ONTARIO'S TEXT BOOKS

Premier Whitney Secures Books for 49c Per Set, While Saskatchewan Pays $1.75—How Ontario Government Looks After the Interests of the People.

Ontario has been much more fortunate than the western provinces in getting their school books printed for a very low price. Dealing in a new item with this question the Toronto world says:

A brief statement made yesterday by Sir James P. Whitney, prime minister of Ontario, that "the lowest tender for printing and publishing the new Ontario school readers was put in by the T. Eaton Co., Limited, to whom the contract has been awarded," follows the government's persistent effort to break the "school book ring," and place the cost of text books upon a reasonable basis.

The retail price named in the tender is 49 cents for the set of five books. From this there is a discount of 20 per cent, which is available to anyone paying cash, making the net price of the books 39 1/2 cents. The cost of the old readers when the Whitney government assumed office in 1905, was $1.15. That contract expired in December 1906. A short contract for a year and a bill was then awarded to the lowest tender, at 49 cents for the set. But this was for old books, and the prices secured were ridiculed as bargain rates for old stock and unobtainable later.

The preparation of the new series was then begun, with the result as follows: Prices of old readers in 1905, primer 10 cents, part II, 15 c, second reader 20 c, third reader 30 c, fourth reader 40 c. Reduced prices 1905, primer 5 c, part II, 7 c, second reader 9 c, third reader 13 c, fourth reader 15 c. New readers, primer 4 cents, part II, 7 cents, second reader 9 cents, third reader 14 cents, fourth reader 19 cents. With 20 per cent discount for cash, the net price of the new readers will be, primer 3 1/2 cents, part II, 4 4/5 c, second reader 7 1/5 cents, third readers 11 1/5 cents, fourth reader 12 4/5 cents, making the total net cost 38 1/5 cents.

The actual saving in cost to the people of the province on a basis of former sales will be half a million dollars for the first year, and $1,250,000 a year thereafter for the remaining years of the contract. The contract will be current for ten years.

Here, too, is a triumphant vindication to the premier's words, made in the face of jeers and sneers on May 6, 1908, in Hamilton, that if the price of the new books was not as low as the reduced price of the old, the government would undertake the printing themselves.

The new contract supplies handsome modern school books at prices without parallel in Canada. This result is due, mainly, to two causes: (1) The policy of the government in ensuring high quality and standard work by making and owning the plates; (2) in throwing the printing and publishing open to competition.

The prices obtained by Ontario, as compared with those under the recent contract made by Saskatchewan and Alberta, are as follows:

Ontario	Sask.	Alta.
Retail Net	Retail Net	Retail Net
Primer --- 4 3 1/5	20	18.68
Part II. -- 4 4 4/5	25	16.54
2nd Reader -- 7 1/5	35	18.91
3rd Reader -- 11 1/5	45	23.75
4th Reader -- 12 4/5	50	27.36
Total for set, Sask. and Alta.	$1.75
Total for set, Ontario		$.39 1/5

OFFICIAL STATEMENT
A statement issued by the government says:
"The prices secured in 1907 were derided as bargain day prices for old stock. Similar rates for the new books, it was declared, could not be got again. The Globe ridiculed the result as a 'fake reduction.' The Canadian Courier, in an article attributed to J. A. Cooper, (a member of the Text Book commission), and widely quoted said: 'This reduction in price lasts only one and a half years. What will happen then is a matter of conjecture. The probability is that a new set of readers will be prepared, and the binding brought up to date, the price will go back to the old figure, or not higher.'
"The fallacy of these arguments is now exposed. Those who used them for political purposes are left in an untenable position. The new readers are to be printed on superior paper, attractively illustrated, handsomely

CAMPBELL SCORES SCOTT

Member for Dauphin in the Dominion House Tells of Walter Scott's Connection With Land Deal—Knows Man Who gave Him Cheque

Ottawa, Ont., April 28.—The budget debate occupied the whole of the time of the House today, and it would have been a dreary session if it had not been for a lively speech of Glen Campbell, late at night, delivered in characteristic style.

The feature of it was a charge that Hon. Walter Scott had, when he was a member of the House, accepted a certificate for $10,000 stock of the Saskatchewan Valley and Manitoba Land company.

"It has been said that a man who has been a politician, and who is still a member of this House, received as his share for putting the Saskatchewan Valley and Manitoba Land company deal through, a certificate of stock amounting to $50,000 signed in blank."

Speaker Macril pointed out that such a statement could not be made about a member of the House under the rules.

Dr. Sproule thought that Mr. Campbell was not outside the rules of the House. He was telling what had been said outside the House, and not making a charge.

Hon. Mr. Fielding could not agree with this view. A member could not make a charge against another by using the phrase, "It has been said."

After the speaker had reported his ruling, Mr. Campbell said: "I bow to your ruling," and proceeded to say: "Other charges were made as late as last summer. It was said that Hon. Walter Scott, when a member of this House, accepted for his efforts in putting through that deal, a certificate of stock of the Saskatchewan Valley Land company signed in blank to the amount of ten thousand dollars. That is the common report. It was said on every public platform in Saskatchewan. It is denied, it is true, by Hon. Walter Scott, who took very good care not to deny the accusation to the man who made it. This was common report, and the cheque was paid. Possibly every member of this House knew of the report. I know the man who handed the cheque to Walter Scott and I saw all the evidence in the matter."

Mr. Campbell in opening took exception to the recent statement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in connection with the Newmarket canal debate, that he would not trust the Conservatives. It was a harsh remark from the premier. As long as the first minister whipped his followers into line to vote for such a useless public work as the Aylesworth ditch, he could trust him to oppose him. As long as he continued his present policy of extravagance and waste of public money, he could depend on him to vote against him.

Mr. Campbell called Hon. Wm. Templeman on his defeat in Victoria, and the retirement of William Sloan to give him a safe seat. He told the story of Richard Croker who, when he first entered for the English Derby had secured "God Sloan, the jockey as a rider. His horse came in first and Croker exclaimed: "Thank God for Sloan." The ministers themselves joined in the general laughter, while Templeman blushed a deep crimson.

Glen took up the question of the finance minister's remark that the Liberal policy was "the land for the settler." The fallacy of the remark he exposed. He pointed to the way in which the Canadian Northern had received thousands of acres of land from the government. For the line from Erwood to the Pas they had been granted some of the best land in Saskatchewan. He referred to the policy by which speculators secured possession at a mere song of the pick of the fertile lands of the west. It was in this connection he made his charge against Mr. Scott.

To the immense amusement of the House he took a fall out of Dr. Clark of Red Deer. He reminded him of a "maverick" of the western plains. He enlightened the mystified speaker and the House that a "maverick" was an unbranded steer, owned by no one. That was Dr. Clark's position in advocating free trade. He had talked free trade, and yet admitted that the Conservatives had a low tariff than the Liberals.

"I never mentioned the word free trade," interrupted Dr. Clark. "Yes, there are some things that must not be mentioned in a Liberal camp," retorted Glen, while the House roared.

He referred to the famous speech of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Winnipeg in 1894, when he promised the west he

W. H. Sharpe Declares Manitoba Lists Were Honest—'Land the Settler' Cry Only a Joke—Indian Lands Sold for Benefit of Party Friends.

Ottawa, April 23.—W. H. Sharpe, made his maiden effort last night in the debate on the budget, and in the course of a vigorous speech challenged Hon. Clifford Sifton in regard to the Manitoba election lists.

The member for Brandon had, in an interview declared the lists were stuffed.

If this statement was true, he should not have a seat in the house, then Mr. Sifton should not sit in parliament. He had a majority of 106.

"If the government will appoint a commission," said Mr. Sharpe "and send them to Lisgar and prove that 106 Conservative voters were falsely placed on the list, or 106 Liberal voters were left off, I will resign my seat provided Hon. Clifford Sifton will resign his seat if this is not proven."

Mr. Sharpe in opening pointed to the fact that the taxation of the country had risen from $5.48 in 1896 to $11 in 1908.

He though the finance minister a joker in saying that the policy of the government had been the land for the settler. Their first act was to vote $3,750,000 acres to Macdonald & Mann. They sold 250,000 acres to the Saskatchewan Valley Land Co. for $1 an acre. Thousands of acres of coal land had been allotted to favorites. He also referred to the guarding of timber and fishery resources of the west. The Indian lands were held in trust by Canada, for the Red man who were their orphans. Yet the government had sold $9,000 acres for $3,017 to their political friends. Later these lands were turned over for $101,813, a clean up of $90,000.

"Bill Miner was a prince beside such robbers of our orphans," declared Mr. Sharpe. The member for Lisgar made a very favorable impression, and was heartily applauded by the opposition members of the House.

The arbitrators in the case of Contrator, Shannon against the city of Regina, have awarded Mr. Shannon, $9,996.62. His claim was for $12,000 and the city maintained he was only entitled to $9,500.

Earl's Brother Suicides.
Plymouth, England, April 25.—The Hamburg-American liner, Cleveland, which arrived today, brought a pathetic story of the suicide of Hon. Ronald Ramsay, 24 years of age, brother of the Earl of Dalhousie.

Young Ramsay was said to have had an unfortunate love affair with an American girl and he was rather depressed during the voyage. Friday night before the captain's ball, he flung himself overboard. Boats were immediately lowered and every effort was made to rescue him, but all was unavailing.

Ramsay left the following letter addressed to his uncle, the Hon. Chas. Maule Ramsay, who married Martha Estelle Garrison, daughter of the late W. R. Garrison of New York and who is highly popular and respected on both sides of the Atlantic.

"Dear Uncle—I am feeling rather queer but must just write to say good-bye. You looked after us boys so well, I wanted to be a credit to you so much, but I have not been able to keep bad thoughts out of my head lately.

"I have not made a will yet, but I suppose my things will be divided among my brothers. I should like to have seen them again. Give my love to Fox and I hope he will be all right and fairly happy. Your affectionate, Ronny."

Young Ramsay was the third brother of Lord Dalhousie. Their father and mother had died twenty-two years ago under somewhat peculiar circumstances. They had made a voyage to New York for the benefit of the earl's health, and landing at Havre on their return the countess died after one day's illness of blood poisoning, and the following morning the earl was found dead of heart failure. The countess was one of the most beautiful women of her time, and her husband was unusually respected in England.

Charles Ramsay acted as guardian for the four children. He is now in Saskatchewan.

THE COWBOY BARONET.

Sir Genille Cave-Brown-Cave proves Zam-Buk Excellent for Hurts & Sores.

Sir Genille Cave-Brown-Cave, of Stratford Hall, Ashby-de-la-Zouch, Leicestershire, who is better known in Canada as "the Cowboy Baronet," has had a wide experience of the value of Zam-Buk.

"I feel it is only my duty to let you know what great benefit I have derived by keeping Zam-Buk handy, and having it in constant use. For the sprains and bruises which I have incurred in my horsemanship, and in my cowboy life generally, I have found it a reliable and speedy healer."

When on the Mexican plains, I have found Zam-Buk for poisonous insect-bites.

Zam-Buk has yielded me for more remarkable results and generally proved more reliable than anything else I have done in the way of ointments or embrocations, and I think it unequalled for skin injuries and diseases.

No clearer evidence than the above from this well-known baronet could be needed to prove the unique merit of Zam-Buk, and its safety and of always keeping handy a box of this wonderful balm.

Zam-Buk is Nature's own healing balm, being composed of pure herbal essences. It is a sure cure for eczema, ringworm, ulcers, cuts, burns, bruises, poisoned sores, chronic wounds, bad leg, piles, itching sores, and all skin injuries and diseases.

TIDES IN THE EARTH.

The Moon Pulls Our Solid Globe Out of Shape Twice a Day.

That the attraction of the sun and moon not only causes tides in the ocean, but has a corresponding influence on the solid earth itself, has now been definitely proved by Dr. O. Hecker, a Prussian physicist.

Dr. Hecker now confirms this conclusion, but with his improved instruments, and methods he has been able to detect them, and his only conclusion was that the earth's mass was very rigid—at least as rigid as steel.

A POISON EPISODE.

When a Famous Chemist Was Silenced in Court by a Judge.

There was a famous poisoning case in England many years ago in which the strong point of the defense was to show that the accused, who was an expert chemist, would not have used a poison which could be so easily found after it had been taken into the human system.

Dr. Hecker now confirms this conclusion, but with his improved instruments, and methods he has been able to detect them, and his only conclusion was that the earth's mass was very rigid—at least as rigid as steel.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1900.

How the Money Goes.

Among the discoveries the opposition has made at Ottawa are many disgraceful affairs.

Chas. Patton, of Ottawa, wanted to supply fire extinguishers to the government.

"For and in consideration of $1 the undersigned binds himself to pay to C. S. Cameron the sum of $3,000, in the following manner:

Fielding's Budget.

Although Finance Minister Fielding put the best possible face upon the financial situation in his budget, the story he had to tell was exceedingly doleful.

In the year just closed, 1900, the revenue was $84,952,000, a drop of nearly $12,000,000.

The present year which opened on April 1, does not promise any increased revenue.

It was "undoubtedly expected" that Walter Scott would get some one in

"My youngest boy, 3 years old, was sick with fever last June, and when he got better the doctor prescribed Scott's Emulsion, and he liked it so well that he drank it out of the bottle, and is now just as plump and strong as any child of his age anywhere."

Mr. Tedder has just written us another letter about his brother-in-law's children. Let us send you his letter and other information on the subject.

Members of publishing houses who tendered for this work were greatly surprised and not a little discomfited last night when apprised of the result of the tendering.

Alberta and Manitoba each claim that they got the best of the Bell company in the telephone purchase.

Washington, D.C.—Vigorously munching peanuts and rooting for the home team, President Taft and Vice President Sherman took in the American league game between the Nationals and the Boston.

For the first time since Cleveland was president, the chief executive of the nation has come out of the White House and rooted.

country was clamoring for the road in the far north and for the paralleling of the Intercolonial between Quebec and Moncton.

As a consequence of this stress in the finance department Mr. Fielding makes an appeal to the party to lessen the demands upon the treasury for necessary works.

Walter thinks it is safe for him to return now that the University sit has been arranged for.

Why couldn't Calder make as good a school book contract for Saskatchewan as Premier Whitney did for Ontario?

Canada added $42,000,000 to the public debt last year and yet Mr. Fielding boasts of a surplus of a million and a half.

Under the present government at Ottawa the public borrow money at 3 1/2 and 3 3/4 per cent, and reinvest it in the G.T.P. at 3 per cent.

Walter Scott might as well own up to his connection with that Saskatchewan Valley deal.

Will the Leader interview Premier Scott on his return on the subject of the location of the university?

PROSPECTING UP NORTH

Two Ladies Visit the Mineral Fields and Stake Four Claims—Indians are Civilized and Prospering—Rich in Minerals.

Prince Albert, Sask., April 14.—The rush is starting for Lac la Ronge and Churchill river mineral fields, and parties of prospectors are leaving almost daily for the north.

All of last year's prospectors were not amateurs, however, some old Yukon and Cobalt miners being among them.

To a reporter who visited the homestead where the two ladies have been spending the winter, Miss Lightbody told the story of their adventures.

UNIVERSITY SITE CHOSEN

Board of Governors Decline Offer of Free Site at Saskatoon—Select a Site of About Twelve Hundred Acres at Cost of $112,240.

A meeting of the Board of Governors of the Saskatchewan University was held in the city hall last Wednesday evening.

A free site of 1,000 acres in another situation was offered to the governors by F. S. Cahill, but this, after due consideration was refused.

LIFE IN LABRADOR

Early one Sunday morning last July the little mail steamer anchored at one of her regular ports, a fishing settlement named West St. Modiste on the Labrador side of the Strait of Belle Isle.

The fishermen at whose house I was to stay came on board and helped me into a dory from the precarious looking ladder that hung at the steamer's side.

In Five Minutes.

Take your sour stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach, it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Papoc's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Tablet and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name of your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring. Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice, your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If you appetite is rickety, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Long Lake fishing has begun at Little Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, the teacher for the Lewis school during the ensuing year were expected to arrive yesterday, but did not. They are expected today. School will open on April 26th.

The Ester Bros. are completing their large barn which was begun last fall.

Prairie fires are often seen these days. It is hoped that all will be very careful in managing the Demon of the Plains.

GAP'N ERI

By JOSEPH C. LINCOLN

"They both laughed, and Mrs. Snow was about to answer when she was interrupted."

"Eri," said a weak voice. "Eri." The captain started, turned sharply and saw the sick man watching him, his eyes fixed and unvarying.

"Eri," said John Baxter again, "come here." Mrs. Snow hurried to her patient, but the latter impatiently bade her let him alone.

"Not you," he said. "I want Eri." Captain Eri stooped down beside the bed.

"What is it, John?" he asked. "Eri, s'pose God called you to break man's law and keep his, what would you do?"

"The captain glanced anxiously at the housekeeper. Then he said soothingly: 'Oh, that's all right, John. Don't worry 'bout that. You and me settled that long ago. How are you feelin' now?'"

"I know, I know," with the monotone persistence of those whose minds are wandering—and then clearly once more, "Eri, I've been called."

"Ssh-h! That's all right, John; that's all right. Don't you want Mrs. Snow to fix your pillow? P'raps you'd lay a little easier, then. Now, Mrs. Snow, if you'll jest turn it while I lift him, so; that's better now, ain't it, shipmate, hey?"

"I sartainly do." "Well, I snarl! I've been over that thing time and time again, and I've felt like I was sort of a frebeg myself sometimes. I've heard folks layin' it to just one and then the other and callin' that Web did it himself to give the insurance, and all the time I've known who really did do it and haven't said anything. I just couldn't. You see, John and me's been brothers almost. But I didn't s'pose anybody else would see it the same way."

"Cap'n Eri, do you s'pose I blame you for tryin' to keep your best friend out of trouble that he got into by bein'—well—out of his head. Why, land of mercy! He ain't no more to be held responsible than a baby. You did what I'd have done if I'd been in your place, and I respect you for it."

"The captain's voice shook as he answered: 'Marthy Snow,' he said, 'you're the kind of woman that I'd like to have had for a sister.' It was perhaps a half hour later when Captain Eri started for the schoolhouse to bring Elsie home. John Baxter had not wakened and Mrs. Snow said she was not afraid to remain alone with him. The three had turned to light rain and the captain carried an umbrella. It was dark by this time and when he came in sight of the schoolhouse he saw a light in the window."

"One of the scholars—a by no means brilliant one, whose principal educational achievement was the frequency with which he succeeded in being 'kept after school'—was seated on the fence, doing his best to whittle it to pieces with a new jackknife.

"Hello, sonny!" said the captain. "Miss Preston gone yet?" "No, she ain't," replied the boy, continuing to whittle. "She's up there. Mr. Saunders is there too."

"Saunders? Web Saunders?" "Yup. I see him go in there a little while ago." Captain Eri started toward the schoolhouse at a rapid pace, then he suddenly stopped, and then he suddenly walked on again. All at once he dropped his umbrella and struck one hand into the palm of the other with a smack.

"When he reached the door he leaned the umbrella in the corner and walked up the stairs very softly indeed. CHAPTER XVII

THE enterprising business man, Mr. Web Saunders, opened the door of his renovated and repaired room a little later than usual the next morning. It was common report about the village that Mr. Saunders occasionally sampled the contents of some of the "original packages" which, bearing the name and address of a Boston wholesale liquor dealer, came to him by express at irregular intervals. It was also reported, probably by unreliable total abstainers, that during these "sampling" seasons his temper was not of the best.

The forenoon trade at the billiard room was never very lively, and this forenoon was no exception. At half past 11 the man of business was dosing in a chair by the stove, and the "watchdog," having found it chilly outside and venturing in, was dosing near him. The bell attached to the door rang vigorously, and the man awoke with a start. The visitor was Captain Eri.

Now, the captain was perhaps the last person whom the proprietor of the billiard room expected to see, but a stranger never would have guessed it. In fact, the stranger might reasonably have supposed that the visitor was Mr. Saunders' dearest friend and that his call was a pleasure long looked forward to.

"I don't know what you mean." "Money, you do. She's been payin' you money reg'lar for more'n a month. I want to know how much it is."

"Now, Cap'n Hedge, I don't know what you're talkin' about. Nobody's paid me a cent except them that's gived me. Who did you say? Elsie Preston? That's the schoolteacher, and she's gived me nothing but a check."

"Web, you're a liar, and always was, but you needn't lie to me this mornin' 'cause it won't be healthy. I don't feel like hearin' it. You understand that, do you?" Mr. Saunders thought it time to bluster a little. He rose to his feet threateningly.

"Cap'n Hedge," he said, "no man 'll call me a liar." "There's a precious few that calls you anything else."

"You're an old man, or I'd—" "Never you mind how old I am. A minute ago you said I don't look more'n forty; maybe I don't feel any older either."

"If that Preston girl has told you any—" "She hasn't told me anything. She doesn't know that I know anything. But I do know. I was in the entry upstairs at the schoolhouse for about ten minutes last night."

"Mr. Saunders' start was perceptible this time. He stood for a moment without speaking. Then he jerked the chair around, threw himself into it, and said cautiously, 'Well, what of it?'"

"I came up from the house to get Elsie home 'cause 'twas rainin'. I was told you was with her, and I thought there was somethin' crooked goin' on; fact is, I had a suspicion what 'twas. So when I got up to the door I didn't go in right away. I jest stood outside."

"Liptein, hey! Spyin'!" "Yup. I don't think much of folks that listens, g'rally speakin', but there's times when I b'lieve in it. When I'm foolin' with a snake I'd jest as soon hit him from behind as in front. I didn't hear much, but I heard enough to let me know that you'd been takin' money from that girl right along. And I think I know why."

"You do, hey?" "Yup." Then Mr. Saunders asked the question that a bigger rascal than he had asked some years before. He leaned back in his chair, took a cigar and said smilingly, 'Well, what are you goin' to do 'bout it?'"

The Reason Why We Feel Tired

The system is overloaded with poisonous waste matter. This may be the result of over-exertion or of derangements which are corrected by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

You expect to be tired when you have been working hard, for the activities of the muscles or the brain cause a breaking down of cells, or burning up, we might say, and after a while the system becomes clogged with this waste matter or ashes and you get tired.

But you are often tired when you have not been working hard and in this case the conditions are much the same but the presence of the poisonous waste matter due to the derangements of the excretory organs—the liver, kidneys and bowels.

Besides feelings of fatigue there is likely to be itching of the limbs, headache, pains in the small of the back and feelings of dizziness and weakness.

Under such circumstances you cannot possibly do better than use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for their direct, specific and combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, effect prompt action and a thorough cleansing of the excretory system and restore healthful digestion.

There is no medicine of more frequent or effective use in the family than Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for they have no equal as a cure for constipation, biliousness, liver troubles and kidney derangements. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Too Decollete. Jesse Lewison, at the splendid "bal masque" given in New York by Jackson Gouraud, praised the houlou houlou dancing of Addison Mizner.

The Real Liver Pill.—A torpid liver means a disordered system, mental depression, lassitude and in the end, if care be not taken, a chronic state of debility.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are compounded of purely vegetable substances of careful selection and no other pills have their fine qualities. They are agreeable to the most sensitive stomach.

HISTORY FROM A STAR.

Priest Astronomer Who Has Learned the Age of the Pyramids. It has remained for a priest of the Catholic church in America to settle for all time the mooted question of the age of the great pyramids of Egypt.

The priest is Rev. Father Gulechetau of the French Catholic Church of St. Vincent de Paul in West Twenty-third street, New York, and the figures at which he has arrived after most elaborate and intricate calculations show that the pyramids were built about 8,800 years before the birth of Christ.

Father Gulechetau's computation is based on the position of the polar star, in one of the great pyramids is a long, narrow passageway, or tunnel, slanting upward at an angle that makes it obvious to the builders had in mind but one thing—astronomical observation.

On this assumption Father Gulechetau commenced his calculation. He made some observations with his telescope and set to work figuring out the problem by trigonometry, a most arduous task, which meant long burblings of the "midnight oil."

Calculations with the same end in view have previously been made, but none of the figures obtained have heretofore been generally accepted as reliable. The majority of the calculations have been those of Father Gulechetau's, the year 3500 B. C. or thereabouts at least without exception within fifty years of that date.

"SEE-GEE" Once in His Life He Wasn't Asked for an Autograph. The stories are legion concerning Mr. George Grossmith, the prince of entertainers, who confesses that alone at the piano he has earned $50,000 in seven working months, and who has definitely decided to withdraw from active work.

Repeat it:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds." How well—Did you have double pneumonia?—Yes, I can guess, myself. That cough was burned some. How do you s'pose it got burned? And, say, who used to wear a big white hat round these dignified? Ah, ha! Who did?—That's what I don't know!

The Treasure of Health for Young Children. Diseases attack the little ones through the digestive organs. Baby's Own Tablets are the best thing in the world for all stomach and bowel troubles of babies and young children.

The Russian revolutionaries have absolutely no mercy on those who betray them. It is well known that in the year 1903 a traitor caught at Odessa was bricked up alive in a cellar.

HOUSEKEEPING HINTS.

For a delicious salad to serve with roast lamb sprinkle orange pulp with minced mint leaves, dress with lemon juice and sugar and serve on lettuce leaves.

To polish tinware use the soft white clinders found in coal ashes. Crush them to a fine powder and rub on the tin with a piece of flannel. The powder must be so fine that it will polish without scratching.

Do it Now.—Disorders of the digestive apparatus should be dealt with at once before complications arise that may be difficult to cope with. The surest remedy to this end, and one that is within reach of all, is Parlee's Vegetable Pills, the best laxative known in different parts of Europe from the fifth to the sixteenth century.

"We won't have any red tape when we run the Government," said the veteran suffragette. "No, indeed," answered the new recruit. "We'll use pink ribbon."

Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds. Shiloh—What do you mean by giving that little boy in the next block such a terrible whipping?—Willie.—He didn't even know it. He says, he's a Christian Scientist. All his boys practice on him, and he doesn't even dare to tell his father and mother.—Lile.

Minard's Liniment relieves Neuralgia. Dissolve Glass in Water. At a sufficiently high temperature every kind of glass must eventually show complete solubility in water.

The Abbot of Fools. The abbot of fools, who was also known in different parts as the archbishop or bishop of fools, the abbot of misrule, the lord of misrule, the master of unreason and L'Abbe de Liesse, was the person who used to superintend the saturnalia which were common in different parts of Europe from the fifth to the sixteenth century.

Repeat it:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds." Shiloh—What do you mean by giving that little boy in the next block such a terrible whipping?—Willie.—He didn't even know it.

Many among our readers have been interested in the wheat competition conducted during the past winter by The Nor-West Farmer, Winnipeg. Prized totalling $4,793.40 in value were offered to those who submitted the nearest estimate as to the number of kernels in five pounds of No. 1 Northern wheat. The grains have just been counted by Messrs. Campbell, Campion, and McCall, who unanimously declare the number to be $2,496. The prize winners whose names and addresses are announced in the April 20th issue of the Nor-West Farmer, are farmers scattered all over the three prairie provinces.

Regina is at last to have new freight sheds erected by the C.P.R. Heavy pressure has been brought to bear on the railway company along this line for some time back. Some of the merchants, we understand who receive heavy shipments, as a protest against the attitude of the company, have of late been routing their shipments by way of the C.N.R. This has evidently got the C.P.R. thinking, and they have decided in a measure to meet the requirements of the city more fully and will erect new freight sheds. The question of the site has not been definitely decided but it is expected that it will be on the north side of the tracks. Supt. Price with Supt. Taylor were in the city last week and announced the decision of the company to build.

The Canadian Magazine for May is a most interesting number. The first article in point of timeliness is entitled "Kaiser Wilhelm: His Opportunity and Failure." It affords a splendid conception of the present situation in Europe. "Ontario's Outworn Police System" is a vigorous criticism by John Verner McAree, a writer who apparently knows whereof he writes. "Montreal: A Great Commercial Centre" is contributed by John S. MacLean, and is finally illustrated. There are other good illustrated articles—"Hebert the Sculptor," by Gustave Detaud; "Subduing the Sackeye," by Harold Sands, and "Making Cheese in Switzerland," by H. P. Sommer. Miss L. M. Montgomery, author of "Anne of Green Gables," contributes a story of a supernatural entitled "The Return of Hester." A comprehensive appreciation of the music of the season, particularly in Toronto, is given by Miss Katherine Hale and there is as well an article by Arthur Hawkes, entitled, "Why I am a Suffragette," and nature sketches by Suzanne Marney and F. M. Kelly, a clever character sketch by James P. Haverson, with poetry from John Boyd, E. M. Yocum, A. Clare Giffin, Douglas Roberts and Charlotte Beaumont Jarvis.

HON. HUGH RICHARDSON.

Hon. Hugh Richardson, formerly a judge of the Supreme Court of the North-West Territories is at present on a visit to Regina, and is a guest of his grand-daughter, Mrs. C. H. The negotiations have been underway for about a year, and were finally concluded by Hon. J. A. Calder acting for the government and J. B. McFarlane of Montreal, acting on behalf of the Bell Company. Since the opening of the negotiations, the Bell Company have paid little attention to the extension of its system. The government after taking the system over intend to enlarge the system by going after new business. Exchanges will be put up in whenever it will be deemed profitable.
