STRIKERS' OBJECT IS TO PARALYZE THE BUSINESS OF LONDON

Most Serious Conditions Arise Out Of Small Labor Matter

Railwaymen Restless and Threaten to Join—More Than 100,000 Now On Strike Led By Body Which Nearly Brought Famine to Liverpool Last Year

(Times Special Saturday Cable) London, May 24—Only today are Londoners beginning to appreciate the real significance of the transport workers' strike. It is a deliberately planned move of the most violent group of labor organizers. The men are scarcely recognized by the regular trades unions. It has been started over a comparatively minor matter, but already more than 100,000 men are involved. Within a week the strike may have spread all round the coast and the entire work of the country be paralyzed. More than a ton of shipping has been held on the Thames side. Ships' sailings are being cancelled, perishable fruits and other foods lie untouched, none dare to handle them, and others of all grave fears are entertained lest others may follow the transport workers' example.

RAILWAY MEN MAY GO OUT

It is thought that railwaymen, defying the directions of their own union officials, may come out. The railwaymen are acutely discontented. They declare that conditions have been made materially worse since the end of the last strike, and that the company, by dismissing and reorganizing, have greatly punished them for their original victory. The railway men's leaders are striving to keep peace, but any small sectional dispute among the men may instantly arouse the entire army of railway servants into revolt.

GOVERNMENT INQUIRY OPENED

The government early in the week recognized the seriousness of the situation and appointed Sir Edward Clark to hold an enquiry. At the first meeting today the strikers crowded the hall and made noisy demonstrations. Their leader, Gosling, refused to proceed unless Sir Edward Clark forbade any lawyers to represent the party. He yielded. Premier Asquith is being kept closely informed on the Mediterranean by wireless as to the course of proceedings, and may possibly return to London earlier than he intended. The employers rest their main hopes upon the poverty of the strikers. They declare that they will compel them quickly to yield. The employers show no inclination to compromise. The men's leaders, however, cheerfully contemplate a prolonged struggle.

St. John's, Que., is Storm Swept—Steeple of Catholic Church Is Struck By Lighting

St. John's, Que., May 25—Hail stones as large as eggs knocked down flimsily built barns, lightning struck the Catholic church here, and several other buildings throughout the district, and a terrific cloudburst washed three sections on the Boston & Maine line last night during the most spectacular storm of recent years.

PAYS COMPLIMENT TO THE LOYALTY OF CANADIAN PEOPLE

Address by Royal Governor at Dinner of Montreal Empire Club

Montreal, May 25—"I am sure that in no portion of the empire is there more loyalty and devotion to our gracious sovereign than in Canada, and that nowhere in the empire will there ever be a stronger sense of the duty we owe to the flag under which it is our privilege to live" declared the Duke of Connaught, last night, at the annual dinner of the Empire Club. He congratulated Canada on the number of good class immigrants coming into this country. May the various races, who have built up the dominion, be strong and loyal to themselves and above all, may the unity of Canada, be the foremost wish of all its people and of those who are called on to direct its destinies."

(Canadian Press)

MAY SEND HIM TO LAZARETTO IN TRACADIE

Chinese, Afflicted With Leprosy, is Under Guard in Montreal—Authorities at Variance

Montreal, May 25—There may be another addition to the leper colony at Tracadie, N. B., in Chuan Chuen, a Chinese, who, living in a guarded shack in an unknown part of the city, is the bone of contention between city and dominion health officers.

If the dominion immigration authorities do not take charge of the Chinese leper, and deport him, we will send him down to Tracadie," said Doctor Laberge, city health officer. "We don't intend to keep him here in Montreal," Doctor Bryce, of Ottawa, has the case before him, and we are awaiting his report.

Chuan Chuen is in custody, but his whereabouts are carefully guarded. As he has been in this country but five months, the contention of the city is that he should be sent back to China as an undesirable immigrant, as he is suffering from an incurable disease.

Many local anglers spent yesterday whipping pools in this city for trout but had indifferent success.

Last year hail destroyed the bulk of his crops.

AMHERST, N. S., May 25—(Special)—Mrs. Hewson, wife of Dr. C. W. Hewson, died this morning at eleven o'clock after an illness of some weeks. ST. JOHN AND PORTLAND

The guests from Portland, Maine, are very welcome in St. John, and it is only the heavy of their stay that prevents the citizens from giving them a more varied and generous entertainment. RICHESON'S LAST PICTURE

Clarence V. T. Richeson, who was electrocuted in Boston for murdering his sweetheart, Avis Linnell. This picture was taken a few days before the execution.

Rockwood Park, yesterday afternoon, was the most attractive place in the immediate vicinity of St. John, and yet it was visited by probably less than a hundred people.

A few fishermen along the lake shores, a few groups of ladies and children were there in the afternoon. The air in the park was much less chilly and the fog less dense than in town, and for a long walk on the roads and paths winding through its large area the conditions were ideal. Now that it is possible always to get refreshments at the pavilion, Rockwood should become a really popular resort.

Mr. A. R. Gould evaded those "annoying politicians" by not attending the turning of the first sod of the Valley Railroad. But "various persons" were there in force.

The Liberals must lose no time in getting their candidates in the field in every constituency. The campaign may be short, and it must be waged with vigor all along the line.

The absence of Mr. M. G. Siddall from the Tory convention in Westmorland is the cause of some comment. The party is said to be far from harmonious. The Moncton Times has not yet embraced Mr. Price.

The attempt to exploit as a Liberal paper and an exponent of Liberal policy one which receives patronage from both federal and provincial Tory governments is merely an attempt to fool the people, which is a common Tory trick, thoroughly understood, and deceiving nobody.

Patience is not yet a lost virtue. The men who fished for hours along the shores of Lily Lake yesterday had a large stock of it; for the trout were not at all caudate, and ignored the bait with an indifference equal to that with which a corner loafer regards an offer of $2 for a day's work.

When any man talks to you about new towns in the west, tell him about Chamcook in Charlotte, the new iron town coming up in Gloucester, and the prospective growth in the oil shale region of Alberta, along with East St. John and some other promising districts in the province. There is an awakening in the east.

It is said there was an almost noisy difference of opinion between Premier Fleming and Hon. H. F. McLeod at Woodstock on Wednesday. It must have been serious, for Mr. McLeod risked his safety in an auto on the Carleton county roads to get away. Which shows that he does not lack courage, even in flight.

The Moncton Transcript says:—"Just fancy the Westmorland county Tory meeting at Sackville breaking up with cheers for Fleming, but none for the King. The flag-dappers are not running a loyalty election just now and therefore they have no use for The King until the next time they need him for party political purposes."

St. Andrews and Sussex want more houses. Moncton and Campbellton are getting more. Fredericton and Woodstock are sure they will soon have more. St. John is getting some. All along the line there are evidences of urban growth, but the rural communities are not growing as they should. We need a provincial government with a policy that will encourage agricultural development.

The Fredericton Herald says:—"There is no reason in the world why construction work on the Valley Railway should not have begun a year ago. The necessary legislation had been passed by the local house, the Dominion subsidy had been voted and there was a company ready to take hold and do the work. It was the weak-kneed politicians in control of the government of the province who caused the delay. They were afraid to make a move, and did nothing until public opinion forced them to take action. And now they have the temerity to claim all the credit. There never was a greater political sham in public life in New Brunswick than Premier Fleming. The Liberals have no reason to be ashamed of their record in connection with the Valley Railway project. From the first they advocated a high class trunk line, operated as part of the I. C. R. system. They did not wobble or beat about the bush, but had the one policy and stuck to it. They did not spend any time running after C. P. R. magnates, nor did they try to conceal anything from the public. Their course was consistent all the way through and so far as this great project is concerned they stand today precisely where they stood two years ago. No Liberal need be ashamed of the record of his party in connection with this much needed railway line."

At the recent rate of change in the temperature this will be a short summer. A grate fire was not only a pleasure but almost a necessity yesterday. Even the score at the ball game failed to quicken the pulses of St. John folk.

Those who heard Rev. Mr. Cameron on Thursday evening will not only have a pleasing memory of an intensely interesting and eloquent address, but they will take down their volumes of Burns with a new interest and enlightenment.

RESTORES ACTION OF HEART, APPARENTLY AFTER WOMAN'S DEATH

Remarkable Surgical Case in Schenectady Hospital, Following an Operation

Schenectady, N. Y., May 23.—In all truth it can be said that Miss Anna Loebenstein came back out of the valley of the shadow of death. She owes her life to Dr. Charles G. McMullen, who, it is said, set her heart to pumping again after it had ceased to beat.

Miss Loebenstein was suffering from gallstones. It was necessary to operate on her, and she was taken to the Ellis Hospital here.

Doctor McMullen anesthetized her with nitro-oxygen and ether, became her heart was not too strong. To perform the operation it was necessary to make a long incision through the muscular wall of her abdomen.

The gallstones were removed, the operation was ended; Doctor McMullen was sewing up the abdominal incision when Miss Loebenstein's heart stopped beating. Doctor McMullen immediately began to work, and when he loosened his hold the blood filled the heart, jumping as a boy fills and empties with water a rubber ball with a hole in it.

One minute, two minutes passed, Doctor McMullen's assistants and the nurses stood breathless, then the heart responded to Doctor McMullen's excitation of it, & fluttered gently, slowly; it took on its normal action. A flush tinted Miss Loebenstein's chalky face and with a long sigh she began to breathe, she lived again. She is now practically out of danger.

ART THE GREATEST OF ALL THE ARTS

Views of Noted Baritone — A Nineteen-Year-Old Soprano Soloist

(Times Special Correspondence)

New York, May 23.—Of all artists the musician is greatest, and of all musicians the singer deserves first recognition." Such is the statement of Charles W. Clark, a noted American baritone.

"The assertion comes from a singer becomes delicate, but I have endeavored to view the subject impartially," said Mr. Clark. "The musician as an artist is dealing with a subject most abstract and complicated. His mode of expression is vastly more personal than that of any other art. He cannot fall back upon any mechanical or contrivance but his own vocal equipment. Even the application of the violinist's skill is not an utterance requiring a mental concentration of such intensity as that necessary for the singer.

"Many persons believe that singing is a comparatively simple art, and that, given vocal ability, it soon becomes largely automatic. The viewpoint is common and lamentably wrong. Few singers succeed merely through the gift of given tone or by any single attribute, for the highest intelligence, power and poise are demanded to coordinate the art-producing faculties.

"To stir the spirit of audiences and awaken it to that pitch of enthusiasm alone responsive to the singer's appeal, requires the highest art combined with that baffling and exhaustless science of tone production."

"Show me a man who habitually knits his brows and I'll show you a man who has a throaty voice," said Riccardo Martin, a famous opera tenor.

"Almost invariably when tension and stress are observed in the face, scowlers and secretive persons are likely to have voice, placed far back in the throat. This defect is easily overcome by proper use of the lips in speaking and singing exercises, accompanied by relaxation.

"The voice production of Americans is more throaty than nasal, despite much that is said to the contrary. The high strung nerves of Americans are largely responsible for this vocal peculiarity.

Miss Helen Warrum, nineteen years old, has been engaged by Andrea Dippel to sing lyric soprano roles at the Chicago Grand Opera. She is said to be the youngest soprano soloist ever to have been engaged for leading opera roles in America. She has studied three years with Oscar Seenger, a voice specialist-teacher. She is the daughter of a prominent Indianapolis lawyer, Henry Warrum.

Dr. Fred B. Hicks, formerly of Moncton, a son of Isaac Hicks, of the I. O. O. F., died on Thursday in Brookline, Mass. He had been sick about six weeks. He is survived by his father and one brother, Dr. C. H. Hicks, of Philadelphia.

WHAT MR. HAWKES SAYS SHOULD BE DONE IN IMMIGRATION

The report of Arthur Hawkes, special immigration commissioner for the Borden government, has been made public at Ottawa. He makes four general recommendations as follows:

1. That immigration must be secured and directed for the immediate production of commodities from Canadian natural resources, as distinct from and more necessary than its employment for the expenditure of capital brought in from outside.
2. That plans for placing and employing new population in each province should be made and primarily carried out on provincial bases, in systematic conjunction with the dominion, without regard to the likelihood of political accidents.
3. That the dominion readjust its machinery for obtaining immigration with a view of securing the utmost degree of permanence in the stream of immigration and the most equal distribution of it, in accordance with the requirements of each province.
4. That it is imperative in view of changed conditions in Canada and Britain, and in order to make the greatest possible use of the pro-Canadian sentiment prevailing in the United Kingdom, to give the most exact attention to the conditions which underlie and ultimately govern emigration from the United Kingdom to Canada.

The part which he suggests should be taken by the individual provincial administrations is outlined in the following paragraphs:

Collecting data intended to attract settlement.

Existing the systematic help of public spirited bodies such as boards of trade and imperial home reunion associations in the placing of people in their own localities.

Working out plans for the settlement of special localities with the aid of capital secured at low rates of interest primarily on the public credit.

Receiving and distributing immigration of all kinds.

Promoting semi-public agencies for the service of new and sparsely peopled districts.

A SLIGHT ERROR

Two tourists were traveling in Spain, but they could not speak the native language and found considerable difficulty in making known their wants.

Eventually they came to a wayside inn, and decided that they would partake of roast beef with the usual trimmings.

"How shall we manage that?" asked one.

"Oh, we'll draw a picture of a bull!" replied the other.

The waiter was handed the drawing and left them, apparently to execute their order.

Then he came back, but he had no steaming plate of roast beef and Yorkshire. Instead, he calmly handed them two tickets for a bull-fight.

Montreal Market Letter

Montreal, May 25—It is reported in Toronto that the management of Sao Paulo is about to carry out a plan of reorganization of another power company, in which the shareholders of Sao Paulo will have rights. It is thought that this explains the recent rise in Sao Paulo stock.

The general opinion of the street seems to be that nothing decisive will be done in connection with Rich, taking over the Island until Sir Rodolphe Forget, the president of the Rich & Co., reaches the city at the beginning of next week.

Although there was very little activity in Western Canada Power in the unlisted department Thursday afternoon, the market was 1 1/2 points above the day before, one hundred and thirty shares at 28 1/2. The only reason that we can see for the rise is that the buyers are realizing the stock values. Dividends may be far off, but long term power contracts signed, sealed and delivered, gave a certainty of eventual profit that is worth discounting.

J. H. Plummer, the president of the Dominion Steel Corporation, discussing the operations at Sydney, says: "The operating end of the business as distinct from the construction is making an exceptionally satisfactory record. The apparently inevitable delays in the construction of a new plant are being encountered. We have, however, a wire and nail mill, which is the last word in efficiency and economy of production."

J. M. R. & S.

Wall Street Notes

New York, May 25—London closed until Tuesday morning next.

Roosevelt and Taft are working hard to New Jersey, look for Roosevelt to win a majority of the delegates.

United States supreme court will meet on Monday and decisions, etc., expected in many cases.

Marshall Field says better tone in dry goods trade from all sections of the country.

Both Dunn and Bradstreet say general trade is more promising.

The street is now without any fixed opinion as to the market. Traders are bullish on one and very bearish on the next, working in and out and making very little, if anything. Taking this into consideration, the market acted very well yesterday. The short interest is not large, only in a few stocks. Heading is one that is overdone, and any time now it can be advanced rapidly. The copper stocks are still in a very strong position. Anaconda should be bought and a little patience with it will give good returns. The Hill stocks look good. The traction will respond before long and B. R. T. is booked for higher prices. Steel and Union Pacific seem to be in a trading swing.

MAJOR MORGAN, NOTED RIFLEMAN, IS DEAD

Quebec, May 25—Major James Morgan, of the Eighth Royal Rifles, formerly one of the leading sportsmen of the city, died last night after a long illness. He was one of the crack shots who were selected on two occasions to represent Canada in the Wimbledon team. On his first visit he was a member of the team that brought the Koolapore Cup to Canada. He was also a Fenian Raid veteran.

RABIES AGAIN IN ONTARIO

Toronto, May 25—To prevent a threatened outbreak of rabies a number of dogs have been quarantined. J. P. Wilson was bitten by his black cocker spaniel, which went mad following a fight with several other dogs. After biting Mr. Wilson, the dog was killed and Doctor Amyot, provincial analyst, who made an examination of the body, declared it a most positive case of rabies.

BALLOON NO. 6 IS WRECKED

Leipzig, Germany, May 25—The dirigible balloon "Parsival VI" was completely destroyed here this morning by being torn from her anchorage by a squall. One of the soldiers on guard near the balloon was injured.

The Parsival VI had arrived only this morning, and had been anchored in an open field.

The flexible dirigible balloons of the People's Gas, which were almost as unlucky as the rigid Zeppelin dirigibles, Parsival VI, had already met with several accidents.

SHIPPING IRON ORE

Newcastle Leader—The first steamer to load ore at this port this season was the Glenside and she left her mooring at six o'clock Thursday evening with 22,000 tons. D. S. Grimmer, local manager for the Canada Iron Corporation, Ltd., informed the Leader that she will then return to the hatches at the rate of 24,000 tons an hour. The steamer will discharge her cargo at Chester, Pa., and will then return to Newcastle for her second load, arriving here about June 1st. This steamer has been chartered to carry ore for the season, and it is likely that the company may have other steamers on the route before many weeks.

THESE MEN BELIEVE IN COQUITLAM

Excursion Run from Vancouver to Coquitlam by Coquitlam Terminal Co. March 16, 1912

The men you see in this picture went out to Coquitlam to look it over—and to buy good Townsite lots there.

When you look into the faces of these men you at once overcome with a feeling of happiness, enthusiasm, optimism.

Everybody is smiling—everyone has that prosperous Coquitlam look.

But remember they did not go to Coquitlam for a holiday—to a picnic. They went on business.

These men are not chasing any rainbows—they know what Coquitlam and the Vancouver Metropolitan District is going to be. Most of them have seen the West go to what it is, they breathe the Western spirit—hence their smiles about Coquitlam.

Most of these men are business men—men who do not throw their money away without first taking a good look at it. Most of them knew about Coquitlam and bought lots there even before they went out to look at them.

The two months which have elapsed since this excursion took place have been the busiest two months Coquitlam ever saw.

Now the first unit of the 48-stall roundhouse is under contract to be finished by June 30, 1912—the firm of Sandford Gordon & Sons has nearly 100 men working on it. Two lumber mills have been built, several hotels are going up, and dozens of houses, stores, offices, etc., are being rushed to completion.

We ourselves are about to build 25 houses on the Townsite property. We are also building at a cost of $30,000 an industrial spur track to serve the industries, wholesalers, etc., who are coming to Coquitlam.

The C. P. R. has about one thousand men laying tracks and yards at Coquitlam, the municipality about one hundred men and twenty teams working on streets and roads, and M.P. Cotton & Co who have the contract for clearing streets, etc., have about two hundred men at work, and approximately three hundred men are working in the building trades building houses, hotels, etc.

Last week they opened at Coquitlam a roller skating rink and a moving picture theatre—six months ago there was nothing but a level piece of ground there, and even two months ago when these men you see in the picture went there there was practically nothing except a few shanties.

Grow with Coquitlam—but to do so you have to buy in the Townsite—not a subdivision.

The bandmaster Jones has been giving them instructions during the winter months.

WINDOW SMASHING.

Although St. John has not been visited as yet by any of the window breaking syndicates, there are some people here who evidently have a mania for breaking windows. Last night between eleven and twelve o'clock a large pane of glass in Alexander Corbett's store in Union street was smashed by some one who threw a stone at the window. The police have also reported that a window in a house owned by a man named Noble in City Road was demolished last night.

L. B. Society.

MISS MOLLY M. WILSON DEAD.

The death of Miss Molly Myers Wilson, in her nineteenth year, early this morning will be a cause of keen regret among a large circle of friends about the city, for she was a young woman decidedly popular with all who knew her. Miss Wilson vigorously fought against the illness which came upon her just a year ago yesterday, and tried hard to win in the fight for life, and her death this morning came as a severe blow to her mother and brother, Mrs. Agnes Wilson and John B. Wilson of 183 St. James street. The young woman had for some time been in the employ of M. R. B. Ltd., in the cash department, but had not been at her post for several months owing to her illness. She will be buried on Monday from her mother's home at half-past two p.m.

CAUGHT IN STORM.

A party of two young men and three young women, well known in the city, had a rather interesting experience last evening in North End while returning to their homes from a social gathering in Rockwood Road. They left the home of their hostess a little after midnight and had reached Main street when the thunder and lightning storm broke all its fury, and they were caught without protection and with no street cars or cabs in sight. In their dilemma they entered the North End police station and there they were compelled to remain until well after three o'clock, as they could secure no vehicle to carry them to their homes. After much delay a cabman was secured in Indian town, but having to finish their bridge party in the police station was decidedly

FIFTY-TWO BIRTHS

This Week's Figures a Record, But Some Are Deferred Registrations

If a stranger in the city should read the list of births for the week closing today, and consider the figures for a few moments he would probably be inclined to the view that the majority of the people had Rooseveltian ideas concerning the matter of large families, for according to the statistics furnished by Registrar J. B. Jones there were fifty-two births recorded during the week. Of these thirty-three were boys. But this must not necessarily be taken to mean that this large number of births occurred within the last seven days—some of them probably brought joy to proud fathers and mothers months ago, but these same good papers and magazines did not register the happy event with the official appointed for this purpose.

Asked this morning as to why he considered the cause of the large registration this week, the largest he has ever known, Registrar Jones said that the people were awakening to the fact that they shared the responsibility in part with the physicians in having the babies registered, and the notices given recently in the press were having the effect of causing the families to observe the regulations regarding registration forms could be had free of charge at all drug stores, he said, and they could be sent through the mail as well. There were eight marriages recorded during the week.

COOK IS RELEASED

As a sequence of yesterday afternoon's baseball match Sheldon Cook, jr., the pitcher who was brought here from Wintthrop, Mass., to pitch for the Greeks, has been released. Cook went in the box in yesterday afternoon's game when Barran was taken out, and made a poor showing. He was taken out of the box in the seventh inning and was replaced by Malvey. Cook came here with the intention of staying in the city until he had secured his studies in one of the Maine colleges. For the locals either Sunny Lamb or Malvey will be on the firing end, with Cannon behind the bat. The grounds have been rolled again yesterday. The teams will line-up as follows:—

Marathons	Frederickton
Cannon	Catcher
Lamb or Malvey	Pitcher
Lynch	3rd Base
Ramey	2nd Base
Doan	1st Base
Pinkerton	Shortstop
Riley	Centre Field
Nelson	Right Field

STEWART IS FREED

George Stewart, who was arrested on Thursday morning on suspicion of having stolen articles from the home of Ernest Whitworth in White street, was brought before Magistrate Ritchie in the Police Court Thursday afternoon and was allowed to go. Dr. D. Melvin of the hospital staff spoke very highly of Stewart, who is an attendant in the hospital. Mrs. Whitworth, who was present when the robbery took place, said that she was pretty sure that Stewart was the man, but as the evidence was not of a convincing nature, he was allowed to go. Mr. Whitworth had let the house early in the morning, leaving his wife and child in the house. He had not been gone long when a man entered and, going into Mrs. Whitworth's bedroom, said to her "It's a fine day, isn't it." She asked him what he was doing in the house, but he made no reply. Picking up two hand-bags, containing a small sum of money, he left the house. Mrs. Whitworth reported the matter to the police. Stewart was arrested in the hospital by Sergeant Carles.

TODAY'S POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning four holiday prisoners charged with drunkenness were fined $5 or thirty days in jail each. David Young, charged with begging, was sentenced to two months in jail. Robert Treasler, told of Young having gone to his house on several occasions begging. Arnold Reed, aged 19, charged with stealing pies and confectionery from the delivery wagon of St. Clair McKel in a yard off Adelaide street, was remanded to jail. Hearing in the case will probably be begun on Monday morning. James A. Marsh, aged twenty-four, charged with carrying a revolver, was remanded to jail. Marsh was out fishing yesterday with James Barran, and shot the latter in the stomach. He says the shooting was accidental.

DR. MACMONGAGLE DEAD IN PARIS

Mrs. J. M. Lyons, of Moncton, received a cablegram from Paris on Thursday morning that her brother, Doctor Beverly MacMongagle, died there that day. Doctor MacMongagle had a slight stroke of paralysis about two years ago and has been abroad for over a year for the benefit of his health. A recent letter from his wife who accompanied him abroad advised that the doctor was somewhat improved in health, and it was hoped that he would be well enough to start for home, San Francisco, Cal., about June 1. Doctor MacMongagle started in the practice of his profession in Sussex when quite a young man, but about twenty years ago moved to San Francisco, where he, in a very short time, through his ability and his personality, prominently established himself as a professional man and as a citizen. There will be very many sincere expressions of regret in his old home at the news of the death of "Doctor Bev." He married Miss Corbett of San Francisco, and besides his wife he leaves one son living. Another son predeceased him. The sisters living are Mrs. Cowie, of Fredericton, N. B.; Mrs. Lyons of Moncton; and the brothers are Hugh and Walter, of Sussex.

"First They Was a Piano Cover; Then They Was Curtains; Now They's My Pants"

So spoke a really truly small boy some years ago and the family has treasured this gem of English prose.

We do not know what has become of the "pants," but it goes to show the difference between the boys' clothing of today and that of yesterday.

Good clothing for boys costs so little nowadays that it is no economy to make it at home, and is tailored so carefully that few mothers could hope to do anything so well. We are speaking of Oak Hall Boys' Clothing.

MAKES TRY WATCH INSIDE OF A PEARL

Paris Jeweller Holds Novel Timepiece Worth $6,000

NEWS LETTER FROM FRANCE

The Octroi Tax—Jurymen's Verdict Puts a Premium on Crime—The Proposed Railway From Algeria Across the Desert to the Niger

(Times Special Correspondence.) Paris, May 10—France can boast of some of the most artistic watchmakers in the world, and one of them has accomplished a wonderful feat by making a watch whose case is a single pearl. This timepiece has just been finished by a Paris jeweller, after it had been made of the most exacting labor. Cutting the pearl was not the least difficult thing about this novel watch. The pearl was three-fifths of an inch in diameter, and thin in proportion, yet they were made with as much precision as a faulted watch, and have all the latest improvements. There is no danger of these pearl watches becoming common. The cost, which includes the price of the pearl, was $6,000.

It is said that the suit of Princess Stephanie to have her oldest sister, Princess Louise of Belgium, placed under restraint, was brought at the express desire of the ex-Duchess Enghien, who takes a great interest in the affairs of her relatives. The Princess Louise, who at the moment is living in Paris, has engaged thirty-two lawyers to press her suit against the Belgian government.

It is no longer safe for well-to-do people to plead poverty and obtain bed and treatment at hospitals for nothing. A Parisian who is described as rich tried, and has had to pay $200 for the attempt. He was admitted to a hospital, and obtained admission to one of the parish hospitals, where he was operated on and attended until he had fully recovered. The syndicate of oculists required into his case and reported to the administration that a deception had been practiced. It was argued that not only had the patient occupied a bed and taken up the time of the attendants that might have been given to a really poor patient, but he also occupied paying the extraordinary fee of one of the members of the profession who would have had to perform the operation outside the hospital. The authorities threatened to bring a suit against the patient for $200 damages, and rather than have a law suit over the matter he paid $200. Had the amount been paid over to the fund of the Syndicate of Paris Oculists.

An Awful Tragedy. An awful drama was enacted this week at a house in the Rue de la Vierge, near the railway station of that name. M. Lemoine, who was an agent for a business firm established at Havre, had for some time been in a very depressed frame of mind, and evidently in a fit of madness he rose from his bed at five o'clock, took a revolver which was lying on a table, and fired twice at his wife, who was still asleep, wounding her so seriously that he himself almost disappeared. Then he shot himself, and when neighbors made their way into the flat they found him dead on the foot of the bed, on which lay his wife, terribly dejected. She was at once conveyed to the St. Antoine Hospital, and there her son, who is a naval officer at Cherbourg, was informed of the tragic event. The statistics published by the City of Paris during the last ten years since the suppression of the octroi tax on beer and wine, and the increase of the same tax on strong alcoholic liquors such as brandies, cognac, and pure alcohol generally, have shown that the consumption of beer and wine, described as hygienic drinks, has considerably increased, while that of pure alcohol has diminished almost by one-half. Before the octroi tax was removed the average quantity of alcohol consumed by Parisians was nearly eight litres per head per annum, and now the amount has fallen to only four litres per head. Drunkenness, it is assumed, has declined in equal proportion among the working population.

Epidemic of Suicide. Parisian jurymen do not seem to have paid any heed to the solemn warning uttered by M. Lepine, the Prefect of police, at the funeral of M. Jouin. They have just delivered an amazing verdict, which is as much as a direct encouragement to the very class which has produced a Bonnet and a Garnier, and is calculated to discourage the police, who, at the risk of their lives, track brigands and murderers. Three young men, aged seventeen, eighteen and twenty-one, two mechanics and a grocer's assistant, were brought up before the Seine Assizes on a charge, which was proved up to the hilt, of having broken into a house at Senaux, south of Paris, and of having used violence to its occupant, Madame Hortatze de la Bette, an old lady who is stone deaf and nearly blind. They have been acquitted because, forsooth, they might each have been sentenced to a couple of years' imprisonment. The crime was a bad one, and it might have been worse if their only fault had not been an amount of courage which would have done credit to the average man.

One of the prisoners, Gaugnon, the youth of eighteen, having learned from a former servant of Madame Hortatze de la Bette that she was well off, told some of his friends that there was a "bon coup" to be effected in that quarter, and accordingly the trio concocted a plan of campaign. They began by reconnoitering the premises, their usual papers were produced, and in the service of a well-known provider. He had an interview with the old lady, and took a good look around the place, the result being that the gang decided on operations on the following evening. It was a dark night, and after having (Continued on page 14, sixth column.)

STANDARD OF BRITISH MEASURES

Queer Ceremony of Checking Accuracy of Measurements And Weights

ONCE IN TWENTY YEARS

Valuable Cube of Platinum And Rod of Bronze Walled Up Under Steps of House of Commons—Dimensions Took Years to Compute

(Times' Special Correspondence.) London, May 15—One of the queerest and most important of all the ceremonies that are gone through in this country—once, too, that comes off only once in twenty years—has just taken place in the presence, as usual, of some of the loftiest dignitaries of the state.

This ceremonial consists of unearthing and examining the contents of an extraordinary box buried in the masonry which forms the base of the steps of the House of Commons, and hereby checking the weights and measures used in Great Britain.

To get at the box mentioned, which is of oak, masons had to pull down part of the wall of the staircase. Then, after the masonry had been removed, the contents were examined with infinite care by a hand of other pieces of metal, in which it is guarded from some idea of tampering. To begin with, it is carefully wrapped in a specially prepared paper, unaccountably soft in texture, and is laid in a tin to be kept in a dry place. This tin is placed on a specially selected wooden base, which fits into a sturdy mahogany box, and is sealed in a particular way.

The other thing in the box is a rod of bronze. It is carefully protected, and is placed on eight rollers in ascending order, and is covered in a special paper. The rod is made of lead, firmly soldered and perfectly straight. There is still another thing in the box, and that is a tin of silver-gilt cases. This tin goes into a tin to be kept in a dry place. This tin is placed on a specially selected wooden base, which fits into a sturdy mahogany box, and is sealed in a particular way.

The two queer pieces of metal which are guarded with such carelessness are the standards of the British weights and measures. They always remain of the same size. The standards which were used in the Houses of Parliament, and it took many men of science many long years to compute and manufacture the existing two pieces of metal.

The one inch cube of platinum, though so small, weighs a pound. The bronze rod is thirty-eight inches long and has two studs of solid gold to measure off the yard. Two lines cross these gold studs, and at a certain temperature and pressure the distance between these fine lines is the standard of British measures.

When the ceremony of examining the standards comes off, they are not touched by hands, but are held in special tongs. One of the most delicate balances known was used in weighing the cube. The yard was measured with the utmost exactness, a powerful microscope being used, and other delicate measurements were made, including that of the temperature and of the height of the barometer.

NO HASTY WEDDINGS THERE. In Switzerland Promises to Wed Must Be Publicly Posted for Several Weeks. A Breach of promise cases in Switzerland is very rare. This is most probably due to the fact that the Swiss law makes the publication and registration of betrothal compulsory. Verbal or even written engagements do not become "legal" unless the contracting parties have presented themselves at the town hall, declared their intention of marrying, and given every information concerning themselves from three to four weeks before the ceremony can take place.

CANADIAN FASHIONS AT TORONTO RACES

MISS ELF BOWEN, MRS REINHARDT AND HER DAUGHTER, THE BARONESS VON SENTEN, A PANNIER GOWN

Among the most striking gowns seen at the Woodbine track, Toronto, were those worn by Mrs. Reinhardt and her daughter, the Baroness von Senten, as illustrated in the centre photograph. Mrs. Reinhardt was in purple satin with a fillet tunic embroidered with gold, and the Baroness wore black satin faced with ermine and draped with white silk embroidered with gold, and black and white with ermine. On the right is seen one of the fashionable panner gowns, which was much admired, worn with an ermine hat, with flower motifs. Miss Elf Bowen on the left, is in dainty white silk, with black and white stripes, and touches of ermine, and with a Panama hat.

ENGLISH MOURNING OVER LADY TUPPER'S DEATH

Was Always Anxious to Return to Canada—A Tribute to Sir Charles

(Times' Special Correspondence.) London, May 14—London learned with great regret on Sunday of the death of Lady Tupper, who passed away on Saturday afternoon at Bexley Heath, in Kent.

Through the years of her residence here Lady Tupper retained a great interest in Canadian affairs. When I was last at Bexley Heath, Sir Charles informed me that both he and Lady Tupper would dearly love to see the progress of the Dominion from the year of her death. The frequent visits of her sons from Canada were looked forward to with great pleasure by Lady Tupper. In announcing the death of the Dominion of British North America, the Daily Telegraph took the opportunity to review the career of Sir Charles Tupper in the following words:

"Sir Charles Tupper, who will be ninety-one on July 2, is the last survivor of the statesmen who in 1867 originated and carried out the idea of the confederation of the Provinces of British North America into the Dominion of Canada—in the opinion of many competent judges the most admirable federal government in the world. In that historic deed Sir Charles Tupper took a leading part, and he has lived to see the wonderful progress of the Dominion from that date onward. We trust he may survive to celebrate its jubilee in 1917."

He and Lady Tupper could recall early days when the great western territory was an unknown land to most Canadians, a vast region, possessed in the main by the Hudson's Bay Company, when British Columbia was a crown colony with 10,000 inhabitants, and the Rocky Mountains were an almost impassable barrier between east and west. Now that land is traversed by great railways, and is filling at an unprecedented rate with British and American farmers who are making of it one of the most promising granaries of the world.

Sir Charles was made a baronet in 1887; he has served in five ministries; has twice represented Canada as high commissioner in London; and has been prime minister of the Dominion. The latter post he held for a few weeks only.

SPEECHES AT DINNER OF CANADA CLUB

Feeling Reference to the Loss of C. M. Hays With the Titanic—Hon. Mr. McBride

(Times' Special Correspondence.) London, May 14—The Canada Club dinner, held at the Prince's Restaurant, Piccadilly, on Wednesday, May 8, was in every respect one of the most successful and delightful gatherings ever held by this well-known and popular club.

More than usually large attendance of Canadians and well-known imperialists, Sir Charles D. Rose, Bart, M. P., was in the chair.

The toast of the imperial forces was proposed by the Hon. J. H. Turner, agent general for British Columbia, and responded to by General Sir E. L. Elliot, K. C. B., and Colonel Jeffrey Burdell. Sir Charles Rose, in proposing the toast of the evening, "The Dominion of Canada, and His Royal Highness the Governor General," paid a feeling tribute to the loss that had been sustained by Canada and by the club owing to the death of Charles M. Hays, the president of Canada's Grand Trunk Railway. He referred to the great progress which Canada had made since confederation, and to the many statesmen past and present, who had been identified with the development of the country.

The Hon. Richard McBride, prime minister of British Columbia, responded, and in the course of an eloquent address specially mentioned the presence of the Duke of Devonshire and Lord mayor, in their official capacity to foreign countries, and expressed a hearty wish that some day a lord mayor of London would spend some little time in Canada during his term of office.

He referred to the growth of the Dominion and British Columbia and said that there was ample room for the Canadian Pacific Railway and other trans-continental roads that were now under construction.

THE LEANING TOWER MAY GO TOO FAR

Commission Urges Steps to Prevent Repetition of What Befel Campanile

Milan, May 25—"The Leaning Tower of Pisa is not, we think, in immediate danger; nevertheless hurry up with your preventive measures if you wish to avert another such catastrophe as that of the Venetian Campanile."

Such, in substance, is the conclusion which a royal commission experts have just presented to the Italian government. The worst menace to the safety of the famous structure is due to the presence of strong currents of fresh water against the base of the tower. These currents, undermining the foundations, may have already created notable hollows in the subsoil and, what is more serious, no effectual means have hitherto been devised for checking them.

Since British architects, Messrs. Cray and Taylor, examined the tower in 1871, its leaning propensities have increased five and a half centimetres to the lineal metre, and under the influence of a north wind the leaning tower is subjected to the enormous pressure of about 300 lbs. to the square yard.

Aviator's Close Call. Rock Island, Ill., May 25—Victor De Koenigheere, a Belgian aviator, one of the few who have crossed the English Channel in a monoplane, fell while making a trial flight here yesterday and was caught under his wrecked machine. He escaped, however, with but cuts about the head and a severe shaking up.

Mr. McBride also mentioned the visit of the Forestry Association to British Columbia in the coming autumn as an event of some importance. Speaking of the Duke of Connaught, he drew attention to the visit that was to be made by His Royal Highness, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught to the Pacific coast in the autumn and said they would have a magnificent welcome. The toast of the visitors was proposed by Donald Macmaster, K. C., M. P., and responded to by the lord mayor, Sheriff Hanson and Sir Hugh Graham.

BALFOUR'S VIEWS ON SYNDICALISM

PLAY WAS NOT IMPROVED BY THE CENSOR

The Five Frankforters Fairly Suffered Some

THE ENGLISH STAGE

Financiers' Susceptibilities Responsible for Eliminations From Original Manuscript—Arrangements for Production of Every Woman at Drury Lane

(Times' Special Correspondence.) London, May 15—"The Five Frankforters" has been duly produced and met with a fairly enthusiastic reception. To my mind it just missed the mark, but I am told that the piece suffered very materially at the hands of the censor, who insisted that it should be a comedy, and that it should be a comedy of the Rothchild family.

Something of this I hinted in my last letter, but it seems the mischief had gone deeper than that. I dare say Lord Rothschild and his brother Alfred did not care to have their ancestors spoken of as "Jew money-lenders"—although in reality they were nothing more nor less—and to have them shown up in a light not always of the favorable nature. Still, if always to be made a saint and a martyr, why have them shown up in a light not always of the favorable nature. Still, if always to be made a saint and a martyr, why have them shown up in a light not always of the favorable nature. Still, if always to be made a saint and a martyr, why have them shown up in a light not always of the favorable nature.

George Edwards has his hands pretty full at the Adelphi he has a new piece in rehearsal, and is consequently compelled to share the time between them. At the latter house, we are, if all goes well, to see "The Five Frankforters" an eight weeks' run. That will give Miss Farnall a chance to show her talents in which to formulate his future plans.

Mr. Balfour found a pathetic element in the revolt against the representative system, in the suggestion that this system was "played out"—only fit for Turkey or China.

"It is, I believe, vain to hope that trade representative, or syndicalism, or any other system," he said, "will really be able to avoid the kind of criticism which has successively been poured by disappointed humanity upon the incompetent or sometimes the corrupt, rulers for whom directly or indirectly, it is responsible."

The syndicalists have apparently found a new philosophy in Bergson and a new theory of right, under which a conscious minority has a right over an unconscious majority. I doubt whether this is to have more success than the extreme view of abstract rights which was fashionable a century ago.

Presides at Meeting of Sociological Society

LONDON NEWS LETTER

A Dramatic Incident of the Titanic Disaster—Prince of Wales May Spend Summer Vacation as Guest of Kaiser—England's Drink Bill

(Times' Special Correspondence.) London, May 10—Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, in the function of president of the Sociological Society, took the chair at a recent meeting of that body, when syndicalism was discussed.

As "one who is old-fashioned in those matters," he listened attentively to a particularly brilliant paper read by Graham Wallas, and at its termination freely expressed his doubts; did not, however, did not grow indignant, but was openly and frankly sceptical. He gave one the impression that the grimly asserted doctrine—of its retention unmodified—was even after the lecturer had demonstrated its origin in the old guild-system. The lecturer opened with the assumption that the great industries of today were the result of a social strictly unproductive. Who was to direct or profit by this organization, he asked. There were three claimants—property, the state, and labor. The claim of the third of these was the result of a working-class reaction against the "logical" socialist scheme, and was taking the form of individualism, but of syndicalism. This claim, he contended, was based on a criticism of the electoral process as applied to a half-hearted. He quoted Lord Rosebery—"the Superman-in-the-Street," as he called him—"Politics at best are a gruesome study. There was a reaction against collectivism, and the syndicalist alternative to the existing system of electoral representatives drawn from territorial areas seemed to be a national committee, consisting of delegates from organized industries."

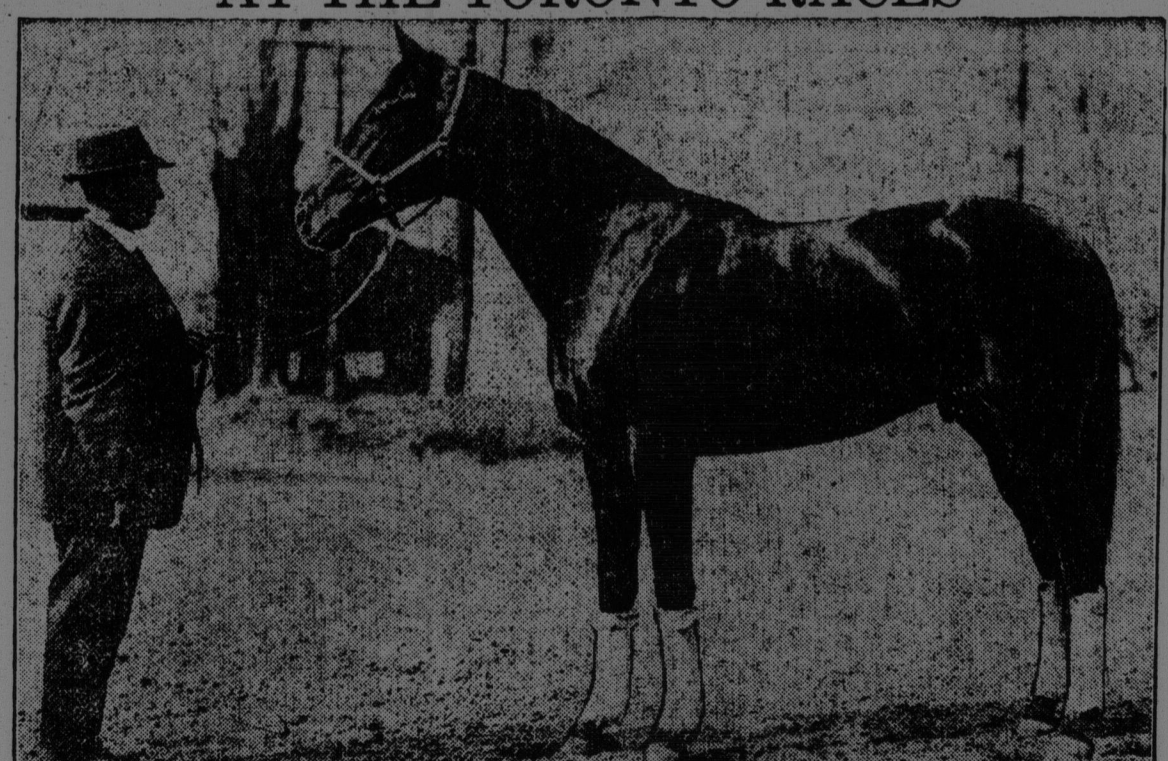

There then was the belief that a man worked with a deeper self than that which he talked or voted. The lecturer tried to show a relationship between syndicalist ideas with the philosophy of Bergson, who advised Mr. Balfour to speak, although it left him unconvinced. As for himself, the lecturer held that no decision would be made by the control to either one of the three claimants, but that two at least of those control, in the suggestion that this system was "played out"—only fit for Turkey or China.

Mr. Balfour thought that people had got into the habit of talking as though the competition and conflict of interests in modern industrial society was exclusively between capital and labor. A new, essential and universal and necessary competition was that between different industries—between those who make and those who buy, those who extract coal and those who have to use coal—and no rearrangement of industries within themselves was going to diminish a conflict which, so far as he could see, was inevitable.

While being the last person to underestimate the importance of the problem of distribution, he said, he did most seriously hold that there was a yet greater problem to be dealt with and that concerned the amount produced. Important and vital as was the question of how what we produced was to be distributed over the whole community, the bigger question was how they could increase its amount produced. "Now, if that be true, then we must consider how the organization of our industries is going to improve their quality; to absorb, so far as possible, the inventive and creative brains of the community; how we are going to carry on not merely old-established work, but perpetually to develop our new forms of enterprise—new ways of doing old things, new ways of doing new things. I have never been able to understand how you can get thoroughly efficient organization for carrying on new work on any principle, which does not strive to put at the head of these competitive industries men of the highest creative business efficiency."

It has never been one of those who think that the representative system, voted by ballot, will effectively carry out that task. I do not believe that syndicalism will effectively carry out that task. In the struggle about the division of interests Mr. Balfour felt that we were far too apt to forget the interest of the (Continued on page 13; first column.)

MATRIMONIAL TROUBLES IN HIGH SOCIETY

Their Graces of Westminster Drift Further Apart And Friends Worry

MAKING HER DEBUT

Daughter of Lord Curzon Soon to Enter Society—Dominion Visitors to the Old Country, Including Some From St. John

(Times' Special Correspondence)

London, May 15.—Close friends and relatives of the Duke and Duchess of Westminster are deeply concerned over their future. It has been common property for some time that their married life was not of the happiest, and of late the breach between the two young people has rapidly widened. Meanwhile every effort is being made to bring them together again.

The duke and duchess seem to spend as little of the year in each other's company as possible. Grosvenor House, their great town house in Park Lane, in the middle of the enormous London estate of the family, stands dark and deserted almost the twelve months round. The duke spends most of his time on the continent and his fondness for a popular London leading actress is the gossip of every fashionable club in the West End. His Grace is building a magnificent chateau in France where he can enjoy his sporting predilections to the full.

The duchess prefers the glories of Eaton—not to be confused with Eton—probably the finest private estate in England, and when she does come to London she lives at the Buckingham Gate flat rented by her sister, Princess Pleas, giving Grosvenor House a wide berth.

Debut of Lord Curzon's Daughter

It hardly seems possible that next year will see the debut of the Hon. Mary Curzon, eldest daughter of Lord Curzon, of Kedleston, once viceroy of India. Yet she will be seventeen and the finishing touches are now being put to her education in expectation of her embarkation upon the sea of society.

The bringing up of Mary and her two sisters, Cynthia and Naldora, has been supervised by Mrs. Joseph Leiter, their grandmother, and the Countess of Sutherland, their aunt, their father being occupied with public affairs. Lord Curzon, however, made one stipulation, which should be taught house-keeping, cooking and needlework in all its branches. The little girls, therefore, have been initiated into all the mysteries of the home from quite an early age, and the two elder ones are now expert cooks. Mary, a particular source of her own concoction, which Lord Curzon is particularly fond of, and she always makes a dash for him when he comes to Hackwood.

The girls have been taught every form of fancy work, both ancient and modern, even tapestry work. But the more prosaic lines of this useful science have not been neglected. Mrs. Curzon, who one day will be three times the richest girl in England, has had to learn to darn socks, prepare table linen, and to cut and make simple garments. Of course all these accomplishments of girls of their station have been insisted upon. They have had French and German governesses since they were babies, and all three speak these languages as fluently as their own.

The Hon. Mary is growing wonderfully like her mother. She has the same dark hair and wonderfully clear skin which were Lady Curzon's chief beauty, but she promises to be a little taller than her mother.

The unique spoons that Queen Mary brought home with her from India make her collection complete, nearly every country being represented by her more specimens. Some of the most interesting are those showing the earliest forms of spoons and their development. Figures were made before forks, as you know, and apparently, although the spoon cannot boast any such antiquity, it made quite an early appearance in civilized life. Some of the spoons that Her Majesty brought in India are a great age, and are exquisitely chased and jewelled.

The queen's set of spoons compares favorably with any in existence. Another valuable recent addition to her collection was a set of quaint long-handled spoons from Russia, sent to her as a birthday present by the Czarina.

The Latest Fad

Absolutely the latest expensive trifle that we have no use for whatever is the "skowkerchie". This is a dainty bit of muslin and lace demanded by the little breast pocket which adorns our coats nowadays. None of them are more than six inches square, and needless to say, they cost astonishing sums of money. A friend happened to see a collection of them that had just been made for a famous society beauty after her own design and to match her "tailor-made". Half a dozen of them were of lawn, so fine that the whole lot would have gone through a wedding ring together without much ruffling. They were of the palest pastel colors, beautifully hemstitched and embroidered with her monogram at the corner. Another set were composed of squares of the latest lawn edged with real lace, costing—can you believe it?—$30 each.

Among the prominent men who are contemplating the acquisition of estates in Canada is Major-General Sartorius, whose son has just left for British Columbia to look over the ground. Major-General Sartorius has had a distinguished career in the army, having seen service in Afghanistan and Egypt. He is a son of an admiral of the fleet and was born in Portugal. In recognition of the services his father rendered to the Portuguese government he is authorized to use the title of Conde de Penafirme while in that country, and both he and his son are V. C. men.

The excellent opportunities for sportsmen in British Columbia are said to have decided him to enquire into the question of securing an estate in this province. Colonel Sartorius, his brother, is credited with having brought down the biggest bison ever shot.

Small Factories Making Good Times in The Green Isle

COVER MANY BRANCHES

Woolens, Furniture, Lace, Boots and Shoes and Hats—How an M. P. Went to America To Learn Trade, Returned and Started Industry

(Times' Special Correspondence)

Dublin, May 15.—Ireland's progress in her industrial pre-eminence and its hardly less striking than her progress in agriculture, and, unlike the agricultural advance which is due in some degree to state aid, the enormous growth of small industries, and the new spirit of self-reliance among the Irish people.

The most notable of these is the woolen industry. Belfast and Derry and their neighborhoods have long been noted for their industrial pre-eminence and it is hardly necessary to do more than mention them. Belfast's shipbuilding industry is the greatest in the world, and the White Star line, which was turned out of the world's record tonnage for some time, is now being built in Belfast. Workmen & Clark's yard is less in the limelight because it builds smaller ships, but it employs about 10,000 people and is well up in the list of the world's great shipyards.

In the last nine or ten years there has been a great revival in lace-making. Classes have been revived, particularly in the west of Ireland, notably in the embroidery and sewing trades and to a less extent in lace manufacturing. Nearly all the embroidery of handkerchiefs, for instance, is done by Irish girls in their homes and much of the shirt-making for the Derry factories is also parcelled out in the same way.

Another feature of the revival is the growth of what are known as home industries. These are a few young mechanics and artists who wished to revive some of the traditional Irish forms in furniture and decorative work. So quickly did it succeed that today Killybegs furniture is found in all parts of Ireland and a large export trade is growing up.

NEWS OF CANADIANS

A Canadian violinist who is making a reputation in London is Miss Rhoda Simpson of Winnipeg. Recently she had the honor of performing at the lord mayor's concert at the Royal Albert Hall, and she charmed the critical ear of a distinguished and artistic audience. Last week she played the "Cello" Lodge banquet, rendering in an exquisite manner, Wieniawski's "Serenade de Concerto," and "L'Adieu de Lammermoor." After leaving Winnipeg, where she studied under the late Mrs. Rose, she went to a famous German master, Hans Sitt of Leipzig, who had a high opinion of her musicianship and art.

LIVES THERE A WOMAN WITH A SOUL SO DEAD WHO DOES NOT WANT NICE HAIR ON HER HEAD?

HERPICOIDE

Certainly not! Every woman admires beautiful hair and wants it. Every woman can have nice hair. Not the kind that may be purchased at the store, but real live hair growing on her own head. There is nothing adds so much to woman's charm as a nice head of natural fluffy hair. It is not difficult to have nice hair. If not interfered with the hair will grow long and luxuriantly.

The most destructive and most prevalent form of hair trouble is dandruff. HERPICOIDE keeps the germ which causes this annoying accumulation, keeps the scalp clean and prevents the hair from falling out. This allows the follicles not already atrophied to spring into life, shooting forth from the tiny dormant papilla new healthy hair.

You experience marvelous benefit from the first application. The terrible itching which is indicative of dandruff stops at once. The hair becomes glossy and lustrous with a beauty that always indicates a clean healthy scalp. More men and women have gotten positive results from the use of NEWBRO'S HERPICOIDE than from all other remedies combined. Why then court possible disappointments by using an off brand hair remedy when you can just as easily and cheaply have HERPICOIDE, The Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer? It makes all hair beautiful.

THE HERPICOIDE CO., Dept. 81 B, Windsor, Ont., will, upon receipt of Ten Cents in postage or silver send a sample bottle and valuable pamphlet about the hair to any address.

THE ART OF BEING HAPPY

(Dr. Frank Crane in Woman's World for June)

The very title of this article suggests the most important thing for one to know about happiness; that it is something we can control, and not something that controls us.

We can learn to be happy, just as we can learn to be studious, diligent or neat. It is like learning to ride the bicycle, difficult and fearsome at first, but when you have caught the knack it is easy as second nature.

It is not a matter of temperament. Any morbid soul can become stately contented if he will.

It is not a matter of circumstances. It does not depend upon health, money, luxury or any other thing.

This is the hardest truth, almost in the world for ordinary folk to see. Yet it is absolutely vital. You must try to see it or there is no hope for you. So long as you nurse the false idea that your life depends upon anything outside of yourself, you are foredoomed to misery.

If you are going to be happy, it is yourself that you must get to work at, and not other people nor outside things.

Paul and Barnabas sang in prison. That which amazed the pagan world in the character of the early Christians was that even in torture and death they smiled one at another and sang hymns.

The secret you must seek is the one that can make you triumph over all that happens to you.

Now this secret is not one reserved for only a few chosen souls; it is for everybody, from the peasant to the king.

And the first thing to learn is to find your happiness in the Simple Things of life.

These are with you always, they surround you every minute. To get the knack of enjoying them is to lay the foundation of all satisfaction.

There is air. Did you ever turn your back to it, and try to appreciate it? When in the morning you go from your close bedroom into God's outdoors and draw great draughts of that sweet liquor into your lungs, don't take it as a matter of course, and go on worrying over your troubles; try to taste and realize how good it is.

There is water. What infinite models of it! Did you ever turn your back to it, and try to appreciate it? When in the morning you go from your close bedroom into God's outdoors and draw great draughts of that sweet liquor into your lungs, don't take it as a matter of course, and go on worrying over your troubles; try to taste and realize how good it is.

BIG LINEN INDUSTRY FOR CANADA

Investigating New Process of Treating the Straw—Skilled Irish and Scotch Labor

Ottawa, May 24.—The department of agriculture is investigating the great possibilities of establishing an immense flax and linen industry in Canada through the utilization of the recently discovered process of treating flax straw as raw material for linen fabrics.

Expert opinion already furnished to the department indicates that the hundreds of thousands of tons of flax straw now annually allowed to rot to waste throughout the dominion can, under the new methods of preparing the fibre, be profitably converted into millions of dollars worth of linen and paper fabrics adding five or six-fold to the ultimate value of the annual crop to the country.

An expert on the growth and manipulation of flax, W. J. Robinson, of Chicago, was recently in Ottawa and furnished the minister of agriculture with some most important information as to the potential development of the flax industry in Canada. In a summary report Mr. Robinson says:

"The only obstacle in the way of producing good spinning and weaving fibre from the flax grown in Canada and the United States for use in the textile industry is the question of a proper method of rotting the flax, in order to get away from the deleterious gases which make it impossible of use by the cordage and linen manufacturers. Many attempts have been made at different periods of history to accomplish this result by other than the water or dew rotting methods used in every succeeding attempt has proved more discouraging than the last."

"It has remained for a prominent American chemist, Dr. R. K. Roberts, of Washington (D. C.), who has devoted over thirty years of his life to the solution of this problem, to invent a very simple chemical process and one that is reasonably economical, by which the flax straw grown in the United States and Canada can be converted into a commercially spinable and weavable fibre by which is put within the pale of certainty the development of the linen business in Canada and the United States.

"Canada is absolutely dependent upon the few southern states which grow cotton for all its vegetable fibre textiles, and the inauguration of this industry would make it possible for linen mills to spring up over the dominion, and to Canada a type of immigration from the north of Ireland and from Scotland, which has never been able to obtain before, because these people who have been trained elsewhere were afraid to come to Canada where the industry to which they had been trained from youth was unknown.

"Canada in 1911 grew 1,800,000 tons of flax straw, which straw was continually rotting and manure 300,000 tons of commercially spinable flax fibre. This fibre at Canadian prices would yield the entire last year 800,000,000 in Canadian exports. The seed alone on the flax grown yielded only $11,853,000, while the entire value of rye, peas, buckwheat, mixed grains and flax in 1911 was only $53,948,000.

"In addition to the use of the flax fibre for paper and cordage, it may also be used for the manufacture of rayon. There are therefore splendid prospects of the building up in western Canada as well as in the eastern provinces, where flax is grown, of a new industry, adding tens of millions to the manufactured products of the dominion and creating thousands of hands, to say nothing of the increased profits to the flax growers."

Mr. Joseph Stephens, Rosemount (Ont.), is one of the great host who continually sound the praises of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and he has much reason to do so as they brought him from suffering to health, after he had spent much money and two years of time experimenting with other treatments. Mr. Stephens tells his story as follows: "In the month of January, 1908, while working in a logging camp at Creston (B. C.), I got my back badly injured. I suffered a great deal of pain and was almost helpless. I tried plaster, thinking they would help me, but they were of no use. I took several medicines, equally without benefit. Then I was advised to get electrical treatment and did so for a time, but without getting any permanent relief, and it began to look as though I was going to be permanently crippled. Then I was advised to undergo treatment with a specialist at Spokane (Wash.). After examining me, he said I was in a very bad shape and that the trouble was likely to result in Bright's disease. However, he told me that he felt sure he could cure me. At a heavy expense I was under his treatment for three months, but did not get the least benefit. I was almost in despair; work was plentiful and wages good, but I could not work as I was quite unable to bend. I was in this condition for about two years, when my brother, who was with me all the time, came across one of Dr. Williams' pamphlets and read of the great work Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were doing. He urged me to try them, but I thought it would be useless to spend more money after all the other treatment had failed. He insisted, however, and got a dozen boxes of the Pills and I began to take them. Before I had used a half dozen boxes I felt relief, and I continued taking the Pills until every vestige of the pain was gone, and I could raise my hands above my head and then bend until I could touch my toes with my fingers, something I had not been able to do for over two years. My cure was a great surprise to my comrades, and you may be sure I told them what brought it about. I am as well and strong as any man in the country and I owe it all to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

MR. McLELLAN TO HAVE FULL CONTROL

The Commissioners and the Fire Department—Early Closing By-Law to Be Rescinded

At the regular meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon it was decided to ask the lieutenant-governor council to sanction changes in the by-laws relating to the fire department so that the commissioner of public safety will have full charge of the department at all times.

It was also agreed to ask for the repeal of the by-law which was recently passed relating to early closing.

The department of marine and fisheries is to be asked to designate Sand Point also. Several petitions in the public works department were let. The full board was present at the meeting. Mayor Brink left before the business was finished in order to be at the Empire day exercises in the High school.

The mayor and the common clerk were authorized to have printed a small civic year book.

In introducing the matter of the repeal of the early closing by-law, Mr. Schofield said that he thought that a compulsory law of this kind would not be for the best interests of the citizens, and to compel some of the smaller stores to close early in the afternoon would be to discriminate and it would be his duty to repeal the law and under the circumstances he thought it would be better to repeal the by-law at once.

The orders of the common council of April 11 authorizing lease of stalls in the market to Oscar W. Saunders and Frank Kierstead and another one to Henry McFarlane were rescinded.

The changes in the fire department regulations were next considered. Mr. McLellan said that there had been a difference between himself and the fire chief during the progress of the fire last Sunday.

The commissioner said that he wished it to be so that if any citizen spoke to the chief or asked him a question during the progress of a fire he would not be abused and threatened with arrest. Mr. McLellan asked the chief if he would be subject to his orders he would hand the department back to the people at an early date.

Commissioner Schofield opposed the idea of changing the regulations and said that he believed the commissioner already had the power he asked for and that he could deal with the fire chief if that official did not obey his orders.

Commissioner Agar said that he believed Commissioner McLellan already had the power he asked for, but in order to help Mr. McLellan to get the department fully under his control, he would favor the proposition to consult the admiralty this summer.

On the vote being put, only Commissioner Schofield opposed it. The mayor at this stage left the meeting and Commissioner Wigmore took his place.

The St. John Railway Company was given authority to remove its tracks from a portion of British street and put them down in Broad street; also to extend its tracks in West street from Pitt street to James street to Broad street and to lay track in Charlotte street to Britain. All the work is to be done to the satisfaction of the city engineer and the streets from which the rails are removed are to be placed in good condition again.

It was decided to buy a car of oil for the streets from the Canadian Oil Company at eight cents a gallon.

The New Brunswick Telephone Co. was given the privilege of putting poles in Melchior street between Pitt street and the I. C. R. track.

Charles Magnusson & Co., Dock street, J. S. Vincent, 89 King street, were asked to leave to erect electric signs over the sidewalk in front of their stores.

The provisions of the lease Charles E. Cobwell for in West St. John are to be changed so that the limit of improvements will be $500 in one case and $300 in another.

The following tenders were accepted: J. T. Knight & Co., ninety tons of asphalt at $23.20; Carrite Paterson Mfg. Co., 200 barrels coal gas tar at $3.50 barrels paid; J. S. Vincent & Co., seventy cords hard wood at $8.75; George Dick, ninety tons of B. M. coal at $4.20; J. S. Vincent, 89 King street, was asked to leave to erect electric signs over the sidewalk in front of their stores.

BORDEN AGAIN GIVES WAY TO NATIONALISTS

No Plans for Ministers Going to England on Naval Business—By-Election in Mind

Ottawa, May 24.—The following official and decidedly significant statement has been handed out by Premier Borden: "During the last few months reports have been published respecting a visit by the prime minister, the minister of marine and fisheries to Britain during the summer. As a matter of fact they are entirely unauthorized and wholly conjectural. No such visit has yet been considered or arranged except that of Mr. Foster, who leaves on the 31st inst., to attend the meetings of the Imperial Trade Commission. The cabinet has not yet considered the visit of other members or subjects to be discussed and reports to the contrary are wholly unauthorized."

The question of adequate naval assistance from Canada to Great Britain, about which the loyal Conservative opposition was so anxious when the Laurier government was in power, has apparently not even been discussed by the government yet, although "the weary Titan" is now shouldering even heavier burdens in order to maintain British supremacy on the seas, and "the German peril" is still menacing.

The government is apparently even contemplating abandoning for the present the promised consultation with the admiralty this summer with a view to reaching a satisfactory basis for a permanent Canadian naval policy.

Premier Borden is making engagements for next month in Canada and even Hon. J. D. Hazen, the minister of naval affairs, will not now admit that he is going to Europe this summer.

Hon. Colonel Sam Hughes seems to be the only minister who is ready to go to Europe this summer, but he is not to be considered as a candidate for a permanent Canadian naval policy.

The secret of premier Borden's peculiar announcement, as above, undoubtedly lies in the influence of his Quebec Nationalist colleagues. A bye-election in Richelieu, rendered vacant by the unseating of Mr. Cardin, is likely to be pulled off soon. The government is preparing to throw all its weight into the constituency in an effort to win it and thus offset in a measure the bad effect of the Liberal sweep in the provincial election.

Meanwhile Hon. Messrs. Pelletier, Monk and Nantel insist that there be no hint of any naval mission to England by the premier and Hon. Mr. Hazen.

After the election is pulled off, political considerations will lead to the formation of a new party of his party expect of him, will probably force Mr. Borden to fulfill the promise "to consult the admiralty this summer."

TORIES AGAIN IN SQUABBLE

Fleming and McLeod Have Spat in Woodstock—Their Candidates in Madawaska Chosen

Woodstock, May 24.—While a fight is typical of Tory post-wives, the reported personal attack of Orange Lily, within two or three days after her coronation, is a use the improvement becomes completely unmanageable. Orange Lily is a continuous until the patient is completely cured. Orange Lily is applied or local treatment, and acts directly on the weakness organs, removing the congestion, toning and strengthening the nerves, and restoring perfect circulation in the diseased parts. In order to convince all suffering from this disease, I will send a 3-cent box, enough for ten days' treatment, absolutely FREE to each lady sending me her address. MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAN, Windsor, Ont.

Mr. McLeod who was, or thought he was, likely to speak was bluntly told, it is said, that his services were not required. In a rage he turned on the premier and reminded him that York had much right in the so-called Carleton, and that he did not come there to be snubbed and sneered at, and the premier had no right to be chief actor at all the exhibitions.

Mr. Fleming's efforts to calm his excited colleague, it is reported, were fruitless. The local committee tried to smooth matters by inviting Mr. McLeod to address the convention in the evening. This he rather freely declined to do, and at once left for Fredericton by auto.

Efforts to hush up this feature of a disappointing day failed and the affair is still a talk of the town.

Edmundston, May 24.—(Special)—The Tories held a convention last night. About seventy persons were present. Charles Cyr, of St. Leonard, and Max Cormier, of Edmundston, were nominated. Mr. Cyr was elected a Liberal in 1908 and Mr. Cormier was defeated by Pius Michaud last fall by 1,948 votes.

Hon. Dr. Landry, in his address, spoke of everything but agriculture.

ALMOST THE SAME. It is a local concern and all the walls of the neighborhood had turned out. The second "turn" was Mr. Pipeclay Cramon, and he had a large number of songs for the edification of the company. But that was not all. Mr. Cramon was also of ample propensities.

"My dear," exclaimed one "fashionable" to her friend, "hasn't Mr. Pipeclay Cramon an extensive repertoire?" "Well, I shouldn't like to say that," said her friend, "but he certainly is getting rather fat."

July 30, as a suitable day, was received. The matter was referred to the mayor. It was decided to ask the lieutenant-governor council to sanction changes in the by-laws relating to the fire department so that the commissioner of public safety will have full charge of the department at all times.

WHY SHOULD NOT OLD PEOPLE RETAIN THEIR YOUTHFUL VIGOR

No Reason Why Men and Women of Sixty, Seventy and Eighty Should Not Be Well—The Secret of Happy Old Age

"Fruit-a-tives", the Famous Medicine Made of Fresh Fruit Juices, Again Proves Its Great Value in Curing Kidney Trouble.

Old age pays the cost of living. Few men and women of fifty, sixty and seventy are free of Kidney Trouble. Head aches, mental strain and general debility, tell in the long run. And many men and women show they have Kidney Trouble by suffering with pain in the back, headaches, rheumatism, jaundice, bladder disease.

To such people "Fruit-a-tives" has proved one of the wonders of the age—the most remarkable discovery of the century in modern medical science. This fruit medicine has performed hundreds of cures, where the sufferer had been told that the case was incurable.

Take, for instance, Mr. Geo. W. Barkley, a prosperous farmer and one of the leading citizens of Dundas County, Ontario.

At seventy-six, he is the picture of health—with the vigorous actions and the slightly step of a man of fifty.

An incident at Lord Mervyn's Titanic investigation in Old London. Quartermaster Robert Hitchens, who was at the wheel of the Titanic when the crash came, pointing out on the gigantic models of the Titanic where he was located when the accident happened. Hitchens' picture is of particular interest to Canadians, as he was the man whom Major Peuchen of Toronto said was incapable of taking proper care of the lifeboat in which he was in charge, with Peuchen and many ladies as passengers. Hitchens denied Peuchen's assertion in toto. Giving evidence at the London enquiry, he said he received the order "hard-a-starboard," and the vessel had swung about two points when she struck the iceberg.

UTILIZE THE SCHOOL GROUNDS

Some Opinions Brought Out in Campaign Waged By Halifax Newspaper

(Amherst News)

The Halifax Evening Mail is waging an active campaign to have the public schools and the play grounds connected therewith used for social services. The Mail adopts the sensible view that the home and school should be linked together and that their closer association would facilitate education, create a deeper sympathy between teachers, scholars and parents and that scholars even after leaving school would maintain an interest in them if the school grounds and buildings were opened for social and community work. This experiment has been tried in connection with the West Highlands School and has proven a success so far as social gatherings are concerned. There is some talk now of opening the play grounds to the public. In this connection it will be interesting to read the views of prominent educationalists on this subject as given to a reporter for the Halifax Evening Mail.

In my opinion I think the present order of a waste of between $300,000 and $400,000 of the people's money.

The assembly halls are, I have always claimed, absolutely essential to the school building, but they have a far wider mission and usefulness than that.

Although they are not in use more than two-fifths of the time, it has been found that in the sections where they are located they have been productive of great good in the promotion of sympathy and intimate friendship between home and school.

Parents have gotten interested in the school libraries through attending entertainments given by the pupils in the latest of the library movement, and the library itself has been a means of linking parents and teachers in a closer bond.

It has been found that the assembly hall, even under the present order, has created local school spirit. Yes—I am strongly in favor of the Mail's suggestion. In all the chief cities in the United States the assembly halls are centres of social service and I trust the day is not distant when they will be so in Halifax.

When asked his view of the matter, Dr. Bakardar, chairman of the school board said:

"Decidedly I am in favor of such a use of the assembly hall as you suggest. Thousands of dollars have been spent on the assembly halls, and it seems to me that we are allowing the money to go to waste. Every assembly hall in the city may be, and ought to be, utilized in a way which would make them potent factors in the very best sort of civic uplift. I am strongly in favor of opening them for social service work of an educational kind already passed four months in custody. I would not for instance, be in favor of granting them for political meetings, but I should be in favor of creating in any way tending to benefit—to truly educate the people.

Principal Sexton, one of the most public-spirited men engaged in educational work in this province, says, in this connection:

"Assuredly I favor it. I know that in Rochester, Chicago, Boston and other American cities where it has been tried, it has been found to react most helpfully on the schools themselves by creating a deeper and more sympathetic interest in that work. I would like to see every assembly hall in Halifax used in this way, in work of community interest, and I believe we should speedily demonstrate its wisdom.

Principal Brunt, of Bloomfield school, which is holding every day the growing need of an assembly hall, and must shortly be enlarged says:

"I would even go further and advocate Parents' Associations such as are being formed in England and in Germany. They hold their meetings in the assembly halls and have free access to the latter, the result being that home and school are brought into a closer, more intimate relationship; friction born of a lack of acquaintance and full understanding is removed. I should certainly be in favor of such a use of the assembly halls as you suggest."

City Missionary Theatrical, when asked his view, said that he thought the idea of using the school grounds for social purposes was a very good one, and that the older men and women last summer, in the evenings, as having been a much which is more probably intended for the activities of the Local Council of Women, which are directly related to the schools, or rather, when they overtook her, the school board has been freely given."

MAKES TINY WATCH INSIDE OF A PEARL

ing broken through a door they entered the villa. Madame Herbutte de la Butte was in her bedroom, reading a newspaper before she went off to sleep. Leard, her maid, and speaking generally, claims to have seized her by the throat, and put a hand on her mouth to prevent her from screaming, while one of his companions kept watch and the other ransacked drawers, wardrobe and cupboards.

But the plucky old lady was not inclined to surrender. She struggled bravely, pulled a knife out of her pocket, and soon managed to snatch a revolver out of a drawer. Aiming the weapon at her assailants, she contrived to beat a retreat into the garden, when they overtook her and threw her on the ground she fired off her revolver and called for help.

The three young miscreants, thus foiled and fearing that neighbors might come to the rescue of their victim, ran off into the fields, where they were soon arrested. No attempt was made by them after their capture to deny their guilt, and, as they pressed report, and Madame Herbutte de la Butte was disposed to be forgiving, their counsel had an easy task in melting the phenomenonally tender hearts of the jury, with an appeal for pity on account of their youth.

The jury, thinking that two years' imprisonment, or life in a reformatory until they had attained their majority, would be too severe a penalty for the interesting trio, actually sent for the judge and asked him to agree to give them the benefit of the First Offenders' Act, or to inflict a mild reprimand. As the poor fellows had already passed four months in custody, the judge explained that he could conclude no such bargain. A verdict of not guilty was accordingly returned, and the three young men were immediately set free.

There is little doubt that the old lady would have been murdered outright if she had not been so brave.

French African Railway

From time to time during the last half-century the imagination of French empire-builders has been stirred by the ambitious scheme for a railway that, starting from

Algeria, shall strike boldly across the desert to the fertile regions of the Niger, and the supporters and opponents of the "Trans-Saharian" have split much ink in warmly controversial papers on the subject. Sooner or later this dream will be accomplished, and its realization by a more westerly route is the more likely now that France has obtained control over Morocco, to the south of which the line from Ocran is being steadily pushed forward.

But this scheme, which is still far from being carried to completion, is simplicity itself compared with the latest proposal which has been put forward by a senator and ex-minister in the columns of a prominent Paris newspaper. He suggests nothing less than the construction of a Trans-Atlantic railway from Tangier to the Indian Ocean, the motive power to be electrically derived from the electric power in the neighborhood of Lake Tchad.

The line, as vaguely sketched out by this ultra-ambitious project, would pass by way of Larache, Fez, Fiquig, the Oasis of Touat, and Agades to Lake Tchad, and thence along the course of the Nile to the Egyptian coast, just within the northern boundary of British East Africa. This gargantuan enterprise, which dictates all help from the Uganda Railway and the fine port of Bombay, as well as many obvious difficulties, and between Newlaya and London being also adapted to electric traffic. This, he says, would bring the Indian Ocean within five days' travelling from London, deprive the Suez Canal of its traffic, shorten the route to India, and the East, and earn huge profits by tapping the resources of the whole of Central Africa.

In short, as France would control about three-quarters of the line, she would "rule the world," by holding the road to India, and, speaking generally, claims to place in the equatorial sun pretty effectively. Few people will be likely to pay serious attention to this extraordinary dream, particularly in view of the present happenings in Morocco, Tripoli, and the Mediterranean, and the possibility of the European powers, interested in North Africa having their hands full for some time to come. It is, however, interesting, as showing that the acquisition of a huge African empire by France has put queer notions into the minds of Frenchmen who have learned to think imperially. The dream is magnificent, but it is not likely to be anything more than a dream.

JAMES BURNS VICTIM OF SHOOTING ACCIDENT

James Burns, colored, of Duke street, was accidentally shot in the stomach yesterday afternoon by James A. Marsh, another colored man, while the two were on a fishing trip to Silver Falls. Burns is in a precarious condition in the hospital and Marsh is locked up. Marsh took a revolver with him on the trip, and says that while doing some target practice the weapon was accidentally discharged and Burns was shot.

After being shot Burns walked all the way into the city, but on reaching home almost collapsed. He was hurried to the hospital and operated on. The bullet was located. Marsh will be held pending the outcome of the inquiry.
