Newcastle, April 15.—Mr. Thos. Hays is again a well man, and says: "As one who for ten years suffered from Asthma. I recommend Catarrhozone as a positively sure cure; three bottles cured me perfectly." Catarrhozone has never yet failed. Even cases of twenty years standing that baffled the skill of specialists have been cured by Catarrhozone. It cures by inhalation, pleasant to use, no danger of risk. The worst cases of Asthma can be cured by Catarrhozone in two to five weeks. Instant relief and ultimate cure guaranteed if Catarrhozone is used. Give it a trial. Price, $1; small size, 25c. A PLEASANT MEDICINE.—There are some pills which have no other purpose, evidently, than to beget painful internal disturbances in the patient, adding to his troubles and perplexities rather than diminishing them. One might as well swallow some corrosive material. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills have not this disagreable and injurious property. They are easy to take, are not unpleasant to the taste, and their action is mild and soothing. A trial of them will prove this. They offer peace to the dyspeptic.

A GLASS MOUNTAIN

Remains of Prehistoric People Found Near an Extinct Volcano in Arizona.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 13.-A party of] olla, or earthenware jar, bottom side archaeologists and antiquarians have made important discoveries in the hitherto unexplored region at the northern limit of the Harqua Hala range of mountains in 'Arizona. One side of one mountain rises in terraces and presents features recalling the Grand Canon of the Colorado. The whole mass is of obsidian, or volcanic glass, and glitters in colors of green, blue and black. It may be seen on clear mornings at great distances, and the glitter of the mountain has lured many travelers in its direction. The exploring party found under a

The mountain of glass is a marvel of volcanic upheaval. It is pretty much as the last eruption left it except that where fractures have occurred the varied and beautiful colors of the volcanic glass are brilliantly reflected. The mountain is dangerous and difficult of ascent, owing to the precipitous terraces and the ice-like smoothness of the suface. Further high shelving rock a narrow necked examinations will be made.

which command is now vacant. PROBABLY A CANARD. Paris, April 15-5:45 a.m.-L'Estafette publishes a report that an at-tempt was made to stab Mr. Kruger. According to a dispatch to the London Daily Express from Amsterdam to the Associated Press Saturday last, the Dutch police recently got wind of contemplated attempts upon the life of Mr. Kruger. It is quite likely that the report of which L'Estafette gives currency is traceable to a similar source.

Widely Varying Reports of What the Powers Claim.

Russia Making Separate Demands for Territorial and Commercial Privileges.

THE INDEMNITY.

London, April 15-6 a.m.-Reports received here as to the amount of indemnity claimed by the powers from China vary to some extent. For instance, France is stated by the Daily Mail correspondent in Pekin to be asking for £13,000,000, whereas dispatches from Washington put the amount of France's claim at a much less figure. It is considered more than possible in Pekin that the powers may jointly agree to reduce their bills pro rata, particularly if China will guarantee ertain commercial concessions. One difficulty in the way is that some of the powers will have honestly spent the sums they demanded. Russia may be expected to abandon her claim, which is considered quite unjustifiable. considering the relative ease and cheapness with which she was abie to nobilize. It should not be forgotten that Russia is making separate de-mands for territorial and commercial privileges, and, besides the rolling stock and railroad material, which she annexed in vast quantities and applied to the local needs of the Manchurian line, must be worth some-

It was voted to engage engineers to begin a survey of the line at once. They will start at Windsor and run through to Wheatley, which will be one terminal point of the road. Then, starting at Maidstone Cross, a line will be surveyed through to Chatham, which will be the other end of the railway. It is expected that the work of grading will be commenced in a short time and pushed rapidly to completion. Montreal, April 13.-Duncan Buchann, of Covert Garden, London, states that the experiments which have been made from Canada with the object of introducing the more delicate species of table fruit, such as grapes, peaches and pears, in Britain have so far met with but little success. The fault is not with the fruit, for that arrived in good condition, but in the fact that unnecessary handling has to be resorted to, which does not tend to improve the consignment by the time it reaches the market. The annual report of the factory inspectors of the province, just issued, calls attention to the great improve-ment in the state of manufacturing trades, with nearly all factories very busy and many working over-time. There is a large increase in the number of accidents, which total 394, 22 being fatal. Long hours, greater hurry and employment of more unskilled labor are given as explanation of the increase. A general observance of the law respecting child labor is noted. Miss Carlyle, the famale inspector, ments on improved conditions for female labor.

ROBBED!

Marquis of Headford; Who Loves Rosie Boote, the Chorus Girl, To Be Sent to India by the War Office.

London, April 15.-The constant and increasing number of robberies in the Riviera is arousing the disgust and indignation of visitors. Train robberies in particular are numerous, thefts being practically of daily occurrence on the trains between Monte Carlo and Nice. The railroad authorities, so far from taking effective precautions against this thievery, maintain what looks almost like sympathetic silence. The ill-lighted carriages, the frequent tunnels, and the fact that the travelers carry considerable amounts of money, and that it is easily changeable are all advantageous to the robberies which on these lines have become a regular industry.

STREET RAILWAY CONDUCTOR GOES TO JAIL.

In retail circles, owing no doubt to the disagreeable weather, business has been dull. Activity is still noticeable among shoe manufacturers, and the prospects in this particular branch are encouraging. Country travel is almost at a standstill, owing to the bad condition of the roads. The jobbing business at Winnipeg is good. Payments are rather slow and money is scarce. Rates are firm.

CONDITIONS IN THE FAR WEST.

Rev. Dr. Robertson Speaks of the Home Mission Field.

Doukhobors Are Thrifty and If Surrounded by Christian Influences Would Make Admirable Citizens.

Rev. Dr. James Robertson superintendent of missions in the Northwest Territories and British Columbia, preached in Knox Church, South London, yesterday morning. Dr. Robertson has held the position of superintendent of missions ever since the to greater British immigration to Canyear 1881, and has occupied various offices in connection with the Presbyterian Church, having been elected in all his gifts on the Americans. We see 1895 moderator of the General As- now that things are different. sembly. No other man has done should be proud of our country, and greater work in advancing the cause been known as "the great Lone Land," and no other living man knows more about the Canadian Northwest, its resources and development, its social, moral and religious condition, and its necessities, than he. His style of speech is forceful and direct. speaks with that conviction born of actual experience and strong sympathy with the subject in hand. The text of his morning discourse is to be found in the Acts of the Apostles, chapter 13. beginning at the first verse "Now there were in the church that was at Antioch, certain prophets and teachers; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, separate me, Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called

"It is not altogether my purpose to preach a sermon from these words," said Dr. Robertson; "I came to give some information regarding the mission work that is being done in Western Canada, and to secure your cooperation in that work. We have in the text an account of a prayer meeting, the members of which are all men; we infer this, as only the are mentioned. Barnabas and Saul were the best men, and that is the reason God sent them. Our bright young men, when they graduate from the theological colleges, want to get into comfortable congregations; they do not wish to encounter the hardships and privations of pioneer life in the far west. Prof. Drummond, on being asked the kind of men for arduous mission work, said, 'Send men who talk less of denominationalism and more of Christ, and one ten thousand dollar man rather than ten one thousand dollar men." We should send to the mission field men who would make progress in colleges, the very best men. Another thing to no-tice is, that Barnabas and Saul were called by the Holy Ghost.

FUTURE OF THE WEST. are trying to maintain missions, has a very important future. We do not comprehend this. The west can support a population twenty times the are three hundred and fifty millions of acres, and we can understand what vast quantities of human food can be raised on that area. The wheat that took the first prize at the World's Fair, Chicago, was raised 900 miles north of the boundary line. It can become not only a granary for the empire, but a much vaster area. Not only is it a rich agricultural country, it possesses also rich coal mines. There is coal enough in the vicinity of Crow's Nest Pass to supply many times the requirements of Canada. The coal areas are situated just where coal is needed most, namely, in the vicinity of the mines. It seems that a kind Providence has made ample provision for our far west.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidnev Tablets Cure This Trouble So Prevalent at This Season of the Year.

Many women are now into the thick of housecleaning. They lift and strain, overwork and overtax their strength, their back gives out, their kidneys become affected. They have a painful or sore feeling in the small of the back that takes all the life and ambition out of them. They feel dull, de-

They've been unable to keep up with their duties of filtering the poison and waste material from the blood. They cry out in protest through the aching back. There has been lately an increas-

Dr. Robertson found only four settlers in 200 miles six years ago. Now there is a com-paratively large population on the same area, consisting partly of Can-adians who had formerly settled in the Lake has on board 270 men, largely United States.

The speaker related the experience of a man who at one time lived in Stormont, Ontario, but who had sought a home in Nebraska, and fin-

We have also a large number from Central Europe. He spoke well of Brandon, Man., died suddenly Sunday these as likely to assimilate with our population and make good citizens. Robertson, however, objected to the class of immigrants from Southern Europe. The Italians and Bulgarians, he said, were about the worst element we could have.

THE DOUKHOBORS.

Regarding the Galicians and Doukbors, he said the problem was to educate and put them on a proper understanding with our own people. It is not an easy matter to inspire them with proper Canadian sentiment. The Conservative Government originated the immigration, and the Liberal not find fault with either government. The two political parties were simply ng as well as they could to respond to the call for greater population. These races are here, and the question is, are we going to fit them for citizenship? He spoke of mingling among the Doukhobors, and thought like to see. The lines of demarkation between people, pigs and chickens are not definitely drawn; but, perhaps, if these people saw once our superior modes of living they would copy our

If we take a serious view of the question, which as Canadians we should, there would be no difficulty. There are 150,000 people in the Canadian Northwest without services, and yet we send men to the foreign field. The plan had been adopted of asking wealthy men for the sum of $250 each. That amount, together with what was given by the people, would maintain a missionary. The sum of $1,500 had been received from one family in Mon-A PATHETIC INCIDENT.

In conclusion, Dr. Robertson recounted a pathetic incident in connection with his work. He had heard of a postmaster named McGregor, whom he rightly guessed to be Scotch and Presbyterian. London, Monday, April 13. George Brown and John A. Macdonald. The unveiling, at the National Club, Toronto, the other day, of the portraits of Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Oliver Mowat was made the octasion for an interesting address, from Principal Grant, upon whom was conferred the honor of the unveiling. An incident of the evening was the reading of a letter from Sir Oliver Mowat, who regretted he was unable to be present to talk over with them, In no partisan spirit, the struggles of the past, recalling them without the sense of hostility which prevailed when they took place; and recalling also the advantages which the country had derived from each of the antagonistic parties of the past. Sir Oliver called to mind how the confederation of the provinces had been, in a considerable measure, the work of both parties. As the Lieutenant-Governor truly says, neither could have accomplished it at the time, nor very soon, without the help of the other, nor without the confidence of both parties in their respective leaders, who coalesced to accomplish the work. Sir Oliver considers the constitution then devised and embodied in the British North America Act, the best which could, at the time, be agreed upon by the representatives of the provinces then to be confederated. While there have since been differences of opinion about the wisdom, and even justice, of some of the details of the act, Sir Oliver points out that is recognized by the people as having been a great gain to Canada. Sir Oliver's letter is a rebuke to those extreme partisans on either side, who have endeavored to claim, for one party or the other, the exclusive credit for bringing the provinces together in confederation.

the act has, so far, been little amend-

The two most influential persons in bringing about the result were, beyond all controversy, George Brown and John A. Macdonald, men of extraordinary but widely varying gifts. George Brown was fiery, impetuous, overwhelmingly charged with physical mental energy. It is rather difficult, at this lapse of time, to even imagine the hold he possessed upon the Reform party of this Province. To his political opponents his name became a cry, much like that of Lord Douglas, at the mention of whose bodeful name the very babes were said to weep. Nor is it easy now to imagine what was the influence at that period of George Brown's Toronto Globe, which was for a long time the only paper of great importance in what was then Upper Canada. At that day it was one of the commonest occurrences that a prospective candidate on the Reform side would not dream for a moment of accepting a nomination until he had ascertained in person, or by letter, that he would have the support of the Globe.

John A. Macdonald was a man of totally different type; of equal determination and tireless ambition, but more sauve and politic in his methods than his great rival, and knowing to the full how to play on human nature in all its weaknesses and innermost recesses. These two men, George Brown and John A. Macdonald, for a long time the two outstanding statesmen by or at whom the adherents respectively swore-were the principal architects of confederation, without either of whom it might not even yet have been accomplished.

Investigate the Oil Question. It would be well for the Government, and in the interests of the people of Canada generally, if the recommendation of the Manufacturers' Association, with regard to the Canadian early date. The association had before it the statement of those interested the United States wholly removed, and it also considered the facts laid before It by those vitally interested in the oil industry of Canada and the industries dependent on it. And it reached the conclusion that "the facts laid bean exorbitant extent as a result of the duty." Therefore, the association declines to indorse the request of the Dominion Government that the duty should be removed, but it favors the justice to all parties concerned be

It would be the part of wisdom to expose these erroneous statements, to show the exact condition of oil production and refining in Canada, and The last session but one of the Canada to the Shore in operation our people will capture the bulk of this business, and one of no inconsiderable proportions it will prove. if need be to follow up the investigation with such legislation as will be in the best interests of the country.

Ticket-of-Leave Lapses.

Yesterday a penitentiary ticket-ofleave man was sent to jail on conviction for a crime committed since his release. He is only one of several whose cases the local courts have had to deal with. The ticket-of-leave system has its advantages, and when risely used gives an unfortunate convict an opportunity to show the good that is in him. On the other hand, when abused, it gives the evil convict an earlier opportunity to return to his riminal practices. Montreal's expernce indicates that more discriminaneeded in the granting of the tickets.-Montreal Gazette.

Our contemporary has presented no vidence to show that the system of granting tickets-of-leave has been abusable to continue in the right path, and are again in trouble. The fact is, as was shown in the last report of the Minister of Justice, which gave the statistics on the subject, that comparatively few of the paroled convicts have broken the conditions on which they regained their liberty. That some have done so need astonish no one, or cause he public to have any less faith in the principle which the present Minster of Justice, following the English precedent of many years' trial, has introduced. The parole system has been established chiefly to meet the cases of first offenders, who have shown exemplary conduct while in confinement, and it has worked well so far. The public interest in no respect has been sacrificed by its adoption, and if any of its beneficiaries fall by the way, it is to their own injury, for when found guilty of any indictable offense, they have not only to serve the term imposed for it, but have to go back to Unfair Discrimination.

The deputation of the Canadian Press Association, which appeared before Hon. Mr. Fielding, Dominion Finance Minister, put up a pretty strong case, and we do not think that the Minister or his colleagues will be inclined to minimize it. There are certainly anomalies in connection with the present tariff, so far as it affects the printing and publishing interests that require to be looked into, and if proved, as we believe they will be, remedy ought to be provided.

It does not appear fair that, under our postal laws, United States magazines can be sent into the country, by the thousand, free of charge, whereas, if a Canadian desires to imper cent on its value.

Paper is the raw material of the printing trade; nowhere can it be manufactured more cheaply than in Canada; and its price ought to be lower here than anywhere else. If it is not, its, and the duty ought to be reduced unless they agree to sell just as cheaply as the foreign article can be bough for.

The Coronation Oath.

Bystander (Professor Goldwin Smith)

vrites on the subject of the King's Coronation Oath, in the Weekly Sun, Concerning the constitutional aspect, he writer thinks the question about the King's Coronation Oath has led to the digging up of a curious store of antiquities. The Coronation ceremony itself is a relic of the time when the Crown was nominally, and even to some extent really, elective. Henry proclaimed himself "elected by the clergy and the people," and at the coronation of John, if we may trust the chronicler, the Archbishop of Canterbury asserted the privilege of election in the most decisive terms. The Champion who challenges gainsayers to judicial combat is a curious relic of the middle ages; as the anointing is of the functions of the mediaeval priesthood. The title Defender of the Faith was bestowed on Henry VIII. by the Pope for defending the faith which Henry's Protestant successors so offensively abjure. The objuration is a relic of the struggle against the oil industry, were carried out at an Papal and despotic aggressions of James II. The term "sacred Majesty," if it is ever now used, is a legacy of in having the duty on oil coming from the Roman Emperors, who invested themselves with divinity and set up their statues to be worshiped. "Our most religious and gracious King" was the style, in Acts of Parliament, of Charles II. If the King at his accession had refused the offensive defore it have not shown clearly enough claration, what would have happened? that the price of oil has been raised to His succession depending on the Act of Parliament, which required the declaration, he could not have ascended the throne. To pass an Act of Parliament curing the defect would apparently have been impossible because appointment of a commission to fully there would have been no one to give investigate the facts connected with the Royal assent to the Act. present Legislature of Ontario, pracically came to its formal close today. At the commencement of the session Advertiser predicted that Premier Ross would be sustained by an ample majority, and that the prestige of his Government would be enhanced by the work of the session. It cannot be said that Mr. Whitney has made any advance, either with regard to his hold on the House, or on the Province. Several of his most prominent followers, Mr. Marter and Mr. Carscallen, for instance, on more than one occasion kicked over the traces; and this was merely indicative of a demoralization which seemed to attach itself to the Opposition.

Among the incidents of the session were the passage of resolutions of condolence in connection with the Queen's death, and also of a congratulatory motion to King Edward Higher education received substantial recognition, in the increased financial grants to Toronto University, especially in connection with the science branch, while recognition was also given Queen's University through an increased grant to the mining school therewith connected.

The agriculturist was not forgotten. The adoption of the "Good Roads Bill," sets apart a million dollars for the purpose of securing better highways in the municipalities. And under the terms of the Beet Root Sugar Bill there is set apart the sum of $75,000 per annum, for three years, for the encouragement of that sweet and important industry. Among the incidents of the session was the recognition of the veterans of the South African war, and of the veterans of the Fenian raid, in the shape of land grants in New Ontario. But far and away above everything else in importance, was the fulfillment, the penitentiary to complete their for- in no small degree, of the Premier's promises to promote the development of our great heritage in New Ontario. There can be no doubt the granting of the subsidy to the Manitoulin and North Shore Road, will bring New and Old Ontario, via the Bruce peninsula, into close and quick communication, to the immense advantage of both sections of our wonderful Province. Mr. Ross, it should also be noted, has taken advantage of the crystallization of public opinion, to provide, through this charter and subsidy, for a large measure of Government control, and for Government ownership at the end of fifteen years, if desired. The experiment, which will be watched with interest, will, we have no doubt be rewarded with complete success, and will point the way to all Canada for

Last year immigrants from the United States into the Canadian Northwest brought $6,000,000 in money or goods and chattels. Under the old order of things, prior to 1876, the immigration was all the other way. It is not true, as stated by some of those who are bitterly opposed, for partisan reasons, to the educational policy of the Ontario Government, that 95 per cent of the pupils in the public schools never go further. Hon. Mr. Harcourt declared in the Legislature the other day that 27 per cent of the pupils are receiving secondary education. He very fairly asked that the system be judged by its fruits. They were very far in advance of the Motherland, where, owing to recent legislation, the science schools were in danger, the continuation classes were being neglected, and about 56 per cent of the teachers were uncertificated, Certainly no such charges can be laid against the educational system of the Province of Ontario.

The people will well receive the worth of the wealth of lands which they devote to the new enterprise. the wonderful development which is even now going on in the northern country, and with the great future which is opening up for it, the older part of the province should reap a large part of the benefit. Placed in close com munication with the sources of so much natural wealth as they will be by this new railway, the towns and cities of old Ontario should have an era of great and increasing prosperity ahead of them. The workers in the new fields have many needs which they

New York Lady Bequeaths $10,000 for the Care of Her Pet Dog.

New York, April 13 .- For the care and maintenance of a little black-andtan dog, which lay at her feet when she was dying, Miss Ellen Anne Griffin left $10,000 by her will. The furnished room in which she died, in East Eleventh street, was small and plainly furnished, but "Dandy Jim," as the dog is called, wore a jeweled blanket, the only article in the room indicative of the wealth of the woman. Miss Griffin was worth $150,000, and had for years been a recluse. Her costliest gown was made of calico, and she was a familiar figure in Union Square, where every policeman knew her and her peculiarities. She was the daughter of Charles Alexander Griffin, a prominent New York lawyer 50 years ago, and the granddaughter of George Griffin, at one time the leading criminal lawye of New York and a writer of ability. She was born 58 years ago. Her most intimate friend during her school days was Ellie Vanderbilt, granddaughter of Commodore Vanderbilt. When a young woman Miss Griffin fell in love with a cousin. Her parents would not permit her to marry him. Her grief over this, which was great, was intensified by the death of the young long after. The death of man not her mother led her finally to take the room near Union Square. She never again saw any of her old friends, her only companions being "Dandy Jim" and a canary bird.

Last week it became evident that Miss Griffin's end was approaching. She sent for a lawyer and made her colleagues may well be satisfied with the session that has just closed. Next tor, and left her property to her nieces and nephews. To Mary Magivney, the housekeeper, Miss Griffin left $10,000 for the maintenance of the dog until the end of his days.

The man tangled in the tape from the ticker is the type of the average business man. His business cares wrap him about like the coils of a constrictor and slowly crush out his life. The common sign of the business man's slavery is "weak stomach," the natural consequence of the rapid eating, the indigestible pastry, the coffee and pie or doughnuts, with which many a man stuffs his stomach under the name of "quick lunch." The quickest way back to a strong stomach and sound health is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medcal Discovery until perfectly cured. It goes to the root of disease. It removes the cause of ill-health. An Honest Tired Feeling

There is an "honest tired feeling," caused by necessary toil and cured by natural rest.

But very different is "that tired feeling," from which so many complain and which may even be classed as a disease.

That tired feeling takes you to bed tired and wakes you up tired. You have no appetite, have bilious taste, dull headache, are nervous and irritable, blue, weak and discouraged. In such conditions Hood's Sarsaparilla does a world of good.

It begins in the right place-in the blood, purifying it and imparting vitality, then its tonic effect is felt by the stomach, kidneys and liver; appetite comes back, all waste is removed naturally, headaches cease, that tired feeling departs and · you feel like a new person. CHURCH FIRE.

A lamp that hung before the aitar at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, exploded this morning early, and the firemen were called about o'clock. They worked about half an hour, the damage in that time amounting to $500 or $600.

COW STOLEN.

A brindled cow was stolen last night from the stable of Daniel Ferguson, lot 25, con. 5, Westminster township. The animal had been sold to a butcher and when he went for it this morning it was missing. High Constable Mc-Loud investigated and found that the animal had been led away in the direction of London.

The bullet entered the palm of Frank's left hand and lodged in the wrist. AN ENJOYABLE HOP.

The private party tendered by Messrs. Fraser and Templeton at the Palace Dancing Academy last evening proved a most enjoyable affair, and was attended by over 150 guests. The dancing and musical programmes were the best of the season. The "Bellfield," new dance just out, received a double encore, and promises to become very popular. Messrs. Fraser and Temwere heartily congratulated upon the success of the party.

HEZEKIAH."

"Hezekiah," the manuscript oratorio, will be produced for the first time in public in the First Methodist Church, next Thursday evening, April 18. The final rehearsals with orchestra show that the initial production will be a fine musical success in the chorus and instrumental part; and with such noted solo talent as Mrs. Wiland son, of Chicago, who takes the so-prano work; Mrs. Clements, the con-tralto work and Mr. Large and Mr. McDonald the remaining solo work, the concert certainly promises a great iccess. The novelty of hearing this work under the composer for the first ime also adds interest to the event. MRS. HUNT IN SOMERSET HALL. Last night a reception was tendered Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, of Boston, by the local W. C. T. U. in Somerset Hall. The chair was taken by Rev. Thomas Wilson. Those present were there by invitation and consisted of clergymen, teachers and others interested in edu-cation. After opening devotional ex-ercises and a few remarks by the chairman, five ladies discussed in 15 minutes the cigarette question. Miss Winnifred Hooper followed with a olo, and then the chairman introduced Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, of Boston, Mass., superintendent of the world's department of scientific temperance instruction and also of the same department in the National American Union. Mrs. Hunt's interesting address was listened to with great attention, and was warmly applauded.

A PICTURESQUE ROUTE.

One of the most artistic folders issued by the Grand Trunk Railway-and of late this railway has been getting out many such-is now being sent out under the title of "The Picturesque Pan-American Route to Buffalo." Not only does the hooklet advertise attractively the advantages of the G. T. R. as a route to the Pan-American Exposition but it devotes considerable space to the setting forth of the innumerable beauty spots which are found along the line. The typography and letter press of the folder are artistic in the extreme, and it is profusely illustrated with views of the exposition and of Buffalo, as well as of the scenery along the line of railway Niagara district, the Muskoka region, the Lake of Bays district, the Georgian Bay, the Kawatha Lakes and Maganetawan River regions, and the Thousand Islands, are all described and illustrated in a way which cannot fail to divert a very large stream of tourist travel to the regions in Ontario which are becoming well known all over the continent as possessing some of the most beautiful scenery to be found on the face of the globe. In work of making known to the world the natural beauties to be found in Canada, the Grand Trunk is taking foremost and invaluable part.

DISCUSSED

Lengthy Debate in the House on the Government's Policy.

Mr. McCreary Defends the Doukhobors-Battle Between Clarke Wallace and Mr. Talbot Narrowly Averted.

Ottawa, April 12.—The house spent eight hours in the discussion of the government's immigration policy today. The subject was raised by Mr. Wilson on motion to go into and the debate was participated in by most of the western members. feature of the debate was Mr. Mc-Creary's defense of the government's policy. Late this evening Mr. Clarke Wallace incidentally brought up the matter of the Fox Bay settlers, and the session ended, with somewhat stormy scenes at 1 o'clock this morn-

DEAD LETTER OFFICE FOR LON-DON.

Mr. Sutherland introduced a departmental bill to amend the postoffice act. It defines the meaning of "post let-ter," owing to a point that has arisen in a legal case. It also gives power to establish dead letter offices at St. John, Kingston, Hamilton, London, Vancouver and Dawson. The third section provides for the establishment of a class of officials to be called train porters. These men will assist the railway mail clerks, especially in the handling of newspapers.

IMMIGRATION QUESTIONS. On the motion to go into supply Mr. Wilson made a speech of some length on the question of immigration. He first expressed his pleasure that the government had placed in the schools of the United Kingdom Canadian maps and Canadian atlases. He thought the principle might be extended to all civilized countries with good results, particularly in Germany, where we were not allowed to send agents. Mr. Wilson criticised the government's immigration in several details. Mr. McCreary, of Selkirk, blamed the Conservative government, which was in power at the time of the C. P. R. construction, for failing to secure and keep the immigrants for the west. With respect to the Doukhobors, Mr. McCreary said that they also made excellent settlers, and were no deserving of the criticism to which they hed been subjected. He gave them an excellent character for cleanliness. The chief cry against the Doukhobors was, he said, raised by small ranchers who had gone into a farming country instead of into the ranching districts, and sought to keep large tracts of good agricultural land for their small herds to roam over, and who, therefore, opposed settlement. After recess Mr. Jabel Robinson (West Elgin) resumed the debate, and expressed the opinion that if what Mr. McCreary said was correct, and the Doukhobors were equal to the Society of Friends, they would make good citizens of Canada.

A PLEA FOR THE OPEN DOOR. Mr. D. C. Fraser spoke for the open will, it is said, be sent to Russia by door in immigration. He would like to see Englishmen and Irishmen come to Canada, and above all he would like to see God's only elite, the Scotch, failing that, he wanted to see good honest citizens, who would till the soil and make farms. He appealed for greater breadth of view and a thoroughly British spirit in our immigration.

Mr. Wallace pronounced the Doukhobors and Galicians undesirable settlers, and said they had been nursed and coddled by the government. With some warmth Mr. Sifton defended the Galician and Doukhobor settlers from the unfair criticism to which they had been subjected, and declared that they would make excellent settlers. Mr. R. L. Borden said that the minister of the interior had not answered the criticisms of Mr. Wallace in reference to the Galicians, and asked that the statistics upon which he had founded his assertions that they had such a good criminal record be produced. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that Mr

Wallace's statements were not warranted by the facts.

A PASSAGE-AT-ARMS. While Mr. Wallace was speaking on the immigration question he was frequently interrupted by Mr. Talbot, the member for Bellechasse. Words passed between them, and the speaker was of insurance, and comes in the class compelled to intervene. When the speaker left the house, Mr. Talbot walked across to Mr. Wallace's underwriters is the strained relationseat and shook his fist in his face. EXPOSITION MAKING

The Pan-American to Excel in Many Particulurs.

The Most Delicate and Intricate Plastic Work Ever Attempted for Exposition Purposes-Color and Horticultural Embellishment.

The development of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffale is observed with prefound interest throughout the western world. Almost every day shows some new feature of the magnificent enterprise completed. Some new tower rears aloft its ornamental pinnacle, some new dome presents its rounded top to the sky, or some new decoration of form or color is added to the wonderful bouquet of architectural loveliness.

Never was there an Exposition so novel, so unlike what the world has learned to expect, as this. With the glorious examples of the Exposition builder's art and genius to look back upon with fond remembrance and admiration, the world has wondered if all that has been promised for the Pap-American would be realized. It one may judge by the present stage of the vast work, the millions of visitors to Buffalo during the exposition season, which begins on the 1st of May next, will suffer no disappointment.

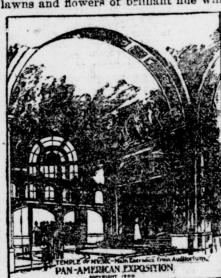

The Pan-American Exposition will outshine its distinguished predecessors in many particulars. Of these the court settings are of first importance. In order that there may be abundant room for the elaborate decorative effects, 33 acres are alone devoted to courts. This area is two and a half times the area of the courts at the Chicago Columbian Exposition. About these broad courts are grouped a score of great buildings, in which the multitude of exhibits from all parts of the western world are to be displayed. As a second important feature may be mentioned the ornate architecture, the use of plastic ornamentation of very intricate and beautiful design and the employment of original sculptured groups in the exterior decorations of buildings, entrances and architectural features. No less than 125 original sculptured groups, modeled by some 30 or more distinguished American sculptors, will be used in this feature of the decorative work.

The use of an elaborate color scheme has never before been attempted at an exposition. The appropriate title of the "Rainbow City" has already been applied to this great group of brilliantly colored buildings, and lovers of color will find the exquisite barmony of tints that has here been produced a most delightful subject for contemplation and study. As a fourth point of superiority may be named the hydraulic and fountain features. In all the courts are broad pools containing numberless cascades and fountains. These will add to the beauty of the great work in no small degree. Many of the fine sculptures will form a part of these charming fountains. A broad and stately canal, a mile and a half in length, banked with grass and lined with a double row of young trees, completely encircles the main group of buildings. The horticultural embellishment of the grounds constitutes a fifth point of excellence. Ornamental trees, shrubs, lawns and flowers of brilliant hue will delight the eye everywhere. Sunken gardens and formal beds of flowers will surround fountains and pools and border upon the walks throughout the courts. Crowning the great work of producing unparalleled vistas and an exposition picture of unrivaled beauty will be the electrical illumination. Only when a great volume of power is available, such as Buffalo possesses in the newly harnessed Niagara, could electric illumination be undertaken on so grand a scale. With unlimited power to draw upon, the electrician has had no restraining conditions in his work. The electric tower, 375 feet high, of rich and elaborate design, will form the centerpiece of the electrical brilliancy, while every building, fountain and architectural feature and even the broad surfaces of the artificial lakes and pools, with floating lights, will glow with electrical radiance and luster. The scene will be one of unsurpassed loveliness, hitherto impossible and unlikely soon to be repeated again on account of the vast expenditure of electrical energy necessary to produce it. Hoping to Make Their Fortunes.

The thousands of people who visit the grounds where the buildings of the Pan-American Exposition are rising like a city created by magic see many things which indicate that the value of the vacant lots surrounding the Exposition grounds for money making purposes next summer is duly appreciated. For instance, one real estate dealer advertises like this: "Can you keep a boarding house? Can you run a lunch counter? If so, here is your chance to make the most money." Another advertises, "Choice lots for hotels, boarding houses, saloons, summer gardens, restaurants, souvenir booths and other things by which you can make your fortune at the Panproperty in the vicinity of the Exposi-American Exposition," All the vacant tion grounds is staked off and placarded by signs indicating its value for purposes in connection with the big Exposition to be held in Buffalo next summer, and many buildings are already going up which will be used for accommodations for Exposition visitors and all sorts of purposes connected with their entertainment.

Broad Scope of the Exposition. Nearly all of the nations of Central and South America have slready sent formal acceptances to the invitation to participate in the Pan-American Exposition. Exhibits showing the resources of all the principal countries of Central and South America are now in course of preparation. Government officials are preparing exhibits from the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, Cuba and the Hawaiian group. About 15 acres have been set apart for the court of the state and foreign buildings on the eastern side of the grounds and a little south of the main group.

BRITISH BANK BILLS ARE ALWAYS CLEAN

They Are Never Issued Twice and Do Not Become "Filthy Lucre

Bank of England notes are printed on exquisite paper, the texture and water-marking being almost beyond imitation; exquisite paper, the texture and watermarking being almost beyond imitation; the printing machinery is of most ingenious construction, the invention of two men, Oldham, pere et fils. The two halves of the notes are numbered alike, and in the process of printing the machine automatically changes the numbers for the next note. A Bank of England note is never issued twice, consequently it is delightfully clean. There may be some analogy between this and the fact that in Britain ladies' purses are almost invariably lined in white.

The "letter of credit" had its genesis in the fact that up till 1759 the Bank of England issued no notes for less than $20. If the possessor of such a note, perhaps a poor, perhaps a thrifty person, desiring, say fi 10s, presented his note and asked for that amount, it would be given him and the amount deducted from the face value of his note.

The bank has the monopoly of issuing notes in London and for a radius of 65 miles around it. No fi notes are issued in England or Wales, and it is an interesting literary reminiscence that when the attempt was made to prohibit the issuing of fi notes in Scotland. Sir Walter Scott, then in the very midst of his own financial troubles, opposed the attempt most vigorously in his "Letters of Malachi Malagrowther."—Criterion.

TWO GIRLS ASPHYXIATED. New York, April 15 .- Agnes Alexander, 17 years old, was found dead in her room, at 478 Classon avenue Brooklyn, this merning. Anna Johnson, 19 years old, who occupied the same room with her, was overcom and died later. The gas was turned on full and the windows were shut tight. Both girls were employed as servants. No letters were found, and it is not thought that there was any attempt to commit suicide.

CAPTURED BY AID OF BLOOD-HOUNDS. Hastings, Fla., April 15 .- Julius Es kew, manager of the Armstrong Turpentine Company, near here, was shot and killed by Jim Kerby, a negro last night. Eskew had $150 on his person and the negro wanted the money. After Eskew was dead, Kerby started toward the body for the purpose of robbing it, but was frightaned away. He escaped into a swamp where he was captured with the aid of bloodhounds. While Sheriff Perry was waiting in the depot with the negro, to take him to St. Augustine unknown parties fired through a window and put five bullets into Kerby's back. He thought he would die and made a confession, implicating Robert Lee, another negro. Bloodhounds are

FLOWERS AT PAN-AMERICAN

Charming Landscape Effects and Beautiful Floral Exhibits. The Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo next summer will possess unusual charm for lovers of flowers and of beautiful landscape effects. Chicago was anxious to win the convention, but in view of the special attractions for its members which the Pan-American Exposition will possess it was decided to meet next year in the Pan-American city. The gathering will bring to Buffalo about 1,000 delegates and their families from all parts of the United States. The floral features of the Pan-American Exposition and its landscape effects will surpass anything ever seen before by visitors to expositions held in the United States. The laying out of the grounds was done with the view of providing for such attractions, and ample space was left for courts and fountains, canals and lakes, which will be bordered with plants and flowers of all kinds and descriptions. While there will be charming scenery of this character in all portions of the grounds, an especial effort will be made to embellish the southern portion, adjoining Delaware park, at the entrance to that part of the grounds where the main Exposition buildings are situated. On both sides of the splendid Triumphal Bridge at this point will be two artificial pools called the Mirror Lakes, connecting with the Grand Canal, which encircles the grounds. The slopes of these lakes and the whole vicinity will be adorned with a magnificent outdoor exhibit of flowering plants set in the midst of shrubbery and trees in such a way as most to enhance the beautiful effect. There will be a large display of rare water plants, including the Nilumbiums and the wonderful Mctoria Regia, or Amazon Lily, and many Nymphæas not before exhibited. Applications for space for exhibits on the grounds and in the special building to be devoted to horticulture are coming from florists all over the country, and the expressed desire of the cultivators of flowers and plants to be represented at the Pan-American insures an extensive exhibition of these beautiful products of nature.

Poor Shirley found, long before the day was half over, that she would have to was half over, that she would have to exercise great patience and forbearance if there was to be a whole week of work like this before her.

"I do not need to ask any pledge from you, neither do I need give you such an assurance; but, my darling, you must write to me very often, for I shall be more lonely than I can express when you are gone."

"Not more so than I, dear, in that the model of the world, while I do not see how I am going to get along without you." "Is there no one else whom you could find to go in my place?" Clifton inquired. "Not more so than I, dear, in that strange place." Shirley answered. "But I shall try to bear it patiently, for I cannot be very unhappy while I know that you love me—while I trust you—"You do trust me implicitly, my darling?" Clifton exclaimed, interrupting her. "You are sure there is not a doubt in your mind regarding my fidelity to you?"

Throat Consumption

The Beginning of the Deadly Malady Which Eventually Overcome This Insidious Disease While It Is Amenable to Medical Treatment.

Inflammation of the throat and bronchial tubes, cough, weakness of voice, continual hawking and spitting, pain and difficulty in expectoration, loss of flesh, sleeplessness and general weakness of the system, are indications of throat consumption, which is in most cases the starting point of what leads to consumption of the lungs, and death. It is the old story of catching cold after cold, one upon the other, until the system is weakened and depressed, and the germs of consumption find an easy entrance. General as well as local treatment is absolutely imperative for dis eases of this nature, which attack the constitution, and aim at the vital organs of the body.

To clear the throat, ease and loosen the cough, and make expectoration pasy, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpertine is of incalculable value. It positively checks disease, and affords relief from the distressing symptoms which fasten themselves on the victim of our national malady.

Then it is that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food should be regularly and persist-ently taken to restore vitality to the system, and prevent emaciation, loss of appetite, fever and the terrible nightappetite, fever and the terrible hight-sweats which sap the life from the weakening body. You can fight off consumption by this combined treat-ment, and thousands of persons today are living witnesses of the wonder efficiency of this treatment.

But the best way by far is to prevent the necessity of a deadly combat with consumption. Call a quick halt to the cough and cold by the prompt use of ough and cold by the prompt use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It is beyond all odds the most thorough and far-reaching remedy ever prescribed for diseases of the throat and lungs.

Also remember as a positive fact that neither consumption, pneumonia nor any other constitutional disease can find its way to a system that is kept in full vigor and vitality by such a pre-paration as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. By enriching the blood and rekindling wasted nerves it sends new life to every part of the body. It is the greatest preventive of disease that man has ever known, and is worthy of a trial. 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edman-son, Bates & Co.. Torento.

"No, indeed," Shirley cried, eagerly; "it will be all the more sacred to me because you have worn it, and it is beautiful,

You have worn it, and it is beautical.

"Well, dear, it proclaims that you are mine, and so I am happy," the fond lover tenderly returned. Then, with a last farewell, they separated.

The next morning Madame Marton and Shirley left for St. Sauveur; and about ten o'clock Hamilton Vining, on entering his office, found a note, addressed in a familiar hand, lying on his desk.

Eagerly opening it he read:
"Dear Vining,—My adorable aunt left New York for St. Sauveur this a.m. The pretty and dangerous sewing-girl accompanied her as companion. We are now ready for the second act in our domestic drama, eh? Yours, WM. NOHWOOD."

A satisfied smile broke over Mr. Vining's face as he finished reading this pithy epistle.

One morning, about a week following the departure of Shirley for Canada. Mr. Norwood was very late in getting to his office.

He looked unusually grave and preoccupied, and responded absently to Clifton's cheerful "Good-morning."

The young man had just received a letter from his betrothed, and was in the best of spirits, for Shirley had written in a bright and cheerful strain, and he believed her to be happy in her new position. Mr. Norwood seated himself at his desk

Mr. Norwood seated himself at his desk and began to open the numerous letters which the morning's mail had brought to him, making notes as he went along on such as demanded special attention. He did not speak once while thus engaged, and Clifton wondered what was passing in his mind, for usually he was very social, and kept up a running fire of comments upon his correspondence.

But, finally, after the last missive had been disposed of, he pushed the pile away from him with a sigh of relief, and leanfrom him with a sigh of relief, and lean-ed back in his chair to rest.

"There was quite a budget this morn-ing," Clifton remarked, as he glanced up ing," Clifton remarked, as he glanced up from his work.

"Yes; it seems as if they get more numerous every day, and some of them amount to but very little," Mr. Norwood gravely replied. Then, after a few moment of thought, he resumed: "Clif, this royalty business is bothering us again, and I don't see that there is any way out of it but for me to make a trip abroad and give the matter my personal attention."

and give the matter my personal attention."

"Is that so?" the young man inquired, in a tone of interest.

"Yes, and I want you to go with me," replied his companion, shooting a quick, searching glance at his young secretary. Clifton looked astonished, and paled slightly at the proposition.

His first thought was of Shirley.

Could he make up his mind to let three thousand miles of ocean divide them? It was a long distance, and it would take more than a week to reach her in the event of anything happening.

"The proposal surprises you," continued Mr. Norwood, his keen eyes still reading that thoughtful face. "I supposed it would, but it will be a good opportunity for you to learn something of the world, while I do not see how I am going to get along without you."

"Is there no one else whom you could find to go in my place?" Clifton inquired.

It would cause endless trouble to break in another fellow, to say nothing of the loss of time. Is the nothing of the loss of time. Is the thought of going abroad disagreeable to you?"

"I cannot say that it is, sir," Clifton returned. "It is quite unexpected, however, and has taken me so by surprise that I hardly know my own mind."
"Well, of course, I am willing you should take time to consider the matter and consult your family, if that is what you want," said Mr. Norwood, with a covert smile, well knowing what Mr. "But really covert smile, well knowing what Mr. Vining's advice would be. "But really, Clifton." he added, instituatingly, "I hope you will go—I have, in fact, set my heart upon taking you with me. Your salary shall be doubled; besides, I will bear all expenses, while I am sure the travel and sight-seeing would broaden and develop you."

you."
Clifton's heart leaped at the words,
"your salary shall be doubled."
That would be a great temptation, for then he would be able to make a home for his darling all the sooner. If his ex-penses were all paid, he would surely be able to save something handsome from the trip, and he began to calculate how much.

His father would have marveled if he could have read the thoughts which were flashing through his brain during those few moment. The "reckless, extravagant scamp" was rapidly developing financial ability, if nothing else,

THE AMATEUR CONTESTS.

Toronto, April 15.—There were nearly 3,000 people in the Mutual street rink on Saturday night when the gong sounded for the first bout in the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union championship final bouts. The bantams put up the cleverest and fastest bout of the evening. Hewitt's work and style were the better and cleaner of the two, and he got the decision, which was cheered uproariously. Holland and Nolan came on for the preliminary of the 145-pound bout, which was a slugging match from the start. Nolan was the aggressor, throughout, and got the decision. Harrison was too much for Ainsthorpe in the 115-pound bout, and put his opponent down in the first round. Ainsthorpe came up gamely in the second, but only lasted about a minute. Moyland and Somerville put up a slugging match in the 125-pound class. Moyland was the aggressor, and put Somerville down and almost out in the second round by a left swing on the jaw. Somerville failed to respond for the third round. In the 135-pound bout Austin proved too much for Hern, and put him out with a right on the jaw in the second round. McBrierly, of Montreal, wins the middle-weight championship by default, and defeated Fields, of Toronto, in the heavy-weight class for the championship. Summary:

The principal amendment adopted was as follows: The playing time will be 90 minutes, with a five minutes' rest after every game of five minutes and over. In games under five minutes there will be no rest, but a change of goals, and players will not leave the field. All players must be registered, each club being obliged to furnish before May 20 a complete list of the players that the club intends to play during the season. Each club will appoint six members, who will constitute a board of referees, from whom the referee will be chosen by the president a board of referees, from whom the referee will be chosen by the president

THE ESSENTIALS OF MANLINESS

Hear Power, Conscience Power, Life Power,

Rommey township mourns the loss of one of its oldest residents, in the person of Mrs. Mary Shanks, one of the pioneers who first settled along Lake Erie, many years ago. Yet, unfortunately, many held erroneous views of what constitutes true manliness, and the entertainment of views that were false and vicious was apt to mould a false and

Three wrong views, he said, were ommonly held. One was that mere physical strength or courage constitutes true manliness. This did not fulfill the Christian character, nor was it true, as character pertained to spirit, not to muscle. He did not spirit, not to muscle. disparage physical strength, but in itself it was a mere brute thing that might be associated with the worst there was in man. Something more was necessary. Another wrong idea was that mere mental strength constitutes true manliness. Heart power, conscience power, life power were requisite. A man who had one mental endowment, and put behind it these three powers would be a far greater man than he who had ten talents and did not. "We must remember," he said, "that we must not judge a man by his hatband any more than by his waistband." third wrong view was that restraint should be thrown off, that the power which often developed into license was true manliness. Dr. McCrae earnestly advised young men against these wrong beliefs, and recommended them to read the Bible thoroughly and conscientiously for a true knowledge, concerning what constitutes a true manly character.

IS ALCOHOL BOTH FOOD AND POISON?

Mrs. Mary Hunt, of Boston, Answers the Question in the Negative.

In her recent address before the W. C. T. U. of London, Mrs. Hunt, of Boston, superintendent of scientific temperance in the World's W. C. T. U., called attention to Prof. Atwater's claims for alcohol, and pointed out that they are being answered by the laboratories of Europe as effectively as by those of America. The Outlook has recently been devoting much space to this interesting subject, and has advanced the theory that alcohol is both a food and a poison. This claim, that they are being answered by the both a food and a poison. This claim, according to Mrs. Hunt, is overwhelmingly refuted by the scientific testi-mony of two continents. Prof. Max Kassowitz, a noted specialist of Vienna, has just published in a leading German medical paper (Deutsche Medicinische Wochenschrift, 1900, No. 32) a careful review of all the recent investigation on the food value of alcohol. After a critical examination of all the claims that have been made for it he gives this as his decision: "Alcohol for the animal and human organism is not a food and at the same time a poison, but a poison only, which, like all other poisons, in large amounts, has a deadly, paralyzing, and disease-producing action, while in small doses it has only an irritating Mrs. Hunt referred to the action Mrs. Hunt referred to the action taken last week by the Educational Association at Toronto, which pro-

The check was to his own indorsation, and he should have gone at once in the ordinary course and got the money. Instead, he evidently slipped out of the office, erased the $10 in the marked check, put in $2,455 in its place, returned and drew the money. Before this fraud was discovered he went over to the Bank of Commerce, where he had made acquaintances by putting in two deposits and drawing out $10 by check, and had a check for $20 marked. Once more he left for a few moments, instead of going direct from the ledgerkeeper's office to the cashier's office and raised the check to $2,900. The net proceeds of his day's work was $5,300, and Winton got clear away.
