Beautiful Cynthia; OR Victory After Many Defeats.

CHAPTER XII. A LOVER SPEAKS.

"I—I think I can manage it," she said, her eyes still downcast. "I—I am sending out the cards, and I could—"

"You are a brick, Cynthia!" he exclaimed, his eyes brightening. In his relief and joy he caught at her hand, just as he used to catch at it in the old days, when she had done something that had specially pleased him, climbed a particularly difficult tree, thrown a good fly, or waded through the stream to save the walk of a mile.

She let him have her hand, with the same sweet unconsciousness, and he had only time to drop it hastily, as the door opened and Lady Gwen came in, leaning on her stick. The two had been so engrossed with each other that they had not heard the carriage drive up.

Lady Gwen looked hot and out of temper; she glared from one to the other as if she had caught them in the perpetration of some crime. Indeed, Darrel looked somewhat guilty.

"Oh!" grunted the terrible old lady, leaning on her stick with both hands and working her underlip, a significant sign to Cynthia. "So you're here, Cynthia, what are you doing with that veil? Mr. Frayne, are you qualifying for a dressmaker or a lady's maid?"

"Miss Drayle was good enough to show me—" began Darrel fearfully.

Miss Drayle might find some more profitable and agreeable occupation for her time," snarled Lady Gwen. "And so could you, sir. Why aren't you with your regiment?"

"Got leave," said Darrel, humbly. "They give too much leave nowadays," remarked Lady Gwen sternly; "they were much more sensible in my time. Cynthia, take those things up to your own room—I am afraid my thoughtless niece has wasted too much of your time, Mr. Frayne."

Darrel took the hint—he had a feeling that the old Griffin was quite capable of calling a couple of footmen and having him thrown out. Cynthia, quite abashed, had fled, but, dog-ing Lady Westlake's eye, had thrown him a glance as she departed.

Lady Westlake gave him one finger, Darrel pressed it and fled like a mouse.

Five minutes afterward the footman announced Lord Northam. The Griffin had been lying back in her chair with her eyes closed with her heavy lids, for she had been interviewing dressmakers and court officials, but at the sound of Lord Northam's name she sat up and blinked keenly enough.

Northam came in in his heavy way, and she greeted him cordially. "You've come just in time for tea," she said. "We're awfully busy, so you mustn't stay long, Cynthia," she spoke of her as "Cynthia" to Northam, she laid stress upon the "Miss Drayle" to poor Darrel, "is going to be presented."

"Rather sudden, isn't it?" remarked Northam, staring at the carved head of his stick, as if he had never seen it before, and was intensely interested to find it there.

"Yes, it is," assented Lady Gwen, with a grin. "I've just woke up to the fact that the child's grown up. When she takes to dining at public houses—"

"You mean the Savoy, the other evening?" said Northam stolidly.

"Same thing," said Lady Gwen, with a grunt. "It's true she was out. She seems to have had a very pleasant evening, thanks to Lady Alicia—and you."

There was a significance in the slight emphasis which she laid on the "you" that did not escape Northam, though he looked as slow-witted as an owl. "It was very kind of both of you. By the way, we are having a dance on the night of the court. I have just sent Lady Alicia and you a card."

"Much obliged; glad to come." The footman brought in tea, and Lady Gwen said:

"Tell Miss Drayle tea is ready, and ask her to come down."

Cynthia entered almost immediately. She was pleased to see Lord Northam; she was grateful to him for her outing the other night. As she poured out the tea, which one footman handed, while the other followed with the bread and butter and the cake, she talked of that never-to-be-forgotten night. And while she talked Lady Westlake leaned back and went to sleep, or seemed to go to sleep; she was tired, you know.

Northam did not say much; he never did, but he listened with half-closed eyes kept most of the time on the surprising handle of his stick.

"I thought I saw Mr. Frayne as I was coming in," he said presently, and rather suddenly. He raised his eyes as he spoke, and he saw the blush which suddenly suffused Cynthia's face.

"Oh, yes," she said. "He called." Northam was silent for a moment; the blush had not been lost upon him; then he rose.

"I'm coming to your dance," he said, in his abrupt yet slow fashion. "Oh, I'm glad," she said brightly.

"Are you?" he remarked, looking at her straight. "Well, I must be going. Don't wake Lady Westlake."

Curiously enough, the Griffin woke he moment he had left the room. Lord Northam gone? she inquired with a yawn. "Remarkably nice young man. Always be at home when he calls, Cynthia. I think I have told you that he will be the next Duke of Torbridge."

"A most worthy young man in every sense of the word. The Torbridge is not a mushroom dukedom; hey go back a long way, and they have not played the fool with the estate. This young man will come into one of the finest rents rolls in England. I hope you like—appreciate him," she said sternly, meaningly.

But the significance of her tone was lost on Cynthia. She was thinking of Darrel and the card for the dance she was going to send him.

On the night of the twelfth, so great was the crowd of carriages and motors, you could not have crossed the road in front of Lady Westlake's case in Belgrave Square, excepting at the peril of life and limb; indeed, the services of two policemen were required to keep in order the small mob of spectators which had gathered on the pavement to see the guests arrive.

This mob was mostly composed of women and girls, many of them dressmakers and shop hands, who had come to inspect and obtain hints from the splendid attire of the young girls who had that day been presented at court.

The great ballroom was crowded, men and women, the former in court suits, the latter in dazzling ball frocks, were lining the stairs, awaiting their turn to gain the great saloon, famous for its political and social intrigues.

Lady Westlake stood just within the entrance of the anteroom which led to the principal magnificent apartment, leaning on her stick with one hand, the other held out like that of an automaton, to greet her guests.

The whole resources of the vast establishment had been enlisted, even strained, for the occasion; for the Griffin was once more in her element. She had a beautiful girl, a connection of the great family, in her hand, and she meant to dispose of her to the highest bidder.

And that the bidding would be high, the Griffin knew, for Cynthia had achieved a great success at court that day. She had attracted the attention of every one, one gracious majesty had even murmured to the other gracious majesty, and both had smiled more than graciously, as the young girl had bent before them.

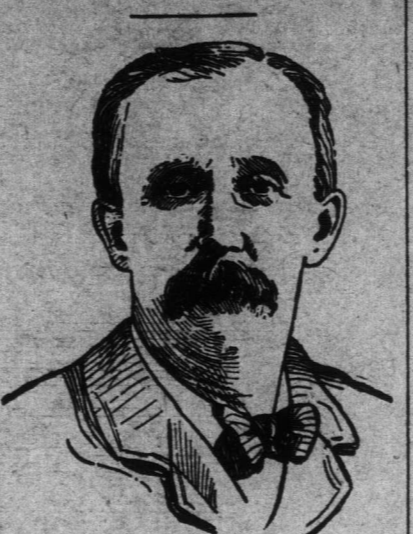

Lady Westlake was almost staggered by Cynthia's success; for, of course, notwithstanding the tuition she had received, she was still, in Lady Westlake's eyes, something of the unsophisticated tomboy she had appeared when Lady Westlake stopped the fly on the Summerleigh road. But there it was; the effect of Cynthia's exquisite beauty and still more striking freshness and girliness could not be ignored.

The old Griffin was full of triumph that night, her keen eyes shone and glittered, under their heavy lids, there was a natural flush beneath her rouge and powder.

She saw herself the aunt, the guardian of the future Duchess of Torbridge. She had never been so amiable, and her amiability was startling to her old friends.

Now Feels Strong and Vigorous

And Fit for Any Amount of Work as the Result of Using
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. J. Huribert.

It is so easy to overlook the warning given by headaches, indigestion, falling memory, lack of power to concentrate the mind, irritability and worry over little things, that many a man does not realize his danger until on the verge of breakdown. Like the writer of the letter quoted below, you can call a halt to the wasting process and restore vim and energy to the nervous system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great food cure has a wonderful record of cures.

Mr. J. Huribert, 28 James street, Grantford, Ont., writes—"I was very much run down in health and as a consequence my nervous system was very much exhausted. Close confinement at my work, I think, brought on the trouble. I started using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and by the time I had used up one box I felt a great improvement. The continued use of this preparation has thoroughly restored my system so that I feel strong and vigorous and fit for any amount of work. I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Ointment with splendid satisfaction, and recommend them at every opportunity." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanston Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Meanwhile, Cynthia was in the bill-room itself surrounded by courtiers, by the men and women who are quick to note the raising of an ascending star. She looked radiantly happy, but she was not perfectly so, for every now and then her eyes wandered wistfully toward the crowd at the entrance.

She had been told a hundred, two hundred, times that evening, and sometimes quite openly, that she was beautiful, that her exquisite dress was perfect; but she wanted Darrel to see her in all her finery, just as in the old days she had wanted him to see a new hat she had bought at the general shop at Summerleigh and trimmed with her own hands.

Strangely enough, those old, girlish days were vividly in her mind that night, and once, when the famous hand was playing a slow, mournful waltz, there flashed into her mind the memory of a day when she had fallen from a tree and hurt herself, and Darrel had put his arm round her—he had not kissed her, because he knew that she had hated kisses—and had comforted and petted her.

Why did he not come? It was nice to be told that she was pretty, that she was the prettiest, the belle, of the debutantes; but she wanted him to be here, to say, in his old way, "You're looking stunning to-night, Cynthia!"

Lady Alicia came up to her, Northam following close behind. Lady Alicia, who had been presented two years ago, was not in court costume, but wore an exquisite dress, which set off her blond beauty to perfection. "My dear Cynthia!" she exclaimed. She and Cynthia had met several times since the dinner at the Savoy, and Lady Alicia professed a great friendship for Lady Westlake's ward. "I've had quite a fight to get to you, you famous young person. Here's Northam. I'm going to ask for a dance for him; he's too gauche and shy to ask for himself."

MAKES YOUR BACKACHE VANISH, DRIVES ALL RHEUMATIC PAINS AWAY

New Discovery Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles Relieving Backache and Bladder Disorders After Few Doses are Taken.

No matter how badly you suffer, how chronic your case may be, or what has failed to cure you, your pains will leave, your aches vanish and the torturous, killing backache or rheumatism will bother you no more.

This is what Croxone, the new scientific discovery, does for sufferers of such troubles. It cures these diseases because it reaches the cause and removes it. It soaks right into the walls and linings of the kidneys and cleans out the stopped-up, inactive organs like water does a sponge—neutralizes, and dissolves every particle of uric acid and makes the kidneys sift from the blood all the waste matter and poisons that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and leaves the kidneys in a clean, strong, healthy condition.

On Getting Hurt.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

A young woman was making arrangements to entertain a small group of her college mates at a house party. "I'd like to invite Margaret," she said regretfully as he went over the list with her mother, "but there really isn't any man I could invite for her, and it would be awkward to have her without, under the circumstances."

"Won't she be hurt, if you leave her out?" asked the mother. "Thank goodness, no," said the daughter, emphatically. "Most of the girls would, but Margaret is one of those people who don't get hurt. I guess she is too busy."

Doesn't that description make you think you would like to know Margaret, whoever she is?

That was the effect it had upon me. I had never met the girl to whom my friends referred nor even heard her name mentioned but when I heard that characterization I felt my heart warm towards her.

"One of those people who don't get hurt,"—how many people do you know of whom you could confidently say that? Not many, I reckon.

Permitting one's self to get hurt over fancied slights or real grievances is too much of a luxury to the average person to be willingly dispensed with.

What some people would find to occupy their minds if they did not have grievances to nurse and slight to brood over I cannot imagine. I suppose they would be as unhappy as unmarried women I used to know. She had no children, no intellectual interests and, as she boarded at a hotel, no household cares. She was crying down married life to me one day. "My dear," she said, "you can't imagine how bored I am with the whole thing. Why, Phil and I haven't even had a good quarrel for three months."

I suppose the people who take such pleasure in getting hurt are in much the same state of ennuil when they cannot find a grievance.

The sensitiveness which makes its possessors continually fancy themselves slighted or hurt has too long been regarded as a kind of virtue, or at least the half-mark of an artistic temperament. To me it is nothing but another name for self-centeredness and the half-mark of an unoccupied mind. It is only people who have nothing to think about but themselves who are super-sensitive. The busy, unselfish people do not have time to wonder if they are being slighted.

Sensitiveness is a fine enough quality so long as you are sensitive to the right thing. Be as sensitive to beauty as you can. There is happiness in that for you. Fortunate indeed is the man who can say "My heart leaps up when I behold a rainbow in the sky." Be as sensitive to the suffering of others as you can; but as for the paltry, self-pitying, self-centered sensitiveness that is forever "getting hurt," don't consider that a virtue for it isn't. The virtue lies on the side of those people who, like Margaret, are too busy to feel it.

HOW BLOOD IS MADE.

The liquids and the digested foods in the alimentary canal pass through the wall of the canal into the blood. This process is called absorption and takes place chiefly from the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food through the body, and each cell takes from the blood the food it needs. A pure glyceric extract made from bloodroot, mandrake, stone, queen's root and golden seal root, and sold by druggists for the past forty years under the name of gives uniformly excellent results as a tonic to help in the assimilation of the food and in the absorption by the blood of the food it requires. Eradicates the poisons from the blood with this alternative extract which does not shrink the white blood corpuscles, because containing no alcohol or other injurious ingredients. Thus the body can be built up—strong to resist disease. This is a tonic taken from Nature's garden that builds up those weakened by disease. Sold by druggists everywhere. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. CHAS. FARRER, JR., of 222 Woodlawn Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I was troubled with my stomach for almost three years. Tried several doctors and most everything anybody recommended to me, but kept getting worse and honestly did not care to live as I was never well even though, at times, I had no pain. My symptoms were as follows: Always tired, my whole body in a throbbing condition of pain and nervousness in the stomach, vomiting, constipation, could not tell what to eat or who would agree with me, and was melancholy. But after taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with the 'Farrar Pelets' it has made me a well man which is something to live for."

Religious Enthusiasts' Strange Fads.

Although the practice of "tattooing" is expressly forbidden in the Scriptures—for in Leviticus it is stated, "Ye shall not make any cutting in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you"—the fashion of decorating the skin with religious subjects seems to be steadily growing. According to a London tattoo artist, he is often called upon to tattoo hymns, texts, and copies of famous religious pictures on the bodies of religious enthusiasts, as well as original symbolical designs.

A well-known bishop has upon his upper arm a representation of the Sun of Righteousness and a cross crushing the head of a hideous dragon typifying sin, while a young clergyman has a picture of a skull with a serpent thrusting its head through one of the eye-sockets and a radiant butterfly fitting away, symbolical of death and eternity.

The head of Christ crowned with a halo is carried about the wilds of Africa by a stalwart missionary on his chest, and a lady who devotes her time to Church work bears an anchor, a cross, and a heart—faith, hope and charity.

Hymns and Religious Pictures.

One of the most remarkable examples of tattooing of religious subjects is that provided by the case of an engineer storekeeper on one of the White Star Liners. He has, perhaps, the most wonderful tattooed body in the world. From his neck to his waistline he is covered with pictures and inscriptions. Displayed on his body is a wonderful piece of the tattoo artist's work. It is nothing less than a faithful reproduction of Leonardo da Vinci's picture "The Last Supper."

The greater part of his body is taken up with tattooing of a religious nature. On his back are the Lord's Prayer and the hymn, "Nearer My God, to Thee."

There is also a lady who has had Leonardo da Vinci's great picture of "The Last Supper" tattooed on her back, the picture being produced with marvellous fidelity; which reminds one that some time ago a woman entered a well-known London hospital, and the nurses discovered that the upper part of the right arm was entirely occupied with a pictorial representation of "The Rock of Ages," while on the lower part of the arm was the scene of the Crucifixion.

Tattooed Royalty.

Perhaps the most extraordinary tattooing idea ever carried out was that of a coachman, who, at the time of the Dreyfus trial, had his body and legs covered with no fewer than 120 illustrations of the leading personages. Altogether the work occupied nearly two years, three months being devoted to a picture of the terrible ceremony of degradation, when Dreyfus was stripped of his decorations and uniform.

It is interesting to note, by the way, that quite a number of members of European Royal Families bear tattooed designs. The Grand Duke Alexis of Russia, for instance, is most elaborately tattooed; likewise his cousin, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. The Queen of Greece and the King of Sweden are also tattooed. On his arm Prince George of Greece has a wonderful representation of a flying dragon in many colors. One of King George's arms bears a similar design, and Prince Francis of Teck, has a curious picture of a frog leaping for a small beetle tattooed on his right forearm.

Notes and Comments.

What does the Auditor General think of the Board of Works taking up the sheep encouragement policy and paying of purchase of sheep as a Public Work?

What do the people think of Morris increasing the Public Debt by Seven Million, Two Hundred Thousand Dollars in four years?

What do the electors think of the bureaucratic spirit of the administration which exhibits a disposition to keep information of their extravagance from them?

We observe that in spite of the extravagant expenditures of the Board of Agriculture the hay crop last year was 20,000 tons below the needs of the country.

Just as we drew the attention of the people to the stringency of the money markets and that several colonial Governments had found it necessary recently to offer 4 per cent. debentures instead of 2½ per cent. to the public, so did the financial agents of the Government advise Sir Edward Morris two months ago.

Mr. Kent in his criticism of the last Budget, made a strong point when he demonstrated that THE INCREASING PROSPERITY OF THE COUNTRY WAS GREATER UNDER THE LATE ADMINISTRATION THAN UNDER THE PRESENT.

Here is the evidence, he submitted to the Committee on Ways and Means and which should be borne in mind by electors next fall when they are called upon for their votes:

The figures show that in 1898-99 the earnings of our people as shown by the exports—which was the basis upon which Sir Robert Bond's figures were calculated—were $31,533 per capita. In 1906-07 they were $52.51 per capita; an increase of $21.08. In 1911-12—last year—the amount was $56.50 per capita, an increase in these years of $25.17, as against an increase of $21.08 during the period covered by Sir Robert Bond's administration. Now taking these earnings per family during the same time for 1898-99 it was $157.85 per family; in 1906-07 $266.65 and in 1911-12 it was $282.50. In other words the increase from 1899 to 1907 was $102.40 per family, from 1907 to the present day it was only $22.45.

Report of Board of Trade.

We have made the following extracts to give the tenor of the Board of Trade Report presented at the meeting of the Board yesterday.

The Council of the Board of Trade has been also most unjustly accused of meeting to fix the price of fish with the idea of preventing competition and restraining trade. But beyond the ever-present wish to see our produce marketed in the best way at the highest price, the price of our staple has never been discussed, much less regulated by the Council.

Inspection.

One of the first matters entertained by the Board was the inspection of fish and other products for export. It is impossible to overestimate the importance of this work. It was looked at somewhat askance at first, but more and more it is coming into use, for the protection of the foreign buyer and the local shipper, and of more importance perhaps than either is the necessity which arises for care in the curing of our staple products in order that the standards may be maintained.

Common Carriers.

Amongst other matters, the Board has devoted a good deal of time to the consideration of Steam communication, both foreign and local, the terms of Bill of Lading, terminal facilities, the liability of Railway Carriers for prompt carriage of goods entrusted to them, and other pertinent matters.

Weights and Measures.

Sub-committees of the Board, representing the Provisions and Grocery, Hardware and Dry Goods trade, have had several meetings on the subject of weights and measures of goods sold, and each has made recommendations for enactments through the Weights and Measures Act, which have been submitted to the Government.

Telephone Service.

As to the first, the Council of two years ago advocated the installation of an up-to-date telephone system for St. John's, combined with Long Distance Telephones for the Outports, the whole to be made a public utility and to be connected with the Post Office Department. The Government took legislative authority to carry out the suggestion, but so far has not apparently been able to do so.

Fire Boat.

The necessity of a Fire Boat for the protection of the Water front and the South Side was accentuated lately when the Reid-Nid. Co.'s shops were burnt. Had there been a strong Westerly wind, instead of a dead calm, at the time, the result might have been disastrous. The trouble here seems to be that the Municipal Council would have to supply the fuel and pay for its upkeep, while it would be under control of the Government through the Department of Justice. The Council of the Board of Trade has suggested a way of providing for the upkeep of the boat, and the Government has offered to advance the capital cost.

Absentee Landlords.

The problem of how to deal with the evils arising from the fact that so much property in St. John's is owned by absentee landlords is a difficult one. The fact remains that the improvement and upbuilding of the city is seriously retarded because of this unfortunate circumstance, and sooner or later it will have to be grappled with.

Reduction of Duties.

The Council of the Board of Trade bearing in mind the policy put forth by the Government when taking office four years ago, to effect reductions of duty on certain articles, did some months ago bring to the attention of the Government the advisability of giving notice of their intention to reduce or abolish the duties referred to in order to protect the Trade, particularly in the Outports, from loss. The Government did not, however, see their way to adopt the Council's advice.

Fisheries.

It is unfortunately the case this year that exporters have not been able to operate with profit, and it is evident to those that are most closely in touch with the export trade that the prices paid during the latter part of last year were in excess of those warranted by the conditions of the foreign markets. Not only has the European warcloud had a depressing effect and made money exceedingly difficult to obtain at reasonable rates, thus restricting the operations of those who purchase cargoes of fish, but there has been during the past year another very heavy advance in freights, and the premiums charged for insurance have increased from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. In all shipments in which co-operation has been used, the net price obtainable for fish has been decreased by the very high prices demanded by the mills making material for casks and drums, and by those who have engaged in the industry of making hoops, so that although the same prices may have been obtainable in the foreign markets as were received last year, yet the net result to the exporter has been from these various causes fully 30 cents and 45 cents per cwt. less.

In the opinion of the Council it is impossible to expect in view of the financial and labor conditions of the countries to which we export our fish that a greater gross price will be paid in future than was paid last year, or the year before. It has often been pointed out by the Board of Trade that fish of prime quality will sell, even on a bad market, when fish of an inferior quality must be held in store unsaleable, resulting in a great loss to the shipper, therefore the Board of Trade takes this opportunity of again urging on all those producing fish to use their utmost endeavors to make the quality good.

NEW MOTOR CARS.—Two handsome HUDSON Motor Cars arrived on the S. S. Thyramier, one for Mr. James Parker, and the other for Mr. E. Collishaw, they are electrically cranked and lighted, and are considered the best word in high grade motor car construction. They are certainly beautiful cars. The 1913 improvements are well worth inspecting.

Board of Trade Quarterly Meeting.

Yesterday afternoon the Quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade was held. President W. G. Gosling occupied the chair. The adoption of the report was moved by Mr. John Browning who adversely criticised the condition of Municipal affairs and denounced the officials of the Municipal Council, who, Mr. Browning said, treat the public with insincerity and discourtesy. This sort of treatment, he continued, from officials who are really servants of the people should not be tolerated by our business men, and he was strongly in favour of the Board of Trade going into the matter fully. Mr. Parnell seconded the report.

A heated but brief discussion took place on the question of Absentee Landlordism in which Hon. J. Harvey, Mr. E. M. Jackman and Mr. G. C. Fearn took part. The latter gentleman also spoke on weights and measures. This was a serious problem and recommendations for enactments have been submitted to the Government but so far have not been legislated upon.

President Gosling then spoke on "Common Carriers." Various phases of this matter, such as steam communication, foreign and local Bill of Lading terms and prompt carriage of goods had frequently been discussed by Council members of the Board and who gave a great deal of their time to it. A deputation from the Council had waited upon the Premier but nothing definite was done. Mr. G. C. Fearn then suggested that a congratulatory message be drafted and forwarded to His Excellency Governor Davidson.

The report gave an estimated revenue of $3,000,000 against an estimated expenditure of $2,200,000, thus showing a deficit of $700,000. On this account several of the members spoke emphasizing the necessity of an increased membership.

After some minor matters were talked of, the meeting adjourned.

Mission Band Sociable.

A very enjoyable Sociable was held in the basement of George Street Church last evening by the members of the Mission Band. A good programme was rendered, many of those taking part being tiny tots from the Band, who acquitted themselves admirably. Solos were given by Misses Marjorie Thomson, Gerlie Christian, Alice White, Doris Cockerham and Ebel Miller, and recitations by Gladys Squires, Gladys Miller, Stella Taylor and Hilda White. A chorus by the girls of the Orphanage was well received. The audience was then treated with a dialogue by Misses L. Tucker, S. Butler, C. Parsons and E. Joffine and received well-merited applause. After the programme refreshments were served and heartily enjoyed by all. The President Miss White and Secretary Miss Jennie Brown are to be congratulated on the success of the entertainment.

Great Father's Sons.

The other day in the Federal Court in New York City there were found guilty and sentenced to terms of imprisonment for swindling, the sons of two of America's distinguished citizens. One was Julian Hawthorne, son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, America's great novelist; the other was Dr. William J. Morton, son of William Thomas Green Morton, dentist and physician, the discoverer of the use of ether as an anaesthetic. It might be mentioned in passing that the chief of this gang of swindlers, Albert Freeman by name, received a five year sentence at the same time. He is mentioned here by reason of the fact that he is well known in Canada, and was the promoter of one of the producing Porcupine mines, though it was not in connection with this property that the present charge was laid and the verdict brought in. The case is not only noteworthy in view of the distinguished ancestry of two of the convicted men, but goes down in the records as being a cold blooded attempt to swindle the public by the use of lying literature as was ever perpetrated in the mining game in Canada and the United States (the "mine" being in Canada the operating office in New York). Freeman was unquestionably the brains behind the enterprise, and the court showed nice discrimination when he was given a longer term than were the rest. However, not a great deal of sympathy will be lost upon any of them. They richly deserved the treatment accorded them by the U. S. Federal Court.

Blackmail by a Music Journal.

It is to be hoped that the heavy fine and sentence of imprisonment imposed on one of the staff of a certain New York musical journal will have a salutary effect in cleaning up what has been for years one of the standing disgraces of the publishing business in the United States. The manner in which musical publications prey upon artists, singers, and piano manufacturers has been notorious among those on the inside of musical affairs for years past. In the case in question, the agent of the trade section of the best known of American musical journals told a piano firm that it must "come across" to the tune of $50,000 in advertising or the publication would "put him out of business." The methods in this case were so coarse that it was not difficult to get a conviction, although two members of the staff escaped conviction on technicalities and the proprietor of the journal is under arrest in Paris. A distinguished singer or pianist on the other hand, unacquainted with business, has for years submitted to such exactions, rather than submit to the inevitable "roasting" which would follow from the correspondents of this journal in every city in which they appeared, in case they should fail to "come across." During the Festival held in the Toronto Arena last October a large number of noted singers began their season's work here; and the purlieu of that edifice were haunted by the representatives of musical journals who had come here not so much for the sake of the music but to exact the annual tribute, and the sum demanded of the piano firm alluded to above shows that the demands of these persons are never modest.

To-Morrow.

Oh, what is the profit in sorrow, and what the advantage of woe? We're troubles to-day, but to-morrow the most of them surely will go. Say, where are the heartbreaking troubles that worried you crazy last year? They floated away like the bubbles, and so will the troubles now here. And where is the bitter affliction that drove from your bosom all hope? It's traveled from your jurisdiction, in vain were the weeps that you wove. It's foolish to hunt grief or borrow, it's naught but a habit of mind; the dawning of every to-morrow leaves yesterday's burden behind. This life has so much that is pleasant, to-morrow's so loaden with joy, the cheap little griefs of the present should fall to distress or annoy. To-morrow's so pregnant with promise, the outlook's so cheerful and gay, that Richard and Henry and Thomas should pass up the ill of to-day. To-morrow is happy and smiling, a goddess bedecked with a wreath; to-morrow is fair and beguiling, so let us quit gnashing our teeth. Let's be like the bygone to-morrow's, and wear just such smiles as they wore, and thus we'll discover that sorrow's a snare that no longer can shrieve.

To-Day's News.

Special to The Evening Telegram.
ROME, To-day.
Medical skill and a strong vitality combined bring about a more hopeful change in the condition of the Pope. The official bulletin relieved the anxiety present but there are some who fear a third relapse, owing to the general weakness of the Pontiff. Cardinal Merry del Val visited the Pope, and submitted for his signature several decrees of import, on questions of an urgent character. Pope Plus signed them and his handwriting was firm and clear and showed no change from his writing before his illness.

WASHINGTON, To-day.
The Democratic Tariff and Revision Bill came in for its attack in the Senate and the skirmish outlined the scope and vigor of the fight that will be made against it by the Republican forces. When the Tariff discussions began in two Houses, backed by requests from many interests for hearing in certain sections of the Underwood Bill, the Republican Senators made a demand upon the members of the Finance Committee for hearings and openly attacked the secret legislation now going on in the Democratic Senate who replied to the attack made it clear that the Finance Committee does not plan to grant any public hearings.

TOKYO, To-day.
A demand that the Japanese Government resort to arms was hysterically cheered at a mass meeting here last night to protest against the Alien Land Bill now before the California Legislature. Twenty thousand assembled and listened to addresses by various orators who, however, are not affiliated with any organization. The speakers also denounced the submissive attitude of the Government and the responsible newspapers of Tokyo commenting editorially on the meeting denounced the proceedings as undignified and unworthy of the nation describing them as merely the outburst of an unthinking extreme element, incited by political demagogues.

Faster Furness Liner.

The Furness Line propose to run the s.s. Digby in the Newfoundland trade for which it has been specially designed. It is now fitting out and is scheduled to leave Liverpool on May 8th. In a letter to the Premier, Sir Edward Morris, Lord Furness says:

"The s.s. Digby has accommodation for 60 first-class passengers, and for 30 second class passengers, in addition to which she has a considerable quantity of refrigerative space. She is fitted up in a most luxurious style, having a magnificent saloon, social hall, lounges, etc., and there is no better accommodation on any vessel crossing the Atlantic. There are, of course, steamers with more accommodation but I am perfectly certain this vessel will create an impression in the Newfoundland service. We propose to run her to Newfoundland during the whole of the summer, and we estimate that assuming she leaves Liverpool on a Sunday she can quite easily land her passengers in Newfoundland on Thursday night or Friday morning; that is, of course, provided that there is no fog or ice, and I think the Newfoundland people will find that they then have a facility which will obviate the necessity of their either going to Halifax, Montreal or New York. Lord Furness has in view the building of another vessel of this class, so as to give a regular service and to form the fast mail service which is under the consideration of the Government.

FIRE ALARM YESTERDAY. At 5.53 p.m. yesterday, an alarm of fire was rung in from box 238 for a slight fire at the residence of Mrs. Purcell on Stephen Street. Soon became ignited in the chimney and caused a big blaze and much smoke. The Western and Central companies responded and the blaze was quenched with water brought in pails.

Misses' Liniment Cures Eczema

At Rossley's.

One of the best shows seen in a long time was given at the Star Theatre last night when Shadrack and Julienne Talbott in a new sketch which pleased the large audience immensely. Rossley's Star Theatre has been conducted on splendid principles by his talented wife. The singing of Julienne Talbott last night was simply delightful, she sang the old Spanish song Carissima and the Rosary, her costumes were very fine. The Olympic water sports and swimming match picture with male and female swimmers is excellent.

News From Davis Inlet

Mr. J. R. Ford of Mr. M. E. Murphy's barber store, had two letters yesterday from Davis Inlet, in the far North from his father Mr. John Ford, who is superintendent of the Hudson Bay Co's stations down there. The second letter was dated January the 6th, 1913, and says that the weather all the month of December and January was terrible. Fierce snow storms alternated with the most intense frost and when Mr. Ford was writing, the thermometer at the station had reached 45 degrees below zero, with prospects of going lower. It was impossible to go abroad in such weather and all kept to the cheer and comfort of their homes. Furs up to that time were very scarce and but few deer or partridge had been killed, as they were very scarce. The people are all well and are comfortable as they did well with the codfish the past summer.

Gift to Branch Church.

A pleasing incident occurred at Branch on the 12th inst., when the men of that place, who had bought the wreck of the s.s. Labrador, presented the saleable parts to the Church. The men met in the school and surprised their pastor, Rev. A. Fyne, by handing over the spars, chains and rigging, to be disposed of, the proceeds to go to the Church Building Fund. The Rev. gentleman was agreeably surprised, and in addressing the assembly, thanked them for the gift, which is a valuable one. He considered that the spirit with which the presentation was made was even more to be valued; it showed forth their magnanimity of purpose, and their zeal to complete the splendid edifice which adorns the village. He hoped to be able, from the proceeds of this gift, to put a spire on the tower and begin the interior work of the building. We understand that the portions of the wreck given for sale are first class material, and should realize a handsome sum.

Latest Paris Fashions.

Paris April 12---Perlelaine heels for silk satin evening shoes are the latest eccentricities of fashion. Another novel and none too lovely fashion is wearing strings of pearls some with inter-manual will be the guardshien chin strap. The necklace passes under the chin of the wearer from ear to ear sometimes fastened around the ear lobe, but more frequently secured to the hair by a jeweled pin on either side with steel ornament. Brooches have been revived with many designs and will be mostly made of moire damask and brooches de laine.

ANOTHER SALT CARGO. The s.s. Dalby is due from St. John's with a cargo of salt to Job Ross, April 6, 1913.

Laugh and Be-Jolly.

Did you ever meet laugh-and-be-jolly? If you haven't, I wish that you had. To look at his face in the gloomiest place Will make any murmur glad. He is chubby with romping and laughter, He is crinkled with humor and fun; To stay melancholy with laugh-and-be-jolly Is to do what nobody has done. When the heavens are drizzling and drippy, It's a mercy to have him about; For he chuckles away on the dreariest day Till he looks like the sun coming out. Knock him down, he is up with a scramble, Ignore him, he smiles all the same; Call him 'frisky' or 'simple, he just shows a dimple That puts any cross-patch to shame. Take your grumps and your growls And carry them all to this elf; He will show you his way, and make you some day A laugh-and-be-jolly yourself!

Here and There.

DEE TO-MORROW. The s.s. City of Sydney is due here to-morrow from New York via Halifax with an unusually large freight.

I. O. O. F. MEETING. Atlantic Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F., will hold its weekly meeting Monday night. A debate on an interesting subject will also occur.

STORMY ACROSS COUNTRY. To-day it is snowing hard with a N.E. gale from St. John's to Grand Falls. The wires west of that are interrupted and it is thought that quite a blizzard prevails across country.

STAMPED FROM CARDIFF. The s.s. Astoria arrived from Cardiff this morning, after a passage of twelve and a half days, bringing a cargo of coal to A. Harvey & Co. The ship encountered rough weather but came through without damage. Considerable ice was met off this port.

FISH PLENTIFUL. Messages received to-day by the Marine and Fisheries Department, say that codfish is very plentiful at Port aux Basques, and travelers are getting twice quantities daily, while herring and liners are doing fairly well. Herring are reported numerous and of a large size around Benavista.

WHEN SHE WENT. Both the Checkers and A. M. Fox which went across to Europe early in January had a terrible time of it in the storms which then swept the Atlantic. Both were badly smashed and part of their cargoes had to be jettisoned, while the former lost a man. The belief entertained now is that the "Pearl Evelyn" now missing, foundered in that weather.

FOX FARMING!

A pamphlet giving full and detailed instructions on the profitable way to establish a fox farm on his own account, and giving details as to the management, breeding and raising of Foxes in captivity, has been published by the Game and Inland Fisheries Board. For the purpose of affording information to those of our own people who may desire to take advantage of the great possibilities of this business, a copy will be mailed to any one free of charge upon application to the Secretary Game and Inland Fisheries Board, St. John's. Letters so addressed will require no stamp.

Alaska Dog Race

Ended Yesterday After the Most Exciting Ever Run in the North.

Nome, April 14---The 412 mile All-Alaska sweepstakes dog race, over the snow from Nome to Candle and return, which ended yesterday in a victory for Fay Delesene, driving his own team, was one of the most exciting ever run in the North. It began Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and ended when Delesene crossed the line at 12.18 yesterday afternoon in the fast time of 75 hours 15 minutes. Johnson, unlike the victorious driver, was worn out when he crossed the line 2 hours 22 minutes later, and claimed second money. His dogs were not in good condition, two of them being carried on the sled. Johnson drove the last 140 miles without stopping. A. A. Scotty Allan, who won last year's race in 87 hours and 56 minutes, and the 1911 race in 81 hours and 40 minutes, came in with his dogs in good shape. Allan was the favorite in the betting, but ran third most of the way. The purse of $5,000 was divided 60 per cent. to the winner, 25 per cent. to second, and 15 per cent. to the third place.

The New Australian Champion. Details are now to hand of Jim Paddon's victory over Alf Felton in the Australian sculling championship on the Parramatta River. Only three weeks previously Felton had won the title from Charles Towns, Harry Pearce having resigned it.

Both Felton and Paddon are big men, the former being 187, and Paddon over 196 pounds.

After two false starts the men got away with Felton leading for a few strokes. Paddon, however, went up to him and remained level for a few hundred yards, when he dropped back and was led by half a length. Felton gradually extended his advantage to two lengths, but at the mile Paddon had reduced it to a length. Afterwards he made an effort to get level, but Felton drew away again. Both tired, but Paddon, using his strength, made another effort, and at 1/2 mile was in front. Felton went after him very gamely, but Paddon then going away from the race at his mercy, Felton being rowed out.

After the race Bill Beach, who filled his usual position of umpire, said: "Paddon does not know how to pull yet. When he learns to row he is going to be hard to beat. The sooner Armat rows him the better for Armat, because the longer he leaves it the longer the other man will have to learn to row."

At the paying over of the stakes Armat challenged the winner and deposited £25 with Bill Beach. Paddon has since accepted.

Will Devote Their Lives to Lepers.

Four Sisters From Outremont Will Follow Example of Father Damien---Go to Settlement Near Canton, China---Whole Sisterhood Offered to Go, But Only Four Will Be Chosen.

Four Catholic sisters will leave Outremont at an early date to give the remainder of their lives to service in the leper settlement on Skeduling Islands, close to Canton, China. Here there are 1,200 lepers, men, women and children, some as young as ten years. Many of the sufferers are in an unsightly condition through the ravages of the awful disease.

The four volunteers belong to the Sisterhood of the Immaculate Conception. As a matter of fact the whole 15 members of the sisterhood offered to go, but only four will be chosen. The sisterhood was formed for those who wished to volunteer for foreign mission work of the Catholic Church. The four volunteers to the leper settlement, of course, can never return. Technical Education. Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,--I have read with interest the discussion which is now being carried on, with reference to that great geological problem, viz., Coal. From my reading it, it seems to me that Newfoundland has a wrong and absurd idea of education. The facts put forth by Mr. English have not been accepted by some of our leading citizens. Why is this? Simply because Mr. English did not study geology at an authorized university. Now, Mr. Editor, if we accept geology to be a science which treats of the structure of the earth, the subject must be studied on the ground with the help of text books or a correspondence course, such as Mr. English has taken. The International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa., U.S.A., of which Mr. English speaks--is to-day the largest technical, educational school in the world, with over one million students. Their text books--which are prepared by the leading educational authorities in the United States--rank among the world's greatest educational literature, and are used by numerous universities and large manufacturing concerns in the United States and Canada. Any man who possesses a Diploma from these schools, is in the States counted equal with the university man. Now, Sir, if this is good enough for the States, surely it ought to be for Newfoundland. As Mr. English possesses a Diploma for Geology, Mineralogy, Chemistry, etc., and has 20 years of practical field experience, I claim Sir, that he has just as much right to be classed as a geologist as Mr. Howler and Mr. Davies. If we take only the men who have gone through a University as educated, the world to-day would be in a very poor condition. Such men as Edison, Carnegie, Marshall Field, Jay Gould, and other giants of finance and manufactures never had a University education, and to speak of these men as uneducated would be absurd. Education, Mr. Editor, is a process of drawing out latent powers, and not cramming, such as we have here in Newfoundland, and I claim that whatever a man studies by correspondence or from text books from other sources provided he fully understands what he is talking about, can put his knowledge to practical use he has as much right to a title and should be given a hearing as well as a colleague. I regret the injustice which has been done to Mr. English, but trust that in the future we make take a more rational view of education. Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I am, yours etc., April 15th, 1913. "TECHNIQUE"

Saved the Gas Bill.

There had been some technical classes started in connection with the parish schools, and when the vicar called at the home of one of the pupils the boy's mother expressed her delight at their institutions. "Do you know, vicar," she remarked, "since 'Entry took up the plumbing and gasfitting at their classes, it ain't cost us a single penny since for gas."

"Dear me!" replied the much-gratified reverend gentleman. "And how is that?"

"Why, he went and moved our penny-in-the-slot meter from the kitchen to outside the front door," came the explanation.

"But don't you have to drop the pennies in just the same?" queried the vicar.

"Not in, vicar!" came the proud reply. "Other people does that for us. 'Entry writ 'chocolates over the top of it, you see."

SYRACUSE, April 17. Seven persons are believed to have been burned to death and fifteen or more injured, through a fire in a hotel in Malone, New York State, this morning.

BISKRA, Algeria, April 17. Four military aeroplanes, piloted by Lieuts. Reimbert, Cheutna, Joham and Benoistu, of the French army, arrived here to-day after a 500 mile trip over the Sahara desert. One of the machines carried Colonel Douteaux as a passenger.

CALGARY, April 17. Alfred Matheson, Clerk in the City Treasurer's Office, is under arrest on a charge of forging five city cheques, totalling $965. He received a salary of $70 a month. He has an invalid wife and two children. Matheson was formerly a member of the famous Scottish regiment, the Black Watch.

ROME, April 17. The following bulletin was issued this morning by Doctors Harchlafava and Amici: The Pontiff spent a calm night. Diminution of cough relieved the Holy Father considerably. Temperature 97 this morning. A slight amelioration of the bronchial symptoms is again noted.

DEADWOOD, South Dakota, April 17. A forest fire raging in Custer County is said to be the worst in the history of the Black Hills. The fire is twenty miles long and a mile wide. Troops of cavalry from Fort Meade have gone to the scene of the fire fighting. The town of Buffalo Gap is said to be in danger.

WASHINGTON, April 17. Surgeon General Blue is reported to have asked Dr. Friedman for further samples of his serum, so that more careful analysis could be made. The doctor is said to have declined, saying that he had already supplied Surgeon Anderson, Director of the Hygienic Laboratory, and could spare no more. Surgeon Blue declares the amount furnished to have been a mere drop.

RADVILLE, April 17. Prairie fires, which raged through the hills, have cut off Radville, burning a strip of from 15 to 20 miles wide and destroying thousands of acres of pasturage. As a result feed will be scarce. The fire burned fiercely, and many stables and granaries, filled with grain, have been wiped out. Other districts report men fighting the flames for two days and nights. Several farms have been burned out.

BERLIN, April 17. An unpleasant incident at Nancy continues to occupy the columns of the newspapers. Foreign Secretary von Jagow made another statement in the Reichstag, which amounted to little more than that the French Government were making an inquiry, and had not yet completed it; that the Germans concerned had made depositions before the proper authorities, and that their sworn statements had been forwarded to Paris. It is clear from to-day's reports that feeling runs very high, and Baron von Schon is reported to have said that the Nancy incident dangerously resembles a spark in an already explosive atmosphere. According to reports from witnesses, German ladies at Nancy were insulted in an indescribable manner. The men of the party were belaboured with sticks until they consented to make oriental obeisance to the students, and to allow dry bread and black sausage to be stuffed down their throats. Members of the German party, personally describing the affair, say that the ladies as well as the gentlemen, were kicked, struck and spat upon, while railway officials, policemen, officers and soldiers looked on laughing. The Germans were insulted and mishandled in the lowest manner by the station soldiers, who were finally ordered to protect them, while those in the railway carriages joined in the excesses of the crowd, who forced their way with the soldiers into the carriages, for over half an hour. Until the departure of the train the most incredible things took place. The behaviour of the crowd of over 200 persons, could only be described as that of a mob suddenly gone mad. Loud hooting was heard on the platform, where the crowd flung itself on two new victims, merchants from Thuringia, shouting, "These are Germans, who deride our army."

Special to Evening Telegram. WASHINGTON, April 17. By a Bill introduced by Senator Hughes, to-day, Dr. Friedman would be licensed to practice in Washington without having to undergo the examination for aliens.

TORONTO, April 17. The Niagara Park Commission is completing arrangements for granting a concession to a Spanish Company for installing an aerial tramway over the whirlpool. The tramway will be about a third of a mile long, and will cross from the Canadian shore to the other, greatly lessening the distance which is now covered by the international railway, which now runs around the whirlpool. The immensity of the undertaking may be appreciated when it is considered that the pool must be spanned by a single cable with no support beyond towers and anchors at each end, and that the cable must be sufficiently strong to carry cars and passengers.

Rejected Kipling.

A Great Publisher's Mistake. The recent death of the well-known Bristol publisher, Mr. J. W. Arrowsmith, recalls one of the most amazing successes in the history of modern fiction. Thirty years ago Mr. Arrowsmith published in 'Arrowsmith's Journal' a story entitled 'Called Back', the author's name being Hugh Conway, the pseudonym adopted by Frederick John Fergus, who was engaged in business at the time. Fergus's hobby was writing, and he was forty-three years of age when Mr. Arrowsmith bought 'Called Back' from him for £80. Afterwards the story was republished in a cheap form, and had an extraordinary success. Over 400,000 copies were sold in this country, in addition to which it was translated into seven languages.

And it was characteristic of Mr. Arrowsmith that, although Mr. Conway had sold the copyright of the story for £80, the publisher paid him in addition some thousands of pounds, owing to its unexpected and phenomenal success. 'Called Back' was followed in the next number of Arrowsmith's Journal by 'Dark Days,' a story of similar character and equally successful. Hugh Conway, however, did not live to enjoy much of his great success, for shortly afterwards he died of typhoid fever at Monte Carlo. The reputation of Mr. Arrowsmith, however, was further enhanced by the fact that among other successful books he published Mr. Jerome's 'Three Men in a Boat,' Mr. Anthony Hope's 'Prisoner of Zenda,' and books by Max O'Rell, Sir Walter Besant, Sir A. Conan Doyle, and Sir Gilbert Parker. He was one of the few really successful provincial publishers. But he always regretted one mistake. It was when everyone was talking about 'Called Back' that a young man from India offered some stories to Mr. Arrowsmith, who refused them, thinking the young man had rather too high an opinion of himself. That young man was Rudyard Kipling. It is said also that Mr. Arrowsmith was offered the first story written by the famous Sherlock Holmes, but somehow or other 'declined it with thanks!'

In any way, but the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company are large exporters to the United States, and should benefit materially by the abolition of the duty on their product. If they are enabled to ship more ore to the United States by this legislation it will benefit Newfoundland in several ways, first by increasing and developing this industry, and secondly by increasing the revenue obtained by the Government from the export of this ore.

This is the first session in thirty-two years that Sir Robert has not been in his seat in the Newfoundland Legislature. There is not now a member of either branch of the Colonial Parliament who was sitting there when Sir Robert was first elected. Speaking of the suffragette campaign in Britain Sir Robert said that conditions were almost inconceivable, and the problem was an extremely hard one to handle. However, he thought that the new legislation recently enacted by Mr. McKenna would meet the situation fairly well.

Sir Robert leaves for North Sydney this morning en route to St. John's. He was the guest while in Halifax of his brother, Rev. George J. Bond. — Halifax Chronicle, April 14.

WE recommend the Royal Baking Powder as superior to all others. It is indispensable for finest food.

Newfoundland Will Greatly Benefit

Says Sir Robert Bond by Admission of Free Fish, Ore and Wood Pulp Into U. S.

Newfoundland will benefit greatly if the new American tariff becomes law, is the opinion of Sir Robert Bond, leader of the Opposition in the Ancient Colony, who arrived in Halifax on the steamer Corsican after several months spent in Britain. Sir Robert had heard nothing of the new Tariff Bill until informed of some of its provisions by a Morning Chronicle reporter on Saturday, and while he did not care to make any detailed statement until he had read the new measure, he unhesitatingly stated that some of its provisions would be a great boon to Newfoundland. The placing of fish, iron ore, and wood pulp on the free list were the chief items in which he thought Newfoundland was most interested in, and removing the duty on these would materially benefit the Colony, in his opinion.

"Free fish would, of course, benefit Newfoundland more than anything else," said Sir Robert, "but until I see the provisions of the new Bill and can ascertain exactly what is proposed in this regard, I would not care to discuss the matter further. Next to the free importation of fish, I should think the removal of the duty on iron ore would be of the most importance to Newfoundland. The hematite deposits at Wabans are, I believe, absolutely unique for their high quality, the cheapness with which they can be mined, and the ease with which they can be shipped, and a very large community has grown up around these mines on Bell Island, which are operated by two Nova Scotian Companies.

"The Dominion Iron and Steel Company do not export any ore, but use all they can produce at Sydney, so this new tariff will not benefit them

Drew a Knife.

Yesterday some disturbance occurred on the Southside near the s.s. Neptune, owing mostly to the sharing of flippers. Several rows were stopped by the police who are now doing duty on the Southside. Shortly after 6 o'clock one of the men drew his sheath knife and threatened to stab a man named Hutchings. The man was drunk and Constable Bussey, who was quickly on the scene arrested him and brought him to the lockup.

The High School.
BY H. L. HANN.

High schools are established for the purpose of introducing ambitious students to a collection of languages which are never used in ordinary conversation. By the time a student is able to talk fluently on his fingers in the original Greek, Hebrew and Sanskrit, he is fitted to do everything except keep books in his father's store or adjust a corn planter so that it won't skip over nine hills at one leap.

The most effective hold which the high school has nowadays is higher mathematics, which is drilled into the sweet girl graduate as thoroughly as possible. This is an excellent thing, for when the girl graduate gets married she will have fully as much use for geometry and trigonometry as a blind man for a reading glass. There are thousands of high school graduates who can parse a right angle triangle with their eyes shut, but who don't know whether Aaron Burr was the second husband of Pocahontas or a trademark for a new brand of sleeveless underwear.

The high school is presided over by fifteen or twenty teachers who take the plastic mind of youth and fill it full of decimal fractions, German vowels, Shakespearean sonnets and other gray matter, which come in very handy when the graduate begins to learn the grocery business. The high school also teaches a style of angular penmanship which the addressee has to stand on his head to read.

High schools are a great blessing, but they would be more popular if they spent less time on botany and biology and more on single entry bookkeeping.

Kicked by Horse.

A little boy, a son of Mr. Peter Murphy, of the West End, narrowly escaped being killed by a kick from his father's horse, while it was being watered near Flower Hill, Wednesday evening. The boy was passing behind the animal when it suddenly kicked him full in the face, splitting the upper and lower lip in twain, knocking seven teeth out of the front of his mouth, and also breaking some jaw teeth. Dr. Fraser who was called, had to stitch the wounds and otherwise attend to the lad who had received the kick in the forehead must have been killed.

A Risky Proceeding.

Despite the many warnings given of the danger of passing over the railway trestle bridge, it is used daily by men and women coming from and going to the Southside. Yesterday a man well under the influence of drink, attempted to cross there, and fell between the sleepers as an engine shunting a number of cars came up the track. Fortunately those on the cab of the engine noticed his predicament, slowed up, taking him later across the bridge. A couple of days ago a woman who was crossing it fell in the same place as a shunting train was backing up from the freight shed. She was badly bruised and cut by the fall and so frightened that had the train men not seen her she must have been killed, as after falling she did not make any attempt to rise or get off the bridge.

The Police Court.

A sealer from the S. S. Neptune, who assaulted three of the crew, and also threatened to stab one of them, was fined $10 or 30 days for the assaults, and was ordered to find two sureties in $20 each to keep the peace. A vagrant was sent down for 10 days.

A 15 year old boy taken in for safe keeping was released to go home with his father.

GOING WEST.—The s.s. Fortia left Trepassay at 5.30 a.m. to-day going west.

Personal.

Mr. N. Rice, of the Gas Co.'s office, accompanied by his sisters, Misses Ada and Hannah, leaves by the Morwenna on Saturday, for Montreal en route to Vancouver, where they will reside in future.

Brakesman Crocker, of the Red Nfld. Co.'s freight train, who had been in hospital for some time past, ill of typhoid, came out of the institution yesterday, and is almost recovered.

Terrible Result of Blood Poison. After These Operations Zam-Buk Was Tried and Proved Successful. If people would only use Zam-Buk for chronic sores, blood-poison, etc., before permitting an operation, scores of limbs would be saved. Mr. Robert Patterson, of North Pelham, Welland Co., Ont., writes: "My daughter, Annie, had blood-poison in her finger. The doctor operated twice on the finger, but did not obtain the desired result, and a third operation was considered necessary. Three doctors were present at this operation, but after it had been performed the wound did not heal. Try as we would we could not get anything to close the wound. "We at last tried Zam-Buk, and it was really wonderful to watch how this balm healed the wound. Each day there was a marked improvement. First the wound in the palm of the hand closed, and then the finger which had been bad so long began to heal. The diseased flesh seemed to rise out of the wound and then drop off, and new healthy flesh formed from below pushing out the diseased tissue. In a short time the wound was completely healed. Had we applied Zam-Buk at first we might have saved the finger. "We had another proof of Zam-Buk's power in the case of my son. When two years old he had his hand badly mangled. One finger had to be amputated and it left a running sore for some months. This wound, also, was finally healed by Zam-Buk." For chronic sores, blood-poison, ulcers, abscesses, scalp sores, piles, eruptions, inflamed patches, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases Zam-Buk is without equal. 50c. box all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld., for price. Have you tried Zam-Buk Soap? 25c. tablet.

Sale and Concert. Wednesday evening and night a Musical 'At Home' and Sale of Work was held at the residence of Mrs. H. Crawford, LeMarchant Road, under the auspices of the Presbyterian West End Aid. A deal of beautiful work exhibited, sold readily and the spacious rooms of the residence were beautifully decorated. The concert, which was supervised by Misses Hanlon and Crawford was very pleasing and several ladies and gentlemen well known in musical circles, took part. The financial returns were excellent, the receipts amounting to $170.

Cinderella Dance. Last night at the British Hall a Cinderella dance was held by the Warrant and Non-Commissioned Officers of the Newfoundland Highlanders. Upwards of three hundred persons attended and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Dancing commenced at 8 p.m. and continued until midnight. The music was discoursed by Ryall's orchestra.

Vessel Given Up. The schr. Pearl Eveline to which the Telegram made reference some weeks back, and about which there was much uneasiness is now given up as lost. She is now over 90 days out on her voyage to Oporto from this port fish laden by the Smith Co., Ltd. The vessel carried a crew of six, three of whom were married men and leave families. The Pearl Eveline was a three-masted schooner of 99 tons and was built at Lunenburg in 1900. Many hats have no brims at all, and when this detail does appear, it is rolled or flares off the face.

A Dangerous Practice.

The men attached to the shunting engine in the railway yard, say they cannot keep boys from clinging to the engine and cars and running the risk of losing their lives. Daily this occurs and yesterday a boy named Dunn had a narrow escape. He clung to the truss rods of a flat car which was running over the rails at a rapid rate when suddenly the boy lost his hold and fell coming within a couple of inches of going under the wheels. The train men repeatedly warn boys of the danger they run but it is utterly useless to do so.

Answer: MICHELIN

As a Time and Money-Saving Proposition, 77 per cent. say MICHELIN. As an Experimental Proposition, 23 per cent. are undecided, still experimenting with various makes, with the consequent loss of time and money.

Fancy pattern covers are no doubt attractive, they are intended to be; they are also a good advertisement.

To the shrewd buyer the very fact of such a great variety of Fancy Pattern Tyres proves conclusively that none of the patterns are correct.

Either one is best and should be universally adopted, or all are unnecessary.

MICHELIN are not fancy pattern covers: Quality is their watchword, and on their merits they stand or fall.
