New Brunswick CANADA

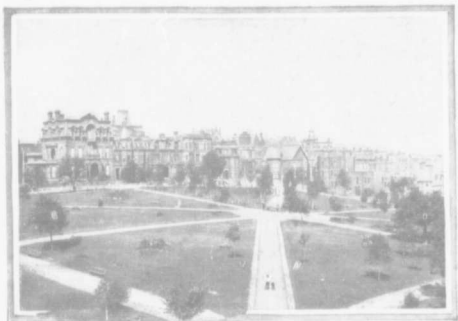

Is the ideal summer land of the North American Continent. Here, when it is a burden to exist in the fervid heat of the great cities to the south and west, are to be found cool, bracing airs and repose of mind and body born of the forest and the sea. To American tourists there must always be a particular interest from the fact that the Province is foreign soil. Almost every section of it has local traditions of the early days when French and English struggled for supremacy and the trade of the red man. Another interest attaches in the fact that the real growth of the Province as a British possession began with the American War of Independence. Thousands of Loyalists, who refused to join in the Declaration of Independence, abandoned their homes and settled in New Brunswick, where they could continue to enjoy British institutions and British laws. These Loyalists were the real founders of St. John, but they found the place already famous in history, because of the heroic defense of her husband's fortress by Madame La Tour, the wife of a French trader and adventurer. Her story, so graphically told in Whitier's beautiful poem, "St. John," is one of the noblest as well as one of the saddest in the pages of the early history of the country, but is only one of the many that give the student an interest in this land.

The fishermen and hunters will find a living interest in the teeming rivers, lakes and streams, where can be caught the lordly salmon and the speckled trout, and in the forest reaches where the giant moose, the deer, caribou, bear and other wild animals roam. New Brunswick is today the finest fishing and hunting ground on the continent, excepting only the almost inaccessible reaches of Alaska and Labrador. Its stately forests, many-rivered hills, nestling lakes and velvet-carpeted caribou plains, present to the modern voyager a page from prehistoric days—a veritable dreamland paradise, whose evergreen vales and teeming waters smile today as they did in the time of Cartier and Champlain. There are upward of 17,000 square miles of forest, intersected by mighty rivers, and studded thick with lakes, a land that calls the hunter, the fisherman, the canoeist and camper, and promises him pleasure and sport unequalled elsewhere.

Those who like not these pleasures, but want to spend their holiday more quietly, will find in the cities, towns, villages and country places the comforts of life in a delightful summer climate, with the addition of sea bathing in the resorts on the southern and eastern coasts.

VIEWS OF ST. JOHN RIVER

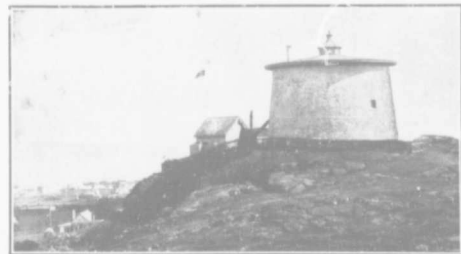

PUBLIC BUILDINGS OF ST. JOHN, N. B.

A glance at the map will show that New Brunswick adjoins the State of Maine, has the Province of Quebec and the lovely Bay Chaleur on the north, the tide-famous Bay of Fundy and Nova Scotia on the south, and on the east the Atlantic Ocean. Its chief city, St. John, is the winter port of Canada. To the tourist and sportsman the scenic beauty of the Province, its unsurpassed summer climate, and its fish and game are the great attractions.

From Boston, New Brunswick may be reached by rail by the Boston & Maine Railroad, or by the palatial steamers of the Eastern Steamship Company, and from Montreal by either the Canadian Pacific or Intercolonial Railways. If the tourist should be in Nova Scotia, it is but a two-hour voyage in a fine steamer of the Dominion Atlantic Line across the Bay of Fundy, or an all-rail ride on the Intercolonial.

How to Get There

MARTELLO TOWER, ST. JOHN, N. B.

The city of St. John, N. B., which is a natural center from which tourists branch out to all parts of the Maritime Provinces of Canada, has many attractions of its own. The tides in the harbor, which have a variation of twenty to twenty-seven feet, produce a phenomenon on the water front that never fails to astonish and surprise the visitor, who is also interested in the craft of all nations loading lumber or other cargo at the wharves. The remarkable Reversing Falls have no counterpart in the world. With each turn of the tide the cataract turns. Sometimes there is a fall up-river, sometimes a fall down-river, and at times a placid surface over which a canoe or racing shell can be sailed. Ten miles from St. John in one direction is beautiful Loch Lomond; nine miles in another, the charming village of Rothesay; and twelve miles in another is lovely Westfield, on the river; while closer at hand is the Bay Shore, reached by the street cars, with its glorious outlook over the bay, and its fine opportunities for surf bathing. The summer temperature at St. John rarely rises to 80 degrees. There are lovely suburban drives, and Rockwood Park is one of the most picturesque in its natural features to be found in America.

If New Brunswick had only the St. John River to appeal to the summer tourist, it would still be able to offer an unrivaled charm. The late Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, said of the St. John River: "I know of nothing grander, or more picturesque, or more beautiful than the scenery and the general appearance of the

St. John Valley. It is crowded with suggestion and is full of inspiration. I speak with some enthusiasm. There are few, I fancy, who have made the trip for the first time who are not enthusiastic over it. As I said to my friends on the trip, it cannot be many years before the banks of the St. John are dotted with summer residences." Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, speaking some years ago, expressed his belief that if the St. John River had the Hudson's elegant residences and artificial ornamentation along its shores, the Hudson would not compare with it. Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, in a sermon, once described the St. John River as "the Rhine and the Hudson commingled in one scene of beauty and grandeur." No tourist has seen the best that is offered in scenic beauty in the Maritime Provinces who has not made the voyage on the St. John River between St. John and Fredericton. And if he has time to make side trips on the tributary rivers and lakes, which are also traversed by steamers, the pleasure will be the greater and the memory the more enduring.

THREE GREAT PILLARS OF ROCK, HOPEWELL CAPE, N. B.

Fredericton, the capital of New Brunswick, reached either by steamer or rail, is a very beautiful city. It contains the Parliament buildings, University and Provincial Normal School. The Church of England Cathedral is one of the purest specimens of Gothic architecture on the continent. The streets of the city are level and shaded with beautiful trees. In front flows the mighty River St. John, spanned by railway and traffic bridges. There is a beautiful park. Old Government House is a quaint structure of historic interest. Across the river are the villages of Gibson and St. Marys, and three miles up the Nashwaak stream from Gibson is the town of Marysville. Fredericton is a great canoeing, fishing and shooting center.

Above Fredericton, on the St. John River, are Woodstock, Grand Falls and Edmundston. The Grand Falls are next to Niagara in picturesque beauty on the continent, while the Grand Falls Gorge rivals that of Niagara in its rugged beauty.

What is called the North Shore of New Brunswick comprises the counties of Northumberland, Gloucester and Restigouche. These are famous as resorts for sportsmen. The Miramichi, Nepisiguit and Restigouche are world-famed salmon rivers, while the deep woods are the haunts of big game, and the seaward shores the homes of wild fowl. But not for these alone are they attractive. The Miramichi, with its pretty towns of Chatham and Newcastle, and villages along the shore, is a truly noble river. The like is true of Bathurst, at the mouth of the Nepisiguit, and of Dalhousie and Campbellton on the Restigouche. The Intercolonial Railway traverses this portion of the Province, and the tourist finds unsurpassed accommodation en route.

DALHOUSIE, N. B.

While St. John is on the Bay of Fundy, there are other places which have special charms for the tourist.

Bay of Fundy

Chief of these is St. Andrews, with its famous Algonquin Hotel, the finest summer resort in the Province, managed by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and Chamcook Lake, with its gamy landlocked salmon. Other towns along the coast are St. Stephen, on the International border; St. George, the center of probably the finest fishing region in the Province, excepting only the North Shore; St. Martins, where there is one of the most magnificent beaches along the whole Atlantic coast, and excellent accommodations for summer tourists at moderate rates. Still further up the bay are Hillsboro, Hopewell, Albert and Alma. The wonderful rocks at Hopewell Cape, sculptured into many curious shapes by wave and tide, stand high and are a source of great interest and wonderment.

Other most attractive points for the visitor to New Brunswick are Sussex, where the local militia go into camp each summer; Moncton, the railroad center, where the famous tidal bore of the Petitcodiac River may be seen; Sackville, a very pretty university town, on the border of the great Tantramar marshes,

GATE OF FOSSIL COAL, DALHOUSIE, N. B.

The merest glimpse of the many charms of New Brunswick is all that can be given in a booklet, but the seeker after pleasure, or sport, or health, who journeys to New Brunswick will find all these and store up joyous memories. If the visitor is more serious-minded and is looking for opportunities for investment, he will find New Brunswick has unsurpassed natural advantages in a forest wealth that is inexhaustible, and rivers with valuable water powers. St. John offers many advantages for manufacture, including the facility and cheapness with which raw material can be gathered from all parts of the world. Next to this, the city's location makes it a central point for distribution throughout the three Maritime Provinces; while the fact that it is the Atlantic terminus for the Canadian Pacific Railway and the winter port of Canada, and is also connected with the west by another route, and will in a few years have a third, enables its manufacturers to sell goods in the great markets of the new west, as well as in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario. At its very door is the wonderful Reversing Falls waiting for some genius to harness and drive it, while the enormous tides offer a still greater power, that man will some day make work for him, and when that day comes the Bay of Fundy must be a great center of industrial activity.

Hunting and Fishing

New Brunswick is the sporting paradise of North America. This is not an idle boast but a fact that can be proved beyond any shadow of doubt. New Brunswick rivers, lakes and streams teem with salmon and trout. Through the forests roam the lordly moose, the caribou and deer. On its marshes are to be shot wild geese, duck, snipe and plover. There is the plump partridge and luscious woodcock for the hunter after feathered game, while wildcats, bears and other fur-bearing animals can be secured by those who are ready for all kinds of sport. A week, a month or a whole season can be spent in the heart of New Brunswick traversing country visited only by the woodsman and the occasional hunter. The fisherman can, if he wishes, catch trout in sections where never before was cast an artificial fly, and he can hook the king of fish in the finest salmon waters of the world. He can camp far from the haunts of man, and enjoy the solitude of the woods. In a canoe he can travel for days down great rivers, running rapids and catching fish until he is tired of the sport. There are thousands of square miles of forest land in which to hunt the big game, and it is the proud boast of New Brunswick guides that no sportsman visiting the Province has ever lost his life or even been in danger, because the vast extent of the country enables each to keep to his own territory. Most of the guides have provided log houses on the hunting grounds, and in these the visitor will be made as comfortable as his environment and circumstances will permit.

The hunting grounds of New Brunswick are within easy reach of the railroads; the Canadian Pacific taking the sportsman to what is known as the Tobique country, where are miles upon miles of forests. The Intercolonial reaches the Canaan woods and the North Shore, both famous and popular hunting resorts, while the New Brunswick Southern traverses the Charlotte County region.

It is claimed that New Brunswick has more big game to the square mile of its territory than any other province of Canada. At least one-third of the province is good hunting ground and most easily reached, from the fact that in New Brunswick, as a whole, there are more than sixteen hundred miles of railway, or a mile of railway for each nineteen miles of area. Moose are found in at least twelve of the fifteen counties, and either moose or caribou in all but two. Moose, caribou or deer are found in every county, and sometimes all three are in one neighborhood. The best moose grounds are to the east and north of the river St. John, north of Kings county, and extending to the Restigouche River and northeastern seaboard. The Restigouche Province has been described as a vast game preserve, running one hundred and fifty miles to the northward, and having in some places a width of more than one hundred miles east and west. Some of the moose are very large, there being a record of a measurement between tips of antlers of sixty-six inches, while those with a measurement of fifty inches are frequently shot. The whole of what is called the North Shore in New Brunswick, that portion extending from the Restigouche along the Baie de Chaleur, is a salmon and trout fishing country. The Restigouche itself, with its tributary waters, is perhaps the finest salmon river in the world, while such streams as the Nepisiguit, Tobique and Miramichi are well known to fishermen everywhere. The sea trout found in the lower parts of the New Brunswick rivers are notable for their size and quality.

10. No person shall hunt, take, shoot, kill or destroy any partridge between the 30th day of November in any year and the 15th day of September in the year next following. Partridge cannot be exported.
11. Woodcock or snipe cannot be killed between the 1st day of December and the 1st day of September in the year following, under penalty of $10.
12. It is unlawful for any person to buy or sell, or offer for sale, the carcass or any portion thereof, or the green hide or pelt, of any animal or bird, or the eggs or nest thereof, at any time during the closed season.
13. No person shall catch with a net, or kill with any device or instrument known as a punt gun or swivel, automatic gun or rifle, any wild duck, wild goose, brant or other wild fowl of the game kind, nor use any artificial lights for the capture or destruction of any such birds, under a penalty of $20.

The hunting sections are also the best for fishing, because the least frequented. The finest salmon fishing rivers in the world are the Nepisiguit, the Restigouche and the Miramichi with their tributaries, on the North Shore of New Brunswick, and reached by the Intercolonial Railway. These rivers are also famous trout streams. Equally good trout fishing can be secured in the region traversed by the C. P. R. or at Bonny River on the New Brunswick Southern. The salmon fisherman who wants to make a kill without the necessity of a trip to the woods, will find the famous pool on the St. Croix at Calais or the pools at St. John give him all the fun and excitement he desires.

Many of the New Brunswick guides have camps specially adapted for the convenience of those who want to spend their summer holidays in the woods, enjoying nature and incidentally doing some fishing, canoeing, etc. At them will be found all the comforts of home and all the charms of the woods. Terms are remarkably low.

In the Woods

The New Brunswick Tourist Association will be glad to arrange hunting, fishing, canoeing or camping trips for those who desire to visit the Province, and to give any desired information about camps, hotels, boarding houses, etc., and in any way to advise and assist those anxious to spend their holidays or a portion of them in the most delightful way possible to spend them, and in a land famous for its natural beauties, its magnificent climate and its sporting advantages.

A Residential Summer Park

Within ten minutes' walk of the St. John Street Railway line, on the ocean front, beyond the harbor of St. John, lies Duck Cove, a delightful residential summer park, containing about twenty-three acres of land, well wooded and watered, wherein are situated seventeen summer cottages.

Duck Cove

Here visitors from the United States and inland Canadian cities come to enjoy the sea breezes and ocean bathing, which, with the quiet restfulness of the surroundings, give a vigor and zest for keen enjoyment that is unknown to dwellers in great cities or to those who do not usually live within hearing of the ocean's roar.

Here, in touch with city life, Mr. D. R. Jack, a well-known real estate owner of St. John, has established a charming and exclusive summer resort, where cottages completely furnished for use, provided even with linen and silverware, if desired, may be obtained at prices ranging from $75 to $150 for the entire season. At these cottages provisions are delivered daily by city firms at city prices, and fresh milk, eggs and butter of the choicest description may be obtained at short notice.

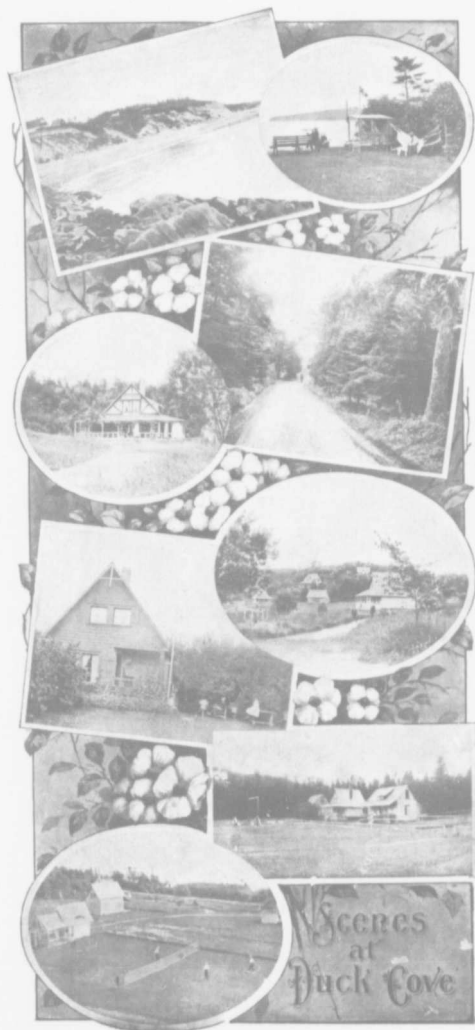

The cottages exhibit considerable ingenuity of plan, the designer having in view the comfort and convenience of the prospective summer occupants, which, like the swallow, the thrush and the blue-winged heron, come and go in varying numbers with each succeeding summer.

From the more pretentious log cabin down to the tiniest of the framed cottages all are bright and cheerful and make a comfortable home for the all-too-short summer.

All the cottages are well placed so as to command a good view over land and sea, and the beach is a very delightful one.

The tennis court, swings, croquet, beach parties, bonfires, Saturday evening hops, etc., provide amusement and make the summer pass all too rapidly.

Illustrated booklets may be obtained free of charge on application to D. R. Jack, St. John.

15. It is unlawful to shoot wild geese, brant, teal, wood duck or black duck between 1st December and 1st day of September in any year, excepting as provided in Section 7 of the Game Act, which authorizes the shooting of wild geese and brant by residents for domestic use of such residents only. Hunting ducks, etc., between sundown and sunrise from 1st August to 1st December on these premises is prohibited.

16. The killing of robins, swallows and other small birds of song (excepting the English sparrows), and the shooting, wounding, killing or destroying of sea gulls, or the trapping, snaring or taking of any of the birds referred to, or the taking or removing of the nest or eggs of any such birds, shall be unlawful. Penalty, $5 for each offence.

17. Birds or animals may be killed for preservation as specimens of natural history or for scientific investigation, a special license being first obtained for the purpose from the Surveyor-General.

18. Every holder of a license granted must produce the same when required by a Justice of the Peace, Warden, Deputy Warden or Special Warden. Refusal shall be a penalty, $20.

19. No person shall shoot, hunt, take, kill, wound or destroy any of the birds or animals referred to in this act, or any bird or animal of the game kind on the Sabbath or Lord's day, under a double penalty.

20. If any person has reason to believe that the provisions of this act or any acts in amendment thereof have been violated by any person, he may, without any warrant, arrest such person and take him before any Justice of the Peace, who, upon complaint made to him, may thereupon deal with the offender according to law.

21. No person who is not a resident and domiciled in this Province can act as a guide or camp help. All guides must be registered in the office of the Surveyor-General before they can obtain a license as guide. A person holding a guide's license is liable to be shot at the same time.

22. Persons having in their possession the hide, pelt or carcass of any game animal killed in the open season can, within ten days after the beginning of the close season, obtain permission from a Game Warden to sell or dispose of the same.

23. No person or corporation shall carry or transport from place to place any moose, caribou or deer, or part thereof, unless open to view, tagged and plainly labelled with the name and residence of the owner thereof, and accompanied by him. Penalty, $50 to $100.

24. Game Wardens have the right to enter and search premises where game illegally kept is suspected to be held. Refusal to permit Game Wardens to enter and search is punishable by a penalty of not more than $50 or less than $20.

25. Persons who refuse to give information to Game Wardens of the hiding place of the skin or carcass of moose, caribou or deer, or who furnish false information, are liable to a penalty of from $20 to $50, or from 20 days' to two months' imprisonment.

26. No person not a resident of the Province shall hunt, take, kill, wound or destroy, within the county of Westmorland, any game birds or wild animals without first obtaining license.

27. It is unlawful to attempt to kill any shore or other birds along the coast of Northumberland Straits, the Gulf of St. Lawrence or the Bay of Chaleur, between the 31st day of December and the 1st day of September.

28. No person shall be allowed to carry a gun or other firearm in any forest or wood frequented by moose, caribou or deer during the close season without having obtained a permit so to do.

29. When any person has killed a moose or caribou he shall bring out the head and affix thereto a tag stating by whom it was killed, number of license and the time and place of the killing, and send a duplicate of such tag to the Crown Land Department. If the head is to be preserved or mounted, such tag shall be kept thereon until it shall be delivered to the owner, and no head shall be exported from the Province without such tag being thereto attached.

30. Any resident of the Province applying for license to hunt shall, before delivery of same, pay therefor a license fee of $2.

31. All non-residents applying for license to hunt shall, before delivery of same, pay therefor a license fee of fifty dollars ($50).

32. No non-resident shall enter into the woods to hunt without a registered guide, and no guide shall guide more than two persons at the same time, under a penalty of $50 and costs or 30 days' imprisonment.

33. A non-resident must have a license to hunt or shoot partridges, woodcock, snipe, duck or other game birds. Fee, $10.

34. Every guide must, before the 31st of December in each year, report to the Chief Game Warden the number of moose, caribou and deer killed during the preceding season by parties he has taken into the woods.
