BOLD ROBBERY AT POINT CHENE

I. C. R. Freight Office Visited and Money Stolen

A MONCTON WEDDING

Moncton Husband Charges His Wife With Immoral Conduct and She Is Taken into Custody With Another Man—Two Other Arrests on Similar Charge.

MONCTON, N.B., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—A bold robbery was committed by an unknown party at Point du Chene on Saturday morning last. During the temporary absence of Mr. Burns from the I.C.R. freight office someone entered and broke open the cash drawer and stole the contents of the till, amounting to about $30. When Mr. Burns returned, after an absence of a few minutes, he found the cash drawer broken from its fastenings and the money gone.

These, Duncan, a well known I.C.R. machinist, was married this evening to Miss Annie L. Lawrence, daughter of William Lawrence of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. McDonald, in the presence of a few immediate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan left on a wedding trip to Sydney and Halifax, and will visit St. John, the groom's former home before taking up their residence in Moncton.

The police raided a couple of houses on the outskirts of the city at three o'clock this morning in search of parties charged with immoral conduct. The officers first visited a house on Salisbury road, and arrested Walter Bishop and Mrs. Snary, who has a husband living in town. The complaint was laid by her husband. Bishop is a married man, and belongs to Amherst.

Willard Kelly, a married man, belonging to Petitcodiac, who has been working in Moncton since an unmarried woman, named Miss Bell, were arrested in a house on Mountain Road, on the complaint of neighbors. The parties will be brought before the police magistrate this afternoon.

HEROES REMEMBERED

Vancouver Unveils a Tablet to the Memory of Those Who Fell in Boer War.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—A grand service in which Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia, took part, this city has just seen the unveiling of a tablet to the Vancouver heroes who laid down their lives in the Boer war. The men whose memory is thus honored were Private W. Jackson, Private W. F. Whiteley and Trooper P. C. Macdonald.

"But," protested the plain citizens, "don't you consider honesty a good thing?"

"Sure," replied the politician, "but it's like all other good things—you've got to make money before you can afford it."

Footpad (in a rasping voice)—Keep still now; all I want is your money.

Summer Boarder—Oh, that's all right! I thought, perhaps, you wanted this bank book—Puck.

TOM LAWSON WILL FIGHT INSURANCE IN NEW YORK

Says He'll Handle McCall Without Gloves—Will Make Star Witnesses Tell What They Know of the Company's Deals—Demonstration in Madison Square Garden.

(Boston Journal)

"I am going to handle John A. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, without gloves in the open air. I shall send him tomorrow," declared Thomas W. Lawson to The Journal last night.

"I have given out an interview in which I stated Mr. McCall swore falsely if he said before the legislative insurance investigating committee that the company had never invested funds belonging to its policy-holders in stocks of any kind," Lawson declared.

"Shortly I am going to New York to arrange to start the fight against the insurance companies' robbery. I have received the endorsement of thousands of policy-holders, representing every State in the Union. We propose to form committees in every State. From these general committees we shall form a central committee. Then we shall take Madison Square Garden and make the expense a personal matter. Then we shall take steps to pull every one of the star witnesses who are now hiding in the different States out of their burrows and make them tell what they know about their mysterious deals.

"President McCall a year ago said that I was not telling the truth when I exposed some of the insurance deals in high finance. I will show him that I was telling the truth and that I have a lot more interesting than that of the past."

In connection with the New York Life affair, Lawson declared the company, through its financial representative, had invested $1,000,000 in a stock operation in 1898. Some one, he continued had received a big bonus on the deal.

Lawson takes up the Rogers-Rockett deal, Rogers being here in the case of Receiver Popper in the suit to recover $3,000,000. Concerning these gentlemen Lawson declares:

"Seven years ago—in August, 1898—Henry H. Rogers and William Rockefeller came into possession of stocks and bonds of the Boston Gaslight Company, worth about $2,000,000, which they admitted to work off in connection with like property to the value of $2,500,000, for which they expected to receive $3,000,000. For this purpose they created a scheme called the New England Gas & Coke Company. The first move on the 'cheese' was to make an arrangement with the New York Life and other big insurance companies by which their creature, the Central Trust Company, was to loan $12,000,000 upon this $4,200,000 of stocks and bonds, which was to go to Rogers and Rockefeller,

CO-OPERATIVE PLANS COULD NOT BE MADE TO WORK IN AMERICA

This is the Opinion of Scottish Visitors Who Manage Great Industries in Scotland on Co-operative Lines—"The Country is Too Big is One of Their Reasons."

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Journal of Commerce publishes an article in the United States and Canada, returning to their homes in Scotland about December 1. The article is the result of a visit to the United States and Canada, made by the Scottish Co-operative Wholesale Society, Limited, whose head office is in Glasgow. These gentlemen are the representatives of an industry which last year placed upon the market goods to the value of $4,000,000 and which gives constant employment to 7,000 persons.

They are here primarily to look into the grain situation and for the time being are the guests of John Gledhill, the society's American buyer and general representative. Later they will visit all the larger grain producing provinces in the United States and Canada, returning to their homes in Scotland about December 1.

Discussing the purpose of their visit yesterday, Mr. Stewart said: "We are here to seek additional knowledge in regard to the production and marketing of grain in the United States and Canada. The society is the owner of three mills, with a weekly production of 10,000 sacks of 200 pounds, and as 30 per cent. of the grain consumed in foreign it pays us to keep in touch with all markets."

During his stay here Mr. Stewart has talked with business men of all classes and also with workmen and already has arrived at the definite conclusion that the co-operative trade idea as it is known in the United Kingdom, Belgium and Holland could not be worked out here with any degree of success.

"The country is too big in the first place," he said, "and, besides, there are too many discordant elements in the various communities, large and small. But in Scotland the case is different, and the co-operative idea is spreading like wildfire. It is a healthy development and is an absolute guarantee against trusts or combination control of prices such as often is the case in the United States according to my information."

EARTHQUAKE IN FAR NORTH

GOTHENBURG, Sweden, Sept. 27.—A severe earthquake shock was felt at 1:30 p. m. yesterday at Landa by Hisingen. It cracked the walls of houses and floured the surface of the ground. Subterranean rumblings were quickly followed by the violent rocking of houses and the splitting of inner and outer walls, driving the inmates to seek safety in the open air. In many places chimneys fell and were opened up, while the level of the ground in the eastern part of the island sank appreciably. The disturbance lasted a minute.

APPEAL REFUSED

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—Sir L. Davies has refused the application of the Cushing Sulphite Fibre Company for leave to appeal to the supreme court against Judge McLeod's winding up order. Sir Louis holds that there can be no appeal direct from the trial judge's order and that if the company still wants to appeal it must first appeal to the New Brunswick supreme court which would only be a formality as the bench has already expressed itself in the case though not in the form of a regular appeal.

HUNGARIAN SITUATION GROWING WORSE DAILY

Budapest the Centre of Contending Political Parties --- Press Urge Formation of One Great Party Under Francis Kossuth --- Coalitionists Have Issued Manifesto.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The correspondent of the Morning Post at Budapest says: "The situation here grows worse daily. The radical element threaten to swap the moderate party and to hurry the country into irrevocable action. Public referendum to the dynasty are made in a sense which it is impossible to reproduce. The principal newspapers urge the formation of one great party under Francis Kossuth. This is supported by Kossuth, Count Appony and Baron Banffy."

Other special dispatches represent the situation as serious, but say it is evident that the conservative elements hesitate to countenance the driving of matters to a point where compromise would be impossible.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 27.—The committee of the coalitionists has issued a manifesto to the nation in reply to the programme submitted to its leaders by the Emperor-King. The manifesto declares that some points of his majesty's programme are not conformable with the constitution, referring especially to the contention that the question of the language of command in the Hungarian army must be entirely eliminated from discussion. It is asserted that this is equivalent to the abolition of the nation's right to control its officers for which there is no legal authority.

The newspapers characterize the statements of the Austrian premier, Baron Gutsch von Frankenburg, in the Reichsrath as unwarrantable interference with Hungary's internal affairs.

MEMOIRS OF SHERLOCK HOLMES, BY A. CONAN DOYLE.

THE ADVENTURE OF THE SILVER BLAZE

I am afraid Watson, that I shall have to go," said Holmes, as we sat down to our breakfast one morning. "Go! Where to?" "To Dartmoor, to King Pyland."

"Nor have I. But the telegraph posts upon this line are sixty feet apart and the calculation is a simple one. I presume that you have looked into this matter of the murder of John Straker and the disappearance of Silver Blaze?"

Silver Blaze from being there at the fall of the flag next Tuesday. "The fact was, of course, appreciated at King's Pyland, where the Colonel's training stable is situated. Every precaution was taken to guard the favorite. The trainer, John Straker, is a retired jockey, who rode in Col. Ross's colors, before he became too heavy for the weighing chair. He has served the Colonel for five years as jockey and for seven years as trainer, and has always shown himself to be a zealous and honest servant. Under him were three lads, for the establishment was a small one, containing only four horses in all. One of these lads sat up each night in the stable, while the others slept in the loft. All three boys excellent characters. John Straker, who is a married man, lived in a small villa about two hundred yards from the stables. He has no children, keeps one maid servant, and is comfortably off. The country road is very lonely, but about half a mile to the north there is a small cluster of villas which have been built by a Tavistock contractor for the use of its wilds and others who may wish to enjoy the pure Dartmoor air. Tavistock itself lies two miles to the west, while across the moor, about two miles distant, is the larger training establishment of Marlinton, which belongs to Lord Blackwater, and is managed by Silas Brown. In every other direction the moor is a complete wilderness, inhabited only by a few roaming gypsies. Such was the general situation last Monday night when the catastrophe occurred. "On that evening the horses had been exercised and watered as usual and the stables were locked up at nine o'clock. Two of the lads walked up to the trainer's house, where they had supper in the kitchen, while the third, Ned Hunter, remained on guard. At a few minutes after nine the maid, Edith Baxter, carried down to the stables his supper, which consisted of a dish of curried mutton. She took no liquid, as there was a water tap in the stables, and it was the rule that the lad on duty should drink nothing else. The maid carried a lantern with her, as it was very dark and the path ran across the open moor. "Edith Baxter was within thirty yards of the stables, when a man appeared out of the darkness and called to her to stop. As he stepped into the circle of yellow light thrown by the lantern she saw that he was a person of gentlemanly bearing, dressed in a gray suit of tweeds, with a cloth cap. He wore gaiters, and carried a heavy stick with a knob to it. She was most impressed, however, by the extreme palor of his face and by the nervousness of his manner. His age, she thought, would be rather over thirty than under it. "Can you tell me where I am?" he asked. "I had almost made up my mind to sleep on the moor, when I saw the light of your lantern."

"You are close to the King's Pyland training stables, said she. "Oh, indeed! What a stroke of luck!" he cried. "I understand that a stable boy sleeps alone there every night. Perhaps that is the supper which you are carrying to him. Now, I am sure that you would not be too proud to earn the price of a new dress, would you?" He took a piece of paper folded up out of his waistcoat pocket. "See that the boy has this tonight and you shall have the prettiest frock that money can buy." "She was frightened by the earnestness of his manner and ran past him to the window through which she was accustomed to hand her meals. It was already opened, and Hunter was seated at the small table near it. She had begun to tell him of what had happened, when the stranger came up again. "Good evening," said he, looking through the window. "I wanted to have a word with you." The girl has sworn

TIME FOR COLLECTIONS

Several months ago the Times referred to the anxiety with which the merchants as well as the farmers of the great west were watching the growing wheat crop, because while a good crop meant prosperity a bad one meant panic and failure.

Now comes a special commissioner of the Toronto Globe, who is touring the west, and who does not hesitate to urge the merchants and the banks to insist on the payment of debts before more money is put into land.

WATCH THE MONEY MARKET

The situation in the money market in the United States causes some anxiety, at a time when all other stock markets indications are considered favorable.

To ignore the money market problems, while admitting the strength and the promise of the general industrial situation, would be the height of folly.

LIMITLESS WHEAT FIELDS

Prof. Mavor must be rather sorry by this time that he ventured to put a limit to the wheat producing power of the Canadian west.

While others will doubtless read it with interest, the following paragraph from a Winnipeg paper is especially commended to the members of the St. John Citizens' League, and Board of Trade.

The new Anglo-Japanese treaty is a notice to Russia not only to cease her aggressive policy in Manchuria, but to keep her hands off India.

A FINE EXHIBIT One of the best exhibits at the Fredericton exhibition is that of Campbell Bros.

On entering the main door, this exhibit, abundant in silvery flashes from the polished axes and tools, meets the eye.

The axes are arranged on a background of white, and are principally the XXX choppers, the brand of axe this firm is so prominently advertising.

On a table in front of the exhibit, are specimens of ax steel, and portions of axes are shown, from the starting of the manufacturer to the finishing.

What is creating much interest around this exhibit, is a guessing contest. Suspended on a chain from the roof of the building is a large bronze wheel, with different brands of axes around the sides.

The prize for the correct guess will be a dozen of Campbell's XXX choppers.

They reached home with their prize after being gone less than a day.

WANTS BETTER ROADS

PETERSVILLE, CHURCH, Sept. 23. To The Editor of the Times: Sir,-Would you allow me a space in your paper to ask the members of Kings county, or whoever has charge of looking after the roads, what have they done with the money that they should have repaired the road with in the parish of Westfield.

It is in a most deplorable state, the bridge across the road is washed away and covered with sticks and stones, leaving it impossible for a team to get along in safety.

Over this road the farmers of this section of the country have to haul their produce to market, not knowing when their teams may be damaged or themselves maimed for life.

When F. Macé had charge of this road under the old road law it was kept in a fair state of repair. But since they have taken that business from him and given it to others the road has gone to destruction.

This is the new road law has done for the benefit of the country that the members spent part of last winter in Fredericton training.

As long as the members can ride in palce cars or drive in rubber-tired wagons, they will let the poor farmers continue to be hewers of wood or drawers of water and plod through life as best they can.

I hope at the next general election the farmers of this county will tell them that they or their road law are not wanted.

The writer of this was a government supporter at the last election, and has been a traveler over the road that he now refers to twice a week for the last ten or twelve years or more, and he knows what he is talking about.

THE JEWELS OF AUTUMN. I watched, along September woods, The jewels of the rain; Down all the autumn solitudes, The strewn wide on hill and plain; Rich tints that sorcerer Nature gave To deck her loved ones for the grave, The maple leaves were rubies bright, A moment in the sun, Then softly, through the golden light, They trembled, one by one; Seeking their low couch in the mould; The fires of summer quenched and cold. All through the misty, sunny day, I saw the jewels gleam; Now in the sunbeams flaunting gay, Now cold along the stream. I watched, and dreamed of joys that ebb For one sweet moment, and were gone. —Herbert J. Brewster.

VISITORS THROGGED THE CAPITAL DURING THE FAIR

Fredericton Exhibition Which Closes Tonight Has Been Most Successful—Difficulty in Securing Hotel Accommodation and Some Were Forced to Spend the Night on the Street. This is the closing day of the Fredericton exhibition, and after tonight the pretty little city will resume its usual serenity. The exhibition was undoubtedly a grand success. The exhibits were all good, especially those in the agricultural department, as the judges agreed that a finer lot of vegetables and fruit was never seen at an exhibition in the province. The most curious sight in the agricultural shed was a pumpkin as large as an ordinary barrel. The exhibits of poultry were all first-class. The space in the main building was all occupied by exhibits which were all well arranged. The main floor was occupied by most of the large exhibits and the galleries by smaller ones which were, however, very attractive. The usual side-shows were in evidence on the grounds and although a few "smooth" gentlemen were among them very little "grafting" was done by the fair. Only one thing marred the pleasure of a number of visitors and that was the lack of sleeping accommodation. The hotels and boarding houses were all filled by the second day of the fair and those going to the city after that were lucky if they found a place to rest. A Times representative left for Fredericton on Saturday evening, arriving at 8:30 and going directly to the exhibition where he remained until ten o'clock. A friend meeting him just as he was about to depart, asked him if he had not had whereupon he was informed that he would probably have to walk the streets all night. Accompanied by a friend whom he had

WHARFAGE SCHEDULE

Board of Works Recommend a Table of Rates to be Charged Winter Port Steamers—Other Matters. A schedule of tolls to govern the top wharfage for the coming season was considered by the board of works yesterday and recommended to the council. The question of basing the wharfage on the tonnage of the vessel was referred to a committee to interview the C. P. R. and Dominion officials. Street railway matters were extensively dealt with, and a deputation of citizens on improvements to the Paradise Row section was heard. A. Malcolm and G. E. C. Gaudin were also heard with regard to the exclusion of salt from the city's warehouses. A number of other matters were dealt with. Andrew Malcom and G. E. Chester Gandy were heard with reference to damage done to a large number of bags of salt which were refused admission to the city's warehouses on the Pettigill wharf. They were injured by rain in consequence. The director in reply to the chairman said the salt was refused because it ruined the floor for the West India boats. He had been compelled to frequently put lime on the floor to dry it and had finally refused to admit it. The customs department had also refused to allow salt and coal, which were on the free list, to be in the same warehouse with other goods. The recorder being asked for his opinion said anything not dangerous could be put in a warehouse, but he thought salt must be treated as merchandise. The city had no right to discriminate against salt more than against flour. Ald. Baxter moved that the matter be referred to the director to report as to damage and to see if a shed roof could be erected as a protection. Ald. Maclean moved an amendment that the director and recorder bring in a report. The amendment was carried. Ald. Maclean, chairman of the subcommittee appointed to consider the matter of wharfage rates to be charged at the Sand Point wharves for the coming season, read the following report: Your committee recommend: (1) That the claimants be directed to collect the wharfage for all steamers occupying city wharves at Sand Point. (2) That the board of public works be empowered to allocate the several Sand Point wharves to steamers during the season November 1, 1906, to March 31, 1907, on the basis of agreements binding the lessees to pay the city for the use of such warehouses the following fees upon traffic passing through the warehouses and over the wharves: General goods, five cents per cubic ton. Timber, five cents per cubic ton. General goods other than those enumerated above, five cents per ton. And further that the wharfage be levied on the cargo, the company and repair of warehouses, the mill and by-laws committee at the rate of 10 cents per ton. (3) That the wharfage be levied on the cargo, the company and repair of warehouses, the mill and by-laws committee at the rate of 10 cents per ton. (4) That the wharfage be levied on the cargo, the company and repair of warehouses, the mill and by-laws committee at the rate of 10 cents per ton. (5) That the wharfage be levied on the cargo, the company and repair of warehouses, the mill and by-laws committee at the rate of 10 cents per ton. (6) That the wharfage be levied on the cargo, the company and repair of warehouses, the mill and by-laws committee at the rate of 10 cents per ton. (7) That the wharfage be levied on the cargo, the company and repair of warehouses, the mill and by-laws committee at the rate of 10 cents per ton. (8) That the wharfage be levied on the cargo, the company and repair of warehouses, the mill and by-laws committee at the rate of 10 cents per ton. (9) That the wharfage be levied on the cargo, the company and repair of warehouses, the mill and by-laws committee at the rate of 10 cents per ton. THE ANGLO-JAP ALLIANCE

Text of the New Agreement Given Out by the Foreign Office in London Last Evening--To Maintain General Peace in Eastern Asia and India.

London, Sept. 27.—The text of the new agreement between Great Britain and Japan, which was signed by Lord Lansdowne, the British foreign secretary, and Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to Great Britain, on August 12, was issued by the foreign office last evening. The momentous document is a brief one, comprising less than 800 words, including eight articles and a preamble.

Accompanying the agreement is a letter from Lord Lansdowne to the British ambassadors at St. Petersburg and Paris, for transmission to the Russian and French governments respectively, in which the foreign secretary courteously reviews the agreement and carefully points out that the new defensive alliance is not intended as a menace but rather as a guarantee of peace and prosperity in the East in which all countries have a legitimate interest.

The main features of the new agreement have already been forecasted in the Associated Press despatches from London and Paris. The preliminary articles of the official text, however, bring out forcefully the tremendous importance to both countries of this alliance, which practically makes Great Britain Japan's ally and Great Britain for the purpose of defense in the regions of East Asia and India.

This inclusion of India specifically as a point at which any aggression by a foreign power will call for the assistance of Japan finds much favor with the press of London, the morning papers, in long laudatory articles welcoming the new and more extensive alliance of the two imperial kingdoms west and east as giving immediate relief from the dangerous thunderclap which for so many years has hung over the Indian frontier.

The preamble reads: "The governments of Great Britain and Japan, being desirous of replacing the agreement concluded by them on June 30, 1902, by fresh stipulations, have agreed upon the following articles, which have for their object: (a) Consolidation and the maintenance of general peace in the regions of Eastern Asia and India.

(b) The preservation of the common interests of all the powers in China by ensuring the independence and integrity of the Chinese empire and the principles of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in China.

(c) The maintenance of the territorial rights of the high contracting parties in the regions of Eastern Asia and India and the defence of their special interests in the said regions.

The text of the treaty is as follows: "Article 1.—It is agreed that whenever either of the high contracting parties is in the opinion of either of Great Britain or Japan any of the rights and interests referred to in the preamble of this agreement are in jeopardy, the two governments will communicate with one another fully and frankly and will consider in common the measures which should be taken to safeguard these menaced rights of interest.

"Article 2.—Should either of the high contracting parties be involved in war or special interests, the other party will at once come to the assistance of its ally and both parties will conduct their operations in common and make peace in mutual agreement with any power or powers involved in such war.

"Article 3.—Japan possessing paramount political, military and economic interests in Korea, Great Britain recognizes Japan's right to take such measures for the guidance, control and protection of Korea as she may deem proper and necessary, providing the measures so taken are not contrary to the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations.

"Article 4.—Great Britain, having a special interest in that concerns the security of the Indian frontier, Japan recognizes her right to take such measures in the proximity of that frontier, as she may deem proper and necessary, providing the measures so taken are not contrary to the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations.

"Article 5.—The high contracting parties agree that neither will without consulting the other enter into a separate arrangement with another power which would prejudice the object of the present agreement.

"Article 6.—As regards the present war between Russia and Great Britain, Great Britain will continue to maintain strict neutrality unless some other power or power join in hostilities against Japan, in which case Great Britain will come to the assistance of Japan, and will make peace in mutual agreement with Japan.

"Article 7.—The conditions under which armed assistance shall be afforded by either power to the other in the circumstances mentioned in the present agreement and the means by which such assistance shall be made available will be arranged by the naval and military authorities of the contracting parties who shall meet from time to time to consider fully and freely on all questions of mutual interests.

"Article 8.—The present agreement shall be subject to the provisions of article 6 and come into effect immediately after the date of signature and remain in force for ten years from that date, in case neither of the parties shall have notified twelve months before the expiration of said ten years of an intention of terminating it. It shall remain in force until the expiration of one year from the day on which either of the parties shall have denounced it, but if when the date for the expiration arrives either party is actually engaged in the alliance, it shall be ipso facto and continue until peace shall be concluded.

"The treaty is signed by Foreign Secretary Lansdowne, on behalf of Great Britain, and by Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, on behalf of Japan.

BURGLARS AWAKE TO FIND THAT THEY WERE PRISONERS

Up-to-Date Crooks With Complete Outfit of Burglars' Tools, Arrested in Pious Toronto—Woman Was the Indirect Cause of Their Capture.

(Toronto Globe, Monday.) With reports of stolen jewelry, including the Kyrle robbery, for this month (1905), and a big increase in the number of highway crimes, the arrest early yesterday morning of Fred Wilson and Watson, and Thomas Morse, the two gentlemen who were found in the room two Toronto girls who have been living at the address a week or ten days. One of the girls was allowed to go home with her father and the other is detained in the custody of the police matron until some inquiries are made about her friends on Van Horne street.

The arrest of the two men was made quietly and before the people in the house were up. Detective Brown and Macle, who have been watching the movements of the men for some days, and knew that they usually retired very late and would only be in bed quite early in the morning.

The detectives were admitted to the house by the occupants, who directed them to the room occupied by Wilson and Morse. They used a duplicate key, and without further ceremony placed the handcuffs on the sleeping men. Both awoke to find themselves chained to the bed and handcuffed to the wall. Morse was in the bed and Wilson on a mattress on the floor.

Wilson and Morse before leaving for the police station were given time to dress, and presented a gentlemanly appearance on the street. They wore short light overcoats and new clothes. A search of the room revealed the revolvers under the pillows, and the marks, tools, candles and dark lantern, which, the police say, all go to make up burglars' outfits.

Another important find was a small bottle of ether about three parts full, which was yesterday analyzed by a local chemist. The ether was bundled up, and with the prisoners, was taken to the police station.

Morse is not known to the Toronto police, and they will attempt to find out something about him. He claims to be twenty years old. The other, who gives the name of Fred Wilson, has been recognized as a man wanted at Port Huron under the name of Watson for robbing the home of the Commissioner of Police here.

The girl says the prisoners came in last morning about 10 o'clock. They would arrive separately and whoever came in first would wait for the other. The prisoners answer in some particulars the descriptions of men wanted for recent highway robberies. There is nothing to connect either of the men with the revolvers, the marks, the marks and the other things in the room. No definite statement has been made by the police regarding the evidence against the prisoners. It is said, however, they have information that the men removed diamonds from settings in their rooms.

For the wonderful help that she has found from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, writes gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was suffering from a very bad case of nervous prostration, and was unable to do any work. I had been in bed for several months, and was very weak and thin. I had tried many different remedies, but nothing seemed to help. I was very discouraged, and was about to give up when I saw an advertisement for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I bought a bottle and began to take it. I was very surprised to find that I was getting better and better. I was able to get up and about in a few days, and was able to do my work again. JACK TWIN PUT HIM OUT

Knocked Out Nick Burley in Nome City, Alaska, in Three Rounds.

The following account of a recent fight between Jack (Twin) Sullivan, well known in this city, and Nick Burley of San Francisco, which was pulled off in Nome, Alaska, is interesting to members of the sporting fraternity here. The account of the fight in the Nome Semi-Weekly News of Sept. 1, is as follows:

A large crowd assembled in the A. B. Hall last Wednesday evening to witness the twenty round contest for a decision, between Nick Burley, of San Francisco, and Jack (Twin) Sullivan, the fighting Irishman of Boston.

Long before the fight came off it was generally regarded as certain that Burley could never last the sixth round, and the interest in the contest abated somewhat in consequence. In spite of this fact, great numbers of spectators that evening witnessed a Nome prize fight was presented to see the famous mid-weight work.

Before the principal event of the evening, a spirited four round contest was brought off between Jack Doyle, of Boston, and Tom Lane of Los Angeles. The latter was game, fought pluckily and hard, and was loudly applauded for his very evident honest efforts to pummel each other out of shape.

When the ring was clear, Master of Ceremonies McCarthy introduced Harry Monahan as referee of the big event and the reception by the crowd was enthusiastic. The selection was popular. Jimmie Reilly was then presented as challenger of the winner for a bout next Wednesday, and everything was ready.

Burley first entered the ring, a picture of health, symmetrical manhood, and was followed by Sullivan, who made a point of going to his opponent's corner for a friendly shake hands.

In his suggestive green trunks he looked the character which is described by his title.

First Round—As the gong sounded, Sullivan managed to get two light jabs on Burley's ribs and jaw. Burley returned on Burke's body, receiving a swing on the side of the head and the men clinched. Sullivan was crouching low and going wearily, swinging his left over his head on Burley's face, but Nick managed a heavy punch before the gong sounded.

Second Round—Burley seemed to rise Sullivan, but Sullivan's tactics evidently drew him on, as he landed on Nick's jaw, receiving one in return, before, quite unchanged entered a clinch. After breaking away Burley got in one on the ribs, Twin returning on Nick's head with a clinch Sullivan was planted one on the face and landed two or three times on the ribs. Sullivan missed a wild, vicious swing, got in on Burley's head and the men were going when the gong sounded.

Third Round—In the last round Twin commenced to show his mettle and opened on Burley's body, but Burley returned Sullivan again with a wild finishing swing, which missed, but got in two or three times before Nick brought him in with his knees with a body blow. The crowd to bring matters to a point and he hardly got to his feet when Burley hit the target, went down again, and as he tried once more to make a stand, a frightful shot on the point of the jaw placed him hors de combat. When counted out he was carried to his corner in a very limp condition.

HOW JACK O'BRIEN GETS THE MONEY

As a money maker, Jack O'Brien, the Philadelphia middleweight, has Jim Corbett, Jimmy Britt and others beaten a city block. O'Brien has been in the Klondike for the past six months meeting all comers and giving boxing exhibitions with Frank Slavin, the former Australian champion.

In a letter to his father at Philadelphia several days ago, O'Brien says he has earned nearly $15,000. O'Brien left the Klondike last Thursday en route for Seattle, Wash., from where he will journey to Portland, Ore., to take in the exposition, after which he will travel through California until the spring.

O'Brien told his two battles with Billy Bates, the heavyweight champion, that section. Their first meeting was on Aug. 30, and when the referee gave the decision to O'Brien, Bates walked the referee. The second meeting was before the Fairbanks Club, a hundred miles from Dawson City, where they journeyed on horseback. O'Brien was cutting the big gold digger into ribbons when Bates lost his temper, and the referee grabbed O'Brien around the waist and threw him violently to the floor of the ring. The bout was stopped and O'Brien awarded the decision.

CRICKET IS NOT POPULAR

So Says Casper Whitney in October Outing—Has Not Action Enough.

Cricket is not a popular game in this country, because the American temperament cannot get under much less enjoy, a contest which requires three days to decide. Quick action and speedy verdict are what he wants—the sprint race, the runner put out at first base, the half back shoved over the goal line, the victory won before he leaves his seat. Yet what deep gratification is there to the sportsman in the contemplation of cricket and its American players? Here, indeed, is the greatest opportunity of the game of life, the game in which courtesy to the opponent is of even greater consideration than triumph over him, the game of sport for sport's sake, the use of gentlemen. And I use the word gentlemen in its broad sense, in its real sense which covers the man of heart, and not the man of clothes. This is the amateur's game par excellence, the one yet unutilized by the mad frenzy for winning, the one yet unaffected by legislators having an eye single to present season chances of their own clubs, the one in which the sportsman may grow old and be a player still. What a comforting, happy thought that we have yet a game which has not had its day in this country! It is the result of its unpopularity let us cherish cricket, and pray God that it should become more popular—Casper Whitney in October "Outing."

NO CREDIT TO HIM

A Boston exchange says: That the crowd of alleged sports over in New York who made the match between George Dixon and Tommy Murphy and allowed him to enter the ring in his poor physical condition is a disgrace to the sport of boxing. It is a disgrace to the business world to that great little colored man's fighting ability, which he has shown to be so good and so cheap.

Instead of dipping down into his pockets and sending up a subscription for the greatest little fighter that ever donned a pair of boxing gloves, this money mad bunch thought out the scheme of matching him with Murphy. They knew that George wasn't fit to go in and get the money. That was the cheapest way out of it for them.

Tommy Murphy does not shine any brighter in the eyes of the sporting world for knocking out Dixon. Most any old dud could have accomplished the same trick. Murphy was put into the match for the purpose of defeating Dixon in a big time and entering a K. O. against the name of the former feather weight champion in his record. The whole affair was shameful.

MANLY ART

One of the staff of this paper had the pleasure of seeing last night one of Jack Power's pupils at bag punching. Jack has quite a class of youngsters learning to box and some of them are very young, but they have got the punch all the same. The young man's exhibition last night was a perfect one. Where the little fellow, who is only 11 years old, gets his strength from is wonderful, but practice makes perfect and it is no doubt good exercises. This same youngster who was on his way to his boxing lessons quite recently was charged by a rough crowd of boys, but Jack's young pupil laid them out right and left, thus showing the good of learning to box for self protection.

HOOF BEATS

J. H. O'Donnell has purchased of Hon. T. H. Phair the valuable three year old gelding "Prize" bred by Bagen (2005) as a three year old, dam, Carago. This mare is listed as one of the greatest brood mares in the world. She is by King Wilkes, and has one colt that has a mark of 214.

Albert C. (2001), winner of the 2.15 trot at Columbus, is another new 2.10 trotter. McKinley (2002) went lame while being trained for the 2.05 trot at Columbus. Maud Kenwick (2004) and Jubilee (2004) are a clever pair of Canadian bred trotters.

Susie N. (2001) is another great 3 year old to be credited to the Baron Wilkes family.

Ed. Carter (217) is the best 2 year old of the year. Score one more for the Bar Wilkes family.

Artell (212) sets another 2.10 trotter in Mansfield (2004), winner of the 2.12 trot at Columbus.

It takes more than an ordinary sort of a runner to pace horses like Audubon Boy and Sweet Marie.

Louise G., winner of the 2.00 trot at Dover, was overlooked by the talent. Those old timers are making good this year with a vengeance.

The Columbus track is one of the very best in the country, and the number of horses were marked for life there last week.

When a man will kick and abuse his trainer for winning a race, as did the owner of one of the races at Dover, he should be barred off the turf on general principle.

When Artello won his race at Readville last Friday, he reduced his professional record from 2.15 to 2.12. He is one of the most consistent performers among the amateur performers of Greater Boston.

The 4-year-old colt Will Arworthy, that trotted an exhibition mile in 2:14 at Readville last Friday, is by Arworthy, out of the dam of Gayton (2081).

Dan Patch is quite busy these days. There is one thing in which his owner, Mr. Savage, can put it all over the Audubon Boy outfit, and that is he has owned that a runner that can go a mile in two minutes make a very bad pacemaker for a 1.27 pace.

THE CUSHING CASE

Application for Leave to Appeal Argued Before Sir Louis Davies.

Ottawa, Sept. 26 (Special)—Attorney General Pugsley arrived here this morning from Toronto where he was engaged yesterday attending a meeting of the directors of the Cushing Case. The Cushing Case is a railway from Regina to Prince Albert, about 250 miles long. It is operated by the Canadian Pacific on account of the owners. It is sharing in the prosperity of the west, its earnings during the past three years having increased more than 300 per cent.

This morning the attorney general visited the department of the interior regarding western lands in which he is interested.

This afternoon Mr. Pugsley and M. G. Teed, K. C., of St. John, argued before Sir Louis Davies an application for leave to appeal from the decision of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick confirming the decision of Mr. Justice McLeod to wind up the Cushing Fibre Company of St. John.

The various points were argued at considerable length. Upon one of them his lordship expressed a very strong opinion against the application. This was that the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada would discuss the appeal when it came before them. He stated, however, that he would consult some of his brother judges and give a decision tomorrow.

The attorney general having stated that the appeal was not taken bona fide but only in the hope of getting the winding up proceedings stayed until after the sale of the property under foreclosure, his lordship authorized counsel to say to Judge McLeod that if he (Sir Louis) should grant the leave to appeal it would be proper for Judge McLeod as judge winding up the proceedings to stay the sale under foreclosure until the appeal was decided.

FOOTBALL

As there are but two teams at present constituting the league it is to be hoped that the meeting will result in the admission of two more teams. The teams are the St. John's and the St. John's. The league more interesting, as with three and possibly four teams the contest would develop the greatest kind of wholesome rivalry.

As to the schedule of the world's championship games will be announced till the season is finished. For the same reason the dates will not be made known at present.
