The new programme at the Opera House tonight has a good variety and will undoubtedly be interesting. The various acts are as follows: "Up Side Down" Stanley, the topsy-turvy equilibrist; Clay and Robinson, in a comedy singing and musical skit; Kravens and Company, in an original electrical novelty and animated picture; Eddie and Margaret Kelly, in comedy songs and a Bengal tiger, ought not to be forgotten in the enumeration of the cast, for they play no small part in the comedy and thrills with which this five part production has been provided by the genius of Mack Sennett.

Creates an appetite, aids digestion, purifies the blood, and thus relieves scrofula, catarrh, the pains and aches of rheumatism and gives strength to the whole system.

Nearly 50 years' phenomenal sales tell the story of the great merit and success of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is just the medicine you need now. Hood's Pills help—fine cathartic.

Hampton production, starring H. B. Warner, which opens at the Palace Theatre today.

The picture, a Robertson-Cole release, shows Mr. Warner in a delightfully new characterization which serves to emphasize this capable actor's versatility. He is given satisfactory support by a cast which includes Kathryn Adams, a screen actress of long experience. Sam de Grasse, a well known "heavy," Evelyn Schib, and several lesser lights of the screen world.

The denouement of the story, a blood-stirring fight scene, is one of the best ever shown on the silver sheet. Henry King's direction makes the picture a noteworthy contribution to the screen.

The fifth episode of the great Francis Ford serial, "The Mystery of 1871," will also be shown. The usual matinee for the children will be given Saturday, starting at two o'clock.

Silverplate that lives long

WHEN we speak of the family silverplate, we generally mean the silverplate that has been in the family for years. Naturally the quality must be good—or it would not be lasting. And of all silverplate, there is but one that merits the name "family plate"—that is "1847 Rogers Bros." Its quality is lasting, and its designs wisely chosen and artistic. The favorite choice for over seventy years, it has indeed earned the name of "family plate."

When you think of silverplate think of 1847 Rogers Bros. And when you come to the point of choosing it, be sure to ask for it by full name.

The Standard says—"It is quite likely that no member of the government took any personal hand in the collection of a fund from certain parties interested in the liquor trade; they were wise enough to avoid anything that might link them up with such a fund, but all the same such a fund was got together, and they found it mighty handy on election day.

MURDER VERDICT
IN MADAWASKA COUNTY CASE

Edmundston, N. B., Oct. 14.—William St. Pierre, the local young man whose movements have been watched since the body of Miss Minnie Stevens was found in the Madawaska River here on Tuesday last, was arrested here today. Detective Crawford arrived on the Trans-continental train early this morning and began an investigation.

The coroner's jury met behind closed doors today at 2 p.m. and after examining two witnesses found that the case was one of murder.

The witnesses examined were J. T. Johnston and Dr. Frederick Hebert, of this place. Mr. Johnston is the manager of the Star Theatre, in connection with which is a dance hall.

The evidence so far as St. Pierre is concerned, showed that on the evening Miss Stevens met her death the hall was rented to St. Pierre, the man under arrest, and a friend, who were running the dance that evening. The friend arrived at the hall about 9:30 and Johnston swore that when St. Pierre came in he took Johnston aside and, removing his hat, asked if Johnston could see any scratches on his face and if he looked fit to appear in public as he had been in a fight with four men on the Green

For Ladies

Said Mrs. C. to Mrs. T.
One bleak and cold and wintry day,
"You know, my dear, this time of year
Is hard on folks.
If only we could feel assured
Of health and comfort, 't would be fine,
But it seems we can't, in such a climate."

"Well, do you know," smiled Mrs. T.
"I used to think this time of year,
Meant colds and sickness always near,
But we heard of an easy way,
To be healthy and comfy every day.
You know Mrs. Wise, across the street,
(Just the picture of health and always neat)
Well, she was told by a doctor friend
She'd never regret the money she'd spend
On good wool 'Undies,' the 'Ceetees' kind,
Made by Turnbull's of Galt, I think she said.
An advertisement somewhere then she read—
Telling folks how that particular kind
Was fashioned by experts—and that you'd find
The 'Undies' they made were the better kind—
Fashioned of wool that was not one bit 'tickly'
(Others, you know, tickle and seem sort of prickly)
That all "CEETEE" garments are so downy and soft,
We'd just love to wear them—in fact, very oft.
Mothers buy them for babies, all fears to ally
Should they go for an airing on a stormy, chill day—
Why! the rain would 'nt matter, neither wind, snow or frost—
"CEETEE" garments, in truth, are worth twice their first cost.

CONFLICTING TALES OF NEW YORK SHOOTING

Police Mystified Over Killing of Ex-Convict

Slayer Tells of Holdup, Saying Robbery Was Attempted — Friend of Dead Man Says It's Murder.

(New York Times) Despite a score of "eye-witness accounts" of a fatal shooting and a police chase after fugitives through the crowds in West Thirty-ninth Street, near Broadway, at 6 o'clock last evening, detectives were still struggling through masses of conflicting stories at midnight in attempts to fashion a plausible story of the death of an ex-convict.

Hundreds of persons saw a sprinting man dash out of the traffic of West Thirty-ninth street into the denser crowds of Broadway, with another at his heels, firing an automatic pistol at every jump, and near the Princess Theatre, in the middle of the block, other witnesses had seen the man with the pistol shoot down another victim. But none of them was able to say whether the case was one of robbery or homicide.

CHASE & SANBORN, MONTREAL

Detectives were inclined at first to credit the version of the man with the pistol—William Stern, a jewelry salesman of 212 West 111th street—who said he was walking toward Sixth avenue on the south side of Thirty-ninth street when three or four men seized him into a dark doorway and attempted to steal $2,000 in cash and jewels.

Stern's Record Disclosed

When the police raked over their records at headquarters they found that Stern, also known as Herman Kudich, had been sentenced to three months on Blackwell's Island on Sept. 11, 1911, for petty larceny. Their records showed also that Stern, or Kudich, under the name of Harry Smith was sentenced to three months in the house of corrections in Boston, on Dec. 31, 1914. Detectives said fingerprints, pictures and you will like it fine! in 2 and 5 lb cartons 10, 20 and 100 lb bags description proved that Stern had been in jail. At midnight the man with the pistol was taken to the police headquarters on a charge of homicide, and detectives began to hear the story of Pasquale Mille of Farmingdale, L. I., who was making the determined effort to get out into Broadway out of range of Stern's pistol. Mille declared that the case was "murder", not robbery, and he vehemently denied the accusation of a detective that he himself had served a term in Sing Sing. He was more interested in a couple of bullet holes in his coat.

It was Mille's story that he was to meet Paul Boittano of 137 West Seventy-sixth street in Thirty-ninth street at 9 o'clock and that he saw Boittano in violent argument with Stern as he approached the rendezvous. He said he did not care to take part in the quarrel and went into a candy store of William Halpern, a few doors from the Princess Theatre to get a drink of soda. Mille said he heard shooting while drinking the soda and ran out just as his friend Boittano fell dead on the sidewalk with two bullet wounds in his breast. As he started toward Boittano he said, Stern opened fire on him and he fled toward Broadway at his best speed, with the man with the pistol close behind. He was held as a material witness.

Peering still further into the mystery of the shooting, the police found that the dead man also had a prison record. With three other men, he held up and shot the cashier of the East River Savings Bank on the Boverly in 1914 and was sent to Sing Sing for an indeterminate sentence. He served twenty-three months. The police of the West Thirtieth street station said they had had their eyes on him for months.

Contending at first that he was not well acquainted with Boittano and did not know Stern at all, Mille admitted to detectives after lengthy questioning that he knew both men well. He denied that he knew of any reason why they should quarrel and declared he had never done any work with either of the men, or had any financial dealings with them.

Checking up Stern's story that his assailants had a pistol and a knife, the police searched the street and the dark hallway thoroughly, but found no weapons. Mille said he had no pistol and did not know Boittano was in the habit of carrying weapons. Stern declared that he had a shooting gallery near one of the Long Island camps during the war and had a Nassau county permit to carry a pistol.

Salesman "on His Own Hook"

Stern had a certified check for $600 in his pocket, $100 in cash and about $1,500 worth of jewelry, which he said he was peddling at Broadway and Sixth Avenue stores when he met Boittano. He would not say where he got the gems and declared that he was "a salesman on his own hook."

Although hundreds of persons saw the chase through Thirty-ninth street, including lines of persons at the ticket offices of the Princess and Maxine Elliott's theatres, none saw the action that led up to the shooting. Mille's story that he was in the candy store was upheld by the proprietor.

The police got their clearest account of the shooting and chase from a fidgety ten-year-old boy, the son of the proprietor of the candy store. The boy, William Halpern, was in the street in front of the store and gave chase to the fugitives, running neck and neck with Policeman Nicholas Moore of Traffic Squad B, who left his Broadway post when he heard the shooting.

Willie became so nervous when he was asked to go to the police station to tell his story that Captain Walsh and Detective Wood thought it would be wise to tell him that he was merely helping the police and that no suspicion was directed against him.

Willie Fears "a Licking." "I don't mind seeing a guy shot up and killed or helping a bunch of cops on a case," said the sophisticated Willie, "but my mother told me she'd give me a licking if I didn't hurry home tonight to do my examples because teacher said I wasn't good at arithmetic."

Captain Walsh settled this by giving him a note that would satisfy both mother and teacher, and sent him glowing on his way with the official thanks of the police department for his "co-operation." The detectives said Willie had a clear story of the shooting, and saw more than his elders, and he won't have to recite in classes today. But he has a good yarn for his "gang."

Broadway's crowds spent over the incident so quickly that many witnesses were lost by the police, and aside from losing a step or two on traffic while Policeman Moore was in the chase, the street seemed normal again ten minutes after some 2,000 persons had been watching a "thriller" in real life.

The White-Tailed Deer advertisement with image of a deer. Text: perhaps you know it better as the Virginia Deer—is the best and most widely spread representative of American big game. In one form or another it is found over the greater part of the continent. The splendid antlered heads that adorn the homes of many sportsmen are evidence of the popularity of this animal. In Canada the White-Tailed Deer is represented by three sub-species. The typical form is found in the east, the prairie form in Manitoba westward to the Rockies, and the Columbian White-Tail or Cotton-Tail Deer, which is found in southern British Columbia, between the Selkirk and Cascade Ranges. West of these mountains the White-Tail is replaced by the Black-Tail or Coast Deer, light colored examples of which are sometimes taken for the White-Tail. The White-Tail of the west is known as the Red Deer. The fleetness of the deer makes a well-placed shot necessary and the sportsman should be sure that his ammunition possesses the speed and accuracy of the new DOMINION 30-30. This cartridge has an additional velocity of 200 feet per second and is one of the most popular cartridges in use. Look for the label on the box as well as the big "D." Other popular Dominion calibres for big game are the 250 Savage, 33 Winchester, .30, .32 and .35 Remington, .33 Self-loading, .32 Special, 280 Soft Point, .303 British and .30 U.S.—all backed by the big "D" trademark. ### CRITICIZES SOME SOURCES OF OUR MILK SUPPLY

Statement at County Hospital Board Meeting

Superintendent Says Conditions in Some Places Such That He Would Not Recommend Contract for Milk for Institution.

Some statements in connection with the conditions under which the city's milk supply is produced were made by Dr. H. A. Farris, superintendent of the St. John County Hospital, at a meeting of the board of that institution yesterday afternoon in the county secretary's office. They were made during a discussion on the question of milk supply to the hospital. It was reported at the time that the milk bill at the county hospital for 1920 will be $2,000, as that for the General Public Hospital in 1919 was nearly $5,000. H. B. Schofield presided, and there were also present Dr. S. H. McDonald, Dr. J. H. Frink, J. King Kelly, the county secretary, and Dr. Ferris.

Dr. Farris reported that, in company with Dr. Warwick, he had visited several dairies to enter into yearly contracts with the owners, and said many were so carelessly kept that he would not recommend a contract with them. As a sanitary precaution for the removal of bacteria, Dr. Farris said that in one case he saw a herd of twenty cows washed by a dirty lad, and the whole amount of water used was not more than half a pailful.

In some of the stables, he said, the manure was simply scraped back from behind the cattle; the cans were washed in the morning and hung upside down in the barn over the manure heap, and that that night or the following morning in the stable. He reported to the board the names of all the producers he had visited. The matter of milk supply was left to Dr. Ferris and H. B. Schofield to make the best contracts with producers having the highest rating.

It was decided to request the warden to take up with the County Hospital, the General Public Hospital and other institutions using large quantities of milk, the question of milk production. This was done following a suggestion made at the July meeting of the municipal council by Mayor Schofield proposing a scheme of housing producers on the line of the Valley railway by rebating freight charges.

The board decided to purchase a Ford motor truck which could be used in case of emergency as an ambulance, and Dr. Farris was authorized to dispose of the horse which has been used there. It was decided to have the washing machines at hospital converted into alternating types.

Dr. McDonald was elected vice-president of the board.

LIME PLANT IS BADLY DAMAGED

Heavy Blast Hurls Debris and Brookville Quarry Structure Suffers.

The plant of the Smith and Merrifield lime quarry at Brookville was considerably damaged yesterday afternoon. The two upper stories of the crushing and pulverizing plant were badly wrecked, as more than a ton of flying debris fell on the roof. A charge of 300 pounds of powder and fifty pounds of dynamite was put into a seventeen-foot tunnel and detonated. The result was a violent explosion, about 6:45 p. m. It shook the houses for some distance around. It is said that some pieces of rock were thrown as far as L'Anse-au-Loup Lake. The greatest damage was done to the crushing and pulverizing plant, a four-story building. The cupola was demolished and damage done to the upper floors of the building. The building in general was badly wrecked. There was considerable valuable machinery in the building, but being on the second floor it is thought to have escaped damage. The generator and electric equipment are said to have suffered severely.

ITALIAN LABOR
CONDEMNS REGIME
OF BOLSHEVIKI

Special Mission Spent Many Weeks on Inquiry in Russia

Strong Indictment — Problems Arising From Destruction of Capitalist System Remain Unsolved.

(By Austin West, special cable to the N. Y. Times and Montreal Gazette.) Milan, Oct. 8.—As a damning indictment of the Bolshevik regime from trustworthy sources quite above suspicion, the report just published from the special mission of the Italian general confederation of labor will undoubtedly take first rank. This mission spent many weeks in Russia, where the Soviets facilitated in every way its task of observation and inquiry.

The economic section of the report states that practical results of the communistic experiment in no wise respond to the grandiose theoretical ideas, nor can this be wondered at, in view of the serious lack of preparation, gross incompetence and utter ignoring of the natural law of gradual evolution. Hence the formidable problems that were bound to arise through thoughtless destruction control of factories, as applied under the Soviets, has, with rare exceptions, proved disastrous in its effects. The mass of workers are idle and industries are stagnant.

Benefits Incidental.

The Italian labor mission surveys the beneficial aspects of the Russian revolution, but in the presence of its broad panoramic failure cannot judge them as other than incidental. Bolshevism, for instance, has triumphed where the most highly-civilized Christian states have failed ignominiously, namely in the almost universal eradication of prostitution. Religion and chastity and the marriage state are held in far higher honor than formerly, though according to the Italian mission this is due in all probability to underfeeding.

This interesting report also seeks to correct several widespread misconceptions and illusions. First, the ludicrous accounts and stories retailed over Europe about the attempted nationalization of women by the Soviets it says is sheer legend; second, those politicians who put their trust in a speedy revival of the Russian export trade are leaning on a broken reed. Transport traffic is thoroughly disorganized and home requirements may make international commerce agreements mere scraps of paper. Quite recently over 8,000 tons of wheat, destined for Italy, has been requisitioned at Kherson, for victualling the Red Army fighting against General Wrangel.

Thirdly, the imminent downfall of the actual revolutionary regime is altogether improbable. It is true that the Communists as a party number about 600,000 in a population of 60,000,000, yet they are masters of every political and economic body.

Terrible Distress.

Despite terrible distress prevailing in towns, various achievements of the revolution have entered into the marrow of the popular conscience. Bolshevism grants the city workers one parliamentary representative for every twenty-five workmen as against one such representative for every 125 peasants, hence in the present day in Russia, one city workman is politically worth five country folk.

The opposition party of Mensheviks and Social Revolutionaries as distinguished from Communists count only twenty-eight deputies in a Soviet parliament of 1,200 and are forbidden to use the printing press. The peasantry, whom they chiefly represent and who are benefited beyond any other class by the Soviet innovations, will certainly and most stubbornly resist any reactionary movement likely to deprive them of their new landed rights of small proprietorship which are transmissible from father to son.

ROBINSON CRUSOE'S ISLAND.
(Manchester Guardian.)

It is generally taken for granted that Juan Fernandez—which the Chilean government proposes to develop as a health resort—was Robinson Crusoe's island, and that Alexander Selkirk served as the prototype of Defoe's hero. So firmly is this belief established that the house at Largo where Selkirk was born is marked by a life-sized figure of Robinson Crusoe. Yet the distinction of inspiring Defoe's immortal story has also been claimed for a Spanish sailor, Pedro Serrano, who, after being stranded in the Caribbean Sea, spent seven years on a deserted island thousands of miles from Juan Fernandez. Serrano's adventures, as set out in Caricolas de la Vega's "Comentarios Reales" (if which an English translation appeared in 1868), resemble those assigned to Robinson Crusoe far more closely than Selkirk's account of his life on Juan Fernandez. Moreover, the Spaniard encountered worse perils, the tale on which he was cast being merely a sandbank.

When Serrano had lived in solitude for three years another sailor was cast ashore there by the waves, and eventually both were rescued by a passing vessel. The pair presented such a forbidding appearance that the crew of the pinace launched to their aid hesitated about taking them aboard until the castaways reassured them by kneeling down and reciting the Credo in loud tones. Serrano's companion died on the voyage home but Serrano himself reached Spain little the worse for his adventures. He had an audience with the Emperor Charles V, who was so impressed by his narrative that he awarded him a substantial pension.

STORY OF FIGHT TO DEATH ON ROOF

Details of Encounter of New York Policeman and Negro on Top of Five-Story Building.

The despatches the other day told briefly a story which the New York Times amplifies as follows:

Persons occupying upper floor apartments in the Great Northern Hotel and neighboring apartment houses were held breathless, thrilled and horrified by turns, for twenty minutes yesterday afternoon as they watched a fight for life between a policeman and his prisoner on the roof of 989 Sixth Avenue, at Fifty-sixth street. Both, they saw, were struggling for possession of the policeman's pistol. The battle twice was carried to the roof's edge, and it seemed inevitable that both should pitch headlong to the yard six floors below.

By a great effort the policeman manoeuvred his opponent back to the centre of the roof, and while the struggle was hidden from view by a chimney, the many witnesses heard a shot. Then the tussle was renewed near the edge, and it seemed back and forth for fully five minutes. The policeman, handicapped, it was evident, by a heavy raincoat, apparently was getting the worst of it. His assailant gradually pushed him nearer the edge.

Then a man in a sailor's uniform ran across from the roof of 102 West Fifty-sixth street and by sheer strength dragged both combatants to the centre of the stage. The sailor struck the civilian with a wooden club, apparently with no effect. The policeman, his balance recovered and still retaining his pistol, dashed after his antagonist as the latter attempted to flee through the roof door of 989 Sixth Avenue. Here there was another clench, and when the policeman attempted to club his prisoner with the butt end of his pistol the man grasped the butt, and for a moment had the "drop." But he couldn't grasp the trigger.

Shot Through the Heart.

A quick movement by the policeman brought him into possession of the business end of the weapon. He fired and his man dropped into a heap of newly washed clothes, a bullet through his heart.

The policeman was Martin Gill of the West Forty-seventh Street Station, who served in France as a member of Company A, 103th Infantry. He received the Medaille Militaire and the Croix de Guerre from France and won the Distinguished Service Cross for gallant work at the head of his company during the fighting at Laupres St. George.

His prisoner, who was killed instantly, was identified as Rafael Cotin, a West Indian negro of 282 West Fifty-second street, a dishwasher in a restaurant in Sixth Avenue near Fifty-seventh street. He came to the United States several months ago.

Gill was standing on Sixth Avenue and West Fifty-sixth street at 1.10 o'clock when a young white woman approached him and declared she had been insulted by a "Spaniard," who disappeared through the doorway of 989 Sixth Avenue as she approached the policeman. Gill asked the woman how he could identify the man, and the young woman supplied an accurate description even to the gray soft shirt the man wore. When Gill entered the building he saw Cotin standing on the stairs.

"He had a look of terror in his eyes," Gill said as he told the story when Dr. Charles Norris, the Chief Medical Examiner, arrived at the scene. "He ran up the stairs and I followed him to the roof. I found the door admitting to the roof slammed shut and when I opened it the man now dead dove at me and I fell down the stairs. I guess I had tripped over my raincoat in some way. "I went up again and pushed the door open, at the same time reaching for my gun—we don't carry nightsticks now until the night tour.

"When I pushed the door open a second time I ducked quickly to avoid a second rush and we clinched. The man seemed to be possessed of the strength of a maniac. I intended to hit him on the head with the gun for resisting arrest, but when he nearly took the pistol away from me I had to fight to save my own life. We nearly fell off the roof twice.

It was James McQueeny of 102 West Fifty-sixth street, garbed in a sailor's white duck uniform, who went to the aid of the policeman. McQueeny explained he was a bookkeeper and that he occasionally wore the uniform about the house.

"I was told of the fight on the roof and got there just in time to save both from falling off the slippery roof. Both Gill's legs were hanging off into space and his two overcoats had fallen in the yard," McQueeny said. "He did not want to shoot the man and had attempted to club him with the pistol. Finally he had to shoot to save his own life."

Dr. Norris and Dr. Benjamin Schwarz, Assistant Medical Examiner, who examined Cotin's body, said that the man had been shot twice, the first bullet having grazed his chest. Five minutes elapsed, witnesses said, between the first and second shot.

Dr. Norris said that a superficial examination indicated that Cotin was de-

OLD KENTUCKY - MAKES BIG HIT AT QUEEN SQUARE

The large audience at the Queen Square Theatre last night saw the best show of the present season. The Young Adams Company certainly gave an excellent performance. Scenery and effects were excellent. The show made a big hit and will draw crowded houses. All scenes were well handled and the characters exceptionally well done. See in Old Kentucky Friday and Saturday at the Queen Square Theatre. A big play well done.

MAKES BRIDE'S DRESS.
London, Eng., Oct. 15.—A one-legged ex-soldier was married at Nelson. His bride and the bridesmaid wore dresses and hats that he made himself. The bridegroom is now a clerk in a cotton mill.

Sixty-six World War One Men.
Preston, Eng., Oct. 15.—Sixty-six applications for the post have been received to the plea of an Alberta farmer to find him a wife. One of the women wrote that she expected her husband to get up and beat milk for the baby during the night; another wanted to be waited on hand and foot; and her hair to be combed every night; another said she was very much domesticated and fond of cigarettes.

POLICE EVICTED.
New York, Oct. 15.—Even the police are evicted by the landlord. The owner of a building in West 133rd street which houses a station, refused to renew the lease, saying he was losing money on the property. So the police had to move.

THOUSAND MILES BY BOAT AND SLED
Ex-Constable Who Has Been 16 Months in Arctic Arrives at Timmins.

Timmins, Oct. 15.—Ex-Constable Carl Eyre, formerly of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who acted as marine engineer of the forty-foot gasoline boat "Lady Borden," and who has spent the past sixteen months in the Arctic, has arrived here. He traveled over one thousand miles from Cape Fullerton on the west shore of Hudson Bay, and the journey occupied three and one-half months.

The party, of which Ex-Constable Eyre was a member, left Cape Fullerton on June 11, traveling in a whale boat on a sled and drawn by dogs. Port Churchill was not reached until August 12. At the latter place they were joined by Sergeant and Mrs. E. H. L. Thompson, who had been wrecked 94 miles south of that point and who had been compelled to walk over 100 miles, living on berries and a meager ration. The trip then continued to Le Pas by boat and gasoline speeder.

Much loose ice in Hudson Bay delayed the party on the trip which is usually made in a little over one month.

MICHIGAN FARMER KILLS CHILDREN
Chloroforms and Buries His Little Daughters — Ther Makes Confession.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 15.—Earl Roop, a farmer living near here, has confessed according to Sheriff Silbert, that he chloroformed his two daughters, age two and three years, and buried their bodies in the bed of the Red Cedar river a short distance from his home.

The two girls, the sheriff said, had been in the fields with Roop. In the evening the farmer returned to his home and assured his wife, who was ill and in bed with her six-day-old son, that the girls were safe, and would be home soon.

A few hours later he started for the sheriff's office at Mason, where he surrendered and made the alleged confession.

After Roop had told his story Sheriff Silbert went to the river, led by Roop and uncovered the bodies.

Dependently, according to the alleged confession, was the motive for the crime Roop is being held on a charge of murder.

DECLINE IN PRICES.
A decline in the price of butter and beef was reported in the Montreal market yesterday. In New York selling agents for well known lines of muslins announced that drastic price cuts would be made today. One line will be cut from 25 to 20 cents a yard, and another from 81 to 19 cents.

RESTAURANT MAN KILLED IN HOLDUP

Staten Island Manager, Ignoring Command to Be Silent, Is Shot by Four Auto Bandits.

(N. Y. Times.)

Thieves and holdup men spent a busy week-end, judging from reports of their activities gathered about the city yesterday. One man who was held up in a Staten Island restaurant was fatally shot because he disobeyed the parting injunction of four bandits not to make an outcry. His name was Walter Jackowski, night manager of Silverman's Restaurant at 2886 Richmond Terrace, Mariners Harbor.

Jackowski was sitting in the rear of the restaurant early yesterday morning when four men alighted from a small touring car and, entering, whipped out pistols and ordered him to stand up against the wall with his hands up. Jackowski obeyed and the men rifled the cash register of $40.

As they left they warned him to make no outcry.

Jackowski, ignoring their command, called for the police. The bandits all fired at once, three of the bullets taking effect. A patrol later found the manager lying unconscious on the floor and notified the police. Jackowski was rushed to St. Vincent's Hospital, where he died after furnishing the police with descriptions of his assailants.

Not quite an hour before this four men, believed to be the same party, stopped John Milano, a New Brighton vegetable dealer, on his way home from Washington Market with supplies for the day and took $50 from him.

Albert Ellinburg, a taxi driver of 1,084 Bryant avenue, the Bronx, was standing at Columbus Circle about four o'clock

HARD ON TRAIL OF OPIUM RING

U. S. Federal Agents Making Arrests of Members of Illegal Organization.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Federal agents continue today to dig into the ramifications of the opium smuggling ring, whose activities reach from the far Orient into San Francisco, Chicago, New York and other cities in the United States and Canada. The five arrests already made are said to be merely preliminary to the gathering of the real heads of the ring, which has been cleaning up fortunes in the illegal traffic, not only in opium but other forbidden drugs.

The trail was struck here with the capture of a trunk containing 110 one-pound cans of white poppy opium. It also is known that a trunk containing 125 pound cans of white poppy was shipped from San Francisco to Boise, Idaho, and which is being kept for it. The value of the 110 cans seized here is about $100,000, but its wholesale value would be about $15,000. Hop joints in the Chinese quarters and the black belt are being watched closely, and it was said today that the arrest of a prominent business man and a dozen or more of his agents was imminent.

Federal agents believe that Chicago is headquarters for the ring. Toledo is one of the chief gateways to Canada for distribution in the dominion.

Used Cows to Cut Grass.

Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 15.—Residents were shocked when they learned cows were being pastured in Union Cemetery, where lie the remains of three governors and many other state officials and men of prominence. Investigation revealed that the caretaker, who is paid for keeping the grass cut, has pastured cows in the home of the dead to keep the grass short.

SECURITY FOR BONDS

Bonds are secured by a specific mortgage on all the Company's present and future fixed assets and a floating charge upon all other assets subject only to $4,107,500 of First Mortgage Bonds redeemable serially 1921-1934.

From $292,000 to $325,000 of First Mortgage Bonds mature each year, 1921 to 1934 inclusive. These annual reductions in amount of First Mortgage Bonds outstanding coupled with heavy Sinking Fund of 3% per annum on General Mortgage Bond issue rapidly increases the equity behind General Mortgage Bonds.

At current market prices on Montreal Stock Exchange, Preferred and Common Shares have a market value of approximately $20,000,000, ranking junior to these Bonds.
