ARE FAR APART YET ON MATTERS ABOUT THE MINES

Early Settlement of Big British Problem Not in Sight

Question of the National Pool Outstanding One—Expression of View That at Least it Ought to Be Discussed.

London, April 21.—An expert examination of the coal mine owners' new proposals leaves many important points doubtful, and, in view of the determination of the miners to maintain the national pool plank in their platform, the opinion is expressed today that the negotiations of the independent M. P.s which saved the country from a general strike last week will be required again if an early settlement of the coal deadlock is to be obtained.

The premier has taken the position that the national pool would entail government control, and has refused to admit it into the negotiations.

The miners maintain that their scheme of a national pool does not call for government control of the mines and that it can be brought about by treaty agreement between the owners and the miners. Lloyd George's ipse dixit, they say, does not by any means imply that he is right and the miners wrong on this essential point, and it is a noteworthy fact that today's Evening Standard, which is a strong supporter of the coalition government, says: "We believe the pool scheme is impossible without re-control, and re-control the nation and the government will paralyse it on it, it should, we think, at least be discussed. It is no use simply saying that the thing is impossible; it should be proved to be impossible."

Sir William Beveridge, director of the London school of economics, makes the following point: "It is no use merely hearing the miners in the fight on the question of the pool unless one can convince them, or at least their leaders, in the argument, and thus get their co-operation in any scheme that may ultimately be adopted. Without that, we cannot hope to get a really good output."

FOUND FORTUNE IN OLD COINS ON VIRGINIA FARM

Salem, Va., April 21.—Henry Dameron, twenty-five, descendant of pioneer Virginia settlers, who works on his uncle's mountaintop farm, near here, from sun up to sun down at $10 a month, often dreamed, he said, of finding a treasure and buying a farm of his own.

On April 9th, while plowing near the foot of Brush's Mountain, his plow unearthed a small metal pot wrapped in buckskin and containing gold and silver coins, valued at $14,908. The latest date on any of the coins was 1823.

Young Dameron was fearful that his fortune might be taken from him and kept his discovery a secret until today.

ONE STOCK MAKES 12 POINT GAIN

Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Has Boost in Wall Street.

New York, April 21.—(10.30).—A ten-point advance in Delaware, Lackawanna and Western shares based on the announcement that the interstate commerce commission has authorized a $45,000,000 stock dividend, was the outstanding feature at the opening of the stock market.

Manhattan. Elevated recovered part of yesterday's severe loss on denial of reports that its lease with Interborough to be in the industrial division, however, declines were the rule, especially among steels and equipments. Crucible, Lackawanna and Republic steels, also Bethlehem, Leominster, Royal Dutch and American Sugar soon reacted one to two points.

Standard Oil of New Jersey forfeited five points of its recent substantial rise.

Noon Report. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western extended its gain to twelve points during the morning, and Kansas City Southern also strengthened, but rails, as a group showed little support. Steels and equipments also lacked recuperative power and foodstuffs were heavy, especially Jewel Tea Preferred and Food Products.

Oils continued to feature the constructive side of the market, notably low priced issues. Miscellaneous issues, including American Ice, National Biscuit and Adams Express, also gained one to three points. Call money on the exchange again opened at 6 1/2 per cent, although lending at six per cent in the outside market.

DISORDERS SPREAD TO SOUTH ITALY

The premier asserted that all violence would be severely and energetically repressed.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, he dropped in to that there Sociated Charities yesterday with Judge Ritchie, an' I got one of the biggest surprises I've had for a long time. A little wisp of a gal stood up there an' talked on 'bout the babies. She'd come over from England an' Nootfoundland. She'd been in France an' Philadelphia an' I don't know where. When she over here, she reminded me of a young gal we had once out to the Settlement teachin' school. She seemed sort of flustered, I thought—talkin' to old codgers like me an' the judge an' some more of us—but afore she got through I felt kinda sorry for the rest of us—By Hen! Mister when she told us what they're doin' in Noot Zealand, an' England, an' even in Nootfoundland—I sorta felt as if we'd been here for a hundred years. I never seen as clear afore what Doc Roberts has been tryin' to tell us about raisin' our own immigrants. We been lettin' 'em die off afore they got to be a year old—or we been lettin' 'em grow up sickly, or half-blind or something wuss. I told Hanner all about it last night, an' she said she'd hev to get that there Miss Haslam to come out an' talk to the Wimmie's Institoot. Say, Mister Man, I'm gonto bother for Health Week wherever I go—yes, sir."

Big Seizure Made In Campbellton

New Inspector Reports 223 Cases of Liquor and 31 Gallons of Rum Captured.

Fredericton, N. B., April 21.—Liquor valued at $11,200, which will probably go for the nucleus of the stock for New Brunswick's board of liquor vendors, was seized last night at Campbellton, according to a report received by Sheriff Hawthorne this morning.

Chief Hawthorne left Campbellton yesterday morning after having appointed Norman Pettigrew as a sub-inspector, and he started off in search of liquor.

The success of his search was shown in a telegram this morning, which said he had seized 223 cases of liquors and thirty-one gallons of rum.

Two barrels of liquor, valued at $19, were seized at Campbellton on Monday afternoon, having been received there marked to fictitious addresses.

RIORDON MUCH STRONGER TODAY

Montreal, April 21.—The local stock market was more than usually active during the early trading this morning, and practically every principal issue was in evidence.

Riordon was much stronger this morning. Opening at 84, after closing at 84 1/2 yesterday, it quickly strengthened to 45, and the general opinion on the street today is that the turning point has been reached.

Abitibi was unchanged at 84, while Atlantic Sugar was fractionally stronger at 29. Brazilian was steady at 80, and Brompton advanced 7-8 of a point to 38. Steamships was quiet at 20, but Laurentide advanced 3-4 to 89 1/2, as did also National Breweries to 40 1/4. Wayagmac remained unchanged at 69.

DISORDERS ON MAY DAY ARE FEARED

Elaborate Preparations for Demonstrations Are Being Made in Mexico City.

Mexico City, April 21.—Elaborate preparations for May Day demonstrations throughout Mexico are being made by radical elements here and in some quarters there is apprehension of disorder. Government authorities have been amply informed. President Obregon has said that he does not consider present radical activities in the light of the strike a menace to the peace of the country.

At present there exist almost a dozen labor controversies which have developed in actual strikes or which threaten walk-outs.

The strike of railwaymen, apparently settled some time ago, is declared to hold possibilities of a sudden eruption, and employees of traction lines in this city are said to be far from agreement with their employers.

Bakers issued an ultimatum to their employers yesterday, threatening a strike and weavers in the federal district are holding daily meetings at which a walk-out is discussed.

STILL IN NEED OF $100,000

MANITOBA PAGE NOT OVERAWED BY THE MACE

Winnipeg, April 21.—Oliver Cromwell's famous order—"Take away that bauble!" (the mace) when he took possession of the British parliament, was recalled in an amusing incident which occurred in the legislature yesterday.

When the House was in committee and the mace was, therefore, off the table, one of the page boys, too young to have any idea of the significance of the mace removed it from the place where the sergeant-at-arms had placed it, and calmly dumped it on the table in order to "post a letter with which an honorable member had entrusted him."

"Take away that thing," ordered Premier Norris at once, and Attorney General Johnson also made a remark expressive of the enormity of the offence committed by the young hopeful, who promptly obeyed the order while the members enjoyed the best laugh they have had since the legislature assembled about three months ago.

ALLIES TAKE HAND

Greek Bank's Plan to Issue Large Amount of Paper Money.

Athens, April 21.—Protests against the issuance of 500,000,000 drachmas in paper money by the Greek national bank are being framed for presentation to the Hellenic government by the International financial commission, which exercises control of the public debt of Greece.

Brief expressions here that the government will not need the commission's protest, as it is generally recognized that the nation is driven to this expedient as a remedy for the serious financial situation of the country and to finance the Anastol campaign.

GETTING READY TO DEAL WITH HUNS

Paris, April 21.—Germany's proposals relative to reparations had not been received by the French government late last night, but officials declared they expected they would be the same as expected in German newspapers. They said they believed the Berlin terms would be "insufficient and unacceptable."

Louis Loucheur, minister of liberated regions, has completed a plan for the economic penalties to be levied upon Germany in default of her payment of reparations. The Echo de Paris declares that his plan includes a tax of ten gold marks on each ton of coal and the similar tax on lignite and perhaps a manufactured goods.

A tax of forty per cent payable in foreign money would be levied on all manufacture certain products and delivery certain materials to the Allies, the value of these products being credited to the reparations account.

Berlin, April 21.—Herr Stegerwald, has resigned. He said he had learned that a portion of the diet had been under certain misapprehensions at the time of his election as premier and for this reason he returned the mandate from the cabinet with a view to obviating any suspicion of abuse of confidence.

HARD EXERCISE IS BAD FOR GIRLS

London, April 21.—Strenuous exercise suitable for boys are not suitable for girls according to Miss Jane Cowdroy, principal of the Crouch End College, who has just issued a warning against the "abundant and rigorous games" on the part of modern English girls to play boys' games. She said that in this she was making full allowance for the advantages of the reaction against the tight-laced swooning girls of a generation ago, but she added that the reaction had gone too far.

"The spectacle of girls fourteen or fifteen years old tumbling about a locker field is exceedingly unpleasant and, if one happens to know anything about physiology, it is extremely distressing," Miss Cowdroy said. "Girls who do this may think they are doing themselves good, but many of them will pay a heavy bill of costs later, and their spoiled tempers will not conduce to the happiness of persons with whom they live. We will come nearer to an understanding of their position if we realize that the organs of our bodies all include nervous connections, and disturbances, whether mechanical or inflammatory, in one organ quickly set up secondary disturbances in others."

Geneva, April 21.—Carlist circles in Lucerne declare that the Hungarian general minister will soon dissolve the parliament on the ground that it no longer represents the will of the people. New elections will then be held, the issue being the return of the former King Charles.

Ottawa, April 21.—The cost of government automobiles in Ottawa is the subject of a series of questions by Roch Lanctot, (Lapriarie-Naperville) to be asked of the government. He asks how many automobiles are kept here by the government and how many chauffeurs employed, what ministers and deputies use these cars, and what other officials use them and for what purpose, if any have been used on Sundays and for what purpose, if the government has a garage in Ottawa, what it cost for maintenance during the last year and when, from whom, and at what price the government purchased this garage?

MAKES ATTACK ON HON. F. B. CARVELL

Alberta Farmers' President Criticizes Course

Says Railway Board Chairman Seemed Indifferent to Welfare of Agriculture Interests in Ruling Out Statement—Reference to C. P. R.

(Canadian Press) Winnipeg, April 21.—H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, in an interview in the Manitoba Free Press, asserted that Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the dominion board of railway commissioners seemed "utterly indifferent as to the welfare of the agricultural interests" in not allowing the statement of the Alberta farmers to be submitted to the Calgary hearing.

Mr. Wood said that his statement was prepared upon the present conditions of farming in Alberta in relation to freight rates, and was "ruled out of court" because it did not bear upon the technical question of equalization of eastern and western rates.

Mr. Wood quoted figures purporting to show the unprofitableness of farm production, and what he described as the "exorbitant freight rates."

Dealing with the cost of production, he said that while the farmer in Alberta got $2.72 for his entire cost of production of an acre of oats, the railway company received $4.71 for hauling it to Fort William. All farm products, he said, were now below the cost of production except hogs, wheat and rye.

On the former, he said, there was still a little profit because there was a very marked scarcity of hogs, which could be overcome in a year. On rye and wheat, he added, there was a small margin of profit, which was disappearing rapidly.

"If any sane man thinks that production can continue under these conditions," concluded Mr. Wood, "I would very much like to hear his remedy."

Mr. Wood charged Mr. Carvell with the "whole responsibility of protecting the Canadian Pacific Railway's interests in Edmonton, Alta., April 21.—"If this board is going to equalize rates, then we must equalize conditions." This was the definite statement made by Hon. F. B. Carvell at the morning session of the railway board here yesterday. It followed the objections of the Edmonton board of trade to changes in "mixing privileges."

H. J. Symington, representing Manitoba and Saskatchewan, made a brief statement saying that he was not asking for the same rate in the east as in the west.

(Sidney B. Woods of the Edmonton board of trade, could see no reason for any confusion between the mixing privilege and the equalization rate case.

"How in the world can you separate them," asked Mr. Carvell. "Equalization of rates necessarily means equalization of conditions." Mr. Carvell then definitely placed the equalization case on the table and called for any arguments on it. Mr. Woods said he was not instructed to talk on the matter.

NEGRO, FORGOTTEN BY SHERIFF, GETS LIFE IMPRISONMENT.

Shreveport, La., April 21.—The death sentence on Lonnie Guachia parish forgot to hang, has been commuted to life imprisonment, according to reports received here.

Eaton was convicted of murder several months ago, and was brought from Guachia parish to the Caddo parish jail for awaiting trial. Governor Parker set the date for the hanging, but the sheriff forgot about it until the legal date had passed.

CONSULAR POWERS FOR OUR AGENTS

Godfrey Langlois, Representative in Belgium, Speaks of Quebec Board of Trade.

Quebec, April 21.—(Canadian Press)—Godfrey Langlois, agent for the Province of Quebec in Belgium, in an address to the Quebec board of trade yesterday, touched upon the board made that Canada is a nation.

He agreed to this but asked that when Canadian legislators were negotiating to this end, why did they not insist that Canadian agents in foreign countries should be vested with full consular powers. When Canadian agents went abroad they found that they were "nobodies."

Canada issued her own passports, but when Canadians reached foreign countries they were obliged to have these passports issued by the British consul.

Approximately 5,000 Canadians visited Belgium every year and at a cost of $8 to have a passport issued, it meant that forty thousand dollars went to the British government when it should be collected by the Canadian government.

STILL ARREST SPIES THOUGH WAR IS OVER

Boulogne, April 21.—A Russian named Kovalevich was arrested here this week as a spy. Formerly a colonel in the Czar's army, he had been employed lately by an English firm engaged in the destroying of unexploded shells. Somehow he aroused suspicion of a French Army captain, who informed the Secret Police.

The Russian was watched and it is said it was found that he was sending specifications of various military matters to the German War Ministry.

SON BORN THE DAY AFTER SHE SAVES CHILD FROM WELL

SAYS MEN STARE AT WOMEN'S FEET

Should Look Toward God and the Stars Says Rev. Dr. Cortland Myers.

White Plains, N. Y., April 20.—Mrs. Norman Gurling, a farmer's wife who the day before rescued her 15-month-old son Charles from a deep well into which he had fallen early on Saturday, gave birth to another son. The attending physician issued the conventional bulletin that both mother and child were doing well.

In effecting the rescue Mrs. Gurling risked her life, for she had to wade her way down walls of jagged stone that were treacherously slippery.

After climbing back with the child clinging to her neck, she carried him into the house, bathed him and put him to bed. Then she called her physician.

Carnegie Medal Sought. The mother's physician found no evidence that she had suffered otherwise than by exhaustion and little Charles played about the house as well as ever. Friends and neighbors, in admiration for the devoted mother's heroism, organized to present Mrs. Gurling's name for a Carnegie medal.

The Gurlings live at Knollwood and Hartdale roads, well back from the highway. There is an unused well, 50 feet deep, in the yard, about 15 feet from the porch. It is built of stone, but the stone work does not rise above the surface. The top is covered with long boards. The well was half full of water.

Mrs. Gurling, who is 28, was alone in the house, and little Charles was at play on the porch, sitting about her household duties, kept the child as much as possible under her eye because of the loosened boards on the well, and she had ever in her mind the dangers to the toddling youngster.

Lowered Herself Into Well. With the speed with which children do such things, Charles clambered down the steps, must have made straight for the well and lifted one of the loose boards.

He may have shrieked as he fell, for some sound alarmed his mother, who ran to the porch, missed him and dashed for the well. The displaced board took its fall and presently the noise of the boy's feeble struggles confirmed her fears.

Mrs. Gurling tore up the boards and lowered herself into the well. The sides were rough and gave a foothold here and there, but every inch was slippery with slime and moss.

It was necessary if she would rescue the boy before he sank to the bottom of the 50 feet of water, and Mrs. Gurling slipped down as best she might till she stood with her feet in water and knees braced against the sides so that she might be free to lean over and stretch an arm to the sinking bundle of white, her little boy.

The Rescue. She grasped the clothing, pulled out the half-drowned and senseless child, and twisted her body to get both arms free that she might handle the limp body freely and work to rid it of the choking water.

Then she threw the baby over her shoulder and set about regaining the surface. She rose step by step, cautiously, for one slip might mean death to her child and herself. There was no help within call so she saved her breath and struggled on.

At last she won to the top and climbed out with her baby. In the house she stripped the child and rolled him, working over him to bring back life. Her efforts were immediately successful, and presently Charles was crying and out of danger.

PETROGRAD'S HEAVY POPULATION LOSS

71 Per Cent. Decrease Due to Various Causes Since Soviet Rule Began.

Paris, April 21.—Since Red rule began in Russia the city of Petrograd has lost seventy-one per cent of its population, according to a statement made in a book entitled "Moscow the Red," which has been published in Russia and from which extracts have been received here.

The first toll was taken in the early days of the revolution, when the bourgeois who escaped massacre fled abroad. Then came typhus and other disease scourges, and later famine owing to the complete breakdown of transport, which drove the working people to the country, where at least there is enough to eat.

One of the features of the decline in population is that at present women outnumber men in the proportion of 100 to seventy-two. The death rate in the city has almost tripled since the advent of communism, and now stands at twenty-two per 1,000 in place of eight per 1,000 before the war.

Moscow hasn't suffered in appearance nearly so heavily as Petrograd. The loss of population in the Soviet capital is given at 49.67 per cent. The reason is stated to be the great influx of functionaries and employes of the Central Soviet, who number 860,000.

One curious feature of the situation is that the number of marriages is very large, and both men and women are marrying younger than formerly. The explanation is stated to be that women as well as men work, and that married couples find living easier with joint resources.

MAY DAY AS USUAL EVEN IF IT IS SUNDAY. Paris, April 8.—(Associated Press by Mail)—Although May 1 falls on a Sunday this year, no exception will be made to the general rule of meetings and demonstrations of other years. This has been decided by the Administrative Commission of the General Labor Federation.

The transport services of Paris and the tram and omnibus services of other large cities will be stopped, in order that no workers may have an excuse for not attending the meetings. The demonstrations will be held in support of the demands of the International Syndicalist Federation, which call for the socialization of the principal means of transport.

GREEKS RETURN TO OFFENSIVE

Heavy Counter Attack Near Ushak in War with Turks.

Constantinople, April 21.—The Greeks are delivering a heavy counter offensive against the Turks near Ushak, to prevent the Turks from capturing the town. The Greeks continue their preparations for a formidable offensive which is expected to commence in a few days, probably in an effort to reach Kutayah.

The Turks are bringing up the last of the conscripts from the interior tribes, which, together with the army of Kiam Karabekir, form an army of 100,000.

A Turkish communication yesterday says that five members of the women's battalions have been killed before Ushak, where the Greeks are being pressed.

SINGLE WORKMAN GIVES JOB UP TO MARRIED FRIEND

(Moncton Transcript) Brotherly love was manifested here recently when a married man with children was dismissed from the C. N. R. according to seniority standing, and a pal gave him his own job—he taking the streets. This is the third instance of that kind which The Transcript learned of.

In this case it appears the married man would have been in hard circumstances should he have lost his job, but a pal who did not lose his job on account of "seniority standing," readily gave his married friend his job stating that he would go and if he grew too hungry would occasionally visit the home of the married workman. Such instances as this follow the principles as advocated today in Christian life, and such a pal should not go unhonored and unsung.

RESENTS ACTION OF U. S. OFFICIALS

Dr. Alex. Graham Bell Will Refer Matter of Secretary to Washington.

A distinguished visitor to the city yesterday was Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, the noted inventor, who is en route from his summer home at Baddeck (N. S.) to Washington (D. C.). Dr. Bell was accompanied by Mrs. Bell and his secretary, Miss Catherine D. Mackenzie.

The party passed through the city on Tuesday, but on arriving at Vancouver admittance to the United States was refused to Miss Mackenzie, who is a Canadian, although she had been living in Washington for the last seven years and had several times passed from one country to the other. Miss Mackenzie was removed from the train by an official at Vancouver and, rather than desert her, Dr. and Mrs. Bell also left the train and spent the night in the detention building at Vancouver and returned to St. John yesterday. Visits were made to the American consul and immigration authorities where, Dr. Bell said, they received every consideration and were treated with courtesy. Matters were finally arranged for Miss Mackenzie's entrance into the United States and the party left last evening for Washington.

Dr. Bell, when interviewed yesterday at the Royal Hotel, expressed himself as highly indignant at the treatment accorded his secretary and said that he wished to apologize to Canadians that his country treated them in such a manner. He thought that Canadians themselves should take the question up and should not be subject to such indignities. A complaint will be made by Dr. Bell to the authorities in Washington concerning the matter and he said that he intended to have it thoroughly investigated.

MOROSCO ON BAIL IN LIQUOR CASE. Question About Part of Theatrical Man's Forty Barrel Stock.

New York, April 21—Charged with having ninety-two bottles of liquor in his possession, in violation of the Volstead act, Oliver Morosco, theatrical producer, yesterday was held in $1,000 bail for trial in Brooklyn.

Mr. Morosco recently applied for a permit to transfer a quantity of liquor from his home at Great Neck to Los Angeles. It is alleged that the forty barrels held 92 bottles more than covered the permit. These bottles, it was alleged, had been purchased after the Volstead act became effective.

RECENT COLD DID NOT RUIN FRUIT CROP IN ONTARIO. St. Catharines, Ont., April 21—Not only have peaches come through the recent cold snaps and last Sunday's snowstorm, but there now appears a chance for a least a portion of the sour cherries. Investigation shows that early Richmond have withstood the storm and frosts with stems intact and sufficient pollen to justify the expectation of their bearing fruit.

NATIVE OF MONCTON. (Montreal Gazette.)

At a meeting of the board of management of the Central Y. M. C. A. held Saturday evening, J. M. Carson was appointed executive secretary, and will commence his new duties on May 1. He succeeds J. W. Beaton, who on January 1 became metropolitan secretary of the association.

Mr. Carson is a native of Moncton, N. B., and as a young man became interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A. and was a member of the board of directors of the association in that city. He graduated in 1910 from the Y. M. C. A. College at Springfield, Mass. He immediately accepted an appointment as general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Quebec City, remaining there for three years. In 1913 he came to Montreal as secretary of the Westmount branch of the association, remaining there until he went overseas in 1917. Mr. Carson was in the service of the association in England at Wilby Camp, and in France, with the Third Division. Returning to Montreal in the autumn of 1919, he joined

QUEBEC WIDE AWAKE

The province of Quebec wants more settlers on the land and an effort will be made to get them. Of the scheme proposed the Montreal Herald says: "Put the Landless Man on the Map."

TOO MUCH COTTON.

The cotton growers of the southern states are faced by the problem of over-production and the necessity of planting a lesser area in cotton and giving more attention to other crops.

HAS SOMETHING TO LEARN.

Addressing the Montreal Reform Club last week, Dr. J. P. Molloy, M. P. for Frencheville, Manitoba, is thus reported by the Montreal Gazette: "He was not inclined to admit that the west was under any debt of gratitude to the east: reciting a story of a self-complacent Scotchman, who argued for admission to heaven by recalling to St. Peter that he had once given a newsboy ten cents and forgot to ask for the change, and St. Peter's decree that the money should be returned to him, as suggestive of the east and west relationship."

The people of the maritime provinces at least are getting to be rather "fed-up" on talk of this kind by men from the west. The burden of confederation has been none too light in these parts, and promises held out and hopes excited by the fathers of confederation have not been fulfilled.

There was a very interesting discussion in Ottawa last week, at a meeting of the Ottawa West Municipal Association, over the price of meat. Mr. J. Lorne McDougall produced a piece of beef weighing one pound and three-quarters, which had cost him eighty-eight cents, and classed the transaction as pure robbery.

Even the framers of the American emergency tariff do not expect it to be of any material benefit to the farmers. It is designed to produce a psychological effect. One writer says: "The politicians in Washington are so beset by clamors for relief from their agricultural constituents that they are willing to offer anything to the farmers that will keep them quiet, in very much the same manner as the tired nurse quiets the fretful infant with a teething ring or a rattle."

The Sinn Fein has decreed that no persons shall be permitted to emigrate from Ireland without authority. How about self-determination?

THE VOYAGER.

You've got many a mile of sailing before you reach the shore, You'll have many a wave to go through before you hear the roar; You'll have a long, long journey, so pack your grip up tight; Lay everything you need away to do you in the night.

LIGHTER VEIN.

A merchant was recently persuaded to purchase an excellent parrot. This one had traveled far and could jabber in several foreign languages. He ordered it sent home. The same day his wife had ordered a fresh spring chicken for dinner. On leaving the house she said to the cook: "Mary, there's a bird coming for dinner. Wring its neck and have it fried hot for Mr. Richards when he gets home."

Johnnie, aged five, was an enthusiast over automobiles. He had to sleep with his father one night, for the first time, and next morning he was greatly perturbed. "Mama," he demanded, "why does papa use the cut-out in his sleep?"

IN PARLIAMENT

Matter of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Elected for Two Seats, to Be Taken Up By Committee.

Ottawa, April 21—(Canadian Press)—Yesterday the House of Commons, after a debate lasting from three o'clock in the afternoon until half past nine in the evening, the House adopted a motion by Dr. J. W. Edwards (Frontenac), "that the question of whether Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, who was elected for the electoral districts of Maisonneuve and Gaspé has not infringed the privileges of this house and violated its rules in not electing for which of the two districts he would serve, be referred to the select standing committee on privileges and elections." The committee was directed to enquire into this and into the circumstances surrounding the petition for unseating Hon. Mr. Lemieux in the electoral district of Maisonneuve.

First reading was given a bill to amend the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act. A. B. Copp (Westmorland), moved for Every man in town should be at Ward's Big Bankrupt Sale tomorrow morning—See big ad on another page. The production of documents relating to the administration of the inland revenue office, this carried without debate.

The House was in committee on the Lake of the Woods control bill. It was given second reading and reported from committee. In supply on the estimates of the department of external affairs, an item of $200,000 for Canada's share of the expenses of the secretariat of the League of Nations was passed. Sir George E. Foster announced that it was hoped to have Canada's assessment in the league reduced. Col. John A. Currie (Simcoe), criticized Canada's delegates for the fight against Article 10 of the League covenant.

In the Senate a bill to amend the gold and silver marking act was postponed for two weeks. Senator Turfitt asked for correspondence relating to the Georgian Bay Canal.

WAR GAVE SCIENCE TRUTH ABOUT SHOCK

Work in France Cleared Doubts That Long Have Baffled Medical Profession.

Cambridge, Mass., April 21.—Discoveries made by Dr. Walter B. Cannon of the Harvard Medical School and other American, British and French medical officers towards the close of the world war have brought forth new evidence regarding the cause and nature of the strange condition known as "shock" which led to innumerable deaths in war-time and frequently has a similar result after accidents in time of peace.

"Shock, or wound shock, as it is often called, has long baffled the medical profession," Dr. Cannon said on being asked to describe the results of his important work in France.

"This condition, which, by the way, should not be confused with shell shock, an entirely different phenomenon, usually develops some hours after a serious wound or accident. It frequently followed grave shell wounds in the war, and often comes on after a person has been seriously hurt in an accident in times of peace after, for example, he has had a limb crushed in a railroad accident."

"A man in a state of shock usually lies perfectly quiet, his skin is cold and moist with sweat, his pulse is rapid and thready, his arterial pressure is much reduced, he breathes rapidly and superficially, and, although not paralyzed, he has little energy and his mind is dulled. He often complains of being cold and thirsty. This condition may be followed by death or by gradual recovery."

"There have been numerous theories of the nature of shock. Some doctors held that shock resulted from nervous collapse, others that it came from a clogging of blood vessels by fat from wounds, some that it was due to paralysis of the nerves controlling the arteries, others that the adrenal gland was somehow affected so as to do the mischief, and so on."

"Our work in France gave us opportunities to study shock in the utmost detail. One by one we threw out the theories advanced in former years. We finally tested and established the fact that the condition results from the tearing or crushing of muscles or other tissues by missiles moving with terrific velocity. The damaged or dead tissues soon became toxic, or in other words sets like a sort of poison. This toxin causes an increased permeability of the smallest blood vessels, the capillaries, and thus there is lost through their walls quantities of the fluid portion of the blood which should be in circulation. The result is somewhat similar to that of 'great loss of blood from the body.'"

Mrs. Boyle-Travers, regent of the municipal chapter, addressed the meeting and gave an interesting report of the provincial annual meeting at Fredericton. Arrangements were made for the observance of Empire Day and for the presentation of flag charts and prizes.

The second annual banquet and dance of the Rockwood Lodge, No. 1361, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, was held last evening, the banquet taking place at the Cliff House, after which the members and their ladies adjourned to the "Studio" where an enjoyable programme of dances was given. The members numbered in all about seventy-five and the committee in charge of arrangements was as follows: W. E. Fuzze, (chairman), W. J. Scribner, E. J. McGinnis, and P. J. Emery.

RADIUM AIDS BONE GROWTH

Montefiore Hospital Discovery Seen as Help to Wounded Soldiers.

To an endowment of $300,000 bestowed by the late Jacob H. Schiff to the Montefiore Home and Hospital at Bainbridge Avenue and Gun Hill Road, Bronx, for medical research work was accorded the credit, at the annual meeting of the institution yesterday, for considerable progress made last year, especially in cures of cancer patients by means of the X-ray and radium. Experiments at the hospital, it was said, had led to a discovery that radium is of marked value in certain bone diseases, in that it stimulates the growth of new bone. It is believed this discovery may be of great value in the rehabilitation of wounded soldiers.

At the Montefiore Country Sanitarium at Bedford Hills satisfactory progress and results have been attained. It was reported the treatment of tuberculosis by the pneumothorax method. Of sixty-five cases treated by this method, 28 per cent of them were discharged with the disease arrested, 42 per cent improved and 30 per cent did not profit by the treatment.

S. G. Rosenbaum, President of the institution, announced that a gift of $25,000 had been received from Henry Budge, in memory of Mr. Schiff, which is to be added to the research fund. The Schiff Pavilion, for which the philanthropist gave the money three years ago, will be opened in May. It will be an annex to the hospital for convalescents.

CATS AND DISEASE

To The Editor of The Times—Sir:—In a paragraph relative to health week your readers are advised not to harbour any straying cats, or, if their own are of a wandering disposition to destroy them.

I think that the recommendation to kill off one's pets and other fur covered animals is both a callous and barbarous one. I know, and so do you, of human beings who have a disposition to wander and bring home disease, yet we do not see recommendations printed for their destruction. They knowingly contract the disease. The cats don't.

Perhaps it is the case that you have never kept awake at nights with a feline argument about the weather, but don't, under the guise of health week, put wicked ideas into the minds of readers about the destruction of innocent dumb creatures. There are quite enough cases of animal cruelty and desertion in our midst without an appeal to add to the number.

The writer once harboured a man who brought into the house more disease than is to be found on all the stray animals in the City in a week or more. If you want to find out where a lot of disease germs are disseminated, go to some of your theatres at half time, your restaurants and ice cream saloons and keep your eyes open and put our thinking cap on. If you have any knowledge of hygiene at all, you should, in the course of a couple of evenings, be in possession of sufficient data to fill half a dozen editions of your paper as to the cause of there being so much disease prevalent.

ANOTHER RHINE HORROR (Worcester Telegram.) One of the really brilliant moments of history must have happened when the Belgian army of occupation marched into Dusseldorf and literally "didn't do a thing to it." Didn't tear a university or defile a sanctuary; didn't loot a bank or murder a hostage; didn't kidnap a woman or terrorize a child. Naturally German persons are unable to feel that such a sort of occupation can possibly be proper.

only immediate relatives were present at the wedding. Rev. Thomas Marshall, of Fairville, officiated. Many beautiful gifts testified to the esteem in which the principals were held. Mr. and Mrs. Shampers left on a wedding trip through Maine on the Montreal train yesterday afternoon. On their return they will reside in Halifax, where Mr. Shampers has recently been transferred from the local office of the Consolidated Rubber Company.

Moncton, April 20—A pretty wedding took place this morning in St. Bernard's church when Miss Mary O'Neill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neill, 180 High street, was united in marriage to Jeremiah Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Murray, St. John, Rev. Father W. J. Mallette, curate at St. Bernard's, officiating.

The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of old blue with grey French hat and corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was given in marriage by her father, George O'Neill, and was unattended. After the ceremony the bride and groom repaired to the home of the bride's parents where a wedding luncheon was served after which the toast to the bride and groom was proposed and very fittingly responded to. Miss K. Stevens was then heard in several vocal numbers which were excellently rendered. Miss Florence Gallagher was accompanist. The happy pair left on the Ocean Limited express this afternoon on an extended wedding tour. Colorado will be visited.

Among the out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray, St. John; James, William and George Murray, St. John, brothers of the groom, and Mrs. Joseph Connors, a cousin of the bride. The bride is one of Moncton's popular young ladies and was formerly employed with the chief engineer's staff, C. N. R. here. The groom is an employee of the C. N. R. audit department. The gifts were numerous and very beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Murray will reside in Moncton.

SUFFERING OF LIFETIME ENDS

Can't Express Gratitude I Feel Toward Tanlac, Says Mrs. Burrington.

"From childhood until I got Tanlac, I suffered from indigestion and stomach trouble," said Mrs. J. A. Burrington, 640 Stanford Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

MRS. J. A. BURRINGTON, Los Angeles, Calif.

"and that's been a long time, for I'm now in my sixty-eighth year. I remember when I was a child I was kept on a strict diet of lime water and milk for weeks and I have been constant distress all these years. I suffered terribly from vomiting and had to be very careful of what I ate. I became so weak and nervous I could hardly go about my housework and was in a miserable condition. About two years ago my husband got such splendid results from Tanlac he insisted on my taking it and the medicine wasn't but a little while in riding me of my troubles. It gave me a splendid appetite and I could enjoy a good hearty meal, even things I hadn't dared touch before, without any fear of it troubling me. Then I had the influenza and became dreadfully sick and weak, but my stomach kept in good order and it only took four bottles of Tanlac to build me up again to where I'm now feeling better than at any time I can remember. I have gained eleven pounds in weight, too, and words can't express the gratitude I feel toward Tanlac. I keep Tanlac in the house all the time now, for I know it is a medicine that can be depended upon."

QUEBEC PREMIER ON INDEPENDENCE

I Sees Danger to Confederation Because of Railway Policies—East Over-Burdened.

(Montreal Gazette.) Annexation to the United States and the breaking of the federal pact are not results which anyone wishes, said Premier Taschereau last night in addressing the congress of the women's section of the Federation of St. Jean Baptiste at the Montreal Technical School. Yet, said the premier, this great transformation is liable to come the day the provinces of the east find that their young sisters of the west want more than their share. "I do not want to talk politics, but is not the great problem of Canada that of railways?" demanded Hon. L. A. Taschereau. "The nationalization of a great part of our railway system may perhaps have saved the western provinces from the bankruptcy which threatened them, but at the same time this nationalization threw on the backs of the old provinces a burden which, despite all good will, threatens to be too heavy. Many people ask, not without anxiety, if this nationalization is not the first breach, and a strong breach, of the federal pact. Wants Status Quo. "We are now at the turning of the ways, the statu quo or the rupture of the federal pact, annexation to the United States or independence. I naturally prefer to see Canada not divided. Which regime would Canada prefer? For himself, said Mr. Taschereau, he would prefer for many years to continue under the present system which has marvelously favored our development. Imperialism was to be avoided. When it was considered that in the war Canada had contributed an army larger than that with which Napoleon set out to conquer Russia, the Mother Country should be satisfied with such an effort for many years to come. As to independence, the premier said that, at the time of Confederation, Macdonald, McNab, Cauchon and Tache had not hesitated to speak of independence, and Cauchon had predicted that conclusion when we had a population of six millions and a trade of $250,000,000. "We have passed that stage, and I do not want to be an apostle of independence, but evidently we will not always be a colony, and the day will come when we will take our place in the family of nations." The premier then touched on the question of annexation and breaking up of the confederation, and sounded the note of warning as to the results of the railway policy. He went on to ask which system would the French-Canadian prefer. Their development under the present system was too great not to desire its continuation, and that was why he favored maintaining the British connection in all its integrity. Against Annexation. "I may be wrong, but it seems to me that annexation to the United States would be fatal to our race," went on Hon. Mr. Taschereau. "The Americans are the greatest of assimilators. Few races or nationalities which get into that big stream maintain their character and their traits. Independence would give the French-Canadians more guarantee than an annexation because of their number, stability and cohesion in a population of eight millions, whereas in a population of 100,000,000 it would be a case of being drowned. Two of Them Arrested In Charlotte County The case against the six boys charged with stealing a horse and carriage from James McCarthy came up yesterday afternoon in the local police court. The other charge against these young men, that of breaking into the store of Samuel Melansky at Musquash, was heard in the local court earlier in the week, and only evidence in connection with the first charge was taken up yesterday afternoon. The local detectives were all on the stand and repeated their evidence given in connection with the other charge. The only new point brought out was that two of the boys were arrested in Charlotte county without any warrant. After this evidence had been re-taken the magistrate postponed both

NOBODY WANTS LOGS Fredericton.—No market for bank-logs is the report in this section. There have been arrivals in Springhill for several days of logs which have been cut on contract for Stanley Douglas Limited and Fraser Companies Limited but no arrivals for the market are reported. Some days ago a prospective buyer offered fifteen dollars per thousand for bank-logs and was laughed at by the owners of lumber. Since then the market has disappeared altogether and owners are looking for buyers. About one million feet of bank-logs are available in this vicinity. SUTTON DEFEATED. Chicago, April 20.—Edouard Horemans, European bank line billiard champion, defeated George Sutton, 400 to 198, in the first block of a 1,600 point 18.2 ball line contest here this afternoon. Horemans' average in twenty-two innings was 19.2-1. Sutton's average was 9.9-21. Horemans had a high run of 125.

DIANNUNZIO WED?

Reported Married to Luisa Baccara, Who Was His Companion in the Siege of Fiume.

Milan, April 21.—It is reported by the Epoca of Rome that Gabriel d'Annunzio has married a young pianist, Luisa Baccara, who kept him company throughout his dictatorship of Fiume. She is the daughter of an ex-Colonel of Bersaglieri and is affectionately known among the soldiers as the little Venetian of Santo Stefano Parish, wherein she was born. It is said that d'Annunzio before quitting Fiume got the local authorities to grant him a divorce from his wife, the Duchess Maria di Gallese, and that the new marriage was quietly celebrated in a small town across the Swiss border.

CHIEF FINLEY'S PULLETS Fredericton Gleener.—Chief of Police Finley is the proud possessor of fourteen pullets, barred Plymouth Rock, bred to lay strain, which have amassed quite a record in eggs since they first started to lay. The pullets were hatched last June and began laying the first of November of last year. Since January 1st, the chief has been keeping a record of the eggs and has the following report: January, 274 eggs, of which sixteen were double yolked; February, 268 eggs, of which 12 were double yolked; March, 362 eggs, of which 13 were double yolked. The hens are also showing an increased laying rate, the report for yesterday showing 14 eggs, of which two are double yolked.

NEARLY CRAZY WITH ECZEMA

No rest day or night for those who are afflicted with that terrible skin disease, eczema, or as it is often called, salt rheum. With its unbearable burning, itching and torturing relief is gladly welcomed. There is no remedy like Burdock Blood Bitters for giving relief to such sufferers; no remedy that has done, or can do more for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture. Apply it externally and it takes out the stinging, itching and burning, and promotes a healthy healing. Take it internally and it gets at the source of the disease in the blood—for eczema is a blood disease—and drives it out of the system. Miss L. M. Boutiller, 69 Victoria Road, Halifax, N.S., writes: "I have suffered for years from eczema. I could not rest day or night. I suffered great agony, and was nearly crazy with the itching and burning. I used all kinds of salves, but nothing seemed to help me. I saw Burdock Blood Bitters advertised and was advised to try a bottle. I found great relief, and I really cannot recommend it highly enough for what it has done for me." Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for over forty years, and during that time has been manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MR. W. H. BUTLER, A London Bus Conductor.

Mr. W. Butler writes:—"I want to thank you for the benefit that I have received from Phosferine. Life on a bus is not exactly a bed of roses, and the shaking and climbing really is exhausting for nerves and body. Some time ago I had rather a bad time with Neuralgia caused by nerves, and the time which I had to take off made rather a hole in my wages. Finally I tried Phosferine, and it soon began to take effect. I continued taking Phosferine until my nerve troubles completely disappeared. Now I can work in all weathers. Quite a number of our men have found it of great use." 29 Dewsbury Crescent, Chiswick, London, England.

This appreciative bus conductor considers his restored earning power and his present freedom from Neuralgia and other nerve disorders, is solely due to the revitalizing properties of Phosferine—Phosferine ensured that all his nerve centres regained the power to provide the vital force which now enables him to do more work with less effort.

When you require the Best Tonic Medicine, see that you get PHOSFERINE A PROVEN REMEDY FOR Influenza, Indigestion, Sleeplessness, Exhaustion, Nervous Debility, Neuralgia, Nervous Weakness, Premature Decay, Mental Exhaustion, Loss of Appetite, Lassitude, Neuritis, Fatigue, Brain-Fag, Anemia, Rheumatism, Malaria, Headache, Nerve Shock, Sciatica.

FINE RESPONSE TO APPEAL HERE

The feature of the monthly meeting of the Associated Charities yesterday was a very impressive talk by Miss Haslam on child welfare conditions in other countries where her work had taken her. President W. S. Fisher was in the chair and there was an unusually large attendance of members. Miss Grace Robertson, the secretary, in her report said that there was an unusual amount of unemployment in the city at present and this led to many calls upon the society. She reported applications received: 168; requests for employment, 64; recommended, 61; employment found for 48; records given, 18; seeking relief, 19; relief procured for 18; visits, 21; cases investigated, 11. Clothing was given to five applicants. Miss Haslam in opening her remarks referred to her experience in England, France, United States and Newfoundland, before coming to Canada, and then dealt particularly with her work in this city. She spoke of the splendid response of the Women's Council to the appeal for free milk for needy mothers and infants and said that nowhere had she ever seen so prompt and generous a response. Miss Haslam dwelt upon the great importance of having a proper nursing service to meet the needs of expectant mothers as well as of mothers and infants. She referred particularly to infant food and hygiene and baby medicine and pointed out that the work of the Victorian Order was necessarily confined to children up to the age of two years. Those children between two years and school age, therefore, were not looked after as they should be and this could only be provided for by having a much larger staff of nurses. She told of trying to get treatment for several children in one street in this city as out-patients at the hospital, but could not do so because that department was greatly over-taxed and, as a result, the ailments from which these children were suffering, which might be quickly checked, would become less spread and continue all summer. Miss Haslam also referred to the need for a maternity hospital. She said she had not come here to criticize, except in a constructive way, but there was great need for improved conditions in regard to child welfare. She spoke of one case in which a child had lost the sight of an eye because of lack of care, apparently on account of parental prejudice against hospital treatment, and she felt that there was need for education to induce parents to take prompt action in any such case.

MATURING PLANS FOR LIQUOR SALE

The New Brunswick liquor commission, composed of Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, who is chairman, A. F. Bentley and Martin McGuire, met here yesterday afternoon for the purpose of completing organization and getting the commission in working order. No appointments had been made by the commission as yet, Mr. Tweeddale said, after the meeting. When asked when the commission would be prepared to take over the liquor traffic, Mr. Tweeddale replied that the first thing to do was to secure a suitable storage building for the large quantity of liquor that would be required for the needs of this province. It had been decided by the government that the depot should be located in Fredericton where the liquor would be under the direct supervision of officials. If depots were located throughout different parts of the province, the chairman said, it would be difficult to keep a proper watch on their contents and the control would not be so complete as with one central depot. Efforts were now being made to secure a suitable building for the needs of the commission and application had been made to federal authorities at Ottawa for the use of the stone barracks at Fredericton, but no assurance had as yet been received that the building will be available. Another suggestion that the government had in view was the erection of a suitable building for the purposes of the commission and also for the accommodation of other government departments that are now over-crowded. The members of the commission will go to Montreal next week for the purpose of conferring with the Quebec government in regard to securing a sufficient supply of liquor. The Quebec authorities, on May 1, will take over the stock remaining in the hands of wholesalers in that province and it is the intention of the N. B. Commission to secure part of this stock. The commission, while in Montreal, will confer also with representatives of foreign distillers, etc., in regard to the procuring of supplies. The commission has asked the New Brunswick wholesale vendors for an inventory of their holdings and prices on the same with a view to taking over their stocks. Asked Tom-Jones is a great man to worry over nothing, isn't he? Answered Bill—Yes, if he took an ocean voyage he would worry for fear the sea would dry up and leave him stranded in the mud!

BONUS GIVEN
LEGISLATORS OF ONTARIO

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Toronto, Ont., April 20.—Shortly before midnight members of the legislature endorsed an item of $67,000 in the further supplementary estimates providing for a special bonus to themselves. J. A. Pinard, Ottawa, protested against the idea of a bonus and the government should bring down legislation in crossing the sessional indemnities. Each succeeding session was longer than the previous one. If matters continued along these lines very soon a person would want to be elected to the house.

RAILWAY PROPOSAL

Boston, April 20.—Taking over the Boston and Maine Railroad by the C. P. R. as one step in making Boston a terminal of trunk lines, was proposed by Russell B. Lowe, of Fitchburg (Mass.), president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, at the opening session of the annual convention of that body here tonight.

KALSONMINED FACES NEED NOT APPLY

(New York Evening Post.) F. Ziegfeld, Jr., is busy at his usual spring task, getting ready for the next "Follies," rehearsals of which begin on May 1. He is sitting in state doing something that allows no one else to do for him—selecting the chorus, which is to be composed of girls who have never appeared on any stage. He has plenty to select from, for they come in droves, from all over the country, and woe betide those who come with their make-up on. If they get as far as his office their chances are gone, for Mr. Ziegfeld hates cosmetics, and his secretary has instructions to send applicants with kalsomined faces home to wash their faces. Carmined lips, rouged cheeks, pencilled eyebrows, and shadowed eyes, he declares, are cheap and vain substitutes for nature's beauties. "Kalsomining," says Mr. Ziegfeld, "was formerly an art that adorned only back yard fences, but now it has been brought into the lady's boudoir as something artistic. The girl with the whitened face, resembling a statue in chalk, is not a thing of beauty at all. The natural peach blow comes in the clear, velvet skin, and healthy lips cannot be made by the chemist's art." More power to his elbow. But what a shock it would be to his system if he were to look at the faces down on lower Broadway. He would want to open a revival morning to induce employers to begin a crusade to induce against kalsomining, etc., in business offices, except when on the walls.

Music lovers should not miss the banner programme at the Opera House. The mid-week bill contains the Four Organoid Girls, who are offering "A Boquet of Song," a dainty and beautifully staged high class singing offering.

Immediately after the proceedings opened Mr. O'Hearn addressed the court, asking that owing to the limited quarters, the public be excluded from the hearing.

Stipendiary Pelton questioned the wisdom of permitting the press to attend the hearing. He felt that some publications had gone somewhat beyond their rights in giving reports that were extravagant, and had almost gone so far as to try the case before the arrest has been made.

R. H. Davis, the first witness called, testified that he had yesterday at the request of the crown, drawn up plans of the Perry residence and remis.

THE LETTERS AS QUOTED in the cable reads: "We have plenty of members of parliament in Australia. Why send to Toronto for another under the guise of the title of Archbishop of Melbourne? It is quite natural that right-thinking members of the Church of England are up in arms against such an appointment. The same should be at once cancelled, and the members of the council should forthwith resign, as they have not the confidence of the majority of the Church of England."

Canon Cody would not make any statement with reference to the communication. It is known, however, that for some time there has been a controversy between the high and low church factions in Australia, and the letter is probably the result of over-enthusiasm on the part of a high church partisan. As the board of electors (which what the writer probably meant when he speaks of 'council'), not having the confidence of the majority of the church members it was decided to the Synod recently for the express purpose of filling the vacancy in the See of Melbourne. The board was almost unanimous in its choice of Dr. Cody.

SAYS MEN STARE At Women's Feet (Boston Globe). Parents and employers were urged to put a stop to the present immodest fashion in young women's dress at the service in Tremont Temple last evening by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Cortland Myers. Dr. Myers took for his topic, "What Kind of Clothes Do You Wear?" The word pictures he gave of the country were very vivid portrayals of the life and work of the missionary at his association in service with the people among whom he labored; as also of the relation of the natives among themselves in their toil, home and community life. The lines community groups of Indian life, the Hindu, the Mohammedan and the outcast, with their inter-relationship, were clearly set forth. The address was given by the Rev. Dr. Glendinning of the city's missionary societies present. Besides the address there was an interesting programme. Mrs. J. Lawson Titus and Mrs. George Howes led in prayer and P. C. Murray and Stewart sang songs. The choir sang "Jerusalem My Happy Home." Margaret Mallin gave a recitation. Last night was the third of the anniversary week, and there will be roll call.

HON. MR. BAXTER ON RESTIGOUCHE ELECTION CASE

Argument Presented Before Court of Appeals in Fredericton This Morning.

Fredericton, N. B., April 21.—The Restigouche county election appeal of F. M. Anderson vs. D. A. Stewart and H. Platte was begun this morning with Chief Justice Sir J. D. Hazen, Justice McKeown and Justice Grimmer presiding.

J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., for Stewart and Platte, supported an appeal from the decision of Mr. Justice Barry. He contended that the first document sent into the provincial secretary's office by Sheriff Reed, was the proper return and that, therefore, no election petition was validly returned.

As to the nomination, he said that no oath was required by the election act that the electors had made their signatures on the papers, but there had been no oath taken to prove this. He contended that when the petition was presented to the returning officer without the signatures it was his duty to administer the oath then, as he had power to do. The whole thing was the fault of the returning officer and the nomination should stand.

As regards the irregularities he contended that it had to be shown that these irregularities were such that they affected the result of the election. He said that these did not go to that extent.

He did not think the action of the sheriff in regard to the matters was due to dishonesty on his part, but rather to ignorance. He said that Judge McLatchey had erred in not making a return. In his opinion the judge had understood what was required of him. Judge McLatchey had said that each ballot should be placed back in its envelope by the deputy returning officer. It would not be counted. This, Mr. Baxter said was a mere technicality. There never could be a return gotten from Judge McLatchey, because, although an order could be got from a supreme court judge, it would only be an order to proceed and things would be no better off. He also said that when a return was sent in by a returning officer no officer had a right to send it back again without the order of a court. The case of Mr. Baxter's argument court adjourned until this afternoon, when P. J. Hughes will be heard.

OFFER TO DR. CODY UNDER CRITICISM

Due to Controversy Between High and Low Church Elements in Australia.

Toronto, April 19.—A cablegram received here today containing an excerpt from a letter appearing in the Melbourne Age, indicates that there is some difference of opinion in Melbourne among the members of the church of England as to the appointment of Canon Cody as their Archbishop.

The letter as quoted in the cable reads: "We have plenty of members of parliament in Australia. Why send to Toronto for another under the guise of the title of Archbishop of Melbourne? It is quite natural that right-thinking members of the Church of England are up in arms against such an appointment. The same should be at once cancelled, and the members of the council should forthwith resign, as they have not the confidence of the majority of the Church of England."

Some slight changes in the hydro transmission line from Musquash to St. John were considered at a meeting of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission held here this morning. One proposal was to take the main transmission line across the river above St. John so as to obviate the carrying of the high voltage through the city. The plan was to bring into the city only the voltage required for the consumers here.

The tenders for the power house will be submitted to the provincial government before the contract is granted. There are three tenders from the same concerns which figured on the original power house plans.

MEAT PACKER'S SON SUICIDES

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Los Angeles, Cal., April 19.—John P. (Jack) Cudahy, son of the late Michael Cudahy, internationally known meat packer of Kansas City, and found dead today in his bedroom with his head shattered by a shotgun wound, committed suicide after failing to negotiate a $100,000 loan with a Chicago bank, Detective Sergeant McMahon said tonight. McMahon said Mrs. Cudahy, the widow, told him her husband received a letter yesterday from an officer of the bank informing him the loan could not be carried unless "vouched for" by another member of the Cudahy family. Today, according to McMahon, Cudahy received a telegram from the relative in question declining to vouch for the loan.

ACCEPT OFFER OF EMPLOYMENT

Chatham, N. B., April 20.—The employees of the Fraser Company's pulp mill here, members of Local 102 of the International Brotherhood of Sulphite Pulp and Paper Union, last night, by a secret ballot, voted by a majority of two to one to return to work on the schedule as given to them by the company on February 26. On that date the men turned down the proposal. They have been out of work since December 18, last. It is doubtful whether the mill will start up at present but there will probably be many men taken on for repair work as extensive alterations are being planned.

GOVERNMENT OFFICES MOVED TO KING STREET

The headquarters of the provincial government in St. John will in future be in the Merchants Bank building, Prince William street, the top floor of which building has been rented for this purpose. E. S. Carter, secretary to the premier, is already installed in a bright and sunny office, as is W. H. McQuade, the provincial tax inspector. Yesterday the furniture of the executive council chamber was moved from the old office, Prince William street, to the new one, and in the future all St. John meetings of the executive council will be held in the new quarters. The old premises will be retained for a while, at least.

MINISTER TALKS OF ROADS.
Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, arrived in the city last evening from Chatham and today will go to Fredericton on business in connection with his department. Speaking of the opening of the roads, Mr. Veniot said that it was hoped to have all the main line roads of the province opened to automobile traffic by May 1. One good day of rain would help matters a great deal, he said. It is the intention of the minister to attend the Good Roads convention in Halifax next month, where he will be one of the speakers. Hon. C. W. Robinson, who will then be acting premier, will also attend the convention, it is expected.

Kings County Roads; Mr. Carter Resigns

E. S. Carter, of Rothesay, who has been acting as inspector of roads for the county of Kings since 1917, has found that the demand upon his time and energies was too exacting and asked the minister of public works, Hon. P. J. Veniot, to relieve him from inspection duties. In his reply the minister of public works paid a very high tribute to the work Mr. Carter had done upon the roads for their betterment and also commented upon the fact that it was done without charge to the government. The road supervisors throughout the county of Kings have been notified of the change caused by the resignation of Mr. Carter.

TWO FIRE CALLS BUT ONE WAS FOR HORSE OVERBOARD

The North End fire department was called out twice yesterday afternoon. The first time was in response to an alarm from Box 122 at 8:50 o'clock and was caused by a horse, owned by a man named Webb, falling through the wharf at Indiantown. The apparatus was quickly on the scene and removed the animal from his predicament. Shortly after 6 o'clock an alarm was sounded from Box 124 for a blaze in a house situated in the rear of Bryden street. The house, which was said to be unoccupied, received slight damage. It is owned by Guy Anderson.

The French Club met yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Carvill, Carvill Hall, when extracts were read from the writings of Anatole France and from the poems of Victor Hugo, and Miss LeRoi recited a poem of Lamartine's, "Le Lac." At the conclusion of the programme a general discussion took place among the members.

PARADE OF THE UNEMPLOYED

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
St. John's, Nfld., April 20.—A parade of the city's unemployed today ended at the parliament house where leaders of the demonstration presented resolutions demanding work, removal of all enactments that have survived the war, cessation of state interference with business, withdrawal of restrictions on export of codfish and control of food stuffs. Premier Squires told the crowd that the government had decided to meet the public on all these questions. Opposition leader Cashin pledged the support of his party to measures designed to assist in overcoming the existing depression.

More than 100 members of the Boys' Club of the East End participated in the monthly athletic night at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. After a programme of gymnastics had been gone through and followed by showers and swims, a moving picture entertainment was held. The party was in charge of Harry Scott and Miss Heffer.

ROUND HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE AT CALAIS

St. Stephen, N. B., April 20.—Fire broke out in the round house of the Maine Central Railway at the Calais union at an early hour, this morning, and before it could be gotten under control the flames had completely destroyed the round house and also the machine shops as well as four engines. The loss will be about $300,000 and will throw several men out of work.

in "service." S. C. Mathews of St. John was also present and entertained the association with his ready wit and original songs. James B. Brown, president of the local branch of the Retail Merchants' Association was chairman of the evening.

A DEFICIT FOR MISSION WORK

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Toronto, April 20.—As a result of the adverse exchange conditions and the general increase in the cost of living, the estimates for the requirements of the mission work of the Methodist church for five years commencing in 1919 will fall short of the actual requirements by at least $4,000,000, Dr. S. D. Chown, the superintendent of the Methodist church said today. The Methodist church pays New York exchange on every dollar that it sends out of the country for mission purposes.

The estimates made in 1918, by a commission of fifty appointed by the board of missions, amounted to $6,000,000. The work cannot be done, says Dr. Chown, with less than $12,000,000.

MARCH HAD RECORD TEMPERATURES

One of Warmest in History of United States—Air Pressures Lower Than Usual—Vegetation Advanced.

Washington, April 19.—(Associated Press by Mail.)—Causes underlying the unusually warm weather of early spring this year remain a mystery to weather bureau officials. But reports show, they say, that March was one of the warmest in the history of the country, breaking all known records for high temperatures at some weather bureau stations in the east.

One contributing reason for the high March record, they stated, was the succession of bright clear days, during a month when blustery winds, clouds and storms usually prevail. But what caused this succession of bright clear days, the climatological division is unable to determine.

One cause of usual cold March weather is said to be the sharp difference frequently prevailing in barometric pressure. This feature evidently was missing this season, although complete records had not as yet been compiled. Cold weather often resulted, it was said, from a high barometric pressure in the colder regions of the north which created an air "hill" down which cold air poured, like water running down-hill, upon the United States.

During the cold winter of 1917-18, it was pointed out, air pressures were extremely high in Alaska, building up a "hill" from which slid icy winds from the snow fields, bringing one of America's coldest winters.

Vegetation this March advanced far beyond its usual growth and throughout the fruit regions of the middle west and south-east a short freeze wiped many buds causing what was thought at first to be disastrous damage of far-reaching proportions. Later inspection of trees, however, it was reported, showed that the frost had not damaged fruit to such an appreciable extent.

Although January and February also were warm throughout the country, the middle west and east, they were record breakers in no sense of the word, the weather bureau reporting many warmer winters.

The far west winter, as indicated by San Francisco reports was not unusual, December and February being slightly warmer, with January colder than normal.

NEW YORK TO HAVE "POMANDER WALK"

Restaurateur Files Plans for Reproduction of London Colony.

New York, April 21.—New York city is to have its "Pomander Walk." The American copy will reproduce as nearly as possible that little London colony of sentimental seclusion which George C. Tyler represented so faithfully on the stage some years ago in Louis C. Parker's play of that name.

Plans for the project have been filed in the bureau of buildings on behalf of Thomas Healy, a restaurateur, who intends to build them upon the present site of vacant land running from Ninety-fourth to Ninety-fifth streets, and lying between the towering roofs of West End avenue apartment houses and the former Astor Market property on Broadway.

Mr. Healy holds a 200-year lease of the property, which has a frontage of 100 feet on Ninety-fourth and Ninety-fifth streets, a cross depth of 200 feet, and runs through the centre of the block from street to street, half way between Broadway and West End avenue.

The landscape work has been so planned as to allow a twenty foot wide private street or "walk" directly through the centre of the plot, giving access both ways to Ninety-fourth or Ninety-fifth street. On either side will be laid out grassy lawns, adorned with fountains, shrubbery and trees and private flower gardens. There will be twenty-eight houses in all, each capable of accommodating two families.

On each side of the walk proper will be built a row of two story two family houses of the English town type of architecture. The fronts of the houses will be in a variety of designs and finish. The windows and doors will be worked out in the old English fashion.

GEN. MACDONELL FOR MONCTON ARMORY

(Moncton Transcript.)

Urging action and co-operation on the part of the Rotary Club and business men of the city, Brigadier-General A. H. Macdonnell, C. M. G., D. S. O., O. C. M. D. No. 7, St. John, in addressing the Moncton Rotary Club on Monday said that an armory for the city must soon be established. He urged that the matter be systematically undertaken and that wise counsel prevail upon the military authorities in Ottawa that an armory was needed here. Should this armory be erected, he forecasted an expenditure between $250,000 and $300,000.

The speaker said of visiting the city with Brigadier-General Sir Henry Bursall of Ottawa some time ago and of the then inspection held of the several military units in the city. At that inspection he pictured to the Rotary Club members the facilities at hand for the training of the units, and remarked that a new paint shop altogether too small for the rightful discharge of their duties. General Sir Henry Bursall at the close of that inspection had remarked to the speaker relative to conditions in three words: "It is pathetic." He pointed out that the federal government had a site here for an armory and Moncton was large enough to have an armory if the right pressure was brought to bear in Ottawa. He asked that the government be called upon to take the matter up. With the armory headquarters for the artillery brigade and a battery, also a machine gun headquarters, would be established here, and possibly a battalion of infantry. The speaker hoped that a Highland battalion might be formed.

He had, he said, taken the matter up personally with military authorities in Ottawa, and they had informed him that Moncton stood fifth or sixth, but on a visit to Ottawa he ascertained that the fight waged between whether Moncton or a western Canadian city would have the armory. If the right pressure was brought to bear, Moncton would possibly be the location for the armory. Previous to speaking on the armory, Brigadier-General Macdonnell touched on the development of the Canadian militia. His address relative to that feature was intensely interesting.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT AND THE KINDERGARTEN

To The Editor of The Times—

Sir—The National Kindergarten Association of New York City has sent us a pamphlet telling what city superintendents think about the Kindergarten.

Here are five taken from the list:

J. M. H. Fredericks, Cleveland, Ohio—The growing sentiment here that if a child could have but eight years of school life, it would be better to put the Kindergarten and close with the seventh grade than to begin with the first grade and finish with the eighth.

C. Edward Jones, Albany, New York—We have had Kindergartens in our city for a good many years. We would hardly know how to maintain a public school system without them. The Kindergarten gives training in how to work and how to play in such a way as to be of value in future work, and in addition to this is also supplements what in many cases is a meager home life.

J. W. Brennan, Ironwood, Michigan—We have had Kindergartens as a department in our public school system for a number of years. The children who enter the grades from the Kindergarten do much better work, as an average, than those who do not get this training. In my judgment, the Kindergarten is an exceedingly valuable part of the school system, especially so in a working community where families are usually large and the parents occupied in the matter of living.

Fermiah Rhodes, Pasadena, Cal.—Without a question we are getting greater value from the Kindergartens as organized in our city than from any other single department of our school work.

A. E. Kugel, Assistant Superintendent, Milwaukee, Wis.—We have a Kindergarten in each of our public schools. The first grade teachers are anxious to get those children who have had a year training in the Kindergarten, rather than those who have just come off the street because they take directions better, and hence learn to read and spell more readily. Besides, the hand training they have received make them more proficient writers, and their general conduct is better, particularly in the dealings with each other. We consider the Kindergarten indispensable for all classes of children.

Yours truly,

The treatment of the roofs will also follow that style.

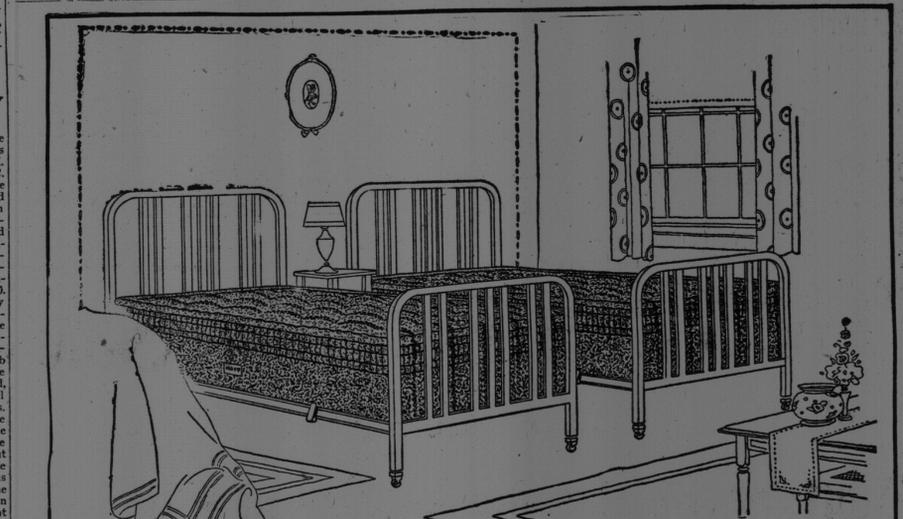

Of the twenty-eight houses, sixteen will have four rooms and bath on each of the two floors and twelve three rooms and bath in each apartment. Each house being a complete unit, will have its own private stairway to the second story apartment or suite, and each apartment will be provided with all modern equipment and conveniences.

Massive and ornate iron gates, after the period of 1710, when the original Pomander Walk was built, surrounded by the insignia of the crowing cock, will ornament and guard either entrance to the walk and be presided over by uniformed lackeys.

King and Campbell are the architects and it is the intention of the projectors to have the group ready for occupancy by Sept. 1, 1921. The estimated cost of each house has been placed at $2,950 in the recorded plan.

NEW BRUNSWICK MOOSE.
(Boston Transcript.)

Two moose, presented to the Franklin Park Zoo by the Ogilvy brothers, of Oxbove, New Brunswick, were placed in the deer range this noon. They are said to be the only moose now owned by any zoo in the eastern part of the country. The animals, a yearling bull and cow, were roped two weeks ago by the Ogilvy brothers, who are guides in the northern woods. The guides located a moose "yard," selected the animals that they desired, and then captured the creatures after they had been driven into the deep snow. The bull is described by the guides as one of the largest yearlings that they have ever seen. He has already made himself at home in his new quarters at Franklin Park.

STATE OF TRADE IN UNITED STATES (Bradstreet's, Saturday.) Intermingling of poor and good news, which has been a feature of the week's advance, makes for a continued very irregular and streak trade report. Unfavorable weather, low temperatures retarding spring buying and hurting early fruits and vegetables, close to the lowest prices in the better part of a decade on the farm and depressing news regarding possible foreign and domestic labor troubles, were among the causes for the easing in securities and exchange markets, the confining of buying, both at

ALWAYS A FEW GOOD USED CARS which we sell at what they cost us after thorough overhauling. Payment on buying, and delivery at once. Wholesale and retail, to immediate necessity limits and the continued lagging shown in collections. The other side of the picture is, however, seen in the continued growth in building expenditures, March making the second consecutive gain of the first quarter, and a continued whitening down of the unfavorable balance shown in this direction as compared with a year ago, the progress made toward stable prices in the steel industry through the medium of alternate advances and decreases by the independent and the Steel Corporation, the indicated largest consumption of raw cotton in bales shown since last September, the better demand for and output of crude petroleum and gasoline, leather, shoes and automobiles and accessories, the cumulative evidences that unemployment is decreasing, the averting of a general strike in Great Britain, and last, but not least, the indications that retail stocks are not so large or so well sorted as was thought a while ago. As for some time past, most activity in distribution seems to be in the lines which a year ago first felt public abstention from buying, and there seem to be quite good reports as to the passing into consumption of cotton, woolen and silk dress goods, with repeat orders requesting prompt shipment. In fact, buying is small but often, and all the healthier because speculative purchases are practically negligible.

On the side of optimism this week may be prominently arranged, also, the further evidence of the easing of the money and credit strain, signs of which were noted last week in the temporary easing of call money and the marking down of time rates and in this direction shown this week is the dropping of Federal Reserve rediscount rates above noted.

WHY RECOVERY IS SLOW. (Forbes Magazine.)
Recovery is delayed by several unsettling factors. These include, in about the order of their importance: (1) The unexpected liquidation of labor. (2) The unexpectedly poor showing being made by the railroads under the Esch-Cummins law, and apprehension over impending labor developments. (3) Tariff uncertainty in reducing prices by numbers of basic industries. (4) Unforeseen delay in starting machinery to extend credits to foreign purchasers. (5) Retention of high money rates for a period almost without parallel in our financial annals. (6) The failure of the retail trade, as a whole, to lower prices commensurate with the decline in wholesale prices. (7) Acute dissatisfaction in responsible circles over tax burdens and the absence of any definite plan in Washington to effect thoroughgoing reform and economy. (8) Tariff uncertainties. (9) Germany's refusal to meet the Allies' demands and the new outburst of rebellion lawlessness by "Reds." Nevertheless, things are slowly getting better, not worse.

CROSS BENCHERS
IN PARLIAMENT

Five Lonely Figures, Who are Known as the "Lost Legion."

MACLEAN IS ABLEST

Buchanan Wasting His Talents? —L. J. Gauthier on the Way to Cabinet?

By M. GRATTAN O'LEARY.

ONE of the strange developments of the present strange parliament is the "cross bench" group. Without a leader, whips, or caucus, owing allegiance to no definite principles, unhampered by traditions and too small in numbers to determine issues, its membership is mostly the flotsam and jetsam of war politics, but not without interest. Its most important figure, perhaps, is Mr. A. K. Maclean. Twenty years ago, Mr. Maclean, then a rising barrister, promised a brilliant political career. He had ability, education, the Nova Scotia aptitude for politics, and had made a successful debut in the legislature of his province. In 1904, when he entered the House of Commons, he was singled out as one of the ascending stars of Liberalism. With Mr. F. B. Carvell and Mr. E. M. Macdonald, he formed a trinity of aggressive ability that was of infinite value to the Laurier ministry and to which the Conservatives paid homage with the title of the "dark lantern brigade." Nothing visible stood between Maclean and an appointment to the Liberal cabinet but time, but in 1909, to the surprise of everybody, he resigned from the Commons to become attorney-general of Nova Scotia for Mr. Murray. It was a retrograde and mistaken move, and although Mr. Maclean endeavored to retrace his steps in 1911, when he returned to the federal arena, the god Chance was against him, and he found himself without even the prestige of being an ex-cabinet minister in the wilderness of opposition. It was the beginning of an eclipse from which he has never permanently emerged. In opposition, where the militant, positive mind is the kind most likely to prevail, he divested himself of the aggressiveness of his salad days, shrinking from the fiercest conflicts of party, developing more and more the detached attitude of the student and philosopher, and coming to be regarded as almost lukewarm toward his party.

Joined Union Cabinet

IN 1917, when party dykes were broken, Maclean was one of Sir Wilfrid's old followers who joined the Union cabinet. By so doing he probably revealed a greater courage than most of his party who acted similarly, because in Nova Scotia the party break-up was less severe than in any of the other provinces. As a Unionist, however, he never appeared quite happy. What duties he had to perform he performed with earnestness and ability, but he was too deeply bred into the tenets of Nova Scotia Liberalism to be at ease in a ministry which, as a compromise, had become increasingly Conservative, and last session found him outside the ministry, still on the government side, but looking wistfully to the left. Opposition would probably have welcomed him with open arms for the "light in the window" had attracted a few of the wanderers, but Mr. Maclean's progress homeward has been slow, and for the time being he is a "cross bench" or a southerner. "No Man's Land." How long he will remain there it is not easy to tell, but it is hardly likely that he will ever again become the uncompromising partisan that the house knew some fifteen years ago.

Another ex-Liberal on the cross benches is Mr. W. A. Buchanan. A working journalist, an excellent debater and with far above the average of political capacity, one wonders why Mr. Buchanan should waste his time and talents in such a field of barrenness and futility. For the cross-bench area, everything considered, is the section in parliament. A member of one of the three parties, by influencing his colleagues in caucus or by inducing him to adopt his ideas in the house, has a chance of promoting something, but the cross-bencher, without influence with any party, and with no dependable support of any character behind him, can exhort and plead and adjure until eternity without the slightest chance of getting what he wants. He is a voice crying in the wilderness. Mr. Buchanan would be an asset to any party. He has capacity for ideas, power to express them, a fund of useful information, no high public spirit, and more than one minister or front benchman could dedicate in his favor without loss being sustained by the country.

On Way to Cabinet

THIRD in interest in "No Man's Land" is Mr. L. J. Gauthier. Mr. Gauthier is a French-Canadian lawyer who has been in parliament since 1911 without attracting much attention. Cultured, eloquent, with a wealth of Gallic fervor and passion, he has landed on the cross benches by his way to the cabinet. There are those who believe that he will never reach his goal, that, in fact, he has fallen between the stools of the ministry and the opposition, but it may be that these predictions take account of what a certain kind of persistence can achieve in the way of political promotion. Kaiserin Was Curious Combination
Of Propriety and Desire for Show

Her Court Was Dullest and Most Decorous in Europe—Ruthlessly Censored the German Drama.

Lord Edmund Talbot

FIRST vicereine of Ireland under the new Home Rule Act, Lord Talbot was the first Roman Catholic to be appointed Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. He is the foremost lay Catholic in England. The Irish leaders regard the new vicereine as a "dummy" Premier Lloyd George and do not expect any change in the government's policy toward Ireland. Lord Talbot is the uncle and heir-presumptive of the present Duke of Norfolk.

Still Going Strong

THE other day Mr. Bransby Williams, the English actor, declared recently he had occasion to visit his solicitor. Business over the legal gentleman suggested some refreshment. Bransby agreed with quite a considerable show of alacrity. Whereupon the lawyer got of his chair and opened one of the japanned deed boxes ranged around the wall, and disclosed a spirit stand syphon and glasses. On the flap of the deed box was painted: "Estate of John Walker, deceased."

Kaiserin Was Curious Combination
Of Propriety and Desire for Show

Her Court Was Dullest and Most Decorous in Europe—Ruthlessly Censored the German Drama.

TO the honor of the ex-Empress of Germany it must be said that she was a good wife and mother. How far she subscribed to the Kaiser's war program has never been told but she went with him into exile and died of an old woman removed from the pomp and glory she had known for over forty years. And one of the greatest blows she received during the past few years was the news of the death by suicide of her son, Prince Joachim. Most writers who in the past have given us pictures of the ex-Kaiserin represented her as possessed of all the virtues, but narrow-minded, old-fashioned and peculiarly prim. A German writing some years before the war, said: "She fights doggedly against any ease or comfort at court and stands out grimly for the stiff old feudal spirit. As is sometimes the case with aggressively virtuous persons she is sad, rather dull, determined and sectarian and uncharitable in her estimates of those around her. To me she is the most bore person in the world. More than to his religious education, more than to what she considers his political necessities, William II owes to his wife that sort of absurd piety which often gives his discourses a note so comical and false. The empress's regard for the proprieties has led her to assume the bureaucratic mission of censoring the pieces which are presented at the Schauspielhaus of Berlin, and I can assure you that she fills the place conscientiously. She crosses out without mercy, the word 'love' in all manuscripts. It is a word which she regards as highly improper. She only tolerates it in the drama of Schiller and in French works played at the national theatre by Coquelin. Of course, the awful word when said in French doesn't so much endanger French virtue. If the empress visits the museum she causes nude pictures and statues to be draped in advance of her arrival. "With such conceptions of life, literature and art, you may imagine whether the court is amusing. The fetes and receptions at the palace are so loaded with heavy pomp and icy etiquette as to be entirely funereal." One art, however, Kaiserin delighted in, and that was photography. She had taken a really magnificent series of her travels with her husband in the Holy Land, England and other countries. To her influence was largely attributed the photographic art least twice in advance to avoid shocking the Kaiser's instinct of morality. Naturally the German court halls came to resemble the annual military manoeuvres. Everything was done by machinery. Everyone in the household, except the Kaiserin, who beamed with approval, above reproach herself. She had no weakness at all—jewelry and were far too much. The desire for the possession of gems as she grew older became a mania. She added a fifth row to her famous pearl necklace at a cost of $250,000. Along with this she was accustomed to wear an emerald bracelet comprised of stones of unexampled size, with the front of her gown so covered with diamonds and pearls that none of the material could be seen. The Kaiserin was represented as having a dual personality. These two souls of hers fought for years without either one entirely gaining the mastery. One soul made for superhuman propriety, peace, monastic seclusion, and a somewhat reluctantly struggled for worldliness, courtly state, magnificent entertainments. The unworshipful soul succeeded in making the former German court the dullest and most decorous in Europe. The second and worldly had made it the most showy in history. Perhaps during the last couple of years' exile the first soul was given full sway without any opposition from the other.

THE CONFSSIONAL: Uncensored Talks With Big Men About Themselves

No. 30—BEN SPENCE
By Emil Longue-Beau.

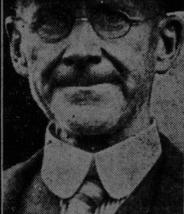

"WHAT sort of dope can I give you to-day?" was the Alliance David's greeting. "I wish you had bumped into me after the campaign, for I'm getting pretty fierce just now. I'm like the boxer of the circuit, trying to fit bookings of artists where some of them don't want to be fitted. And I have to keep some from taking star parts they can't fill. It isn't all lavender running in the wind, Ben. I've got to be a preacher. I'd sometimes give way to the temptation to use intoxicating language. I'd be a blessed relief to cut loose sometimes." "When the Philistine towards prohibition can see through the light of Ben H. Spence, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, and the nearest to a potential Foch against the forces that have been wounding the good people of Ontario, is not a prim and pruny talker of ebullientisms, but a fellow of free speech whom the most vehement liquor defender would hear gladly, if he would talk about some less inspiring subject. If you are prejudiced against Mr. Spence because he goes the whole hog against any truck or trade with fermented liquids, and you feel like turning back from his dry observations following, perhaps you will hear that a great compliment is paid him by some who most detest his politics. Sunday afternoons at Masses' Hall where the prohibition fort is held against sundry snipers, some wet apostate with a dry whistle will call him "Ben." One has even shouted "Good old Ben." They praise the truth that he would have been a great convivialist if he hadn't become a prohibitionist in extremely early youth. Ben's all right, the wet seem to say, but he's in the annoying business of making men testual against their will. His critics never shouted "Good old Frank" to Ben's late brother, who was a colder man, though he had a warm heart. His picture hung behind Ben, as he poured out his spirit to me in his room of the Alliance suite in the Lumden Building overlooking Yonge and Adelaide. If you would telepath a wish to a first-class fighting man send it through the corner of the only curtained windows in the building. Ben noticed me observing the framed picture of his brother. "You are looking at one of the finest men who ever lived," he said, enthusiastically. "Ever since I was a little chap I wished I might be somewhere near as good as he was, and only half as clever. He served Toronto and Canada as few men have. Toronto would have him for everything except for mayor. That was part of the price he had to pay for a whole-hearted devotion to prohibition. He knew himself thoroughly, and was the least self-righteous man you could possibly meet. Sometimes, when I am abused, I recall what Frank used to say when they assailed him in action, a mind confused by all kinds of undesired theories: He

I believe in punch, I'd as soon fight as eat.

MADE LAUDER LAUGH

Now that the illustrious Sir Harry Lauder is back in London once more the newspapers are filled with stories about the great little Scots comedian. One that he himself told recently while being entertained to dinner by the members of the Rotary Club will bear repeating, if only because it "oh," as the Scotch friend of his who told him that he had heard of the visit to the cottage. "And what did the old lady say about it?" asked Lauder. "She said, 'D'yer ken who we had here last night? Harry Lauder, the comic man frae Glasgow. He's an awfu' man. Oh, he's a terrible man, you took me a time to keep from laughin' at him.'"

Hamlet of Labor
In Britain Retires

Robert Smillie a Strange Mixture of Kindness and Rough Coldness.

THE kindest and most automatic figure in the British labor movement has disappeared. Mr. Robert Smillie's resignation of the office of president of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain has been accepted, and that acceptance means the removal from public life of one of its most remarkable personalities. Even to his most intimate friends—and they are very few—Bob Smillie has always been an enigma. Says H. R. S. Phillips in the London Daily Express. He is a man of moods, of contradictions, always sure of himself, but never sure of others. To-day you think you have discovered the key to his character. To-morrow you see a side of him that is utterly strange and incomprehensible. There is no key to him. He is a man apart, a human riddle to which there is no answer. And he is the most misunderstood man in the United Kingdom. Catch him at the right moment, and he is the soul of geniality, a good companion, equally ready to crack a joke or a bottle. Catch him at the wrong moment and he will freeze you with his aloof austerity, his brusque economy of words, his apparent desire to be rid of you and everybody else at the earliest possible moment. Yet he is a man who inspires the utmost trust and confidence.

His appearance exactly fits the type of man that he is. His slightly bowed, spare figure, heavily lined face, beetling brows, and keen penetrating, swiftly appraising eyes transmit at once a sense of power and personality. He is sagacious and shrewd, far-sighted and cautious, warmly human, but unrelentingly bitter when he has made up his mind about a person or a cause, a friendly soul who has forced himself to be one of the most formidable fighters of the modern industrial movement has known.

The popular view of Bob Smillie is that a fight is to him as the very breath of life. Nothing could be wider of the mark, but—spent his early days in the mine under almost unbelievable conditions, he saw his fellows working in these same conditions, he set himself to put things right, and he found he had to fight. The point is that he has always had to force himself to fight. There have been times when he has spent sleepless nights of heart-searching inquiry when he has been about to lead a strike, brooding over the great crop of human misery that was involved, and the conviction that a fight was the only way, and a fight it has been. With the Miners' Federation of Great Britain involved in its greatest couldn't let the temptation pass. Hon. members assured Sir George that some sort of a commercial commissioner to the Fijis had been appointed.

Sir George Foster: "The hon. member will have to accept my statement that we have not appointed a trade commissioner." Mr. Jacob: "He may have been eaten by the natives." Sir George: "My hon. friend may go there with perfect safety; they stopped the practice of cannibalism some time ago." Mr. Jacob: "I suppose we supply the natives with clothing." Sir George: "Yes, they required some." Sir George, of course, has been in parliament a long time, and sometimes his colleagues remind him of it. Mr. Lemieux: "I am sure that the hon. member opposite in 1911, with the right hon. gentleman (Sir George Foster) leading the chorus." Sir George: "I do not sing." Mr. Lemieux: "Probably not the swan song."

And Sir George smiles tolerantly; smiles again, doubtless, when the house gets around to the question of Mr. H. B. Morphy's somnolence. Some one tells that esteemed gentleman he must have been asleep when a certain subject was discussed. The member from North Perth is indignant: Mr. Morphy: "As to the gratuitous suggestion of my being asleep in the house, that is a pleasure which I have never once enjoyed." Mr. Butts: "You do not know what you have missed." A pleasure indeed! What other member but has snored occasionally. And the virtuous Morphy has all ways kept one eye open! A moment later, however, he is caught wide awake. He is telling about it in parliamentary record: Mr. Morphy: "I have shown independence in this house in voting occasionally against the government. I would like to know if the hon. gentleman (Mr. Cahill, an oppositionist) ever did so in his life?" Mr. Cahill (amid laughter): "I have always voted against the government."

Mr. Morphy: "This is pretty cheap and very well put in. I never voted against the government's leader and party and policy. He knew very well what I meant." Of course he did. Half the fun in parliament is in catching the other fellow when he says what he doesn't mean at all. And they often do it in the House of Commons. Hansard is not the dead old volume that some people consider it.

struggle, Smillie is at home in a little cottage home in Lanarkshire. He waged a great warfare between the cold canniness of his head and the warmth of his great heart. He tried to follow the dictates of both but it has always been an impossible task. So he has gone home to Scotland, and his going leaves a big gap.

Tiger Liver and Bats as Delicacies

Queer Variety of Food Eaten by People in Different Parts of the World.

WE hear from Paris of foxes, polecats, badgers, and squirrels being sold on a very limited scale of course—for human food in this present year of 1921. This reminds General R. G. Burton of the British army that under stress of famine almost anything will be eaten, while food accepted in one country may be rejected in another. General Burton says: "The tiger will reject portions of a carcass that are eaten with avidity by the Scotman (in the form of haggis) and the hyena. A Mohammedan would usually rather die than eat pork, but I was acquainted with a descendant of Tipu Sultan of Mysore who liked ham and eggs for breakfast. The Hindu rejects the eating of beef with horror—but that is a matter of religion. In Burma the natives eat rotten fish. I have eaten iguana (a large lizard) patties in the West Indies and porcupine in India, and have sat down to a haunch of bear in the best hotel in Moscow. I have tasted the liver of a tiger in curry, and on many occasions the villagers have gone off from my camp rejoicing with tiger legs carried on their shoulders like great haunches of beef. The flesh of some crocodiles I killed on the Mahi River in Western India was carried off for food by some of the inhabitants of the Baroda bazaar, although a bracelet and a silver col found in the stomach of one indicated that it was a man-eater. Our soldiers in India, used to be very fond of flying foxes (a large fruit-eating bat). I once met a couple of soldiers out shooting, one carried a gun and the other a sack for the game bag. The sack was turned out for my inspection. It contained an assortment of game destined for the pot, including flying-foxes, partridges, and various birds. Among these was a large crane standing some 4 feet high and with a bill like a boat. "And what is that?" I asked. "Well sir," was the reply, "we don't rightly know, but we think it's a snipe!"

CHANGING TIMES

THE Indians were a canoe race, but the Americans of to-day are a yacht race.
