MANY REGISTER FOR EVENING CLASSES

Vocational Classes Commenced Tuesday Evening With Large Attendance.

The evening classes in vocational training opened on Tuesday evening in the grammar school here with a large number of students present. To date 65 pupils are fully registered with the applications received reach the four score mark. With such an auspicious opening the future of the classes is bright.

The Board of School Trustees have been fortunate in securing an effective staff of instructors. Mr. John E. Vallis, the director, comes here after seven successful years with the Mount Allison Commercial College at Sackville and it is safe to say that under his guidance this commendable project will doubtless be productive of gratifying results. In addition to his directorial duties, Mr. Vallis will be the instructor for the classes in Book-keeping and Typewriting.

Besides these subjects, classes in dressmaking, Millinery, and English, Arithmetic and penmanship will also be a part of the program. Mrs. A. and Miss Bertha Richard have been engaged to instruct the students in dressmaking, while Miss Balaban of the Rust Millinery Parlors will be the instructor of the millinery class. Miss Katherine McNair, already a member of the Woodberry Street teaching staff, will teach English, Arithmetic and Penmanship. With such a staff of instructors the vocational school movement should prove a success. Miss S. M. Barnett of Kingston, provincial director of Home Economics is also here at present assisting Mr. Vallis in completing certain details in connection with the inauguration of the vocational school.

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with vocational training or its cost to a community, it might be said that, considering the splendid opportunities offered to aspiring students, the cost is indeed a nominal one. Two-thirds of the instruction salaries are paid by the government and one-half of the cost of necessary equipment. It is indeed a wonder and a pity that this substantial government grant was not in existence many years ago.

Although there are a few critics in which this branch of educational work is not being received with much enthusiasm, its benefits are surely being recognized and acclaimed in nearly all districts where it has been subjected to a fair trial. Vocational training is now rapidly reaching its rightful place in the educational scheme of various parts of the dominion and the United States and gives every promise of becoming one of the most important, most profitable and most popular constituents of our provincial educational system, and there is no reason why Campbellton, always a leader, should be behind in this matter.

The cause of the growth of vocational training and its rapidly increasing favor in public opinion is obviously an invaluable addition to our schools in as much as its purpose is to provide the youth of age and land who are denied the advantage of a college education, with a trade or vocation so that, leaving school, they need not grope about helplessly in search of some kind of work suited to their ability. Thus their students will be enabled to undertake much earlier in life their share of the world's work. It follows naturally that with its citizens equipped to take up some definite work and become producers and earners without delay the country at large will reap a harvest from the dividends of better citizenship. For those who have left school some years ago or have only a meagre education, the advantages of the evening classes in vocational training are exceptionally good and we would strongly urge that all who are desirous of securing a better general education attend the men of past and current history got their start at night school. These semi-weekly classes in the grammar school here may prove a great blessing to you. Do not pass up this opportunity.

PERSONAL.

Miss Sadie Mowat, and Miss Doris Mowat of Campbellton, N. B., were guests of their cousin Mrs. J. W. Shannon in Seattle, where they expect to remain for the winter. Miss Mowat is much improved in health.

Miss Sadie Mowat, of Seattle, with Mrs. Shannon's sister, Mrs. Peter McKinnon, and nephew, Harry McKinnon of Mount Vernon, have returned from a three weeks' auto trip in Southern Oregon. While in Medford they visited Mr. Herman L. Moore, brother of Mrs. Shannon and Mrs. McKinnon, and his family—Seattle Times.

VOCATIONAL CLASSES FAVORED

Board of Trade Discusses Many Matters of More Than Passing Interest.

Friday's meeting. A meeting of the Board of Trade was held last Friday evening at which the matter of appointing a permanent secretary for the Maritime Board of Trade was discussed and approved. The Board also discussed Monday as the headquarters for such an official. The matter of a New Brunswick representative on the Railway Commission was also discussed and a strong resolution favoring the same was forwarded to Ottawa.

Tuesday's meeting. A meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Evening Hall, Tuesday evening, President Duncan presiding.

Despite the fact that the meeting was called to discuss a matter which should be of importance enough to bring every business man to the meeting, less than a dozen were present. President Duncan explained that the meeting had been called to discuss the Maritime Board of Trade, a lack of service between Campbellton and Causapscal. About two years ago the suburban train leaving here in the evening had been discontinued. This was an important matter and was now open for discussion.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mr. John Harquail said that at a meeting held in the Evening Hall, a resolution had been passed covering this lack of service. It should have been followed up.

Mr. Geo. G. McKinnon did not think the resolution passed at that time went far enough. The suburban services enjoyed up to a year or so ago had been rendered for many years. Instead of a poorer service we should now expect a better service. The electric car which had been given good service, we should have one running west as well.

Mr. P. M. Shannon thought a committee should be named at once to press this matter. President Duncan said this service was as important as the one east. The country westward developed rapidly and the ferry was as much or more traffic from that section than east. This year there were some large lumber operations going on in the district with many men coming and going.

Mr. McKinnon thought we had fallen down in dealing with this matter in the spring. Should get a move on and let the railway authorities see we were in earnest.

Mr. Harquail moved that a special citizens' meeting be called for Friday afternoon at 1:30 at the Curling rink to discuss the train service between Campbellton and Causapscal and also the Central Street subway—Carried.

P. M. Shannon spoke of the government's colonization scheme and said we should watch it carefully and see that Restigouche county got its share of new settlers. There were many good farms which could be taken up.

The matter of the Central Street subway was discussed, but no action was taken.

Mr. Harquail spoke strongly in favor of vocational and technical education. This was a most important matter and he was glad to see that the School Board had made a start and opened evening classes. Skilled citizens were needed. There was no doubt a boom would shortly strike this country and we needed skilled men. Anything which would help by giving more education was a good move. He could not understand why any sane man should oppose the move.

Mr. Shannon spoke strongly in favor of these evening classes as did others. Mr. Harquail moved that the Board of Trade ask the Town Council for their hearty support and encouragement in regard to the immediate opening up of vocational technical schools in Campbellton.

This was seconded by P. M. Shannon and carried unanimously. The meeting then adjourned.

CITIZENS MEETING.

Two important matters will come before the citizens of Campbellton Friday afternoon at 1:30 when a meeting called by the Board of Trade will be held in the Curling rink. There are a need of better train service between Campbellton and Causapscal, and the Central Street subway. Every citizen should make it a point to be present.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE.

The Anniversary of Wesley Church will be held on Sunday week Nov. 19th. The special preacher will be the President of the N. B. and P. E. I. Methodist Conference, Rev. W. Gladstone Watson, M. A., Professor of Hebrew and Old Testament at Mt. Allison College, Sackville.

FINE CONVENT SCHOOL OPENED

Officially Opened Monday Afternoon—A Beautiful Edifice and Credit to Town.

After an impressive ceremony the new Roman Catholic Convent School was officially opened on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The school, which is of sufficiently large dimensions to accommodate 600 pupils, is now in operation with its enrollment daily increasing.

The new convent is a beautiful four-story structure of brick 70 x 60 feet presenting an exterior of classical brick which makes it one of the town's most beautiful buildings. In addition to its four stories the building is surmounted by a handsome dome which supports a metal crucifix. It is a decided addition to the town's finer buildings, but, nevertheless it has been economically constructed and, when completed, will represent a cost of not more than $35,000 it is estimated.

For heating the new building will employ a force system which has recently been installed in the church by the local firm of Brady and Walsh. The new presbytery which is now under construction just between the Convent and the Church will also be heated by the system which by means of electric pumps, circulate the hot water to the other two buildings. This is the first heating system of its kind to be installed in Campbellton and is reported as giving absolute satisfaction.

The interior of the new Convent is spacious and well planned providing for all the essentials of a residential school. The finishing throughout is of Douglas fir.

On the first floor there are two reception rooms, one for the girls and one for the boys which may be used as recreation rooms as well. On the same floor situated in convenient proximity are the dining-room and kitchen while across the hall is a spacious room used by the teaching staff which is also suitable as a prayer room. The next two stories are occupied by classroom furnished with modern school-room equipment. On the top floor is the dormitory where every detail for the comfort of pupils has been provided for. One thing which we particularly noticed is the very bright cheery atmosphere of the building due to its copious supply of sunshine which streams in through the long rows of large windows on each floor.

S. W. Dimock has now a good stock of flour and feed, including corn, middlings, bran, cornmeal, Ogilvie's Rolled oats, egg mash and scratch feed, and is doing a wholesale and retail business at the best prices in town.

Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour in barrels 8.75 and in bags 8.00. Terms cash. S. W. DIMOCK, Office Roseberry Street.

TWO MEN STABBED ON EXPRESS TRAIN

Russian Jew Alleged to Have Ran Amok and Dangerously Assaulted Two.

St. Fabien, Rimouski, Nov. 2.—A stabbing affray, which, fortunately, is not expected to result fatally, occurred here on board the Westbound Maritime Express, yesterday when a Russian Jew giving his name as John Melnik, on his way from Sydney to Hamilton, is alleged to have attacked two first class passengers and stabbed them without any provocation. The victims of the assault, Fred and Charles Rowe, have been transferred to the Hospital in Rimouski, where their condition today was reported as improving.

The affair occurred at about 5 o'clock yesterday morning while the two victims, who came from Athens, Wisconsin, were resting. Suddenly Melnik, without warning of any kind, is alleged to have entered the first class coach and stabbed the two men. Immediately after the stabbing, passengers interfered and Melnik was locked up until Rimouski was reached. At that point he was arrested and lodged in the common jail where he will await his appearance before the court.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR LUMBERMEN

W. B. Snowball Says Much of Old And New Stock Gone.

St. John, Nov. 4.—That when the shipping season closed this fall on the north shore much of the old stock of lumber and a large percentage of this year's cut would be gone, was the opinion expressed last evening by W. B. Snowball, of Chatham, a leading lumberman of the province, who was in the city for a short time. Mr. Snowball said that the lumber situation was a trifle better, though there was still little profit in manufacturing. Numerous steamers had taken cargoes from Miramichi and other north shore points, and three more vessels are on the way to the river to load cargoes.

Help was plentiful in Northumberland county, Mr. Snowball asserted, and woodmen were being paid from $30 to $35 a month. His firm expected to cut about one-third of the average during the logging season. The Fraser Companies, Ltd., however would log quite extensively, mainly on areas of the New Brunswick Land Co. In the extreme northern counties woodmen were reported in strong demand, many men having gone over the Quebec border to cut timber for the winter.

SCARLET FEVER FALLACIES
Adults Have Little to Fear From It, Says Dr. Biggs.

Dr. Hermann M. Biggs, New York State Commissioner of Health, selected scarlet fever as the subject of a recent health talk by radio.

"Children between two and five years old," he said, "catch this disease most readily—which is true of most infectious diseases. The only good thing about scarlet fever is that, if you can avoid taking it until you are grown up, your chances are excellent of never getting it, even though you may be exposed."

"Almost any grandmother can recognize a typical case of scarlet fever when she sees it—the combination of sore throat, sudden fever, a tongue that looks like the outside of a strawberry, the scarlet rash, and then later on, the 'peeling' when the skin comes off in large flakes or 'scales.' But at times the condition is so different that even the doctor will be puzzled—there may be nothing to see except a sore throat. If no doctor is called, no one knows that the child has scarlet fever until he has 'given it' to others. The others may be less fortunate and have it in a severe form. Such unrecognized cases have been responsible for many serious epidemics."

"The disease germs are in the secretions from the nose and mouth. If there is a runny nose or an abscess somewhere else—and such complications are rather frequent—the matter from these may contain the germs, sometimes for weeks after the patient is otherwise well. It may carry the infection directly to other victims, or, if the patient is on a dairy farm, it may get into milk and be carried to a large number of people at the same time."

"Years ago we were most concerned about persons who were in the peeling stage of disease. We know now that it is the discharges mentioned which contain the germs and that the scales do not carry the infection unless the skin has been soiled with these discharges."

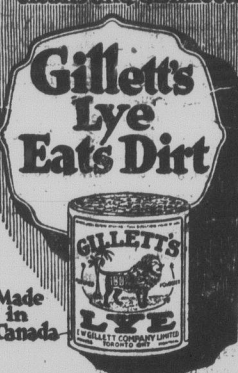

"Some of the older people recall interesting and plausible stories about people getting scarlet fever from clothing which had been laid away in the attic for many years, from houses in which cases had occurred years before, and in other very indirect ways. The disease is practically never carried this way. The health officer of today is a detective as well as a physician and instead of 'jumping at such conclusions,' he makes a thorough investigation. He knows that each case comes directly from a previous case. Usually he is able to trace the disease to some mild and previously unrecognized case, or to persons who have recovered and are still carrying the germs. By making such careful investigations he is often able to prevent serious epidemics."

"Those of you who are fathers or mothers—or hope to be, sometime—will do well to carry these few points away with you: If you can protect children until they have passed the period of greatest danger, they may escape having scarlet fever."

It is a dangerous disease on account of its complications. Sore throat is a symptom in several infectious diseases. It is far better to call a doctor at once than to waste time experimenting with home remedies; there is less danger, too, of having an epidemic traced to your door. You should remember also that if no physician is called, the head of the family is required to report every case of infectious disease to the health officer immediately."

LOGGING SEASON OUTLOOK SAID TO BE EXCELLENT

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 2.—The outlook for the logging season is considered excellent. A substantial cut is expected to be much better. A heavy cut of bud-worm damaged timber is expected to be much better. It is allowed to encourage cutting. That will reduce the total receipts from stumpage for the coming year.

FIRST CANADIAN TO ENTER MONS IS DEAD

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 3.—Lieut. John W. Miller, M. C., M. P., said to be the first British soldier to enter Mons after the defeat of the Germans, is dead at the home of his father here. Lieut. Miller served overseas with the Royal Canadian Regiment throughout the war. On the morning of Nov. 11th, 1918, Armistice Day, he was in charge of a scouting party in the vicinity of Mons and was the first man to enter that city on that historic day.

Campbellton, N. B., Nov. 9th, 1922.

We have noticed lately that some back yards in town are not being kept nearly as clean as they should be. Several piles of rubbish about town are making their presence known in a rather offensive way. Probably this is due merely to oversight on the part of the occupants of the premises we refer to. If so, they should lose no time in arranging for their removal for they are not only breaking the law but also endangering their own health as well as that of their neighbors.

Another offence which we wish to mention and strongly condemn is the existence of certain disgusting conditions in a local pool-room. Many former patrons have ceased to frequent the place in this account and although the proprietor does not seem to realize it, he is undoubtedly losing trade through his negligence. Yet, so far as we know, he has made no move to restore sanitary conditions. A broad hint from the health officers might furnish the necessary inspiration. We would suggest that, unless he shows some ambition in the near future to eradicate what he knows to be obnoxious conditions, the health authorities take some decisive action for there is absolutely no excuse for the existence of such unsanitary and unsalubrious conditions in any public building.

The Porepore fire in 1911 and what is known as the Claybelt disaster of 1916, were both due to land clearing fires started by settlers for the purpose of burning up the wooded debris of their farm lands, says, in part, a note issued by the Canadian Forestry Association, in which it is pointed out that "everyone recognizes the necessity of using fire for this purpose, but the operation is rendered highly dangerous unless closely supervised by government officers." No such burning should be allowed except where wind and heat conditions make it reasonably safe. The general public sentiment in Northern Ontario has always been in favor of a rapid burning off of the country, so as to clear land for farming and mining purposes. This, of course, cannot be accomplished except at the cost of human life, and the destruction of millions of dollars of real property—Canadian Lumberman.

WINTER FEED FOR THE DAIRY COW

(Experimental Farms Note).

How to keep up the winter milk flow is a problem confronting a great many dairymen, more so in sections where the temperature is severer than in the milder climate of British Columbia. Invariably the price of milk goes up in the fall and down in the spring and just as untrifling the supply drops in the fall and increases in the spring. The dairyman given good cows, the proper proportion bred to freshen in the fall, and conditions suitable for good general management in the matter of sanitation and thorough and regular milking, it is then up to the feeder to keep the milk supply up to the maximum.

The dairy cow is a manufacturing machine and requires suitable raw material from which to manufacture milk. She can make excellent use of much rough feed if supplied in conjunction with concentrates in the proper amounts. Among the most popular or widely used winter roughages are hay, straw, ensilage and roots and for dairy cows legume hays are much more valuable than grass hays. For milk production good alfalfa hay has no equal but, if this is unavailable, good clover or mixed hay is satisfactory. Damaged hay can be made more palatable by cutting and mixing with silage or pulped roots. The same holds true regarding straw. To provide the necessary succulence in a ration for dairy cows roots or silage, or both, are invaluable. Not only are these feeds succulent but they are bulky and comparatively cheap. Generally it is good business to give a extra five or ten cents per dozen and get guaranteed quality and more satisfaction.

This scientific HEATING PLANT circulates warm air through the house and takes the cool air out Caloric circulating heat is the modern idea in heating. It gives to the air in your rooms the freshness and balminess of out-door air in summer. Provides an even and uniform temperature throughout the house.

Caloric circulating heat is simple as sunshine and almost as convenient. Takes the cool air out, as it circulates warm air through the house.

No pipes, no plumbing, no radiators—only one register. Costs less than stoves required to heat the same space. Reduces fuel consumption 1/4 to 1/2. Pays for itself. You will never be satisfied with old methods of heating after you once know the advantages of Caloric circulating heat.

Guaranteed satisfaction or money back. Let us show you this scientific and economical system of heating.

Total Pinfall 1278 HOCKEY

Toronto, Nov. 7.—Hockey leagues everywhere appear to be obsessed with the idea that they are not doing their duty to themselves and to the game unless they do some tinkering to the rules of play, says the Toronto Globe.

The pioneers are the Pacific Coast Leaguers, who have "monkeyed" with the playing code until they have all their example was followed by the pros in the east, but the climax was capped yesterday when the United States Intercollegiate Hockey Association got to work.

The organization is composed of eight big eastern colleges, namely, Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth and Hamilton.

The Canadian pros, The Globe continues, thought they did a smart thing when they made the game about half increase by establishing a no offside area in the middle of the rink. The silly and intricate system of penalties was an after-thought, but finally the coast leaguers went the length of permitting the puck to be kicked around, thus introducing a little soccer. Yesterday the United States colleges gave the poor old game another twist and evolved a no offside area rule which applies only within 20 yards in front of each goal. That is, of course, just diametrically opposed to the pro rule.

Among the other changes affected yesterday by the United States colleges are to allow teams to make unlimited substitutions, to skate a player on-side and to lengthen the intermissions from five to ten minutes. But the no offside rule takes the belt, cups and medals.

Georges Vezina, veteran goal-tender of the Canadian team, Montreal member of the National Hockey League should be his old self again this season, following an operation which he claims has fixed him up for a strenuous year.

"Neddy" Healey, former amateur boxer has passed into the money game when he joined the pro boxing realm. Under good coaches he should make good.

Joe Stecher, of Nebraska, former world's heavyweight, wrestling champion in New York's last Wednesday night defeated Charley Cutler, of Montreal, former American title-holder by obtaining two straight falls.

Stecher obtained the first fall with a three-quarter Nelson and body scissors after 57 minutes and 30 seconds of grappling. The second and deciding fall came after but 13 minutes.

Dalhousie College will not be as strong as they were last year when U. N. B. was easily disposed of in the big game at Truro. Truro seems to be the most logical place for the play-off. Although Amherst is making a bid and U. N. B. favors the local M. A. A. grounds.

A. J. McAdam, former Antigonish and Halifax Crescents athlete, who has been in New York for nearly a year, is making good as a sprinter. In fifteen events this season, MacAdam won 14 and was second in the other.

The Maritime Indoor Championships will be held in the Halifax Arena Rink on November 8th, commencing at 8 o'clock in the evening. This meet will be held under the auspices of the Crescents A. A. A.

Halifax Herald.—Halifax sports are out gunning for a boxing manager named McNulty whose address is St. John. McNulty had better keep out of Nova Scotia, as there are also a few gentlemen down in Glace Bay who are after his scalp.

Jack Dempsey is contemplating another visit to Europe. The world's champion leaves in January and may arrange to meet Sikl over the pond.

The Garrison sports club of St. John has organized a bowling league, their alleys which were opened last night have been renovated.

PRAISE HIGHWAYS

THROUGH GASPE

Editor Graphic,

Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Sir—Knowing that you are interested in the Gaspe and Bonaventure counties I want to mention that last week I motored through to Montreal leaving my car there and returning by train.

After covering the entire distance of over 700 miles easily in less than 28 hours actual running in a Buick Six roadster. I really feel that the Minister of Highways should be complimented for his efforts in improving the highways on this route and that Mr. Octave Gallant the contractor for the Matapedia Valley road deserves great praise for the excellent highway he made through the valley which is 55 miles long and was formerly impassable.

T. G. roads are fine nearly all the way through the exception being about 55 miles leading from Caumaspical to Mont-Joli which are rather rough. We all look forward to a great increase of automobile tourists next year especially American tourists who greatly enjoy the climate and the wonderful scenery to be found in this section.

A mention of this in your valuable paper will be highly appreciated.

Yours very truly

EUGENE HECHT.

KILLED AT

NIAGARA FALLS

John Nelson Fell From Building And Sustained Fatal Injuries.

The many friends of John Nelson were grieved by the sad news of his death at Niagara Falls, which was learned here Tuesday. Mr. Nelson was a former resident of this town, having come here some years ago from Shigawake, Que., and was for some time an employee at the local electric power plant. Since his departure for Niagara about two years ago Mr. Nelson had resided in that city and was engaged on the construction of the hydro canal intake at Chippawa.

Death was due to injuries sustained in an accident which befell Mr. Nelson some two weeks ago. While at work at the canal the unfortunate man fell a distance of some thirty feet to a concrete pavement below. Mr. Nelson was taken to the General hospital there and although death was inevitable owing to the serious nature of his injuries, he survived his experience by two weeks, death occurring on the evening of November the 6th inst. The deceased gentleman who was forty-seven years of age, leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father his bereaved wife and one child. He is also survived by his parents who reside at Shigawake, Que., his brother James, also of that place and his brother William of Campbellton.

The remains arrived here this morning on the Maritime and were conveyed to the residence of the deceased's sister-in-law, Mrs. George Dow, Queen Street. Mr. Nelson was an honored member of the Orange Order which he joined in Campbellton some years ago, and was a Sir Knight of the Restigouche County Royal Sarslet Chapter. The funeral services which will take place from the Dow residence on Queen Street at 2:30 Sunday afternoon will be under the direction of the L. O. L. No. 64. A short service will also be held at the Salvation Army Citadel, Adj. Wells will officiate assisted by the Rev. Mr. McLean.

CARTER-ST. ONGE.
A quiet wedding took place in the Roman Catholic Church, Dalhousie on Tuesday evening, when Miss Mary Florida, youngest daughter of Mrs. E. St. Onge, became the bride of Melvin F., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Carter, the Rev. Father Hart being the officiating clergyman. Miss Dorothy Carter, sister of the groom was bridesmaid, and Robert Roy supported the groom as best man. The bride looked charming, attired in a navy blue serge suit embroidered in black, her hat was of navy pique velvet with coriander trim and a veil; she wore a grey opussum neck-piece. The bridesmaid was dressed in a navy blue serge suit worked in beads. Immediately after the ceremony, amid showers of rice and confetti, the happy couple motored to the home of the bride's mother, where a bountiful and delicious supper was served. Their many friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Carter many years of happy married life.

ARMISTICE DAY.
Saturday the 11th inst. is Armistice Day. A sale of poppies will be instituted by the local Red Cross organization, the proceeds to go towards the maintenance of a Public Health Nurse in this district.

It is needless to dilate upon the significance of this memorial date in world history. November the 11th brings with it a sense of deepest gratitude tinged with sorrow by the memory of the price which brought recollections of the horrible world struggle are receding into the background, Armistice Day will forever keep fresh in our minds thoughts that are far removed from selfish views or narrow-hearted motives. Thus it is fitting that members of the Red Cross—representing their sisters who carried mercy to the field of strife—should sell poppies, which represent Nature's perennial monuments to those who did not return. With these thoughts in our minds the sale of poppies on Saturday should bring all previous records.

OCEAN LIMITED DELAYED.

caused by a freight train run off east up the limited over six hours at that place.

CROWDED HOUSE
GREET AMATEURSPleasing Program Carried Out
by Local Talent—Standing Room Only.The concert given in the Opera House here on Monday evening last by the Lyric Dramatic Club, under the auspices of the Catholic Women's League resulted in what is commonly known as a howling success.The program opened with a pleasing overture by the nine-piece orchestra in attendance. This was followed by a French reading "The Heart of Jean of Arc," which was most acceptably read by Miss Ellen Troy. A contralto solo of Longfellow's, "Living Poems" was the next number. And in these Mrs. Whitney McDonald, the singer, gave an admirable demonstration of her unusual vocal ability. On violin and piano the Misses Gertrude and Anita Champoux gave a skillful rendition of "Twinkle." This was followed by character reading by H.
L. Sorey, whose clever acts evoked many chuckles and much applause from the appreciative audience. A male quartette, consisting of Messrs.
R. J. Lavoie, Clyde Mayne, P. J. Murray and J. F. Champoux completed the concert program and received not only well merited applause but a hearty encore as had all the previous numbers.During intermission the orchestra again did themselves justice with selections rendered in most admirable style, after which followed the big attraction "Pa's New Housekeeper," a comedy in one long laughter-provoking act. The play was well presented, each player doing his or her part in a surprisingly efficient way. They are receiving well deserved congratulations on the success of their efforts.
Special mention is due Mr. Bernier as director of the comedy for his good judgment in selecting a suitable cast and directing their efforts to such a successful result.Below we print the cast of characters:—
Pa Jackson, a widower, who has decided intentions. T. G. Adams Jim Jackson, his son, who disapproves of them. J. L. Roy Mattie Jackson, Jim's sister, who cannot understand them. Miss Carmelle LeClare Mollie Holbrook, her friend, who gets mixed up in them. Miss Vera George.
Mrs. O. I. Pouché, who is the cause of them. ? ? ?
Scene—The Jackson Living Room,
Oak Farms.Time—Early afternoon in June.
GOD SAVE THE KING.
By special request "Pa's New Housekeeper" will be repeated on Monday evening together with the picture "A Fraid To Fight" which features Frank Mayo in a fine story.
Thus, those who were unable to secure seats on Monday last owing to the crowded house will have an opportunity of witnessing this side-splitting comedy.CONTINUED FINE WEATHER.
The weather during the past week has been unusually fine and clear for this time of the year. A little rain fell last night, which will do much good, but it is fine again today.THANKSGIVING DAY.
Monday, Thanksgiving, was a beautiful fall day. The holiday was quietly spent, many enjoying auto rides down country where the roads were exceptionally good. In the evening the Opera House was crowded as well as the Imperial, where pictures were shown.YOUR ATTENTION!

inscribed for the future, to guide you

WOMAN TAKES EVERY CHANGE

To Recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for It Helped Her So Much

Frederick, N. B.—"I was weak and had some troubles women often have, and usually I was unfit for my work. I saw your advertisement and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am very much pleased with the result and recommend your Vegetable Compound whenever I have a chance. You may use this letter for the benefit of others."—Mrs. WATKINS, 350 Church St., Fredericton, N. B.

Mrs. Watkins, like many, many other women who have found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is anxious to let other women know of this splendid medicine. So by word of mouth and by letter, she has been able to help many women who are suffering from female ailments, indicated by such symptoms as backache, nervous troubles, hot flashes, pain in the side and a general run-down condition of the whole system, should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For nearly fifty years it has been helping women. Let it help you. Lydia E. Pinkham's Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

"Now, then, get up, that will cost you a lot of money, and I trust, if you're not a happy victim, and returned to the hotel. At the desk he paused. "Who was that person I just heard of?" he inquired of the excited clerk.

"Ah, senior, you shall not long be kept in ignorance," that functionary informed him. "That is the terrible Captain Benavides."

"Do you know, I had a notion it was Webster replied reluctantly. "Well, I suppose I'm in for a duel now," he added to himself as he climbed the stairs to his room. "I think that will be most interesting."

John Stuart Webster changed into dry clothing and descended to the dining-room. Miss Roy was already seated at her table and noticed him to the seat opposite her, and as he sat down with a contented little sigh, she gazed at him with a newer and more alert interest.

"I hear you've been having adventures again," she challenged. "The news is all over the hotel. I heard it from the head waiter."

"Coffee and pistols for two at daybreak," he answered calmly. "My fight," he said, "was under Webster's scrutiny, scowled and peremptorily motioned to Webster to proceed—while the latter did, with a challenge lance that the door, continuing to revolve, caught up the Sobranzian and subjected him to the same indignity to which he had subjected Webster."

Once free of the door, Webster waited inside the lobby for the Sobranzian to conclude his precipitate entrance. When he did, Webster looked him over with mild curiosity and bowed with great condescension.

"Did any gentleman ever tell the senior that he is an ill-mannered, conceited, and under Webster's scrutiny, scowled and peremptorily motioned to Webster to proceed—while the latter did, with a challenge lance that the door, continuing to revolve, caught up the Sobranzian and subjected him to the same indignity to which he had subjected Webster."

"He broke off, mumbling and chattering like a man in the grip of a great terror. In his agony of body and spirit, Dolores could have wept for Don Juan Cafetero, for in that moment the detestable's soul was bare, revealing something pure and sweet and human, for all his degradation. How did Jack Webster know? wondered Dolores. And why did he so confidently give an order to this human detestable and expect it to be obeyed? And why did Don Juan Cafetero come whining to her for strength to help him obey it?

"That wouldn't be playing the game," she told him. "I can't help you deceive him. You are the first of your breed."

"Don't say it," he cried. "Didn't he tell me wasn't?"

"Then make the light, Don. Mr. Cafetero," she lowered her voice. "I am depending on you to stay sober and guard him. He needs a faithful friend so badly, now that Mr. Geary is away." She patted the grimy hand and left him staring at the ground. Presently he sighed, quivered horribly, and shambled out of the patio out to the fringing-line. And when he reported to Jack Webster at nine o'clock next morning, he was sobbing, shaking, horribly and on the verge of delirium tremens, but tightly clasped in his right hand he held that five-dollar piece. Dolores, who had made it his business to be present at the interview, heard John Stuart Webster say heartily:

"The finest thing about a terrible fight, friend Cafetero, is that if it is a rough-and-tumble, the spoils of victory are exceedingly sweet. You are now about to enjoy one fourth of the said spoils—large part of 'Argentine'! You must have it to satisfy your nerves. Go to the nearest cantina, and buy one drink; then come back with the change. By that time I shall have breakfasted and you and I will then go shopping. At noon you check another, and just before sundown you shall have the fourth and last lot—'Argentine'! Remember, Cafetero: one job—one more—and then back here with the exact change."

As Don Juan Cafetero fled for salvation, Webster turned to Dolores. "Hill me now, but that will not be his fault at all. I've not him too great a

SCENARIO

"The Bachelors' Regret"

(A Comedy in one reel)

Characters:

Henry, just married, and proud of it; Helen, his wife, and still happy; and Jack, a bachelor, who thinks he's lucky.

SCENE ONE—

The tiny dining room in Henry's home. The three are seated at the table, eating dinner.

IRIS IN ON HELEN'S FACE—

Jack watches Henry and Helen as they flash little love-looks back and forth. His face holds a half-envious, half amused expression. He eats with great relish, and his amusement is finally replaced by envy. He helps himself to the bread for the fourth time, and as he breaks it remarks to Henry:

ON SCENE, LEADER—

"Boy, you sure deserve the old congrats! If I could find a wife who could cook like Helen here, I sure think I'd look for the preacher! Especially this bread! Some cook, I'll say!"

BACK TO SCENE—

Jack smiles warmly at Helen. Henry registers proud satisfaction, and regards Helen with possessive pride. She laughs gaily at Jack's remarks.

ON SCENE LEADER—

"Jack, you silly boy! This is just plain Tyler's Bread—you can buy it at Tyler's Bakery or any of the grocery stores. Now make good on what you said about getting married. I dare you!"

BACK TO SCENE—

Jack makes as if to grab for a coat and hat, and rush out. They all laugh heartily.

IRIS OUT

Have you tried it? Not getting married—Tyler's Bread! IT IS SURE to please!
