JOHN LIND'S MISSION TO MEXICO COMPLETE FAILURE HUERTA REJECTS PROPOSALS

President Wilson Takes the Night to Sleep Over New Phase in Situation—Refuses to Recognize Huerta at Any Cost.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 18.—(The United States government has been given until midnight tonight by President Huerta to recognize Mexico, it is officially stated.

The government is not specific in the public announcement as to what course will then be pursued, but it is understood that it means the severing of all relations between the two countries.

Replying today to President Wilson's note, which was recently delivered to the Mexican government thru ex-Governor John Lind, Huerta refuses mediation in the Mexican situation or any similar suggestion made by a foreign government.

Mr. Lind has forwarded Gen. Huerta's answer to Washington and is awaiting a reply.

President Huerta, in his reply told the United States that he would tolerate no interference, even though that interference might be characterized as friendly mediation. The character of the reply of Washington to President Huerta's note will determine the next action in the international drama.

All those connected with the American embassy refused to admit the receipt of the note, and that it had been sent was not admitted officially by the Mexican Government. At the embassy there was an evident desire to appear optimistic, and one was led to believe that Mr. Lind still hoped for a continuation of the negotiations.

Those familiar with the workings of the Mexican administration expressed doubt as to the government again opening the subject for discussion.

(Special to The Toronto World.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan received unofficial reports from Mexico City tonight that President Huerta, after rejecting the proposals by Mr. Lind, issued an official statement, in which he gave the United States until midnight tonight (Mexican or Central time), to recognize him (Huerta).

The despatches did not indicate what steps Huerta would take if the American Government failed to extend the recognition.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, while impressed with the reports, would not accept them as authentic. Both will await official despatches before deciding on any action. The president will not recognize Huerta.

After receiving the despatches, the president and secretary of state on retiring for the night, indicated that nothing would be done by them until tomorrow at the earliest.

LOCAL REGIMENT TO JOIN "RED" ARMY

GALT, Aug. 18.—(Special.)—Orders were received today by the officers of the 29th Regiment regarding the western Ontario military manoeuvres, to be conducted from the 25th to the 29th. The local regiment will leave the C. P. R. station at Galt on Monday afternoon, and proceed by special train to Leitha. On Monday night they will camp at "The Cove," and on the following day will join the forces of the "Red" army, of which the 29th is to form part.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—In his annual address today as president of the British Institute of Journalists, Robert Donald, the managing editor of The Daily Chronicle, said:

"The halfpenny newspaper, with its new method of catering to readers, is responsible to a large degree for the vast change which has taken place in the morning journals. The rivalry between the halfpenny newspapers for circulation is fierce and is likely to grow in intensity, but from the point of view of the reading public the newer journalism is preferable to the old."

"The newspaper of the future will not contain less reading matter, but the pages will be smaller, the methods of distribution will be quicker and the circulation will cover greater areas."

KING'S PRIZE WINNER AT LONG BRANCH

Pte. Hawkins was the centre of attention at the opening of the O.R.A. matches yesterday. He has a free and easy style when in action at the ranges.

GOOD SHOOTING ON OPENING DAY OF O. R. A. MEET AT LONG BRANCH NEW AMMUNITION SATISFACTORY

Sergeant W. A. Smith and Capt. H. Smith Divide Prize Money in the Osler Match, Both Making Possibles—King's Prizemen Hawkins and Clifford Had Bad Day.

LONG BRANCH, Aug. 17.—(Special.)—With a heavy mist overhanging the targets, the 1913 matches of the Ontario Rifle Association were opened here this morning under weather conditions anything but favorable to accurate marksmanship. In spite of the handicap, however, the shooting at the morning session was fairly good, while in the afternoon session, when the haze had cleared somewhat, the marksmanship was decidedly of the high-class order.

Considerable comment was indulged in on the new ammunition being tried out for the first time at the match. At first the change in the trajectory had the marksmen all at sea, especially on the shorter ranges, but after the men had got used to it the general opinion was that it was superior to the old kind.

Whether or not the new ammunition was deceptive, Pte. Wm. A. Hawkins the King's prize winner at Biele, had a poor day, being eliminated from the City of Toronto match in the first stage, in which he finished 102nd, with a score of 63 out of a possible 70, and 14th in the Osler match, scoring 45 out of 50.

Pte. Clifford, who also bears the distinction of having won the King's prize, was well up in the Osler match with 48 out of a possible 50, but fell to the 100th mark in the City of Toronto event, with 64 out of a possible 70.

Sergeant W. A. Smith and Capt. H. Smith divide first and second prize money in the Osler match, both scoring a possible 50, firing ten rounds at 500 yards.

The best day's score in the first stage of the City of Toronto match was made by Sergt.-Major H. W. Patterson and A. H. Ferguson, both scoring 63 out of a possible 70. The second stage of this event will be shot off today at 800 yards.

In the extra series event, Hawkins shot two possible cards, but on scoring an inner ring.

Cadets Did Well.

The surprise of the day was the splendid shooting of the cadets. The Ottawa C. I. Cadet Corps carried off first prize in the militia team prize in the City of Hamilton contest, winning the Hamilton Centennial Challenge Trophy and $30 with a score of 164. The 21st Highlanders' first team won

WILL MAKE THORO STUDY OF ROAD CONDITIONS

Year's Program of Ontario Commission Embraces Exhaustive Investigation of Provincial Highways and Involves Collection of Immense Quantity of Statistics.

The year's program of the Ontario Highway Commission, released yesterday at the parliament buildings, embraces a most exhaustive investigation and study of provincial road conditions, and a plan to work out a specially-detailed expenditure in thoro and efficient manner. The method decided upon after the preliminary series of meetings involves the collection of an immense quantity of statistics. These will include data gathered from states of the road, which are experimenting with roadwork, and the actual facts of traffic in the different counties of Ontario.

A widespread census of traffic will be taken by engineering experts, and the returns will be tabulated to show in detail the exact demand of each municipality.

In addition, the population of the different parts will be carefully noted to warrant the amount of expenditure in the various cases.

To carry out the plan, a series of trips will be undertaken by the commission in October. The net results will then be included in a report for presentation at the next sitting of the Ontario house.

Joint secretaries have already been appointed in the persons of D. P. Wagner and F. G. McAllister, the latter of whom has acted for the year as secretary of the Good Roads Educational Association.

Farmers First.

From the course adopted, it is evident that the new system will serve primarily the interests of the farmer. Engineer W. A. McLean, stated last evening that the bulk of attention would be directed to studying out a relief of those roads used for the transportation of produce. One thing especially sought was the bringing together of the producer and the market in this way. An important conjunction was the proportioning of agricultural support with that of automobilists. When roads are used by both interests, a scheme must be evolved to harmonize the contribution of each.

Further, it is understood that the commission has not decided upon the wisdom of establishing a uniform system. Roads between larger cities, such as Hamilton and Toronto, demand a very durable fibre, whereas those used only by farm traffic would be served as well by the cheaper macadam.

In the meantime, the commission will meet periodically. Chairman McGrath will call the next meeting on Tuesday or Wednesday. Following this, it is not improbable that any outstanding ventures under the present roads system will stand over until after the report is laid before the legislature. Laws and regulations, economic features, finance, construction and maintenance, and educational facilities, summarize the work of the ensuing few months.

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 18.—(Can. NO TRACE YET OF HARRY THAW

Authorities, When They Locate Him, Hope to Be Able to Extradite Him on a Charge of Conspiracy With Associates Who Assisted Him in His Escape.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(Can. Press.)—Sundown tonight marked the 26th hour of Harry K. Thaw's freedom and the police of the United States and Canada, had not picked up his trail. They seek him not as the slayer of Stanford White or as an escaped lunatic, but on a warrant issued at Poughkeepsie today, charging him with conspiracy with the aged keeper, Howard Bernum, and the five men who managed the asylum delivery. On such a technicality does New York State base its hope of bringing about the fugitive's return.

Both factions of the double-barreled government in Albany have promised rigid investigations and the exertion of every effort to bring about his capture.

Thaw's seclusion today and tonight was absolute. Out of the cloud of rust which swirled in the wake of the black automobile bearing him and his liberators from Matteawan Sunday morning, nothing tangible had come except a jaunting letter from Thaw himself, assuring his aged mother in New York that he desired rest, and would, in due time, join her at the Thaw country place, Elmhurst, at Crescon, Penn. In obedience to this plan, Mrs. Thaw purposes to start for Crescon tomorrow morning. Happy, girlish almost in her joy, Mrs. Thaw exhibited the hastily scrawled note from the son whose escapades have cost the family

WOMAN VICTIM OF LOCKJAW

Mrs. Daisy Caldwell Trod on a Rusty Nail and Her Life is Despaired of.

Stricken with lockjaw at her home in Meadowville, Mrs. Daisy Caldwell, aged 29 years, was brought to the Western Hospital last night, and it is not likely that she will live. The woman has had nothing to eat for three days, and unless the hospital surgeons can discover some immediate treatment death will result.

About ten days ago Mrs. Caldwell was walking in the yard, when in some manner she stepped on a rusty nail. She did not attend to the injury at once, but a short time later applied some home remedy.

It was not until Saturday morning that symptoms of lockjaw were noticed. Dr. Moore of Meadowville was summoned, and at once diagnosed the case. Although Mrs. Caldwell could not eat, her case was at first not regarded as a very serious one. But early Monday the doctor decided to send her to the Western Hospital at Toronto.

Dr. Carveth is attending the young woman, but owing to the advanced stage of the case and other peculiar features surrounding it, there is little hope entertained for her recovery.

This is the second case of lockjaw to come to the Western Hospital within the past three weeks, a little boy dying from the disease.

PROTEST MADE TO HON. MR. FOY AGAINST DR. PICKERING'S "ADVICE"

Vigilance Association's Resolution Says That "Anarchial Policy of Non-Enforcement of Law" Was Advd by Coroner in Remarks on Vice Segregation—Judge Morson's Views in Disfavor.

At a meeting of Toronto Vigilance Association, held in Frances Willard Hall last night, a resolution was passed censuring Coroner Pickering for his recent remarks on vice segregation, and asking Attorney-General Foy to take cognizance of them. The ashes of the famous "Deborah" controversy are also raked over in the resolution for which J. W. Johnston and J. L. C. Wilson are sponsors.

The memorial reads as follows: Adopted at a public meeting of the Toronto Vigilance Association, held in Frances Willard Hall, Toronto Monday evening, Aug. 18, 1913.

Whereas the City of Toronto is a municipality in which generally speaking, the majesty of British law and the sacredness of the oath are held in the highest degree of admiration and respect, and

Whereas the sentiments of the citizens of Toronto are in variance with recent utterances from their respective benches of two representatives of the department of justice, to wit (1) by the intimation from Count Judge Morson to Police Magistrate Denison that he should have disregarded his oath of office and his own opinion based upon the evidence in the "Deborah" case, and should have given effect instead solely to the testimony of the so-called comos; of plays, and (2) by the address to the jury delivered by Coroner Latimer Pickering, sitting in a magisterial capacity, at the Toronto Morgue, August 14, 1913, in which he intimates to the department of police, that they should violate their oath of office by neglecting to arrest such men and women who were, in defiance of the criminal code of Canada, engaging in the business of prostitution, provided their resorts were not characterized by drunkenness or rowdiness, or as one eminent authority once phrased it, "were not unduly obnoxious;" therefore be it

Resolved, that the Toronto Vigilance Association emphatically condemns these utterances, particularly the more recent one of Coroner Pickering, which has attained continent-wide publicity, and the association desires to intimate that the coroner's inferences that a policy of segregation of vice is preferable to a policy of repression are not borne out by the facts in the case: (1) European cities where regulation of vice obtained are adopting suppression; (2) the same, save in a few instances, is true of United States cities. Des Moines, Iowa, possibly the "widest open" of them all, adopted suppression, and even so pronounced a segregationist as Mayor Mathis, was converted, and testifies: "Des Moines is now immeasurably cleaner than it has ever been before." Testimonials by the score can be obtained from this and other cities, showing that criminal assaults are less frequent than when segregation obtained. (3) Many vice

Sleeplessness

(Continued.) To form regular sleeping-habits one must begin at the very start. The mother should have a clear understanding with her nurse or the person who is to take care of her during her illness. This person has it in her power to make life easy or miserable for both mother and baby; from the very first day the baby should be taught to sleep in his own little basket or crib without rocking, walking, patting or anything else. He should be left alone except at regular meal-times, when he must be awakened and kept awake long enough to finish his meal, then changed, made comfortable and put back again to sleep in his crib. His bathing times should be so planned that they are to come just before meal-times, so that he will not have to be disturbed twice when once will do for both. In these days we are all inclined to be more or less nervous, and plenty of sleep is the best method of preventing this. There are several causes of sleeplessness. One of the first is bad training—the baby being waked every time a visitor comes in, or any time a member of the family feels like holding him. Whenever he happens to want a little exercise for his new little legs some one will rush at him and walk, rock or dandle him on the knee; the rocking will often send the blood flying up to the brain and make it impossible for him to sleep, even if he wants to do so. Babies should be treated like newborn kittens and handled as little as possible. Irregularity in the care of a baby causes him to be wakeful. Everything connected with the baby should be done on schedule time—is just as important for the baby as working on schedule time for the railroad. Again, something may be wrong about the food or method of feeding; either too much or too little food will cause a child to sleep poorly. Nothing could be worse for mother and baby than the habit of continual night nursing. It ruins the child's digestion and breaks up the mother's rest. If the baby really seems unable to sleep from hunger the mother should have her milk examined to see if it is nourishing enough. Milk may be very plentiful, but poor in quality. The bottle-fed child is not likely to wake with hunger—it is much more likely to be overfeeding. The food is given too often or too strong or too much at a time, and the baby has a stomach or bowels and makes baby uncomfortable. He wakes up, and his mother, thinking he is hungry, gives him more food, which only adds to his distress. The more he cries the more he is fed, and the more he is fed the more he cries. As soon as this baby food is properly regulated he will sleep well. Older children who are habitual poor sleepers suffer many times from much supper which they have not digested properly.

RESTORED AFTER SEVENTEEN YEARS

Kidnapped by Gypsies and Mourned for Dead, Boy is Finally Found.

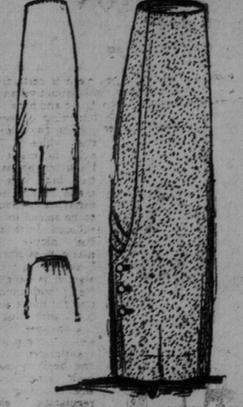

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(Can. Press.)—Word reached here today that Frederick Brouse, aged 24, who was kidnapped by gypsies 17 years ago, has been restored to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brouseau of Sisonville, St. Lawrence County, N. Y. They had long mourned him dead. On Oct. 14, 1896, when but 7 years of age, young Brouseau left home to meet his father at the edge of the village. That was the last seen of the boy in Sisonville. About a week ago a young man deserted from a band of gypsies in the Canadian wilds and took refuge with the monks of Oka. He could remember nothing of his history previous to becoming a member of the band, other than he had been called Frank and that his former home was in northern New York. The presence of the wanderer was reported to the Montreal police, and an aunt of the young man recognized his picture in a newspaper. The parents were notified and went to Montreal, where they positively identified Brouseau by a birthmark. He is being detained by the police as a witness against some of the gypsies, who are under arrest, charged with kidnaping.

Despite the threatening weather about 100 attended to do justice to the good things provided for tea, and to compete in races for some good prizes, many of which were kindly donated by the several managers attached to the store. The Edin Temperance Drum and Fife Band was in attendance, and added to the pleasure of the afternoon by rendering a good selection of music.

7895 Two-Piece Draped Skirt. 22 to 32 waist.

Every variety of draped skirt is fashionable this season and the model cut in two pieces seems to be the favorite. The one illustrated is very attractive. The back portion is slightly draped on both sides and the front is shaped and lapped over the back. If lined, the side seams can be left open for a portion of their depth. When finished at the natural waist-line the back can be fitted by means of darts or gathered. The model is adapted to almost any soft seasonable material. Here it is shown in rayon but it is equally well suited to charmeuse satin, foulard, the many soft wool materials that the season has brought forth and to many of the cotton fabrics. For the medium size, the skirt will require 3 1/2 yards of material 27 or 28 1/2 yards 30 or 44 inches wide. The width at the lower edge is 2 1/4 yards. The pattern of the skirt 7895 is cut in sizes from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of 15 cents.

St. John peaches from the Niagara district were sold on the Toronto fruit market yesterday, the first time this year. Crawford has not appeared as yet but are expected within the next week.

California fruits are now at their most plentiful season, and one firm alone sold well-nigh six carloads yesterday.

Yesterday's fruit and vegetable quotations are as follows: Canadian peaches, small baskets, 60c; large baskets, $1.25; apples, per basket, 25c to 50c; pears, 50c to 75c; cucumbers, 20c to 30c; cantaloupes, 20c to 25c; vegetable marrow, 20c to 30c; pumpkins, 30c; tomatoes, 40c to 65c; corn, per dozen ears, 16c to 15c.

Twenty Point Rise in Past Week Due to Buying Orders From the West.

WINNIFEG, Aug. 18.—(Can. The price realized today showed a twenty point rise in the past week.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

A Pot-Pourri

OF COURSE you meant to fill your rose jars with fragrant leaves long before this, but you have put it off until the queen of flowers has stopped blooming, and now it is too late, you think. Dried rose leaves have been favorites from time immemorial in scenting linen chests, dresser drawers, and living-rooms, but in the wide domain of Flora there are other flowers whose petals retain the fragrance of summer sunshine. Lemon verbena leaves and heliotrope flowers make a combination that never loses its lasting perfume. Lily petals, forget-me-not flowerets and indeed every flower that blooms may be added to one another to make a pot-pourri of sweet scents. Gather the flower petals every morning, when the day is fine and sunny, by shaking them from their stems or clipping them off with garden scissors. Put them in a basket and hang in a circulation of air. When you add fresh petals shake the others about so all dry equally. Rose geranium, as well as the lemon verbena leaves, may be mixed with the flower petals. Flowers from holly-hocks, geraniums and poppies will add their toll to the mixture, and this foundation may be added to daily as long as a blossom appears in the garden. When you have sufficient dry petals add to every quart of them an ounce of powdered alspice, two ounces of cinnamon in short sticks, nutmegs crushed, not grated, some ginger root, orris root and caraway seeds crushed fine. Mix this into the dry petals and put into jars or bags. Add any essential oils you prefer. Oil of rose, geranium or of lilac is inexpensive and very penetrating. Oil of verbena, jessamine, neroli and violet are more delicate. Rose water, Florida cologne or orange flower water may be added whenever you want a stronger fragrance, as after a room has been swept or when guests are expected. One hostess who is fond of summer scents tells me she has a large Arabian water jar filled in this way every summer and this she stands on a small table in her reception hall. Once in a while she shakes its contents about and sprinkles in a few dashes of toilet water and her entire house is made delicately fragrant.

THE GARDEN SERIAL STORY

MADE ALL EFFORT TO SAVE DECKHAND

Captain of Macassa Acted Promptly, Says Spectator of Accident.

H. H. Wylie, manager of Grimsby Beach Park, who witnessed from the shore the drowning of Arthur Johnson, deckhand of the Macassa, on Saturday, issued a statement last night in which he contradicts details of the published report of the accident. He says: "Arthur Johnson, at the time of the accident, was standing outside of the railing near the stern of the boat on the promenade deck. He was just at a gateway, pulling up a fender. On top of the gate was a wooden rail, but not attached to the gate. This section of the rail lifts up. As Johnson, on the outside, braced himself to pull up the fender, he pulled up on the rail and it lifted up and let him drop. If Johnson had been on the deck of the steamer he could not have fallen overboard even if he had lifted the rail.

"Five hundred life preservers and chairs were in easy reach of the passengers close to Johnson. If any of those people had kept their wits about them and thrown something overboard it might have saved the young man's life.

Steamer Traveling Fast.
"The steamer was going full speed, a mile in four minutes, and had traveled a full quarter of a mile in the one minute that elapsed before the captain got the alarm in thirty seconds the steamer was turning on a pivot and heading back, a lifeboat ready to lower, but possibly 2,500 feet, a full half mile, away from the man in the water.

"Within 500 feet of the struggling man, who could not swim, were two husky young men in light 18-foot steel boat, with two pairs of oars. They saw Johnson fall, but although they rowed like demons they could not reach him in time to save him, being possibly fifty feet away when he disappeared.

Made Quick Return.
"The steamer came up to the spot in remarkably quick time, lay to for ten minutes, secured Johnson's cap, and, realizing nothing further could be done, started for Toronto.

"I never saw a steamer quicker or better handled, nor men respond more quickly to a lifeboat call. It seemed but a moment after the alarm sounded before the boat was hanging over the side, ready to receive the man. Henderson is known as one of the most careful captains on the lake. He has been on the Macassa for over fifteen years, and this is the first man he has lost overboard.

Marigolds

Homely, old-fashioned flowers, but how many memories they carry. Marigolds! But there are marigolds, and marigolds. There are African marigolds, and French marigolds, and—marigolds.

Harriet Keeler in her excellent book, "Our Garden Flowers," says:—This, the marigold of southern Europe has enjoyed great and lasting popularity. It has been dedicated to the Virgin Mary, and made prominent at her festivals. It has been an emblem of affection and sympathy as well as of jealousy and grief. At the same time that it adorned the dress of great ladies, it was esteemed as the "Herb-general of all pottages."

Sturdy, long-flowering, almost ever-lasting, in their power of resisting decay, requiring little care, little moisture, little cultivation, and self-seeding, if you will let them, really the marigolds has many good points.

THE TRIPLE TIE BY A. H. C. MITCHELL
In that game the Philadelphia nine was composed of nine players with but a single "thump," nine bats that thumped as one. They took advantage of every opening, and with Chief Bender in the box, played with a dash and confidence that filled their supporters with glee, and when the cohorts went back to Philadelphia that night, it was the hope that the White Sox had gotten rid of all their bad playing, and that on the morrow, with Big Ed Walsh in the box, they would brace up and take the Red Sox into camp, thereby making things all even again, with the triple tie no further decided than it was at the start.

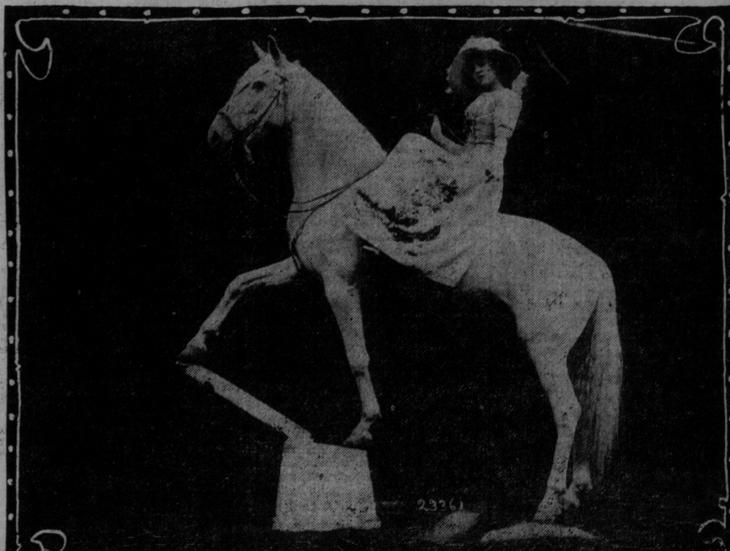

No white silk-stocking banners were flaunted on Broadway that night. The emblems were laid aside for the evening, while tax owners thereof sought rathskellers and similar places for the purpose of drowning their sorrows in the flowing bowl. But Comiskey, the owner of the Chicago Club, never gave up the baseball ship. The "Old Roman" called the members of his team to his room and after giving them a verbal dressing down for their wretched exhibition, as only Comiskey himself could do, he exhorted them to go after the Red Sox on the following day and wipe up the Polo Grounds with them.

"Now go out there and beat that Boston bunch!" he exclaimed vehemently in conclusion, "and when you do it I'll hand every member of the team $500. And you, Walsh," he added, turning to the big pitcher, "one thousand and extra for you for winning the game."

The morrow came—a glorious October day. The Polo Grounds was packed for the battle of the Red Sox and the White Sox, and when they met, headache, full of remorse for the past and hope for the future, the thousand Chicago masses, themselves in that section of the stadium nearest first base, while opposite them, behind third base, sat the rabid Boston "fans," waving red banners and yelling for the Red Sox, at the slightest provocation. The Chicago crowd, too, had promised by Comiskey he considered as good as in the bank in Meriden. He began proceedings by striking out Hooper and Yarkes and forcing Speaker to roll an easy one to the box, which Walsh himself tossed to first for the third out.

Both sides were blanked in the second inning. In the third the White Sox went out in order, but the Red Sox got two men on—Wagner by means of a pass and Cady on a single to right. Stahl sent Henriksen in to bat for Bedient, but the little fellow hit into a double play and Hooper fouled to Chase. The Red Sox were still without a run to their credit.

Ray Collins came out to pitch in place of Bedient, and he retired the White Sox in order. For Boston, Speaker singled after Yarkes had been disposed of, but neither Lewis nor Gardner could bring him home. The fifth inning was also scoreless for both teams, but the Red Sox came near doing some damage to Walsh in their half of the round. Engle was safe on a low throw of his grounder. Wagner laid down a bunt toward first and beat it to the bag, as no one covered first. Cady advanced the runners with a sacrifice, but the chance of scoring two runs, Stahl himself went to bat in place of Collins and succeeded in drawing a pass to first. This filled the bases with only one out. Stahl, who was still limping from an old injury to his foot, called upon Neil Ball to run for him. The Red Sox rooters cheered wildly as Hooper came to the plate. He drove a liner to Mattick and Engle, who tried to score from third, was thrown out at the plate. This piece of ill luck so disconcerted the Royal Rooters' hand that it forgot to play "Tessie" for the first time on record.

TUESDAY MORNING, AUG. 19.

ROMANTIC FIGURES.

After reading last night's Telegram, we should not be surprised if Mayor Hocken would resign, that is, if he reads The Telegram. That paper devotes nearly a page, editorially, to showing what a perfect rat-hole to throw money into the street railway system is. And how clearly The Telegram proves its case! You rise from a perusal of the article feeling absolutely confident that The Telegram could prove anything. It has long been known that the street railway is a losing proposition. Some have thought that the city was losing by it, but The Telegram makes it clear that the Mackenzie interests are on the verge of bankruptcy owing to the drain on their resources caused by paying the city's share of receipts. It is only a matter of months, or perhaps weeks, one feels after reading The Telegram, till Sir William Mackenzie comes to the city and begs us for heaven's sake to take it off his hands, and what will the city take extra to relieve him of the burden.

This seems rather a strong way of putting it, but there is The Telegram article, and after reading it, if you are not convinced that Sir William is up against it, you haven't the calculating powers of a thinking horse. And do not attempt to evade the issue by trying to find flaws in The Telegram's arguments. It is true that The Telegram figures a larger deficit last night than it did a week ago, but that is only The Telegram's way of breaking the bad news gently to Sir William and Sir Dan.

"You see The Telegram?" one can imagine Sir Dan remarking. And Sir William would not despairingly. "There's no doubt we're broke," would come the trembling accents of Sir Dan.

"I never could have believed it if The Telegram hadn't said so," Sir William would remark. "And aren't they clever to see it all so clear, and make it so plain. We'll have to go to Mexico," phone for Tommy Church. He can arrange to take over the system, and maybe they won't ask us to be 'peas' anything."

"Perhaps we'd better see R. J. first?" "Perhaps we might."

"Then R. J. comes in with that breezy manner which The Telegram describes so well, and they lay the case before him. "Trust your Uncle Robert," he encourages them. "The Telegram is only knocking Hocken's case down. And we're not broke?" says Sir Dan. "And we're not bankrupt?" says Sir William.

"Not on your life," says R. J. "You see where they quote Bion J. Arnold as wanting 70 per cent. for operating expenses? Well, that applies to the whole city system after they take in half of York county, and run excursions into all the new suburbs. Operating expenses are, let's say 55 per cent, but we can shade that."

"Then were nine millions to the good," Sir Dan would yell, figuring as quick in his head as a thinking horse. "Exactly," R. J. would reply. "What a load you have taken off our minds," Sir William would say. "You must draw another ten thousand per. from the first of the month."

We feel that this is quite as valuable a contribution to the literature of the subject, as The Telegram's four deal last night. Its figures are not as reliable as the valuator's will be, and we are content to wait for their report.

THE SHAME OF NEW YORK.

The State of New York is presenting a sorry spectacle to the world today. While the politicians are turning the capital into a den of iniquity, a dangerous lunatic, with a murder to his credit, and a pocketful of money, makes his way by a bridge of gold to a neighboring state and laughs at the authorities of New York. There is no governor with an unquestioned title to the office to issue a requisition, and we are told that the sovereign state of Connecticut would not surrender the madman in any event. It has not been so long ago that a man indicted for murder in Kentucky found an asylum in Indiana, where he practised law with considerable success for many years. When the B.N.A. Act was adopted, the Canadian statesmen sought to do away with the anomalies growing out of state rights which had brought the administration of law in the United States into disorder and confusion. Parliament was authorized to establish federal courts and to provide for the enforcement of federal laws. For some reason, however, there has been little attempt by the federal government to enforce federal laws, and every province has been free to "nullify" acts of parliament by inaction. Moreover, many statutes of nation-wide significance, not being enforced by the national authority, have fallen into contempt.

It must be admitted that in the United States, the federal courts are extending their sphere of influence, and often oppose with the authority of the nation, a nation-wide conspiracy. Here in Canada, on the other hand, the Dominion Government but seldom uses its wealth and power to vindicate the supreme authority of parliament.

SHREWD SIR THOMAS.

Mr. George Bury, of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, extols the wisdom and foresight of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy in raising one hundred million dollars by an issue of common stock in the summer of 1912, a year in advance of the time the money was needed. It was a good time for a stock issue undoubtedly, but does Mr. Bury's eulogy of Sir Thomas include his shrewdness in co-manipulating the stock issue as to secure a sixty-million dollar margin for his shareholders? Common stock of the Canadian Pacific would no doubt readily bring $175 today. But the spread between that price and the market price would be far less than it was a year ago. It would not be so attractive a melon for the financial eagle.

With the inside knowledge he possessed, Sir Thomas no doubt acted shrewdly in raising one hundred million dollars last summer for use this summer in Canada. As to the "unkind criticism," of which Mr. Bury complains, it was based upon the fact that Sir Thomas could have obtained the one hundred million dollars at that time, by issuing 4 per cent bonds, and disposing of them at par. He preferred to issue 10 per cent stock, and to allocate the same among the shareholders at 175. The net result is a permanent additional burden of two million dollars a year upon the patrons of the Canadian Pacific.

TO BUY OUT THE CANADIAN NORTHERN.

The Winnipeg Free Press has a presentation that the Borden government will base its appeal to the country upon a proposal to purchase the Canadian Northern, link it up with the Intercolonial, and operate a government railway from sea to sea. For this reason among others it thinks that the Intercolonial is to be operated on business principles, and a showing made that will convince the most sceptical that government operation spells efficiency in railway management. The Free Press evidently believes that the proposal would meet with popular favor, if the property be acquired at a reasonable price. The Canadian Northern system, it says, should be taken over at a physical valuation, less the amounts received by it in financial grants from the government.

Just why the owners of the Canadian Northern should be obliged to return the money they have received from the government of Canada, while the owners of the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk Pacific are allowed to retain what they received, our contemporary does not explain. Indeed, we suspect that The Free Press is convinced that the policy it outlines as the policy of the Borden government is one that must ultimately result in the nationalization of all the railways of Canada.

At present the government, as a railway owner, occupies a most awkward position. It owns two railways between Levis and Moncton, where at present there is scarcely business for one. The Intercolonial stops at Montreal and originates but little business from west to east. It must be extended to the Georgian Bay, the Detroit River and the Niagara frontier, if it is to regulate freight rates and become a real competitor for traffic. Some railway will yet have to acquire a fleet of vessels on the great lakes and even on the Atlantic.

Then the Dominion Government is building a railway from the Saskatchewan River to Hudson Bay entirely unconnected with the road it now owns between Moncton and Winnipeg. The latter can be connected up with the Intercolonial at Quebec notwithstanding the lease to the Grand Trunk Pacific, and we venture to suggest that in some way it must be connected up with the Hudson Bay Railway, possibly by a direct line from Winnipeg to Le Pas.

However this may be, the country will watch with interest and approval the efforts of Mr. Cochrane to eliminate party politics from the management of the Intercolonial. The North Carolina statesman who announced that government regulation of railway rates must result in government ownership and operation was not so wide of the mark. We are coming to government ownership of railways in Canada thru the general conviction of the people that any efficient, widespread, and equitable rate regulation will terminate in such ownership.

We are not sure whether The Telegram engaged the assistance of a thinking horse on those four double columns last night. There are such conflicting statements from Germany about the animals' intelligence, and we do not wish to underrate their ability.

MR. BOYCE'S SUCCESSOR.

Up by the Soo there is talk of a by-election in West Algoma. Mr. A. C. Boyce, M.P., it is said, may be appointed a high court judge. The Saint Ste. Marie Express (Lib.) is authority for the statement that many candidates are already in the field for the

Thousands of Tons of Supplies, Drills, Etc., Shipped From Alberta City.

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 18.—(Special).—Roused by recent discoveries of rich undeveloped mineral, asphalt, gas and oil resources in various parts of the western provinces, scores of prospectors and experts known in many camps throughout the United States and Canada are making exhaustive searches in the Peace River country and other northern districts. Central and Southern Alberta are also being prospected as never before.

The Dominion and provincial governments have their experts in the field, and even some of the northern Indians and half-breeds, who usually confine their operations to trapping furs, which is no mean industry when it is recalled that pure black fox pelts bring as high as $10,000 a pair in this and outside markets, are using the pick, pan and drill to uncover wealth hidden in the hills, canyons and river beds all over the west.

COPPER COINAGE.

Calgary seems to be going in strongly for copper coinage, the new Hudson Bay store having announced its intention of adopting it. The reason given for the step is that "everybody's making people realize the value of money," says another. Certain it is that henceforth coppers will not be despised as they were considered certain evidence that who tendered them had but recently arrived from Ontario.—Moore's Law News.

A FISH YARN.

I once hooked a beautiful fish, boys, a fish that without any doubt was all that a fellow could wish, boys—a beauty from wiggle to snout. And oh, when I thought he was mine, boys, my heart was as light as a bird, but he slipped from the end of my line, boys—I'll tell you just how it occurred. I rowed to a spot where I thought, boys, the fishing would likely be fair, and a couple of nice ones caught, boys; then I loaded my hook with some care. I picked out my temptingly worm, boys, a worm that no fish could resist, ah, how it did wriggle and squirm, boys, and coasting fidget and twist, as I hoisted him over the side, boys, and landed him into the drink, and scarce had he sunk in the tide, boys, than zip! ere a fellow could wink, a fish that I never can forget, boys, until I lie silent in death, my juicy, fat worm, pruned and set, boys, before I had time to take breath. Then what a grand struggle he made, boys, to shake my hook out and get free; the skill and the strength he displayed, boys, were sweeter than honey to me; but when at the last he seemed spent, boys, while I was pulling him in, again at his antics he went, boys, and suddenly quicker than lightning, he made a fierce leap at my rod, boys, and bit the thing nearly in half, and then, I will wager my wad, boys, dropped back in the waves with a laugh; and tho' at his size you may snort, boys, and say I am putting it strong, as I was a half a rod short, boys, that fish was a half a rod long!—Sherwood Hart.

PROSPECTORS BUSY AT PEACE RIVER

Many Parties Are Searching for Mineral and Oil Resources.

EDMONTON THE BASE

Thousands of Tons of Supplies, Drills, Etc., Shipped From Alberta City.

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 18.—(Special).—Roused by recent discoveries of rich undeveloped mineral, asphalt, gas and oil resources in various parts of the western provinces, scores of prospectors and experts known in many camps throughout the United States and Canada are making exhaustive searches in the Peace River country and other northern districts. Central and Southern Alberta are also being prospected as never before.

The Dominion and provincial governments have their experts in the field, and even some of the northern Indians and half-breeds, who usually confine their operations to trapping furs, which is no mean industry when it is recalled that pure black fox pelts bring as high as $10,000 a pair in this and outside markets, are using the pick, pan and drill to uncover wealth hidden in the hills, canyons and river beds all over the west.

COPPER COINAGE.

Calgary seems to be going in strongly for copper coinage, the new Hudson Bay store having announced its intention of adopting it. The reason given for the step is that "everybody's making people realize the value of money," says another. Certain it is that henceforth coppers will not be despised as they were considered certain evidence that who tendered them had but recently arrived from Ontario.—Moore's Law News.

EIGHTY MILLIONS FOR IRRIGATION

Congress Asked to Approve Plan for Fertilizing Dakotas.

MIGHT REDUCE FLOODS

Scheme is to Irrigate a Strip of Country Five Hundred Miles Long.

CHAMBERLAIN, S.D., Aug. 17.—Arrangements are being completed for a preliminary survey of one of the great irrigation and water storage projects in the history of the west. The project has as a part of its plan the storage of the flood waters of the Missouri and other rivers, thus reducing by millions of gallons the volume of water which in the past have poured down the Missouri and aided in the destruction of property on the lower Mississippi River.

The waters thus stored in huge reservoirs at different points will be utilized for irrigating farm lands. It is estimated there will be sufficient volume to irrigate 5,000,000 acres, much of which now is practically worthless for agricultural purposes because of insufficient rainfall in the growing season.

TO REDEEM LAND.

A great area of western North Dakota and northwestern South Dakota is generally known as the "Red River" character, and especially does this appear to be true with reference to that section lying west of the Missouri River and north of the White River in the two states. The land is good, and with the customary water will produce abundant crops.

The Missouri traverses the length of this great domain, and the plan is to utilize the great natural reservoirs in the upper Missouri River country and there deposit the flood waters of the Yellowstone and Missouri Rivers, and to lay great irrigation pipes through an area covering the breadth of the two states.

HOPE TO REDUCE FLOODS.

Those who are pushing the project state that this flood of water from the upper Missouri River plays an important part in causing the annual damage of $50,000,000 along the lower Mississippi River, thru the flooding of rich lands and towns.

Much of this damage would be averted by the pushing of this project to a successful end. The plan is to irrigate a strip of country twenty-five miles wide and 500 miles long. The water would be conveyed the five hundred miles in immense tubes of iron or concrete having a diameter of twelve feet. At intervals along the route of this gigantic pipe line lateral tubes of smaller diameter would lead from the main tube for the purpose of conveying water to the region to be irrigated on each side.

It is urged that it would be cheaper for the United States Government to finance this project than to expend annually millions in the building of dykes in the lower Mississippi Valley and keeping them in repair.

JOHN C. BAYLISS DEAD AT DIXIE

Well Known Toronto Contractor Succumbs to Paralytic Stroke.

Following a paralytic stroke, the second that he had sustained, John C. Bayliss, a well-known contractor, who built numerous public buildings in Toronto, died at his summer home at Dixie on Sunday at 6.30 p.m.

Mr. Bayliss was born in Illington, England, in 1854, but came to Toronto when he was 29 years old. Until his death there were four generations in the family, his father John Bayliss, 84 years old, who is still alive, his son, W. H. Bayliss, and a grandson, several years ago he lived in Meaford and later in Walkerton, but for the past 18 years he has been engaged in contracting work in Toronto.

He was a bricklayer by trade, and in this respect was a self-made man. His firm built many public schools in the city, the latest one being the Duke of Connaught school. The firm also built St. Anne's Anglican Church, and is at present working on the Church of St. Mark, the Yrca.

He leaves a widow, a son, W. H. Bayliss, who succeeded him in the contracting business last May, and three daughters.

He was a member of St. Anne's Anglican Church, of the Builders' Exchange, of St. George's Society, of the C.O.F., of the A.O.F., of the Royal Templars, and of the Lakeview Curling Club.

Farm Laborers' Excursions—This year's wheat crop will be the largest in the history of Canada.

The wheat crop of 1913 will be the greatest ever harvested in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, thus requiring the farm laborers of the east to recruit and assist in harvesting the world's greatest bread basket.

The government's great bread basket provinces state that forty thousand men will be required for this year's harvest. These will have to be principally recruited from Ontario, and the property of Canada depends on securing labor promptly. The Canadian Pacific, on which company will fall practically the entire task of transporting the men to the west, is already making special arrangements for this year. Excursions from points in Ontario and Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be run, and special trains operated, making the trip in about thirty-six hours and avoiding any change of cars or transfers. This will be a day shorter than any other route.

CAN NOW BUILD FOREST HILL LINE

York Township Council Passed Clear Copy of Agreement Yesterday.

MONEY FOR LEASIDE

Sum of Five Hundred Voted Toward Road Repairs in Municipality.

So far as the York Township Council is concerned, the Forest Hill Railroad is finally disposed of, and it remains for the company to go ahead and build the line. At their meeting yesterday the council finally passed a clear copy of the agreement, which was altered so much at the last meeting that it had to be re-ensured.

There is so much detail to be put in shape yet in order that the estimates for the year and the mill rate may be struck, that the matter was postponed until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when a special meeting will be held.

In view of the fact that the township is collecting a large sum in taxes from Leaside this year, they decided to appropriate a sum of $500 to be spent in graveling the roads in the new municipality.

Tired of Waiting, he said, and had become hopeless, and they would be willing to support the council in any remedy suggested, even although the only course was to make a contract with a private company.

"It's two years ago since the Hydro-Electric lighting was arranged," said Mr. Jennings, "and we are no further forward today. My own house has been wired for a year, and I can't get light."

Another matter Mr. Jennings brought before the council was the delay in connection with Hydro lighting in the district.

People were tired of waiting, he said, and had become hopeless, and they would be willing to support the council in any remedy suggested, even although the only course was to make a contract with a private company.

LINDSAY TEACHER IS NEW PRINCIPAL

D. D. Smith Appointed Head of New Fairbank School.

D. D. Smith of Lindsay, Ontario, has been appointed principal of new school. He will be assisted by a staff of five teachers and the old Fairbank school will also be under his supervision.

Mr. Smith has had many years' experience in Ontario schools—twelve years as a principal. The new school which will likely be ready for opening about the second week in October is one of the best in the country. It is a red brick structure with Roman stone trimmings and has accommodation for 300 children including six classrooms, two recreation rooms, teachers' room, board room and basement and four toilet rooms. The building stands on an acre of ground which will be used as a playground.

The district has been growing so rapidly of late that as soon as this school is open another will be required.

At present many Fairbank children are attending city schools under an arrangement between the school trustees and the city board of education.

House numbering to facilitate the delivery of mail by carrier, which will be inaugurated soon, has almost been completed. Many people would like the boundaries of the new Fairbank, and by others as Toronto Heights.

A special meeting of the North Fairbank Ratepayers' Association will be held tonight to consider the possibilities for better fire protection in the district.

While residents were well satisfied with the work of the city brigades, the latter were working under difficulties and had the facilities for better fire protection certainly have been checked much sooner. There is considerable distrust regarding the origin of some of the latest fires and some members of the association are advocating an investigation. A large turnout is requested by the executive, as the business is important.

HUMBERVALE. There will be a meeting of the shareholders and lotholders of the Humbervale Cemetery on Saturday at Lambton Park (Lambton Mills, at the end of the Suburban Railway) at 3 p.m.

The object of the meeting is to receive the report of the committee appointed at the last meeting held in the cemetery on August 12, 1912, to complete the organization required to prevent the desecration of the cemetery and to make a report on the matter.

THORNHILL. Twenty men and twelve teams have been working for some weeks constructing a dam across the Don in this neighborhood, which will make an artificial lake with an area of forty acres, to be used for boating and other aquatic sports. Residents in the district claim that plans are now under way for a fine new road which will be built on the rising ground to the south of the lake for the accommodation of summer visitors and to make a route to the lake from the city.

Mrs. S. Shuter and Mrs. D. James have returned from their European tour.

On Wednesday afternoon, on the Humber River, the Humber Bay Canoe Club will hold their first regatta as a club, although this fixture has been a yearly event in the annals of the west end paddlers. W. FRITH, JR., WINS QUOTING HANDICAP

The weekly handicap of the Victoria Quoting Club was held Saturday afternoon. The weather was fine, and the game started, but the final game between A. McFadden and W. Frith, Jr., was played in a downpour of rain. This was not going heavy, and as it proved too much for the veteran McFadden, he surrendered first place to his more youthful opponent.

Manager Benjamin talks of the first tour—playing this week at Rosedale. The Australian cricket team arrived in Toronto yesterday from Montreal to prepare for the game next Friday and Saturday at Rosedale with the All-American eleven. His team are now on the return journey, after playing in many U. S. cities and the West Indies. The clubs in the islands are the weakest they met on the trip. The game promises well in the U. S. Mr. Benjamin specially mentioning Providence and Pittsburgh. He has already arranged for these two places next year, when he will return with another team, that will include six of the present side.

The Ontario Jockey Club, which closed Aug. 11, afford interesting reading and proof that the coming meeting of the O.J.C. will equal, if not surpass, its many successful predecessors. The owners represented are those always to be found at the meetings held at Woodbine, and are numbered among the supporters of the Canadian and American turf. Scarcely a good horse now racing is missing from this list, which is an excellent one both as regards quantity and quality, but outstanding in the entry of thirty-five in the Handicapped Steeplechase, for so far this current racing season has been a disappointment to lovers of steeplechasing owing to the scarcity of these races, due to lack of material, the elaborate steeplechase program given by the Ontario Jockey Club in the spring was run with the entry of thirty-five, now an event at two and a half miles restricted to four-year-olds and upward.

Toronto Autumn Cup. For three-year-olds and upwards. By subscription of $20 each or $5 if declared to the winner, with $2500 added. One mile and a quarter.

THE HORSE MARKET AT MAHER'S EXCHANGE.

The horse market continues quiet with the usual summer trade in the cheaper classes. The stables were well stocked with horses of all classes for Monday's sale, and heavy drafts and expressers were to be had at very low prices.

The attention of farmers and breeders is especially called to the great Clyde's sale to take place on Wednesday next. This is Farmers' Day at the exhibition, and it will be worth while to see the splendid array of the finest registered thoroughbred Clydesdale fillies and colts that have ever been shipped from the well-known importer, Mr. Isaac Williamson. Catalogues may be had on request.
