TWENTY EIGHT KILLED IN AIR RAID ON ENGLAND; BRITISH GAINS ALONG FRONT OF HALF MILE

TWO ZEPPELINS MEET THEIR FATE OVER IN ENGLAND

FLEET OF RAIDERS VISIT EASTERN COUNTIES BUT ARE BEATEN BACK FROM OUTSKIRTS OF LONDON BY BRITISH AIR SCOUTS—ONE RAIDING MACHINE AND CREW BURNED TO DEATH IN MID-AIR.

28 Persons Killed and Nearly Hundred Wounded by Bombs from Raiding Craft, but Invasion Another Failure from Military Standpoint.

London, Sept. 24.—Two Zeppelins met their fate at the hands of the British anti-aircraft guns on the eastern coast of England, in Essex, after a fleet of 12 or 15 of them had visited London and other points Saturday night, dropping bombs. One of the machines, with its entire crew, was burned in mid-air. The other was brought down damaged, and its crew made prisoner.

In the Metropolitan district of London 28 men, women and children were killed and 99 wounded. Outside of London 2 persons met death and 11 were injured. Considerable material damage was done in London and the outlying districts by bombs.

The text of the statement follows: "An attack by hostile airships was made on Lincolnshire and the eastern counties and on the outskirts of London. The latter attack was made from the southeast about midnight, and was beaten off by our anti-aircraft defenses.

"One airship was brought down in flames in the southern part of Essex, and a report has been received that another fell on the Essex coast. "The latter report hitherto is unconfirmed. No reports of casualties or damage have yet been received."

Driven Back From Outskirts of Metropolis. The official statement announcing the Zeppelin attack on London said: "12.15 p.m.—Fourteen or fifteen airships participated in the attack on Great Britain last night. The southern, eastern, and east Midland counties and Lincolnshire were the principal localities visited.

"An attack on London was carried out by two airships from the south and east between one and two a.m. and by one airship from the south between twelve and one a.m. Aeroplanes were sent up and fire was opened from anti-aircraft guns and defenses, the raiders being driven off.

"Bombs were dropped, however, in the southern and southeastern districts and it is regretted that 28 persons were killed and 99 injured. "Two of the raiders were brought down in Essex. They were both large airships of a new pattern. One of them fell in flames and was destroyed, together with the crew. The crew of twenty-two officers and men of the second were captured. Detailed reports of the casualties and damage have not yet been received."

28 Dead, 99 Injured. The casualties are according to an official compilation as follows: Killed—Men 17, women 8, children 3. Total 28. Injured—Men 45, women 37, children 17. Total 99.

An official statement issued by the British press bureau tonight said: "Latest reports show that probably not more than twelve airships participated in last night's air raid. Police reports from the provinces indicate that the damage by the airships is slight. In one town in the East Midlands, however, a number of bombs were dropped, and it is regretted that two persons were killed and 11 injured. It is feared that two more bodies were buried under some ruins in this town.

"Some damage was caused at a railway station, and about a dozen houses and shops were wrecked or damaged, and a chapel and storehouse set on fire. This is an exception. No other casualties have been reported outside the Metropolitan area, and although a large number of bombs were dropped promiscuously over the districts visited by the airships the material damage is insignificant. A great number of bombs fell in the sea or in open places.

"In the Metropolitan area, 17 men, 8 women and 3 children were killed, and 45 men, 37 women and 17 children were injured. "A considerable number of small dwelling houses and shops were demolished or damaged. A number of fires were caused. Two factories sus-

Commissioner Investigating Winnipeg Charges Fines Newspapermen and Gives them Jail Sentences for Contempt of Court.

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—When the commission, investigating the agricultural college building sat this morning Hugh Phillips, government counsel, read reports which appeared in the Telegram and Post yesterday following statements made on Thursday, that the judges who were paid for conducting such commissions accepted "graft."

"I feel," said Mr. Phillips, "that these articles cannot serve any other purpose than to bring into contempt this commission, and acting under your instructions I have subpoenaed you for the editors of the two papers and such reporters as I was instructed to have present."

Commissioner Galt called Edward Beck to the stand. "Before I am sworn I would like to make a statement," said Mr. Beck. "First, I would like to have read the commission under which this investigation is being held."

"Take the oath," said the commissioner. "I will not take the oath until I have made my statement," was the reply. The judge then told Mr. Beck to proceed.

"Acting under what I considered injury. Some empty railway trucks were destroyed, and a permanent way slightly damaged in two places.

Wrecked Raider Falls To Earth Mass of Flames. "No reports have been received of any military damage." Messengers from correspondents at various places between London and the Essex coast describe the delight of watchers when the raiding airship was brought down in flames about one o'clock this morning. People rushed from their houses to points of vantage when the sound of guns was heard, and they watched the airship as it proceeded eastward constantly in the glare of concentrated searchlights, with shells bursting around it in such close proximity that watchers were convinced hits must have been scored.

Suddenly there was a flash, then a burst of flame and a storm of cheers as the blazing airship descended slowly, a huge ball of fire still outlined in the rays of searchlights.

Superiority of Allied Airmen Maintained On Somme Front Saturday

29 Battles Among Clouds End in Signal Victory for Allied Airmen, Huns Losing Several of their Machines.

Paris, Sept. 24.—Yesterday enemy airmen having shown unusual activity our pursuing squadrons successfully engaged them in aerial combats. On a great part of the front our pilots gained considerable success, and indisputably had the upper hand of the enemy.

"On the Somme front there were 29 engagements. Four enemy planes were brought down. One fell in the Vaux Woods. Two, attacked by Sub-Lieut. Guymener, descended in flames, after some minutes of fighting, making Guttemer's 17th and 18th aeroplanes. A fourth machine crashed to the earth south of Misery. Three other German machines were seriously hit and fell wrecked near Estrees and in the region of Peronne. Four enemy aeroplanes were compelled to descend in their own lines. It is confirmed that one German machine, reported seriously hit September 22, was brought down between Misery and Villers-Carbonnel.

Political Crisis Near In Germany; Overthrow Of Chancellor Sought

Pan-German Faction Wants Von Bethmann-Hollweg Deposed and a Policy of Ruthless Submarine Warfare — Berliner Tageblatt Sounds Note of Alarm.

London, Sept. 24.—A great political crisis is slowly developing in Germany says the correspondent at Amsterdam of the Reuter Telegram Company. The pan-Germans, before the opening of the Reichstag, are making every effort, the correspondent says, to overthrow Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg. The Berliner Tageblatt is quoted as saying:

"Tension in the atmosphere of imperial politics has reached such a high point that a discharge must follow if the empire is not to suffer lasting damage."

Reuter's correspondent says articles in the independent national correspondence show that the pan-Germans are fighting for a policy of ruthless submarine warfare, the only obstacle to which is the imperial chancellor.

"I presume I did," was the reply. "I commit you to the common jail for one month," said the judge. Knox Magee took the oath, and said he wrote the article in the Post. "The tribunal," he added, "has no authority under its constitution or the laws of the country to punish me or anyone else for contempt."

The commissioner ordered that Magee be committed to jail for one month and a fine of $500.

JUDGEMENT IN NORTH SHORE CASE TO BE GIVEN HERE THURSDAY

Taking of Evidence in Case of C. E. Fish vs. Mrs. Jas. O. Fish Concluded Before Supreme Court at Newcastle.

Newcastle, Sept. 22.—Adjourned session of Supreme court, Chief Justice McKeown presiding, was held Thursday and Friday, closing yesterday afternoon. The case tried was C. E. Fish vs. Mrs. James O. Fish, executrix of late James O. Fish. L. J. Tweedie and R. A. Lawlor for plaintiff; H. A. Powell and A. A. Davidson for defense. The plaintiff sues for legacy from estate of late James O. Fish. Fish, with the understanding that the latter was to pay off the liabilities of about $22,000, and of which all was paid but this accommodation note which latter was not paid off till late. The evidence being all in, final argument will be made in St. John next Thursday.

WAR SUMMARY

Five German machines were destroyed by the British Saturday, and two others driven down damaged, while five British machines are missing after combats in the air.

In Roumania the fighting has died down somewhat in the Dobruja region, while on the Transylvania front, an attack by the Roumanians on the Vulcan Pass, which was repulsed, is the only engagement reported.

GERMAN TRENCHES ON FRONT OF 1-2 MILE AT COURCELETTE CAPTURED BY BRITISH

FIERCE THRUST BY HAIG'S MEN WINS MORE GROUND—BRITISH CROSS THE STRUMA AT THREE POINTS AND DRIVE BULGARS FROM TOWN OF JENMITA—RUSSIANS HAMMERING HARD, BERLIN ADMITS.

London, Sept. 23 (2.35 p. m.)—German trenches on a front of about a half mile east of Courcellette, in the Somme region, were captured by the British last night, the war office announced today.

"South of the Ancre," says the official statement, "a further advance was made last night by our troops east of Courcellette. A strongly fortified system of enemy trenches was captured here, and our line was advanced on a front of about a half mile.

"West of Mouquet Farm the enemy counter-attacked at nightfall yesterday with great violence, but was driven back by our fire with heavy losses. There was considerable artillery activity during the night on many parts of the battle front. East of Bethune an enemy ammunition dump was exploded by our artillery fire."

ON FRENCH FRONT. Paris, Sept. 23.—No infantry action occurred today on the section of the Somme front held by the French. There were violent artillery duels in the Bouchavesnes and Belloy-Berny regions. The official text reads:

"On the Somme front a fierce artillery duel occurred in the Bouchavesnes region and in the Belloy-Berny sector; there was no infantry action.

"The enemy in the Vosges attempted to attack our positions south of Sainte Marie Pass. After a lively bombing fight the enemy was driven back to his trenches. There was nothing important elsewhere."

SOUTH OF THE ANCRE. London, Sept. 24.—"South of the Ancre Brook," says the official British statement today, reporting military operations in France, "there was considerable military activity during the night on both sides. East of Neuville St. Vaast the enemy's trenches were entered and prisoners were taken."

Fifty British Airships in Successful Raid. London, Sept. 24.—The British official statement from general headquarters in France, issued at midnight, reads:

"South of the Ancre we continued to improve our positions, pushing detachments forward at places into the enemy's advanced trenches. "During a bombardment by our artillery one section of the enemy's front yesterday ten hostile gun pits were seen to be destroyed, fourteen others severely damaged and five ammunition pits blown up.

"Today a big fire was caused by our artillery in a village much used by the enemy's transport for supply purposes. "There was very great aerial activity yesterday. A highly successful raid by about fifty of our machines was carried out on an important railway junction, where much damage was done, two trains containing ammunition being destroyed, and many violent explosions being caused. A number of other raids on enemy railway works and sidings, aerodromes and other points of military importance were equally successful.

"In addition many fights occurred in the air, during the course of which three hostile machines were destroyed and five others damaged, besides many others which broke off the fight and were seen to descend steeply, but and were watched to the ground as our machines were too busily engaged. Five of our machines are missing."

Huns Beaten Back. Paris, Sept. 24.—North of the Somme last night German troops attacked the French positions on the Farm of L'Abbe Wood, and in the region of Verdun they attacked the French trenches on Pepper Hill, says the official statement issued this afternoon by the French war office. In both instances, the statement adds, the Germans were repulsed, leaving many dead on the field.

The official text reads: "North of the Somme our artillery showed activity during the night. The enemy replied feebly.

"This morning a German attack was launched on the Farm of L'Abbe Wood, and the positions to the south came under a violent fire of our artillery and machine guns. The enemy could approach our lines, leaving numerous dead on the ground.

"On the right bank of the Meuse we easily repulsed several German attacks upon Poivre Hill and southeast of Thiaumont.

British troops fighting along the Struma have crossed the river at three points, and have taken the town of Jenmitsa from the Bulgarians, while the Serbs have made additional progress northwest of Kamikalan, and

Eleven N. B. Men In Casualty List

More of Province's Gallant Sons Lay Down Their Lives on Field of Honor in Defence of Liberty and Justice — Long List Testifies to Fierceness of Recent Fight.

SPECIAL TO THE STANDARD.
Ottawa, Sept. 24—The total casualties among the overseas forces up to Friday as reported to the militia department are 42,009. The details are as follows: Killed in action 6,650, died of wounds 2,505, died of sickness 447, presumed dead 827, wounded 30,428, missing 1,053. It is remarkable that so few in contrast with former wars have died of sickness.

Recent despatches from the Canadian Eye-Witness at the front with the Canadian forces vividly described the gallant role the men from the Dominion played in the great battle on the Somme, known as the "Tank fight." While the units taking part were not specifically mentioned it was believed that New Brunswick men were in the thick of the battle. The latest lists of casualties from the record offices at Ottawa confirm these surmises. Not in weeks has such a lengthy list been sent out by the militia department as that appearing below, a silent testimony to the fierceness of the fighting. The name of New Brunswick appears frequently and shows that the men from this province have again upheld their reputation and nobly performed their part in the Empire's gigantic struggle.

SENT EDITORS TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT

The commission resumed and Judge Galt handed to the deputy sheriff warrants committing Edward Beck, D. B. Deacon, Stanley Beck, and Knox Magee to jail. A. J. Andrews, K. C., was present and told the commissioner that he was instructed to say that Edward Beck was prepared to be sworn and testify if given an opportunity. He had desired to see the commission authorizing the inquiry so that he might know its scope.

"No," said the commissioner. "I've got through with Beck; he's sentenced, and to jail he must go."

Mr. Andrews said Mr. Beck had no intention of disobeying his subpoena, so far as the general purpose of the inquiry was concerned.

"It is time we let the people of this province understand that the administration of justice in this province must not be interfered with either by newspapers or individuals," said the commissioner. "And if they do they must be checked up."

The commission adjourned until three o'clock and shortly afterwards the four newspapermen were taken by the officers to jail. It is understood that application for their release on habeas corpus proceedings will be made, and that the legality of their commitment will be contested.

Just before the commission adjourned on the week-end at four o'clock Hugh Phillips, K. C., government counsel, brought to the attention of Commissioner Galt an interview with Hon. Robert Rogers, published in the Winnipeg Telegram this afternoon. In this Mr. Rogers was quoted as apologizing to the citizens of Manitoba for having made a recommendation that has resulted in placing upon the bench of this province a man who is apparently so incapable of grasping and appreciating the high responsibilities and dignities that properly attach themselves to the position of judges of the king's bench, and who appears to him to be a peculiar standard that permits him to harbor the honor and dignity of the king's courts for a monetary consideration.

The article was headed: "Apologies for Securing Galt's Appointment—Mr. Rogers' comment on Mr. Galt's admission of taking commission fees."

"Is Mr. Rogers in town?" asked the commissioner, when Mr. Phillips had read the article.

"As directed by you," replied counsel, "I issued a subpoena yesterday, but I was unable to serve it."

"I am instructed that he went about six o'clock last night," stated the judge. "In precisely the same way with Mr. Rogers, notwithstanding his high position as minister of public works, as I would with the humblest citizen."

The commission then adjourned until Tuesday. Hon. Mr. Rogers' attack in the Telegram upon Judge Galt was in the nature of following up a statement he had made while a witness before the commission, the statement in the judge had no legal authority to act as commissioner, and that he accepted pay therefore he would be accepting graft.

Released Without Bail.
Winnipeg, Sept. 24.—Four hours after being jailed for contempt by Judge Galt at the Agricultural College in inquiry, on Saturday, Edward Beck, manager of the Winnipeg Telegram; Benjamin Deacon, news editor of the same paper; Stanley Beck, a Telegram reporter; and Knox Magee, editor of the Winnipeg Saturday Post, were released by Mr. Justice Haggart of the court of appeal, on an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

The writ was asked to furnish bail. The writ was made returnable on Saturday, when the crown will attend before Judge Haggart to argue the legality of Judge Galt's commitment.

Little Miss Mary Ayr, niece of the bride, daintily gowned in pink silk, carried a basket of pink sweet peas, acted as flower girl. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. David Allison, beautifully rendered Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus and at the close, Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Following the impressive service a delicious supper was served at small tables. Mrs. D. Baird opened coffee and tea, and Mrs. G. T. Morton currier Marjorie Ayr, Miss Helen Smith and the Misses Bertie and Louise Morton. At the conclusion of the feast the bride and groom were conveyed by auto to the station, where the happy couple left on the Maritime Express for Boston and other American cities. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue serge with hat to match. She was the recipient of many costly and beautiful gifts, including cheques, silver and cut glass. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prescott, parents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prescott of Bala Verte and Mr. and Mrs. Dickson Baird of Moncton.

MESSAGE OF FIERY CROSS GOES FORTH TONIGHT

SKIRL OF THE PIPES AND BEACON FIRES WILL SUMMON MANHOOD OF PROVINCE TO RALLY TO THE EMPIRE'S AID

Tonight Marks Opening of Campaign for Recruits for Col. Guthrie's Kilties -- Most Spectacular Undertaking of Kind Ever Seen in Canada.

PROGRAMME COMPLETED AND ALL IN READINESS FOR TONIGHT'S MEETING—BEACON FIRE ON FORT HOWE WILL BE LIGHTED AT 8 O'CLOCK AND AT 14 OTHER SHIRETOWNS FORMING A FIERY CIRCLE AROUND THE PROVINCE.

The novel recruiting campaign to fill the ranks of the 236th Kiltie Battalion, Sir Sam's Own, will be launched tonight in this city. At sharp 7.30 the City Cornet band will form up at the head of King street and headed by Master Gibbs, attired in the bright tartans of the 236th, they will proceed to Fort Howe. Upon the arrival of the procession at Fort Howe the beacon light, which is nearly thirty feet high, will be lighted. The meeting will be opened by Mayor Hayes. The other speakers for tonight are Major Morgan, in command of the St. John company of the 236th, Pte. H. Tippetts, lately of the 14th Battalion, and Pte. Coholan of the 10th Battalion. All three have seen active service and have received wounds. The civilian speakers will be R. J. Ritchie and Justice H. A. McKeown.

Master Gibbs and his sister will give an exhibition of the various Scotch dances, accompanied by pipe music furnished by Piper Stevens of the 236th pipe band. Miss McHarg will recite "Light, light the fire on 'Craig Gowan Height'."

During the meeting the fiery cross will arrive from Sussex and be thrown at the feet of the speaker. In fact the entire hall will be illuminated by numerous torches. A grandstand has been erected for the speakers and with such prominent men, appealing to the manhood of St. John good results are expected.

The campaign for the New Brunswick Kilties promises to be the most spectacular undertaking of the kind ever attempted in Canada.

Fifteen meetings, one in the shiretown of each county, will be held tonight, and for fifteen nights there will be a meeting in each county, making a total of 225 meetings in fifteen days. These meetings will not be the same affairs that recruiting meetings have been, but will be featured by attractions which will not only entertain, but are also calculated to enthrall the audience.

At every meeting there will be officers and non-commissioned officers of the Kilties who have been at the front and the young men of the province will hear the call of the New Brunswick men in the trenches, and they will see the beacon fires, and the fiery crosses and the skirl of the bagpipes shall awaken their patriotism if anything has been dulled by the peace. It is not too much to say that the meetings will be held in the most beautiful and most interesting places in the province.

Every section of the province has been placarded with striking posters, calling upon the young men not yet in khaki to lay aside their excuses and join the Kilties before conscription comes and they have no selection as to what unit they will fight with. With Lieut. Col. Guthrie and all his officers and sergeants, having defeated the enemy before, the 236th being the first Highland Battalion raised in the maritime provinces with all its members wearing kilts, the Kilties should prove the greatest drawing card for recruits in New Brunswick since the first entirely New Brunswick battalion, the Fighting 69th, was raised.

As previously announced the fiery cross of St. Andrew blazing forth into the night sky, its red message of war is to be carried from shiretown to shiretown, where at each of the fifteen meetings to be held tonight at eight o'clock, it will be hurled by a runner at the foot of the speaker who will pick it up, pausing in his address, and pass it on to another runner who, conforming to the old system in the Highlands, will carry it to the next shiretown and there it will drop it at the feet of the speaker at that meeting. These fiery torches will be carried by automobile, motor cycle, horseback and on foot, and a complete circuit of the province, covering some 1,500 miles will be made. The complete route is shown in the accompanying map.

Route of the Torch Bearers.
This torch will be carried around the province by the following route. There will be no opening addresses by the chairmen at the fifteen opening meetings, but instead, at the hour of eight o'clock a little girl in MacLean Tartan will step forward to the edge of the platform and recite "Fire the Pile on 'Craig Gowan Height'." Immediately a member of the Kiltie unit, detailed for that purpose, will touch a match to the giant bonfire on the highest summit of each shiretown, and the whole heavens will reflect with the red glare of battle, somewhat after the same fashion as the heavens reflected back the flare of the bursting shell, the glare of the very light and the lightning flash of the bursting bomb on the battle fields of Europe.

The fires have been so arranged that no man, woman or child can stand in front of his home in any part of this province without seeing in the heavens the sign that the Kilties' campaign is on and as the aurora sheds its light from northern sky so shall the Kilties' flame greet every eye.

As soon as the young lady has completed her recitation there will come to the ears of the listeners the sound of the pibroch of the pipers stationed

American Lawyer's Dictum on Great Britain's Service and Sacrifice.

Germany Can Never Win—Will Take Year, However, to Bring Her to Accept Allies' Minimum Peace Terms

New York, Sept. 18.—Paul D. Cravath, the corporation lawyer, returned a few days ago on the American liner Kroonland from a two months' trip to France, where he visited the Somme and Verdun fronts. He said the official figures regarding the serial fighting gave the Germans as losing 120 machines and the Allies 60 during the month of August. It was evident, he said, that the Allies were preparing for at least another year of war, if not longer. Mr. Cravath said: "My observations, superficial as they necessarily were, have completely revolutionized my conception of the magnitude of the achievements of the French and English nations in this war and of the issues at stake, not only for them, but for us in America. I return home with all doubt removed as to the ultimate certainty in this regard, and I am told that the same opinion has become general in neutral countries in Europe, even in those having pro-Teutonic sympathies. It now seems to me as certain as human affairs can be that the German armies that lost the Battle of the Marne two years ago to greatly inferior forces, when every advantage was in their favor, cannot now win when superior and highly organized forces are facing them on every front.

"The government of both England and France have already committed themselves to a definition of the term 'constructive peace,' which involves not only the liberation and indemnity of Belgium and Serbia, and the restoration of Alsace and Lorraine to France, but also the assurance of an enduring peace by the destruction of Prussian militarism.

"Few with whom I talked expect Germany to come to the Allies' terms within a year, and the governments of England and France make no concealment of the fact that they are making their preparation on the assumption that the war may last even longer.

"We in America have no adequate

SECOND CANADIAN WAR LOAN OVERSUBSCRIBED BY $69,000,000

WHEN SUBSCRIPTIONS NOW IN MAILS ARE RECEIVED WILL LIKELY TOTAL $180,000,000 BANKS NOT LIKELY TO RECEIVE ANY OF THEIR SUBSCRIPTIONS—A STRIKING PROOF OF DOMINION'S FINANCIAL STRENGTH.

Special to The Standard, Ottawa, Sept. 24.—"In Great Britain and elsewhere abroad the notable success of the war loan issue cannot fail to be regarded as further and infallible evidence of the spirit of Canada respecting the war and her invincible determination to persevere to the utmost of her power until final and conclusive victory is achieved."

This was the comment of Sir Thomas White today in announcing that the second domestic war loan had been a splendid success. The lists closed on Saturday.

"With so much mail still to arrive," said Sir Thomas, "it is not possible to make an accurate official statement as to the total amount of subscriptions. At midnight on Saturday there had been recorded by the department an aggregate of one hundred and sixty-nine millions of cash subscriptions, inclusive of the fifty millions subscribed by the chartered banks. I am confident that when the subscriptions now in the mails are received the total will reach one hundred and eighty millions, and probably more. Ninety-five per cent. of the subscriptions are Canadian. The number of subscribers may reach thirty thousand. The lists closed on Saturday and no further subscriptions can be received.

"The result can only be regarded as one more notable achievement on the part of the Canadian people. It is the more extraordinary when it is recalled that before the war Canada depended for her borrowings upon the London market. The overwhelming success of the issue is a striking testimony not only to the loyalty but to the financial strength and soundness of Canada today.

"No special appeal was made to the public to support the loan because we believed that the patriotism of the Canadian people required no stimulation. The terms of the issue were made to accord with prevailing financial conditions and success was never for a moment in doubt. To the Canadian public belongs the credit, but I feel I should be less than just if I failed to specially acknowledge the services of the brokers and bond dealers who from the beginning spent lavishly of their money and employed their utmost endeavors to make the issue a success.

"I feel particularly grateful also to the press of the Dominion which without exception accorded the loan most generous and invaluable support. The handsome subscriptions of financial, commercial and industrial organizations sufficiently attest their share in bringing about the great result. A further most gratifying feature has been the participation of provincial governments and municipalities subscribing on behalf of their trust and sinking funds."

The question of the amount of allotment to the subscribers cannot be considered until the returns are nearly all received, that is to say until about the middle or towards the end of next week. It is regarded as probable that the banks will receive no part of their fifty million dollar subscription will be allotted in full. The cutting down will be done in connection with the larger subscriptions.

There was no conflict of interest between the bankers and the brokers. The former at their three thousand offices throughout Canada received subscriptions from the public and payments therefor. They keep accounts in connection with these transactions, issue provincial receipts and interim certificates in exchange for which they finally deliver the definitive bonds when prepared. Their duties in this connection extend over months and are of an exceedingly responsible character. In addition they pay for the government at all their branches in Canada free of exchange all costs of the bonds. In addition the chartered banks guaranteed the loan to the extent of fifty million dollars.

Another Large Credit Probable. Sir Thomas White is so impressed with the result of the loan as showing the essential strength and soundness of the Canadian financial situation that he will at once take under consideration the question of establishing a further large dollar credit in Canada to be availed of by the Imperial government for the purchase of munitions or supplies here.

Speaking of this question the minister said that it was of the utmost importance both from the standpoint of the successful prosecution of the war and of Canadian business as well that Canada should lend to the Imperial government as much as possible towards meeting the huge expenditures which it is making here, amounting to over a million dollars a day for shells, explosives and other munitions. All this outlay has to be made in dollars from credits established on this side of the Atlantic; it cannot be paid in pounds sterling.

"The Canadian people," said Sir Thomas, "are now deriving the full benefit of this enormous expenditure and it is our bounden duty to save as much as possible of the profits to be available for the creation of further credits from which further purchases may be made. In exercising rigid economy and making the national savings thus available the Canadian people will be serving the two-fold purpose of high patriotism and good business."

The minister concluded by saying that the amount of orders which Canada will receive must depend upon the amount of dollar credits which Canada can establish for the Imperial government. To increase these credits will be the chief concern of the minister for the immediate future. Already Canada has furnished credits to the amount of one hundred and fifty millions.

The women of England have been wonderful. Hundreds of thousands of them, of all ranks, are doing work which in normal times is being done by men.

"I for one, have never realized, as I do now, how deeply concerned we are in the victory of the Allies, and what terrible risks for the future our government is running in impelling our friendship with France and England, to say nothing of the deadening effect upon the spiritual life of the nation, which the softness from the strangle which is convulsing the rest of the civilized world would entail."

FUNERALS.

The funeral of Alexander Rice, 38 Russell street, took place on Saturday afternoon. Rev. D. J. McPherson conducted the service, interment being in Cedar Hill cemetery.

The remains of Miss Mary Black, Princess street, were taken to the Narrows for burial on Saturday. Service at the house was conducted by Rev. D. J. McPherson.

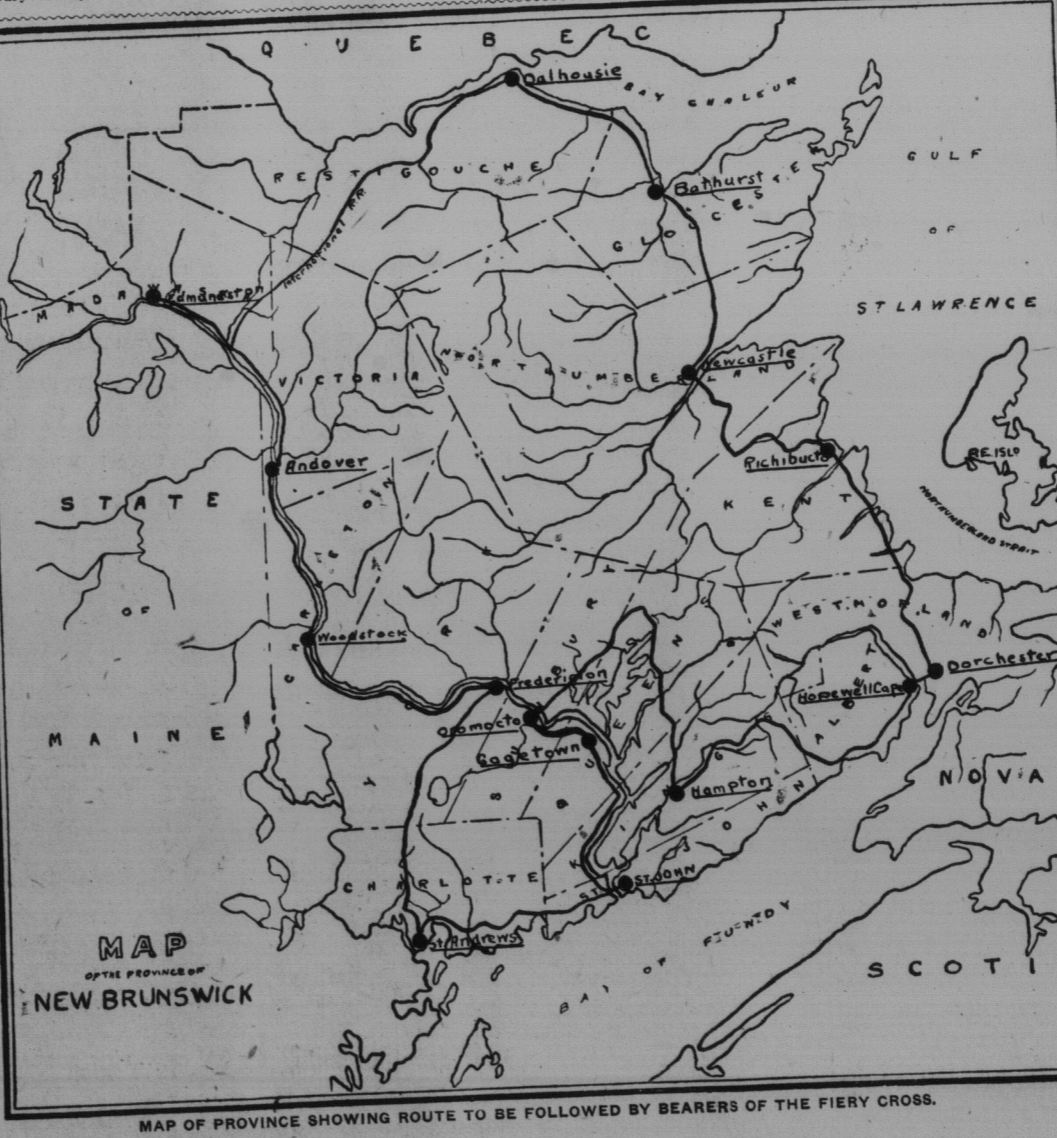

Apohaqui, Sept. 23.—The funeral of late George N. Erb, who was so suddenly stricken while on a hunting trip, took place on Thursday afternoon, 21st, from the home of his brother, Edward Erb of this village. Rev. Mr. Wentworth, pastor of Waterloo St. Baptist Church, St. John, officiated at the home and grave. The funeral was attended by a large representation of sorrowing friends, many of whom were from distant places. The officiating clergyman of whose words departed was a member, paid high tribute to his noble life, who showed deep interest in all church work and kindred worthy objects. The favorite hymns of the deceased were rendered by the choir.

At the close of the impressive service, the funeral cortege wended its way to Kirk Hill Cemetery, Sussex, where interment took place. The bears of the pall were W. A. Jones, Seth Jones, William Erb, Wilmot Asbell, William Kierstead and Frank Kierstead.

The floral offerings were very beautiful, among them being a pillow from the Waterloo Street Baptist Church, a large spray of white asters, Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield Erb, Nashua, N. H., and many other pieces, also quantities of cut flowers.

HOW WARSPITE SAVED WARRIOR IN HOT CORNER

Chased Her Tail While Shells Flew Thick—Gifts from Grateful Crew Rejected—British Naval Officer Free from Posing—How Aviator Disposed of German Companion—Hues Lost Heavily in Jutland Battle—Ships were Overmanned.

By Alfred Noyes.

It was the battle-cruiser fleet that engaged and held the enemy during the battle of Jutland, and it was the battle-cruiser fleet that I had an opportunity of seeing, somewhere in the North.

On my way to it I passed the gray Castle of Edinburgh. A red-faced old soldier was still telling a crowd of tourists about the baby, "wrapped in cloth of gold," which was discovered a year or two ago in the wall of Queen Mary's chamber. But there were wounded soldiers quartered in one part of the castle now, and a horny Scottish regiment, with kilt and bonnet, preparing for the front in another part. The most romantic of cities was all astray, with history again in the making, and over the gray crosses, commemorating old battles, the "bold bugles, blowing notes of war," rang from the ancient heights and echoed all down the Canongate to die away in the halls of Holyrood. All the color of a thousand years of war had come back like the life to the face of a tranced sleeper, and added a significance and a glamor to the new forms of power which I was about to see. Never did Britain seem so secure as in this fortress of a thousand memories, and the old gun that boomed the hour of noon from the ramparts seemed mightier than anything that Krupp could conceive.

Then came the most striking contrast that I have ever experienced. A smart crew of blue-jackets brought a boat up to a quay, and very soon we were butting through gray waters toward a cluster of lean, gray craft, that looked at first as unimpressive as a lot of floating straws. Only they seemed to be made of lead, soft lead, and if there was any more lifeless, more corpse-like, than this fighting color, I have never seen it.

The Canada.

But they grew as we neared them, grey till the great guns of their turrets gave significance to their superstructure. The exquisite lines became organic and separated clearly from the gray chaos of water, then as the first great ship towered above us, massive as a fortress, sensitive as a stag, to every flicker or wink of a signal in all the circle of the horizon, I read her name. The meaning of those six letters under the brooding night of her guns—guns that could hurl a ton of metal for 30 miles—went through me like a trumpet call. It was the Canada. And one of her blue-jackets was talking with two flags to a ship only a quarter of a mile away, whose name was Australia. And a little way beyond lay the New Zealand. Then I began faintly to understand once more the sources of majesty and true glory of my country in the love of her free nations. This arrival of fleets and armies from the ends of the earth is a terrible answer to many propagandists. To turn away from intellectuals, who preach disloyalty in every department of life, to so simple and definite an act as this is like going from a nightmare to a spring morning. If Armageddon teaches us once more the sheer glory and beauty of loyalty, which is the foundation of all honor, all law and all freedom on earth, the world will not have suffered in vain.

No Scars of Battle.

A few minutes later we were aboard the Infexible, and I began to learn a little more about the inside of a British man-of-war. She had her part in the Jutland battle, but she showed no scars, except one small hole in a funnel, which was too small to be worth repairing, especially as it could be surrounded with a white ring and worn as a decoration.

The captain explained to me that the bridge—a mere framework of canvas—had no armored protection, because it was quite the safest place on the ship; for, "if you stand behind armor, you get killed by splinters; while on the bridge, unless they get a direct hit, the shell goes clean through without hurting you." It was the most pleasant philosophy I ever heard of; but he omitted all the real points of comparison. A junior officer looked at him reproachfully. "Well," the captain muttered to himself, almost sheepishly, as if caught in a lie, "perhaps one can exaggerate it."

Free from Affectation.

There is no race of men in the world more free from every kind of affectation than the British naval officer. It is not only that they are free from every thought of "posing." They are free even from the thought that they ought to be free of it. It has never entered their heads. They are quite ready to tell you, with a roar of laughter, how so and so crunched like a cat, ready to jump, with his eyes cocked at the first shell that went shining over them, and how he leaped to his feet, chucking like a schoolboy, immediately afterward, to duck no more that day.

They have no truck at all with "heroics," but blow them away with wholesome laughter. No good man runs any risk of being frozen into a smirking statue in the British navy. I do not believe there is one officer in the fleet who could be caught in any single attitude that a press photographer would think "right." The men of the Warspite had an admirable opportunity, and, like Shakespeare, they lost it "for a quibble."

Visited the Warspite.

I suppose that I must be regarded as an uncommonly black liar by any German sympathizer who reads this article—if any do—for his friends tell him that the Warspite is at the bottom of the sea, whereas I now tell him that, on leaving the Infexible, I personally visited the Warspite, and saw her holes being patched, six weeks after the Jutland battle. She was even then ready for action again. It is true that she had taken on no less than eight German ships. One hole was about the size of a small church window, and she had many dents. But the real damage done was not great, and the spirits of her crew were very great indeed. This is the way in which they tossed aside their crowns of heroism.

In the hottest part of the fight they had executed an extraordinary maneuver which was being very badly mauled at the time, and the Warspite came between her and the enemy, taking all the punishment, paying as much back as she could, and slowly revolving like a great cat chess piece. The Warspite was saved, and every one aboard agreed that this maneuver of the Warspite was a new and remarkable one, deserving of much gratitude. Whereupon a deputation was sent to the Warspite bearing gifts—boxes of cigars and sundry little things—that would in most cases arouse enthusiasm. "Take 'em, mates; you saved us," said the grateful emissaries. "Take 'em back, you blighters!" was the reply, roared through a hole of Homeric laughter. "Take 'em back! We didn't try to save you, we were chasing our own damned tail. 'Ow could we help it? Our 'elm was jammed."

Aviator Was Lonely.

The next to loop up out of the gray mists were the Lion and the Tiger, both ready for sea at any moment, as also were other ships reported by Berlin to be heavily damaged, but showing remarkably few traces, even when the scars were painted out by experts. Ship after ship we passed on our way to the much-desired cruiser where lunch awaited us. After lunch, as we watched a seaplane soaring overhead and looping the loop like a tumbler pigeon, a guest—a gentleman with a wife and family, too—implied that he might forthwith be taken up into the heavens for the same purpose. "And what would the Admiralty say to me if anything happened?" asked the captain. Following a year or an English aviator, captured by the Germans, who was asked by his captors to take a German observer over one of our seas in his machine. At first he refused; but afterward, strapping himself in position, consented. The German was not to be depended on. Somewhere over the North Sea, in the dusk of that sunset, a traveler saw a remarkable sight. An English aviator was looping the loop, for sheer joy, apparently, somersault after somersault like a tumbler pigeon. He kept it up for half an hour. Then a dark bulk dropped from the machine and splashed into the North Sea. Perhaps it was a German, with a revolver in each hand. At any rate, an English aviator arrived on the East Coast an hour or two later, and he complained of feeling lonely.

It was obvious, in talking to the officers and men of the battle-cruiser fleet, that they were brimming with satisfaction over the result of the Jutland battle. I asked them about those curious sentences in the Jellicoe report describing a heavy explosion felt by all the battle-cruiser fleet simultaneously at dusk, after the enemy had withdrawn. The nearest German ship at the time was at least five miles away, and the explosion must have been a terrific one, for six of our cruisers imagined that they themselves had struck a mine. Perhaps, when "military reasons" permit, we shall have some explanations from Berlin. Our own naval officers have their views on the matter, though they have not embodied them in any official report. They are content with the ascertained German losses, which absolutely and relatively, in the number of ships and the tonnage also are definitely proved to be considerably greater than our own. Further than that they will not go; and the simple reason for the German press victory is that, no matter how great a value our officials and newspaper at home may place upon publicity, our men at sea never bothered their heads about it. What can be done with men like those of the Warspite? It is not that they feel superior to it. They are content with realities, and they simply do not care about the rest. The Jutland battle has been described as our greatest naval victory since Trafalgar, but it is far more than that. The whole scale of our warfare has altered. At Trafalgar we lost 480 men in a fight that extended over two days. At Jutland we lost over 6000 men in three hours. And the

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Portland, Sept. 20, 1916.
Somers Sound Approach, Southwest Harbor to Somers Sound, Me.
Clark Point Light reported extinguished September 16, will be re-lighted as soon as practicable.

THIS CATARRH REMEDY RELIEVES QUICKLY. CURES THOROUGHLY.

The cause of Catarrh is a germ. It multiplies in the lining of the nose and throat, spreads to the bronchial tubes and finally reaches the lungs. A Cough Syrup can't follow to the lungs—it goes to the stomach and fails to cure. Catarrh—gets right after the germ—kills them—kills the soreness—stops discharges and hacking—erases every trace of Catarrh. You're absolutely certain of the cure for Catarrh, throat irritation, colds and bronchitis, if you use Catarrhoxone. The dollar outfit is guaranteed to cure, costs $1.00; smaller sizes, 25c. and 50c., at all dealers.

GILLESPIES & CO., MONTREAL, AGENTS FOR CANADA

When Cutting Teeth Babies are Subject to DIARRHOEA.

When the baby starts to cut its teeth, then is the time that the poor mother is under the stress of great anxiety. For some reason or other the bowels become loose, and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and many other bowel complaints occur; the gums become swollen, cankers form in the mouth, and in many cases the child wastes away to a shadow.

When the child is in this condition the bowels must be looked after very closely, and for this purpose we know of nothing that can equal Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. This sterling remedy has been used for teaching children for over seventy years, by thousands of Canadian mothers who will swear by its efficacy.

Mrs. R. J. Waldruff, South River, Ont., writes: "Two years ago my little girl had diarrhoea while cutting her teeth. She got thin and very weak. I had tried different remedies, but all to very little good. A friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I procured a bottle at once, and after she had taken a few doses I could see a change, and by the time she had taken half the bottle she was cured. I think every home should keep it on hand."

The genuine "Dr. Fowler's" is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price 35c.

THE AFFIDAVIT HABIT.

The opposition party in the province of New Brunswick and particularly the erudite and gentlemanly organizer continues to provide daily evidence that Noah Webster wrote with knowledge in his definition of the word "habit." Reference to the interesting pages of the work of that master of English will show that, in his mind, "habit" was "a usual or characteristic mode of action or tendency toward such mode especially when so established by repetition as to be unconscious, involuntary or spontaneous."

Other authorities, particularly those who take the correct mode as a prolific theme for discussion, are prolific in advice to their followers on the necessity of avoiding those habits which lead to corruption and spiritual decay and the cultivation in their stead of qualities which will rid the garden of the mind of the noxious weed of evil habit.

The garden of the opposition in this province is full of such weeds. Chief among them, growing in wild and overpowering luxuriance is the weed of a bad record. This weed completely overshadows and chokes the gentle white flower of purity which Organize Carter would have the people believe fills every garden bed.

Another weed which is rapidly spreading through the opposition garden is that of the affidavit habit. This is a particularly dangerous weed and when allowed to run riot is certain to kill the hardiest of the purity flowers, to say nothing of those tender plants in the care of Mr. Carter. But the opposition party seems to be proud of it. During the Carleton county campaign their gardeners exhibited to the people several samples of the affidavit habit plant with as much pride as though it was the choicest bloom in the garden instead of possessing an especially noisome odor. There was the Blair affidavit and the Arnill affidavit, both of them so overpowering in their perfume that the electors of Carleton found it impossible to enter the opposition garden. And even after they had turned away from the gate the organizer-gardener was not satisfied.

With desperation he produced another affidavit plant, this one raised by himself, and flung it after the departing electorate. Through the medium of the Telegraph, itself a fragrant blossom of political purity, this latest botanical exhibit from Mr. Carter's garden, is displayed, and it shows three choice blossoms, the fragrant odor of which is expected to revivify the fading purity plant. The first blossom consists of the coy admission that Mr. Carter "was in charge of" and "directed" the opposition campaign in Carleton. That blossom could well have been pruned for the benefit of the whole plant, as it is absolutely unnecessary, and the opposition organizer as a gentleman farmer should know that unnecessary blossoms are a source of weakness to the parent plant. No one who has followed the opposition campaign in Carleton and observed its particularly vicious and scandalous character will require to be told that Mr. Carter was the director thereof.

The second blossom is also unnecessary. It relates that Mr. Carter paid out no money during the campaign, except for legitimate expenses. Why Mr. Carter should parade this statement in solemn form it is difficult to see. He could have simply said so and the people would have been satisfied. Indeed they are already satisfied that Mr. Carter's word is as good as his affidavit and his affidavit no better than his word. Mr. Carter's political reputation is sufficient guarantee of that.

The opposition party sustained a most decisive defeat in Carleton county and in a large measure the completeness of that whipping was due to the sort of campaign they carried on. Affidavits formed an important part of that campaign. Consequently it would be good advice to our friends on the other side of the political fence to abandon this bad habit of "swearing" to every statement they make. With gentlemen of their character and calibre it is entirely unnecessary. The people will as quickly believe them without it. And then think of the expense. With such a limited campaign fund as they possess it would be advisable to guard every dollar of it for there may be other elections in which it may be found necessary to disburse even more money for "legitimate purposes" than was the case in Carleton. Our advice to the opposition is to save their funds—stamp out the affidavit habit plant and get a new gardener. Then it may be that the lapse of time will see the opposition garden cleared of weeds and the white flower of purity a dominant and pleasing bloom.

GOLD AND BLOOD.

The fair name of Canada has been written anew in letters of burnished gold upon the scroll of Empire. The gold, however, has a crimson tinge—the blood of the nation's heroes. During the past few days the casualties among the Canadian troops have been lamentably heavy and the cables have brought many messages of woe to those at home who, a pitifully brief time ago, saw their loved ones go forth to war consciously proud that they were privileged to do their bit for the flag.

Of those from this city who paid the supreme price, no one was better known or held in more deserved esteem than Captain Frank R. Fairweather, whose death in action the Standard reluctantly chronicles this morning. Captain Fairweather was a splendid type of Canadian manhood, successful in business, socially popular and with every inducement to continue in civil life. Yet, when the call came, he heard it and resolutely putting aside all other considerations donned the King's uniform and went out to face fortune in the cause of Empire and British freedom. His example is one that should arouse the patriotic ardor of every young man in this community; yet his is but one of hundreds of similar cases where the men of Canada have shown their breed.

Canada's name on the scroll of Empire is in blood and burnished gold—the blood and its memory will remain long after the gold has lost its sheen, and the story of men like Frank Fairweather, who did their duty when the occasion came, will be told to generations yet unborn.

NOT "THE SAME OLD TELEGRAPH."

(St. John Globe.)
 A typographical error so apparent that the Telegraph in directing attention to it felt constrained to admit the fact is made the occasion of a choice blossom, the fragrant odor of which is expected to revivify the fading purity plant. The first blossom consists of the coy admission that Mr. Carter "was in charge of" and "directed" the opposition campaign in Carleton. That blossom could well have been pruned for the benefit of the whole plant, as it is absolutely unnecessary, and the opposition organizer as a gentleman farmer should know that unnecessary blossoms are a source of weakness to the parent plant.

But it is not the old Globe that is speaking. It is the new Globe. The difference in quality and in purpose is sufficiently conspicuous to arrest attention. Twenty-four hours ago the typographical slip was the occasion of anger and chagrin, but the Telegraph's courteous comment has brought other and different thoughts. Forgetting for the moment those shortcomings which cause the Telegraph so much anxiety, the Globe notes that one paper maintains, undimmed by time and the changes which time brings, conspicuous characteristics of quality and purpose. It is the same old Telegraph, with the same old standards of journalistic and fraternal courtesy.

In the humble opinion of this newspaper the Globe is slightly in error. The Telegraph is not "the same old Telegraph." In the days of William Elder, J. E. B. McCready and Dr. James Hannay, the Telegraph had a reputation for veracity and high purpose. Its reputation today is of a different sort.

S. A. OFFICIAL REPLIES TO CRITICISM

Widows and Families Salvation Army Proposes to Bring to Canada after War Will Not Become Burden on the Country.

James Gilchrist, provincial superintendent of immigration, has received a communication from Commissioner Lamb of the Salvation Army in answer to some of the criticism levelled at their proposal to bring a number of widows and their families to Canada after the war. The commissioner is of the opinion that a number have objected to the scheme because they did not understand it. He points out that this is not an experiment on any part of the army, they having already settled hundreds of widows in Canada. Their idea in launching this scheme was to bring about a more equal distribution of the sexes in the different parts of the Empire. These families could not become a burden to the state because if they failed to make good in their new homes the army would take them again to where they came from and in this connection the following details will be of interest:

"The army would not advise anyone to emigrate, or become responsible for the emigration of anyone, who did not conform with the standards of suitability it has set up through its long experience of emigration and colonization work.

"Emigrants will be escorted overseas by Salvation Army conductors. The army will provide for the reception and secure positions in given localities prior to emigration for all those it may select for overseas settlement under this scheme.

"The army undertakes the superintendence, by its own officers or responsible persons whom it would appoint, of the families emigrated for four years, or until such time as the progress of the new settlers would indicate that such guardianship can be dispensed with.

"In the event of failure to succeed in her new environment after four years' trial—a contingency regarded as remote and exceptional—the army will bring back the widow to the place whence she emigrated."

He had visited Canada and placed the proposal before the Premier, Sir Robert Borden and the different provincial governments and it had their hearty endorsement.

They had been very successful with the widows and families which had already been placed in Canada and he could not see any reason why they would not be just as successful with the present scheme and he was satisfied that the better people understood it the more they would endorse it.

'PRENTICE BOYS HOLD CHURCH PARADE

Over a Hundred Members Attended Service Yesterday Morning in Tabernacle Church.

Headed by the Salvation Army band the 'Prentice Boys in full regalia marched to the Tabernacle Baptist church yesterday morning where the pastor, Rev. Frederick Dennison, preached a fine sermon from Ex. 12:26—"What mean ye by this service?"

In his address the speaker alluded to the early history of the 'Prentice Boys when it was founded by the Rev. Mr. Walker in 1688.

The three lodges that marched were the King Edward No. 30, Maple Leaf No. 40 and Union Jack No. 25. Mr. Spencer was master, while Mr. Roy Morrill and Mr. Robert Jones acted as marshals. There were over 100 in line. After returning from the service the members heard remarks by Mr. Morrill and others.

The Salvation Army band under Mr. Featherstone offered their services for the parade to end from the church.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 21.—The Dike of Connaught paid a farewell visit to Barriehfield Camp today, and inspected all the battalions.

"This is my last inspection before leaving for England," he said, addressing the men in khaki, "and I hope that I will meet you all over in France."

EXMOUTH ST. CHURCH HONORS TWO HEROES

Portraits of Corps. Frank Withers and J. Walter McIntyre Unveiled at Memorial Service.

A very impressive memorial service was held yesterday afternoon at the Exmouth street Methodist church at which the portraits of Corp. Frank W. Withers and Corp. J. Walter McIntyre, former members of the school, were unveiled. Lieut.-Col. J. L. McAvity, O. C. of the 26th, of which unit Corp. McIntyre was a member, was present and in a few well chosen words paid his tribute of respect to the dead heroes. He said that he was personally acquainted with Corp. McIntyre, and had found him a true soldier and a gentleman and while his friends mourned his loss they had the satisfaction of knowing that he had done his duty and his memory would always be revered by those left behind.

The portraits were unveiled by Gordon Stevens, who made the following address: "Frank W. Withers was possibly the first young man to leave his native city as a volunteer for active service. He enlisted with Major Mersereau's corps of guides and left for Valcartier where the guides were disbanded. He then enlisted with a draft for the R. C. R. at Bermuda. Serving there a year he went overseas in August, 1915. He received rapid promotion, being made lance corporal and then corporal.

"He also had the distinguished honor of being created scout leader, which placed him in a position of responsibility, also a position of grave danger. He often had to advance with the scouts and cut barbed wire entanglements, also lines of communication, and it was while thus he was engaged that a shell from the enemy ended his gallant career as a soldier on May 26, 1916.

Corp. McIntyre.

"Corp. J. Walter McIntyre enlisted with the noted 26th Battalion, a battalion of which we are proud, one that has made a name for itself, a battalion among the best in the Empire. Walter was promoted to lance corporal. He crossed overseas June 13, 1915, and after training for several months in England he went to France when on that eventful night of June 16, 1916, he gallantly fell while in the performance of his duty."

Chief Justice McKeown, who was to have been one of the speakers, was unable to be present. The programme was as follows:

Hymn, All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name; prayer, Rev. W. G. Lane; hymn, Oward Christian Soldiers; Scripture lesson; hymn, Rally 'Round the Banner; address of welcome and presentation of the king's picture to the school by the superintendent, E. E. Thomas; address and the unveiling of the pictures of Corp. Frank W. Withers and Corp. J. Walter McIntyre by Gordon Stevens; address, Lt.-Col. J. L. McAvity; recitation, Miss Edna Crump; flag exercise, Gordon Everett, John Hopkins, Ronald Simpson, Fred Yeomans, Harold Parker, Ronald Thomas; recitation, The Union Jack, Catherine Sheppard; solo, Elinor Tennant; solo, Mr. Byard Stillwell; address, Mayor Hayes.

MEN IN KHAKI ATTEND CHURCH YESTERDAY

Forestry Battalion and Detachment of 62nd at Trinity—Report of Pte. Walter Craig's Death Unconfirmed

The members of the 242nd Forestry Battalion, which is now under mobilization, accompanied by a detachment of the 62nd Battalion, in command of Major Frost, attended divine service at Trinity church, Germain street. The City Cornet Band paraded the party to church, where the Rev. L. Ralph Sherman preached an instructive and impressive sermon. The Field Ambulance Training Depot was also in attendance.

Siege Battery.
No. 9 Siege Battery, in command of Major Wetmore, attended divine service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Owing to the fact that several members were unable to parade, having been inoculated on Saturday, about eighty were in attendance. Rev. P. S. Dowling preached the sermon.

No official confirmation has been received concerning the death of Walter Ray Craigs of Sussex, whose name appeared in the casualty list Saturday morning. In reply to a telegram sent to Ottawa, H. O. R. Bealey, 27 Richmond street, received word that Pte. Craigs was reported wounded on Sept. 4th and no official word of his death had been received.

"Owing to illness," says a London despatch, "Lieut. Col. J. L. McAvity has relinquished command of the 26th Battalion and is succeeded by Major A. E. G. McKeenzie."

Major McKeenzie, succeeding a worthy officer, who had ably led his battalion, finds himself now the commanding officer of a unit whose name will pass down in history as being one of the finest bodies of fighting men that has taken up arms against Teutonic barbarism, a battalion that has won for itself the name of the "Fighting 26th."

'RALLY DAY' SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES

In Many Places of Worship the Day was Observed—Large Numbers Attended in Connection with Sunday School and Other Church Work.

Yesterday was "rally day" in the Sunday schools of the Presbyterian church throughout Canada. It was generally observed in the Presbyterian churches here, as well as in some of the other churches. In connection with the work of the Presbyterian schools it may be mentioned that there are more than 300,000 scholars, teachers and officers in the Dominion; the number of schools is about 3,800 and there is a total of 1,500 young people's societies with a membership of about 55,000.

In the rally exercises in St. John yesterday the programme prescribed by the assembly of the board of Sunday schools, Toronto, was generally followed. The theme of the day was "Doing My Bit." The offering was for assisting in carrying on Sunday school work in Canada by means of grants and otherwise for the poorer schools.

In the First Presbyterian church, West Side, Rev. Dr. Morison spoke on the general theme, observing that a new world is dawning and asking the question: "Will it be better after the downfall of Frustanliam?" He thought the world would be better if each, in his or her sphere, would obey the commands of God. There was a large attendance of scholars, parents and friends during the day.

In St. John's Presbyterian church the same theme was adopted, the scholars and others present being shown the need of service in all good causes and the value of patriotism. Rev. H. H. Morton gave an interesting talk concerning boy and girl life, with particular reference to the influence of the Sunday school. The attendance was large and great interest was taken in the proceedings. Similar services were held in the other Presbyterian churches.

In Ludlow street Baptist church, West Side, Rev. W. R. Robinson in the morning took as the subject of an interesting address "The Stewardship of the Sunday School." In the afternoon a special programme was followed.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM THE FINANCIAL WORLD

WON'T HELP STEEL MAKERS IN STATES

Relaxation of Tariff on Shipments of Rails by Canadian of no Material Benefit—U.S. Mills Working at Limit.

Special to The Standard.

New York, Sept. 23.—Steel interests in the country state that the relaxation of the tariff regulations on the shipments of rails from this country by the Canadian government which despatches from Ottawa report to be in contemplation will not be of any material benefit to makers in this country under present conditions. It has been known for some time here that the Canadian mills could not supply all the rails needed in that country, and this was indicated some months ago by the attempts of one Canadian company to transfer orders for rails which it had taken to companies in this country. These attempts were not successful as the manufacturers in this country had all the business they could handle. Canadian railroads have been inquiring in this market from time to time within the past few months and orders for rails have been placed here by these carriers. Earlier this year one of the railroads in Canada sold about 30,000 tons of rails which it has turned up from its sidings and spare tracks to the British government to be used in trench work at the front. The price received for these old rails was a high one and the road in question almost immediately placed orders in this country at a level under what was received for the old rails. The fact that such a good figure was obtained was explained by well informed interests as being due to the possibility of making such shipments, whereas the placing of the order for rails with mills by the home government would have entailed a delay of months in shipment even if the plants were put to work on them at once.

MONTREAL FOLLOWS WALL ST. LEAD AT LAST

Shows Signs of Responding to Invitation to Share in Good Things|Bull Market on Wall St. is Disseminating.

Special to The Standard.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—The local market has at last shown signs of responding to the invitation to join in the good things which the bull market in Wall street has been disseminating. It seemed like a hopeless task to induce the local market, but it is probable that interests most likely to take a part in any forward movement that might be inaugurated felt that it would be better to wait until something definite was known concerning the outcome of the Minister of Finance's appeal to Canadians to buy $100,000,000 of the Dominion's war bonds. With any doubts on that score removed it looks as though some of the bull points worthy of consideration which have been kept in abeyance are on the verge of being discounted. By the week-end the market worked up to a very fair volume of business and some of the leaders showed marked evidences of strength and the street was inclined to look for further demonstrations.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. Make Important Addition to their Plant at Trail.

Special to The Standard.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company have recently added to their plant at Trail the manufacture of nitric acid and aluminum to their other activities. Trail, through the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, Limited has the most economic hydro-electric power in the world, and an expert on his return from a recent visit says that he sees in the not distant future that Trail will take a proud place amongst the greatest metallurgical and scientific centres of the world. Besides, here are the greatest hydro-electric opportunities of the continent and the most vast and diversified mineral wealth known to exist in this planet of ours.

FELDSPAR MINING ON AN EXTENSIVE SCALE

Frontenac County, Ont., Soon to Boast an Important Industry—Buffalo Firm to Handle 220 Tons Daily.

Special to The Standard.

Tamworth, Ont., Sept. 23.—Frontenac county will soon have an industry that will mean exports to the extent of $100,000 this year and possibly double that amount next year. The feldspar of the county will be mined on an extensive scale to meet the demand for potash, enamel requirements and fertilizing. There are five companies, it is said, operating in the district. A Buffalo firm, it is stated, has announced its intention of handling 220 tons daily.

MAY RELIEVE SHORTAGE OF STEEL RAILS

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 23.—It is understood that an arrangement has been made with regard to supplying rails required by the railway companies which will satisfy temporarily the urgent requirements of the various railway systems.

This was the official announcement made by the government today. No information was given as to what course the government had pursued, but it is understood that the policy forehadowed in a semi-official communication a few days ago that the customs duty on steel rails would be removed temporarily, has been carried out.

The steel companies are so busy with the manufacture of munitions that the railways have been unable to get enough rails for maintenance purposes.

ABANDON IDEA OF SUGAR PLANT

Special to The Standard.

Coburg, Ont., Sept. 23.—The sugar magnates of Utah who have been negotiating for several months with regard to locating a sugar plant at Oshawa, Ont., are said to have abandoned the idea feeling that it would be impossible to get enough sugar beets grown in the district. They made two trips from Salt Lake City to Oshawa and were offered fifty acres of the town farm.

BIGGEST WEEK-END BUSINESS IN YEARS

Total Trading 1,100,000 Shares of which U. S. Steel Comprised about Thirty per cent.

New York, Sept. 23.—The two-hour session of the stock exchange today was a fitting climax to the five preceding full sessions of the week, sales exceeding 1,000,000 shares, a record unequalled by any week-end for many years. Incidentally it marked the fifteenth consecutive day in which transactions approximated or entered well into seven figures.

Trading was again dominated to an enormous extent by United States Steel, the coppers, motors and a few other specialties, while shipping issues, equipments and munitions were heavy, or at least irregular. In fact, the market was extremely one-sided, rails falling to share in the movement to any appreciable extent.

United States Steel made an extreme advance of 4 1/2 points to 117 1/2, over-topping its previous high record by almost three points. Its contributions to the total operations of 1,100,000 shares was almost 30 per cent. Today's maximum for Steel common puts it almost within four points of the preferred.

Other maximums included the leading coppers, which were further stimulated by reports of the closing of contracts by foreign interests running into hundreds of millions of pounds for delivery in 1917. Anaconda rose to 99, and Utah to 96 1/2, with material advances in American Smelting, Inspiration, Kennecott and National Lead.

Motors were unusually active, with new records for Maxwell at 97, and Stutz at 97 1/2. Central Leather also sold higher than before at 7 3/4.

These gains were offset by declines of one to three points in Mercantile Marines, Bethlehem and Crucible steels, Continental Can, Baldwin Locomotive and sugars.

Continuance of railroad prosperity was indicated by the August report of the Southern Pacific Company, showing a gain of $1,033,000 in operating income.

Bonds were steady, with total sales, per value, $1,975,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

MATTY'S FIRST GAME

It was sixteen years ago Wednesday that Christopher Mathewson pitched his first full game in the National League. The rookie from the Virginia League opposed the Cubs, and they landed on his delivery quite freely, Chicago winning by a score of 4 to 3. Earlier in the season Matty had appeared in the box occasionally, but the contest of Sept. 13, 1900, was the first in which he was permitted to travel the full nine innings. Christy had three defeats charged against him in his first year in fast to his credit. In 1901 the big fellow began to hit his stride, and amassed twenty victories, while seventeen defeats were charged against him. It was in 1902 that the knockers first began to shout that Matty was "all through" as a twirler. His showing that year was not so good as it had been in 1901, and the snivel chorus got busy. In fact, Horace Fogal,

Machine Gunners' Feat

It was during this affair that a machine-gun party performed a feat over which the Anzacs are still chuckling. About fifty Germans approached the rear for an escort, which presently arrived, and shepherded off the whole "bag."

THE ASTOUNDING ANZACS

Superhuman Exploits at Poziers — Three Men Who Took Fifty Boches.

British Headquarters in the Field, France, Aug. 10—I have today come in contact with some of the Australian troops who took part in the fierce fighting around Poziers. One officer told me that he could count upwards of sixty German field batteries. They limbered up and galled away as soon as our guns opened on them. Their infantry do not like to meet the Anzacs at all. On the occasion of the last advance beyond Poziers they launched no fewer than four counter-attacks, and these involved fighting on even terms, they all came to the same end.

"On the Somme front during the day our artillery continued energetically to shell the enemy's works. According to late accounts the great German counter-attack yesterday on the northern bank of the Somme was delivered by the Eighteenth Corps, which was withdrawn from the Aisne front, and by the two hundred and fourteenth division. This division was already entrenched for the Russian front when it received orders to half way on its journey to return to the Somme. It reached there on the 14th, was put into the line on the night of the 19th and was engaged on the morning of the 20th in the Bouchavesnes district, where it suffered enormous losses. Over two hundred prisoners were taken north of the Somme yesterday. The remainder of the front was intermittently cannonading which no fury of bombardment could perturb. "We won through because we never lost our heads in the midst of all the devilish noise," said a grizzled Queenslander.—Reuter Special.

Roumania Proud to Draw Her Sword on the Side of Crusaders For The Right

Her Entry Into the Struggle Simply the Outcome of History of Her People and in Every Epoch Aspiration on the Two Sides of the Carpathians has been for Union and a Single Independent State.

M. Take Jonescu, the distinguished Roumanian statesman, writing to the London Daily Chronicle, says: Roumania's entry into the war is simply the outcome of the entire history of the Roumanian people. A Latin colony established across the Carpathians, between the Black Sea and the Tass, the Magyar invasions had separated us into two. In spite of centuries of political separation, the intellectual life of all Roumanians has been one and the same, and in every epoch the national aspiration on the two sides of the Carpathians has been for union and a single independent State.

Never before this war has the principle of nationality as the corollary of national sovereignty—that is to say, the right of every people to live according to its own genius—been declared as the foundation of political right in Europe. This principle was first declared by immortal France, but it is the English statesman of this present epoch who has given it its definite consecration. So, too, are the British people for this principle: yet more than any conquest do they value being the champions of Right and Liberty.

Crusade for the Right.

I know no greater good fortune than to be able to assist in the realization of your national ideal, while serving at the same time the cause of civilization and a permanent future peace. Such is the case of the Roumanian people at this moment.

For two years I have never ceased maintaining that even if Roumania had to go to war for the sake of her own dignity and honor to draw the sword on the side of the Crusaders for the right.

The creation of a great Roumania, which will convert us into a state of 14 million inhabitants, is a European interest. We must put Germany into such a position that she will find it materially impossible to start again that tragedy of armaments, a outrance, which must be followed by this monstrous war, which has put between Germany and the Orient a chasm which she will never be able to represent military worth sufficiently great to be able to resist all intrigues; and sufficiently distant from the German spirit to be, by the nature

OLD AND BROKEN REMAIN IN CORFU

Serbian Army Has Long Since Sailed in Search of Revenge, but Some Serbs Stay

Island of Corfu, Greece, Sept. 22.—The Serbian army has long since gone from Corfu, but not all the Serbs. Besides those who rest for eternity in alien soil, on the sunlit slopes of the island of Vido, some 600 living Serbs remain here. The war goes on without them. They are the "third band," too old or too badly maimed ever to fight again.

Many of them are ill even now, and the two hospital tents at Potamo under the supervision of Miss Emily Simmons of New York, an English-trained nurse sent out by the American Red Cross, are generally full. Just now, out of the 600 third band men in camp, there are 115 in the hospital. The remainder are in charge of two British Quakers, acting for the British Serbian Relief Committee.

Those who are well enough work at trivial tasks to fill their empty days; they have been heroes. They carve canes of white olive-wood, or weave baskets to sell to tourists—anything to keep the fingers busy and dull the dreams of what is passing over there, behind the Albanian hills, in what was once Serbia. Save what has come to them from the British Serbian Relief or the American Red Cross they have nothing. They staggered through Albania, leaving by the roadside all their meagre possessions—even at the last their useless guns, for which there was no more ammunition. Here and there one or two have kept their torn and mud-stained blankets. One, through all the vicissitudes of that hideous retreat, clung to a deep, long-handled saucapan, a mountain heirloom of other ages.

Heroes All.

"Heroes, do you remember?" he begins, monotonously; and step by step he traces across the mountains of Albania the blood-stained pathway of retreat. He named each pass, each bridge, each brook and height. He recalls the names of those who died fighting and of those who fell of hunger and exhaustion by the way. And so, and so, in a narrative procedure, remind the singer of an incident forgotten. At once it is incorporated in the improvisation.

Hour upon hour the chant continues and the gusla moans its lament accompaniment.

Sometimes at twilight, at the edge of the crowd that surrounds the bard, bending over his transfused saucapan, a short, wiry youth stands, half lost in the shadows. His dark eyes gleam in the candle-light, his eager, mobile face reflects the exaltation of sombre harmonies and sublime words. He begins the narrative of another defeat, a more recent and more poignant trial to the soul of Serbia.

Come into its Own

And now the saucapan comes into its own, a miraculous metamorphosis in its progress. Over the oval bowl bands the grey head of what seems an old, old man. He is 66—he looks 70. His two sons are dead; his brother and his brother's three sons are dead, somewhere between the Danube and the Adriatic, on the road from Bragovatsa to Durazzo. He alone remains—a third band man, his fighting done, his family come to an end, and of what was once his home only an antique saucapan. He is strapping a cord of twisted horsehair across the hollow bowl to the far end of the

WELSFORD

Welsford, Sept. 22.—The social which came off last Thursday evening at Oliville was quite a success, and much enjoyed, the weather was lovely and the attendance good. The sum of $31.00 was realized for Sunday School purposes.

Willis Brydson of Oliville shot a fine moose on Friday morning last, and William Speight of Welsford shot a fine one on the Saturday morning, weighing 800 pounds, having 19 points. On Monday afternoon last, Hedley Cooper of South Cross had the misfortune to send a shot right through one of his feet. While he was cleaning the gun it accidentally went off.

At a special meeting of the members of the local branch of the Women's Institute, held at the Victoria Hall, Monday afternoon, it was decided to send samples of various preserves to the World's Fair, which is to take place in St. John soon, afterwards the preserves to be sent on to the soldier ladies through the Soldiers' Comfort Association.

A very pretty wedding took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Ignace church, Welsford, when Margaret, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. McDonald, Welsford, became the wife of James McCracken, Sydney, C. B. The bride who was given away by her father, was becomingly attired in white satin with Juliet cap and bridal veil, she carried a bouquet of white Killarney roses, and was attended by her sister, Cassie, who was gowning in rose-colored dress. The groomsmen were also gills of Sydney, C. B. The ring of the room to the bride was a gold wristwatch, to the bridesmaid gold ring set with pearls and rubies, to the groom's man, gold cuff links. The young couple left by automobile in the afternoon for St. John, en route for New York and other cities, where the honeymoon will be spent; upon their return they will reside at Sydney, C. B. The bride travelled in a fawn colored suit with black trim with roses. Many useful presents were received.

MARRIED.

Cook-McMillan.

Apohaqui, Sept. 21.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan, Head of Millstream, was the scene of one of the most brilliant events, on Wednesday, Sept. 20th. The occasion was the wedding day of their second daughter, Miss Florence Jeannette McMillan, who was united in marriage with Roy Alexander Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cook of Carletonville, Kings County. About one hundred and twenty guests witnessed the impressive marriage ceremony, which took place on the lawn beneath a beautiful formal arch, the stately trees and autumn tinged foliage making an attractive setting for the pretty gowns of the ladies and the more sombre garb of the gentlemen.

At precisely 4 o'clock, the bride emerged from the residence, leaning on the arm of her father, as the wedding march was played by Miss Blanche Cook, sister of the groom. The charming young bride was attended by her bridesmaids in white messaline silk, with adornments of silver pastimetrie and shadow lace trimming and wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms. She carried a handsome bouquet of white carnations and maid-hair fern. Little Miss Mary McMillan, youngest sister of the bride was flower girl and preceded her carrying a basket of flowers.

After the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Leon H. Jewett, the reception followed, after which all repaired to the dining room, where supper was served.

The groom's present to the bride was a set of black furs and a great number of other beautiful gifts were received, including cut glass, silver, cheques, and numerous other articles of beauty and usefulness.

Later in the evening the bride appeared in a tailored suit of navy blue with a becoming hat to correspond. Mr. and Mrs. Cook were driven to Carletonville, where they will make their home.

OBITUARY.

Colin C. Gray.

Yarmouth, N. S., Sept. 23.—Colin C. Gray, son of J. B. Gray, Albert St., formerly of Sarnaby, is dead of tuberculosis. He was 21 years of age. He was born in Halifax in 1895. He enlisted in the 85th Battalion in January last. Shortly after on account of poor health he went to the military hospital where he stayed up to about three weeks ago. Although of a quiet nature he had many friends. He was very clever in his studies, at the Yarmouth Academy taking many prizes at his graduation, and at other times. After graduating at Yarmouth he went to Mount Allison University, from which place he graduated with high honors, and later went to McGill in the science class. He was a lover of sport and played on the McGill hockey and football teams. The McGill year book speaks of him as "a quiet unassuming lad, immune to fashion, freak or fad." He leaves a father, three sisters and two brothers. Members of the 85th Battalion will conduct a military funeral from the house on Sunday at 2.30.

CAPT. F. R. FAIRWEATHER AND LEUT. JOHN D. BROCK FALL IN EMPIRE'S CAUSE

Two More Gallant Officers of the Fighting "26th" Pay the Supreme Sacrifice on Empire's Battlefield—Both Prominently Identified with Civic Life Before War—Military Careers Short, but Filled with Glorious Achievement.

Captain Frank R. Fairweather has made the supreme sacrifice at the front. While doing his bit "Some-where in France" he was killed in action on Sunday, the 17th inst.

The news of Captain Fairweather's death came in a message from Major Malcolm McAvity of the brigade headquarters staff, which reached the city early on Saturday morning. On Saturday afternoon the official notice of his death came from Ottawa to his wife. Throughout the city the announcement of Captain Fairweather's death was received with sincere regret and on all sides were heard expressions of sympathy for the bereaved family.

Captain Fairweather left Canada as a member of the 64th Battalion. His desire to get into action and do his bit for the Allies resulted in his taking advantage of the first opportunity to transfer to a unit at the front. There he was engaged in doing heroic work as a member of the 26th Battalion when he fell a victim to the enemy's guns.

The late Captain Fairweather was one of St. John's most promising young men and was exceedingly popular among a wide circle of friends. He was always to the front in any movement appertaining to the welfare of the city of St. John and gave the best of his energy and ability to promote these movements. When war was declared in August, 1914, Captain Fairweather expressed his desire to enlist and shortly afterwards made plans to take a military course at Halifax, he having had no previous military experience. Prior to his appointment to the 64th Battalion he took a deep interest in recruiting, while he also showed great activity in soliciting subscriptions for machine guns to assist the Canadian soldiers in their attack on the Huns. Through his efforts in this direction at least one, if not more, machine guns were sent forward to Canadian battalions at the front.

The late Captain Fairweather was forty years of age and a son of Mrs. Lucille H. and the late Charles H. Fairweather. He is survived by his wife, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McAvity, and one daughter. His mother and two sisters, Miss Alice L. Fairweather and Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, also survive. Mr. Fair-

SHOT FIRED THRO' WINDOW HITS SOLDIER

Sixteen Year Old Lad Under Arrest—Fired Through Window in Armory Wounding Pte. Fred L. Tibbets.

A boy under age of sixteen was arrested at 12.15 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Police Constable Lindsay and locked up on the charge of shooting through a window in the armory and wounding Private Fred L. Tibbets. After spending a time at police headquarters the young prisoner was allowed to go home for the night and is to appear in the Police Court this morning to answer to the charge.

From what can be learned of the affair the boy while outside the armory had been handling a revolver which was discharged. The bullet crashed through an armory window and scratched the soldier's right arm, but did no serious injury. It is not believed that the shooting was intentional.

More First Aid Classes In Province

Requests from Other Centres Outside St. John for Classes—Ten Young Ladies Pass Exams at Rothesay.

The recent call for Canadian girls to go overseas as assistant nurses in the English hospitals has given a great impetus to the work of the St. John Ambulance Association. A class in first aid is now in progress under the careful instruction of Dr. Roberts, and others are being organized in response to the demand, not only in St. John, but in Sackville, Sussex and other towns.

A very successful class in first aid under Dr. Peters, has just been completed at Rothesay, Dr. Legie giving a thorough examination to ten young ladies, all of whom passed satisfactorily: Misses Sophie Robertson, Madge Robertson, Alice McKeen, Edith M. Schofield, Agnes McKeen, Jean Daniel, Muriel Robertson, Dorothy Purdy, Mabel Thomson, Annie Fairweather.

Following this class came an interesting course of instruction in home nursing, ably conducted by Mrs. William Allison, an examination being given by Dr. Peters. The class consisted of nine members all of whom succeeded in qualifying for certificates: Misses Jean Daniel, Edith Schofield, Annie Leggington, Annie M. Storm, Sophie Robertson, Annie Fairweather, Dorothy Purdy, Edith Cudlip, Mabel Thomson.

The thanks of the association are due to the instructors and examiners who give their valuable time and services that its work for the alleviation of suffering may be carried on.

WELSFORD LAD SHOT AND INSTANTLY KILLED

Gun in Hands of Companion Accidentally Discharged Kills Twelve-Year-Old Charlie Thompson.

A sad shooting fatality occurred at one o'clock Saturday afternoon at Welsford, N. B., when Charlie Thompson, the twelve-year-old son of Harry Thompson, was shot in the head and instantly killed.

He with several companions, including Ray Woods, were preparing to go on a hunting trip when Ray Woods, who was handling one of the guns, accidentally discharged the gun killing Charlie Thompson instantly. Dr. A. A. Lewin was immediately summoned but life was extinct when he arrived.

Coroner Malcolm McKenzie, after viewing the body and examining witnesses, decided that an inquest was not necessary.

Charlie Thompson belonged to the Boy Scouts of Welsford and was very popular with his boy friends.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MILITARY MOLLY FAIR AT ST. ANDREW'S RINK

Thursday, Friday and Saturday Under Rotarian Auspices and for Patriotic Purposes.

Pleasant are the recollections of Sister Susie, Tipperary Mary and other summer picnics and affairs. But these were all held many years ago, the city, necessitating expense and inconvenience to attend. Now, with characteristic ingenuity and energy, along comes the Rotarian Club to bring these delightful opportunities for pleasure right to our very doors in their announcement of Military Molly's fair at St. Andrew's rink, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The name does not suggest the delightfully refreshing and novel character of the particular brand of good time that E. A. Schofield, George Warwick and their various assistants, both ladies and gentlemen, propose handling out to those thirsting for amusement. All the outdoor games ever heard of, and then some more will form a part of this big indoor pike. There will be chances to get almost anything, no matter how valuable, for next to nothing, and the fun of getting it will be more joyous even than possession. Watch the papers for Military Molly items.
