RETAIN INCREASED
RATES ON FREIGHT
Railway Commissioners Make Important Announcement.
Montreal, Que., Jan. 2.—An order has been issued by the board of railway commissioners continuing the 25 per cent. increase in freight rates on the railways indefinitely. The increase in freight rates was made by order of the war measures act, and expired automatically December 31, 1919.
It was stated today that the advance in freight rates caused by the application of the act of the McAdoo administration had amounted to an increased expenditure by the Canadian railways of $2 millions yearly. Advance in freight and passenger rates had increased receipts by about 40 millions.
The problem of meeting this deficit will come before the railway board sometime later, it was stated, in a demand for further adjustment of rates to meet costs.

Windsor, Jan. 2.—(Special)—Delivaegis of orders-in-council, issued December 29. Some came in by express from Montreal. Local deliveries were being made by Hiram Walker & Sons, and two Windsor brothers, the British American Brewing Company and Windsor Brewing Company, began making and deliv-ering the per cent. beer. Incidentally the Windsor police station held 20 drunks, a good New Year's increase from the usual two or three. Several were Detroiters. In all 13 Detroiters faced the magistrate. Ten were fined $17.50 each, while one was fined $50 and another $70, as they had added disorderliness to their drunkenness.

They were required to give their addresses and most gave fictitious names.

Winnipeg, Jan. 2.—The Telegram which it says, have been obtained by a correspondent from the British Wheat Commission, asserting that the Canadian Wheat Board had disposed of 65,000,000 bushels of 1919 export wheat to Britain, France and Italy by Nov. 15, 1919, and on that date had negotiated the sale of another 10, 000,000 bushels to the British govern-

The correspondent says: "I was able figures are as follows:

FIX RESPONSIBILITY
ON CREW OF FREIGHT
Testimony at Inquiry Into
Fatal C.P.R. Wreck
Near Onawa.
Brownville Junction, Maine, Jan. 2.
—Testimony at the effect that mem-bers of the crew of the freight train were responsible for the collision be-tween a freight and an immigrant train near Onawa on December 29 given at a hearing, conducted by the Maine public utilities commission here today. Twenty-three persons were killed and 50 injured in the wreck.
The witnesses examined were R. V.
Shaw, night train dispatcher, at Brownville Junction; Arthur M. King-
-don, night operator at Onawa, where the freight engineer received orders to pass the four sections of the immi-
-grant special at Bodfish siding, two miles west of Onawa; Lester M. Val-ley, who rode on the freight train from Greenville Junction to Morkill to conduct the train; and Owen L. Chase,
a locomotive engineer, who was riding
in the freight, caboose and who took to Conductor Isaac Manuel of the train the orders regarding the immi-
-grant train.
All the witnesses testified that the orders from the chief train dispatcher
were correct and that it was evident that the freight engineer's instructions
either had not been followed, or had not followed them. Instead of waiting for all four sections to pass, he passed and crashed into the third section, half a mile east of the siding.

Kitchener, Ont., Jan. 2.—(Special)— Kitchener's bakers today raised the

killed and 50 injured in the wreck.
The witnesses examined were R. V.
Shaw, night train dispatcher, at Brownville Junction; Arthur M. King-
-don, night operator at Onawa, where
the freight engineer received orders to
pass the four sections of the immi-
-grant special at Bodfish siding, two

-ley, who rode on the freight train
from Greenville Junction to Morkill to conduct the train; and Owen L. Chase,
a locomotive engineer, who was riding
in the freight, caboose and who took
to Conductor Isaac Manuel of the train the orders regarding the immi-
-grant train.
All the witnesses testified that the
orders from the chief train dispatcher
were correct and that it was evident
that the freight engineer's instructions
either had not been followed, or
had not followed them. Instead of
waiting for all four sections to pass,

that his car was left in his own garage on that day is under these circumstances hard to explain.

Mr. Small was naturally of a nervous temperament, and for all most of the time he had been working long hours at the task of arranging the details of the many and varied phases of his business that had to be settled in order to bring about the theatrical amalgamation which he desired to effect. He was an exceedingly keen business man, and knew personally every detail of his affairs. Towards the end of the night, and had latterly complained of nervous exhaustion and loss of appetite. These facts are regarded by his family as pointing to the probability of his having suffered a complete nervous breakdown.

Conferences have been held between members of his family, his business associates and his friends, but no one has transpired to row a ray of light on the mystery. The last such gathering was held yesterday afternoon. Mr. Small retained a large block of stock in Trans-Canada Theatre, Ltd., and will be intimately concerned in the management, which may be taken as evidence that he would be extremely unlikely to voluntarily go away at this time.

Like most wealthy men, Mr. Small bore in some quarters the reputation of carrying money about with him, and in view of the epidemic of hold-ups such apprehension as to his safety is not surprising.

The hope is that the publicity started by this announcement will result in the discovery of Mr. Small's whereabouts. The photograph reproduced herewith is an old one. It is an excellent portrait of Mr. Small, and was taken when he was wearing his mustache shortly clipped. With the exception of that change it should greatly help in his identification.

Any information that may lead to the discovery of Mr. Small's whereabouts will gladly be received by The World.

MONTREAL TO HAVE WATER RESTORED

One Big Pump in Operation—Expect Full Pressure Today.

Montreal, Jan. 2.—Relief from the water famine which has afflicted Montreal since the outbreak of the New Year's day is now in sight. The big 20,000,000 gallon turbine pump is in full operation, and with the other pumps also working the city's normal consumption of 65,000,000 gallons is promised for tomorrow. Today there was almost as much danger and inconvenience as yesterday, no conditions gradually ameliorated through the day. Fortunately there were no fires of importance, for at one time the flames had almost to shovelling from the pier.

Holes were filled in the ice of the St. Lawrence, the Lachine canal and lakes in the park and pumping engines placed near in readiness for emergencies.

Consure the Commission.

At a special meeting of the Montreal city council tonight to deal with the situation arising out of the strike of the city's waterworks employees, which has brought about a water famine for two days, the mayor and aldermen severely condemned the administrative commission of the city and its chairman, E. R. Decary.

Mayor Martineau and the aldermen present to declare that now was the time for the government at Quebec, which has imposed the administrative commission on the city, to take the heads of the council, to abolish it. The aldermen were not unanimous in this. However, a delegation of strikers appeared before the council and a great effort was made to get Mr. Decary to appear also. This could not be done, but instead a letter from Mr. Decary was read in which he stated that the commission had done all in its power to satisfy the waterworks employees and had never refused to negotiate with them.

Normal Pressure Soon.

The letter concludes: "The city now has in its employment sufficient staff and the turbine pump is now running and beginning to work and unless there is an unforeseen accident, the water pressure will be normal tonight or tomorrow morning, with the return of the former employees at the present moment would not improve the situation."

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

EARLS COURT JUBILANT

Ward Six Pleased to Have Helped Mayor Church by the Highest Vote in Any Ward.

Earls Court is jubilant over the fact that ward six gave Mayor Church the highest vote in all of the eight wards at Thursday's municipal elections. A total of 2936 was the actual number of votes recorded for Church, a fine testimony to his work for the past five years and of his policies generally. Added to this ward six polled 4129 in favor of the million-dollar arena, 4576 for acquisition of the Toronto Street Railway, 4392 for the purpose of the transportation commission, 5114 for the bylaw to take over all the real personal property of the T. S. R., and 5383 votes in favor of the eastern Hydro radial bylaw. Ward six, and especially Earls Court, appears to take a more lively interest in all these matters of public ownership than the other seven wards of the city. Some surprise is expressed in return by ward circles that such a poor vote was recorded for the soldier candidates. According to one well-known Earls Court returned man, speaking to The World, "all the boys were for Jesse Wright, at least I thought so before election, but the boys must have caught on in both feet and nursed them in their hands thus preventing them from supporting their comrades at the very moment they most needed it."

REEVE FRED H. MILLER PROPHESES PROGRESS

The township of York voters in returning Reeve Fred H. Miller for a second term as reeve of the township are satisfied with his past year's work. Reeve Miller has made a personal inspection of the township several times during 1919, so that he could see for himself the absolute needs of the township, which he claims, is far better than accepting the reports of officials. A few months ago he visited New York, Chicago and Pittsburg for the sole purpose of interesting big manufacturers in establishing in York township and especially in the splendidly situated open spaces for manufacturing purposes in the neighborhood of the Belt line, north of Eglington and Fairbank. Speaking to The World, Mr. Miller said: "Here is territory better suited for building factories than any other part of Toronto and if we can only bring American capital to here we shall soon have a thriving industrial population that will make a fine addition to the working classes. I do not despair of getting the American firms to locate here and also some Canadian concerns. Since this district has been opened up new stores have been built, a new bank is in course of construction and many new homes have been erected and families living here."

POULTRY FANCIERS EXHIBIT

Despite the intense cold prevailing on St. Clair avenue and farther north last night, a crowd assembled in the basement of the Harris store on West St. Clair avenue, at the regular monthly meeting of the Earls Court Poultry and Pet Stock Association. I will make my candidature at all the meetings I attended."

Says Canadian Employers Should Not Await U. S. Action.

"On behalf of Canadian labor," said Mr. Moore, "I would like to say publicly that when civilization was threatened there was no question of waiting for the United States. I protest against this delay. We should be just as willing to enter the fight for social betterment and shorter working hours as we were willing to enter the fight for democracy."

PETERBORO MAYOR HAS ONE MAJORITY

C. E. Harper Whitty Mayor by Acclamation—Error in Kitchener Count.

Peterboro, Jan. 2.—Official returns made today at noon gave W. H. Taylor the majority by the narrow margin of one vote. His opponent, A. A. McIntyre, who ran on the Labor ticket, may ask for a recount. It is one of the closest election results recorded here in thirty years.

ARGONAUTS HOLD PITTSBURG TO TIE

Only Second Time in History U. S. Team Failed to Win—Game Was Rough.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 2.—(Special)—For the second time in their history, the famous hockey team of the city failed to return to the victors in a game when they opposed the Argonauts of the city.

The game was the most uniformly packed and played at any time in the city's history. The Argonauts, who were led by their captain, J. J. Jones, defeated the U. S. team by a score of 2 to 1.

Early in the game, the visitors protested frequently against the off-side rulings of the referee, and twice gave vent to their disgust by swinging their sticks at the referee. However, they realized later that they were receiving as good as they were giving.

P. A. A. got off to the lead in the first period, but was tied at 1 to 1. The Argonauts then took the lead at 2 to 1. The tie was broken at the end of the period by the visitors, who led 3 to 2. P. A. A. tied the score immediately after the start of the second period, and then went ahead 4 to 2.

The Argonauts' strategy was to keep the U. S. team on the defensive, and they succeeded in doing so. The U. S. team was unable to get into the game, and the Argonauts were able to control the play.

At midnight reports indicated that more than 1500 members of the communist party of the working class were present in New York and had been arrested. The arrests were reported to be the result of a raid on the party's headquarters in New York.

NO CANNED WHISKEY FOR MINTO MINERS

Prominent Officials Arrested—Charge Them With Liquor Combine.

Fredericton, N.B., Jan. 2.—An important step towards breaking up a liquor-selling combine that has been supplying canned whiskey in the Grand Lake coal mining district is announced by Assistant Chief Inspector Fraser Saunders today.

This week D. J. Foubey of Norton, King's county, was arrested for hauling two trunks filled with liquor from Norton to Minto, and has been released on bail of $200 for his appearance before Magistrate Charles G. Baird at Chipman on Monday.

Inspector Saunders has also served papers on Provincial Constable Michael Breen of Minto, who is charged with being implicated in the sale of liquor during the Christmas season at Minto, while papers have been issued for Arthur Galbraith of St. John, who is alleged to be the third member of the combine. It is said that Galbraith supplied the stock, Foubey hauled it into the mining district, and Breen sold it.

MAKE NEW ATTEMPT TO REACH BELLE ISLE

North Sydney, N.S., Jan. 2.—The Canadian government steamer Montcalm sailed at 6 o'clock this morning on another attempt to reach Belle Isle with supplies for the light keepers.

Previous attempts to land supplies for the government employes stranded on this desolate coast ended in the sinking of the steamer Aramoon and the driving back of the Montcalm by drift ice.

VETERANS DEPLORE LACK OF UNITY

Will Place No Further Faith in Public's Professed Sympathy.

Opinion among representative leaders of veterans' organizations throughout the city varies greatly as to the degree of satisfaction with which the election results should be regarded. Among those soldier candidates who went down to defeat were Col. Jesse Wright, candidate for the board of control, and George Gustar, Joe Lawson, J. N. Day and W. J. Dicks, who ran for aldermen. The successful soldier candidates were Trustees S. J. Brown, Dominion president of the G.W.V.A.; Ald. A. E. Burgess and Dr. E. C. Beer, who had the endorsement of the G.W.V.A. for the board of education.

Col. A. T. Hunter, president of the Parkdale branch of the G.W.V.A., was disappointed with the results that attended the soldier candidates. "The soldiers were trying in December, 1919," he said, "to cash at their face value the many protestations of sympathy from press, public, pulpit and public orator. They thought people really meant these things and relied on the good old public to show its goodness. They thought all the public asked was an opportunity to vote for a soldier. In 1920 we shall attend to this business ourselves, and early."

Helped Beat McBride. Dominion Organizer J. F. Marsh of the G.A.C. was satisfied that the work of the association had some effect in electing Mayor Church for a sixth term. He expressed the hope that now that the people of Toronto had retired Controller Sam McBride "he would no longer be needed to ensure their city council and express his antagonism to the returned soldiers of Toronto."

President, Stanley Brown of the G.A.C. who was elected to the board of education, was of the opinion that many organizations was what the returned men needed to ensure their success in public life. He said that it was "fairly encouraging" that the returned men had shown their ability to elect three of our candidates.

expressed satisfaction because of the success which attended their slate. He pointed out that T. L. Church was their choice for mayor, that three out of four board of control candidates endorsed by them were elected, about half the aldermanic candidates, and nine out of eleven candidates for the board of education were elected.

Lack of Unity. A. M. Hunter, secretary of the service bureau of the Red Triangle Club, regarded the soldier campaign generally as rather a failure. "It shows the bad effects of a lack of unity," he said. The results for the York County Council were more discouraging for the soldiers than the city elections. Two candidates, including W. T. Wriglesford, president of the Toronto District Command of the G.W.V.A., were defeated, the council going in an masse.

DEWART CORRECTS WRONG IMPRESSIONS

Promises Later Discussion as to the Making of Appointments.

H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., the Liberal leader, has written a letter to Premier Drury to correct a wrong impression made by the omission of a word in a previous communication regarding a suggestion for filling the fifth position on the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, the increase in personnel of which had been indicated by the premier following the hearing of the big Hydro deputation at parliament buildings.

"What I intend to convey," Mr. Dewart writes, "was the suggestion that there would be no partisanship in the appointment of a Liberal representative upon the board, which already comprised Sir Adam Beck (Conservative) and Lieut.-Col. Carmichael (representing the U. F. O. and Labor groups)."

HARRY KERWIN ORGANIZING.

Machinists in that section, he said, were very desirous of joining forces in both the north and west and the future promised well.

DR. SALEM BLAND IN FRESH TROUBLE

Broadway Methodist Tabernacle Board Members Claim Pastor Un-British.

Broadway Methodist Tabernacle is again having its troubles. The dispute this time is over the singing of the National Anthem and prayers for the King and royal family. It is alleged by G. F. Mason, a member of the quarterly board of the church, that the quarterly board of the church, that Rev. Dr. Salem Bland, the pastor, suggested at a meeting last Tuesday that the singing of the National Anthem at the church services be omitted.

Members of the board objected, and urged that if that were done that prayers for the King and royal family be said. Mr. Mason states that for a long time past there has been a feeling with the officials of Broadway Tabernacle that Dr. Bland is not as pro-British as he might be. At the meeting last Tuesday, after Dr. Bland had suggested the omission of the National Anthem and the objection had been raised, one member moved that in future the board request the pastor to pray for King George V., members of the royal family, and the governments of Canada and Britain at the services. This motion was objected to by Dr. Bland as being unnecessary, stating that he must be left free to his prayers. There was such an uproar when the vote was being taken that another motion was made to lay it on the table, and this was carried by a large majority. "From this," says Mr. Mason, "it is evident that loyalty to King and country is somewhat of a scarce article with the chairman and some members of the Broadway Tabernacle board."

A Misleading Statement.

Dr. Bland characterizes Mr. Mason's statement as misleading. He says that the discipline of the church prescribes the Doxology as the opening of the regular services. During the war in 1914 the National Anthem substituted the Doxology. It was suggested by the choir, now that the war is over, that the regular order of service be reverted to. Dr. Bland said he had nothing to do with the suggestion, but approved of it. With reference to the resolution for prayers for the royal family, he said that he prayed frequently for the government of Canada and Great Britain and of the world, but that it was preposterous to try to coerce in the matter of prayer, which has no value unless free. "As a matter of fact," said Dr. Bland, "I have always been a passionate imperialist, and am firmly convinced that Canada's very best destiny lies in the empire." Referring to the trouble in the church, he said that it was born of the same childish and domineering spirit which has characterized a small section of the board since last June. "They have tried by every means to control my preaching," he said, and added that an attempt has been made to bully or discredit him in the matter of public prayers.

NORMAN A. WYLIE DIES SUDDENLY

Prominent Young Business Man Falls Dead While Shaving.

Norman Armstrong Wylie, who lived all his life in the city of Toronto, and was well known in local business circles, died very suddenly at his home at 18 Roxborough drive Thursday morning. He was seized with heart failure while in the act of shaving and died immediately. He had not been seriously ill at all, and his death came without warning.

Norman Wylie was the son of the late E. J. Wylie of Toronto, who predeceased him about a year ago. He was educated at the Toronto public schools. In 1911 he married Mary Rosamond, only daughter of P. F. Teller, at that time residing in Collingwood, but now of Toronto. After graduating from the public schools, he entered the business of Rice, Lewis and Sons, where he learned the hardware business and became later on a very successful salesman. Fifteen years ago he accepted the position of sales manager for Sheet Metal Products Company, which position he left about a year ago to become associated with the Consumers' Enamelling and Stamping Company.

An Active Anglian. In religion Mr. Wylie was an Anglian, having been a very active member and sidesman of St. Paul's Church for many years. He was a Mason and member of the Zealand Lodge. He was also a member of the Rosedale Golf Club, the National Club and the Canadian Club.

Mr. Wylie leaves, besides his widow, two children, Eleanor, aged seven, and Rosamond, aged three.

He was very popular and his genial and amiable disposition had won him a large circle of friends. His business ability was well recognized and he was just in the prime of a successful business career when he was suddenly called away.

The funeral will take place from the residence, 18 Roxborough drive, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery today (Saturday), at 2:30 p.m. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Cody.

DOMESTICS VERY SCARCE

That domestics are scarcer than ever and factory workers even more hard to obtain is the report of J. A. Miller of the Government Employment Bureau, speaking of conditions in the women's department of the bureau. That the scarcity of labor in these departments is the big problem of the times is most evident. Many industrial concerns, because of the shortage, are unable to carry out their plans of increasing their activities at the beginning of the New Year. In the clerical department the supply is quite up to the demand.

WHISKEY FLOWS IN PARCHED PROVINCE

Seventy-Five Thousand Quarts Daily is Ontario Importation.

GOVERNMENT WATCHFUL

After a lapse of two years the delivery of liquor at the customers' doors was resumed yesterday in Toronto. Gooderham & Worts' goods were the first brands to greet the vision of the patient watchers who have survived the drought. The order-in-council banning inter-provincial trade in liquor was repealed, effective at midnight on Wednesday night, but, according to Montreal advices, no less than case lots were shipped into Ontario by the Montreal vendors on the holiday, although thousands of orders were on hand waiting to be filled. The movement of Scotch and other imported goods into Ontario started at Montreal yesterday morning, and it is expected that deliveries by the express companies will begin today. Orders delivered yesterday were filled direct from the local warehouse of Gooderham & Worts, it having been deemed legal for a Montreal dealer to forward a Toronto customer's order to the distilleries here to be filled direct.

Extra Cars Needed.
Until the first rush is over it is predicted in Montreal that 75,000 quarts of imported goods will be shipped by Montreal vendors to Ontario cities and towns daily and that an equal quantity of rye whiskey will be delivered by the four domestic distilleries of Gooderham & Worts, Limited, Toronto; Seagram's at Waterloo, Walkers at Walkerville and Carby's at Carbyville. Each express company is putting on two extra cars on the Toronto train daily to handle the business. There are reported to be millions of gallons of rye whiskey in the Ontario warehouses, but orders have been pouring in so fast that the distilleries have advised their agents in Montreal to accept no more orders for the present.

Impatient customers were busy ringing the office of Gooderham & Worts yesterday asking when they might expect delivery, and were informed that the company could not be expected to deliver to everybody at once, but that the wagons were out and the orders would be handled as quickly as possible.

The Dominion Express business in liquor for Toronto will be handled thru the North Toronto branch, where a shed will be reserved for the traffic, and space is being partitioned off at the Union Station for the handling of the thru business. The World was informed at the offices of the express companies yesterday afternoon that no liquor shipments had yet arrived from Montreal, but that some goods might arrive on Saturday morning. The express companies have decided to keep liquor shipments entirely separate from their other business and that armed guards would accompany each car in transit.

Not Unlawful to Carry.
It is understood that it will not be unlawful for a person to carry liquor along the street providing he is taking it to his home.

Regarding the right of railway passengers to bring liquor into the province, Vice-Chairman Dingman of the Ontario Board of License Commissioners, said: "If the liquor is the man's own property and he is carrying it to his own private dwelling, which conforms with the definition of such in the act it would appear to be the law that such a man can carry liquor into Ontario. Of course, he may have to run the gauntlet of the police."

Will Affect Vendors.
The movement from Montreal has not yet affected the volume of business at the government agency on Front street, but it is understood that a decided slump in a few days is anticipated, owing to the fact that Montreal prices are considerably under the Ontario government prices. The best Scotch whiskeys can be purchased in Montreal at from $2.75 to $3 a bottle of 40 ounces, while the same stock cost at the government shop $3.50 a bottle, and there is also the question of getting a prescription. G. and W. Special ordered thru Montreal comes at $15 a case, or $1.25 a bottle, while the local shop charges $2 a bottle.

An exception is made in the Canadian regulations in the case of American liquor passing thru Canada in bond.

Over-Zealous Doctors.
The prospect of a measure at the next session of the legislature cutting off the importation of liquor will probably dissuade the government from reducing the staff at the Front street dispensary to any marked extent or in any way reducing the efficiency of the shop. A report is heard that the abuse of the system committed by over-zealous doctors in handing out prescriptions wholesale will be the subject of legislation at the next session.

J. H. Bertram, customs collector for the port of Toronto was officially notified yesterday that a duty of 33 a proof gallon, plus seven per cent. war tax, must be collected on all American whiskey shipped into Canada. The duty was placed at this high figure to forestall any big movement of United States liquor coming into Canada in consequence of the new law making it illegal to hold liquor there after Jan. 17.

Will Watch Importations.
Although no restrictions can be placed upon the quantity of liquor to be brought into Ontario, the license authorities have devised a plan whereby it will be known to them not only the exact importations, but also the names of the persons to whom the hard stuff is consigned. This information, it is believed, will be obtained from express companies and other sources.

It is not intended by this arrangement to interfere with the legitimate importer or to keep an eye on the cellar of the private citizen, but rather to get at those who may be embarking upon the bootlegging business. Still even the respectable citizen who chances to import to any abnormal extent may be asked a few questions by the license authorities.

Bootleggers are expected to be far more numerous than in recent times consequent upon the facility with which they are now able to obtain the liquor as compared with the risks and difficulties they encountered when the prohibitory Dominion order-in-council was in operation. If any suspicious large consignments come in for any

Miss Caroline Cassels, the newly-appointed woman censor for the "movies," began her work yesterday when she was introduced to her co-workers and took possession of her office on the fourth floor of the Ontario government building at 46 Richmond street west. Miss Cassels is a graduate of the Toronto College of Music and Dramatic Art, this being assurance of ideas that will point to the artistic side of pictures. That these will have educative value is one of the principles with which Miss Cassels begins her office.

WORLD'S DAILY BRAIN TEST

BY SAM LOYD.
60 Minutes to Answer This.
No. 76.

Here is a good joke on our granddaddies, who used to play this puzzle game 75 years ago, when it was universally popular. The old-time books explain how the solution is accomplished in 52 moves. "The shortest possible method." As a matter of fact, it can be done in 47 moves.

The old game was made of wood, and those white and black pegs fitted into holes in the centres of the squares.

The object of the puzzle is to transpose the pegs so that the whites will occupy the lower squares and the black ones the upper positions.

The pegs are moved from one square to another, with the additional privilege of jumping over a peg to a vacant hole. Moves and jumps are always made north, south, east or west, diagonal moves being barred.

The board is marked N, S, E and W, to enable one to record the sequence of moves.

A good way is to make an enlarged copy of the sketch and use white and black buttons, or other markers.

Now let us see who can beat the old-time puzzlers at their own game.

That philosophical rebus is deciphered to read: "To be wise be content (beak on tent) to learn (too) turn."

CITY HALL NOTES

Things were pretty quiet around the city hall yesterday, both victors and defeated taking a day off after the hard electioneering work of the past ten days.

Controlled McBride put in a somewhat early appearance at the hall, and passed the time of day with his friends, took outside politics, the controller has no enemies. He did not disguise the fact that he thought he would be elected to the mayor's chair, and, although he put a smiling face upon the verdict, it was not difficult to read between the lines a keen disappointment.

A retired alderman, speaking yesterday regarding Mayor Church's victory. "Taking prejudice and politics out of the argument, no man can deny that it is a wonderful feat for any man to be elected in two years' time he will gain the desire of his heart and be elected to the mayorship of Toronto."

Mrs. Ald. Hamilton, if she is anxious not to be misunderstood, had better quit giving interviews as to what she is going to do next June, when she arrives in state at the city hall.

It is estimated that the majority of candidates for city hall honors got off this year fairly light in respect to expenses. James Simpson had all his expenses paid by the L.L.P., whilst Ald. Blackburn only expended about $30. Controller Robbins estimates his expenses at $50.

John G. Kent of the Canadian National Exhibition is very grateful to the people of Toronto for passing the bylaw authorizing the erection of the live stock arena in the Exhibition grounds. Although work will be commenced without delay, it is feared the building will not be complete for the 1920 Exhibition.

December was a bad month in the health of the city. There was a large increase in diphtheria cases and practically all the other diseases show an increase when compared with the reports for November and December, 1918.

In view of the claims of the anti-vaccinationists that the outbreak of vaccination, the above report is interesting. In this connection, the M. O. H. said yesterday: "The situation is deserving of the closest investigation, and I shall not be satisfied until I have secured all possible information that the outbreak has had an opportunity of weighing all the evidence. I shall issue a full and frank report."

In regard to the smallpox outbreak, the mayor is endeavoring to persuade Dr. Hastings to allow all children—vaccinated or not vaccinated—to return to school when they reopen next week, as there is no opinion that the outbreak has increased to such an extent that there is now comparative no danger of infection. The mayor is also endeavoring to get the United States and Montreal authorities to lift the ban against unvaccinated persons.

BRITAIN PLANNING TRADE OFFENSIVE

Proposes to Send Touring Exhibitions to Canada and Other Dominions.

London, Jan. 2.—The British government is planning a great overseas trade offensive, declared Sir Hamar Greenwood, head of the department of overseas trade, in the course of an interview today, in which he outlined the scheme. It includes sending of touring trade exhibitions to Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand.

He considered that 1920 promised to be the greatest year in the history of British trade, barring strikes. He added: "We desire to strike a blow at the fetich of German cheapness, fostered by the Leipzig Fair."

Regarding America, Sir Hamar declared: "I am for friendly commercial invasion of the great American republic. Some of our products now are in greater demand by the United States than they ever have been, and the limitations of the American capacity form the only limit of our export trade to the United States."

GUARD INTERESTS OF MOTHER CHURCH

New York State Convention to Take Action Against Publishing Company.

New York, Jan. 2.—Three thousand members of the Christian Scientist Churches of New York city in convention today issued a call for a special state convention for the purpose of taking "legal or any other action that may seem advisable" against the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Company, of Boston. The action is planned, it was stated, to restore the rights of the international board of directors and "safeguard the interests of the members of the mother church."

The resolution points out that "members of the mother church have lost confidence in the present trustees of the publishing society, and believe that their management of its affairs has been detrimental to the cause of Christian Science."

JELICOE PAYS VISIT TO NEW YORK

Inspects Brooklyn Navy Yard, Sees Exchange and Attends Informal Functions.

New York, Jan. 2.—Admiral Viscount Jellicoe, former first sea lord of Great Britain, began a week-end visit to New York today. He is acting in his post-war tour of the world. He is the guest of Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. He arrived at his hotel at 10 o'clock today, and at whose Riverside drive residence he is staying while in the city.

Schwab, the admiral visited the New York Stock Exchange and was greeted with cheers by brokers. Business was suspended while he was shown about the Exchange. He inspected the navy yard in Brooklyn with Rear-Admirals James H. Glenon and John B. Macdonald and Capt. O. P. Jones, U.S.N., who is acting as his naval aide while he is in the United States. Several British naval officers also were in the party. Later the admiral attended a luncheon to the admiral at Mr. Schwab's residence. An informal dinner was given there in the evening.

BOLSHEVIK ADVANCE IS FAST DEVELOPING

London, Jan. 2.—The advance of the Bolsheviki forces in the Donetz coal basin is developing rapidly, according to a Soviet wireless despatch received here today from Moscow. It is claimed that all of the railway junctions between Bakhmut and Lugansk have been occupied, and that the red lines are less than 65 miles east of Lugansk.

With the capture of Novocherkassky thousands of prisoners taken, according to the Soviet report, which declares the occupation of Ilovaykoovo deprives the enemy of the only railway leading up to the front.

The Bolsheviki, the message continues, have occupied the important stations of Yusovo and Dolga, and are marching towards Mariupol (an important seaport on the sea of Stov). A quantity of guns and booty was captured in this region, as was also

The Interstate Commerce Commission under the agreement would be authorized to substitute its findings and rate orders for those of state commissions when the latter give an unfair advantage to or discriminate against interstate commerce or interfere with the operation of a state of interstate commerce.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 3.
Canada is Not Ready for Imperial Federation.

The Winnipeg Free Press discusses in a trenchant way, our national status and empire organization. It believes there is no hurry about adopting a naval program for Canada and still less hurry about rushing into the making of a constitution for empire government.

It is pointed out that for some years past the dominion premiers have spent most of their time in London. During the war frequent visits to the capital of the empire were necessary; after the war it was found necessary that these premiers should take part in the peace conference. Sir Robert Borden and several of his colleagues, for example, went to Europe in May, 1918, and did not return until the summer of 1919. It is now suggested that all the dominion premiers, including our own, should get back to London by the spring of 1920 to agree upon a constitution for the British empire. As The Free Press sees it, a Macedonian cry goes forth from London for all the dominion premiers to return there as soon as possible, as the it were not safe to permit a dominion premier to get very far away or stay very long away from the British capital.

All the dominion premiers, in the opinion of The Free Press, should stay home and attend to domestic affairs for awhile. No one in Canada, not even Sir Robert Borden, it says, can speak with any knowledge or authority for Canada on the subject of our future empire relationship, and we are told:

The fact is that no Canadian public man is competent to represent us in negotiations of such moment until he knows what the intentions and desires of the people of Canada are in those matters and has their express authorization to present their conclusions at the conference. This involves the education of the public by free discussion, ample consideration and then a general election in which the people can make known their will in the matter.

The Free Press is not consoled by the thought that Hon. Mackenzie King may be taken overseas by Sir Robert Borden and enter the constitutional conference as the leader of the Liberal party in Canada. It says:

There are, we should say, few public men in Canada less authorized than Mr. Mackenzie King to speak for the people of Canada. In the matter of our future status, the present parliament and the existing government have no authority, in the opinion of The Free Press, to speak for Canada as to empire organization. Our future status and relationship to the other countries of the empire should be the subject of public discussion, and that discussion, it says, must precede not follow the conference. Heretofore public men by common consent have agreed to sidestep the question of Canada's future as a nation, but The Free Press believes the time has now come to have open and fearless discussion. The people at large have paid little attention to the question and no one probably can speak for them with knowledge and authority.

The debate at the last session of parliament of the peace treaty showed a marked divergence of views among the members of parliament. The prime minister and the president of the privy council made announcements which, if interpreted literally, would mean national independence. Hon. W. S. Fielding laughed at their pretensions, and said any clerk in the British foreign office could have done as much for Canada as Sir Robert Borden did at the peace conference. The middle ground was occupied by Ernest Lapointe, W. F. Maclean and others who pointed out that Canada lacked many of the attributes of sovereignty, but commended the prime minister for having secured for Canada the status of a nation at the peace conference. No one had the temerity to suggest imperial federation.

Quite possibly the average Canadian is not lying awake at nights worrying over the status of Canada or our future relations to the empire. He rather desires to put the painter's brush to the drawing into a controversy in which Canada would be a participant. He has great faith in the political evolution which has done so much for the British empire. He can see by what has happened in Canada that at times goes on the central power becomes more predominant and the constituent states less and less important in every federation. He is willing to have Canada a nation within the empire, but is unwilling to have her a mere state or province in a nation, however great. And, most of all, he does not want some enterprising imperialists in Britain to put something over him when he is busy on some domestic concern. There are busy bodies of this kind both in London and in Canada—without any mandate of any kind whatsoever.

Some Election Figures.

There were 52,023 voters in Thursday's election, which means that about ten per cent. of the people of Toronto govern the other ninety per cent. There are 150,000 or more voters on the lists, so that the vote polled indicates that only one voter in three who had the duty of governing the city in his hands, pays any attention to his duty or takes any interest in the affairs of the city he lives in. A large number of these non-voters complain about the city government and criticize what is done, but they never try to remedy matters with the means at their disposal.

Mayor Church got 340 fewer votes this year than last in a total which exceeded last year's by about 4000 votes. His poll of 25,680 is about five per cent. of the city's population.

If there be a failure of democracy here in the secret. The people do not take advantage of their privileges, nor do they realize their responsibilities. When the city is ruled by five per cent. of its inhabitants, or even the ten per cent. who take part in the voting, democracy cannot be said to have a fair trial.

In the case of the Labor party it is obvious that the excellent and practically unrivalled labor platform does not appeal to the labor ranks. It would have been the easiest thing in the world for labor to have turned out yesterday and elected the labor candidate. They could readily have exceeded Mayor Church's vote among the 100,000 or so citizens who did not vote yesterday. They preferred to stay at home and let the voting go by default.

What was true of the majority was true of the aldermanic vote. In ward eight Walter Brown was an excellent and popular candidate. Four or five hundred labor men who sat at home could easily have placed him at the head of the poll. William Stevenson, another good candidate in ward three, was left at the bottom of the poll with 33 votes. This is sufficient to indicate that labor does not support its own candidates, because Controller Gibbons in the same ward polled 1943 votes, ex-Controller Robbins 1320 and ex-Controller Simpson 761 votes. Here many labor men who voted for the labor controller did not take the trouble to vote for the labor alderman candidate. This evidence of apathy and neglect on the part of labor men themselves is sufficient to justify their public by free discussion, ample consideration and then a general election in which the people can make known their will in the matter.

There is only one remedy for such a state of affairs. A long period of education is obviously necessary before labor will present such a solid front as, for example, the farmers did in the recent provincial election.

Provincial Health Statistics.

In the health returns for the province for December pneumonia ranks as the most dangerous disease with 180 deaths. Tuberculosis follows with 95 deaths and diphtheria next with 65. Typhoid fever follows a long way behind with 21 deaths, scarlet fever with 17, measles with 14, and whooping cough and cerebro-spinal meningitis had 9 deaths each. Deaths also occurred from acute influenza pneumonia to the number of 3, influenza 5, and infantile paralysis and smallpox two each. With the largest number of cases, 1414, smallpox had the smallest number of deaths. Tuberculosis continues to make the steady drain on the life of the province, for there were many fewer deaths from this cause in December, 1919, than in December, 1918, when 138 were recorded.

Diphtheria is another dangerous disease and scarlet fever and measles are coming to be regarded as almost equally dangerous. But pneumonia continues to be the most deadly of the swift moving maladies. In our climate, bracing and vitalizing as it is, the danger from swift changes of temperature, more frequently due to artificial than to natural conditions, makes it necessary to take every precaution. No cold should be neglected and fresh air, especially at night, should be insisted upon.

ASK LOCAL BOARD TO SEEK MANDAMUS

Provincial Board of Health Want Help in Compelling Vaccination.
At the opening hearing yesterday of the appeal by the provincial board of health against the refusal of Mr. Justice Sutherland to issue a mandamus compelling the Toronto city council to order compulsory vaccination because the board of health was not a legal entity. It was finally decided that H. M. Mowat, representing the provincial board of health, should ask the local board of health, if they would allow themselves to be added as applicants for a mandamus, and that the court of appeal would give their decision tomorrow afternoon. The local board of health, representing the city council, made it plain that even if the local board of health, which is a corporate body, should permit themselves to be added, he would still have a great deal to say. The court consisted of Justices Lennox, Latchford, Middleton and Riddell.

Ah, there, Baby Raney. Daddy, with his cane, he goes to get a rabbit skin. To wrap his Baby Raney in.

HOW $40,000,000 BENEFITS VETERANS

Patriotic Fund Makes Statement to Remove All Misunderstanding.

Owing to a misunderstanding which has been found to exist on the part of ex-service men and their families as to the use for which the $40,000,000 emergency fund granted by the federal government for needy veterans is intended, E. R. C. Clarkson, chairman of the finance committee of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, has issued the following statement:

"The Canadian Patriotic Fund, which has been entrusted with the distribution of the fund provided by parliament for the assistance of certain classes of soldiers serving in the late war, wishes to bring to the attention of intending applicants for assistance some important points which must be kept in mind by them, and at the same time to bespeak from employers of labor the loyal assistance which is essential to the fair and efficient carrying out of the purpose intended."

"1. The fund is to be used, except under very special circumstances, only for the assistance of men who have served overseas and are now, without fault of their own, out of employment."

"2. A man who has not served overseas must show some very special reason before any assistance can be given to him."

"3. A man who has work, or can get work, will not be given any assistance unless he can give clear proof that by reason of special circumstances or burdens, his earnings are not up to an adequate standard."

"4. Nothing for Quitters. The man who refuses a job which is reasonably suitable for him and the man who willfully quits his job and registers as unemployed, is not to be considered for assistance."

"5. Employers of labor are urged to make use of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, West of near Bloor on Yonge. They are urged to report there forthwith the names of men quitting employment; to give notice of their positions or jobs available, and, above all, to apply there for every possible opportunity for men required in any branch of industry, it is in the interest of all parties that the soldiers should receive suitable employment, and those who are in need of service should be informed and assisted by the information and service branch, D.S.C.R., at 45 West King street, Main 3501, so that they will be in a position to distribute positions instead of certificates for unemployment."

"Unauthorized and inaccurate statements as to the scope of the relief intended, which have appeared in the press, have caused much unnecessary work and disappointment, and it is the hope of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, which is endeavoring to deal speedily and effectively with the cases coming before it, that the points above mentioned will, for the future, be kept clearly in mind."

G. W. V. A. POSITION.

District Secretary Conroy, G.W.V.A., yesterday, in denying that the G.W.V.A. were opposed to a further gratuity, said: "The heading as published in 'The Toronto World' on Dec. 30, 1919, 'G.W.V.A. Alone is Against Gratuity,' is altogether misleading. The G.W.V.A. have been, still are and will continue to be in favor of gratuities for re-establishment as presented to the parliamentary committee on re-establishment. The G.W.V.A. endorse the principle of a pension and have a Dominion-wide petition in preparation. Therefore, local branches cannot commit the G.W.V.A. as a whole to a purely local policy."

A NOTABLE IRISH VISITOR.

Very Rev. Paul Cullen, C.M., of Dublin, Ireland, is a guest of Rev. Dr. J. P. Treacy, pastor of St. Cecilia's, West Toronto. The noted visitor is superior of the Vincentian Fathers of Australia and was formerly president of Cogleknock College, Dublin.

Perhaps Health Authorities Might Do Something

BY IDA L. WEBSTER.

Now that the election rush is over it is about time that the health authorities rather a portion of them, to register a kick against the manner in which the street cars are heated, or not heated.

Of course, we are willing to agree with the company in the fact that many of the patrons of the system enter and leave the cars without the slightest notion of helping out with the atmosphere, and even then there is a large black lettered sign hanging on the floor, yet they travel in and out of the apartments, noisily scoring the idea of closing the "draft" after them.

On the other hand, the little imitations which are planted at the extreme end of the car, and to which only those living or working at the beginning and end of the line are subjected, do not pay taxes, but they are an insult to the intelligence of the community.

Naturally when one sees a stove in the middle of the car, and the organization and unbelievable speed, where absolute accuracy must at all times prevail. The writer has worked on election returns in many progressive cities of Toronto's size, and seldom were final results known before noon of the day following the elections.

One who has witnessed the handling of election returns elsewhere, the speed and accuracy with which returns were compiled and given to the public here was nothing short of marvelous. It is hardly likely, however, that such results would be possible here either, except for the magnificent co-operation rendered by the officers and staff of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company.

Papers Combine. Instead of working independently, as is usually done in other cities, the Toronto papers combined their efforts to give the public complete and speedy information. The assistance of the Burroughs Company was then sought, and two officials, J. E. Erskine, Toronto sales manager, and Earl L. Crowley, Canadian district secretary, assumed charge of collecting and tabulating returns from all polling sub-divisions.

With the assistance of the press representatives, they established the central exchange at the city hall. Here they installed a battery of Burroughs Adding and Calculating Machines at considerable inconvenience and loss of much of their time, obtained a force of expert Burroughs operators. A small army of messengers with printed forms for the collection of voting figures was visited by one of the polling booths who telephoned the results to the city hall immediately they were compiled in the voting booths.

The results as received from the various booths were flashed on screens in different parts of the city, thus giving the people a sub-division returns as they were compiled. For many hours later than what they were.

Without Hitch. Immediately results began to arrive at the city hall the organization ability of the two Burroughs managers and the wonderful efficiency of the Burroughs Adding and Calculating Machines were at once obvious. Without hitch or delay the returns from the various booths went thru a regular routine that obviated both delay and error.

In the main corridor of the first floor of the city hall was grouped the battery of 24 Burroughs Adding Machines, each operated by an expert female operator. Near this battery were two Burroughs calculator operators with Burroughs Calculating Machines, more accurate than humans in figuring fractions and scores of times faster. Close by these were six young men who finally checked the returns.

METHOD SIMPLIFIES ELECTION RETURNS

Burroughs Adding Machine Company Makes New Record for Efficiency.

Perhaps nowhere on this continent has the public ever been given such prompt and accurate information on election returns as was furnished by Toronto newspapers at yesterday's municipal election.

The polling booths closed at 5 o'clock sharp in the evening. Shortly after 9 o'clock, or about four hours later, complete returns giving the people's choice of public officials and their decisions on all bylaws and questions were issued by Toronto newspapers.

At first glance the collection and tabulation of returns may appear to the layman as a simple matter, but as a matter of fact it is a gigantic task, involving a world of detail, organization and unbelievable speed, where absolute accuracy must at all times prevail.

The writer has worked on election returns in many progressive cities of Toronto's size, and seldom were final results known before noon of the day following the elections.

MOONLIGHT AND MONEY

BY MARION RUBINCAM

LONELINESS. CHAPTER 78.

Louise found Jerry Scott wonderfully tactful. He could not possibly have heard the conversation which had upset her so, and if he had, he would not have said a word. But she knew she was feeling badly for the time at least.

He managed somehow to talk to her so she need not answer him, and he managed also, in some skilful fashion, to talk to the man at her other side, so Louise was not troubled by him either. After a half hour he leaned over to her and said, "You're looking yourself again now. Better not dance tonight, if you haven't been well. He my partner with the bridge players?"

"He is not a good dancer, so his kindly remark is prejudiced," Mrs. Baxter said to her. "She had heard Jerry's remark, but he is a good bridge player; we'll find another man and make up a table after dinner."

Louise had learned this as she had learned most of the other things in a rather haphazard manner. Among the girls she knew before her marriage, the fine points of the game were disregarded, more attention was given to gossip and frivolous chatter than to the rules of bidding and playing. Louise felt herself curiously out of place with three people who played scientifically, and who seemed to find an almost intense joy in working out the finer details of play. But she gave her whole attention to the game and broke claimed her once for a dance, and at 10 o'clock Mrs. Baxter, with a delightfully motherly air, took her upstairs to be.

Carol came up to say good night. Her cheeks were flushed a lovely rose from dancing and her eyes were sparkling. In her young strength and vitality, she might have posed for the statue of a Spartan maiden.

"I'll just powder my nose and tuck you in," she announced in the same sort of thing will do you a lot of good—I can see you improve by the hour. Tomorrow Brock says you're going to play some golf with Jerry, who has taken a great fancy to you; you want to go for a spin to Pillow-top mountain in the afternoon. Are you enjoying the party?"

"Immensely," Louise said, "but I've gotten awfully out of the frivolous as they were confirmed by the messengers' returns."

All returns, whether phoned in or brought in, had first to pass thru the hands of checkers, who had lists of all sub-divisions, and marked off each respective papers. At various stages totals were taken to the newspaper men in an adjoining room, who sent bulletins by direct line to the respective papers. There the results were thrown on screens. The entire organization was supervised by Messrs. Erskine and Crowley, who were ably assisted by press representatives and members of the Burroughs selling and office forces of Toronto.

Last Figure Problem. All returns, whether phoned in or brought in, had first to pass thru the hands of checkers, who had lists of all sub-divisions, and marked off each respective papers. At various stages totals were taken to the newspaper men in an adjoining room, who sent bulletins by direct line to the respective papers. There the results were thrown on screens. The entire organization was supervised by Messrs. Erskine and Crowley, who were ably assisted by press representatives and members of the Burroughs selling and office forces of Toronto.

When the last return had been tabulated and the final results of the election determined and made known to the people, one of the city officials remarked with a gladsome smile that he didn't know just how it had been done, but that the work just seemed to slip thru and get done.

A Good Foundation. "Easy enough," replied Mr. Erskine, which to work. That is, we take care of all the preliminary work as thoroughly as we do the actual figure work. Overcoming figure problems is our business. Naturally, how to do it, we don't know, and rather enjoy the doing of it."

Information which had been received at Grand Trunk hotel that the summer resort hotel that will surpass in size any similar enterprise previously erected in the Dominion. This hotel will be in the "Lake of Huron" district, the "Highlands of Ontario," and will be known as the "Bigwin Inn." Completion work has been completed during the coming summer. It will have accommodation for six hundred guests. Railroad authorities state that the opening of the Bigwin Inn will mark a notable step in the development of Canadian summer resorts.

YALE TOURISTS DOWN THE SAINTS

American Collegians Make Good Effort at the Ice Game.

Yale chalked up the second win of her Canadian hockey tour by defeating a team representing St. Michael's College at the Arena last night by 3 to 2. Plenty of speed and earnestness was shown, but very little hockey.

The American visitors are all fast skaters. They have learned that back-checking is a big asset in the Canadian winter position and to an able demonstration of this needed article can be counted the victory for the Americans.

The Yale players carry the puck with the end of the stick stretched out on the ice as far as their arms will reach. This makes it difficult to try any sick-handling and makes them easy prey for checking. If the visitors learn to hug the puck closer towards their feet, as the boys do here it would not take long to make them dangerous hockey players.

The goal-tending for Yale was not up to the average, and the work of the whole team was awkward, but the Yankee college boys never stopped for a minute and tore after the puck-carrier and worried him until they either latted or scooped the puck away.

The Yale defence played well from centre ice back until they were treading on the goalie's toes, but they always got a lot of help from the forwards. The visiting front line streaked back for the goal every time and everybody took a check at the incoming puck-carrier. This is what stopped St. Mike's.

Yale made several very good attempts at passing and will greatly improve before they go back across the ice. In Smith, a big rugged defence man, the Americans have a star. He checks hard, knows how to carry the puck and uncorked some dangerous rushes. He needed to get two pretty goals on individual rushes and was in the thick of the fray all thru the game.

McKeff, former resident of Parkdale, was the best forward for the visitors. He knows the game and would easily catch a place on the team here. Though showed flashes of real ability. He bored in well. The whole team went at top speed for sixty minutes and when St. Mike's made their biggest effort in the last period Yale drove them out by persistently sticking to the puck carrier.

Taking all in all the Americans did very well and to make it more creditable they beat players who know the game down to the ground. Individually St. Michaels were good. The lack of team play that beset them. Many bright chances were tossed away by not passing the rubber and they have nobody but themselves to blame. Of course it was a team hurriedly gathered together, and they knew absolutely nothing about each other's play. In the nets young Moore, late of Barrie, held fort. Tex White of T.C.C. Juniors and Jerry Lafontaine were the defence. Jerry tried hard to get the tying goal in the last round, but always found a Yale man under his feet. White rushed repeatedly, but would not pass and failed after a lot of hard work.

Jack Spratt and Jack McCamus, former St. Mike stars, and Dana, late of Newman Hall, was the regular forward line. Individually they were good. Spratt was a horse for work and bored in well. He was the leader in the back check and Jerry Lafontaine were the defence. Jerry tried hard to get the tying goal in the last round, but always found a Yale man under his feet. White rushed repeatedly, but would not pass and failed after a lot of hard work.

The summary: First Period—1. Yale..... 2. Second Period—2. Yale..... 3. St. Michaels..... 2. 4. Yule..... 4. Third Period—5. St. Michaels..... 1. 6. Spratt..... 1. 0.0

DROP IN MERCURY STRENGTHENS CORN

Further Delays to Cars Are Considered Likely—Oats Are Firm.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Below zero temperatures led to a rush of buying in the corn market today and forced up quotations. The finish, although unsettled, was 10 to 20 net higher, with January $1.35 1/2 to $1.37 1/2 and May $1.33 to $1.35 1/2.

The chief incentive for the buying of corn was the fact that the extreme cold weather was likely to increase delay to cars for supplies.

AD the outset, uneasiness about car scarcity was also a decided bullish factor. Besides, there was talk of unchanged feeding demand. Subsequently, however, reports were circulated that Washington authorities had ordered 600,000 bushels of empty cars to be shipped from the coast to help handle grain on western routes.

Provisions advanced with hogs and grain, but in the later dealings hogs turned weak owing to early deliveries on January contracts, although the deliveries went into strong hands.
