CITY RECOVERS QUICKLY AFTER HEAVY STORM

Back to Enjoyment of Mild Winter Day By Noon

NOT RECORD YEAR FOR SNOWFALL HERE

Train Services Affected By Heavy Drifts of Snow

Saint John soon came out of the storm conditions which prevailed last night and early today and by noon the city was enjoying mild winter weather. The snow, driven by a strong wind, was piled high during the night and outdoor activities were a little restricted. At noon Director D. L. Hutchinson of the Dominion Weather Observatory promised clearer and colder weather with some stiff breezes from the northwest.

SMELLED WORSE

As a matter of fact the smell and bluster of yesterday and last night was not so severe as it appeared. The drifting of the gritty snow in the direct path of pedestrians made locomotion difficult and people seemed impressed with the idea that it was the worst storm of some time. Weather Bureau records state that an earlier storm this winter was heavier and the wind faster and temperature lower.

TRAINS LATE

As an after-effect of the storm the Boston train is six hours late according to a noonday report. This will bring it into Saint John between 6 and 7 o'clock this evening unless there is a further change. It is stated the American train's trouble was connected with the Atlantic coast. On the other hand the Montreal Express reached the city late behind schedule. It comes by an inland route. C. N. R. train tures from the coast were upset by the disturbance of last night. There was no Halifax train early this morning. The Maritime Express due in the early afternoon today was also delayed. In fact it was reported that no C. N. R. train would leave Montreal for Saint John until late this afternoon.

BAY TRAFFIC HELD UP

The Bay route steamer Empress, which stayed at her Digby moorings during the blizzard of yesterday may attempt the return journey this afternoon if the northerly wind now ruling does not increase greatly. The Keith Cann of the Nova Scotia coastal service did not sail yesterday on account of the storm. However the stout little Bear River packet, which has its berth in the teeth of the gale after a strenuous passage of the Bay. The N. S. packet steamer Granville expects to sail tomorrow.

CAR SERVICE O. K.

It was with satisfaction the city enjoyed a practically uninterrupted street railway service while the storm was at its height. Afternoon cars were not swepters were constantly patrolling the trunk line and its branches. The East Saint John, Glen Falls, West Saint John and Fairville divisions. A schedule that varied little if any from the standard held down was maintained. Supt. Hazen McLean and his aides kept a large crew on the sweepers day and night. The only difficulty the street railway encountered sufficient to cause a hold-up was on the Marsh Road, where a street car was stalled for a brief period because an automobile plunging through the drifts became cross-winded on the track.

FREAK SNOWDRIFTS

The direction of the wind and the unusual trend of drifting snow last night caused impediment to pedestrian traffic as well as vehicles. Some of the main walks in the public squares were choked and prominent traffic junctions so heaped with snow that automobiles could not negotiate them. At the corner of King Square and Linster street a half dozen high-powered cars were stalled at various times and had to be shoveled out. The ambulance was stalled in this drift early today. One side of King street was blocked with drifts in loop doorways when business began this morning, whilst the other was blown bare of snow. City crews plows, walkways and scrapers were soon at work making traffic clear.

PEOPLE STAYED INDOORS

Some entertainments scheduled for last night were either postponed or suffered from the state of the weather. Among postponed matters was that of the directorate of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphan's Home. Theatres were slimly attended. For the first time in several weeks radio fans tuned into some music out of New York last night, another peculiarity of wireless communication.

Among the deaths were Newark, N. J., Bridget Conroy, 1; Waterbury, Conn., 1; Jersey City, 2; Albany, 1.

TERRIFIC IN N. S.

HALIFAX, Feb. 5.—Halifax and practically the entire coast of Nova Scotia along the Atlantic, were this morning under a blanket of snow. The heavy snowdrifts that everywhere served as reminders of yesterday's storm, by far the worst the province has experienced this winter, were terrific blizzard, reaching at times in some vicinities, a velocity of 60 miles an hour, caused all coastwise vessels to hasten to the nearest shelter and those already in port to remain in safety.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF SAINT JOHN

WALTER PIDGEON IMPERIAL MONDAY

It is a safe assertion that the Liberty Magazine story "Mannequin" is being read in Saint John by thousands of people each week. It is a gripping fiction, but in its pictorial form, to be shown in the Imperial Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, is even more absorbing. Of course chief local interest centres in the debut of Walter Pidgeon of Saint John, who stars with Vernon Baxter the leading male parts, and to have our good-looking young townsmen cast in such a brilliant story at the outset of his career is a compliment of which Saint John people are no doubt quite proud. "Mannequin" will be shown Monday and Tuesday at the usual scale of prices.

G. Londt, Capetown Climber, Conquers Mountain in Snow Storm

FOUND RECORDS OF GERMAN ALPINISTS

Two Had Made Mistake of Thinking Crater of Hill Was Top

CAPETOWN, Feb. 5.—Kilimanjaro, the highest mountain in Africa, has been conquered in a blinding snowstorm after the second attempt within a month by G. Londt, the noted Capetown climber.

Mr. Londt said that he set out with two natives at the beginning of November. He climbed nearly 20,000 feet in four days. He slept one night in a crater of the Kilimanjaro wilderness of a jagged rock of twisted lava.

He pointed out a mistake which had been made by previous climbers. They imagined that the crater was the top of the mountain, but that is not so. The real top lies in the 600 feet above. He discovered the record of two Germans who, in 1914, reached the highest point.

It is an American cloth-covered exercise book containing two verses of poetry. There followed the names of the two climbers, Carl Von Salls and Walter Von Ruchteschell, dated February 13, 1914.

MAKES TWO ATTEMPTS. Owing to the pace at which he climbed Mr. Londt failed in his first attempt to reach the real summit. He descended and spent three weeks attempting to conquer Mount Kenya, but failed again owing to bad weather.

He returned in a final attempt to reach the peak of Kilimanjaro. At 15,000 feet he struck snow, and then began the awful struggle. It took two days from this point to reach the top. It rained and snowed alternately, but finally, in a blinding snowstorm, he reached the top.

He managed to secure photographs of the summit showing his footprints in the snow.

Mr. C. Gillman, of the Tanganyika railways, in 1921 reached the crater near the top, but there is no record that he made the ascent to the pinnacle now reached by the Capetown climber.

MOSCOW STAGES SATIRE ON EVOLUTION TRIAL

MOSCOW, Feb. 5.—A bitter and unrestrained satire on last summer's "evolution trial" at Bayton, Tenn., in which the principals imitate the appearance, manners, graces and cries of various animals, will be reproduced in Moscow next week. Nearly all the outstanding incidents of the famous Tennessee trial are reproduced in the play.

The actors and actresses are students and working men. A monkey sits as Judge of the mock court, while other characters include a pig, a baboon, a turkey and other animals. The play is intended to show the hopeless disparity between capitalistic doctrines and "the pure sciences" as represented by Communism.

WOMAN 77 YEARS IN ENGLISH WORKHOUSE

Miss Mary Fowell, 74 years old, has decided to pass the remainder of her life in the Billerica, England, workhouse, says the Detroit News. Miss Fowell has rarely left the institution in which she has lived for 77 years, and she knows little of the ways of the world. She is in good health and takes walks about the grounds and enjoys her meals.

Neville Chamberlain, Minister of Health, estimates that it costs about $315 a year to support an inmate of a workhouse.

Piracy at Sea Reported By Ship Skipper

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The Bombay correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that the captain of a German steamer, Nordmark, on being recently at Colombo, reported that a pirate ship was coming nearby seas.

Four hours from Cochin the skipper said he saw two vessels, one of which was signalling distress frantically while the other sped off when he approached. The crew of the distressed ship said they had been attacked by the other, a pirate ship, and sought escort to Cochin. The German crew said the pirate vessel was a smart craft of British design.

Bloodhounds Hunt For Missing Woman

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 5.—State policemen, aided by bloodhounds and residents of the vicinity, are searching for Mrs. Abbie Ireland, 60 years old, of Woodly Manor, Linwood, near here, who disappeared from her home early this morning after locking her daughter, Ethel, in a room.

Mrs. Ireland, who had been ill and was thought by her husband, Horace Ireland, to have become deranged, was dressed in a blue kimono when she left her home. She was out of sight before the dog started to search for her. The missing woman, it was reported, went toward the bay.

ALL HAVE BLUE GATES

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 5.—In going from here to Centralia, Mo., one is struck by the large number of farmhouses which have one bright blue gate or door, or window, somewhere about. No matter what the color scheme may otherwise be there is always this distinguishing color. This is the "trade mark" of the Tucker family, which came to Missouri nearly 100 years ago and established the custom.

Measles And Eyes

The fact that some children cannot do so well after an attack of measles unless given Glasses has led to a belief that measles force normal eyes to wear Glasses ever after.

Eyes that require Glasses after an attack required them before measles developed. The trouble was there already and the measles merely brought it out. The reserve eye strength covered up the trouble by overstraining, but the disease wiped out the reserve eye strength, leaving the defect quite noticeable.

Reserve eye strength covers up a lot of trouble which is better discovered early than late.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., FEBRUARY 5, 1926.

LUCKY QUEBEC.

The Quebec Harbor Commission owes the Dominion Government $2,142,923 in interest charges for loans advanced for harbor improvements.

The Auditor-General's report, tabled in Ottawa yesterday, directs attention to the fact that during the last fiscal year he had before him an order from the Treasury Board for $112,000, a further loan to the Quebec Harbor Commission.

Quebec may not be getting the grain traffic it should have, but it certainly gets the money to provide harbor equipment, and there appears to be an understanding on the part of both Liberals and Conservatives at Ottawa that interest on the loans shall remain unpaid.

When the Saint John harbor commission bill was before the House a few years ago, several ministers and many speakers warned us solemnly, and gave the country to understand explicitly, that no loan to any harbor commission would be made thereafter, unless reasonable proof was forthcoming that the port earnings would be sufficient to pay the interest charges, which would be a first lien upon harbor revenue.

A POLITICAL MERGER?

Miss Macphail declared during the debate preceding the vote on the first Meighen amendment that nothing would give her greater pleasure than to watch the Conservatives. A little later, she voted for the Hamilton Spectator in asking why she did not watch it by voting against it.

There have the views of two parties in an exchange throws a little light upon the Ottawa situation, out of which may grow—before an election or after one—something like a new political alignment in Canada.

Mr. John W. D'Arco, editor of the Manitoba Free Press, has been at Ottawa studying the political situation at the front, and he, a Liberal with Progressive leanings, pronounces the present situation impossible.

The logic of the situation calls for coalition, with a government representing the various elements that combined to make up a majority; but instead, a strictly party government, with a party following only a minority of the members, is going to get along upon an understanding.

Mr. H. G. Wells' elemental vitality is more than that of an individuality; it is racial. See, for instance, how parental it is—Richard Church.

the Government and the 'co-operating' outside party were smashed by the electors at the first opportunity. It is now to be attempted at Ottawa in deference to the reluctance of the Liberals and Progressives to enter into formal relations.

As the Government is at the mercy of the Progressives, and as it desires to keep going, the logic of the situation, as presented by Mr. Deane, may appeal to a ministry which can do nothing without Progressive approval.

The situation has another angle. If the Progressives have the power to shape important legislation, they should enjoy it responsibly. Perhaps, however, they have not yet made up their minds whether even a coalition could survive, and Mr. Forke no doubt has in mind the probability that if he were to throw in his fortunes with the Government, not all of his followers would be ready for the venture.

Meanwhile, as for a month past, the country is waiting—more and more impatiently—for action by Parliament on the outstanding issues of the day.

A writer in the New York Sun thus celebrates the decision of the United States to join the World Court, under certain conditions designed to limit its liability as compared with that assumed by other nations:

"Yankee Doodle came to court To aid the League of Nations; He struck a feather in his hat— And fourteen reservations!"

I feel New York cannot get along without me. It would not be the same old town—Rev. John Roach Straton.

It is distressing to find ourselves saying in ten lines what the Romans said in five; but at least it may give to the world a new and original speech—Stanley Baldwin.

Bernard Shaw is the Don Quixote of the present, true to the light as he sees it, but in whom the milk of romance has turned slightly sour—Dr. S. Parkes Cadman.

I am satisfied that we would be a healthier and happier people if we were joined at least one of the privileges of the Walker of New York.

Mr. H. G. Wells' elemental vitality is more than that of an individuality; it is racial. See, for instance, how parental it is—Richard Church.

The fact is that Socialists will have expressed not in terms of drab and inanimate personal property, but in quality and in wealth of ideas—J. R. Clynes, M. P.

THE foundations of a United States of Europe have in part been laid, but before the edifice can be completed many deep-rooted prejudices must be overcome.

There are many aspects to the United States of Europe, and of these the commercial is the most imposing. When it is remembered that nearly three hundred million Europeans are living far below American standards, that they do without what in America are considered necessities of life, and that their needs have been unsatisfied over a period of ten years, the conclusion is irresistible that in Central and Eastern Europe there is a natural market for the products of the United States.

Some Northern Americans view with misgiving the prospect of a closer union between the European States. They assume that this combination will be competitive with the United States. So far from this being the case, it is probably more correct to say that the development of Europe is an essential preliminary to the development of the United States.

"America has developed a continental spirit; but her population comprises many elements, and in the past, while Europe was divided into hostile camps and regulated her affairs on the basis of a balance of power, the reluctance of Americans to be entangled in the intrigues of warlike States was highly natural. Europe at peace becomes at once a simpler problem and a fruitful market."

THE true method of self-education, John Stuart Mill decided, is "to question all things; never to turn away from any difficulty."

Poems That Live

THE SCHOLAR. My days among the dead are past; Around me I behold, Where'er these casual eyes are cast, The mighty minds of old: My never-fading friends are they, With whom I converse day by day. With them I take delight in woe, And seek relief in woe; And while I understand, and feel How much to them I owe, My cheeks have often been bedew'd With tears of thoughtful gratitude. There is no doubt after what, I live in long past years, Their virtues love, their faults condemn, Partake their hopes and fears, And from their lessons seek and find Instruction with a humble mind.

THE DICTATORS. General Pangalos, the "Greek fire-eater," has now added his name to the roll of Continental dictators. There is no need to fear, however, that dictators in Europe will soon become as common as O. B. E's. In this age they are an ugly anachronism. They are an expression not of health, but of disease in the body politics. The idea that one man, if only he is sufficiently ferocious, can save a States from the consequences of its own folly or weakness, represents a merely transient phase in European politics. When the economic equilibrium has been re-established, and the League of Nations has created a new sense of order and security, the "fire-eaters" of the brand familiar will either discreetly retire from business or be consumed in their own smoke. As for General Pangalos, we should imagine that he would get very unattractive terms from any English company engaged in the world's responsible life insurance.

NO KING STREET EAST IN 1857

Archives Record Gives a Glimpse of King Square Section Then

Deemed Suburb 60 Years Ago—Some Old Time Buildings Recalled

How the King Square section of the city looked when Patrick Slavin was hanged is told in the record of the late Rev. W. O. Raymond in the local office of the Dominion Archives.

The last public execution of a criminal in Saint John took place on December 11, 1857, when Patrick Slavin was hanged for the murder of the McKim family at Beaver Lake in the Parish of Simonds.

This door was reached by a flight of stone steps from the street, and had a large stone entrance porch, with flat top, this top being reached from what is now the third story by means of a window with a hinged grating.

NO KING STREET EAST. To begin with, there was no such thoroughfare as King Street east. It was then known as Great George Street, having been so named as a special work of respect for George III.

BLOCK HOUSE HILL. Near the junction of what is now King Street east and Westworth Street was the highest part of the large rocky eminence known as Block House Hill.

CHANGES BROUGHT BY TIME. The St. Stephen Building, (still standing at Breeze's Corner in a modified form), the old National School building and the house of the Hon. R. J. Hazen, on the site of the Admiral Healy Hotel, were the only brick buildings around King Square in 1857.

SOME PROMINENT BUILDINGS. The registry office in King Street east was built on the top of the rock as it was found at the time and that is why it is perched so high above the present line of the street.

Why Must We Think It Our Duty to Tell Only Unpleasant and Unkind Truths in the Family Circle?—Why Cannot We Be as Polite to Our Loved Ones as to Strangers?

IF THERE is one crusade more than another that needs to be started and to have good backing and energetic pushing, it is a drive against the habit we all indulge in of speaking the truth, the plain truth, and nothing but the truth to those of our own household.

For, strangely enough, truth is a luxury that we reserve almost exclusively for home consumption, and the idea prevails that, like certain bitter and nauseous medicines, the more disagreeable it is, the more efficacious it is, and the more confidence we have in its working.

Now this is not intended to advocate the telling of lies in the home circle, though there have been times in all of our experiences when we could have wished that those nearest and dearest to us had been Ananias and Sapphira, rather than the veracious James and Janet that they were. This is only a plea for the suppression of those unnecessary truths that would like barbed arrows, and against which we are so demagogues because the archer knows only too well the weak spot within us at which to aim.

IT HAS been truly said that there is nothing else on earth so brutal as our flesh and blood the truth, which too often only another way of saying that we are grossly insulting and impolite to those who can neither resent our impertinence nor get away from it.

Husbands and wives comment on each other's defects and shortcomings with a savage frankness. Brothers and sisters say these things against our self-love excuse their cruelty by saying that what they have said is only the truth. As if that didn't make it all the worse! We might survive being falsely accused of a weakness, but to have our real failings pointed unceremoniously out is more than we can bear.

IT IS to escape hearing the truth about themselves that most people leave home at the earliest possible moment, and go among strangers who are pleasant to them, but assume it to be their duty to do so. Let middle-aged and ground rounder, as young as a girl, buy her a gay spring bonnet counters the family truth-teller. She doesn't go far before she is making a fool of herself, dressing like a flapper when she is 40 if she is a day," says this martyr to self-elected unpleasantness.

Or else she considers she must go and open Mary's eyes to the fact that the husband she adores isn't all that she should be, and she adds self-righteously, "Of course, nobody else will tell you—it is only those of your own family who will tell you the truth."

Alas, for truths that blight the heart and sear the soul with hopeless misery! A lie may be disproven, forgotten. The truth is eternal. That is the bitterness of it.

SOMEHOW we don't seem to be under the same obligations to tell pleasant truths to our family that we do to tell unpleasant ones. We are children's noise, but we are as dumb as oysters about the ninety-nine times when they were comfortable and pleasant.

Not long ago a woman was telling of her little son, who accidentally upended a plate of soup on the table at dinner. He was sharply reprimanded for his carelessness and sent from the table. At the doorway he passed and with quivering lips turned to his mother and asked, "Why didn't you tell me I didn't make any difference, like I was company? I didn't make any bigger spot than Miss Smith did when she turned over his wine." Could any better reproof to the mother, who told the unpleasant truth to her child and the pleasant trifle to a guest, have been made?

IN SPITE of all that is said to the contrary, most of us are all too well aware of our own weaknesses and failures, and to be continually reminded of them at home saps the last bit of courage and takes the last bit of fight out of us.

Who can remember for the battle when those about his own hearthstone are reminding him of previous defeats? Yet this one time may be his last chance to win a victory that would atone for a thousand failures.

There are truths that sting like scorpions, and when those who love lie dead, not the least of the things with which we shall reproach ourselves are the unkind and unnecessary truths we have told them.

Young minds and young bodies need lots of air and play—they've got to be used well to grow all over.

Your only care is to see that they don't stay out when wet, that they wear a natural amount of clothes and eat the right food to build up new energy and growing weight.

There is more mental and bodily energy in Butter-Nut Bread. There is also more health protection and growing food in Butter-Nut. For this reason—More Milk, Sugar and Shortening. The body gets more weight of any other food. And it has a triple supply of all other vitamins.

Don't Go About With A Cold!

DON'T leave it to a friend to remind you of that bad cold! Don't go about spreading infection among your own family circle, and maybe in the street. To banish colds and chills in the direct and most effective way, you must take PEPS.

As they dissolve in the mouth Peps give off powerful healing and germicidal fumes. These you breathe into instant direct contact with the innermost recesses of the chest and lungs.

Peps soothe, strengthen and invigorate the entire breathing system. They clear the throat and air-passages of mischievous germs, remove soreness and inflammation, and end the danger to chest and lungs. Make no mistake! You must have Peps, the breathable medicine in tablet form.

TELS OF ESCAPE

MOSCOW, Feb. 5.—A new narrative of the last days of the former Russian emperor and his family is published in Krasnaya Gazeta in Leningrad. The chief new element appears to be a letter purporting to have been written by the imprisoned Nicholas, giving expected rescuers details concerning the house in which his family was held so that escape might be more easily effected.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The zoo here boasts a beautiful little puma cub and its birth fills the lion nursery to capacity.

Seek "Cradle of Africa" in Lost Hills of Kong

IN THE INTERIOR of Liberia, where the white man never has gone, is the "Cradle of Africa." In the Hills of Kong a strange race of men lives. They have not the features of the African native. They speak a tongue somewhat similar to ancient Egyptian. They have a writing which resembles the hieroglyphics of the dynasty of Rameses.

This legend, carried out of the hills of Liberia by chance caravans of the African, has sent John W. Vandercok, writer and explorer, and his wife, Margaret Metzger Vandercok, scurrying to seek for the tribe which may be the only remnant of ancient Egypt.

The couple sailed on the S. S. Half Moon, a freighter, for the 4,000-mile trip which will carry them to country where few white men have gone. Mrs. Vandercok will be the first white woman ever to set foot in the interior of the country.

LAND OF FABLE

Mungo Park, one of the earlier African explorers, tells of the Hills of Kong a range of mountains hidden in the forests. H. Rider Haggard has his stories as the basis of strange tales of that race.

Some natives say the mountains exist. The French and other explorers say there is no such range. The flow of certain rivers indicates that there may be a water-shed in that region.

If this strange race exists, cut off from human contact except as superstitious natives see them from a distance, they are the last of their kind. Do they know the secrets of the ancient Egyptian civilization? Have they held, over thousands of years, the knowledge of arts and sciences of which a few fragments remain along the Nile?

SAVAGERY OR SCIENCE?

Or have they, through centuries of isolation, reverted to a savage state? Do they hold only a trace of the Ptolemaic language and is their prehistoric ancestors? Did their civilization of the Nile and of the entire world spring from this valley in the lost Hills of Kong?

Vandercok and his wife, under auspices of the Liberian government, will try to reach the valley and learn its secrets.

To substantiate the legend there is only the word of a few native traders. It is known, however, that the interior of Liberia holds a race of monkeys who have not developed since the Miocene age. Liberia men are the offspring of a pygmy hippopotamus, known in no other part of the world. The traders also tell of strange forms of elephants—one without tusks, another which lives in the water like a hippo, and one larger than any now known to exist.

Vandercok believes there is a possibility of strange forms of life, beyond anything now living.

He has sailed to find out.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Eggs En Cocotte—Eggs en cocotte are prepared by buttering small individual baking dishes or ramekins with butter and salt. Put a small quantity of cream in each dish and break into each dish and they are baked until the yolks are semi-solid. Serve in the dishes in which they were baked.

Planked Ham—Cut a slice of boiled ham from the centre of the ham about an inch and a half thick. Dip it in a mixture of a tablespoon each of lemon and onion juice and two tablespoons of melted butter. Dust well with cinnamon and sugar mixed and place it on the centre of the plank. Surround with small parsnips that have been dipped in the same mixture and set in the oven. Cook for 30 to 35 minutes. If the ham seems to dry on top sprinkle a little of the butter mixture on top, dredge very lightly with flour and when brown send to table. Garnish with lemon quarters dipped in chopped parsley.

Parsnips—Peel the parsnips—always peel vegetables as close to the skin as possible as well as many of them and best part lies directly under the skin. Slice them across in about inch thick pieces, and boil in a little water as possible until they are tender. This varies with the age and size of the parsnip, but half an hour is usually sufficient. Heat a couple of tablespoons of butter.

POOR MISTER HAVALOOK'S COLLAR

"Where can we get fish-hooks to go fishing in the laundry pool?" asked poor Mister Havalook.

"Fish will do," said Nick. "I've used them lots of times."

"But where shall we get pins?" asked Nancy. "I didn't bring a single pin along."

"Oh, I have loads," said fat Mrs. Jiggs, turning her back.

Everybody laughed, for Mrs. Jiggs had enough pins in her apron and dress to start a pin factory.

"Don't tell anyone," she said, "but I have on three dresses, two petticoats and an apron. It took every pin the Pincushion Doll owned to get me together before I came."

"Now for some strings!" said Nick when Mrs. Jiggs' pins were all bent into fish hooks. "Where can we get string for fishing lines?"

"Here," spoke up Miss Pithers, the yarn lady. "I'm all made of string and I'll do you good to reduce anyway."

"Now for bait," said Nick. "What shall we do for bait?"

"Oh, ho, ho, ho!" shouted all the Hidy Go Land people. "We don't need bait to fish for handkerchiefs in a laundry drain."

"That's so," laughed Nick. "I forgot. Now you lead the way, Miss Raggedy and we'll follow."

"It's a nice clean drain," explained the Rag Doll. "Laundry water, which is a perfectly beautiful blue, and rinses one of the sky."

"Won't we find any cheese?" asked the policeman rat who always seemed to be hungry.

"I don't think so," said Raggedy. "I never saw any. Only water bugs."

"Who wants water bugs?" snorted the Rag Doll. "Laundry water, which is Here's my badge. I resign right now. I'm going back to Ash Can Town and live in peace."

"We think the same way!" cried all the other rats. "We all resign. We were sure there was some cheese at the bottom of this business and now that there isn't we all quit here and now."

And off they marched, taking their tales with them.

"Good riddance," said Swift Whiskers. "I'll stay, however, as I hear that sometimes laundry soap or starch float down."

Fifty Enjoy Supper and Then Take up Program—Another Next Month

A very interesting and helpful program was given at a meeting of workers in the primary departments of the city Sunday schools held last night under the auspices of the local Children's Work Board in the Portland United Church rooms. Goodwin, pastor of the church led the devotion which opened the meeting.

MUSIC FOR CHILDREN
The theme of the papers and discussion was "Music suitable to the children's divisions in the Sunday school." L. W. Simmonds outlined the work of the local board in relation to the Religious Education Council of Canada.

and the World's Sunday School Association. Miss Mary Gunn read an excellent paper that had been prepared by Miss A. Harris, Maritime secretary for children's work and dealt with music for beginners and primary department children. Miss Greta Love and Miss Frances Withers sang the songs to illustrate the paper and were accompanied by Miss Marion Cooper. Miss Love afterwards gave a special solo that was much appreciated.

Miss Holder read an excellent paper on music for the juniors and it was illustrated by a demonstration given by six junior girls of the Portland Sunday school under the direction of Miss Elsie Spence. Discussion was led by Miss Laura Myles and Mrs. Goodwin and was participated in by many of those present.

The large attendance on so stormy a night was evidence of the enthusiasm of the children's department workers. The executive of the Children's Work Board is planning for another similar evening program to be held in the latter part of March. The theme for the next meeting will be "Teaching by Manual Methods."

Truant So Big He Scares Teachers

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—William Kallista, tallest truant in the city schools, was arraigned in Municipal Term Court before Magistrate Smith for failure to attend continuation school at Chrysler and Hester streets.

"I'm so big the teachers are scared of me and the children laugh at me," he said. "I can't stand it."
He was sent to the New York Parental school for an indefinite term. William stands 6 feet 3 inches.

Women Tell One Another
In the privacy of their homes, at afternoon teas, and wherever women congregate, and the subject of health is discussed, it is a most common occurrence for one woman to tell another of the benefit she has derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For over fifty years this famous root and herb medicine has been restoring sick and ailing women to health. This accounts for its marvelous success. If sick and ailing, why don't you try it?

ONRUSHING BOSTON TEAM MEETS CANADIENS TOMORROW NIGHT

BELATED SPRINT OF BRUINS HAS TEAMS IN AIR

First Loss On Home Ice of Year For Ottawa

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—Boston's victory over Ottawa at the capital last night, has put an entirely different complexion on the National Hockey League race, and has added considerably to the interest in the coming clash between Boston and Canadiens tomorrow night at the Arena. Boston is now in fifth place, one point behind Canadiens for fourth position, and within striking distance of Pittsburgh and third place. A win for them tonight would send them surging over the Canadiens and to a possible position right on the heels of the Pirates and a first division berth. Canadiens need a win to keep well up in the race, and will unquestionably be out to halt the onrushing Bruins in their belated sprint for high rating.

CLEGGHONS STARS

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 5.—Sprague Clegg and Hitchman made up one of the finest water defenses that has played here in some time last night, and the Bruins sprang a surprise, when they beat the league-leading Senators 3 to 2.

The defence played stellar hockey, and practically nothing got by them. Going into the game a sick man, Don Stewart played a commendable game in the Boston net, and made numerous splendid saves.

Up in front the Cooper-Herberts-Jackson trio looked best, although Harrington and "Red" Stuart went white on.

King Clancy and George Boucher were the best of the team who worked in front of Connell. The Ottawa goalie turned in another high class exhibition, he showed his class in wearing color, or played out from the wearing live down, through in the past ten days.

Donny Denny and Smith were hard put to hold the determined Bruins and while Nighbow worked hard in centre, he could not penetrate the visiting defence. Gorman was used for Denny, but hurt his sore knee again, and had to be taken off. Cooper and Herberts revealed in the open game, and their rushing and shooting was spectacular. The game was very clean.

Coming as one of the biggest surprises of the N. H. L. season, and none the less well merited and earned their dashing play in the first two seasons, the Boston team earned the verdict. For forty minutes they outplayed the Bruins in the weight in the second period that brought them three favorable.

U. N. B. Pays For Sanctions and Suspension Is Quickly Lifted

Along The Sport Trail

ONE of the sure signs that spring is coming is when Babe Ruth starts for the spring training camps but the Babe must take a back seat to Springhill, N. S. this year for the boys down here have not yet started for another big year. They are still in a haze down at the mining centre over the licking Ira Hanahan and the Watermen handed them on a cold, bleak October day in the semi-finals for the Maritime title and it has so worked on them that they stopped work in the shafts the other day long enough to name officers for the coming year and give orders as to how the same officers shall prevent any such catastrophes as occurred last fall from happening this year. They elected Charlie Murray as president with our old friend, J. H. Conway, vice president, and H. Slater, as secretary-treasurer. On the executive, they put Oscar Goldrich, John Davidson, Hance Hunter and "Bill" O'Rourke. Four doctors, Dr. M. J. Wacziarg, Dr. Withrow, Dr. Walsh and Dr. Simpson were named as honorary officers for the year. Dr. Withrow is decidedly suspicious from afar and would tend to show that the Springhillites are out for gore with a competent medical staff to follow the winter is far from gone here yet, you hear murrings and rumbings of the coming season lumbering up and getting the frost out of the joints. We understand the Royals met and talked things over last Sunday. Down in the South End, they are keen to have a senior league of their own and under the ruling at the recent M. P. B. meeting, they can do so if they have the teams. Things are a bit buried in the snow now but in only a few weeks' time, you'll see them perk up wonderfully. Then we shall see what we shall see.

TONIGHT is the last change to see Sussex and Saint John in action over a league game. They are in a deadlock now. Could anything more be said to tell you what it will be like.

"ED" HUGHES, sports editor of the New York Telegram, who was kind enough to come all the way down here for our world's best has a few words to say himself on why Thunberg was beaten. He says: "Thunberg is an enigma of a skater when he lets out astonished the crowd. The partial conclusion here is that he cannot adapt himself to the style of raving in vogue. He has no head to manoeuvre advantageously in bunch skating." He has not the instinct that warns him someone is going to sprint. Thunberg invariably is caught napping and before he can arouse steam for a dash, the race is decided. To the writer, it appeared that Thunberg skated himself out winning trial heats impressively that needed to be won or placed in energy conserving fashion. Hugo Quist, his manager, assigns another cause. Clax, he maintains, not only will not train but actually dispirits. Quist aimed efforts to prevent him. This will be news to us down here about Quist's trouble and who, so suspicious of this bird Quist, who got Nurni into similar mess, that we are inclined to say he got Thunberg into a salt. As Hughes says, it looks as though Thunberg skated himself out in the trials. That is reasonable when you consider that over in Europe, he only had to skate once in each event and then the watch settled the winner. Here, he had to skate several heats and then a final. It was too much for him. His style of training did not take that.

CHARLEY HOLLOCHER

Charley Hollocher may not return to big league baseball again. This great shortstop to round into form last season. And now comes the report that, should he essay a comeback, it will not be in the uniform of a Chicago Cub. This rumor gains credence as the makeup of the Cubs team, which has already gathered together, shows a young shortstop he feels ready to play the bag for his outfit if called upon.

"They haven't missed a single day at school!"
"They're well all the time. The doctor says they are the healthiest children he knows."
"He told me constipation is what makes so many growing children sickly. Poisons from the waste matter spread through the little bodies, and lower their resistance to disease. So I'm very careful to guard against constipation. I simply give them a little Nujol every night."
"Nujol isn't a laxative at all, you know, but it keeps them just as regular as clockwork. They like it, and the doctor says it's just the thing for them."

Nujol helps Nature in Nature's own way
Mothers are the best friends of Nujol. When their children's health is at stake they seek the remedy that medical authorities approve because it is so safe, so gentle, so natural in its action. Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body. Nujol simply makes up for a deficiency—temporary or chronic—in the supply of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and permits thorough and regular elimination, without overtaxing the intestinal muscles. Nujol can be taken for any length of time without ill effects. To insure intestinal cleanliness, it should be taken regularly in accordance with the directions on each bottle. Unlike laxatives, it does not form a habit and can be discontinued at any time. Ask your druggist for Nujol today and let your children enjoy the perfect health that is possible only when their elimination is normal and regular.

DRUMMOND RECITAL GREATLY ENJOYED

Mrs. Hugh Miller Delights Audience With Readings From Poet's Works

Mrs. Hugh Miller, in her recital of the works of Dr. W. H. Drummond last night held her large audience enthralled as she passed from the grave to the gay and gave a most dramatic interpretation of the Habitant poems. The attendance was remarkably good.

Mrs. Miller was assisted by Mrs. Blake Ferris, soprano, and E. C. Girvan, baritone, who gave charming vocal numbers, and were accompanied by Mrs. T. J. Gunn. Mrs. Ferris sang an Irish folk song and "The Last Rose of Summer." Mr. Girvan sang an old French folk song, "My Marguerite."

Mrs. Miller gave a very fine appreciation of Drummond in her introductory sketch of his life. She read many of his poems.

The recital was given under the auspices of the Men's Association of St. David's church and was very greatly enjoyed.

Delightful Lecture Given To Women's Canadian Club

Those who braved last night's storm to hear Miss Emily M. B. Warren, English artist and lecturer, speak on the "Homes and Haunts of Great Men in the Old Country" were richly rewarded by the feast of beauty and vivid impressions of great men which her lecture and lantern slides afforded.

The great majority of the lantern slides were made from her own paintings and were remarkable for the feeling, rich coloring and great talent. Mrs. Allan FitzRandolph, president of the club, was in the chair and extended to Miss Warren the very hearty thanks of her audience which had been moved by Mrs. Silas Alward and seconded by Mrs. G. S. MacDonald.

Printed copies of the new constitution were distributed to the members by Miss Grace W. Lovatt, who was convener of the committee on printing.

It was announced the next lecture would be D. Thomas Curtin, who on March 22 will speak on "What is the matter with Europe?"

Miss Estelle Fox delighted the audience with her vocal solos.

Miss Warren said she had her own homes in both England and Canada and was always glad to speak to a

Newcastle Wants Double Ferry Subsidy

NEWCASTLE, Feb. 4.—Transportation and hydro-electric power occupied much of the attention of the meeting of the Newcastle Board of Trade here this evening and, as a result of the discussion, a committee was appointed to work in conjunction with the Chatham Board of Trade to get another $2,000 subsidy for the ferry steamer Max Aitken, which plies between Red Bank and Newcastle. The present amount of provincial government aid is $2,000.

The board also passed a resolution calling for a change in the time-table of the branch line of the Canadian National Railways between Newcastle and Fredericton. It was contended that the present schedule was not convenient for the transaction of business by those people who had to use the railway to get into Newcastle. With regard to electric power the board passed a resolution asking the government to assist in the development of hydro-electric energy at White Rapids.

NORWELL, Mass., Feb. 5.—Three brothers, whose combined age is 208 years and each of whom starts his first name with an A, have consented to have their pictures taken for the first time in recent years.

They are Alden, 86; Albon, 93, and Albens Damon, 89 years old. They live in the house of their birth and do their own farming and chores.

THIS WAS A NUTTY CAR.

WINSTEAD, Conn., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Burton E. Moore's automobile, crippled for several days, was left at a garage for repairs. The mechanic found, in the intake manifold, between the carburetor and the engine, several shells of acorns which squirrels had abandoned after eating the nuts.

SKEPTICAL WIFE.

MUST ALL BE IN BY WEDNESDAY

Assessors' Chairman Says No Income Statements Taken After Then.

Exemptions Lost By Those Entitled if Law is Not Complied With

E. M. Olive, chairman of the Board of Assessors, said this morning that the income and personal property returns, which have to be filed with the assessors on or before February 10, were coming in very nicely this year. In order to give those who are not able to get down in the daytime an opportunity to make their return, the office, he said, would be open Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week until 9 o'clock, for these three days the office hours being 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

WEDNESDAY FINAL.
Mr. Olive said that this year the assessors would absolutely refuse to accept any statement handed in after Wednesday, and those who failed to file a statement would have to abide by the consequences.

He called attention to the importance of those who are entitled to exemption because of having two or more dependent children filing their statements showing the income received and the number of children in the family. This exemption applies on incomes up to $1,000 a year.

COSTLY OMISSION.
Under the act, Mr. Olive said, every person whose total income was not covered in a return from his or her employer had to file a statement with the assessors, and the person was entitled to any abatement or relief which had not complied with this section of the act. Last year many who were entitled to exemption because of having two or more dependent children did not get it because they had failed to file statements.

DR. HUTCHINSON WAS ILL BUT HOUR

Brockville Paper Says Funeral One of Largest in Some Time

A copy of the Brockville Recorder and Times, received yesterday in the city contained further particulars in connection with the death of Rev. Dr. D. Hutchinson, formerly of Main street Baptist church here. On last Saturday morning Dr. Hutchinson had been down town leaving his notice for the Sunday services in his church and on the way home met a friend who inquired how he was feeling. The doctor replied "Pretty well, thank you," and his friend here can hear him saying it, as this was a customary answer of his to a query about his health.

When he reached home he complained of pain about the heart and rested on a couch. A physician was summoned but within an hour Dr. Hutchinson had died, passing away as he had always expressed a wish to go, active and on duty to the last.

The funeral service in the First Baptist church, Brockville, on last Monday evening was very largely attended and the funeral procession in Bradford on Tuesday was one of the largest seen there for some time.
