin, for Boston on the way to their home in Onset.

The wedding of Frank H. Estabrooks of Upper Gagetown, to Miss Addie B. Palmer, of Scotchtown, Queens county, took place this morning in German street Baptist church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. S. Porter, pastor of the church, in the presence of relatives of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Estabrooks left on the steamer Yarmouth for Halifax via Digby and on their return will reside in Upper Gagetown.
