REPORT.

The principle which actuates the genuine missionary band, is derived from heaven ; and whether traced back to its source, followed onward through its progress, or contemplated in its final results, recommends itself to every rational creature.— That principle is benevolence—the love or benevolence of Christ which constraineth us to employ our talents in promoting the salvation of lost men. In the life of the blessed Redeemer we have a living personification of love ; and when the professed followers of the Saviour imitate this example, but not till then, may they with justice claim the name of christian. Times have been, when but little of this energetic, Christ-like, benevolence, existed in the world ; but these have not been the palmy days of the Church. The missionary zeal and enterprize of a church furnish an unquestionable criterion whereby we may judge of its religious attainments at any given point of time. It is utterly unreasonable and vain to expect a community to “cry and sigh” for the condition of others, when spiritual desolation reigns in their own souls. Often and truthfully has it been observed that “charity,” or the love of God “begins at home.” Self, furnishes the starting point, and the first scene of its operations ; and it differs mainly from the sinful, self-love of the world, in that it rests not at home. Disinterested and expansive, like its Divine author, the missionary spirit “stretches its arms like seas,” and as the limit of its operations, “grasps in all the shore.” Wherever ignorance, sin and misery have established their court—whether in civilized or savage nations, whether in the “city full” or amid the wild scenery of the back woods—the church, imbued with a missionary spirit, finds an appropriate place for carrying on her operations.

Entertaining these sentiments, your Committee contemplates with pleasure the present position, as well as the past labours of our little band; nor would we omit to record our devout gratitude to the God of missions, for the wide fields of usefulness he has opened up before us, and the success with which he has crowned the labours of our missionaries. Every sinner converted from the error of his way (and we rejoice to state that such instances have not been few the past year) is an attestation of the divine commission under which we act, an evidence of the presence of the angel of the covenant with our vanquishing hosts, a stimulus to greater effort and a pledge of future success. On most of our Stations, such animating indications have been vouchsafed. The dissemination of divine truth has resulted in the awakening of the careless and indifferent to thoughtfulness and prayer, to penitence and faith. Deaths and removals have to some extent diminished our number, yet the Circuit returns show an increase of three hundred and twenty eight during the past year; and to such an extent have our Circuits been enlarged that the division of several stations has been rendered necessary. And although the Lord of the harvest has sent out into our section of his vineyard, several additional labourers, yet we have openings, either unoccupied or but partially supplied. The growing importance and rapid settlement of many of the Townships in the interior, call for prompt effort to supply the inhabitants with the word of life. The spirit of enterprize which at present prevails in this province, connected with the immense natural advantages we possess, are attracting to our shores such large numbers from the fatherland, that soon the wilderness of the remotest part of Canada, must yield to the hand of industry and become fruitful fields. But if, while natural harvests are gathered, the hearts of the people remain a moral waste, what will our progress avail? How important, under these circumstances, that the Church exercise the necessary zeal and liberality, for the gathering of this extensive harvest! The settlers in these remote parts of our prosperous land are thirsting for the living water ; and hence, may we not appropriately pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth more labourers, the fields being already white unto harvest.

Nor is it merely from the back woods, that the Macedonian cry is heard. From Montreal an urgent invitation has been sent for the re-establishment of a Church and the appointment of a suitable pastor. To this call, however, the Conference has found it impossible, at present, to attend, as the supply of that city with a Missionary, would leave another important station destitute of an adequate supply. Your Committee, nevertheless, feel deeply impressed with the importance of possessing an interest in Montreal ; and fervently hope that at no distant day, the Conference will be in a position to meet this demand.

Indicative of the increase of zeal in the Missionary enterprise, your Committee refer with pleasure to the increased liberality of the patrons of our Auxiliary Association. The amount subscribed during the past year exceeds that of the previous year ; and we trust the same growing liberality will enable our successors in office to record still stronger evidences of expanding beneficence amongst us.

Your Committee cannot conclude the present Report without recording its gratitude to our beloved brethren in England, for the increasing interest they manifest in our Canadian work, the enlarged liberality, the affectionate counsels, whereby they prompt us to greater diligence and ardour, in our hallowed enterprise. And we doubt not, when the triumph of the Redeemer shall have been consummated, they shall have their reward, while they hear the Judge Eternal applaud their disinterested beneficence, and read amid the clear light of eternity the results of their well-directed enterprise.

The removal of our esteemed brother, the Rev. H. O. Crofts, from the Superintendency of the Canadian Mission, demands more than a passing notice. For twelve years he laboured as a Missionary in Canada; two years as stationed preacher in Montreal; four years as Superintendent of Canada East; and for six years as General Superintendent of the whole Mission. He was the originator of our Auxiliary Missionary Society; and in promoting the interests of the Mission, has again and again been brought nigh into the grave. In returning to the land which gave him birth, the prayers of our Zion in this country, for his personal welfare, and his more abundant usefulness in the Lord's vineyard, accompany him.

With feelings of unmingled pleasure, your Committee hail the coming of the Rev. J. H. Robinson as the successor of the Rev. H. O. Crofts, as the Superintendent of this Mission.— His well-known zeal and ability as a minister of Christ, his extensive acquaintance with the rules and usages of the Body, and his practical knowledge of the working of our system, amply qualify him for the work, to which the English Conference has appointed him. And while we address to Bro. R. a hearty welcome on his coming amongst us, we do not forget the debt of gratitude we owe to our beloved brethren in England for this most suitable appointment. Contemplating the united efforts of our esteemed brethren Robinson and McClure in the oversight of the Mission, we feel assured that our interests as a community, will be regarded. Respecting the position of the General and Assistant Superintendents, one fact alone gives us pain. Such is the lack of labourers, that both these brethren have the charge of Stations, in addition to their general oversight of the work. This we view as an evil; an evil, however, which for the present cannot be obviated. But your Committee hope, ere long, to see this evil rectified, and our brethren to whom is committed the superintendence of the Mission, devoting all their energies to the general work.

To the Collectors and Patrons of our Auxiliary Association great praise is due; and your Committee would most cordially record its thanks for the aid they have given. To these, we

In conclusion, your Committee would call on the patrons and friends of our Mission generally, to pray for the Divine blessing to rest upon us as a community, for the Spirit's influence to accompany our efforts to save souls from death. For we are deeply conscious that the wilderness must remain unproductive, until the spirit is poured upon us from on high. May the year upon which we are entering be characterized by increased zeal and liberality, and more abundant success!
