N. S. COAL STRIKE IS TAKING ON A BRIGHTER ASPECT

Wage Rate and Sydney Mines Differential Points in Dispute

Prospects for Early Settlement—Miners Hold Out for 1921 Scale, But President Declines—Meeting Again This Afternoon.

(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent) Sydney, N. S., Aug. 24.—Dr. Clarence MacKinnon of Halifax invited by the miners as an extra mediator in the Nova Scotia coal strike did not arrive in Sydney this morning and this afternoon the third session of the British Empire Steel Corporation-United Mine Workers' peace conference will go ahead without him.

Prospects for an early settlement of the tie up of the coal mines of the province seem to be brightening visibly.

According to information this morning, Wednesday afternoon's session narrowed the points in dispute down to the actual question of wage rates and the abolition of the so-called Sydney Mines differential.

The miners, it is learned, held out for the 1921 wage rate, which D. H. McDougall, vice president of the corporation declared absolutely impossible to pay.

For many years all rates of pay at Sydney mines have been considerably lower than for the corresponding workers on the south side of the harbor.

At the time of the recent settlement negotiated by the U. M. W. executive and the British Empire Steel Corporation, it was announced that this differential had been wiped out.

Two other matters discussed were the inclusion in the union of the shot fuses, who are the men who blast the coal in the mines. It was intimated that an agreement to allow these men to join the United Mine Workers might be reached without difficulty.

Another matter in which it is believed an agreement can be arranged without much trouble is the question of reinstating men discharged since the strike.

The union claimed that some office workers were discharged for refusing to take the places of men on strike assured of reinstatement when the miners go back to work.

Action Follows Signing of Agreement Last Night

Half the 90,000 Miners in Illinois Have Gone Back and Working Nearly Normal—Trouble Yet at Pittsburg.

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 24.—Union leaders today were notifying their forty-five thousand miners in the Central Pennsylvania field to return to work immediately, while operators were rushing plans that will mean production of 30,000,000 tons of coal a year.

Both sides today heralded the agreement as a victory. The miners consider it a triumph because they retain the check-off and are to receive the same wage scale as that in effect on March 31.

NORMAL IN ILLINOIS

West Frankfort, Ill., Aug. 24.—Southern Illinois miners yesterday virtually had returned to normal and more than fifty per cent. of the 90,000 miners in Illinois had resumed work, according to reports received here.

Calgary Agreement. Calgary, Aug. 24.—An agreement, which provides for a reduction of fifteen per cent. on the old scale to be superseded as soon as seventy-five per cent. of the operators in the United States soft coal fields signed an agreement, will be submitted to the miners for endorsement in the form of a referendum.

Pittsburg, Aug. 24.—A fight to a finish between the Pittsburg Coal Company, which provides for a reduction of fifteen per cent. on the old scale to be superseded as soon as seventy-five per cent. of the operators in the United States soft coal fields signed an agreement, will be submitted to the miners for endorsement in the form of a referendum.

COLLINS' BODY REACHES DUBLIN

Cork Feels Keenly Death of Irish Commander

THOUSANDS PASS BIER

Difficulty in Restraining the Troops—Pope Pius Expresses Profound Sorrow

(Canadian Press Cable)

Cork, Aug. 24.—Grief over the death of Michael Collins is immeasurable, the entire city is shocked, while resentment in the Free State army was so strong that the commanding officers had difficulty in restraining the men when the news first reached here at midnight.

When troops arriving from the north learned of the tragedy, officers and men alike gave way to tears, as did their comrades in Cork.

Early yesterday great crowds wended their way to the Shanahill hospital in the suburbs, and long before noon the bill was packed with people while streams moved along all the roads leading to where the body of the commander-in-chief reposed.

Some of them were admitted to the hospital grounds and a few were allowed to enter the room where the body lay in state.

Officers of the army formed the guard of honor and the room was filled with floral tributes.

Thousands of citizens passed, and when they left, after offering silent prayer, they were unable to conceal their emotion. A number of the clergy also came to the hospital, including Bishop Cohan of Cork.

The military procession accompanying the body to the steamer, which will bear it to Dublin, was most impressive.

The chief pall bearer was Major Gen. Daniel O'Connell, who Collins died and to whom he said: "Let the Dublin brigade bury me."

Expected Shooting. London, Aug. 24.—A Belfast despatch today stated that Michael Collins had a premonition of death. Recently Collins saw a Belfast friend, to whom he said upon taking leave: "Good-bye, I will say good-bye, because I don't expect I shall ever see you again."

It is stated in Belfast that Collins had been "sentenced to death" by the Irish Republican Brotherhood.

The Pope Shocked. Rome, Aug. 24.—Pope Pius was deeply shocked over the news of the assassination of Michael Collins, despite the fact that he had been informed of the big wage increase, until the company accepted all the terms of the Cleveland settlement.

The pontiff expressed profound sorrow that Ireland, which was especially dear to his heart, was torn by civil war, and added that no cause ever was helped by violence.

Simard, yesterday. This is one of the largest fish that has been taken out of the Ottawa River in this vicinity in many years.

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS DISCUSSED

Hot Discussion at Trades and Labor Meeting

Premier's Reply Criticized—Secretary Defends Hon. Mr. King's Attitude—Delegate Says Charge of Radicalism Against Miners Unfounded.

(By Canadian Press.) Montreal, Aug. 24.—Withdrawal of troops from the mine strike areas of Nova Scotia precipitated a hot debate at the morning session of the Dominion Trade and Labor Congress.

The question followed the reading of Premier Mackenzie King's telegram to Tom Moore, president, to the effect that these troops would be withdrawn "just as soon as it may be possible in the opinion of the authorities by whom they have been requisitioned."

"That's the answer of a slick politician," roared Delegate Watson, of the miners' union. "We ought to have the demand from the government that the troops be withdrawn immediately. Hon. D. D. MacKenzie has wired to Premier that troops were not needed in Sydney or North Sydney. But he says nothing about Glace Bay, which the troops are. That's another slick trick of a politician."

Defends Premier. "If any trouble or rioting occurs, it will rest upon the shoulders of the federal government. We ought to send another resolution to the government demanding the immediate withdrawal of the troops."

Secretary Draper remarked that he considered Premier King's message was couched in courteous and sympathetic language. He considered that when a request was made by congress to any government and a courteous reply is received that congress should accept it as such.

The premier had done all he could under the circumstances, as provincial governments were quick to resent any interference by federal authorities into provincial affairs.

Furthermore, the provinces had wide powers under the British North America act which could not be violated.

When James Simpson, Toronto, was informed by Tom Moore that Premier Murray of Nova Scotia, had not acknowledged the telegram sent him, congress passed a resolution that a second wire be sent Mr. Murray asking for a statement of his stand.

Uplands Miners. William Valley, Toronto, defended the miners against the charges that they were radicals. The whole trouble lay with the British Empire Steel Corporation, and Premier Murray, who had given the company a charter when it could not get one anywhere else. This company was compelling its miners to work under conditions that no human being should.

Unanimous endorsement of a resolution favoring the rigid enforcement of the Marking Act was then given.

25 YEARS EACH FOR ROBBERY

Two Men Found Guilty of Taking $2,500,000 and Securities from a New York Mail Wagon.

New York, Aug. 24.—Gerald Chapman and George Anderson were found guilty of the robbery of $2,500,000 in cash and securities from a mail wagon on Broadway last October by a jury in federal court yesterday, and Justice Holmes sentenced each of them to the federal prison at Atlanta for twenty-five years.

Richard Mulcahy Mentioned as New Army Leader

ALL DUBLIN MOURNS

William Cosgrove is Acting Head of Provisional Government—Body Arrives in Dublin—Funeral Monday Morning.

(Canadian Press Cable)

Dublin, Aug. 24.—The general opinion is that Richard Mulcahy will now assume chief command of the Free State army. The wires connecting Cork and Dublin have been cut and details of the ambush and death of Collins are still lacking here.

The people of Dublin testified to their great grief throughout the day, business was practically suspended and flags were half mast on all public buildings.

Dublin, Aug. 24.—Dublin began to recover somewhat today from the shock caused by the dramatic death of Michael Collins, and plans went forward for the meeting of the new southern parliament on Saturday, when the ministerial changes necessitated by the sudden removal of Collins and Griffith are expected to be made.

Meanwhile, William T. Cosgrove, acting as the head of the provisional government, and Richard Mulcahy, as chief of staff, is directing the final phase of the national army's campaign against the irregulars.

The coffin, covered with the sudden removal of Collins and Griffith are expected to be made.

General Collins' body reached Dublin by steamer this morning from Cork and was met by an enormous number of mourners, among whom were representatives of the army, including Chief of Staff Mulcahy.

The coffin, covered with the sudden removal of Collins and Griffith are expected to be made.

A solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at 11 a. m. Monday morning in the pro-cathedral, directly after which the body will be conveyed to the famous Glasnevin cemetery where Collins buried his colleague, Griffith, only a little less than a week ago.

THE PROPOSED AMALGAMATION

Head of King's College Says Great Problem is One of Finance—The "Canadian Oxford."

Toronto, Aug. 24.—(Canadian Press)—Dr. T. S. Boyk, president of King's University, Windsor, N. S. was in the city yesterday on his way home from a visit to the Pacific coast.

Speaking of the proposed university federation in the maritime provinces, he characterized it as one of the most important educational movements in recent years, contemplating nothing less than the establishment of a "Canadian Oxford" in Nova Scotia.

The great problem was one of finance, for in spite of the generous help offered by the Carnegie Corporation—$2,500,000—so much more would have to be found by the various colleges. These colleges would still remain denominational in character, except Dalhousie, and would maintain autonomy and distinctive traditions.

THE LATE MICHAEL COLLINS

Several Changes in Constitution Had Been Planned

MOVE TOWARD PEACE

Oath of Allegiance, Ratification by British Privy Council and Powers of the Irish Government.

(Canadian Press Cable)

London, Aug. 24.—At the time of his death Michael Collins had under consideration plans to re-draft several sections of the constitution of the Irish Free State, so as to placate the more radical republican element.

Mr. Doyle said he had several conferences with Collins and on the day before the latter went to the south, where he was later to fall under a bullet, they were carefully over the different points of the constitution, which Mr. Doyle claims it had been planned to re-draft.

The first concern was the taking of an oath of allegiance to the king. The second essential ratification of Irish governmental acts by the British, privy council, while the third hinges upon the stipulation of the powers the Irish government shall derive from the treaty between the Free State and England.

According to Doyle, if these points could be arranged to satisfy the republican radicals, General Collins believed there was a possibility of inducing the Irish people as a whole to rally around the constitution. Doyle says he has been asked by the remaining Irish leaders to continue his study of the constitution, and may return to Dublin with legal suggestions.

Before leaving on his ill-fated journey, General Collins announced that Mr. Doyle, with John McCormack, the famous tenor, were the guests of the Irish minister at luncheon in the Shelburne Hotel. Mr. McCormack is visiting his mother, who lives near Dublin.

STUDENTS SHOWN ABOUT THE CITY

The party of ten University of Chicago students who have been studying ocean transportation and trade while touring the eastern section of Canada this summer were taken about the city this morning and shown several points of interest. They were accompanied by R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the board of trade; C. B. Allan, secretary of the tourist association; Algonquin Gray, federal public works engineer, and W. H. C. Mackey of the C. P. R. Among the points visited were Courtenay Bay at which the dry dock was inspected and points in connection with it explained by Mr. Gray; Rockwood Park, Port Howe from which there was a fine view of the main harbor, the highway bridge from which there was a good view of the reversing falls at high tide. From the west side where they were turned over to the C. P. R. officials to be shown the place to place was made easy through the thoughtfulness of Mr. Armstrong.

SIoux CITY JOINS IN DEMAND FOR A NATIONAL STRIKE

Sioux City, Ia., Aug. 24.—The Sioux City trades and labor assembly early today passed unanimously and without debate, a resolution demanding that the executive council of the American Federation of Labor call a national strike.

The movement originated in Omaha, according to union officials here, the central trades union of that city passing a resolution on July 4, declaring that "labor faces a condition bordering on slavery," and favoring a national strike. Union officials say similar resolutions have been passed by labor bodies in Detroit, Denver, San Francisco and other large cities.

BARGAIN BASEMENT BUYER AWAY ON BUYING TRIP THIS WEEK

Mr. S. C. Young, buyer for the Oak Hill Bargain Basement, left early this week for Boston and New York. The Bargain Basement method of merchandising has grown so in St. John, that Oak Hill find it necessary to send their buyer for this department away to the big Mercantile Centres every few weeks, looking for new and fresh merchandise at bargain prices, in order to restock the empty tables. Mr. Young expects to be gone about ten days.

BANGOR FAIR WEEK.

(Bangor Commercial.)

This is the week of the Bangor Fair, marking the thirty-ninth annual exhibit at Maplewood, now Bass Park. In the old days when the fair was conducted by the late Hon. J. P. Bass and the late Hon. F. O. Beal, it was one of the most celebrated in New England and drew many thousands of visitors, who saw one of the best of fairs with notable exhibits in all agricultural lines, as well as expensive novelties and classy trotting events. Later for some years there was not as much effort to make a good fair, until a few years ago, when there was a movement started to place the Bangor Fair on a new basis and an association was formed that took over the fair.

The new management immediately endeavored to place the Bangor Fair on its former pedestal. The grounds have been greatly improved and new buildings erected until the plant is now one of the best to be found. There has been a strong attempt to bring back the agricultural features of the fair, and this also has met with steadily increasing success. Money has been freely spent and the fair association has been aided by generally pleasant weather and the co-operation of the public, which has recognized the merit of the exhibition.

The management of the Bangor Fair has built on a solid foundation. It has not attempted to get something for nothing, but has spent its money in the endeavor to make a better fair each year. Today the people of Eastern Maine are well aware that if they patronize the Bangor Fair they will be well repaid. They know that every attention is paid to the accommodation of visitors and that they will not be subjected to high charges.

The fair is a decided asset to Bangor as now conducted, and the merchants of the city co-operate in every way, offering attractive bargains to fair visitors and enabling the latter to buy full needs at a figure as low as is consistent with the quality of the goods.

Abbott and L. B. Aldrich reported today that they had succeeded in doing what had heretofore never been done. The heat of the three stars first was brought to focus by the giant 100-inch telescope. The heat and light then was passed through a prism and spread out into a rainbow-colored spectrum. Delicate devices measured the light in each color as well as the invisible heat. As the hotter a body is the whiter and bluer is its light, the intensities of the heat in the various colors allowed an estimate of the temperature of the stars which was fixed at approximately 10,000 degrees centigrade.

BAPTIST WOMEN'S MISSIONARY UNION
Maritime Convention Will be Held at Moncton This Year.

The United Baptist Women's Missionary Union of the Maritime Provinces, which met in Halifax last year, will meet with the churches of Moncton, N. B., from Aug. 28th to 29th, this year. Among the speakers will be five returned missionaries from India, Miss Mabel Archibald of Chicago; Miss Gertrude Dadds and Dr. Ida Scudder from Vellore; Dr. Zella Clark and Miss Martha Clark from Sotpet, India.

The two medical missionaries will discuss the condition of women in India from the health standpoint and show the need of trained medical women to minister to "the pitiful suffering prevailing among heathen and Moslem women." The aim of Dr. Ida Scudder is similar to that of her grandfather, Dr. John Scudder, who in 1819, went out as a medical missionary to India. The Union Missionary School at Vellore, India, over which Dr. Ida Scudder presides, is training native women as physicians. The Union Missionary Society seeks to educate and train Hindu women to attend to the wants of their sisters. In 1920 there were 178 applicants for admission to the college, but

POLICE'S LONG MEMORY.

Italian Arrested Within Day of Returning to U. S.

New York, Aug. 24.—Thomas Giglio, twenty-two years old, is in the hands of the police, charged with a murder which occurred two years ago, and all because he thought the police were of poor memory.

On April 30, 1920, Samuel Milano, thirty, of 627 Union street, was stabbed in a fight over a girl and later died from his wounds. He accused Giglio of the crime. Giglio said he sailed for Italy the day after the murder, but thought it safe to return now. He was picked up by detectives twenty-four hours after he arrived while on a trolley in Brooklyn.

WOMEN IN ROBBING PARTY

Mineola, L. I., Aug. 24.—Joseph Timinini, a Farmingdale baker, reported at the Sheriff's office here that he had been held up and robbed of $180 while driving an automobile with a friend near Central Park, L. I.

Timinini said that the robbers blocked the road with their car, in which there were four men and two women, and two of the men jumped out with blackjacks, took his wallet from him, jumped back into the car and sped off. Timinini gave the police the number of the hold-up car. The two women, he said, looked on, one man remained at the wheel and the fourth stood alongside the car.

TURKEY'S ECONOMIC LIFE.

Press Campaign For Its Revival Is Started.

Constantinople, Aug. 1.—(By Mail)—A campaign for the revival of industrial activity in Turkey has been started by the Turkish press. The influential Ileri, a morning newspaper, says: "The slow extinction of Moslem economic activity has been going on now for several years. This can only serve the interests of our enemies who observe our lamentable economic situation and gain the idea that the day will soon come when the Turkish nation will die out automatically."

"We must arouse ourselves to this danger. Day by day our commerce and industry are bidding us farewell. We are selling to strangers our house properties and our real estate, and very soon we shall begin selling them our furniture and moveable property. Turks must awake from their slumber; they must link their private life to the national needs. They must economize and save and work, remembering that to waste a single piastre is an attack upon the national destiny."

KEEP TO THE COURSE

As the danger of a shortage of soft coal recedes, the hope of the New Brunswick Power Company that it could make the shortage an excuse for asking for the Musquash hydro-electric current also begins to fade. The incident of the application is a further evidence that the company never sleeps, even if the people sometimes nod. It is always on the job.

What is the city council doing in regard to the contract for the Musquash current? The New Brunswick Electric Power Commission has informed the power company that it must look to the city, but what is the city doing? The people have clearly shown that they want the contract signed and tenders called for a distribution system. It is up to the council, and there is no excuse for delay.

The power company and its friends are increasing their efforts to bedevil the issue and humbug the people. The snip, who keeps himself carefully concealed in the underbrush, is now busy. The people, however, have been living with the power company for many years, and are not to be frightened or deceived. The issue is as clear as it was in April—power at cost and a civic distribution system.

There are two things about a civic distribution system that ought to be borne in mind. It would not leak, and it would be owned by the people. There is no desire on the part of the citizens to destroy the power company. They simply refuse to be victimized any longer by that company. If it wants to destroy itself—that is its own affair. The people have now an opportunity to get cheap light and power, and to free themselves from a grinding monopoly. They propose to profit by the opportunity, and would be blind to their own interests if they did otherwise.

A GLOWING TRIBUTE

The Independent, New York, pays a very warm tribute to Britain in connection with Egyptian affairs. After setting forth the conditions under which Egypt has been granted virtual independence, and Lord Allenby's reminder to King Fuad that these conditions are not being fulfilled, and of what failure to fulfill them would entail, the Independent cites some of the unwise acts of the Egyptian monarch and commends the course of the British government in warning him that unless he keeps faith the British will resume their former degree of control. We quote one striking paragraph:

"Congratulations, Lord Allenby and Lloyd George! The doctrinaires may talk contra around the clock to the millennium, but the fact remains that there are certain peoples incapable of self-government, and that it is to the general interest of the planet that these people be supervised, guided, and if necessary disciplined and coerced by other more civilized, competent and decent peoples. Of such incapable peoples are the Egyptians, unless the Christian era they have shown no capacity whatever for self-government; their cities today are slums of the lowest Levantine humanity; their so-called upper classes are the mongrel deposit of wave after wave of conquest. The Egyptians need to be supervised, guided, and (probably, alas) disciplined and coerced; and the British are the most competent nation for that task. Upon the whole, British imperial power has been exercised beneficently; nowhere more so than in Egypt. With an ever-deepening sense of responsibility and an ever-clearer planetary outlook, that power is sure to be exercised more beneficently and generously in the future than ever before. We hope, of course, that the British will not be constrained to resume their former degree of control in Egypt; but if they are so constrained, we say, God be with them! And we say also, God be with the Egyptians and give them common sense, that so they may recover that unexampled prosperity which they formerly enjoyed under British auspices."

A despatch last night said that four fifths of the unmined soft coal fields in the United States had been covered by an agreement under which mining will be at once resumed and newly-mined coal ready for shipment by Sept. 1. This clears the situation as far as soft coal is concerned. The outlook in Nova Scotia is also brighter, and an early settlement is hoped for by both parties to the dispute. Alberta and British Columbia coal miners will also resume work. The chief trouble in the United States is now the deadlock between railroad companies and the shippers, which shows no signs of being broken.

It has been found that some Canadian grain shipped through elevators at American ports has been mixed with inferior grain, and as a result was not satisfactory to British buyers. If this results, as is suggested, in larger shipments through Canadian ports there ought to be some benefit to the port of St. John. We would prefer to have the change made on national grounds, but if economic necessity should be the cause the benefit will be the same and the policy permanent.

A BRIGHT PROSPECT

The Toronto Globe paints this glowing picture of farming conditions in Ontario:

"Ontario farmers were never in a better position, so far as supplies of feed for stock are concerned, than they are in at the present moment. At no time since spring opened have pastures failed, and recent showers have practically assured a continuance of present conditions in this respect until fall comes. Moreover, the recent warm weather, while trying to city residents, has assured a normal yield of corn, the only Ontario crop concerning which fears had been entertained. With bins full of coarse grains, barns overflowing with hay, and an excellent quality of oat straw, and silos filled with succulent ensilage, cattle will continue during the winter in the thrifty condition in which they will quit the pasture fields in fall. The outlook for next spring is, too, in keeping with the existing situation. A wide area of new seedling of clover made a splendid start, owing to the plentiful supply of moisture, and, with no baking of soil, extensive fall plowing in preparation for next spring's seedling is made possible."

From all points of Canada, including our own province, come like stories of good crops. While prices to be got by the farmers are not likely to rule high, the industry, as the Globe says, is on a thoroughly sound basis. Former obligations can be met, and the next year's operations begun under favorable conditions. This means much to the whole country, since the volume of general trade depends a great deal on the buying capacity of the rural population. It is well, when the outlook in some directions is not as cheering as is desirable, to keep in mind the prosperity of a great basic industry and what that prosperity means to us all.

"THE WORST SINCE 1822"

There is a belief in many quarters in the United States that the tariff bill will not pass this session. The members of the House will undoubtedly fight many of the changes made by the Senate. A great number of amendments were rushed through at the last minute by the latter body. Of one of these the New York Evening Post says:

"One of the most important last-minute amendments to the pending measure provides for free zones at our ports. In these zones imported raw materials could be manufactured into goods for export without payment of duty. It is characteristic of the way in which the Fordney-McCumber bill has been constructed that a provision like this, novel and of far-reaching consequences, should be adopted without a roll call. Senators did not stop to inquire into the exact effect of these free zones. They wanted to help the American manufacturer a little more and proceeded to do so at whatever risk might be involved in the particular arrangement adopted. The establishment of free zones might mean a serious dislocation of American industry. Plants capable of manufacturing products out of imported materials would naturally be located in these free zones, to turn out the largest possible volume of manufactured goods for export. Industries now established a thousand miles from the port of New York might well find it to their advantage to remove to a favored free zone, with important results in many directions."

Reviewing the measure as a whole, the Post says:

"It is merely the worst tariff bill since the famous 'tariff of abominations' of 1822."

The country will be heard from during the fall congressional elections, and there is still a possibility that an agreement will not be reached, but the Fordney bill now in operation is retained until more normal world conditions have been restored. The Fordney act has injured American trade and the McCumber tariff would be still worse for the country at a time when there is great need of foreign trade.

The tributes paid to Michael Collins on both sides of the Atlantic show to what an extent this dauntless leader had won the sympathy and admiration of all who desire peace in Ireland. The cause for which he died will the sooner triumph because of his martyrdom. Compared with him the skulking De Valera is but a miserable imitation of a man.

Any citizen who thinks $3,909,000 is a modest price for the New Brunswick Power Company's property should ride in the street cars, inspect the road bed, look over the gas plant and get some knowledge of the condition of the whole outfit.

If any friends of the New Brunswick Power Company believe that no business men are signing the petition for the recall of the mayor there is a surprise coming to them. The hats will speak for themselves.

It is intimated that each province will be represented on the new railway board of Canada.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis

Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 86.
RADIO DICTIONARY.

WAVE METER.

An instrument using inductance and capacity as a means of measuring the length of the wave emitted by a transmitter or the length of the wave to which a receiving set is tuned.

LOADING COIL.

An inductance coil provided with a means of varying the number of turns, thereby increasing or decreasing the amount of inductance. Loading coils are used for the purpose of adjusting either the primary or secondary circuits, or both, to longer wave lengths.

AUDIO-FREQUENCY OSCILLATIONS.

Arbitrarily defined as oscillations which vibrate at a rate below 10,000 cycles per second as distinguished from those of radio-frequency which vibrate at a rate in excess of 10,000 cycles per second.

RADIO TELEPHONY.

Voice modulated, continuous wave. The continuous wave is modulated or controlled by having super-imposed upon it the wave of the voice.

AERIAL INSULATOR.

A non-conductor, inserted at the ends of the aerial wires to prevent any electrical connection between the wires and the supports.

ELECTRONS.

Small charges of negative electricity such as are given off in a vacuum tube by the filament when heated.

FILAMENT.

One of the three elements of a vacuum tube. A fine metallic wire usually of tungsten. When heated by a battery of low voltage it gives off electrons or small charges of negative electricity.

DIAPHRAGM.

A thin metallic or mica disc used in telephone receivers and microphones. When used in a microphone and vibrated by sound waves it controls the electric current in the microphone circuit. When used in a telephone receiver it converts the pulsation of the electric current, flowing in the receiver, into audible sounds.

VARIO-COUPLER.

An inductively coupled tuning coil consisting of a stationary primary coil, the inductance of which may be varied by taps taken off at various portions of the winding and a secondary coil so arranged mechanically as to be rotated with the primary coil.

MICROFARAD.

One-millionth part of a farad. Adopted as the practical unit for measurement of condensers capacity in radio circuits, due to the fact that the farad has too large a value for this purpose.

END TURN SWITCH.

A switching device which used in connection with tuning coils for the purpose of dividing the tuning coils into groups and eliminating losses by disconnecting turns which are not in use.

RHOESTAT.

A variable resistance used for controlling the amount of current in electric circuits. When connected in the filament circuit of the vacuum tube, it limits the strength of the current flowing through the filament and properly regulated, prevents "burning out" of the delicate wire.

Maintaining communication by radio between a moving train and a transmitting station nearly one hundred miles away is believed to have established a record for the use of the radio waves in this form of service.

According to the "Wireless Age" this was accomplished by a train on the Frisco system which was specially equipped with a multiplex type antenna attached to the roof of a special car, the remainder of the equipment consisting essentially of four stages of amplification, a loud speaker and a 100 watt transmitter.

The special car made a trip from Oklahoma City to Lawton (Okla.), a distance of 100 miles and maintained communication between station W. K. Y. of the "Daily Oklahoma" at Oklahoma City and the government radio station D. M. 4 at Fort Field.

It is not too much to expect that in the near future train despatches on our large railroad systems will be able by means of radio to communicate with any train on the system and thus insure the safety of the passengers against disastrous wrecks.

WEDDING SUIT OF 60 YEARS AGO

Worn by Woodford Purdy at the Anniversary Celebration

Rode on the First Train from Shediac to Moncton—Has Seen Seven Generations—Of Loyalist Descent.

(Amherst News.)

"Get married as soon as you can. But there is just one thing. You must be pretty careful today, that is, if one can believe all they read in the papers," so declared Woodford Purdy, now but a few months short of the ninety mile stone, when asked by the press what advice he had to pass on to the young people of today.

Yesterday this fine old gentleman with his hair white and a beard of sixty years ago celebrated the diamond jubilee of his wedding day.

It was a big day at the Purdy home in Spring street. It was a day that had long been looked forward to. Children, grand children and great grand children united in the joyous occasion. Friends travelled from a distance and neighbors from near at hand all came together and extended their greetings to the grand old couple.

And a grand old couple they appeared. There was the bride, to be sure not so young as she was three score years ago, but just as bright, and, so we were told, far less bashful. Mrs. Purdy, who looks forward to celebrating her eighty-fourth birthday next November, might have, apart from his being a diamond celebration, been then observing the fortieth or at the most the sixtieth anniversary of her birth, rather than of her wedding. She looked comely in a gown of black silk. The only portion of her original wedding attire was a pair of white stockings, not the gauzy kind of today, but a hand knit variety that has stood the ravages of sixty years.

The groom, with an evident eye to the future, or perhaps with less concern over the change in things sartorial, was at home yesterday clad in the garb of sixty years before. The suit made of a smooth black cloth, with cut away coat, white vest, the straight white linen collar, with a bow tie, somewhat wider than worn today, but after all not so different, the tall silk hat, all combined to make an attire that was pleasing to the eye and rather emphatic to the fact that man's style, like his moods, changes less than does that of the other sex.

Apart from the tall hat, which had a look of yesterday, the groom neither in physique or attire had the look of three generations back.

"That suit," said Mr. Purdy, "was made in Amherst. I recall the day I ordered it. I went into Sam Greenfield's tailor shop and told him I wanted a suit. I said I wanted a good one, because I was calculating on getting married and might not be able to buy another one for some time." Starting to reminisce, Mr. Purdy continued, "when I was a boy there were but three stores in Amherst. I'll tell you whose they were. There were R. K. Smith's store, James Page's store and White Bent's store. There was only one hotel. It was run by Hiram Ferguson. I recall how the people used to order their groceries there. It was so much sugar, so much this, that and the other thing and a gallon or half gallon of rum. I had the honor of riding on the first passenger train that ever moved in New Brunswick. It was on a run from Shediac to Moncton. The conductor's name was Lord. He was so proud of that trip that he remarked 'I can do as much as any other lord.'"

Mr. Purdy remarked that from the time of that first ride he has been a Conservative in politics. When mentioning politics our fine old friend became quite animated. "There was no uncertainty in his utterances. When asked what had happened many of his descendants politically our friend had nothing to say.

The grandfather of Mr. Purdy and two brothers came from the United States with the Loyalists. His grandfather, Henry, settled at Fort Lawrence. One brother, Gilbert, went to what is now Westchester, and the other brother settled in what was then known as Ramshack and is now called Malaga. The Purdys had lived at a place in New York state called Westchester. They liked the old home and honored the new home with the same name. Mr. Purdy's father, who was born shortly after the party came to this province, was the first white child born in Westchester.

Woodford Purdy has seen seven generations of Purdys, the little granddaughter of Dr. Purdy of Amherst being the seventh. Yesterday a snapshot was taken at the reception of the old man and the little girl.

Woodford Purdy was born in Fort Lawrence. He lived for a while as a youth at Bathurst. Later he moved to Yollaire and later on to Great Shegongie, where he bought some land and settled down. Two years ago he sold his farm and moved to Amherst, where he and his wife are now enjoying the sunset of life.

Sixty years ago Rev. George Tuttle, a Methodist minister, united in the holy bonds of matrimony Woodford Purdy and Sarah Wells, the former of Fort Lawrence and the latter of Wallace.

Those who assisted yesterday at the diamond jubilee included Mrs. (Rev.) J. E. Donkin, who assisted in the receiving; Mr. and Mrs. George Purdy, Mrs. Frank Purdy, Mrs. John Embree, Mrs. Evelyn Reid, who served.

Hundreds of friends and relations called at the reception yesterday afternoon and evening. The out-of-town callers included: Mrs. Charles Avard, Mrs. George Burton, Moncton; Mr. and Mrs. George Purdy, Mrs. Edgar Dixon, Miss Annie Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Avard, Lewis Avard, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson and Mrs. Thomas, Sackville; Joseph Allen, Effie Allen, Agatha Allen, Ford Goodwin, Port Elgin; Mr. and Mrs. Brougham Wells, Baie Verte; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trueman, Mr. and Mrs. George Trueman, Miss Agnes Trueman, Point de Bute; Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Purdy, St. John; Mrs. Evelyn Reid and son Willard, Boston; Mrs. Gerault and daughter, New York.

"Slidetite" GARAGE DOOR HARDWARE

"Slidetite" Fixtures combine the advantages of swing and sliding doors without the disadvantages of either. They fit tight like a swing door—but unlike swing doors they do not bind, stick or warp. Instead of pushing against the wind, snow and ice, they fold inside and lie back against the wall, completely out of the way. They cannot possibly blow shut, thereby harming either automobile or person.

"Slidetite" Fixtures are easily erected—they do not get out of order—they keep the doors straight—they move lightly—a mere push is all that is required to open or close them. Yet they fit the opening snugly and always remain weathertight.

"Slidetite" Hardware is furnished in sets, including track, brackets, hangers, hinges, locking bolts and screws, complete except knob lock or latch. If you are considering building or remodeling your garage you owe it to yourself to at least come in and see the working model of this popular Garage Door Hardware. You'll appreciate its various exclusive features.

Mrs. West was the daughter of Mary Boyd and William H. Small and was born at English Settlement on Sept. 25, 1869.

She is survived by her husband, five sons—Prof. Frank L. Mount Allison University, Sackville; William A., student in the faculty of law, Harvard University; Charles W., George E., and Frederick A., at home; five daughters—Jennie M., Marion M., Mildred F., and Mary E., at home; Ada E., student at the Newton hospital (Mass.). The late Ernest Small of Scotch Settlement was a brother.

Mrs. John Young. Montreal, Aug. 23—The death was announced here tonight of Mrs. John Young, at the age of ninety-five years.

Mrs. Young was a native of New Brunswick, her maiden name being Amelia Jane Tilley. She was a well known figure in the Montreal society in the latter half of the last century, and on the occasion of the great civic ball to the Prince of Wales in 1860, she had the honor of opening the ceremony with the royal visitor, later King Edward VII. After her marriage to Mr. Young, she resided in Montreal. She is survived by eleven children, a large number of grandchildren and many great-grandchildren. Lady Aylmer, of Nelson (B. C.), wife of Lord Aylmer, was a daughter, while Mrs. Roy, wife of the Hon. Philippe Roy, general commissioner for Canada, is a granddaughter.

CRIPPLE RAN FOR LIFE

Forgot His Affliction as Train Approached. Paris, Aug. 24.—(By Mail)—A miracle for which Lourdes, in some quarters, is given credit, is reported from Macon. A pilgrim train bound for Lourdes was waiting in the station at Dijon and several pilgrims had crossed the tracks to the refreshment room when the whistle called them back. Among them was a paralyzed man who could only move with difficulty, even with the aid of two crutches. As he was between the rails on his way back an express train was seen to be entering the station. A cry of horror went up from those who saw his dangerous position, but the man, who had hobbled half way across with his crutches, now put them under his arms and ran for safety, escaping what seemed certain death.

MAKES PLEA FOR A PRISON FARM

J. King Kelly, K. C., Presents Case to Union of N. B. Municipalities

Must Cure for Dependent, Defective and Delinquent—Suggests Large Provincial Institution to Meet Need.

Read by J. King Kelly, K. C., secretary of New Brunswick Municipalities Association at a meeting of the executive of the Union held in the month of June at the Town of Sackville, your president and secretary were directed to prepare a paper and present to this convention an outline of a scheme for the erection of an institution that would take the place of County Jails, and provide also the means for the detention of those persons who, owing to their diseased condition, and lack of mental capacity, should be under restrictions.

Punishment is the natural consequence of the violation of law. This proposition can be worked into hades or raised to heaven. We have only to deal at the present time with punishment which would follow the violation of municipal law—and by municipal law I mean laws enacted by a legislative body. The method of punishment is the matter which concerns our immediate interests. We have little sympathy with the theory that punishment makes men virtuous and docile, for this has been the idea of tyrants, of religious persecutors, of the ancient and modern wife beater, of every mean and low down brute and bully the world has ever seen. The man who desires to punish and delights in the suffering of those who are punished feels a mockery in his heart that punishment reforms, and is in himself a criminal at heart. I care not whether he be at the sacred desk, or the judge on the bench of the common police constable.

Henry VIII could have seen from his throne no less than seventy-two thousand subjects of the realm of England during his pious reign go to their death on the scaffold. Sir Thomas Moore, in his "Utopia" speaks of an interview with Cardinal Archbishop Morton in which the degradation of England was reviewed, and during the conversation it was related that twenty thieves were frequently on the gallows at one time. Now, the punishment by hanging did not restrain robbery. What could restrain a man who must live and had the means of livelihood under his control or at his command?

Harrison, an authority writing on the reign of Henry VIII confirms the number of seventy-two thousand during the reign of the monarch, but boasts that although rogues and vagabonds could be found guilty on the testimony of two honest witnesses, and judged to be grievously whipped and burned through the grates of the right ear with a hot iron of the compass of an inch, yet these laws were lenient as compared with the laws elsewhere in force in Europe. He points out that a woman who poisoned her husband was burnt alive. Other persons were boiled alive or scalded to death in scalding water or lead. Witches were burned alive and murderers were hanged alive in chains.

No Cause For Worry WHEN CHILDREN HAVE Summer Complaints

There is not a summer passes but that thousands of men, women and children are attacked by summer complaints such as diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, cholera, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, etc. In looking for relief you should not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, a remedy that has been on the market for the past 77 years, and has stood the test of time.

Mrs. Geo. Chapman, Sudbury, Ont., writes: "I am the mother of five children and I must say they are seldom sick or in need of medicine. They are, however, sometimes troubled with summer complaints, diarrhoea, and such like, but I always find there is no cause for worry as I just give them two or three drops of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and the trouble soon disappears. It is a remedy that all mothers should keep in the home for their children."

"Dr. Fowler's" is 50c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

figures from the various county auditor's reports. Just here I might point out that in the city and county of St. John we have the whole as many churches as we had in 1910, we have as many persons engaged in all sorts of reforms, we have better hospitals, we have, moderately speaking, at least one hundred persons trying to save the other fellows—and yet, it cost in 1910 $6,104.90 to keep the jail and court house and in 1921 $9,841.16, an increased expense of $3,736.26. I do not speak in condemnation of the fifteen head jailors who manage the jails of New Brunswick—they are no worse than the atmosphere that they breathe, and the conditions surrounding them.

I have spent a life time at the bar of New Brunswick; I have been in public life about fifteen years; I have been secretary of the county of St. John for twelve years, and I have yet failed to find out that large expense and intimate knowledge a single individual who has been benefited by treatment in any single jail in the province of New Brunswick. This is a broad, sweeping condemnation. I am not sure that more criminals in New Brunswick than we had ten years ago, or that we are growing more immoral, or more depraved, or more lawless, or that we are growing more immoral, or more depraved, or more lawless, or that we are growing more immoral, or more depraved, or more lawless.

From my standpoint, it is not thinkable that more criminals in New Brunswick than we had ten years ago, or that we are growing more immoral, or more depraved, or more lawless, or that we are growing more immoral, or more depraved, or more lawless. I am not sure that more criminals in New Brunswick than we had ten years ago, or that we are growing more immoral, or more depraved, or more lawless, or that we are growing more immoral, or more depraved, or more lawless.

Let no one think that the method of the prison farm is to pumper drunken loafers and run runners or to fatten them for the time of their exit to a new and worse causal. It is anything but a place of entertainment—it is anything but a loafing shop; it is anything but a vile, loathsome, lice-infected cell where the smutty stories of the unfortunate inmates exude more stench than do their under-nourished and contaminated bodies.

Let me tell you if you have never heard it before, that the spirit of the prison farm is purifying, the atmosphere is clear and sweet with a touch of homelike work for the weakling that he may be turned out to stand alone with some capacity recreated within him to resist temptation and to seek to make a decent living among honest men and women.

The prison farm is an atmosphere—it is a spirit—it is a soul without a body, but capable of identification as the air which we breathe and cannot see, feel, smell or taste. Without this, a prison farm is no better than the ordinary jail which no one defends. The intelligent development of society demands that the effect of the curse of disease shall be removed as far as possible from actual contact with normal society. This removal can best be effected through a municipal farm. That farm, I take it, should be provincial in its character, under the control of the government of New Brunswick, and should be so managed that it will be capable of caring for the dependent, defective and delinquent population.

At the Moncton convention in 1919, I was asked to prepare a paper on the prison farm. I did so. Since then our thoughts have been engaged trying to adjust the difficulties which the arch criminal of Europe inflicted upon us. We then outlined what might be done in the way of development of either a provincial or several municipal institutions. Coming back to normal conditions, we take up the thread of thought where we lost it.

I then made the demonstration that the Dominion government was able to make satisfactory progress in all the municipal homes and auctioned out by the poor masters. With an institution caring for the type indicated, better service would be given and greater would be the results that can possibly be attained by the methods in vogue.

The government are fully aware of the condemnation of the methods employed at the provincial hospital. The report of the commission who made a mental survey in 1920-21 was placed upon the table of the legislature last spring. So far as the present staff can treat the unfortunate in the provincial hospital, they are no doubt doing their very utmost. As men and physicians, they are giving good service; but the methods employed are not modern, and of course, it comes back to the people who are responsible for the institution.

One provincial farm, similar to the state farm at Bridgewater, Massachusetts, would cover the entire dependent, defective and delinquent population of New Brunswick, and I believe that it nearer the ideal anything we are at present attempting.

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds, and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The peroxide powder and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and let the dirt and impurities out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get the peroxide powder at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.

"HOLY ROLLER" DEAD Tried to Capture Rattlesnake for Religious Seance.

Fort Payne, Ala., Aug. 24.—James Wille Reese, a Holy Roller, and farmer, residing on Sand Mountain, near Clavies, about seven miles from here, is dead as the result of being bitten by a large rattlesnake from which he died within thirty minutes, according to reports received here. Reese, it was said, was bitten while attempting to capture the snake. It is said that Reese, on various occasions, has assisted in conducting religious seances in which poisonous reptiles were handled and exhibited by members of the church. Reese was indicted by the grand jury a year or so ago on a murder charge. It was alleged that he permitted a snake to bite and kill one of his children. However, when the case came up for trial he was freed, the judge declaring every person in this country should be permitted to serve God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and that defendant attempted to practice such religious activities in the community at the time.

AGED MEN QUARREL Life-Long Friends, Aged Eighty-one and Seventy-one, Fight Over Girl.

Paris, Aug. 24.—Raymond Mathieu, aged eighty-one, and Cesare Davette, seventy-two, both old age pensioners of the Bietre Asylum were inseparable companions united in a long-standing friendship. Nothing ever marred the peaceful state of affairs until during one of their weekly outings Raymond and Cesare met a dark-eyed, dusky-skinned young damsel carrying a parcel of snow-white linen from a laundry. Gallantly and in brotherly union they relieved her in her arduous work. It is not recorded what she thought of their advances, but their sentiments were apparent when, following a hot argument, Raymond fell upon Cesare with a knife and, forgetting their long years of friendship, laid him out flat. Cesare now lies in a hospital in a dangerous state while Raymond in full time will reflect upon his folly in jail.

FORCED TOWN TO CLEAN UP Americans in Russia Withheld Relief Officials Got Busy.

Moscow, Aug. 24.—American doctors who have just returned from an inspection of sanitary conditions in districts of Russia where no relief had been extended report that in the City of Saransk hospital gauze furnished by the medical division of the American Relief Administration, along with other surgical supplies, was the first seen there in four years. So bad was the condition of children's homes that the authorities were told there would be no relief of any kind forthcoming until everything was cleaned up. As a result, one of the doctors stated, Communist parents and prisoners alike were organized into guards to purge children's homes, drain stagnant pools and remove refuse which had accumulated. Peasants who had market stalls were ordered to clean up around their places and remove the litter under penalty of fine and imprisonment in the event of failure to do so. The town, which formerly was a pest hole, according to the surgeon, and a source of contagious disease epidemic, is rapidly becoming clean and orderly.

SEES HIS FIRST UMBRELLA. Peruvian Never Required One at Home—Peru Needs Capital.

New York, Aug. 24.—Peru needs more money and more enterprising men, according to Ricardo Barnechea, who is on his way to his home in Lima, from England, where he has been studying engineering at the University of Liverpool. "Our country has wonderful possibilities for resourceful men with capital," said Mr. Barnechea. "The mountain slopes are heavily wooded with hard woods, and there is an abundance of valuable minerals, such as gold, silver and vanadium, but owing to the fact that there are no railways connecting the mountains with the coast, and therefore no means of transporting the lumber and minerals to the ports, the country is not developed. "These necessary railroads have not been built because of the difficulty of tunneling the mountains, and the enormous amount of capital necessary to finance the project. There is a road running into the interior which is the highest railroad in the world. It connects the coast with Jaala, where there are other equally valuable mines that have never been worked because of the difficulty in reaching them and carrying out the ore without a railway. The Value of Charcoal

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, and after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion; it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic. It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being sweetened to be smooth and palatable. The daily use of these lozenges will clear a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit. Many physicians advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat. Charcoal is also believed to greatly benefit the liver. These lozenges cost but thirty cents a box at drug stores, and you get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets.

PROHIBITION PROHIBITS. (Chicago Evening Post)

"Brewers are now doing less than one-fourth the business they did before prohibition," Thomas Keeley, president of the Keeley Brewing Co., said at a meeting of members of the hardy distillers of the Chicago Brewers' Protective Association at the Hotel Congress today. "Prohibition, of course, is responsible for this sad state of affairs," he said. "Business is very bad, and at present there doesn't seem to be much chance of its improving."

ECZEMA ON FACE ITCHED TERRIBLY. In Pimples For About A Year, Hardly Sleep, Cuticura Heals.

"I was troubled with eczema for about a year, it broke out in pimples on my face and in a few days would blister. At night I hardly slept a wink on account of the terrible itching, and when I scratched my face it would burn. I was distressed terribly. I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I bought more, and after using two cakes of Soap and one box of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. David Betts, 4159 Fox St., Denver, Colo.

Jo-Bel THE WONDER SALVE (Registered)

"It's great stuff for piles. I had them, bleeding, itching and protruding. The second application stopped the bleeding, and I have had comfort ever since. No, I'm not cured, but it's my own fault. I haven't so good I neglect myself. You can refer anyone to me. A well known citizen's unsolicited testimony. Sale all druggists, or J. A. Murdoch, 157 Orange street, St. John, N. B. Price 70 cents and $1.00. Mail orders promptly filled."

SILVER MINING BOOMS IN MEXICO

Plants Long Idle Resume When Price Goes to 70 Cents an Ounce—Shipments at One Port $410,947 in Last Half Year.

(By the Associated Press.) Chihuahua City, Chihuahua, Mexico, Aug. 24—Silver mines are being operated in Mexico at a good profit, it is said, with silver selling around seventy cents an ounce.

Kora-Konia—A Velvety Film of Powder which Protects and Heals

Thousands of mothers, doctors and nurses will tell you that Kora-Konia is the most wonderful treatment ever created for Baby's skin troubles.

but when it reaches seventy the profit is around ten cents an ounce. Consequently there has been a big revival in the mining business of this country and especially in the State of Chihuahua, which produces the principal part of Mexico's silver yield.

During the past six months there passed through Juarez, Chihuahua, alone, the Mexican consulate there reports, silver in refined form, valued at $410,947, and ores containing silver and other metals (mostly gold and lead), valued at $14,069.

The average price of silver from 1910 to 1914 was $6.445 cents an ounce. Labor and other costs were lighter then, and some Chihuahua mines produced at a profit at that figure.

Present price of silver is caused by demands from India and China, it was stated. The world's output in 1921 was 175,000,000 ounces, of which Mexico produced thirty-nine per cent, and the United States thirty-one per cent. More than 40,000,000 ounces of this went to India and 32,000,000 to China, being purchased by Chinese bankers.

The government of Mexico, realizing the importance of a revival in silver mining, is encouraging the re-opening of mines, some of which have been closed for ten years. It has been announced at the capital that soon, in order to stimulate production, the duty on dynamite is to be lifted.

177 GERMAN PAPERS FORCED TO QUIT

Plants Closed by High Cost of Labor and Materials—The Government Considers Taxation Relief.

Washington, Aug. 24—German papers are facing extermination, according to a report to the Commerce Department from Commercial Attache Herring, at Berlin.

On the other hand, he said, the subscription price of German newspapers has had an average increase of only about 1,000 per cent, while it has been impossible to advance advertising rates to compensate for present operating costs without affecting the volume of business.

The suggestion has been made that the government reduce taxation affecting newspaper costs, or that the press be subsidized through the Minister of Education to prevent the detrimental effect upon the nation of the loss of an active and efficient press service.

"It is of course difficult," Mr. Herring said, "for German newspapers to maintain an adequate foreign staff, particularly in high exchange countries. Unless the conditions improve, the German people may eventually become largely dependent upon the foreign news services of the Entente and other foreign countries for their international news."

PEDRO JUST CAN'T LEAVE; THAT'S ALL

Pedro Meyeito again graced the prisoners' dock in the police court this morning. Pedro probably has the honor of being there more than any other man in St. John and the charge never varies. It is always vagrancy. Each time he is ordered to try another climate but there is something magnetic to Pedro about the St. John air and he just can't tear himself away. He is half Russian and half Italian and each half blames the other. He left his native land seventeen years ago and started to roam, landing first in the United States. From there he went to Quebec and finally found his way here. Repeated efforts have been made to have him deported but none of these has proved successful as he has been too long away from home. He spent three months in the almshouse but when his term expired he took his leave and again started to roam, this time about the city streets. He has become a familiar figure to the police and the sight of him in the streets after midnight is a sure signal for his arrest. The magistrate ordered him to begone again this morning and Pedro wended his way out with evident regret. But he'll be back, so the police say.

MORE DISORDER IN AUSTRIAN CAPITAL

Vienna, Aug. 24.—Several thousand unemployed persons, dissatisfied because the government had rejected or delayed its answer to their demands, yesterday unlined the doors of the parliament building and entered wrecking the furniture. The police drove them out, using their side arms freely. Fifty of the demonstrators were taken to the hospital. Fresh demonstrations are feared to day.

PYTHIANS' TRIBUTE TO DEAD MEMBERS

Impressive Decoration Day Ceremony Carried Out Today — Flowers From Many Places.

The feature of the large Pythian Decoration Day parade which started from in front of the Pythian Castle on Union street at 2 o'clock, was the unit of three barouches, headed almost to overflowing with a profusion of flowers, which led the procession. The flowers were of all kinds and colors and they were arranged with a beautiful effect of having grown in that massive, crowded way, to be picked up and put on the barouches as they grew. One barouche carried, on a floral bed, the handsome set-piece made up by the knights, "The Great Alpha." This consisted of a large central arch, of white flowers, supported by two white and green pillars between which were the golden gates, intertwined with floral streamers. On top of the arch was the golden crown and hanging just over the gates was a dove, flying. The effect was most artistic and beautiful and speaks well for the interest the knights take in seeing that the graves of their brothers, now departed, are looked after as they might wish.

Among the other contributions were wreaths from Portland, Me., Vanceboro, Me.; Calais, Me.; Annapolis, N. S.; Halifax, N. S.; Fredericton, St. Stephen, Sussex and Moncton, as well as a myriad of flowers from the city and suburban points. The G. W. V. A. sent two large boxes and another outside donation was from Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pedersen, consisting of a handsome wreath of red geraniums, beautifully mounted. In all there were more than 700 donations and nearly 4,000 bouquets were made up. The Pythian Sisters helped greatly in this work, several members of this latter order spending last evening and this morning tying bouquets and making them ready for fastening on the barouches. Some of the flowers arrived too late to be made up into bouquets and these were sent to the local hospitals.

The Procession.
The procession was led by the St. Mary's band, just in front of the barouches. They were followed by the uniform ranks under Captain F. L. Potts. Then came Past Grand Chancellor J. S. Lord of St. Stephen, and Rev. Neil MacLachlan, who officiated at the service, and they were followed by the chancellor commanders of the four city lodges and the knights. Between the St. Mary's band and the Carleton Cornet band marched and with the St. Mary's band rendered music for the parade. Arrived at the cemetery the St. Mary's band played for the service and the Carleton Cornet while the flowers were being placed on the graves. (Continued on page 5, sixth column.)

COMMISSIONERS IN INFORMAL TALK

Mayor Absent, No Meeting — The Fuel Situation Discussed — Advantage of City Doing Its Own Paving.

There was no committee meeting of common council this morning owing to the absence of Mayor McLellan and Commissioner Thornton.

Commissioners Frink, Wigmore and Bullock were present and held an informal discussion on topics of interest. Regarding the fuel situation, due to the strikes in coal mines, Commissioner Wigmore said he had received a telegram from J. C. Douglas, ex-M. P. for Richmond County, C. B., this morning, informing him that he could furnish the city with 1,000 tons of soft coal at $5 on the Carleton Place Bay.

Commissioner Bullock advised that he communicate with Premier Foster, who is investigating the coal situation.

Commissioner Wigmore also expressed an opinion that an effort should be made to bring a quantity of the hard wood, cut by city employes last year near Musquash, to the city. He felt that it might help out in event of a shortage of fuel.

Paving Costs.
Speaking of the city public works department engaging in repaving streets, Commissioner Frink said it was more advantageous for laborers to work for the city than for contractors. He said the city is paying at the rate of $2.25 a day, for a nine hour day, while contractors are offering thirty cents an hour for an nine hour day. The workmen receive fifty cents a day more wages and the citizens in general benefit by having the work done at a cost considerably less than by private contractors.

Commissioner Bullock asked a question if anyone could inform them where Mayor McLellan went, and if he had appointed anyone to act in his absence. When the information was not forthcoming he said he thought that someone should have been appointed acting mayor pro tem.

Commissioner Frink announced that a car of granite curbing has been shipped to the city by J. E. Connolly & Co. of Bathurst. He said it was purchased with the intention of putting it in Waterloo street.

WOMAN IS FREED ON ARSON CHARGE

"Not guilty" was the verdict of the jury this morning in the county court in the case of Mrs. Alice Fitzpatrick, charged with arson in connection with the burning of her house in the Black River road in December last. Evidence was given this morning by Mrs. Ada Kerr and Donald Fitzpatrick. The claim of the defense was that the origin of the fire was unknown and accidental. W. M. Ryan appeared for the prosecution and H. S. Keith for the defense. The case of The King against DeLaney, charged with theft, was taken up this afternoon.

N. B. LEADS IN THE BIRTH RATE

But the Death Rate Here is Also Highest—189 Pairs of Twins and 8 Sets of Triplets Born in January.

Ottawa, Aug. 24—(Canadian Press)—There were 189 pairs of twins and three sets of triplets born in the eight provinces of Canada which are included in the bulletin on vital statistics for January. The province missing from the record is Quebec.

The death rate of 100 or better were reported for that month. The oldest of the eleven was aged 110, an Indian widow of British Columbia. The next oldest was an Indian widow of Nova Scotia, aged 108. The cause of death in the first case is given as "cerebral hemorrhage" and in the latter as "old age."

The birth rate per 1,000 of population in January was 21 while the death rate was 10. These rates are the same as for a year ago, although it is pointed out in the bulletin that the comparison is an uneven one and revised figures. The highest birth rates given are those for New Brunswick and Manitoba, these being 2.6 in each. The lowest birth rate is 1.5 in British Columbia. The highest death rate is 1.8 in New Brunswick and the lowest in both Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The deaths reported from cancer for that month are 408 as compared with 404 for the corresponding month of 1921. The deaths from tuberculosis numbered 417 as compared with 450 for January 1921. Nearly thirty-nine per cent. of the deaths were charged to six groups of diseases, namely tuberculosis of the heart, pneumonia, tuberculosis of the lungs, senility, diseases of the arteries and broncho pneumonia.

Gen. Collins body was met at the deck by large throngs of mourners, including Richard Mulcahy, chief of staff, and other prominent representatives of the army. The body was taken on a gun carriage, preceded by a band of pipers, to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Prayers were said as the procession passed in silence, broken only by the distant crack of snipers' rifles in various parts of the grief-stricken city.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

BOSTON SYMPHONY ARTISTS IN ST. JOHN

The extraordinary size and costliness of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, composed of more than a hundred players, naturally makes visitation concerts by this organization a practical impossibility. So an "Ensemble" of the works discussed by the parent organization was organized with a personnel fully representative of all sections of the larger instrumentation, in reality a miniature symphony. When the Boston symphony Ensemble comes to St. John the eleventh of next month it will interpret in a masterly way the works discussed by the parent organization and render to the people of St. John delightful entertainment. Already the Ensemble has been received with acclaim by the most discriminating people of musical culture in the cities of eastern United States.

KOEMMENICH'S
NOTE LAID BARE TRAGIC ROMANCE

Vera Lehmann, the Beautiful Dancer of "Aphrodite," Committed Suicide—Composer Followed Her.

New York, Aug. 24.—Vera Lehmann, the beautiful young dancer of "Aphrodite," died of an overdose of veronal last Monday. Twelve hours after the young woman's death Louis Koemmenich, musical composer and orchestra leader, committed suicide by gas in his apartment.

A penciled note left by the musician, who had been director of the Aphrodite production for two seasons, laid bare the reason for his deed and disclosed a tragic love romance. The note read: "Just received word that Vera committed suicide. This being a great loss to me, there is nothing else for me to do." Koemmenich was fifty-five years old. He had been married thirty-six years, and he had a son and two daughters, one of whom is married. The dancer, whose name on the stage was Vera D'Arlette, was twenty-two.

The girl was well to do and talented. She spoke several languages and showed much vocal promise. She took the fatal draught of veronal in her mother's costume shop at Number 249 West Forty-second street, a week ago Friday, and was taken to Flower Hospital. Efforts of physicians to save her life proved futile because the girl did not have the will to live.

In 1912 Koemmenich succeeded Frank Danrosch as conductor of the Oratorio Society. Before that he had been director of the Philadelphia Maennerchor, which won the Kaiser Wilhelm prize for three consecutive years under his management. "Aphrodite" Company was on tour but Mrs. Koemmenich received a letter from her husband telling of a beautiful dancing girl in the company who showed much promise and in whom he was much interested.

Last March, Mrs. Koemmenich stated today, her husband attempted suicide by swallowing veronal. She added: "They saw much of each other after that. I saw it was useless to try to end the affair. My husband and I had been married thirty-six years, and I hoped his reason would return to him."

Then the dancer had a talk with Koemmenich's daughter. They talked dispassionately as two girls of equal age would discuss the infatuation of one of them. Miss Koemmenich said yesterday that she did not upbraid

SHOT BY DIVORCEE HE WOULDN'T MARRY

Salesman, Wounded While Asleep, Denies Her Charge of Betrayal.

New York, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Sarah Berlin, a divorcee, shot Moses Schneider, an unmarried man, in the room in the Hotel Theresa, Seventh avenue and 123rd street, which they had occupied as "Mr. and Mrs. Miller of Buffalo." Mrs. Berlin was charged with felonious assault, after physicians at Harlem Hospital said the man would recover.

When policemen and hotel employees forced their way into the room on the seventh floor they found Mrs. Berlin with a .32-calibre automatic pistol in her hand and Schneider lying on the floor with a bullet wound under his heart. Mrs. Berlin, who is 35 years, several years older than Schneider, admitted firing four shots at Schneider, and told a story of betrayal which the wounded man denied.

She said that her infatuation for Schneider caused her to leave her husband four years ago. On June 1, she told the police, Berlin obtained a decree of divorce and the custody of two children, Theodore, 15, and Abner, 8 years old. She says that Schneider is the father of another son, born two months before the divorce.

Put Baby in Orphanage.

For a while she kept the infant with her, near Schneider's home at 1399 Southern Boulevard. She said that she got in financial difficulties and finally put the baby in the Jewish Orphanage. Then she determined to insist that Schneider marry her and support the child.

With this in mind, the police said, she arranged an appointment with Schneider. They were to meet at 1 o'clock Sunday morning outside the hotel. Early Saturday morning she started out to buy a revolver. She was unable to get one in Jersey City or Newark, but purchased one and a supply of cartridges in Philadelphia. At the

Wife Who Had Disagreed with Husband Saved by Barge Mate and Watchman

New York, Aug. 24.—Vigilance of two employees of the Standard Oil Company prevented the drowning yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Jennie Kennedy, 34, who leaped off a pier into the East River.

chased a revolver of .32-calibre instead of a larger one.

Mrs. Kennedy and her husband, Frank, live with Mrs. Kennedy's mother. According to the Policeman William Britalmayer of the East 126th street station, there was a dispute between Mrs. Kennedy and her husband yesterday afternoon, and she walked to the pier.

Mrs. Kennedy paced the pier for some time, glaring now and then at the water. She attracted the attention of Joseph Stanley, mate on Barge 197 of the Standard Oil Company, and George Kaiser, watchman on the pier, and a few minutes later she jumped into the water.

The two men jumped after her and soon lifted her back to the pier. The woman had not been in the water long enough to suffer from submersion, and was taken to her home, refusing to wait the arrival of an ambulance from Harlem Hospital. Patrolman Britalmayer went to Mrs. Kennedy's home, but she refused to make any statement beyond saying that she and her husband had had a disagreement.

In the Sunset of Life

A comfortable and happy old age, care-free and independent—such can be your recompense, too, through life insurance.

Canadian Government statistics show the need for this provision:

"Ninety-five per cent. of men at 60 are dependent upon their daily earnings or on others for support, and not one man in thirty who retires with a competency is able to retain that competency to the close of his life."

People are realizing this fact, and life insurance companies in Canada are beginning to pay out more money to living policyholders than they do in death claims, despite the thousands of death claims annually.

The present is the time to make provision for the future, so that the sunset of your life will not be overcast with shadows.

Any life insurance representative will be pleased to show you how to provide a sure income for your later years.

MAKING PROGRESS IN RECALL WORK

More Than Eight Hundred Names Already Signed to the Petitions — Suburbs Acting More Promptly Than City in Hydro Matters.

Eight hundred names and more now have been subscribed to the petition papers in connection with the recall of Mayor McLellan, according to reports received last evening. Those in charge are confident that the fine rate of progress that has marked the work since its beginning will be maintained during the next few days, in order that the papers may be placed in the hands of the common clerk as early as possible for the second step in the recall procedure, namely, the check of the names on the lists. It is anticipated that some names will be struck off, and to prevent any delay that might result from having only a few names more than the required amount, the workers are out to secure several hundred more than the number called for by the act.

The workers are meeting with a splendid reception from the majority of those who are interviewed. A few, although distinctly unfavorable to the present mayor, have declined to sign, taking the stand that those who elect the mayor should now bear the brunt of recalling him. The workers say they find it difficult to square this view with real citizenship.

Several of the workers reported last evening, and some of the petitions bore as high as 100 names. The names of several prominent citizens are under consideration in connection with the choice of a candidate for mayor. It is felt, however, that the first business is to carry through the recall fight to a successful conclusion.

Several citizens approached yesterday commented on the fact that the suburban communities are losing little time in contracting for the hydro current and getting the system installed before the fast-approaching winter.

At Westfield.
Work was started on Tuesday on the erection of a transmission line to carry the power from Musquash to Westfield. The Maritime Construction Co. is doing the work which is expected to occupy from four to six weeks. The total outlay is estimated at about $27,150. The revenue estimated will be, on the basis of 200 subscribers, $3,000 a year, and $4,200 if there are 300 subscribers.

At Fair Vale.
A committee of residents of Fair Vale composed of G. H. Burnett, Louis Tapley, Leonard Wetmore, E. Emery, E. E. Carter, George Bishop and E. W. Long, waited upon Premier Foster on Tuesday with reference to securing hydro for Fair Vale and Quispamsis. It is suggested by the committee that the power commission submit a plan showing the responsibilities to be assumed by the people. The committee was informed that the survey of the district would be completed within ten days and that a contract would be drawn up for those who wanted light to sign, and that it was possible for the current to be turned on before the winter set in.

ONE-FOURTH OF U. S. INCOME IN 3 STATES

New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania Led in 1919, Says Research Bureau.

New York, Aug. 24.—New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania receive one-fourth of the entire income of the United States, according to a summary of an investigation of the income of the United States made public by the National Bureau of Economic Research, Inc., 474 West Twenty-fourth street. Study of the figures for 1919 revealed that the aggregate income of New York State that year was $9,047,559,000 and that New York led the other states in per capita as well as in aggregate income. The aggregate income of New York's citizens, plus approximately $6,000,000 for Pennsylvania, when added to that of New Jersey, represented one-fourth of the country's entire income. The investigators found that Nevada, with a total income of $65,791,000, was at the bottom of the scale. New York and Pennsylvania are followed by Illinois, Ohio, Massachusetts, California, Michigan and Texas, the last having an aggregate income of approximately $2,500,000,000.

"While the per capita income in the United States as a whole in 1919 was $927," says the summary, "the National Bureau of Economic Research report shows that in the regions embracing the Pacific States the average was $796 and in the Middle Atlantic States, $783. These figures are in striking contrast to per capita income of $463 in the South Central States and $364 in the East South Central States."
"New York, which heads the list of per capita incomes with $974, is closely followed by Nevada, California, Delaware, Wyoming and Massachusetts, all with per capita incomes around $800."
The report further shows that the average income of the gainfully employed shows wide variations from the per capita income due to great differences in the character of employment in various states. South Dakota and New York head the list with a little more than $2,000, while Alabama and Mississippi are both under $900.
The income of farmers varied from $2,800 in the Pacific States to less than $1,000 in the East Central States. The highest average income of farmers was found in California, where it was $3,485, and the lowest in Southern New England.

Kellogg's Bran means so much to the health of every one who eats it!

Start eating Bran today! You can't afford the delay of a day—for BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is nature's own remedy for constipation. Eliminate constipation or its symptoms from your system and you add years to your life. Free yourself of illness that can be directly traced to this distressing condition! Authorities state that 90% of human illness has its beginning with constipation, which clogs the eliminative passages, backing up poisons and creating toxic conditions. At this stage the blood becomes affected and then follows the disorder of various organs. Bright's disease, diabetes, most cases of rheumatism, hardening of arteries, headaches, brain fog, etc., are directly caused by intestinal poisoning. Pills and cathartics can give no adequate relief. They are not only temporary in their effect, but tend to aggravate already dangerous conditions. Kellogg's Bran causes neither discomfort nor irritation, and its action is absolutely positive. Bran sweeps and cleanses and purifies! Its work is wonderful! Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it relieves constipation, naturally. Eat Bran regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with each meal—as a cereal, sprinkled on other cereals, or in many other appetizing ways such as in raisin bread, gams, puddings, macaroons, etc. Recipes on every box. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled! It's wrapped "WAXTITE." Start with Kellogg's today.
P. S.—Kellogg's Bran, eaten regularly, will clear up a simply complexion and overcome an objectionable complexion.

EACH PROVINCE TO BE REPRESENTED ON C. N. R. BOARD

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—The creation of a board of directors for the operation of the Canadian National Railways system, will be before the government again next week. While the personnel of the board is yet to be determined, finally, the general constitution of it is understood to be decided. The special act of parliament dealing with the matter, authorizes a board of not more than fifteen members, and all that number are likely to be appointed. According to present intimations, each of the nine provinces, will be represented. Ontario and Quebec would each have two members, and each of the other provinces, one. The four remaining positions on the board, would be operating or traffic men, one of them president.

The delay is assigned to the difficulty experienced in finding a head for the board, and no selection has yet been made, though several are under consideration. One or two to whom the position has been offered, have declined. In the meantime, conditions on the National system, are looking up, with prospects that the difference between operating expenditure and revenue, apart from fixed charges, may pretty nearly be equalized this year. The heavy wheat crop and the revenue resulting from handling it, will be a very helpful factor.
The Grand Trunk division, particularly, is showing a rather remarkable betterment, with a steady upward trend of the operating ratio. One reason assigned for this is the increased traffic on the American lines from Chicago east, through Canada, owing to conditions on the competing American lines, consequent upon the shopen's strike. Another is the co-ordinating of traffic with other lines of the system, and the saving effected in that way.

CADDIE WAS BLINDED.
Dug Knife Into Golf Ball to See What Was Inside.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Prompted by a desire to see what the "innards" of a golf ball were like, Joe Polin, eleven, a caddy at the Hyde Park Golf and Country Club, chopped into one of the little spheres with his pocket knife today. As a result he is blinded, perhaps for life. After much effort he succeeded in getting through the tough composition shell and then hacked into the tightly-wound elastic bands surrounding the core. At last the point of his knife reached the small acid-filled rubber bag which forms the center of this type of ball. The liquid splurted into his eyes. Players who heard his screams carried him to the club-house and washed his eyes. Physicians say a week will tell whether the boy is to lose his sight.

RINGS FOR POLICE, GETS FIRE ENGINE

Spanish Waiter Does as They Do in Spain and is Promptly Locked Up.

New York, Aug. 24.—Because policemen are not summoned in New York as they are in Spain, Julian Salvarria, twenty-eight, a late arrival from the Canary Islands, was locked up, charged with malicious mischief. At least, that was the only reason Julian saw for his arrest.
The whole episode, as far as Julian was concerned, was a bolt from the blue. He had been enjoying a quiet Sunday afternoon in a cafe in which he is a waiter. A few guests were taking late tea and coffee; the cafe was enjoying perfect calm.
Julian's peace was sharply interrupted around five o'clock by the arrival of a man who had unquestionably been drinking something of strong alcoholic content and who expressed an incoherent desire for pie.
Whether the ensuing disturbance resulted from a shortage of pie or from imperfect service has not been determined by the police. At any rate, the late arrival became unnecessarily demonstrative and Julian thought a policeman might help. So, without removing his apron, he went out to call one.
Eighth avenue and Twenty-third street, Julian hastened thither. A fire box caught his eye. He decided that this must have been the thing to which his adviser referred. Later he told the police that policemen in Spain are called by setting off just such an apparatus. Julian tried it and waited.

School Days Suggest An Essay to Parents

Cramped feet, bent and painful toes, produce cramped minds and retard normal development of the child.
Start the children right this year—correctly fitted with Hurlbut Cushion Welts. Conforming to the natural shape of the foot, with room to grow for every toe, they assure that freedom and comfort which prevent mental irritation in childhood and a host of foot-ills in more mature years.

VALUABLE CATTLE POISONED.

Woodstock Press—Out of a herd of twenty Holstein cattle pastured four miles from town on the Houlton road, eleven were found dead on Friday morning from poisoning and four were missing, presumably having wandered into the woods and died there. The cattle belonged to Harry Rogers, who is about to open a meat market here. Sheriff Foster, Deputy Sheriff H. V. Moores and Chief Kelly are investigating the case and it is thought the evidence secured will warrant an immediate arrest.

New York, Aug. 24—Phil Douglas, banished New York National League pitcher, left his Washington Heights home and went to the office of his attorney, Edward Lauterbach. The two held a lengthy conference and when seen later Douglas declared that he had nothing to say for publication in regard to the preparations that are being made to obtain a hearing on the case before Commissioner Landis. The big pitcher said that he was feeling fine and his appearance bore out his statement. He seems to have suffered physically to no great extent as the result of his sudden expulsion from the ranks of organized baseball.

BASEBALL ENCIRES GLOBE.
Chinese Now Play It and Japanese Exports Are to Play America.
New York, Aug. 24—F. W. Bradbury of Louisville, Ky., who is here says that the interest that many European countries have taken in our national game of baseball is due, not to the influence of the American soldier while he was abroad during the world war, but to the fact that the Japanese and Chinese are now playing it. "It will not be long before the world will have an international series of baseball games," said Mr. Bradbury. "It is surprising how rapidly the popularity of this game, so dear to the heart of every red-blooded American, has spread through foreign countries. I have the statistics of the firm which I represent, and they tell the story better than anything else. We manufacture the 'Louisville Slugger' and naturally keep in touch with all that pertains to baseball."

How I Got Rid of Burning Feet

And Pains from Corns and Bunions Without Soaking, Powders, Plasters, Etc. After Suffering Indescribable Foot Misery for 20 Years.

Prof. F. T. McIntyre, well known world tourist and lecturer, says: "For years I was compelled to wear shoes two sizes too large, to be able to walk with any comfort at all. I tried soaking my feet in medicated baths, powders, plasters and foot-treatments galore, but the burning, callouses, and soreness refused to go, while the pains from corns and bunions continued to torture both mind and body, which upset my entire nervous system."

Note—Gypsy Foot Relief, referred to by Mr. McIntyre, may be applied in a minute, without fuss or bother. Sure, quick relief comes three minutes later, or the makers give back the small amount you pay. It is sold in this city by Wassons Drug Stores and other leading druggists.

The old Newman school, next door, is to be removed, and there will be large playgrounds on either side.

At the annual meeting of the Supreme Council, Royal and Select Masons, Cryptic Rite, held last night in West St. John, W. W. Williamson of Montreal, was elected Most Pious and Grand Master, succeeded by Dr. W. L. Ellis, West St. John. Routine business was discussed.

Ten University of Chicago students under the direction of Charles C. Colby, associate professor of geography, arrived in the city last evening on the Digby boat to inspect port facilities.

MORE GRAIN FOR CANADIAN PORTS

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—Following investigation of complaints made to the department of trade and commerce here regarding the grades of grain received in England after shipment from Western Canada via the United States ports, and the taking up of similar questions with the British grain importers during the visit to Britain of Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of trade and commerce, it is expected that steps will be taken to try to secure the shipment of a greater percentage of Canadian wheat through Canadian ports than previously.

Occasional complaints have been received by the department from British importers that grain received by them from Canada was not up to the standard of Canadian grades.

Investigation of several complaints made during the last year and it was found that the grain in question had been shipped to the old country through United States ports and that in the trans-shipment at American elevators, wheat of inferior quality had become mixed with the Canadian grain.

WOMAN MARSHAL GIVES UP HER JOB BECAUSE 'DRUNKEN MEN LAUGH AT HER'. Des Lacs, N.D., Aug. 24.—Mrs. Bertha Ward, elected village marshal last spring, when a complete feminine administration was swept into office, has surrendered her star to the village council because "a drunken man or some one acting in a disorderly manner" would just laugh at me and I was helpless. Mrs. Ward's colleagues opposed her resignation, fearing failure of the feminine regime might be inferred. Her husband favored it. Daniel Olson, the new marshal, who is a section hand, announced an order of strict law enforcement. "The job is too tough," Mrs. Ward said today, explaining her resignation. "But believe me, it was a great experience. I was a little afraid to tackle the job last spring, but I decided that experience was all I needed. I found, however, that my physical powers was against me. Being a woman of small stature, I could not have any influence on a drunken man or some one acting in a disorderly manner. Instead, they would just laugh at me and I was helpless." Mrs. Ward had made no arrests, although her efforts occasionally were expended in that direction. On one occasion, Deputy Sheriff Vandenever was called from Minot to quell a disturbance at a dance, but the fact that the justice of the peace had no warrant blanks on hand prevented an arrest. Mrs. Ward was said to have been the first woman marshal in the United States. A SERVANT GIRLS' COLLEGE. New British Institution Will Teach Music as Well as Housewifery. London, Aug. 24.—England hopes to solve its servant problem by establishing a college for the training of young women in domestic science and the useful arts. The Government has set aside $250,000 for the purpose. The cost of training an unemployed girl so that she can take a situation in domestic service is $100. The girls receive a course lasting thirteen weeks, with thirty hours' instruction every week. The subjects taught are cookery, laundry work, needlework, infant welfare and hygiene. Instruction is also given in singing and piano playing, which are considered indispensable adjuncts to the all-around servant who wishes to brighten her mistress's life with something more than mere culinary accomplishments, or household industry. FIVE UNHURT IN ALPINE FALL, STRIKING SOFT SNOW IN VALLEY. Geneva, Aug. 24.—Three young men and two young women, who were roped together, but without a guide, recently fell from a cliff in the Bernese Alps 500 feet to the valley beneath. Other climbers who saw the accident organized a rescue party and descended a ravine in search of the bodies. To their surprise they found all five of those who had fallen only slightly bruised and frightened by their fall. A cushion of soft snow had saved them from death. They had started the ascent of the Oldhorn, which rises 10,250 feet, and had lost their way. 45-YEAR OLD MAN SLIPS AWAY FROM PARENTS AND MARRIES. New York, Aug. 24.—The marriage of William F. Miller, son of former Controller Joseph Miller of Yonkers, to Miss Helen Holden was made known here recently. Miller is forty-five years old, proprietor of a drug business in Monticello, N. Y., and well known in Yonkers. His bride is twenty-two. They are said to have been married in Paterson, N. J., last Wednesday. While his parents were visiting him in Monticello, Miller and Miss Holden slipped quietly away in an automobile and were married. WANTED TO SEE BATTLEFIELDS. Paris, Aug. 24.—Herman Jasper, aged thirteen of Binghamton, New York, who landed at Antwerp as a stowaway, aboard the liner Finland, escaped from his guards and managed to cross the Belgian frontier into France. In a dust bin off one of the boulevards. Taken to a police station and interrogated, Herman said that he wanted to see the battle fields of France. The boy will be repatriated immediately. Montreal, Aug. 24.—(Canadian Press)—In order to be in closer touch with boards dealing with disputes of a like nature, it was decided yesterday to transfer the sitting of the conciliation board investigating the dispute between the railway companies and the shop employees from Montreal to Ottawa.
