Prescription "A"
Cures Indigestion and Dyspepsia in all its Forms.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.
Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

A MYSTERIOUS QUEST.

CHAPTER XXIV.

A Fortune and a Death-Bed.

"Then," began the artist, thrown entirely off his balance by this sudden and unlooked-for issue to a mysterious affair, "you have heard of a third Hamilton DeGraw, or found by indisputable evidence—here he glanced at the table on which various documents lay scattered—"that this second holder of the name is not the gentleman who has lately made himself so inimical to girls named Jenny Rogers."

"On the contrary," broke in the other, "I am unfortunately that very person. But my interest in the girl's had its cause in motives so different from those naturally ascribed to me by the police, that I think I should rather be regarded with sympathy than with distrust. Shall I tell you my story?"

"Certainly," responded the artist, his more generous instincts coming to the surface. "Certainly, I shall be very glad to hear our name completely exonerated from all suspicion of evil." And yet he could not forbear thinking that whatever tale the other might tell, he could never explain away all the doubtful circumstances that surrounded him with an atmosphere of crime—the box of poisoned bonbons, for instance; and wondered why a man of Mr. Gryce's perspicacity and well-known discretion should be so easily turned from a suspicion so well grounded in compromising facts. But then the artist forgot that Mr. Gryce was not the other's rival in matters that ever affect the judgement and harden the prejudices. If he had, he might have doubted his own clearness of vision.

"It is a long story," the stranger observed, "and I shall begin it at the beginning. Had I known that by telling it sooner I should have saved others from consequences I now tremble to think of, I should certainly not have retained my secret so long, as my only wish has been to do my duty, disagreeable as I have sometimes found it, and difficult beyond anything I have ever before undertaken."

"I am a native of Cleveland, a bachelor, and a man of means; I board at a club-house, and I have not a responsibility in the world, save such as every man owes to himself and to society. I am not even engaged in business. When, therefore, a lawyer friend of mine stopped his buggy one day at our club-house, and, beckoning to me, said: 'Come with me and see a curious sight,' I had no motive for refusing him, and immediately jumped into the buggy and took my seat at his side."

"What sight?" I asked.

"I am on my way to a dying man, to tell him that he has fallen heir to a large fortune. Do you think it will make him take up his bed and walk?"

"Such miracles have happened," I returned. "Who is this man, and how big is the fortune?"

"The former question I cannot answer; I have only his name and address to go by; the latter I will reserve replying to till we have seen whether he is still living when we get there. It would be something like the irony of fate to find that he had breathed his last before touching a dollar of this money which he has been so long expecting."

"Does it come from a relative?"

"No. A law-case has just been settled which has been dragging on for years. No one anticipated a decision in his favor, least of all himself, and though, in one minute, it has raised him from the condition of a pauper into that of a man of wealth, I fear the result has come too late to do him much good. But we will soon see, for here we are in St. John's street, where he is said to live."

"I was interested by this time, as we are in all human dramas, and was glad when we drew up before a small, one-story wooden structure of mean but not uncleanly aspect, to hear through an open window the sound of a racking cough, which seemed to assure us that one still lived, even if his prospect of living was small."

"We were met at the door by a peculiar-looking woman of foreign aspect, to whom I at once took an invincible dislike. But I had not long in which to indulge this feeling, for at the first intimation of the lawyer's desires, she flung open the door of the sickroom and we passed in."

"A remarkable face greeted us, a hungry face, staring from rags of bed-clothes that could not disguise by their splendor the fact that this man, persisting in penury and neglect, was a man of mind and once the possessor of great beauty. He was no longer young, but beneath the death-dampness that already bedewed his forehead, one could discern intimations of a character of no mean stamp. A fitting laborer of a great fortune; but oh, how sad that it should have come too late!"

"The friend at my side advanced into the desolate and miserably appointed room. I followed him, shutting the door behind me. The man on the bed opened his eyes still wider, and his face took on a strangely eager look. Had he seen no kindly faces for days? Was his hunger one of the soul? I began to feel a strange stirring at my heart-strings and forgot the wretchedness of the surroundings in my yearning pity for the man himself. Meanwhile, his attention was fixed, not upon the lawyer, but upon myself, and between the coughs that constantly disturbed him, I saw something like a smile of welcome stir his feeble lips and irradiate his feverish eyes."

"Are you Michael Delaney?" asked the lawyer, speaking in a kind but business-like tone.

"I am," issued faintly from the sick man's mouth. "Michael Delaney, once a gentleman and a student, but now dying in loneliness and rags; a poor, forsaken and utterly friendless wretch."

"No, no," cried the lawyer, striving to encourage the poor man, who, indeed, looked as if he had not many hours to live. "You have friends and you are not poor. Though comfort comes late, it comes surely. We are here to make your last days cheerful, if not to provide you with a cure that will yet make you a well man."

"I do not understand," his gesture seemed to say. "I am very sick; nothing will ever bring me cure but death."

"Can anything bring you happiness?" I asked.

"Oh," he sighed, "I should like to die in the face of some one's smile and kindly look. I have lain here months and not a gentle word have I heard. The very doctor they bring in now and then is harsh and gruff. I am not used to roughness, as I am not used to disorder. I should like to breathe in a sweet atmosphere, and feel my light go out in a place of peace and beauty."

"You shall! That you shall!" cried my lawyer-friend, with the impetuosity of which his long experience had not yet robbed him. "If you are strong enough, you shall be moved at once. Nothing that money can provide to make you comfortable shall be lacking. Try me, my friend! We have come late, but we have come with a purpose."

"May I ask," the sick man enquired, with a feebleness which proved that the excitement of the moment was weakening him, "who you are and why you are so kind?"

"He addressed himself to me, but it was naturally my friend who answered him."

"I am Israel Cutting of the law firm of McDonald & Cutting. This gentleman is Mr. DeGraw. If we seem kind, it is because your condition seems to call for any honest man's sympathy and consideration."

"But the money—you spoke of money. I have not any. I cannot even pay for my—my—! A cough cut him short."

"We do not always know what we have," observed the lawyer, quietly. "Sometimes, when we think ourselves quite poor, Providence pours an unexpected fortune into our laps. You need not worry about money; you have enough."

"I thought the man would rise up out of his bed in the sudden eagerness which seized him."

"Ah! what is this?" he cried. "What do you mean by 'fortune'?" "Unexpected fortune"—"fortune poured into one's lap?" Is there money for me? Real money? Not charitable bounty, but money that is mine through law and justice? Has the case been decided?"

"We did not answer; we did not dare to, lest he should fall dead before our eyes. We only smiled, but with great encouragement, and as I hope, with great sympathy."

"Ah!" he murmured, after a moment of silent survey, "you look as if I had not guessed amiss. It has come, then; come, after years of hopeless waiting; come to pay for my burial, after having failed to provide me with medicines and care?"

"But we will have no burial now," exclaimed my friend. "Such an event should inspire you with new life."

"Too late! too late!" sighed the other, and his arms, which had been lifted in thankfulness to Heaven, slowly dropped, while his eyes, settled back, and only his eyes showed the triumph which this sudden knowledge of riches had awakened within him. "You are not deceiving me?" he now said. "I have really won the case?"

"Mr. Cutting bowed, and showed him some documents which he drew out of his pocket. The sick man looked at them, smiled proudly, and seemed for a minute to regain a certain strength.

"I knew the money ought to be mine," said he; "but I never expected a jury would agree with me. Ah, if I had only two days before me, or one day, I would—"

"The lawyer interrupted him.

"Have you any relatives?" he asked.

"The sick man shook his head.

"I have neither kith nor kin," he answered. "I have not even so much as a cousin in this world."

"Is it possible?" exclaimed the lawyer, "whom is this money going to?"

"How much is it?" asked Mr. Delaney.

"Oh, a large sum, hundreds of thousands."

"The sick man uttered an exclamation, then looked slowly and with an expressive comment round the room that would not have been considered a decent home for an ordinary hotel-carrier."

"I owe for this!" he exclaimed. "May I ask; here he turned with strange persistency to me, "that one of you gentlemen will be good enough to pay the woman who rents me this room all that I owe her? I should like to see it done with my own eyes. Perhaps she will swear at me less and let me have a cup of tea that is not stone cold."

M.C.L.I. Debate.

The M. C. L. I. had their first debate for the season at their rooms last night. There was a large attendance. Rev. Mr. Fenwick was moved to the chair. The subject for debate was: "Before granting Home Rule to Ireland, should the British Government submit the question to a plebiscite?" Mr. I. C. Morris and Mr. W. G. Currie made a plea for the affirmative, while Mr. S. P. Whitewright and Mr. F. Pincock took the negative. They made a very able plea, using the following arguments: (1) That the granting of Home Rule to Ireland was only restoring what had been taken without leave; (2) that Ireland had suffered for her loss of freedom and that her population had diminished; (3) that the party now in power in Great Britain had received a mandate from the people to grant Home Rule; (4) that the question was a plank in the Government's platform in the recent elections. Messrs. Pincock and Whitewright put their arguments forward in a very convincing manner. Mr. Morris, Mr. Currie and Mr. Edgcombe maintained that the question was of such importance to the Empire that it should be first submitted in a plebiscite in a special manner. On the vote being taken an equal number were found on each side. The debate proved very interesting. The night of meeting has now been changed to Thursday instead of Wednesday, which has been the practice for 44 years. The changing of the holiday has made the change necessary. The large audience that attended last night is ample proof that the change is a good one. Amongst those present were Rev. Dr. Rogers and Rev. F. R. Matthews.

The deceased who was a very successful farmer had reached the very advanced age of 99 years. Several sons and daughters, mostly all of whom live in the Old Country, survive him.

STORMY ACROSS COUNTRY.—Yesterday morning the snow storm which is now raging here with much rigour began along the West Coast and extended along the country from Port aux Basques to St. John's. A N. E. gale rages across the railway line with snow but the temperature is not low. The new fencing put up by the Reid Nfd. Co. prevents the road from being blocked up, and up to date the rotary plows have not been used on the line.

Printers' Meeting

The annual meeting of the St. John's Typographical Union took place last night in the British Hall. There was a large attendance of members. The reports of the Treasurer and Secretary were read and showed that the Union is in a sound condition both as regards finances and membership. The election of officers resulted as follows:— President—T. J. Ryan, elected. V. P.—M. F. Quigley, elected. Treas.—John J. French, re-elected. Sec.—W. Skanes, re-elected. The office of the Presidency was closely contested between Mr. James Nichols and Mr. T. J. Ryan, both of whom are popular and good all round men; Mr. Ryan finally won out.

Here and There.

BEYVIDERE CRIB.—The Crib at the Belvidere Orphanage will be open to visitors on Sunday next.

Now is the time you will require STAFFORD'S LINIMENT in your home.—Jan. 2, 11.

PRICE OF HAY.—The price of hay is advancing and is expected to again go to $30 a ton before the spring.

Avoid all those aches and pains you are suffering from and use STAFFORD'S LINIMENT.—Jan. 11.

POLICE RELIEF.—The police men on duty last night were given relief at alternate hours, the first time for the season.

FUNERAL TO-DAY.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Ellen Ryan, widow of the late Thomas Ryan, took place at 2.30 p.m., to-day from the residence of Mr. Daniel Foley, Leslie Street.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.—Miss Kelly, of Fox Harbor, P.B., who is suffering from pectoral tumor, was taken to the Hospital last evening by Mr. Eli Whitewright.

HARBORED AT BURGOE.—The S. S. Glencoe was forced to harbor in Burgoe out of the storm at 4.50 p.m. yesterday. She left this morning at 7.30 coming east.

ONLY ONE ARREST.—The police made only one arrest for drunkenness last night. He was held at the lock-up all night to appear before the Magistrate this morning.

COMING BY ALLAN BOAT.—The wrecked crew of R. D. McRae's schooner, Clara, who were taken into Cardiff, will return to Newfoundland by the next Allan boat.

HEAVY UNDERTOW.—There was a heavy undertow in the harbor last night. Several schooners moored at the wharf heads had to be hauled off to avoid being damaged.

PATIENTS RECOVERING.—The people at Grand Bank, Fortune and adjacent places who had smallpox are all now out of danger and rapidly recovering. The disease was of a mild type.

Dr. de Van's Female Pills A reliable French regulator; never fails. These pills are exceedingly powerful in regulating the generative portion of the female system. Refuse all cheap imitations. Dr. de Van's are sold at $5 a box, or three for $10. Mailed to any address. The Seabell Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

The express that left here last Sunday did not arrive at Port aux Basques till 6 p.m., Tuesday, being 20 hours behind time. The delay was caused by the engine giving out.

Men are now at work for the Reid Nfd. Co. cutting and storing ice at Placentia, Lewisport, Port aux Basques, Clarendville, Port Blandford, Bay of Islands and also here in the city. This will supply the trains and steamers of the Company.

PATIENT TAKEN HOME.—By the express yesterday John Milley, of Notre Dame Bay, was taken home. He had been in the hospital and was declared incurable. Mr. E. Whitewright was at the station to attend to his wants.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—The Rev. Mother Superior St. Michael's Orphanage, Belvidere, begs to acknowledge with sincere thanks the receipt of a cheque for five hundred dollars ($500) from the executors of the estate of the late Alexander Marshall, Esq.

IN DANGEROUS POSITION.—Last night an unfortunate man who was overcome with drink was found lying down on the higher levels in the midst of the storm. He was fortunately discovered and removed to the police station, otherwise he might perished.

The following resolution was inadvertently omitted from T. A. & B. Society's report:— Resolved, that the thanks of the Society are due and tendered to Thomas J. Rola, Esq., retiring member of Band Committee, for his very deep interest in all matters in connection with the band for the past year.

Electric Restorer for Men Phosphono restores every nerve in the body to its proper tension; restores strength and vitality. Premature decay and all sexual weakness cured at once. Phosphono will make you a new man. Price $2 a box, or two for $3. Mailed to any address. The Seabell Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

PRETORIAN DELAYED.—Owing to the storm the S. S. Pretorian did not sail for Glasgow till 3.30 p.m. yesterday.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

I breathe aches and aches when I must go and pay my taxes. I know it's not the proper spirit, I know, alas, it isn't near it; I ought to smile, a smile seraphic, and say: "I like this sort of traffic." I ought to greet the tax collector with joy—not chew the rag and hector and say his course is simply villegain; I should be glad to help the village and pony up my dimes and centes to pay legitimate expenses. My fathers beld and died for freedom and other boons—they thought I'd need 'em—and I'm so ornery and trifling I feel myself just fairly stifling with wrath when I some wealth am burning to keep the country's wheels a-turning! Let common ills round me assemble and my firm nerves shall never tremble! I'll view them with a glance heroic, the men of Spartan or of Stoic, but hear me whoop for battle-axes when I must go and pay my taxes!

Where Cost of Living is High.

Children Have Suites of Rooms in New York at $25 a Day.

New York, Dec. 24.—Did you say anything about "hard times"? Listen to this: At the Plaza one little boy has two rooms and a bath for his own use at a cost of $25 a day. In one he sleeps and the other is his nursery. The orders were that the rooms should be striped of all unnecessary furniture, and even the carpets and curtains were taken out to insure uncontaminated air.

Another child in the same hotel has a suite of the same size at the same cost. He is here with his mother from London, where they live, although both are Americans. She has one room in the hotel for her clothes alone. The walls are lined with wadroses—one for her evening gowns, one for furs, another for street costumes and so on—and one side of the room is piled high with hat boxes.

In the Ritz-Carlton a young woman has a suite of four rooms, one of which she uses as a trunk-room, at a cost of $10 a day. Recently she went to the manager and complained about the price ($1.40) charged for an order of fish-turbot, to be exact—although she pays $10 a day for her trunks, which could be stored in the basement.

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

Given Away.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Young Lady Fatally Shot.

Perth, N.B., Dec. 15.—Word reached here to-day of the tragic death, on Sunday, of Miss Martha McLaughlin, aged 20 years, of Artonville. At a lumber camp on Green River, about 30 miles from Edmundston, the young woman was watching her brother-in-law, Frank Crane, clean his rifle. He threw out several shells, when one stuck, which was accidentally discharged, the bullet going through the young woman's body. She lived only three hours, no physician being available.

Suit Case Filled With Dynamite

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 26.—Carrying a suit case containing 72 sticks of dynamite, a roll of fuses, and two quarts of whiskey, George Bridges, who refuses to tell anything concerning himself, was arrested last night at Monessen, Penn., a mill town near here. Except to say that "a man gave me the suit case at the lower end of the town," Bridges is reticent. The use to which the dynamite was to be put has not yet been ascertained by the police.

Over 8,000 men are employed in the mills at Monessen, all of whom, it is said, are non-union. A rigid investigation is being made.

Stephano Here.

The Red Cross liner Stephano, Captain Clarke, arrived in port this morning with a full cargo and as passengers Messrs. Burke, Orth, McClosky, Burkhardt and R. Adams with 9 second class. The ship left New York at 6 a.m. Sunday and arrived at Halifax at 8 a.m. Tuesday. She had fine weather to that port and left at 2 a.m. Wednesday. From the start she had an E.N.E. gale with heavy snow and high sea, and it was particularly stormy yesterday and last night. To-day, owing to the heavy undertow on the ship had to be eased away from the pier to prevent damage to it, and the work of discharging will not commence till the weather becomes calmer.

Fire at R. Callahan's.

A fire broke out at the office of Mr. R. Callahan, Water Street, at 9:30 this morning and for a time threatened to destroy the whole building. The fire, it is believed, was caused by a spark falling from a defective stove pipe in the office into the wastepaper basket. The fire was several minutes in progress before discovered. There was no one in the office. A phone call at the critical moment brought the boy upstairs to find the office full of smoke and the fire rushing up the woodwork of the counter. He gave the alarm and Mr. Callahan who had just returned from breakfast called all the employees to take buckets and get up to the second floor where there was a water supply from a tap. After working hard for about five minutes they put it out, but not before a lot of papers, invoices, bills, etc., had been destroyed and the woodwork of the counter ruined. Mr. C. will make a claim on the Fire Insurance Co. for the damages.

Train Notes.

The local via Brigus arrived here at 1:30. The west bound express left Shoal Harbor at 8:40 a.m. The express arrived from Port aux Basques at 11:40 a.m. to-day bringing Mrs. W. Scott, Mr. Cobb, E. J. Hoskins, P. J. Cleary, Magistrate Lilly, Miss F. Pitman Mrs. Tilly and 30 others.

Here and There.

BROKE HIS LEG.—A man named Wornell fell on the ice of the N. W. Arm going to Trinity last Tuesday and broke his left leg.

NOTICE—A Special Meeting of the Alexandra Workers will be held in the British Hall tomorrow (Saturday), at 3.30 p.m.—Jan 5, 1912.

TOOK A HOLIDAY.—Mr. Jones, the obliging chief steward of the s.s. Stephano, has remained ashore this trip and Mr. C. Snow, the second steward, is performing his duties.

THE OPORTO MARKET.—A message to the Fisheries Department from Oporto to-day gives the prevailing prices for cod—38 to 40 shillings, large, and 30 to 32, small. There is a good stock on hand with good enquiry the message states.

THE Regular Monthly Meeting of the St. John's Mechanical Society will be held in their hall on Monday evening next, at 8.30 o'clock. By order, J. LEAHY, Sec. Jan 5, 1912.

DIPHTHERIA AGAIN.—To-day a case of diphtheria was reported from 9 Signal Hill Road, a boy 14 years old, who was struck with it and will be nursed at home. A boy residing at 92 Barnes Road has contracted scarlet fever and will also be attended to at home.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING.—Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. O'Reilly, of 124 Water Street, will celebrate the 25th anniversary of their marriage. Mr. O'Reilly and his amiable wife are enjoying good health and extend to them our congratulations.

TEA AND BUTTER STOLEN.—In addition to the charge of stealing meat against the man, Newhook, who was remanded in court yesterday, he is charged with taking from Mr. Jones's house, on Mundy Pond Road, a quantity of tea, butter, turnips and raisins. The police found such goods in Newhook's house, though the man strictly denies the theft.

INVERMORE'S PASSENGERS.—The s.s. Invermore arrived at Port aux Basques at 9:30 a.m. to-day bringing Rev. W. Wilson, E. B. Tucker, W. B. Mahoney, H. McCulloch, Rev. J. Thackeray, F. Burge, C. Sutherland. The express left for St. John's at 10 o'clock.

VESSELS AT BONNE BAY.—The s.s. Maxine Elliott, left Bonne Bay yesterday loaded with frozen herring for Glenora by Capt. J. Bonia. There is still a fleet of 20 vessels there, some of which are frozen in. All these vessels are now making their last trips to Bonne Bay.

DIED.

Census Returns

For the Saint John's Electoral Districts.

By the courtesy of the Colonial Secretary we have been furnished with a statement of Census Returns for 1911 for the District of St. John's, classified into the Eastern and Western Electoral Divisions. As the enumerating wards do not correspond with the municipal boundaries, the figures of the population for the city of St. John's are not now available. These will be compiled later. The figures given are subject to correction by the Court of Revision which has yet to be held. The total population for the district of St. John's is given at 45,199. In 1901 it was 39,995. This shows an increase of 5,204, or of 13 per cent. on the 1901 figures. The decade, 1891-1901, showed an increase of 11 per cent. The 45,199 are distributed in the two divisions thus: St. John's East, 24,910; St. John's West, 20,289. The 39,995 inhabitants of 1901 were distributed thus: St. John's East, 21,512; St. John's West, 18,483. St. John's East shows an increase of 3,398 or 15.8 per cent; St. John's West 1,806 or 9.8 per cent.

The denominational census comes out thus in numerical importance: Roman Catholic—East, 12,880; West, 10,305; total 1911, 23,185. 1901, East, 11,478; West, 10,098; total, 21,576. The increase for the district is 1609 or 7 per cent.

Church of England—East, 6,905; West, 4,786; total for 1911, 11,691. 1901, East, 5,549; West, 4,017. total, 9,566. The increase is 1,825 or 19 per cent.

Methodist—East, 4,039; West, 3,924; total for 1911, 7,963. 1901, East, 3,319; West, 3,418; total 6,737. The increase is 1,226 or 18 per cent.

Presbyterian—East, 673; West, 519; total for 1911, 1,192. 1901, East, 671; West, 391, total 1,062. The increase is 230 or 21 per cent.

Salvation Army—East, 264; West, 515; total 779 for 1911. 1901, East, 129; West, 291, total 520. The increase is 250 or 61 per cent.

Congregational—East, 268; West, 128, total for 1911, 496. 1901, East, 233; West, 119; total 412. This shows a decrease of 6.

Other Denominations—East 181; West, 102, total for 1911 283. 1901, East, 73; West, 49, total 122. This shows an increase of 161.

Only One "BROMO QUININE" That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. Sec.—oct 20, 1911.

STEAMERS DUE.—The Reid Co. ships, Clyde and Home, are due here now after having finished their work for the season, and are no doubt delayed by bad weather.

MRS. H. DIGGINS will resume her Dressmaking Classes on Jan. 8th and 9th, at Sunnyside, Monkstown Road.—ad, 2in MUMMERS OUT.—Quite a number of juvenile mummers were out last night in Georgetown. They had a jolly time and did no objectionable mischief while visiting the houses.

MAKING LONG VOYAGE.—The s.s. Invermore arrived at Port aux Basques at 9:30 a.m. to-day bringing Rev. W. Wilson, E. B. Tucker, W. B. Mahoney, H. McCulloch, Rev. J. Thackeray, F. Burge, C. Sutherland. The express left for St. John's at 10 o'clock.

BRINGING MORE COAL.—The steamers Woburn and Kamford, now on their way to Sydney, will return here with coal cargoes. Up to the present the stocks of coal held in the city were comparatively small, but now good supplies are held and more is coming in daily.

CLEARING THE SIDEWALK.—Today numbers of men are engaged along Water Street clearing the sidewalks of snow which is being carried to the public coves and dumped overboard. This morning there was trouble in getting the street cars over the snow covered tracks, but the sweepers soon cleared the roads and the service proceeds uninterruptedly.

Report on the Festival of Empire.

Mr. Outerbridge at the last local meeting gave a general account of matters in connection with the preparation of the Festival as follows:—With reference to the expenses of the Exhibition, the London Committee had originally suggested £1,500 as the amount that the Colony should contribute as their share of cost of the gallery, scenery, electric lighting, and generally in preparing the grounds, etc., but on it being pointed out that this was a larger amount than the Local Committee was prepared to pay, the sum of £1,900 was agreed upon for these purposes. Referring to the cost of the building the original estimate for this was £1,800, but later the London Committee pressed on the Local Committee the advisability of erecting an Exhibition Building or the Colony a replica of the Colonial Building. This was agreed to after some negotiations, the London Committee agreeing to pay the difference between the sum originally allocated, viz., £1,800, and the difference caused by the alteration in the plan of the building. The actual cost of the building as erected was £1,947. On one side of the All Red Route there was shown a view of St. John's from the South Side, and on the other the harbour of Burin. The expenditure in connection with the various matters was kept as low as possible. In the Pageant of London Sir Frank Lascelles, in framing the scheme allotted as the part for this Colony, a suggestion of the Local Committee of Sir Humphrey Gilbert Efforts were made to obtain Newfoundlanders to take part in this portion of the programme, but without much success. Lady Northcliffe was consulted on the subject, and a committee was formed with Lady Northcliffe as Chairman to arrange the matter in the best possible way. As but few Newfoundlanders were available, it was arranged to secure assistance from the staff of the Daily Mail. Mr. Reeves represented Sir Humphrey Gilbert, and Mr. Basil Jackson his page, Miss Goodridge also took part. The whole scene was very well arranged and was a good representation of an important scene in the history of the Colony. Great difficulty was encountered in getting the Contractors to complete the building and in arranging for the cases, etc., to be finished in time, as all Contractors seemed to have taken more orders than they were able to fill; but eventually matters were advanced sufficiently to allow of the Exhibition being opened on the first day of the Festival. The large mahogany and plate glass cases having been specially ordered with a view to afterwards being used permanently at the Imperial Institute, were much better than those in any of the other Courts, and these cases added materially to the attractive appearance of our Court. No extra charges of any kind occurred either on account of the cost of the building or the contract for electric lighting, panoramas, construction of the All Red Route, etc. An elaborate scheme of decorating the interior was proposed, which would have called for an expenditure of about £180. This was considered too expensive, and His Excellency the Governor at the public meeting at which the Committee was constituted had suggested that Lady Northcliffe would probably be glad to assist in the matter of decorating. She was appealed to in the matter, and with her assistance a simple but effective scheme of decoration was decided on, the walls being simply distempred and decorated with shields bearing the Newfoundland Arms and with rows of large photographs, etc. The Reid Newfoundland Company's pavilion was a striking feature of the Exhibition. The most popular feature of the Exhibition, and that which attracted most attention, was the model of the Grand Falls pulp and paper mills, including a working model of a paper making machine. This machine was perked at intervals all through the Exhibition and it always drew large crowds, who were most interested. A large painting of Grand Falls was hung over the model. Over the entrance door was a painting of St. John's, and on the opposite wall a beautiful sylvan scene. The Sporting Exhibit included, besides many fine specimens lent or purchased here some fine caribou heads sent by Dr. Lesketh Pritchett. The family of caribou in a large case attracted such attention. Numerous enquiries with reference to the sporting possibilities of the Colony were made by sportsmen and others, which will no doubt result in very many visitors to the Colony in the near future. Another notable feature was the exhibit of the Bell Island ore, particularly the mahogany case of obelisk shape containing a core of hematite fourteen feet long, sent by the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Co., the core being taken from their property at a point about three miles out from the shore and one thousand feet under the sea. This company also sent an exhibit of pig iron, steel, steel bars, rails, etc., manufactured from ore, and their workings were illustrated by drawings of their plant and geological sections of their properties. The exhibit of manufactured goods was favourably commented on and did much to advertise the Colony. The general opinion expressed was that the people in England had no idea that the Colony could produce such articles or had such development in manufacturing as was shown by the articles on exhibition. In speaking of these exhibits, particular mention should be made of articles made of seal-leather sent by a London firm. These included hand bags, jewel boxes and other articles beautifully mounted and dyed, all of which were very much admired. Mr. Howley's work in connection with the Exhibition should not be forgotten. He took great pains to place the exhibits in the best and most attractive manner, and was most successful in his efforts. I may say that the London Committee greatly appreciated the Newfoundland Committee's sending one of Mr. Howley's standing to take charge of the Court.

The information which he was able to give added greatly to the usefulness of the Exhibition, and will doubt be of great benefit to the Colony.

Connaught's Christmas.
 Ottawa, Dec. 26.—At Rideau Hall, the Duke of Connaught spent the season in old English style. Every employee was personally given the best wishes of the day by the Duke, who added something substantial to the handshake. The laborers got turkeys and wine, while others had money given to them, and higher officials stockings with the Connaught monogram, surmounted by the crest in precious stones. His Royal Highness attended church twice.

Christmas Song.
 San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 24.—One hundred thousand persons singing exultantly, joined to-night in singing Adoro Fideles at the conclusion of the city's open air celebration of Christmas Eve. It followed a full program of music given by a trained chorus and the members of the French opera company which is holding its winter season in San Francisco.

Jan Kubelik, the violinist, played to the vast audience, and David Bispham, baritone, sang to them. Singer and chorus occupied a stand against a big building in the business centre. Street traffic was suspended during the celebration.

Pic-Nic in Hotel.
 New York, Dec. 25.—One hundred women guests at the Virginia Hotel for women only, were thrown into a panic early to-day by the plight of Miss Armyle E. Lyons, the Superintendent of the hotel who rushed wildly about the halls with her night clothes burning. Miss Lyons had risked a cup of coffee over a new alcohol lamp which she had received as a Xmas present. Her night dress caught fire from the flames when she attempted to pour more alcohol into the lamp without blowing out the blaze. She ran out to the hall followed by two women who were with her in her room, and guests of the hotel, were almost as hysterical as she at the sight of her burning to death. One young man who was visiting a cousin at the hotel, was the hero, grabbing Miss Lyons and throwing her to the floor and wrapping her up in portieres he had pulled from their hangings. It is believed, however, that the young woman will die.

HURT HIS ARM.—A lad named J. Pritchard while coasting over Job Street yesterday, fell off his slide and dislocated his left arm at the elbow. Dr. O'Connell attended him. Several similar accidents occurred during the week.

Hurt in Football at Sixty Nine.
 Persons living in the neighborhood of Washington avenue and 181st street have been amazed, in the last two weeks, to see an old man, with thick white hair, mustache, and imperial, playing at football with small boys in the street, and kicking the pigskin with hearty, vigorous swings. A few who enquired further, discovered that the white-haired young man was Michael Kelly, 69 years old and a great-grandfather, who lived with his daughter at 2150 Washington avenue. He had been a football enthusiast and a player on the Irish invincibles in his native county, Galway, in his youth, they learned, and had never lost his fondness for the sport.

Yesterday afternoon he was again kicking the pigskin, bravely with other boys in Washington avenue, in front of his home when just as he planted an excellent punt far down the avenue, he slipped and fell. When some of the boys picked him up, they found that he could not stand, and helped him to his home. There a physician said the Irish invincible had fractured his right knee.

"Well, I can't kick the winter at least," cheerfully replied great-grandfather Kelly. "Fix it up, Doc."

It will be many months before the broken knee can mend, the doctor said, but the optimistic old kicker didn't mind it.

"Football puts an edge on my appetite," he said, out of the depths of a huge slice of toast, when a reporter called at his bedside last night.—N. Y. Times.

Raising a City Seven Feet.
 Los Angeles, Cal., December 27.—The greater part of the suburb of Wilmington, on the harbor water front, near Los Angeles, is on stilts. The props will be loosened about May 1. Wilmington at best has never been more than on sea level, and some parts of it are far below, and the town board decided to raise the city seven feet. To do this it was necessary to raise all the buildings in the business section, on four streets, prop them up on stilts, and then draw the water and sand from beneath and replace it with seven feet of heavy soil.

 SHANGHAI, Jan. 4.
 The Imperial Government in Peking has sent orders to all generals in command of Imperial troops that they are to resume hostilities on January 6th, unless they receive notification in the meantime that the armistice between the two forces is again renewed. It is assumed here that this step has been taken as the result of refusal by the revolutionaries to continue negotiations with the Peking authorities by telegraph, in accordance with the demand by Yuan Shi Kai. The fact that the Premier is now in possession of a considerable sum of money for the purpose of repressing the rebellion, and with which he can pay the Imperial troops, has, it is believed, inspired him with fresh confidence in his power to check the revolution, as he is aware that the Republicans lack resources.

LONDON, Jan. 4.
 There was a tragic conclusion to a musical party at the residence of Sir Nathaniel Barnaby, Bart., the Honorary Vice-President of the Institute of Naval Architects. His daughter, Miss Rosetta Barnaby, sang the song "Good Night," and just as she uttered "good night," the last word of the song, she dropped to the floor, dead.

LONDON, Jan. 4.
 Despatches received here contain rumors of the assassination of Alahmed Schekat, the former Turkish Minister of War and Commander of the Constitutional Army, which forced the surrender of Sultan Abdul Hamid. Rumors of a rising in Constantinople are also quoted, but despatches from there made no mention of the occurrence.

HONG KONG, Jan. 4.
 A regiment of Indian infantry and a battery of artillery have been ordered to proceed to Canton to reinforce the contingent of British troops at present there.

ROME, Jan. 4.
 The influences being brought to bear daily, in order to induce Italy to renew or not renew the triple alliance with Germany and Austria-Hungary, are becoming of more pressing character. Reports received here to-night in a special message from Paris say that the German Emperor made recently some uncomplimentary comment about Italy and the Italian Army, and also as regards the war now being conducted by Italy in Tripoli. Although this is not believed to be authoritative, Rome thinks that the moment has arrived when Italy should be ready to drop out of the alliance.

MANCHESTER, Jan. 4.
 Indications this afternoon show there is but slight hope of an agreement being reached in the dispute between the cotton workers and employers in Lancashire, which started over the employment of three non-union workers, but which now includes a question of wages and other issues. The negotiations so far have not been favorable to the workers. The employers maintain their position in favor of the open shop, and refuse, despite strong efforts on behalf of the workers, to move from the attitude taken. Conferences with both sides have been held, but all attempts to a settlement have been fruitless.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.
 Five shipwrecked sailors, comprising the captain and crew of the Newfoundland schooner Virginia, have reached New York on the steamer Atrato. The Virginia was abandoned on the coast of Spain after masts, hatches and everything portable had gone by the board, and the salt cargo water-soaked. Wind and wave buffeted the wreck for 12 days before the Atrato picked the crew off.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
GOUT, RHEUMATISM, BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES, BACKACHE

Prepared by J. W. Dodd, Lowell, Mass.

SLEPT IN CHURCH.—Just before St. Patrick's Church was closed up for the night at 11 o'clock last night, a little boy, who gave his name as Wall, was discovered asleep in one of the pews and on being questioned, said he intended, if not discovered, remaining in the church all night. He said he slept in the building all Sunday night and said that his father is dead and that his stepmother had turned him out of doors. The little chap who is only 5 years old, was taken by Mr. M. Brien, who was in the church at the time, to the Western Fire Station, where the men fed him and otherwise looked after him.

RECEIVED SUBSTANTIAL BONUS.—To-day all the employees of Bowring Bros. in the offices, shops and stores, were gladdened by the receipt of their monthly salary plus a substantial bonus, equal we learn, to 2 1/2 per cent. on their yearly stipends. This liberal treatment on the part of their principals is greatly appreciated by the helps. Mr. F. W. Hayward to-day paid out to the men in this way sums aggregating several thousand dollars.

By the Bruce express at 8 p.m. yesterday there went Hon. C. H. Emerson, Rev. Fr. Caeola, Miss Simpson, W. H. Taylor, Miss Penelon, C. D. Lilly, J. R. Smith, W. G. Martin, Miss M. Wilcox, J. W. Jeans, P. Mervier, F. Hutchings and several others.

The Dredge Picnickers.

Before the Minister of Marine and Fisheries "buted" in and insisted on taking charge of the purchase of a dredge quite other arrangements had been made. Mr. M. P. Cashin was to take it in on his trip to England and the Gov't intended to send a practical engineer who has been at work on plans for a dredge. Indeed, so far was the arrangement settled that arrangements had been completed for sending the practical man, and on Tuesday the outport public message sent out by the Hon. Patrick McGrath, announced, we are informed, that the Hon. M. P. Cashin was leaving on business, but made no mention of Mr. Piccott's trip. When Mr. Piccott carried his point, the practical man was dropped out of the arrangement.

This is the way of the "business" government for which Hon. D. Morrison used to sigh, when he was in opposition. Now he is in office, common sense and business principles are ignored, extravagance is rampant, and picnics are in plenty.

Labrador Receiving Repairs.

The S. S. Labrador is at present on the dock premises where the Reid Nfld. Coy. are giving her extensive repairs. Her engines are being thoroughly overhauled, the hull is being attended to also and she will be given a new funnel and ventilators. She will be in first class condition for the seal fishery when finished, and Capt. Dan Martin will again command her.

Police Court.

To-day a drunk was discharged. The case of Justice Johnson vs. a teamster for cruelty to his horse, overloading the animal and having it improperly shod, was conducted to-day. The evidence of pitf, and 4 other witnesses was taken and deft. was fined $2 or 7 days. Mr. W. J. Higgins defended.

The assault case brought forward by a chinaman against two boys was withdrawn.

Coastal Boats.

BOWRING'S BOATS.
Owing to the storm the wires are down in several parts of the country and there was no news of the Bowring ships to-day.

MEAD FELD. CO.
The Argyle arrived at St. Lawrence at 3 a.m. yesterday going West having been delayed on account of the storm. The Solway arrived at Seldom at 5 p.m. yesterday.

The Dundee, Ethie and Clyde, are at St. John's, the latter having arrived at 5 p.m. yesterday.

The Gloucester arrived at Burgeo at 4.50 p.m. yesterday.

The Home is on the way to St. John's.

The Invermore is due at Port aux Basques this forenoon.

Hockey Matters.

The Feildians and St. Bon's Hockey teams had a practice in the Prince's Rink last night, and some fine work was done by them. Each team must practice at least three times before the series of games begin.

The Collegians will ask for admission to the League this season and if they enter there will be 5 teams in the arena, viz. Feildians, Victorias, Crescents, St. Bon's and Collegians. Some interesting matches can be looked forward to.

2 Women Killed

And Twenty Persons Hurt in a Toronto Street Car Accident.

Toronto, Dec. 27.—Two women killed, and a score of persons injured, was the result of a Christmas Eve street car accident in Toronto shortly before 7 o'clock. A west bound King street car, crammed to capacity with church going passengers, got beyond the motorman's control on the slippery rails while descending a steep grade of the new Don bridge and struck an open switch at St. Lawrence street, and crashed over on its side. Some of the passengers went through the windows, one of these being Mrs. Alfred Deacon, of England. The workmen from the car barns jacked up the rear end of the car to remove some of the imprisoned passengers, and it is believed that this threw the weight to the other end, crushing Mrs. Deacon's life out. Her husband was slightly injured.

The circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Deacon are particularly sad. She was the wife of Capt. Alfred Deacon, commander of a training ship in the British navy, and had come to Toronto with her husband for a Christmas Day visit, only to witness the death of Captain Deacon's mother, a sufferer from cancer, who died on Saturday.

Messrs. Gardiner and Cunningham came in by the express to-day and got off at Briggs Junction.

Fingerprints in Crime.

To Be Used First Time in New York Murder Case.

New York, Dec. 25.—Inspector Edward Hughes, chief of the Detective Bureau, and Captain Faurrot, fingerprint expert of the department, declared they were sure they have solved through a finger mark on a match safe the mystery of the murder of old Isaac Vogel, the jeweller, and that in Joseph Roberts, the West Indian negro, whom Detectives Hayes arrested about fifteen minutes after the crime was committed, the police have captured the right man.

The case will have a unique feature in that it will be the first time that finger-prints will be used as evidence of first importance in a murder trial. In the last year several convictions of burglars were secured almost on finger-prints alone.

McMurdo's Store News.

FRIDAY, Jan. 5, 1912.

Floramye Cream possesses this uncommon point, that it may be used simply as a toilet cream, or as a massage cream; and that it is equally serviceable for either purpose. Something of this sort is a necessity at this season, and those who prefer a cream with considerable body in it, will find in Floramye Cream exactly what they need. Price, 25c. a crock.

A dose of Red Cross Oil with hot water well sweetened will prevent a chill and its consequences. It is equally useful for cramps and for muscular pains, very rarely failing to give sensible relief. The fact that it is quite reliable in its effects makes it a good thing to have in the house. Price, 25c.

ARE DANGEROUSLY ILL.—Mr. J. Kennedy, of Hutchings' Street, has been very ill for some time past. Mr. E. Kielly, of Rawlins Cross, is also in a precarious condition.

Giver's Name Never Known.

Gold Anonymously Sent to Recommended Persons.

New York, Dec. 26.—Many poor families in New York City received unexpected Christmas gifts of from $20 to $50 in gold by express and will never know their source.

This announcement was made Friday night by the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, which made known that a sum of money running into the thousands, contributed each year by a patron of the association, is to be distributed among persons whose needs have been ascertained, but who would never ask for charity through the ordinary channels.

The list of cases, with a brief description of the needs of each, is sent to the donor, who marks opposite each name the amount of money to be sent, varying from $20 to $50.

The money, in gold pieces, is then sent by express, and great care is exercised to keep the beneficiary in ignorance of the identity of the benefactor.

HENRY BLAIR

New Beauty Fad in Paris.

Dr. Rosenthal Bleaches Teeth by Use of Ultra-Violet Rays.

Paris, Dec. 19.—The latest service rendered by science to the cause of feminine beauty is the discovery of Pierre Rosenthal of Paris that the ultra-violet rays of the spectrum, when directed on discolored teeth, bleach them to a dazzling whiteness.

The patient has to wear a mask of store linen, which leaves only the teeth and gums exposed to the light, and sits for about a quarter of an hour at a time in the rays of a very powerful mercury lamp, over which a quartz cover has been fitted, as well as the necessary cooling apparatus. To prevent any ill-effects, the teeth are kept moistened with oxygenized water during the operation.

It is the ultra-violet rays in the sunlight that bleaches such things as linen or ivory, says the doctor, and he therefore makes his patients continue the treatment at home by sitting with their bare teeth to the sunlight.

BROUGHT TO ST. GEORGE'S.—Yesterday I. G. Sullivan had a wire from Sergt. Goodland to the effect that the body of Capt. Molesworth, who was found dead from a bullet wound at Grassy Place, had been brought to St. George's yesterday, and an investigation as to his death will take place there.

TO STUDY X RAYS.—We understand that not long ago the Government sent to Canada one of the trained nurses at the General Hospital, who will there study the manipulation of the X Rays instrument.

"Why, how come reading this?" I asked. She looked shamefacedly at the magazine, which she had had to wait at the numbers and got tested in So-and-So since then. I've been just to follow I know it's a silly particularly nice on awfully clever and Let me tell you this magazine and story which was known modern first to another man and good stand read it and acknowledge tremendously intere

Best Food in the World is Good Homemade Bread, Made of BEAVER FLOUR

When you bake the bread yourself, and know that anything you put in is as good as "Beaver" Flour, then you have a product that cannot be equalled.

Bread made of "Beaver" Flour will nourish and sustain you longer than any other one article of diet.

Bread, made of "Beaver" Flour, is the least expensive of wholesome foods. The cost or living becomes a very reasonable cost, when you make the principal part of every meal this good home-made bread.

You can eat bread, made of "Beaver" Flour, three times a day for a lifetime, without wanting a change. This shows it's good for you.

All this is true because "Beaver" Flour is a blended flour. It contains exact quantities of nutritious, full-flavored Ontario Fall Wheat blended with a little Manitoba Spring Wheat to give added strength. Western Spring Wheat flour is too strong and flavorless to make real home-made bread or good pastry. Ontario Fall Wheat makes the best flavored and finest pastry flour in the world and, with a little Spring Wheat added for strength, makes the ideal Flour for both bread and pastry.

"Beaver" Flour is not like the woman who can only make one kind of cake or one kind of fancy pastry. "Beaver" Flour is like the attractive, capable, clever housewife who can make Bread, Rolls and Biscuits—Cakes, Pies and Pastry—and makes them all equally well. Isn't this the kind of Flour you want? Then order it at your grocer's.

Household Notes. Special Stock= Taking Sale!

A dry rubber "sponge" is excellent for cleaning woolen materials. They should be laid flat and the sponge swept over them briskly, care being taken to rub the wrong side of the nap.

Dampers should be placed in all pipes leading from heaters and kept closed in summer, as air from the furnace should not be allowed to flow into the house when the fire is out.

When pressing a skirt, it is always advisable to lay a damp cotton cloth over the material so that it is not touched by the iron. This prevents the material from becoming shiny.

If the house is infested with ants, dip a sponge into sweetened water and lay it where they can get at it. They will soon cluster upon it, and the sponge can then be dropped in hot water.

Cookies put into an earthen jar, lined with a clean cloth, while they are still hot, and kept covered close, will be much more melting and crumbly than if they are allowed to cool in the air.

The label on a glass jar will keep clean and will stick much longer if pasted on the inside. Of course, this applies only where dry materials are stored in the jar, such as seeds, rice, tapioca, etc.

If a gas stove is not equipped with a broiler, try heating a pan piping hot. Put the steak into this without greasing and turn as soon as it is seared on the bottom. Keep turning till the meat is done.

A mixture of finely powdered fuller's earth and alum is excellent for cleaning white gloves. It should be rubbed in well, then brushed off, and the gloves sprinkled with dry bran and whittled.

To clean a burned kettle, turn out the burned contents, but do not fill with water. Set it aside to cool, and then place in a handful of washing soda and water and let the solution boil for an hour or more.

Patent leather shoes should be carefully wiped off with a soft cloth when they are removed and then a few drops of olive oil should be rubbed into them. This will keep the leather soft and prevent them cracking.

When the knob of a teakettle cover, coffee pot or kettle lid falls off, many a burn can be prevented by using as a substitute a medium-sized cork, held in place by a slender screw driven from the under side of the lid.

The most practical use for old corks is to make a low fire burn up. Empty spoons also make good kindling, and if these things are saved it will be surprising how many will accumulate in the average household.

To remove an iron rust stain, hold the fabric over a teakettle of boiling water and press a cut lemon over the spot. Remove the fabric occasionally to allow evaporation, and the spot will disappear before your eyes.

To turn the hems of table linen easily and accurately, remove the needle from your sewing machine, adjust the hemmer to the desired length, and pass the goods through. They are then ready for hemming by hand. This saves a great deal of time, and gives a straight, even hem.

ASK YOURSELF THESE QUESTIONS

And find out if you have kidney disorders—Also make this test.

Have you pains in the back over the kidneys?

Have you urinary disorders?

Do you suffer from severe headaches, dizziness or defective eyesight?

Is the skin dry and harsh?

Are you failing in health and strength and suffering from rheumatic pains or swelling of the limbs?

These are a few of the symptoms of kidney disease, and here is the test.

If the urine after standing for twenty-four hours is cloudy, milky or has particles floating about in it, or if there is a sediment in the bottom of the vessel, your kidneys are diseased.

There is no time to lose in beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They will help you more quickly than any treatment you can obtain, and that is one reason why they are so successful and popular.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By MITX CAMERON

"Why, how comes it that you are reading this?" I questioned.

She looked shame-facedly down at the magazine, which she had made a partial attempt to hide under her bag. "Well," she said, "you see, I had to wait at the dentist's one day, and I picked up one of the summer numbers and got tremendously interested in So-and-So's new serial. And since then, I've been buying the magazine just to follow that up. Yes, I know it's a silly story and not a particularly nice one, but really it's awfully clever and interesting."

Let me tell you something about this magazine and this story. The story, which was written by a well-known modern writer, was offered first to another magazine of good repute and good standing. The editors read it and acknowledged that it was tremendously interesting, and that it would be a big card, but they said: "It is not the kind of stuff we want to offer to the young men and women of America," and they refused it. The less scrupulous magazine accepted it, and by dint of combing several similar stories with it, actually succeeded in completely selling out one particular issue of their publication.

And this was the kind of magazine and story my friend was advertising, by admitting that the story was so awfully clever and interesting that she had to follow it up against her better judgment. To be sure, she also said that it was not particularly nice, but to how many people would that be an efficacious deterrent? Count the magazine's success with its collection of morbidly salacious and sex-flaunting stories, it is impossible to blink the fact that that disparage would be to many a most powerful magnet.

My friends, the women of America, I think there's only one way for us to treat the decadent and salacious literature that is being offered to us so abundantly just now. And that way is most emphatically NOT to read it, and say we don't like it, because it isn't particularly nice, and yet all the time advertise it by talking about it—even though we talk against it! Any publishing agent will tell you that such talk is often the very best kind of advertising, and is always preferable to silence.

No, the way to put our foot down on such literature and trample it right out of existence, is not to buy it, not to read it, not to talk of it—in fact, to ignore it as completely as possible.

Don't add your dime or your dollar to strengthen the "box-office" argument that makes the publisher think the American public wants that sort of thing.

Don't add your voice to the discussion for and against that makes everybody want to read the book or the story, so as to be able to talk about it.

For every head that you chop off this serpent by denunciation, two more heads grow—for every story that you advertise in this way, two more stories will be published.

No, the only way to kill the serpent of salacious literature is by ignoring him. Don't look at him, don't feed him with the silver and gold he must have to support life, and I think you will be surprised to see how very soon he will die and his ugly body dry up and blow away and be forgotten.

Red Cannon Girl Murdered

AT Hyde Park Last Night and Italian Suspected.

Hyde Park, Mass., Dec. 23.—Efforts of the police were renewed with considerable activity to-day in an endeavor to locate the slayer of Miss Bridget Pritchard, the 18 year old girl who was stabbed to death last night. Because of the girl's dying statement that it was an Italian who stabbed her, the police visited the Italian sections of Boston and Hyde Park, but their search failed to reveal any clue to the identity of the slayer.

The residents of this town are deeply stirred over the murder. Less than five minutes after being stabbed in the back on West Glenwood Avenue bridge she died in the arms of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Pritchard, to whose house she had feebly walked, after being attacked near the spot where the murder was committed. The handle of a knife, which apparently was used by the assailant, was found. The police say that robbery could not have furnished a motive for the murder.

THE LAWYER.

The lawyer is a pillar of society who makes a juicy living by selling his vocal chords to the highest bidder for cash. When a lawyer's voice falls him, all is lost save honor. The lawyer who can express an unbiased opinion of the defendant in a six-hour argument filled with deep thought and bench-legged English, without introducing creeping paralysis and hardening of the arteries into the jury box, will never have to have his larynx pushed back into place by some rude specialist with an obtrusive forefinger and an acetylene searchlight. One of the lawyer's most pleasing duties is to gather in a little loose alimony for some deserving divorcee who has thoughtfully deposited a corpulent retainer in his collection box. Owing to the increase in litigants, the legal profession is loaded up at the present writing with lawyers who can't tell a writ of habeas corpus from a marriage certificate, and this has caused the state to require an examination based on lung expansion and freedom from throat trouble.

Every lawyer has a very sensitive conscience, which will not permit him to take a case when there is nothing in it. Some lawyers win cases with a ten-inch flow of legal verbiage, while others pack the jury with near and dear relatives. The latter process is considered sounder practice. The lawyer is said to be in contempt of court when he refers to the judge as a mild crook who ought to be foreman of a corkscrew factory. The shyster is a new lawyer who comes to town and beats the old heads to a melancholy frazzle. The legal profession is very loyal to its members, and no one ever heard of a lawyer being disbarred by anything except an unexpected demise.
