Novel Skin Treatment For The Winter Girl

In those days when one has been out in the cold for a long time and one's skin feels as if it were going to crack in a thousand places, it is a wise idea to don a face mask upon returning home.

What next? Why, you must immediately don a face mask which is made of heavy cotton cloth with holes cut for the eyes, nose and mouth.

My beauty patient must now resign herself to sitting quietly with a book or bit of sewing in her hands until full sixty minutes have flown by.

When it is time to remove the mask hasten to the bathroom and wash off the soothing cream with floods of hot, soapy water.

As soon as you think your face is freed from the cream, attach a bath spray to the cold water faucet and deluge your face with the icy water.

If you are not a cold water fan you will doubtless view this part of your beauty task with disfavor but do not omit it, I beg of you, as it is essential that the legs of your skin should be gotten into a normal condition.

GIRL UNCONSCIOUS FOR FIVE MONTHS; HAD STUDIED TOO HARD

Has Regained Senses Several Times But Only For a Few Minutes

Spokane, Wash., March 13.—As a result of overstudy in preparing for a high school examination, 17-year-old Irene Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burns, of Spokane, has been unconscious for five months, with the exception of a half a dozen intervals when she regained consciousness only for a few minutes.

Recently an operation was performed for the removal of an unnatural growth near the abdomen, and there is now hope for her recovery.

Why suffer the handicap of looking old. Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance.

Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur restores its natural color and lustre to hair.

Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use; but listen, avoid prejudice.

CHAT ABOUT THE STORY WRITERS

Arnold Bennett's Home Like One He Planned in Novel

ELINOR GLYN'S STORIES

Says She Tells Them All to Her Young Daughter—Noble Bankrupt's Land in the British Bankruptcy Court

(Times Special Correspondence)

London, March 13.—Arnold Bennett says that the newspaper over here have been only half right in describing the alterations which he is having made in the fine country house at Thorpe-Soken, near Colchester, of which he recently became the owner.

It has been stated that he meant to carry out all the wonderful labor-saving inventions which his famous character, "The Marquis," had planned and installed in the house which the latter built, but Bennett says he is not going as far as that.

Incidentally, he is considering his servants almost as carefully as his hero did. For example, the marble bath-room, the book case, the rug, each one with rails on which the towels are dried by steam, while near by is a tiny apartment intended to save the servants' lives, for in it all the waste water of the floor can be emptied.

Each bedroom, too, has a wash-basin which supplies itself with water from "hot" and "cold" taps, and which also disposes of its own waste when you are in it. In fact, it is as near to it as one can come outside an imaginary one.

Miss Mary Cholmondeley, who writes about one novel in every three years, has now completed her first novel since "The Onions" and it is about to begin serial publication here. The title she gave it was "Nevertheless."

That is a new writer, Mrs. Glyn, and the publisher was polite and regretful but his novel was printed and the Cholmondeley had to change her title at the eleventh hour to "Notwithstanding."

Elinor Glyn

Mrs. Elinor Glyn, asked by an English newspaper man the other day, to supply her recipe for successful tale-writing, replied candidly as follows:

"Never put in your story an atom of irrelevant material, and nothing that has not an intimate bearing on the thread. Never be afraid of your own convictions, and never write a word you don't believe."

Those were all the direct literary tips that the seeker, after such, brought away from his interview with Mrs. Glyn, though the authoress of "Three Weeks," "The Visits of Elizabeth," and so forth is said to have observed that any literary aspirant who desired a practical object lesson of how a short story should be written might achieve the same by perusing one of her own which she mentioned by name and which, it seems, is about to be published with others in a volume which is a canny lady, Mrs. Glyn, and rarely "gives up" without a return of one sort or another.

Incidentally she never fails to be picturesque and it is no surprise to read that "warm and rich were the tones of furniture in her Mayfair home, declaring a taste quite eastern in its delight in magnificent masses of tapestry."

That is a new writer, Mrs. Glyn, and the publisher was polite and regretful but his novel was printed and the Cholmondeley had to change her title at the eleventh hour to "Notwithstanding."

Mrs. Glyn, in fact, seems to have bawled over her late interview completely. If an wrong by the eye, in saying that the quoted actions for young writers are the only ones vouchsafed by her, Mrs. Glyn says that the distraction afforded by this literary occupation, together with the greenness of "Elizabeth" in book-form, helped her to get over her rheumatism.

Mrs. Glyn, when reminded that some folk had criticised her writings a bit, said: "I would not knowingly hurt anyone in the world," and to demonstrate her own conviction of the harmlessness of all her writings she confided to her interviewer that all her stories are related, before actually being written, to her daughter, "a sweet and lovely girl," who apparently still is what is termed in this country "the belle." What Mrs. Glyn thought of "Three Weeks" and "His Hour," is not stated. Their authoress, it seems, now does most of her writing at Versailles. She said that of all her novels, "Halcyon" is her favorite.

In Bankruptcy Court

Lord Alfred Douglas, whose name always will be associated with that of Oscar Wilde, and who is not without literary gifts, is at present figuring in the London bankruptcy court. His Lordship's liabilities amount to $10,000, while assets are represented by a cipher. Lord Alfred says he "went broke" chiefly through running the "Academy," a London literary weekly by which used to be as readable a one as could be found, but which has been under a cloud in recent years.

THEY ARE AFRAID "Canada for the Canadians" is no longer the slogan of the Conservative party. There cry today is "Canada for the British ship-builders."

Mr. Winston Churchill is a very able man, but he has committed a serious blunder in thrusting himself into a controversy between two Canadian parties over a matter of Canadian policy.

Mr. Borden and Mr. Haesa have made a mess of it. They do not understand the Canadian people. They began by professing a profound devotion to the Empire, and ended in an alliance with the Nationalists, and taking to their bosom those who boasted that their fathers had found it necessary to bore holes in the British flag in order to breathe the air of liberty.

Self-respect is a nation as in an individual is a very desirable quality. If they endorse the Borden naval policy the people of Canada must sacrifice their self-respect.

With the approach of spring and the assurance that there will be a very large increase in the working population of the city, because of the great works to be carried on, the question of housing becomes more pressing.

A mere enumeration of the more important works to be carried on will show that there must be a large influx of mechanics and working men in the early spring and summer. There are the important works at Courtenay Bay, the new wharves and grain elevator at West St. John, the new bridge at the falls, the sugar refinery, the marine depot, the new post office, the big new warehouses, the new bank building, the large buildings to be remodelled, the new houses of all kinds for which plans are being prepared by the local architects, and other works of which no announcement has yet been made.

Perhaps you have never stopped to think just what is meant by good bread and why the best bread is BEST. Bread to be really good, must be of light, even texture, and moist, with soft, uniform, golden-brown crust. Now, the BEST BREAD is BUTTERNUT BREAD, because it has all these points and besides being made from the highest grade of flour, has a delightful flavor you won't find in other breads—Try a loaf of BUTTERNUT.

THE LEGISLATURE

St. John County Farm Bill Killed — The Doctors — Police Chief Matter — Cedar Hill Cemetery Land

Fredericton, N. B., March 12.—The house met at 3 o'clock. Hon. Mr. Fleming moved that the fee paid for the introduction of a bill to authorize the erection of a sitting room at the mouth of Newmarket river be recommended by the corporations committee be returned.

The house went into committee, with Mr. Tilley in the chair, and agreed to a bill to incorporate the New Brunswick Coal, Iron & Clay Company Limited, with amendments.

The house went into committee with Mr. Colling in the chair and agreed to a bill to authorize the town of Grand Falls to issue debentures for the installation of an electric lighting system.

Committee then considered bill to amend act to incorporate New Brunswick Hydro-Electric Company.

Mr. Carson said that the bill authorized the company to increase its capital stock to $10,000,000.

Mr. Tilley enquired why it was necessary to increase the capital stock from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000.

The bill was agreed to with amendments.

The bill to provide for the establishment of a prison farm for the city and county of St. John was then considered.

Mr. Granman spoke in favor of the bill, which was supported by resolutions from the municipal council of St. John.

Mr. Tilley said that the farm would entail large expense, and it seemed to him that it was unnecessary at the present time.

Mr. Lockhart differed from Mr. Tilley. Mr. Carson said that the bill had passed in the municipal council by a small majority, and he thought that the expense had not been considered.

Mr. Wilson thought the municipality could not afford the expenditure.

Hon. Mr. Fleming spoke of the cost, and said that at some later time a farm might be established for the benefit of the whole province.

On motion of Mr. Tilley further consideration was deferred for six months.

The committee took up consideration of the bill to establish a St. John sanatorium.

The bill was agreed to with amendments and title was changed to "an act establishing a St. John county hospital."

A bill relating to water supply in the city of St. John authorizing the city to supply water within a portion of the parish of Simonds was agreed to with amendments.

The house resumed at 8 o'clock with Mr. Wilson in the chair and took up consideration of a bill to amend the schools act, 1923.

The bill was agreed to, as was also a bill to provide for construction of permanent housing in the province.

A bill to amend the New Brunswick medical act 1913 was then considered.

Hon. Mr. Granman said the bill was introduced for the purpose of making reciprocal relations between the medical council of New Brunswick and the General Medical Council of Great Britain.

Hon. Mr. Wilson said that the bill was introduced to enable the municipal council of St. John to simplify the collection of rates and taxes.

A large arrears existed and the measure was introduced to enable a better collection of taxes.

Mr. Baxter said that the municipality had much experience with delinquent taxes on real estate.

Provision was made that a special officer of the municipality should make up a list of real estate taxes in arrears and if after ample opportunity had been given the owner to pay the same the land would be advertised for sale.

In every way the defaulting taxpayer was assigned, and the municipality was enabled to get the taxes due it.

Hon. Mr. Wilson read a statement of arrears in taxes in the county for 1922, showing that it amounted to between $22,000 and $23,000.

The committee reported progress.

It is now regarded as likely, as the Times announced some days ago, that the St. John bill to give the common council the appointment of the chief of police will be amended to give the city control of the appointment after the resignation or removal by death of the present official.

The special committee from the corporations committee to see if an agreement could not be reached between the lot holders of Cedar Hill cemetery and John Connor succeeded, after a lengthy session.

RHEUMATISM CRIPPLED ARMS

So stiffened up by rheumatism that he could not dress himself without help was the condition of Mr. Clarke, who tells in this letter how he was cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The kidneys must be got right before rheumatism can be treated, and it is here that the success of this great medicine.

Mr. Connor is to receive $2,500 for his remaining lots, being paid seventy-five per cent of the amount for as they are sold until the amount reaches the above sum.

Mr. Stewart, of Northumberland, found out for much any permission before an agreement was reached.

The government heard a delegation from Victoria county today, urging that the route of the Valley road be changed somewhat to benefit the settlers in the District. Consideration was promised.

The Union Club of St. John is seeking to have its license restored, and arguments in favor of this were presented by W. A. Ewing, on behalf of the club.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Nine-tenths of All Stomach Trouble Said to Be Due to Acidity

A Physician's Advice on Cause and Cure

A famous physician whose successful researches into the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have earned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach which in turn was due nine times out of ten to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stomach or heart burn.

Which not only irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach, but also set up gastric and stomachic troubles.

It is interesting to note that he condemns the use of patent medicines as well as of medical treatments for the stomach, stating that he and his colleagues have secured remarkable results by the use of ordinary irritating medicines and medical treatments.

He contends that it is as simple to treat the stomach itself as it would be for a man who stepped on a tack to rub liniment on the foot without first removing the tack.

Remove the tack and the foot will heal itself—neutralize the acid and stomach troubles will disappear.

Irritating medicines and medical treatments are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach remain acid; remove the acidity, and there will be no need for medicine—the inflamed lining of the stomach will then heal itself.

Sufferers should eat plain, healthful, heart-burn should get a small bottle of insurated magnesia from their druggist, and take half a teaspoonful in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after meals, repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary, being the dose which the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases.

WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER

NICKEL. Billy Davis, the burnt cork comedian at the Nickel, has got the susceptible ones about town springing all sorts of amusing little jokes and sayings—new stuff which he introduces in his laughable "patter."

Mr. Davis (William Harrison in simple life) is an old-time minstrel, having been a member of the leading troupes in the playdays of that form of entertainment.

He originates all his songs and chatter and bears the distinction of never having had a manager since his performance because of objectionable jokes, etc. Nickel patrons are enjoying this visitor greatly and today with new songs more in vogue than ever.

The pictures now being shown at this house are especially interesting. There is a South American New York drama entitled "The War Correspondent," with plenty of action, and a most humorous comedy, "Going Home," and a Pathe Weekly of unusual merit.

Miss Adele Harney, the little songbird, is going to change her number today to Arthur Penn's brilliant waltz-song "Carissima," and the orchestra is now introducing new and interesting late writings.

On Friday and Saturday the Nickel's star attraction will be a two-act play, "Red and White Roses." This is a remarkably strong production of the class of "The Mills of the Gods," the "Vengeance of Durand," etc., and the cast includes William Humphrey, Earle Williams, Robert Halliday, Roger Lynn, Leah Baird, Julia Swayne Gordon and others.

On Monday the great Parables, world's leading exponent of the xplousive art, come to the Nickel.

DOVE IN THE EAGLE'S NEST AT QUOTE

The choice of a subject like Charlotte M. Yonge's "A Dove in the Eagle's Nest" for motion pictures creates a strong pre-emption in favor of the producers, the Thanhouse Company who are presenting this excellent feature at the Unique Theatre.

The film is a clear, readable, and the story is always prize-worthy, and the assurance of no leather pants and cowboys for a change is worth something.

The story of this subject is a pretty one and a pretty told. The time is about the fifteenth century, the scene is castles and environs of a German baron known as the Eagle.

This marauding nobleman, surrounded by his swarming retainers, lives in his castle, an eerie among the mountain crags. He and his retainers only sally forth from time to time, to rob the pack trains of wayfaring merchants.

Dear to the heart of the Eagle is his little sister and upon her illness the "Dove" comes to nurse her, but the little one is called to the realm above, and it is this which changes the nature of the robber. He falls in love with the quiet peaceful Dove and in time marries her. Years pass. The Dove has borne him two fine sons when he is called away to fight for the king.

In the midst of the war he is captured and sent to the State Gallery, but at a moment when his captor's vigilance has relaxed he escapes from his prison to the waters below swims easily to shore, and starts for his nest in the distance. His arrival there is timely for a neighboring lord had stormed the castle and slain the king with the beauty of the Dove was about to carry her off, when the Eagle appears on the scene and happiness is restored.

The picture contains many wonderful scenes, the ensemble showing the motley military array and frolic, the battle on the cliffs and the escape from the Gallies being worthy of particular mention.

Along with this is an industrial subject, "Making Wine," and a laughable comedy, "Mr. Poor Luck."

General Stevens had a friend who was very sick and the friend had had a good doctor, but the doctor was puzzled about the case.

So a consultation was held. Four other doctors came, looked at the sick man, shook their heads, talked it over together and went away.

Then the first doctor summoned the patient's wife. "I am sorry to tell you that your husband is in a bad state," he said. "If he is religiously inclined I should advise that you send for a minister without delay."

"Yes, doctor, shall I get just one minister, or will he need a consultation?"

IN PARLIAMENT

Dr. Clarke Calls Churchill Statement an Ottawa Echo — Dr. Pugsley Says Likely Clerk Waste it

Ottawa, March 12.—There is no sign of weakening in parliament. A continuous sitting is still the order of the day, and night. The Churchill letters appear to have put the finishing touches to the opposition's determination that the people shall vote upon the Borden contribution proposal.

Mr. Winifred Laurier is ill and has been confined to his house since Monday. He has not been in the house since the letters were produced. However, there is a complete fighting line and the opposition will not let it be carried by the war to the government without warring.

Dr. Clarke, of Red Deer, got after him today, and it has been carrying the war to the government without warring.

It is rumored in the lobby that the government is figuring on a compromise and will offer to submit the naval question to the people in the form of a plebiscite. The Liberals want an election and whether a plebiscite will be accepted by them remains to be seen.

The pointing of Winston Churchill continues. One of his fellow-country, Dr. Clarke, of Red Deer, got after him today, and it has been carrying the war to the government without warring.

ORPHAN BOY SHE CARED FOR IS NOW A MILLIONAIRE

Louis W. Hutton Did Not Forget Kindness of Woman Who Reared Him

Spokane, Wash., March 12.—Not suspecting that the motherless, fatherless waif, left to eke his living at six years of age, would some day be a millionaire owner of real estate in Spokane and of mines in the Coast d'Alene of Idaho, Mrs. Catherine Garber Hutton added Louis W. Hutton and his brother to a household of seven and mothered him until he was eight years old.

That was many years ago, and her kindness won for Mrs. Hutton a place in the hearts of the people of Spokane, and she died a few days ago.

The death of Mrs. Hutton in Davis, Iowa, a few days ago revived this interesting chapter in the career of the Spokane millionaire.

At the age of six he was left an orphan, and was made a member of the already large family of his aunt, Mrs. Catherine Garber Hutton.

When Mrs. Hutton had faith and won a fortune from a Coast d'Alene mine, he saw to it that his foster mother and aunt had everything that money could buy.

Recently Mr. Hutton made her a long visit. Ten days later he received word of her death.

It is well known, in spite of the rumors at the Baltimore convention, that Speaker Clark is a teetotaler and has been many years. The fact that a large portion of the Democratic majority in the senate and house is from the south, where prohibition is general, makes certain the fact that there will be little wine and low wassail than has been known in Washington for many years.

There never has been so dry a prospect in the White House since the days of President Hayes, when Mrs. Hayes was defeated by a majority of 127 votes. The figures were 869 for and 1,093 against.

Secretary of State Bryan, as is well known, has been a prohibition advocate for many years. On one occasion Mr. Bryan would have made it a national issue, and it was due to his efforts that the prohibition legislation in Nebraska was put into effect.

WILL BE DRY AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, March 12.—The Wilson administration will be "dry." The expression is used entirely in a sense that applies to the temperance of the nation and not necessarily to show any lack of sympathy with the prohibitionists.

It became known that President Wilson and his family, all of whom are averse to the use of liquor or wine in any form. Intoxicating liquors will have no place in the White House during the next four years unless the president's views undergo sharp change.

Milwaukee Business Man Gives Some Real Talk on the Mooted Question "What is a Prize Fight?"

By TOM ANDREWS

THE question is being asked many times of late—what is a prize fight—and a Milwaukee business man comes out in the open and gives an idea of what a real prize fight is.

A. B. Nichols, of the commission firm of Nichols, Jensen & Klein, does not mince matters, either, in giving his version, and it might be well for some of the reformers to note the difference, according to Mr. Nichols' idea, between the real article and up-to-date boxing.

"I have noticed many articles of late," said Mr. Nichols, "regarding prize fighting and boxing, and I want to say that there is all the difference in the world between the two—as much difference as there is between night and day. I will give you an idea of the real article first. It was in 1873, if I remember rightly, that I was living in St. Louis and all the boys were interested in a prize fight between Tom Allen, Englishman, and Mike McCool, for the world's championship. They had met before and I understood that Allen had been robbed of the decision, and another match was made. It took place up the river on one of the big river boats. They fought with bare knuckles under the old London prize ring rules. The round did not end until one man was knocked down and then they rested only a few minutes. For seven rounds Allen bested McCool's face to a bloody pulp. It reminded me of a piece of raw beef and he was a sight, while Allen was unmarked. Finally McCool was battered into a helpless mass and his seconds carried him away on a stretcher. That was a real prize fight and without gloves, padded ring, etc., such as they have nowadays. Since then I have attended many contests in this and other cities, but under the new rules and with big gloves. I have seen many here in Milwaukee and must say that the present-day boxing is like a pillow fight between children compared to that prize fight I saw near St. Louis.

"To my way of thinking the present-day bouts are real boxing contests and nothing more, and the ring is well padded, the rounds are limited to two or three minutes with a minute rest between each round, and the referee stops the bout the moment one man shows his superiority over the other, making it a clean sparring contest. I did object to my son playing football when he went to school, but I never objected to him boxing. There are fewer accidents in boxing than in any other form of sport, outside of tennis or ping-pong, for I have followed it closely and know whereof I speak.

"It is my honest opinion that the churches make a mistake in trying to oppose boxing. Let the ministers pay more attention to their flocks and give Young America a chance to develop. If boxing with red blood in their veins rather than of the cigarette species. What we need is a sane boxing law to regulate the sport, and I know of many business men here who take the same view of it that I do."

Wells and Smith. Bomharder Wells, British heavyweight champion, has been training for three weeks and says he is in far better condition than when he boxed Palmer and Kention last year. He weighs 193 pounds and is displaying amazing speed in bouts with sparring partners. The British press believes that he will signally defeat Smith, a heavy hitting night fighter, in New York next Friday night.

"I am anxious to beat Smith fairly and squarely, so that I can renew my acquaintance with Lumberjack," said Wells. "McCarty has dodged me so far, but I do not intend to let him get away. If I'll box him as soon as he says the word, I believe I can stop him in ten rounds, and for that reason I will entertain a proposition to meet him in California."

Smith is busy at the Blakely A. C. He has trained rigorously for the match and is sure of success. He says he does not fear Wells' punching ability, and declares that he needs no encouragement. Smith believes he can hit as hard as Wells and predicts that if the Englishman will box at close quarters the end will quickly come. Smith also is eager for a scrap with McCarty, and says that he will demand one if he takes Wells' measure.

Joe Willard. Jess Willard will spend the next three weeks boxing in western theatres. He has made no effort to secure reinstatement from the boxing commission in New York and says that he does not care to appear in a bout in New York again. Willard evidently has changed his mind regarding a battle with Bomharder Wells. Several weeks ago he notified Manager Gibson of the Garden A. C. that he would box Wells whenever Gibson could fix a date. Willard says that he is waiting for a match with McCarty, which may be staged at Vernon, Cal., on July 4.

Charges by McFarland. Packer McFarland's assertion in yesterday's Sun that certain persons closely identified with the Britton camp tried to make him bet on the result of Friday night's contest in New York has attracted the attention of the New York Athletic Commission. If McFarland will furnish the names of the persons named in those glibsters it is said that they might be barred out of all boxing clubs in the state. There is a law against betting on ring contests and the commission has passed a stringent rule prohibiting such practices and which must be conspicuously posted in every club. McFarland says that he and friends from Chicago were threatened by these glibsters until Secretary...

EVERY ONE VOTED DOWN CHALLENGE OF SIR THOMAS

New York, March 12.—The New York Yacht Club has declined Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge.

The reason for this action was that the terms of the challenge imposed the condition that the defending vessel shall not exceed seventy-five feet in length at the water line. This stipulation would deprive the club of the right to enter a vessel of from sixty-five to ninety feet, as provided in the deed of gift.

The declaration of the present challenge, however, it was said by members, did not necessarily mean that no American Cup race was in prospect, as the club was in anticipation of an unrestricted challenge for the cup from a British gentleman other than Sir Thomas Lipton.

The club's only official statement related to the reason for the declining of the Lipton challenge, which was forwarded by the Royal Ulster Yacht Club for Sir Thomas.

The club's action was taken at a meeting attended by more than 300 members. Only boat owners were entitled to vote on the question of the challenge. Forty votes were cast, and all were against acceptance. The refusal was a repetition of the club's action upon the Lipton challenge in 1907, which likewise stipulated for craft under the ninety-foot mark as challenger and defender.

THE MATTER OF RENTS The present high rents in St. John is a natural result of the city's growth and merely another illustration of the law of supply and demand, according to Henry T. Hoag, the new secretary of the Board of Trade. He found the same conditions at Poughkeepsie when their industries began to increase, and there were not enough houses to meet the requirements of the additional workers. The Chamber of Commerce conducted an educational campaign to convince investors of the soundness of investments in houses and soon succeeded in having enough houses built by local capital. The city contrived by cutting up some land in building lots and selling it on installment payments and the work was also helped by building societies. THE NEW THEATRE

New Front Wall Rising; Interior Progressing; Chairs on the Way

Rapid progress is being made on the new Imperial Theatre now under construction. The side and rear walls are complete, and the roof is in place, and a new start has been made on the ornamental front. The first work which projected on the sidewalk, has been torn down and removed, and the new front has risen to a height of about eight feet.

Inside the building, the front of which is protected by a temporary wooden wall, masons are busy to dry out the plaster and make the place ready for the finishing work. The main floor has been laid and stands for the seats are being erected. The balcony is also assuming its final shape and excellent progress is being made on other details. As the weather becomes warmer and drier, the work will proceed even more rapidly.

FR DAVENPORT DEAD IN ENGLAND

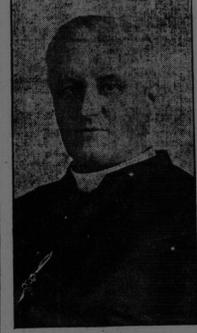

For Many Years in Mission Church, In St. John

KINDLY, CHARITABLE MAN

Held in Loving Memory in This City—Former 62nd Chaplain, Prominent in Music and Founder of Davenport School

A Toronto despatch says:—"Rev. John Metcalf Davenport, for three years in charge of St. Thomas' Anglican church, Huron street, is dead at Bourne-mouth, Eng.

"Before coming to Toronto, he was for about twenty years priest of the Mission

The Late Rev. J. M. Davenport

Church of St. John Baptist in St. John, N. B., where he founded a church school for boys.

"Father Davenport was a man of singularly pleasing manner and appearance, and possessed great musical talents. His brother, Horace Davenport, was at one time amateur swimming champion of England." For many years Father Davenport occupied a prominent place in the life of this community, and by his kindness of heart and his noble character, as well as through his intellectual attainments, he won the respect and esteem of the entire city. He came to St. John in 1893 as the priest in charge of the Mission church St. John Baptist, when it was first established. In 1891 he accepted a call to St. Clement's church in Philadelphia, but on the urgent request of his former congregation he returned to St. John in the following year. Several years later he left St. John to become pastor of St. Thomas' church in Toronto. He retired after three years' service but continued to take an active interest in the work of the neighborhood of the church. He revisited St. John on several occasions until he returned, after seven or eight years ago to England, where his death occurred. He was about seventy years of age.

During his stay in St. John, Father Davenport took a prominent part in many public movements and his activity in the interests of the public welfare took many forms. He was an accomplished musician and took a keen interest in musical matters, being one of the chief supporters of the Choral Society and the St. John Oratorio Society. He was the first chaplain of the 62nd Regiment of Foot Guards, and for several years was chaplain of St. George's Society.

In interests of education for boys, Father Davenport established a residential school on the old Gilbert property at Gilbert's Lane. It continued in existence for five or six years, but was not a paying concern, and after sinking a large amount of money he was forced to discontinue it.

Father Davenport will always be remembered for his famous controversy with Dr. R. P. Quigley. The discussion commenced in 1887 and continued through the columns of the local press for more than a year, when the correspondence was published in book form.

Many instances of Father Davenport's kindness of heart could be related. A typical one was his action in taking charge of a boy who came to the city in a company of street musicians who played the horn and violin, while the boy sang. The youngster had an unusually sweet voice and attracted the attention of the clergyman. He managed to get the boy away from his companions and gave him a home and an education, and afterwards gave him a seat in his church. His charity was not ostentatious, and many a one has been helped by him quietly, and the world never knew.

Father Davenport was a man of noble countenance and fine physique and was an outstanding figure in any company. The news of his death will be received here with sincere regret.

Hampton, Hammond River and Rothesay Presbyterians Want Mr. Rosborough as Minister

The Presbyterian congregations of Hampton, Hammond River and Rothesay met this week to take action to secure a pastor. W. B. Rosborough, who is completing a theological course at Pine Hill College, Halifax, was the choice of the meeting, but as he is not eligible as yet for a call, the meeting adjourned with the understanding that when he has completed his course and has been licensed to preach a call will be extended to him.

Mr. Rosborough is a native of Nova Scotia, and comes of a family of ministers. His father and grandfather were both Presbyterian pastors, the latter being one of the pioneers of this province, and was for many years located at the head of the Belleisle. Since his father's death Mr. Rosborough has made his home with his uncle, Rev. T. C. Jack, of North Sydney, N. S. Also he is a nephew of S. R. Jack, of this city.
