Yesterday afternoon the corner stone of the new church about to be erected in Kelligrews was laid by His Nov. 3, 1917. Grace Archbishop Roche. His Grace, Sir.-Will you please accompanied by Monsignor McDermott, V.G., and Father Kelly, pastor of the parish, arrived in Kelligrews by motor, and in the presence of a large concourse of people the first stone of the new church was blessed and placed in position. Afterwards the people assembled in the school, which for some time has been used temporarily as a church. The Archbishop them the significance of the ceremony which they had just witnessed He referred to the destruction by fire some years ago of the old church which had been such an ornament to the settlement, and in which so many of them had worshipped for generations past. Since that time the idea of rebuilding the church had not been lost sight of, but it was not until now that it was found possible to the work. He had no doubt that with the work the people the Pastor, Father Kelly, would in a very short time have the work of building terrible force. ### Political Rumors

Political rumors, varied and peculiarly strange, are given much currency of late. Some of them are as interesting as they are improbable. and that is, that the present Minister 1203-Private Alberts Roberts, Bay of Public Works will be moved into retirement before many more months elapse. For a very considerable period he has been aspiring, it is said, to take up quarters, as Commanderin-Chief of the Poor Asylum. The genial William has spent virtually a quarter of a century in the political life of the Colony "one way and another" and so he now prefers retirement to that congenial vale, situate It is also freely circulated and in
