The candidate believed to have the backing of those organizations is Edward Barrows, of Toronto, who managed the Montreal team last year.

Deaf Mutes, Reading the Lips on Canvases, Say Vile Language is Used

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 12.—Deaf mutes are complaining against the use of profane and indecent expressions by players in moving picture shows. They are asking a rigid censorship by the manufacturers. Mrs. Elmer Bates, for many years a teacher of deaf and dumb children, in the art of lip reading, declares that these shows are the chief source of amusement for the deaf and dumb and they are prevented from enjoying them because they are able to understand what is being said by the characters on the screen. Mrs. Bates made a tour of the downtown shows yesterday, accompanied by a reporter who wrote down the vile language and at times the language was so vile that she had to stop.

The fire started in the gallery where it started, and a portion of the floor below. OBITUARY

Fredericton, N. B., Dec. 11—The death of Alfred F. Street, collector of customs at this place from 1872 until 1909, took place Saturday night as a result of paralysis. Deceased was in his 67th year and survived by one son, D. Lee Street, of Boston, and at present in this city. The late A. F. Street was a son of the late Rev. S. D. Lee Street, some time rector of Woodstock, and was born at the latter town in 1844. He removed to Fredericton about 1860 and after studying some time at the University of New Brunswick, took up the study of law in the office of his uncle, the late Hon. John Ambrose Street. In 1870 he married Louise Hanford Tilley, daughter of the late St. Leonard Tilley. She died fifteen years ago. Rev. T. W. Street, sub-dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Fredericton, and Warwick W. Street, of San Francisco (Cal.), are brothers of deceased and the only surviving members of a family of eleven. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 from the residence of the Rev. T. W. Street. The funeral service will be conducted at Christ Church Cathedral by Bishop Richardson and Rev. Dean Schofield. The funeral will be under Masonic auspices.

WEDDINGS

McAnn-Corey
Miss Blanche Corey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeBaron Corey, of Havelock, Kings county, was married to C. Talmage McAnn, son of Geo. W. McAnn, of Antigonish, in Vancouver, B. C., by Rev. Mr. Schlichter, on Nov. 23. They will reside in North Vancouver.

MUTINY QUELLED BUT DEATH LIST IS LONG

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 11—The government troops are again in control of the garrison on Cobra Island, and the second mutiny of the naval forces has ended with a heavy casualty list, but in a way that will probably prevent further risings for some time to come.

The mutineers in the garrison who composed a battalion of the marine corps, numbered about 600 men. Of these 200 were either killed or wounded. The others were taken prisoners by the destroyers while attempting to escape from the island during the night.

Two hundred citizens were either killed or wounded while watching the bombardment from the streets of the city or along the water front. Many government buildings were damaged including the treasury, the foreign office and the departments of public works and telegraphs, all handsome structures.

George E. Dixon
The death of George E. Dixon, a well known farmer of Lower Norton, Kings county, occurred at his home there yesterday. The deceased was in the 60th year of his age and is survived by a wife, five sons, two daughters, one brother and three sisters. The funeral will take place from his late residence tomorrow.

A MOTHER'S SACRIFICE

Made in Kindness is Often an Injustice to Herself and to Her Family.

It is a common thing for mothers to sacrifice comfort, strength, and sometimes life itself, for her family. So common, indeed, that little notice is taken of it. If anyone else is tired or weak or sick, mother waits on them. But there is no time for mother to be sick or to get the much-needed rest. So she neglects her ailments until she gets beyond the reach of human aid.

This is an injustice to herself and to her family. Health must be preserved. It is a mother's duty to do so.

You cannot get well in a day. Nature's cures are gradual and lasting. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food works hand in hand with Nature by supplying the elements which go to build up the system.

Mrs. H. A. Loyton, nurse, Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I was all run down and could not do my own work. Everything I ate made me sick. In nursing others I had seen the good results of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food and resolved to try it. As a result of this treatment I have gained ten pounds, do my own work alone, and feel like an entirely different person."

DR. LUNNEY'S LECTURE IN THE C. M. B. A. COURSE

Takes Large Audience in a Delightful Tour of England, Scotland and Ireland and Part of Continent

Dr. T. H. Lunney was the lecturer last evening in the C. M. B. A. winter course in the hall of Branch 134, in Union street, and his subject, a visit to the British Isles and part of the continent. For fell on to an hour and a half Dr. Lunney held the large gathering deeply interested by his finely worded descriptions of places seen, and he cleverly illustrated his talk with sparkling anecdotes and historical references, which made his lecture particularly entertaining.

Opening with a brief account of his trip across the Atlantic in the S. S. Montezuma in 1909, Dr. Lunney described the arrival at London and then told of days spent in the world's metropolis sight seeing and awed. Much of detail was given and the long list of places enumerated suggested that not much time had been lost while in the great city.

After London, Paris was seen with the wealth of attraction in its churches, the Louvre, the Tuilleries and other historical places. After return to London came a visit to Scotland, Glasgow, Edinburgh and Loch Lomond were told of, and the return made to London by way of Liverpool, Birkenhead, Warwick, Leamington and other cities. The steamer was then taken for Holland and after Antwerp and other places had been seen, Germany was visited. There was reference to a trip on the Rhine and a description of sights on the field of Waterloo was given.

The lecturer then described with many well told stories interspersed, a tour of Ireland—Cork, Malloy, Blarney Castle, Killarney, Belfast, Loch Erne and Enniskillen being among the places dwelt upon. It was readily seen that Dr. Lunney had used well his powers of observation and had stored up a large fund of fact and story as the result of his visit to the old land, and with his ability to picture to others what he sees himself, the lecture was made most entertaining and instructive.

Charles P. O'Neill, president of the branch, was in the chair, and at the close of the lecture, on motion of Dr. R. F. Quigley, seconded by R. J. Walsh, presented to the speaker a hearty vote of thanks for his address.

The next lecture in the course will be given on January 8 by Rev. A. O'Neill on the Post Priest of the South.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE—HEROISM AND TRUE DEMOCRACY
By Edwin H. Chapin

From "Humanity in the City" (N. Y. and Boston, 1894), pages 84 to 88.

THERE are occasions that summon up all the energies of manhood as with a trumpet-peal. See yonder! where the conflagration, bursting through marble walls, casts a terrible splendor down the street and reddens the midnight sky. What an enemy has broken loose among us, devouring the achievements of human skill and the hopes of enterprise! What shall stay it? With a triumphant shout it snatches the fetters of stone; it roars with victory; it bends its flaming crest towards peaceful homes, where men and mothers and babes lie in unconscious slumber. The bell beats; and what old bugle-strain, what pibroch, what rattling drum ever sounded a more perilous call? And on what battlefield that you read of was there ever deployed a loftier heroism, a more dauntless energy than that man displays who, with the unconscious courage of duty, plunged into the furnace, mounts the quivering walls, and, making his own body a barrier between his fellow-men and the flame, stands there scorched, bruised, bleeding, and beats the red terror back and beats it down with that irresistible energy which all-ways springs from the human will bent upon a noble purpose.

And so, in other forms, men are exercising a heroism and working achievements that make dim and pale the trophies that are plucked from fields of war and in lists of glittering renown.

The tendency of things is to bring out more and more the real claims to human precedence and to throw all spurious title into the shade. This is the radical purpose of true democracy, which I take to be the social synonym of Christianity. I don't call that "democracy," which is simply the domineering spirit of self-exaltation in a new shape. For there is no essential difference whether we call the social order a monarchy or a commonwealth—whether its leading men are Charles and Louis or Robespierre and Cromwell. If we must have the old social fallacies they appear more attractive with the old symbols. In that case I would rather not have them changed.

For, when I look merely at the sentimental side of things, I feel sorry when the so-called "royal martyr," with a dignity which contrasts with his past conduct, stretches his head upon the block; or when the pitiless insults of a Parisian mob are hurled upon the head of the beautiful Marie Antoinette. A poetic regret and enthusiasm are awakened by the associations that cluster about the golden lion and the Bourbon lilies. And, when I turn to those grim Ironsides, or those frantic Jacobins, the work they are doing looks savage enough. But with a more discriminating vision I perceive that that red popular storm which desolates palaces and shatters cronus embosoms a rectifying process which, tumbling all false distinctions from their pedestals, shall by-and-by heave up the platform of social justice and reveal the true dignity of man. The essential work of democracy is not the destruction of forms; is not the giant arm of justice, striking the hours of human progress by the crash of falling thrones. But its great work is construction—is in changing the very spirit of institutions—and it asserts its legitimate and bases its claims upon the Christian doctrine of the human soul.

TWO GET REPRIEVE AND TWO MUST HANG

Ottawa, Dec. 11—Mary Dolan and James McNulty, who are now in Barrie jail under sentence to be hanged on Wednesday next for the murder of their illegitimate child last summer, will escape the gallows. The death sentence has been commuted to life imprisonment.

In the case of Wiemark, under sentence to be hanged at Perth on Wednesday next for the murder of his wife in a fit of drunken anger, and of a Hungarian under sentence to be hanged at Leithbridge next Thursday for the murder of a fellow countryman, the law will take its course.

WOMAN'S BIG FARM.

Mrs. Harriet M. King, is the owner and actual manager of what is said to be one of the largest farms in the world. Her farm is known as the Santa Gertrude ranch and is near Corpus Christi, Tex. Its pasturage cattle, 20,000 sheep and nearly 3,000 horses. Mrs. King is said to keep 2,000 employees busy on her ranch and to find no difficulty in managing them.

NORTH END FATALITY

Mrs. Annie Miller, widow of Nicholas Miller, was found on Saturday night dying in the cellar of her house in Lanesley street, and as a result of injury she had sustained she passed away yesterday morning. It is believed that she struck her head on a beam in going to the cellar about 5.30 o'clock, and had been unconscious from that time until her death. Her home was near the Portland Rolling mill, and the upstairs portion of it was occupied by Mrs. W. Sillibank, who found Mrs. Miller, on searching for her. Dr. Roberts examined the woman and found a cut several inches long in her forehead. Mrs. Miller was about sixty-two years of age, and is survived by three brothers and one sister. She was well known and liked in the neighborhood. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.15 from 82 Chealey street.

CIVIC QUESTIONS

If a citizen who had been away from St. John last week returned this morning and consulted the newspaper files to learn what had transpired during the week, he could not but note evidences of progress of substantial character.

He would learn, for example, that bank clearings, compared with last year, showed a good increase; that a new machinery company had purchased a large building, to be its maritime headquarters, and announced that it expected soon to carry on manufacturing operations here;

The question of the enforcement of the provisions of the Liquor License Act has been brought very forcibly to the attention of the license commissioners and the officers whose duty it is to see that the law is enforced and all persons treated alike.

MAKING THINGS WORSE. "That excuse only increases the awkwardness of the case," said Mayor Gaynor of a political fiasco.

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS. It is quite clear that the electors of the United Kingdom are not afraid of ruin following in the wake of either home rule or the reform of the House of Lords.

WANTS NOT CONFIDENT TO CHRISTMAS

"What does your wife want for Christmas?" "Great Scott, man, that ain't my worryin' me. It's what she wants every day in the year that keeps me busy."

TOO MUCH FOR HIM

A young man visited his doctor, and described in detail symptoms of his illness. "The thing for you to do," said the doctor, "is to drink hot water an hour before breakfast every morning."

WHEN HE GOES BROKE

This higher cost of living is a problem, I admit; We set down to the grocery every night an argue it.

THE ADDED COST OF CHRISTMAS

That's the thing that makes me sad; Every Christmas there is somewhere some poor, wee, heart-broken lad.

ESTATE MATTERS IN PROBATE COURT TODAY

In the probate court this morning, in the matter of the estate of Catherine Murdoch, there was return of citation to accounts. The executor, R. Keltie Jones, is on his way here from England where he was called since the citation was issued. He is not having returned, and his return being expected soon, the hearing was adjourned until Thursday next, at 11 a.m. Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford are proctors for the executors; J. Roy Campbell for the Natural History Society, one of the residuary legatees and Mrs. Kenneth J. MacKae for St. Stephen's church, the other residuary legatee.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Shea, spinster, there was an adjourned hearing for passing accounts and for order for distribution. In this case a claim has been filed against the estate of Mrs. Shea amounting to $600.00 which the administrator disputes. J. A. Barry, for the claimant, and E. E. Knowlton, for the administrator join in asking that the court determine the validity of this claim. The matter was adjourned until Tuesday, 27th inst., at 11 a.m.

The matter of the estate of Mary McGowan, spinster, came up. She died in Belmont, Middlesex, Mass., in July last and by her will left all her estate to her sister Nellie J. Jones. Mrs. J. Jones, as executrix, she having proved the will and obtained probate in Massachusetts, and there being some estate in the province of New Brunswick amounting to some thing over $2,000, asks for the appointment of The Eastern Trust Company as administrator of the estate within New Brunswick with the will annexed. Administration was granted as requested. Clarence H. Ferguson, is proctor.

HE MUST CONTINUE EXECUTOR

Judge Armstrong Refuses Robert Thomson's Application in Connection With Estate of His Brother John H. Thomson

The following judgment in reference to the estate of John H. Thomson, ship merchant, was delivered by Judge Armstrong in the probate court today:—"This is an application made by and on behalf of Robert Thomson, one of the executors and trustees, for an order vesting the trust property, and estate solely in his executor and trustee, the widow of deceased, the grounds alleged for such application being that he cannot, without making great sacrifices of his personal business and affairs, spare the time to longer continue in office. To this application the widow and children of deceased signify their consent.

"The deceased died more than six years ago leaving a large estate. By his will he appointed his brother, the petitioner, and said widow executor and trustee and directed practically that his widow should have the use of his estate for life and after her decease the real property should go to his two children.

"At the recent passing, in this court, of the executors and trustees and other similar ventures, some of considerable value, others of little value, which have not been realized or disposed of, and the tug boat has been and still is being operated on account of the estate and other owners.

"The will does not give the executors authority to hold such investments. These the executors state they could not properly dispose of to advantage. I think they should have been realized on. Any profit which arises by holding such assets goes to the estate while, on the other hand a loss might fall on the executors, and the loss on one asset could not be set off against the profit on another. This is a risk which the executors are not called on to assume.

"Until all the securities and assets of the estate which cannot legally be held by the trustees are realized, the executors have not completed the trust which they undertook when they proved the will, and cannot resign or be removed from office except for malfeasance and other grounds as provided in the act.

"An executor is regarded in some sense as a trustee. When the assets which cannot legally be held have been realized and the funeral and testamentary expenses, debts and legacies, if any, have been satisfied and the surplus has been invested in such securities as a trustee can properly hold, then the executor drops that character and becomes a trustee in the proper sense, and, as his accounts being passed and allowed, the result is that his liability as such trustee ceases. See Levin on Trusts, Star, page 67.

"I do not think it is in the interests of this large estate that Mr. Thomson should continue as executor and trustee, but entirely apart from this opinion the application for the reasons above stated is refused, and as the life tenant and residuary beneficiaries assented to the application the costs will be paid out of the estate."

(Sgd.) J. R. ARMSTRONG, Judge of Probates.

ROBT. McLEOD DIED TODAY

Brother of Supreme Court Judge and Himself Practising Law in St. John for Years

A well known lawyer and citizen passed away this morning at an early hour in the person of Robert McLeod, whose death occurred after a few days' illness at his boarding house in Duke street. He was in his sixtieth year and was a son of the late John McLeod, of Penobscot, Me., and a graduate of the U. of N. B., and a clever lawyer. He studied with his brother, Judge McLeod, and was admitted an attorney in 1878. He became a partner in a law firm in which the others were his brother, Ezekiel and W. A. Ewing, but this partnership was dissolved in 1886, when his brother was appointed to the bench, and since that time he had been practicing for himself.

For many years Mr. McLeod was a sufferer from asthma, but it is believed that his death was due to heart trouble. He is survived by four brothers and one sister, Isabelle, who lives at Penobscot. The brothers are Winslow, of Penobscot; His Honor Mr. Justice McLeod, Edward, of Petiteddie, and Willard of Boston.

The body will be taken to Penobscot for burial.

REV. DR. ROGERS RESIGNS CHURCH IN SACKVILLE

Will Continue in Charge Until End of Church Year—More Than 50 Years in Ministry

Sackville, N. B., Dec. 12—It is understood that Rev. Dr. Rogers, who since last June has been pastor of the Sackville Methodist church, has resigned his charge, the resignation to take effect at the end of the present church year. The work of the Sackville circuit, especially the Upper Sackville portion, has been found rather too heavy by Dr. Rogers, who has been in the ministry for more than half a century.

General regret is expressed at the proposed retirement of Dr. Rogers, as he is well liked here and has done excellent work in the church.

WVAN BULLOPE

J. Harley won the roll-off on Saturday night on St. Peter's Y. M. A. bowling alley, his score of 101 equalling a low roll-off for him. The next fortunate roll-off will take place on December 24, and on that evening a turkey will be given as the prize to the bowler with the highest score.
