COL. MALONE, M.P. SENT TO PRISON FOR IRISH TALK

"Shame" Was Cry in Court Room When Sentence Was Pronounced on Veteran.

URGED BLOODSHED TO WIN "LIBERTIES"

Revolutionary Papers Said to Have Been Found in His London Rooms.

London, Nov. 19.—Lt. Colonel L'Etienne Malone, Liberal member of the House of Commons, who was arrested in Dublin Nov. 4, for alleged seditious utterances, was today sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

There were loud cries of "shame" from Malone sympathizers in court when the sentence was pronounced. Two surety bonds of a thousand pounds sterling each were demanded, pending an appeal from the judgment at the court.

Some of the Charges

Colonel Malone was also charged with the possession of two loaded pistols, in violation of the law, found by the police in his London flat.

On this charge the prisoner was bound over on his good behaviour to keep the peace for a year. Two sureties of a thousand pounds each were asked, failing to furnish which another six months' imprisonment would be imposed.

The Offending Speech

The speech upon which Colonel Malone's arrest was based was delivered in Albert Hall, in London, Nov. 7, upon the occasion of the anniversary of the Russian revolution. In it the speaker is alleged to have said:

MARITIME TO SEEK WESTERN LAND GRANTS

Provincial Leaders from Three Provinces in Session at Halifax to Discuss Case.

MAY UNITE TO ADVERTISE MARITIME

Railway Commission Will be Asked to Hold Special Session on Maritime Interests.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 19.—Concerted action on the part of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island for the purpose of securing Western land grants, was agreed upon at an all day conference of provincial leaders from the three provinces held here today.

The members of the conference were non-committal as to what steps had been decided upon to press the question of Maritime Provinces' rights in the matter of Western lands.

There was considerable discussion of the immigration problem. This was brought before the conference largely by the delegation from the Maritime Board of Trade.

There were certain lands set aside for school purposes for both of these provinces. Through the sale of these lands the Western Provinces were able to pursue a very aggressive school policy and they have had a source of very great wealth.

Large additional areas of land were given to Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, which have placed within the use of these provinces most valuable resources both in land and minerals.

What Conference Thinks

It was the opinion of the conference from statements made in the West by Federal ministers that the central government were determined to hand over to the Western Provinces the control of their resources.

It was further stated at the conference that Sir Robert Borden not long ago admitted that whenever that was done a just reason arose for increasing the subsidies to the Maritime Provinces.

Regarding the transportation problem the members of the conference felt that the general public were entirely ignorant of the seriousness of the situation, as it affects the commercial interests of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

It was stated that they agreed that the conditions of transportation for the Maritime Provinces under the present centralization methods by which control had passed to Toronto were such as to severely menace the commercial interests of the Maritimes.

Driftwood Blaze, Beautiful Brown Gelding and Canadian Remount Won Honors

New York, Nov. 19.—An outstanding feature of yesterday's programme at the horse show was the prominent place taken once more by Canadian bred horses. Driftwood Blaze, a beautiful brown gelding, owned by Mrs. Walter Hanley, East Greenwich, L. I., added to his laurels, by capturing the silver medal offered by the association of American showmen. In fact, for horses over 14.2 and not exceeding 15.2 hands, up to carrying 160 pounds, Driftwood Blaze, who is 15-1-4 hands, in seven years of age, and has a somewhat romantic history, was a Canadian remount horse and was picked out of a bunch that was being shipped overseas during the war.

TEN POLICE ON MEIGHEN'S AUTOMOBILE

Veterans Gave the Premier a Lively Reception at His Massey Hall Meeting.

ANNNOYED AT HIS FAILURE TO SPEAK

J. Harry Flynn Speaks at Door of Hall to Urge Moderation for Soldiers.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Anticipating a possible demonstration from returned soldiers, in view of the announced intention of J. Harry Flynn, organizer for the Grand Army of United Veterans, to ask Premier Meighen to address Massey Hall, prior to making his speech inside, 200 uniformed policemen were on hand to guard the premier and prevent a disturbance at the meeting.

The automobile in which the premier was conveyed to Massey Hall was protected by plain policemen. The premier entered the hall unnoticed by the returned men, who numbered about 4,000, and he was out of earshot when Mr. Flynn harangued the crowd in the street.

A list of a dozen questions had been prepared by the G. A. U. V. for presentation to the premier, and evidently the soldiers were disappointed because their questions remained unanswered. In addition to this, they expressed disappointment because the premier had not acknowledged receipt of a telegram which had been sent to him a few days ago, asking him to say what he was going to do to help disabled veterans and their dependents this winter.

Urged Moderation

Their criticism and annoyances were voiced by J. Harry Flynn on the outside of Massey Hall before the big meeting, which had got under way. He went inside himself, and before doing so asked his followers not to create a disturbance. In addressing the crowd in the street he was careful to state that he was doing so as an individual, not as an official of the G. A. U. V.

As a parting shot, Flynn declared that if the premier was not relieved within the next two weeks, he would send returned men out on the streets of Toronto with boxes in their hands to collect charity. He said there were 8,000 veterans out of work in Toronto, and there were many cases of destitution among them.

TARIFF BOARD ENDS MEETING FOR MONTREAL

Five Day Session Fails to Produce Any Serious Objections to Present Tariff.

ALL BELIEVE IN PROTECTIVE POLICY

Out to Find Absolute Truth Regarding Situation Says Sir Henry Drayton.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—After five days of hard work the tariff commission concluded its sittings here this afternoon. During the sittings briefs were presented by thirty leading industries, of which each asked for a continuation of the present moderate protective tariff and a few asked for a higher rate of protection, contending they had been placed in a disadvantageous position by reason of United States dumping.

Must Have Protection

The general opinion was that without a safe and sane tariff, Canadian industries would be dominated by the United States and other outside industries, and this view was also upheld by representatives of smaller municipalities throughout the Montreal district. Market gardening, truck farming and agricultural interests in districts adjoining manufacturing centres, strongly endorsed the same view.

All Went Smoothly

At the close of the sessions here, F. W. Stewart, chairman of the Montreal branch, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, thanked Sir Henry Drayton and the other commissioners for the patient and courteous manner in which they had conducted the enquiry here. This was acknowledged by Sir Henry, who emphasized the fact that the commission was out to look into the absolute truth of the tariff situation.

At one time it was announced that not more than two score were left and that they were expected to be released immediately.

MASSEY HALL IS PACKED TO HEAR MEIGHEN

Four Thousand Electors in Big Auditorium When Premier Talks Protection.

CROWDS OF SOLDIERS TRY TO BREAK WAY INTO PACKED HALL

Two Hundred Policemen Called to Prevent Disorder or Rush on the Place.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—The Hon. Arthur Meighen, in his first appearance before a large public audience in Toronto, as Prime Minister of Canada, was given a receptive demonstration that was as unique as it was enthusiastic and vociferous.

While within the crowded Massey Hall, Mr. Meighen, with punctuations of applause from his 4,000 auditors was enunciating the protective platform of the National Liberal and Conservative party and its policy of promoting Canadian manufactures by Canadian workmen, through Canadian investments, three or four thousand returned soldiers and their sympathizers in the streets outside were practically storming the hall in an attempt to get in.

Two Hundred Police Out

The "overflow audience" was held in check by a cordon of nearly two hundred policemen, but passed the time in chorusing a demand for the government to come out and address them on the gratuity question and to listening to the speeches of their leaders.

The hall was crowded to the doors at seven o'clock, many prominent local men and women of all parties occupying seats on the platform. There were notable instances of prominent men who were unable to secure admission despite the fact that they held tickets of many colors—for instance, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Conservative leader in the Ontario Legislature.

Soldiers in the Hall

When the returned soldiers outside were informed by J. Harry Flynn, President of the G. A. U. V., that the premier would not address an outdoor meeting, but would answer the veterans' listed questions inside, there was a rush for the front doors to gain admission, but the hall was then crowded.

The front portals were closed and a squad of policemen three deep formed a barrier across them. It was evident, however, from the interruption offered to some of the speakers, particularly Hon. Hugh Guthrie, that there were a number of returned men in the audience.

J. R. Starr, E.C., was chairman of the meeting. Sir Edward Kemp and Hon. Gideon Robertson were other cabinet ministers on the platform.

Mr. Meighen opened with a few remarks on the destinies and obligations of Canada.

"The Canada that we live in now," said the Premier, "is a larger and better Canada than it was before the war."

But selfishness is less pronounced than it was. That is my opinion; interest in the lot of others is becoming more general and more practical.

"The Canadian people inspired by the example of their soldiers are a more courageous people than they were."

After stating that Canada's place in the family of nations was now what Canada wanted it to be, the Premier said: "Our chief task now is to accomplish the greatest possible measure of unity at home."

The fact that Canada is a bi-racial country has given us through a hundred years problems peculiarly our own.

Must Repair Losses. The long ordeal of the war produced unparalelled and unfortunately not good results but rather the contrary.

The necessity of concord is so vital that its promotion should be the work and anxiety of all good citizens and not merely of the leaders of parties.

The War Issues. Mr. Meighen referred briefly to the war administration and to the handling of war and after-war problems by the Canadian people and by the government.

"We are well," said Mr. Meighen, "that the tariff is the issue. Why is it the issue? It is because the enemies of the Government cannot oppose us on any other issue."

BEWARE OF BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis is generally caused by neglecting a cold, exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs.

BEWARE OF BRONCHITIS

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, thereby preventing it becoming chronic, and perhaps developing into some more serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Bruce Callahan, Sheffield, Ont., writes: "In December, 1919, I was very sick with bronchitis and had to stay in the house all winter. One day I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so I got a small bottle, which helped me very much. I then got a 50c size, and it completely cured me. I cannot praise Dr. Wood's enough for what it did. Two of my neighbors are now using it."

Resignation of King's Principal Accepted With Greatest Reluctance—Goes to Ontario to Take up Parish Work.

It has been officially announced that the resignation of Dr. T. Stannage Boyle from the presidency of the University of King's College, Windsor, N. S., has been accepted by the board of governors, but it will not become effective until the end of the present term.

No Successor Nominated. According to reliable reports, Dr. Boyle gave notice in January last that he proposed to resign. His resignation was tendered last June, but at the request of the governors it was allowed to stand.

Principal For Five Years. Dr. Boyle has been principal of the University of King's College for a period of about five years, having come from Toronto in succession to Canon Powell. During this period of tenure of office the disastrous fire occurred, presenting the governors with a serious problem, but one to the solution of which churchmen have pledged themselves wholeheartedly.

"Big Interests" Cry. Mr. Meighen referred to the constant parrot-ery about big business running the Government. He supposed that cry would be continued as long as there was a demagogue in the country.

He referred to every step the Government had taken in taxation and in legislation, as evidence to show that the Government had been more severe on people of wealth and on men making large profits than any government in the world.

"The Farmers' platform," said the speaker, "is a political platform, in definite terms, denouncing protection over and over again. Their leaders extol free trade."

King Strongly Silent. "On the subject of the King platform adopted in August, 1919, does not declare against protection at all, never mentions the word. The 1887 platform did declare protection and all its works. Has the change of 1919 no significance? More than that, the leaders of the official opposition—all except Mr. King, who hopes to establish a reputation for leadership by refusing to say yes or no—the leaders of the official opposition, Lemieux, Beland, Fielding, David, all have declared for the principle of protection and have done so over and over again."

"What is the result of all this? Those who vote for farmers' party candidates necessarily vote against protection, every farmer who supports a King candidate can do so believing they vote for protection. By working his head-headed scheme these two groups are coquetting together. The talk of unionism—some of the leaders do—but there is no danger of that not before the election. If they unite they would have to have one platform instead of two, and that would never work. All they really want to do in the meantime is to divide the territory between them and run a farmer non-protection candidate or a liberal protection candidate, and either will pay the best."

They intend to join hands after the election and in that way get into office. If they do they will be compelled either to retain protection or to abandon protection. They must then adhere to the principle or cast it away.

"I ask the people of Canada: Do you want a government founded on betrayal? Do you want men in high office who are not frank today in order that they may betray tomorrow? Do you want men who refuse now to tell you what principle they stand on in order that when they get into office they can stand on either?"

"Is that kind of politics good for our public life? Do you think you ought to encourage it?"

Mr. Meighen directed attention to the composition of the tariff commission, and the work being done by that body, and concluding said: "Look back over the past; ponder well the story of those years; mark out the lines that men have taken who seek your confidence now and measure what they have accomplished for their country, reflect on the place this nation holds, its prosperity at home, its credit abroad, the pride of its achievement, the splendour of its prospect. Think these things over in the quiet of your homes and be true to Canada and come to conclusions and act on conclusions that you can believe are sound and right."

The furnishings of the living room is a matter that deserves serious consideration. The reason for this is plain when we consider the part it plays in our daily life.

For a short time in the kitchen we prepare our meals—for a short time in the dining room we eat them—for quite a time in the bedroom we sleep—but in the living room for quite a while we live. The furnishings of this room, then, are bound to affect us.

BLACK AND TAN SHOT UP TOWN "HUNDRED" TOLD

Raid Was in Reprisal for the Murder of One Policeman and Injury to Another.

VICTIM TELLS OF TERRIBLE NIGHT

Alleges Military Authorities Failed to Find Anyone Responsible for Raids.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Charging that the "Black and Tan" militia in Ireland made raids without provocation, John Derham, town commissioner of Berbrigan, Ireland, today by the commission of the Committee of One Hundred investigating the Irish question what he described as details of the September raid on his home town which, he said, resulted in the death of half a dozen persons. "The 'Black and Tan' spent a night of yelling, burning and shooting," said Mr. Derham. "All of us were ready to collapse at each new outbreak, for we did not know what would happen to us next."

Alleged Soldiers Stabbed. The Berbrigan Commissioner decried that James Lawless and John Gibbons were stabbed, and claimed it was done by the militia, but said that an inquiry by the military authorities failed to establish who was responsible for the death of the men. He declared that a score of houses were burned and that the contents of these were looted.

Mr. Derham, recounting his personal grievances, told the committee he was dragged from his bed and severely beaten by troops, who, he said, gave no reason for their action, and then his own shop, over which he lived, was first ransacked and his stocks of liquors destroyed before his home was burned. He also alleged he was dragged along the street to the police barracks and finally was placed in the town's hotel along with a hundred strangers, all of whom he believed were held under arrest. His son, Matthew, also was clubbed and beaten by the police. Mr. Derham stated, but finally escaped.

Raid Was Reprisal. This raid followed the killing of one policeman and the wounding of another, Mr. Derham told the committee. The military inquiry, however, had failed to establish the identity of the persons who had killed the officer who was shot, Mr. Derham stated. Mr. Derham continued a lengthy recital on acts of violence which he attributed to "Black and Tan." These included the burning of houses, looting of stores, the raiding of bars and destruction of factories as well as the drinking of liquor in the streets.

BIG DRIVE IN U. S. FOR RECOGNITION OF BOLSHEVISTS

Wrangel's Defeat Heartens Friends of Lenin and Trotsky—After Harding.

(Copyright, 1920, By Public Ledger.)

Washington, Nov. 17.—Competent observers in Washington expect one of the early effects of General Wrangel's collapse to be a concerted effort by American sympathizers for recognition of the Bolshevist government. President-elect Harding's administration will be the target. "Reds and Cinks" in the United States are to say, respectively, outright partisans of Lenin and Trotsky, and semi-partisans—have for some time been conducting a widespread campaign to the effect that their hour would come with Republic victory at the presidential elections. The element in this country that favors recognition of the Bolshevist regime, as they style it, is a considerable one. It is said to include eminent names like Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, Norman Hapgood, late United States minister to Denmark; William Boyce Thompson, of New York; Raymond Robins, of Chicago, the social economist frequently mentioned as possible secretary of labor in the Harding cabinet; and writers prominently identified with the New York "Call," the "New Republic" and "The Nation." The "New Republic" in its last issue had a congratulatory editorial paragraph, glorifying the "decisive birthday present" which the impending overthrow of Wrangel would constitute for the Soviet government on the second anniversary of its establishment.

Best Hopes on Letter. The pro-Bolshevist party appear to be basing their hopes of American recognition in 1921 upon a letter which is alleged to have been written on April 10th of this year by Senator Harding. It was addressed to Major Stanley Washburn, of Lakewood, N. J., who was a member of the Root mission to Russia in 1917. Senator Harding is quoted as having written Washburn: "I have never at any time changed my views concerning Bolshevism, but I think we are coming to a point when there is no other course to pursue than to recognize the de facto government of Russia."

The occasion of the Harding letter to Washburn is said in Washington to have been a reply sent by Senator Harding, during the pre-convention campaign to a questionnaire addressed to Presidential candidates of all parties by the National Civic Federation at New York. Major Washburn appears to have entered into correspondence with Senator Harding after the nature of his reply to the Russian Federation became known. The reputed response of April 10th was the result, Secretary Colby's announcement, on the eve of election, that Washington D. C. Vandalist extorted gigantic concessions in Siberia from Lansing's government on the strength of "a letter

PARIS MEDIUMS REVEAL THEFTS

One Succeeds in Restoring Gems Worth $10,000 Stolen in Hotel.

Paris, Nov. 17.—Spiritist hypnotism, somnambulism, prophecy and other sorts of metaphysical novelties are being resorted to by war-weary Frenchwomen as an alternative for the use of drugs, which are prohibited, according to a psychic specialist who was interviewed by the Paris police in connection with mysterious prophecies which resulted in the arrest of a Jew that was wanted by the police.

According to Dr. Gustav Geley, who professes to be a friend of Camille Flammarion, Count de Gramont, Prof. Richet and many others in occult science, Paris has mediums who have proved beyond doubt their ability to solve the most difficult problems through the projection of their mental activities which in an increased state of far away places, and even over all the world.

Two Are Women

Two of these mediums are women, one of whom says she relies for guidance on her "spirit friends" in the underworld. It was added that she had succeeded in restoring gems worth $10,000 to a wealthy South American after they had been stolen from him in a popular Paris hotel. While the police have been unable to make the statements of the spiritists the French public and the newspapers here are not convinced and have commenced a heated discussion whether the whole affair is not faked with reputable investigators, such as M. Flammarion and Dr. Geley, brought in just to give publicity to spiritists.

The owner of the jewels admits he suspected a housemaid but was unable to prove her guilt. He went to a hypnotic seance, where he was informed by the sleeping subject, to whom he had said nothing: "You will find your gems under some old papers in a corner."

Found the Jewels.

Impressed by this experience, a few days later he called on a second mystic who described accurately the housemaid and the missing jewels and stated the position where the gems were hidden. Still doubting he hastened back to his home, where he found his gems and confronted the maid, who confessed, and who incidentally was wanted by the police in connection with other jewel robberies.

Dr. Geley is director of the International Institute of Metaphysics. He says there was no possibility of conviction and urges experts to concentrate their efforts on hypnotic study to give the world the explanation so long sought.

Meanwhile the mediums are elated over their work and are boldly advertising their seances, to which the curious and most wealthy persons in Paris are flocking every night. However, as usual, a majority of the seances are most palpable fakes and similar to those which aroused the ire of the American press a decade ago.

RAW MATERIALS LOW; FINISHED GOODS HIGH

Amazing Situation in Textile Industry—Retailers Do Not Want to Take Loss.

By HUGH DRYDEN (Copyright, 1920, By Cross Atlantic.) London, Nov. 19.—An amazing situation is rapidly developing in relation to the prices of textile manufactured articles. The prices of raw materials are slumping steadily and cotton is dropping almost fifty per cent, yet the retail prices of cotton goods are either stationary or increasing. There has been no downward trend as expected when the bottom started to fall out of the raw material market.

Retailers with large stocks, bought when prices were high, are faced with enormous losses. The public is not eager to purchase at high prices and the retailers are unwilling to cut, taking chances that something will turn up.

"Poor demand," is the cry in the raw material world to account for the slump in prices. The situation is going from bad to worse since February, the jobbers assert.

Sometimes we wonder what a man would do if he had to get up three meals a day for his wife, and vary 'em 'right along.

From Senator Harding," is now thrust from Senator Harding," is now thought Civic Federation communication. Mr. Colby adheres to his statement, which he says is founded on "prime fact evidence," that some such letter was exploited by Vanderlip in the interests of his American syndicate.

GERMAN STEEL HITS CANADA'S EMPIRE TRADE

Canadian Mills Have Little Chance of Securing Orders from Great Britain.

BELGIAN PRODUCTION FLOODING THE MARKET

Dominion Government Stuck With Product it Takes from Sydney Plant.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Cable advices from G. H. Flood, purchasing and contract agent of the marine department, who is in England looking into the market for Canadian steel plates, indicate that Canada will be able to dispose of but few of these plates in the Mother Country. It will be remembered that the government entered into a contract with the Dominion Iron and Steel Company to take a portion of the product of the Sydney plant and dispose of it. Consequently the government is now trying to dispose of a portion of the 1921 output of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company's plant.

German Steel Comes Mr. Flood states that German and Belgian competition in the steel market of Great Britain is now an appreciable factor and that Canada will meet with strong competition.

While the Federal government is trying to dispose of steel plates it is stated at the marine department that a contract for 2,500 tons of these plates for use on hydro-electric construction at Niagara Falls will be filled in the United States. The situation therefore appears to be that while the Federal government is seeking a market for its plates, plates for provincial work are being purchased in the United States.

Look Like Motor Boats

London, Nov. 15.—Atlantic liners, without funnels and resembling huge motor boats are to be the carriers of the future. The day of the four-funnelled steamer is gone. Thirteen new ships are being built for the Cunard line and it is probable many of them will sail from the Thames instead of from Liverpool or Southampton. The new ships will have only one funnel and will all be of burners. Marine engineers say that in the near future the liners will not have even a single funnel. They will look like giant motor boats with the exhaust at the sides. The cost of oil is about the same as coal, but there is an enormous saving of labor and time in bunkering the ship. The Aquitania is hours as it required days to coal her, now charged with oil in as many

TUXIS BOYS AND TRAIL RANGERS

On Saturday evening last, the Tuxis Boys, a club of the Y. G. C. A. Building for their monthly convalescence, after supper, Rev. W. B. Williston gave a splendid address on the Tuxis Boys, and then under the direction of Messrs. McEwen and Morton the boys spent a very enjoyable two hours in Glee and Tunes.

Every Tuxis Boy will eagerly look forward to the December Convalescence when Mr. Kipp (The Standard Publishing Company) will be the speaker. Mr. G. P. Watson, sponsor of delightful progress with the newly-formed "Trail Ranger" Camp at St. Bartholomew, Colbrook.

St. Mary's Tuxis Boys are all busy this week preparing for their social on the 28th, when the Older C. G. I. T. girls will be their guests.

Portland Mechanics and boys are putting themselves on the back these days, because they accumulated the most points at the Convalescence, Saturday night.

What Will Education Do For Your Character?

"Sow a thought and reap an act; sow a character and reap a destiny." Leave out the middle terms. "Sow a thought and reap a destiny"—and you are startled by the power of thought. In these wonderful collections of Hebrew wisdom known as the Proverbs, those are the words, "As he thinketh within himself, so he is by his words." If education is primarily teaching a man to think, to control his thoughts, to be master of his mind, it is an absolute essential in the matter of character-building. The secret of noble character is the cultivation of noble thought.

The college is not the only place, of course, where noble character may be cultivated, but one advantage of the college education consists in the fact that for four years a man is brought into daily contact with the great minds and characters of the ages and he cannot escape from the influence of their exalting power. Not every college near becomes a noble character, but man's chances for this attainment are greatly multiplied by the opportunities of a college education. Education is the preparation of an individual to meet and to master his environment. Of course it will help a man to make a living, but its supreme purpose is to enable him to make a life. Even if one is never to be known outside his own community he ought to be educated, for it is only thus that he is equipped for a happy private life. Four years in college will enlarge a man's horizon and reveal to him new worlds. It will give an air of richness and beauty to life. It will help him to know the world in which he lives. The real purpose of education is not to cram the memory with facts but to equip the whole man to fulfill the purposes for which he was created; not to make us seem greater to the world, but to make the world seem greater to us. Education puts a man into fellowship with all the ages. It enables him to listen intelligently to the words of the prophets and the masters of the centuries talk to him. It multiplies his life in his own generation. He will live more in a day than an ignorant man can live in a century.

Thirty Years A Landscape Painter

(Staff Correspondent Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service, Inc.) London, Nov. 12.—Lionel Masarro, the eldest son of Camille Masarro, the great French Impressionist painter, is holding a retrospective exhibition of his work at the Hampstead Art Gallery. He is now 57 years old, and has worked in England for the last 20 years; he is a naturalized Englishman. The Tate Gallery, and the Municipal Galleries of Manchester and Leeds, possess examples of his work.

He is a landscape painter, and his work is characterized by a deep and tranquil emotion. His landscapes are decorative in design, full of atmosphere, and vibrant with light in all their delicate gradations of color. "The Horseman's Hill, Upland," for instance, in its radiant simplicity and delicacy, is a delightful example of his inebriated and unrefined art; it is just a row of dingy among some-covered hills. "La Clate des Fleuchies, Kew Gardens," with its noble avenue of trees, covers all the melancholy sentiment of a system, and "The Thames at Lambeth" is true to the cold, gray atmosphere of a typical London day. Besides the oil pictures, there are a number of delightful drawings in colored chalk of scenes both in England and France.

Sportsman Artist. Mr. J. L. Raynor, a most illuminative writer on art subjects, and Principal of the Eldar Gallery, contends that sport in England has never received sufficiently the attention of the painter, but that this sphere has been left almost entirely to the black-and-white artist. He has discovered in Algernon Newton a combination of born painter and sportsman; one, who, he says, has painted in his veins his grandfather being one of the original founders of Newton and Newton, the famous firm of color-makers. Fortunately Algernon Newton is painter first, and sportsman after; sport, in his fine pictures of rolling downs, green vistas and with sparsely skied, is so harmoniously and happily subordinated to the environment, that it seems a natural integral of the landscape. Cricket, polo, hunting, racing and coaching etc., are the sports dealt with. The horse he paints with consummate skill. In his "Gatwick," the horses and jockeys are silhouetted against a fine open sky, as they race madly along the brow of a semi-circular hill. It is a most effective and admirable picture. "The Derby, 1898" shows the vast expanse of Epsom Downs, with its great crowds all merged in the landscape. It is a purely intellectual conception. In a view, not of the Derby, but of the Derby, as merged in greater Nature. As a work of art it has nothing in common with Fritz's "Derby Day." An altogether attractive work is "The Meet at the Travellers' Friend," with its delightfully picturesque old hostel in the

Thirty-Eight Years As A Missionary

Miss Blackadar, Worker in Trinidad, Addressed Presbyterian Missionary Societies.

The good results attained by Presbyterian missionaries working among the coolies on the plantations of Trinidad were described in a thoroughly interesting manner by Miss Blackadar in St. Andrew's Church last evening. The speaker, who has spent thirty-eight years as a missionary in Trinidad, addressed the United Women's Missionary Societies of St. Andrew's, St. David's, and Carleton Presbyterian churches, assembled at their annual thank offering service.

Described Conditions Miss Blackadar described the conditions among the coolies when she first went to the island in 1876 as deplorable. Her first school was the ruins of an old stable, the floor was of mud, and packing boxes were used for chairs and desks.

The coolies showed a great aptness for education when afforded an opportunity to acquire it, and today, as a result of the schools established a number have risen to prominent places in the community. One of Miss Blackadar's early pupils is today a member of the local parliament, while heart of the down, rendezvous for red-coated hunters. Newton works mainly in water-color.

Salvation Army Holiness Meeting

Visiting Officers at Charlotte St. Citadel—Able Address by Commissioner Richards.

An illuminating address by Commissioner Richards, Territorial Commander of Eastern Canada was the feature of a largely attended holiness meeting held last evening at the Charlotte street Citadel. Lieut. Colonel Adby of Toronto gave out the songs and led the splendid singing. Several young people came forward for salvation, and others were led to offer themselves for the service of the Army. A spirit of devotion and religious fervor marked the meeting. On the platform with Commissioner Richards and Lieut. Colonel Adby were Adjutant Joseph Barr who is in charge of Young People's Work for Eastern Canada, Captain Ellery at the head of the Girl Guides who, in her neat uniform of a first class guide, is a splendid type of Salvation Army, officers of all city corps and some visitors.

An Able Address In his address, which was upon "The Holy Spirit," Commissioner Richards pointed out the fruits of the spirit as shown in the good deeds of men and women. He compared the Holy Ghost to light, proving that as darkness is dispelled by light, so sin is driven out by the Holy Spirit which is God the Third Person of the Blessed Trinity. Speaking of his life before he sur-

The Chief Work
At present the chief work is sending through the province literature appealing for relief for the eleven million starving children of Europe. During the past few days Miss Jarvis has had assistance in this work of mailing circulars from the following helpers: Miss Broth Jones, Miss Helen Hayes, W. A. D'S, Mrs. Christie, Mrs. Hendrie, Miss Sandler, Miss Sisson, Miss Barker of the Local Red Cross, Misses Audrey Hinkins, Viola McArthur, Constance Watson, Marion Curry, June Currey, Margaret Page of Gimmesdale School. Boy Scouts will distribute literature for the city appeal which is being largely undertaken by members of the Rotary Club and others interested in war sufferers. Herbert Daniels is in charge of advertising. No one can fail to be touched by the pitiful cases of disease, hunger and poverty in Central Europe and the large amount of publicity given to the dire need of these people must bring forth a generous response.

Prof. Hontine Guest Of Canadian Club

Members Heard Able Address from Visitor on "The Moral Element in Democracy."

The Canadian Club had as its guest Professor M. A. Hontine, of Chicago, Ill., at the luncheon yesterday evening at Bond's restaurant. The speaker's subject was: "The Moral Element in Democracy" which he dealt with in a very masterly manner.
The President, A. M. Belding, in introducing the guest of the club remarked that the attendance on this occasion was very good, but he considered that it should be even larger. On Thursday evening, John A. Stewart, of New York City, will be the speaker, and he will deal with the question of Anglo-Saxon Solidarity. He also stated that there had been a considerable increase in the number of democracies in the world during the last six years, and expressed the hope that the old type of autocracy had, in the past few years, been replaced by a new type of autocracy had, however, arisen in Russia recently, but it probably will suffer defeat. The phrases "making the world safe for democracy" and "making democracy safe for the world," have been very much in use of late years, and for this reason the subject upon which the guest of the club purposed to speak was a very interesting one.

Delighted With Canada.

The president then introduced Professor M. A. Hontine, who, during the course of his address, stated: "I am very glad to meet you on this occasion. I assure you, I have had the pleasure of spending at least four weeks in your Dominion, including Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, and I am delighted with Canada and the Canadian people. I am going to talk to you on the moral element in democracy. If I were a minister I would take the text 'Let us Make Men,' and discuss the elements that enter into the making of the human race in respect to the child. There are three essential things, namely, what he is; what he has, and what he does. In other words, what he is by heredity; what he is by environment; and what he has and does by doing by both. Every child that comes into this world has the right to be born possessed of a sound mind and body. There is not a case on record, however, where a man has married a weak-minded woman, morally speaking, the children of which marriage have not been morally feeble-minded by a large majority. If you do not agree with me, read 'God, Dard's Study of the Kallakak Family.' This man was an officer in the revolutionary army, who lived with a morally feeble-minded woman. As a result of this illicit relationship, practically every child born was feeble-minded, and the number of their descendants amounted to four hundred and eighty-six, of which only forty-six were normal. The rest were mental and moral delinquents. He subsequently married a Quaker girl of very good family, and they had four hundred and ninety-nine descendants, of which only one was defective, and two moral delinquents. There are some poor souls born into this world so warped and twisted that nothing will prevent them from committing crimes."
More Feeble-Minded.
More feeble-minded people exist in the United States today than ever before; and using the period which the population of that country increased thirty per cent. A prominent professor claimed recently that Harvard had made Theodore Roosevelt. Harvard did not do so; all it did was to give Roosevelt a chance to make himself; otherwise they should be able to turn out many other Roosevelts. Politically, it is thought that all men born equally mentally, but biologically we are not. Education, as nature determines. Environment, as nature determines. Environment, as nature determines, however, furnish the proper stimulation for a man to show his true natural mental capacity. Bad heredity may be made dominant in good environment.
"If I were asked for a synonym for the word education, I would say 'chance.' Education is the changing of an individual from what he is to what he is capable of becoming only. This world in which we live is a great university, in which we should be tutors and students at the same time. Education rests on three things—study, teaching and learning. Democracy will rest on the dual foundation; one is intelligence and the other is righteousness. A democratic government will not stand on any other foundation; and we must look to the church for assistance. Education and righteousness have not kept pace, as many who have acquired education do not practice righteousness."
Must Provide Fund.
"It is necessary that education must provide a fund of practical information which will also result in the creation of righteous ideas towards God, oneself, society and our homes. If our system of education will do this, then it is indeed valuable. The church should lay stress on service as well as doctrine. The church of the future can never alter ecclesiastical interest to run counter to community and kingdom interest; and there must also be a federating of both talent and resources. The guiding star of the entire teaching process is interest; and this must be appreciated in ecclesiastical colleges and

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS:—

By HELEN ROWLAND (Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.) Being the Confessions of the Seventh-Hundredth Wife.

By daughter, the heart is like unto a well; which goeth stagnant with neglect, but runneth dry if overworked.
Hear, then, the Confession of a Basse Bachelor who hath gone the Round of Love, and hath known too MUCH women.
"Alas, alas," he sigheth, "all life is as the menu of a cheap table d'hôte on a Monday, yesterday, and forever."
"What profit hath a man of all the moneys wherewith he hath labored, when there is no wine to spend it for; what joy hath he of all the women wherewith he hath flirted, when there is no novelty in them?"
"Behold, to-day is as dull as another, one kist is no more thrilling than another, one marriage is as stupid as another, and of women there are only two varieties:
"Those who are bold and athletic—and those who are subtle and synthetic."
"Those who wear eyeglasses and talk politics—and those who wear knee-length skirts and talk baby-talk."
"Those who say, 'How dare you!'—and those who say, 'Come hither!'"
"Those whom I do not dare to kiss—and those whom I do not care to kiss."
"Those who are married and unattainable—and those who are after marriage and inescapable."
"Those who bore me to exasperation—and those who frighten me to desperation."
"Those who bob their hair and try to look 'literary'—and those who benna their hair and try to look 'kittenish.'"
"Those who would drive me to distraction—and those who would lure me to destruction."
"Those who trust in outja boards and believe everything I tell them—and those who trust no man, and believe nothing I tell them."
"Those who seek to reform me—and those who seek to flatter me."
"Those who carry lap-dogs—and those who carry longnettes."
"Those who are too stumpy to be interesting—and those who are too sophisticated to be fascinating."
"Those who talk sex-problems and read Freud—and those who talk gossip and read the society columns."
"Those who ask me how to vote—and those who TELL me how to vote."
"Those who soothe my headaches—and those who give me headaches."
"Those who are more insipid than fudge—and those who are more insipid than wine."
"Those who elude me—and those who pursue me."
"Those who make me wonder—and those who make me weary!"
"Then have pity upon me! For I am as one that walketh blindfolded amidst speeding automobiles. I know not which of these shall 'get me!'"
"For, alas, all diversions have become dull, and all variety is monotonous."
"And there is nothing new under the sun—save MATRIMONY; and nothing left me to do, save PLAY GOLF and grow selfish—or marry and grow FAT!"
Such, my Daughter, is the punishment of the Heartbreaker, who hath played too long at the Game of Love.

New Department At East St. John Kindergarten for 12 Children Inmates of County Hospital Giving Great Satisfaction.

A new department has been opened at East St. John County Hospital which is giving great satisfaction. This is a kindergarten for the twelve children, inmates of the County Hospital, who up to this time, have received no instruction whatever. One child has been four years at the hospital without being able to learn a thing.
Dr. Farris who has infinite faith in the good hearts of St. John people, engaged Miss Woodrow, trusting that the financial difficulty would be solved by patriotic societies. He has appealed to the Daughters of the Empire, the Y. W. P. A., and several other organizations and individuals, and has had assurances of support.
Begin Teaching Children
Miss Woodrow began teaching the children in the Children's ward on Monday, and all inmates of the hospital are pleased with the result of her work. The youngsters are delighted with kindergarten handicrafts, and the games they are allowed to play under the direction of the doctors. Their minds are being developed in an entertaining way, and when the rest period comes they are unwilling to leave off the fascinating work. Nurses are pleased because the children are no longer fractious, getting out of bed and running around the ward getting chilled.
The doctors have noticed an improvement already in the health of the children who are being kept quiet and amused in a way which is of benefit to both mind and body. And the adult patients, well they are, perhaps, the most pleased of all because no longer do cries and wails come from the children's ward, where peace now reigns. Childish laughter may be heard, but that sound annoys no one.
A Bright Girl
A little patient, who has spent four years at the hospital, is a bright girl and is taking to the instruction readily. She is going to get well, the doctors say, and thus will not be so far

ST. PETER'S RECTOR GOING TO ROME

Very Rev. Wm. Hogan, C. S. R., Chosen on Delegation—Leaves Next May.

The Very Rev. William Hogan, C. S. R., rector of St. Peter's church, was chosen as one of the two priests of the Redemptorist Order in Canada who will be members of a delegation to Rome in connection with business of the order. Father Hogan was chosen at a meeting of redemptorist rectors in Montreal recently. He will leave for Rome some time in May of next year.

The management feel they are to be congratulated upon securing Miss Woodrow, who has made friends with the children, and who is co-operating with the doctors and nurses in effecting cures among these little ones.

Salts Is Fine For Kidneys, Quit Meat

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.
The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.
Jad Salt is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

"Come on! Put more life into your dying, there!" he shouted.

Of Course, the Women Liked It

On special occasions, such as an afternoon tea, the new Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea had its first introduction to many of the women of Canada.
And at such times its extra qualities could be discussed and enjoyed at leisure.

The women found that its aroma is delicate and delightful, that it has a bright sparkling amber color in the cup, that the flavor is of rare charm and distinction, while its strength is rich and satisfying.

The more cultivated your taste, the more you will appreciate Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea.

Parents Should be Careful.

Father and mothers should carefully look into the heredity of their future sons-in-law and daughters-in-law, as you cannot make a healthy crop out of diseased seed. No subject is so much misunderstood as that of heredity, as we transmit what we receive and not what we acquire. A prominent professor claimed recently that Harvard had made Theodore Roosevelt. Harvard did not do so; all it did was to give Roosevelt a chance to make himself; otherwise they should be able to turn out many other Roosevelts. Politically, it is thought that all men born equally mentally, but biologically we are not. Education, as nature determines. Environment, as nature determines, however, furnish the proper stimulation for a man to show his true natural mental capacity. Bad heredity may be made dominant in good environment.
"If I were asked for a synonym for the word education, I would say 'chance.' Education is the changing of an individual from what he is to what he is capable of becoming only. This world in which we live is a great university, in which we should be tutors and students at the same time. Education rests on three things—study, teaching and learning. Democracy will rest on the dual foundation; one is intelligence and the other is righteousness. A democratic government will not stand on any other foundation; and we must look to the church for assistance. Education and righteousness have not kept pace, as many who have acquired education do not practice righteousness."
Must Provide Fund.
"It is necessary that education must provide a fund of practical information which will also result in the creation of righteous ideas towards God, oneself, society and our homes. If our system of education will do this, then it is indeed valuable. The church should lay stress on service as well as doctrine. The church of the future can never alter ecclesiastical interest to run counter to community and kingdom interest; and there must also be a federating of both talent and resources. The guiding star of the entire teaching process is interest; and this must be appreciated in ecclesiastical colleges and

STRANGE POISONING!

The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves. By experimenting and analysis at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce discovered a combination of native remedies that he called "Anuric"—which drives out the uric acid from the system, and in this way the pain, swelling and inflammation subside. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, backache, pains here or there, you should obtain "Anuric" at the drug store; or send Dr. Pierce 10c for trial package. "Anuric" is many times more potent than lithia.

EVERY headache has a meaning—and you should heed this warning of nature. If you would avoid more serious complaints, a headache frequently points to the failure of the kidneys to perform their natural functions.

Gin Pills remove both headaches and cause, by restoring the kidney action to normal. If you let the cause go unchecked, you may incur years of sufferderanged kidneys.

Dredging of Marsh Creek

Dispute Between Commissioners and C. N. R. Over Pond-age Was Settled Yesterday.

The dispute between the Great Marsh Commissioners and the C. N. R. over the matter of pondage for the Marsh Creek, was settled yesterday at a conference held at the Board of Trade rooms between Engineer Torrance of the C. N. R., the Great Marsh Commissioners, a committee from the Board of Trade, B. M. Hill, provincial engineer, and G. G. Hara, city engineer.

Mr. Torrance presented a plan providing for the dredging of the creek near Jartins's bridge to low water mark and gradually widening the channel as it neared the top. This would give the pondage 66,000 cubic yards, regarded by the Marsh Commissioners as necessary to prevent overflow, and was acceptable to them and the city and provincial engineers.

"I don't understand why I should be so tired in the mornings."

"ARE you often that way?"
"Why, for months I have felt wretched every morning. And it is not because I do not go to bed early enough."
"How do you sleep?"
"Not very well. Lots of nights I lie awake for hours, restless and fidgety, thinking about everything, but not resting or sleeping."
"Have you consulted a doctor?"
"Yes. The doctor says I am anemic;
the blood is thin and watery, and the nervous system run down for want of proper nutrition."
"Are you taking any medicine?"
"No, not now; he gave me some tablets to make me sleep, but I had to keep on taking them, and I could not see that they were of any lasting benefit. I don't like drugging myself that way."
"Why don't you try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?"
"I don't know just why, unless it is because I thought it was only for the nerves, whereas what I need is something to enrich the blood."
"Well, that is exactly what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does. It is only by enriching the blood that you can restore exhausted nerves."
"Perhaps I should try it."
"Certainly would if I were you, for I know it is wonderful the way it helps some people who are anemic and generally run down in health."
"I have no appetite, you know, and what I do eat does not seem to go to the improvement of the blood. When one gets in that condition it is most discouraging.
This is why I have such blue days sometimes, and I do hope the Nerve Food will help me."
"I am sure you will not be disappointed, and if I were you I would not lose a day before getting started with this treatment."

Winter Sailing
List of C. P. O. S.

No Less Than Thirteen Big Liners for St. John—Melita Opens Season.

Two announcements have created considerable interest in shipping circles, namely, the winter sailing list of the C. P. O. S. and the strong possibility of the Cunard S.S. Co. taking up the old Hamburg-American line Canadian trade. It was stated that the Cunard liner Saxonia would sail from Halifax to Plymouth, Cherbourg and Hamburg in December.

Thirteen Liners Coming

The winter sailing of the huge
C. P. O. S. fleet of liners show at once that St. John is to be the C. P. O. S. winter port. No less than thirteen big liners, combining the Montreal and Quebec summer services, are concentrated at the port of St. John, N. B.

The opening of the C. P. O. S. winter service from St. John, N. B., is by the liner Melita, direct for Liverpool.
The Melita will be followed out of St. John the next day by the Corsican bound for Havre and London.

For London—out of St. John there are the Corsican, Scotian and Tan-lan. Two liners are for Antwerp and Southampton, namely, the Scandinavian and Granplan, and two for Glasgow, the Pretorian and Sicilian.

Empress of Britain

There is still some slight doubt as to the routing of the Empress of Britain, the first oil burner to run to St.
John for the C. P. O. S. The suggestion that the Empress of Britain would make regular runs to Halifax is not being carried out. She will take fuel there only and, perhaps, in case of emergency take on a few passengers.
This could be done by tender between Halifax and Dartmouth, where the oil wharves are located.

Paving Programme
Before Council

Over Three Quarters of a Million Expenditure Proposed by Commissioner Frink.

Commissioner Frink yesterday laid before the council a paving programme calling for an expenditure of $725,000 to be distributed over the next two or three years.
Copies of the recommendation covering the details of the work, and the amount which it is estimated the work on each street would cost, have been given each commissioner, and will be discussed later in council. The programme, as outlined by the commissioner on the advice of the road engineer, is a most comprehensive one and covers every section of the city, and when completed will give a network of trust streets with permanent pavement.

The Proposition

The proposition laid before the council yesterday calls for the paving of Douglas Avenue, Brussels street, Hay-market Square, Marsh Road to the county line, Water street from Duke to Saxonia's Point, Prince street from Charlotte to Road's Point; Charlotte from Brittain to Broad; Mocklenburg from Westworth to Frink; Duke from Germain to Charlotte; and from Sydney to Westworth; Market Square; St. James from Prince William to Frink; King street, west from Union to Ludlow, and Ludlow from King to Prince.

The work, which he considered the most urgent, was Douglas Avenue, Brussels street, Marsh Road and Hay-market Square, and this called for an expenditure of $480,190.

An application from the New Brunswick Telephone Co. for permission to erect two poles on Vibart street was referred to the commissioner of public works for a report.

City Work For Returned Men

Mayor Schofield Requests
Commissioners to Arrange Work for Next Season.

Mayor Schofield yesterday requested the commissioners to try and arrange to have any work which could be carried on during the winter in preparation for next season's work done in order to provide work especially for returned soldiers, who might be out of employment.

He called attention to the fact that many were now out of work, and from all indications the situation would get worse instead of better as the season advanced. It was the duty of the city to look after them, and if work could be provided for them, he would be glad to have it done. He would not stand by and see the men who fought and died for the empire suffer for returned soldiers, who might be
out of employment.

niles who pleaded guilty, on Thursday, to breaking and entering several summer cottages on Sandy Point Road, allowed to go on suspended sentence and the rest remanded.

One juvenile charged with breaking and entering the store of Albert Roan on Bridge street, pleaded guilty and trial Home from which he escaped recently.

drunk and was remanded.

Stop Off May Be At St. John

When River is Frozen St. John Will be Landing Place for Hydroplanes This Winter.

Another flight via the St. John River route from Upper Canada to Halifax is to be attempted before navigation closes if conditions permit, according to word received yesterday from the Canada Air Board.

Another hydro-plane now in Quebec is to be taken to Halifax for the winter and reports are being made daily from Fredericton to the Air Board on principally regarding floating ice and the weather. If a landing cannot be made in the river, the stop off may be at St. John, where the harbor would be available for a landing to refuel the machine.

So far no definite plans have been reached as to making St. John the port of call for the next six months, but this plan appears to be the most suitable and will, undoubtedly, be taken advantage of.

BOMB IN SEWER

Madrid, Nov. 19.—A bomb which had been placed in a water conduit in a street here, exploded last evening, injuring a child and doing great property damage. The outrage, the authors of which are unknown, is attributed to a recrudescence of the terrorist campaign in Madrid.

BANKER FALLS DEAD

Lunenburg, N. S., Nov. 19.—J. M.

the Government Savings Bank here, dropped dead while at work yesterday.
He was the son of Hon. William Rud-olfo, who represented Lunenburg County in the provincial legislature for many years.

AIRSHIP IS SAFE

Havana, Nov. 19.—Fears that the hydro-airplane Santa Maria, which left Key West at four thirty o'clock yesterday afternoon for the city, has been lost, were dispelled early today when reports were received that the machin had landed at Santa Cruz, a small port, fifteen miles from base.

CAN DO MORE WORK

Quebec Man States Tanlac
Has Put Him in Fine Shape and He Feels Like a Brand New Person.

"Tanlac has relieved me of a condition that was getting to be alarming, and has made me feel like a brand new man," said William Morton, a moulder employed by the St. Malo Foundry, Quebec, living at 462 Lavigueur street.

Since taking Tanlac I can do more and better work in a day and do it easier than at any time for years. I suffered from a bad case of stomach trouble, and for hours every day I was in perfect misery from the blood-and intense pains caused by gas on my stomach.

"I had awful spells of dizziness, when everything turned black before me, and was so nervous it was impossible for me to sleep at night. I had to force myself to eat enough to keep going, and it was alarming the way I fell off in weight. All my strength and energy just seemed to be slipping away from me and nothing in the world but sheer will power enabled me to get through my work."
"But I began taking Tanlac and was the best thing I ever did, for now I have a tremendous appetite and can eat anything I want and as much as I want, and never suffer a particle from indigestion. I have gained eleven pounds in weight and feel so much better that there is simply no comparison. I just can't say enough in praise of Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co. and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

HEARTBURN LIVER TROUBLE

When the liver becomes torpid and inflamed, it cannot furnish sufficient bile to the bowels, thus causing them to become constipated.

The stomach is also affected. In the case of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach, attended by disturbed appetite, caused by great acidity. Whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and become extremely sour, vomiting often occurs; and what is thrown up, is sour and sometimes bitter.

Other liver trouble symptoms are pain under the right shoulder, yellow-ness of the skin and eyes, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, foul breath,
water brash, jaundice, constipation,
etc.

Keep your liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles. Being purely vegetable they do not grip, weaken or sicken like the old-fashioned purgatives generally do.

Mrs. Mary Strome, Glasnevin, Sask., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of heartburn and liver trouble. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine, and I can highly recommend them."

Ross Withdraws His Application

Canadian Commander Had Applied for Jockey's License for Carvell Shilling.

New York, Nov. 19.—Commander U. K. L. Ross, at a meeting of the stewards of the Jockey Club here yesterday, withdrew his application for a jockey's license for Carvell Shilling, barred several years ago. The former jockey, it was announced, authorized Commander Ross to inform the stewards that as long as he remained in Ross' employ, he would make no further effort, either to obtain a hearing or a license to ride. Commander Ross also withdrew his application to the Maryland State Racing Commission, for a license for Shilling. It was decided to hold a conference between the jockey club and the Maryland State Racing Commission at a date to be agreed upon before the Maryland Racing season ends.

Ask Release of Jack Johnson

Negro Attorney on Way to Washington—Former Champion is Serving a Year.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 19.—Elisha Scott, a negro attorney, of Topeka, today was on his way to Washington, to ask the federal board for the release of Jack Johnson, the former heavyweight champion, from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas. Johnson has served two months of a sentence of one year and a day for violation of the Mann Act. He also was fined one thousand dollars. Scott said that Johnson would pay the fine at once if a pardon was granted.

Every club in the major leagues waived on Gedeon, Quinn said.

Canadians Seek The Yachting Cup

The Canadians are planning to come after the Seawanhaka Challenge Cup for small yachts next season. This trophy is now held by the Manchester Yacht Club. Originally the cup was for what were called one-raters or sloops, about 17 feet on the water line. They were racing machines pure and simple, but they furnished good sport. It is some years since there was a race for this prize, and Canadian yachtsmen who held it for a long time expect to try to win it. They favor a boat, however, of more wholesome type, and the members of the Manchester Yacht Club were of the same opinion. As the trophy was given by the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club, that organization was consulted, and it has sanctioned a change in the deed of gift so that in future sloops of Class R, may compete. Class R sloops are about 25 feet on the water line and draw 5.5 feet. They are well suited to weather conditions along the American coast.

BRITISH PICTURE WAS SCREENED

A private screening of a British Production "Show in the Desert" was given last evening at the Unique Theatre after the regular show. This picture is one of the Anglo-Canadian films which have excited so much favorable comment wherever shown. Its stars, Stewart Rome and Violet Hopson are both exceedingly popular on the other side. Miss Hopson being very beautiful. The photography throughout cannot be found fault with and the acting is that perfection of the act which is so natural that it does not seem like acting. The story tells of the taming of a shrew and the softening of a self-made man whose fight against circumstances has made him stern and unyielding. Love conquers both and the happy ending sent the audience, made up of some of St. John's movie fans away well pleased with the excellent story, the settings, charming star, lovely gowns and artistic photography. This is one of the pictures made since the war and proves that the British, though hampered by their four years of war are able to put out wonderful motion pictures. They have the locations near at hand without having to build a fake London, Paris or Venice and, as in this film, the British views introduced gave great pleasure to a Canadian audience.

Baseball Fans Craziest Type

Famous Alienist Says That Diamond Fan is Worst Kind of Lunatic.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—All the world is abuzz and people in it merely innocents in the opinion of Dr. Charles H. Hill, alienist in many legal cases involving insanity and head of the sanitarium at Mount Hope. And of all the crazy people on the earth today the learned doctor avers that the baseball fan is the worst. Most persons who frequent the baseball parks have been of this opinion that the umpires are crazy, but Dr. Hill says it is the baseball fan himself who actually is insane.

Gets Impression at Baltimore.

The doctor received his impression of baseball insanity from the actions of fans in the Oriole park in Baltimore, never saw Babe Ruth stalk up to the plate and await the pail into the grandstand for a homer with its subsequent wild effect on some 30,000 or 40,000 people. It is a one best bet that if he ever invaded the Polo grounds in New York he would recommend a straight jacket and handcuffs, as a necessary article in every home.

The whole world is suffering from a "penumbral mental condition," whatever that is, according to Dr. Hill. For he avers, this insanity has been held in restraint by strong royal forces. But during the war this restraint snapped. Dr. Hill declares, no one who has seen the world since the war is sane. Recent mob affairs in Illinois the west bear out his statements regarding the insanity of people in general, the alienist believes. The urge to wild, irresponsible actions just breaks all bounds, he says, and breaks through moral restraint, creating havoc everywhere.

Very Few People Are Going South

Exodus of Residents for Winter Season Less This Year—The Reasons Given.

The exodus of residents of this city to North Carolina, Florida, California and other sunny southern states is so far been very perceptibly less than that which took place during the last four or five years. One prominent citizen, when questioned as to the reason for this decrease in the number of winter migrants from St. John, stated that as long as the weather remained as it is he was quite content to stay here. Another gentleman was of the opinion that in some cases adverse business conditions tended to keep men here who would otherwise seek warmer climes, as this was a critical year in business circles. He also declared that there is now a great scarcity of houses and apartments in Los Angeles, Cal. and as a result many of the winter residents are living in tents on the outskirts of the city. There is a further reason which may account for the non-departure of so many citizens for the coming cold months, and that is the unfavorable rate of exchange of suffering from a discount of the Canadian dollar.

Foggy Weather Below Average

St. John Was Visited by Fog on Thirty-Five Days Since January 1.

St. John citizens and visitors have had no real reason to complain of fog conditions here during the past eleven months, for, according to information received by The Standard yesterday from the observatory, meteorological service, this year has been below the average for fog. From the first of January to date, there has been only thirty-five days of fog, to say days of fog does not mean continuous foggy weather for 24 hours, as D. L. Hutchinson, the director of the meteorological observatory on Douglas Ave., does not keep the hours of foggy weather. But at any time during day or night that there is fog, it is registered as a day, so when it is stated that St. John has had thirty-five days of fog, it does not mean that it has had 239 hours of fog, on some of the days mentioned there may have only been a few hours of thick weather, but this goes on record as a day.

Table showing fog days from January to November. Total: 35 days.

State No Grounds For A Protest

Local High School Football Team Receive Word from Trustees.

The local High School Football team received word yesterday from the trustees of the U. N. B. Athletic Association that their protest of the game recently played at Fredericton with the capital's team had been received. In the opinion of the U. N. B. Association, the trustees of the cup, there was no grounds for protest. They said several of their members had witnessed the game and were of the opinion that the touch-down claimed by the St. John team had been made out of touch. They therefore would abide by the referee's decision in calling the game a tie. As a result of this ruling, the interscholastic series of 1920 will go to Fredericton.

Brainy Is This Man Carpenter

Georges Carpentier, 'the apostle of clean sports,' as one noted New York sporting writer has called him, is said to be the most learned man who ever donned fighting togs. This French whirlwind, undisputed heavyweight champion of Europe, whose exploits in the ring are, if anything, excelled by his daring deeds in the world-war, for which he was thrice decorated, is appearing in "The Wonder Man," a Robertson-Cole super-special moving picture.

Will Georges Equal?

There is not a doubt but that Carpentier owes his success as much to his keen mentality and vivid imagination, as to his physical prowess and mastery of the art of fisticuffs.

Such an Attitude of Mind

Such an attitude of mind can be likened to the dramatic instinct of an actor. The really great actor never does the same piece of "business" in the same way. He rises to the occasion, meets the temper of his audience, in other words, he works on the psychology of the moment, and creates the desired effect.

WILL GEORGES EQUAL?

New York, Nov. 19.—Some of the fly boys are now betting that Georges Carpentier will make more in the ring in this country than Man of War has made on the track.

Fifty Dollars a Month

(Guaranteed to you by the Canada Life) You know of men well up in years who are still "drudging along". They cannot stop if they would, but must go on to the end of their days working for a living. You can avoid that.

How Fifty Dollars a Month looks to the Average Man. Age 20—Happy on Fifty Dollars a month.

Age 21—Fifty Dollars a month is not enough.

Age 35—Thinks he can easily afford to "spend" Fifty Dollars a month.

Age 50—Things are not going as well as they were.

Age 55—Strange how these assets have depreciated. Fifty Dollars a month is good interest on $10,000, and not to be despised.

Age 60—He finds Fifty Dollars a month pension, added to what income is left, brings happiness.

Why Not Pension Yourself? Why not "take stock" of your present financial position—to size up your personal affairs and decide on a plan for the future?

Our New Pension Plan guarantees that upon reaching a certain age in life, you will receive a monthly cheque for $50.00, $100, $200, $250—as you may now decide—and this monthly payment cannot cease as long as you live.

An Income for Life. Think what it may mean to you to be certain of an income right up to the end of life, when you consider that 97% of people in their later years are partially or wholly dependent upon others for support.

When they were younger they did not have the chance now offered you. It was not then possible to secure such a convenient and certain provision as this Monthly Pension Plan.

And This is Not All. Suppose some day before you reach age sixty you meet with a mishap and become totally and permanently disabled through accident, illness or any cause.

There are many other benefits. An average deposit of only a few dollars a month will return you $50.00 a month later on.

SUFFERINGS OF EARLIER LIFE PROVIDE THEMES

Winner of Nobel Prize Had Hard Struggle in Younger Days.

ONE TIME STREET CAR CONDUCTOR

Spent Some Time off Newfoundland Bank in a Fishing Craft.

Of unusual interest is the announcement that the Nobel Prize for literature has just been awarded to Knut Hamsun, the Norwegian novelist who lived in America to a number of years.

Throughout the rich coloring of his stories there runs the sombre hue of his own early sufferings. Thus, in his first novel, "Hunger," he depicts the early career of a Norwegian itinerant who is compelled to live day after day without eating so much as a crumb of bread.

His Soul Unalarmed.

Yet, throughout it all, not a word of bitterness passes his lips. He merely argues with his Creator, in plaintive and bewilderment tones, asking Him the why of it all.

In another of his unique sketches he thus describes the lonely life as one of the crew of a fishing schooner of the Newfoundland coast: "Months after months we remained on the ocean catching fish. We were not sailors, but fishermen. A sailor is always bound for some port, some haven where he may rest after his long voyage. But we remained in the same spot, always fishing in silence.

Dramatic Short Story.

His "Woman Triumphant" contains an interesting account of his career as a street car conductor in Chicago. Unable to save enough money with which to buy a fur-lined vest, he is obliged to ride on his car during the winter months with his back and chest padded with old newspapers as a protection against the cold; and it is a standing joke among his comrades at the car barns to jostle against him in order to hear the agitation of the paper concealed about his body.

His experience on the street cars, however, gave him material for one of his most dramatic short stories. A young man once described his car and tells him that his wife's affections are becoming alienated. In order to retain her love he takes the conductor's job. At a certain point on the route this car passes over a man-hole. The young man will climb into his hole, leaving only his head visible above the surface, for his wife will take a trip on this car. She will of course see her husband trying to commit suicide; she will take compassion on him, and all will be well. The car must naturally be stopped just in the nick of time; and the young man pay ten dollars each to the motorman and to the conductor in order that they may help him stage this drama.

A couple of hours later the conductor sees a woman, whom he at once recognizes from her husband's description, boarding the car. She takes her seat near the motorman and begins to converse with him in a low tone. Soon the car approaches the man-hole; and sure enough a human head is seen sticking above it. The woman turns pale; the conductor frantically pulls the bell, but the motorman put on full speed. The conductor realizes that something is wrong; rushes to the front vestibule of the car and almost brings it to a stop. But to late. The poor fellow in the man-hole had been decapitated. A year later the conductor meets the motorman, who is now living on his interest, in idle and prosperous

HYPNOTIZED GIRL ATTEMPTED CRIME

Convincing Proof Furnished That Hypnotism May be Criminal.

(Copyright, 1920, By Public Ledger.) Berlin, Nov. 19.—Dr. Wagner-Juregg, the famous Austrian alienist, now firmly believes that a person hypnotized can be influenced to commit crime. On Saturday a seventeen-year-old girl, entered his office, pointed a revolver at his head and pulled the trigger. The cartridge, which was discovered to be made of paper, failed to explode, but the girl was taken to police headquarters where she was declared insane.

FINED WOMAN WHO WORE HAT IN COURT

Equal Suffrage Means Equal Responsibilities to Law is Court's Decision.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Equal suffrage for women means that they must not wear their hats when in his courtroom. Justice of the peace Aring declared when he fined two women five dollars each for wearing a hat in court when they refused to remove their hats. The women paid.

SACKVILLE BOY WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Frederick, N. B., Nov. 19.—A meeting of the Daughters of the Empire committee for the selection of New Brunswick's candidate for an overseas scholarship was held in this city this evening. Four scholarships of $1,400 each are being awarded in Canada in 1920, for the purpose of a year's study in a British university. Norman Collin of Sackville, was chosen as New Brunswick's candidate. He is one of three brothers who served with the C. E. F. in France, and is a graduate of Sackville and is at present taking his M. A. course at Mount Allison University.

Mystical Tales.

Far different in spirit, however, are the mystical, perhaps, in "Mysteries." It is a tale of a double love, Johann Nielsen Nagel, a strange admixture of the poet and the cynic, appears suddenly in a small fjord town of Norway, and at once astounds all the inhabitants by his queer actions. Among other things, for example he walks about in a suit of a glaring yellow hue and keeps his dirty linen in a violin case! Soon after his arrival in this town Nagel meets Dagny Keilgaard, the pastor's daughter, and falls desperately in love with her. Dagny, however, is already engaged to a young ensign who is away on a voyage at this time. From now on the author traces, in passages of almost painful loveliness, the terrible suffering that Dagny and Nagel inflict upon each other. Having found himself a friendless stranger in one country after another, Hamsun is now in his sixtieth year, universally recognized as one of the few great citizens of the world. In his manifold works he has succeeded not only in reproducing the image of Beauty, he has actually absorbed her into his very being and for a fleeting moment enable us to speak face to face with this radiant goddess.

LOYD GEORGE AND BEAVERBROOK REACH PARTING OF WAYS

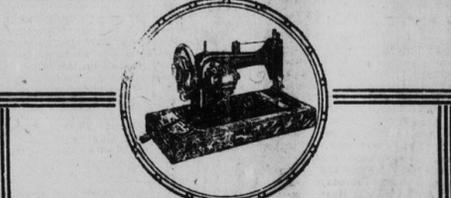

"King Maker" Says No Personal Quarrel But He is Opposed to His Policies.

By William G. Butler (Copyright, 1920, By Cross-Atlantic) London, Nov. 19.—That Lord Beaverbrook has come to a parting of the ways with Premier Lloyd George, and that the split has become so bitter that he is engineering a campaign to smash the coalition government, is the substance of a well informed report which has caused a sensation in the British political world.

So persistent did the rumors become that I discussed them in an interview with Lord Beaverbrook. Although denying the reports of a personal quarrel, Beaverbrook admitted he is opposing most vigorously the Premier's recent policies.

Beaverbrook admitted the authorship of recent articles in his Daily Express, written under the nom de plume of "Realist." In these he frankly spoke of the Tories in the Coalition government, "allowing not only a big white rabbit in Lloyd George, but also other big white rabbits in the Coalition Liberals." He intimated his belief that the Unionist element in the Coalition most dominates. Referring to this, Beaverbrook said: "My interpretation of this is accurate, as has been proven."

Later articles condemned Lloyd George's Irish repatriation policy and urged that a protest be made against their being carried out. These articles have proved to be not merely blank cartridges, as is shown by developments. Recently the two Coalition groups met. The Coalition Liberals affirmed their anti-dumping policy in somewhat of a free trade sense. Referring to this, Beaverbrook said: "The Coalition Unionists affirmed the policy in a protective sense. This, Beaverbrook intimated, disclosed the utmost that prevails, and commented that the Coalition Liberals hitherto have been docile in digesting the prescriptions administered, but they regard this as an extreme. The situation is exceedingly interesting, and is being watched closely as early developments are expected."

Sadly In Need of Trained Nurses

Three Excellent Nurses Allowed to Leave Hospital—Stayed Only 13 Now on Duty.
 At the present time, it is understood, there are only thirteen nurses at the General Public Hospital. This is a result of the policy followed by the Commissioners, who, upon the advice of Dr. Hadson, allowed three excellent nurses to leave the institution rather than increase their salaries. Others have resigned for various reasons and thus as the staff warmed the commissioners would happen, the hospital is left sadly in need of trained nurses. Application has been made in many cities for nurses to take the places of those leaving but so far in vain. It is reported that letters have been written to the United States making inquiries for nurses but there is a decided scarcity there and none have applied for situations in the St. John Public Hospital.

Commissioner Jones Gram Market Is Very Dull

Thinks Two-Thirds of Nurses' Home Expenditure Could Have Been Used on Hospital
 With all that is being said in public print and at society gatherings relative to the inadequate and lumber camp conditions of the Public Hospital, complaints are not infrequently heard relative to the large expenditure being made on the Nurses' Home, an expenditure that many think might have been more profitably placed in remedying some of the shortcomings at the Hospital, which are now giving rise to so much adverse criticism.

County Hospital Has 98 Patients

Thirty-Two of Number Are Soldiers—Applications for Admittance Received Daily
 There are at present ninety-eight patients at East St. John County Hospital with applications from all over the Province coming in every day. Thirty-two of the ninety-eight patients are soldiers. That the hospital is full seems at the first sight a sad fact, but on the contrary it is a good sign. Many wonderful recoveries have been made at East St. John and the crowded Hospital, shows that educational work being done by the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis is having its effect. Persons who have acquired the disease are using every means at their disposal to be cured. The motto of a modern sanitarium such as East St. John is that "tuberculosis is curable and preventable." The St. John specialists have a Dominion wide reputation and the institution is well equipped so that patients are attracted to it.

 That local conditions are such that money is urgently needed to help many very deserving people right here in St. John throughout the coming winter, is a fact that cannot be disputed—though it is in my official capacity as mayor of this city, and made daily aware of the increasing poverty of the local position, and anticipate the likelihood of a campaign for help in the future, nevertheless the terrible misery and heart-rending sufferings of eleven million fatherless children in Central Europe, literally dying by thousands from hunger and disease, as a direct result of the war, and so vast, as to call for the instant help of all people who read these lines.
