NO COMMISSIONS PAID

Col. Watts Disappointed Because Fuses Were Not Canadian Made.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Ont., May 5.—Two more members of the old shell committee now under investigation by the royal commission, took the stand today, and both emphatically denied any knowledge of any commission or rake-offs being paid to anybody in connection with the contracts let.

Col. Watts Tried Hard

From Col. Watts' evidence, it appears that he was most active in trying to keep the manufacture of fuses in Canada. He was evidently convinced, however, that the fuses and cartridge cases could be made in Canada the first orders must go to the American concerns because of the urgency. It was to him T. A. Russell and Lloyd Harris first made complaint, and he immediately took it up with the commission that it was Gen. Pease of the British War Office who first informed the members of the shell commission that they were paying too much for fuses.

ANOTHER BRITISH SHIP SUNK

LONDON, May 5, 11.10 p.m.—The British steamer Ruston, 2000 tons, has been sunk by a submarine, according to reports. The crew was picked up by the Italian steamer Misurata.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

SEVENTEEN days ago President Wilson of the United States sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding that submarine warfare against merchantmen should cease, in the following words: "Unless the imperial government should now and immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight-carrying vessels, the government of the United States can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German Empire altogether." The note also recited particulars of the methods practiced by Germany on the high seas, and it said that the use of submarines for the destruction of enemy's commerce was utterly incompatible with the principles of humanity, the long established and incontrovertible rights of neutrals, and the sacred immunities of non-combatants.

Although Germany was requested to give an immediate answer to the United States, and it was intimated that two or three days should be sufficient for a response, she studiously took nearly three weeks, and her note is only expected to reach Washington today. The gist of her answer, as cabled from Berlin, is the following: "As the (German) Government (has) repeatedly declared, it cannot dispense with the conduct of warfare against enemy trade." In respect to concessions the note says that German naval forces have received "an order that merchant vessels both within and without the area declared to be a naval war zone, shall not be sunk without warning, without saving human lives, unless the ships attempt to escape or offer resistance."

The tone of the note is of studied insolence, but the nature of the promised concessions, if examined, shows that they are no concessions at all, for Germany has all along maintained that her submarine commanders had instructions to see to the safety of ships' passengers and crews. It will be recalled that in the case of the Arabic, amongst others, Germany asserted that this steamer attempted to ram the submarine, and that it sank her in self-defence. But the truth later came out that the submarine which sank the Arabic was itself sunk almost immediately afterwards, and that the German Government made its contention without having ever received a report from the commander of that craft. Thanks to the British censorship, the German Government did not know that the piratical submarine had been sunk by a British patrol boat, and as a result the allies were able directly to convict that government of plain ly-

FOE LOSES TWO AEROPLANES IN STRUGGLE WITH BRITISH

Machines Driven Down Behind Own Lines, One Being Wrecked—Several Mines Sprung by Germans Without Doing Damage.

LONDON, May 5, 11.27 p.m.—The British official statement on the campaign in the west, issued tonight, follows: "The enemy sprang mines last night near Neuville St. Vaast, and one today east of Albert, without effecting any alteration in the situation. During the night there was considerable artillery activity on the banks of the Somme, opposite Hulloch and west of Ypres. Today there is nothing to report. The artillery was less active than usual. "Yesterday, as a result of air combats, we drove two enemy machines down behind the German lines. One was wrecked and the pilot of our aeroplane fired on the occupants after the landing and then returned safely to our lines. The other enemy machine was damaged. During the day one of our aeroplanes was lost, being brought down within the enemy's lines."

UNITED STATES WILL RESORT TO WATCHFUL WAITING AGAIN

Germany to Be Given Opportunity to Show Intent to Carry Out New Promises, The Reply is Admitted to Be Disappointing.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Germany's note has postponed, if it actually has not averted, a diplomatic break with the United States. President Wilson will make the decision after he has read the official text which reached the state department late tonight. It was stated authoritatively after the cabinet meeting today that if the official text bore out the unofficial version transmitted in today's Berlin news despatches, Germany's assurances undoubtedly would be accepted, and before taking another step the United States would await the fulfilment of her latest promises. In such case the United States might not reply to the note, and would await evidence of the actual abandonment of Germany's present practices of submarine warfare which is declared.

In Wilson's Hands

The German embassy view is that the note gives all President Wilson asked for; that it signifies a return to "cruiser warfare"—the use of submarines as regular naval cruisers intercepting commerce with visit and search—and that inasmuch as it makes no mention of the armed ship question the controversy is not involved. Congress took the note quietly and although a variety of views were expressed, the general sentiment seemed to be in favor of leaving the situation in the hands of the president. Cabinet members went over the note carefully with the president, and while they uniformly refused to discuss it, they reflected the view that a break had been avoided; that Germany's new assurances would be accorded the test of time, notwithstanding the references to the action Germany expects the United States to take against Great Britain's restraints on neutral trade. They expressed this view with the full realization of the difference of opinion on what constitutes a peaceful merchant ship entitled to the protection of international law and of the president's steadfast determination not to permit the interests of the United States with one of the belligerents to become entangled with those of another.

To Scrutinize Orders

The United States does not know how Germany's new instructions to her submarines compare with previous instructions, which were given at the behest of President Wilson. Secretary Lansing stated today that it was possible that state department might ask for official copies of the old orders. The newest orders, however, apparently are regarded as meeting the president's demand for a declaration of an abandonment of the present practices of the negotiable return of merchant ships, by orders of the British admiralty, actually are acting as naval war vessels in attacking submarines. Negotiations With Britain. Germany in her notes reserves "complete liberty of decision" should the United States should prevail upon Great Britain to bring her practices into conformity with international law. The official view is that the United States should not be bound by the conduct of Germany's correspondence with Great Britain on that subject and the success or failure of the negotiations remain entirely in the hands of the president's determination to make the fulfilment of her promise conditional upon the success of the president's negotiations with Great Britain warrants the severance of diplomatic relations. At the state department after the situation had been thoroughly discussed at the cabinet meeting, it was stated that it was practically certain that the present would not reach his decision before next week.

Cannot Tolerate Errors

Out of it all two things were made clear. They were that the U. S. still holds firmly for its determination that "mistakes" of submarine commanders are not admissible; that they are unforgivable and that the U. S. must continue to regard a discussion of the conduct of other belligerents as irrelevant to its discussion of Germany's conduct. The threatened break will not come at this time; another set is convinced that Germany's apparent determination to make the fulfilment of her promise conditional upon the success of the president's negotiations with Great Britain warrants the severance of diplomatic relations. At the state department after the situation had been thoroughly discussed at the cabinet meeting, it was stated that it was practically certain that the present would not reach his decision before next week.

Meighen's Declaration Aroused Enthusiasm Among Government Supporters

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, May 5.—The effort by the Liberals to obtain a more open inquiry into the transactions of the shell committee by the Meredith-Duff Commission was not crowned with success.

In the house of commons this afternoon Mr. Carvell's motion to adjourn the house was negatived by a party vote, yeas 19, nays 46. Broadly speaking the debate was just as unconvincing. The only speaker who attempted to get up speed was Hon. Arthur Meighen, who said the Grits were caught in a humiliating position and were trying to escape in a cloud of dust. Messrs. Carvell, Pugsford and Macdonald presented the case for the Liberals fairly enough and the prime minister answered with painstaking care and deliberation.

Status of Commission

Part of the afternoon was occupied with a discussion as to the advisability of constituting the royal commission into a court, under section 1 of the B. N. A. Act, which authorizes parliament to organize federal courts for the enforcement of federal laws. The government contended that the only purpose to be accomplished by making the commission a court would be to facilitate the taking of testimony in the United States, but contended that as a matter of fact every witness who could throw any light on the subject was already in Ottawa. Carvell's Argument. Mr. Carvell in opening said that it was important to find out whether the Irish Air and Rule Britannia Played on Mouth Organs Answer to Overtures.

LONDON, May 5.—Immediately after the outbreak of the Irish revolution German soldiers in trenches opposite the Irish division fighting on the western front, put up signs inviting Irishmen to join the Germans, according to news received by John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist, from his brother, Capt. William H. K. Redmond, now at the front. One notice read: "Irishmen in Ireland are in revolution. English guns are firing on your wives and children. Sir Roger Casement persecuted. Throw your arms away. We give you hearty welcome. Another sign read: "We are Saxons and if you don't fire, we won't." The Irishmen replied by playing an Irish air and "Rule Britannia," on mouth organs.

Submersible Hit by Big Gun at Range of Fifty Yards.

LONDON, May 5, 5 p.m.—The British liner Clan MacFadyen has arrived in Gravesend from Africa somewhat damaged by the gunfire of two German submarines. The steamer returned to the bay and it was believed on board that one of the submarines was destroyed.

The steamer reports that the first attack on her was made in the Bay of Biscay, when a submarine fired six shots at her at a range of fifty yards. The steamer immediately brought her big gun into action and hit the submarine several times, and it is believed destroyed.

Three hours later another submarine fired a torpedo, but missed the Clan MacFadyen by a few feet.

Zepplin Was Brought Down While Scouting Off Schleswig Coast.

LONDON, May 5, 7.50 p.m.—British official statements tonight give further particulars of the destruction of two zeppelins; one near Saloniki and the other off Schleswig coast, as follows: "Vice-Admiral De Robeck reports that about 2.30 o'clock this (Friday) morning a zeppelin approached Saloniki and when passing over the harbor she was fired on heavily. She was hit by the fleet and came down abaze near the mouth of the Vardar river. There were no survivors.

"The commander-in-chief of the grand fleet has reported that the ships which destroyed a zeppelin yesterday were the H.M.S. Galatea, Commodore Edwin S. Alexander-Sinclair, and H.M.S. Phaeton, Captain John E. Cameron. The zeppelin apparently was employed in scouting duty when she was destroyed by the gunfire of these two ships.

Tonight's French official statement says: "On the night of May 4-5, about two o'clock in the morning a zeppelin which was hovering over Saloniki was brought down by the artillery of the allied fleet. The zeppelin fell in flames at the mouth of the Vardar river."

CUNARD LINE ACQUIRES STEAMSHIPS OF C. N. R.

Agents of Former Company Give Official Confirmation of Report.

MONTREAL, May 5.—Official confirmation of a story published a few days ago that the Cunard Steamship Co. was about to take over the steamers controlled by the C. N. R. Co., was given tonight by The Hon. Bedford Co. Ltd., Canadian agents of the Cunard Line, Liverpool, in a statement handed out for publication. The steamers in question are those which before the war were running from Avonmouth and Rotterdam and the service will be maintained between Canada and ports in the United Kingdom and on the continent. The various Canadian services of the Cunard Line and the C. N. R. system will, in effect, become a single transportation unit between Europe and the Dominion and Canada. The agreement becomes operative at once.

Enemy's Attacks Made Against Craters Met With Stubborn Resistance and Yielded Him No Results—Many Officers and Men Win Distinction.

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS, IN FRANCE (via London, May 5).—Warm and bright weather marked the closing week of April. Under favorable conditions aviators were unusually active. German and British machines hovered constantly over the Canadian lines and aerial combats were frequent. From time to time artillery duels developed on each section of our front. At various points bombing attacks were attempted by the enemy. One such assault was delivered against a battalion of the Royal Highlanders of Canada. Late in the afternoon the front and support lines of this unit were subjected to a bombardment of heavy shells, mortar bombs and rifle grenades. Steady retaliation by our field batteries and howitzers failed to check the enemy's fire, which gradually increased in severity.

Foe Rushes Crater. Finally it became concentrated on a narrow section of the front line and the zone immediately behind it. Two hours after sunset a party of Germans rushed a crater held as an advance post by the Montserratians. High explosive shells had incapacitated the majority of the garrison and buried its reserve of bombs, but the few men who were able to do so, including Pte. G. Gill, D. Woods and A. Morley, fought and fired at the enemy, causing him several casualties. Having entered the crater the Germans commenced searching the debris of entrenchments for wounded and bombing remains. Our machine gunners, after awhile they sent up a mass of flares and under the impression that a signal for further reinforcements, Private G. Gill, D. Woods and A. Morley, abandoned the unequal struggle and retired on their battalions. Pte. Morley, who was badly wounded in the face by a bomb, succeeded in making his way unaided to one of our dressing stations.

Spurred Fire on Germans

As soon as definite information was received at battalion headquarters, as to what had occurred, our artillery and trench mortar batteries opened a tense fire on the German trenches and on the space between them and the front line. Lieut. B. M. Given, bombing officer of the battalion, went out with four of his men to investigate the situation and a party under Lieut. A. W. Alcock was sent forward over ground swept by the hostile artillery to reinforce the garrison of the front trench. On reaching the crater the men found it abandoned by the enemy, who had left in it one of his number, dead. Fostering his bombers as sentries, Lieut. Given returned for reinforcements and when a fresh garrison had been brought up the work of restoring the entrenchments and recovering our dead was undertaken.

In the course of the hostile bombardment on this occasion, Capt. F. W. Petermach was wounded in the head and had several teeth knocked out by shrapnel. Nevertheless he remained at his post until relieved three hours later.

Lieut. F. J. Rowan was struck in the leg but declined to leave his men until the situation had cleared. Lieut. F. W. Mingo, who was in charge of a wiring squad at another point when the attack commenced, withdrew his party to safe cover and then endeavored to join his company in the front line. While passing through the enemy's violent artillery barrage he was hit in the arm by a shrapnel.

A few days later the enemy directed the fire of many guns and mortars onto the trenches of a western cavalry battalion. Between two and six o'clock in the afternoon over 2000 shells were flung into this area, causing considerable havoc and damage to our defensive system. Undismayed by the intensity of the fire, our men clung to their trenches, and with admirable fortitude held on, even to the most advanced positions. Opposite to them the fierce retaliation of our artillery was wrecking the German trenches, and there is little doubt but that the stubborn tenacity of the battalion, coupled with the splendid work of the artillery, prevented the delivery of an impending attack.

Bravery Peaked

Later in the week the battalion was complimented by the commander in chief in person on its steadiness under this trying ordeal. During the bombardment a large mine-thrower shell pitched into a trench close to one of our machine guns. It crashed through the fire step. Instantly Lance Corp. John Peacey of Vancouver, rushed forward, picked up the heavy mine and threw it out of the trench. As it cleared the parapet it exploded in the air. But for Corp. Peacey's gallantry the ing. The incident ended by Germany making some sort of amends for the sinking of the Arabis.

So a careful study of what was demanded by the United States, of what Germany had previously promised and disregarded, and of what she "offers" in her latest note, convinces the student that what Germany "offers" as a "concession" is the same as what she has been professing all along that she has been doing. First she denies that her submarine sank the Sussex, then, when cornered, she has to admit it, but she reserves certain points, and she says: "Should it turn out that the commander was wrong in assuming the vessel to be a man of war, the German Government will not fail to draw the consequences resulting therefrom." The promise, "draw the consequences resulting therefrom," has no meaning.

The Germans, sure enough, are still aiming at the capture of Hill 304, which must be carried before the Mort Homme position can be turned. They attempted to carry it by a furious assault the night before last and were soundly beaten. The only result that they had to show for their attempt which was flanked with that disregard for the lives of their men that the German generals have shown in this war, was the gaining of a footing in one or two points of the first trenches of the defence. Whether this attack was intended to mask the movements of troops behind the Verdun lines to keep the French generals occupied with the local situation, or if really presages another effort against Verdun, cannot be foretold. It is probable that the coming arrival of contingents from Russia in France will keep the German general staff sufficiently worried about the future to force it to maintain a larger army in the west than Germany can afford to maintain.

The Russians report the capturing of Turkish trenches in the direction of Erzincan, in Armenia, and the bayoneting of prisoners of the occupants. They repulsed fresh attempts of the Turks to attack their positions on the road to Babur, 65 miles northwest of Erzerum, and they also repulsed all Turkish attacks in the Bitlis region. The campaign in this theatre seems to be slowed up by the arrival of Turkish reinforcements and the coming of the spring break-up.

Two zeppelins were destroyed yesterday. Both were brought down by the fire of warships. A British scout cruiser which was operating along the coast of Schleswig accounted for one; allies' warships in the Saloniki harbor accounted for the other. The last one had been sent on an air raid against Saloniki. This makes the third of these aircraft to be disposed of in two days, and their destruction entails a loss of about $2,500,000 of the money of the German taxpayer.

Seventy recruits passed the doctor at the recruiting depot yesterday and were taken on the strength of the various units. The Beavers and the Fusiliers, with 12 men each, headed the list for the day. During the day 150 rejected buttons were given out, and it is estimated roughly that since last Sunday 1500 buttons have been distributed.

The Real Secret of Rejuvenating the Face

She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned how to rejuvenate the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It's a secret anyone may possess. The aged, faded or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed in an entirely safe and rational manner by the nightly application of ordinary mercurized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day, there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercurized wax, procurable at any drug store (an ounce is sufficient), is applied like cold cream. In the morning it is erased with soap and water. It's the best thing known for freckles, blackheads, pimples, moth patches, liver spots and fine surface wrinkles.

from Toronto and other nearby cities, in No. 2 Military Division, to train this summer, has been practically solved by the military authorities. Unless some order to the contrary comes in the near future from Ottawa, the majority of the soldiers will be stationed at Simcoe for the summer months. If the most of the staff will also likely open their quarters at that place. Those troops which don't go to Simcoe will be stationed at the same place, in Niagara-on-the-Lake. Steps have been taken already by the Toronto headquarters to arrange special boat service from Toronto to the Niagara camp.

This explodes the theory that summer quarters might be opened at Long Branch near Hamilton. Also no definite number of troops have been assigned to the Simcoe site, it is estimated that with a few minor "fixing-ups," accommodation for 60,000 men could be made. It is the consensus of opinion, however, that no more than 20,000 men at the most will go to Simcoe.

Col. J. R. Biggar, director-general of supplies and transports at Ottawa, was in conference yesterday with Brigadier-General W. A. Logan, discussing details of moving the troops to the new military camps.

Yesterday afternoon's camp orders give out at headquarters contained the news that great precautions will be taken by the military authorities. All tents running in the vicinity of the camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake will be closely watched by guards and searched frequently.

Pte. Frank Collins of the Welland Canal guard, who was killed at St. Catharines Wednesday when he was struck by a radial car, was buried with full military honors from the residence of his sister, 275 Silver Birch avenue, yesterday afternoon.

members of the shell committee were acting as contractors or in a judiciary capacity.

The line of cross examination proposed by E. F. B. Johnston, aimed, he said, to clear up that point. He was surprised to find the government so reluctant to enlarge the scope of the enquiry. He also thought it most important that a court should be created which could take testimony by commission in New York.

Borden's Refusal. Sir Robert Borden said in reply, the government did not feel justified in extending the scope of the investigation. The money expended by the shell committee was money that belonged to the Imperial government. He had called the attention of the Imperial authorities to the charges made against the shell committee and had expressed his willingness to co-operate with them or assist in setting on foot a thorough and complete investigation. Meanwhile, he thought the royal commissioners had liberally interpreted their instructions and were giving a wide latitude to counsel in investigation.

He quoted from Sir William Meredith's opinion, to show that Mr. Johnston was at liberty to enquire into every contract and sub-contract feeling, in regard to the 5,000,000 shells orders out of which the orders for fuses developed.

The debate was continued by Hon. William Pugsley, Hon. C. J. Doherty and E. M. Macdonald (Picton). These gentlemen discussed the questions involved from a legal standpoint.

Meighen in Form. Hon. Arthur Meighen made a fighting speech, which roused the government members to great enthusiasm. He said the Liberals were caught in a trap and were trying to wiggle their way out. Having humiliated the Liberals to produce any evidence in support of their charges they sought to create a diversion by discussing far afield.

Mr. Carvell's motion was defeated by a majority of 27. At the evening sitting the house took up the report of the committee. Sir Robert Borden was acting in place of Sir Sam Hughes and became visibly nettled by the remarks of Hon. Frank Oliver. Considerable feeling was shown by both gentlemen, and Col. Currie (North Simcoe) intervened with a degree of gentleness of the subject.

The musketry training our troops got up England, he said, was superb. Amid loud applause from both sides of the house he described some of the feats which had distinguished Canadian soldiers at the front.

Lack of Rifles Alleged. Mr. Oliver contended that he had not enough rifles for the training of our troops in Canada. He said that insufficient target practice and were sent without sufficient training to the front.

The charge the prime minister resented. He said the Canadian troops were famous as sharpshooters and rebuked Mr. Oliver's occasional unduly alarm among the relatives of the soldiers at the front.

Col. Currie (North Simcoe), said the soldiers in Canada, the better equipped than were the soldiers of Kitchener's army. All our volunteers were in uniform and nearly all had rifles. When he left England, nearly a year ago, he found perhaps half the volunteers without rifles or uniforms. He said that Canada had made a splendid showing.

Col. Currie went on to explain that much of the target practice was now done with dummy bullets, and that a regiment that was only half equipped with rifles could yet get daily target practice by alternating Oliver's Criticism.

Mr. Oliver said we are equipping school cadets with rifles and leaving our troops in Canada, the better equipped than were the soldiers of Kitchener's army.

He charged the government with having been remiss in its duties in not foreseeing the war would be of long duration and making adequate preparations.

The Ottawa minister said in reply that the Ross Rifle Company was now

Thin People Gained Weight Quickly

By Following This Simple Suggestion. Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy, "stay-where" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women, we believe, can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And, best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not itself make fat, but, mixing with your food, it aims to turn the fat sugars and starches what you have eaten into rich, ripe, fat-producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—creates it in an entirely new form, which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste, and do it quickly, and leaves a positive and healthy surplus of the very same meals you are eating. Now take Sargol—one tablet with every meal between your skin and bones, and you will find that this weight increase—on a guarantee of 100%—will be yours. If you are a druggist who is unable to supply you, send $1.00 money order or check to R. S. Scott, 100 National Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, and a complete ten days' treatment will be sent you postpaid, in plain wrapper.

"WOMEN'S WORK FOR WOMEN'S NEED."

The Late Dr. Bruce Smith Said:

"It is time that a city the size of Toronto had a Women's Hospital. . . although I would much rather see you begin with a new building."

We Speak for Poor Women Who Suffer in Silence

It's a pretty lusty youngster that New Hospital at Rusholme Road—only ten months old and its little cot isn't nearly big enough to hold it! What's to be done about it? Why, what else would Toronto do than to pitch right in and give the Women's College Hospital the accommodation it so richly deserves?

Meanwhile, let us take a look at its "Family Tree," and understand what a precious treasure it is to poor women who suffer their ills in silence. Their name must be legion in this great city—in all Canada. For, be it known that there is but one hospital in the whole Dominion where poor women may be attended by physicians of their own sex.

More Room Must be Provided at the Women's College Hospital

Let no one think that the pressure upon the Women's College Hospital is transitory. Would that it were so! The unselfish women who built it, because the ever-growing need compelled action, have been at this noble work for years. It was in 1910 that the dispensary at 18 Seaton Street, Toronto, was established, following years of helpful work for suffering poor women. For the year ending Oct. 31, 1913, there were no less than 2,859 consultations at the little dispensary. Next year there were 3,872—an increase of 813, or 20 per cent. For the year ending December 31st, 1915, there were no less than 4,015 consultations.

Do you wonder that the little dispensary at Seaton Street soon had seven beds—all it could accommodate—and the blessings of hospital care extended to women who have not the courage to confide their trouble to a strange physician of the opposite sex. There are all too many cases on record of women who have endured their agony for many years—until the Women's College Hospital was enabled to bring them the release from their suffering, which so many of them called "A Godsend for some of us women"—one of the women whose gratitude happens to be on record declares that to the care she had she owes her life!

$120,000 Needed—Your Payments May be Spread Over Two Years

It requires no effort of the imagination to realize why women of all classes blessed with sympathy and understanding of their own sex are as one in support of the Women's College Hospital and its noble work. The women's organizations of the city, too, many of them so closely in touch with women's work for women, that they know the need all too well, are sending in their letters of hearty endorsement of the campaign.

We appeal to you with the utmost confidence. The buildings must be begun at once. Pay down what you can, and the balance of your subscription may be spread over two years if desired.

The Public Ward of the Women's College Hospital.

Again we say little wonder that when the need for a new hospital to cope with the ever-swelling tide of applications for aid could be withstood no longer the women and the men of Toronto acted promptly. In wartime they turned in with right good will and a hearty generosity worthy of Toronto the Good. They soon had the residential property at 125 Rusholme Road turned into a tidy little haven of rest and relief for suffering women.

On Wednesday, May 10th, or days following, we will visit you and will rely upon your generous help. We will leave it to the ailing poor women of Toronto to be grateful for what you do on their behalf.

NURSE ADMINISTERED POISON BY MISTAKE

The inquest on the death of Lillian Moore, which occurred in St. Michael's Hospital on Tuesday, May 2, as a result of formaldehyde being administered by mistake by a nurse in place of magnesium sulphate, was resumed last night at the morgue before Coroner Dr. Cottam. The jury, after hearing the evidence of witnesses, exonerated Miss Attmore, who administered the fatal dose, from all blame, as the bottle from which the poison was taken was similar to the one in general use. It was suggested that in

WOULD BUY LAND ON WATER FRONT

Oil Company Want to Erect Plant in Vicinity of Bay.

ELEVEN ACRES ASKED

Controller O'Neill Urges That Twenty Thousand Per Acre Be Obtained.

Another large company in Toronto are anxious to obtain property on the water front for the purpose of erecting an oil plant.

Controller O'Neill maintained that the city should sell or lease according to what was in the best interests of the city.

In declaring that $20,000 an acre should be obtained for every acre of land disposed of, the mayor said that Ashbridge's Bay, which is the place where the company desires to purchase, should be reserved for industries that would result in the greatest demand for labor.

Controller Foster offered strong opposition to the proposal, as he did not want to give 11 acres to a firm where only 50 men would be employed.

After considerable discussion it was decided to notify the company that, provided a suitable agreement is presented, and that the leasehold policy be departed from to that extent, the board would consider the sale of 11 acres.

The report of the committee appointed to make suggestions for a better reception of returning soldiers, submitted their report. They suggested that Mayor Church, Controllers O'Neill, Thompson and Cameron and Ald. McGuire and Hyding, should be appointed to co-operate with the reception committee of the returned soldiers' committee.

ARTILLERYMEN GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME

Fifty-Third Battery Will Spend Few Days With Toronto.

An imposing sight was afforded yesterday when 1600 artillerymen lined up on the steps with thousands of admiring Torontonians in the background.

Every man in the unit appeared trained to the minute, and the harmony in height was greatly admired, and was a credit to Major Grierson and the other officers.

Relatives of the men were allowed to greet the boys on their arrival at the Union Station yesterday morning.

"We are proud to welcome you back to your own home town," said Mayor Church when the soldiers lined up in front of the hall.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome.

Lieut.-Col. Odell also spoke to the men, congratulating them on their soldierly appearance, and trusted they would enjoy their holiday.

Major Grierson, commanding the battery, replied to the address of welcome with a few appropriate remarks.

ARRANGES SETTLEMENT WITH COL. CHADWICK City to Pay Award for Damages to Property on Poplar Plains Road.

The city has reached a basis of settlement with Lieut.-Col. Yaux Chadwick of the 124th Battalion, in regard to damages alleged to be caused his property, 21 Poplar Plains road, by the establishment of the high level pumping station, close by.

Col. Chadwick stated that on account of the vibration caused by the electric pumps, his house had become uninhabitable. In court it was decided that the city had the right to pump water by steam power and if it could be established what depreciation resulted from the installation of electric pumps, Col. Chadwick should be paid for it.

Subsequent consultations between Col. Chadwick and the city assessment commissioner have resulted in the latter recommending the payment of $3,500 damages by the city in full settlement of the claim. The payment of the amount must be endorsed by the board of control.

The Grant is the "No Worry" Car

EVEN if you blundered and stalled right in front of the grand stand—never worry—off she purrs when you touch the sensitive controls. There's no fidgeting about, no coaxing—she just steals away, and goes like a classy watch—but without the noise.

GRANT SIX

You can creep through a crowd with her throttled down to 1 1/2 miles an hour—or let go for a 50-mile an hour scoot. She's a six, mind you, and has a wealth of power. A marvelous bit of mechanism!

The engineers say nowadays that the valve-in-head engine with overhead cams, linked up with a tip-top carburetor, etc., gets the last gram of power out of your gasoline. The Grant motor is the best of the type, and the Rayfield carburetor costs more than any other.

No wonder you never worry about getting both there and back—always—not to mention low gas expense!

A big aristocratic looking, shining SIX—room for everybody—comfort and economical, too. For the Grant costs only $1,115, delivered right in Toronto.

Now isn't this proposition worth your inspection—a SIX at the price of many fours—and more economical than fours, a real "no worry" car.

Come along for a demonstration spin! Just 'phone North 7300—or write for literature!

WITNESSES DENY ANY IRREGULARITY

Col. Cantley and Col. Watts Say Hughes Did Not Interfere.

RUSSELL NEGOTIATIONS

More Light Thrown on Efforts of Canadians to Get Orders.

According to the colonel, there was a sort of mild protest registered by some of the shell committee against the advancing of money to the American concerns, and this protest took the form of a letter written to Col. Carnegie, and urging every precaution. In the main their suggestions were followed out.

E. F. B. Johnston again got into difficulties with the royal commission in his cross-examination, and whether or not his action was in the nature of a protest he abruptly ceased explanation when Sir Wm. Meredith criticized his methods. He asked Col. Watts to explain just in what particular fuses were difficult to manufacture, and when witness said he could not undertake to "instruct" Mr. Johnston how to manufacture fuses, he endeavored to get the technical formation by another method. The examination developed into a mild argument between counsel and witness, and finally the commissioner called upon to interfere.

Following a somewhat similar occurrence in the morning, it was rumored the eminent counsel contemplated resigning because of the restrictions he was subjected to. The afternoon incident will not tend to improve matters.

The evidence of Col. Cantley hinged around the question of whether the shell committee acted as agents for the imperial government or contractors for Gen. Hughes, and if in the latter capacity whether they were entitled to profits as well as liable for losses.

The colonel's answers indicated the committee acted in both capacities. He seems to have had direct negotiation with the war office in respect to contracts. His view seemed to agree with Mr. Justice Duff that the committee's status was anomalous. Contracting members of the committee, he said, being liable for losses, were legally entitled to profits. But he did not expect any profits, and he got what he expected.

He did not think that the resignation of the shell committee in any way cancelled the agreement entered into between Gen. Hughes on behalf of the war office and contracting members of the shell committee. Col. Cantley gave credit to Sir Sam Hughes for converting the war office to use basic steel in shells instead of acid shells, which was he doubted whether a single shell could have been made in Canada.

The colonel quite approved of giving the cartridge case contract to American firms, because Canadian firms had proved unable to keep up with the supply.

Mr. Hellmuth took Col. Watts back to the time the first cable ordering 5,000,000 fuses without any fixed price, was received. Witness said he had heard of the question of fuses at the first meeting of the shell committee. Reading from the minutes of that meeting the resolution authorizing Col. Carnegie to go to the United States to look into the capabilities of certain firms. Mr. Hellmuth paused to ask witness if he knew at that time who these firms were. Col. Watts said he understood they were the Keystone Watch Co., the American Foundry and Machine Company, a Yates concern, and a number of others, had been also presented were capable of doing this work. Col. Watts said the committee did not get down to any definite price until some time after the occasion. Prices discussed at that meeting ranged from around $5 for time fuses only.

Mr. Hellmuth asked the witness if subsequent negotiations between the Ailsa-Chalmers Company, a subsidiary company of the Canadian General Electric Company of Peterboro, and in both of which Col. Watts was works manager, were known to him. Col. Watts said they were known to him only at the commencement.

Anxious for Industry.

Witness said he took up with Col. Benson the possibilities of making fuses in Canada, and also he was somewhat pessimistic. He agreed that it was very desirable that such should be done if possible, not only from the standpoint of creating a new Canadian industry, but also because it would afford the shell committee a new supply.

Mr. Hellmuth asked what steps were taken to see if the fuses could be made in Canada, and witness said that Messrs. Kirby and White prepared the estimates of what it would cost to go into the manufacture of fuses on a large scale. He introduced Kirby to Col. Carnegie and left the Col. to form his own conclusions as to Kirby's capabilities. The estimate submitted, he believed, was in the neighborhood of $6 for 100,000. No estimate of the cost of the machinery was submitted. He had no knowledge of further negotiations with White or Kirby.

He next heard of the manufacture of fuses after the fall of 1914, when Col. Carnegie returned from England on January 17, 1915.

Urgency Was Evident.

His next knowledge of the fuse business was in the contracts under discussion. He does not recall the basis of discussion in the committee, but remembered there was a great deal of urgency about it. This urgency, he said, was a financial urgency as much as anything else. Large piles of raw material and component parts of shells were being stored in the States, and on them, seventy millions of dollars worth of parts were held up.

At the meeting on May 15, the fuse contracts were still under discussion.

Mr. Hellmuth: Did you understand at that time the material difference in cost between the American and the Canadian companies?

Col. Watts: No, I had never seen a fuse at that time. He said that at that meeting Col. Carnegie reported favorably on the American companies.

Harris and Russell Angry.

The witness was referred to the Russell-Harris negotiations, which he said he talked over with Gen. Bertram. He met Lloyd Harris and Mr. Russell in Ottawa, he said, and they appeared very grieved because they had put in a tender for fuses and learned that the contracts were already let to the other firms.

As a result he interviewed Gen. Bertram and was told that the two fuse contracts on hand had been let to the American firms in preference to the Canadian firms because they were threatening to withdraw new offers if immediate action was not taken by the committee. Options on machinery were expiring and the machine concerns were pushing the American and International companies. It was at the June 4 meeting that the committee were advised the contracts had been closed and a draft contract was submitted. At that time witness said he did not know that 1,686,868 fuses ordered were fuse fuses. So far as he could recollect there was no discussion at the meeting of June 4 concerning the Russell Company.

It was taken more or less for granted that the contracts could not be filled in Canada.

Personally, he did not believe the fuses could be got as rapidly as the shells could be manufactured, but believed that much more rapid delivery could be secured from the American firms.

Dangerous Precedent.

"I may say that that contract as submitted was introduced a new feature so far as I was concerned," witness volunteered, "and that was in regard to money advanced. The members of the committee felt the precedent a dangerous one, and as Col. Bertram, Col. Carnegie and Gen. Pease had to leave early, a sort of mild protest was put into writing and sent to the chairman."

The letter was put in as evidence. It first of all pointed out that although former discussions had related to one-third of the quantity being manufactured in the United States and two-thirds in Canada, the agreement as submitted did not provide for any quantity to be manufactured in Canada, and upon its terms the whole order could be brought in from the United States.

Concerning the advance in money, the letter advocated that the committee place the money to the credit of the firms in the Bank of Montreal, subject to withdrawal upon deliveries of specified quantities. The letter further drew attention to the wisdom of securing interest of 6 per cent. upon the advance. Provision should be made for refunds and same taken as to proper guarantee. It was also asked if it would not be wise to get the manufacturers to obligate themselves to pay damages upon failure to deliver up to the demands. The letter was acknowledged by Col. Carnegie and consideration promised.

Contract Well Drawn.

Mr. Hellmuth: In the contract subsequently drawn up did you find your point fully covered?

Col. Watts: Yes, I think they were followed out almost entirely.

Mr. Hellmuth referred witness to the signing of the contract on June 19. Col. Watts reiterated his statement that he did not know at that time that No. 100 was a time fuse. He had learned since the last meeting, though, from Col. Carnegie only that the fuse was a cheaper article than the time fuse.

Witness said that no representative of the American concerns was present when the shell committee signed the contracting order. He pursued further the protest of the members of the shell committee upon the first draft contract. He asked witness what was the idea in their minds when they spoke of the one and two-third division between the American and Canadian firms. Witness said the first idea was that the machinery was to be brought over into Canada eventually, but the first lots were to be made in the United States.

Mr. Hellmuth: In preparing the document you were, I understand, somewhat objecting to the procedure?

Witness: Well, I wanted all that could be made in Canada to be made here.

Mr. Hellmuth: How came it that you subsequently approved of the contract without that stipulation?

Found Prices Too High.

Witness reported that the companies had declined to manufacture in Canada and they had to get the fuses. The six per cent. interest had been modified and he admitted that if he were in the place of the manufacturers he certainly would not have agreed to obligate himself to pay damages in the event of default of delivery.

Mr. Hellmuth: Can you tell us what was discussed at that time in respect to prices in the United States?

Col. Watts: Gen. Pease was present and told us he had found that they were buying fuses in the States at a lower price than we were buying.

Mr. Hellmuth: What did he say then as to the proposed to give the Russell Company a contract?

Col. Watts: He approved of it.

Mr. Hellmuth: Did you ask Col. Carnegie at that meeting why he had not found out before letting the American and International contracts about the price in the United States?

Witness: No.

Col. Watts said that Gen. Pease had not told them how they were high or their prices were. He seemed rather to desire to let them find that out for themselves.

Mr. Hellmuth: Was anything said at that time about the American

Contract With Russell.

At the next meeting at Ottawa, on August 31, 1915, Col. Carnegie reported the execution of a contract with the Russell Motor Company for 500,000 fuses in accordance with the resolution of July 17. Witness said there was no particular discussion with regard to it. Col. Watts said he was not present at any meeting at which any extension of time was asked for by any of the companies, nor did he know that any extensions had been asked for.

Mr. Hellmuth: Did you know of any commission or payment of any nature or kind to anyone in connection with these contracts other than the payment of the purchase price mentioned in the contract?

No, sir, I never heard of any except thru newspaper reports.

Mr. Hellmuth: Was any inducement offered to you by anyone or offered by you to anyone to enter into these contracts?

No, sir.

Not Influenced by Hughes.

Mr. Hellmuth: Were you influenced directly or indirectly by the minister of militia, Gen. Sir Sam Hughes, to enter into these contracts or to advocate in any way the giving of them to these companies, promoters or agents?

Col. Watts: No, sir, I never saw or heard Gen. Hughes in connection with the contracts except the day the contract was signed.

Mr. Hellmuth: Did he take any part in the discussion?

Col. Watts: No part whatever.

Mr. Hellmuth then read an extract from Sir Robert Borden's speech in the house quoting the allegation that J. Wesley Allison had an interest in the transactions, and asked witness if he knew that. Col. Watts said he did not.

Mr. Hellmuth: There is information that the shell committee were influenced to make these contracts. So far as you are concerned, or so far as you know, was any influence brought to bear by the minister of militia to induce you to make the contract?

Col. Watts: No, sir, I never heard of any.

Couldn't Deliver Cases.

Mr. Hellmuth then passed on to the deal with the Edwards Valve Co. for cartridge cases and asked witness what he had to say as to the urgency for the securing of these cases. Col. Watts said it was so urgent they would have taken all the cartridge cases what he had to say as to the urgency for the securing of these cases. Col. Watts said it was so urgent they would have taken all the cartridge cases what he had to say as to the urgency for the securing of these cases. Col. Watts said it was so urgent they would have taken all the cartridge cases what he had to say as to the urgency for the securing of these cases.

The Canadian concerns, witness said, began to pick up on cartridge case orders.

Germany instructs the United States

An intimation to embroil the United States with Great Britain, if possible, is the first clear suggestion to be found in the German reply to President Wilson's message. There is a great deal of diplomatic fencing, and Germany takes the old position of heads I win, tails you lose.

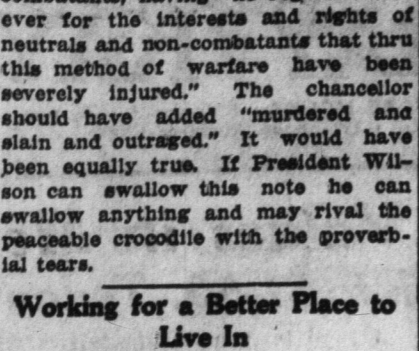

The United States objected to British interference with vessels carrying contraband. A variety of technical issues were raised over this, and through the German Chancellor has endeavored to obscure the true issue in regard to international law on the subject of blockades and contraband.

The German note instructs the United States "does not doubt" in the expression used—that unless the United States "will now demand and insist that the British Government" do as Germany wants, and unless it attains this object, "the German Government would then be facing a new situation, in which it must reserve to itself complete liberty of decision."

Unless the United States backs down completely or is willing to go to war with Great Britain in defence of France, Poland and Serbia, President Wilson has no alternative compatible with preserving his self-respect but to break off relations with Germany.

The note contains a characteristic German touch in the assertion that "the German Government attaches no less importance to the sacred principles of humanity than the government of the United States."

Such a demand would be incompatible with the character of neutrality, and the freedom of the seas during the war, as suggested in the note of July 23, 1915, and it does not doubt that the government of the United States will now demand and insist that the British Government shall forthwith observe the rules of international law universally recognized before the war as laid down in the notes presented by the government of the United States to the British Government, December 23, 1914, and November 5, 1915.

EDUCATION COSTS TORONTO BIG SUM

Civic Officials Say Public School Estimates Over Four Million. REPLY TO C. A. BROWN. In answer to Trustee C. A. B. Brown, who declared at the Board of Education meeting on Thursday night that the amount asked this year by the board was not $5,000,000, as stated in the press, but $3,107,756, officials at the city hall yesterday afternoon gave out the following figures.

Table with columns: Department, Amount. Includes Maintenance, Charges, Equipment of administration buildings, High schools, and college and industrial training.

These estimates total $3,821,000 and added to this there is an amount of $482,620 for building account and technical equipment, which was transferred from the capital account. The total estimates provided for by the board of control are, therefore, $4,303,620. The separate school board estimates were fixed at $174,232, so that the gross estimates for education in Toronto total $4,477,852.

Trustee Brown's figures were as follows: Maintenance, $2,828,116; Building account, $482,620; Technical equipment, $167,016. Total, $3,477,752.

Advise to U. S. Accordingly the German Government is confident that in consequence of the new orders issued to the naval forces, the government of the United States will also now consider all impediments removed which may have been in the way of mutual co-operation toward restoration of the freedom of the seas during the war, as suggested in the note of July 23, 1915, and it does not doubt that the government of the United States will now demand and insist that the British Government shall forthwith observe the rules of international law universally recognized before the war as laid down in the notes presented by the government of the United States to the British Government, December 23, 1914, and November 5, 1915.

DRAWN OUT FIXTURE GOES TO THE YANKEES

At Boston—Playing an uphill game New York defeated Boston in a 13 inning game, 3 to 1.

At Detroit—St. Louis defeated Detroit again yesterday, 3 to 4, making it five straight defeats for the Tigers.

THIRTY-ONE BINGLES IN RICHMOND FIXTURE

Rochester Bumped Again—Baltimore Trounced Patsy Donovan's Bisons Handily.

At Richmond (International)—Richmond took undisturbed possession of second place in the pennant race when they slugged their way to a 9 to 3 victory over Rochester in the opening game of the series here.

At Baltimore—Baltimore defeated Buffalo, 3 to 5, in the opening game of the series.

BOXING PICTURES ARE HIGHLY PRAISED Willard-Moran "Movies" Made Decided Hit Here—Show Closes Tonight.

"Great show"; "Good as being at the ringside"; "Well worth seeing"; "You have to hand it to Moran, he's a game fellow."

There seems to be a difference of opinion among some who saw the original contest, and also the reproduction, as to whether Moran showed up better in the pictures than in the actual combat.

The ringside critics claim Willard had a margin in all of the ten rounds of the first round, the advantage in the seventh, and made a evenly creditable showing in the last round.

Six-year-old Walter Tuttle of this city, with his patriotic songs and recitations, has also made a decided hit at every performance.

Today will be the last opportunity to witness the "movies" of the two great boxers in action, and a continuous performance will be given from 12 o'clock noon until 11:30 p.m. at popular prices.

SPEAKER IS PLAYING GOOD BALL FOR NAPS

Has Yet to Strike Out—Leafs Had an Off-Day—Gossip.

Rain stopped two National League and one American League games.

This speaker has not struck out this year. This is one of the reasons for the Indians' rapid climb to the front.

The Leafs had an off-day yesterday. They open a four-game series at Providence today.

Jack Graney, the St. Thomas boy, was at Chicago yesterday. Jack started a batting rally for the Naps in the sixth, and they scored three runs and beat the White Sox.

Good-morning! Did you notice, we are now in seventh place?

Jack Graney, the Indians' left-fielder, has made ten home runs already this year, and bids fair to lead the league in that department today.

Billy Smith's Richmond team gathered second place for themselves by beating out Rochester in a large-sized slugfest match—31 hits for the day.

The Yankees showed themselves real batters yesterday. Donovan's men, off to a bad start, caught the world champions, and then won a 13-inning battle.

The Cleveland Indians have made a wonderful record in their home grounds this year in drawing out the fans. They have played to 70,000 people during the three days at home.

Graney appeared in a flat bat. Schalk noticed it and the umpire made him change it. Graney replied with a slugging single.

Janvrin, the former knicker, made a wild throw in the 13th inning at Boston yesterday. His throw helped to beat the Red Sox.

Baltimore outbit the Bisons and were returned victors.

Kugler Jennings' Tigers are slugging. They were in a straight fight with the Browns noosed them out yesterday.

The Reds and the Cardinals had a great old day with the war club yesterday. Five hits were divided between them, including two homers, three triples and seven doubles. St. Louis won the swiftest.

Johnson, Austin and Slater of the Browns pulled a triple play on Detroit yesterday in the ninth, Johnson crossing the plate.

The Tigers got their heavy artillery working in the 9th, but just failed to overtake St. Louis.

Even the best of them make mistakes. Honus Wagner dropped a pop fly in the 13th inning and Jimmy Archer banged out a hit and drove the winning runs for the Cubs.

The Yankees jumped into third place yesterday by downing the Red Sox.

machine gun must have been shattered and its crew almost certainly annihilated.

At another point a breach in our parapet rendered dangerous wounded men for a constant stream of bullets from the rifles of German snipers was pouring through the trench.

For two hours Sgt. A. Patton of Blaine, Man. Pte. R. Veir, Walbeck, Sask. and Pte. D. J. Straker, Punjabi, Sask. worked under heavy fire.

Among the killed on this occasion was Capt. J. F. Nash, one of the original officers of the battalion who came to the Queen's.

On the right the explosion of the mine had demolished a trench in our front forming an exceptionally large crater.

Opposite the smaller mine the enemy attempted to reach a position on the junction of two bays in our trench.

During the German attacks on this position Capt. C. L. Blatchford, temporarily detached from the 48th Reserve Battalion, was in charge of the advanced post.

Shortly afterwards the sergeant of the garrison was wounded and Corp. Darrance assumed command.

Three thousand people attended the fifth annual May festival given in the Arena last night by the pupils of the Somers School of Physical Training.

The program of exercises by thorny trained pupils was very interesting to watch. The program was given in three parts, the last being a patriotic number.

The entertainment opened with a march by the massed classes around the arena to the accompaniment of martial airs rendered by the 48th Highlanders band.

The money taken up by the sale of the programs will be handed over to the school to the 180th Sportsmen's Battalion.

ADVANCE IN PRICE Hot House Rhubarb is Declining and Pineapples are Becoming Copious.

Legitimate hot house cucumbers, after being plentiful for the last week, were only shipped in small quantities yesterday, which placed some of the wholesalers in a dilemma, as they, depending on the Canadian supply, had discontinued their orders for the week-end trade.

STOCKS HOLD FIRM ON WALL STREET

No Flurry Caused by Latest German Note to United States.

LOSSES RECOVERED

Forward Movement Made Great Progress in Afternoon.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Seldom has the stock market been put through such a crucial test of its inherent stability as it experienced today, and seldom has it emerged with greater credit. Some of the features of the German note, on which the financial world had been waiting with increased concern, were known to Wall Street before the market opened, and anxiety was evident in all quarters.

Initial transactions showed losses of two to three points in many important stocks, while issues of a more important character showed greater recessions. Bethlehem Steel declined 10 points. For a brief time it seemed to be without support except of a tentative character, but before the expiration of the first hour prices began to rebound sharply.

Recovery halted at midday, as a natural consequence of an effort to assimilate the large offerings of the forenoon, but the forward movement began to progress later under the lead of the shipping issues. United Fruit being the chief feature, that stock made an overnight gain of 1/2 point, to 18 1/2, and an extreme advance of 1 1/2, having fallen to 17 1/2 at the outset.

Mercantile Marine rivaled United Fruit, the preferred recording a maximum advance of 7 1/2, to 87 1/2, and the common 4 1/2, to 42 1/2. The shipping shares was of the most impressive character, being the result of reports of a larger number of important contracts. Other strong features included U. S. Steel, which recovered from its minimum of 80 1/2 to 88; the Mexicana, most of the mountains, including Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive and Westinghouse at the distilling shares, especially U. S. Industrial Alcohol, having fallen to 117 at the outset.

The Genesee mine struck a new vein which dipped in to the shaft at 98 feet, running parallel to the original vein which dipped out at 82 feet on the floor of the exchange as of yore. The two veins are about 9 feet apart. The new vein runs from two to five inches wide of calcite with an assay of 36 ounces.

This new find doubles the chances of the property. The shaft will be continued to the 300-foot level unless care is found before reaching that level. The company is in good financial condition with Rochester capital behind it.

Schumacher—The report sent out that a find was made on the 800-foot level of the McIntyre not correct. There is no such level at the mine. In the crosscut from the McIntyre No. 5 shaft, at a thousand feet, several promising stringers have been encountered. The McIntyre is diamond drilling near the Schumacher. Here several veins cut on the 600-foot level of the Schumacher extend into the McIntyre.

With the advance in quotations for silver bars, an effort was made to induce the New York Stock Exchange to list certificates of deposit for the metal and to permit trading in them on the floor of the exchange as of yore. The exchange authorities, however, have decided that they do not care to sanction a resumption of such transactions. They draw attention to the fact that trading in warehouse receipts and warrants has never been particularly favored by members of the board. The last time silver certificates were dealt in on the exchange was in 1909.

Homer L. Gibson in his fortnightly review says: Developments at the Vindicator have been of considerable importance will be completed within the next six weeks. Forty-eight feet of drifting has already been done on the vein at the 500 foot level, and the values are fully equal to those on the level above, where developments have been so satisfactory.

In his weekly market letter B. E. Kenner says regarding silver: It is apparent on every hand and the situation is becoming acute. In England, where, according to reports has dropped to an unprecedented point. The Bank of England, which, under normal conditions, carries silver to the extent of about $2,000,000, has now only between $700,000 and $800,000 silver in hand, while the warehouse silver about $5,000,000, is also to some extent, having fallen to some $3,000,000, all of which combined recalls the fact that England, in the case of an unprecedented necessity for silver, has on hand only about 10 per cent. of the normal stock of metal.

Montreal Produce. MONTREAL, May 5.—The demand from over the cable for Manitoba spring wheat was strong today, and some clearing was done. Oats were stronger. Milling was heavy and supplies were small. Butter was firmer.

Canadian Markets Staggered by Wall Street, Recover Their Equilibrium Later in Day.

The Canadian exchanges staggered somewhat after the opening break on the New York Exchange yesterday. The full contents of the German note were not available, and pending this judgment was withheld. The Wall Street market construed the document as more favorable than early reports indicated, and that market advanced.

Relief One Way or the Other. Heron and Co. had the following at the close: MONTREAL, May 5.—The local market paid very little attention to the wild fluctuations of the New York market. Should the United States be drawn into the European war it would doubtless and sooner than otherwise, that a break in diplomatic relations would not be a bear argument on Canadian securities. On the other hand it would be some time before any serious military operations could be undertaken by the States, so that it would not yet be time for Canadian war stocks to discount peace conditions. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that the early weakness of American stocks found no echo here, and it would doubtless be a great relief to both markets to get finally rid of the submarine question one way or the other.

MINES CLOSED STRONG LOSSES RECOVERED

Early Weakness in Sympathy With New York Followed by Gains.

Erratic price changes in the early part of the day, followed by more confidence and recoveries, characterized the trading in mining stocks at the Standard Stock Exchange yesterday. The most powerful influence in this market as well as those all over the United States and Canada was the receipt of the German note at Washington. The nervousness and apprehension which has been the outstanding characteristic of the markets this week, was brought to a climax by the contents of the note, and the sharp breaks at the opening of New York caused a similar weakness at the local mining exchange. There were no declines of a serious nature, but prices were off 1 to 5 points pretty well all down the list.

This reaction was followed by a more confident tone and stocks recovered rapidly. In most cases the losses were fully made up and in some real advances were made. At the close the tone was distinctly bullish. The silver apparently was not affected by the disturbing rumors advancing to 77 cents per ounce.

McIntyre featured in the Porcupine list, opening at 105, selling off in sympathy with New York to 99 and then rallying 11 points. It closed strong at 108, a net gain for the day of 3 points. There were rumors around that the strike which was reported a couple of days ago on this property was proving up well. There was really nothing else to explain the buoyancy of the stock.

Some Extension was inclined to be heavy, opening at 35 and closing at 34 1/2. Hollinger recovered higher at the close, after a decline, recovering to 22 1/2. West Dome Consolidated finished a little, selling from 23 1/2 to 23. Despite the adverse news the Cobalt stocks would not stay down. There was some selling on the part of timid traders, which caused a general easing off. Prof. McGowan recovered that stocks uncovered on reactions brought a quick rally and gains were recorded. The gains augured well for to-day's market.

Timiskaming showed its latest strength after the liquidation caused it to sell from 72 on the open to 70 1/2. The stock rallied on a good demand up to 74 on the close, a gain for the day of 2 points. Peterson Lake had a similar advance to its credit. It opened at 30, sold off a point and jumped up again to 32, closing at the top. Adams held firm throughout, selling between 65 1/2 and 66 1/2, closing at the latter figure.

Chambers-Ferland sold from 25 1/2 to 24 1/2, recovering to 25 1/2. Beaver lost 1/2 point during the day and failed to close higher. Cobalt declined 20 points from the open, at $5.70, but made this up later, closing at the opening price. Spiss was heavy, selling down from $3.00 to $2.70. McKinley-Darrah lost 3 points from the open at 47, and closed a little better at 46.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"BELIEVE ME, XANTIPPE"

For the second week of their summer engagement, The Robins Players will present another notable first release for stock, "Believe Me, Xantippe," by Fred Ballard, author of this season's triumph, "Young America."

"Believe Me, Xantippe" is the favorite slang phrase of George MacFarland, a New Yorker who is wealthy and young. He makes a bet with two friends, Detective Bureau, and Thornton Brown, a lawyer. He agrees to forfeit $30,000 if he cannot keep out of the hands of the police for a year. If he can, he wins the same amount. MacFarland forges a cheque so that his friends may have an excuse for turning the police loose on him. Among other things, when sending out his photograph and description to the police all over the country, the detective calls attention to the fact that the favorite slang expression of the forger is "Believe Me, Xantippe."

The amusing situations are particularly funny and must be seen to be appreciated. The regular matinee will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

THE HIPPODROME.

A bill filled with unusual attractions is provided for the Hippodrome patrons next week, of which the feature is a washing-ministry musical comedy, introducing Jane Heston, the pot of the London music halls. "The Soul Market," an entirely new sensational play of five reels, gives the audience a chance to see Madame Petrova at her best, and this dramatic artist is of such compelling personality as to easily hold her audience. The story itself is an interesting one—clean, fresh and wholesome. For the lovers of vocal and instrumental music, there is the refined offering of the Philip Thomas Quartet, whose wide range of numbers quite surpasses anything which has been heard for some time. A remarkably clever ventriloquist has been secured in the person of Fred Weber and Company, while Gonne and Livey appear in recent features of Gus Edwards' revue. The Four Casters, wizards of the air, complete a program filled with interest and wonder from beginning to end.

SHEA'S THEATRE.

A well-balanced bill at Shea's Theatre next week provides plenty of music, a clever little sketch and a variety of high-class vaudeville entertainment. The symphony orchestra, directed by Augusta Dial, and known as the Sixteen Navasars Girls, is easily the best choral-instrumental troupe which has visited the city in many months, and the high-class concert put on by this company would do credit to musicians making much greater pretensions. The pleasing little playlet, "Meadowbrook Lane," offered by Noel Travers and Irene Douglas, shows just what high stars are formaking the more tragic stage for vaudeville, and it is in itself a strong recommendation for other artists follow the example. Dolores Valletta, the woman who plays with wild Indian leopards as tho they were lapdogs, provides plenty of shivers for the tender-hearted, for she enters a cage full of these animals and displays the sangfroid one would expect in a drawing-room. Max Ford and Hedy Ormond are back with their aristocratic dancing, Mary Elizabeth has many comic songs. Doc O'Neil, the funny monologist, is back. Westworth, Yeats and Teddy have some unique gymnastic offerings, and the kinetograph shows some entire new films.

LOEW'S THEATRE.

James and Bonnie Thornton, who style themselves "The Youngest of the Old Timers," who have been before the public for thirty years, will make their first appearance in popular prices in Toronto when they head the bill at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre the coming week. James confesses to 65 years, and Bonnie is just past her 62nd birthday, but no one would guess it to look at her on the stage. The feature of their act will be James Thornton's wonderful monologue, which has made thousands laugh for a quarter of a century, and their medley of old-time songs which Jim wrote, including "Annie Rooney," "When You Were Sweet Sixteen," and many other hits of 30 years ago.

Others on the bill will include the Mosatti Opera Company, including five singers presenting arias and well-known selections from well-known operas. Ethel McDonough, song star, Murphy and Lachmar in fun and songs, Todd Nara, acrobats, Ben and Hiss Mann, called the fun furnishers, and the Models de Luxe in a posing spectacle.

"BATTLE CRY OF PEACE"

R. S. Marvin, who is presenting "The Battle Cry of Peace" at Massey Hall all next week, has determined that the production shall be put on in a popular way in every sense of that term. Stage effects, music, and so forth, all will be designed to show to the limit the magnificent dramatic possibilities of the wonderful photodrama. And (not least important) the prices, too, which will be charged for admission, will be on the most popular possible scale. The prices prevailing in the evenings will be 15c, 25c and 50c respectively. The prices which will be charged at matinees will be 10c and 25c. It should be noted particularly that the performance will not be continuous through the day. There will be but two performances daily, the one in the afternoon commencing at 2.30, and the one at night commencing at 8.15. As the number of rush seats is only limited it cannot be too emphatically insisted that it will be wise for those who desire to secure comfortable and convenient locations to book their seats in advance, and to do so forthwith.

STAR THEATRE.

The Saxo Four, a quartet of clever instrumentalists, who are about to make their debut on the big time of the vaudeville stage, will, by special request of the management of the Strand Theatre, appear at the Theatre all next week in conjunction with the regular performance. The Saxo Four are Canadians and reside in Toronto. They have taken so well in all of their patriotic engagements that the country that they have been booked for a lengthy tour. They will give their act at the close of the

NEW STRENGTH IN THE SPRING

Nature Needs Aid in Making New Health-Giving Blood.

In the spring the system needs a tonic. To be healthy you must have new blood, but this new blood must have new sap to renew their vitality. Nature demands it, and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid. You may have twinges of rheumatism or the sharp stabbing pains of neuralgia. Often there are disturbing pin-pricks or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tiredness and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has lessened your vitality. What you need in spring is a tonic medicine of medicine there is so tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills actually make a new, rich, red blood—your greatest need in spring. This new blood drives out the seeds of disease and makes easily tired men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mrs. Eugene Cadotte, Amherstburg, Ont., says: "I suffered for a long time from dizziness, pain in the back and sick headache, and nothing I took did me any good until I began Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These cured me after taking six boxes and I now feel better than I ever did in my life. I had fallen off in weight to 82 pounds, and after taking the Pills I had increased to 100 pounds."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or can be had by mail at 20 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PLANNING CAMPAIGN FOR WOMEN'S HOSPITAL

Captains Met Yesterday at Headquarters on Queen Street, to Discuss Situation.

A meeting of the captains who will have charge of the teams during the three days of the Women's Hospital Campaign, was held yesterday afternoon at 11-1-2 East Queen street, at which address the headquarters of the campaign will be located. Mrs. A. M. Huettis, convener of the captains, presided, and the methods that will be adopted during the campaign were explained by Organizer Miller of the Patriotic Red Cross, who has been lent Dr. Cameron. The importance of getting people of the right sort was explained by the speaker.

The campaign will not be in the nature of a tag day, but will be worked from the list of names of those likely to contribute, so many names given to each captain for distribution among their tent. A number of cars were promised, but $50 in all will be required during the three days.

The captains are enthusiastic, and are preparing to enter upon the laudable work of making provision for their indigent sisters of the community with all the zeal possible.

The following is the list of captains:

Mrs. A. M. Huettis, convener of captains; Captains: Mrs. R. W. Eaton, Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. R. J. Barker, Mrs. A. C. Courice, Mrs. E. A. Kestel, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. W. J. Marshall, Mrs. G. H. Atkinson, Mrs. Margaret Johnston, Mrs. D. R. Namith, Mrs. Ross Walker, Mrs. J. Withrow, Mrs. Caroline Brown, Mrs. Frederick Mercer, Mrs. Pauline, Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. Marion Armstrong, Miss Bridgman, Mrs. Ingle (or substitute), Mrs. W. Baker, Mrs. Amy, Mrs. C. L. Simmons, Mrs. R. H. Cameron, Mrs. McNicholl.

Three of the above names are doubtful, but it is to be act substitutes will be provided.

COLLEGE HEIGHTS WOMEN HEAR SPLENDID ADDRESS

Mrs. W. M. Ecclestone Speaks on Russia and Work Carried on There.

Two interesting addresses were given at the meeting of the College Heights Association, held yesterday afternoon at the Deaconesses' Home, corner St. Clair and Avenue road. Mrs. Burden presided and introduced Mrs. W. M. Ecclestone, who gave an exceptionally interesting address on the literature of Russia. The language of the novel and the life of the people in a remarkable way. In the matter of art Russia was by no means deficient, and tho it had been miserably and rebellious, had made wonderful progress during the last fifty years.

Referring to the action of the Russian Government with regard to the banishment of vodka, Mrs. Ecclestone thought it verified the statement that "Russia had well learned her lesson from the west and might become its teacher."

The second speaker was Sergt. Shanahan, who was wounded on active service at the front. Sergt. Shanahan told of life in the trenches. He described the "blivet," the priest, church, convent, or anything of which while in Salisbury, the Canadian soldiers had built up no visions, but which when they reached France, turned out to be anything—dull, deathlike fancy of the French women, and stated that for any man who was found not in khaki there was some very good reason.

The speaker closed his most interesting address, which was brightened by accounts of humorous happenings in the trenches, by impressing on the women present the appreciation with which their gifts were received by the men overseas, not for their value, but because they were assurances of their sympathy, in the aim and ideal for which they fight.

Reports received showed that 913 articles had been made during the month, and $261.61 had been received. Mrs. R. Y. Eaton contributed a piano solo.

A BIG AID TO RED CROSS.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur, It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, does not advance age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your crown. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhance its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy, and lustrous and you appear years younger.

Why Snakes Make Most of Us Feel Fear and Loathing

By DR. L. K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

EVEN the name of "snake" makes some persons—men as well as women—shudder. No matter how slippery or silmy looking a snake may be, or how silvery or satiny its skin, some of us are suddenly seized with a feeling of intense fear at the very sight of one. However, nearly all the snakes that are found in this country are entirely harmless, as most of them are without venom or fangs. If it is true, as some scientists claim, that India is the cradle of man, it is perfectly logical for us to attribute man's instinctive horror to the surroundings of venomous snakes which have always infested that country even from the earliest times. While man was slowly climbing the ladder of civilization from his animal ancestry, he was without clothing, fire or shelter in that land of the coral strand. During these countless generations of rapid progress in man, he was peculiarly defenceless against the attacks of serpents. No doubt conditions were very much worse in prehistoric times.

Notwithstanding the efforts of the British authorities to suppress the snake evil in India, it is said that 20,000 persons died last year from the attacks of serpents. No doubt conditions were very much worse in prehistoric times.

The Amateur Gardener

BY RACHEL R. TODD, M.D.
A Few Dependable Roses—Hardy Hybrid Perpetuals—Three Red.

WHEN buying rosebushes for the first time, it is wise for the amateur to choose a type that will grow with as little difficulty as possible and promise a certain definite bloom by the second season at least. As a rule new bushes do not bloom at all the first year after planting, or at any rate, send out but one or two new buds. However, if the bush happens to be a three-year-old and unusually healthy, one often will be rewarded by three or four fairly fine blooms.

On the whole, however, the first year of the new rose in your garden will be devoted almost entirely to the development of several sturdy stalks, destined to bear plenty of blossoms the following season.

When putting in the new stock it is of course necessary to prepare a suitable bed. Plenty of well-rotted manure should be placed at the bottom of the pit and a foot or so of fairly rich soil, a mixture of clay, sand and loam well packed in above. Then set in the new bush, taking special care to spread the roots as freely as can be managed, allowing no cramping, and being exceptionally careful that the roots themselves do not come in direct contact with the manure. The foot of the soil around their roots should be sufficient to prevent this.

After the roots have been spread out, pack the soil in firmly, and pound it down tight. Of all plants rosebushes demand first and most a steady bass upon which to grow, and a close, firm grip on the soil, always. And never forget plenty of winter protection where roses are concerned.

Three Good Red Roses.
Probably the red roses are the most popular and the best from which to choose is so large that a word of advice may be acceptable.

One of the very best for amateurs to begin with is the famous General Jacquemont. Now Hardy Jack has been known to rosegrowers for many years that the mere mention of a red rose invariably brings to their mind a glowing vision of its gorgeous blooms. And perhaps there is no rose will grow with as little difficulty as possible and promise a certain definite sturdy compact bush that will cover itself with incomparable blooms, from early June well into July. Its warm, rich crimson darkens into shadows as no other rose ever does, forming a picture that no gardener can ever forget.

Quite as Hardy and quite as floriferous is Alfred Colomb. The foliage of this variety is rather of a rich or dark green than that of "Jack," and not quite so prone to become speckled thru the great heat. The roses are very full and double and of an exquisite shape, while the color is a bright crimson, with dark shadows. The whole rose has a slightly brighter tinge than "Jack," and, therefore, to some is not so rich a rose. But no one can question the perfect loveliness of the buds, and the deep, full cup.

Ulrich Brunner.
Ulrich is a magnificent rose after he has lived two or three years in his new home. This Brunner rose is one of the frost bloomers that I know, and the blooming time is rather longer than that of either of the former red roses. The roses themselves are exceedingly rich, being of an exceptionally deep crimson, while the fragrance is much stronger than that of either "Jack" or "Claude." It is a peculiar, pungent, spicy odor and reminds one of vale lilies, lemon lilies, stock, carnation and southernwood. The roses are quite lasting for house use, picked flowers keeping their strength for a whole day, usually.

Try one or all three of these, gardeners, but be sure to pay a sensible price and get at least a three-year-old bush. It pays.

Little Stories Told in Homely Rhyme

WHEN JIM PROPOSED.

Copyright, 1916, by the Author, Bids Dudley.

JIM BARNABEE loved Mattie Lane, but Jim was shy on sand. He couldn't summon nerve enough to ask her for her hand. At times they'd talk of love and Jim would get right to the point and then he'd quit and mop his brow, while weak in ev'ry joint. Things went along like this, I guess, two years, or thereabout. The words kept sticking in Jim's throat, refusing to come out. Of course a climax had to come. It came a month ago when Jim and Mat sat in a box one ev'ning at a show. 'Twas in the second act, I think. A man stepped out and sung a song called, "Won't You Marry Me?" It got Jim all unstrung. And, would you b'lieve it, just about the time the song was thru, Jim turned and whispered, "Will you?" Mat says "Yes." She meant it, too. Well, right before the audience (he clean forgot the show), Jim hugged the girl and kissed her cheeks a dozen times or so. And then they left, the happiest of people on this earth. The show was bum, but Jim proposed. We got our money's worth.
