TO MAKE CANADA STILL HEALTHIER

Educational Work to be Started

Conservation Commission Takes Charge of Campaign

Will Inform the Public as to the Dangers From Bad Sanitation, Impure Water and Other Things—There Were 40,000 Preventable Deaths in the Country Last Year.

(Canadian Press.)

Ottawa, July 6—The work of the Commission of Conservation of Canada will be extended shortly along new and important lines. To the task of conserving the natural resources of the dominion has been added also the conservation of public health and the education of the general public on matters pertaining to this.

On Aug. 1, the first number of a publication dealing with public health, public hygiene, sanitation and similar subjects will be issued. After that date it will be issued monthly and copies distributed to all on the mailing list of the commission as well as all doctors, teachers and others interested in the work.

By means of this publication it is intended to carry on a vigorous campaign for the education of the public on the subjects of public health and sanitation.

A similar campaign has been in progress in the United States for a number of years under the control of the United States Department of Health and is being attended with marked success.

It was at one time proposed to establish a national board of health, as a separate department of the dominion government, but it has now been decided that the field should be developed by the Conservation Commission.

When the fact is taken into consideration that out of the 100,000 deaths, more or less, in Canada last year, 40,000 were caused by diseases which could have been prevented by a proper regard for sanitation, some idea will be gained of the importance of the task assumed by the commission. The question of water supply will be gone into very carefully in the early part of the investigation of conditions.

BUSINESS INSURANCE

In a letter to a New York newspaper the manager of a talking machine company wrote:

"We advertise as a sort of business insurance, in winter and summer, in good times and bad, and our policy has made our product famous the world over."

This advertiser uses the newspapers very largely and has secured splendid co-operation from local distributors.

Business is so good that his factory, even in the dull season, is far behind in its orders.

Business insurance through newspaper advertising has made dull times something unknown to this concern.

O'LEARY HAS CHANCE FOR LIFE; ANOTHER PRISONER IS HELD

O'LEARY SINKING

Condition not so good, little hope for his recovery—was the report given out from the General Public Hospital so The Telegraph at 3:30 o'clock this morning, regarding Policeman Frank E. O'Leary.

The bullet has done critical damage to the inner organs and under ordinary circumstances physicians think there would be no chance for recovery, but considering the robust vitality and powerful physique of the officer there is one possible chance.

Frank E. O'Leary, the wounded policeman, on the right, with his cousin, William O'Leary, the pilot. The latter is a man of average size so that good ideas can be obtained from this picture of the officer's splendid physique which is keeping him up in the grim fight against death.

SHOOTING OF POLICE OFFICER WAS DONE IN HOME OF JOHN BRAMAN, HIS ASSAILANT

Arrest Made in Charlotte Street and Youth Lured Policeman to St. Patrick Street House, Shooting From Dark Room—Thomas Petrie Surrenders and Confesses to Implication With Braman in Thorne, Mowatt and Carleton Robberies—Braman's Father Speaks of Tragedy.

Murder or shooting with intent to kill—it is doubtful which will be the ultimate charge against sixteen-year-old Jack Braman who shot and critically wounded Special Policeman Frank E. O'Leary yesterday morning after he had been arrested on a charge of robbing H. J. Mowatt's drug store. Physicians at the General Public Hospital where O'Leary is, are hopeful of his recovery but he still hovers between life and death. His rugged constitution and powerful physique may save his life. Inquiries were being made by hundreds yesterday afternoon and last night from the city and vicinity concerning the wounded officer.

The only new development in the case so far as the police are concerned is the fact that Thomas Petrie, whom Braman implicated in the Mowatt robbery, called at the office of Chief of Police Clark about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and gave himself up. He confessed to the chief that he was with Braman when they robbed Mowatt's drug store, and further admitted that they robbed the dry goods store of J. G. Carleton at the foot of Waterloo street on Saturday night, and also the hardware store of W. H. The company at King street a few weeks ago when a large amount of booty was carried off.

Petrie, who is seventeen years of age, resides near the Marsh Bridge. After his interview with the chief he was sent below to one of the cells and will not be brought before the police magistrate until this morning.

After his arrest, Braman remained in his cell at central station until about 2 o'clock when he was brought before the police magistrate in the court room. The charges of robbing Mowatt's drug store and of shooting Policeman O'Leary were read over to him by Police Clerk Henderson. He had nothing to say in answer to them and was remanded to jail. The prisoner appeared to be in a very nervous condition. He quivered when the officers ordered him about and his eyes were red and bloodshot. A deep set, was displayed on his left cheek, the result of a scuffle with the gallant policeman. After he left the courtroom, whose many persons had gathered waiting for him to be brought in, Petrie, who is seventeen years of age, resides near the Marsh Bridge. After his interview with the chief he was sent below to one of the cells and will not be brought before the police magistrate until this morning.

Neither his step-mother nor I was at home this morning when the awful thing happened. As I said he was standing in the yard when I got there, and his mother did not get home till later. I didn't know he had a revolver, and in fact I couldn't tell what he has in his house. Shot Fired From House.

Mr. Braman then started to show the reporter where the shooting took place. The dining room, sitting room and kitchen combined, occupies the front part of the house and running from the rear are two bedrooms and one side a toilet room. There is no light in this room, and it was from there that young Braman fired the shots. A hat belonging to O'Leary was lying on the table and a piece of glass, which he had been smoking, was on the floor. The hat was badly smashed and showed that a light had caused after the shots were fired.

O'Leary's condition was so serious last night that the physicians would not allow any person to see him. A reporter called several times during the afternoon and evening but it was not possible to reach the wounded officer. Only the police court officials who took his deposition while he was on the operating table and some members of his family are all outside the hospital staff who have seen him. The police, however, have learned pretty fully the details of the case.

FREEPORT MURDER STILL UNSOLVED

Authorities Still of Opinion That a Woman Shot Mrs. Bailey

Box of Cartridges Discovered in Dr. Carman's House—Worn of Same Calibre as Bullet Used by Assassin—Witness Tells of Seeing a Man Run from House After Crime Was Committed.

Freeport, N. Y., July 6—Despite assertions of Dr. Edwin Carman that several shots were fired at him last night by a man on a bicycle near Rockville Centre, while returning to his home here after visiting a patient at Rockville, Louis Smith, district attorney, and Sheriff Pettit today declared they were still firm in the belief that it was a woman who shot and killed Mrs. Louis E. Bailey in Dr. Carman's office last Tuesday night.

Dr. Carman this afternoon secured a permit to carry a pistol. In making application for the permit he told a justice of the peace that he feared another attempt would be made to kill him and he needed the weapon to protect himself.

Sheriff Pettit today admitted that the investigation had narrowed down to three points, each of which leads to the same person or persons, and from information now in his hands he was led to believe that an arrest would be made soon.

At the request today Assistant District Attorney Weeks today exhibited an unopened box of 38-calibre revolver cartridges, which he said he had found in the attic of the Carman home. Dr. Carman told him, said Weeks, that he did not know how the cartridges came to be in his home. A 38-calibre bullet killed Mrs. Bailey.

Ten 'Die Hards' Vote Against It

Peers Will Now Proceed to Emaculate the Measure

Government Serves Notice That Exclusion of Ulster Without a Time Limit will not be Acceptable—Lord Crewe Says Conference of Warring Irish Leaders Might Bear Fruit.

London, July 6—The House of lords today passed by 978 to 10 the second reading of the bill to amend the Irish Home Rule bill.

That the lords would pass the bill in order to amend it in committee was a foregone conclusion, but there was surprise that only ten "die hards" could be found to vote for Lord Willoughby De Broke's motion for its rejection.

The Marquis of Crewe, in winding up the debate for the government, challenged the opposition to guarantee that there would be no civil war in Ireland, even if the bill was amended totally excluding Ulster. Concerning the possibility of a solution by conference, if dropping the amending bill and breaking down the government's policy was to be a preliminary, it would be impossible for the government to accept it, but, short of entailing such a sacrifice, the government was most anxious to facilitate a conference.

For himself, he did not hesitate to say that if Lord De Broke's motion were carried, the government would be a better augury for some permanent arrangement than any other kind of a conference.

After division was taken, notice of several amendments was handed in providing for the exclusion from home rule of the whole of Ulster.

These amendments, if carried, would make the exclusion of the whole province of Ulster absolute without any reference to the government, and the province will be placed under the jurisdiction of the new secretary of state in the imperial parliament, whose administration would require the sanction of the British parliament.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 8, 1914.

REDUCING CRIMINALS AND INCREASING DIVIDENDS.

Of the A. B. C. Powers struggling for the future of Mexico, in the fields of diplomacy, perhaps less is known of B. in this country than of either of the others.

It is a manufacturing community with 1,400 looms and about 40,000 spindles. The looms are equipped with English machinery, and Englishmen are at the head of the various departments.

It is not immediately clear, but perhaps one reasonable inference would be that the line of endeavor inasmuch as it would seem highly unlikely that he could acquire power sense short of a delicate operation in brain surgery.

stronger indictment of the present dominant forces in industry has been put into print.

Mr. Henry Clay Pierce, representing one side of the conflict is shown in this published correspondence as fighting the present attempt at mediation and combatting the idea of internal peace in Mexico.

"Carranza continues to take good advice and remains discreetly silent. I think within a few days he will be so used to the situation that there will no longer be danger of embroilment from that quarter.

"My friend Paul, who has arrived in Chihuahua, is to be placed in charge of the railways of the north. Faithfully yours, etc."

This letter and many others of similar import were written by Captain Sherbourne G. Hopkins, consul general, as he describes himself, to the Constitutional Junta at Washington.

The opposing interests are under the even able generalship of Lord Cowdray, whose influence is thrown in the interests of peace and mediation, and who is described by Henry Clay Pierce as "the actual controller of Mexico outside Constitutional lines."

"You are so well acquainted with all the details of the matters relating to Cowdray's relations to the Diaz cabinet, officials of the National Railways, Huerta, and other interests in Mexico and in London in connection with Mexico, also his efforts in Central and South America, that I am sure you will be able to afford Mr. Welliver much valuable information.

Of course you know that I know many facts and details which you are not familiar, and if you will indicate information desired by Mr. Welliver, I will try to furnish it through you.

More information has been made public than Mr. Pierce desired, interested as he was to instruct the "dear public" and mould opinion in regard to Mexico.

"AN AMAZING INDIGNITY." "Herr Burgomaster, we have come here to pay you a visit, and bombs have been thrown at us. This is altogether an amazing indignity."

A LITTLE GAME OF POKER.

The game of poker, as played in Conservative circles, is now receiving some publicity in the Toronto newspapers.

The case in hand reminds one of the western story of that game in which one man held five aces, but lost because another participant held four aces and a Colt "forty-five."

Mr. Arthur C. Pratt, who was re-elected the other day in the Conservative interest for South Norfolk, has been suing Mr. F. W. Mossop for $8,884.00 in connection with a series of encounters across the green cloth.

"The full inquiry of the Foreshore Bill which became notorious during the last session of the Legislature is exposed in a keen and luminous article by Dr. Elias Alward in the June issue of the Canadian Law Times.

"The said games were played continuously every afternoon except Sundays during the period commencing with September 16, 1913, until January 10, 1914, and the defendant sent in such games whenever he was in Toronto.

"The additional facts brought out by Dr. Alward will remind the public how strange it is that they have had no reasonable explanation of this whole matter from the Premier, from the Attorney-General, or from any of the six representatives of this city and county in the Legislature.

"The headlines in the Telegraph which Mr. Carter declared stated an absolute falsehood were as follows: "Another witness safe in the United States." The headlines further stated that Mr. James H. Corbett did not want to testify against Mr. Fleming and that he crossed the border about the time the Royal Commission was named.

IF MR. TITUS CARTER AND THE STANDARD DESIRE TO SERVE THE INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE OF NEW BRUNSWICK THEY WILL ENDEAVOR TO BRING THE FOLLOWING WITNESSES BEFORE THE ROYAL COMMISSION:

H. Berry, Mr. James H. Corbett, Mr. A. R. Gould, Mr. R. E. Gould, Mr. F. J. Lissman and some other whose names are yet to be called. Neither The Telegraph nor the Royal Commission is on trial in this case.

THE MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

In the Manitoba Legislature as it stands today there are twenty-nine Conservatives and fourteen Liberals. Ten new seats are to be filled in the coming general elections as a result of redistribution.

"It is inevitable that an analogy should be drawn between the Ontario and the Manitoba contests. There are, of course, certain points of resemblance, but the conditions are by no means parallel.

"In another important respect, the Manitoba Liberal party occupies a stronger position than that held by Mr. Rowell. There is no comparison between the Whitney government and the Roblin government. The Whitney government, considering its record as a whole, strikes a pretty fair average.

MOTHER

Let this be said of mothers. From their flesh and blood the race of man is fashioned, from their hope and prayer the faith of man is moulded, from their love and tenderness the heart of man is pulsing warm and red and deep—today as through all earthly ages past. Not only at our birth, but to the end, they hold their lives ready to give for ours.

and party when they arrived at his house to get a picture of the oldest man in Charlotte county, if not in New Brunswick. The boys were James McKeivey, 118 years of age and his stepson, Patrick Kehoe, aged 82. They live at Red Rock about two miles from St. George.

The old gentleman is hale and hearty, a wee bit used up with rheumatism but able to see and know his friends approaching the house, a half a mile away. Mr. McKeivey was born in county Down, Ireland 1801, remembers the well return of the soldiers from Waterloo and speaks of his arrival in St. John, 88 years ago, a man young. He spent several years on Indian Island and Grand Manan, then came to Second Falls working for years in the mills owned by the Gillmor family.

That his faculties are above the ordinary for an aged person has been realized, when it is known that he called one of the party, he had not seen for twenty years, by name telling several anecdotes of his younger days with evident enjoyment.

The old gentleman enjoy visits from passing strangers and few pass the house without a word of greeting for Jimmie and Pat. For St. John people on pleasure bent in the woods with a rifle or along the well stocked streams throughout with rod and line the house is also a popular stopping place and the centenarian has become very well known.

Wife's Corner HOUSEKEEPING A. D. GRAUHL

CHICKEN? In all lines of housekeeping but it hardly repaying poultry for the labor. It is so steadily it has become necessary for each chicken so it will last more than last from one dollar to one dollar and out being drawn so that after the least dressed it will scarcely tip the scales to say such recipes as the following: "Have thick legs, one-quarter of a pound of meat amount of this sliced, washed, and at the thick end of the drum stick and downward. Fill the cavity with a mixture of sifted crumbs, seasoned with salt and mushrooms. Make the legs look as if sewed up the ends. Divide the bacon lattice these across stuffed legs and lay in diced carrots and celery around the boiling water or vegetable stock. If you use a fire in addition to the vegetable oven for about an hour and when brown dust a little flour over it to keep the four brown it will be necessary.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The task of keeping the stove clean will be greatly lightened, if the grease spots are rubbed off with a newspaper while the range is still hot.

After cleaning brass or nickel-plated bells or doorknobs, rub them over with a little vaseline with a woolen cloth. This will keep them bright for a long time.

When cleaning the store room it is a convenience to have a lead pencil tied to a string which is tied around the waist, then when you have put something away in a box you have the pencil at hand with which to make the mark of the article on the outside of the box, thereby saving time when you come to hunt for it.

After the winter clothes have been sorted for storing, it is a good idea to examine the carefully and eliminate all spots by wiping or pointing with household ammonia. Carry them out into the bright sunshine and brush them thoroughly.

Potato-and-bread croquettes are made by breaking the dry bread into small pieces and adding hot water to soften it. To one quart of bread add one egg, salt and pepper and one pint of cold mashed potatoes; mix well, form into cakes, roll in flour and fry.

To make the best lemonade, make a syrup of a pint of water and two cups of sugar, to which is added the yellow rind of two lemons and one ounce of Brandy to a quart and add the juice of four lemons and one orange. Cool and ice. Add three pints of ice water before serving.

If furs are put away at home, first shake them free from dust, then allow them to blow in the wind and give a whole day's after this wrap them in muslin carefully and place them in a box, and cover the box with a clean cloth, so that no moths can enter from without.

Sackville House Burglarized and Occupant Robbed of $15.

Sackville, N. B., July 5—(Special)—Between the hours of 12 and 4 this morning burglars entered the home of Fred King, Squire street, and took from the room where King was asleep a pair of trousers containing $15.

King was not aware of his loss till about noon when upon investigation he found that his home had been entered through a window and besides taking the trousers and the loose change of the head of the household, the intruders had helped themselves to some dainty eatables stored in the larder.

A number of suspicious characters have been seen lurking in the vicinity and the chief of police is now working on the case, and it is expected that some arrests will ensue.

Summerside Board of Trade, sometime ago, appointed a committee, consisting of Dr. A. A. McLellan and Messrs. A. C. Saunders and Neil McLeod to confer with the Provincial Government with reference to the recent increase in telephone rates. It appears that no agreement with the Telephone Company fixing the rental of telephones could be found, although it is claimed that on every occasion when the Telephone Company's rates were stipulated that the rates would be broken by the Telephone Company.

POLICEMAN O'LEARY HAS A CHANCE FOR LIFE

Policeman O'Leary, who has gained much credit for his activity since he was employed as special constable by the public safety department, after learning the details of the Mowatt robbery on Saturday night started to follow up on the matter.

When the two entered the house they were alone. On account of the fact that O'Leary had a flashlight which he had taken from somewhere else, according to O'Leary, he decided to walk to his house with him and they arrived there about 11:15 o'clock.

Had No Suspicion. When the two entered the house they were alone. On account of the fact that O'Leary had a flashlight which he had taken from somewhere else, according to O'Leary, he decided to walk to his house with him and they arrived there about 11:15 o'clock.

As soon as he had put one foot across the threshold, however, he was seized by the throat and a revolver was pointed at his head. O'Leary, who was unarmed, was ordered to lie on the ground.

Frank Mason, a driver, relieved the wounded officer of his prisoner and supported him as he was walked to the sidewalk. He collapsed in front of the house and was pillored up until the ambulance arrived.

The ambulance was called for and the police telephoned for it at the same time. Chief Clark dispatched Deputy F. W. Jenkins to the scene.

It did not remain in the cell long, however. About noon the chief of police, learning of the seriousness of O'Leary's wound, informed the police magistrate.

O'Leary's Deposition. It took only a few minutes to scratch down O'Leary's statement. It was in the following words: "I am a special police officer in the city of St. John. I arrested Brame on this morning in Glasgow street."

More robberies were reported to the police on Sunday, and the arrest of Frederick McDonough and Herbert Goodspeed was made yesterday morning by Detective Killen in connection with the burglary at the Clover Farm dairy, corner of St. James and Carmichael streets.

Arthur Bland, the proprietor of the store, told of the way in which he had left the store and the man in which the burglars had left the place after their raid on early Sunday morning.

Regarding the alleged re-encarceration of the old ten-year-old gang, Chief of Police Clark said last night to a Telegraph reporter: "There are too many of these

Mr. Foster's One Achievement. (Quebec Daily Telegraph.) The one act of the Berden government to which it and its supporters pointed as a "great triumph" was the reciprocal arrangement with the British West Indies. When that agreement was brought down we pointed out that the prospect for large trade development under it was not such as to justify any enthusiasm for the government's organs, but we hardly expected that it would prove such a dismal failure as it has turned out to be.
