Lord Plunkett English, Scotch and Welsh people to warned the English Government about the English parliament sitting the danger they ran. He warned them that moment our success would be sein Westminster. The Irish parliament had carried reforms thirty years before the parliament of Great Britain had the courage to adopt them. The Act of Union dates back no further than the beginning of this century; up to that time we had our National Parliament. Now I will tell you why we have ceased to have it. The Irish National Parliament even in its best days was not repre sentative in the sense which we attach to the word "National." The Irish National Parliament was exclusively of Protestant members. It was elected exclusively by Protestant votes. The law declared that none but a Protestant parliament. And yet so National in spirit, so fair, so liberal was that parliament that one of the works to which it turned its attention was the emancipa tion of its fellow countrymen the Catholics. (Applause.) We are told by critics that all the legislation of that body was not of a satisfactory character. Whatever errors they may have committed, there remains in history the noble act of these Protestant gentlemes setting themselves to work to bring about the complete emancipation of their growing race. We have many branches the midst of our struggle. I happened were with us. In England and Ireland of our race all over the world, and to meet this lady at a dinner table and wherever an Irish colony is settled there comes a new demand for an Irish parliament that was taken from us without consulting the will of the Irish people. The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principal from the usual prescriptions given by physcians, as it does not dry up a cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the centrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts effected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75 cts, large bottles.

AYER'S Sugar-Coated Cathartic If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pilis restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action. and do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, and Dyspepsia.

—G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.— Morris Gates, Dewnsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. — John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss. My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.

Large Turnout of Soldiers and Civilians Monday Evening-The "Saved Hindoo" and His French Co-Laborer.

On Monday night about a quarter to FAT CATTLE AND POULTRY.—The eight was heard through the streets of annual show of Christmas cattle and poultry, under the auspices of the West Riding of Huron Agricultural Society, an excitement. The march was headed an excitement. The march was headed by the captain of the corps, then follow-ed Capt. Narian Das, the "Saved Hindoo Lawyer," and Capt. Cusan, the "Saved Frenchman," who has been working among the French in Switzerland; then came three men with instruments, (two of these being members of the town band) and a host of others with drums, timbrels &c., which made things lively along the march. In a short time they arrived at the "Barracks," where a great meeting was to be held. The meeting was started by a song out of the War Cry which went with a swing, and all seemed to be enjoying themselves. Captain Cusan led in prayer, praying in Palmerston division, the chorus being sung by all. Capt. Narian Das then prayed, and when the Adjutant had asked God's blessing upon the meeting, and the Could be stand clearest evidence from the Government to deny, if it could, the accuracy of his statements; but not a word had the Tory leaders to say in defence all arose. An Outside View of Sir John A. Mac donald's Cowardice.

Sir John Macdonald, in a speech made at Stratford Thursday, said he was not going to lower himself by appearing on the same platmorm with Mr M. C. Cameron, M.P. for West Huron. This is understood to be the reply of the Tory leader to the unequivocal challenge of Mr Cameron that Sir John Macdonald should meet him at any central place in the riding which he represents and dis-cuss the question of Northwest mis-government. What a down-come from Sir John Mscdonald's pot-valiant asser-tion in Hamilton regarding his annihilation of Mr Cameron's political prospects! Think you, if the Tory leader had a legitimate defence for the administration of Nerthwest affairs that he would not jump at such a challenge as Mr Cameron has issued? He would now have us believe that the member for West Huron is not worthy of his attention. Why then, did he and his lieutenants think it necessary to devote six out of the eight hours' talking in Goderich and Dun-gannon to the hon gentleman? Because they fear him. They first tried to gerry-mander him out of Parliament; but the electors resented that rascally means and truly Tory method for getting rid of an opponent; and Mr Cameron met them in Parliament, confronting them with their own reports to show that Northwest affairs had been shamefully neglected, and that to the misgovern ment and wholesale peculation that had been winked at and in some cases en dorsed by the present Administration were to be traced the rebellion and all its attendant evils. Mr Cameron was enabled to do this, notwithstanding that the Ministers suppressed numerous papers which they knew would incriminate them to a much greater extent than their partial reports do, though these show a state of affairs thaf ought to call for the condign punishment at the earliest possible moment of the men who permitted their continuance.

Mr Cameron did not go behind the Captain Cusan led in prayer, praying this native language. A song was next backs of the men he accused. He stated his case, fortified with the strong-test and clearest evidence from the officest evidence from the of sion to investigate the Northwest affairs, given to the country-a pamphlet! garbled, one-sided criticism of Mr Cam eron's speech written in the Hamilton Spectator effice, printed at the expense

After the charges made by the missionaries of the various churches, after enty two of them met in a barn for a eral Assembly, atter Mr Cameron's tellproper salvation meeting, and two police- ing and unshaken confirmation of the men came along and took down all their lamentable state of affairs which these names. Next came the trial. Of course reliable agencies have, from time to time, they wanted a place to hold a meeting, borne testimony to, what other opinion and they found the court room answered can independent men come to than that very well, so when the indictment was the charges are true? The Tory leader "Guilty or not guilty" they started by going up to Goderich, and, behind Mr. saying "Praise God I'm saved; I was a Cameron's back, blackguarding him. If bad sinner, but I'm now washed and Sir John Macdonald were honest in his cleansed by the precious blood of Jesus," protestations he would not sneak away and so on to the last one. The judge from a full public discussion of this all found he had more than he bargained important branch of public affairs, under afraid to make the charges before the face of an opponent which he has made behind his back.

event which set the peop'e, old and young, long and short, grave and merry, all agog. Wednesday was a fete-day for Ashfield, nearly the whole township turned out in holiday attire to attend the wedding of Mr Michael Kenney, of Kintail, and Mary J. Dalton, of Kingsbridge. The bride appeared in a magnificent bronze-colored silk dress, trimmed with plush silk of the same. The groom appeared as he always does, a perfect gentleman. The happy couple were ably supported by Mr J Dalton, brother of the bride, and Miss Agnes Kenney, sister of the groom. Transplanted.

The gardener came into his garden. It was very fair to see, And his Lord walked proudly beside him, Looking at shrub and tree.

Through borders o odorous rose Through lily beds, purple and white. By thickets enkindled with crimson, Arbors that imprison the light.

Till they came to a tender flower, A frail but a beautiful thing. That drooped its snow-white petals, Like a bird with a broken wing.

"I think," said the gardener clasping The plant with a gentle hand, 'This flower is much too tender For the winds of this lower land." I'll marvel if even with shelter.

Twill thrive in this coarser earth, Where cold dews fall upon it-'Tis a flower of priceless worth.

Now his Lord had another garden, And its slopes were nearer heaven. There never the sun gave languag

There never the east wind blew. And the provident care of the Master's hand His Lord looked down on the flower And His heart went out to its need,

'Tis just the plant for my garden,

A plant of celestial seed, The gardner loosened the fibers, Raised the plant for the Lord to see ; Then the gracious Master said with a smile Give the fittle flower to Me.

By placing the Elucation Department under the control of a responsible minister the people have a guarantee that it will be governed efficiently.

Boy Beaty, the Tory member for Toronto, whose railway charter selling episode formed the subject of parliamentary inquiry, published a lengthly defence last week in the Toronto Tory papers. Mr Beaty's defence of the charter selling charge amounts of this: He didn't do it; and he had a perfect right to do it, if he could. Enemies of Temperance Legislation

The outrageous absurdity of the claim of the Mail for temperance support to the Conservative Party is shown again in a recent order promulgated by the Dominion Government. The order 80c. per M, or 2c. a p'k'ge runs thus:-

Certified Copy of a Report of a Com-mitte of the Honorable the Privy Cauncil, approved by His Honor The Deputy of his Excellence the | A Good No. 7 White Envelope at Governor-General in Council on the 13th of May, 1885:

"The Committee, on the recom-mendation of the Minister of Inland Revenue, advise that in order to facilitate the operations of the Canada Temperance Act, 1878, distillers be permitted to remove spirits from their respec-tive distilleries of ten gallons.

"(Signed) John J. McGer,
"Clerk Privy Council."

The object of the Order is as clear as noonday. It is to permit distilleries to send into Scott Act counties small packages of whiskey that can be easily be concealed; to enable the illicit liquor trade to be carried on comfortably; to enable drinking generally to go on as istence; and to prevent the Government's distilling friends from incurring any loss Call and See Them though there were no Scott Act in exthrough the passage of the Scott Act. "Every girl or woman," writes the author of "John Hulifax, Gentleman," "who is now entirely dependent on her male relations—a position which, considering all the ups and downs of life, the sooner she gets out of the better—ought by the time she is old enough to present any money to know evently here.

Rebellion at one end, secession at the other, and a race and religious strife in the centre—this is how the Tory party has succeeded in consolidating the Dominion. As our contemporary well observes, the party that is responsible for that kind of consolidation is not the party that does homage to Edward Blake.—Halifax Chronicle.

much she has, where it is invested, and what it ought yearly to bring in. By this time also she should have acquired some knowledge of business—bank business, referring to checks, dividends, and so on—and as much of ordinary business as she can. To her information of a practical kind never comes amiss, especially the three golden rules which have very rare exceptions: No investment over ö per cent is really safe; trust no one with your money without security, which ought to be as strict between the nearest and dearest friends as between strangers; and, lastly, keep all your affairs from day to day in an accurate order as if you had to die to-moorow. The mention of dying suggests another necessity—as soon as you are 21 years of age make your will. You will not die a day the sooner; you can alter it whenever you like; while the ease of mind it will be to you and the trouble it may save to those that come after you are beyond telling. It cannot be too strongly impressed upon every girl who has or expect: that not undesirable thing, "a little income of her own," what a fortunate responsibility that is, and how useful she may make it to others. Happier than the lot of many married woman is that of the "unappropriated blessing," as I have heard an old maid called, who has her money, less or more, in her own hands, and can use it as she chooses, generously as wisely, without asking anybody's leave and being accountable for it to no one. But then she must have learned from her youth upward how to use it, she must not spare any amount of trouble in the using of it, and s'.e must console herself for many a lonely regret—we are but human, all of us—with the thought that she has been trusted to be a steward of the Great Master. Such an old maid often does as much good in her generation as twenty married women." We should like to know why, when Bunting, the managing director of the Mail, should not visit Sir John and be closed with him-whatever that they may mean—three times during the day, or thirty times if it is agreeable to both parties. Of course it casts a shade of doubt upon the sincerity of that repudiation, but then is there any one who now believes much in that?—Montreal Her-

The Hamilton Spectator says that Mr Blake is a demagogue, and points to his Home Rule record to beer out its assertion. Whatever may be said of some of Mr Blake's followers, we do not think he can be charged with being a man of that kind. He has almost consistently show himself to be high spirited and without prejudices. - Montreal Star, Ind.

The Tory doctrine just now seems to be this: Because a number of heretofore supporters of the Government have gone into opposition, those who formerly opposed the Government should now come to its support. Reformers are asked to discard their principles of a lifetime to unlikely a Government than here. time to uphold a Government they have are too clear headed to do anything

What an Invitation or Party Call I-

A Plea for Rational Medicine.

From the New York Medical Record.

A good man struggling with adversity is a sight which ought to awaken lively and sympathetic interest. Such a sight is presented by the New York Medical Times, which, for some years, has been manfully endeavoring to rid homeopathy of its sectarianism and distinctive name, while still claiming that it represents one of the most important of therapeutical peinciples. In consequence of its course it is secciving severe criticisms from many of its sectaving severe criticisms from many of its sectaving severe criticisms from many of its sectiving from the regular school. For example, one of our contemporaries prints the following, apparently unaware that the Times has been saying this same thing for several years: "Homeopathise Deasnage appears in a recent issue of the thomeopathise New York Medical Times: Goonin your sectariancourse, ultra-devotees of ilahmennam, if you will, be loyal to the teachings of your master if you must, but shut not your eyes to the fact that science has rendered obsolete many tenets of his system and removed the last vestige of an excuss for maintaining an organization of physiciana under an exclusive title, distinct and separate from the medical profession at large. The ultra-school of medicine has fulfilled the complete measure of its usefulness as a separate organization. Loyalty to truth and progress now demands that it shall drop its narrow, sectarian game and no longer seek to keep its members in leading strings. In the nature of things there can be but one system of medicine recognized by science. Either homeopathy must absorb the old school or be absorbed by it." It would be better, we think, to give such sentiments a hearty endorsement, with success to those who utter them.

Be Wanted to Get Seber. In that invaluable book, "Don't," Maj. Bunce tells everybody what no to do in conversation and manners. In reference to that common and borrible American fashion of saying "I am through," when one means that he is done or has finished, "Don't" says:

"Don't say I am through, when you are announcing that you have finished dinner or breakfast." "Are you through?" asked an American of an Englishman, when seated at table. "Through!" exclaimed the Englishman, looking in an starmed way down to the floor and up to the ceiling

In a foot note, Major Bunce says "Say, pardner, would yer help a feller?"

The First Reform Gun Fired in the Campaign.

Meeting at Benmiller on Wednesday Evening-Large Attendance-Fxcellent Speeches From Hon. A. M. Ross and M. Reform and Honesty.

The first meeting of the campaign in West Huron, in the interest of Hon. A. M. Ross, was held on Wednesday evening in the temperance hall, Benmiller. There was a good attendance, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed troducing the speakers of the evening.

Mr John Kernighan was called to the chair, and made a clever address in in.

The meetin Hon. A. M. Ross on coming forward thanked the electors of Colborne for their generous support of him in former elections, and hoped that during his past term he had done nothing to lessen their confidence in him. (Hear, hear) offices in connection with the Governhad been chosen from the most practical congregations :agriculturists of the Province, whose duty | Dear Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard. it was to lend their aid in making the institution a benefit to all parties. He had advocated the formation of furmer's institutes throughout the province, and already the scheme had been adopted in many sections, and had proved a popular and useful discendinator of practical intelligence on againstituted and other topics. The questions of the boundary award next came up for decession, and the "right about-face" or relet of Mr Meredith was a iverted apon and severely criticised. "Gentlemen," said the season after season, year after year, pleasant association with you have found places among the things of the past, and as we now witness the termination of those happy associations with Manchester congregation, we cannot but feel how unstable the things of time affairs of our town, there is to be any claim in the Agyorally. I believe that it would have been best had our present Mayor, who has served you so many years, and who out feel how unstable the things of time affairs of our town, there is to be any claim to the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our town, there is to be any claim the affairs of our Meredich was a iverced apon and severe ly criticized. "Continue." said the speaker at this point, "if you send a reeve to the county council you expect that his first duty will be to attend to the ways of the translation. Therefore, dear paster and late, we, your people in this congregation, desire to spend an evening with you will be used to the promotion of while you are yet in our midst; and when we think that it may be the last opportunity that will be afforded us. the the wants of the township, and in any oc case where the interests of the township

On the school book controvesy the hongentleman also shed considerable light. He showed that the Government had the actual control of only three sets of books—the Readers, one Grammar, and one Geography. All other works used in the schools were placed there by the local trustees with the sanction of the inspector. The set of readers now in use cost the people $1.55, are of good letter press, printed on fine paper, are well bound, and are cheaper than any similar works in Great Britain or the United Scates. (Hear, hear.) So much for the alleged school book monopoly—a monopoly by the way, where the people get the profits. (Laughter and cheers.) He contended that the Ministers who were dumb at Ottawa when he faced them, and were valiant at their own meetings behind his back were real cowards. (Hear, hear.) And Sir John's evasion of his challenge to meet him in any central point of West Huron showed that the chieftain's valor was at a low ebb. (Laughter and cheers.) (Hear, hear.) There was another question upon which he would like to say a word or two. It was now claimed by the Tory party that Mr Mowat was averse to having the question referred to the Privy Council. This was not the case. As a matter of fact Mr Mowat had asked Sir John in 1881 to have the entire question submitted to the Privy Council, and the latter had refused to trust in that "Divinity which shapes our considerable time."

I may say, however, that I am strongly in favor of making greater efforts than have herefore been made towards promoting the progress of our town.
