The names of the winners of special awards in the shape of consolation prizes will be announced in a few days. This list will include the names of candidates who, failing to qualify for trips, have merited consideration owing to efforts put forth and continued to the end of the contest.

The London Advertiser's grand Panama-Pacific trip contest concluded with a cyclonic rush of ballots on Tuesday, May 25, at 10 p.m., just eight weeks from the day of the first announcement. Other contests had extended over three or four months. The Advertiser's Panama-Pacific trip contest, which has broken all success records, has been comparatively short and proportionately sharp, interest never flagging for a day throughout.

Of all who permitted themselves to be nominated, only a small number dropped out before the publication of the first report of standing. Practically all who remained in the race to the last day, the majority becoming increasingly en thustastic.

An important era in the contest was marked early in its history by the pinmoney contest, when a ten-dollar gold piece was awarded the contestant in each district who showed the greatest increase in votes in one week. With one exception, the winners of the pinmoney prizes were the same as those who today hold the proud position of victors in capturing the continental In number three district, Miss Florence Widden made the greatest gain of votes in one week, and carried off the ten dollars in gold, though Miss Weston headed the district, as she does today. Spurred to Fresh Effort.

On May 11 the announcement of a special clubbing offer, with substantial vote bonuses on clubs of ten, aroused greatest interest and stimulated contestants and their supporters to unprecedented effort. Though the privilege was extended of holding over bonus coupons until the end of the contest. the standing which appeared in the afternoon edition a couple of days after the close of the clubbing offer bore strong evidence of its fruitfulness. The Panama-Pacific trip contest will go down into history labelled "The Contest That Was Different." It was different from the fact that the majority of the candidates were warmly supported by organizations and institutions respon sible for their nomination.

In number one district, the contest has been watched with widespread interest, Miss Minnie Raymond, the choice of the Women's Music Club, and one of more than three million votes. Miss London's leading musicians, has had as PETROLEA, May 26. — Petrolea's first native son to die for his country is Private George Terry. He was picked off by a German sniper, on April 30th.

Gerald Kavanaugh, in a letter received on Monday told of his death. Pte. Kavanaugh saw Terry fall and tells of his death in sympathetic terms in one sentence as such news is usualy told in these warlike times. Captain Waddell wired to Ottawa to make sure of the truth of the report and this morning the news was verifled in a brief telegram to Mrs. Terry. People of Petrolea, especially those with sons at the front, are greatly aroused over the failure of the Gov-While Lance-Corporal Harris, killed

[Special to The Advertiser.]
GUELPH, May 26.—Pte. George Leacock, formerly of this city, who was reported as dead, is alive at the front. A letter to Major O'Brien probably explains how he was reported as dead.
"After the fight at Ypres," he writes,
"I was in the hospital for two days from gas poisoning. It did not take effect on me until two days after we left the trenches. I was walking along the road and when I came to my senses, I the doctor to dicharge me, but he would-n't, so I took French leave, and ran away and rejoined my regiment, and am feeling fit and ready for another fight."

FERGUS BOY KILLED BEFORE CHUM'S EYES.

GUELPH, May 26.-"One shall be taken and the other shall be left," was rue enough of two Fergus soldiers, who enlisted here and had gone into the campaign together with the intention of staying that way. Particulars have just been received of the death of Pte. David Walker Gregson, from near Fer-gus, which took place shortly after the pattle of Langemarck. Private James e has written to his people at Fergus, telling of the incident, as he was with Gregson when he was killed. They had been engaged all through the transporting ammunition up the firing line, and had gone through the ngagament without a scratch. Shortly after, Gregson and Catchpole were be-hind the lines a distance of about three miles, where they had a small tent, which they were preparing to convert into a dug-out as the number of shells

Thin Folks Get Fat on Three Meals a Day

Specialist Explains Why Food Does Not Always Produce Flesh and How Thin People Can Increase Weight.

Most people who are thin and under normal weight eat heartly, but get no increase in fiesh, while plump, chunky folks of normal weight eat less than the do and keep stout all the time. The underweight ones finally decide Nature intended them to be thin, that the amount or nature of their food has nothing to do with flesh-making and that nothing can make them fat. But this is not so. Sworn Statement A stout, strong, robust body can come alone from food nourishment. Food is the source of all fat, and if you are thin and underweight it is merely a certain indication that only a small portion of indication that only a small portion of the flesh-making nourishment in your meals is reaching your blood and tissues. The assimilative functions of your stomach and intestines are not working properly, and the larger part of the food value is leaving your body as waste.

To correct such a condition, to gain flesh, increase weight and get 100 per cent value from your food, a single Sargol tablet taken at each meal will work wonders. Sargol is a scientific combination of six splendid assimilative agents. It promptly stops the leakage of fats and while aiding digestion, also separates every last particle of the fats, oils, sugars and starches of your food from the waste matter and prepares the forsugars and starches of your food from the waste matter and prepares the former into rich, ripe, flesh-producing nourishment which the blood readily absorbs and distributes throughout the body. Weight increase usually begins within a yery few days after Sargol is used with meals. In my opinion two ordinary hearty meals eaten with Sargol is squal in flesh-making value to six ordinary hearty meals eaten without it. Try it, you people who are thin representations.

Burns, 472 Ridout street, at 8:30 o'clock, to St. Peter's Cathedral, where services were conducted by Rev. Father McKeon. Interment was made at St. Peter's Cemetery, where Rev. Father Tobin officiated. The pallbearers were Thomas Hall, William O'Brien, William Burns, Fred Nash, Robert Collins, Chester Panter. Relatives who attended the funeral included William Sangar, of Euclid, Ohio; James Sanger, city; Mrs. J. E. McLeroy, of Orwell, Ohio; Mrs. J. E. Gifford, of Orwell, Drowning Victim Buried. The funeral of J. W. Tupholme, the young man who was drowned in the Thames, near Woodland, on Victoria Day, when he fell from a motor launch was held today at 3 o'clock to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Services were con-ducted at the home of his step-father. Henry Gardener, 83 Briscoe street, at 2:30 o'clock, by Rev. Dr. D. C. McCrae, pastor of the Hamilton Road Presby-terian Church. The inquest into the death of the young man will be held on Friday evening at the county court-house. It is believed that a sudden swing of the launch in following a bend in the river threw Mr. Tupholme from in the river threw Mr. Tupholme from the roof of the cabin into the water, and that he sank immediately. He is survived by his wife, and his home was at 27 Adelaide street.

TO GOOL OFF AROUR

Last Night's Cold Snap Has Little Effect On Troops Under Canvas.

Even last night's frost and cold has failed to cool the ardor of the men in the Carling's Heights camp. There was a great demand for more blankets in all TEAM the tents, and some of the men preferred to walk around, but this morning all the tents, and some of the men preferred was fine once more. There are some of the more enthusiastic fresh air fierids who claimed that they enjoyed the cold but the majority vote, as expressed by the men and officers, was to the effect that they could stand a little more heat

However, the absolute lack of grumbling is remarkable. Not a man was heard to complain. They said it was cold, but let it go at that, and there were no strenuous kicks against sleep-

BRITISH CAPTURE ENEMY'S TRENCHES ON 3-MILE FRONT

Advance Since May 1 Has Given Them Front Line System Along 3,200 Yards and First and Second Line on Remaining Position.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, May 26.—10:27 p.m.—The following official statement was issued by the British war office tonight: "The first army continues to make progress east of Festubert. A territorial division carried last night a group of German trenches, capturing thirty-five prisoners, and this morning it captured one officer, twenty-one men and a machine gun. "Since May 1, the first army has pierced the enemy's line on a total front of over three miles. On this, the entire hostile front line system has been captured on a front of 3,200 yards, and on the remaining portion the first and second line trenches are in our possession. The total number of prisoners taken is eight officers and 777 other ranks. Ten machine guns, in all, have fallen into our possession, as well as a considerable quantity of material and equipment, particulars of which are ot yet available

German Shrapnel Fragment Caused Fatal Wound in Thigh.

The death of Gunner Robert Mercer, which was reported in London some weeks ago, and who died of wounds gloriously received in upholding Canada and the flag in the recent terrific en-gagement at Langemarck, is deplored by all who knew and loved him, and two letters which Mrs. Mercer has received-one from Major Woodman Leonard, the other from Lieut. J. W. Scandrett—are of interest, as they show the high regard in which the dead soldier was held by his officers at the front. It was a piece of shrapnel which struck him down while he was working valorously to save the guns German shells were trying to destroy. At the time it was not thought the wound would prove fatal.

Best Man at His Job.

Lieut. Scandrett says: "He was called Limber Gunner Mercer, of No. 2 subsecion, and was considered by all the officers to be the best man in the battery at the job, and many times, on parade, he was complimented on the condition of his gun." Woodman Leonard says: "I greatly deplore his death, as he was undoubtedly the best limber gunner in the battery. I hope it will comfort you to know he died while gallantly carrying out his duty to his country."

Died at His Post.

The letters, in full, read: Belgium, May 4, 1915.

Mrs. M. Mercer, 7 Bathurst Street, London, Ont.: My Dear Mrs. Mercer,—Before this letter arrives you will have been no-tified of the death of Gunner R. H. Mercer, of my battery. He died of wounds received while helping myself and others to remove a gun which was in imminent danger of being destroyed by the enemy's fire. I greatly deplore his death, as he was undoubtedly the best limber gunner in the battery. I hope it will comfort you to know that he died while gallantly carrying out his duty to his country, and myself and officers greatly regret his demise, as do all ranks in the battery. With genuine sympathy, yours faithfully,

Dear Mrs. Mercer,—It is with the deepest regret and heartfelt sympathy that I am writing you to let you know a few of the details concerning the death of your husband. On Saturday, April 24, we were in a position and firing heavily on the some damage, for they started searching for us with heavy shrapnel shalls. The position became too hot to hold during the afternoon, so we decided to get the guns away in order to save them from total destruction. We got one gun away with the teams, but they saw us, and followed us with shrapnel. It was useless to try and bring in any more teams, so we decided to manhandle the guns a distance of some 250 yards to safety. Took Gun 100 Yards. Every man jumped to his allotted post, and we went away with a rush. After going about 100 yards a flying piece of shrapnel struck him in the thigh. He was immediately put under shelter, and thence carried to the ambulance almost immediately. He did not think he was badly hit, nor did we. The gun we got safely away, and subsequently, the next one, and by the same means.

He was called Limber Gunner Mercer, of No. 2 Subsection, in my section. He was considered by all the officers and men to be the best man in the battery at the job, and many times on parade he was complimented on the condition of his gun. A Place Hard to Fill. As section commander, I feel his

COALITION GOVERNMENT.

Great Britain was at umph for the forces which are battling war with France, and Newcastle was held responsible for the nation's unpreparedness. Public indignation compelled him to call Pitt to his assistance, and thus started a wonderful era of conquest and expansion for the Empire. Pitt's genius quickly drew order out of the chaos, and British armies and fleets were soon victorious at a dozen points of the globe. India and Canada were the big prizes of the war. Although they had been the bitterest of political enemies. Pitt and Newcastle buried all their quarrels for the common cause. -The coalition Government of Fox and North, which was as unexpected as that of Pitt and Newcastle, was not as successful as the latter. George the Third, who had just lost the American colonies, had dismissed Shelburne, and Fox and North getting together formed a coalition Government. Shelburne had brought about the peace pact with the United States, and this unpopular act made the new rulers, who were opposed to the peace, very strong for a while. Fox, however, once in the saddle, deeided that it was better to make a friend of the American Republic, and of George that Fox and North soo

The coalition worked smoothy, carrying the war against the Russians to a successful issue. That Mr. Asquith's new ministry will work in narmony is assured. It is the strongest possible combination imaginable, possessing wide experience, executive genius and an unquestioned patriotism.

But there have less excusable than that of the Huns, as it means misery, sorrow and death for millions more in Europe.

This is, of course, an entirely view. The Alies and their friends, and the neutral world generally, are not "delighted" over Italy's decision because it widens the shambles of the great war. It is a feeling of relief rather for freedom. This is the reason why the world outside the Teutonic alliance has been noping and praying that Italy should line up actively with the Allies, and why it would welcome Roumania and Bulgaria taking the field against the War Lord.

The coming into the struggle of Italy will undoubtedly make flercer the fighting on all fronts, and that means great slaughter, but it will bring Germany to her knees the sooner, and the horrors of Poland, Galicia, Servia and Belgium, that might have been prolonged for years but for Italy's participation, may be ended in a few months. The feeling behind the widely-expressed pleasure at the projection into the war of more milions is quite the reverse of savagery. The world has been sickened by the stupendous slaughter. It desires peace, but only peace with an assurance that it will be permanent. That is why we welcome an addition to the Allies' strength so great that it will overwhelm Germany quickly and destroy forever the dreadful menace to the world which Germany represents.

Dear Miss Grey: When parsnips are not pulled in the fall, how soon in the spring do they become poisonous?

Dear me, should think you folks in the newspaper line would feel nervous at what next in these terrible times. Here is a homemade salve formula for cracked hands: Take the lid of a pound can, half fill with plain castor oil, take beeswax about size of a small bean, put on stove and let simmer till dissolved; lift off and set to cool. Wash hands before going to bed and apply salve. So many people are working in clay just now in planting time and find their hands getting in a painful shape. My husband finds this simple remedy heals his hands almost in one application. For grubs that eat the newly-set-out cabbage: Melt ends of tin cans off by cabbage: Melt ends of un cans off by placing a few minutes on coals, put around the cabbage, remove when the plant is grown enough; the heat melts the seam inside of can and they are easily removed. OLD AUNT ELLEN.

Ans.—1. Parsnips should be taken from the ground just as soon as the soil is sufficiently softened to permit their being pulled. If any growth commences they are not fit to use.

The Saints seemed to have the game cinched in that inning but the London club went out in the first of the eighth and drove Patcher Wilkinson to the dug-out, his triple having apparently taken all the pitching ability out of him. Handsome Harry Howick was wafted into the pastime, but before the side was retired, the Reisling gents had scored five runs and were leading by the score of 9 to 7. Chief Nevitt had also retired from the game. Manager "Dad" Stewart was apparently peeved with his ideas on running bases and Harris was put in when Howick replaced Wilkinson. Threw Away a Run.

in when Howick replaced Wilkinson.

Won it in Tenth.

London had overcome the Saints big lead, but the Stewart gang by some loose work on the part of the Londontrs, managed to score the two runs necessary to tie the game up. That took the contest into extra innings for neither team was able to get a man ground in the ninth. In the tenth, around in the ninth. In the tenth, London got one run due to some good work by Jack Schaffer and Eddie Lamy after two men had died. Schaffer singled to centre and stole second when Lamy dropped a short fly over Hadley's head, Schaffer ran all the way to the plate. Lamy made third on a bad peg by Hadley to the plate but Forgue made a beautiful stop of Reidy's smash and threw Cv. out at first. St Thomas drew a blank in its half of the tenth although Stewart and Todd both managed to get on. The ultimate score was London 10 and St. Thomas 9.

Lamy Dropped a Couple.

It has taken us a long time to tell you what the final score was, but not half so long as it took the London team to win the game. For a greater part you what the final score was, but not half so long as it took the London team to win the game. For a greater part of the pastime, the Tecumsehs didn't appear to have a chance to win it. "Cuz" Hammond was pitching fairly good hall, but his support was decidedly wobbly. Eddie Lamy, the best outfielder in the Canadian League looked like the worst today. Eddie dropped two fly balls, easy ones too. In the fourth inning, he dropped "Dad" Stewart's blow, but nobody was in a position to score on the error. In the fifth, however, two runs came in when he let George Ort's fly trickle through his fingers. The catch would have retired the side without a score so that the two runs were a gift.

the side without a score so that the two runs were a gift.

London gave away a lot of runs to-day. In the first inning, the Saints scored two with only one hit. Hammond was wild and he hit three or to Vogt on an easy play in the fourth. London's big inning was the result of some heavy hitting. Eckstein, Vogt and Bowden, the first three men up made singles. Eckstein was on third and Vogt on first when Bowden tracked a hit to left field. Bowden made no effort to run and the other players stood as if glued to their bases. The ball fell a foot or two inside the left field line and not until it fell did anyone stir. Bowden was apparently under the delusion that it was a foul. Eckstein scored and Vogt and Bowden both managed to reach their bases safely. The play brought forth a lot of angry words from "Doc" Reisling. It was probably the most peculiar ever pulled off in this league. Hammond popped out to Nevitt on an attempted bunt, but Hoch who was pinch-hitting for Hess singled to right, Vogt and Bowden, Schaffer singled to right to vogt and Bowden, the first three men up the burden. Whitteraft crossed the plate when the scoring. Schaffer singled to right to come and Wild and Hagerman's triple, wild the second inning.

MoPhee's one-handed catch back of second base and Hagerman's triple, which scored both Orient runs, were the features. The weather was too cold features. The weather was Manager Reisling last night announced the release of First Baseman Vogt, the Erie boy, who has been playing that position for the London club since the season opened. Vogt was let out because of his inexperience. Elmer Hoch will cover the bag for the team in future. Vogt is a promising youngster, but is not yet ripe for the Canadian League, He has been playing fairly goo's ball for the local club and has been hitting at a pretty good rate, but Hoch is the better player of the two, and Reisling had to make a place for him. Hoch is a more consistent hitter than Vogt and plays the bag just as well. He is also more experienced. Vogt is unable to slide to bases and has other faults due to his inexperience.

DUAL MONARCHY TO ASTONISH THE WORLD

BUDAPEST, May 26, via Amsterdan. to London, May 27-2:54 a.m.-Count Stephan Tisza, the Hungarian Premier today delivered a stirring speech before the Chamber of Deputies. He explained Austria-Hungary's position toward the Italian demands during the last four weeks and received a tremendeus ovation when he closed with the following declaration: "We shall now, more than before, astonish the entire world with the spectacle of our power of action, virility, unity and resolution. The Hungarian nation, united, with all the people of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy and with our powerful ally, will wage this war to the las breath against all the devils of hell and force victory from fate.'

PHENOMENAL CROWDS HAVE ATTENDED OUR

and phenomenal bargains have been given every customer. We appreciate greatly the numbers who have visited our store, and to those who have been unable to wait for our clerks' time we apologize, and ask your indulgence to come again—if you do we promise you

The Greatest Footwear Value Ever Secured Saturday last we "were fairly swept off our feet," from early morning until closing time crowds besieged our clerks for service. Customers recognizing wonderful bargains overworked our staff, and we regret to say many who wanted service were unable to obtain it. This will not happen again.

We are now prepared for the greatest shoe selling campaign ever conducted in the city of London. Reduced prices still further reduced. Augmented staffs still further augmented. Service the best to be obtained. We confidently state that the gigantic shoe bargains we offer are by far the greatest value to be obtained, and it will pay the people of London district to come miles to this sale.

Be Here Early. It Pays.

REMEMBER, the prices of leather are steadily advancing and it's up to you to take advantage of this Golden Opportunity NOW, and supply your needs for now and for months to come. BARGAINS LIKE THESE WAIT FOR NO-BODY, and shrewd buyers will continue to crowd our large spacious store from

Don't wait until it is too late; drop everything now and follow the crowds to 238 Dundas street. You simply can't afford to stay away. It's a Real Shoe Selling Event that you will remember for years to come.

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS-25 CENT DANDERINE

fluffy, lustrous and

Save your hair! Make it soft, doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with beautiful...

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at firstyes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair way, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Miss Winnifred Colbert, from the beginning, proved herself a plucky and resourceful candidate, and one who closely contested every inch of the way with the leader in district two.

Made Great "Spurt." One of the after surprises of clubbing week was the striking advance made by Miss Francis Rankin, welfare nurse of the McClary Manufacturing Company, whose position progressed to second. Practically all effort on her behalf was de during the last two or three weeks of the contest, and her splendid standing in today's report is a tribute to the quality of the campaign conducted by herself and supporters.

In no part of the city has the grand prize been more closely contested than in South London, where Miss Florence Widden is only a very short distance behind Miss Edna Weston. Both girls are well known, and great favorites, Miss Weston as the soloist of the First Presbyterian choir, and Miss Widden as he representative in the contest of the Askin Street Methodist choir. [Canadian Press.]
Rome, via Paris, May 27.—"The hour which we are traversing is painful, but r prayers will go out more frequently and more fervently than ever to those who have in their hands the fate of nations," is a declaration made by Pope Benedict in a letter to Cardinal Vannutelli, published in the Osservatore Ro-mano, the Vatican organ. The pontiff recalls his first encyclical, in which he urged the belligerent nations to make terrible conflagration has extended to our beloved Italy."

Continues Relief Work. The Pontiff says he wanted to hold consistory in the early days of June to discuss with the Sacred College mat. ters of importance concerning the govrnment of the church, but unfortun ately the distressing events made this

"While our heart bleeds at the sight of so much misery," the Pope writes, "we have not neglected to continue our work for relief and the diminution of the deplorable consequences of war."

The Holy Father then recalls his efforts for the exchange of wounded prisners unable to fight again. The needs of the soul, he writes, especially at tracted his fatherly attention, and exceptional facilities were consequently afforded all chaplains called under the olors or attached to the Italian army in any capacity.

Three Days' Fast. The Pope then exhorts all Catholics to practice with him for three days a strict ecclesiastical fast, and he accords a plenary indulgence applicable also to souls in pugatory.
Continuing, the Pope writes:

"I wish that the echo of our voice might reach to all our children affected by the great scourge of war and permade all of them of our participation in their troubles and sorrows. There little of the grief of the child that is not reflected in the soul of the father. In concluding his letter to the Car- prices. LOGAN-MACFIE

United in Marriage.

A pretty wedding was solemnized recently in the Cronyn Memorial Church, when Lena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. London Must Endure Three More John Macfie, was united in marriage to Robert Logan by Rev. R. W. Norwood, of the church. The bride leaning on the arm of her father, was met at the church door by the choir, which sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden." The bride looked charming gowned in silk crepe, with old point lace trimmings, and wearing a stride, will be the one to benefit, Corn, bridal veil in Juliet effect, carrying bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids, Misses Adelaide Bryce and Carrie Boss, looked winsome in white voile dresses, with pink trim mings and hats to match, carrying pink carnations, while little Miss Mary Powell, niece of the bride, made a sweet little flower girl, owned in pink, carrying a basket of pink carnations. The groom was supported by the bride's brother W A Macfle while J. Logan and J. Macfie acted as ushers. During the registry the choir sang "O Perfect Love."

After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, which was prettily decorated in pink carnations and smilax. Many useful gifts were received, showing the host of friends the young couple

Early Corn Hit. Corn, or the most that is up, was ruined by the fost, farmers say. That is, what had attained any size. Corn has been slow this spring, the cold weather and excessive rain militating against its quick growth. As one farmer said today: "The man who plants his corn in a week or so when the really are the really as the really are the really are the really as the really are the the really warm weather has struck its once it starts to come, grows rapidly. There has been very little growth so far, and what there has been was killed last night."

Wheat will not be affected by last night's frost. The stalks have not ned yet, and so the growth will not suffer from the cold. Prospects for the farmers have planted extra acreage of this grain, as the war presuppo

But Hay is Fine. The hay outlook was never better. The old jingle that runs somewhat to the purpose of "Cold and wet in the month of May is simply great for wheat and hay," is borne cut by conditions this spring. There has been much wet and the weather has certainly not been warm. Timothy hay and the meadows never looked better. Some of the pes-simistic farmers are inclined to the belief that last night's frost may affect more or less the clover, that is, the red variety and alsike. What there is of rye and barley is in flourishing condition, and the oat outlook is specially promising. SIDED IN OXFORD

Means Heavy Loss.

All in all, the frost last night did much damage, damage that will mean heavy loss to all farmers in Western Ontario, for if what could be learned is correct, the cold was general for within a many-miled radius of this city. In Delaware district ice from a quarter to half an inch formed on the water, and the cold was severe in other districts. It is the hardest frost for this time of the year within the recollection of the oldest agricultural men in the country,
