temporary which otherwise might make the history of New Brunswick journalism, yet to be written, an unnecessary misadventure.

Who is Responsible?

The efforts of Mr. R. B. Bennett, of the law firm, Messrs. Tweedie & Bennett, to secure the discharge from Northumberland County jail of James McCoy, have been successful, an order of release being granted by Judge Landry of the Supreme Court on 13th inst.

McCoy is about seventy five years old and has been in jail nearly eight months. It would be interesting to the taxpayers of the county if they could be informed as to the truth of the belief that the prisoner was committed to jail and detained without proper authority. There is little doubt of the fact that no charge was ever pressed against him, even if not properly advised, and it does not seem right that any man should be deprived of his liberty as McCoy was made a charge upon a community, simply at the whim of some person or persons not belonging to either the County, Province or Dominion, and who might only come into the County for the purpose of using our jail, to gratify their malice.

McCoy has been a convict for a number of years, and he may be a much-sinned man. If he is the first and last of his crime was committed in the United States, or any other foreign country, why should a New Brunswick jail be opened to him to be used as a boarding-house for nearly eight months without the taxpayers who pay the bill being indemnified for the expense? If he is an innocent man, and he can establish a fact, ought not the authorities who have made him a prisoner indemnify him? If everything in connection with the man's arrest and imprisonment has been done legally, it is clear that the law is unjust and should be amended on a humane and intelligent basis. If, however, it has been blundering, want of proper knowledge—ignorance—in high places that have deprived McCoy of his liberty and compelled the County of Northumberland to furnish him for eight months and clothe him, the County should be indemnified.

Apart, also, from the matter of expense involved, it is a reflection of our civilization that our local prisons can be used for any such purpose as that which the County jail has been employed by McCoy's pursuers. It is said that the arrest and imprisonment were under authority from the Dominion Minister of Justice. If so he seems to have taken little subsequent trouble to say that might involve serious consequences, were the prisoner in a position to seek redress, for we observe that Judge Landry, in his order of discharge, says McCoy was "illegally confined" in our jail. It is probable that the last is not heard of this case, as we understand Mr. Bennett will look to the County for some remuneration for his services in ridding it of the expense of keeping McCoy. If he does claim any right in the Municipality to go further into the case and ascertain exactly where the responsibility of the whole offence and blundering belongs.

Monday's St. John Globe, referring to the case of McCoy, says that when he was arrested "he had in possession a horse." That is entirely incorrect. Mr. McCoy had not a horse in possession when arrested, nor has it been shown that he ever had the horse alleged to have been stolen in his possession. A deputy sheriff from Maine, named Smart, came with a paper purporting to be a warrant issued by a magistrate in that State. He saw McCoy—who was then in the county—was the man whose arrest was called for by the warrant, and that he had stolen a horse. On application of Mr. Thomson, Q. C. of Newcastle, Judge Wilkinson of the County Court issued an order to the Sheriff of Northumberland to make the arrest, and Deputy Sheriff Irving made the arrest, and the unfortunate man has been in jail at Newcastle since 25th June 1893. The case is a modern curiosity in the administration of criminal law. It is called an extradition case, but it is not. It seems to be a huge blunder, pure and simple, and if justice were done, poor McCoy would not be the criminal in the case. It is not the first time that the law has been abused and made the instrument of "man's inhumanity to man."

Judge Landry's order for McCoy's release has been placed in the hands of Major Irving, but the prisoner cannot avail himself of it, as he is prostrated by grippa. It would be a grim ending of the hospitality established in his behalf by our Dominion "extradition" authorities if the old man should die while a Supreme Court Judge says he has been "illegally detained."

The fourth question asks if sub-section three of section 93 of the British North America Act applies to Manitoba.

The fifth question asks if his excellency the Governor-General-in-Council has any jurisdiction in the premises or grant a remedy as asked for by the Catholic minority.

The sixth question asks if the minority has a right of petition to education and if they have an appeal from the two acts complained of.

Chief Justice Strong answered all these questions in the negative. He spoke strongly in favor of the province having a right to pass its own laws and as to any imposition of any inability of the Dominion parliament.

Justice Fournier followed and to all the questions answered "Yes," except a negative to question three.

Justice Taschereau said he would not discuss the question of making the supreme court an advisory board to the executive of the federal government.

Justice Taschereau concluding said that in answer to all the questions was "No," except the third question, and to that he answered "Yes."

Justice Gwynne next read a long decision. He answered all the questions in the negative except question three. His answers agree with Judge Taschereau.

Justice King delivered a very able judgment agreeing with Justice Fournier and answering all the questions in the affirmative except the third question which he answered in the negative. He was of the opinion that the appeal was admissible.

Justice King delivered a very able judgment agreeing with Justice Fournier and answering all the questions in the affirmative except the third question which he answered in the negative. He was of the opinion that the appeal was admissible.

Justice Gwynne next read a long decision. He answered all the questions in the negative except question three. His answers agree with Judge Taschereau.

comes back to finish the parliamentary term which he commenced.

In the Senate there were four vacancies when Parliament resumed. These were the seats of the late Senators Leonard, in Ontario; S. Evans in Quebec; Archibald in Nova Scotia, and Ouellet, in New Brunswick.

Senator Boyd also resigned to become Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, but has died. There are therefore three vacancies. One appointment has been made, Hon. Mr. Ferguson getting the position vacated by the death of Mr. Montgomery.—Ex.

N. S. Elections.

The Legislature of Nova Scotia has been dissolved and new general elections ordered. The nominations are on the 8th and polling on the 15th of March.

There will be a plebiscite on prohibition at the same time.

The Freight Market.

The London Trades Journal of 3rd inst. says:—Some progress has been made during the week in Canadian chartering, but rates that might certainly be fairer.

This department is still less speculative than that of the Baltic, and absolutely no boats are fixed unless there is a wood sold to load them. Thus, business only goes on in relation to contracts made.

There have been several vessels chartered from New Brunswick ports at a maximum of 40c., being equal to about 5c. more from Quebec, and more in favor than the latter place. Wholes regular lines are yearly showing more and more of the wood trade with the United Kingdom.

The steamer has been taken from the latter port at 65c. for timber, and another charter of 60c. is reported to have been taken at 62c. 6d.

"From the pitch pine ports we learn that now that Canada is entering into the market the usual rise, however slow, has begun to show itself. Lately we have seen several contracts closed for pitch pine at 85c. to 87c. 6d., large boats, while 90c. has been paid for suitable smaller craft."

There is now set in is about half a crown on the cheaper, and as much as 75. 6d. for more coveted boats, which appears satisfactory. Business done on these terms has mostly been for the Continent.

Talmage, and his Methods.

The great religious fabric, Dr. Talmage, seems to have reached and passed the zenith of his influence. That he has great talents will be admitted by all, but it is equally true that he prostituted them to gain money and notoriety.

His conduct in this respect is not only a reproach to his own church, but a disgrace to the Christian religion. He has succeeded in holding the popular ear like Dr. Talmage. His sermons are couched in a billiard-room style of drollery.

For twenty-five years Dr. Talmage has never failed when in New York to keep his demand for the world's attention. He has frequently found fault with his own sermons, but he has never been able to do so in a way that would lead him to improve them.

GUS' SATISFACTION.

Will skip it, reader, for it would seem to begin a story with an oath like that Gus Gurley uses, standing over his wife's dressing table that morning. And Gus was a swearing man either.

How come he, then, to commit such a breach of etiquette and ethics? Well, may be you wouldn't have done it; but Gus's blood was up, and he was so angry to be able to "put yourself in his place." Imagine a young husband of six months' standing, content and thriving, casually entering his wife's dressing room to her absence, and stumbling on a mischievous-looking, rose-colored note, freshly opened, a cupid in every crease, and a lurking look of another's hair—not peeping stealthily from its folds!

The very paper blushed guiltily as Gus caught it up. Eagerly and wildly his eyes ran over the contents. For a moment he stood amazed and motionless, and then broke out— "But we've promised to skip that. Perhaps any other man would have given utterance to as much railing such a mischievous address to his wife!"

"DEARER KATE—How could you go and send me such a note? It's not fair. I'm still in time to give that look and send an older love than his wife's quietly suffer me by Monday, and keep a kiss for me. Expect me by Monday, and keep a kiss for me. Expect me by Monday, and keep a kiss for me. Expect me by Monday, and keep a kiss for me."

Smith! Smith! Sam Smith! What a name! Had it been Brown, Jones or Robinson, there might have been some bearing it. But Smith! And red-headed, too! "Frailty, thy name is woman!" Yes it might be that Smith was some presuming puppy, whose vile egotism was the sheer result of his own impudence. But no; the wife that could receive such a communication and conceal it from her husband could not be else than false.

Smith's heart's blood was the very least amount of the case admitted. Had Gus been more collected, he might probably have bided his time and taken his peace-destroying unwelcome and then "stripped him," trusting to an intelligent jury and proof of a mental ailment to bring him out after the fact. But he was not sufficiently rational for that, and so adopted the foolish plan of summoning Smith to mortal combat.

Gus had a friend, Captain Borax, a retired quartermaster, through whose aid he intended to address himself to his challenge to the address in the caption of Smith's note, and fixing a time and place at which such a meeting should take place.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC

AND
Stomach & Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.
It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nerve Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nerve Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nerve Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this Great Nerve Tonic, known constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of this remedy each year.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF Nervousness, Broken Constitution, Debility of Old Age, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Heartburn and Sour Stomach, Weight and Tenderness in Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Frightful Dreams, Dizziness and Ringing in the Ears, Weakness of Extremities and Feet, Worn-Out, Nervous Chills, Paralysis, Nervous Paroxysms and Nervous Choking, Hot Flashes, Palpitation of the Heart, Mental Despondency, Sleeplessness, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervousness of Females, Nervousness of Old Age, Neuralgia, Pains in the Heart, Pains in the Back, Failing Health, Summer Complaint of Infants.

All these and many other ailments are cured by this wonderful Nerve Tonic.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nerve Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become stumped, and the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer from want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nerve Tonic has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

CHATHAM, N. B., Feb. 22, 1894.
To the Great South American Nerve Tonic,
I have been a sufferer for many years from a very serious case of Nervous Prostration, Nervous Headache, Sick Headache, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Chills, Paralysis, Nervous Paroxysms and Nervous Choking, Hot Flashes, Palpitation of the Heart, Mental Despondency, Sleeplessness, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervousness of Females, Nervousness of Old Age, Neuralgia, Pains in the Heart, Pains in the Back, Failing Health, Summer Complaint of Infants.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITUS' DANCE OR CHOREA.

CHATHAM, N. B., June 22, 1887.
My daughter, eleven years old, was severely affected with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nerve Tonic, and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause.

State of Indiana, Montgomery County, ss:
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd June 22, 1887.
GEO. W. WRIGHT, Notary Public.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nerve Tonic
Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unflinching remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this level of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the one and only one great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unmanageable disease of the stomach which can resist the powerful curative powers of the South American Nerve Tonic.

HARRET E. HALL, of Waterville, Ind., says: "I cannot express how much I owe to the Great South American Nerve Tonic. My system was completely broken down by indigestion, nervous prostration, and a general debility of my whole system. Had given up all hope of getting well. Had tried three or four different remedies, but all failed. With no relief. The first bottle of the Nerve Tonic improved me much. Had tried three or four more bottles, and a few bottles cured me entirely. It is the greatest medicine for nerve, stomach and can recommend it to all."
No remedy compares with the
