TRADE REVIEW.

Trade, Crop and Industrial Developments Last Week Largely Favorably.

Failures for the Week Eight More Than in -Canadian Trade-

NEW YORK, June 23.—Bradstreams tomorrow will say: Trade, crop and industrial developments this week have been largely favorable. High temperatures have added the distribution of seasonable goods at retail and stimulated re-order demands from wholesalers, although the volume of business has been imited by small stocks. The cotton goods situation has gained rather than lost in strength, but the volume of business has been limited by small stocks. The cotton goods situation has gained rather than lost in strength, but the volume of business has been limited by the fact that sellers are not disposed to commit themselves, largely in view of the unsettled outlook for raw material prices. There is also a better tone in woollen goods, and this is reflected in finner quotasions for the finer grades of raw material.

Boot and shoe shipments are well up to the maximum, again exoceding 109, 100 cases from eastern points for the week, while the margin in favor of this year's shipments continues to grow.

The volume of business done in cotton goods during June was very encouraging. Immense stocks of print cloth at Fall River have been moved, and the close of the mouth finds these goods, prown goods and other products in exceptionally light supply at firmer prices, through it is not denied that some of the movement in print cloths was made at an actual sacrifice. Raw cotton is a quarter cert higher on the week, largely because of better tone in when an actual sacrifice. Raw cotton is a quarter cert higher on the manufacturing trade, but also because of the outlook for straightened supplies during the halance of the old crop year. cent. from last week, but a gain of 49 per cent. over last; year.

Hot weather has enlarged re-order business by Toronto jobbers. Fall orders, too, have been of good volume. Toronto reports crop prospects in Ontario and Manitoba very good. Canadian mills are well supplied with orders, and cotton goods are firmer in sympathy with the advances here. Montreal reports midsummer dulness, but fall trade prospects are good. Crops in the province of Quebec are in good condition. A similar report comes from Halifax, where business is quiet. A fair trade with the Yukon is doing at British Columbia markets and the mining outlook is more hopeful. Failures for the week number 20, against 26 last week, 18 in this week a year ago. MONCTON, N. B., June 28.—At a special meeting of the electors tonight $5,000 was voted for the new sewer outlets and $10,000 for macadamizing streets. It was also decided to accept the Land Company's offer of six acres of land for a public square.

The reports of damage in yesterday's storm are still coming to hand. A house at McDougall Settlement owned by Miss Tidd was struck and somewhat damaged, the inmates receiving a severe shock. Two horses were killed at Mclanson Settlement and the harn burned. Fences were blown down and telephone wires destroyed at vartous places. At Point du Chene the bark Vercinca was struck, the main royal mast being shattered, and all on board felt the shock. The occupants of the Brunswick hotel also received a shock, and a man named Robischaud of Cocagne, while in a boat alone, was stunned.

DID THE BUDDHISTS DISCOVER

In Harper's for July Professor Fryer, of the University of California, brings to light new evidence tending to prove that Buddhist priests discovered America one thousand years before the salling of Columbus. The evidence is both documentary and substantial. Of the evidence of early Chinese documents Professor Fryer says:

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., June 28.-A sad drowning accident occurred at High Bank yesterday. It seems boarded a small boat and went out to set a net, mooring some distance from the shore. While so engaged his boat upset in some way, and MacDonald was drowned. The boat was after-wards found on shore full of water. MacDonald's boots and stockings, which had been removed before get-ting into the boat, were found on the shore. Deceased was about twenty years of age, and described as a fine young man. A diligent search is be-ing made for the body, which has not yet been recovered.

Nature shows forth in the selection of food by inhabitants of various countries; for instance, the Esquimaux in a cold climate selects heavy, carbon-accus foods, tallow, bacon and such; while the Hindoo and inhabitants of not countries turn to the cereals for sustenance.

We should follow this hint of nature, and particularly in bot weather should avoid much butter, meat or any of that class of food. SOUTH AFRICA. Present Condition of Mining in operations have especial per-on from the authorities to do a that Country. eh Mine at Johannesburg Has Its Own Guard of Soldiers-Crush-

To all interested in mining, the war To all interested in mining, the war that has been waged in South Africa for the past 18 months must have been watched with considerable attention on account of the rumors that were spread at the commencement of hospread at the commencement of hos-filities that the mines would fare very hadly at the hands of the Boers, and that in case of their defeat this great gold-field would be laid in ruins. It is my privilege to be here after an assence of many months; and as I belong to a body of men whose duty it is to see that no harm comes to the mines, perhaps a few lines from this great centre will be of interest. To the credit of the Boers let me have been treated with consideration. Some destruction, of course, has been done, but I feel sure the mine owners are jubilant that their immense possessions have escaped with so little damage. The greatest sufferers are the mines in the central district, which were worked for some months by the Boers. As the carefully prepared as-say plans were handed over to them, they knew exactly where the richer ore was, and it is needless to say that they took it all, and much more be-sides, in one case having robbed the mine of all its reserves.

The danger to the mines is not over until peace it finally declared. Since the British occupation considerable damage has been done to the mines in the outlying districts by marauding Boers. After a large battery was burned down, permission was given of a body of 1,500 men. e mines, to be called the "Mine ion of the Rand Rifles." The or-Division of the Rand Rifles." The organization is a thoroughly military one, and we have the duties and responsibilities of regular soldiers. A private receives 5s. ($1.25) per day, rations, of course, being given, as well as all equipment; the whole expense of the raising of the regiment and its maintaine being met by the mining companies.

to be used only along the line of reef, in case of necessity. The mine guards are a part of this organization, but differ in that they are not allowed to hood of the mines.

Each mine has from 15 to 20 of the mine guards stationed on it; and at the most appropriate points forts have been made. The numerous sand and rock heaps serve this purpose well, trenches being dug all around the sand, and strongholds built on the rock dumps. From the top of the head-gears, which command a full view of the surrounding undulating country for miles around, a sentinel always keeps watch by day to see that the enemy does not take us by surprise. He is on duty for two hours at a time, and off for four hours. At night our men are out on picket duty, and sleep in the forts. We do not receive many visits from the Boers. Since I have been here the Boars have been here about three times, and as they had severe discouragements, each time, having failed to capture any of our cattle or do any damage to the property, they stopped coming, after leaving a number of their Mauser bullets in some of us. Being hit by their bullets is not so bad as it sounds, provided you are not hit in a vital spot or by an explosive or expansive bullets is not so bad as it sounds, provided you are not hit in a vital spot or by an explosive or expansive bullet, which rips a man terribly, for the regular Mauser bullet makes a clean wound, which quickly heals.

Needless to say, our life is a rough one, and each of us longs for the blessings of peace. All of us infinitely prefer the risks of mining to the dangers of soldiering. Considering that scarcely any of the men ever did military duty before, I think the regiment makes a very good showing. They do tary duty before, I think the regiment makes a very good showing. They do not seem to mind whatever danger there is, having become accustomed to it in the profession of mining. Fortunately drunkenness is impossible, as only a very small quantity of spirits is allowed each man, a wise precaution I think are, the mining authorities art crushing tomorrow if they could, but at present many assurmountable difficulties are mission from the authorities to do a certain amount of developing work. One mine has as many as 10 to 12 machines at work on the contract system, and a number of Kaffirs sinking winzes. All these machines are driving, naturally, to open up some ground for the mill. The foreign mining population is undoubtedly doing well, for the military authorities do not seem to care how much you pay them. It is only the unfortunate British subjects who are not allowed to receive the full wage, if they return to work in any numbers. A strange state of affairs, truly!

If any mine starts crushing, then of course the wages of all will be the same, namely, 5s per day. Naturally the labor on a mine that is now receiving $5 per day does not wish to see crushing operations start. Enough men to work at 5s per day have been collected to run several of the mines, but as yet no start has been made, and I believe it is a mistake to go off half-cocked. They can hardly meet tife demand for coal now, on account of the difficulty of transporting it, and if the demand was increased four or five-fold, I do not know what would happen. Far better, I believe, to bend all energies to the attainment of peace and then start off in full swing, on the old footing.

Few of the managers that I have

Few of the managers that I have talked to like the 5s. a day proposition, but they think a start of some kind is better than continued idleness. It remains to be seen if the idea is practicable.

OUR BIG GAME

Becomes a Nuisance to Farmers of the North Shore.

A Complaint of Their Ravages-A Remedy Suggested-A Novel Race.

(Newcastle Union Advocate.) Since some of our exchanges appear to be somewhat skeptical as to the genuineness of a letter purporting to come from a farmer in Maine and addressed to the Game Commissioner of that state complaining of the depredations of large game on his crops, etc. One of our staff waited upon John Robinson, game overseer of this county, a man whose name is the synonyme of veracity and who according onyme of veracity and who according to the Advance, is the best overseer New Brunswick ever had, and that gentleman when shown the letter and some of its comments thereon said that he envied the Maine officer because of his easy time. The bane of my existence is the complaints of our tural yeomanny which come to me in a ceaseless stream from all parts of the country. Here is a sample letter and as it was accommended.

Barnaby River, Miramichi, N. B., June 1st, 1901. Mr. J. Robinson, Game Overseer,

Dear Sir:-I write to inform you that deer and on the King.

They have consumed all of my potatoes and destroyed my rasponents of the results of the carriers. My farm is located on what was serving and carriers. been in communication with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain on the subject. Today Mr. Peacock, the minister of labor, made a statement on the matter in the legislative assembly. He said the communication received from Mr. Chamberlain was of a confidential nature and the position was such that the house must take its own course. Mr. Peacock then invited Mr. Findlay, a member of the legislative as-the house must take its own course, maintenance being met by the military authorities, they, of course, score on the transaction. The men signed on for six months, or to the end of hostilities. It is rather difficult to get out of the service. Three months motte must be given, and when the discharge is received the chances are, with it, you will receive a request to take a trip to the coast.

British subjects are not allowed to remain here unless they become members for the Rand Riffes, a military of the paper, he said, when to be used only along the line of reef, in and means to lessen their numbers and of avoiding the fate of Dr. Cox.

Now I had made preparations for the running of a vegetable wagon this summer and have been deprived of making a living in this way. I have had ten acres of raspberries left valueless by these brutes, which is a great loss to me and for which I hope have an allowance made.

Mr. Robinson continued by saving that "The grievance complained of would remedy itself for just as soon as it becomes known that our woods abound with large game sportsmen would resort here from all parts. It seems pitiful to hear so many com-plaints like that of Mr. Marsterson and realize how dense is the ignorance of sportsmen generally as to the re-sources of the Miramichi and its ensources of the Miramichi and its environments for their gratification. The town of Newcastle because of its geographical situation is the natural depot for sportsmen and if mileage rates on the railroads was reduced and literature disseminated I think the farmers and myself would doubtless begin to feel that after all life is worth living."

In a recent conversation with a railroad engineer the writer was told that the super-abundance of big game was
